IN MEMORY OF

In Loving Memory of Grace Hines Ramsey who passed away July 12, 1991

Patent, kind and true. No other friend in all the world will be as true to you as I am. For her loving kindness, she asks nothing in return, if all the world deserted you.

To your mother you could turn so all we can do dear mother is go and visit your grave and leave behind a token of love to the best mother that God ever gave.

We are thinking of you today, although others may forget. As silent thoughts bring many a tear to the one we loved and loved so dear.

Oh, God, hold your arms around her, keep her in your loving care. Make up to her for all she suffered and everything that wasn't there. To all of you who still have your mother, cherish her with care. For you will never know the hearache until you find she isn't there. From your loving children Billy, Thomas, Frank and Joe Ramsey; Sadie Pittman, Irene Penter, Christine Blackburn and Glenna French; all the grandchildren and great-grandchildren; and brother Walter Hines and family.

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a judgment and order of sale entered in this action on the 25th day of June, 1993, for the purpose of satisfying the plaintiff's judgment against the defendants, I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle County, Kentucky, said auction shall take place on the premises.

LOCATED ON RED HILL ROAD (State Road #155)

On Thursday, the 5th day of August, 1993 Beginning at the hour of 10 a.m.

said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows: A certain tract or parcel of land located in Rockcastle County, Kentucky, near Jep hill, and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a pine stump, corner to Bert Mullins land at the top of a hill on north side of Old Red Hill Road; thence southwesterly with Bert Mullins land and gravel road to said Mullins' corner, near Mullins old dwelling house; thence northwesterly with the brink of the hill and Mullins land to a hickory corner in Bert Mullins' line; thence north down the hill with the fence to the hollow to a white oak near a large poplar; thence northwesterly crossing the Red Hill Road to a stone, corner to Wilson Baker (now Cummins); thence northwesterly to a double chestnut oak on top of the ridge; thence about easterly with the meanders of the cliff to a hickory on a point, corner to Chester Hensley and John D. Shepherd; thence easterly with the cliff to two small maples; thence a southerly direction across the gravel road to a hickory and chestnut oak on the brink of the cliff; thence a straight line to the beginning corner and containing one hundred acres (100) more or less. AND being the same property conveyed to William Lee Isaacs and his wife, Dianna Lynn Isaacs, by deed of conveyance from Orbin Bosters and his wife, Viola Bosters, dated the 8th day of June, 1989, and recorded in the Rockcastle County Clerk's office at Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, in Deed Book 137 at pages 132-134.

The property will be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- The land, as described above and all improvements located thereon, shall be sold as a whole.
- The property shall be sold on the above described premises.
- The property shall be sold to the highest bidder(s) for cash or for a deposit of TEN (10%) PER CENT of the purchase price in cash at the time of sale and the balance payable THIRTY (30) DAYS from the day of the sale, with interest at the rate of TWELVE (12%) PER CENT per annum from date of sale until paid. The purchaser(s) shall be required to execute bond in the amount of the unpaid portion of the purchase price with surety to be approved by the Master Commissioner. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of TWELVE (12%) PER CENT per annum from the date of sale until paid and shall have the force and effect as a judgment and shall remain and be a lien on the property until fully paid.
- Purchaser(s) shall have the privilege of paying all of the purchase price in cash at the time of the sale or paying said bond before maturity by paying the principal amount thereof together with all interest accrued thereon until the date of said payment.
- In the event the purchaser of the property fails to comply with the above terms of sale, then in such event the Master Commissioner shall immediately resell the property upon the same terms and conditions as hereinabove set forth, excepting only any necessary changes in the time and date of sale.
- The purchaser(s) shall pay the property taxes for the current year, 1993, and subsequent years.
- This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.
- In the event the plaintiff, Bank One, Lexington, NA, purchases the aforesaid property, it shall be entitled to take a credit against its judgment amounts against the purchase price bid.

Gov. Jones requests flood funds City may need new water plant

Gov. Brereton Jones has requested that 23 Kentucky counties be declared federal disaster areas as a result of the severe weather June 4, including Rockcastle.

Such a declaration would make the areas eligible for a range of special assistance.

Preliminary damage estimates from the storms have reached $3.5 million, including damage to rural electric systems, public facilities and the cost of debris removal.

The 23 counties are Boyle, Breckinridge, Clay, Crittenden, Estill, Grayson, Green, Hardin, Hart, Jackson, LaRue, Laurel, Livingston, Madison, Marshall, McCracken, McLean, Ohio, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Taylor, Washington and Webster.

Jones had previously requested special assistance for agriculture losses in 30 counties.

The Mt. Vernon City Council posed with the new city police cruiser before a council session Monday. The 1993 Crown Victoria was purchased with grant money. No city funds were spent. It cost $12,000 on a state contract price. Left to right, Mayor Gary R. Cromer, Councilman Clark "Joe" Mullins, Councilwoman Clarice Kirby and Lou Vanhoush and Councilman Lee Keene. Councilman Bob Bailey came to the meeting later.

Mayor tells city council

By: Ray McClure

Looking into the future as it relates to water and sewer service in Rockcastle and Mt. Vernon, Mayor Gary R. Cromer told the Mt. Vernon Council Monday night the water and sewer plant needs upgrading.

He said engineers were studying the needs of the area to come up with what is needed while the money for grants and loans are available through block grants, the Appalachian Regional Commission, Farmers Home Administration and the Kentucky Infrastructure agency.

"We have to increase the water plant and upgrade the sewer plant and system," the Mayor said. "In fact, we may have to build a new water plant in another location. But we need to do the planning now."

The guess is the cost of the water and sewer project could be as much as $3 million.

The information from the mayor was not all new. The city has known for considerable time something would have to be done since considerable growth has taken place, prompting the revival of the project. The mayor pointed out that growth in the north area of the city (Renfro area) with its businesses and restaurants is taxing the sewer system.

"We have to increase the water plant and upgrade the sewer plant and system."
--Mayor Gary Cromer

In the west part of town he pointed out the additional high school, Rockcastle Manufacturing, and the plastic factory addition is already in place adding to the load.

Craig barn burns

A barn belonging to G.S. (Junior) Craig was destroyed by fire Monday after it was struck by lightning.

Destroyed were between 800 and 900 bales of hay, wagons, farm machinery and small tools.

The barn is on the Craig farm on the Carl Brown Road at East Ottawa.

The Brodhead Fire Department responded to the call but the barn burst into flames.

13 indictments returned; two before the court

Two indictments were handed down by a Rockcastle Grand Jury on July 9, and served.

