

Roamin' Rockcastle

BY HILDA PAYNE GABBARD

You talk about weather, we have had it, any kind you can mention. First winds so hard and strong we thought it would take the new roof off the house. Then cold rain and weak sunshine. Dark clouds began to hang over the country and by Saturday nature let us have it. The wind turned into a snow storm and then his heavy snowflakes which began to pile up in drifts.

We were on Clear Creek and John said, "Let's go home before the Holt Hill gets slick," so we did before the snow got deeper. That was our first taste of '92 winter.

The snow came on the 14th which old timers said would be the number of snows that we could expect. We were told by the weather calendar a tracking snow would come on the 24th but I guess 10 days isn't too bad. When we were in Wildie a few days ago, we stopped to see Myrtle Abney Adams just out of the place. She looked well but had a really bad cold so I didn't keep her talking long in the doorway. Myrtle said she was staying by herself and forgot her post-potted flowers on the porch. She lost them in the early freeze. Ella McCracken living on Scaffold Cane Pike comes down to see her sometime but not so often since her brother, Robert Allen, now makes his home with Ella.

Myrtle said she reads my column in the Signal and really enjoys it. Leaving Wilde country we went next to Raymond Hurley's house on Lower Clear Creek and talked to him in his yard. He said Lorene his wife was doing some work in the kitchen decorating with contact paper.

Ramond said Mosaic Cope had been sick with arthritis in her back and hips making it hard to get around. Shory (Willard) Gadd and his wife Ella stopped in to see us saying they had moved from US 25 south down to near Conway. Shory wanted to know where they could get some sprouts of young spruce and pine trees to set around their house.

Shory said if he couldn't take his house to the woods he'd be doggone if he wouldn't bring the woods to his house seeing all these young trees around. I thought of that but it was a smart idea.

Blanche and Cleve Payne with Jessie Chasteen Norton who came from Indiana to visit friends in Rockcastle.

Ila said she liked to make candy and was going home to make different kind of candy they invited us to come down that night to their house since Ila was to make fudge and a peanut butter kind.

John went down to Homer Jennings loafing farm to swap big calls, Herman Spires brother Clifford called it. Anyway, it's where the men do a lot of loafing. Witt Jennings, Homer's brother, said, "I'm going home and make me a pot of chicken and dumplings. My grandchildren just love them the way I cook. I roll the dough real thin and drop it in the kettle."

David Hele came out of Foodtown grocery with John who had gone in to buy some food.

David came over to the truck where I sat and started talking.

"Now Hilda, I didn't trust John about cooking the six ducks and one goose that you had but he says he's going home to bake a big skillet of cornbread to eat with butter - so I'm sure to be down directly and eat some."

Then David told us of the bad luck his wife had when they were traveling in Tennessee. They had stopped at an antique shop where she bought some things and left her purse holding $350 lying on the counter.

Sometime later the purse was missed so they hurried back to the place and could find no purse. David said it ruined their trip and they came on home.

I had the same experience a year or two ago except I left my pocketbook on top of our car with $80. I got the pocketbook back but no money.

Ted Johnson at Paint Lick called John to tell they were making cashaw butter. Now that's one for Dale Dale at Richmond to find out about. He likes that kind of food. Ted's telephone number is 925-2275 and Dale, I got a tump kraut recipe for you in case you haven't gotten one yourself. Preston Seale decided to have this house and porch covered (we rent from him) after I had told him I caught a dishpan half full of water one night in the kitchen. A day later Preston said laughing, "Have you ever mentioned that pan of water?"

I told him no that was a cheap way to get water and saved us on our water bill, in a serious way.

"Well I've got a fellow coming to cover the whole thing," he told us.

And who should come down the next morning but Jim and Favra Dees' son Johnny Dees. He had a crew of young fellows with him and I never saw anyone work as fast as they did. You could tell that these young men had done this before.

MT. VERNON SIGNAL, MT. VERNON, KENTUCKY 40456

What's with these fellows getting ready for winter now?

I wonder if Richard asked his pretty wife Cindy to lay out his long johns as editor Mike French has told his wife Pam.

From Crawfordsville Indiana, comes a letter and picture from Jessie Chasteen Norton which she wants printed saying how she and daughter Dorothy Grimes enjoyed their trip back to Rockcastle. They want to thank Cleve and Blanche Payne for going with them to the Chasteen graveyard when they were there. They promise they will be back next year.

I went out to Nyra Hart's home one afternoon last week. When I walked in the sun was in my eyes from a window and for a minute or so I couldn't see the man she was introducing to me.

Then I began to focus my eyes on the most handsome man I had ever seen. Nyra was saying, "Meet Michael Fowler from California" and then I hugged my great-nephew, Mike. It was such a surprise to see him but he, Nyra and I had a great visit.

All of his kinfolks are glad to see him and we pray that his new job will be great when he returns to California. Then I began to focus my eyes on the most handsome man I had ever seen. Notice to Parents, Teachers and Employees of the Rockcastle County Board of Education

On October 22, 1986, President Reagan signed into law the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA, Public Law 99-519). The law required EPA to develop regulations which provide a comprehensive framework for addressing asbestos problems in public and private elementary and secondary schools. On October 30, 1987, EPA published the Asbestos-Containing Materials in Schools Rule (40 CFR Part 763 Subpart E). This Rule requires all public and private elementary and secondary schools to inspect for friable and non-friable asbestos, develop asbestos management plans that address asbestos hazards in school buildings, and implement response actions in a timely fashion. To carry out the above activities involving inspections, management plans and response actions, the Rockcastle County Board of Education has utilized accredited personnel. On April 30, 1987, EPA published the Model Accreditation Plan (40 CFR Part 763 Appendix C to Subpart E) required by AHERA, which specifies training, examination and other requirements for persons who inspect, develop management plans and design or conduct response actions in schools. The Model Plan became effective on June 1, 1987.

In 1988, the Rockcastle County Board of Education retained Barry W. Cooper, P.E. who completed an initial inspection to locate all asbestos-containing building materials (ACBM) and developed and submitted to the State of Kentucky an asbestos Management Plan that includes the results of the inspections. In December of 1988, the Rockcastle County Board of Education began to implement this management plan.

Copies of the management plan are always available for review for those interested persons at the Administration Office at Rt. 5, Box 69, Mt. Vernon, Ky. and at the Principals' Office at each school any time during normal office hours.

Copies are available for duplication at a cost of 25 cents for each 8-1/2x11 page of the Management Plan.

Ladies Aid Society meets

By: Elizabeth F. Mullins

Nine braved the snow storm, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. to attend a meeting at Elizabeth Mullins' home.

When Bro. Mike Moore came in, the hostess welcomed him saying, "Come in and find out Nellie Colson's surprise she has for us."

Nellie said, "He is the surprise as he's going to present our lesson tonight."

So we got to hear him Saturday night as well as Sunday. He chose 1 Thessalonians, 5th chapter to discuss.

Minutes of the last meeting were read before Barbara Watson read a letter from missionaries Mike and Brenda Diskant.

Majorie Shivel read a letter of thanks from Rockcastle Emergency Assistance Program for our donation. Then we voted to send $25 to this good cause we helped with Thanksgiving baskets.

Nellie Colson read a poem "Gifts from Faithful Hearts."

A collection was taken up before we went to the table for refreshments of Amish cooked pies, after Nellie's blessing of this food for our bodies.

Next this year's crop of pecans? Get them from Barbara Watson's home.

December, 1992, hostess will be Marjorie Shivel at her home. Bring a "dish" to go with chicken, dressing and dumplings. Ella Mae will give the lesson.

Also bring Secret Sister's Christmas Gift to lay under the Christmas Tree.

Names will be drawn for 1993 Secret Sisters, each month of 1993 and lessons to give each month of 1993.

'Twas Just a Dream -- Thankfully

By: Christine McKinney

'Twas just a dream about Thanksgiving, but my, it was so real! The kinfolk came from miles around to share this scrumptious meal; Aunt Jane and Uncle Johnny and all their lively brood, Along with fourteen neighbors were here to share our food.

They laughed and talked and kissed and hugged and told some corny jokes. And every time the doorbell rang, there stood more hungry folks.

The house was dressed in elegance, the table set with care; The feast was almost ready and the fragrance filled the air.

I noticed how they gazed at me and cooed and ached and sighed. I must admit I felt a surge of happiness and pride.

For everyone kept saying, "What a lovely, gorgeous creature!" But, being somewhat shy and modest it seemed difficult to feature.

Now everyone is seated and the carving set is passed; The host will do the honors; it is time to eat, at last.

And all the while I'm wondering 'bout the fondness shown for me. Alas! The light is dawning on this wretched mystery.

My thoughts are now quite lucid 'bout the fondness shown for me. No longer dim and murky.

Ye gads, this dream's a nightmare for it's plain that I'm the turkey!

Southwestern Chefs Cook for Thanksgiving

Southwest Thanksgiving Feast: A Great Chef Special airing on KET at 10 p.m. Wednesday, November 25, features the not-so-traditional pleasures of regional cooking by chefs of the Southwest.

The chefs prepare nine dishes for a complete menu that celebrates the traditional Thanksgiving staples, but in new ways -- the appetizers include tacos. Roast wild turkey with blue cornmeal chorizo stuffing, wild mushroom grain, and rot yam flan also find places at the table.

New District Judge is appointed by governor

Michael L. Henry

Michael L. Henry, 40, of Somerset has been appointed by Gov. Brereton Jones to be Rockcastle District Judge, Division 1.

He replaces William T. Cain who is the newly elected Circuit Judge.

Judge Henry served as assistant commonwealth attorney for Rockcastle-Pulaski from 1981 to 1984 and from 1989 to October 1992 when he was appointed and sworn in as District Judge on Oct. 23.

A native of Science Hill, Judge Henry attended the University of Louisville School of Law and received his undergraduate degree from Western Kentucky University.

He and his wife, Julia have two children, a daughter Lauren, 7 and a son, Christopher, 3.

He will serve the balance of Cain's term which ends in 1993. He said he would be a candidate for the office again.

Locals employed at new federal prison

Alan Hammond, left, and Shane Bullock are two of the three Rockcastle men who are employed at the new federal prison in Manchester. Both men were interviewed during an open house which was well attended by the public and many school children.

By: George Ferrell
The new federal prison in Manchester will begin taking prisoners in December, but three Rockcastle men are already on staff.

Shane Bullock, Alan Hammond and Garry Fain are local men who have been assigned duties at the prison.

Bullock comes to the prison from a previous assignment.

"I'm not a new hire," he said. "I've been in the system for seven years, almost eight."

Bullock was previously stationed at the Federal Medical Center in Lexington.

"It was a promotion for me from an assistant to a supervisor of education," he said.

Hammond, a new hire, said it took some time to get hired.

