

Annual 4-H Recognition Banquet held at Brodhead Elementary

By: John McQueary

During National 4-H Week, the Rockcastle County 4-H Council held their annual 4-H Recognition Banquet at Brodhead Elementary School. The Four Leaf Clover has symbolized luck around the world for many years. Today, the Clover continues to represent good fortune as it signifies 4-H.

4-H is a world-wide organization for students ages 9-19 which promotes Learning-By-Doing, from speech presentations to running a business meeting. The members are challenged with various contests and events.

Such events include: Poster Contest, Talk Meets, Variety Show, Demonstration Contest, Fashion Revues, Fair Exhibits, Judging Teams and 4-H Camp.

At this year's banquet, 4-H'ers and leaders were recognized for all their accomplishments in last year's 4-H program.

The Outstanding 4-H'ers Awards were given to Rhonda Collins and Sharon Hensley from Livingston

County Extension Agent for 4-H/Youth Development

School: Dale Green and Thomas Coffey from Roundstone School; Andy Hale and Cory Bailey from Mt. Vernon School and Matthew Hayes and Jeremy Reynolds from Brodhead Elementary.

The Outstanding Clubs were recognized with 3rd place going to Carla Parsons' "Green Goobers" Club from Mt. Vernon; 2nd place 4-H Club was Sharon McKinney's "Gool Troop" Club from Mt. Vernon and 1st place Outstanding 4-H Club for 1992-93 was Paula Clark's 4th grade "Clark's Clover Club" from Mt. Vernon.

Our guest speaker was Cindy Witt. Cindy was presented with a plaque from the 4-H Council.

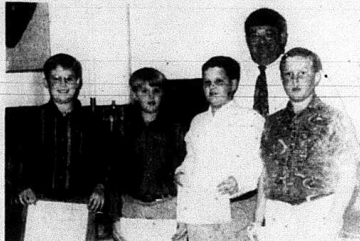

Alma Kendrick was this year's recipient for the 4-H Council Award. Alma was given a plaque recognizing her outstanding support and dedication to the 4-H program.

Special thanks to the Brodhead Elementary School Administration and cooks for hosting this annual event.

Josh Bray of Mt. Vernon Elementary School was presented a certificate for his outstanding accomplishments in the 4-H Variety Show. John McQueary, County Extension Agent for 4-H, look on.

Virginia Hansel, treasurer of the Rockcastle County 4-H Council, left, presented Alma Kendrick the 4-H Council Award. Alma has served on the 4-H Council for many years and has donated a lot of time and dedication to the 4-H program.

Stephen Hopkins was presented a certificate on his outstanding accomplishments in the 4-H Demonstration Contest. Outstanding 4-H'ers at each elementary school are as follows: Front row-Thomas Coffey, Roundstone; Jeremy Reynolds and Matthew Hayes, Brodhead; Back row-Dale Green, Roundstone; Andy Hale and Cory Bailey, Mt. Vernon. Not pictured were Rhonda Collins and Sharon Hensley of Livingston.

Cindy Witt, left, was presented a plaque by Virginia Hansel, Cindy was the guest speaker at the 4-H Recognition Banquet.

Annual Alumni Conference held

"The Lord is our focus," stated Dr. Bill Whitaker, president of Clear Creek Baptist College, Pineville, KY at the annual alumni conference in August, as he recognized new professors. He spoke of progress on campus; new housing and the new child development center built debt free. Whitaker extended thanks to all who volunteered in the building program and noted they had nearly three-hundred volunteers this summer, including a dentist. President Whitaker also thanked alumni for their commitment to the college and challenged them to continue.

The annual banquet at Kelly Hall was one of the largest with more than 240 persons served. The banquet was packed with alumni from all over the United States and other parts of the world. Foreign and home missionaries, pastors, music/education ministers and evangelists make up alumni, each is divergent in calling, but they share a common goal.

"Thank You"

A Trip to the Past

Today I think I'll take you an another trip to a part of my past. Any of us, with a genetic prod by someone who has shared a part of our life, can remember things we had all but forgotten. Thus it was with me this past weekend. So here we go down memory lane again.

Saturday evening I received a phone call from David, a nephew I haven't seen except at funerals since he was a kid. He was passing by Mt. Vernon on his way home to Ocala, Fla. and wanted to know if he and his wife, Wicky, could come by for a couple of hours visit. I was overjoyed to have them even for a short time. Once we became involved in going over our memories the leaving in two hours was forgotten and we were heading for the farm where the incident took place we were remembering. This man was the little kid who accompanied his parents and three siblings, later increased to four, to our house in the country every chance they had to get away from the grind of city living. The grind of farm life didn't dawn on them as a burden since the work wasn't their responsibility. All they knew about farm life was there was always plenty of wholesome food and the wide open spaces to play in. He remembered the story I have heard many times of how on a Friday evening when his dad, my brother, Herb, would get home from work, his mom would say, "let's go to ZZ's" and immediately they would all tumble into the car, whether it was madworthy or not, and head for the country. About midnight on many Friday evenings we would be awakened by kids and grownups alike yelling from the far reaches of the woods, "yoo, hoo, yoo, hoo, here we come." We would hurry to a fire pit in the kitchen stove, put the coffee pot on and drag out the leftovers from the evening meal. By then they would be straggling into the yard with a flashlight showing them the way. Back in the thirties it took seven or eight hours to make the drive from Cincinnati to our place, and even then, due to the road conditions, they couldn't get the car all the way to the house so it would be parked somewhere beside the road a mile or so away and they would have to walk the rest of the way. All arms would be filled with bags of every description of things belonging enough to keep them over a long weekend. In some of these mysterious bags there would always be a treat like fresh glazed doughnuts or some such goody that we couldn't get at our local grocery store. These visits from their cousins, was always a treat for Judy and Rodney for now they would have someone in common and of their own age and sex to play with.

When we arrived at the farm David was amazed at all the changes that had taken place since he was there some thirty five years ago. He had never seen the tobacco bar, nor the addition on the house. What he remembered was a house with three big rooms down stairs and one super big room upstairs the length of the house. He remembered how those same rooms seemed to have shrunk over the years as he pointed out to his wife some special memories he had of where the big heating stove sat in the middle of the living room, and where they slept upstairs next to the chimney, sometimes on a pallet on the floor, and where they sat around the table close to the big windows in the kitchen and how it was arranged then. For the life of me I still cannot remember where they all slept. He said he remembered he and Rod going to the barn to sleep on the hay a few times when the weather was warm and what a good time they had doing it. He also remembered having to use an outside toilet and carrying water from the sulphur spring. This was long before we had electricity and water in the house. He showed Wicky the old path that led to the berry field and spoke of how they would eat three berries and put one in the bucket to bring to the house so I could make a berry cobbler and how good those cobblers were. The berry field is now a hillside covered with trees, the spring is filled with silt and the path has all but disappeared from lack of use and debris from the trees. The toilet, still standing, is now used for a tool shed.

Some of my memories of those days are about the work it took to feed this crowd. Early in the morning some of us would begin to gather in vegetables from the garden, and if we decided to have chicken for dinner everyone got in the act and ran one down to catch it. Have any of you ever tried to run a chicken down to catch it? Well, one chooses the fowl she wants for dinner and tries to calmly isolate it from the flock so she can pick it up. At the first move the chick gets excited and warns all the rest by her squawking and fluttering wings and the chase is on. From now on it is a chase for life or death for all, for the choice one has used the confision to find a safe hiding place. Now any one of our too weak or tired to run or fly any farther is in danger of the hatchet. And since city folks don't know the difference between a nice fat fryer and a skinny one, or a tough old rooster from a fat hen, the ones too tired or too frail to get away were the most frequent victims. That is if Mat or I, whichever happened to be handy, would not intervene with the rifle. Either of us could choose the chicken of our choice from the flock and without exciting the rest put a quick shot from the faithful .22 into the head of the chosen one. This seldom failed. Then we would cook half the day but the resulting meal was worth all the work and would satisfy our needs for food for the rest of the day.

Who would have believed at that time good memories were being filed away in the minds of these children. And I didn't mind the work a bit. The excitement of having my family visit and catching me up on the happenings of my folks back in Cincinnati were all I asked for. What was a little old sweat and aching tired back compared to the joy of having one's family sharing the results of one's labor.

of hearing the happy voices of kids enjoying company of their own kind or complaining of the tasks that needed to be shared by all, of sending them to the berry field and seeing them come back with buckets half filled, and dirty streaked faces glowing in anticipation of the berry pie that would soon be filling the kitchen with mouth watering smells.

All wasn't fun though for there was also hurt to be dealt with. One day Tommy, a younger brother of David, was playing in the woods and roused a bumble bee's nest and was covered before he realized what was going on. We tried a little bit of every treatment we had heard of to soothe his bee stings before he was calmed down. Janet and David were allergic to poison ivy, so was Rodney, so they had to watch closely where they went and if they strayed one bit we all paid the consequences by having to doctor swollen faces and hands and listening to the suffering cries as they tried to ease their pain by scratching. And chiggers were a constant threat to peace and comfort, as were those pesky little gnats.

As we wandered through the house

David wanted to climb the old stairs he and all the kids used for a play area but I now have it closed off so he had to do next best and use the new stairway to go upstairs and see the old room that had been like a dorm with beds crowded into every corner and where the pallets had been made for them to sleep on. Here he pointed out the corner that was Rod's sleeping quarters and the spot where the old victrola used to stand. That was the music they listened to, records played on a hand wound record player. He remembered so much I have forgotten that he made me feel like he had truly been a member of my immediate family, not a visiting nephew. His memories brought back the bitter-sweet memories of when families did things together for pleasure and found kinfolks with a tie that has fasted throughout many years. It was a time when the joys of life were brought about by the simple things in life such as picking blackberries and eating cobbler pie at a crowded table, of kids playing records on an old windup victrola upstairs while their parents played a table game downstairs or talked into the small hours of the morning catching up on family news. It was a time when girls played with dolls and boys climbed trees, explored the woods, and pitched horse-shoes for entertainment. It was a time when the word, sex, meant male and female. And when parents took their kids with them when they went visiting and tried to teach them how to behave. It was a time of hard work and little play therefor the time we spent with our kinfolks was precious recreation. Thank you, David, for bringing me back to the reality of the yesterdays and the joys of having a family who cared enough to drive seven hours to visit with a sister and her family for a short weekend. Or sometimes perhaps for a whole two weeks.

Woman killed on I-75

An elderly Lexington woman was killed Sunday afternoon on I-75 about a mile south of the Renfro Valley Interchange. Mrs. Essie McCall, 74, died in the collision with a van driven by Anthony M. Wickens, 52, of Batesville, Ind. Mrs. McCall was traveling south on I-75 when she lost control of her car, crossed the median into the path of the Wickens van. The Wickens van struck Mrs. McCall's car on the driver's side. Wickens and his passengers, Judy Wickens, 50, Kevin Wickens, 15, Mark Gehring, 16, were treated at Rockcastle Hospital and released.

Charged in stabbing

Rick Wesley of Mt. Vernon has been charged with assault in the first degree the result of an altercation with another man Saturday night. Wesley is charged with cutting Mark A. Sanders, also of Mt. Vernon Sanders has a six inch facial cut that required 20 stitches to close. He was taken to Rockcastle Hospital for treatment. Wesley's bond was set at $50,000 cash.

Trick or Treat is Saturday

Trick or Treat in the three Rockcastle towns is from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 30. Remember, children will be out in force those hours in Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston. Halloween means pumpkins, candy and especially costumes. It's a great time for parents and children to use their imaginations to create a scary with a graceful ballerine or a funny clown. Unfortunately, this fun night can be more dangerous than most. Adults should accompany children. Cumbrous costumes, wigs and masks, dark conditions and careless motorists combine into a deadly brew. So, be observant and careful!

Meeting dates changed

The regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court has been changed to 3 p.m. Nov. 3 due to the election on Nov. 2.

The November council meeting at Mt. Vernon has been cancelled due to the election. The next meeting of the council will be Dec. 6.

