New parking lot for city

The City of Mt. Vernon and the county have jointly agreed to a new parking lot east of the courthouse. The lot will be used by courthouse personnel as well as the general public. The city owns the property, and at one time, planned a second fire station but did not build it because the railroad is only used to deliver materials to Mt. Vernon Plastics. A second fire station was needed if trains blocked crossings. The problem is now minimal. The lot will be used for parking units, or if, the city needs it for other uses.

It was a "blue moon"

Tuesday night there was a "blue moon." It's not actually blue but it looks a little blue. It happens every so many years. This means two full moons come in the same month. We had two in August. We also had 3.46 inches of rain during August in Mt. Vernon, according to figures at Cox Funeral Home. Most rain, 1.05 inches fell on Aug. 5. The high for the month was 94 on Aug. 26, 29, and 30. The low was 54 on Aug. 1.

New boss for state police

London State Police Post Commander Capt. Douglas Asher has been promoted to major and assigned to Frankfort. Capt. Larry Lewis, who has been commander at the Richmond Post, takes Asher's place at London.

Lowest rate

A total of 7,282 Rockcastle Countians were employed in June, according to figures from Corbin's Cabinet for Human Resources. The unemployment rate was 6.0 the lowest in a six county area and Corbin. Out of a total labor force in the county of 7,851 only 503 were unemployed. Although the rate was 6.0 it was slightly higher than in May when the rate was 6.5. Highest in the area was Clay County at 12.8 and Jackson at 10.7.

Group plans "Hemp Suit" against marijuana eradication methods

On Aug. 8, Gary Shepherd, a disabled Vietnam veteran, was shot to death by Kentucky State Police after a six-hour confrontation, according to a release from "The Hemp Suit" a legal defense fund. Shepherd was in his front yard at his rural residence while his four-year-old son and girlfriend were standing three feet away when the seven shots were fired. Gary Shepherd was holding a rifle in his one good arm at the time he was killed, but hundreds of neighbors felt like the entire situation was mismanaged from the start. State police assigned to the Special Response Team were attired in full camouflaged, military-type uniforms as they arrived on the scene from their headquarters in Frankfort, 75 miles away. Local law enforcement, state police, the Governor's Marijuana Task Force and National guard troops were involved in the incident. People in Rockcastle County and Across Kentucky are uniting in refusal to accept the increasing militari-

Recreation Bowl Queen

Tracy Todd, a senior at RCHS, was named Recreation Bowl Queen during half-time festivities Saturday night. Miss Todd, the daughter of Roy Gene and Anita Todd of Scaffold Cane, won the honor over contestants from each of the schools participating in the bowl. Escorting Miss Todd during the festivities was Courtney Adams.

Thefts reported to Sheriff

Thefts were reported recently by the Sheriff's Department. James Brannaman of Brush Creek had his house broken in late August. Taken in the break-in were a sleeper sofa, toaster oven, and also damage to shelves in the kitchen. Loss was set at $67, Deputy Karen Alcorn investigated. Rosaline Baker of Rt. 3, Broadhead, told Deputy Darrell Doan someone went into her house and stole a 38 pistol. Value of the pistol was $250.

Janet Miller of Disputant reported a back door to her house was forced open and thieves took a lawn mower, two trash cans, two sets of sterling silverware and some china. She estimated the cost at $1,510. Deputy Doan investigated.

Cunagin shot; brother charged

Police reported Marvin Cunagin of Mt. Vernon was treated at Rock-castle Hospital and sent to U.K. Medical Center early Saturday. It was reported his brother, Steve E. Tompkins, shot him while he slept in the basement of his home. Tomkins was charged with assault in the first degree. He is being held under $10,000 cash bond. No further details were available.

Marijuana cut down at Calloway

Three marijuana plants, estimated at 10-foot tall, were found and destroyed by Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan last Thursday. The three plants were found in an area at Calloway.

them while working on tractors in their fields. Galbraith added, "Violence is inevitable when the government uses the military against its own citizens. The people want to de-militarize law enforcement in America." The family of Gary Shepherd, The Hemp Suit legal defense fund and the National organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws and other groups have organized a memorial service and peace rally that will be held in downtown Mt. Vernon at the county courthouse. The event will commence at noon, Saturday, Sept. 18.

New meeting date.

The Mt. Vernon City Council's September meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 7 instead of Sept. 6 which is Labor Day. The Rockcastle Fiscal Court will meet at its regular time at 3 p.m., Sept. 7.

To Livingston residents

S.O.S. means Save our School

By: Richard Anderkin For centuries the letters S.O.S. have stood for someone needing help. It is considered an international distress signal by most, but in Livingston, S.O.S. has taken on an entirely different meaning these days. About 15 people met Tuesday night to begin an all out effort to save Livingston school. Their campaign will be appropriately titled, Save our School.

"We are going to get organized and we are going to let our alumni know what we think is about to happen to Livingston school," said Dell Ponder a Livingston graduate who lives near the community. The small group plans to have a petition and letter ready for alumni to read and sign during this weekend's homecoming festivities in Livingston. Rockcastle County Judge-Executive elect Buzz Carlolus is working on both at the present time and will have them ready to circulate by Friday. Carlolus is a Livingston graduate as well.

"We simply are not going to just sit here and let them close our school without trying to do something about it," said John Kuhn, a member of the elementary school's site based decision making council. "We want every parent, teacher and alumni to get involved in this cause, because our school is a vital part of our community and we don't want to see it closed," he said. An announcement about the concerned citizens efforts will be made during the old timer's game Saturday night. "That is when the most people will be gathered in one place," said Melody Salver, postmaster at Livingston. Mrs. Salver also has a child that attends Livingston school. Once the letters and petition are completed they will be sent to local board chairman George Poyner, superintendent Bige Towery, Jr. Kentucky's Education Commissioner, Thomas Boyesen and the other four members of the Rockcastle County Board of Education. Livingston residents are in Poyner's district. Local speculation has been that the state department of education will make the Rockcastle County Board of Education close Livingston school, once the new high school is completed and the county's sixth, seventh and eight graders are moved to the middle school at the present high school.

The recently formed local planning committee which will make recommendations to the board of education concerning the future building needs in the county will meet for a training workshop next Thursday, Sept. 9. That meeting will be held for committee members only, according to superintendent Towery, who said that several meetings are planned for the public to voice their opinion.

Parker Seal will cut 70 jobs in September

The Berea facility of the O-Ring Division of Parker Hannifin Corporation announced today its intention to reduce approximately 70 jobs during September. This reduction brings employment figures more in line with historical numbers, according to a press release by the company. The facility manufactures o-rings used as sealing devices in the aerospace, automotive and industrial markets. "We are taking this step reluctantly because of limited success releasing our financial objectives," the release further stated. Economic issues are the main reason for the relocation of these jobs to other Parker o-ring facilities, reportedly in Mexico. The release went on to say, "The Berea Facility has been a solid contributor to the corporation for over 40 years. Currently, discussions are underway to improve our competitive advantage in the global market by enhancing our manufacturing methods and capabilities at the Berea facility."

When school began this year Livingston Elementary had about 213 students enrolled. Once the new middle school is opened next fall, that number will drop to about 120. Many people are concerned that the board of education will vote to close Livingston school next year.

There are folks who fish purely for the sport of tricking fish into chomping down on gadgets with hooks in them. They use only artificial bait and they release everything they catch except for an infrequent "trophy" which they've mounted to hang on the wall. If they are fishing in tournaments they take admirable caution to keep the fish they catch in aerated live wells so that they can be released as healthy as possible soon after they are weighed and measured.

It is not a sport, however that has much appeal to me. At least half of my objective for wading a line has to do with hush puppies, cole slaw and home fried raters, none of which are really fit to eat unless they are accompanied by a main course filled with the freshest fish available.

On the other hand, I generally have a fishing rod and an old pair of sneakers in whatever I'm driving. Two or three times a month I will make a point of getting off the interstate and onto a side road that crosses a stream. If the water looks interesting enough and there seems to be little sign of human endeavor on the banks, I'll find a place to park and make a ice chest with me and if I catch a fish or two, I turn them back in.

If I see good fish in the vicinity I'll make a note about exactly where I am and then plan to come back to catch a meal. It's pretty much the same attitude I have in a sweet corn patch. Normally I pull the shucks back on a few ears at least a week or two before it finally gets full enough to eat. You have to check on things to figure out what's going on.

I am particularly fond of Kentucky, largemouth and smallmouth bass. On the other hand, catfish, bream, crappie, walleye and trout make mighty fine eating. I even like drum if they've been out of the stocking truck for a few weeks and white bass are good if you can get them in the skillet about the time they stop flopping.

But the point is that I've never mounted a fish in anything except a cast iron skillet and, in fact, a skillet is as important to me as a rod and reel when it comes to dealing with favorite sport.

And that's why I'm a bit perturbed at some fellows I've recently encountered who are overcome with self-righteousness. Because not only do they believe that every fish caught should be released, they also believe that everybody should adopt the same attitude. Given the opportunity they would outlaw the use of live or natural bait and the fishing resource would pursue bigger and bigger "trophies."

Folks like me would be allowed to fish for carp and catfish but anybody caught filleting a bass would be sentenced to life at hard labor.

A week or so back I had a particularly good outing on Silver Creek. By fishing with sucker minnow too large for the little fish to swallow, I had managed to get a limit of six very nice smallmouth in the 14 to 18 inch range. I carry a catch in a wire mesh basket with a little thin bail. I suppose the fish weighed 15 pounds—enough that carrying the basket by its thin little bail hurt my hand after just a few minutes.