"I think it was back probably in October of last year," he said. "It was probably a few months until I was interviewed and hired."

He will be teaching "ESL" or English as a Second Language.

Hammond is a 1985 graduate of RCHS and an EKU grad with studies in History, English and middle grade English teaching.

"I'm directly out of college and the excitement would come for me just like in a public school having a class of your own," he said.

Bullock said his position will be a new experience for him.

"The challenge for me is going from RCHS, supervising the staff in coordinating the direction of the education program," he said.

Bullock will be talking with his staff, taking input, planning and giving his own input from his past experiences.

By saying the prison involves a lot of work. Both men were dressed casually during the open house held last week because they were busy moving furniture and other items into their offices.

Bullock, a 1976 graduate of RCHS who went on to get a degree from EKU, taught at Mt. Vernon Elementary and was assistant football coach at Rockcastle County High School for the 1984-85 seasons.

Many of the programs, according to Bullock, are remedial and focus on those without high school degrees.

"The programs that we offer are basically GEDs," he said.

Inmates who cannot prove that they have a GED or high school diploma or take 120 days of English as a second language training.

Woman, baby die when thrown from car on I-75

A mother and her unborn child were killed about 7:20 p.m. Sunday when they were ejected from their auto driven by her husband.

Leslie Marie Boersma, 24, of Calumet City, Illinois was thrown about 75 feet from the vehicle after she was ejected through a window.

According to State Trooper Gary Lane, Edward A. Boersma was north bound on I-75 when he fell asleep and ran off the roadway causing the car to overturn three times.

The accident occurred about 6 miles south of Mt. Vernon.

The victim was wearing only the harness portion of her seat belt and not the lap section.

The driver was wearing his full belt and received only minor injuries.

Mrs. Boersma died shortly after midnight at U.K. Medical Center where she was flown by helicopter.

Ashley Boersma, the infant, died at 11:10 p.m.

U.S. judge hands down terms for 7 in tax case

(A Herald-Leader staff report in the Wed., November 18, 1992 issue)

Seven people among 16 Kentuckians indicted in 1990 in what was thought to be one of the largest motor fuel tax-fraud cases in U.S. history have been sentenced by a federal judge in Lexington.

Nine other people are set for trial, the first of which is due to begin Nov. 30 in U.S. District Court in Lexington.

A 30-count indictment returned in December 1990 accused 16 people of conspiring to drain state and federal treasuries of hundreds of thousands of dollars in motor fuel tax revenue. The indictment said that most of the alleged offenses had occurred since mid-1987 and that the federal government lost almost $1 million.

The seven were sentenced Friday by U.S. District Judge Henry Wilhoit. The stiffest sentence went to Ronnie Gene Messer of Barbourville, who was given 23 months and credit for the 11 months already served.

The indictment identified Messer as owner of Penny Oil Corp. in Corbin, Every Day Mart in Barbourville, Star Truck Stop in Williamsburg and Cummins Truck Wash and Fuel Stop in Berea.

His wife, Edna Rose Messer, identified as Penny Oil's corporate secretary, was given two years' probation.

The indictment alleged that the Messers and other defendants conspired to avoid paying state and federal excise taxes collected from the retail sale of diesel fuel.

Wilhoit said the case involving the 16 people was the largest fraud case involving excise taxes in the history of the Internal Revenue Service.

Others sentenced were:

•Bryon Woolson of Knox County, 15 months, to be followed by three years' supervised release.

•James P. Mitchell and Evelyn B. Mitchell, Louisville, owners of Derby City Key Stop, Inc., which operated a Campbellsville truck stop. James Mitchell was given three months, to be followed by three years' supervised release. Evelyn Mitchell was given six months, to be followed by three years' supervised release.

•Patricia Ann Stringer of Berea, bookkeeper for V.W.Z. Inc., which

Rockcastle River Rebirth is title for man's clean-up effort

The "Rebirth" in their name reflects this commitment. It is not all hard work.

The group recognizes that people will be more enthusiastic and committed if they experience the river first-hand, so they sponsor canoe floats and a "Rockcastle River Day" to help spread the message and have fun at the same time.

The non-profit group, which recently celebrated its first anniversary, is non-confrontational and strives for positive change and greater local awareness and appreciation of the river and its aquatic environment.

They are justifiably proud of the fact that they have removed 17 dump truck loads of trash and one junked truck from four dump sites on the river, but even more proud that they have helped to change attitudes so that the former dump sites have remained clean.

For more information on Rockcastle River Rebirth, contact Jerry Waddle at Rt. 2, Box 178, Livingstone, KY 40445, (606)453-3825.

Weather

Everyone said it was early. They were referring to an early season snowfall that fluttered down Saturday coating trees and yards.

An inch fell at Cox Funeral Home weather station. But others reported up to 3 inches in and around the county.

The wet roads turned to ice, but in Rockcastle the streets and roads dried before they froze.

So much for the weather. To date 2.34 inches of precipitation has fallen in Mt. Vernon this month.

The high this month was 72 on Nov. 4. The low to date was 21 on Nov. 14 and 16.

Arrested

Three juveniles from Indiana ran into trouble when they paid their bill at Denny's Restaurant at Renfro Valley.

The trio, two boys and a girl, in a Jeep, paid their bill with a credit card but it had been cancelled.

City Police came, called the mother of one of the trio, but found they had run away from Fairbanks Rehabilitation Center in Indianapolis, Ind.

They were arrested by State Trooper Craig Sutton, City Police Chief Bill Mink and Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan.

They were taken to Somerset where their parents later picked them up.

Hospice Care is a preference

Nine out of ten Americans say they would prefer to be cared for and die either in their own home or a family member's home if they were facing a terminal illness, according to a recent Gallup Poll. At the same time, the Gallup survey revealed many of those polled knew nothing about hospice care or hospice programs available in their communities.

"The Gallup Poll results tell us people want what we have to offer," says Gregory Hancock, executive director of Hospice of the Kentucky River, which serves the residents of Rockcastle County.

"The quality of life for people in our care is vastly improved at home. But we are concerned that too many people don't know we are here; and if they do know we are here, they don't know what we do. They don't know we could be helping them take care of their dying loved ones."

Hospice is a special kind of care designed to provide support for people in the final phase of a terminal illness. This support includes not only the dying patient but the family of the patient, as well. Hospice seeks to enable patients to carry on an alert, pain-free life and to manage other symptoms of their illness in such a way that their last days may be spent at home, in comfortable surroundings and with family and good friends.

In the Gallup survey, respondents were asked to assume they were terminally ill and had only six months to live. An overwhelming proportion—86%—said they would want to receive care (and, ultimately, to die) in their own home or the home of a family member. According to the survey, 60% of respondents reported they would be "very interested" in considering using a comprehensive program of care in which physicians, nurses, counselors and other professionals kept them comfortable and alert at home; while emotional and other support was also given to fam-

Bonfire Thursday

A bonfire and pep rally will be held in support of the Rockcastle county Rockets football team Thursday night (tonight) from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the high school baseball field.

The public is urged to attend.

The local Hospice office, presently using space donated by the Christian Appalachian Project, will move to larger quarters located behind Ford Realty, across from the courthouse, in order to better serve the expanding patient base in this region. Members of the local Hospice representing Rockcastle County met at the new office Monday and are from left: Greg Hancock, Executive Director of Hospice of the Ky. River; Cindy Martin, board member; Reverend Wendell Romans, Rockcastle Chaplain in local area; Ann Mullins, volunteer at local office and Roy Martin, board member. The new office is scheduled to open January 1.

Deadline moved up for next week

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday, next week's deadline for news and advertising will be 2 p.m. Monday.

The Signal office will be closed Thursday but will be open Friday.

I never thought that in my lifetime I would be flying across the country in the best seat in first class in a commercial jet plane that is out-ranked only by the Concorde. But here I am, sitting in Row 1, seat A on a Boeing 757 enroute to San Diego from Cincinnati and I have my computer up on a tray about the size of our dining room table at home. And there were very attractive women all dressed in navy blue, are fawning over me to make sure my wine glass never gets less than two thirds full. They make sure, too, that I have little slices of cheese decked with sprigs of parsley and fresh, warm crackers smelling and feeling ever so slightly of olive oil. They've lowered a television set down out of the ceiling and a movie is playing that shows Julia Roberts taking off her clothes every time I look up. And the captain just announced that we are cruising at 39,000 feet. And here I am, as close to heaven as I'm ever apt to be, writing a newspaper column. This is the first time I've traveled in first class and it is, in fact, too nice not to share with the rest of you.

I booked this flight several weeks ago and managed to get my tickets at a rate they normally hold for cargo pets in the cargo section. The job I do requires that I leave Kentucky on a fairly frequent basis and show up at the headquarters of Private Foundations scattered across the country. On the other hand, my performance is evaluated largely on the amount of profit I bring to the bottom line. And besides that, I'm a tightwad by nature.

I travel cheap is what I'm trying to say. And that means that normally I'm riding in the rear of the plane, hunkered up against the wall, where I can sit and study about whatever needs attention while they get me from one place to another.

I almost always get a window seat, which, by the way, is not really desirable to most travelers. Study after study has proven that people sitting next to the windows are almost certain to die if a plane crashes. Sitting next to the aisle, down the middle of the plane, is where you want to be in case of a crash.

But not me. Everytime I sit next to the aisle, the person beside the window has to get up and go to the bathroom every five minutes. Which means that I have to get up and down a lot to let him out. Sitting next to the aisle in the rear of the plane means that another person almost always has his or her hindquarters leaned up against the top of my seat while they're "negotiating around the cabin" which is airline lingo for going to the toilet.

And people on planes tend to pass gas. If you're sitting next to the aisle on an airplane, you will discover that for more people eat soup beans and onions than you might have imagined. It's against the law to smoke on airplanes these days, but it doesn't hurt to light a match now and then and that's still legal. Even when you're hunkered up next to a window.

Traveling by air is obviously faster than driving or walking. Pain Lick to San Diego, for example, is about seven hours and that includes 45 minutes or so of driving on each end. The next quickest way would require at least 48 hours behind the steering wheel of a car that wouldn't make it that far without breaking down. I don't have such a vehicle. In fact, the most traumatic part of air travel to me is worrying about whether or not my truck will make it to the airport. But I'm off the point.

Normally it costs about twice to three times as much to fly first class. And normally I sit so far behind first class that I don't get to envy anybody sitting up here where I am right now. And, in fact, the guy sitting in the seat I normally occupy probably paid more for his ticket than I did. I'm here only because they ran out of seats and didn't have any other place to put me.