Jerry Lee Denny was indicted for murder and assault in the first degree.

Denny is accused of shooting and killing Jeffrey P. Payne on June 19 at a gathering at Pine Hill.

He is also accused of assaulting Gerald Cotton by shooting him causing serious physical injury.

He posted a $50,000 property bond. Arraignment has been set for Aug. 13 at 10 a.m.

Danny Ray Spoonmore was indicted by the grand jury for flagrant nonsupport.

He is accused of failing to support his children resulting in arrears of $1,000. And had made no support payments in the last 6 months.

He remains in the county jail under $15,000 cash or $30,000 property bond. Arraignment has been set for 10 a.m., July 23.

A total of 13 were indicted. To date only two have been apprehended.

Weather

A total of 2.89 inches of rain has fallen in Mt. Vernon since July 1, according to figures at Cox Funeral Home as of Wednesday.

Most fell Monday (July 12) when 1.03 inches fell.

High to date this month was 93 on July 9. Low was 65 on July 10.

Chief back

Police Chief Bill Mink has returned to part-time duty after suffering a heart problem recently. He will return to full duty soon, he reported.

Lost boys found unhurt

Two boys, 11 and 13, were found wandering in the woods at Trace branch Thursday after they were reported lost.

The Livingston Search and Rescue Squad found them still trying to find their way out.

Chris Shackelford, 11, and Mike Shackelford, 13, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Shackelford of the Red Hill area, left home about 7 p.m. to look for a lost bicycle.

When they failed to return, their parents called for help. The Search and Rescue Squad responded.

About 11:30 Mick Volan and John Kuhn, lieutenant and commander of the squad assisted by Henry Morris and Wayne Carpenter of Lamerco, found the boys in the woods still trying to find their way out.

They were taken home. The squad responds and assists the Mt. Vernon and Livingston Fire Departments. Recently formed, many residents have expressed their appreciation for having a rescue squad in their community that knows the area and can respond to their needs quickly and efficiently, a squad member said.

Board told new high school still on schedule

In an attempt to dispel rumors about the non-completion of the new high school by 1994 school year, job site superintendent for Alliance Corporation, Bob Rader met with the Rockcastle County Board of Education Tuesday night to assure the board the completion date would be met.

"The only thing going to stop us is if we have 38 out of 42 days of rain as they had in Iowa," Rader told the board. "I think you can sit back and relax now, we are going to be in that building," Rader further stated.

Finance Director Richard Bray told the board that he had heard several rumors over the past several days to the effect that the building would not be ready for occupancy and that he had asked Mr. Rader to the meeting to give the board a report on the state of the construction timewise.

In support of his claim as to the building being on schedule, Rader told the board:

- the exterior sanitary sewer lift station is 100% complete;
- the water tower is 95% complete;
- the lower level footer is 95% complete;
- 78% of the high wall is complete;
- the steel is up for the two main wings;
- masons are starting to lay the block and
- the underslab plumbing is complete.

"I feel very confident that we're going to be in that building," Rader further assured the board.

In connection with construction of the new school, the board approved four change orders, amounting to over $17,000.

"I think you can sit back and relax now, we are going to be in that building."

--Bob Rader
Job Site Supt.

The most expensive items, over $15,000 concern an area on the lower level, originally scheduled to be left unfinished and with a gravel floor. Bray pointed out to the board that if the concrete floor was poured and the plumbing were stubbed in, the cost now would be about 1/2 of the cost if the work was done after the school's completion.

The area is tentatively scheduled for a future weight room and football locker room.

Another change order will save the board some money. Russ McFarland, project manager for Johnson & Romanowitz, architects, told the board that the plans had originally called for vertical and horizontal insulation beneath the concrete floor slab. However, McFarland said board he felt the double insulation was "overkill" and only the vertical insulation was needed. But, Rader assured the board that anywhere the concrete slab was less than two feet thick, horizontal and vertical insulation would be used to eliminate any possibility of cold floors.

The other change order dealt with door hardware such as fixing the center section of the double doors into the auditorium so that it can be removed thus allowing for easier ingress and egress of band equipment, etc.

Bray pointed out that all change orders thus far have amounted to a savings of over $13,000 to the board through Tuesday night's actions.

The board approved all change orders.

Discussed were two proposed change orders, one to provide the highest quality finish on selected exterior aluminum doors (12 leafs - 6 doors), at an added cost of $2450.00 and, the second, to add carpet instead of vinyl tile in corridors as specified, add $14,159.60.

The board took no action on these two items since a decision is not necessary at this point and will be made at a later meeting.

The low bid for additional bleachers at the football field was approved. It was submitted by Dan/Clayton of Louisville who had been the only bidder the first time the project was advertised.

This time, there were two bids and Dan/Clayton was successful with their bid of $31,796 which was seven thousand dollars lower than their original bid.

The project will add an additional 250 seats and will be constructed on the school bus garage side of the present bleachers.

Completion date for the project is scheduled for September 30.

A report on the renovation of the wing of Brodhead School across School St. was given to the board by architect Garlan VanHook.

VanHook told the board that the original plan was to replace the ter-mitic-damaged wood floors with pressure treated wood but it was decided a more permanent solution would be to go to concrete floors after the steam pipes were discovered to be in bad shape and needing replacement anyway. These will now have to be relocated overhead.

Also, the windows were found to be in need of replacement since the glass was of the 1/4 inch thickness

The new Rockcastle High School is progressing well and remains on schedule, according to officials. Shown is steel work for the two main classroom sections.

Workmen still are doing excavation work at the school. Above workers widen the road leading from the Ky. 461 bypass to the school.

Points East

By Ike Adams

The world record tomato weighs somewhere between seven and eight pounds and one of the fertilizer companies is offering one hundred thousand dollars to anybody who can set it up.

As everyone knows, growing tomatoes is far less expensive than playing the lottery or going to the track and I figure the chances of growing an eight pound tomato are far greater than purchasing a winning lottery ticket or having a hayburner finish in the money. So I decided on the sly to give it a try this summer.

A woman I used to work with decided to become a missionary a couple of years ago and she's been in what used to be Czechoslovakia for the last 18 months.

Coincidentally, I read in Reader's Digest that the world's largest tomatoes are raised there and in Poland. Mary Beth sent me fifteen seeds that she managed to smuggle out by a Red Cross worker who mailed them to me from London, England. They're supposed to be purple and average four pounds apiece.

All fifteen seeds sprouted and I set eight out in my garden. I gave the others seven to different people to try in their gardens.