I was headed back up stream when I came upon a couple of guys wearing hip waders, kakis shirts and hats with an assortment of artificial flies stuck in the brims. They were flailing away and they pretended to ignore me. I had on a pair of ragged old shorts and had waded in the shade and 88 in the sun.

My fingers needed a rest from packing the basket so I dropped it in the creek and began watching them. I'd already offered one and one of them had grunted like he had a bad case of gas. I asked again if they were catching any and one of them turned around and glared at me.

"We're not apt to," he bellowed.

"Because idiots like you have killed them all off! How can you in good conscience kill those fish?"

"By knocking them in the head with a ball-peen hammer," I told him. "Come on up to the truck and I'll show you how to do it."

In fact, I had caught a very nice bass not three feet from where he was standing and half a dozen others had swarmed around as I landed it. I could have told him that, but I didn't.

I simply kept my temper for a change, laughed in his face and walked away.

"You aren't going to eat what you catch, by all means try to release it healthy because that's the moral and ethical thing to do. On the other hand, please don't be the telling those of us who like to eat our catch that you're somehow better people than we are."

As long as all of us obey the law, there's more than enough fish to go around.

Simon Peter and I have several traits in common, but I'll focus today on only one—a colossal tendency to do something stupid!

First, allow me to share an opinion I have about the episode which Simon tried walking on water. It was his idea, not the Savior's. Simon likely thought, "It would be miraculous, and these guys here will see my great faith."

Jesus was standing on the waters of Galilee, some distance from the disciple's boat. So Simon said, "Lord, bid me come to you on the water." Jesus replied, "Come on."

You know the story. Simon lit out on the lake and got to Jesus, but when he saw the wind whipping up whitecaps, his faith faded and he sank. He cried for help, and Jesus quickly lifted him out of the water, chiding him for his doubt.

I think this is what transpired when Simon made that uncalculated request. Jesus, who loved Simon and realized his potential, decided to let that super-zealous loudmouth learn a lesson. What he actually said was, "Come on, Stupid." But because of the noisy, billowing waves, Simon only heard "Come on."

Now, with that insight in mind, let's concentrate on a couple of my more moronic moments.

In my fifteenth year of traversing to and from here below I became pastor of the Sand Springs Baptist Church. (Too young for such a task!) And I rode to the church from Mt. Vernon with Lance and Clarice Dillingham. Lance drove a nifty, blue, four-in-the-floor, Ford pickup. Wish I had one just like it.

But ere I turned sixteen I had acquired my own wheels. Paid Leonard Langford too much for a '40 Chevrolet that had that infernal vacuum-shift gearing and a timing-chain on the verge of giving up the ghost. I began to drive to my church appointments alone.

One Saturday evening our Sand Springs service was interrupted by a pack of raucous, incinerated gals out on our parking lot. Well! I, heir apparent to Billy Graham, wasn't about to have my sermonizing foiled. I laid down my Bible, strode outside, and ordered those guys to quiet down or leave. Let I call "the Law." (Let everybody sing together in unison, Dum-da-dum-dum-DUMMMMMM)

To my surprise, they did just that, but I wondered why. The next morning word circulated that those disturbers planned to wailay me before

We are into the second month of the fall season and there are many signs to tell us so.

Large, wild geese are flying over, banking to let us know they are around with a stopover on their way south. They fly in a wedge shape, one goose leading.

I don't see how they do it with their fat, heavy bodies, but the geese flap their big, long wings steadily as they fly."

Another sign of fall are certain flowers that only bloom then. Across the road on a bank behind our mailbox are yellow ones that look like buttercups. There are pale lavender blooms that shut up when the sun strikes them.

A vine that started blooming in mid-summer, the honeysuckle, with white blooms mingled with yellow ones are climbing every bush, tree and fence in sight with the most delightful fragrance. I have gotten perfume with that fragrance and when I wear it, I can see heads turn (I hope it wasn't my petticoat hanging below my dress!).

The lacy, Queen Anne flower is supposed to have children so be careful. Spray insect killer on them before you use in a bouquet.

The lovely, Black-eyed Susan flower is like the daisy except they have deep, gold petals on the flower instead of white ones. It comes along later but ok, ok, let's warn you of the false yellow daisy. That is nothing but a cover-up, for Spanish needles.

Yesterday on a walk, I saw loads of the yellow blooms and pulled some. "Look at the blackeyed daisies that I've found. I'm going to get a large bouquet to take back to the porch and put in a brown stone jar," I told John.

"Daisy nothing! You've just pulled a bloom of the Spanish needle called stick things. A person or animal gets into those things they are really in trouble for the needles stick in so it's hard to get them off," he said and made me throw the flowers down.

"If I use those things back to the house, we'll have them all over the place," he said.

Another fall flower that's hard to beat for being colorful is the goldenrod. They are beginning to come in.

Come with me back to my childhood days when you ate the "sweet hoecake of life" as grownups in the hills called it.

September with its big yellow school buses rumbling by our house so early while we sit on our front porch and drink our first cup of coffee brings me back to my early grade school days.

The children of today don't know how well off they are, getting to ride to school. In my childhood, we always walked no matter what the weather, hot sunshine, rain, hail, snow or heavy frost. We never had a ride unless our parents were going out for business to Berea.

At the Dave Branch rural one room school, where all grades below nine were taught by one teacher in four periods of the day. Looking back on what was done, and how, why those women in that day should be given a medal!

Discipline wasn't hard when a teacher could give the kid a swat on the bottom and had no more trouble with any of them for all the woe to work. There were many stories of teachers and trouble at school but after reading of writer, Jessie Stuart's experience with one, I think it so funny I'd like to tell you.

A school district could not keep a teacher until Jessie was hired because a large student in the upper grades ran the teachers off.

The lovely, Black-eyed Susan flower is like the daisy except they have deep, gold petals on the flower instead of white ones. It comes along later but ok, ok, let's warn you of the false yellow daisy. That is nothing but a cover-up, for Spanish needles.

Come with me back to my childhood days when you ate the "sweet hoecake of life" as grownups in the hills called it.

Starting at eight o'clock we heard a chapter in the Bible read and all stood and gave the pledge to the flag.

Rockcastle scores impressive win over Hazard Bulldogs 43-16

Rockcastle fans were a little nervous at first -- the Hazard Bulldogs, a perennial power in football -- scored on their first drive of the ballgame Saturday night despite a sack and a clipping penalty which had them backed up to their own 24 and facing a third down situation.

However, the Bulldog quarterback ran a keeper up the middle for the first down to their own 46 and, on the next play, the Hazard runner went 54 yards for the score with 9:48 left in the first quarter.

The extra point attempt was good and the Rock was down 7-0.

They were down but they bounced back to put their own score on the board on their first offensive series with a total of nine plays.

The drive was danger a couple of times with Shawn Thacker getting the first first down of the ballgame for the Rockets to the 44.

Then, senior running back Mikhael Shaffer was tripped up in the backfield for no gain, Quarterback J.D. Bussell's pass to Jason Hunt was just long and the Rockets were facing a 3-10 situation. But, Bussell tucked it away on the next play and took it to Hazard's 36 yard line for the first down.

Bussell then connected with Shaffer who carried it 7 more yards to Hazard's 24 and then Bussell got another first down to the Bulldog 13. Shaffer got four on the next play and then took it into the end zone untouched for the TD with 4:25 to go in the first quarter. The Rockets' extra point attempt was blocked and they were still down 7-6.

Hazard managed a score on their next drive but it wasn't what they wanted and would prove to be their last one until late in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs pulled another quarterback keep on a 3rd and 14 to the 43 and this, combined with a penalty against Rockets but the Bulldogs on the Rocket 15.

However, the Rocket defense played hard-nosed and forced a 4th and 9 situation on the 14. The Bulldogs kicker then put a 30-yard field goal through the uprights for the last play of the game for Hazard at 10:6 with 55 seconds left in the first period.

The Rockets played keep-away the second quarter and it paid off with their second score coming with 2:40 left in the half when Shaffer went over the top from the two for the TD. Bussell then pulled a surprise and ran around left end for the two point conversion and the Rockets had regained the lead 14-10.

The Bulldogs threw a scare into the Rockets on the kick-off return when the runner got through the Rocket defense and senior Aaron Cox appeared to save a touchdown by taking the runner out at the Rocket's 38. However, there was also a clipping penalty against the Bulldogs which moved them back to their own 27. The Rockets again held on defense and Shaffer returned the punt to the 46 in Hazard territory.

Doug Cromer then took the hand off around right end for the touchdown with 17 seconds left in the quarter. Bussell passed to Jason Hunt for the two-point conversion and the Rockets took a 22-10 lead into the dressing room at half-time.

The third quarter was a repeat of the second with the Bulldogs only running two series in the quarter, neither of which got them a first down. The Rockets had scored their fourth touchdown of the game with Bussell going in from the thirteen and then Mickey McClure had put the extra point through for a 29-0 lead.

Following the kick-off, Hazard started their drive from their own 38 and, on their first play from scrimmage, the runner broke lose for a 51 yard gain to the Rockets 20 and the only thing that kept him from going into the end zone was senior Chris Guff. The Bulldogs picked up eight on the next play, but Shaffer got the runner in the backfield for a two yard loss on the next play and then a fumbled snap made it 4th and 6. The Bulldogs went to the air but the pass was incomplete and the Rockets took over on their own 16.

