Cash doesn't plan to stay with the 2-3 zone defense that he used last year. "We're going with a trap-type defense, . . . man to man matchup. Without Corey this year as a solid rebounder, it would be hard to stay in a zone."

The Rockets will have to rely heavily on their experienced senior backcourt to contribute to the team's chances at post season play and a winning season.

"We will be doing lots of motion offense, lots of screens, lots of passing. We're emphasizing the fact that we need to move the ball more."

Despite the loss of Todd, Cash is optimistic about having a winning season.

"Anytime you bring back four starters your chances are good. It's hard to look on the schedule and see a definite win, but if we work together, hit the boards and play a solid thirty-two minutes of basketball, I'm optimistic about a better year than last. We have a few attitudes and we have to get the chemistry together, but I feel we can work through these problems and have a positive turn-around" said Cash.

Every coach has goals going into his season and Cash's are typical of almost any coach you would talk to. "A winning season, to make it to the regionals and good, solid team-play are my goals for this season" Cash said.

With the senior leadership of McClure and floor leadership of senior J.D. Bussell in the backcourt, Rockcastle could make an appearance in the 13th Region for the first time since 1986. McClure, the leading scorer from last year's team figures to be the go-to man with his three point bombs as well as his slashing moves to the bucket.

Some talented sophomores will have to provide additional offensive firepower and will have to contribute right away in order for the Rockets to be successful. "Several underclassmen will see playing time - Chad Severance, Dallas Rigby, Corey Scott and Eric McGuire will all see playing time. Chad is strong and doing well in practice and I feel Eric will eventually make a good low-post player," said Cash.

Cash points out that starting the season a week later than usual has proved positive for the Rockets.

"It enabled me to give the football players a few days off for a breather and to get them into more of the conditioning aspect of our program. Mickey still isn't in shape."

Cash sees a very tough 13th Region this year, pointing out several top teams.

"Harlan, Clay, Knox Central, who we open our season with, Corbin and Williamsburg all look to be good. On our schedule, there is Knox Central and Williamsburg, plus Boyle Co., McCreary Central and Garrard. I'm not sure about Jackson County, they are small like us, but I've heard they are bringing up some big freshmen for varsity play. I won't know until we play them," Cash stated.

Cash feels that this year's team is one player from being a really good team, but that they are good enough to make it to the regionals.

Cash said, "It all depends on how well our young guys play, how dedicated we are, whether or not our hearts are in the right place for us to be regional contender."

Good luck, Rockets.

Gilpatrick murder trial postponed indefinitely

By Richard Anderk

The murder trial of a Rockcastle County man accused of brutally beating his wife to death has been delayed once again by Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters.

Allen Gilpatrick, 42, of Mt. Vernon was to have gone on trial Monday in Somerset, but late Friday Venters continued the trial for the third time, this time indefinitely.

According to Commonwealth Attorney Benny Ham, Venters delayed the trial because of a joint petition by Ham and Gilpatrick's attorney John Clontz. The two attorneys asked for the delay because certain evidence in the case had not come to light until Friday afternoon.

Ham said the new evidence involved a couple of key witnesses, who apparently have pertinent information in the case. Ham would not comment further, but a person close to the investigation said that the witnesses came forward months ago and talked to local law officers, but neither Ham nor Clontz were informed of the witnesses' statements until Friday.

Clontz would not comment, except to say that the time granted by Venters will be used to check out any further evidence by both the defense and the prosecution.

The circuit judge had earlier ruled against a defense motion to dismiss the indictment against Gilpatrick because of the police misconduct, but Venters did grant a change of venue.

Gilpatrick is charged with the February 1993 slaying of Virginia Gilpatrick in their Mt. Vernon home. Mrs. Gilpatrick had been beaten almost beyond recognition.

During the murder investigation police say they found the murder weapon in the house with Allen Gilpatrick's fingerprints on it. There was also nothing stolen from the home. Gilpatrick has told police that he was at work at the time of the slaying.

School board begins process to refinance MVES bonds

The Rockcastle County Board of Education decided Tuesday night to proceed with plans to refinance the bonds for the Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

The board, in regular session, heard a presentation by Glenn Brashear, president of Johnson, Brown, Burnett & Knight, Inc., investment bankers. Mr. Brashear told the board that he felt the bond market climate was such that the board could realize substantial savings on a lower interest rate should his firm be able to bring the issue to the sale date and interest rates still be down enough to realize the 5% savings required by the Department of Education and KSPCC.

Board treasurer Richard Bray told the board that if the bonds could be refunded within the 5% savings range, it would mean a savings of over $125,000 to the school system.

Mr. Brashear pointed out to the board that the situation was a no-lose one for the board since they would not be out any expense if it was decided that the refunding could not be carried through. The board would also not be out any expense if the issue can be refunded since all fees would be paid from bond proceeds and savings.

The board authorized Mr. Brashear to proceed with the necessary steps for the issue refunding.

The board also heard a report from Supt. Bige Towery that the Local Planning Committee had been collecting data and, following an all-day work session Wednesday with a hired facilitator, would have a Master Education Plan formulated for board approval shortly after the first of the year.

Among other areas, this plan will outline the committee's recommendation for the school system's decision on the fate of Livingston Elementary School.

Supt. Towery also told the board that the deadline had passed for applications for the principal's position at the new Middle School, and that six applications had been received, only one from within the district.

Towery said a committee would be appointed to help him with the screening process of the applicants and the selection should be made after the first of the year.

He pointed out that the report of the Local Planning Committee was essential to the process of opening the Middle School since the decision about LES would affect all the planning for the Middle School.

Towery also pointed out that the process of opening the new Middle School would be a little different than in the other schools in the county since there will be no School Board Decision Making Council in place and all staffing will have to be done through him. The SBDM will not be organized for about two months into the 94-95 school year, Towery said.

The board approved a change in the board policy governing military leave which prevents employees from "double dipping." Towery said the language of the new policy provides that pay received by employees for this service, while on a leave from their school duties, will be given to the board and the board will in turn pay the employees their regular salary. The board is required by state law to allow 10 days per calendar year to employees with this obligation.

Bray said that to his knowledge, the policy only affects two school employees at this time, one certified and one classified.

Another policy approved by the board put in place the Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 which allows employees up to 12 weeks of leave per school-year (after at least 1,250 hours of employment).

Some of the provisions of the act require that:

- employees must use all sick leave before being eligible for unpaid family and medical leave, except that they may request to reserve ten (10) days of sick leave;
- unpaid family and medical leave shall not accumulate from year to year;
- Family and Medical Leave may be taken intermittently or on a reduced hours basis;

And, while on family and medical leave, employees shall be entitled to all employment benefits accrued prior to the date on which the leave commenced. The state shall continue to provide health insurance for employees on leave. However, other employment and seniority shall not accrue during family and medical leave.

Unemployment rate lowest in area

For only the second time since state unemployment rates have been recorded, Kentucky's jobless rate stalled in September for the third consecutive month remaining at 6.3 percent.

However, Rockcastle's rate was the lowest in the 6 county area, standing at 5.1 percent.

It beat out the Corbin local office as usual which stood at 6.3 percent. It was considerably less than 11.2 percent in Clay County, the highest in the area.

The Rockcastle labor force stands at 7,598. Total employment is 7,125, and total unemployment is 473.

Break-in at Apollo

Someone broke a side window at Apollo Pizza and took an undetermined amount of money from a desk in the office.

It was investigated by City Police-man John Bradley Thursday morning.

Vehicles entered

Three vehicles were broken in while parked at Mt. Vernon Plastics sometime Monday night or Tuesday.

Be Powell of Mt. Vernon had his battery stolen.
Denais Smith of London had a tool box and cassette player taken.
Kimberly Jones of London lost her bug shield and purse with $200.

Four change-orders for the new RCHS were approved by the board for a total add-on of $1,946.

The changes included:

- Installation of a gate valve on the down stream side of each of the two director checks for the fire protection line to the building (as required by Mt. Vernon city engineer Richard Moore, P.E.) - Add $1373.00;
- Installation of structural steel to support two exhaust stacks for the chemistry room - Add $1,427.00;
- Electrical changes per proposal request - Add $991.00 and

"Floor finish changes (vinyl for carpet and vice versa in different areas of the building) - Deduct $1,845.00.

Bray reported to the board that he has been assured by the project for-man that construction is on schedule and no problems are expected to delay the August, 1994 scheduled opening.

Bray also made a report to the board on the state of the financing of the school to date.

Bray said that at present there is a $52,106.76 difference to the good in the fund balances and expenditures projected (to date) of $52,106.76.

$200,000 is included in this projected figure for equipment for the school and Bray said he did not expect this amount to be adequate but hoped to have some of the contingency funds left to help with this expense.

Not including December's bills, Bray said there has been $4,933,000 spent on construction to date. The interest rate on the bond issue to finance the school construction is a little over 5%.

Wreck takes life of Berea woman

A Berea woman returning home from work in Mt. Vernon lost control of her car on icy U.S. 25 near Renfro Valley Friday and died when the car overturned.

Dorothy Richmond Steele, 46, was going home from work at Mt. Vernon Plastics about 7:15 a.m. when the accident occurred.

Her car hit an icy curve and overturned. She was the widow of Theodore Steele. She was not wearing a seat belt.

A second Berea woman died of injuries suffered in an accident between a car and a van 5 miles east of Berea on Ky. 21.

Holly Michelle Hatton, 25, of Big Hill, driver of the car died of head injuries. The driver of the van, Kirby D. Worley, 21, of Berea suffered back injuries.

Both were wearing seat belts.

A Mt. Vernon woman was injured in an accident on U.S. 25 north, and treated at Rockcastle Hospital.

Myrtle Smith, 60, of Rt. 3, was driving south on U.S. 25 when a van driven by Janet Burton, 40, of Lexington made a left turn into Hardee's and was hit by Mrs. Smith.

Police Chief Bill Mink investigated the accident.

new language of a policy governing school-wide fund-raising by students which says that any solicitation outside the school with children involved must be approved by the board.

Road changes upset local businessmen

By: Ray McClure

A federal highway plan to change U.S. 25-Ky. 461 from McDonald's Restaurant to the I-75 interchange at Renfro Valley has business owners worried.