I also came into ten seeds from Poland. One day at the office I was showing some people around the place and I noticed that one lady had a heavy accent that you don't hear every day. I knew she was from New York City, but I also knew she'd been somewhere else a long time before she got there so I finally asked her where she got the accent.

Turns out she was born in Poland and had lived there until well into adulthood. She'd married a Peace Corps worker and moved to the States ten years ago.

I asked her if she still had friends in Poland and found out that her mother and a whole bunch of siblings wrote to her every week or two.

I hem hawed around for a minute or two and finally just asked her if any of them grew tomatoes. Apparently everybody in Poland grows tomatoes so I asked how much she'd take to see if she could get some seed of the biggest ones they could find.

She was absolutely delighted. She called me at home a few nights later to tell me she had written to her mother and felt sure she could get the seed. Sure enough, about thirty days later, I got a little piece of masking tape in the mail with ten tomato seeds stuck to it. Eight of them sprouted and all 8 are in my garden.

I wasn't going to let on about trying for the record because I figured if I kept it quiet I wouldn't have any competition and I've been out driving around Garrard County looking at upscale real estate. Trying to find the best house in the county that a hundred grand would buy as soon as my meters start getting ripe.

The only reason I'm breaking the news now is that I don't have a chance of growing that mater.

First we had the storms that blew plants out of the ground and wrecked my garden two weeks in a row and now it hasn't rained in thirty days. I was watering them with the garden hose for a while, even though I don't think garden plants care much for city water, but now we have an advisory to cut back on water usage or risk getting it turned off period.

I made one trip to a place on Paint Lick creek where the road goes right through it. I took a bunch of five gallon buckets and filled them with right beside the truck where you could stand in water nearly knee deep and dip it right up. I drove home as slowly as I could but over half of my water sloshed out anyway so there went that idea.

I took one look at the mater plants and another at my three rows of Buford Cauldill Fall beans and said to heck with eight pound tomatoes. I figure the plants will make maters plenty big enough to eat without much help and I can save seed to try again next year. In the meantime my priority is Fall Beans and that's where I put the creek water.

I kind of like the house we live in right now anyway. We've been here nearly two years and Loretta still ain't seen a snake in the bedroom.

It is near blackberry picking time and there are lots of them according to the white blooms.

I haven't asked for any chigger remedies yet but hope to get some help. Some folks say they just scratch.

A chigger will bury in your skin until you lay down to sleep at which time you will not get any. It makes life miserable. I don't go out to the blackberry patches anymore. I don't have time to write this and scratch.

Mike Berry, from Brindle Ridge in Rockcastle, is a salesman for Britton Olds in Berea, tells all the folks when they come in that the cars down there are not better compare. He will tell any kind of a tale to sell the cars. For instance, I said to him "My car is paid off and I'm interested in a new one but its the same tale "no money."

Mike got real excited and said, "Oh, if that's the trouble, all over the place and I'll get you good terms."

Boy, those car salesmen can talk you into a new car better than you know it.

When I asked Mike for news of Rockcastle, he said, "I sent you word by John that I had plenty of persimmons on the trees on the back side of my farm and have you tell me if you wanted some."

John knew I would walk him all over Mike Berry's farm. He said later, after the fruit was gone, that Mike offered me persimmons but he, John, forgot to tell me.

My once, daughter-in-law Sherrill Corset, and her father came over from Union, other side of Richmond, to have dinner with us Sunday, July 3rd. We enjoyed having them and a lot of talking was going on.

The 7th of July always brings me memories as that is the birthday of my father, O.M. Payne.

He was the best man I ever knew and led a good life until he started going down on January 22nd in 1951 when he was 86 years of age. He was postmaster and kept a store where many funny things happened to him by the people who came in to the store -- I've written a lot of them in this paper before.

I was upstairs in the bank getting my checkbook in order with one of the bookkeepers when I heard a low voice say, "Hilda, Hilda, and I turned to see Fred Williams, bank president, in the doorway. (Cont. to A3)

Heresay

By John Norman Meadows

It was Lord's Supper time in a new pastorate. The deacon chairman proceeded to lift and fold the tablecloth that covered the silver service containing the elements. I began a vertical fold, but he had horizontal in mind. We tried it again. I went horizontal, but he went vertical. Eventually, we got it right. Our "Laurel and Hardy" set amused the congregation.

Then I, flustered by the tablecloth humor, honored the "bread" but handed the "wine" trays to the deacons for distribution. They proceeded with puzzled looks, and I figured out why when I turned and noticed the "wine" trays still on the Table! Ever after, I mentioned the Lord's Supper with a tad of tension, especially when folding that cloth.

The first Supper in Jerusalem likely had a tablecloth because, even in the biblical times, there were flies. (Hard to believe but the gospel truth.) In my younger days, the era of funeral-home fans and punctured window screens, or no screens at all, a tablecloth was necessary to keep airborne insects out of the elements.

Today, however, many churches have discarded the tablecloth. And with good reason--air-conditioned sanctuaries are virtually fly-free. So, why the cloth? Why pay a handsome sum for a silver communion service and then hide its splendor under a tablecloth?

Perhaps we keep the tablecloth because we want to emulate the first Supper? If so, why not be thorough and also have one cup of fermented wine and one loaf of unleavened bread -- and recline in an upper room while taking the meal.

I was a terribly curious child. So, one Sunday I sat where Momma couldn't see me, intent on sampling the Supper when the trays came my way. Then Brother Younce said unrepentant folk ought not partake, lest they "eat and drink damnation to their soul." That was enough said for me! I don't partake the tablecloth. I do, while the Supper was in progress--and often thereafter--I looked hither and thither, half-hoping I would see some "unworthy" soul take a sip, have a foaming fit, let out a blood-curdling cry, give up the ghost, expire, and die forthwith on the spot. You were warned, Stupid! You'll think twice next time!

"The Lord's Supper" is by far the most popular name for the observance, among churches I have known. (But can you have a "supper" on a Sunday "morning"? Consequently, years ago I was roundly rebuked for saying "Communion service.")

"Why, that's what the Catholics and Campellites call it!" cried deacon Jud Eddington. "Jud, Catholics say 'Mass.' I restored. Later, he blessed me again for not sitting behind the table 'like Jesus did in that picture of him and the disciples.' (Jud adjudged me a third time for serving Coke 'in the bottle' during Vacation Bible School. "Why not?" I asked. "Because," he explained, "whiskey comes in a bottle.")