Men charged for selling firearms

Three Crab Orchard men have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of selling firearms to be sold on the streets of Chicago. The guns were cheap, small-caliber handguns to be resold. Charged dealing in firearms without a license were James Douglas Brummett, 27, John D. Gross, 25, and Plez E. Gross, 27, all of Crab Orchard, and Jose A. Rivera, 32, of Chicago and Hershel W. Adams, 29, of Lancaster. Adams and Rivera were also charged with possession of firearms by a convicted felon. The guns were said to have been bought in 1991 and 1992 at dealerships in Mt. Vernon, Stanford, Lancaster and Danville. The indictments resulted from allegations that the Kentucky men bought more than 100 guns from the dealerships and that Rivera transported them to Chicago.

Voters down from May

Rockcastle lost voters between May and November, according to County Clerk Norma Houk. A total of 9,279 voters are registered to vote in the November general election, down from May's total registered voters of 9,458. Republicans in November are 7,496 down from 7,619.

Democrats in November are 1,728 down from 1,786. Those with no preference totaled 15 (the same as May) and others were 40 (up 2). The changes were caused by purging the voter lists of people who have not voted, who died, and who changed addresses.

Livingston fights to save school

Livingston School could be closed for good next spring with the advent of the new middle school opening. The decision will come following the recommendation of the Local Planning Committee.

By: Richard Anderkin One community is worried that their school may be closed next fall and another wants an arcade installed in their school for rainy days. It was two contrasting forums, one at Livingston where 275 community members, parents and students asked members of the Rockcastle Local Planning Committee (LPC) to keep the school open and the other forum at Roundstone where a hand full of staff members and parents asked for numerous improvements to their structure, all the way from building a new gymnasium or lunchroom to installing a game room for students. At the Livingston forum, County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis told the committee Thursday night, "We are not of the opinion that bigger schools make better schools."

Tech Prep program implemented at RCHS

The Rockcastle County High School has been given a planning grant to plan for implementation of a Tech Prep program in the fall of 1994. A Tech Prep Coordinator has been named and plans are now underway to establish guidelines for the program. She is Diana Waddle. Tech Prep is a program being implemented in many high schools nationally which helps students prepare for careers that need some college but not necessarily a four year degree.

In the past, high schools have provided a detailed curriculum for students who wish to go to college. They were expected to complete certain pre-college courses in English, Science, Social Studies, Math, and Foreign Language. In the Tech Prep curriculum, students will be expected to take some of the same courses, but might also be expected to take nutrition, anatomy, industrial technology, and computer science, as part of their program for graduation.

Tech Prep has some unique characteristics. The high school works closely with business and industry to establish a curriculum that matches the skills needed in the workplace with what is taught outside the classroom in an actual work site. The high school works with colleges, vocational schools, and universities, to allow seniors to get college credit while still in high school.

Don't forget to vote on Tuesday

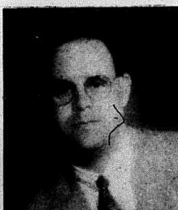

City voters

In city elections, the Mt. Vernon mayor's race tops the agenda. Gary R. Cromer, incumbent, is opposed by city councilman Bob Bailey. In Mt. Vernon City Council race there are 8 candidates. Incumbents, Lee D. Keene, Clark Kirby, Lou Vanhoose, Clark Joe Mullins are candidates for re-election along with newcomers, Karen K. King, Wayne Gregory, Don Jones, and Terry L. Owens. Vote for 6. In Brodhead, incumbent Mayor Billy B. Bussell is unopposed. Five candidates are for city commissioner. Vote for 4. The candidates are C.B. Owens Jr., Johnny Wilcox, D.A. Robbins (deceased since filing), Curtis Brown and Ricky Vanzant.

Incumbent Mayor Gary Cromer

In Livingston, incumbent mayor Ralph Hamilton is unopposed. Four candidates are for city commission. They are, Peggy McClure, Hershel Niceley, Ed Lile and Todd Mink. Vote for 4.

County ballot light

Voters in Rockcastle County will go to the polls Tuesday to elect city officials and a few county candidates. Most county office holders are unopposed having won a spirited May Primary. They are Ray Carmichael, commonwealth attorney, Circuit Court Clerk Denver Miller, Property Valuation Administrator H.E. "Elmer" Hale, County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis, County Attorney Jeffrey T. Burdette, County Clerk Norma Houk, Sheriff Shirley Smith, Jailer Joseph L. "Joe" Howard, Coroner Billy Dowell, County Surveyor James L. Winstead, and District Judge, First Division, Michael L. Henry. There is opposition in a few other offices.

In the District Judge's race, incumbent Walter F. Maguire Jr. is opposed by Robert H. Brown. In the District 5 magistrates race, incumbent Donald Bullock is opposed by write-in candidate Joe Clark. In District 3, Bill McKinney, Republican, is opposed by Democrat T.G. Laswell. In District 4, incumbent Amos Burdette, Republican is opposed by Shaun Tracy Poynter, Democrat. In District 1, Shannon D. Bishop, Republican, is opposed by John Holgrove, Democrat. Incumbent magistrate Charles Holbrook, is a write-in candidate. In the District 1, Constable race, Randall Stevens, Republican, is opposed by...

The driving habits of people have changed much since I and a few other local Jehus burned up the highways and byways of Rockcastle County, back in the fabulous fifties. (Those were the days, my friend, and they did end.) People then, as now, drove at two speeds: safe and unsafe.

For those who don't read the Good Book, Jehu drove the fastest chariot around in biblical times—excluding, of course, Charlton Heston and Elijah, who flashed up to heaven in a "chariot of fire." Jehu won the AC Jericho 100 three years in a row. (That's still the record. An old NASCAR acquaintance of mine, Rod O'Dometer, says Jehu's feat will never be beaten. I agree. Beating feat went out with the switch.)

Chapter nine of the Old Testament's "Second Book of Kings" tells about a palace watchman who looked out from the ramparts of his master's castle and spied dust billowing along the road approaching their fortress. "Jumpin' Jehoshaphat!" he shrieked, "That has to be Jehu coming out on way for driveth furiously!" In the annals of history those words were said of only one other individual. I speak, of course, of Mr. Vernon's very own "Barney Oldfield," namely, the now hoary-headed (that's King James, folks!) Melvin "Snooky" Taylor—peerless dump-truck driver, matchless backhoe operator, and dozer driver par excellence!

Dear Hears, are you standing at attention or observing a minute of silence? You should be. That verse fragment in the paragraph above, "he driveth furiously," is pure King James! If that translation of the Bible was good enough for Peter and Paul—and Mary, too—it's good enough for me, and should be for you, although I still have trouble with "thee, thou," and "thine," and "shouldst, couldst" and "wouldst." "Oris it 'shouldst, couldst' and 'wouldst'?" And lately, I'm not to elated about the apostle Paul's order for us to put on "bowels of mercy."

"Get a load of Sam!" whispered Jim to Jack as they looked out on the congregation from the tenor section of the choir loft.

"Where?" Jack whispered back.

"Right side. Back pew, on the end."

Jim said
"Whatta you mean 'Get a load?' asked Jack.
"Just look! What's that thing hanging around his neck," explained Jim. "It looks like link sausages. Gross!"
"Gosh, Jim, don't you know?" Jack gently replied. "Why, those are bowels of mercy. They're the 'in thing' on the TBL club (Take the Bible Literally). I'm gonna wear some next Sunday—but mine looks like bra wurst. I got them free when I sent in a hundred dollars."

Merle! I've lost my point—if there was one! Oh yes! I planned to say that after surviving three auto wrecks with nothing more than bruises—two of three had me at the wheel—I remained fearless when it came to "flying high and sailing low."

"My 'Bum'em up Barnes' mentality," subsided, however, one afternoon after I witnessed an accident. It was following a large, loaded cattle truck. Just as I attempted to pass, the truck swerved over into my lane and ran me off onto the shoulder of the road. I kept control of my car, slowly braked, control of the car, and dropped back.

The truck began to sway from one lane to the other. I figured the driver was "on" something, and since I was only a mile or two from my exit, I followed, far back.

Suddenly, I glimpsed something black streaking ahead of the truck. It was a big wheel speeding down the highway—a wheel from the cattle truck! For a moment or so, the truck stopped, but as the driver began braking, the frame dropped and the right front drum dug into the asphalt, flipping the truck around and over on its side into a small ditch.

A few cattle didn't survive, but the rest, fifteen or so head, clambored out of the bed and dispersed in twenty different directions, bellowing and replenishing the soil.

I stopped to give help, if possible. I tried to get to the driver, but the cattle hindered my forward progress. And while I was negotiating with a big Gruesey, the driver scrambled out of the cab, jumped down, and to my amazement, lit out down the road in the direction he had been driving.

What on earth? He's going into shock, I thought. Then he halted, dropped his knees, and put his face into his hands. As I came near, he seemed to be crying. I walked up behind him. There in front of him in the ditch was that right front wheel. He was crying.

That poor soul looked down at the wheel in the ditch, sobbed some more, and then, waited these mournful words: You picked a fine time to leave me. Loose Wheel! Four hungry children, and a crop in the field!

I mentioned I have been in three auto accidents. One happened when a friend was at the wheel of my Ford. He pulled out of a side street, and another car, closer than we thought, plowed into us. No one was hurt, and my car was perfectly repaired. That friend was Charles David Riddle.

Today, Sunday, October 24, has been the most beautiful day in this last week of the month. I want to hold on to it, not let it go, as a child hangs on to a parent.

We've had some samples of what's coming on and I'm telling you there's nothing good about it. I don't care for runny noses or aches all over the body. I can't take walks up to the large lake where my 'former almost like children' are swimming around, hardly noticing me.

Our dog stays gone (romancing) a lot so I feel very lonely with John being gone to the molasses cooking place. But this last week has ended it. So many folks wanted molasses and they ran out.

Johnny Todd stopped electioneering long enough to call about some molasses. He was disappointed as were a lot of folks. Joanne Cummins works in Colonel Sanders fried chicken place in Berea said her once husband had been a preacher at Clear Creek Church some time ago. She said they had eaten Sunday dinner with about every family in the church so she knew lots of the folks I wrote about.

Joanne is a very pretty woman. She spoke to me as John and I went in Monday night to eat supper after we had been to Mt. Vernon.

She talked a lot to me and called my name saying she had known me through this column so I guess I can call her a long time reader.

I see by last week's paper that County Judge Buzz Carlfort has started having court (I plan to get arrested) surrounded by pretty girls. Kentucky is know for its fast horses and pretty women or is it the other way around, fast women and pretty horses. Well, we have both as you can see by the crowds at Renfro Valley. The judge knows what he's doing all right!

I have found out I am 1/16 Cherokee Indian coming down from my grandmother Payne Lakes. So are Kay Williams at Berea, National Bank and Earl Hammond in Berea. So don't fool around with us, Kay and I sometimes carry a tomahawk on our person.

Driving down Holt Hill last week, we saw the old home of Aunt Ollie Holt, my mother's sister, being torn down, except for the kitchen.

I tell you I gave me such sadness to think of the times I've visited in that house and seen Aunt Ollie's pleasant looking face with a sweet smile on it. She raised a family of boys and girls by herself and it was not easy.

The kitchen smelled of good cooking which she would do and kept everything spicy and span. Aunt Ollie has been gone many years but her memory will always be there for me.

The old house is being torn down now. Only the kitchen remains standing with an empty window where I had seen her face so much as she waved to me.

One day she wasn't there to wave anymore and a link in the Abbey family chain was broken.

I saw Etta Davis in Denny's for Sunday lunch recently and asked when the Senior Citizens' Center would open.

Etta said the building was in the finishing stages so we can get set to help the folks celebrate (just how, I don't know).

Well, I've gotten hooked on "sour dough bread" and it is great. It is made by employees of the Gammon Farms. After I ate one loaf I buy it most every day. Also I buy a pint of raspberry preserves and hold on to your tongue or you'll swallow it too! The shop is located at the corner of Chestnut Street and Boone Street and they make the stuff there. Hold on when you experience the good smells in the bakery.

