By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Dear readers everywhere.
The beautiful sun is shining and the temperature is near 60 degrees as I write my column on Monday morning March 22nd. This is so different from the weather we had a week ago.

We, at Fairview, like so many other local churches canceled both our a.m. and p.m. services on Sunday March 14th due to high winds, snow and impassable roads. High snow drifts closed many roads in this area. Thousands of people were stranded as I-75 interstate was closed from Berea to the Tennessee state line. The storm has been called the "Storm of the Century" and the "Blizzard of '93".
Our worship services were well attended over the weekend and our pastor, Rev. Harvey Penslo delivered very inspiring messages at both services. Our Sunday School attendance was one hundred and four (104). Thank the good Lord for everyone who attended.

We wish to express our heartfelt sympathy to all those who have lost loved ones recently. Many have died from automobile accidents and various illnesses. But good Christian people are concerned and pray for you day and night. May God comfort you all in his prayer.
As I've said before, people don't visit like they used to, so news is very scarce. We converse by phone.

Mrs. Hallie Alexander visited Frances Wyatt of Berea recently.
Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Rodgell and daughter Sherry were Sunday guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin.
Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitehouse of Louisville.
I have enjoyed my recent phone calls so much from my sisters Dorothy Pigorelle and Mary Jane Sorah of Ohio, and sisters-in-law Cora Reppert of Crossville, Tenn. and Berline Reppert of Paxton, Ill. Also friends, Ruth Burns and Clara Gauch of Newport and Johnny and Esther (Noland) Hill of Lexington and my cousin Billy Norris and wife Mary E. of Augusta, Ga.
Our recent guests have been my brother Tip Reppert of Scafield Cane and our son Wayne and wife Carolyn

Busy Bee Homemakers

The Busy Bee Homemakers held their regular monthly meeting March 9th at the Extension office. Several members and four visitors were present. Barbara Prater called the meeting to order. Becky called the roll by having each answer by naming their favorite flower. We also decided to buy the children at the hospital a gift for Easter.

Becky Cash presented the lesson on how to decorate with paint. There were some great ideas if we just had the time and ability to use them.
After all the business was taken care of Barbara Merritt, hostess, served delicious refreshments so we all could put on a few more pounds.
The next meeting will be April 6 at the Extension office. Jean Genton will be hostess. She will also be teaching a lesson on "serging." See you the 6th at 6:30 p.m.

Elect RALPH POWELL
Jailer of Rockcastle County

To the Citizens of Rockcastle Co.:
It has come to my attention in some parts of the county, a lot of people want to know more about me. I am 35 years old, and in good health, and a very hard worker. I graduated from Rockcastle County High School in 1975. I spent my freshman year at Livingston High School and my remaining three years at Rockcastle Co. High School.
In the 1980's I mowed Elmwood Cemetery and several yards in and around Mt. Vernon. I now work for Danville Acoustics in Danville, Ky. doing professional drywall finishing. I have done several local drywall jobs as well. We have to travel all over Kentucky and sometimes even to other states. This makes it hard for me to campaign as much as I'd like to, and I know a lot of people expect you to come to their house, and ask for their vote.
I wish I could go to every house and meet people all over Rockcastle County, but this is almost impossible due to my work. I am afraid I cannot see as many people as I would like to, so to the ones I don't get to see, please don't let this stop you from voting for me and don't hold this against me. I need your vote and support. I greatly appreciate your help in anyway.
Thank You - Your Friend - Ralph Powell

VOLUME 106 - NUMBER 25

Rebecca Allen, 19, of Richmond died last Thursday night in a two-vehicle collision on U.S. 25 north of Mt. Vernon. Her two-year-old son died Friday from injuries he sustained in the wreck.

Two die in crash north of Mt. Vernon

A Richmond woman was killed in a two-vehicle accident last Thursday night on U.S. 25 about a mile and a half north of Mt. Vernon.

Rebecca Allen, 19, was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, James T. Allen, 27, along with her son, Junior Bradford Thomas who died Friday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center from injuries he sustained in the accident.

According to Kentucky State Police reports, a witness following the Allen vehicle said the Allen vehicle suddenly began to veer in the roadway and crossed into the south-bound lane. There it collided with a truck being driven by John Bowman of Berea.

The report states that following initial impact, the driver and a passenger (Mrs. Allen) were ejected out of the vehicle. The two-year-old reportedly remained in the vehicle after impact.

Mr. Bowman's truck traveled down a grassy shoulder, struck two small trees and came to rest 54 feet from the impact. The driver and one (Cont. to A4)

Clontz resigns as city attorney

John E. Clontz, Mt. Vernon City Attorney, has resigned effective March 31.

He cited a Feb. 18 advisory ethics opinion from the Kentucky Supreme Court that held a City Attorney cannot represent defendants in local district courts if the city police is involved in the case.

Clontz said in his letter of resignation to Mayor Gary R. Cromer that he had enjoyed serving as city attorney and can continue to assist the city on an individual case by case basis if the city desires.

Jerry Cox, a partner in Clontz's law firm, is also city attorney for Brodhead and has submitted his resignation to them under the same pre-

Increase in farm income projected

Agricultural leaders meeting in Lexington Tuesday announced plans to increase annual farm receipts by 67 percent by the end of the decade, which would create 10,000 new jobs in agriculture and 20,000 jobs in support industries.

The initiative, called Ag Project 2000, was begun a year ago and seeks to raise farm receipts by creating a climate favorable to the agricultural industry. The initiative is being sponsored by the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, and the Kentucky Agriculture Resource Development Authority.

The plan calls for increasing production on the farm, as well as developing the food processing industry in the state.

"The twin categories of increased farm production and processing industry development offer obvious growth opportunities. Ag Project 2000 is the perfect vehicle to take us in those directions," said Bill Sprague, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation.

Sprague noted the year-long process of identifying issues that need to be resolved for agriculture to increase receipts substantially involved more than 150 agricultural leaders from all commodities.