The guy in my regular seat is, right about now, getting a tray full of stuff wrapped in space-age plastic for lunch. It's normally pretty good as cold sandwiches go. He's also getting a real thin plastic cup full of soda or juice to go with it and he's learning to manipulate his wrists, without moving his elbows, in such a fashion that he can get his lunch into his mouth without spilling it onto his neighbor or into his lap. If he isn't a frequent flyer, he has already broken the plastic spoon and fork that comes along with his lunch kit. Bless his heart.

For the first time on an airplane, I'm eating off real china, drinking from a real glass, and using silverware to feed my face. I have room for my elbows and not once have I had to use a knee to tip something into one of my hands. My lunch is something that includes sauteed chicken breast, hot vegetables, broccoli soup and a real salad. The bread is even hot. The poor sucker back in my regular seat is probably asking the stewardess for a razor blade so he can get his crackers open.

In the meantime, I'm being served far better than I have experienced in some New York restaurants. Can I take this away Mr. Adams? How's the soup Mr. Adams? "More wine Mr. Adams?" "Dessert, Mr. Adams?" And as soon as I've finished with something they wash the dishes and stuff away. And they've called me Mr. Adams more in the last hour than an entire high school's student body did in a year.

The guy back in 38-A will be finished eating at least 45 minutes before they take anything away and he won't be able to do anything except read the labels on his cracker cover till they do. And heaven forbid that he need to use the bathroom. There's no way the two people between him and the aisle can get up right now.

If I were to win the Reader's Digest Jackpot, I tell myself, I wouldn't quit work. I'd keep my regular job and go on doing what I'm doing. But I'd contribute enough to the company so that I could afford to travel first class all the time. In the meantime, I'm trying real hard to not think about where I'm going to be on the way home.

Commentary

By George Ferrell

At age 36, I am beginning to learn something about middle age.

It is that time period after youth that intercedes between maturity and old age.

I have accepted the fact that I'm 36, but at times I find it quite annoying. It's bad enough getting older, but succumbing to the maladies of age is even worse.

This past Tuesday I woke up with a charlie horse in my right leg. It must be a sign of age, just like the bachache which hits me once or twice a year.

Today there are a host of wonder-workers in the form of vitamins, meditation, exercise and whatever else may or may not have worked for some poor souls.

Mark Twain, in his essays on Christian Science, took a few shots at the medical world of his day.

There are the Mind Cure, the Faith Cure, the Prayer Cure, the Mental-Science Cure, and the Christian Science Cure; and apparently they all do their miracles with the same old, powerful instrument — the patient's imagination," Twain wrote.

Twain could take just about anything and give it a rub, even corroded brass, and it would shine.

He talks about going to a Christian Scientist to cure his stomach ache and cold, and, instead, found that the horse doctor did a better job.

He paid the horse doctor double the amount requested and was also brought an itemized bill "for a crate of broken bones mended in two hundred and thirty-four places — one dollar per fracture."

"Nothing exists but Mind?" Twain questioned. "Nothing," she answered. "All else is substanceless, all else is imaginary."

Twain said he gave her an imaginary check and was then sued for "substantial dollars."

Sounds like an ordinary doctor bill in today's world.

In Twain's day Christian Science was a strong force in America.

Headquartered in Boston, they spread their faith throughout the land, far and wide with their religious philosophy.

Twain never met an institution that he didn't want to examine and tear apart for both the sake of humor and rationality.

There was the famous piece he wrote about a murder trial where the defendant pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity.

The jury held with the defendant, then said he was fine today and sent him home.

Many people thought this imaginary journalism to be true and some still fear it could happen today.

Twain was to his age what H.L. Mencken was the 20s and 30s and what Hunter Thompson is to many young journalists today.

Twain was often considered a Journalist insted of a novelist.

He wrote for the early Cosmopolitan, various newspapers and magazines and a variety of other publications.

I've heard that he delighted in getting his picture taken. He probably would have had to hate love relationship with TV, which came after his death.

If there was a forerunner to Twain in America, it may well have been the famed Edgar Allen Poe.

Poe was to the first half of the 19th century what Twain was to the time after.

Most people know Poe for the famous poetic ballad "The Raven," which is a marvelous, though soggy piece of poetic lore.

What most people don't know is that Poe made his living as an editor of newspapers and magazines. He was a pretty fair editor, but he had a checked career because of his hot temper, excessive drinking and quarrelous nature.

His life was a great American tragedy.

He not only wrote poetry and short stories, but also at least one play, which is performed on rare occasions. We should envy his great skill as a writer, but not his personal habits.

According to one biography I am familiar with dated 1863 Poe died on his way to his fourth wedding (he was finally going to marry rich), after stopping to have a drink with his friends.

When he didn't appear at the altar a search party was organized.

They found him freezing in the gutter early the next morning sick and delirious. He died some short time later. The tragedy is that such a great genius lived such a wretched life, full of torment and depressing circumstances.

Sill, I guess that's just ordinary fare for today's journalist, and perhaps for more than a few editors.

The great American tragedy is what we all seem to live, watching the carnage, taking notes on it, and passing it to the public as an explication. By the way, I did study a good bit of literature in college. I wasn't very good at it, but I sure did enjoy myself.

Oh, well, that's enough! Let me off this column. I won't trouble you any further.

That's it for this week.

Marijuana eradication season has ended

The outdoor marijuana eradication season has ended and over 900,000 plants were found and destroyed according to members of the Governor's Marijuana Strike Task Force.

State Justice Secretary Billy Wellman sees this year's efforts as the best coordinated ever between the 17 federal, state and local agencies.

The final figures for the outdoor season show almost 905,000 plants eradicated with a value of 1.3 billion dollars.

The number of plots found were 9,426 and number of arrests totaled 401.

Kentucky State Police Captain William Lewis who heads the Strike Force Operations Center said there were several cases still under investigation by both state and federal officers that have not been concluded.

Thirty-one weapons were seized and 75 booky traps discovered.

Lewis noted the number of indoor operations continues to increase with 60 found this year. He added more emphasis will be given to indoor operations this winter.

The largest find of the year was in Mercer County where 180,000 plants were destroyed in two large plots totaling over 6 acres.

After Mercer, the next county in total numbers was Owsley with 66,223.

Wellman again thanked the public who has increased its participation in reporting possible locations by contacting local or state law enforcement offices or using the toll-free 800 DOPE-TIP line.

He also repeated the thanks to the dedication of the hundreds of National Guard troops and state police and federal officers who took his challenge to find more plants than last year and succeeded.

In 1991, Kentucky led the nation in plants destroyed with 823,088.

and barrels of midnight oil, or mowing my yard and yard. Here goes.

1. Why do sanctuaries fill up if indeed they do fill up—from the back to the front? Why do parishioners are really spectators at heart? Because the preacher gets carried away and salivates all over the front pews? Because the choir has multiple halitosis' all of the above?

2. Why is the inverted colon such a prevalent punctuation error?

3. Why do I get an itch in the small of my foot right after I've laced my shoe?

4. Why do Christians who believe they will have new bodies in the age to come, spend thousands of dollars preserving dead bodies?

5. Are ecclesiastical circles made up of men who spend a lot of time going around and around, rarely getting anywhere?

6. Why do we legalize liquor and outlaw masrjijana?

7. Why do some preachers fuss about those who aren't present to those who are?

8. Is free-enterprise a license for greed?

9. Have you ever walked into a crowded elevator, knowing no one, and said, "I'm guess you're wondering why I called this meeting?"

10. Why do preachers say they began their ministries by "surrendering to preach" when that is something most do after they have pastored a few churches?

11. Why does Superman die in November's comic book issue? Is it true that he will be brought back to life? If so, will it be such a big deal knowing that ET and Mr. Spock—and Jesus—have already done that number?

12. Has the USA been going downhill since John Wayne died? And now that the Rifleman is gone, what will I do? Be my bottom dollar on Bill!

13. Does Al Gore resemble Christopher Reeve, who looks a lot like Superman?

14. What's a "Bottom" dollar?

15. Why do churches purchase beautiful silver services for communion and then cover them with tablecloths? To keep the flies out?

16. What's the killing off the Allegheny woodrat?

17. What makes someone "weird"? Worrying about Allegheny woodrats?

18. Why are there more "ites" (like Israelites, Hitites, Horites, Kambelites, etc.) in the Old Testament than "ians" and "onians" (like Egyptians and Babylonians)?

19. Did William Tell really shoot an arrow through an apple while standing on his son's head?

20. Were Mary and Martha good cooks? Would they trust Crisco?

21. Why do some preachers change their voices when they get into a pulpit? Why do they say "Gawd-duh" instead of "God" and "Lard" rather than "Lord"?

22. Dare I wear my Dockers to church on Sunday morning? Why do so many folks dress better for that service? Is God impressed? Is it God we're trying to impress?

23. Have you noticed that the title of this column is only one letter more than "heresy"?

24. Did the biblical authors ever write "tongue-in-check"?

25. Would you laugh if "Ebel" (in Ray Stevens' song and video) were from your town? Or in your Sunday School class? Would you associate with her knowing she stripped and chased "the Streak"? What would people think if you did?

26. Is "heresy" what someone else believes and I don't?

27. The prophet Habakkuk said God came from Teman (3:3), which was down south of the Jordan where John baptized. Does that make God a Southern Baptist?

28. If we traveled to the end of the universe, what would we find on the other side?

29. Can God clap with one hand?

30. Was Jesus handsome like the late Jeffrey Hunter or some other actors who have tried to play the part of Christ? Could Jesus have been less than good-looking—maybe short, a tad overweight, or bald? If he did have a full head of hair, was it long and parted in the middle or cut shorter, like that of other men of his day? Did he ever have a headache, an upset stomach, or an in-grow-toenail? Was he a morning person? Did he ever want to marry? Were there times when he considered leaving the ministry and going back to carpentry?

Well, enough of that! I'd like to talk about the first snowfall of the season in greater Wab'd (named for William Alexander Ballard Davis), but that will have to wait.

So, precious souls, until we meet again, ponder the perception of the Rev. J. Lloyd Tweedle, D.D., that most nasal but tolerant person and part-time patcher of garbage bags, who after preaching one morning to a nodding flock, said to his wife at the breakfast table a year or so later, "If all the people who sleep in church on a given Sunday were laid end to end they would . . . be more comfortable."

Kentuckians offered home ownership opportunities

More Kentuckians living in rural areas have the opportunity of achieving homeownership through a joint effort by Kentucky Housing Corporation (KHC) and Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) under their Rural Housing Guaranteed Loan program. KHC has set aside $2 million for the purchase of mortgage loans guaranteed by FmHA. The funds are available for properties located in 48 Kentucky counties including Rockcastle.

KHC board chairman Kim Burse said the program will allow KHC to reach more lower- and moderate-income Kentuckians who are in need of affordable housing in rural areas. "This partnership will enhance our ability to reach those rural areas of the state which have a limited median income and allow more residents of the state to become homeowners."