The federal government has found some money set aside for road work here and if the state doesn't use it, it will lose it.

Brought up to date, the state is to begin negotiations for right-of-way in 1994 with construction in 1995.

The plan calls for major changes. The road begins at the Ky. 461 intersection with U.S. 25 and proceeds northward to the rear of Wendy's, tears down the Chevron Service Station and B.P. Station bears slightly to the left and connects with the I-75

New business?

Applications to see how many employees are available, will be taken Dec. 16, 17, 18 at Renfro Valley Museum Building, 2 to 6 p.m. on Dec. 16, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Dec. 17 and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Dec. 18.

The applications will be used to determine if there is an adequate labor resource in the Mt. Vernon area to support the opening of a data conversion office here.

Up to 200 employees could eventually be hired.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

If I had the money I tell you what I'd do I'd go out and buy a cannon and shoot a Merkurie or two Cause I'm sick of a Merkurie I'd like to puke on a Merkurie I'm sick of that high %*% song and I'm sick of Alan Jackson too.

I had one of the youngsters fix the radio in my truck so that all I have to do to switch from one country music station to another is push a button. I used to be able to do it myself on older cars but electronics have taken over and if you don't have a kid around you can't even set the clock anymore. Anyway, I don't like whatever song they're playing on K93, for example, I can hit button number 3 and pick up KENZ and so forth. I normally keep it set on K93 because there's the only station that doesn't fade out in my driving range.

For that matter, when I'm out of range of K93, none of the other buttons being in anything either so I have to pull off to the side of the road and use the dial because I can't keep my eyes on the road and tune a radio at the same time. All of which is beside the point.

And the point is that one day last week I was on my way to Mount Sterling when ole Alan's Mercury Blues came on K93. I hate that song with a passion. I'd be much more entertained listening to a herd of donkeys pass gas. So I hit button number 1 and got the same song at a different verse. Ditto for button number 3. (Button 2 is K93). To make a long story short, six different radio stations were playing the same song at the same time.

It occurs to me that maybe the car company is sneaking the DJ's some money on the side to entice them to play Mercury blues every ten minutes. It also occurs to me that if I owned stock in Mercury, I'd be suing Alan Jackson because this song is probably the stupidest piece of crap to hit country air waves since Elvis Presley passed away. I'm serious. You won't be hearing me snicker at "Abifunkah Hunkahuvvv Burrahang luvvuvah" anymore.

Mr. Jackson has, as my Mom used to say, "Capped the stack." I'm now convinced that if you got the aforementioned donkeys passing gas in light with Alan Jackson, he'd have another hit on his hands. And I guarantee you that I would like it better than this Mercury stuff. On the other hand, some of Elvis's stuff sounds like the donkeys were right there doing their thing. But they've got better microphones now.

I don't count. Don't take this wrong. I like country music better than anything except Bluegrass. I also know several people who are excellent writers and they can come up with songs that actually have stories to them and the verses rhyme and all that. But more and more you don't hear anybody singing anything that makes a lick of sense.

Just listen to the wisdom
"I'm gonna buy me a Merkurie and cruise it up and down the road." If you can memorize that one line, you've got ninety nine percent of the song whipped. Just say it over and over and over and over and drone through your nose. And you got it.

That's the message folks. That's the song and Alan-Jackson has sold a million million copies of it. Come here donkeys. You can be stars if we can get you into the studio without messing on stuff. Pass gas for about a minute and a half and get it recorded and then make a mess. It'll be worth something then. People will be standing in line to buy donkey do soon as you get on the radio.

What really gets me is that people used to make fun of poor ole Happy Chandler singing "My Ole Kentucky Home" at UK basketball games. The same darn crowd will drive up and down the road playing Mercury Blues loud enough to hear in the next county. They go by the house with the windows down in freezing weather just so I get a chance to hear it.

Somebody whistle up them donkeys. Please!!!!

Ramblings

by: perlina m. anderkin

I have always felt that children were born with certain inalienable rights: parental love and protection; basic material security and the right to own a pet if they are so inclined.

Thus far, all my children have been so inclined and I haven't been too much of a chore for me because basically, I am an animal lover. Let me rephrase that, I love cats and dogs -- don't bring any white mice, hamsters, guinea pigs, birds, squirrels or monkeys or the invitation will be quickly withdrawn.

Going from this standpoint, we have always had a dog and/or cat on the premises. Of course, "on the premises" has a different meaning at our house than it had in my girlhood home. Mother and Dad liked animals also. Mother's tenet was that every one needed a good YARD dog and we were into any pet dog that strayed out of the yard and into the house for a second. They quickly learned from the wrong end of Mother's broom, or whatever she had in her hand, that they were never to darken the door of the house.

Dad was a little more lenient but he gave Mother free rein as to what children and their pets of the house and went along with the no pets in the house rule.

I often wonder today what my Mother's reaction would be if she could see the freedom I allow my children and their pets of the house. But, I don't know why I wonder. I know that her reaction would have been swift and would have run something like, "Well, it's easy to see that you've lost your mind, allowing a dog and/or cat free run of the house." She was probably right. It's no doubt not the most sanitary thing to allow an animal to abide in your home. But, I love a cuddly cat or dog as well as the next animal lover and enjoy their company. I do not enjoy the occasional mess that accompanies these live-in companions. I do not enjoy having to constantly remind children of their solemn oath to be responsible for these said pets (usually while I am going ahead and cleaning up the mess).

I suppose what brought this column on is our most current pet, an Eskimo Spitz (originally named Snowball) who has the sharpest toenails, teeth and the worst sanitary habits of any animal I have encountered.

I keep telling myself that he's less than 3 months old and things will get better but that's my next thought invariably is -- they can't get any worse. I figure that by the time he's a year old, which is when you're supposed to be able to train them to some extent (although like other male species they are supposed to be harder to train than females), I won't have a chair leg, couch pillow, rag rug or mamma cat with fur left -- not to mention the damage that will no doubt have been done to the white linoleum in the kitchen.

But, hey, I'm not fussing. Travis and Allison love him. He's Travis's responsibility, right? And, Travis is very mature about cleaning up his messes (right, Travis?) and the cat is eventually going to learn to defend herself against his "playfulness."

I'm also not complaining because Travis' first request was for a Siberian Husky to make a house pet of -- that would no doubt have wound up something like -- where does your Siberian Husky use the bathroom? -- and the answer would have had to be -- Whatever he wants to!!

Hangovers

There are many kinds of hangovers we could talk about but the one I have in mind today is about the habits of the past intruding into our modern way of living. This, I call hangovers from the past.

While trying to do a little Christmas shopping recently I realized how different things are now to what they were even twenty years ago. Most places have effectively taken all symbols of Christ out of the shopping places and have filled the shelves or places left vacant by the removal of them with flashy bits and pieces of modern toys or gimmicks to attract the eye of every passerby. If music is to be playing over the speaking system, (which I seldom hear anymore), it usually is not the soft mellow music of "Silent Night" or even the beautiful sentimental songs like, "I'll Be Home for Christmas, or "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas." Even today's music has lost much of its old fashioned charm and has joined the ranks of today's fast moving crowd that needs the artificial stimulation of a sax w/b to keep their fast pace.

Today's children know more about how to charm "Santa Claus" into giving them the things they want than they do about what Christmas is really about. Many of them have never heard about the birth of Christ and the star of Bethlehem, nor of the three wise men who traveled from afar following that bright star that had suddenly appeared in the sky the night Jesus was born. Christmas to them means new toys piled high under the tree and lights flickering from every window. My hangover from Christmas's past brought other memories to mind.

In my earliest years it was a time for everyone to gather around the fireplace on Christmas Day and open the few gifts we each received from "Santa Claus" and empty our stockings stuffed full of apples, oranges, nuts and candy. A big meal was always fixed for dinner, just as it is today, but the feast was a bit different. At our house the meat was usually a big fat hen stuffed and baked to a golden brown. And a dried apple stack cake was always there, ten or twelve layers high. It was then I first heard the story of the birth of the little babe born in a manger. And Mom told us about "Old Christmas" the day they were taught to believe Jesus was really born. She said if we could go to a stable and wait till midnight we would see the animals bow their knees in honor of the new born King. This day was the twelfth day after the day we now celebrate as the birthday of Jesus Christ, or Christmas Day. Many people still celebrate the twelve days of Christmas and give a gift every day to those they love and on the twelfth day have their feast.

The days with my own children were copied after the way I had been taught except I never emphasized Old Christmas. Each child put his or her stocking under the tree and it was the first thing they were allowed to empty.

Each stocking was filled with fruit and candy and one special little toy. After eating an orange or banana, which took the place of breakfast on this special morning, they opened their gifts and the fun began. Even when they came home from college their stockings were still filled and the tradition of opening them first continued. And the little truck or car in each was enjoyed by the adult kids as much as they were when they were small. I can still see those three young adults crawling over the floor racing tiny cars to see whose was the fastest. The radio, later the T.V. or record player put out soft music all day long. Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Frank Sinatra, all with golden voices were special to us and brought a message of what Christmas was about. They sang "Oh Holy Night, Silent Night, It Came Upon a Midnight Clear and many others that told the story of the birth of the Christ Child. Yes, we also heard Jingle Bells and Here come Santa Claus and all the other popular tunes of the day but we never lost the atmosphere of it being a Holy Day, the Birthday of Christ.

When we, as a Christian nation, have allowed the opposition to Christianity to take Christ from Christmas something is surely wrong. We should be allowed to celebrate His birthday the same as we do that of any other loved one and use any symbol that is appropriate to the occasion. The Nativity Scene, depicting the Holy birth of Jesus and always prominent at public places at Christmas time, is no longer allowed because it infringes on the rights of disbelievers. Not allowing it is infringing on the rights of the believers in Christianity for we also pay taxes on public property and have used this scene as a center piece for decorations during the holidays since our nation was founded. Those who do not believe in Christ do not have to celebrate this one special day the Christians have set aside to worship their Lord.

If it is a commercial holiday the opposition wants, then let them have it with all the amount of glitter and brass music they want at any time of the year they find convenient. Then for those who celebrate the birthday of Jesus Christ, which is Christmas Day, allow them to do so the way it has always been done by "Rejoice and Make Glad for this day a Savior was born."