Shawn Thacker then brought the Rockets from deep in their territory to the 38 and combined with Thacker and Cromer ground it out to the Bulldog 18 where the Rockets had to give it up on downs. But, after two plays, the Bulldogs fumbled the ball and Louie Davis recovered it for the Rockets to end the third quarter.

Over the top . . .

Richard Anderkin/Mt. Vernon Signal

Senior running back Mikhael Shaffer went over the top for the Rockets second score of the game Saturday night over the Hazard Bulldogs in the Recreation Bowl at Mt. Sterling. It was a shaky start for the Rockets with Hazard scoring on their first two possessions but the Rockets came back to dominate the game both in scoring and possession. They Rockets were forced to punt only one time in the game. Leading the way for Shaffer are Mike Tackett (No. 25); Stacy Kirby (No. 79) and Brian Mink (No. 51).

Three plays into the fourth quarter, the Rockets again upped their numbers on the scoreboard with a 21 yard pass from Bussell to McClure for the touchdown with 11:06 left in the game.

The kick was no good but the Rockets led at this point 35-10. Doug Cromer put the skids to the Bulldogs drive with a beautiful interception and the Rockets were in business again on their own 40.

About this time, Coach Tom Larkey decided the varsity had had enough fun for one game and put a lot of his JV team in, replacing Bussell at quarterback with sophomore Neal Sparks who scored from seven yards out for the Rockets last score of the game. Jason Payne carried the ball in for the extra two points and it was 43-10.

The last score of the game came with 2:04 left on a 46-yard-touchdown pass play. The two point conversion try was no good and it was a final score of 43-16 for the Rockets in their first outing of the season.

Hunter education course

A free hunter education course will be held Sept. 9, 10 and 11 at the Agricultural Center in Mt. Vernon.

The course, sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, will include classroom instruction in firearm safety, sportsmanship, hunter ethics, first aid and outdoor survival.

The last session will feature actual range firing and practice with both firearms and archery equipment.

Those successfully completing the course will receive safe hunter certificates valid in any of the 36 states where such certification is required. Completion of this or a similar hunter education course is also a requirement for those youngsters under 16 participating in:

A youth deer hunt at West Kentucky Management Area.

All hunters between ages of 12-18 hunting at Ft. Campbell.

All deer hunters under age 21 who hunt at Ft. Knox.

Deer hunters born after Jan. 1, 1970 who hunt at Bluegrass Army Ordnance.

All hunters born after Jan. 1, 1969 who hunt at Land-Between-The-Lakes.

Attendance at all three sessions is required for certification. Any person 10 years or older who is interested in the shooting sports or want to become a safe hunter is welcome to attend.

For additional information, contact Jimmy Silvers at 256-4950 or Mike Bryant at 256-5246.

Rebecca Abrams and Gene Martin wed
Larry and Ina Abrams announce the wedding of their daughter, Rebecca Abrams to Gene Martin on August 13, 1993 at the Scaffold Cane Baptist Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ronald Abrams, uncle of the bride.

Kathy Bullock to wed Danny Lunceford
Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bullock of Mt. Vernon would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathy Ann to Mr. Danny Ray Lunceford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mac Lunceford of Broadhead. The wedding will be an event of September 11, at 6 p.m. at Hickory Grove Church. A reception will follow the ceremony in the basement of the church. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

I got to church the next Saturday evening. And I heard it.
Soon came Saturday. I drove over Chicken Ranch Hill and stopped at Lance and Clarice's grocery. (This was another Dillingham store on the Sand Springs Road and should not be confused with the site of the Dillingham Ruin, preserved for posterity at the junction of Richmond Street and highway 158.) Lance couldn't get away that evening, so Clarice asked to ride with me. Getting in the car, she spied my Stevens 12 gauge on the back seat.

When I announced my topic, a mulish smile spread over Ernest's face. I didn't know quite what to make of it. It showed interest, but something else about it I couldn't decipher. And when I saw similar looks on other faces, I was a bit bemused. Years later - when my sons got driver's licenses and were big enough to whip me - then I understood Ernest's wide grin! He was thinking something like "Man, are you ever green! But preach on. You're my brother."

"Is that thing loaded?"
"Sure is."
"How come?"
"If those guys try anything, I'll be ready."
"They won't try anything with me alone," Clarice said. "Let's leave the gun here." And she took it into the store without waiting for my assent. Toting that shotgun was unduly dumb. Given my inherited, too-easily-riled Meadsonian temper, I could and would have shot someone, or gotten myself done in. Clarice knew my action was insane, but she didn't say so. You see, that jolly, round, sweet-spirited soul cared for me like one of her own and overlooked my faults, hoping for the better.

Today, when I remember those times, I'm mortified to think that I was so self-centered and unknowing. But I am grateful for those who tolerated me or tried to save me from my own assmity.

Now, another example of my manifest ignorance. It was the Sunday after Nancy gave birth to our first son, John Mark. Ernest Smith, a farmer, father of three, and deacon of the Willow Grove Baptist Church in Boyle County had led our congregation in singing traditional Christmas hymns and taken his usual seat on the front pew.

I can still see Clarice, sitting out there in the congregation, beaming with joy. Ernest, too. And their countenances remind me of something that I am grateful for those who tolerated me or tried to save me from my own assmity.

I'm sure he and others expected a Yuletide message, but they didn't hear one. I had been a father for forty hours and felt "led" to wax eloquent on the subject of "The Obligations of Parenthood!" Yes! I did that! On the Sunday before Christmas! I could at least have used Mary and Joseph as examples.

"Roamin' Rockcastle"

Oh, it was a good message. I got it out of a $2.95 volume of printed sermons. In those days I subscribed to the ministerial maxim, "When better sermons are written, I'll preach them."

Starting with the first class in reading called the primer (nowadays would be kindergarten) each group came up front to read for the teacher orally.

Recall, a 10 or 15 minute break came for all unless a pupil was kept in to write punishment sentences over and over.

A hand bell was rung at the door, a sound we kids hated, and we filed in. The pupils who had been kept in were allowed to go to the toilet at that time. Arithmetic (not math) was taught at this period. Children in one of my early school arithmetic classes had to learn the names of all the presidents.

There were no books for the early grades so the teacher had to give them number stories.

The upper grades had books but did board work going up when their class was called.

We had competition then to see who could add a sum the quickest.
The numbers that made 13 gave me the most trouble.

Neural Holt (Miracle) could beat everybody in getting the answers first. She had a smart brain was said but I'm sure she did what a lot of us other class members didn't do. She went home and studied.

Spelling came after dinner recess. It was a great feeling to "turn down" or spell a word missed and go ahead of another pupil.

Next came language if English and we learned how to write a sentence first then put them in a group about one thing.

This was my favorite class. I loved writing about things. A teacher said to me one day "Hildy you may get to be a writer. Keep up the way you are doing in your papers."

I think back to those words and how happy I was to hear them for that was what I wanted to be - a writer.

We had a third recess where the children refreshed themselves with water from a bucket or went to the restroom up a hollow in the weeds or bushes.

After this short break, we had reading for younger children who were then allowed to go home. The first readers had geography. At four o'clock all kids except the teacher who cleaned the school room. This is a rural school day as known. There were many good as well as bad things about school.

Mary of the girls that I grew up with became a rural school teacher by Neural Holt taught awhile and then went on to serve as county Superintendent of Schools in Rockcastle. Martha Hill was a successful one room school teacher. So was her sister, Verda Shearer.

Mary Bowman Casey made good as a rural school teacher in the professon. Margaret and Clyde Lanville went to better jobs after teaching. I will finish on Rural Schools next week.

The picture this week was of the bride, Rebecca Abrams to Gene Martin. Will get one of both bride and groom soon.

Till then. Faith is not merely believing - it's working.

Who are you?
Let me help you find out!

By hanging out after school, some kids in Jessamine County are falling in with the right crowd.

For kids having a difficult time in high school, quitting often seems the easiest way out. But in Jessamine County, the Extended School Services Program is giving kids a chance to fit in, find friends and improve grades, all at the same time.

By meeting with a small group of students after school or during the summer, program coordinators such as Beverly Freeman can work more closely with each student. Designed specifically to help students who are at risk of failing academically, the program allows kids to spend extra time within a cooperative environment. Together, students study everything from algebra to the classics of literature.

By giving students a fair shot at success, the Extended School Services Program is proof that the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA) is working. Even after school hours.

For more information on the Extended School Services Program, call 1-800-928-2111 or 1-800-KDE-KERA.

School NEWS

Tiger Pause

We would like to extend an invitation for the community to attend Open House, Thursday evening, Sept. 9 from 6 - 8 p.m. This will be an opportunity for parents to meet their child's teacher and see the renovations to our building. This open house coincides with the monthly PTA meeting. Debbie Bustle is our PTA president and she encourages you to support your child and school by joining PTA. Individual membership is $3 or a couple may join for $5.

The 21st Century class would like to thank the following for volunteering their tremendous help: Larry Hammond, director of student services, Mrs. Jeannine Parsons, school health nurse, Mrs. Judy Adams, our school nurse aide, and Mrs. Claudimma Cash, testing/Chapter 1 Coordinator. We appreciate their support of our school. The School-Based Decision Making (SBDM) Council will have their monthly meeting, Tuesday evening, Sept. 7 at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. Parent members of the council are Roger Reynolds and Ann Taylor. Teacher members are Gary Scott, Katherine Bradley, and Molly Hamm. These meetings are open and your attendance is welcomed.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kent Wilson on the arrival of their first child, a son, Jacob Kent. Mrs. Wilson (Lynn) teaches in our primary department (CUBS).