"The Eucharist" [YOU-hal-rist] is another name, employed by Roman Catholics and some Protestant churches because it voices gratitude for Christ's atoning death. Basically, it means "I give thanks."

Many believers prefer "Communion." It connotes "a sharing of common feelings and thoughts, intimate talk, spiritual fellowship--with the Lord and with each other."

Congregations also differ regarding the matter of the elements. Wine or grape juice? Is home-made wine kosher? Bread Zestis or home-baked, unleavened bread? Bakery-made unleavened bread?

"Tucky" Johnson, a new deacon of the Bagdad Baptist Church in Shelby County in the mid-fifties, took scripture literally when it came his turn to prepare the Table. He drove to Shelbyville, "snuck" into Biagi's House of Spirits, and purchased a jug of wine. He spent over an hour there. Some Bagdadians had parked across (Cont. to A3)

"Give her a good write up in doing her job so well," he said.
 "I can't because she won't let me. I've asked several times to let me tell whom I'm dealing with," I answered him.
 "Pay no attention. Just go on and tell what you know about her," Fred told me.
 The bookkeeper flushed and didn't raise her head. "Maybe you had just better give Fred one," the bookkeeper laughed as he went on.
 Instead of coming once a month to the office, I had plans to come more often. I enjoyed seeing all the pretty women at their work and I notice their outfits, each very different but attractive in what they wear.
 Going to Wildie last week, John stopped at Parsons Gas Company at Roundstone.
 It was such an attractive building on the outside and very much so inside.
 I met Glenna Baker who told me she had worked at the Parsons Gas Company for 25 years and she would retire in August. Glenna kindly hated to leave all the nice folks that she had worked with in this business.
 Another red headed woman who had come in from her office and said she was Libby Smith, wife of the county sheriff.
 I said to myself, "Well, you've done it again, writing about how well the sheriff liked the music Wm. K. Bullen's home, liked the foot stomping dance which he took part in.
 Libby Smith was a friendly woman who laughed at what I said about the sheriff. She was a sister to Ballard Parsons, the man we were going to see.
 When I asked the pretty woman what they did for fun at Wildie, they stayed busy she told me.
 There are a lot of Parsons around Wildie. I bought bottled gas from the place when I lived in Berea. The driver of the gas truck was Jack Parsons who had passed away in these last few years.
 Glenna said her father was Charlie Carter, one time County Judge of Rockcastle. The new building was built there when the Parsons family bought it from the Hayes family.
 After leaving these people, I started out the door and met David Parsons, part owner of the place, who was very friendly when I asked him what he thought of the 90 degree and over heat.
 We went next to Ballard Parsons who had a "blowout" of a party called "Ballard Parsons Day."
 Lots of folks came down from Mt. Vernon. Billy Hiatt was in the crowd. Ballard said there had been plenty of food, everything from ham, fried chicken, hamburgers and hot dogs.

"Herseyay"
 From A2
 the street, and he didn't want to be seen coming out of a liquor store.
 Come Sunday, the wine was distributed and the pastor said, "Drink ye all of it." Up to lips went the tumblers. Now, Adell McGinty, a choir member whose alto voice cracked with the Liberty Bell, loathed "alcohol." And the instant that "tonic" touched her tongue she gagged and spewed Mogen David all over the front row soprano. (What she said I can't hear say.)
 Even the color of the "wine" has caused commotion. A young, innovative Pennsylvania deacon once prepared the elements for our church. It was Christmas-time. So, he used white grape-juice. Talk about talk!
 "Things do go awry "in church." But Communion is still special? What makes it so? Lights turned low? Candlelight? The music? The tablecloth? Our Sunday best? None of these, really.
 Someone once said, "Only the Savior's communing Presence makes the Meal memorable. And because he is Lord of the Supper, he comes on his own terms. He is not here at our beck and call, as if he can be given and received through mere ritual. But he does keep his promise of Presence to broken souls who draw near with adoring, seeking faith. At his table spirits are lifted and hearts are warmed, as with wine—only moreso!"
 Gracious goodness!

Arts Council will observe 10 years with Celebrate Tonight

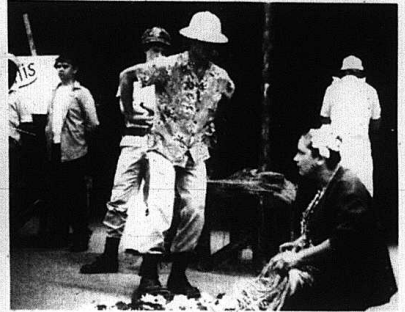

Dinner Theatre - The Real Inspector Hound

The Arkansas Bear - Children's Play

The Rockcastle Council For The Arts is celebrating 10 years of quality family entertainment in Rockcastle County. To highlight its year long celebration, the council will present, Celebrate Tonight! The production will include music, monologues, and one-act plays representing the wide range of productions Rockcastle County has enjoyed and supported over the decade. In addition to the live performances, a multi-media program will be included to serve as a bridge between scene changes. Each evening the council will recognize past performers and supporters who have contributed to the continued existence of the council.

Celebrate Tonight! represents a commitment between the Arts Council, the Rockcastle Community and the performers to provide a variety of arts experiences in Rockcastle County. It provides a moment to reflect on past performances which have brought joy and enlightenment. And it offers the opportunity for Rockcastle Countians to proclaim that the Arts are an important component to their very existence.
 Production dates for Celebrate Tonight! are Thursday, July 22, Friday, July 23, and Saturday, July 24, 7:30 p.m. at the Rockcastle County High School. Tickets are $5 adults and $3 students.

The Burdette Family Reunion was held Sunday, July 11th at the Family Life Center at Renfro Valley with over one hundred family members attending plus several friends and neighbors. They enjoyed the abundance of food and fun and fellowship. We hope everyone will be back next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barnett celebrated their wedding anniversary July 6th. We wish them many returns of the day.

Mrs. Roseann Hunt of Shopville visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Stokes Sunday.

Albert York of Barboursville and Harold Robinson of Ohio visited Mrs. Ora York during the weekend.

Danny Hurley celebrated his birthday July 9th. We wish him many returns of the day.

Eugene Houston and grandson of Ohio and Charles Houston of Florence visited Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Houston recently.

Mrs. Linda Eaton and daughter Julia and Patricia Holland were in London Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kirby spent the weekend in Ohio and attended the Clark Reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Perkins of Tampa, Fla. visited Mrs. Arnie Kirby Friday on their way to Ohio to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Estill Kirby and Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins.