The new spirit of cooperation in agriculture and the increased recognition of the ag industry as a full and (Cont. to A11)

A Mt. Vernon man is under a $10,000 bond on two charges after he caused a disturbance at Rockcastle Villa Sunday night.

The judge directed him to stay away from his ex-wife.

Exiled from Rockcastle, Rev. Beiting still sermonizes

This story by Allen G. Breed appeared in Monday's Lexington Herald-Leader.

The Rev. Ralph W. Beiting remembers the reception he got in 1950 when he arrived in Eastern Kentucky, a very Protestant region.

"I had a petition taken up by my neighbor in Berea to get me out the day I moved in," the Catholic priest said with a smile.

Forty-three years and 13 churches later, Beiting, 69, encounters little of the old animosity.

The tolerance could stem from deference to his age, but Beiting likes to think he has earned the respect through his Christian Appalachian Project.

In 1992, the organization funneled more than $38 million in funds and materials into the 13 Appalachian states. It recently was named Outstanding Philanthropic Organization for 1993 by the National Society of Fund-Raising Executives.

Beiting was an unwilling conscript in 1946, when as a seminarian from Newport, a comparatively affluent suburb of Cincinnati, he was exiled to what he thought was a sort of "ecclesiastical Siberia."

Calf stolen

A calf belonging to Sam Hampton, who lives on Maple Grove Road was stolen Sunday from his farm.

He valued the calf at $250. Sheriff Shirley Smith investigated.

He also investigated a break-in at the home of Ernest Sturgill of Livingston reported Friday.

Entrance to the house was gained through a patio door.

Taken were: shotgun, kerosene heater, circular saw, Milwaukee saw saw, drill $30 in cash, Coleman lantern and pellet gun.

Found by the sheriff later were a clock radio, beat battery, trolling motor, 250 feet of wire, extension cord, flashlight, garbage bags, pillow cases and two tackle boxes.

The loss was estimated at $754.

Then the plight of the region's poor, buffeted by the boom-to-bust cycle of the dominant coal industry, touched Beiting.

He started the Christian Appalachian Project in 1964 with phone books for Boston, New York and Philadelphia. He looked for Irish, Polish and German names and, assuming they were Catholic, sent letters asking for money.

From those humble beginnings, it has grown to an organization that finances nearly 70 programs, ranging from spouse abuse centers and counseling services to seed programs for household gardens and a traveling high school equivalency program.

The project's purpose, Beiting says, is to "cut the roots of poverty" through education, self-help and spiritual programs.

Some say its approach is somewhat misguided. "They do a lot of very good work," said Helen Lewis, a sociologist with the Highlander Research and Education Center in New Market, Tenn.

"But I feel like the style is a little too paternalistic." Some critics also think CAP uses its New York public relations firm to promote an outdated - image of Appalachia. In several inspirational booklets, Beiting describes families (Cont. to A11)

County gets $159,179 housing grant

Lynn Luallen, executive director, Kentucky Housing Corporation, (KHC), announced a HOME (Housing Opportunity Made Equal) Block Grant to Rockcastle County totaling $159,179.

Rockcastle County working jointly with Rockcastle Community Housing, Inc., a non-profit housing corporation will rehabilitate seven or eight single family dwellings located in Rockcastle County and occupied by very low income homeowners.

Three of the four homeowners are elderly, two are female headed and three are handicapped. All families live on a fixed income and do not have adequate funding to assist in rehabilitation of their dwelling. Two of the four households have outhouses and one has a sub-standard septic tank. All of these four households have health conditions that limit their ability to maintain their home.

Rehabilitation of these four single-family dwellings will be undertaken by the Rockcastle County Community Housing, Inc. over the next nine months. Provision of these HOME funds will allow for the rehabilitation of these four very low income elderly or handicapped households to HUD Energy Standards and BOCA Code Standards.

It is hoped that this HOME grant provided by the Kentucky Housing Corporation will allow for a long term rehabilitation program to be undertaken by the non-profit housing corporation addressing critical needs of very low income and elderly households within Rockcastle County, Luallen said.

Penny Young, Director of Block Grant Programs for KHC, stated that "KHC is pleased to participate in the allocation of these funds which help communities who are working to solve their unique housing needs. Without these funds, made available by the federal HOME program, many of these projects would not have been possible. The continuation of this program will enable many low-income Kentucky families to improve their quality of life by obtaining safe, decent housing."

The HOME program was established under Title II (Home Investment Partnership ACT) of the National Affordable Housing Act of 1990, as amended.

KHC was named the administrator of this program and was charged with the task of rating project applications and awarding the funding to those who scored the highest by congressional district.

All areas of the state were eligible for funding except the City of Louisville, Jefferson County, the City of Lexington, Fayette County and the City of Covington, which received direct allocations from the federal government to administer their own HOME programs.

Heaven knows I'm tired of the whole damn thing. And heaven knows that I didn't have a thing, nor did NAWWWWW, to do with the way the weather turned out.

If Cindy Preszler gets on 27 and predicts rain or snow or whatever and the weather occasionally turns out just the way she called it, do you get mad at Cindy because she told you it was going to rain?

I'll answer that question for you because I know that nobody in their right mind would ever get mad at Cindy. You just don't do it. You'd have to be sick to blame bad weather on Cindy Preszler because, if she had it her way, every day would be full of sunshine and pleasant temperatures and the gentlest of showers when things needed watering. Cindy is simply that kind of person but she often has to break bad news about rain and snow and cold temperature. The point is that nobody holds it against her.

I, on the other hand, have taken upwards of a hundred calls from people all over the mid-west and east coast who are holding me personally responsible for the snow that panned some of us up for a few days in the recent past.

The woolly worms (NAWWWWW) predicted, back in October, this most recent snow and emphasized to every available media that a big gun was coming in March. The hot shots made fun of us. And then it happened.