Jane Yanwinkle had been visiting in folks in Indiana but when she came home we went by with a gallon of molasses John had sold her when they had just started making them.

Jane is a pretty looking woman who shouldn't be living by herself so I asked about her "love life" and she said she wasn't telling me anything. Why! I'm liable to starve with no news!

"Roamin' Rockcastle"

The Galilee Baptist Church is a beautiful building. John and I decided to give two artificial pink Dogwood trees for a background to the pulpit and baptistry. It has been so rainy, we were unable to get the trees out there until last Saturday. Kay and Lee agreed to meet us and the men agreed to be guided inspectors as to where they should stand.

Mark McGuire came in to be a third inspector. We finished.

"When we were given, I told Lee Abney the church owed me for the flowers but I would settle for a few songs."

"Okay," Lee told us and gathering up some instruments, he and Mark started "God on the Mountain."

I almost broke me down. I believe that is the most touching song I've ever heard especially as sung by Mark and Lee.

Kay joined the men in "The Hills of Home" which is a religious song.

Then as we got ready to go, I said, "Lee since you owed me for the trees and I owe you all for the songs, can we square off and call the debt paid?"

"We'll say it paid," and Lee and I shook hands on the bargain.

A note signed, in the old days, wasn't needed. Folks shook hands to make a bargain and it was too.

The office staff of the Signal fell all over themselves in accepting my invitation to join in Clear Creek's annual (every year) Snipe Hunt are having.

Rick is such a sportsman, he said, "I'll surely will be there and bring Cindy too!"

Back in Berea, we stopped at Edd Croucher's and asked if he could be a leader of one group that goes out to hunt.

Edd hasn't been too well, lately but he perked up and said, "I wouldn't miss it. What do we wear, a tie and socks with our best clothes?"

Jaunita was laughing and said, "If Edd goes, I'll have to go in order to help him back home."

Across the street from the Crouchers, lives Earl and Katie Hammond whose roots are deep on Clear Creek. We found them sitting in their living room watching TV. Earl looks better, than he has in a long time even though he was in the hospital for a week, a week or so ago.

"Earl, we need you again to lead a bunch of snipe hunters in the yearly hunt that we go on every fall," I said to him.

"You can count on us. I know I'll feel much better this week. When does it take place?" Earl answered.

The Clear Creek leaders have chosen this Saturday night, October 30th when there'll be a full moon by the calendar. I know a lot of folks are going by that moon.

"The snipe should be easier to catch or they might be hard to slip up on. It will be hard but the crowd seem to like it that way," I told Earl.

You know people are disgusted by the bad times we are having and going through, shooting and killing our lawmen.

Folks want some innocent fun that everybody can enjoy. Those not able to get over the hill will join by the big fire on Clear Creek at the Three Forks of the road and wait out the "hunters."

I talked to my good friend, Mary Harding at Disputanta who said she and Jobs will join us in the hunt.

No one has ever brought in a snipe in all the years we have gone into the hills on a hunt.

Joe Abney, the "streaker," said he and Ruth will join us. I hope Ruth brings a Kumaquat as several of us are doing. Ruth makes the greatest ones I've ever eaten.

Nyra Hart brought one of her apple cakes which everybody exclaimed over. I guess Fred Williams, a cousin to Nyra at Berea, will come when he hears Nyra is bringing one of those "mouth-watering" cakes.

The telephone rang last night and when I answered, I heard Henry Voltner in Indiana say, "When are we having the snipe hunt, I am in to be there!"

He said he would come by plane to Lexington, rent a car and go to Renfro Valley to get Susan Tomes who will come with Henry."

If Susan is a hill country girl, she will do alright in the hunting.

Last year Henry almost got in trouble and sure got me in a fracas about Shirley Abney when he went with her.

But I'm glad to say, she will have someone else to take her even though they've never met.

Britton Chevrolet Olds has a sales man they should never let go and I'll have you meet Mike Berry, a real good (looking) fellow wearing a dark mustache and smiling most of the time, salesman.

Mike thought up a trick, I guess you could call it, to sell cars and I fell for it.

Mike knows I'd steal (almost) to get some persimmons which are ripe now after the frosts that we've been having.

Mike calls me and says, "I've got some persimmons for you. Remember last year I promised to bring you some and didn't get any - well, come down and get these I've had in the car. By the way, we've got some cars you might like to see, old and new."

I went wild and hurried down to Britton when I saw Mike out front grinning and knew I'd been taken. I didn't mind when I saw the big, nice pan of wild persimmons which I brought home and put in the deep freeze. Christmas I'll have a persimmon pie!

Mike and I looked all over the lot for a car that I would like but none I wanted.

We even talked of new cars coming in soon but both my sons, Russell and Chesley rare up on their hind legs when I talk of buying a new car. I'll wait around and maybe Mike will find me a bargain. In the meantime, I'll see he meets Shirley Abney, one of the prettiest girls I know.

Bertie Parsons at the Berea Branch National Bank says she and her husband will join us Saturday night.

When I told Conley Saylor when we were going, a smile on his face broke all to pieces but I said we'd wait for him and Virginia until they closed the store which was having a Month-Long Madress Sale. Conley's smile came back. But I don't trust Conley for he's liable to play tricks on some of us in the hunt.

I was in the store the other night buying groceries when Conley came down the aisle grinning as if he'd caught my hand in the cookie jar.

"I'm not doing anything," I said.

"No, but you were going to," said this man as he came on.

Now how in the world can you do business with a store owner who accuses you of mischief - I wasn't going to but there's always another time!

Hope Tip Reppert and wife make it to the hunt. A lawman who was so good in catching law breakers, should be able to get a snipe.

Till next week. "Love me or leave me" but remember I get half of everything.

Points East
By: Ike Adams

Not since the War Between the States has Kentucky seen as many casualties on a single week-end. But there was no armed battle going on.

Hundreds of thousands of Woolly Worms met death in Kentucky last Saturday and little dark spots, like dots on a Dalmatian, mark our highways where Woolly Worms used to be. There simply isn't much left to bury after the tires on an automobile traveling 55 mph run over a Woolly. There's not even enough for last rites.

Last week-end, the city of Beattyville, in Lee County, hosted a Woolly Worm Festival. Assuming that the local law enforcement personnel would have some sort of control on traffic, Woollies flocked to Beattyville from all over the country. If you were an average Woolly Worm, Beattyville was the place to be.

Now they lie dead in heaps in the middle of the roads leading into Lee County. Even Miami would have been a safer place to tour. But that's neither here nor there.

Tourists get killed every year in Miami.

And while the general Woolly tourists were diverted to festivities in Beattyville, more serious worms were making their way to Cartersville, the site of this year's annual weather forecasting convention conducted by the National Association of Woolly Worm Winter Weather Watchers, (better known as NAWWWWWWW).

Cartersville was the place the be if you wanted to rub whiskers with the intellectually elite. Woollies turned out by the thousands to have their say about the coming winter. Doug Rhodus, on whose farm and business premises they convened this year, didn't experience the dramatic increase in retail sales that merchants over in Beattyville drew because academic endeavors seldom draw much in the way of a spectator crowd. The human species will turn out in mass to watch Woolly Worm Races. But nobody wants to observe their thinking ability.

Of course, it works the same way with our kids. Half the community will turn out for a basketball or football game and pay good money to get in. At an academic tournament, you across black-top, the convention was fairly orderly.

Incidentally, several folks have written in to see if they can join NAWWWWW. Unfortunately, it's an order that here-to-fore has accepted only two human members -- Byron Crawford and myself. Byron informed us that he could no longer be an objective reporter and a member at the same time so that leaves just me. And, I make no claim at being any more objective about NAWWWWW than those newspaper editors who sit on city councils, school boards and stuff like that.

Anyway, the official NAWWWWW forecast follows:

Late fall/early winter will produce more of the coldest weather over the next several months. The very coldest nights will occur between Thanksgiving and the end of the year. Look for one brief spell near zero or lower temperatures in December and some snow. More than half of the Woollies predict a snowy Christmas than last year when I snickered briefly on Christmas Day here in Cartersville.

Winter will be wet and mild overall, but like last year, more rain than across black-top, the convention was fairly orderly.

Incidentally, several folks have written in to see if they can join NAWWWWW. Unfortunately, it's an order that here-to-fore has accepted only two human members -- Byron Crawford and myself. October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month

1 of 9 women in the United States will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. In recognition of this staggering statistic, the severity of the disease, and its impact on women's health nationally, President Clinton has declared October National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

According to American Cancer Society recommendations every woman should perform monthly breast self-examination, have annual breast examination by their physician, and have mammograms as recommended. The ACS recommends that every woman have a baseline mammogram at age 35. From age 40 to 50, it is recommended that a mammogram be done every 1-2 years depending on the patient's symptoms, their family history, and their physicians recommendation. After the age of 50, a woman should have a mammogram annually.

If you have any questions concerning mammography, or if you are interested in scheduling a mammogram, please contact the Rockcastle Hospital, Inc. at 256-2195 or your family physician.

Re-Elect Gary R. Cromer Mayor

For several months now my opponent has said he wants new leadership and new ideas. He has never made public any of these new ideas.

1. Do you wonder, as I, what these new ideas are?
2. Do you wonder what these new ideas might cost?
3. Do you wonder why he has not made any of his new ideas public?
4. Do you wonder why he wants a new voice, yet has missed 10 meetings?
5. Do you remember what his position is on taxes?

At the October 5, 1992 Council Meeting he made a motion to re-introduce the payroll tax that had been tabled at the previous meeting, which he did not attend.

Can we the citizens and taxpayers afford 5 years of unidentified new ideas and new leadership of my opponent?

Attendance
The lucky winners of last week's attendance prize drawing were Stephanie Hamilton and Steven Kidwell. Also, Ms. Fain's homeroom class has 31 consecutive days of perfect attendance. With everyone's help, we can continue to have an attendance record of 99 percent or better.

Boss' Day
Last Friday was Boss' Day and teachers and staff welcomed the opportunity to express their appreciation to Mr. Carter for his dedication and strong leadership.

Among his most admirable qualities, teachers noted his respect for the opinions and ideas of adults and students, and his ability to instill in others a feeling of empowerment. Thank you, Mr. Carter, for believing in us. Lexington Herald quotes LES student

When Chris Kirby, a fourth grader in Mrs. Martha Eversole's class, wrote a paper defending his position about whether or not LES should be closed, little did he know that his exact words would be used as the leading lines in a story published in the Lexington Herald on Saturday, October 23. We commend Chris on his interest in his school and community. An excerpt from Saturday's story is as follows:
The message was simple.
"Please do not close Livingston Elementary School. It is a little school that is good."

That plea from a student was relayed Thursday night to Rockcastle County teachers, administrators and parents who must decide whether the school should stay open.

Primary news
Last week the A.C.F. Gang P3-4, went to Lexington on a field trip. Their first stop was the new playground at Jacobson park where they had a great time. Later, they visited the "Back to the Dinosaur Exhibit" at Turfand Mall where they saw robotic dinosaurs and were able to participate in hands-on activities pertaining to dinosaurs.

Intermediate news

Pumpkins have been the focus of a mini-unit in fifth grade. Students weighed, measured, and grouped their pumpkins in math. After each student painted a face on his pumpkin and gave it a name, the pumpkins came to life when students wrote pumpkin adventure stories.

Question of the Week:

If you could have anybody's job in the whole school, whose would you want and why?

Robbie Carpenter: "Mr. Webb's because he teaches people and they learn."

Tammy McKinney: "Mrs. Cummins because she helps kids."

Maggie Phillips: "Mrs. Arnold's. I'm positive! I love books."

Teddie Stallworth: "Arnold Brown because he's a good bus driver."

Luke Halford: "Mr. Peggy. I'd like to teach P2, but I don't want to be a girl."

Miranda Skidmore: "I'd like to be Mrs. Jenny because she is nice to me."

Leslie Miller: "I want Mrs. Cindy's job. I think her job is very important."

Cassie Hamilton: "Mr. Bullen's because he gets to play whatever he wants to play."

