Consequences inevitably follow irresponsible behavior. By far the most effective consequences result from the deed, itself, and are termed "natural." Other kinds of consequences can be imposed by parents or authority figures and they fall into two categories: "logical consequences," and "punishment."

Example: the breadwinner does not keep back enough money to pay his taxes on April 15. The natural consequence is the sweat and guilt and hassle to get the money together; the penalty and interest charged by the IRS are the logical consequences, and the punishment might be a jail sentence if he refuses to pay at all.

With children it works this way. Junior totals his car because of his reckless driving. Now the natural consequence is that Junior has no car and must somehow deal with getting it removed from the road. Parents should recognize the value of this lesson and not intervene; or they can impose some logical consequences like not allowing him to use the family car alone for several weeks until he improves his driving habits. Or they may impose a punishment such as grounding him. People definitely learn more and are most apt to change their behavior if consequences imposed are logical. In the example above, if parents jump in and arrange to have Junior's car towed, perhaps buy him a new car...then lecture him and ground him...he will not feel the impact of his mistake and can shift the blame to his mean parents for restricting his freedom.

Bringing this principle down to the very young child, little Alice refuses to eat, or worse yet, dumps her food on the floor. The sensible parents' response after the first or second episode would be to remove the plate calmly and allow little Alice to get good and hungry before the next meal. No hand of wills is going to work. (Children will eat what is given them when they are hungry and they can not literally starve for several days.) At the logical level, the child should be ignored until the family has finished eating. The punishment often used in situations such as this is a spanking. Again this is a set up for parents to become the bad guys and invites a vicious cycle of negative bids for attention from the child.

Imposed punishment doesn't work very well. Virtually all negative behavior brings on natural consequences that are pretty effective and have the most impact for real change. However children often need parental help in learning to recognize natural consequences.

"Suzie, your cousin refuses to play with you because you take away her toys."

or
"Your failing grades will cause you to repeat a year (or lose credits)."

"Your chances of getting a job without a high school diploma are very slim."

Carefully thought out logical consequences should be explained so that the child understands the cause and effect relationship.

"You took that candy without asking so you need to go pay the clerk for it and I'll subtract 60 cents from your allowance."

or
"Your failing grades could be improved with more study time. Until they improve there will be no TV or phone calls between 4 and 6 p.m. on school days."

Since major life-impacting natural consequences are often far removed in time from the irresponsible behavior that causes them, dialogue about these issues needs to begin early in life so that when situations arise that warrant concern, the ground work has been laid. The school work/future job connection cannot be com-prehended casually; nor can the promiscuous sex/unwanted pregnancy/teenage marriage/likelihood of divorce and unhappiness chain of events. The "logical consequence" recommended to parents whose child has a casual attitude toward path-of-destruction behavior is closer parental supervision and monitoring. Lectures don't work. Grounding only works until the child has done his time. Beating certainly doesn't work and only gives the child more fuel for his rebellious activity fire.

The rule of thumb then, when your child does something you consider unacceptable, is first to step back and consider whether you can allow the time for natural consequences to teach the lesson. If not, plan out and explain the natural consequences you and your spouse have agreed upon. Punishment should be used sparingly and only as a last resort since it is only good for its shock value. We learn most readily the lessons taught by our own mistakes.

Crystal Lee Rowland Dees

Crystal Lee Rowland Dees who attends Rockcastle County High School has been named a United States National award winner.

The daughter of King and Rosie Rowland, she received the Honor Roll Award.

She was nominated by Dale Whitaker, counselor at the school.

Free tuition for those 65 or older at Somerset Community College

Persons 65 or older can go to college for free at Somerset Community College under the Donovan Scholars Program.

Under the program, pioneered nationally by the University of Kentucky, older persons can go to school tuition-free. They may either audit classes or earn credit toward a degree.

All classes offered at the community college are available to Donovan Scholars. There are no residence or previous educational requirements.

Prospective scholars may register by contacting the Admissions Office at Somerset Community College at (606)679-8501.

Roberta James, director of the Donovan Scholars Program at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, said, "This program offers older persons a marvelous opportunity to return to the classroom without paying tuition." She said there are people 65 years of age or older taking classes at each of the 14 UK community colleges.

The program, named for Herman L. Donovan, former UK president, was first begun in 1964 and is believed the first of its kind at a U.S. college or university.

Alumni Weekend '92 at ECU

Golf, art events, sports, star show, a tour of a mysterious home, and of course, lots of good food.

You name it, Alumni Weekend '92 has something for the 379 graduates of Eastern Kentucky University residing in Rockcastle County.

The annual event, scheduled for April 24-26, offers an excellent opportunity for alumni to rekindle their special memories of Eastern, meet their classmates and introduce their alma mater to their families.

"It will be an experience," said Larry Bailey, director of alumni affairs. "We are expanding Alumni Day into Alumni Weekend so that returning graduates have more time to enjoy some of the exciting things we have to offer."

Bailey stressed, however, that graduates can participate in as many or few of the activities as they wish. "Alumni may just want to relax, see the campus and visit friends," he said. "We just want graduates to come back and experience Eastern."

Special guests for the weekend festivities will be graduates from the classes of 1932, '37, '42, '47, '52, '57, '62, '67, '72, '77, '82 and '87. Class luncheons for those groups will be held at 11:30 a.m. Saturday, April 25 at the Keen Johnson Building.

The month of March was designated as "Find the Good and Praise It" month in the Rockcastle County Schools. The high school participated throughout the month with different activities. The purpose was to elevate student self-concept. The month's activities were culminated with a "show-case" with the different departments each day. Academics, Auto, Clubs and Athletics each had booths for their specific area. In the above photo is the Athletics display and the bottom photo is the Arts display.

"We're including more classes this year because some graduates had indicated that 10 years was too long to wait," Bailey explained. "Having the classes five years apart promotes a greater sense of camaraderie."

At 6 p.m. Saturday, April 25, the Alumni Awards banquet will be held at the Keen Johnson ballroom. The Outstanding Alumnus will be honored at the banquet, and several graduates will be inducted into the Hall of Distinguished Alumni.

"It promises to be a special weekend for Eastern graduates and their families," said Bailey. "It's one of the highlights of the year at Eastern."

Here's why: The weekend kicks off, er, tees off Friday, April 24 with 18 holes of golf at Arlington. A reception that evening at Arlington House will precede an ECU Theatre performance of "The Miracle Worker."

Concluding the weekend Sunday will be more Colonel baseball, the annual Ice Cream Concert and the Ohio Valley Conference golf tournament.

"Many of the events can be enjoyed by all ages," Bailey stressed, "so we encourage alumni to bring their families along. With all the activity and entertainment options, we know they'll have a good time as they rekindle fond memories of their days at Eastern."

For more information about Alumni Weekend activities, contact the alumni office at (606) 622-1260.

CARDS OF THANKS

We want to thank each one who sent food and flowers, said prayers, come to be with us, or even thought of us in our loss of our son, Johnny Mahaffey. We know the women who fixed food wasn't really able to do so, but did it anyway. We are grateful to Dowell & Martin, especially to Billy & Juanita Medley, to all the folks who put money in on flowers, and from friends in town. We never knew we had so many friends. We hope we can re-pay each one with kindness someday.
Thank you Billy Kirby for the kindness you and your employees showed my grandson. We won't ever forget the people of Livingston and surrounding areas.
Everett, Elizabeth, Brothers, Sisters, & Children
Mahaffey

The family of Lula Graves would like to express our appreciation for the kindness shown to us during the loss of our loved one. Thanks to everyone who brought food and for the lovely flowers. Thanks to Bro. James Nicely for his comforting words and for the beautiful songs by Linda McClure, Lois Nicely, Dale Doan, and Mattie Miller. Thanks to Cox Funeral Home for their kind services.

Stewart's wilt worse in some corn fields

A bacterial disease probably will show up in more Kentucky corn fields this year because high populations of the insect that spreads the disease survived the mild winter, according to a plant pathologist at the University of Kentucky.
"Stewart's wilt likely will be a problem in some fields because the disease-causing bacterium survives the winter in the body of corn flea beetles," said Paul Vincelli, extension specialist with the UK College of Agriculture. "Mild winter temperatures allowed large numbers of the beetles to survive, increasing the disease potential."
"The disease, also called bacterial leaf blight and wilt, is worse in fields planted to corn last year, or those nearby, because the innoculum already is present," he added. "Larger flea beetle populations this year just compound the problem. However, the problem isn't limited to last year's corn fields, or adjacent ones, because the beetles move around, so the disease could show up in any corn field."
Vincelli said a simple way to forecast the potential for Stewart's wilt is to add the average monthly temperature for December, January and February.
"When the total of average temperatures is below 90 for the three months, flea beetle survival is low and little Stewart's wilt is expected," he said. "However, when the total exceeds 100, disease pressure is high, especially in or near fields that were planted to corn last year."
"We have good conditions for high disease pressure throughout Kentucky this year," Vincelli added.
"December through February temperature totals exceeded 100 at seven weather stations that affect all of Kentucky. Totals of monthly temperatures ranged from 107 to 126."
Vincelli said farmers should select field corn hybrids with good resistance to Stewart's wilt. "Virtually all hybrids of field corn have some resistance," he said. "But since the disease can cause problems when young plants are infected, it's a good idea to check the level of resistance with your seed supplier."