Anyone who ever so much as said hello to a woolly worm knew it was coming. It was as plain as the nose on your face but most people have never become acquainted with a woolly worm and there-in lies the problem. A substantial portion of the population has rallied behind the notion that woolly worms are practicing witchcraft and those people are publicly suggesting that NAWWWWWW caused this whole thing.

I am humbly begging you to hear out the facts and realize that nothing could be further from the truth.

The fact of the matter is that the woolly worms, (NAWWWWW), had no more control over the weather than did Cindy Preszler. Both NAWWWWWW and Cindy are simply in the predicting business. It's a professional thing. Cindy makes more money and utilizes a different technology but the bottom line is that she makes her living predicting the weather. Woolly worms don't rely nearly so much on radar and satellites but it's still the same damn business. Take away Cindy's salary and perks and the bottom line is we're talking about a peer group.

So if you feel like you have to blame the blizzard on somebody, I feel it only fair that you blame Preszler as much as NAWWWWWW. She certainly had as much control of the elements as we did and I can tell you for a fact that the woolies in my wood pile slept through the whole thing.

I muttered about all the accusing calls I got on Sunday when the storm had peaked. I promise you that a bunch of people called up and cussed at me. There are people reading this column right now who are going to be even madder than they were last week because they really do believe I had something to do with making this big snow happen. My denial is going to fuel their fire. They're going to call and cuss again.

I'm actually encouraging Chris and Jennifer to keep the phone tied up after school and I've extended bedtime from 10 p.m. till way past midnight. The deal is they can talk as long as they want but if they do hang up and a call is for me they need to take a message. I'm tired of clefting woolly worms.

The evening news showed a bunch of people getting rescued from ten foot drifts in the Smokies. Thousands of people headed for wilderness trails in spite of the warnings and they suffered. They got caught by Mother Nature, but the bottom line is that they were warned about the coming weather. They flaked their wrists, tossed their heads and arrogantly marched into parts unknown. At this writing some of them are still missing. And you have to question their intelligence. Even the ones who have been rescued.

People like Cindy Preszler may not always get the temperature right and it may often drift for a few minutes on days they predicted to be fair. But when a major storm or flood or other life-threatening bit of weather is on the way, Cindy is going to be the first person to know about it. I pull her leg a bit, but when the sky is dark and cloudy, I promise you faithfully that Cindy knows what's going on. And I tune in!

Loretta posed to me tonight, a situation where Cindy Preszler, 25 woolly worms and I were caught way out in the middle of nowhere and a big blizzard like this blew in. She told me that I was carrying enough fat around my middle to last any living thing at least a month and she pointed out that neither Cindy nor the woolly worms were carrying enough weight to miss a meal. Loretta wanted to know why I would try to save.

I told her that woolly worms had been getting along just fine without me for centuries and I figured the thing to do was stick close to Cindy.

I can't imagine freezing to death snuggled up to Cindy Preszler. But if that's the way I have to go, I figure it would beat the heck out of having a heart attack.

Survival of the Blizzard of '93

American Red Cross and other volunteers want to say a very special thank you to the county of Rockcastle, and surrounding communities, who pitched in to help man the shelter, and donate food, blankets and pillows, homes and themselves to make almost 800 people comfortable. We wouldn't be able to list everyone who helped and many did not tell us who they were, so we will just thank everyone from the bottom of our hearts for everything.

I think that many people changed their minds about volunteering and without the help we received we could not have done this project by ourselves.

This group of people had to be the very best people in the world. I did not hear anyone complaining about sleeping on the floors, what food was served, standing for hours to get a telephone, or anything else that went on at the shelter. It was a fantastic experience! The senior citizens had the library, the babies had the Home Ec family room, one tour bus had the rooms off of the Home Ec, another took the gym, the kids played basketball and volleyball, videos were shown, the little children had stories read to them, the artists in residence presented a program, and it went on and on.

We had a Catholic Tour bus, a Baptist Tour bus (mostly Canadian teens), a beautiful missionary and wife from Cairo, Egypt, we had other nationalities and ethnic groups, and everyone got along beautifully. I feel that many friendships were made during the weekend. I want to share with you some of the letters that have been received and I think you will understand how we feel.

Two families had become totally separated during the storm and it took us until Monday morning to get them in touch with each other. There were quite a few tears shed, and great relief felt when this was accomplished. One family was traveling from Texas to meet their grandmother and the grandmother has brain cancer and the grandfather knew she would not see her again.

Another family was separated on I-75 between Lexington and Richmond. This lady's son, her in-su-lin and clothing were in the missing car. We finally found them in the Richmond Shelter. We did have a variety of animals. I guess I will have to add a new question on our registration forms.

We had box constructors, rats to feed them, dogs, cats, ferrets, and even a horse. This really made it interesting.

Anyone who would like to make a donation to help cover the costs of sheltering these families can make a donation to the American Red Cross, P.O. Box 60, Mt. Vernon, Ky. We don't get help from the government, but we are mandated to provide the services. God bless each and everyone.

Dear Mr. Mullins, I just wanted to thank you and your people for the hospitality shown to members of my group and others who dropped in for an unexpected visit this past Saturday morning. I've

"One of the reasons I filed as a candidate for this office is because I am concerned about the young people and their future in Rockcastle County. I want to work to insure a safer place to raise our families by providing a more efficient and effective District Court System. This is not a time for politics as usual, but a time to work together for our county's future. I'm asking for the opportunity to serve as your County Attorney and would truly appreciate your vote and support."

I Love You

Bye, we'll miss you!
Thank you very much and we'll miss you so much.
May God bless you and your work
Milada
Thank you for your hospitality.

To the generous volunteers of Mt. Vernon and the Red Cross and the school and all others. You went through a great process of taking care of us in a situation as I heard that is very uncommon and this was accomplished in a very short time. The highways were being closed as the snow clogged the roads and no models were available. You provided food and shelter and great hospitality. My wife, myself and my brother stayed at the shelter along with approximately 530 other stranded motorists of which I hear that you really expected only about 50 to 60.