Funds for the program are available on a first-come, first-served basis. The mortgage rate for the loans is 7.5 percent fixed with a term of 30 years. Minimum to no down payment will be required. All loans must qualify under the guidelines of both KHC and FmHA.

James Dunsmore, acting FmHA state director, said that he is very pleased to have KHC join forces as a lender in the program. "We appreciate the cooperation and participation of KHC in helping us administer a guaranteed loan program that makes it possible for more Kentuckians to realize the dream of owning a home."

For more information about eligibility or a list of lenders participating in the Farmers Home Administration Guaranteed Loan Program, contact Beverly Salchli at (502)564-4764, (800)633-8896 or (800)247-2510 (for the hearing impaired only).

Halls of Fame appearing

Halls of Fame are springing up around the state, the latest is the Kentucky counties Hall of Fame Tourism Center in Springfield.

The new Hall of Fame does not affect the proposed country music Hall of Honor at Renfro Valley. That Hall will feature musicians past and present. That Hall is still in the planning stage.

The Kentucky counties Hall of Fame reportedly offers every county in the state an opportunity to show their wares, distribute literature and promote visitation to their county.

Each county has a booth space to use exclusively for promoting their county. The staff freshens literature from supplies left by each county. In addition to booth space the show windows in front are used to display different county's specialties when provided.

According to Steve Hales, coordinator, Kentucky needs a central location where tourists can visit and be exposed to the cultures, products and lifestyles offered in every county in the state.

More information may be obtained by contacting Kentucky Counties Hall of Fame Tourism Center, 100 W. Main St., Springfield, KY, 40069.

Truck fire

An Indiana pickup truck parked in the Bingo Parlor parking lot was stolen Monday night and later found burned, according to a report at the sheriff's office.

The pickup/camper was driven to a farm owned by Sheriff Shirley Smith at Hummel where someone shot into the gas tank, or poured gas on the truck and set it afire.

The truck burned near rotted hay but did not set it afire.

Several spent shells were found near the burned truck.

Forward in the Fifth holds annual meeting

By: Lu Ed Nielsen

The local affiliate of Forward in the 5th travelled to Shakerstown for the annual meeting Nov. 4. Members of the Rockcastle County affiliate who attended the lunch and meeting were Bige Towery, member of the Executive Board, Shelby Reynolds and Claudina Cash, both of whom serve on the local board and LuEd Nielsen who is the vice president for the local unit. We missed having Melanie Lyons, our president, in attendance but, she was in Louisville taking CPA exams.

After our wonderful meal in the Shakerstown Restaurant we went to the building where meetings are held. It was a very cold and dreary day outside, but we were very comfortable inside. Each affiliate told about the happenings in their local unit. Although we are still in the revitalization stage we have done quite a few things in Rockcastle County. The day before school began Forward in the 5th presented cash awards of $50, $100 and $150 to three of our teachers. They could use this money anyway they wanted to in the classroom. Also, books were given away in a drawing. This was to encourage the reading programs in the lower grades.

On August 25, 1992, students from each elementary school were chosen to participate in the "Year 2,000 Program." This program is a goal that we all have that the children in the 5th grade this year will complete their high school year in the year 2000. Betty Lewis, from the Family Resource Center and Lu Ed Nielsen, from Forward in the 5th took the children to the Corbin Airport. It was a very hot day but, our children were given a very special treat. Donald Laidlaw, asst. secretary for Human Resources and administration, U.S. Dept. of Education was the speaker. After he spoke about his hopes for the year 2,000 graduates he had his picture taken with the children. Our group from Rockcastle was given a tour of a couple of private airplanes at the airport. After this treat was over the students from Rockcastle received a special invitation to have lunch with Mr. Laidlaw, Jo Anne James, and other executive board members. The MVES students were the only ones who were able to attend this special luncheon and I think that they were a little bit embarrassed to be with all of these people who are so involved in education. It will be something that they can always remember.

Everyone is invited to be a member of Forward in the 5th. You only need to have an interest in children and education.

Another project that our unit is involved in is mini-grants. The applications have been sent off for judging and we should be hearing soon who the winners are. We are also involved in the "Parental Volunteer Reading Project." The project's basic goal is to get parents, and other adults, into primary classrooms to read aloud to students. Participating teachers receive a set of 10 books during the first year, and three additional ones during the second year. For this effort the affiliate receives a one-time grant of $500.

We have been participating in the attendance improvement project. One of the affiliates told of the program to improve teacher attendance. This sounds interesting. Rewards were cash.

Thank you Ginny Eager and Mary Roemer for all of your help.

The Golden Eagle
 By: Anthony de Mello
The Song of the Bird

A man found an eagle's egg and put it in the nest of a backyard hen. The eagle hatched with the brood of chickens and grew up with them.

All his life the eagle did what the backyard chickens did, thinking he was a backyard chicken. He scratched the earth for worms and insects. He clucked and cackled. And he would thrash his wings and fly a few feet into the air like the chickens. After all, that is how a chicken is supposed to fly, isn't it?

Years passed and the eagle grew very old. One day he saw a magnificent bird far above him in the cloudless sky. It floated in graceful majesty among the powerful wind currents, with scarcely a beat of its strong golden wings.

The old eagle looked up in awe. "Who's that?" he said to his neighbor.

That's the eagle, the king of the birds," said his neighbor. "But don't give it another thought. You and I are different from him."

So the eagle never gave it another thought. He died thinking he was a backyard chicken.

Opportunity for Governor's Scholars to pursue agriculture careers

Participants in the Governor's Scholars Program will be eligible for college scholarships, low-interest loans and internships in agribusiness under a new program aimed at encouraging Kentucky youth to pursue careers in agriculture, Governor Breton Jones and Agriculture Commissioner Ed Logsdon announced today.

The Agriculture Department is placing $750,000 from its Kentucky Rural Rehabilitation Fund Student Loan Program into a trust fund to provide 15-20 scholarships per year in amounts of from $300 to $3,000 per recipient. The 700 Kentucky youngsters who annually participate in the Governor's Scholars Program will be eligible to apply for scholarships or loans with the intent of earning a degree related to a career in agriculture or agribusiness.

"This will help bring more sharp young minds into agribusiness to the additional benefit of our agricultural communities," said Jones. "Agriculture is of vital importance to Kentucky and holding our best and brightest will help our entire commonwealth."

An advisory committee representing business and higher education will oversee the scholarship and internship programs. The first scholarships will be awarded for the Fall 1993 semester. Applications for those scholarships must be submitted by March 1, 1993.

Logsdon said he initiated the program in order to make more effective use of funds in the KRRF Student Loan Program, which was implemented in 1973 through a grant from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"This fund grew to more than $1 million with only a fraction being utilized each year," Logsdon said. "The federal guidelines allowed additional uses of these funds, so we chose to form this partnership with the Governor's Scholars Program and received USDA approval to transfer $750,000."

The KRRF Student Loan Program retains about $650,000 to continue providing low-interest loans to Kentucky youngsters from low-income farm families.

The Student Loan Program will not be adversely affected, and the Agribusiness Governor's Scholars Program will meet a need to channel some of Kentucky's best young people into agriculture and related businesses," Logsdon said.

"Our administration is happy to help young people of great potential who will be important contributors to our farm communities," Jones said.

Scholarship recipients must attend a Kentucky college or university, unless the advisory board makes an exception based on a special educational need that is not available in the state. Special emphasis will be placed on assuring that all of Kentucky's agriculture schools (University of Kentucky, Western Kentucky University, Eastern Kentucky University, Murray State University and Morehead State University) have scholarship recipients.

Rockets defensively whip Anderson, 12-0

Rockets face defending state champions Danville Friday

To win in the second round and advance to the championship game of the regional playoffs for the second straight year is every high school football team's goal. But to do it by eliminating a team with only one loss and favored by four points is football at its best.

That's how the Rockcastle County Rockets eliminated Anderson County this past Friday at RCHS. They defensively whipped the Bearcats, 12-0, by limiting them to only 36 rushing yards and 61 passing yards while keeping them scoreless, a feat not accomplished by any other team this year.

All-state running back J.D. Harris led the Rockets with 129 yards on 23 carries and is the first back this year to break 100 yards against Anderson. Harris made this week's high school football's Honor Roll for his performance.

With the win the Rockets now up their record to 11-1 and have extended their winning streak now to 10 games.

"Anderson had an excellent team, I just think we were well prepared for them," said head coach Tom Larkey Tuesday.

"Our players went out and played a hard fought game," he added.

While the game was billed as a heated defensive battle, the Rockets, renowned for scoring first, posted the first score in the early minutes of the first quarter on a turnover.

A forced Anderson fumble on the Bearcat four yard line was recovered by Rocket Brian Mink. From there, the Rockets turned to fullback Bobby Coffey for the game's first score and early lead, 6-0. Anderson denied the Rockets' extra-point attempt.

"Anderson had a very good defense," said Larkey. "With the exception of Danville, not very many teams have been able to move the ball on them."

However, the Rockets legged out 222 yards on 46 carries to dent the unscarred Anderson defense. While they only passed for 45 yards, they did garner 11 first downs, eight of those rushing.

While the Rockets' offense played sound football with only one turnover, a fumble late in the third quarter which denied a score from Anderson's eight yard line, it was their defense that excelled.

A sticky pass coverage highlighted by a third quarter interception from J.D. Bussell kept Anderson's passing game within grasp for the duration. And sacks by Jason Hunt, Mink and Coffey put a hold on their ground attack.

"That was the best I've seen our defense play since Corbin," Larkey said.

"Our secondary had about as good a game as they could have," he added. Backed with confidence from their defense, the Rockets put together the game's final score on their opening possession of the second half.

From their 30 yard line, the Rockets were successful in a 70 yard scoring drive highlighted by a 26 yard carry by Harris and capped by a five yard touchdown pass from Bussell to Hunt. Although their conversion was denied by Anderson, their 12-0 lead would stand until the conclusion.

While Larkey did feel the Rockets played a nearly flawless game, he felt his team should have connected on a few more scoring opportunities.

"The only disappointment during the game was that I think we blew a couple of opportunities to score and dropped some passes I think we shouldn't have," he said.

"That was the best I've seen our defense play since Corbin."

-Tom Larkey -

Maybe not just perfect, but the Rockets are hoping to take their solid Anderson performance into this Friday's game against the defending state champs of Class 2A.

The Rockets will face-off with the Danville Admirals tomorrow night (Friday) at RCHS beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The Admirals are boasting a 26 game winning streak coming into Friday's game and are listed as a 24 point favorite. They have an overall quick team this year, including their linemen. The Rockets are going to have to look for Danville's triple option used out of a wishbone formation. The threat is in their quarterback in whether he will use the option, keep the ball or give it to their fullback. The Rockets feel that Danville will be tough to contain.