SCHOOL NEWS

Eagle Echoes...

The RE'S 7th and 8th grades chorus will perform "I Love Christmas" on Tuesday, December 21 at 2 p.m. and again for the PTA at 6:30 p.m. All parents and community members are invited to attend the PTA Meeting and the choral performance.

December 22 is the last day of school before the Christmas holidays. Students will be in school all day. Some classes will have special events on that day. Please read all notes from your child's teacher to find out about the special events in each classroom.

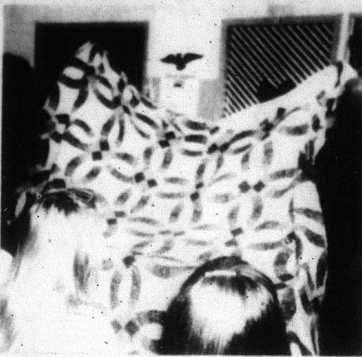

School will resume on January 3, the boy's basketball team will have a game at 6 p.m. at 7. They will play against Model Lab School.

Samantha Allen, entry level primary student at Roundstone Elementary School, is pictured with the television set she won in the fourth month's perfect attendance drawing.

Roundstone eighth grade students are preparing to design tessellations in their math classes. To understand some of the applications for use of these geometric designs, Elnora Burke and Geraldine French presented a history and "how to" of quilting. Above they display a Dresden plate quilt.

Attendance

Mrs. Peggy McClure's class is leading the way with 70 consecutive days of perfect attendance as we all strive for outstanding attendance at LES. There was a host of winners in last week's prize drawing. Winners included John Kerns, April Martin, Robert McFerron, Jessica Rountree and Gloria Phillips. The winner of the boom box was Jessica Newcomb.

Faculty Christmas Party

On Saturday, December 11, faculty and staff of Livingston Elementary had a Christmas party at Columbia Steak House in Berta. During this time Secret Santa gifts were exchanged. We regret that several people were unable to attend due to illness.

Poster/Essay Winners

Recently, LES students competed in The Soil and Water Conservation Contest. School winners selected to be sent to the county wide judging were as follows: Poster-Robert Clark, Chris Kirby and Jessica Shepherd; Essays-Lillian Kuntz, Brandi Sexton, and Travis Wynn. We appreciate all students who participated in the competition.

Library News

Mrs. Arnold's Reading Class will begin the Quest Motivational Reading Program after Christmas Break. This is a comprehensive reading program that will encourage the students to develop their reading skills and to develop a life-long enjoyment of literature. Research tell us that students build reading skills by reading; the more, the better.

In the Quest Program, the student chooses a book from the Quest Catalog of Books, reads the book and then takes a short quiz on the book. The quiz is designed both as a comprehension check and to see that the book was finished. Each student will make a contract with Mrs. Arnold that will include how many books they will complete in a six week period.

We are excited to be starting this reading program. Students will receive points according to the length of their books. The program will be individualized and will include readers at many different levels. All students will be able to be successful, because the books they will be reading will be on their level! The Quest Reading Program will encourage the reading class to read widely and carefully.

Intermediate news

States and designing small composts and landfills to gain a better understanding of how they work. In math, students are beginning division.

Junior High News

Mr. Roark's and Ms. Grigsby's 7th and 8th grade classes traveled to London on Thursday, December 9, for the Sue Bennett Players' performance of the Gift of the Magi. As a follow up, students wrote responses and reactions relating to the cultural event.

Counselor's Connection

Last Friday and Saturday I attended a meeting in Louisville. We spent two days discussing many aspects of KERA. The presenters, Alan Rowe of Minnesota and Dawn Shannon of New York, emphasized to participants the leading role that Kentucky is taking throughout our nation to improve public education.

Participants were asked over and over, "What is it you want kids to know, do, and be when they leave your school one year from now?" We were challenged to make the connection between what goes on at school and its relationship to life. Many times, Sue experienced student's questioning such as: "What does this have to do with me?" or "What's the significance?" If I could help a student see the purpose of instruction and how it relates to his world, he was more motivated to learn and apply his understanding.

A key dimension to reform is collaboration and cooperation. When teachers, parents, and community members work together for the good of students, students benefit the most.

Thought for the Week:
Strange how much you have to know before you know how little you know.

RE'S raises $1,337 in Easter Seals shootout

Roundstone Elementary School recently participated in the 14th Annual Wildcat Basketball Shootout for Easter Seals. Chaired by Coach Rick Pitino, the event raises funds for Easter Seal programs throughout Kentucky.

Forty-one students at Roundstone Elementary School raised $1,337.49 for Easter Seals by soliciting sponsors for each basket made during a three minute period. These students were awarded prizes based on the amount of money raised.

The boy and girl who raised the most money statewide will sit on the player's bench at a late-season Wildcat home game. The Shootout is sponsored by Bluegrass Coca-Cola, Winn-Dixie and Dairy Queen. Ken-

Tiger Pause

Four of our students received top honors in the 4-H Talk meet last Tuesday evening at MVES. John Dyehouse and Charity Sower received runner-up; Christina Judd was the winner in her age group and Emily Potter received Champion and a trophy. Congratulations to all those other students as well, for their participation.

William Henry Bryant collected the most money for St. Jude's Math-A-Thon at BES.

The eighth grade students of Mrs. Katherine Bradley and Mrs. Pamela Martin are participating in a "Day On Campus" Program thanks to Ashland Oil, Citizens Bank and The Bank of Mt. Vernon. The students will visit a college campus in the spring through the program, which is designed to "motivate students' awareness and desire of the importance of continuing education."

When BES decided to participate in the St. Jude's Math-A-Thon, Mrs. Regina Burton's Middle School math class took it to heart. With fourteen math students, they set individual goals and a class goal of $500. At the completion of the project, twelve students had collected $392.89 to team a pizza party. William Henry Bryant collected $75.60 and won the prize for collecting the most money. Besides practicing math skills, the class felt really good about helping others.

The BEAST (Broadhead Elementary Academic Success Team) celebrated the holidays with a party given in their honor at the home of coach, Regina Burton. We would like to thank Ms. Burton for all the extra time given toward supporting our kids!

The Showstoppers, under the direction of Mrs. Pam Martin and Ms. Janice Huff, will perform "I Love Christmas" for the student body, Wed., Dec. 22, at 1 p.m. There will be special singing by Brooke Roberts, Michelle Whitehead, and Angela Owens. Primary students Rachel Childress and Ben McKibben will entertain as Rudolph and Frosty.

The 21st Century class enjoyed the hospitality of Regina and Robbie Crawford last Thursday when they traveled to the Crawford's airfield on Brindle Ridge. Inquiring minds want to know and Mr. and Mrs. Crawford provided the information!! The most fun was watching as Robbie took off and landed the Cessna 172 as the students watched from the hangar door. Thank you - Regina and Robbie - for a great introduction to flying.

Principal's List

The following students of Broadhead Elementary were recognized at the Awards Assembly for performing at the Proficient and/or Distinguished Level of the KIRIS Assessment.

Mt. Vernon Message

Ms. Smith's Student of the Week is Brooke Bradley. In reading, her students are reading about a cow that went 'oink.' In Connections, they are studying American History.

Ms. Roark's class is doing The Night Before Christmas. The Student of the Week is Justin Richards. The students are studying Christmas cultures.

Ms. Maples' students are making Rudolphs out of construction paper and pipe cleaners. Students who have birthdays are Brandon Falin, Anna Guilfoi, Matthew Bullock, Jamie Perlin. In math, they are measuring objects.

During the month of December, Ms. Brewer's fourth level primary school have worked on and presented a play to the primary school. The students really enjoyed it. Birthdays for December include Steven Haling on December 2 and Mark Miller on December 4. The class will have a Christmas Party on December 22 and they are all excited about that and the vacation that follows.

Ms. Reed's 4th grade classes are making Christmas ornaments. They are reading "Throw Away the Generation" booklet. They have 25 days of perfect attendance. They are also presently studying endangered species.

Ms. Kincer's class had three winners in the 4-H Talk Meet last Tuesday. They are Stephen Hopkins, 1st place in the 11 year old category, Katy Powell, 1st place in the 10 year old category, and Tasha Vanant, 2nd place in the 10 year old category.

Mr. Napier's Student of the Week is Granville Graves. The class is having a blast working with Cuisenaire Rods in math. They have used them to discover and to find out how to add and subtract. In writing, they are having fun writing a piece on humor. In science, they have just started a unit on electricity. Do you know why birds can sit on 70,000 volts of electricity? Mr. Napier's class does. It's because the wires aren't grounded. In art, students made candles for their parents for Christmas. They turned out very well and students enjoyed doing something for their parents.

Mr. Davidson's class is studying Christmas Around the World in social studies. In health, they are studying body systems.

Ms. Abney's class will be exchanging gifts and having a Christmas Party.

Tobacco executive hopeful about opening trade with Cuba

by Tracy Todd

Have you ever visited a place where practically no crime exists and citizens are automatically put to death for possession of illegal drugs?

Danny McKinney, a Rockcastle County resident, recently visited such a place - Cuba.

McKinney served as head of the Farm Credit Cooperative, President of the Bank of Mt. Vernon, and is now CEO of Burley Tobacco Cooperative, that coordinates tobacco support for farmers in five states.

He accepted an invitation to go to Cuba with a small organized group in hopes of eventually initiating a policy of open trade.

An embargo has existed between the U.S. and Cuba since 1962 when the dictator Fidel Castro betrayed U.S. trust, adopted Communism, and allied itself with Russia.

Though the trip was independently sponsored, permission from U.S. officials was necessary for the group to visit Cuba.

McKinney said Cubans, however, are allowed to come to the U.S. for a few hours.

McKinney said the plane he boarded for Cuba was filled with 300 or more Cubans carrying overly stuffed duffel bags, mostly Wal-Mart goods. He said many were wearing loads of hais stacked one on top of the other and carrying Elvis memorabilia.

The group did not directly conference with Castro as they had anticipated. The week before, two Cuban pilots had defected to the U.S. with Cuban planes. (Since that time, several other Cuban athletes have defected to the U.S.)