Stewart's wilt can be a problem with sweet corn hybrids, because many are susceptible to the disease, according to Vincelli. Tolerant hybrids of sweet corn are available. Standard hybrids include Apache Comet, Comanche, Gold Cup, Incredible, Silver Chief and Sweet Sue. Tolerant sugar-enhanced hybrids include Miracle and Seneca Sentry. Tolerant sweetpeet hybrids are Florida Stay Sweet and How Sweet It is.

"Growers who planted susceptible sweet corn hybrids should watch for early signs of flea beetle activities," said Ric Bessin, Extension entomologist. "Their feeding activities scar the leaf surface, giving leaves a frosted appearance. The insects can cause serious damage on plants less than six inches tall."

County to blacktop 78 roads

By: Ray McClure

A total of 78 Rockcastle County roads will get new asphalt in 1992 and 9 will be capped.

The roads, and sections of roads, are of various lengths and a list may be obtained from members of the court or County Judge/Executive Roland Mullins.

First to be worked, as was drawn by the magistrates, was Amos Brubaker's District 4. Second to be worked is Clinton's District 3. Third is Jack Bradley's District 2. To be worked fourth is Donald Bullock's District 5, and finally will be Charles Holbrook's District 1.

The names listed are all roads.

District 1 — Clay Colson, Barron off Old Brodhead Road, Bronco Abney, Abney, Baker-Dowell, Conway Loop, Singleton off Chestnut Grove, Airport off Ky. 1505.

District 3 — Frank Martin, Barker, Smothers, Alex Napier, Old 1229 Loop, Jay Thompson, Willie Taylor, Paul Hansel, Emmitt Taylor, M.J. McMullin, Bill Brewer, Henry Bryant, Cromer Subdivision, Boone Cromer, Thurmie Bullock, Old Buffalo, Dewey Roberts, Bloss, Mink

Assault charges pending against local man

State and county police are looking for Marty Morgan on charges he beat his girlfriend about the face.

The charges are assault in second degree and wanton endangerment.

Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan and State Trooper Gary Lane searched for Morgan Monday and Tuesday, but did not locate him.

He is not believed to be in the county.

Sawmill, Russell Barron, Curt Bullock, backup.

District 4 — Rimmell Cemetery, Charlie York, Arvel Burdette, Lewis Adams, Rogers, Rachel Lakes, Bradley Powell, Conway Village, Sam Reed, Grace Baptist, Lewis Linville, Buffalo Hollow, Frank Thacker, Big

No quorum at Mt. Vernon

By: Ray McClure

After waiting for over an hour for at least one city councilman to show up, the Mt. Vernon City Council adjourned without meeting for lack of a quorum.

Councilwomen Clarice Kirby and Lou Vanhoose were on hand for the meeting that had been postponed from April 6, as was Bob Bailey who was available but next door at a meeting of the Mt. Vernon Volunteer Fire Department.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer was also waiting as well as City Attorney John Clontz. Mayor Cromer kept reassuring everyone that Councilman Lee Keene would be there after attending a previous meeting. He didn't make it.

Councilman Clark (Joe) Mullins and Councilwoman Bessie King were not available.

Had everyone put in an appearance, there was a short agenda. Other than the usual business there were only four items to be dispensed with including cancelling a Community Development Block Grant housing project.

Police Chief Bill Mink attended the meeting and handed the mayor the police and fire departments activities for the month.

They are: Complaints, 233; assists to other agencies, 51; motorist's assist, 10; traffic accident investigations, 12; public services rendered, 7; assistance to Kentucky Division of Forestry, 5; cases opened, 13; arrest, 8, DUI arrests, 5, and citations, 15.

Mt. Vernon Fire Department runs, 15; Mt. Vernon Fire Department false alarms, 4; Livingston Fire Department runs, 3, and false alarms, 1.

Sandy, Doc Wolfe, Merritt Cemetery Spur, Charlie Baker, Merritt Cemetery.

District 5 — Wolfe Creek, Piney Branch, Jerry Jones, Chestnut Ridge Church of Christ, Merritt Cemetery, Crooked Creek, from SR 104, Dewey Brown, Juanita Davis, Simon Hill, Tommy Carpenter Subdivision, Mullins Station.

Roads, or portions thereof, to be capped include

District 1, Mt. Zion Road, District 2, Freedom School Road, District 3, Bryant Ridge Road, Roscoe Adams Road, Slaty Branch

Road, District 4, Flat Gap Road, Green Hill Road and Dailey Road.

District 5, Maple Grove Road. In a final court story in last week's Signal there was a $442,795 budget approved by the court. It was the 1992-93 Jail budget.

Board gives final approval to RCHS site

By: Laura Mize

The cost of construction for the new high school, formerly estimated at $8.5 million, was amended at Tuesday night's board meeting with a new projected, tentative cost being $9.5 million. The cost includes only the site acquisition and construction.

"This cost is only for what I call bricks and mortar so to speak," said Richard Bray, Finance Director, "the structure and peripherals."

Superintendent Dice Towery Jr. received a letter this week from Michael L. Lusher, Director of the Division of Facilities Management in Frankfort, stating that the local school board has been "authorized to accept a deed to the 67,238 acre tract of Carter/Ford property."

According to Lusher, all stipulations pertaining to the state approval of a property have been met, therefore, the board accepted that option to purchase through a unanimous vote.

An estimated $8 million will be acquired from the sale of bonds as the board voted to hire a group of investment bankers, Johnson, Brown, Burnette and Knight, to act as a fiscal agent. Additional funds are available from the general fund as well as money left in escrow from the building of Mt. Vernon Elementary.

Having previously worked with the group, the board felt that although their bid was not the absolute lowest, the firm has agreed to offer a lower interest rate which, in the long run, will cost an equal or even less amount than the other bidders.

The bid submitted by the chosen firm amounted to a price of $30,500 for the service. According to Richard Bray, the price, although higher, is below the expected cost, which was around $45,000.

"Personally, I am confident with the expertise and knowledge of Glen Brasher (of Johnson, Brown, Burnette and Knight)," said the superintendent.

"30 grand is an excellent price for this $8 million worth of bond, I think," added Chairman George Poynter.

A first draft of schematics on the new high school building plans from the architect was given to board members to observe the tentative layout plans for the building.

The first draft of the schematics will go to the state for approval from each department and are likely to change due to the "current curriculum trends," said Bray.

The staff at Roundstone Elementary requested a waiver from the board, policy that would allow them to petition and vote on a School Based Decision Making council. Previous policy stated that all schools were to have a council to implement the program prior to March 1, 1992. The board voted to allow them to continue the process of installing SBDM. If the staff votes in favor of the program, all of Rockcastle County's schools will have a SBDM council in effect as of July 1, 1992.

"An application for grant funding was approved for the Family Resource/Youth Services to continue operation. The center is among the stipulations of KERA and, according to Towery, Rockcastle is among few counties to have successfully implemented the program and received such response. "I am very grateful we have implemented all of these programs about a year ahead of time. It has been to our advantage," he said.

The center has also requested to apply for grant funding for a vehicle that would be used in transporting children to various locations.

Board member Kenneth Adams was given an award for 23 years of service to the board.

April showers

April showers bring May flowers may not be true this year since only .30 of an inch of rain has fallen at Cox Funeral Home during the first 14 days of April.

Last month's total was 5.86 inches, a sizeable amount for the month.

Low, this month, was 22 on April 3. The high was 61 on April 11.

Rain is predicted off and on through Tuesday of next week.

Rockcastle County School Board Chairman George Poynter and School Superintendent Dice Towery, Jr. presented board member Kenneth Adams with a plaque in recognition of his 24 years service to the Rockcastle County school system.

Mudd brings tough message to students

By: Laura Mize

"I'm not going to tell you any Cinderella stories. I'm going to tell you about the facts of life," said Detective Leo Mudd as he began his appeal to Rockcastle County High School students on Tuesday.