"I've been telling our players all week to go out there and play and make every play like it's the last play," said Larkey. "If we win this one, we should be able to go to Louisville," he added.

Jason Kirby attempts to drag an Anderson defender along after a 14 yard reception in Friday night's second round of the regional playoffs. The Rockets shut-out Anderson in the game, 12-0, and will now face the Danville Admirals in the championships this Friday at RCHS at 7:30 p.m.

The Rockets are the only team on this year's schedule left in the playoffs.

Key notes for the Rockets this year during regular season play are their rankings in the Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA).

During regular season play, the Rockets are ranked third in the top 10 rushing defense teams with an average of 74.2 yards held to their opposition. They also stand in at seventh in the top 10 scoring defense teams with an average of 7.9 points scored against their opposition, six-tenths higher than last year's average.

Offensively, the Rockets have dropped in two categories where they were ranked last year. They held the seventh spot in last year's rushing leaders with an average of 308.2 yards per game and eighth in scoring margin with 325 points, an average of 25.2 over their opposition. This year they stand in with an average of 224.9 yards per game and 259 points scored.

On a final note in individual rankings, J.D. Harris is ranked 10th in scoring leaders with 96 points scored for an average of 10.7 points per game. Harris was also ranked eighth in yards gained last year with an average of 139.8 yards per game. His average has dropped to 72.4 this year due to an earlier injury and the fact that he has carried the ball 87 times less than last year.

Defensive stats for the Rockets against Anderson: Jason Hunt had two solos, one assist and one one-half sack; Brian Mink had six assists, one fumble recovery and two one-half sacks; Jay Stevens had two solos and three assists; Stacey Kirby had one solo and three assists; Gordon Sowder had two solos; Chris Goff had two assists; Louie Davis had two assists; Bobby Coffey had four solos, four assists and one-half sacks; J.D. Bussell had one solo, two assists and one interception; Jason Kirby had one solo and four assists; Michael Shaffer had one solo and

All-stater J.D. Harris was named to the Kentucky high school Honor Roll this past week for his performance against Anderson County. He had 129 yards on 23 carries in the game.

J.D. Harris and Bobby Coffey combined forces to bring down Anderson's quarterback in Friday's regional playoff action.

Clark signs letter of intent to play golf at Cumberland College

Trent D. Clark, a senior at Rockcastle County High School, signed a letter of intent November 9th to play golf at Cumberland College.

Clark, the son of Don and Paula Clark of Mt. Vernon, has been a member of the RCHS golf team for the past four years. He concluded the 1992 season with an impressive nine-hole average of 38.

During his tenure at RCHS, Clark, 17, has participated in five tournaments as well as attending the Kentucky PGA Junior Golf Academy last year.

Clark's collection of finishes include: fourth in the 1991 Western Steer Junior Classic; third in the 1991 Cedar Rapids Club Championship; second in the 1992 Insurance Youth Classic qualifier; as well as good performances in the 1992 State Insurance Youth Classic and KGA State Junior Classic.

Clark will play under Cumberland golf coach Bill Sergeant.

Rockets vs. Bearcats

By: Preston Parrett

At the home of the Rockets Play-off action was in the air And according to the Lexington Herald:

The Rockets didn't stand a prayer. A frigid north wind was blowing Blustering flakes were swirling down But the stout hearted Rocket fans Poured in from the county and the town.

The Rocks were ranked underdogs But evidently hadn't read the paper. For they soared out of their lair Ready to cut their caper.

The Bearcats got the ball Committed the unpardonable sin, They fumbled near the Rocket goal line And Bobby Coffey carried her in.

The extra point was missed Rocks and Bearcats played up and down the field, With both teams playing hardnose defense And neither one would yield.

In the third quarter the Rocks Sharpened up their passing eye, With a five yard pass from Bussell To Hunt, who took it in on the fly.

For the rest of the game Both defenses were stout And neither team would score As they shut each other out.

Congrats to coaches, cheerleaders and fans. Winning is the only way you know Just torpedo the Admirals And on to state you go.

Good Luck!

Nation's richest Bass tourney

Eleven fishermen have qualified to compete in the Red Man All-American Bass Championship, May 31 - June 5, 1993, in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, by successfully advancing through a 150 man field of top weekend anglers in Operation Bass' Regional Championship qualifier on West Point Lake. The 11 will be competing against 40 other anglers for sport fishing's largest cash prize - $100,000.

Curtis Talbott of Forest, Virginia, placed first with a two day catch totaling 27 pounds, 14 ounces. Talbott fished points in Yellow Jacket Creek using Poe's 400 Series crankbaits. He received the first place prize consisting of a full-size Chevy pick-up and a fully-rigged Ranger bass boat powered by a Johnson outboard valued at $35,000.

Ron McClure of Mt. Vernon placed fourth with 16 pounds, 10 ounces. McClure fished Stan Sloan's spinnerbaits in the main lake. Fourth place paid $250.

Modern gun deer season

With the exception of some counties in the eastern and southeastern portion of the state, modern gun deer season will be November 14-23, 1992. Counties designated in Zone 7, as shown in the 1992-93 Kentucky Deer

Hunting Guide, are open to a five-day modern gun season Nov. 14-18. Hunters who have not yet picked up a copy of the Kentucky Deer Hunting Guide booklet are strongly encouraged to do so before hunting. This booklet, available from most license outlets or directly from the fish and wildlife department, contains all the information necessary to have a safe and legal deer season. Hunters should remember that all harvested deer must be tagged and checked at an official check station. Those hunters not required to purchase a tag must provide their own, attach it to the harvested animal, and then take the animal to a check station. Wearing solid, unbroken hunter orange clothing on the head, chest and back is also required during the modern gun season, or any period when firearms can be used for deer hunting. Hunters must wear a cap and vest as outer garments which are visible to other hunters while in the field.

Hunters who have any questions about deer hunting should contact the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources at (502) 564-4336 for complete season information. Office hours are Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Kentucky Utilities note

Kentucky Utilities' (KU) residential electric rates are among the lowest in the nation, according to a recent survey released by the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC).

The survey showed KU's residential rates as the sixth lowest in the country—186th out of 191 electric service areas. The NARUC survey reported winter residential electric bill comparisons for the largest service territories of the major investor-owned regulated electric utilities in 49 states and the District of Columbia.

In addition, KU customers can review the rates for themselves in a new informational KU pamphlet called "Here Are Your Electric Rates." The pamphlet explains the charges, step-by-step. Customers can use the information to understand the electric bill, or, if the consumer knows how many kilowatt-hours of electricity are used in a month, one can estimate the bill.

A copy of the pamphlet will be included in the next KU bill. The information fulfills the Kentucky Public Service Commission's requirement that KU provide a rate schedule to each customer once a year.

For additional information or copies of the electric rate pamphlet, contact the local KU office.

The Rockcastle Cheerleaders remind everyone to wear red at Friday's game.

Correction: Johnathon Burdette's name was left off the identification of the 5th & 6th grade Bucs football team last week. The Signal regrets this error.

Governor announces new Tech scholarship program

Governor Brereton Jones recently announced the creation of a new scholarship program to help high school students continue their education at the state's vocational-technical schools.

The announcement came at the dedication of a $5 million expansion of facilities at the Workforce Development Cabinet's Kentucky Tech-Central Kentucky State Vocational-Technical School in Lexington. The Governor's Kentucky Tech Scholarship (KTS) Program, administered by the Kentucky Tech System, will provide two scholarships annually to each of the state's vocational-technical schools and health technology centers, as well as the Kentucky Advanced Technology Center in Bowling Green.

Funding will cover tuition, registration fees, required books, supplies and uniforms, and has an estimated dollar value of $2,200. Funding for the program will be absorbed by the Department for Adult and Technical Education.

Scholarships are automatically renewable in the second year to allow a student to complete the two-year diploma program. A maximum of four scholarships per year could be in effect at each school.

A five-member review and selection committee, including a representative of business and industry, school administrator, two faculty members and a school counselor, will be formed at each school to select recipients. The committee will also make recommendations on renewals for the second year of a diploma program.

To be considered for a scholarship, high school students must attain a 3.2 GPA at mid-point of their senior year, submit four letters of reference and a

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has reported that the number of graduates from agriculture schools was not keeping pace with the demand for specialized professionals—particularly in the fields of engineering, biochemistry, marketing and sales.

"Agriculture presents a great opportunity for young people seeking professional careers," Logsdon said. "This industry not only needs bright young talent to advance our technological capabilities, but also needs to develop leadership for the future. Hopefully, this exciting new program will help meet those needs in Kentucky."

The advisory committee includes the following: Ann Kelly Bolin, vice-president, Eltia Popcorn Company,

Murray; Gary Car, Executive Director, Kentucky Council on Higher Education; Frank Downing, manager, Owen Electric Cooperative, Owen-ton; Robert M. Duncan, chairman, Inez Deposit Bank; Frank Fitzpatrick, attorney, Prestonsburg; Ed Ford, State Senator, Cynthiana; Circuit Judge William G. New development specialist for LCADD

The Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development's Department of Community Development now has field staff persons in place to work with community leaders and existing industries and businesses on a regular basis, according to Lieutenant Governor and Secretary of Economic Development Paul E. Patton.

Ruben Leveridge, Jamestown, formerly with the Lake Cumberland Area Development District, has been assigned as a development specialist to work with Rockcastle and ten other area counties. A native of Jamestown, Leveridge is a graduate of Western Kentucky University with a B.S. degree in Business Management. His work with the Lake Cumberland ADD involved helping with business expansions, locations and assisting in financial planning and management development. The other counties he serves are Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Laurel, McCreary, Palaski, Russell, Wayne and Whitley.

Leveridge is a part of the staff of the East Kentucky Regional economic Development Office headquartered in Prestonsburg. The Jones Administration established the regional office at Prestonsburg along with offices in Frankfort and Madisonville to make programs and services of the Cabinet for Economic Development more accessible to local communities and industries.

The development specialists assigned to the offices are available to work directly with community leaders in helping prepare communities for job retention and expansion. The specialists also visit local existing industries on a regular basis to both inform them of services available through the Cabinet and Department of Community Development and also help them in better utilizing these services.

She is survived by a son, Murphy Martin Jr., of Livingston, and a sister, Loreta Mullins, of Englewood, Fla. Also surviving are eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by her husband, Murphy Martin Sr., three brothers and three sisters.

Services were at 1 p.m. Thursday (today) at the Morning View Holiness Church by Bro. Virgil Wynn and Bro. Burgess Daugherty. Burial was in the Morning View Cemetery. Arrangements were by Dowell and Martin Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Dennis Elliott, Curtis Carpenter, Frank Martin, Johnny Martin, Jarvis Martin and Eugene Martin.