John Kulin: "Mr. Carter's. If you get detention, you will be better."

A. J. Powell: "Mr. Carter's. I like Mr. Carter. He is the boss of the school."

John Phillips: "Otis Howard's. It would be fun to drive a bus."

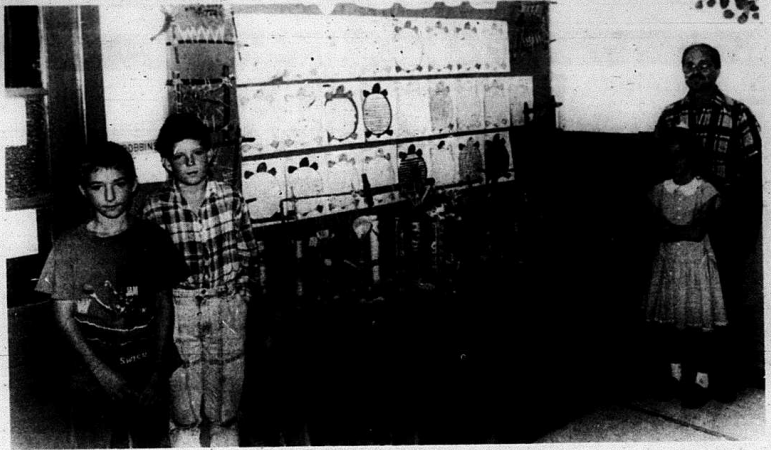

Justin Taylor: "Mrs. Ballinger's. She gives hard homework."

Tosha Farris: "Mrs. Ponder's. She helps people. She weighed me."
Rose Prewitt: Mrs. Peggy's because she makes you do hard math."

Josh Vanwinkle: "Miss Grigsby's. She's a nice girl."

Steven Pigg: "Mr. Roark's. He's good."

Sam Isaacs: "Mr. Medley's. I'd really like to drive his bus."

Shown in the above photo are students in Mr. Michael Robbins' 5th grade class at LES who recently finished a project on Indian stretched hides, which the students wrote messages on in Indian symbols; totem poles, which represented members of each child's family and shown on the bulletin board is an Indian folktale, which was written by each child.

night 6 - 8 p.m. Preschool - grade 6

This week in the primary entry grades they are doing a fall play for their parents. They just started a unit on pumpkins. They are studying the letter H and the number 9. They are holding a costume party.

Mrs. Reed is out on maternity leave and her class sends their best wishes.

In Mrs. Smith's class, Kena Coats is the student of the week. They took a trip to see the dinosaurs at the Turfand Mall. They had a picnic and played in the park. They had a great time. They finished their dinosaur project, and it was a big success. They also made a video of their adventure.

In Mrs. McKinney's class is studying ancient Greece and writing about Julius Caesar.

The primary grade had a special guest, Ronald McDonald.

Mrs. Cornelius' music classes have been busy learning about melody. The primary students have been learning how to identify high and low notes in different songs. While the fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students are learning to put numbers with notes. Junior High students are eagerly awaiting the arrival of their records, which will aid them in learning about melody by playing upward and downward scales.

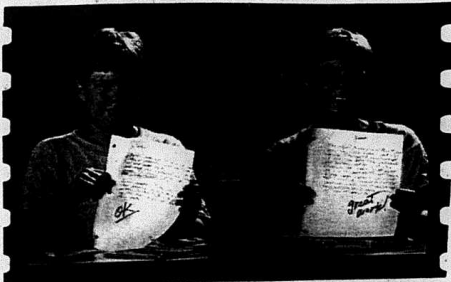

The eighth grade honors chorus enjoyed a wonderful day of music at the RCHS Fall Festival October 19th.

A special thanks to Mrs. Lohana and Mrs. Margie Wilcop for a great day. The fifth and sixth graders are busy preparing for C.K.M.E.A. They are excited about representing their school.
In Mrs. Roark's class, they went and saw "Dinosaurs Alive," Wednesday and ate lunch at Jacobson Park. In Mrs. Maple's class, they are doing pumpkin math and also went to see "Back to the Dinosaurs," at Turfand Mall. They are studying cats

At Southwest Elementary, Jason Robbins is succeeding against some pretty tough competition. Himself.

The classroom can be an overwhelming environment for young students. At Southwest Elementary in Calloway County, however, the Primary Program is giving Jason Robbins and his fellow students a personal challenge they look forward to every day.

Designed to allow young students to advance at their own pace, the Primary Program doesn't confine students to specific age groups or grade levels. Instead, kids are grouped and regrouped in order to encourage success in learning. In this way, each student is specifically challenged to reach higher personal goals than ever before. For Jason Robbins and other students throughout the state, that's the challenge they need.

A vital part of the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA), the Primary Program is providing Kentucky's kids with a positive outlook towards learning. And the self-esteem to meet every challenge that comes their way.

For more information on the Primary Program, call 1-800-928-2111 or 1-800-KDE-KERA.

and the five senses. Nikki Siano has a birthday Saturday.
Willie Cooper is our "Student of the Week." We will be having our Halloween Party on Friday. We will be making popcorn ghosts this week and weighing our pumpkins using tiles. We would like to welcome Amber Hasty to our class and welcome back Ashley Hobbs.

Mr. Napier's math class, students have been working on perimeter and 2-digit multiplication. In Science, they are studying about sound and in Social Studies, Spanish explorers. They are learning to defend a position in writing.

Mr. Love's fourth grade students are busy working on pieces for their writing and math portfolios. In Social Studies, they are learning how rivers are formed and how to read map grids. They organized their 4-H club a few weeks ago. The name of the 4-H club is Mean Green 4-H Kids. Rhonda McClure came in 3rd in the 4-H Poster Contest in the county.

In Mrs. Kaye Cameron's class, they had their monthly 4-H meeting. Billy Haddix, the president, presided over the meeting. They've gone ten days without an absence. That means a pizza party in the room. They are working toward 20 days so that they can go to the Pizza Hut. In Social Studies, students are studying about the Vikings and Leif Ericson. JoAnn Lake won $5 for the best decorated pumpkin in our room. Christy Winter, in Mr. Napier's room, came in 2nd with $2.50. Billy Haddix and AJ.

Reams made the basketball team. Brian Collins of Channel 27 will be visiting the fifth grade in a couple of weeks to talk about weather in Science.

Ms. Wallin's classes are making poetry books.
The MVE'S Y-Club met on Thursday, October 21 to discuss plans for the dance on the 28th from 6 to 8 p.m. for Mt. Vernon students only. Grades 4 through 8 are invited to attend. They also went over the agenda for their trip to Frankfort on November 7, 8 and 9. Every one is looking forward to the trip.

Several businesses have helped the Y-Club with fundraising activities. E.C. Porter donated a country ham. Cox Florist donated a floral wreath and Sara Renner's mom, Vivian, donated a stuffed rabbit. When the drawing was held on October 15, Chris Cornelius won the country ham, Mrs. Jamie Cornelius won the wreath, and Mrs. Louise Kirby won the rabbit. A big thank you to all who helped out.

R.C.H.S. Future Homemakers of America off to a great school year

The F.H.A. Chapter at the high school is off to a very good start. We held a membership drive in September. We now have 100 members. F.H.A. has many community involved projects among these are Big Buddies/Caring is Sharing. These two projects have already begun and both are in the process of evaluating applicants.

Big Buddies/Little Buddies is patterned from the Big Brother/Big Sister organization with the exception of the buddies being under 18 years of age. A responsible high school student is matched with an at-risk child to spend time with them and to be their role model for one year.
Caring is Sharing is a project in which a student goes at least once a week to visit their special friend in the Respiratory Care Unit at the Rockcastle Hospital. Both of these projects are a very good way to be role models and special friends to others.

F.H.A. has a new project this year. Adopt an Orphan was started a couple of years ago but dropped last year due to the lack of response. This year our orphan is from Honduras. Money will be collected monthly and sent to help our orphan.
The "Get It On" seat belt project will be started soon. This involves a pledge from students saying that they will buckle up for safety.
The F.H.A. is very excited about these projects and we hope the community will become involved also. Help support F.H.A.

EKU Spotlight Day offers info, football game for students and their parents

Attention all high school students and their families in Rockcastle County!
You have a special invitation to visit Eastern Kentucky University Saturday, Nov. 13, during EKU's seventh annual Spotlight Day.
The event will include campus tours, academic exhibits and information about class room tours, and residence hall visits. The day ends with free admission to watch the EKU Colonels take on Middle Tennessee in an important Ohio Valley Conference football game at 7 p.m. (The Blue Raiders, who played the conference, have struggled early, while the Colonels, led by Greg Couch of Hyden at quarterback and Mike Pennam of Stanford at tailback, figure to be in the thick of the title chase.)

"Visitors will be able to talk with our students, faculty members and residence hall directors," said Les Grigsby, director of EKU's Division of Admissions. "They can attend a football game, and just generally see what campus life at EKU is all about."
Registration will begin in the Keen Johnson Building at 1 p.m. and for the next three hours, EKU's academic departments will have exhibits and information available in the Keen Johnson Ballroom.
"Visitors' exhibits will be set up like an information fair, where students can browse and get as much information as they want. No formal presentations are scheduled.

Also, from 1 to 4 p.m., Eastern's residence halls will be open for tours, and campus tours will be given from 1:30 to 4:15 p.m. A number of classrooms and departments across campus will also be open so students can see first-hand EKU's learning environment.
Pre-game activities will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Roney-Kell Stadium, followed by the 7 p.m. kickoff. Complimentary game passes will be given to Spotlight Day visitors. The Colonel roster includes 43 in-state players.
"Choosing the right place to continue an education is an important decision," Grigsby said. "We believe this special day gives students a feel for the special atmosphere of our University."

Farm Field Day

The Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District presented a Farm Field Day for all fifth graders in Rockcastle County on October 7. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Sigmon hosted the field day on their farm. There were approximately 250 fifth graders in attendance. We had six different stations set up for the students to visit. Topics discussed were: erosion, water quality, animal care, fire safety, tree identification, wildlife habitat, and farming in Rockcastle County. Those who participated in the stations were, Tom Edwards, Department of Fish and Wildlife, Dr. James Chism, Rockcastle County Veterinary, Tom Mills and John McQuary of Rockcastle County Extension, Marvin Stone and Ken Thompson, Division of Forestry and Randall Templeman, Soil Conservation Service. The District would like to give a special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gene Sigmon who were so helpful and gracious to all who participated. Also to the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company of Corbin, who sponsored the soft drinks for the field day. Photographs taken by Ms. Elizabeth Morgan an SCS Earth Team Volunteer.

RCHS media class developing directory of community resources

The media class at RCHS is taken on a special project this semester.

Students are compiling a directory of possible speakers and tours from the community which can be used by teachers for classroom enrichment or club meetings.

In addition to those in various professions, vocations, businesses and offices in the county, students are interested in finding other people who would agree to share their knowledge with students. For example, history (or other classes) would benefit from hearing first hand from a Rockcastle Countian about how the Depression, the CCC, or war affected his or her life.

If you have a topic you would feel comfortable discussing with students in the classroom or know someone who does, call the school at 256-4816 and leave a name and number for the media class.

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all the voters in the 5th District for voting for me in the May Primary Election.

I would like to ask for your vote again on November 2.

Your Vote and Influence Would be Greatly Appreciated.

Buzz Carlolius was a guest speaker at the weekly Kiwanis luncheon. As County Judge Executive he hopes to initiate several projects while in office. He spoke of the need for safe passable roads for our school buses, encouraging a better climate for small businesses to emerge, recreation sites established in several areas in our county, and the building of a farmers market.

Walter Maguire was also a guest speaker at the luncheon. He spoke of his record as District Judge for Pulaski and Rockcastle County and his lifetime of public service.

The purpose of the Commission's open forum sessions is to offer question-answer discussions on the various concerns of utility customers in Casey, Laurel, Lincoln, McCreary, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne and Whitley counties. Anyone interested in making a five-minute presentation to the Commission is encouraged to do so.