The artist of a popular, local cartoon character, "Wuz," which appears in Kentucky Living Magazine drew a dim picture of death as related to drugs and alcohol in a riveting 15-minute program.

"Take time to think" was Mudd's message to the students as he relayed the grim examples and details of his experiences as a Drug Enforcement Special Investigator.

A child's casket sat alone on the gymnasium floor as Mudd used the prop to allude to an incident involving a drunk driver and a child. "Have tasted death," he said as he told the story.

"Remember that you are not immune to the obituary column no matter how tough you are," said Mudd as he told the students how death occurs in a second. "I want you to be tough, but tough in the right way."

He encouraged students to take a bologna sandwich, a glass of water and a chair into their bathrooms at home and spend 5 minutes there and they will see what being retained in a jail cell is like. "Watch your second hand go around on your watch five times, and if you think that was a long time to spend there, imagine what years would be like," he said.

"And also, put the lid up on the commode because commodes in jail have no lid."

He included in his program the sounds one hears when they take on the consequences of drug and alcohol use.

New judge in Rockcastle, Pulaski and Lincoln

Judges, lawyers and interested persons gathered in Frankfort Tuesday as Gov. Breton Jones signed legislation adding a new circuit judge to the Rockcastle, Lincoln and Pulaski 28th Judicial Circuit.

The additional judge was needed when the caseload overwhelmed Circuit Judge Daniel Venters.

On hand for the ceremony were Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert, District Judge William Cain, State Representative Danny Ford. Also on hand were Rep. Lonnie Napier of Lincoln/Garrard County and Tommy Todd of Pulaski.

It was the first new judgeship to be allocated in Kentucky since 1980 and was strictly based on need. The circuit has traditionally been under served.

New Law

The law goes into effect in July. What happens next is a little uncertain but initially Gov. Jones will likely appoint a judge. In judicial cases, however, usually a nominating commission is appointed and will choose three candidates to submit to the governor who would then appoint one.

There is an election this fall. A judge candidate could possibly be on the ballot.

Speculation locally is that Judge Cain has the inside track on the appointment.

Newcomb is new Mayor

David Newcomb, who joined the Crab Orchard city commission in January, is the town's new mayor.

Newcomb, 42, was appointed to the $120-a-month job by his fellow commission members at a special meeting last week. He replaces Majorie Bunch, the three-term mayor who resigned the job last month after the commission fired the city clerk.

Newcomb will face an election in November to win the right to fill the remainder of Bunch's term, which runs out in December 1993.

In its regular meeting on Monday, the three remaining commissioners hired Jeannette Smith as city clerk. Smith, along with former clerk Lucille Hammons, had been filling in since the firing of Shirley Harris last month.

Smith was hired for a 60-day probationary period at $174 a week. If she passes the probationary period, the pay will be raised to $198 weekly. There were more than 25 applicants for the job.

John Hackley was hired as city attorney. Hackley has been attending meetings at the request of the commissioners and will become a regular at a fee of $25 a meeting.

Eddie May had advised the city on legal matters previously but never actually was hired as city attorney.

hol use. From the sound of clicking hand cuffs to the beating of a three year old child's heart, as the child dies, created an intense, sorrowful and sobering effect on the audience.

"In all my years here," said Principal Ronnie Cash, "we've never had a better assembly."

The hard-hitting anti-drug, anti-alcohol message will hopefully deter the rash of drinking that occurs during prom weekend and also extend throughout a lifetime for many students.

"It's not fair that you have to walk through the garden that people my age made for you, especially when you're just starting out," he said. "I'm asking you to be a janitor."

Following the program, student response toward the message was overall positive. Many approached Mudd and told him how powerful his message was.

Mudd is in the process of marketing his program which would allow people nation-wide to hear his message. "My goal is to do every county in Kentucky and at least one program in each state," he said.

The program will be called the 4-T's, which stand for Take Time to Think.

Local man involved in fatal wreck

A Mt. Vernon man received minor injuries in a vehicle accident April 10 in Prestonsburg, but the driver of the other car was killed.

Shelly Alcorn of Mt. Vernon received rib injuries in the accident that killed Robert Glen Johnson, 33, of Printer.

Johnson's daughter, Heather, 2, was in stable condition Monday at the UK Hospital.

When his mother, Dorothy Johnson, 72, went to the local hospital for a short time after the accident to visit her injured granddaughter, she suffered a heart attack and died.

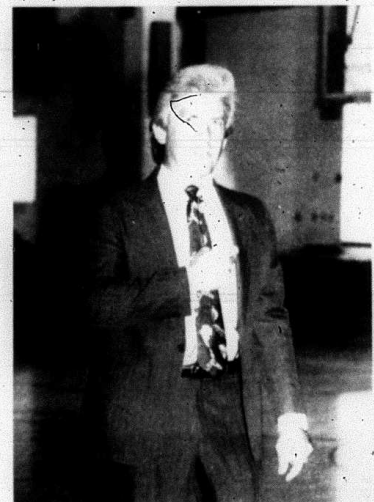

The center has also requested to apply for grant funding for a vehicle that would be used in transporting children to various locations.

Board member Kenneth Adams was given an award for 23 years of service to the board.

Dear Editor,

For three years, the Kentucky Lottery Corporation has attempted to answer one most frequently asked question—where does the money go? While Kentucky Lottery proceeds have always gone to benefit all Kentuckians, the 1992 General Assembly has not made it easier to show citizens exactly how those dollars are spent.

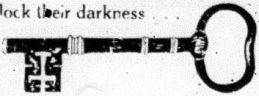

Beginning in July, all Kentucky Lottery proceeds will be dedicated specifically for primary and secondary education. In its wisdom, the Legislature has now chosen to designate Lottery profits to the SEEK (Superior Excellence in Education in Kentucky) Program for the next fiscal years—$92 million in Fiscal 1992-93 and $104 million projected for Fiscal 1993-94. The SEEK Program is the primary funding mechanism, for local school districts throughout in Commonwealth.

In the past, Lottery proceeds were funneled into the General Fund with other forms of revenue. Once in that fund, Lottery dollars lost their identity, even though they were used to

Patch is gone

When Loretta and I hooked up just over ten years ago, she came with three kids and a dog. Within a year the kids were as much mine as if I had been their natural father and I felt like I had raised ole Patch from a pup.

It is no understatement to say that he was a member of our family. I say "was" because we buried him last Saturday in a little pine grove in Madison County and it was one of the toughest things I've ever had to do. The toughest thing was agreeing with the vet that he would die a horrible death if we didn't put him to sleep.

Patch was going on 16 years of age. One year of a dog's life is supposed to be equivalent to seven human years. That made him nearly 112 in relative terms.

Lots of folks have asked us over the years, what breed he was and the closest description we could offer was All Dog. A broad shouldered, medium height, brown fellow with a few white patches on his feet, chest and torso. Loretta says that if there was a breed of dogs just like him, they would be called Faithful.

Over the last three years we had watched him age pretty rapidly. He lost most of his hearing and he developed a pretty bad hitch in his leg along, but as recently as two weeks ago he would attempt to bounce around and play tag in the yard with the kids or myself. He was still the first member of our family to greet whenever showed up at the door and he still managed to, somehow, wag all over when we came home from work and school.

In his prime, I have seen him snap to attention and trot to the end of the driveway as much as five minutes before Loretta's car came into sight, but for that matter within hearing distance of my own ears. He could even recognize the different motors of the numerous school buses that passed our house on 52. He paid no attention to the ones that our kids weren't on, but when he saw it coming in the distance, he would trot out to welcome them home. Since they all look alike, I'm convinced that he distinguished some subtle little sound that the human ear cannot detect.

He managed to live so long because he was saved from certain death at least twice as a result of efforts that can only be described as heroic.

On one occasion he walked several hundred yards out onto a lake that was covered with a thin sheet of ice. It broke and he fell through. Some neighbors with a boat spent more than an hour frantically breaking through the ice to paddle out and rescue him in sub zero temperature. Loretta revived him with hot baths and prayers.

On another occasion he was missing for several days and we had combed the woods and neighborhood on Harmon's Lick for miles. We had checked ditchlines thinking he might have been hit by a car and we had involved numerous neighbors in the search. The whole family was distraught. We thought that he might have been poisoned. We were not overly concerned that he was stolen because he simply wouldn't have stood for it and the local hospitals told us that nobody had been admitted with severe dog bites.