Mrs. Rissie Brock of Brodhead visited her sister, Mrs. Arnie Kirby, Sunday afternoon.

Deepest sympathy is extended to all who have loved ones recently.

Mrs. Rose Houston is on the sick list, we wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Linda Blanton and mother, Mrs. Rachel Pittman, were in Richmond Monday to consult Mrs. Pittman's doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Anglin were in Somerset last Thursday to consult his dentist.

Mildred Hunt and Shirley Burton attended the Brock Reunion at Pine Mountain State Park at Pinchville Sunday.

We thank the Lord for the good rain, it was really needed.

Worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend and for Sunday School the attendance was one hundred and four --104. We thank God for each one.

I just hope all you good readers out there are well and happy. But, I know too, there is also sickness, heartache and problems for some of you. But, let's always remember that we have a Heavenly Father who cares for us. And too, let's always remember to pray for one another. Jesus loves us and we should love each other.

On Sunday morning, July 11th at our church, we had the 'Sonsburst' -- Summer Missions Team with us. They also had Friday and Saturday night services here. They were also engaged in other church activities during this time. Twila Croucher, one of the team members is a member of our church, and a student at Eastern Kentucky University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Cummins and daughters recently vacationed in Augusta, Ga. and spent time with Judy's aunt, Dorothy Lambert and her friend, Mary Lou Reynolds. Their daughter Drcama stayed on for a while but has now returned home. They had a great time.

Mrs. Hallie Alexander and daughter, Jewell Davidson, recently spent time in Ohio visiting Hallie's brother, Harold Powell and family in Spring Valley and her sister-in-law and husband Jimmy and Georgia McCall in Springboro.

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

FDIC Insurance

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation is the agency of the government which insures our deposits. Because of the FDIC, the security of a bank investment cannot be equalled anywhere in the financial community.

By definition the money invested in a bank is classified as a deposit. Money invested in other types of financial institutions is in many cases considered to be a "share." This makes a bank customer a "depositor" and customers of these other institutions merely shareholders.

This is an important difference which may never be noticed by the customer unless of course he needs to use the insurance. To find out more about the differences in regulations governing the insuring agencies of financial institutions, stop in and see one of our officers.

Childhood factors may foretell adolescent drug use
By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent for Home Economics

Can you predict which children are likely to go on to become adolescent drug users? It appears that it may be possible. Factors such as extreme childhood aggression, substance abuse by parents or peers, and early drug use may propel youngsters into teenage drug abuse, according to recent research.

The National Institute on Drug Abuse sponsored a long-term study seeking potential childhood predictors of adolescent drug use. Data, derived from interviews with both mothers and children, were obtained on 412 boys and girls at three stages: 5-10, 13-18 and 15-20 years of age.

The research team's findings uncovered specific patterns or characteristics of adolescent behavior that proved highly predictive of drug use in the ensuing years. The scientists also examined the complex influences of parental behavior on adolescent drug use.

The study identified several predictors of adolescent drug use, with two being the most significant -- excessive childhood aggression (e.g., bullying other children, getting into playground fights, aggression towards siblings) and risky parental behaviors (extreme use of alcohol, use of illicit drugs, or other dangerous behavior). These factors greatly increased the likelihood that a child would turn to drugs during adolescence.

Other risk factors included early (pre-adolescent) drug use and peer drug use. Youths with friends or associates who took drugs were often likely to follow their lead.

This research emphasizes that parents should look for early signs -- such as the ones the researchers identified -- that could promote drug use during the teen years.

Drug Abuse Specialist believe that prevention remains the most effective approach for deterring illicit teenage substance abuse. Therefore, in some cases, treatment may be needed for childhood behavioral problems that heighten the risk for adolescent substance abuse. Where unusual or risky childhood behaviors such as extreme aggression exist, there may be an underlying cause that needs attention. In the long run, early recognition of childhood drug abuse risk factors, and intervention, where needed, can help thwart the use of drugs during adolescence.

Puppet Show/Gospel Sing

There will be a puppet show and gospel singing at Mt. Zion Baptist Church Sunday, July 18 at 7 p.m. Bring a friend and come on out.

Two jazz legends celebrated

Jazz greats Jelly Roll Morton and Charlie Parker are the subjects of two encore presentations airing on KET Wednesday, July 21.

Bike stolen

Lafe Owens of Mt. Vernon had his motorcycle stolen from his front yard on West Main Street on Monday. The cycle was a new racing type, according to Police Chief Bill Mink.

Swinging bridge to be fixed

There's not many old swinging bridges left in Rockcastle. But there's one in the Wildlife area that will soon have a new floor. The Rockcastle Fiscal Court voted recently to repair the bridge near the Kenneth Stewart property, so the children of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Brandenburg can cross the creek to get on the school bus. The court will have the work done and the Christian Appalachian Project will buy the materials.

Vandalism

Someone broke a window at the Comprehensive Care Center in Mt. Vernon Monday. Two large outside security lights were broken out with what appeared to be a pellet gun.

James Taylor debuts with the Boston Pops

Pop-rock superstar James Taylor makes his debut with the Boston Pops in an Evening at Pops presentation airing on KET at 8 p.m. Saturday, July 17.

Bluesgrass stars blaze the trail for our biggest concert of the year. On September 26th George Jones, McBrine and the Ride and John Michael Montgomery will perform in an outdoor concert that will be one of the most exciting afternoons in Valley history. Jones has redeemed the reputation from his earlier hard-living days by giving concert performances that have even the most reserved audiences on their feet, yelling for more. McBrine and the Ride and John Michael are slouch acts either. Both acts pack concert halls and fill radio airwaves with hit after hit. This is going to be a concert to remember!

-Reunions-

Andarkin Reunion

The Andarkin Reunion will be July 25th at the Parker Seal Picnic Area 11 a.m. - 3 p.m. Bring a dish and enjoy family, friends and games.

Stallworth-Reuner

The Stallworth-Reuner Reunion will be July 24 at 12 o'clock at C.A.P. at Renfro Valley. Bring a covered dish. Come and have fun. Joyful Noise and Dean Family will be singing. If you know someone that we may miss please ask them. Let us know if you can come. Eddie and Regina Stallworth, July Mullins, Rt. 5 Box 422, Livingston, Ky. 40445.

Thompson Reunion

The Thompsons will be at Quail Community Park Sat. July 31st. All Thompson relatives and friends are invited to come, bring a covered dish and drink.