School will be dismissed, Monday, September 6 in observance of Labor Day.

Livingston Link

Back to school... busy schedules, ball practice, homework, meetings at church. Don't forget to reserve time to communicate with your children! Teach them to always do their best and don't be surprised when they succeed.

We ask for your cooperation as we strive to make improvements in our school attendance, discipline, and classroom achievement. If your child is absent, you must send a note to school as soon as he/she returns to school. If a note isn't sent the absence is unexcused. Students who receive unexcused absences will be required to stay for detention. Our attendance goal for the year is 97.5 percent.

Teachers, staff, students, and parents working together can help make this a "fantastic" year for Livingston Elementary School.

Bus Safety

During the past week students received instruction in school bus safety. Rules and regulations were stressed and students viewed a Bus Safety video. In addition, students practiced bus evacuation drills. As parents, you can help by stressing to your children the importance of good behavior on our buses. Please be alert to buses on our roadways and bring to our attention any concerns you may have.

Attendance Incentives

Several classes reported perfect attendance for the first week of school. For their achievement, Mr. Carter will reward each group with ice cream and an extra gym.

Also, every child who has perfect attendance for the week will be eligible for a weekly prize drawing. Last week's winner was Leslie Carpenter. Way to go, Leslie!

Girls' Basketball

Mrs. Regina Jett, girls' basketball coach, was all smiles when 24 girls reported for basketball tryouts. She was thrilled by the enthusiasm and determination displayed by all the girls. "Not only do they show talent, they give 110 percent," she said.

School Pictures

McEachern Studio photographers snapped school pictures at LES on Monday. Proofs will arrive in about three weeks.

Student Comments

The comment section sparked so much student interest last week that an effort will be made to make this a regular feature of The Link. This week's question: "What is one thing you learned this past week?"

Justin Woodall: "We made a web telling what our dogs liked to do and then we made a graph."

Tawanna Phillips: "I learned some new words and a new song."

Amanda Gross: "I learned how to use a spell check... and feed the fish."

Tina Powell: "I learned about friendship... taking turns... and going to bed early."

Sandy Moore: "I learned to work well in a group."

Levi Northern: "I learned about the parts of an atom."

Kim Bosher: "I learned more about the metric system."

Charlotte Phillips: "I've learned a lot about people's feelings and how they handle things."

Steve Bradley: "I've learned you've got to be responsible to make it through life."

Primary News

Primary 3 and 4 were in for a real treat last Friday when a dear and cherished friend of LES came calling. Mrs. Lucille Carlotts responded to an invitation from Miss Fain, Mrs. Anderkin and Mrs. Cowan to speak to their classes.

Mrs. Carlotts discussed how the experiences her children had helped mold them into the adults they are today. She encouraged the students to use their imaginations as she described how her own children and their Indian playmates used their imaginations to create houses and beats out of paper boxes. In addition to using the power of imagination, Mrs. Carlotts stressed the importance of good attendance and the ability to think for one's self. "As students also enjoyed listening as Mrs. Carlotts shared a book that she had written entitled, The Secret of the Flickering Cave.

Counselor's Connection

Children Learn What They Live

By: Dorothy Law Nolte

- If a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn.
- If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight.
- If a child lives with fear, he learns to be apprehensive.
- If a child lives with pity, he learns to feel sorry for himself.
- If a child lives with ridicule, he learns to be shy.
- If a child lives with jealousy, he learns what envy is.
- If a child lives with shame, he learns to feel guilty.
- If a child lives with encouragement, he learns to be confident.
- If a child lives with tolerance, he learns to be patient.
- If a child lives with praise, he learns to be appreciative.
- If a child lives with acceptance, he learns to love.
- If a child lives with approval, he learns to like himself.
- If a child lives with recognition, he learns that it is good to have a goal.
- If a child lives with sharing, he learns about generosity.
- If a child lives with honesty and fair deals, he learns what truth and justice are.
- If a child lives with security, he learns to have faith in himself and in those about him.
- If a child lives with friendliness, he learns that the world is a nice place in which to live.
- If you live with serenity, your child will live with peace of mind.

From Our Library

Students today need to develop the ability to retrieve and interpret information. At LES we begin in the Primary Grades to help students master the skills and techniques necessary to achieve success. These library skills are taught in a comprehensive and sequential curriculum beginning in P1 and going through 8th grade. We want our students to be "hooked on Library Skills!"

Mrs. Arnold has each class scheduled in the media center for one 40-minute time slot each week. During this time skills are taught, book talks are given, and students have the opportunity to check out books.

Reading for pleasure is stressed. If students get in the habit of reading during the primary grades it will carry on throughout life.

Teachers are free to schedule their classes to come to the Media Center at other times for research, story time, or to reinforce skills being taught in the classroom.

Our Media Center is a busy place! At times there can be several different groups working on different projects at the same time. The word for a Media Specialist today is flexible.

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

Fall is almost here even though the weather doesn't feel like it. By the end of August I'm always ready for cooler weather and the beautiful fall colors. We have enjoyed a nice cool library this summer thanks to the new air-conditioning unit. Last year, both winter and summer, we were very uncomfortable.

The library will be sponsoring another Story-Book Parade at the Bittersweet Festival in October. Details haven't worked out yet but I wanted to let everyone know so that you might be making preparations for the children's costumes. Every child that enters will be getting a prize.

Also, the library will have a booth again. We will have exhibits and books for sale.

We have all been very busy at the library this summer. During the months of June, July and August, the library and bookmobile checked out over 19,000 books and 40 books have been borrowed for patrons from other libraries.

There will be a new selection of videos on Sept. 11th. We have been checking out about 400 videos each month. Also a new shipment of large-print books will be available Sept. 25th. A lot of our patrons are enjoying these and not just senior citizens. I hope you will come in and look at the new selection when they arrive.

We have new books by two of your favorite gothic writers, Phyllis Whitney and Victoria Holt. Ms. Holt passed away recently but evidently this book was already in the process of being published. She will be greatly missed by a lot of faithful readers.

The Black Opal by Victoria Holt. Carmel March was found one morning among the azaleas of Commonwealth House by the good Doctor Marline and his ailing wife. Questions surrounding Carmel's parentage always hung heavy in the air. Ironically, it is tragedy at Commonwealth that sweeps Carmel off to a life more wonderful than her ten-year-old heart could have dared to imagine.

In Australia she settles into a happy, adventurous life, growing into womanhood with a new family, new friends and the devoted attentions of a handsome young man. Yet she always feels drawn back to England. So she returns to the beautiful house that has fallen into ruins. Only now does Carmel realize she has been rushed away from the scene of a murder those many years ago. The more she learns, the more she is convinced that the wrong man has been sentenced for the crime. Is the answer locked away in some childhood memory? What of her childhood friend Sir Lucian, now her latest suitor? As a boy he had been kind, open and serene. Now he appears secretive and self-absorbed. And what fateful role might he have played by the opals, always present at crucial moments in her life? If she could indeed solve this mystery buried so many years ago, what would it mean for her and the future of those she loves?

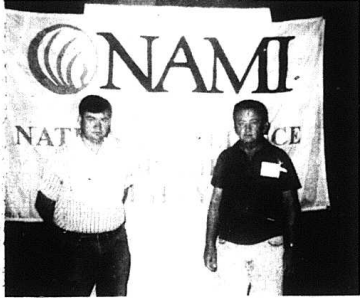

Star Flight by Phyllis Whitney... The hauntingly beautiful moments of North Carolina provide the stunning backdrop for the latest novel of Phyllis Whitney. She spins a chilling tale of Lauren Castle's search for the truth behind her husband's accidental death and her grandmother's suicide. Two generations divide these tragic events, yet both seem curiously and inextricably linked.

In 1938, two of Hollywood's most glittering young stars, Victoria Frazer and Roger Brandt, were cast in a movie set in these mountains. Drawn to each other with a passion that was destined to cool, their ill-fated affair ended with the birth of an illegitimate daughter, Victoria's death, and the end of Roger's career. Ostracized by the movie industry, judged morally corrupt by his fans, Roger Brandt stayed on in North Carolina, but still the scandal became the stuff of Hollywood legend.

Many years later, Lauren Castle is drawn into Brandt's orbit by a more recent tragedy: the death of her filmmaker husband. Only Lauren knows that she is the daughter of Roger and Victoria's love child. As she begins to make sense of what happened in her family's past, she risks exposing herself to an evil that reaches with undiminished violence across two generations.

Also a new Tom Clancy novel, Without Remorse. The hero is John Kelly, a man familiar to Clancy's readers by his code name, Mr. Clark. John Kelly is former U.S. Seal and Vietnam veteran, as still getting over the accidental death of his wife six months before, when he befriends a young woman with a decidedly

Pictorial cancellations for Livingston Homecoming

As a community service, the postal service offers pictorial cancellations to commemorate local events celebrated in communities throughout the nation. The Livingston Post Office will offer a cancellation to commemorate the 9th Annual Livingston Homecoming, Sept. 3, 4, and 5th.

Sean Mullins won a trophy Sunday, Aug. 19 at the Junction City Car and Truck Show with his 1989 GMC truck. He was one of the top 75. He is the son of Gary and Kathy Mullins of Mt. Vernon.