Thanks very much,
Howard Storms

Dear Red Cross, Volunteers and helpers,

When we arrived at the courthouse door, around 2 p.m. we did not really know what we were in for. We were treated very kindly and were subjected to that much talked about, "Southern Hospitality." Wow, talk about organization! The mayor told us that you folks had never before been faced with a situation like this, however you as volunteers pulled this off royally. Our hats off to you all.

As I write this (9 o'clock) we don't know when the storm will clear and we can be on our way to our Florida vacation, however we know that we will be treated with the same care and concern by you as you would want to be treated in a similar situation.

In closing, thank you from the bottom of our hearts for everything that has been done and we will always hold "Mount Vernon Community" high, and will have warm memories of your outpouring of love and care forever. God bless you all!!
Best regards the, already written a letter Lu Ed Neilson and I wanted to thank you also and especially whoever was responsible for that wonderful pot of soup!

So often we don't get to thank the people who have shown kindness to us and I just wanted to make sure I did. I know my feelings are shared by everyone in my group.

Thanks again for a great bunch of people!

Sincerely,

Dear Sir/Madam,

Saturday, March 13 my daughter, the family dog and myself were compelled to seek shelter at your high school. The storm which sealed our fate was labeled as the "Storm of the Century." However, good things often happen as a result of near tragic events. We were privileged to meet some of the finest people in the world: the volunteers, staff, students, and faculty of the Rockcastle County High School.

Words can't express our gratitude for the treatment we received at your high school. The community's outpouring of support for the travelers who were "snowbound" will never be forgotten.

Please accept our humble thank you for all you have done for our family. If we can ever be of service to your school or community please feel free to call upon us.

Very truly yours,
Jack H. Webb
Taylors Mt.

We really appreciate all that you have done for us last night and today. If it were not for your hospitality we may not have had a place to stay or food to eat. The fact that you volunteered your time and energy made a disastrous situation bearable for all those involved.

"Friendship is the cement that holds the world together"

Sincerely,

Bobson - Canada

Dear Lu Ed,
After returning home at 2:30 a.m. after an aborted trip to Georgia, I just wanted to thank you and the people of Mt. Vernon for the wonderful job you did over the weekend.

I and others in my group were most impressed with the organization, efficiency and endless generosity shown to us and everyone else there at the high school Saturday through Sunday afternoon. It's very difficult to believe that this was a first-time effort!

Although our church group collected a good donation at our service and I had placed my own donation of $10 in the box, I wanted to make an additional donation. I didn't realize until we spoke to you that the Red Cross doesn't receive any federal funding, and besides as we were leaving yesterday, we heard that you would be getting 1,000 people from other shelters."

I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for making our unexpected side trip a pleasant one.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Pelletier
P.S. Keep up the good work!

Vote for DONNIE DOAN Magistrate First District

Regional Choral Festival

On March 4th and 5th, nine students representing Livingston and Mt. Vernon Elementaries traveled to Centre College in Danville to attend the Central Kentucky Music Educator's Association All-Regional Choral Festival.

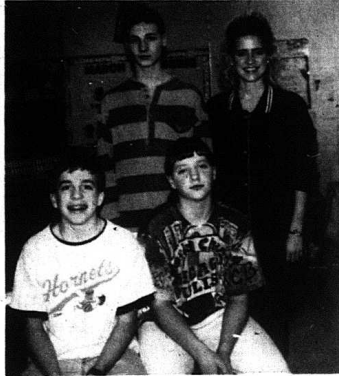

The students were involved in numerous rehearsals on both Thursday and Friday, after which they performed in a public concert.

The students were accompanied by their music teacher, Mrs. Jamie Cornelius, as well as selected members of the R.C.H.S. Chorus and their director Mrs. Johnna Ward. Round-stone Elementary was also represented well along with their music teacher Mrs. Mary Whitlock.

Livingston Elementary students would like to thank the Livingston P.T.O. for their generosity in helping with financing this trip. It was much appreciated!

Also Mrs. Jamie Cornelius would like to express her appreciation to principals John Hale, Charles Carter and Paul Waddles for allowing these students to attend. Thank you also to those teachers whose classes these students missed. We could not have gone without your cooperation. Thank you!

MY NEPHEW JEFFREY T. BURDETTE FOR ROCKCASTLE COUNTY ATTORNEY

Now I have a nephew who's as smart as can be. He is an attorney at law up on West Main Street. He's smart and he's witty, young and honest, too. And he has lots of friends and relatives living near you.

We have a large family tree and with his friends and neighbors and his big family. If we all work together we can get him elected. County Attorney is what he wants to be.

I'm so proud of him when prayer meeting he leads. He will talk to anybody and really tries to please. He can stand up and tell you how Jesus set us free. See him working in church really moves me.

You may not know him, but just believe me. Jeffrey Thomas Burdette is what he says he will be. He was raised near his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Burdette. They loved Jeff so, he used to sit on their knee.

So, get out and vote, register if you need. And help Jeff get the job in this county seat. It is nice to see a young man succeed. And Jeff can do the job, I really believe.

No offense to anyone, that's not what I mean. But it's hard to find an honest, hard working, young man in this day and time. Just go out West Main Street and you can see his name on the sign.

Like I've said, he is my nephew. So I'm his Aunt and proud to be. But I'd still admire Jeffrey T., Even if he wasn't related to me.

So people in Rockcastle County, I hope you hear my plea, Go out and vote for Jeffrey T., and exercise one of your liberties.

Pol. Adv. Pd. for by his aunt, Wanda Burton.

Ms. Fain's class has just completed a literature unit on Grim Brother's fairy tales. This was a fun and interesting unit. The class read many fairy tales as well as made individual and group projects. Some of the projects included replicas of Rumpelstiltskin's house, models of the story of Hansel and Gretel, frog puppets etc. The class concluded the unit by making a quilt which contains pictures of the student's favorite fairy tales. Also, every member of the class wrote his/her own fairy tale, some of which we would like to share with you. Before we share the fairy tales Ms. Fain's class would like to say a special thank you to Allen Pensol and Mrs. Vicki Arnold for all their help in making this a successful experience.