Hunt

Phillip Hunt, 42, of Bellaire, Texas, and formerly of Mt. Vernon, died Nov. 15, 1992 at the Methodist Hospital in Houston, Texas after an illness of several months.

He was born on Aug. 18, 1950 at Davton, the son of the late David and Berneice Halcorn Hunt of Mt. Vernon. He was food service director for Episcopal High School.

Survivors in addition to his parents are: two sisters, Mrs. Teresa Hunt Smith and Mrs. Julie Adams, both of Mt. Vernon; a niece and two nephews also survive.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday (today) at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. Roger West officiating. Burial will be in Mareburg Cemetery.

Thank You!

The family of Amos Owens wish to express our sincere thanks to our family, our neighbors and our friends for the kindness shown to us during the illness and death of our beloved husband, dad, and granddad. We especially want to thank the ones who brought food, sent flowers, for the hospital visits, sent prayers, the time spent with us during our bereavement and the cash donations given to our mom. To Bro. Ova Baker, all the singers, the Church of Christ at Chestnut Ridge, Cox Funeral Home, Zella Miller and the Berea Hospital staff. Your kindness and love will never be forgotten. May God bless each and everyone.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

We come to our 3rd proposition of our one-sided debate, a discussion of Holy Spirit baptism. Are people baptized in the Holy Ghost today as much as in former times? Let's examine the spirit inspired Word of God on this matter.

Jesus told the apostles after his resurrection in the Ac. 1:4-5, 8 "But was for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me. For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence... But ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." Then in Ac. 2:1-4, we read about the fulfillment of Jesus' promise, "And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting. And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance." Now notice that only the apostles were baptized in the Holy Ghost. Some try to say that 120 (of ch. 1:15), were baptized with the Holy Ghost, but such is not. Notice in Ac. 2:7 "But Peter, standing up with the altar, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, The verse said with the eleven, not with the one hundred and nineteen. Only the apostles were baptized with the Holy Ghost on the Day of Pentecost.

The only other case of people being baptized with the Holy Ghost is Cornelius and his household, Ac. 10 and 11 gives us the account of what took place. Peter went to preach to them the word of God, and they were all baptized with the Holy Ghost as he was preaching to them, Ac. 10:44-48. Peter explained what happened in Ac. 11:1-17, picking up in vs. 15 "And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them as on us at the beginning. Then remembered I the Word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost." Peter had to go all the way back to Ac. 2, to find anything like what happened to Cornelius and his household. If baptism of the Holy Ghost was an everyday experience for all who became Christians, why did he have to refer back to the events of Ac. 2 and the promise of Ac. 1:4&5? The purpose of this case in Ac. 10 was to prove that God had granted salvation to the Gentiles also through the gospel, Ac. 11:18. Be not duped into believing that people today receive this!

ity members. An additional 28% indicated they would be "somewhat interested."

"The questions actually described the kind of care given by Hospice of the Kentucky River," Hancock observed. "But only one fifth of the people who said they had significant interest in the kind of care described could recall Hospice, by name, or claim any recognition of the term 'hospice.'"

Women were more likely than men to express very high interest in the hospice type of care. This result may reflect the fact women carry more responsibility than men for family health care decisions in American households. In the South, where there are more and larger hospice programs, and a higher percentage of retirees, respondents to the poll were somewhat more likely to consider hospice services. College graduates and higher income respondents exhibited higher interest than others.

The hospice concept, with roots dating back hundreds of years, is only 18 years old in America. Hospice of the Kentucky River was chartered in Madison County 11 years ago, but only began serving Rockcastle County residents in 1990. State wide, hospice is one of the fastest growing segments of the health care provider community, with the number of programs doubling since 1983. Less than three years ago, when hospice of the Kentucky River began offering services in Rockcastle County, the program cared for less than 30 patients a day. Today, the number of daily patients is over 60. Just this month, the local Hospice of Ford Realty, across from the Courthouse, in order to be in a better position to serve the expanding patient base in this region.

Hancock says Rockcastle County will be the primary focus of local hospice growth in the beginning of calendar year 1993. "We have top-notch people representing Hospice in Rockcastle County," he said at a meeting in the hospice office, Monday. "Two of our directors, Cindy Burton with Rockcastle County Hospital, and Roy Martin with Dowell-Martin Funeral Home, have urged us to make a substantial investment, here, because the need is so evident. Dr. George Griffith, who serves as our local medical Director, and the Reverend Wendell Romans, who serves as our local Chaplain, have offered their continuing encouragement and support, so I believe we will see a lot of growth over the next few months. Rockcastle County has one of the strongest volunteer bases of any of the five counties we serve."

Until recently, space for a local Hospice office was donated by Christian Appalachian Project. Hancock expressed thanks for the generosity of CAP and other Rockcastle County contributors who made it possible to start a local hospice program. "People have given more than we ever expected," he said. "Volunteer time, alone, represents thousands of dollars. We intend to reward the selflessness of those who have given by providing them with the finest program in the state."

A grand opening for the new Hospice office is planned for early January.

"We want them to be able to communicate effectively with us," Bullock said.

Hammond says his work will be similar to work in the public schools. "I think it'll at least be as demanding," he said. "Most will be motivated to learn."

Gary Fain is also a 1985 graduate of RCHS. He was not available for interview at the time this story was written.

Both Hammond and Bullock say they do not fear for their personal safety. "If we were worried about our safety all the time we wouldn't be here," Bullock said. "One of them could get bad news and just go berserk — but the same thing could happen on the street."

Bullock said having 300 employees within five minutes of any dangerous situation is comforting.

"In my experience sure it can happen but there are a lot of precautions," he said. "I have not been at an institution where we had very many injuries."

Don Roerick, public relations officer at the prison, said most violence comes in the form of minor scuffles over a TV or an argument in the recreation yard.

"If they were to do very many things obviously (an inmate) would have things taken away from him," Bullock said.

Unemployment up to 6 percent

The unemployment rate in Rockcastle during August was 6 percent, up from 5.7 percent in July, according to a report from the Cabinet for Human Resources.

In August 1991, it was 7.1 percent. The Rockcastle Labor force was 8,950. Total employment was 8,410. Total unemployment was 540. The Rockcastle total was lowest in the six county area overseen by the Corbin office.

Memories of Betty Adams

My name is Ruby Alcorn. I met Betty Adams at the Family Life Center School. We were both working on our G.E.D.

The first day we met we liked each other, we enjoyed talking about our lives and things we planned to do in the future. We talked about our problems and shared our food. We worked hard on our studying, but when we took a rest we just enjoyed being together. We wrote stories and shared them with each other. Betty was from Georgia. Her parents were cotton farmers; she helped with the cotton crop at harvest time.

Betty had four sons and some grandchildren she was very proud of. She told me about her husband and her life with him.

Betty was a Christian woman, who loved the Lord, and was sorry for the times that she had sinned. We both talked about the Lord and our love for the Lord. Betty had plans to go to college, but the Lord had other plans for Betty. One day Betty had a car wreck and found out that she was dying with cancer. She had a short time to live; it was hard for her, but the Lord was with her and He soon took her home. We all miss you Mrs. Betty Adams.

Babbage announces high voter turnout in Rockcastle County

A total of over 57 percent of the registered voters in Rockcastle County participated in the November 3 election, according to Secretary of State Bob Babbage. "Citizens of Rockcastle County can continue to help rebuild the democracy by continuing to encourage voter registration and voting," Babbage said.

Records for voter registration in Kentucky were set in the past year and 1,489,132 Kentuckians voted in the recent general election. Local officials, business and community leaders took active roles in 1992 to help with programs to boost registration and voting, Babbage said.

"Although we are all proud of the records, we are a long way from having a stable and true democracy where the majority of eligible voters make the decisions about public policy," Babbage said.

"We will all need to continue to invite our fellow Kentuckians into the process and to encourage them to register and to vote," he said.

Many of the voter registration programs implemented in 1992 through the Secretary of State's office, the State Board of Election and Democracy Incorporated of Kentucky will continue.

"Our goal is to continue to invite Kentuckians into the democracy," he said. Babbage explained that programs will be implemented to explain voting and the election process to school students who are eligible to vote for the first time and for pre-voting age students. Other programs will continue to focus on voter education and ways all eligible citizens can participate.

"We experienced the highest single year of new voter registration in the period between the 1991 and the 1992 general elections," he said. "Our goal in rebuilding the democracy should be to maintain and increase citizen participation," Babbage noted.

"Local elections are just as important to the individual citizen as are presidential elections," Babbage observed.

All government and all government decisions directly affect the citizen. Therefore each citizen's voice is equally important in any election."

Local officials, district circuit judges and commonwealth attorneys will be elected in 1993, Babbage said. Babbage quoted State Board of Elections records which showed that voter registration in Kentucky dropped by 89,231 in the six months between the 1988 general election and the 1989 primary election. Voter turnout also dropped by 24 percent between the elections.

The registration increase between the 1989 primary election and the 1989 general election was only 2,490, he noted. Voter turnout increased by only 4.6 percent for the period, he added.

Supt. of Schools Bige Towery spoke during the Primary School Program Forum held at the courthouse Tuesday evening. Members of the Prichard Committee were present to make panel presentations and questions were taken from the audience afterwards. Introductions were made by Betty Lewis, Family Resource Center Coordinator.

Registration books now open

Rockcastle Countians can register to vote in the county clerk's office beginning Tuesday, Nov. 10, according to Secretary of State Bob Babbage.

Kentucky law requires registration books to close the fourth Tuesday before an election and remain closed through the Monday following an election, he explained.

Babbage said programs implemented in 1992 to encourage voter registration, education and election day turnout will continue. Several of

Don Walker Scholarship Fund half way to goal

The Don Walker Memorial Scholarship Fund is over half way to its goal of $5,000. The fund was established after the death of Don Walker, co-owner of Jean's Restaurant, to provide underprivileged Junior High School Students in Rockcastle County with educational materials that they otherwise would not be able to receive. Board members say that they would like to reach and maintain $5,000 in the fund. They feel that this amount would allow them to take care of the needs of local students. Board members are: Mrs. Jean Walker, Mrs. Jeanie Mullins, Mrs. Betty Lewis, Roy A. Martin, Leroy Sloan, Victor Bond and Ernest Stanley.

If you would like to contribute to the Don Walker Scholarship Fund, you may do so by sending your contribution to the Citizens Bank, Mt. Vernon, c/o Violet Cash.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I want to take this opportunity to thank my many friends who supported me and voted for me for U.S. Representative, 5th Congressional District. It was most gratifying to receive over 97,000 votes across the 5th district. More importantly, while elections come and go, friendships made during the course of these campaigns will last a lifetime.

There are many pressing needs and problems in the 5th District and in the nation as a whole and for that reason I wish my opponent the best in the coming two years.

I must in all honesty state I am seriously considering a race for the same office two years from now. I look forward to hearing from my many friends throughout the district regarding this and other issues of importance to them.