A temporary station will be set up in front of the Post Office on Main Street from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 4th.

People attending this local event may obtain the cancellation in person at the temporary station established there. Those who cannot attend the event, but wish to obtain the cancellation, may submit a mail order request. This cancellation is only for the date of Sept. 4, 1993. Requests must be postmarked no later than 30 days following the requested pictorial cancellation date.

All requests must include a stamped envelope or postcard bearing at least the minimum first-class mail postage (29 cents per envelope or 19 cents per postcard). Items submitted for cancellation may not include postage issued after the date of the requested cancellation. Such items will be returned unopened.

Customers wishing to obtain a cancellation through the mail should affix stamps to any envelope or postcard of choice, address the envelope or postcard to one's self or others, insert a card of postcard thickness in envelopes for sturdiness and tuck in the flap. Place the envelope or postcard in a larger envelope, and address it: Pictorial Cancellations, Livingston Homecoming Station, Livingston, KY 40445-9998. Customers who want their serviced item returned under protected cover should include a larger, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Man Without a Face

Persistence, Trust, and Friendship, are just a few of the lessons we learn from The Man without a Face.

Persistence in that no matter what your age, if there is something you want, and you know that it is right and good, go for it. Even if people tell you what they think your limitations are, it is still possible to achieve. You must trust someone to build trust.

A true friendship is built over a period of time, but is often challenged by circumstances beyond our control. Overcoming these challenges often comes through sacrifice in the short run and making a stronger friendship in the long run.

Mel Gibson plays McLeod, a former teacher, who was badly burned in an automobile accident. McLeod is popular material for name-calling through town gossip because he lives by himself and is rarely seen.

Nick Stahl debuts as a thirteen year old named Charles Norstadt. He is a kid that lost his father and lives with his mother and two sisters. His mother is working toward her fourth husband.

Charles wants to go to a military school and asks McLeod to be his tutor.

The Man Without a Face, directed by Mel Gibson, teaches us about some of the complexities of life. Teenagers and adults will enjoy it thoroughly. The Man Without a Face is now playing at the regency Cinema 7 in London and is rated PG-13.

Running FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

Robert H. "Bob" Brown

I am running for District Judge in Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties in the upcoming November election.

Robert H. "Bob" Brown

On September 11th, I will run 25.5 miles from the steps of the Pulaski County Courthouse to the steps of the Rockcastle County Courthouse in Mt. Vernon.

This 25.5 mile Courthouse-to-Courthouse run is a symbol of the determination, dedication and commitment I will bring to the office of District Judge. It also represents the energy and enthusiasm I will maintain while in office.

I will be leaving the Pulaski County Courthouse at 7 a.m. Friends and supporters may join me for various distances at any point along the route. A rally will follow the run at the Rockcastle County Courthouse at 11 a.m.

I know what it's like to go the distance. In recent years, I've participated in several marathons, including the Marine Corps Marathon in Washington, D.C. and the Smoky Mountain Marathon in Townsend, Tennessee.

Whether it's on pavement, pounding out mile after agonizing mile, or in the courtroom, pounding the gavel of justice, I will go the distance for you.

Nicotine patch program

The Rockcastle County Health Center will soon be involved in a free Nicotine Patch Program. Unfortunately we only have enough patches to treat about 15 patients. There are income and medical guidelines that must be assessed.

1. The person has to be below 200

- percent of poverty. An example of this would be 18,860 for 2 people in household. $28,700 for 4 people.
2. Must be at least 18 years old.
3. Smoke at least 1 pack a day.
4. Must truly have a desire to quit.
5. Must have a prescription for the patch from physician.
6. Must complete a health history. Persons interested in this program should first call the health department to see if they qualify by income, then they need to talk to a nurse to see if they meet the guidelines. Remember we only have enough patches to treat 15 patients, so if you don't have a true desire to quit smoking, don't apply for this program. Call 256-2342 for more information.

Eshenaur said homeowners observing these symptoms should take leaf samples to their county Extension office.

Powdery mildew -- patches of yellow and light green coloration on leaves.

"Powdery mildew usually is not a problem on dogwoods," Eshenaur said. "This year, we're finding it widespread but we don't know why."

The most important thing homeowners can do next season is to help trees survive this stressful period by providing sufficient moisture," he said. "Water deeply during dry periods, provide about one m. a week of supplemental water."

For more information on weather stress, dogwood anthracnose and powdery mildew, contact your county Extension office.

Schools, staff honored by board for attendance

Rockcastle County Schools honor students through cash awards, plaques and certificates for exemplary attendance.

Staff members are also awarded certificates in recognition of attendance.

Student attendance has exceeded 96 percent for the past three years. The 1992-93 school year final overall figure was 96.14 percent for student attendance.

Livingston Elementary closed the year with a total of 97.14 percent, as compared to 97.08 for Brodhead, 97.0 percent for Mt. Vernon, 95.19 percent for Roundstone and 94.6 percent for Rockcastle County High School. Larry Hammond, Director of Student Services, presented Charles Carter, principal of Livingston Elementary, with a plaque recognizing their achievement in attendance. Livingston also received a plaque for the greatest percentage gain in student attendance from the previous year and $500 to be used for attendance incentives.

Staff members were also awarded certificates for their accomplishments in attendance.

They were Judy Bullock, Jim Cox, David Hansel, Lona Hayes, Jackie Lawrence, Margaret McClure, Mark McKinney, Sondra Mullins, Preston Parrett, Roy Reynolds, Tony Taylor, William Shackelford, Kay Singleton, Paul Waddles.

Staff members recognized for missing 2 days or less: Scott Adams, Patricia Allen, Frank Arnold, Bill Barnett, Judy Brock, Sandra Burdine, Katreka Cash, Mabel Cash, J. "Courthouse-to-Courthouse" run set by judge candidate

Robert H. "Bob" Brown, candidate running for District Judge in Pulaski and Rockcastle Counties in the upcoming November election, will run the 25.5 miles, from the steps of the Pulaski County Courthouse in Somerset to the steps of the Rockcastle County Courthouse in Mt. Vernon on Saturday, September 11, 1993.

The 25.5-mile courthouse-to-courthouse run will serve as a symbol of Brown's determination and commitment to the office of District Judge as well as a symbol of the energy and enthusiasm he will bring to that office.

The run, which traverses hilly terrain, will begin at the Pulaski County Courthouse at 7 a.m. and will finish shortly after 11 a.m. at the Rockcastle County Courthouse.

Throughout the 25.5-mile run, other runners will join Brown, running varying distances of the 25.5-mile course.

Monitor weather for tobacco curing

Tobacco producers should be watching the weather and adjusting the ventilation system on their curing facility to make sure they have the right conditions for a good cure.

Hot humid, weather often requires course. Brown expects to be at the following points at the times listed:

Pulaski Courthouse 7 a.m.; Hwy 80 & Hwy 461 8:15 a.m.; Pioneer Shoe Store (461) 9:20 a.m.; Hwy 461 & Hwy E. 150 11:10 a.m.; Rockcastle Courthouse (via Williams St. & Main Street) 11:30 a.m.

Brown, an avid runner, has participated in several marathons over the past few years, including the Marine Corps Marathon in Washington, D.C., the Smoky Mountain Marathon in Townsend, Tennessee, and the Rocket City Marathon in Huntsville, Alabama. He also frequently participates in mini-marathons and 10K races across Kentucky and in neighboring states.

A rally will follow the run from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in front of the Rockcastle County Courthouse in Mt. Vernon.

Monitor weather for tobacco curing much more ventilation and wider spacing to tobacco for removal of moisture to effect a good curing. Weather in September could become cool and dry, requiring closure of

New reader delegate chosen from Rockcastle County

Ruby Alcorn has been chosen as one of three Kentucky New Readers to attend the National Adult Literacy Conference in Washington, D.C. this September.

Students were chosen for this honor based on a nomination from their adult education program and for promoting literacy within the community. Ruby is enrolled at the Christian Appalachian Project Adult Learning Center in Mt. Vernon, where she hopes to get her GED.

The objectives of the National Adult Literacy Conference is to: (1) develop student initiated national adult literacy goals (2) to develop action plans (3) and to provide leadership training to adult New Readers (4) and to establish networks.

At the conference Ruby will attend workshops in various areas of interest to New Readers. All delegates to the conference will receive leadership training which is the focus for this year. When Ruby returns she will share the information that she has received with our local adult education programs and other interested groups within the community and the surrounding area.

Kentucky students were sponsored by the Kentucky Foundation for Literacy and the Kentucky Literacy Commission.

Congratulations Ruby!

Charles Carter, second from left, principal at LES receives a plaque from Larry Hammond, Director of Student Services, for the school's attendance achievement. Livingston also received an award for greatest gain in attendance. Looking on are Debble Cummins, counselor and Margaret McClure, teacher.

Rockcastle County High School principal, Ronnie Cash, is shown receiving a plaque, presented by Larry Hammond, in recognition of the high school's accomplishment of having the highest rate of staff attendance. RCHS closed the year with 97.3% attendance for the staff as compared to 94.6% for Brodhead, 96.3% for Livingston, 96.4% for Mt. Vernon and 95.8% for Roundstone.

RCHS SBDM actions

Personnel staffing was among items discussed when the high school and SBDM Council met Aug. 23.

Principal Ronnie Cash informed the council of the following employment positions:

Ms. Regina Benge, Special Needs Department teacher.
Ms. Sherry Harnack, Mathematics teacher.