A few days later our neighbor, Lola Prewit, called Loretta to tell her that she could faintly hear a dog barking. They found him stuck in a culvert more than two feet below the surface of Harmon's Lick Road. Not only that but a thunderstorm was underway and he was in great danger of drowning.

Thank God for the Cartersville Fire Department because more than a dozen of its members show up with picks, sledge hammers and iron diggers. While some of them flagged and rerouted traffic, the others cut a hole through more than a foot of black top and another foot of gravel. The culvert had separated in the middle and they were able to pull him out no more than five minutes before it was completely filled with a raging current. He was covered with mud, but Loretta went back to the hot bath and after a few rejuvenating meals and much loving care he was back to normal in less than a week.

Junior Helton guarded the hole in the road while I rounded up 1000 pounds of ready mix concrete. We patched the break in the culvert and used every ounce of ready mix to fill the hole. That was five years ago and the kids still joke when we go visiting on Harmon's Lick and pass that culvert that we are on the strongest part of any road in Garrard County. This time though, he couldn't be saved. No heroic efforts of any neighbors or fire departments or even a hospital could have done anything to make him survive. We are trying gallantly to remember the good times and the good life he had. But our kids are getting their first real experience with grief and learning how painful it is. We're missing our old Patch and dealing with the sorrow. Somehow there's not much comfort in knowing that there will never be another like him.

Rockets open season with wins; defeat Monticello and Oneida Having experienced their first week-long spring training ever this year, in Cocoa, Fla., the Rockcastle County Rockets baseball team have warmed the base paths with two straight regular season victories.

Playing host in both games, the Rockets slammed Monticello Monday in the opening '92 game, 21-5, and followed with a decisive margin over district rival Oneida, 7-2, Tuesday.

sophomore reliever Kelly Gentry closed the game. Bowman held the opposition to three earned runs on seven hits. Gentry shut Monticello out in his two innings of work while striking out three.

The Rockets bombarded Monticello in the first inning with 13 runs crossing the plate (nine of those came before the first out was recorded). Senior first baseman Curtis Cotton highlighted the inning with a three run blast, the only long ball of the evening.

Six more runs were scored in the second inning while two were added in the fourth for the Rockets as they coasted through for the victory.

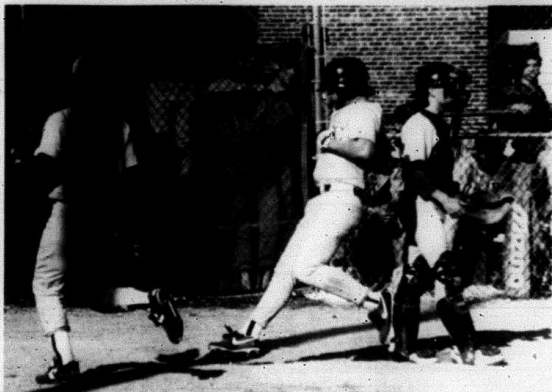

The loss moved Monticello's record to 0-5 on the year.

Statistically as a team, the Rockets stepped to the plate 33 times while scoring 21 runs on 21 hits. They recorded 14 RBIs, struck out only three times, drew six walks and stole six bases.

Individually: J.D. Bussell was one for two, drew one walk, stole one base and scored twice; Scottie Cotton was one for one; Scottie Winstead was zero for one and had one RBI; Micah Parkerson was one for three, scored once and had one RBI; Martin had one base on balls; Jason Payne was zero for one and scored once; Jonathon Saylor was two for two, drew one walk, had two RBIs, stole one base and scored twice; Mickey McClure was zero for one; Osborne was one for one; Jason Fletcher was one for one, drew two walks, stole one base and scored three times; Frank Lefler was one for one; Thomas was one for one.

Chris Newland was three for three, had five RBIs and scored three times; Eric McKinney was zero for one; Curtis Cotton was two for two, drew one walk and scored twice; John Hamm was zero for one; Michael Shaffer was two for three, had one RBI and scored twice; Freddie Pruitt was zero for one; Scott Parkey was two for three, stole one base and scored twice; Aaron Cox was one for one and scored once and Greg Bowman was two for three, had four RBIs, stole one base, scored once and was the winning pitcher.

The Rockets then extended their winning ways with a win, 7-2, over Oneida, Tuesday, behind a solid performance by sophomore pitcher

Mickey McClure. McClure was charged with only one earned run on seven hits while going the distance.

A lead-off walk by Greg Bowman, followed by a stolen base, led to the Rockets' first run in the first inning on a RBI single by senior designated hitter Jonathon Saylor.

Two more runs crossed the plate in the second-inning to give the Rockets an early 3-0 lead. Michael Shaffer reached on a single, stole second and then scored the first run on an error by Oneida's third baseman. Another error by Oneida's shortstop allowed Bowman to score after he reached on a walk and stole second.

Third baseman Jason Fletcher notched a single and then stole second to score the Rockets fourth run on an error by Oneida's right fielder in the third inning. J.D. Bussell recorded the second RBI of the inning when he drove in Curtis Cotton on a single.

The final two runs for the Rockets were scored in the fourth and fifth innings. Saylor singled and stole second and third to eventually score on a ground ball back to the pitcher in the fourth. While Bussell launched a solo homer in the fifth to account for all of the Rockets' scoring.

Oneida got their two runs with one in the third inning and one in the fifth.

Statistically as a team, the Rockets stepped to the plate 28 times while scoring seven runs on eight hits. They drew five walks, stole 11 bases and recorded three RBIs.

Individually Greg Bowman was zero for one, drew three walks, stole three bases and scored twice; Micah Parkerson was zero for four; Jonathon Saylor was two for four, had one RBI, stole two bases and scored once; Jason Fletcher was two for four, stole one base and scored once; Chris Newland was zero for four; Curtis Cotton was zero for two, drew two walks, stole two bases and scored once; Michael Shaffer was one for four; stole one base and scored one run; J.D. Sophomore pitcher Greg Bowman got the win for the Rockets in Monday's game against Monticello. His record is 1-0.

Rocket's second baseman Becky Osborne laces a hit against Pulaski Monday.

Jonathon Saylor steals second base against Monticello. Saylor had two of the Rockets' six stolen bases during the game.

Girls' track meet called due to dusk

The Rockcastle County High School track team went on the road Tuesday night and the girls finished with 42 points compared to Danville's 84 on the night.

The meet was called off early due to darkness and does not include four events.

One highlight of the evening was that the Rockets had three first place finishes by sophomore Lisa Spencer.

Spencer captured first in the high jump, long jump and 400m run.

Fourth place finishes went to Kelly Farthing and Nicole Blair in the discus and Sarah Barrett in the high jump.

Sixth place finishes went to Ashley Carter in the 800 relay, Allison Burney, Amy Thacker and Traci Phillips in the 400 relay and Tara Mink, Bethanie Hammond, Melinda Alcorn and Cherie McHargue in the 3200 relay.

Boys results will appear next week.

The next track meet is this Thursday, (today) at RCHS.

Junior first baseman Beth Amyx swings at a pitch during Monday's girls' high school softball action against Pulaski Co. The Rockets whipped Pulaski 11-1 and 15-10.

Rockets' softball team whips rival Somerset to go 6-0 on the year

The Rockcastle County Rockets girls' softball team scored five runs in the top of the eighth inning Tuesday night to take a 15-10 lead and held district rival Somerset in the bottom of the eighth, to give the Rockets their first win of the night.

Angie Moore started the Rockets drive in the eighth with a lead-off double to center field. Becky Osborne drove in Heather Deckard, who pinch-ran for Moore, with a single. Donna Cash advanced Osborne with a single and Beth Amyx cleared the bases with a three-run homer. Kim Kirby tripled and later scored on a fielder's choice to end the Rockets' five run inning, and seal the victory.

The Rockets drew first blood scoring four runs in the first inning off hits by Melanie Leese, Christy Coleman, Cindy McCauley and Lor-Barrett. Osborne reached on a single but was stranded at first.

Somerset came back and scored five runs of their own to take a 5-4 lead at the end of the first inning.

Regina Collins got the second inning rolling with a single and Janet Kirby advanced Collins to second and reached first on a throwing error. Kristy Sargent cleared the bases with a three-run homer and Coleman came back with her own solo homer, and the Rockets weren't finished. With two outs, McCauley and Barrett reached on back-to-back singles and Moore came through with a two RBI double to end the scoring in the Rocket's six run second inning.

Somerset scored three runs in the third and two in the fifth, as the Rock-

McCure hauled in big catch to win Red Man tournament

Ron McClure of Mt. Vernon, won the Red Man Mountain Division tournament held Sunday on Lake Cumberland.