COUNTY JUDGE EXECUTIVE

When I ran for this office four years ago, I committed myself to a race based upon openness and straightforward honesty. After the election, I was told many times that the voters liked the way I conducted my campaign. But, I want to say that it was you who made a lasting impression upon me through your honesty and warm hospitality as I went door to door getting acquainted with you. I shall always be grateful for that.

Today, I am running the same type campaign - a clean race focused upon issues. If elected, I can assure you that I will never consider any questions you might have regarding our county's business as a personal offense to me. Indeed, I recognize it as a right to question our officials when we become concerned about how our government is run, how our money is spent, and alarmed with the indebtedness and long-term obligations we will have to meet. After all, by asking questions, we learn answers and help create a more responsible and effective county government.

Again, thanks for your continued support.

Nominations are now being taken for the 1993-94 school year parent members of the Roundstone School Council. Nominations must be in writing. The deadline for submitting the nominations to Mrs. Howard is Tuesday, March 30. Parents of this year and next year's Roundstone students are eligible for nomination if they are a member of the Roundstone PTA and if they are not related to employees of the Rockcastle School System. For information about what kinds of relatives nominees cannot be related to, please contact the principal. Parents may join the PTA the night of the elections.

Elections for parent members of the 93-94 Roundstone School Council will be conducted at a PTA meeting scheduled for this purpose on Thursday, April 8, beginning at 6:30 p.m. To participate in these elections fully, it is recommended that parent members arrive for the beginning. Balloting will continue until two parent members are elected. Parents may join the PTA at this meeting just prior to the election.

The Roundstone School Council will hold its regularly scheduled meeting Thursday, March 25, in the school library between 4 and 6 p.m.

The Roundstone School Council will hold a special called meeting on Monday, March 29, between 4 and 5 p.m. in order to approve an instructional allotment budget for the 1993-94 school year. This meeting will be held in the Roundstone School library.

The Roundstone School Council will have a council workshop on Monday, March 29 in the Wilde Christian Church hall beginning at 8 a.m. The work session will end between noon and 3 p.m. Rough draft proposals for the school's action plans may be generated at this workshop; however, no formal decision making will occur.

The week of March 12 was an exciting week for Mrs. E and Mrs. Cindy's classroom. They were involved in collecting items from their environment and region to send to a second grade class in New York City.

They were a part of a nationwide project called S.H.A.R.E. (Studying Habitats and Regional Environments), a classroom teacher in Oregon coordinates this project over the summers. Teachers apply to exchange items and communication at a particular time of the year. The primary students had just completed packing their items to mail when they received their package by UPS. They received a number of items from the ocean and a number of post cards and newspaper stories.

In Ms. Renner's primary class we have been working with measurements. On Friday we made Blueberry muffins using a recipe we received from our friends in Maine. They were delicious. We received many different things in our share box from Maine. We have also been writing fairy tales and studying about plants.

In Mrs. Gabbard's room we have been learning about birds and fish. We observed birds for one whole day and then we did an experiment with feathers, sand and oil. We learned the effects of oil had on birds. In math we have been studying time. We used T.V. Guides to learn how we use time to be able to watch our favorite TV shows.

The primary classes also learned about nutrition last week. We would like to say thanks to John McQueary for bringing his program to us.

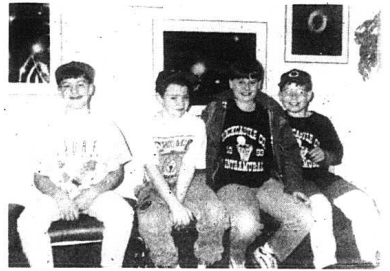

Attention sixth graders and kindergartners

The Rockcastle County Health Center will be doing 6th grade and kindergarten physicals and MMR II's by appointment. If you are not income eligible to receive the exam free of charge, there will be a small charge, probably less than $5.

If you have a child who will be entering 6th grade or kindergarten this year, please call 256-2242 now for an appointment as the appointments times are filling fast and there may not be one available if you wait until summer to call.

During our study of dinosaurs, the Roundstone preschoolers witness a dinosaur egg hatching out (just pretend, of course!) We also enjoyed learning the big names and which ones ate meat while we made puppet sponge painted and made puffy dinosaurs.

On February 6, the Roundstone Cub Scouts enjoyed a program at Hummel Planetarium. Those attending were, left to right, Joshua Singleton, Thomas Coffey, Joshua Lyons and James Thacker. These boys are first year Webelos.

Fourth graders Thomas Coffey, Bethany Brandenburg and Samantha Reed perform magical tricks for the Roundstone preschoolers. What a special treat to have our very own magicians at Roundstone.

Eighth grader Jason Durham has been sharing stories with our Roundstone preschool classes. We really appreciate him reading to us.

Many Certificates of Deposit are reaching maturity and higher interest earning rates advertised by many financial firms doesn't necessarily mean it's a safe investment for you. When the CDs you have with us with others are ready for reinvestment consider a Certificate of Deposit at our bank. Roamin' Rockcastle

If ever I was tired of the house, this snowstorm last week caused it for us were almost buried for two days. We couldn't get out of our driveway.

Snow is pretty to look at but I'll take the spring season which comes in on March 20th of this month. I've already seen the yellow jonquills blooming. Wonder where they are now?

I came out of the bank one afternoon and saw a woman standing by her car and she waved at me. I went over and found she was Ella Wylie, a reader of the Citizen. She was telling me how well she liked my column. Later, I saw her again at the Hair Plus Shoppe and found her to be a very friendly person.

I also talked to Hazel Dean, an old friend from the days we both worked at the College Candy Kitchen in Berea.

In the birthday crowd, Willie Croucher, grandson of Edd and Juanita Croucher, hid one on March 15th. Stella Dees claims March 20th for her birthday.

I stopped at Bill and Bessie Shouse's one day.