Mr. Burley Burkhardt would not be re-employed as instructional assistant due to the transfer of the student under his supervision.

Ms. Christy Beaver, Assistant track coach.

Cash also stated that an assistant girls' basketball coach's position had been posted and he had appointed Christy Beaver, head girls coach, a committee of one to recommend who should be hired.

Assistant Principal Jim Cox informed the council that Ms. Cindy Witt and Ms. Fran Powell had submitted their resignations as assistant academic team coaches.

Both Ms. Powell and Ms. Witt gave assurance they would continue to give assistance and support to the academic team even though they would not receive financial compensation.

Head academic coach, Joy Cooke and assistant coach, Trina Bustle will perform the bulk of the coaching duties for the 1993-94 school year. Cash informed the Council that provision must be made for adult staff desiring a facility in which to smoke or use tobacco products. He recommended to the council they designate the officials locker room in the football complex adjacent to the football field. By consensus the council agreed to this and added that the individual(s) should refrain from indulging until completely inside the facility, out of view from any student.

Things to do were also discussed. They included among other items: raise portfolio scores, supervise building, have consistency in all things, what to do with non-motivated students and a clear definition of tardy.

What's not working included inconsistency, favoritism of certain individuals and groups, communication and teacher/pupil ratio.

What is working: Cooperation of staff, atmosphere; WRCBS, rocket paper, guidance department, support staff, better professional development days.

10th Annual Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon at Brodhead

By: Clara Proctor

The 10th Bike-A-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis will be held Saturday, Sept. 18, at 12:30 to 4 p.m. at the Brodhead School. A rain date is Sept. 25.

As a result of the dramatic research findings in 1989, which you helped make possible, Cystic Fibrosis researchers are confident that they are on the right path toward a cure. They no longer have to guess whether their ideas are correct.

Researchers know what needs to be done in order to save thousands of innocent children. But before they can do it, we must continue to fund their targeted research. If we don't, everything that they have accomplished will be lost.

There is a great deal of work that needs to be done. But with your continued help, especially at this critical time, we are confident that our children will be saved.

Scientists hope to be able to add normal genes directly to the lungs of a child with Cystic Fibrosis. They hope this will override the effects caused by the fatal gene. Scientists believe that adding a normal protein into the airways of a child with CF will alleviate the build up of sticky mucus in the child's lungs. Mucus is the number one cause of death in children with CF.

Drug therapy is being done to determine whether a drug can be developed to thin the mucus in children with CF. If successful, the mucus can be cleared freely from the lungs, thereby eliminating dangerous infections common to CF-sufferers. Suzanne Graves, of Brodhead School, is included in this study.

All of these potential therapies are being done simultaneously. If possible, they may all be used together in curing this disease. This will be expensive, but it will pay back now. After 30 years of not being cured, we have finally found the cure for this disease.

We need help today more than ever. The next steps are the most critical of all. By proving that any of these techniques could cure a child in with CF, we will be pulling hundreds of thousands of patients and their families into the next century.

You are the reason they have not taken this far. You have proven you have love for our children, hope for their futures, belief that we can cure this disease. We have come so far, but we need more. So, if you have sheets at Brodhead School or at Citizens Bank and collect the money made in this bike-a-thon, please send your money via your preferred method to Nolan Ryan Baseball Field, 1st and Vallyball St., Columbus, Indiana 47306. If you don't have one, call 815-

it out to 85

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

Today, our class picked up trash on the lake road. In less than one hour, we had four bags full of trash. We hadn't walked over 100 yards and had 4 bags full!!!

Why do people throw trash out in our beautiful county? Why don't people care? They are making our county look awful.

It would take at least 80 people working the whole day to clean the road along the lake. It's a shame the trash we see everywhere.

We are a group of students participating in community service projects. This was our first project. What we learned was not to throw our trash to clean up after ourselves, it costs 75 cents per bag to haul it to the dump, and people in this county don't care much about how our county roads look.

People, please start to care. Be proud of Rockcastle County.

Sincerely,
Ms. Bugg's students: Donald Allen, Charles Shackelford, Shawn Doan, E.G. (a shy girl) and Clyde sharing his carpentry expertise.

Arnold Brown and Leonard McClure for making home visits.

Vicky and Geraldine Anglin for decorating the bandannas.

Elizabeth Bos for all of her time and energy.

The families that received repairs on their homes for making the Home Repair volunteers feel so welcome.

We apologize to the bands for not mentioning them in the newspaper article last week. This is what happens when things are being rushed. We truly appreciate them taking time out of their busy schedules and helping make our cookouts so nice.

We are very fortunate to have people like all of you helping to make your community a better place to live. Thanks to all of you for a very successful two weeks of fellowship.

Sincerely,
Ina Taylor

EKU program helps appalachian students succeed in allied health

Eastern Kentucky University has received a $335,550 federal grant to attract disadvantaged students from Rockcastle and 48 other Eastern Kentucky counties to its allied health programs and prepare them for productive careers in a region beset by acute health care shortages.

The Health Careers Opportunity Program (HCOP), funded by the Health Resources and Services Administration, Division of Disadvantaged Assistance, will enable Eastern to recruit 30 eligible, disadvantaged Appalachian students into allied health disciplines for each of the three years of the project.

Students have the choice of four baccalaureate degree programs, Environmental Health, Health Information, Clinical Laboratory Science and Occupational Therapy, as well as three associate degree programs, Medical Assistance, Clinical Lab Technician and Health Information Technician.

"This is not a program to build enrollment," Daugherty said. It's a program to extend a helping hand in preparing students in the sciences, mathematics and study skills," said Dr. Patsy Daugherty, project director.

We'll consider high school seniors, as well as non-traditional students.

"Our hope is that they will return to the Appalachian area to help provide health care," Daugherty added, noting that 34 Kentucky counties are "medically underserved" by federal definition.

EKU/HCOP will assist disadvantaged students by providing:

- * financial aid information and assistance.
- * a summer enrichment program of learning activities, including field trips to clinical sites.

* supplemental instruction in "at-risk" courses such as chemistry, mathematics and biology.

* intense advising/mentoring.

Prior to this first semester in HCOP, students will receive a stipend to participate in a six-week, non-credit summer enrichment course designed to acclimate them to campus life and lay the groundwork for the academic work that awaits them.

"One of the good things about the program is that we won't just turn them loose after the summer program," Daugherty said. "We have part-time instructors and teaching assistants lined up who will actually attend the classes that HCOP students are taking and give these students extra instruction."

"We have a number of students who take longer than average to get through our programs, and often the problem is the introductory science and math courses," Daugherty said. "The supplemental instruction addresses that."

Because of the special assistance, Daugherty expects students to do advance through the allied health curriculum at an 80 percent retention rate, higher than the national average.

Information sessions on the new program will be held later this school year in high schools around the affected 49-county area. Students selected for the program must have a high level of motivation toward a career in one of the allied health professions, as evidenced by interview, high school references, and/or a written autobiography. Their academic record must also be predictive of success in an allied health major.

For more information about the program, high school students should see their guidance counselor. High school graduates may call Daugherty at (606) 622-3576.

New laws affecting wild turkey season in Kentucky

Pending legislative approval, the spring 1994 wild-turkey season dates are April 20 - May 3.

The bag limit for the spring season remains two. Only birds with visible beards may be taken.

In 1993, a total of 12 turkeys were harvested in Rockcastle.

For the first time, archers will be able to hunt in all the counties or portions of counties that will be open during the spring season.

Bow hunters may take one wild turkey of either sex from Oct. 1-31, 1994.

"Last fall we had archery hunting in 13 counties, and only eight turkeys were taken," said wild turkey biologist George Wright. "There's no biological reason we shouldn't increase hunting opportunities for archers."

Eight District Commissioner Roland L. Burns asked that Greenup and Lewis counties be closed to all wild-turkey hunting in 1994 because of poor harvests.

Wright agreed and said he would consult with local wildlife managers to determine what steps should be taken to bolster the turkey populations in the two counties.

This spring only one gobbler was bagged in Greenup, and none was taken in Lewis.

Kentucky's wild-turkey flock continues to expand, as evidenced by the annual harvest increases.

The 5,127 gobblers taken during the 1993 spring season was a 27 percent harvest increase over the 1992 season, when the kill was 4,069.

"Most of the (harvest) increases were in the counties just opened to hunting," Wright said. Overall, the other counties had about the same, or slightly less, harvest. The second year a county is open, the harvest usually declines slightly because the birds are smarter," Art Lander Jr., of The Herald-Leader reported this week.

Wright speculated that this spring, wild-turkey hens went on the nest about two weeks later than usual, but by all indications the hatch was about normal.

"It was a lot better than last year's hatch," he said. "It would take a poor hatch two years in a row before we'd see a harvest decline."

During the 1993 season, the jake (juvenile) harvest dropped to 21 percent of the bag, reflecting the previous year's poor hatch and the older age structure in the population.

"Consequently, next season (1994) we'll see fewer 2-year-old turkeys in the population," Wright said. "There will be a lot of wise old birds out there."

About 14,000 hunters took to the field last April, Wright said. "Hunter participation continues to grow, especially in the counties just opening to hunting."

"It takes planning, saving, and a great deal of doing without. Nobody said it would be easy."

NOBODY SAID IT WOULD BE EASY

Building financial security for your family's future seems to get harder with each passing year. It takes planning, saving, and a great deal of doing without. Nobody said it would be easy.