For the first time, the Rockcastle County FFA Chapter has received the Triple Crown Award. This award is based on three categories: participation in FFA activities; Chapter Safety and "Building Our American Community" (BOAC). Shown receiving the awards at the state convention held recently in Louisville are, from left: Geoffrey McGuire, Scott Mays and Doug Smith. Rockcastle was one of only 21 chapters in the state receiving the Triple Crown Award.

Birthday Celebration

On Sunday, July 11th the family of Sallie Mullins gathered at the home of her daughter, Patsy Hopkins, for a birthday celebration. Those celebrating birthdays were: Sallie Mullins, her daughter Anita Hayes and son Cline Mullins.

Those present were: Sallie Mullins, Anita and E.J. Hayes, Cline and Sharon Mullins, Leanna Wolfe, Mark Keene and his daughter Dranna, Emily Bush, Leo and Patsy Hopkins, Mark, Tammy, Justin and Jordan Hopkins, Vanessa Becky and son George from Scotland.

Irene Hopkins and Dorothy Brown were by the afternoon. Everyone enjoyed delicious food and good fellowship.

Two inducted into honor societies

Two Rockcastle County residents were inducted into Vincini Quil Patitur and Fleur de Lis honor societies at Berea College during the spring term.

Thelma Jean Bullock of Brothead was named to Vincini Quil Patitur. Members must have achieved a 3.5 cumulative grade point average by the second semester of their sophomore year. The purpose of the honor society is to recognize and encourage superior scholastic achievement at Berea College.

An art major at Berea, Ms. Bullock is a resident of Rt. 1, Brothead. Fleur de Lis selected Machelle Bussell of Orlando for membership.

Organized in 1965, Fleur de Lis recognizes men and women who obtain high scholastic records during the freshman year.

Ms. Bussell of Rt. 1, Orlando, is a graduate of Rockcastle County High School. At Berea, she is an English major.

Rockcastle Co. agencies emergency funding is out of money

At the present time Rockcastle County Agencies are out of funds for sheltering people, taking care of transients, giving out money for gas, or meals. We do not have money for temporary housing, utility bills, and we cannot send people traveling who break down, or think that "the world owes them a living." You can check with each agency.

We have people sleeping in their cars, in the forest, and anywhere else they can find. Housing is non-existent for families with children. Families who suffered damage during the storm on June 4 had to stay in their severely damaged trailers because we had no where to put them. We would have had to send them out of the county. A motel room with children, no refrigerator or stove, is not fun when you are there due to a disaster. Most agencies are receiving funds sporadically. The Ministerial Assn. is unable to take care of "people passing through." It is felt that the small amount of money on hand needs to stay in our county. Our churches need to get together so that we know who is being hit by these transients.

"Thank you"
 I would like to thank everyone for the flowers, cards and prayers over the past few months. I am still in a recovering state from my eye surgery in November and my back surgery in June.
 Lu Ed Nielsen

Rockcastle Ministerial Association News

A church directory is being made up and will be used by the Ministerial Association for a resource book. We have many church names but we do not know who the minister is, or a mailing address. If you would like to be included in this book, please contact Bro. Mark Halford, Teen Challenge, Rt. 2, Box 665, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456 (secretary) or Lu Ed Nielsen, P.O. Box 60, Mt. Vernon,

KY, 40456, (secretary). In May an election of officers for the Rockcastle Ministerial Association was held with Bro. Halford being elected as president, Bro. Tom Kelley, vice president, Bro. Cleidith Ray, treasurer, and Lu Ed Nielsen as secretary. Meetings are currently held at noon on the third Monday of the month at Kasha Inn Restaurant. Our next meeting is August 16.

variety and the locking mechanism was gone on many.

However, VanHook said the project was on schedule and expected to be completed by the opening of school.

Personnel Action

Superintendent Bige Towery presented his personnel actions report to the board which included the hiring of two teachers at Broadhead and the reassignment of three others.

Towery reminded the board that these personnel decision had been recommended by the principal and School Based Decision Making Council at each school and approved for his approval and notification of individuals of their employment.

Personnel actions included:
Gayle Taylor Scoggin, middle school science teacher at BES; Janice A. Huff, middle school mathematics teacher, BES; Debra A. Mobley, special education teacher, MVES to BES to replace Sonia Francis who resigned; Norma Eversole, primary school teacher to Chapter I teacher, RES and Ann Abney, special education teacher to early childhood education teacher, RES.

The remainder of the actions concerned classified personnel, all of whom were employed last year.

In other action, the board: approved the issuance of GED certificates for: Jessica L. Arnold, Eva Barnett, Terry G. Buiak, Kenneth W. Durham, Eva G. Gastin, Jason Kates, Deborah Y. Mounce, Thomas R. Mounce, Verna Patrick and Sylvia E. Vance; reviewed and approved the superintendent's authorization for an additional special education teaching teacher, an itinerant teacher to serve students at LES and RES and/or other identified needs;

reviewed and approved a position for a cross country team coach at RCHe with a salary supplement of $490;

approved application for one-year certification for teachers of exceptional children for Carol Bowman, Cathy Short and Diana Waddle; approved applications for emergency certificates for substitute teachers for 1993-94;

reviewed and approved application for emergency teaching certificate for TMH/SPH special education teacher, Kimberly C. Cromer (Singleton), if necessary, pending review of recommendation from principal and SBDM Council; awarded a bid for district-wide garbage pick-up to Bee Garbage on a base bid of $970.83 per month;

reviewed and approved an agreement for the National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program for FY94, pending approval by the state Dept. of Education; the only change is an increase in the price of the adult lunch to $1.30. The board also reviewed and approved the district technology plan.

A summary of the plan, compiled primarily by Kelly Penso, shows the district received $93,121 in matching money from the state for 1992-93. However, school districts were encouraged not to purchase technology until state procurements were in place. These procurements were announced May 28 of this year and, on June 3, Rockcastle County made an initial purchase of $125,599 for hardware. The remaining $60,643 will be spent for wiring/cabling and software.

The summary also showed that a tentative offer of assistance has been made by the state for 1993-94 school year of $92,108. This, with the local money, will be an estimated $184,216 and will be spent primarily to equip the new Rockcastle County High School.

Becky Daugherty of Mt. Vernon was one of the donors at Tuesday's blood drive, sponsored locally by the Rockcastle Homemakers, and Central Kentucky Blood Center. Becky Mylin of Brodhead, standing, was next in line to donate. Response to the drive was good.

Supt. Towery also told the board that a $23,000 federal grant for Tech Prep planning had been approved.