McCure bested 170 other competitors with his four bass weighing 8 pounds, 7 ounces.

McCure collected a first place cash award of $2,709.94 out of a cash purse totalling $9,797.50.

McCure located 'his fish in Hermon Creek using spinnerbaits on bushes.

Second place and $1,383.80 went to Keith Monson of Burgin. Monson boated four bass weighing 8 pounds, 6 ounces. Monson fished in White Oak Creek using spinnerbaits in pockets with bushes. Philip Worell of Irvine, placed third with two bass weighing 7 pounds. Worell fished in Hermon using a spinnerbait. Third place paid $807.22.

John Hamm of Mt. Vernon, placed fourth. Hamm landed two bass weighing 6 pounds, 4 ounces. Hamm fished in the Jameson area using a Bang-O-Lure and an A.C. Shiner. Hamm collected $513.16 for fourth place.

Pitcher Lori Barrett attempts to beat out a throw to first base in Monday's action against Pulaski.

Rockets' Softball

Mickey McClure, who did not bat, was the winning pitcher to go 1-0 on the year.

The Rockets played host to Corbin Wednesday night. They will travel to Jackson County on Friday.

In their week-long spring training, in Cocoa, Fla., from April 4 through April 9, the Rockets established a two and three record. The Rockets defeated Breckinridge Co. 5-4 and West Hopkins 14-4. They lost to Greenup Co. 13-2, Madison Central 9-0 and Henderson Co. 13-0.

Somerset rallied for a run in the bottom of the seventh and had two men on and only one out, but shortstop Kristy Sargent had an assist and a put-out to end the Jumper rally and to give the Rockets a 7-6 victory.

The Rockets faced another district rival Monday night as they hosted the Pulaski Maroons and came away with two big wins, 11-1 and 15-10.

With these wins, the Rockets have extended their record to 6-0 on the season.

Rockets' Baseball

ets bats fell silent, to tie the score at 10 all and send the game into extra innings.

In the night cap, the Rockets had another tough game but came out on top, 7-6.

The Rockets got on top early in the first inning off a double by Sargent and a two-run homer by Coleman.

The score remained 2-0 until Somerset took a 3-2 lead in the fourth inning.

The Rockets scored two more in the fifth off a homerun by Cash, a single by Amyx and a triple by Irene Grater.

The Rockets scored one more in the sixth with a double and an RBI triple by Moore.

Somerset scored two runs in the bottom of the sixth to tie the game at five all.

The Rockets answered in the top of the seventh scoring two runs by Amyx and Kirby.

Child Abuse Prevention Month

Parenting Tips:

Parenting is a job that does not come easy for anyone. Below are some parenting tips that may help make your role as a parent easier:

1. When there is a problem and you are mad at your child, think, calm down and count to ten to avoid taking your anger out on your child.

2. Instead of hitting, use time out. For example have your child sit on a chair for a few minutes.)

3. Take every opportunity to reward and praise good behavior.

4. Before leaving your child at home alone look at his age in relation to his maturity, behavior and judgment.

ment. If your child is not mature enough to answer questions on safety, then he may not be old enough to leave alone.

5. Be consistent with your child and the discipline you use.

6. Make sure your child understands the discipline being used and that it fits the behavior.

7. Be patient with your child.

8. Be honest with yourself and your child! (It is o.k. to say to your child that you are mad or that you made a mistake.)

9. Take time everyday to spend "special time" with your child, if only 15 minutes a day.

What is Child Protective Services?

Child Protective Services is one of the duties of the Department for Social Service (DSS), and its purpose is to assure the safety of children.

The law requires that DSS staff investigate each report of suspected child abuse, neglect or dependency when the parent or caretaker is involved. Part of the job of DSS is helping parents get the services that are available to build better family relationships. DSS can put parents in touch with people or organizations who can be of help.

What is child abuse and neglect?

There are at least four types of abuse and neglect:

1. Physical Abuse - Injuries to a child which are not accidental (broken bones, bruises, burns, cuts, etc.)

2. Emotional Abuse - Intentional actions which damage a child's mental or emotional health.

3. Neglect - Not have a safe home, proper food, clothing, education, or medical care; leaving a young child alone or with someone who is not able to care for them.

4. Sexual Abuse - Using a child for sex acts, pornographic pictures, prostitution, or other types of sexual contact between adult and child.

DSS also investigates reports of Dependency. A dependent child is one who is under improper care that is not due to an intentional act by parent or caretaker.

There are other types of child abuse, and neglect and in each case it must be considered whether the child's health, safety, or welfare has been harmed.

How did DSS hear about me?

DSS has received a report that your child is not getting the care or protection he or she needs.

By law, DSS staff are not allowed to tell who made the report without a court order.

What right does DSS staff have to come to my home?

The law requires that DSS staff investigate reports of suspected child abuse, neglect or dependency. A social worker will want to talk to you and your child. The worker will sometimes talk to your child at school and also to other people in order to make a complete investigation.

The worker may continue to visit your home to talk about any prob-

Stam Doors & Windows

Old Windows WASTE Energy and Money

Over 50% of the heat loss of a typical house is through windows and doors. Heat conducted through glass and frame can lose the equivalent of a pint of oil every day - for every window! In a properly insulated home (R-19 insulated attic) with Insul-Glass windows, the thermal-induction draft is dramatically reduced. The heat will evenly distribute (about 1° per foot is normal). By properly utilizing the heat created by the furnace, the house is much more evenly heated using less B.T.U. This increases comfort and drastically reduces fuel bills.

lems you may be having and what help is available to make things better for you and your family.

When do the police get involved?

All reports of suspected abuse or neglect must go to law enforcement. The police are required to tell DSS about all child abuse and neglect reports they receive. In some cases, DSS and the police work together but they may make separate investigations. The police may also get involved if it becomes necessary to place a child in custody.

Will you take my children?

It is the goal of DSS to keep families safely together.

In a small number of cases it is necessary to remove a child. If your child is believed to be in danger of serious harm the worker will make efforts to provide immediate protection. These efforts may include:

1. Seeking an order from the judge to immediately remove the child or the offending parent from the home;
2. Requesting a temporary removal order from the judge (in these cases the child usually remains in the home until the court hearing which must be held within ten days)

3. Requesting that the police immediately remove the child from the home.

Within 72 hours of any emergency removal the court must review the facts of the case.

Roamin' Rockcastle

BY HILDA FAYNE GABBARD

I'm going to sue Louis Linville! Just like that! No excuses for what he did. He had no reason to meddle in my life, nor did John to tell tales to Louis or anybody else who'd listen.

I'm leaving John after he gets his I.R.S. check, and I can get my hands on it, but not before. Just listen to my side of the tale. John and I went to Wal-Mart and went different ways to buy something. Then he comes to look for me and runs into Louis Linville from Rockcastle.

John said to Louis, "I can't find my wife for she's spending money. I think I'll go off and leave her."

Louis' reply was, "No, don't do that or you will lose your cook."

"I might as well leave her. She sold our cook stove, drew a picture on the wall so I would think it was still there, then she spent all the money, so I'm gonna leave her," John told Louis.

This is what Louis said and I feel that's grounds for a lawsuit.

"Then I'd go ahead and leave her. That's a good idea but don't tell her I said that," and he looked over his shoulder to see if I was around.

Juanita and husband, Blon Hoff, owners of the B & J Grocery at the top of Scaffold Cane hill. Both of them are fine folks and have a grocery with good prices.

I was admiring all her plants this time when Juanita said, "Let me show you my new plant called 'The Prayer Plant.'"

The leaves were facing each other in pairs and seemed like hands clasped. In the dark, Juanita said they drew close together but in the day-time they drew back like any other leaves. That was the most interesting thing.

Well, I hear cousin John E. Gabbard has sold his interest in the I-75 Shell service station to David Owens who will become a partner to Sam Fothergill.

We will miss cousin John E. very much for he has done us many favors in the business in the past. We thank him for being a friend, too. We hope his new job will be one that he likes real well.

Did you know I have two "bosses"? It's had enough to try to please one but when you have to show two that you can rouse interest, as well as make mistakes, in this paper, then it's tough.

Of course, Richard Anderkin is Boss I. Then I learn that Mike French is editor of this paper and Boss II. I have a hard time trying to please all of them.

But good luck comes my way when I learn that Mike married my fourth cousin, Pamela Phillips, whose mother was an Abney. Boy, was I pleased to learn that!

Long ago people would go and visit their relatives and stay quite a spell. My dad had a great aunt and uncle who would come and stay all summer with us. The uncle was a coal miner so he didn't have much work in the summer and they visited us, a family of eleven, because money was scarce every summer, until they got too old to travel.