Bill was the champion tomato grower around Berea one summer which was printed in the Citizen that he had raised a tomato weighing over six pounds. Of course it was a meter take made by the printer but I never let Bill forget it.

I asked Bill where he and Bessie were going to spend their vacation this summer.

"Someplace far away from everybody. I guess we'll go to Bobtown (a place which is only a few miles away).

Bessie said she hadn't been feeling very well. Bill said there was a reason for that, since she had talked back to him. He does like to joke. "Are you going to plant your tomatoes at each end of the porch?" I asked.

"Sure thing. When you come upon a good thing, no use to stop so I'll have tomatoes at each end of our porch."

Wayne Seals, a neighbor who is also a member of the Middletown Baptist Church as well as the choir director, came down to buy a quart of honey with comb in the jar.

He said he would use it in his Sunday School class of young children that he teaches.

"They didn't know how honey comb looked when the word was used. Wayne came and got some for them to see."

As a former teacher, I will give Wayne credit for being the teacher who goes the extra mile with the pupils.

I want to see my nephew, Greg Oliver at a funeral home where he had come to his grandfather, Oather Oliver's funeral.

I had told Pauline Oliver who was there that I had not seen Greg, the grandson of my brother John Payne (deceased).

As I walked into the room where a group of people was gathered, Pauline came to me with a tall man and said, "You have been wanting to see Greg so here's your great nephew."

The Mt. Vernon Signal • Thursday, March 25, 1993 • P.49
Rockcastle, she said he had read my column in the Mt. Vernon Signal while there.

"What's the excitement around Cartersville?" I asked her. Shortlene laughed, "There's a snowball fight the young folks do. Then we have a tanning bed downstairs that some of the women come in and use."

Turning to Wilmot, I asked, "When would you say you have the most business here?" "I guess during tobacco cutting time when folks stop in for a quick snack," he said, "then they buy staple groceries like coffee, meat or flour products."

"Where do you get mail here and what's the closest post office?"

"Point Lick. This is a rural route. Another one comes from Berea to that fork up the road". Wilmot told me.

Two men come in and went to the back of the store to sit at a table near a soft drink machine.

I went back to talk to them for I wanted news from everybody around. I explained my job to them.

One man said his name was Birdseed Corn. He was raised as a small boy and played under a birdseed tree (I'd never heard of one) so much that he was nicknamed birdsed.

He said he came to the store on Friday nights because it was so busy he saw a lot of people that he knew. The other man said he was named Bennie Parsons and was a bachelor who liked to come here and eat because he liked goose liver sausage

Bennie is a farmer but likes to take chances on the lottery by buying tickets.

I asked them about President Clinton and any new taxes he might cause.

Bennie said, "It won't do any good to complain. I just write a check for the taxes and send back to them."

Neither man had voted for Clinton so I would guess they were Republicans.

We took our leave after talking to these friendly folks. It seemed a quiet community but I'll bet there was plenty of excitement when each of those three men won $1,000 on a lottery ticket they had bought.

Till next week, when you will have a surprise about this paper and I don't know where I'll be.

I have lived in the life of public scrutiny and it is a lonely life, a life of misery. Some politicians go out to help others and forget their constituents at home. My friend, never fear Boom Boom is here. Look at District 1 and you will know Boom Boom cares. When I feel the First District is fine, I will resign. I have not, nor will I ever, accept the good people of Rockcastle County's money for doing nothing. When District 1 is finished, I will be finished.

We all have lost a friend recently. No finer man will ever walk this land. He denied himself so others could live and see and he will always be remembered. One of his heirs will be remembered by me. Her first words spoken were Boom Boori.

Leslie Gregory to wed Michael Lopez

Deborah June Price of Brodhead and James William Gregory of Cincinnati, Ohio would like to announce the forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Leslie JaDawn Gregory to Michael Ray Lopez, son of Roger Lopez of Crab Orchard and Ann Barron of Red Hill, Livingston. Leslie JaDawn is the granddaughter of Joe and Ruth Russell of Brodhead. All family and friends are invited to the ceremony which will take place at Maretburg Baptist Church, Highway 150, on Saturday, March 27th at 2:30 p.m. A reception will follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McKinney celebrate 50

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan McKinney of West Chester, Ohio, formerly of Rockcastle County, recently passed a most important milestone in their life together -- their 50th wedding anniversary. They were married at Mt. Vernon on March 10, 1943. In the fall of that year they moved to the Cincinnati area where they were self-employed for the last thirty years prior to their retirement in 1980.

Christine Harper, was born near Pongo, the daughter of Christopher Columbus and Josephine Taylor Harper.

The McKinneys have four children -- a daughter, Barbara Kay Warren of LaFollete, Tennessee, and three sons, Ronald Gary of Hopewell, Ohio, Daniel Ivan, Milford, Ohio and Dale Stewart, Middletown, Ohio -- and seven grandchildren.

A delayed reception is planned for May when the grandchildren are home from school to join in the celebration. Immediately after the party the couple will leave for an extended tour of the south and southwestern states.

The following is a tribute to our parents, Ivan and Flossie Christine McKinney, on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary, March 10, 1993.

To Mom and Dad

So many things we'd like to tell you as you celebrate this day. Things we should have said before but never found a way. We either lacked the proper words to tell you face to face. Or somehow never seemed to find that special time and place.

And, anyway, most moms and dads already seem to know; With you this was especially true -- at least, we thought it so. Then, as the days turned into years, we soon were parents; too. At last we knew the value of a hug and "I love you!"

Now, as we pen this message, we pray that it imparts. The feelings that those fleeting years have left within our hearts; The memories of our childhood and all the love you showed. The counsel and the guidance that smoothed a bumpy road.

And still there are no words to tell exactly how we feel. But you must know our love for you is lasting, warm and real; You made our home a place of joy and, through the coming years, We'll keep these vivid memories as cherished souvenirs!

God bless you, Mom and Dad, and may you enjoy many more happy years together.