"New Water Plant"
(Cont. From Front)

Plastic factory (Reynolds Aluminum) has added personnel three times. Also he noted a subdivision may be in the offering in north Mt. Vernon, and additional residents in the Western Water Association, Northern Water District, and other county areas also put stress on the water system.

"We need to do the planning now," Mayor Cromer said. "Most of the money is available, we believe, so let's get on with it."

The mayor and council received an unsigned letter complaining about the remaining rubble at a building site at Richmond and U.S. 150 owned by Jack St. Clair.

The mayor told the council if it becomes a health hazard or a danger to other buildings in the area the city would contact the State Fire Marshal, but other than that little could be done by the city. And, the complaint must be officially made.

The mayor pointed out a new police cruiser obtained by the city came at no cost to taxpayers. The money was in the form of a grant.

The police and fire report for June was made by Chief Bill Mink who has returned to duty following an illness.

The report is: Complaints 238; assisted other agencies 29; accidents 15; cases opened 12; citations 65; DUI 7; total charges 83. Mt. Vernon Fire Department runs 14.

Music of many kinds, drama and landmark court case featured on KET

The week of July 18 on KET is filled with music, from an annual fiddlers' jamboree and Gilbert and Sullivan operettas to a Broadway show and two specials about giants in the world of jazz. Meanwhile, Mantlepiece Theatre encores "The Ginger Tree," a drama of the love affair between a Scottish girl and a Japanese general, and Frontline reviews the verdict in the Edenton, N.C. child molestation case.

Livingston Search and Rescue

Dear Editor,

To whom it may concern. Why don't they have a law for deadbeats. They are people that won't pay their bills.

Some people make a career out of it. Going from town to town, running up bills and moving off and leaving them behind.

The law says if someone owes you a debt take them to small claims court. You take them to court, but you are responsible for collecting the money from them. If they won't pay you before you take them to court and they won't pay you after you take them to court, then why take them at all?

If the courts won't help you get your money back, why bother. They will sue you for anything else, why not deadbeats. Every body else has to pay their bills, why not deadbeats?

People ought to bond together and get a petition started and let the deadbeats of this town know we aren't going to sit around anymore and not do anything about it.

Dear Editor,

What gives the Pine Hill Pentecostal Holiness Church the right to take over and block the road to force me to risk my life and my family's life trying to get in and out and forcing me to use my neighbor's land. If it was the other way around I would have had to clean the road I. If they make it to heaven what are they going to do, throw the Lord out on his head and take over. One of them made the remark that they didn't see how I could lay down and go to sleep at night after doing them so bad. If asking them not to block the road and make a lake out of my place is so bad I guess I'm in for the rest of my life full of sleepless nights. There's been a lot of smart remarks about what little we have, but one thing for sure it's paid for and we paid for it ourselves. We never demanded anybody pay ten percent of what they got a hold of until it was paid for. We did it on our own. Everybody you talk to says it will make a lake out of it if they fill it in and they don't see how they could do us that way.

We have a pretty valley and it's the best part of our place. If that is filled in we couldn't give it away. May be that is what they want.

You can put a Bible under your arm and go wear blisters on your behind on the church seats but that doesn't make you a Christian. How

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank the following businesses for their donations to help the boys basketball team at Mt. Vernon go to a team camp at Tennessee Tech University in Cookeville, TN.

Bank of Mt. Vernon; Cox Funeral Home; Young's Pharmacy; Saylor's Pharmacy; Lambert Law Offices; Willis Coffey; Jeff Burdett and Wendy's.

At this camp, we will be competing against other Jr. high teams from the southeast United States. This camp experience is invaluable and we appreciate the donations from these businesses, which helped enable us to go.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor,

To the students in Mt. Vernon who chose to hold a religious service prior to your graduation ceremony -- congratulations!! You are to be commended for your bravery and having your priorities in order. You are an example for the rest of the county to follow. Many, many people endorse your decision and are grateful for your show of faith. Our country, and the world, desperately need it. Thanks for your strength and example.

Poet's Corner

Clyde Fordyce's Memory of Livingston in other days
By: Juanita Fordyce

Come take a memory trip with me
And talk of how Livingston used to be
Let's start at the old coal bins
Took shed for Linemen and section hands
The L&N depot don't it look grand
The railroad restaurant had lunches on call
Railroad men and passengers they fed them all
Two big water tanks tall and round
Where trains took on water before leaving town
Trains coming and going switching all day
They could turn at the (Y) and go back the same way
Down in the mill yard were two saw mills
Still called Mill Yard but no saw mill

Mr. Humble
Old things pass away.
Others become new.
Soon we'll be getting a new bridge too

I wish everything could be put back
When they fell down and come to rest
Our town was prosperous as it could be
You would have to have lived then to see

I've enjoyed a trip of memory in the past
Not my first, won't be my last
That's about all I have to say
Maybe we'll take it another day
And to many as can walk it with me
It sure is a good memory.
Clyde died in 1988 not many
That can take this trip living.
I miss him and his memory so much
He was so dear to me.

Rejuvenation

An afternoon at the farm was what I needed to bring back the reality of my double life. I really love to live on Tevis St. where my neighbors are close enough to yell out their windows to me in a good-morning greeting or wave a friendly hand when they are passing by. Where a knock on the door may be the next door neighbor with a dish of freshly cooked soup beans and hunk of cornbread or a friendly "bought I'd better check up on you since I haven't seen you out for a day or two." Either one is always welcome for that is an act of kindness I haven't been used to for years and I love it.

The other day after a lunch of fresh green beans, squash and zucchini from the farm and a big pan of cornbread, Ish, Pauline and I headed for the farm from which all good vegetables seem to come. Polly had brought them in and left them on my porch while I was enjoying a cup of coffee with one of my neighbors. When I found them

I just had to share them with someone else and invited my brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Pauline, to do the sharing. They like my home in the hills almost as well as I do and this lunch brought back happy memories for all of us so they suggested spending the rest of the day where we could loaf around and play a new game we have recently been enjoying in the evenings and rejuvenate our waning spirits. We knew it would be too hot to do any work so we would simply loaf and enjoy the quietness that surrounds the farm. But I had forgotten about the blackberries that would be ripening close to the back yard fence and the fun of picking them. So, guess what we did, Ish and I picked a bowl of berries, checked for ripe apples in the orchard, they are not ripe yet, while Pauline cleaned out the flower bed and pulled up the money plants which is ready for drying.

By this time we were hot from the sun and getting tired from the days business so headed for the front room where the ceiling fan was quietly doing its job of cooling the house. That was when I realized the joy of having wine in the shade-covered big old maples, and windows that opened on all sides of the house that allowed a flow of air to constantly breeze through it.