Now that's what I plan to do to cousin Mike. Pam knows how we Abneys always would do, so she probably has told Mike to go easy on my work or we might go for a long visit with them.

John and I have new kindfoks on Clear Creek. Cleve and Blanche Payne at Disputanta are the proud owners of a little dog named Smokey, because his coloring does look like smoke.

A dog is a good companion. He follows Cleve from the house to the barn with his nose touching Cleve's heel.

As I parked my car in the hospital parking lot, I saw a real pretty woman coming toward me. As we got closer, I stared at her and said, "Aren't you

Free bridge lessons offered at Kiwanis game night

The Rockcastle Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a Game Night at the Country Club on Monday evening, April 27 from 7 to 10 p.m. Games of all kinds will be available: Trivial Pursuit, Scrabble, checkers, chess, cards and a variety of new and old favorites. A five dollar admission will cover games, desserts, coffee, soda, and prizes for each table.

As a special feature of the evening, beginners who wish to master the basics of bridge will receive some instruction and practice with others who love the game. Veteran players, as well, will find a "fourth" at this party.

KET Special Celebrate Easter

KET celebrates the season with a holiday special Sunday, April 19, The Mormon Tabernacle Choir: An Easter Gift of Music, airing at 3 p.m. world-renowned soprano Dame Kiri Te Kanawa joins the 320 members of the choir and the Utah Symphony conducted by Julius Rudel for a special Easter concert. The program includes sacred, operatic, and theatre selections chosen to appeal to a broad audience of music lovers.

Linda Gadd who used to live on Clear Creek?

The prissy woman laughed and said, "Yes, I'm the one who wouldn't tell you where I'd planted my turnip patch. But my name is Linda Lumb. I changed it over when Don and I got a divorce."

"Well, I don't care who you are now. I'm so glad to see you again," I told Linda.

She was working at the Berea Hospital and had just finished for the day.

I'd like to send a big "Welcome Citizen Reader" to Betty Payne Bisbee in Lubbock, Texas, who is a new subscriber and will now hear from home - that being Clear Creek where she was born and raised to John and Mayme Payne (both deceased). I am now her only living aunt, so well be in touch, love!

I better tell Louis Linville it was a big joke.

'Till next week: God doesn't create problems, he fixes them. Birthdays next week.

Clontz, Cash recognized by American Angus Association

Carl Clontz, Mt. Vernon, and Lonnie Cash of Brodhead, have been recognized nationally by the American Angus Association for having one registered Angus cow included in the American Angus Association's 1992 Pathfinder Report.

Only 1,228 of the more than 22,000 members of the American Angus Association are represented in this year's report, according to Richard Spader, executive vice president of the American Angus Association with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri. The Pathfinder Program identifies superior Angus cows based upon recorded performance traits that are economically important to efficient beef production. These traits include regular calving and heavy weaning weights, reports John Crouch, director of performance programs for the American Angus Association. All registered Angus cows that meet the strict Pathfinder standards are listed, along with their owners, in the Pathfinder Report which is published annually by the American Angus Association.

The 1992 Pathfinder Report lists

4,799 individual cows. It is published in the May issue of the Angus Journal and extra copies are available from the American Angus Association. The largest number of Pathfinder cows from a single herd this year is 112, and several hundred breeders have a single cow that qualifies for the exclusive listing.

Annual wildlife officers benefit hunt scheduled

The annual Wildlife Enforcement Officers Benefit Hunt, sponsored by the Side By Side Hunting Retrievers Club will be held Saturday, May 9th. This national event and the largest of its kind, will take place at the Jim Beam Distillery near Lebanon Junction, Kentucky.

This special field trial, including an auction and banquet, raises proceeds to support conservation officers and their families should an officer be killed or permanently disabled in the line of duty. To date, monies from this fund have been dispersed to approximately a dozen officers or their families throughout the United States.

The event is open to any retriever owner who wants to enter their dog in competition, and show their support and appreciation for the important service conservation officers provide in protecting wildlife-related recreational activities. Entry fees range from $30 to $45 and registration is open through May 1.

The 1992 Wildlife Officers Benefit Hunt is the sixth such event sponsored by the Side By Side Hunting Retrievers Club which operates out of the Louisville area.

Anyone interested in entering the benefit hunt, or donating auction and raffle items to support the Wildlife Officers Fund, should contact Chuck Williams at (502) 633-5938. All contributions are greatly appreciated.

Yard sales: bargains galore and a visit with the neighbors

"All women love a bargain,"
Joyce Bullen

Warm Saturday afternoons in mid-April, when the trees begin to bud and look like fuzzy pastel paintings, tend to lead even the average Joe out -- away from the television -- into the family car for a drive.

Often, these Saturday afternoon strollers begin their jaunt with no destination in mind. A simple drive through the country is mental relaxation for anyone, until they see the sign: Yard Sale.

Instant alarm. There's no one on the road more dangerous to follow than the person who's out for a drive and happens upon a Yard Sale sign. It's as if a stop sign suddenly appeared out of nowhere. The driver parks the car somewhere along the road and treks over to the card tables, pick-up trucks and front porch steps that are piled high with everything from stone-washed Levis to the little souvenir every child gets at least once in a lifetime: the water-filled, plastic object that snows inside when you turn it upside-down.

Those of you who are not avid yard sale goers, listen carefully, because humanity may one day depend on yard sales. Okay, maybe it won't be that drastic, but nevertheless, the resale of items people no longer care to keep is a form of recycling.

One man's trash is another man's treasure. If you don't believe that, ask Melba Kemp, who helped her daughter, Joy Kirby, in her yard sale last Friday. "One woman came in here today looking for shirts for her husband," said Melba. "You can buy a shirt that's still in good shape for $1-$2 at a yard sale, but you pay a lot more at K-Mart or someplace like that."

According to Melba, this year's big sellers include anything pertaining to a baby and blue jeans, but what-nots are out. "I guess people are just being more careful about how they spend their money now with the economy like it is," she said.

Sue Mink shares the feeling as she bargain hunted at Anna Wynn's sale Friday looking for baby clothes. "Yard sales are a lot cheaper," she said. "I have a four month old baby girl who I plan on clothing this summer from yard sales."

When comparing yard sales with large department stores, there's one characteristic that is undebatable. Yard sales are relaxed, enjoyable and have no long waits in check-out lines that are fully equipped with state-of-the-art scanners which are supposed to automatically ring in the price of each item -- but it generally takes the third try. Now would you really miss that?

Most department stores boast of friendly service and a smile, but now come on. When you're standing in line at K-Mart, the one you've been standing in for almost 15 minutes because the cashier can't seem to get approval from the manager on a check from the man in front of you, you know that check-out lady has to be frustrated, too. By the time she gets to you, just how bright is that friendly smile? It's not her fault. If you were shopping at a yard sale or even the small, local store in your town, you wouldn't have to endure all the red tape of "big time business."

Maybe the best advantage of yard sales over the department stores is this: when you bring along the kids, you do not have to contend with having your children throwing a tantrum in the middle of the store because they want a pack of Big League Chew and you don't want them to have it.

Generally, when you go to a yard sale, if you don't already know someone there, you will before it's all over. You almost always find an odd piece of china or something that, for some reason, looks familiar to you. When the person having the sale notices your admiration of the piece, a conversation usually begins.

You will probably find out that the china belonged to a grandmother or some close relative, and low and behold, after a few more minutes of conversation, you learn that you're probably related. And that's where you knew that china from. But the point is, these sales not only offer good merchandise at low prices, but service that is genuinely friendly.

Why support big business anyway? In large corporations, as we all have heard, the money goes to buy administrators' million dollar luxury yachts while the average Joe, who works the assembly line and just wants to take a Saturday cruise around town, has to watch every dime to afford gasoline for his car. Supporting yard sales is a good, sound, domestic investment that keeps our money right here in our own town.

Five and dime, small town America, is losing the battle against the informal department stores, and the only defense is to choose where our money is spent to benefit not only us, but the economy as a whole.

On the next warm weekend in Rockcastle County, don't rule out the possibility of taking the family car out for a drive to take advantage of the bargains. Not only will it help your pocket book, but you could gain a new relative or two.

Sue Mink, left, and Joyce Bullen looked puzzled at the gourd in Anna Wynn's yard sale merchandise. "People use them for decoration, bird houses, everything. You can paint them and they're really cute," said Anna.

Melba Kemp looks over the jeans at her daughter's, (Joy Kirby), yard sale. Jeans are a big seller this year, she said.