Representing the Commission will be Chairman Edward Overbey Jr., Vice-Chairman Dr. Robert M. Davis and Commissioner Linda K. Breathitt. Also in attendance will be the Commission's General Counsel and various Division Directors.

Open Forum

The Kentucky Public Service Commission has scheduled its seventh, in a series of open forums focusing on issues facing the state's utility customers to be held November 4, in Somerset.

Pulaski County Judge/Executive Darrell Beshears will be hosting the Commission's open forum at 7 p.m. at the Pulaski County Courthouse, 2nd floor court room. Business and community leaders, as well as legislative, county and city officials will also be attending.

ON NOV. 2nd VOTE FOR & RE-ELECT JUDGE WALTER F. MAGUIRE

High School Football co-captain

Dedicated Judge and Civic Leader

Concerned & Involved Family Man

Campaigning with old friends: Judge Maguire, Camp. Co-Chairman Larry Stringer, Hon. Larry Forgy, Det. Kay Stringer.

ON NOV. 2nd STAND UP FOR THE BEST
JUDGE WALT MAGUIRE was raised in Pulaski County, has close ties to Rockcastle County and has served with distinction as your Conservative District Judge for 12 years.

Here is what some outstanding Kentuckians have had to say about Judge Walt Maguire:

"Walt Maguire as a citizen and public official has stood out as a man of genuine intelligence and integrity. He has demonstrated in his profession the same sound character traits which he exhibited as a young and eager student.

His vita reveals how active and committed he has been in public affairs. He has served in an area of Kentucky where often the very souls of public men are tried, and he has stood the acid test.

"I can truthfully say that in the four years that I was privileged to serve with Judge Maguire, he was one of about three persons on the (State Judicial) Council who contributed most to our work. He was innovative, responsible and was given numerous special assignments because of his abilities."

Hon. Charles Landrum Jr.
Former President
Kentucky Bar Association

"Walt has distinguished himself in college, law school and in his personal and professional life as a highly conscientious, capable and impeccably honest fellow."

Steven L. Beshear
Former Attorney General
and Kentucky Lt. Governor

"Walter has as much character and integrity as anyone I know and far more than most. His natural instinct invariably is to do what is right as he sees it. I am absolutely sure that no one could ever appear in a courtroom ever which he has presided and expect to receive anything more or anything less than equal treatment. That is just the way he is and in my opinion that is the way a judge ought to be."

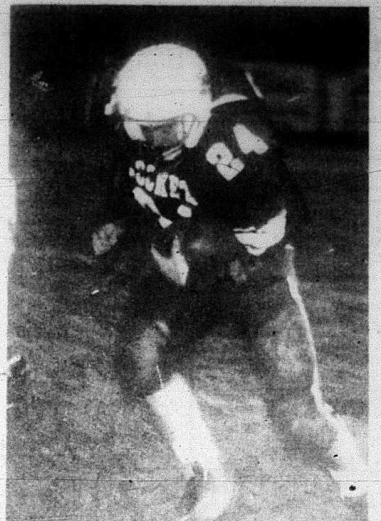

Prof. Robert G. Lawson
Former Dean,
UK College of Law

JUDGE WALT MAGUIRE is an alumnus of the University of UK, the UK College of Law, and the National Judicial College and has received several awards during his term of the National's leading law school, the National College of District Attorneys and numerous Kentucky Judicial Colleges. He is highly qualified to serve you and has shown his service to be caring about the people of Rockcastle Co.

Shane Thacker, Mickey McClure and Shawn Thacker open a hole for running back Mikhael Shafer in Friday night's 41-14 win over Madison Southern. The Rockets improved their record to 8-1 and assured themselves of a play-off spot.

Senior Jason Payne rushed for 73 yards Friday night against Southern. Payne also had the first score of the game on a 47 yard scamper.

Rockets clinch play-off spot

Rockets roll over Southern 41-14

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rockets assured themselves a third straight trip to the state play-offs with an easy victory over visiting Madison Southern Friday night.

Will likely face Mercer in first round of play-offs

The Rock racked up 410 yards of total offense and put 41 points on the board to take their eighth win in nine games. The Rockets also improved their district mark to 3 and 1 and sealed yet another spot in post-season play.

Madison Southern's defense which had been highly touted earlier in the year couldn't stop the Rock on the ground or through the air. The Rock offense scored on running plays of 47, 5, 6, 11, 5 and 4 yards, the first coming when Senior Jason Payne broke to the left side in the first period and scampered for 47 yards and the score. The first period, which was marred by penalty after penalty, took forty minutes to complete and saw the Rockets take only an 8-0 lead into the second stanza.

The much talked about senior tailback for the Eagles Jonas Hill was no factor in the game, gaining only 25 yards before he broke an 88 yard run with only 34 seconds to go in the contest. That run, made mostly against the junior varsity, was good for a score and gave Hill a total of 113 yards.

Rockcastle defensive lineman Gordon Sowder sealed the win for the Rockets Sunday night when he met Hill in the Eagle backfield early in the first quarter and laid a massive hit on the tailback.

Hill seemed leary of Rocket defenses from then on.

"I was pretty pleased with our team's performance, except for the penalties in the first half," said Rocket coach Tom Larkey. "We had a lot of kids that stepped up and played a key game for us," he said.

Larkey said that his team is relatively healthy for the regular season finale Friday night against Middlesboro. The Rockets host Middlesboro and each senior and their parents will be honored at halftime.

"We are somewhat worried about Middlesboro's speed, we will need to contain them to win," he said.

Brian Mink and Jason Hunt led the Rocket defense with seven tackles and six tackles respectively in Friday night's contest. J.D. Bussell picked off an Eagle pass, while Mickey McClure recovered a fumble and Chris Goff had two quarterback sacks.

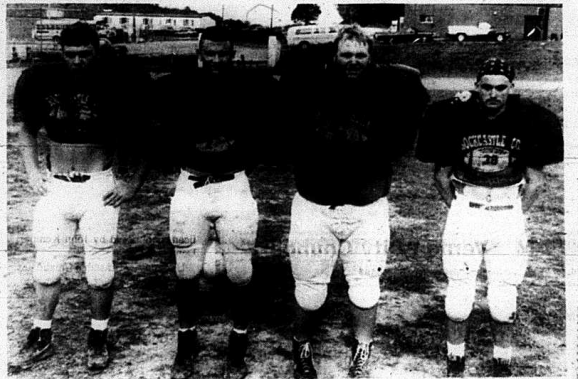

Doug Cromer led the offense with 129 yards on just 9 carries. Mikhael Shafer scored three touchdowns.

Shawn Thacker had 63 yards on 9 carries and Jason Payne had 73 yards on 9 carries. Shafer had 47 yards on 7 carries.

If the Rockets do win, they will most likely finish second in the district behind Somerset, although the Rockets beat Somerset three weeks ago. Rockcastle, Somerset and Corbin would each have a game district loss, provided each wins Friday night and, according to play-off rules, Somerset would win the district on the tie-breaker. The only way Rockcastle can win the district tie out-right, is if Madison Southern beats Corbin Friday night in Berea.

If that doesn't happen and Rockcastle beats Middlesboro they will host Mercer in the first round of the state play-offs.

If Rockcastle beats Mercer that will set-up the awaited, much talked about game with Danville the second

State Police release traffic figures for 1991-92

There was a total of 11 fatal accidents in Rockcastle County during 1992 as compared to 7 in 1991, according to figures released by the State Police in Frankfort this week.

The report also indicated 150 persons received non-fatal injuries in 1992 as compared to 141 in 1991.

Property damage accidents amounted to 307 in 1992 as compared to 290 in 1991.

Those killed outright in accidents were 13 in 1992 as compared to 8 in 1991. Those injured were 264 in 1992 compared to 260 in 1991.

Of accidents involving drunken drivers 4 were killed outright in accidents in 1992 as compared to 1 in 1991.

Total accidents in 1992 were 19 but in 1991 there were 29. Persons injured in 1992 were 13. In 1992 there were 50.

On Interstate-75 there were 25 killed and 1,028 injured. Total accidents on I-75 were 2,027 with 22 fatal.

Toothman family needs your help with expenses

Kathleen Toothman, 26, wife of Steve Toothman, and mother of two young daughters is needing help with expenses to go to Mayo Clinic.

Kathleen was diagnosed in February with Chronic Lymphocytic Leukemia and doctors in Lexington feel that her best chance for survival are to have special tests done at Mayo Clinic.

The American Cancer Society and R.E.A.P. are appealing for funds to help the family with two round trip air fares to Mayo and lodging for at least four days that the tests are expected to take. Kathleen and Steve will have to be at Mayo Clinic on Nov. 9 so there is not a lot of time to obtain funds.

If anyone would like to donate to this family you may make donations to R.E.A.P. (Note that it is for Kathleen Toothman) and mail to P.O. Box 60, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456.

A donation is tax deductible.

have told us to make plans for growth and we certainly need to keep our school," Salyer said.

"Everyone involved with this school really cares about the children that attend here," said Dennis Elliott, another member of the SBDM at Livingston.

"It is obvious that most people in the Livingston area do not want to see their school closed," said Keith Smith a member of the (LPC).

"I was impressed with their presentation," said school board member Dr. George W. Griffith, who attended the forum, but is not part of the (LPC).

School superintendent Bigg Towery Jr., who is chairman of the (LPC) told the group that he appreciated their good turnout and that the committee was still in the process of gathering information and that no decision or recommendations have been decided on by the 17 member committee.

The first rough draft from the committee should be ready in a couple of months, Towery said.

At Roundstone school Librarian Lois Cameron told (LPC) members that there were several improvements that needed to be made to the structure at Roundstone. Cameron said that she had been asked to speak to the (LPC) committee on behalf of a Roundstone committee that has been working together to come up with a plan for improvements.

Among those improvements would be a new gym or lunchroom, currently the gym and lunchroom occupy the same space in the school, a new heating system for the entire building, a new heating and cooling system for the new addition, more storage space for the kitchen and an office for the kitchen manager as well as an intercom for them, a new teacher's lounge, converting the old one to a room for the pre-school student and remodeling of the current house that houses the pre-school program to make a family resource center, more room in the library, mainly for an audio and visual room and storage, a wooden floor for the current gym if it is not replaced, a combination health and counselors room, panic locks on the doors, more blacktopped areas for students, more parking and more playground equipment.

The Roundstone committee also recommended that fixtures be replaced in the current junior high restroom for the younger students who will be using it next year. The current fixtures are apparently too large.

Principal Kathryn Howard told the (LPC) that most of the recommendations from the Roundstone committee were made keeping in mind that the middle school will be open next fall making more room at Roundstone.

"Roundstone committee members would like to see the extra room used for an art room, a science lab, a music room, among other things."

The game room suggestion came from a parent, who said that students could be rewarded for good academic work by being allowed free tokens to go to the game room.

Mrs. Howard also referred to the heating problem at the school, telling (LPC) members that it was so hot in one of the classrooms recently that the teacher had the air conditioner, the heat off and that crayons were melting.

Mrs. Howard also told the committee that there may be more recommendations in the future and that the committee realized that everything could not be done all at once because of cost restraints.

Tuesday night was the last of the public forums to be held by the (LPC).

Mass murder suspect found

Hardebeck arrested in Fork Church Rd. barn

The two month manhunt for a man wanted for questioning in the shooting deaths of five family members ended Tuesday in the hay loft of a northern Garrard County stock barn.

George Hardebeck, 31, was taken into custody about 10:30 a.m. Tuesday by Deputy Sheriffs Carroll Broadbuss and Buddy Maupin in a barn on Fork Church Road, less than two miles from where the wanted man's abandoned vehicle was found Sept. 16.

Hardebeck, who had been reported sighted in numerous places around Garrard County and Kentucky since his car was found, apparently ventured only a short distance from where his 1974 Ford Escort station wagon ran out of gas on KY 52 near Paper Mill Road on Sept. 4.

"He apparently lived off the land," Sheriff Buddy Rogers said Tuesday.