John Doug Hays

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank William Mullins on the article in last week's Signal on the election results. That fits the situation perfectly.

We as Christians, must pray daily for our country and that the church will show God's great power.

The children of Israel were time and time again taken into bondage because of their forgetting God. I don't see how they could have been any worse than America is today.

How sad that America that was founded on Christian principles will not be led by a president that won his election on promises to legalize abortion, homosexuality and all the things that are breaking down the family. Sad, Sad! Yes, I think we have sold our birthright for a mess of pottage. Correct? They "have, I didn't vote for Mr. Clinton.

Yes, Mr. Mullins, your article reminds me of the song "Like An Eagle I'll Take To My Flight."
I know not what the day may bring,

Tomorrow walks unknown:
But this I know, the changeless Christ, My Lord, is on the throne."
My unknown future is safe in the hands of my all knowing God."
Patsy Hopkins

Dear Editor,
Just a few brief words which I thought you might like to read.
During the 1960's, I resided temporarily in an old mansion type three-story building at the head of Sycamore Street Hill. I just happened to see this short story from a book from the Cincinnati Museum.

A young man about the age of sixteen, had told of some of his experiences during the early boyhood days. He related how he and his buddies would ride sleds down the Sycamore Street hill. It was dangerous, as the horses that were crossing Sycamore Avenue, might trample the boys to death. They had formed a gang which they called the Mohawk Gang. There was another gang who called themselves the Texans. There were gang wars, which they considered a lot of fun, even if they did wear scars the remainder of their days.

They would stow-away on the barges and other boats for the rides. Some times they would have to pass up their own landing places and have to walk for hours to get home and miss their dinners, go to bed hungry. They would go to the Zoo, to ball games, or stage bicycle races or ride the incline up to the top of State Street hill where the dances were held on Saturday evenings. One could buy sandwiches and pop corn and such. Balloons were afloat and flags waved in the evening breezes.

Young Bernard was a mighty happy boy. During 1884 he founded the B.H. Kroger Baking Company. He stated in a speech that he would not give up his boyhood happiness for all the gold in the world.

Sincerely,
Margaret Dyehouse

1992-1993 ACP-LTA Sign-Up Period set for Rockcastle

The 1992-93 ACP-LTA sign-up period for Rockcastle County has been set for November 16, 1992 through January 15, 1993 according to Richard Lawrence, Vice Chairman of the Rockcastle County ASC Committee. Any Rockcastle County farmer interested in the 1992 LTA program should contact the Rockcastle County ASC office immediately.

ACP-LTA is a federally assisted cost-sharing program emphasizing the identification and solution of soil, water and woodland conservation and pollution problems on agricultural lands and encourages energy conservation. The basic objective of Long Term Agreements (LTA) is to treat a specific delineate area that has been identified with critical soil and water farmland problems. Through the use of an approved conservation plan, a combination of selected conservation programs best suited to the particular needs of each individual site are applied with respect to the primary use of the farmland under contract.

With the 1990 Farm Bill placing increased emphasis on Water Quality concerns and issues, the STC has determined that FY91 funds will be authorized only for requests addressing specific Water Quality issues resulting from ineffective, or lack of, Agricultural Waste Control Facilities (AWCFs). (Other systems dealing directly with solving the degrading of Water Quality issues may be approved if determined warranted.) Farmers are eligible to receive cost-sharing of up to 75 percent of the actual cost of the conservation practice performed. These practices are to be maintained by farmers for a period of five to ten years after the completion of the practice depending upon the type of practice performed. These practices are under specific instructions and should not be started before actual approval from the County Committee with the instructions listed on the approved ASCS form ACP-245 mailed to farmers prior to starting of the practice(s). Cost-sharing amount will be applied after the practice is reported as completed and adequate receipts are presented as proof of the material(s) used to perform the practice. Some practices must be referred to the Soil Conservation and the Kentucky Division of Forestry for approvals.

ACP-LTA funds are obligated for a period of three to five years with the maximum permitted cost-sharing for one year not to exceed the amount of $3,500. This means on a three-year contract you could earn up to $10,500.

Remember January 15, 1993 is the deadline for sign-up in the ACP-LTA program with regard to Rockcastle County. Anyone interested in applying for the Long Term Agreement should contact the office immediately. If you have any questions concerning LTA's, you may call our office anytime Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Our telephone number is 256-2525.

Mullins completes Marine training

Marine Pvt. Donovan W. Mullins, son of Jerry W. Mullins and Karen Noe, both of Mt. Vernon, recently completed recruit training.

During the training cycle at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, SC, recruits are taught the basics of battlefield survival, introduced to typical military daily routine, and personal and professional standards.

All recruits participate in an active physical conditioning program and gain proficiency in a variety of military skills including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close-order drill.

Teamwork and self-discipline are emphasized throughout the cycle. Mullins is a 1991 graduate of Rockcastle County High School.

Brown graduates from tech school

Navy Seaman Gary W. Brown, son of Dawn Brock of Brodhead recently graduated from basic Electronics Technician School.

During the course at Service School Command, Naval Training Center, Orlando, FL, students receive introductory instruction in electronic circuit concepts, radar principles and the basics of radio transmitters and receivers. Studies also include procedures for repairing amplifiers, transmitters, receivers, and power supply lines.

The 1983 Rockcastle County High School and 1988 graduate of Berea College, with a Bachelor of Arts degree, joined the Navy in March 1992.

$500 REWARD

For information leading to arrest and conviction or return of TOBACCO stolen from a barn (on the Hobbrock tract of C. C. Crawford Farm) on the night of Thursday, Nov. 5 or early morning hours of Friday, Nov. 6, 1992. Theft took place on Hwy. 1505 on Brindle Ridge between Happy Jack Church and the home of Charles Holbrook.

Approx. 1300 lbs. of tobacco was loaded onto a vehicle parked in the field at aforementioned location. There is good reason to believe that this vehicle was seen by someone during the time the tobacco was being loaded or quite possibly at another location while being unloaded. Theft probably occurred early Friday morning between 1 and 4 a.m.

If you have any information, please phone 606-758-8800 or the Rockcastle Co. Sheriff's Office

Protective Parenting

By Glany Gilpatrick

About nine years ago I began to experience a series of positive and surprising events in my life. Without going into personal details, suffice it to say that these events ranged from small ones like an unexpected phone call from an old friend on a night when I was feeling lonely, to major, life-changing circumstances. This all began when I consciously decided to practice thanksgiving. Obviously this was not an original idea, we have all read about it, heard it preached about, and have even been admonished by our parents to remember to say "thank you" for gifts and favors, but for some reason I took all this advice to heart and began to focus on giving thanks. I have found this practice to be like a faucet with no shut off valve except when human frailty causes me to forget about it for a period of time.

With the Thanksgiving holiday so close at hand, our Sunday church bulletin included an article by Dr. James Dobson titled "Saying Thanks in a Gimme, Gimme World." In it he included some suggestions for putting the focus of the holiday where it belongs. Families with children of any age might want to incorporate any ideas in their celebration which would open their hearts to a new way of thinking.

While the turkey is roasting on Thanksgiving Day, sidown with your children and quietly page through a photo magazine that shows real life in an underdeveloped country. Good magazines to use are NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC, LIFE, or WORLD VISION. Don't "hype" the misery; just let the facts speak for themselves.

"Give each family member an unexpected couple of dollars, a three by five card, buy or make something and give it to someone outside the immediate family - someone who is ill or has some kind of need. Then write it down on the card and tell us what you did."

"Make place cards for the Thanksgiving meal and write a scripture reference on the undersides. Then read each verse before desserts as an expression of thanks to God for his goodness."

It is so easy to get into the habit of asking in our prayers and in our families. Sometimes we ask selfishly for material possessions and sometimes we ask wisely for strength, or help, or patience, or a new point of view. But it has been my experience that if we skip the asking, and just give thanks, the rest will follow. I am referring here specifically to prayerful thanks, but interpersonal thanks works magic also in brightening relationships. Children who are brought up in the habit of thanksgiving will have a deeper appreciation of all that life has to offer and will be more likely to grow up as givers rather than takers.

As Dr. Dobson points out, compassion toward others is need and gratitude to others and to God are important values to instill in our children. They learn by parents' example, but they also need to be taught directly by conversation and loving reminders. If you have difficulty deciding where to begin, why not start by giving heartfelt thanks for your beautiful children. The rest will follow.

Don't forget the early deadline for news next Week!

Broadhead TOPS (again off pounds sensibly) has reorganized and will be meeting on Monday at 6 p.m. at the First Church of God on Main Street in Broadhead. We have a motivated, fun loving group ready to give support to others. There has been two no gain meetings since October 12. Last Monday we had a 15 3/4 pound loss. We have members who have had continuous losses, one for six weeks without a gain.

TOPS has been helping people lose weight since 1948. It is a nonprofit, non-commercial organization. TOPS features a low membership fee; $16 annually the first two years; $14 annually thereafter. TOPS provides group support to help you adhere to your doctor-prescribed diet and achieve your goal. The support and friendship is available whenever needed throughout the week. Come join us next Monday as a guest and bring a friend. For more information call 758-4047 or 355-7580.

Renfro Valley adds second Jamboree performance in November

When you have a good thing going, it is best to continue the momentum. That is the rationale behind Renfro Valley's decision to increase the Jamboree schedule in November. Traditionally, November meant the Jamboree on Fridays, November Dance on Saturdays.

This year, Jamboree fans may see this exciting show on Fridays at 7 p.m. and following the Barn Dance on Saturdays, at 9 p.m.

"The Jamboree has grown dramatically in popularity," said Executive Vice-President Dean L. Hamrick. "Especially since we changed the show to its 'hot, kicking' contemporary format. The 9 p.m. Saturday show lets us keep this show moving, or as we say, the heat goes on."

Dynamic entertainers like Carrie Snodgrass co-joined for the Conway Twitty concert and Steve Gulley and Debbie Shipley who performed before the Highway 101 concert, will headline an all-star cast for the Jamboree. Donna Dailey, Jeff Wasson, Bonnie Rango, Scott Thompson, Jennifer Winkler (who opens for Joe Diffie at Renfro Valley on Dec. 6), supported by the Straight Men Band, will handle vocals. And country's funniest comedian, Bun Wiley, will be on hand to ensure the laughs. Veteran performer Pete Stamper will keep the music flowing and attempt to keep Wilson in line.

Tickets for the Jamboree are $9 on Friday nights, $11 on Saturday nights.

Choral groups and choirs getting ready for concert

Choral groups and church choirs from throughout Kentucky are once again getting their voices tuned up to participate in the annual Kentucky Christmas Chorus to be held at Rupp Arena, Dec. 15.