ASCS announces disaster payment sign-up locally

Hampton Henton, Jr., State Executive Director of the Kentucky Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) announced that farmers can file for disaster benefits with their local ASCS office if they have suffered crop losses because of damaging weather and related conditions in 1993. The sign-up period ends March 4, 1994.

"Producers that have suffered a total crop loss can complete their disaster application and receive payment at this time," Henton said. Applications for other 1003 disaster related crop losses can be filed at this time, but cannot be finalized until after the crop is harvested.

Public Law 103-75, signed by President Clinton on August 12, authorizes payments for 1993 losses to be made in an amount equal to 100 percent of each eligible claim. The payment rate will be 65 percent of the applicable basic payment rate for the crop.

"Farmers with crop insurance will be eligible for payment losses in excess of 35 percent and farmers without crop insurance will be eligible for losses in excess of 40 percent," Henton said. "Each producer must agree to obtain multiple peril crop insurance for the succeeding year," the ASCS official said.

Farmers can contact their local ASCS County Office for additional information.

Boating safety works on Labor Day Weekend

Labor Day Weekend is the last major holiday for boating, skiing and swimming. And though it may be the official farewell to summer's water activities, boaters should not say good-bye to vigilance and common sense on the water.

The Kentucky Water Patrol offers the following hints for a safe weekend.

This time of year late afternoon sun can cause glare and blind spots on the water. Boats, swimmers and skiers in the water will be hard to see, so boat operators should use caution.

Make sure PFDs (personal flotation devices) and fire extinguishers are on board, serviceable and accessible.

Avoid alcoholic beverages while involved in any water activity.

If you, as an owner or operator of a boat, are involved in an accident, a written report must be completed and sent to the Kentucky Water Patrol. For information on boating accident report forms or other boating safety tips, contact any Water Patrol officer or the Kentucky Water Patrol at 1-800-828-7678.

POW/MIA ceremony

National POW/MIA Recognition Day will be observed on Friday, Sept. 10, at the Lexington Veterans Affairs Medical Center with a special ceremony beginning at 10:30 a.m. in front of Building 1, Westown Road Division.

The ceremony will feature special remarks from Brigadier General R. W. Boyd Rogers, Jr., Deputy Commanding General, U.S. Army Recruitment Command at Fort Knox, the recognition of approximately 60 former Prisoners of War from Kentucky, and the reading of the names of those individuals from Kentucky still listed as Missing in Action.

Please contact Greg Anderson, Chief, Voluntary Service at the VA Medical Center at (606) 281-3930 if you need additional information about the ceremony. The public is invited to attend.

Also Collect $10 and receive an ice cream cone from Dani Delate. Collect $35 and receive a CF t-shirt. Collect $65 and receive tote bag or personal first aid kit and t-shirt. Collect $100 and receive an AM/FM clock radio or family first aid kit or CF sweat shirt plus t-shirt. Collect $150 and receive AM/FM clock radio or mini mag flashlight plus t-shirt and many more prizes listed on the back of the pledge sheet.

There is no age limit on riders, if under 18 years old, a parent or guardian must sign pledge sheet before you can ride.

Your help is needed. The elements to end this disease are in place. However continued support of these life saving efforts is crucial. With your involvement, we can help those who have CF today. Together we can make Cystic Fibrosis history.

The Year of the Rock - Special Section

FOOTBALL Season OPENS

If Saturday's performance is any indication

Rock could have best team of Larkey era

Ask coaches RCHS coaches Tom Larkey, Tony Saylor and Jerry Pensol, just how good this Rocket football team is and you may get a suprising answer for a change. "They're pretty good," Saylor said. "We could be great," Pensol commented and of the 1993 Rockets, Tom Larkey says, "They may be the best team I've ever coached."

That is unusual for a bunch of guys, who in the past have played down their team's abilities, although since 1985, when Larkey arrived at the Rock, he has compiled a record of 65 and 25.

"We are deeper than any team I've had at Rockcastle," Larkey said. "We have 22 seniors, seventeen of whom will play a lot, leaving room for only one junior and one sophomore in the starting line-up," Larkey said last week.

Larkey and his coaching staff have developed a program that building season at Rockcastle, although a couple of players from last year's squad will be sorely missed. "It will be tough to replace all-state back J.D. Harris and blocking back Bobby Coffey, who were also main stays on defense," Larkey said. "But, we think we've got the kids who can fill their shoes," he said.

"If we stay relatively healthy, we will be in every game this season; I don't think there is anybody that will blow us out," he said.

Speaking of health, the Rockets are ailing to a certain extent as they head into Saturday's contest at Southwestern.

"We've got some kids who are going to require a lot of tape and preparation, but other than Saben Blair, everybody should be able to go," Larkey said.

Some key players who won't be a hundred percent, are guards Chris Goff, Jay Stevens and Eddie Todd. Todd and Goff have shoulder injuries and Stevens has been suffering from slight inflammation of the spine that has caused him to have migraine headaches. All three have the go ahead from doctors. Junior guard Saben Blair is also recovering from a knee injury and has gotten the go ahead from doctors to begin running. He probably will not see action Saturday night.

Lineman Stacy Kirby also has a slight knee injury, but he will be ready for Saturday's action. Running back Mikhael Shaffer played well at Mt. Sterling after practicing only two weeks before the season opener.

Shaffer blew his knee out in the Rocket's final game of the season a year ago against Danville. "He probably will never be totally 100%, but he is healthy, strong and he has his speed."

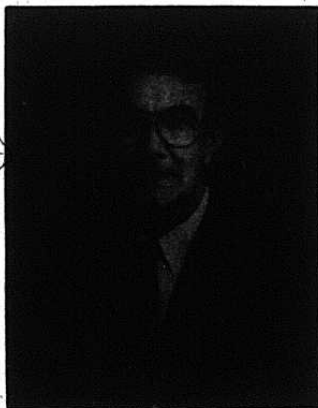

Rockets play at Pulaski County High School Field Sat. Night- 8 pm

"The Year of the Rock"

1993 Rockets facing tough schedule

All-things considered this year's edition of the Rockcastle County Rockets are facing one of the toughest schedules ever prepared for any Rocket team.

Besides the always tough district opponents Rockcastle faces three 4A schools and they faced a 1A school that was ranked number one in the state last year for most of the season and a team that returned 15 starters from a year ago.

The Hazard Bulldogs, Rockcastle's victim in Saturday's Recreation Bowl at Mt. Sterling, has a new coach in Mike Jones, but very little else changed for the "Dogs" who went 11 and 1 a year ago. Rockcastle won 43-16.

The Bulldogs started eight defensive and seven offensive players from a year ago. Junior quarterback John Grigsby who rushed and passed for over 2,000 yards as a sophomore lead a backfield contingent that averaged better than eight yards per rushing attempt a year ago. They didn't fair as well Saturday.

Hazard's only blemish on their record last year came at the hands of Pikeville in the class A state play-offs. Pikeville lost to eventual state champ Beachwood.

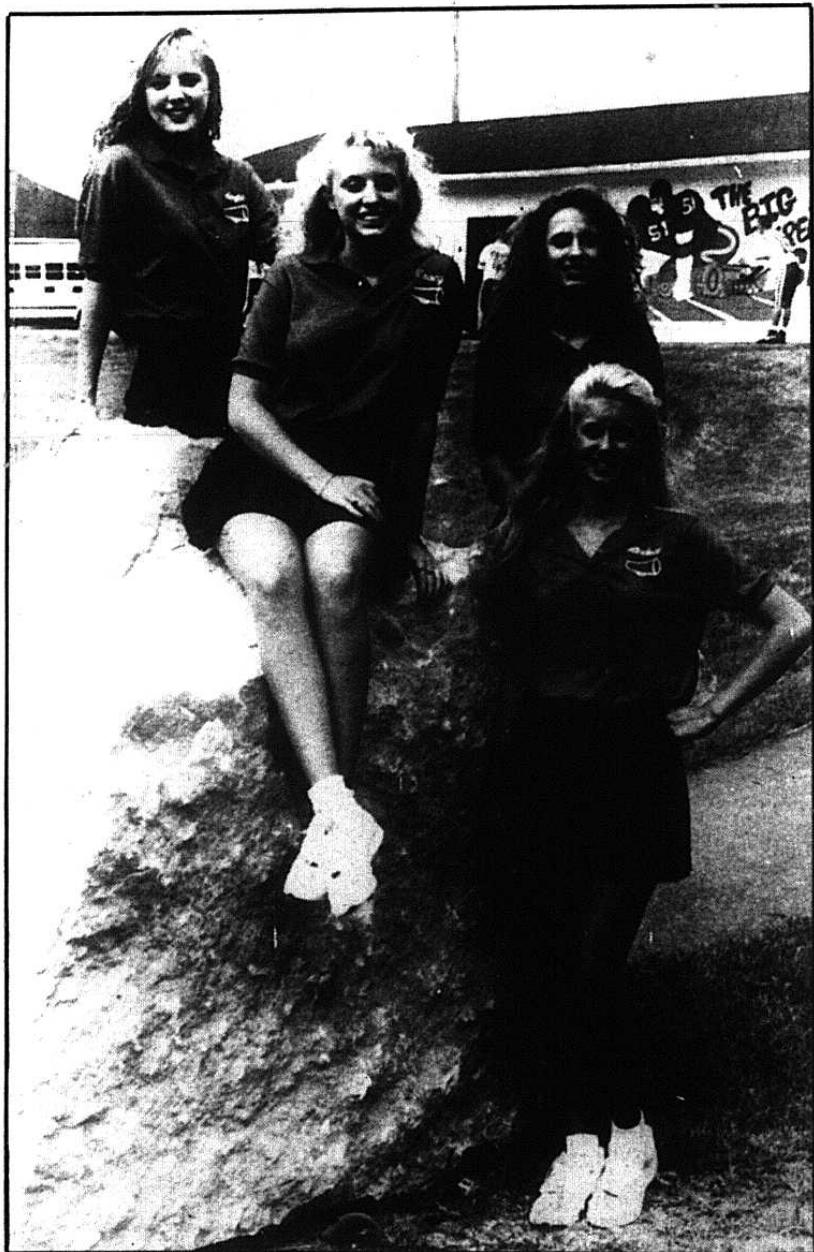

"We played extremely well after we got over our first game jitters Saturday night," said RCHS head coach Tom Larkey. "Hazard is ranked 5th in the state in class A, but from what I saw, I think they are better than that, maybe number two or three in single A," he said.