We didn't need an air conditioner to keep us comfortable. All we needed was to get the table under the fan and the game of "double nine dominoes" out of its box, a nice cold can of soft drink from the refrigerator and get our game. Which we did. Relax? To us it was. I think this was the best relaxing I have had in months. The quietness surrounded the place where a serenity I had forgotten existed. Not even a buzzing bee or grating disturbed us. I guess it was too hot for them and they had also found a cool place to rest in till they could find a human outside to torment. All one had to do to find out was to go outside and they let him know in a hurry then. I don't know where these little tormentors come from or do for fun when there is no one around to eat on and buzz around. I do believe their whining and buzzing in my ears is the most tormenting thing I have ever had to put up with. That and their fiery biting was enough to make me doubly glad to be living in town where they haven't found me yet.

The afternoon was such a pleasant one I didn't want to come back to my hot house where an air conditioner is a must if one is to be comfortable. Oh! wo me, which do I choose, the discomfort of almost unbearable heat until I can get an air conditioner or the discomfort of these pesky little critters that try to devour me while ruining my cardmuns with their constant buzzing and whining. I guess the solution is to buy one of those expensive gadgets, when I can find one, that will cool the house here and on other days go to the farm and enjoy sitting under the fans where the little pests can't find me.

The beauty of the farm at this time of year is such that I will be spending more time there. The Mimosa are in full bloom and pour out their fragrance for all corners to enjoy. The apple trees, even though they are old and gnarled, are full of little green apples and the berry briars hanging over the grey plank fence are loaded with berries beginning to ripen. The red, yellow and green ones are dropping and they are a temptation to anyone to go farther into the patch but woe unto anyone who does unless he is prepared for the chiggers lurking there. All these little pests seem to be telling us we must pay for the better things in life one way or another. Still it is all worth while when we see a big hot collar on the table and the jelly jars filling up.

If this isn't enough to tempt me the garden should. The beans, squash, tomatoes and corn Polly and Chuck planted will soon be ready for eating. The garden's reduced size and the well mowed lawn is a reminder of other times when the garden was twice as big as it is now and the lawn was smaller and was mowed with a push mower. That was when the children were little and helped with the work. At that time in our lives we didn't use power or riding mowers and bug sprays to kill the potato and bean bugs, we used kid power.

Every morning Mat would give Judy and Rod a tin can half filled with coal-oil and send them to the garden to "bug the beans and potatoes." They did it by using a stick to knock the bugs from the plants into the can. It was a grueling job and the kids dreaded doing it but it did kill the bugs. Those were the days when kids helped with the farm and household chores. We had been taught "Idle hands are the devil's workshop" and our children as we had been raised, to "earn our bread by the sweat of our brow."

MovieReview

'In the Line of Fire'

By: Paul E. Scanlon

Secret Service Agent Frank Horrigan was in Dallas guarding President Kennedy that fatal day. Horrigan always wonders if he could have done more to protect President Kennedy. Thirty years later, the President is threatened by a man who calls himself "Booth."

"Booth" played by John Malkovich is a very intelligent, yet mentally sick individual. He thinks he knows how to get to Horrigan, played by Clint Eastwood. "Booth" calls Horrigan several times to tell him he is going to assassinate the President and wonders if Horrigan will be brave enough to "take the bullet" intended for the President. Unlike "Dallas" thirty years earlier.

Horrigan gets himself reassigned from counterfeiting to protecting the President so he can capture "Booth." Rene Russo plays a beautiful, but professional female Secret Service agent, who, at a first meeting dislikes Horrigan with a passion.

Unlike some previous Clint Eastwood movies, In the Line of Fire proves to be one of the more realistic in the fact that what happens really could or perhaps even has happened. But, the realism does not take away from the suspense.

In the Line of Fire is now playing at the Regency Cinema 7 in London.

"Poet's Corner"

'Nowhere to turn to'

By: Mayzel RIES

No where to turn to you made us so

You kicked him out Oh! Where could he go

A stranger in this town He'd not been here too long

You wanted him here, Then you didn't, it's the same old song

You filled his head with promises you couldn't keep

Then you got mad Because she took him in, so he'd have a place to sleep

You've never been a father to any of your kids

When trouble arose You always went and hid

But now you are old and sick

You wanted him around But he was wise to your tricks

A father not then And a father not now

You wouldn't know anything About how to be a father, anyhow

You spread a lot of lies that weren't true

People got upset really upset withyou

She helped him look for jobs and give him a place to stay

But soon he'll be on his own And you'll be left out in the cold another day

You had it all but you couldn't see

To be a dad, it takes love and respect But don't have any, we all agree

Wherever you go Whatever you do

Remember this We don't feel anything for you

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In II Tim 3:16-17 Paul says, "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect thoroughly furnished unto all good works."

These scriptures, in no uncertain terms, plainly and forthrightly, tells us, that the Bible is a complete Book, of what we need to know, in teaching and instruction. That comes from God. I get sick and tired of hearing people claiming, God told them this and the Holy Spirit told them that, or they received some revelation from God, or a still small voice spoke to them. These people at best are deluded and deceived and at worst, they are lying about the matter. God has spoken everything we need to know, and has written it down for every generation, in every nation, and it's all found in the Bible! When people come to this fundamental understanding that the Bible is a complete book, of the will of God; they will not be tricked into following people like David Koresh, or Joseph Smith's Book of Mormon, or the edicts of the Roman Catholic Pope, or the writings of Ellen G. White, or the teachings of the Koran, or Watchtower Publications, or Oral Roberts claim of seeing a 700 ft. Jesus, or some preacher claiming "The Lord layed this message on my heart"; on and on such nonsense goes. God speaks to me and to you that same way, through his word, the Bible. Jesus promised that the Holy Spirit would come and guide the Apostles into "all truth", Jn. 16:13. Jesus knew what he was talking about, and the Holy Spirit accomplished exactly what Jesus said he would. We have "all truth" in the Bible. Every bit you can need is found in the word of God! All truth that will provide us with every good work, and can make us complete or perfect is found in the scriptures. Why look anywhere else? All we need to do is search, seek and study the Bible, to find the answers we need to know, II Tim. 2:15, Mt. 7:7-8.

When folks fail to grasp this fundamental truth, that the Bible is complete, they are easy prey for the David Koresh's to lead them from the path of error. Friends, look to God's message for all mankind, the Bible, for all your answers about what's right!