According to McKinney, however, the main reason they decided not to ask for a meeting was that they did not have U.S. approval to propose anything concrete.

McKinney received the impression that Castro is a very secretive, even reclusive, ruler.

Cuban citizens say he seldom appears in public, nothing is named in his honor, and his pictures are found nowhere.

McKinney says the Cubans refer to him as if he were a god.

Cuban officials, who served as tour guides and hosts, told the eight Americans they could go anywhere they pleased and take any pictures they wanted.

The image of the United States in Cuba is one of uncaring and uncompassionate. McKinney says they view the U.S. as "big shots" who have everything.

Cuban families live on approximately $150 monthly, eating primarily rice, beans, and bananas.

Their only milk is in a powdered form from Europe.

The stores McKinney visited were empty. One store, he said, might have a few sacks of flour and the next one might have only two or three items sitting on its bare shelves.

Because of a severe shortage of petroleum products, farmers there have had to park their antique tractors and are plowing with oxen.

Public transportation (when gas can be found) is in an old farm truck with racks for a bus gutted of seats and loaded with standing commuters.

Bicycles are the common means of transportation. The few vehicles left in Cuba are the 1950's models - some with several hundred thousand miles on them.

Everywhere, McKinney says, there is neglect, disrepair and poverty.

"These people could use everything we have," says McKinney. "It would be an advantage to our farmers to trade with them."

Though there is no crime in Cuba, prostitution is legal and very common. He said most of the girls just want a good meal.

The embargo placed on Cuba was the result of bitter ideological differences which turned into a bitter confrontation.

The U.S. had been a strong defender of Cuba until Castro rebelled and took total control of the government in 1963.

At that time, Castro began working with Khrushchev to convert Cuba to a Communist nation. This frightened the United States since Cuba is located only 90 miles off the coast of Florida.

As a result of the Cuban Missile Crisis, the Cubans and Soviets backed down to the U.S. threats of attack and withdrew the Soviet nuclear missiles.

After he became dictator, Castro also confiscated millions of dollars worth of property owned by U.S.

citizens there.

Although the U.S. wasn't directly involved in the aborted Bay of Pigs invasion, the Cuban exiles who initiated it more or less had U.S. blessing. U.S. funding for the fit-to-arms worsened the relations between the two countries.

Guantanamo Bay, a U.S. naval base, is located on the tip of the island. The U.S. government pays rent for this base, yet Castro allegedly refuses to cash the checks.

The group McKinney traveled with is planning another trip sometime during the next few months.

Hand rolled cigars, the finished product.

Put the outdoors in Christmas stockings

Need some ideas for last-minute Christmas gifts? Consider giving presents that not only benefit the receiver but the Kentucky outdoors.

A subscription to Kentucky Afield - The Magazine is always a welcome gift, especially for anyone on your list interested in fishing, hunting, endangered species, restoration programs and many other wildlife related topics. Letters from youngsters, parents and teachers indicate Kentucky Afield is being used more and more for school projects as well as just-for-fun reading. Quality color photos not only enhance readers' enjoyment but appear on many classroom walls in the commonwealth. An annual subscription of six issues, including the popular July through June outdoor calendar, only costs $5.

Where else can you find an inexpensive gift with this kind of long-lasting value?

Subscriptions must be prepaid. Just mail a check or money order along with complete mailing address to Kentucky Afield, #1 Game Farm Rd., Frankfort, KY 40601. Upon request, a gift card will be sent to the person receiving this Christmas present from you.

Sport licenses make super stocking stuffers, too, especially for that angler or hunter on your Christmas list. Even though 1994-95 hunting and fishing licenses aren't required until March 1, they're available for purchase now.

An annual resident fishing or hunting license costs $12.50 each, but you can save several dollars by buying one license for both sports. The annual combination hunting and fishing license, available for residents only, costs $20. Another popular choice for husbands and wives who fish is the joint fishing license. This license costs $22.50 and is available to residents only. Nonresident sport licenses are also available.

Licenses may be purchased by mail from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources at the address listed above. Licenses are also available from county court clerk's offices and many sporting goods stores across the state.

Songbird nest box kits won't fit in stockings very well but they do just fine under Christmas trees. A hammer is all that's needed to build a nest box from a kit; eight-year-olds can probably put a kit together with little assistance. The nest boxes can be adapted to attract nine songbird species in Kentucky. Supplies are limited. If ordering through the mail, each kit costs $8.95. The songbird nest box kits may be purchased in person for $6 each at the fish and wildlife department's central office on the Game Farm. The Game Farm is located three miles west of Frankfort on US 60.

Kentucky Afield caps also make welcome Christmas presents. Caps are available in royal blue or green. Supplies are limited. Caps are $8 each by mail, or $7 each if purchased in person at the Game Farm (see location given above).

If any of these suggestions are suitable for your gift giving, don't delay. Make out that prepaid order today. The dollars you spend on sport licenses and any of the other gifts items listed here help support the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and its programs.

Hunting season reminders:
Duck and goose hunting in the Western Zone gets underway Saturday, Dec. 11, 1993. Western Zone duck hunting continues through Jan. 5, 1994 and goose hunting through the last day of January. Duck hunters in the Eastern Zone may hunt Dec.

Lady Rockets lose to Boyle Co. in finals; tournament disheartening

The Lady Rockets opened up the first round in the Boyle County round robin tournament with a 67 to 61 loss to Somerset last Wednesday night. Rockcastle again got off to a fast start, jumping out to an eight point lead after the first period.

But then the Lady Jumpers got the hot hand when they bombed four three pointers in the second quarter in route to a 25 to 12 run.

The Lady Rockets quickly saw their eight point lead dissolve and found themselves down five at the break.

"At that point in the second quarter we should have went man to man," Coach Beaver said.

From there the Lady Rockets hung tough and found themselves with a chance to go ahead in the fourth quarter.

However, three costly turnovers in the final three minutes sealed the victory for the Lady Jumpers as they converted the miscues into six points. Although Rockcastle lost, Coach Beaver was still pleased with the team's overall performance but felt that their half court offense still needs some work.

"If we had executed our offense and played smarter, we would have won the ballgame," Beaver said.

Cindy McCauley poured in a team high twenty points and grabbed a team high thirteen rebounds.

Junior point guard Becky Osborne put in a solid performance with a team high six assists and also provided some good outside shooting connecting on two of three treys.

Melinda Smith also played some very good defense and added ten points as she turned in another consistent game for the Lady Rockets. Heather Deckard was the fourth player to reach double figures scoring twelve points and grabbing six boards.

Lady Rockets v. Pulaski S.W.

The Lady Rockets, led by balanced scoring and good rebounding knocked off Southwestern Pulaski Thursday night 59 to 41 in the second game of the tournament.

Although the Lady Rockets played very sloppy at times, their hustle and good team play notched their second win in four games to pull Rockcastle's record to two and two on the young season.

The Lady Rockets came out strong in the first quarter as SW Pulaski had trouble with the Lady Rockets swarming full court press.

The press paid off for Rockcastle and the Lady Rockets were able to cash in for easy buckets off of S.W. Pulaski's miscues.

With a combination of solid defense and excellent rebounding, the Lady Rockets never looked back after they jumped out to a sixteen to five lead in the first quarter.

Coach Beaver would still like for the half-court offense to be better, and felt at times the Lady Rocket's play was sloppy, but was still happy about their aggressiveness on defense and their spectacular board work.

"We will take a win any way we can get it," Beaver said. "I felt the key factor in winning the ball game was our rebounding," she added.

The Lady Rockets grabbed 36 boards with fourteen of these coming off the offensive glass for easy put-backs.

Cindy McCauley again turned in another rock solid performance by scoring twelve points, with fifteen rebounds and five steals.

Junior point guard Becky Osborne scored eleven points while dishing out a team high five assists.

Junior guard Melinda Smith played excellent defense the entire game and held S.W. Pulaski's point guard to only two points while scoring eight points herself.

Janetta McLemore also contributed eight points, and the Lady Rockets had five other players with eight points or more.

Coach Beaver got some good play off the bench from freshman Susie Carpenter. She scored eight points and cleared six rebounds off the glass.

The bench contributed fifteen of the 59 points. "The players that came off the bench did a good job," Beaver said.

Lady Rockets v. Boyle County

The Lady Rockets had a rough start in the final game of the tournament against Boyle County getting down 13-3 in a disappointing 52 to 50 loss.

"We didn't run our half court offense," Beaver said. "That's what got us down so early."

The Rockets quickly regrouped and went in a box and chase defense with Melinda Smith shutting down Boyle county's point guard who had scored eleven points in the first quarter.

The Rockets held Boyle county to only eight points the second quarter and went into the locker room at half time down by only two, 25-23.

The Rockets had twenty six turnovers due to Boyle County's press, but some were just Rocket miscues.

The Lady Rockets did a good job on their fast break, keeping the score even in the third and fourth quarters.

"The whole team played hard," Beaver said. "It was a very difficult loss, but we proved that we can play with Boyle County."

Rockcastle had an opportunity to win when Boyle County missed the back end of a bonus, but the Lady Rockets did not block out and rebound, thus causing them to have to foul.

Cindy McCauley led the scoring effort with twenty one points, followed by point guard Becky Osborne with ten.

It was a disappointing tournament for the Lady Rockets. Not because they did not win it, but because they felt that it was not set up properly.

Rockcastle lost their two games by a total of eight points, while S.W. Pulaski, who received second place, lost their two games by a total of 34 points. Somerset, who received third place, lost their two games by a total of 26 points. Rockcastle received fourth place.

Cindy McCauley was the only Lady Rocket to make the All-Tournament team, while S.W. Pulaski, who Rockcastle beat by 18 points, had three players make the All-Tournament team.

highway officials and businessmen together to talk about the changes.

Ford said the present plan could cost a lot of jobs in the area and he has been contacting road officials at Frazer.

"I think there will be changes in the plan, but I don't know what changes. I think they will eventually do something different. The business owners are upset with good reason," Ford said.

He noted that most likely they would be more satisfied with a turn lane on the present road.

Uphill traffic must stop for left turning vehicles, especially in the area of Wendy's. Federal officials have not liked the entrance/exist at McDonald's.