The Crime

Hardebeck has been charged with the shooting death of his brother-in-law, Virgil Powers, on the family farm near Napoleon Aug. 24 and for questioning in the deaths of his mother, two brothers and his sister whose bodies were found on the farm.

Hardebeck disappeared the night of the shootings and has been sought ever since.

The Garrard County sheriff's department was called to the barn on the property of Dr. Milgorn Ford of Florida by neighbor Beverly Land, who saw a stranger walking into the barn about 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The property is rented by Mrs. Land's father, Joe Broglio, and leased in part by her cousin Roger Ayres.

"I was at the kitchen cutting material," Mrs. Land said. "I don't know what made me look up. I had no reason to. When I did look out the window I saw a man walking into the barn."

Mrs. Land said she could not think of a reason why a man would be in the barn when hay is stored and where she and her husband bottle feed six calves.

"He was walking slowly and he looked like a bum," she said.

Initially, Mrs. Land thought the stranger could be George Hardebeck.

"The thought crossed my mind when I saw him," she said. "But I'd up down in my heart I didn't think he was still around here."

Between the Land's house and the barn is the home of her cousin Roger Ayres, whose house sits about 200 feet away.

"Beverly tried calling my wife Priscilla, but she was on the phone talking to her mother in Colorado," Ayres said. "She called my sister, Angela Allen, and she ran to the house and got her and the 1-1/2 year old out of there."

Meanwhile, satisfied there was no reason for a man to be in the barn, Mrs. Land called the Garrard County Sheriff's office.

"I didn't go out there to look when they came. I didn't know who it was until they called me back later and told me they got the man in the 1 am and who he was," she said. "I was mortified."

While Mrs. Land was calling authorities, Priscilla Ayres, who is 7 months pregnant, and her sister Angela went across Fork Church Road with Roger Ayres was working cattle.

"The sheriff's department got there fast. After my wife told me there was a stranger in the barn, I started going over and by the time I got there a police car was in front," Ayres said.

While greeting Deputy Carroll Broadbuss in front, Ayres said he overheard voices inside, including Deputy Buddy Maupin's. "Maupin and Carroll started walking around the barn, but didn't see anybody. Finally I hollered out, 'we are you Buddy?' He yelled back, 'up here.' They were in the hayloft," Ayres said.

When Ayres first spotted the man with whom Maupin was talking, he thought of Hardebeck.

"It hit me he looked so much like the fellow in the pictures," Ayres said.

Before Ayres saw the man he suspected it might be Hardebeck.

"Was it someone doing wandering around a barn, with no car and close to the area where Hardebeck's car was found?" said Ayres. "When I was walking toward the barn I was hoping he didn't look like the guy. But when I saw, he looked like him."

The suspect offered no resistance to being taken into custody.

"Really, he was too weak to resist anything," Rogers said.

Hardebeck told the deputies his name was Robert Jackson.

Questioning

"My deputies brought him here to the courtroom and I told them to bring him down to the Lincoln County jail because he looked like Hardebeck and we wanted him held until he was identified," Rogers said.

At the jail, Hardebeck had no identification to prove his claim he was Robert Jackson.

"He said he was hitchhiking from Cincinnati," Broadbuss said.

At the jail the suspect, who was charged with trespassing in Garrard County, was questioned by Rogers and State Police Det. Roger Issacs.

Indiana State Police were notified, and immediately detectives along with Hardebeck's brother, Bill, began driving down to Lancaster.

Meanwhile, under questioning by Rogers and Issacs, the suspect admitted his name was George Hardebeck.

Once his identity was established, police began searching the barn and farm where he was discovered. A state police helicopter hovered over the area looking for possible camps sites he might have used. State Trooper Butch Canter and his specially trained dog began tracking scents around the barn.

"He apparently walked right by our house, according to the dog tracking," said Mrs. Land.

"They're looking for a .22 caliber handgun and a .22 caliber rifle," said Garrard County Atty. Mark Metcalf. The guns were allegedly used in the shooting deaths of Hardebeck's family.

Police also recovered a bag of belongings Hardebeck had in his possession.

"He had two pieces of material tied with string. One had some tools, like a screwdriver and the other had a paring knife about 8 inches long," Ayres said.

Ayres said he and Deputy Maupin gathered the items in the hayloft and stuffed them in a plastic bag.

"One thing I noticed is he had a nice raincoat," Ayres said. "My sister said that was one of the things they said he bought in Georgia."

Court Appearance

After Indiana State Police and Lancaster's brother arrived in Lancaster, they went to the Lincoln County Regional Jail where Bill Hardebeck confirmed his brother's identity.

It was not the first time Bill Hardebeck had been to the area. Two weeks ago he accompanied police to Lancaster and identified his brother's car after it was towed to Somerset Oil.

And on Tuesday, he expressed his bitterness toward his older brother who he said deserves to be punished to death for the slayings of their family members.

Authorities initially planned to send George Hardebeck back to Indiana Tuesday.

"He told us he would waive extradition when we talked to him," Rogers said. But Hardebeck later changed his mind.

Between the time Hardebeck's identity was established around noon, and the time of the extradition hearing at 4:10 p.m., a crowd had gathered in Lancaster's Public Square.

More than 100 local residents along with TV crews from Cincinnati, Louisville and Lexington waited for his arrival from Lincoln County to the Garrard County Courthouse Annex where the hearing was held.

The district court room of Judge Bill Johnson was packed with journalists and local residents interested in seeing a man wanted in connection with five deaths.

Hardebeck was brought into the courtroom with his head bowed. His only words were to Johnson's questions.

The suspect told Johnson he was George Hardebeck.

Johnson asked Hardebeck if he wanted to waive extradition and told him he had the right to an attorney before making a decision.

Hardebeck requested an attorney and said he would make a decision on extradition after discussing it with a lawyer.

"This afternoon I asked Judge Hunter Daugherty to appoint Bruce Petrie as Hardebeck's public defender and he gave permission," Metcalf said Tuesday.

Petrie is a Danville lawyer who is a contract defender with the public defender's office.

After the hearing Tuesday, Judge Johnson said it would be up to Hardebeck's attorney to request a hearing.

Metcalf said Hardebeck would be returned to court Thursday at 1 p.m. during the regular court calendar.

"If he waives extradition, he will be sent right back to Indiana," Metcalf said.

If Hardebeck decides to fight extradition, it could be two or three weeks before Indiana authorities get him returned with an extradition warrant, Metcalf said.

Hardebeck was charged in Kentucky with trespassing and served with a fugitive from prosecution warrant.

Tuesday night, police continued their search of the barn and farm where Hardebeck was found and were planning to resume their search Wednesday morning.

Rogers said Hardebeck appeared to have lost a lot of weight during his life on the run.

According to Lincoln County deputy jailer Ron Terry, Hardebeck ate a steak hogshead Tuesday afternoon.

He is being held in solitary confinement with a 24 hour guard watching him.

George Hardebeck as he appeared in wanted posters.

He told jailers that he had been living off potatoes and tomatoes taken from gardens in the area.

"He was out there with the coyotes," said Ayres. "And we have some big ones out there."

Margie Wilcop as guest conductor. Mrs. Wilcop's daughter, Mrs. Johanna Ward, chorus director, was assisted during the day-long rehearsal by Mrs. Mary Whitlock and Mrs. Jamie Cornelius, elementary music directors.

Thanksgiving Food Protection

Procedures for thawing and cooking turkeys

H. Stephen Midkiff, health environmentalist, Rockcastle County Health Department says that in order that you may avoid illness during the holiday season, or anytime you prepare turkey, please follow these instructions contained for proper thawing (choose one of the prescribed procedures), preparing and storing of turkey and leftovers.

Turkeys should be thawed:

In a refrigerator with the temperature at 45 degrees F. or less (allows 3-4 days)

Under cold running water at a temperature of 75 degrees F. or less. In a microwave oven when the conventional cooking process will follow immediately, uninterrupted after thawing; or if the entire thawing-cooking process will be carried out uninterrupted in the microwave oven.

In the continuous thawing-cooking process in the conventional manner. (If turkey is bought pre-stuffed, do not defrost before cooking.)

Turkey and stuffing should be prepared:

With clean hands and with utensils that have been cleaned and sanitized. Utensils and cutting boards should be washed and sanitized again after preparing the turkey (as salmonella bacteria may be present on the uncooked surface and may be transferred easily).

By cooking at a temperature of 325 degrees F. until the internal temperature reaches 165 degrees F. with no interruptions in the cooking process. A temperature of 140 degrees F. should be maintained until the turkey is served; or, the meat should be immediately sliced and refrigerated on shallow platters so that rapid cooling will occur. It is not possible to cool a whole cooked turkey in an ordinary refrigerator or freezer within just a few hours. Therefore, any undercooked juices, stuffing, or meat in the thickest parts may result in bacterial growth over extended cool down time, say overnight or over four hours. Platters must not be stacked on each other since proper air circulation is necessary to facilitate cooling. (A metal stemmed, dial-type thermometer placed in the thickest part of the thigh or breast of the turkey is recommended for measuring product temperature.)

In a manner in which the two food products are cooked separately from each other for best results; however, if prepared (cooked) together, the turkey should not be stuffed until immediately before cooking.

And refrigerated at a temperature of 45 degrees F. or less (after cooking), by separating the turkey and stuffing and by storing individually.

Leftovers: Should be refrigerated at a temperature of 45 degrees F. or less. Turkey and stuffing should be wrapped separately, shallow dishes, or platters should be used for storing.

Prepared into sandwiches and similar cold food using cleaned and sanitized cutting boards and equipment. Which also should be cleaned and sanitized immediately after use.

To be reheated or served as a hot dish, rapidly heat to an internal temperature of 165 degrees F. the turkey should be heated thoroughly.

If adequate precautions are not followed, food poisoning may result. The most common type transmitted by poultry is salmonellosis. The following symptoms may result within 6 to 72 hours: abdominal pain, diarrhea, chills, fever, nausea, vomiting, and malaise. Should any of these symptoms appear, please consult your physician. Foodborne illness cases should be reported to your local health department.

Following thorough washing and rinsing, adequate sanitization may be accomplished by immersing the equipment or utensils for 1/2 minute in clean, hot water of a temperature of 170 degrees F.; or immersion for at least one minute in a clean solution containing at least 50 parts per million of available chlorine (one teaspoon of 5.25 percent household bleach per gallon of water at 75 degree F. will normally suffice). For cutting boards or equipment that is too large to immerse for sanitization, swabbing/wiping the surface with sanitizer (50-100 ppm), should be practiced.

ROBERT H.

BROWN for DISTRICT JUDGE

"...AND JUSTICE FOR ALL."

Number One on the Nonpartisan Judicial Ballot,
2nd Division (Lever 3-C)

During my campaign for District Judge, I have spent much of my time meeting and speaking with the citizens of Rockcastle and Pulaski Counties. A big concern of most about District Court has not been whether they or someone they know has won or lost a case there, but rather how they or someone they know has been treated while in District Court. Their perception is that favoritism frequently prevails over fairness, and that indifference often presides in the place of common courtesy and respect.

Judges are guardians of the law and must address the problems which fall beneath the canopy of the court in a fair and ethical manner with the written law as their foremost guide. In my court, you will receive fair and ethical treatment, and you will be treated with dignity and respect.

I have fought a good and fair fight in this campaign, and I have waged a campaign which compliments the honor and integrity of the office I am seeking. I have told you about myself, my beliefs and what I stand for in order to help you make an informed decision when you go to the polls.

I have worked long and hard for the privilege of serving you. As part of my campaign, I completed a 25.5 mile run from the Pulaski Courthouse to the Rockcastle Courthouse. This run stood as a symbol, throughout my campaign, of the determination, dedication and hard work I will commit to the office of District Judge. This hard work was paralleled in other aspects of my campaign as well.

I ran my campaign in a way that let you know I wanted to serve you and that my service to you would not end once the campaign concludes.

I have not based my campaign on ill-founded rumor and campaign rhetoric, tactics resorted to when candidates have little substance to their own campaigns. I have refrained as well from the use of broad and vague labels which imply bias and which may call a judicial candidate's ethical standards into question.