Everett Higgins, Jerusha Stallsworth and their K-9 pals enjoyed the company and the warm weather this weekend as they visited with the bargain hunters.

Ms. Alexander's kindergarten class is studying about seeds and frogs and the letter, X. Students of the Week for the morning group are Jason Robinson and Wendy West. Students of the week for the afternoon group are Jacob Taylor and John Taylor.

Ms. Parkerton's kindergarten class is studying plants. They will be doing experiments with willow and planting bean seeds.

Ms. Carter's Students of the Week are Becky Egger and Coby Neal. They will have an Easter Egg Hunt this Thursday. The Super Kids of Cluster 2 are busy working on a Spring Celebration Program. They will present it Friday, April 17, at 2 p.m.

Ms. Smith's Students of the Week are Shane Harris and Jordan Bales. Their theme for this week is "Caterpillars and Butterflies." They are going to be "Cocoon Hangers." Cody Owen is celebrating his 7th birthday. Happy Easter to all.

Ms. Vanzant's Students of the Week are Dion Howard, Seth Halford and Chris Graves. They are making bunnies and other Easter projects this week. Robby Sanducky had a birthday on April 7, and Matthew Doan's birthday was April 6. Hope everyone has a nice vacation.

Ms. Webb's class is learning about different ways boys and girls in other states get to school. Students of the week are Adam Reed and Steven Hanting. They will have an Easter Egg Hunt this Friday.

Ms. Adams' Students of the Week are Veronica Bray, Matthew Mullins, Ricky Sanio and Shanda Stamper. In reading class, they are reading "William's Doll" and they are going to bring in their favorite dolls.

Ms. Clontz's Students of the Week are Josh Hale and Briget VanWinkle. April birthdays include Niki Cameron on the 17th, Courtney Alexander on the 19th, Cory Reams on the 24th, and Chris Ramsey on the 30th. They are studying about eggs this week and working on a play to present to their parents.

Ms. Maple's class is also reading "William's Doll" this week. They are working on 2-digit subtraction in math.

Ms. Roark's Student of the Week is John Bray. In reading, they are reading "Sylvester and the Magic Pebble." In science, they will be studying rocks and minerals.

In the Writing to Read Lab, kindergarten is starting to work in their cycle word books. Grade 1 is doing "Bicycle Bee Learns Words on the Computer."

Ms. Brewer's homework has recently had two times when they have had five days perfect attendance. If they could only come ten days in a row!

Recently Ms. Brewer's third level students had a very special visitor. He was Kelli Gaupset from Norway. They enjoyed his visit very much. Serena Stratton, Chelsea's mom, brought him to our class. Thank you, Ms. Stratton for the visit and the refreshments. Thank you to Kelli as well.

They are glad the CTBS test is over. The class tried very hard on the test. They all also enjoyed a great spring break. This six weeks in health they will be studying drugs and alcohol.

In Ms. Cameron's class, Chris Baker will celebrate his birthday on April 27. The class is using their T.L.C. and enjoying it. Their reading this week will center around the Japanese culture.

 Ms. Delbert's Students of the Week are Bill Bailey and Jason Cromer. The class will be putting on a Spring play for parents and students on Friday afternoon. They are practicing hard to be ready Friday.

Ms. Kincaid's class, the students are still studying in the Solar System about the inner and outer planets. They are also working on book reports and their goal is to make a better book report. They are also working on writing skills by addressing various topics they are familiar with.

Ms. Powell's 5th grade had a great Spring Break but they're ready to get back to work and finish the last six weeks of school. They're working in their Writing Journals and using newspapers for activities in language arts, science and social studies.

Mr. Napier's Students of the Week are Cristy Owens and Nikki Cotton. They have done the ACES program in science. In English, they have been studying compound-subjects and

Ms. Wallin's class is learning how to mix colors of the spectrum. Spring activities will be incorporated into work activities.

Ms. Bryant's sixth graders have been working on biographies for the past three weeks.

Ms. Bugg's class had 11 days perfect attendance the week before Spring Break. The most A+'s for the week before Spring Break was Delbert Slusher with 26 A+ and second place was David Wilkerson with 24 A+'s. O a reading test they had, everyone made A's. Portfolios for writing were completed. What a chore!

Ms. Bales' 6th grade class, they are busy preparing for the last six weeks of school. They are concentrating on getting ready for the next set of achievement tests. This is a challenging task because they have no idea what will be expected of them.

Ms. Bales' class is also working on the Spring Fling. They want the 6th grade candidates to win the competition. They also know that every dollar comes right back to help our school next year. If one of the students asks, please help all you can! They are continuing to use the science equipment for experiments as often as possible. They are sharpening their observational skills by recording information on grass seeds and bean seeds just planted.

Fairview

Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend and one hundred and six were present for Sunday School. We always receive a great blessing from being in the House of the Lord.

Our revival closed Wednesday evening with a total of fifteen professions of faith. We were blessed every service with a wonderful message delivered by Rev. Seymour Wattenbarger of London. And we also thank the Good Lord for the good attendance, we just had a house full of people every night. We thank God too for Rev. Wattenbarger and our Pastor Rev. Harvey Pensol for their time and efforts in these series of messages. Let's always remember to pray for our ministers, (whomever or wherever they are) that are out there preaching the Word of God.

Baptismal services were conducted at our church Sunday evening. May God bless these precious young people as they step out in a new life for the Lord. They have our love and prayers.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edward McCollum who were married April 4th in Berea. Mrs. McCollum is the former Cheryl Arvin of Berea.

Also united in marriage on Friday evening, April 10, at the Fairview Baptist Church, were Miss Beth Ponder and David Eaton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harvey Pensol. For both children, we all wish many years of happiness. We love them all.

Weekend guests of relatives here were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tinch, Mrs. Becky Wright and two children, Mrs. Joyce Wilson and three children and Mrs. Beth Johnson and two children. They all attended the wedding of Beth Ponder and David Eaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and two children attended the birthday party of Jeremy Davidson Saturday night at the home of his parents Rex and Jewell Davidson of Brodhead. Jeremy was 8 years old on Sunday, April 12. Many happy returns of the day for this cute little boy that we all love.

Hubert and I visited at the home of our son Junior and family in Berea on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and children vacationed in Tennessee from Tuesday until Thursday of last week.

Recent guests of Mrs. Mary Cope have been her daughter Jean Hayes of Winchester, her brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cope of Mt. Vernon and her son William and wife of Eubank. William and Joyce and Mrs. Cope enjoyed a nice supper at Long John Silvers in Berea on Friday.

Our daughter Joyce Seals and husband James of Paint Lick visited with us Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday April 12th visiting in our home were our son Wayne and wife Carolyn and their daughter-in-law Kim Chasteen and infant son Cody, all of the Berea area.

Mr. and Mrs. Edd Croucher visited Eugene and Hallie Alexander Sunday afternoon.

Eugene Alexander recently visited in our home.

A Sunrise Service is scheduled for Easter at our church.

Please attend church and Sunday School, and we all need to pray for one another.

Ladies Aid Missionary Society

By: Elizabeth Mullins

Hostess Jennie Caperton entertained the missionary group of ladies at her mother's home in Brodhead, since she lives in London at present. Naturally it suited the ladies, as they always enjoy going to Majorie Shivel's home. It was April 11.

Ella Mae Martin, president of the club, asked Loraine Newland to present the lesson first. She chose the Easter Story that usually brings tears to our eyes of the suffering of Jesus. His resurrection, changes our sadness into joy, of course.

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Elizabeth F. Mullins. Then a specially good donation for Mike and Brenda Diskens, was collected.

Sickness of some members was discussed and promises were made to visit them this week.

Sowder Nursing Home birthday cards were passed around for signing.

Delicious refreshments of dip, crackers, potato chips, and cake (with choice of a drink) were served. After Elizabeth Mullins returned thanks for food prepared for the use of our bodies.

Barbara Watson is hostess in May and Elizabeth Mullins has the lesson.

Share life with others; give blood April 21

Spring is in the air in Rockcastle County and everyone is ready for warmer temperatures. Why not share those warm feelings by donating blood?

Now minutes of your time is all it takes to donate blood. Your donation is needed by patients in a 54-county area served by Central Kentucky Blood Center.

Rockcastle County Homemakers and Central Kentucky Blood Center have scheduled a spring blood drive at the Agricultural Services Center for Tuesday, April 21, from noon to 7 p.m.

Act on those warm feelings this spring; donate blood on Tuesday, April 21. For more information, call Rebecca Durham at 1-800-432-9528.