Among owners of businesses in the area are Jim Earl Hammonds, Eddie Curry heirs of London, Butch Hardy of Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roberts and Wayne Gregory.

Roger Smith manager of B.P. Service Station said he was opposed to the roads. It will be hard to build somewhere else and the eight employees employed will suffer.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer of Mt. Vernon said it is a shame the highway department would come in and destroy everything.

"I think there is a compromise somewhere," the mayor said. He added a three or four-lane road would be a good idea.

In another, the Cumberland Gap tunnel and nine other Kentucky road projects that faced losing their federal money under a Clinton administration plan now appear to be safe from budget cutting.

U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers, R-Somerset, said that when the Clinton administration brought its list of specific budget cuts to Congress, money for the Kentucky highway demonstrations projects was not cut. And the final version of the budget cuts that passed the House before Thanksgiving did not touch the Kentucky projects, he said.

Federal Highway Administrator Rodney Slater said yesterday that highway officials decided it would not be a good idea to take away funding for projects that were already under construction.

"We don't think we can be good stewards of the public resources if we're going to leave holes in the ground," Slater said.

Dave Smith, Kentucky's assistant state highway engineer for planning, said that work had already begun on all of the Kentucky projects.

In addition to the Cumberland Gap tunnel project, the nine other projects that could have been threatened were: U.S. 23 between Paintsville and Prestonsburg.

A portion of U.S. 27 in Jessamine County.

Ohio River bridge at Maysville. Ohio River bridge at Owensboro.

A riverfront project in Jefferson County.

Two projects on U.S. 19 in Pike County.

Thanks, Mayor Hamilton

Dear Editor,

I would like to express my thanks and deep appreciation to Livingston's Mayor Ralph Hamilton and for every effort he has made to help our community.

I would like to especially thank him for coming up with the idea for our community dinner which was a tremendous success.

This man is not originally from this community, but since moving here and being elected mayor he has spent endless hours working on projects for the betterment of our town. I would also like to thank him and his wife Corrie for seeing the sad state that our city's Christmas decorations were in and suggesting they be repaired before they were put up this year. Also a special thanks to Peggy McClure for taking the time to go door to door collecting donations so they could be repaired, and to everyone who worked on them and all those that donated their time and money.

We have a fine community here and with everyone working together, we can all make it even better.

Merry Christmas to everyone at the Signal office and thanks for the coverage of our events in Livingston.

Sincerely,
Jenny Nicely

RCHS SBDM News

Albright retires at RCHS, Adams to replace

The Rockcastle County High School SBDM Council met in regular session on November 29, 1993 at 6 p.m. in the Home Economics Department. Council members present were: Ronnie Cash, Ruth Allen, Tom Kelley, Charles Norris, Ronnie Sears and Connie Riddle.

I. Welcome:

The meeting was called to order at 6:05 p.m. by Ronnie Cash, chairman. Several parents were in attendance and were recognized by the chairman.

Minutes of the October 1993 meeting were presented. Mr. Cash reported that Mr. Pybas had been informed of the council's request for a band action plan. This plan will be presented at a later meeting. Mr. Cox informed the council that an error was present in the wording of the math section of the portfolio policy on the back page of the minutes. The incorrect word "adding" was typed rather than the correct word, "math".

Following this discussion Tom Kelley made the motion to accept the minutes as explained and corrected and Connie Riddle seconded. Motion passed.

II. Staffing:

Mr. Cash informed the council that Jerry Adams was employed to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Everett Albright.

The council wanted the minutes to reflect their appreciation for Mr. Albright's years of dedicated service to Rockcastle County High School.

Next Mr. Cash announced that due to recent changes in the EBD program, an instructional assistant has become necessary. Phillip Lanham, the present TMH Instructional Assistant, elected to transfer to the EBD position thus creating an opening for TMH.

A motion by Ronnie Sears indicated the TMH position should be filled due to the emergency conditions in this situation. The motion instructed the principals to interview and hire an individual immediately. The motion was seconded by Charles Norris and by consensus the motion passed.

III. Policy Update:

No item of policy was presented due to situation changes after Mr. Cash prepared the agenda.

IV. Building and Grounds:

Mrs. Hanim reported that the cleaning of the carpet recently was unsatisfactory due to breakdown of the Kenway shampoo machine and the absence of Mr. Kirby due to the death of his son-in-law. In other matters of building cleanliness there have been no complaints.

V. Holiday-weekend practice (games, etc.)

A parent group was present to question the council about rules or policies concerning use of the school facilities during weekends, holidays, or anytime school was not in general session. Discussion followed pertaining to reasons why facility use should be allowed as well as why it should not be allowed.

The parent group was informed that no policy covered this situation. A committee consisting of Connie Riddle, Ruth Allen, Charles Norris and Ronnie Cash was appointed to draft a policy to be voted on in the December 1993 meeting. In the absence of a policy, the principal was instructed to make an administrative decision concerning all games, practice, and conditioning schedules until such time a policy was approved.

VI. December Meeting:
Due to the Christmas holidays the December meeting was moved to the third Monday, December 20, 1993. By consensus all agreed.

VII. Mr. Cox's Remarks:

Mr. Cox presented to the council a request for the formation of a Curriculum Steering Committee. This would be necessary due to all the restructuring efforts being attempted. The following individuals were recommended to the council: James Cox, chairperson, Dale Whitaker, Diana Waddle, Patty Reese and Cathy Short. Ex-officio members approved were

Livingston Community Dinner

About 300 people attended the first annual Livingston Community Christmas Dinner at Livingston school Sunday afternoon.

Rebecca Ayers and mom, Renee, talked to Santa at the Livingston Community Christmas dinner Sunday afternoon. Santa arrived compliments of the Livingston fire truck.

Mrs. Maude Mullins, left, presented Livingston Mayor Ralph Hamilton and his wife Connie with a plaque from the Livingston Ladies Auxiliary commending their efforts in Livingston and for organizing the Community Christmas dinner.

ASCS county committee election results told

Results of the December 6 election of the county ASC committee persons for 1993 were announced today by Harold Ballinger, County Executive Director of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization Service (ASCS). Darrell Wayne Whitaker of the Wadd area was named to the committee post in the mail balloting. He will join Richard Lawrence and Clarence Raymond Brown to form the 1994 Rockcastle County ASC Committee.

Harold Ballinger stated farmer committees are in charge of local administration of national farm programs, under the guidance of the Kentucky State ASC Committee and applicable Federal laws and regulations. At least one committee member and two alternates are elected each year. The farmer receiving the largest number of votes is elected to the county committee for a three-year term; persons receiving the second largest and third largest number of votes are elected to one-year terms as first and second alternates.

Harold Ballinger stated that last year approximately 90 percent of all farmers in the county participated in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committee.

RVAC Dance

The RVAC (VVA 677) will be celebrating the Christmas holiday this weekend. On Friday members will meet at the building to decorate. At 5:30 p.m. they will have their Christmas pot luck dinner for members. At 8 p.m. there will be a Christmas Dance featuring Hasty Street Band. The dance is open to the public. The charge for this will be $5 for adults and $3 for young people 18 and under. Please come out and support us and have a good time.

Ford urges farmers to fight cigarette tax

Kentucky burley farmers must not give up despite the many attacks on their crop, U.S. Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., said yesterday.

"Kentucky farmers don't have agendas," he said. "They have mortgages and crops in the field and families to support."

He spoke at the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation's 74th annual convention.

Ford said he will continue to fight President Clinton's plan to raise the federal excise tax on cigarettes 75 cents a pack.

Clinton wants the money to help pay for health-care reform. It has been estimated the increase would cut sales 15 percent the first year.

Farm Bureau President William Sprague also criticized anti-smoking activists and politicians "who tell us to stop growing our No. 1 cash crop as a gesture to behavior modification and political correctness."

Local woman shoots herself

A Mt. Vernon woman is in serious condition at U.K. Medical Center after she was shot in the stomach Friday at her home in VanZant apartments.

State police reported Mrs. Shirley Argenbright, 24, used a 38 caliber pistol. The wound was apparently self-inflicted, police said.

School system participates in Alliance High School Symposium in Washington

Rockcastle County High School (RCHS) participated in the Alliance High School Symposium held in Washington, D.C. December 2-5.

Twenty-eight teams from throughout the nation were invited to attend at the expense of the National Alliance for Restructuring Education (NARE). RCHS is a member of NARE along with four other high schools in Kentucky. NARE is committed to the redesign/restructuring of the American High School and the goal of the Alliance High School Symposium was to collectively engage Alliance high schools in thinking about this goal.

The educational team involved in the National Symposium for High School Restructuring shown above at the nation's capitol in Washington, D.C. included: James Cox, assistant principal; Ronnie Cash, principal; Bige Towery, superintendent; Ruth Allen, teacher; Donna Hopkins, vocational school principal and Diana Waddle, tech-prep/school-to-work coordinator.

The goals of NARE are aligned with Kentucky Educational Reform Act (KERA) and include:

- Educate all of America's children to high levels.
- Connect all students to school, community and the world of work.
- Provide all students with the knowledge, skills and opportunities needed for success after high school.

During the symposium participants were exposed to successful school models being used nationwide which generated thinking as to what form and direction Rockcastle County High School should take. Two major changes that can be expected at RCHS next year will be in the areas of subject offerings (curriculum) and time (number and length of class periods).

The curriculum changes will be experienced in providing courses with academic rigor and world of work applications. We will be attempting to make education more relevant or meaningful. This will be accomplished through the newly implemented Tech-Prep initiative.

Scheduling of this high school day may take different forms rather than the traditional 50-55 minute class periods. This time restructuring will enable students to increase the number of subject offerings as well as enhance the teaching/learning experiences.

Community and business/industry leaders are calling for changes in education to meet the challenges of a technological knowledge based society. Rockcastle County High School is dedicated to improvement and meeting this challenge.

CAP's Christmas giving is family affair

Beginning Dec. 14 and continuing to Dec. 21 Christian Appalachian Project (CAP) will distribute boxes to families in Garrard, Rockcastle, Lincoln, Casey, Magoffin, Floyd, Knox, Lawrence, and Martin counties.

The distributors of Christmas baskets each year is a family affair for CAP.