Your devoted and grateful children,
Barbara Kay McKinney Warren
Ronald Gary McKinney
David Ivan McKinney

Battle of Life
By: Lewis Bowling 1993

In this battle of life
We all are in
There is one thing we must do
If we want to win
We must be ready
When we hear his call
To win the battle
We must give our all
The only way
We can win the test
Is when
We give our best

I Surrender to You

By: Lewis Bowling 1993

When your life is turned around,
And sickness gets you down,
The answer is simple but true,
Just tell God I surrender to you
When the sky has turned to gray,
And many mountains are in your way,
When your prayers seem not to get through
Tell God I surrender to you

When we come to our last days,
When death is on the way
If you don't know how to pray,
All we need to do is tell God I Surrender to you

If you want to gain that home,
Remember Jesus said come,
All you need to make the start, if it is true,
is within your heart.
Tell God I surrender to you

How Do I Pray?

By: Ronnie Wheeler
Carrington, Ky.

How do I pray for you
my friend?
My heart's desire is only for your good.
I wish you peace, and happiness,
and love that has no end.
These things I pray,
a really good friend should.

But how do I pray for you my love,
Do I ask for things I know
should never be?
Our lives were set before we met
And the best thing for you is not me.

equal partner in the political and economic structure of the state have already given us a lift. Now it's up to all of us to keep that momentum building," he said.
The next step in achieving the increased agricultural economy is to map out specific actions necessary for revitalizing agriculture, said Oran Little, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.
Special task forces are now working on detailed recommendations to create an environment favorable for growth in agriculture, he said. Those task forces are oriented around seven focus areas:
Achieving Kentucky's agricultural production potential

Marketing Kentucky-produced products
Expansion of agribusiness and value-added opportunities
Sustaining and enhancing Kentucky's environmental and natural resource productivity
Enhancing Kentucky's human potential
Increasing financing flexibility
Creating organizations and government policies to allow agriculture to grow.
"Agriculture will become the growth machine for the state's economy when the specific actions recommended by the task forces are implemented, when public, private and academic sectors work together to address statewide problems, and when the executive and legislative branches of state government make the necessary investment to keep agriculture a competitive economic giant for the state," Little said.
Speaking to the agricultural leaders, Ed Logsdon, commissioner of Kentucky Department of Agriculture, said "Agriculture is Kentucky's oldest industry, its greatest resource and its most viable source for an expanded state economy. A stronger farm economy would be felt throughout the entire state, not just in rural communities."
"The face of Kentucky agriculture will change dramatically in the next century if we stay focused on our goals and work on a daily basis to bring about the changes outlined in the plan."

WATER EXPANSION To meet the needs of those needing access to public water continues to be very complex. This jigsaw puzzle has several pieces. The ban on expansion for Mt. Vernon, the need for a county-wide association and funds are three. Rockcastle Water Association a board was named, made up of seventeen citizens from the unserved areas. Public service permission to proceed was gained.

Mt. Vernon Ban To relieve pressure on the Mt. Vernon system, pressure and flow through Western's system had to be corrected. This is nearly complete.
Co-operation To get water in the Climax-Three Links area, agreement was reached with Jackson County to provide water in that area.
Progress Three expansion/improvement projects have been founded since 1990. One is complete, the second will be finished this spring, and the third (Climax, Three Links, Brush Creek) will be bid soon. The fourth project will be submitted for funding. It will allow service for the remainder of the county. The four projects will have cost over three million dollars. This is not so great a figure; however, when compared to what it has cost the county by not having access to public water.
Summary Rockcastle is in a significant growth period. Projections indicate that this will continue. The same is true for the entire 1-75 corridor south through Whitley County. With the completion of the Rockcastle water expansion projects, the water will be tied together from Madison County to the Tennessee border. Access can be possible to Lake Linnville, Woods Creek and Laurel Lakes. This work on our infrastructure must continue if we are to realize our economic potential.

8 local students enrolled in Project Graduation

The three R's are making room for an "F" in Rockcastle County's Destination Graduation program.

In this case, though, the graded letter stands not for a failing grade but, rather, friendship.

As important as the basics are, eight Eastern Kentucky University students from Rockcastle County take time to be friends as they tutor at-risk students in the program, which was launched by EKV in hopes of reducing the high school drop-out rate.

"They (the students) get someone to talk to about school, and about their teachers," said tutor Angie Bussell, a 1990 Rockcastle County High School graduate who's now a junior French (education) major at Eastern. "I've had most of the classes they're in.

A lot of the time we talk about school problems, and problems they have with relationships. The main thing I tell them is to pass their classes and learn all they can.

"Bussell has enjoyed the experience so much that it helped her change her career choice from accounting to teaching. "It makes me feel good to think that I'm helping them," she said.

"And when I see them understand and make better grades, that makes it even better. I just decided from doing this tutoring that I'd like to help with

Renfro Valley opens season to packed house

Renfro Valley opened its 54th season to a packed barn and rave reviews on March 6.

The Old Barn was filled to capacity with country music fans. The crowd was about evenly split between first time visitors and Renfro Valley regulars, those fans who make it a point to see as many of the shows as possible.

A full Barn Dance cast, plus guest appearances by Jamboree stars and fiddler Ralph Marum, kept the audience entranced for nearly two hours. High school senior Tasha Harris, who celebrated her eighteenth birthday the day after the Barn Dance opening, delighted the audience with two classics, "Shake the Sugar Tree," and "Once." Tasha left the stage to roaring applause and whistles.

The Clogging McClain Clan, a new addition to the Barn Dance roster, proved that eight people caught up in the spirit of a lively fiddle tune can definitely generate some enthusiastic hand-clapping and toe tapping. Chris Robbins, who is returning to

Lincoln Day Dinner held

By: Juanita Davis
Co-Chairman

The Rockcastle County Republican Club held its annual Lincoln Day Dinner on Friday night at the Mt. Vernon Elementary School. More than 300 people were in attendance and those present included many candidates for office in the upcoming Primary Election.