The next scheduled meeting will be May 1 at 6 p.m. in the Senior Citizen Center. We welcome all persons 50 or over.

Word has it that Stella Broadhead and her daughter, Audrey Lou, were moved mighty through the Rimer Ridge Singing Convention last month. They felt led to learn sign language so they could help deaf folk get a blessing out of singings. They also plan to use their talents at Harmony Chapel Church. Right now, not one there is that hard of hearing, but Stella and Audrey Lou want to be ready should the need arise.

Zebulon, Stella's husband, isn't too keen on what they are doing. He says they're always talked about him behind his back. Now with all this "finger stuff" he's sure they are talking about him behind his back to his face!

Ned Abernathy went to see Doc Doooley last week. He's down in his back real bad. Doc checked him out and prescribed a muscle relaxant and a pain reliever. Ned hasn't found work since he lost his job last year when the shoe factory over in Warburg shut down. He wasn't far from retirement. So, Ned, needless to say, has become a first class penny pincher.

"How much will this here medicine set me back?" Ned asked Doc. Doc said, "It shouldn't be more than twenty dollars."

"Heavens to Betsy, Doc," said Ned. "By the time I pay you I won't have that much left."

"Well, I can wait a week or two if that will help," said Doc. "Are you on a fixed income?"

"No, Doc," Ned said, "I'm on an in-a-fix income."

Well, a lot of folk are in Ned's situation. "Tiny" Boskarp, who lives on the hill behind Fudd's Feed Mill in Siler, doesn't have the money to play the lottery. So, he's come up with a surefire, get-rich idea. He told me not long ago that he's thinking about selling bumper stickers that read "Bumper Stickers." If that doesn't work he's going door-to-door selling "no solic-

Tri-County of the Bible in Corbin

The second term of the newly organized Tri-County School of the Bible will begin on Monday, May 4 at the First Assembly of God Church in Corbin. The first term, which included classes on The Book of Acts, First Corinthians and Bible Survey had twenty-two students enrolled. The classes taught are from the Berean Bible College of the Assemblies of God in Springfield, Missouri and are open to students from any denomination.

The Spring Term classes will be The Life of Christ and the Pauline Epistles and will be taught by Pastor Troy Boggs and his wife, Mary Jane. Both these teachers are qualified instructors and are approved by the Berean College as teachers in the study center courses.

Students in the Pauline Epistles class will study the writings of Paul with detailed background information, places and dates of the writing and an exposition of each book. Those in the Life of Christ class will study the four Gospels in chronological order and also cover the background, social and political customs of the period.

Classes will begin on May 4 and continue through June each Monday from 6:30 - 8 p.m. For information on tuition and enrollment please call 8778-0549 or stop by the church at 1015 South Main Street in Corbin between 6 - 6:30 p.m. either Monday, April 13 or the 20th.

Theo is notorious for his mixed metaphors. He nearly broke up the business meeting at Harmony Chapel Church last week. They were talking about building a "Fellowship Hall" for church dinners, and wedding receptions, and class rooms. Theo, not one to part with his money, tried to throw cold water on the discussion.

Theo Taulbee, out on Big Split Road, says the hard time we're having don't even come close to the Great Depression days he was born into. "Why, my folks wasso poor we didn't have enough furore to ward a shot-

"Now folks, we oughta go slow here," Theo exhorted. "We need to bathe this matter in prayer and get the anction of the Almighty. If we ain't careful, we'll get ourselves out on a limb and somebody'll come along and pull the rug out from under us!"

Easter Sunday

By: Mildred Reese

Our children look forward to Easter Sunday. It comes in the early spring. When the birds are singing. The warm sun shines down on every living thing.

The yellow Easter lilies bloom. Baby bunnies come out to play. The children search for bright color eggs. In their new clothes they got for this day.

Let them enjoy another Easter Sunday. As the season comes and goes. But, let them not forget to celebrate Easter. As the time that Jesus Arose.

Dear Parents,
March was a very busy month.
Between practicing for the CTBS
Achievement Test and taking the test, we didn't get to do our Farm Unit. I plan to rschedule that unit for May.
Thank you Penny Lovell and Diane
Schooler for the help you gave during testing week. We couldn't have done it without you!
April will be a busy month too. The kindergarten units of study will be Easter and Dinosaurs. We will also be busy preparing for the Kinder Derby Race which will take place on Friday, May 1. So mark your calendar for that day because I know you will want to be there!

A professional photographer will be coming to our room on Tuesday,
April 14 to take graduation pictures.
The students will be wearing caps and gowns for the pictures. The package is $14. The money must be turned in before Doug Brock will take the pictures. He guarantees satisfaction.
They will be good pictures. Mr. Brock left a sample of his work in my room if you would like to come and take a look.

The kindergarten children will be making a very nice gift for Mom for Mother's Day. You will need to send $5 to help cover some of the cost of the material to make this gift. It is really a nice gift! I'm sure you will treasure it for a long time.

April 13 - 17 - Easter
-Stories and songs
-Make Easter Chicks
-Dye hardboiled eggs (Each child will need to bring two hard boiled

Do not color the eggs at home!)
-Easter Party (Friday, April 17 -
Parents for this party are Kathy Powell, Geraldine Thomas, and

The Mt. Vernon Signal
Phys/Is Skidmore)
April 20 - 30 Dinosaurs
-Learn names and characteristics of several different dinosaurs
-Watch special dinosaur filmstrips and videos
-Create our own dinosaur
-Hunt dinosaur eggs (I need someone to volunteer to buy us a watermelon. But please do not mention this to your child. It will spoil the surprise of the dinosaur egg hunt!)

Teen Center Perspectives

Participants at the Rockcastle Teen Center enjoyed a fun and busy spring break. The weather was warm and the teens were anxious to make the most of their time off from school.
The week started off with a fun trip roller skating to Somerset. Followed by their wre trips to Cumberland Falls, Louisville Zoo and a camping trip at Camp A.J.S.

The teen center will be closed this Friday to commemorate Good Friday and will open again Monday, April 20th. The schedule for this week will be as follows:

Monday - Bible Study (Christ's Resurrection) 3 - 8 p.m.
Tuesday - Champions AA. Meeting 3 - 8 p.m.
Wednesday - World of Work Trip to beauty school 3 - 8 p.m.
Thursday - Film "Tomorrow Never Comes" 3 - 8 p.m. Fresh Voices discussion
Friday - Open recreation 3 - 8 p.m.
Saturday - Community Service
Project 12 - 6 p.m.
The staff of the Rockcastle Teen center would like to wish everyone a happy and blessed Easter!

Hamm on UK Dean's List

Michelle Hamm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hamm of Mt. Vernon, met the qualifications to be included in the Dean's List at the University of Kentucky for the fall session.

Michelle graduated from Rock-castle County High School, class of 1991 and is majoring in chemistry.

Receives scholarship

Kenneth Micheal Spillman of Milford, OH, son of Mike and Pam Spillman, formerly of Mt. Vernon, recently received a football scholarship to Western Kentucky University. He was a three year starter for Milford High School and was recruited by several major colleges, but chose Western where he hopes to play early as an outside linebacker.
He will be majoring in architecture starting in the fall of 1992.

Rockcastle PIPC Parent Workshop

Focus on Family

April 24, 1992

Mt. Vernon

The Rockcastle County Preschool Interagency Planning Council is sponsoring their 3rd Annual Workshop! This Workshop will be geared to parents of preschool and kindergarten-aged children, but ALL PARENTS and OTHER INTERESTED PERSONS are welcome and encouraged to attend.

The purpose of the workshop is to provide useful information to parents, promote parental involvement in our school system, and to introduce parents to agencies and services supportive of parents and children in our community.

Our theme this year is FOCUS ON FAMILIES.
Sessions will cover a variety of topics including:
"Stress and Families"
"Appropriate Discipline"
"The Importance of Play-Communication at Home"
"Non-Graded Primary: What does it mean for my child?"

Our morning group presentation will be by the Coordinators and Staff of the Rockcastle Family Resource and Youth Services Center.

The workshop will be held on Friday, April 24, 1992 from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Mount Vernon.

*Lunch, snacks and childcare will be provided free to those in attendance.
Door prizes and gifts for the children will also be provided free.*

If you have any questions or, if transportation is a problem, please contact Tammy Gabbard or Sue Rowe at 256-2125.
Also, if you think you might attend, please call Tammy Gabbard or Sue Rowe at 256-2125. This will not be a commitment on your part - it will merely help in the planning for food, gifts, and so forth.

PLEASE COME!

HOPE TO SEE YOU THERE!

DON'T MISS IT!