Volunteers return each year to help pack food boxes, prepare gift packages, and then help distribute them. People who have participated in CAP programs throughout the year also come and help get ready and distribute gifts and food boxes.

Food boxes and gifts will be handed out to over 1800 families. Additionally, 803 elderly people will receive either gifts and food or just gifts. CAP is also supplying other community agencies within the eastern Kentucky region with grants and food stuffs for their Christmas programs.

These distributions are CAP's way of celebrating Christmas with the people who have participated in its programs during the past year. The gifts are bought by families in other parts of the country, who have been given information, such as clothing sizes, ages, and gift-desires, about each member of the family.

The distributions listed below begin at 10 a.m., and generally end around 2 p.m. The Rockcastle distribution is at the Teen Center on Williams Street.

MOVIE REVIEW

Whoopi Goldberg's Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit

Whoopi for Whoopi! "Sister Act 2" is another musical hit. If church were really like the movie, more of us would go and we would go more often. Whoopi Goldberg once again shows her talent as a complete entertainer, not just a comedian. Her singing, her acting, and her humor are all displayed very well in this continuing story of Dolores, a Las Vegas headliner, turned nun.

In "Sister Act 2" Dolores is asked by some of her friends to try to help St. Francis Academy, an inner city Catholic high school in California, to recapture some of the pride it once had. Dolores is given an extremely rambunctious music class to, whip into shape. Dolores teaches these kids there is more to life (and class) than just "showing up." And that, a little talent goes a long way with a little work and some fun along the way.

Sister Mary Patrick (Kathy Najimy), Sister Mary Lazarus (Mary Wickes) and Mother Superior (Maggie Smith) are all back in Sister Act 2. Father Maurice (Barnard Hughes) and Mr. Crisp (James Coburn) both think that the school is losing money and should be closed. But, not if Dolores, her friends, and her music class have anything to do with it.

"Sister Act 2: Back in the Habit" is rated PG and is now playing in the Regency Cinema 7 in London.

Renfro's Tree of Love will make Christmas brighter for 51 area children

Renfro Valley's Tree of Love will make Christmas a little brighter for 51 area children this year. The tree, which is located in Santa's Workshop in Renfro Village, will be decorated with the names of area children, from newborn infants to youngsters up to age eight. People wishing to help these children have a happy holiday season are invited to drop by Santa's Workshop and select a child's name from the Tree of Love. Santa's elves will give you your child's age, and Christmas wish list. You purchase gifts of your choosing and return the wrapped gifts to Renfro Valley by Tuesday, December 21st and smile with the knowledge that you have helped make a child's Christmas wishes come true!

Santa's Workshop is open every Friday from 4 til 7, Saturdays from 2 til 7, and Sundays 1 til 4.

This is the third year Renfro Valley has sponsored the Tree of Love. The Department of Social Services and R.E.A.P. provides the names of children who will benefit from this program.

Christmas in Brodhead

By: Preston Parrett

Beautiful wreaths hanging on poles
With red bells hanging down,
The Brodhead Christmas tree is lit
And Santa is coming to town.

Homes are brightly decorated
With twinkling lights galore,
And decorations are hanging
In every business and store.

Churches are putting on plays
That tell the birth story of old,
When Christ our Savior was born
And how he received gifts of Myrrh and gold.

Nativity scenes tell the story
Of our Saviour's birth,
And how he was sent from God
To teach hope, peace, and love upon the earth.

Parade day activities are underway
With Charlie Napier, D.J. and M.C.,
He even tried to sing a song
But lost the melody.

The youth group from the Baptist Church
Sang several Christmas songs,
And all the people present
Were invited to sing along.

Their youthful voices were beautiful
As they sang songs of old,
Like Silent Night and Joy to the World
In tones of mellow gold.

Pastor Whicker read from Luke
And offered up a prayer,
Praising God for all the blessings
That we're fortunate enough to share.

The children were all excited
With eyes shining bright,
They're looking forward to the Christmas season

But especially Christmas Eve night.

Mamaws and Papaws remembered
the old days
When only on Christmas Eve did
Santa appear.
For he had to save wear and tear
On his beloved reindeer.
Santa's helpers have bagged treats
Working late into the night,
For they want to be ready
When Santa hoves into sight.

Sirens are heard in the distance
And the parade is underway,
With religious floats, trucks, cars and horses
They're escorting Santa on his way.

Santa rides a fire truck into town
Because he's resting up his reindeer,
So that on Christmas Eve night
They'll be ready for the longest trip of the year.

Santa nimbly jumped off the truck
And went through the firehouse
door,
Where he grabbed up the treats
And passed them out by the score.

Thank you Brodhead Volunteer
Firemen
For all you do throughout the year,
And a very special thanks
For spreading Christmas cheer.

Christmas 1993

By: Lewis Bowling

Christmas nineteen ninety three,
What does it mean to me.
I see a baby in a manger,
There was no room in the inn
Sent by God the Father to be,
A Savior for all men.

I see Him in the temple,
Telling of His Father's plan,
Through Him to bring salvation
To the soul of sinful man
He gladly gave His life
For His Father's plan

I see Him as he walked,
The shore of Galilee,
Calling to all the chosen ones,
follow me.
When I have come to my end,
I will make you fishers of men.

I see Him when He healed the woman,
Who had suffered twelve years,
He filled her heart with joy,
And dried up her tears.

I see Him when He stood
Before Pilate in the judgement hall,
He suffered and died for us all,
Though He had millions of angels,
On not a one did He call.

I see Him carrying the cross to
Mt. Calvary,
Where He died to save you and me,
I see Him show His love to the lost,
When He forgave the thief on the cross.

I see Him when He was crucified,
How He gave up the ghost to die
For all sinners even you and I.

I see Him when He is coming in glory
His bride to claim,
The ones who were faithful
And believed on His dear name,
Up there in glory forever more,
With loved ones on Heaven's bright shore.

Christmas Without You

By: Gail Robinson

It's almost Christmas
The day is drawing near
It's going to be so hard sweetheart
Not having you here.

Things have changed so
Since you went away
This is definitely going to be
One sad Christmas Day.

Of all the many things
The kids and I could wish for
If we could just have you here with us
Sweetheart, we'd wish no more

Our last Christmas was spent
By your hospital bed
We prayed that God would answer
All the prayers we said

But He chose to take you
To your heavenly home
So this year we'll spend
Our Christmas alone

We'll put up the tree
That we got just last year
And put out your same presents
Just like you were here

When Christmas is over
We'll put it away
And repeat it each year
On our Christmas Day

Though you can't be here
We won't really be apart
You live each day and forever
In each of our hearts

So, Merry Christmas sweetheart
With all of our love
To you in your Heavenly
Home up above.

We miss you Robert
And will love you always
Your wife, son
And daughter

Our first Christmas

Without you Mom

In Memory of Bithia Brockman
who departed this life July 3rd, 1993.

Little did we know when
We awoke that morning
The sorrow that day would bring
When we received the tragic news
Sometimes it's hard to understand why

Some things have to be
But in His wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see God gave us strength to bear the blow
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know
They say that time will
heal the wounds,
But some day we'll forget,
but time just seems to drag along.

The pain is with us yet,
A part of life has gone
from us.
A voice we loved is still There's a vacant place that never can be filled.

So sadly missed by daughters
Geneva and Bernice

Everlasting Love

It was a warm Sunday September day
As I decided to drive by your Grandma's house
Going on my way.

While driving by, I could see
children in the yard
Happily at play.

I thought, "Dear Lord, could that be her?"
As my heart pounded away.

So I parked at the street just beyond
her house,
Watching so closely, being quiet as a
"mouse"

Then you saw me, and began to stare
I knew then it was time for me to go
For it was something I just couldn't bear

As I wiped away the tears
I gave thanks to God for Daddy's little girl whom I hadn't seen in years.

Jesse, I often wonder if they have ever told you about me.

And the love I have for you that will forever be.

For my precious little daughter
I am so sorry for my past,
And too often things happened then that were much too fast.

Jesse, I have prayed for years to be a part
Of your life like I was then

For I did no wrong; we were so close
You were my little angel,
No happier father could there have ever been.

Honey, to me you are more precious than silver or gold
And I love you for you, Jesse, could never be bought or sold.

And after all these years of living
A heartbroken life without you

All that keeps me going is hope that Someday you will love me too.

When all this time your Mom knows
Just how I love you so and if she Only knew, how much good a picture, or even a card would do.

I seem all my life nothing I did was ever quite right.

Because now my life has really changed for the best
I've turned over all my troubles to
God now my soul is at rest.

As hard as it may be for some to believe
By the grace of a loving and giving God
I'm not the person I used to be,
Now that a Christian life has been given to me.

I miss you Jesse, and think of you everyday
My love for you is more than any words could ever say.

I pray someday you will come, with love in your heart,
Searching for me.

Just look for that little Maple
Grove Church
That's where I'll be.

Come on in, take a seat, and your hand I'll hold.
Together, we will listen to the
Preacher spread the Word of Jesus
And the greatest story ever told.

God has taught me to forgive and this I have done from the bottom of my heart.
From this I've learned to pray every day for my darling, that you and I may have a new start.

But for now I wish you a very happy birthday
And a Merry Christmas, and to say I wish I could be there my little dear.

May God always be with you and I promise to write again next year.

I'll say goodbye as I stare at your picture on the wall
And my eyes began to tear.

I love you Jesse, and wish so much you could be here.
Jessica, Rene, 9 years old, Dec. 22
Wishing you a Happy Birthday and a Merry Christmas. I love and miss you more everyday.

Your daddy,
Jimmy

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Local students participate in Kentucky Youth Assembly

Forty-seven students from Mt. Vernon and Roundstone Elementary Schools attended the three-day East Kentucky Youth Assembly which was held at the Holiday Inn, the Civil Center, Historic Capitol and the State Capitol in Frankfort, November 7, 8 and 9th. The students attended the model legislative session which included the roles of legislators, lobbyists, and news reporters. Over 600 delegates from 30 schools traveled to Frankfort prepared to present

100 pieces of self-authored legislation in committees, through the House and Senate chambers, and finally to the Youth Governor's desk for approval or veto.