Presiding was Republican Chairman Juanita Davis and the featured speaker was Congressman Hal Rogers of the Fifth Congressional District. Congressman Rogers discussed state and national political issues and commented on the importance of party unity after the Primary Election is over. Rogers emphasized that he would not be involved in any primary election, but would gladly support Republican nominees after the primary.

Also appearing on the program were State Representative Danny Ford and Supreme Court Justice Joe Lambert. Both Representative Ford and Justice Lambert complimented candidates in the Primary Election for their willingness to undertake the difficult task of running for public office and serving the people of their county.

Rev. Harvey Pensol delivered the invocation and benediction and Alonzo McCollum led the pledge of allegiance to the American flag.

Josh Bray won first place in the specialty act division of the Variety Show.

The specialty act of Layne Nicely and Stephanie Reynolds took second place in the Variety Show.

Charles Napier's Green Mean Machine 4-H Club at MVES took first place in the recent Variety Show.

Second place in the club act division went to Sharon McKinney's GooF Troop from MVES.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In Ac. 26, Paul has occasion to preach to King Agrippa and the others there, the gospel of Christ. He tells them of his conversion to Christ, vs. 2-19 and his commandment to preach to the Gentiles. The gospel he preached was according to the O.T. law and prophets vs. 20-23. Festus interrupts by saying Paul was "mad of stars," vs. 24. But Paul said he spoke words of truth and soberness, vs. 25. Paul asks vs. 27, King Agrippas, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest. Here was a man Paul said was a "Believer" but here was a lost man. People who teach "faith only" would have to say Agrippa was saved, but such is not true. Ju. 12-42-43 also describes unsaved believers. You see, saving faith must move a believer to obedience, and that is what Agrippa lacked, as do many today. Faith plus works makes faith perfect or complete. Jim. 2:21-24.

Agrippa tells Paul, "Although thou persuadest me to be a Christian," vs. 28. Notice Paul was not trying to persuade him to be a Catholic, or a Methodist, or a Baptist or a Pentacostal, or a Nazarene, or a Jehovah's Witness, etc., but a Christian. God's disciples are called Christians. Ac. 11:26.

Also notice that Agrippa was almost persuaded. Almost does not count! You and I may think almost is better than total rejection but in the end, was not Agrippa rejecting the chance to be a Christian? A lot of people have good intentions of becoming a Christian. Yet good intentions, or being almost a Christian, still means one is lost in sin. Paul goes on to say, "I could to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost and altogether, such as I am, except these bonds," vs. 29. We desire the same thing that every soul who leans toward, is planning to, or is almost persuaded that they would just go ahead and decide to obey Christ their Lord. Hebs. 5:8-9. Jesus is the author or source of eternal salvation unto all that obey him. Will you obey Christ before it's too late.

judge has just shown poor judgment in choosing a campaign strategy for himself.

Dictators often rally the ignorant masses by creating external enemies to distract the people from the failings within their midst and the incompetence of the dictator, himself, and his supporters. Surely, Judge Mullins has more respect for the people of Rockcastle County than to stoop to using such a despicable technique. I believe the judge has more meaningful accomplishments he can use to promote himself to five more years of the comfortable, not-too-demanding, and profitable sinecure of Judge Executive of Rockcastle County. Let us all hope the persons who aspire to become our leaders will give us positive reasons for voting for them, not cheap political tricks.

Respectfully yours,

Dear Editor,
Everybody seems to be talking about health-care these days. What kind of system will work best? Is it socialized medicine like Canada's? Is it managed care following the guide lines that combine already has in place, or some combination of third party payors and one of the above?

I am sure everyone has good intentions and is sincere in trying to resolve a complicated issue but several points need to be addressed before a plan can be implemented with any long term effectiveness. My primary concern is that unless we change how we think about health care, it won't make a difference. Who ends up paying for it. The result will be the same as it is now.

Our present system is designed to be sickness care and not health care. When do you go to a doctor? Only when you are sick. What does a medical doctor do for your symptoms? The most common method of treating the symptoms of a disease process is to mask the symptoms by prescribing medications. Symptoms are the body's way of telling you something is wrong. Let me use an analogy to illustrate my point. Suppose you were driving your car and the red oil light on the dash came on. That light is an early warning indicator (symptom) that something is wrong with the system and you'd better do something about it. Would you take a can of black spray paint and paint over the red dash light (symptom) covering it up, or would you find out why the light came on and eliminate the cause, thereby eliminating the symptom?

Most everyone would eliminate the cause which would prevent really big problems down the road. Yet our current system of "health" care treats the symptoms which may give temporary relief leading the patient to believe the problem is fixed. But is it?

A 30 year study conducted by the world health organization showed that in 1950 the general population in the United States was second in overall health world-wide. By 1980 we fell to 57th world-wide. Yet the United States is technically the most advanced in the world. It spends more on health care than any other country and we will probably have to pay more for this same type of health care in the very near future. Is that what we really want? I don't think so. Are there other avenues to explore? Yes, but that topic is for another time.

Dear Editor,
Thumbs up to Lora Hamilton for speaking out against the discrimination and abuse of the elderly by the manager of the E.C. Porter store in Mt. Vernon. I intend to avoid this store and to tell all my friends who are elderly or who are handicapped also to avoid the store. It is only when we refuse to tolerate such abuse and discrimination against persons that we can become a civilized and caring society.

I think the Mt. Vernon Signal should be applauded for providing the public an opportunity to share problems such as this with their fellow citizens.

Sincerely,
June M. Whittier
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

(Ed's Note: Bill Doan, mgr. of E.C. Porter explained to me after the initial incident that he is unable to furnish delivery service since no vehicle is provided by the store for this service. Mr. Doan reported that he took Mrs. Hamilton home in his personal vehicle even though he was at risk since his insurance does not cover delivery service. We think this incident has been blown out of proportion to its importance. Having dealt with employees of E.C. Porter for several years, we have always found them to be a caring, courteous group. pma.)