Judicial candidates are barred by a strict state ethics code from talking about or making references which indicate how they might rule on legal issues. Since Judges serve all of the people all of the time, it is imperative that they avoid even the semblance of impropriety. For justice to ring true, they must remain free of bias, they must remain fair-minded and they must sustain the highest of ethical standards.

I believe that I have done this in my campaign, and I will continue to should you choose to elect me your next District Judge. I will certainly be grateful for your vote and support next Tuesday.

Please vote November 2nd - It's Your Voice for Better Government

New Leadership • New Ideas

As Mayor of Mt. Vernon, I want our city to be something we can all be proud of. Our City Park should be a symbol of our community pride, but unfortunately, our park needs much work.

The United States Flag flies torn and shredded. The walls surrounding the park are broken down and the old caboose, that has been a landmark for years, now sits with its windows broken out. I want to clean this area up because it shows our community pride.

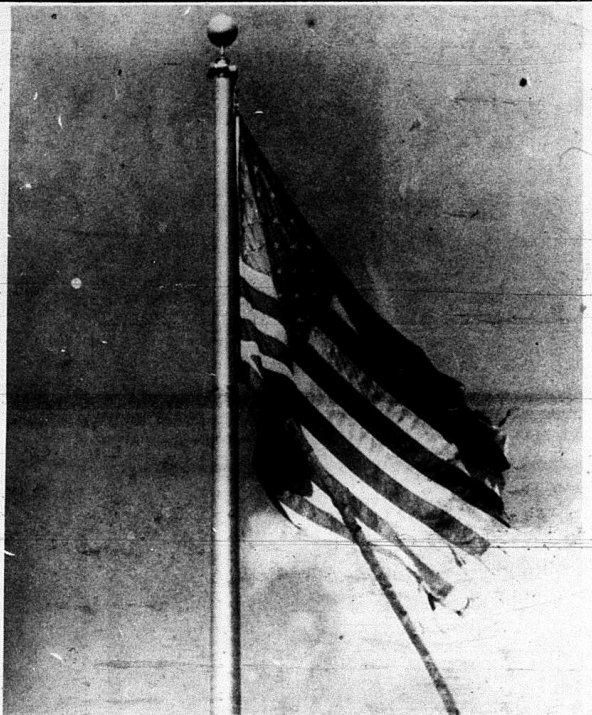

I want to keep a new flag flying out of respect for our country and our veterans and recondition the park, giving it a new look.

I want to restore the old Railroad Caboose making it a landmark once again.

Together we can make Mt. Vernon a community of which we can be proud.

Goals as Mayor

- Treat Everyone Fairly
- No increase in sewer and water rates
- Proper Maintenance of Roads
- Work on solving traffic problems on city streets
- More police protection at nights and week ends
- Evening and week end ability to pay water bills
- Work with cable co. to improve quality of television cable service
- Work with postal officials to solve traffic problems at Post Office
- Work to receive all grant money that is available to the city
- Establish a good working relationship with county officials
- Put major decisions on the ballot
- Seek new industry and create more jobs for local people

Three-year-old beauty

Amberly Renner, 3 years old, was chosen "Southern Dream" (most beautiful) in Universal/Southern Charm's Oct. 3rd pageant. She competed in the "Bluegrass Beauties" Halloween extravaganza on Sunday the 24th in Lexington, where she received the Queen title, best Costume and was chosen Overall Best Personality. Amberly has been doing pageants since she was 23 months old, and has been very successful. Her trophy case consists of 20 trophies, 1 plaque, 2 tiaras (crowns) and 8 silk banners. Amberly recently signed with the Model Network, an agency from Lexington. The agency is owned and operated by former Miss Kentucky and supermodel, Angelia Hugely. Amberly will be doing modeling, printwork and T.V./Commercial work for local, state and national advertisers. Her proud parents are Kim and Greg Renner of Mt. Vernon.

L.E.A.P. asking for donations for Christmas fruit for families

Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress (LEAP) is requesting donations to purchase fruit for needy families for Christmas in the Rockcastle County area. Vicky Anglin will be placing containers in local businesses for anyone interested in donating to this project. Betty Sowder will be calling local businesses requesting donations or anyone wishing to donate may contact Betty Sowder at 256-9099 or Betty Kirby at 256-5660.

Donations from individuals and local businesses allowed LEAP to distribute fruit to 40 needy families in 1991 and 130 families in 1992. Applicants will be screened and will not receive fruit if they receive Christmas baskets from other agencies. This will allow more needy families a chance to be helped. Applications will be accepted November 15th through December 15th, proof of income will be required.

Thank you

The Republican Party of Rockcastle County would like to thank the people for attending the Bittersweet Festival and helping with the coffee and doughnuts. The following people paid for the entertainment: Joe Howard, Shirley Smith, Norma Hook, Denver Miller, Jeff Burdette, and Judge Executive Buzz Carlolffis donated the $50 won by Steve Pitman; Jeff Burdette donated courthouse print won by Teresa Vanzant and the

"American Caruso"

Mario Lanza did more to bring classical music and opera to the masses through the popular art of movies than anyone before or since. He never performed in opera houses, but his voice was known to millions through such films as The Great Caruso, The Toast of New Orleans, and The Seven Hills of Rome. The man who was born the year Enrico Caruso died is profiled in Mario Lanza: The American Caruso, airing on KET at 10 p.m. Wednesday, November 3.

Dear Editor,

May we suggest that the Fiscal Court encourage all political candidates to remove their signs and placards within a reasonable time frame immediately following the election. Our right-of-ways can be, and are beautiful. This beauty is marred when our tree-trunks and highway signs are covered with faded political advertisements.

Thanks for caring --

Dear Editor,

We want to thank Charles M. Carter, principal of Livingston Elementary School, for all of the improvements that he has and are happening concerning our school. We realize all the changes have required the support and cooperation of the faculty, staff, students, parents, and community to be a reality, but all of the aforementioned and the building are the same the only new addition is you, Mr. Carter, so we must attribute the changes to your leadership.

Thank you for all the extra hours you spend doing or thinking of ideas of things to do to make our school a better place. Those little extra-painting the entire school, murals everywhere, plants and flowers in the hallway, signs of recognition for the students displayed, chairs for visitors to sit while waiting by the office, and all the landscaping outside make a more inviting place for all who come to the school.

Thank you for disciplining our children and at the same time showing affection. Discipline has improved tremendously. You are fair and treat all children the same.

Thank you for rewarding students in so many different ways. There seems to be a sense of pride among students like never before. The attendance is remarkable and students are reminding each other not to miss school. The list of improvements could go on and on.

The standing ovation you received last Thursday night at the forum should tell you the Majority, who really care about Livingston Elementary School, are supporting you and your ideas one hundred percent.

Again, thank you and we do appreciate you. It is unbelievable so many changes could happen in one year and three months.

Deil F. Ponder
and the "S.O.S. Committee"

Dear Tobacco Friends and Concerned Citizens:

Putting 18,000 farmers out of work won't solve the health care crisis.

Increasing the federal excise tax on tobacco will cost thousands of tobacco growers their jobs, without raising the money needed to fund health care reform. We urge Congress and the President to be fair and sensible, rather than singling out the source of our livelihood for excessive, unfair and ineffective taxation. The President's plan to reform the nation's $900 billion health care system is supposed to benefit all Americans. But, the President isn't proposing that all Americans share in the funding of his program. In fact, the excessive increase in the tobacco excise tax is the only new tax in the package. This is not only unfair, it is un sound fiscal policy and it would be devastating to America's tobacco growers and the thousands of communities that depend on them.

A $7.75 tobacco excise tax increase will cost 18,000 tobacco growers and their families their livelihood. Proposals over a $7.75 increase would cause even greater stress and dislocation. Moreover, it has been demonstrated in other countries that excessive excise taxes on tobacco products do not raise the intended revenue. Singling out the source of our livelihood for unfair, ineffective taxation will do nothing more than put us out of business.

That's why we're upset, but we won't be alone. Everyone should realize that tobacco dollars turn over 3 1/2 times in our communities. This excessive taxation will effect grocery stores, farm supply stores, automobile dealerships, the banks, and many other businesses. We also must realize that our tax base would be drastically effected and so then what happens to the budgets of the school system, city council and fiscal courts?

In the end you're left with thousands of not only growers, but other citizens as well on unemployment, for regressive taxes... and you still need a way to pay the tab for health care. The congress, and the president can and must do better.

What can we do? It is of utmost importance that our Congressmen and Senators be contacted immediately. The names, addresses and phone number of these members of Congress are enclosed. --Don't Delay-- make that contact today.

Higher tobacco excise taxes. Bad economic policy, bad tax policy and bad politics. If you look at all the facts... it's just a bad idea.

Sincerely,
Danny McKinney

Halloween Costumes

By Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent for Home Economics

It's that time of year again -- when all of the little ghosts and goblins in the family will need costumes for Halloween events.

Distinctive costumes do not have to be difficult to make or expensive to put together. A little ingenuity is all that's needed.

Begin with items of clothing already available for the easiest way to put a costume together. A black sweat-shirt and leopard are the beginnings of a bat, a magician, or a circus master of ceremonies. Add a cape, some make-up and a few props and you're ready.

When putting costumes together, follow some guidelines so children can be safe and have fun at the same time.

Face paint or make-up can be fun for youngsters as well as safer to use than a traditional mask. Always check to see that the child is not allergic to the substance before using it on the face. Several days before the event, apply a dab of it to the inside of the arm just above the hand. Check for changes in the skin before using. Use a cold cream base under makeup for easy removal and less sensitivity.

If a mask is to be used, be sure to custom-fit it to the child. Remember, your child must be able to see well and breathe comfortably. Masks can be easily made from fabric or a substance that will permit the skin to breathe.

Costume accessories such as swords or knives should be soft or flexible. Children should wear sturdy, well-fitting shoes. Also, hats and scarves should be tied securely to prevent them from slipping over children's eyes.

Avoid flimsy fabric and outfits with big, baggy sleeves, pant legs or skirts

District Judge Walt Maguire

A Biographical Sketch Judge Walter F. Maguire

Judge Walt Maguire was born May 17, 1943 and raised in Pulaski County, son of the late John D. Maguire, a retired teacher, and Elizabeth Fippon Maguire, long time home office secretary of United States Senator John Sherman Cooper. Walt's grandfather, Judge W.N. Fippon, was a former County Judge, State Senator, State Representative, and long time Commonwealth Attorney for the 20th Judicial District.

Judge Maguire's personal history is one of service and achievement dating from his public school days, where he was Somerset High Student Body President, lettered in four sports, and was captain of his football team and a state record holder in track.

Walt attended Wake Forest College and the University of Kentucky on track scholarships and held several track records at both schools, some of which lasted or exceeded 20 years. He helped pay his way through law school by working as UK Assistant Track Coach.

While an undergraduate at UK, Judge Maguire was active in political, service, and social organizations and selected to numerous campus honor societies, including Omicron Delta Kappa, a nationally recognized academic leadership organization.

Walt also served in such varied roles as Chairperson of the UK Campuswide Christian Program for Underprivileged Children, Chairman of the UK-YMCA United Nations New York Seminar, Vice-President of his campus political organization, and Secretary of his Senior Class in the College of Arts and Business.

Judge Maguire's interest in government service and politics was in evidence early on. He was selected by former U.S. Representative Tim Lee Carter to serve as one of the original Congressional Interns and later worked as an office assistant in the Washington offices of U.S. Senator John Sherman Cooper. Following his graduation from Law School in 1968, Walt served as a Staff Attorney in the Kentucky Department of Commerce and Finance.

In 1969, Walt returned to UK as Assistant to the Vice-president for Student Affairs, and later served as Associate Dean of Students with primary responsibility for administration of the University's original Code of Student Conduct and as security and information liaison with local, state, and federal law enforcement and security agencies.