Mt. Vernon and Roundstone students introduced 12 bills while in session. Of the twelve, eight passed through the House and Senate chambers, with one bill being signed into law by the Youth Governor. It dealt with the statute of limitations in cases of child abuse.

Occurring at the same time was the Model Supreme Court where students prepared written briefs and oral arguments which are presented to the youth justices in the Supreme Court Chamber.

Serving as Senators were: Stewart Abney, Heather Bray, Kelly Farthing, Andy Hale, Shauna Hall, Andrea Horner, Tim Owens, Darin Poynter, Chad Silvers, Crystal Smith and Alex Tyler. Representatives to the House were:

Tracy Ballard, Kevin Bradley, Josh Bowles, Matthew Brown, Suzanne Brown, Nathaniel Bullock, Jonathan Burdette, Crystal Childress, Crystal Frederick, Megan Holbrook, Jessica Johnson, Jennifer Kirby, Kristy Lovell, Holly Machal, Dana Mason, Ronna Dee McClure, Shonda McClure, Tiffany McClure, Cherie McHargue, Brad McNew, Michael Parsons, Lorabeth Payne, Mark Parsons, Jessica Powell, Jason Proctor, Mark Proctor, Heather Rucker,

Kent Smith, Jeana Thacker. Adult sponsors were Rose Brown, Tracy Gabbard, Nancy Hale, Loretta Powell, Suzanne Thacker and John Tyler. Awards received by Rockcastle County students were: Matthew Brown, presented with the Outstanding Premier Delegate Award; Cory Bailey elected to serve as Clerk of the Senate and Tracy Sears served as Clerk of the House. Working as a member of the Press

Corps was Christian Parsons. Serving as Lobbyists to the session were Dana Thacker and Jamie Owens. Youth Advocates to the Supreme Court were Adam Holt and Jeffrey Linville.

All these students are active members in their schools' Y-Clubs which are sponsored by the Kentucky Youth Association State YMCA. The clubs stress leadership, volunteerism, and citizenship.

Transportation Department lists priority roads for snow removal

When winter snow begins to fall, Kentucky Transportation Cabinet road crews will begin clearing the roads with the highest traffic volumes first under a priority system designed to make traveling in Rockcastle County as safe and convenient as possible, Secretary Don C. Kelly has announced.

Kelly urged citizens to use main roadways if at all possible when traveling during hazardous conditions. "These priority roads will be cleared as quickly as possible whenever winter weather hits," Kelly said. "The priority system was established by cabinet engineers who studied traffic volumes and patterns in Rockcastle County to determine which roads served the most citizens, taking into account geographic factors."

Priority A roadways in Rockcastle County, which will be cleared first by Transportation Cabinet road crews, include I-75, U.S. 25, U.S. 150, part of KY 70, and KY 461. This category includes interstates, parkways, urban expressways and other state roads with exceptionally large volumes of Priority B and then C, as indicated on the attached map. Priority B roads include state primary roads, bypasses and traffic.

The next roads to be cleared will be and roads with slightly less traffic than Priority A roads.

State secondary roads, rural secondary roads, and other roads with comparable traffic volumes fall under the Priority C category.

Billboards donated for Shots for Tots

Two billboards advertising "Shots for Tots" a Rockcastle Kiwanis Club service project, has been donated by Tim Brochure, owner of Tri-State Outdoor Advertising of Corbin. The billboards are located at the Pulaski, Rockcastle county line on 461.

Sue Hamm, spokesperson for the project in our area is hoping that with the billboards as a tool for public awareness and other educational information displays, soon all our young children will be immunized. The dream that all our young children no longer be the victims of preventable childhood disease is a goal we all should promote.

Christmas cheer -or-holiday blues?

While most people look forward to the coming holiday season with eagerness, more than most people realize may experience varying degrees of stress and depression.

"Some people become tense and anxious as they get ready for the holidays," said Sam Quick, Extension family resource specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "Others may experience a post-holiday letdown as the good times wind down."

Causes for holiday stress and anxiety range from family factors to personal responsibilities to anniversary reactions, he said.

Family factors include such things as feeling like a child again when a son or daughter visit parents and find they still are treated like a child," Quick said. "Or a person might find it difficult to let a grown child be an adult when that adult comes to visit."

Other causes for stress and anxiety result from a sense of responsibility to try to get everything done at the expense of physical well-being. Overspending a budget for gifts is a frequent source for frustration. Some individuals feel they must assume all the responsibility for making the holidays a success, and they can't.

Still another cause for holiday depression is the sad memory of loved ones who can't be at the celebration, because of death or distance.

Quick offered some practical suggestions to combat stress, anxiety and depression.

Plan to avoid falling back into childhood roles. For example, one might take parents out to dinner and pick up the tab.

Take time to talk with each person in the family individually.

Explain your expectations. Let people know about times you will not be with them. If you are older, let children know in advance how much time you will spend caring for grandchildren.

Consider the overall budget when buying every single gift.

Realize that after two days of living with even loved ones, tempers may flare and old resentments may surface. By realizing that they are coming, you can refuse to take them too seriously.

Allow time to feel the sadness of missing loved ones not present, and realize it's o.k. to feel that way.

"And most of all," Quick said, "cherish the companionship of closest family members and best friends and tell them you care."

December Ability Awareness Month

Christmas is when we focus on the birth of Christ. As we "prepare the way of the Lord" this month, what obstacles might we clear away in our own communities, in our own civil codes, in our own attitudes that may serve as a disability?

Is my work place, church, civic group facility accessible to everyone in my community?

Do I know any sign language? Could I learn a few words this month? Have I called my legislators and told them of any concerns I have with issues involving disabilities?

What part however small and humble, can I take in uniting my world in peace? Merry Christmas!

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

Here it is the week before Christmas and I am still not finished with all the things that I need to do before next week. I make quite a few of my gifts and that usually comes down to the very last day. I'm sure I am not by myself because I hear a lot of our patrons talking about being so rushed at the last minute.

Perhaps we could help some of you out with ideas for last minute gifts. The craft class will be meeting Monday, Dec. 20th at 1 p.m. and each person attending is asked to bring something that they have made and that is done, easily and quickly. A lot of people enjoy getting homemade items, especially those that are not able to do crafts. Please come in and join our group and share your ideas. Also, how about sharing your favorite holiday recipe with us.

Sometimes in the future Pam and I are planning on compiling a cookbook of favorite recipes from the library and bookmobile patrons. We will need help from a lot of the good cooks in the county. Several of the counties in our region have done this and donated a copy of their book to our library, so you might like to check out these books and try some of their recipes.

The library will be closed Friday, 24th and Saturday, 25th. Also, Saturday January 1st. I'd like to suggest a good New Year's resolution for you. Visit your public library more often in the new year and take advantage of the many services that we offer to our patrons. If we don't have the books or other materials that are ask for, we make every effort possible to get them for you.

I have finally received the new biography by Naomi Judd... Love Can Build A Bridge. Here, at last, is the exquisitely personal story of a mother and daughter who sang like angels and fought like devils but loved each other through struggle, triumph and tragedy.

For eight glorious years, Naomi Judd and daughter, Wynonna lived the American dream. They were signed on the spot to RCA in 1983 in a rare live audition and went on to set the music world on its ear. Their pristine harmonies, unique personalities, and stunning presence captured mainstream America's heart.

The Judds were country music's most-honored and top-selling women. They were undefeated as Duet of the Year for eight years, picked up six Grammys, and won a vast array of other awards. In the U.S. alone, they sold over fifteen million albums and were the number one touring act in their industry for 1991.

They were on top of the world when Naomi made the shocking announcement that she was being forced to retire because of a life-threatening liver disease. Their Farewell Concert, televised on cable, was the most successful music show in pay-per-view history. Their last song together broke America's heart and ended one of most beloved acts of all time in country music.

Love Can Build a Bridge is written with the same raw emotion and candor that made the Judds such electrifying performers. Funny, shocking, wise, inspiring, and vulnerable; this behind-the-scenes look into the Judds private lives spares no one and nothing.

A new fiction novel of the early west is Grass Kingdom by Jory Sherman. In the same tradition of Giant and Lonesome Dove, here is the monumental saga of a legendary Texas cattle empire. A towering Lone Star dynasty, united by blood, Grass Kingdom is also a house divided by ambition, torn by its family's fierce desire to dominate the country's cattle business and to ruthlessly crush anyone who gets in their way.

Matt Baron, is the defiant patriarch, whose rule is threatened by oil wells, drought and marauding rustlers. Lou Baron, his tough, beautiful daughter, who punches cattle and breaks men with equal facility.

Ben Killian, whose spread covers millions of acres, whose cattle are beyond counting, but whose bastard son he cannot save.

Jack Bone, a killer, a plunderer and a sexual psychopath of shocking proportions, who is determined to topple this tumultuous clan and carve out a Grass Kingdom of his own.

Elena Alicata, whose quiet beauty hides a secret past that threatens them all.

All the staff here at the library wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!!!

"What Saith the Scriptures"

If I could borrow the words of Gideon, from Judges 6:39, in connection with the Signal readers, "Let not thine anger be hot against me, and I will speak but this once" concerning the elements of the Lord's Supper.

In Mt. 26:26-29 the disciples were told to eat and to drink, the bread and the fruit of the vine, symbolizing "my body" and "my blood of the new testament," thus, two actions and two elements.

In Mk. 14:22-23 the disciples were told to eat and to drink, the bread and the fruit of the vine, symbolizing "my body" and "my blood of the new testament," thus, two actions and two elements.

In Lk. 22:15-20, 30 the disciples did eat and drink with Jesus, the bread and the fruit of the vine, symbolizing "my body" and "the new testament in my blood" and would again eat and drink when the Kingdom of God would come, thus, two actions and two elements.

In 1 Cor. 11:23-29, the disciples were told to eat and to drink, the bread and the cup, symbolizing "my body" and "the new testament in my blood," with a warning, not to eat or drink unworthily (an unworthy manner ASV), thus two actions and two elements.