The Rockets won't get much of a break this week when they will travel to Somerset to take on the Southwestern Warriors. The new Pulaski County high school is playing varsity football for the first time, but they aren't an in-experienced squad. Their coach, Dale Anderson, was an assistant for eleven years at Louisville Trinity before coming to Southwestern. Because of realignment in the school district and the fact that some players moved, Southwestern has ended up with the bulk of the Pulaski County Maroons team from a year ago. The Warriors backfield will be anchored by Shawn Ellis, a running back that gained over 1,000 yards for the Maroons during his junior year. "They certainly won't be a push over this year for us," said Larkey. The game between Rockcastle at Southwestern will also be a Saturday night contest. Southwestern's new field isn't ready and they are playing all of their home games on the Pulaski County High School field. Game time is still set for 8 p.m.

Rockcastle's first home game of the season will pit them against a Lexington school. Paul Lawrence Dunbar will bring their 4A program to the ROCK for what Larkey thinks will be a tough contest. "It is always hard to play a team that is two classes bigger, they simply have more kids to choose from," he said, and we are simply having a hard time getting teams around here to play us," Larkey said.

"Lynn Camp dropped us after 21 years, South Laurel and North Laurel can't seem to work us in, it is just hard for us to get enough games for our regular season schedule," the coach said.

The fourth week of the season Rockcastle will host the Fleming County Panthers, who during the past three seasons have compiled a record of 26 and 9. "They have only five seniors returning, but they will be an admiral opponent," the coach said. Coach Ted Purcell's Panthers will be led by his 6'4" son, Drew who will quarterback the Panthers this season. "Junior running back Ashley Graham is a 190 pound kid with good speed, who will anchor the backfield," Larkey said.

The Rockets will travel to Richmond the week of Sept. 24 to face 4A Madison Central, who are somewhat in a rebuilding mode after losing many starters from last year's team to graduation and their head coach because of his disgruntlement with the school's academic policy for athletes. Mike Elkin left the Indians after his quarterback Marcus Covington was declared ineligible for the remaining four games of the season. Central was 4 and 2 when Covington was sidelined because of bad grades. The Indians finished the season 4 and 6 and Elkin headed for Madison Southern.

Elkin was replaced at Central by Bill Cronin, a Georgetown College assistant, who was offensive coordinator for the Tigers when they captured the national title in their division.

Cronin has installed the "Run and Shoot" offense at Central and coaches at RCHS think it will take a while for his kids to adjust to it. "Anytime you have to play a team with Central's reputation on the road, you are in for a tough game," Larkey said. "We expect a dog fight over there," he continued.

The Rockets will open district play at home against always tough Somerset. The Briar Jumpers who lost in the play-offs to Anderson the week before Rockcastle beat Anderson have been down somewhat the past couple of years, but this year they return 11 seniors and hopes are high that John Cain's team will be able to contend for the district title. Last year Rockcastle escaped the Briar Jumpers with a 14-7 win in Somerset. Among the 11 seniors returning are quarterback Bart Harris and ends, Mike Blackburn and Brandon Dugger. "They've got some speed and should be better this year than they have been in the three years we have been in their district," Larkey said.

The former state powerhouse in Division 2A, the Corbin Redhounds will host the Rockets the week of Oct. 8. Cotton Adams has yet to score his first victory over the ROCK and he will have to have more hounds to hunt with, if he plans on breaking into the win column this season. Corbin finished 7 and 5 a year ago, but all five losses were to play-off teams. Danville defeated Corbin in the opening game of the year and also ended their season for them in the play-offs. The other three losses were to 3A powerhouse Bell County, highly touted Glasgow and of course, Rockcastle.

Corbin will likely be the team picked to finish second in the district behind Rock-castle because of a few key players they return to the starting line-up. Quarterback Jodi Mouser, who runs and throws the football very well will be back as will running Patrick McCowan, who is an excellent athlete. McCowan missed most of last year after he received a knee injury in Corbin's opening game against Danville. Corbin's offensive and defensive lines will be anchored by Jeff Atkins a highly sought after college prospect.

"Corbin will probably be our toughest opponent, because of the revenge factor and the fact that we play down there," Larkey said. "It should be an excellent game," he said.

A much needed weak opponent is scheduled for the week of October 15. Wayne County has a new coach and a new attitude, but not enough firepower to handle the Rockets. Depending on the worn and torn from the early part of

10-0 in past two seasons

No doubt about it, Rock is class of their district

By: Richard Anderkin

If the likes of Corbin, Somerset and Middlesboro want to reach the pinnacle in their class 2A football district, they need not look any further than the top of the mountain where they most certainly will find the ROCK.

Dave Cantrell and other scribes in the sports departments of the big dailies can rank Rockcastle last in Division AA this season, they can write volumes about traditional powerhouse Corbin and they can even slight our players, by making light of their schedule. But, simply ask the folks in Corbin, Somerset, Monticello, Berea and Middlesboro, who the class of their football district has been for the past two seasons and who will likely remain in that lofty position again this year.

Rockcastle is 10-0 in district play and 22 and 4 overall during that period.

They have defeated the sportwriters' favorite team in southeast Kentucky three times. Once at their place, 14 -10 and twice at the Rock. One of the wins at the Rock came in the 1991 play-offs, when it took a game saving tackle in over-time for the Rock to advance. And in 1992 everybody, even some of the RCHS coaches, thought Corbin was a better team and would defeat the Rock. Early into the third quarter the only thing that was in doubt was the margin of victory. Rockcastle beat Corbin at every aspect of the game, enroute to a 35-6 shellacing of the Redhounds.

The Redhounds coaching staff has been so desperate for a win over the Rockets in the past two seasons that they have even resorted to cheating in the freshman and junior varsity games in order to say that they did beat Rockcastle in at least one level of competition.

Last year the only blemishes the junior varsity or freshman teams had on their records were losses to Corbin. In both cases The Redhounds played upperclassmen against the Rockets. Corbin played sophomores against the Rocket freshman and the junior varsity played a couple of varsity starters in order to defeat the Rockets. Their inability to handle their teams honestly cost them rematches with the Rocket underclassmen. Corbin was dropped from both the freshman and J.V. schedules.

Nevertheless when state writers start their high school pigskin hoopla this season, Rockcastle will probably take their place as usual alongside Rodney Dangerfield. The best team in their district the past two seasons, one of the top high school programs in the entire state and a program that gets very little respect from the so-called experts, will not care where they are ranked or how little statewide press they get. All these young men and this coaching staff care about is how many wins they place on the board in 1993 and how much class they show in doing it.

Rocket quarterback J.D. Bussell, who is not usually at a loss for words at anytime, pretty much summed up the way he and his teammates feel about the 1993 campaign.

"See you in Louisville in December," Bussell said. "We are going 15 and 0."

Returning 22 seniors to a team that was 11 and 2 last season and taking into consideration how strong and determined this bunch of players are, Bussell may very well be right.

After Saturday night's performance the Rockets need only 14 more wins, to make Bussell's prediction come true.

the schedule. Rockcastle may opt to take their junior varsity team to Monticello and let the varsity players have the week off. The past two seasons, Rockcastle has defeated Wayne County by the same margin, 42-0.

Mike Elkin has Madison Southern fans thinking they could actually have a winning program in Berea, this year. But all indications are that Elkin hasn't had time to assemble enough of his type players to be much better than the 4 and 6 Eagles were a year ago.

Rockcastle defeated Southern in Berea last year 35-8, with the only score the Eagles were able to muster coming from the junior varsity players.

Elkin's first battle with the ROCK is at the ROCK and no doubt will be one that he will probably want to forget when it is over. But, Larkey and his coaches have a lot of respect for some of the Eagle players including, Jonas Hill, who rushed for 1,000 yards in each of the last two seasons. Hill will be complimented by senior quarterback David Lamb, who will start his third season and Eric Gabbard, a strong defensive player.

Rockcastle will round out their final regular season game when Middlesboro comes to town. Middlesboro has a new coach and last year were shut-out by Rockcastle 27-0. Two years ago when Middlesboro came to town they were undefeated and looking for a district title. Rockcastle embarrassed Middlesboro that night and this year will probably be no exception for the Yellow Jackets. Rockcastle has a tough schedule and by the time the play-offs roll around they will certainly have been tested on many Friday nights. They could be 10 and 0 or 6 and 5