In 1973, Maguire accepted appointment as a Special Assistant to Central Justice/with the Council of State Governments where he worked closely with state and regional legislative groups and associations active in developing proposed legislation and program alternatives in the fields of corrections and juvenile justice. He also served during this time as Secretary for the Association of State Correctional Administrators, the National Association of Juvenile Compact Administrators, the State Compact Administrators, the State and Probation Compact Administrators Association.

In 1974, Walt and his family returned home to Somerset where he has been active in civic, political, and church activities and engaged in the private practice of law, including extensive work as a State Public Defender attorney for Pulaski County.

In 1978, Walt was selected on the non-partisan judicial ballot as one of Kentucky's original 113 District Court Judges under a court reform mandated by the 1975 passage of the Judicial Article to the Kentucky Constitution.

In his two-county 29th Judicial District, Judge Maguire has exclusive jurisdiction over criminal misdemeanors and traffic matters, serves as Probate, Juvenile, and Small Claims Court Judge, conducts felony arraignments and preliminary hearings, and presides over Domestic Violence proceedings, emergency mental health and mental retardation commitment hearings, and guardianship and driver license suspension/renewal proceedings.

During 1980, Judge Maguire was named a select member of the State Justice Code Review and Recommendation Task Force and participated in the drafting of advisory revisions which led to the later adoption of Kentucky's first Unified Judicial Code. He has also served as a member of the State Mental Health Task Force, on the Lake Cumberland Sub-Area Health Council of the East Kentucky Health Systems Agency, and as a founding member of Public Heritage, Inc.

Walt is a 1978 graduate of the Special Courts Program of the National Judicial College, Reno, Nevada, and has participated in numerous workshops and training sessions on Domestic Violence, Criminal Procedure, sentencing and alternatives to incarceration.

In 1979, Judge Maguire was selected from a national competition among judges and related professionals as a National Endowment for the Humanities "Fellow" and participated in a special summer program at the College of the University of Virginia. He was also selected during 1979 and 1980 to attend the American Academy of Judicial Education training seminars at the Harvard Law School entitled "Justice and the Rule of Law" and "Judicial Fact Finding and Decision Making."

Throughout his first term, Judge Maguire served as a District Court representative to the State Judicial Council, an advisory body to the Chief Justice of the Kentucky Supreme Court.

During 1982, Judge Maguire was one of five persons under formal consideration by the Reagan Administration for appointment to the United States Parole Commission. He has also served as an Assistant State Attorney General in the office of Attorney Gen. Steven L. Beshear before being named Associate Director of the University of Kentucky Tobacco and Health Research Institute, where he served until January, 1985. On several occasions, Judge Maguire has been an invited faculty member for the UK College of Law Intensive Court in Trial Advocacy, and he was the University of Kentucky Personnel Grievance Hearing Officer from 1982-1985.

Walt is the president of the American Bar Association at the University. Walt frequently teaches political science for the Somerset Community College.

Judge Walter F. Maguire has two 12 year old sons on the District Court Bench and resides on Hawthorne Avenue in Somerset with Jane, his wife of 25 years and a teacher in the Somerset School System, and his 16-year-old son, Fippon, a sophomore at Somerset High. The Maguires have two other daughters, Mary M. Richardson and Ann, and college students.

Rockcastle County Seniors participate in regional games

On September 24, thirty-eight seniors and staff of the Rockcastle County Senior Citizens attended the regional senior games held at Williamsburg. They played games of horseshoes, spincasting, shuffleboard and other events. Special events were planned for the physically challenged.

This is an annual event conducted each year by the Cumberland Valley Area Agency on Aging. The Senior Citizens of Whitley County hosted the senior games at Briar Creek Park in Williamsburg and provided door prizes, and entertainment. A barbecue lunch was served by Ted Gibson and staff of D&W Cafeteria of Corbin.

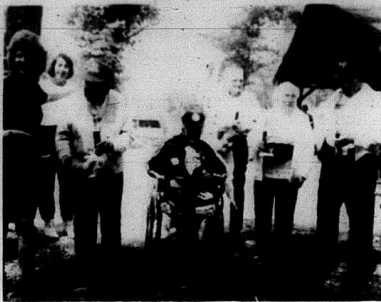

Ms. Bernice Miracle, Director of CVAAA, presented the trophies. Our winners from Rockcastle County were:

Clara Mae Jones - Shuffleboard
Richard Mullins - Spincasting
Harold Jones - Softball
Throy Mary Wallace - Horseshoes

Winners of the physically challenged events were:
Bill Brown, Walter Carpenter, Ed Jones, Albert Lunsford, Sudie McNew, Walter Miller, Nellie Mosley, Vasa Vukasvjev

Others participating in the games were: Pearl Newton, Alva Ponder, Juanita Scott, Zana Childress, Rhoda Woodall, Geneva Bradford, Hazel Slemp; Marie Brewer, Frances Mullins, Dorothy and William Baker, Maude Clark, Marie Robbins and Gilbert Wynn.

Everyone enjoyed the day and we are looking forward to participating in next year's regional games.

"Rudy" is persistently good

By: Paul E. Scanlon

Movie -Review-

Have you ever wanted something so bad you could taste it?

Have your family and friends told you it was impossible? Have you tried anyway? The closer you get to your dream, the more people don't believe you; laugh at you? Have you been ridiculed because you gave too much effort?

"Rudy," Played by Sean Astin, had a team to play football for the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame. Everybody except one good friend thinks he is crazy. He does not make good grades in high school. He does play football, but he is small. Also, he has no money. His one encourager dies in a factory fire, so Rudy leaves his girlfriend and family in Joliet, Illinois, and goes to catch the bus for South Bend. His father still does not believe in him and tries to get him to stay home and work in the factory. Rudy does not get into Notre Dame. He enrolls across the street at Holy Cross, a Junior College, so he can prove himself to the admissions people at Notre Dame.

"Rudy" is a fascinating true story about a boy that grows into a man facing every obstacle between him and his dream. Rudy is an inspiration to us all.

"Rudy" is rated PG and is now playing at the Regency Cinema 7 in London.

Obituaries

Bullock

Mrs. Dorothy Pearl Bullock, 77, of Mt. Vernon, died Oct. 25, 1993 at the Rockcastle Hospital.

She was born in Pulaski County Dec. 27, 1915, the daughter of Joe and Lydia Spires Vanhook. She was a member of the Copper Creek Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Berkeley Bullock; two sons, Bobby Bullock of Sugar Land, Texas and Larry Bullock of Pine Hill; four daughters, Arlene Price of Millington, Tenn., Jerri Burdette and Gwen Flannery, both of Roundstone, and Linda Burdette of Quail, and a brother, Ben Vanhook of Elrod. Also surviving are 17 grandchildren and several great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by a daughter.

Services were Oct. 27, at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home by Bro. Warren Carroll. Burial was in the Bullock Family Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Robin Price, Rick Burdette, Shannon Price, Cameron Abney, Brandon Abney and Jason Bullock.

Maybe they think you don't need them
That now you should be over your sorrow

But something they don't know
Is that it's there each tomorrow

Maybe they think that like some
You can put your loss behind
And they don't really know
How it's almost constantly on your mind

So if you have a friend
That you've comforted in the past
Don't take it for granted they've stopped needing you
And their grief was over fast.

Happy Halloween By: Preston Parrett

Up on West Street
The nights are frosty clear,
And the time for the dummy
Is surely drawing near.

Clara has taken down her bug zapper
And she's stored it away,
Soon she'll get out her dummy
And put him on display.

I'm eager to see the new fall fashions
For he dresses in the latest style,
And every one that passes
Gives him a big old smile.

Will he have on a top hat
Made out of silk,
Or a baggy pair of overalls
His master uses when he goes to milk?

Will he have on holey blue jeans
Like the teenagers wear,
Or on top of his head a Rocket cap
Covering his blond straw hair?

Now I could speculate on and on
But I think it's better to wait and see,
Just what Clara is going to put
On her dummy of ninety-three.

There's a rumor flying around
But I don't know if it is true,
They say the dummy is getting married
And from the looks it's long overdue.

Across the street in Saylor land
There appears to be a full moon,
But it's only a lighted pumpkin
For Halloween is coming soon.

Mary and John L. are all excited with witches flying all around,

They've got sharp noses and peaked hats
And they make a horrible sound.

In the next house is Angel
Who has a scary skeleton or two,
And every time the wind blows
Bones are rattling through and through.

Count Dracula is down on the floor
With a skull in his hand,
And he's really looking mean
As he scares the kids of the land.

DeJon lives next door to Angel
And he's decorated for the night,
He's put out plastic pumpkins
That glow in the light.

He's hung up some skeletons
Plus a witch or two,
And when anyone gets near
They really scream at you.

Now on down the street
Lives their playmate Ben,
And he's got pumpkins painted
With a horrible grin.

With lighted porch and yard
Spider webs and vampires,
Ben's ready to scare treaters
As they come out under the stars.

Over at the Parrett house
Old Press wants a dummy,
But his wife says, "You'll do O.K.
Because you always look so crummy."

Folks the rumor was true
The dummy has taken a spouse,
Now there's two of them
Sitting in front of the Proctor's house.

They're back from their honeymoon
And their moods are upbeat,
As they wait for trick or treaters
To come up West Street.

The neighbor's porch lights are on
And what fine neighbors they be.
It makes West Street a good place
To raise a family.

The neighbors are all out
With treats sitting near,
They're ready to pass them out
To the children who are so dear.

The children are all excited
As they move on scurrying feet,
Going up to each house
And saying, "Trick or Treat!"

They come in all sizes
Shapes and styles,
But they're happy and beautiful
And full of smiles.

Halloween is for children
And it is their fun night,
So let's all make sure
That everything goes right.

Drive slowly and carefully
And keep your vision keen.

So the kids can have a happy
And safe Halloween.

Good bugs are swarming; they should not be killed

Don't repeat, do not be concerned about the large number of lady beetles that may be congregating on the sides of buildings or those large yellow ants swarming these days.

Those are "good" bugs that are beneficial to agriculture and the environment, said Lee Townsend, Extension entomologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

There is no cause for alarm, he said.

Lady Beetles like to spend the winter as adults in protected places. That includes the sides of buildings or houses.

"They congregate in large numbers and may crawl through cracks and crevices to get inside the structures," Townsend said.

"Don't worry about them," he said. They will do no harm.

"These are beneficial insects and should not be killed," Townsend said.

"They will settle down and remain inactive until spring. They will leave and begin to feed on aphids and other pests."

Anyone who is really concerned about the large numbers of lady beetles should be encouraged to just sweep them away and turn them loose away from the house.

The same is true for yellow ants, which actually look reddish-brown, he said.

"They are called citronella ants," Townsend said. "If crushed, they give off a distinct lemon odor."

These swarmers, which nest in rotting wood and the soil, are numerous in the air in late afternoon at this time of year.

"He added, "these ants only feed on honey dew produced by aphids and scales. They have never been reported to feed on human food. Like the lady beetles, there is no cause for alarm."

Program retells spooky Kentucky tales

They say the image of the "Russellville Woman" was etched forever on a tower window the moment she was struck by lightning -- she had cursed God for sending a storm on her betrothal day. The image returns sometimes on stormy days and can't be painted, papered, or boarded over.

This story and other supernatural tales from the western half of Kentucky and along the Tennessee border are told in the new KET production The Haunting Tradition, premiering at 8 p.m. Monday, October 25. Terrified you'll miss it? It will be repeated at 10 p.m. on Halloween night, October 31.

Poet's Corner

When You Lose a Loved One Author Unknown

You know, it's kind of funny
But not in a laughing sort of way
How your friends will come and visit
When your loved one passes away

They'll come and visit often
For a couple weeks or so
Then all of a sudden
You wonder where did they go

You appreciate their kindness
And all their thoughtful ways
But the times they came to visit
You were still in a daze

When finally it really hits you
That your loved one is forever gone
You wonder where your friends are
Now is when you're so alone

You need them now more than ever
Their company would mean so much
Then you realize how long it's been Since they've been in touch

You wonder if maybe you said some thing
To offend them in some way
Or if they think all your pain and emptiness
Just suddenly went away