Metonymy is defined, meta-change, and onoma-name; thus a changed name; use of the name of one thing for that of another associated with name; or suggested by it. If I were going to buy some apples and said, here's some money—buy a basket for me, "I would know you wanted some apples not a wooden basket. Even so, when we read, "drink this cup" we know the Lord does not want us to drink a container, but the fruit of the vine; metonymy, a change of name. Go back through the above scriptures, and "change the name, from the word "cup" with "fruit of the vine" and the reader will understand what the verses are saying. "Drink this cup" = "drink this fruit of the vine," see how the little grammatical device, that we use everyday, clears up the matter.

If any of our readers would like to personally study further on these matters, please let me know by calling or writing (Rt. 4 Box 297, Mt. Vernon, KY 40456.

Bradley E. Powell named forest supervisor for Daniel Boone

Bradley E. Powell has been appointed as the new Forest Supervisor for the Daniel Boone National Forest, effective Dec. 12, according to Marvin Meier, acting regional forester of the U.S. Forest Service's Southern Region, headquartered in Atlanta.

"Brad's knowledge of the Daniel Boone National Forest, its resources and programs, as well as his understanding of the current issues facing the forest, will make him an excellent manager of the forest's numerous resources," said Meier, in announcing this appointment.

Powell, 43, has been the Acting Forest Supervisor of the Daniel Boone National Forest since January 1993. He previously served as the Deputy Forest Supervisor for the forest since October 1990. He succeeds Richard H. Wengert, who retired last January after serving as Daniel Boone Forest Supervisor for 18 years.

Born in Texas, Powell received his bachelor's degree in forest science from the University of Missouri. He has worked for the U.S. Forest Service for 18 years.

Prior to his appointment on the Daniel Boone National Forest, Powell served as the National Monument Manager for the Mount St. Helens National Volcanic Monument on the Gifford Pinchot National Forest in the Pacific Northwest Region (Oregon, Washington). Powell also worked on National Forests in the Southwestern region (Arizona, New Mexico) and the Alaska Region.

Powell will lead a management team which is actively involved in the protection and inventory of cultural resources, wilderness, watershed protection and monitoring, mineral leasing, wildlife management and timber management.

The 680,000-acre Daniel Boone National Forest is the largest tract of publicly owned land in Kentucky. Located in the eastern Kentucky mountains and covering portions of 21 counties, the forest is located within a six hour drive of 23 million people. The land is generally rugged and characterized by steep slopes, narrow valleys and over 3,400 miles of cliffline.

Powell resides in Winchester with his wife Cherie, his daughter Amber and son Travis.

Fish named assistant prosecutor

Burdette will take office in January

In preparation for assuming the responsibilities of the office of Rockcastle County Attorney, Jeffrey T. Burdette has attended both the 1993 Kentucky Prosecutors Conference held in Louisville during the week of August 18 and the Prosecutors Advisory Council's Training Seminar in Lexington during the week of December 6.

The newly elected County Attorney will be faced with the task of new cases during 1994 as well as older cases. According to District Court records, approximately 398 pending cases will be carried over from 1993. Overall, records indicate approximately 717 open cases in the District Court files, not taking into account juvenile and domestic violence cases. Presently, on January 5, 1994, the District Court Docket for the first Court session in 1994, has 45 cases scheduled, 28 of which are Pre-Trial Conferences.

Burdette has announced that he has selected Jerome S. Fish, II to serve as assistant County Attorney. Fish, who lives in Brodhead, with his wife Paula, has been practicing law since 1987. He joins an already established staff of experienced personnel which includes Mrs. Goldie Pickard, who along with husband Joe, has four children. Mrs. Pickard has worked with Mr. Burdette for over two years and has nearly 15 years experience as a legal secretary. Ms. Shelley L. Raines, of Mt. Vernon, who has been a member of Burdette's staff for over two years, is currently a senior at Eastern Kentucky University working toward a Bachelors Degree in Paralegal Science. Also, in the paralegal program at Eastern Kentucky University, is Mrs. Kathy Robinson, who along with her husband Edwin, lives near Blue Springs and has two children. Mrs. Robinson has been in Burdette's employ for over 16 months.

Burdette emphasized his continuing plans to keep he and his staff educated and updated on the legal system, so as to bring the best efforts possible to the Rockcastle District Court. "I have taken extremely deliberate and cautious measures in order to prepare myself and assemble a quality staff to serve the citizens. I look forward to the challenge ahead, and sincerely hope to give the people a County Attorney's office they can be proud of."

The County Attorney's Office will be located primarily at 140 West Main Street in Mt. Vernon, but steps are being taken to provide the County Attorney with a small office in the old Courthouse building. Burdette will keep his private practice of primarily workers compensation, personal injury and social security.

Rockets look to improve on last season's record of 9-17

The 1993-94 Rockets opened their season with high expectations under the direction of second year head coach Clayton Cash.

However, several questions remain to be answered if the Rockets want to improve on their 9 and 17 record of last year.

"We're a good shooting team," states Cash. "We're also quicker than we were and deeper off the bench than last year. I feel these strengths will help us improve on last year's record."

How will the Rockets replace 6'6" center Corey Craig, who is now a Mountaineer at Berea College?

"That is our biggest weakness," said Cash. "We have no size, no rebounders this year." Losing sophomore Eddie Todd to shoulder surgery takes away the one, solid post player with experience for the Rockets. Todd is not expected to play for much of the season.

"Willie Morris, a 6'0" junior and Aaron Cox, a 6'1" senior, will do most of our post work," Cash said "Cox is an aggressive player, and if we can keep him out of foul trouble he'll really help us." Cox has not played organized basketball for two years. Craig's inside play opened up the perimeter play of guard Mickey McClure, a senior. McClure, who is the biggest player on the team at 6'4" will be playing the two-guard/forward position.

"Mickey is not an inside post player," states Cash.

Cash doesn't plan to stay with the 2-3 zone defense that he used last year. "We're going with a trap-type defense, . . . man to man matchup. Without Corey this year as a solid rebounder, it would be hard to stay in a zone."

The Rockets will have to rely heavily on their experienced senior backcourt to

Lady Rockets young but aggressive; hope to make regionals with McCauley

Go Lady Rockets!

Ask any basketball coach what she wants to accomplish in a season and the likely answer you will get is a winning season and reaching the regional tournament.

Christy Beaver, now in her fourth season as head coach of the Lady Rockets, is no exception to the rule.

But what makes her claim different from other coaches in the region is Cindy McCauley.

Cindy, who recently signed with Division I Marshall University Thundering Herd, has taken the responsibility as team leader. The Lady Rockets will look toward her scoring and rebounding ability to lead the Rockets to the regional tournament for the first time in nine years.

"She has already proved she can play by signing with Marshall, now she needs to work on being a smarter player," Beaver said.

"Cindy is very coachable, has good work habits year round and is continually trying to improve her game," added Beaver.

The Lady Rockets also have a talented cast of players that will have to contribute right away. Becky Osborne, a junior point guard, is expected to be a major contributor on offense and Coach Beaver would like for her to become a floor leader.

Melinda Smith, a two-guard junior, usually draws the toughest defensive assignment and can help keep the offense moving with crisp, pin-point passing.

Newcomers to the starting lineup, senior Janetta McLemore and junior Heather Deckard, are going to add depth to the lineup.

"Heather is a smart player and Janetta is a good rebounder and a solid player. She hits the board well, but needs to look to score more," commented Beaver.

"Lady Rockets"
From P4

The Lady Rockets are deep off of the bench with good size and speed. Freshman Susie Carpenter figures prominently off the bench with her ability to score and handle the ball well. Several other underclassmen, including freshmen Amy Robinson and Kristi Moore and sophomores Ginger Mink and Dee Reams could see a lot of playing time.

The Lady Rockets plan to play a pressing, up-tempo style of game, with the bench playing a crucial part.

"All thirteen players must play hard and give me their all," Beaver said. "We will be running several defenses - 1-2-1-I press, half-court, man to man zone and special situation defenses. We will have a motion type offense that gives every player on the floor an opportunity to score," she added.

With the addition of David Perkins to the Lady Rocket coaching staff, Beaver sees a huge bonus coming to the team:

"His expertise will be very valuable when games are on the line. He has more years of coaching experience than the players have been born. The kids have a lot of respect for him," Beaver said.

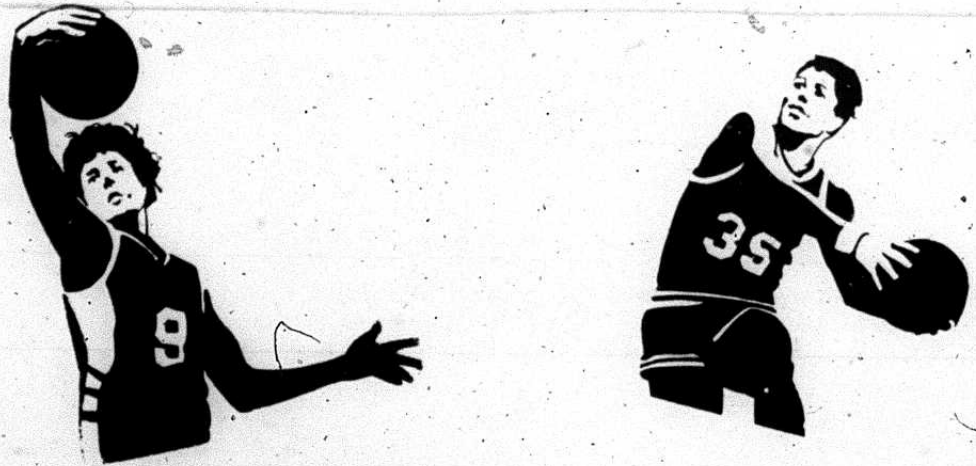

Beaver states that the key to a successful program lies in that, "all thirteen players must implement what we do in practice to game situation."

She adds, "This is the best group of kids that I have had here."

Good luck, Lady Rockets.

Game plan.

Success in basketball requires plenty of planning, good coaching and team play. And it requires a game plan.
At McDonald's, your game plan is simple. We have the team to produce winners every season. Winners like Quarter Pounder, Sandwiches (weight before cooking 4 oz., or 113.4 gms), Big Mac.

Sandwiches, Golden French Fries, and Thick Shakes.
And our game plan includes careful handling. We never drop the ball when it comes to service. Prompt and courteous in whether you're home team or visitor.
So, before or after the next battle on the hardwood, include McDonald's in your game plan.