Groups should register by Friday, November 20 by calling (606) 258-3026. Groups must pre-register to be arranged in reserved seating but everyone is invited to come join in the singing. Individuals do not need to register.

The fifth annual Christmas Chorus, which is free and open to the public, is a giant sing-along featuring favorite holiday tunes with additional festive activities and entertainment for families. The doors will open at 6 p.m. with the activities such as singing, bell ringing and visits by holiday characters such as Frosty and Santa's Elves beginning at 6:30 p.m. The Chorus singing will continue from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The Lexington Philharmonic, conducted by George Zack, will provide the music. The Lexington Singers and Lexington soloists Ohelo Pumpmery and Melissa Barber, will entertain and help lead the singing.

Children age twelve and younger pay half price.

Guests attending the Barn Dance and Jamboree on Saturday nights realize a $4 saving; tickets to both shows are $18 ($22 if purchased individually). To reserve seats, call the Renfro Valley ticket office at 800-765-7464 (toll-free) or 606-256-2638.

The Kentucky Christmas Chorus will be carried live by WKYT-TV, Channel 27, in Lexington and WMYT-TV, Channel 57, in Hazard from 8 to 9 p.m.

Last year about 102 choral groups, including about 4,000 singers from 59 Kentucky counties participated in the chorus.

On the day of the event, the program with copies of the songs to be sung at the Christmas Chorus, will be published in the "Lexington-Herald Leader."

The Kentucky Christmas Chorus is sponsored by WKYT-TV and the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government in cooperation with the Lexington Arts and Cultural Council. About 200 volunteers assist in organizing and running the event.

Specialized care for women.

The pain is very real.

One of the most common and distressing problems faced by almost all women is dysmenorrhea, or pain associated with the menstrual period. Sometimes, the pain is so severe that it interferes with normal activities.

At the Women's Health Care Center, we believe dysmenorrhea is a very real problem with a definite cause that deserves careful attention and appropriate treatment.

If you'd like more information about the treatment of this common, yet often-ignored problem, please call the Women's Health Care Center. We're committed to providing care that meets the needs of the whole person.

RES Site Based Decision Making Council will meet Thursday, Nov. 19, in the school library. RES staff, parents and the Roundstone community are invited to the meeting at 4 p.m.

RES students will be showing their school spirit on Thursday and Friday. Thursday is White Day of School Spirit Week and Friday is Maroon day.

Report cards for RES students will be given out this week. Primary students will receive their progress reports on Wednesday and other grades 4-8 will receive their report cards on Thursday and Friday.

October at Roundstone Preschool

The Roundstone Preschool children started the month of October learning many songs and fingerplays about Halloween, ghosts and scarecrows. They really enjoyed carving the pumpkin and giving it a face and even some hair. P.M. class left to right: Corey Miller, Tyler Shearer, Kenny Gadd, Billy Carpenter, Jenny Gilbert, Alicia Anglin, Paula Davis, teacher, Brandon Lamb, Jacob Renner and Bryan Howard.

The Roundstone Preschool children were surprised when visited by some special friends. Mrs. Dottie Parsons and Robyn Stayton brought "Ezlie the Scarecrow" to visit their room. A.M. class standing - Angela Coffey, Jeremiah Hall, Elzie, and Martin Abney. Sitting - Shane Rowe, Lauren Cormier, David Harris and Nicole Croucher.

The RES Academic team would like to thank BES for the warm hospitality extended to us at last week's academic meet. BES always hosts a great meet. Thanks BES!

RES will host the next academic meet Tues., Nov. 24 at 5:30. We look forward to welcoming these teams.

Mrs. "E" with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Parsons and daughter.

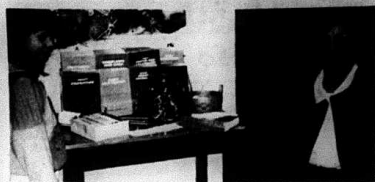

The P.M. class at Roundstone Preschool enjoyed dressing up in costumes for Halloween. There were many different "faces." What is that red, white and blue box in the background? Yes, it is a voting booth. The preschoolers got to vote for the Presidential candidate of their choice. Left to right - Tyler "Pirate" Shearer, Ray "Peter Pan" Anglin, Kenny "Mexican boy" Gadd, Kayla "Funny Clown" Felner, Corey "Ninja Turtle" Miller, Jacob "The Hobo" Renner, Alicia "Cinderella" Anglin, Billy "Ninja Turtle" Carpenter, Bryan "The Doggie" Howard and Jenny "Doctor" Gilbert.

"Whisper the Ghost" came to visit the Roundstone Preschool. She said "Boo" to everyone. A.M. Class - standing - Jeremiah Hall, Whisper, Lauren Cormier, Martin Abney and Andrea Witt. Sitting - Nicole Croucher, Shane Rowe, David Harris and Angela Coffey. A special thank you to Jo Roberts.

Ms. Smith's Level 1 is on the "warpath" about Indians. They will be visiting Mrs. Carolotis' Shop and enjoying Indian stories and artifacts. The Student of the Week is Brian Bowles. David Miller will celebrate his birthday this week. In reading, students are learning about "Friends and Families."

Ms. Carter's class has been studying "Ecology." The students made special T-shirts that read "We love our planet." They were then to the Ronald McDonald - You and Me and Ecology Program on Friday.

Ms. Webb's class has been learning about the rain forest. They made a rain forest dictionary and a book about the rain forest. They are enjoying reading from a new book, Under the Apple Tree.

Ms. Roark's Student of the Week is Jordan Stratton. Sabrina Hensley will celebrate her birthday on November 18.

Ms. Maples' class has five days perfect attendance. The students will be studying Indians and making teepees this week.

On Wednesday, November 11, Ms. Darlene Cameron's Primary class visited Pizza Hut for the fourth time this school year. We have had only 4 absences since school began. The students have enjoyed their unit on Indians and are looking forward to their visit Thursday, November 19, to Mrs. Lucille Carolotis' in Livingston. She will share her knowledge of Indians and her many artifacts with us.

Ms. Fad's class made Indian books in reading. They learned some Indian pictograph words and wrote a story about what they learned. The class had one absent for the week and only three for the month. The students were excited about seeing Ronald McDonald on Friday.

This week, Ms. Clark's class has been writing stories about good nutrition and making paper vegetables in their nutrition unit. In language, they have been working on past tense verbs. Stephanie Cummins went to the E.K.U. Singing Festival last Friday. P.E. has been fun this past week. On Wednesday, students chose teams for basketball. Ms. Clark's class has also been making their very own character in reading. The students still have their pet mealworms and are waiting to see what happens.

Mr. Love's class had three students who made 100 percent on their multiplication and division fact tests. The students were Tiffany Daugherty, Tasha Vanzant, and Joann Lake. In social studies, the class is studying the Constitution and the three branches of government.

In Ms. Wallin's class, the children made a board and they made their own rules. If they don't obey their rules, they get points taken off their grades.

Last week, Mr. Woodall's 4th grade enjoyed pizza at Pizza Hut for having ten days perfect attendance. They followed the election results and discussed electoral votes and the electoral college. They are beginning a unit on Kentucky.

Mr. Napier's fifth grade has one birthday this month, Gary Coffey. The class is starting off attendance with one day. On Friday, students are dressing up as a character that they have read out in a book. Each student is doing a tiny play that lasts about three minutes. They will be doing it for the kindergarten and first grade.

Ms. Kincer's class is doing two digit by two digit multiplication. In reading, they are doing mysteries. They just read one about Babe Ruth. In social studies, the class is studying Vikings.

In Ms. Kaye Cameron's fifth grade, Susan Gray has been in the hospital. The class has nine days perfect attendance.

In Mr. Davidson's class, the students have designed and made original math games to practice math facts.

Ms. McKinney's and Mr. Alexander's classes have been studying the Middle Ages and the Renaissance in social studies. Science classes have been studying genetics. Students have worked jointly to produce a class newspaper to send home to parents.

Ms. Abney's class has a November birthday, Renee Bogle. The Academic Team played at Whitley County Tuesday night, 11/10/92. They won the first match against East Bernsadt 27 to 13. The Williamsburg match was a close one, but our students lost by 5 points, 20 to 15. At the end of the first half of the Whitley County match, Mt. Vernon was ahead 16 to 15, but went cold in the second half and lost 37 to 22. The top scorer was Matt Chaliff with a total of 20 points for the night; Katie Wilson had 17, Justin Thomas had 11; and Chad Silvers chipped in 2 points.

On Tuesday, the team will travel with Brodhead to Williamsburg. Other schools attending the meet will be DeWitt, Barbourville, and Whitley County.

Ms. Henderson's reading class has enjoyed reading The Day No Pigs Would Die.

Mr. Coffey's class is beginning a unit on India and China in 7th grade world history. Students are studying states of matter in earth science.

'A Note from the PTA President'

The PTA sponsored a membership contest for our classrooms. The class with the largest number of members won $50. The second place class won $25. Congratulations to Mrs. Irene Alexander's kindergarteners for 1st place. Congratulations to Leon Davidson's 6th graders for winning 2nd place.

I really appreciate the hard work the students have put into supporting the PTA. I hope the kindergarteners and 6th graders enjoy their cash rewards.

Thanks,
Darlene Bowles
PTA President

High school students get "Alternative" punishment

by Judith Taylor

Students at RCHS have an alternative choice of punishment-Alternative School.

This year there is a new program at the high school for constant rule breakers.

Students now have the choice of going to alternative school or being expelled for more serious offenses.

The blue room, as it is referred to at the high school, a temporary "time out" room, still exists for students who have too many tardies, get in fights, or skip class.

The Alternative School is a six week program designed to help students who get into trouble stay in school and allow them to keep pace with the regular program without failing classes (which sometimes happens when students are expelled).

"Alternative School is designed to keep students from getting behind in their work," says Mr. Rommie Cash, principal at RCHS.

Some teachers seem to think it could even help students who might already be behind because they can get individualized attention.

The Alternative School was the suggestion of a RCHS teachers committee appointed last year to study and recommend discipline policy.

Last Monday, Mr. Cash and members of the SBDM committee visited Ballard High School in Louisville to see how their innovative Alternative school is set up.

Mrs. Connie Hamm, assistant principal in charge of discipline says, "It is an effective program and will be more so the more isolated it becomes. We are always striving to make things better."

The Alternative School is currently being held in the conference room, a tiny room near the front office. A permanent room is being finished in a section of the upper level of the R.C.H.S. gymnasium.

Teachers who help monitor students are David Hansel, Rick Barnett, Tony Taylor and Roger Vanzant.

June Lynn of Hustonville has been honored as employee of the year by the Christian Appalachian Project (CAP). June has worked for CAP for more than 21 years. She began in the sales products division and then quickly moved into the accounting department. She is responsible for accounts payable.
