Public Notification for Informing the Public of Possible Impact to an Important Land Resource

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is considering a preapplication for financial assistance sponsored by the Western Rockcastle Water Association, Inc. The specific elements of this proposed action is construction of approximately 122,000 L.F. of 4" and 3" water lines in various sections of western Rockcastle, eastern Lincoln and northern Pulaski counties. If implemented, the proposed action may directly or indirectly convert important farmland or prime forest land and convert or impact floodplain or wetland. The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of this possible result, and to request comments concerning (1) the impact of the proposed location on important farmland, prime forest land, floodplain or wetland, (2) alternative sites or actions that would avoid these impacts, and (3) methods that could be used to reduce these impacts.

The proposed action is available for review at the following FmHA Office: FmHA District Office, 207 London Shopping Center, London, Ky. 40741.

Any persons interested in commenting on the proposed action may do so by sending such comments within 30 days following the date of this publication to: Thomas G. Fern, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, 771 Corporate Drive, Suite 200, Lexington, Ky. 40503.

I NEED HELP! WANTED people who remember 1940-1944 H.I. need materials, photos, letters, notes, ANYTHING describing activities related to the Matress Making activities conducted by the County Home Demonstration Agent in Rockcastle County. The time period is in the late 1940 but more particularly April through August 1941 is when the dresses were made. According to the information I have, applications to make cotton mattresses were first take during the period January through April 1940, then reopened in May 1940 through July 1940. Most mattresses were made during the 1941 period. I have talked with several Rockcastle County Citizens who remember this activity quite well. You may drop me a line at the Rockcastle County Library or call me at (606) 622-5931. We can't accept collect calls, but let me know and I will come down or give you a phone call. I can also use stories and materials about Mr. Robert (Bob) Spence, the County Agent at this time. THANKS! 21x2

PUBLIC NOTICE

Pursuant to Section 105(a) (c) of the Job Training Partnership Act of the public review of the Job Training Plan for the Cumberland Service Delivery Area serving the counties of Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Green, McCreary, Pulaski, Russell, Taylor, and Wayne Counties within the Lake Cumberland Area Development District and the counties of Laurel, Rockcastle, and Whitley in the Cumberland Valley Area Development District will be on display beginning April 8, 1994.

The purpose of the Job Training Plan is established to provide programs to prepare youth and adults facing serious barriers to employment for participation in the labor force by providing job training and other services that will result in increased employment and earnings, increased educational and occupational skills, and decreased welfare dependency, thereby improving the quality of the work force and enhancing the productivity and competitiveness of the Nation.

The Job Training Plan for the Cumberland Service Delivery Area will have an approximate budget of $1,945,173.00 to provide approximately 800 participants an array of services such as employability skills, basic education, on-the-job training, vocational education services, and post-secondary education services as determined by the Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

The Job Training Plan for the Cumberland Service Delivery Area for Program Year 1994 beginning July 1, 1994 will be on display for public review in the Lake Cumberland Area Development District office in Russell Springs, Kentucky. Office hours at the Area Development District are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Central Time.

Any inquires can be directed to Steve Clark, JTPA Director of the Lake Cumberland Area Development District (502) 966-4200.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends and family for the thoughtfulness and kindness shown to us during the loss of our mother, Jessie Sargent. A special thanks to SNF of the Berea Hospital, Watson's Funeral Home, Union Chapel Pentecostal Church for the music, Barbara Bussell for her lovely singing, the pallbearers, and also Bro. Charles Shivel for his words of comfort. Thanks to everyone. Children of Jessie Sargent.

We would like to thank our families, friends and neighbors for the love and support they gave us during my long stay in the hospital. To those who came and sat with us, for the calls, flowers, gifts, food, for the checks ordered on our home. For all the prayers, may God bless all of you. Robert and Bernice Miller.

The family of Hazel Mink would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for the comfort of your presence, flowers, cards, words of sympathy, prayers, and for any other help received during the illness and death of our loved one. A special thank you to the staff of the Rockcastle Hospital, the Hospice of Ky. River, Gary Cromer, Cox Funeral Home and to Bro. Harvey Pensel. The children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren.

THE PROPERTY WILL BE SOLD UPON THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS.

1. The property shall be sold as a whole.
2. The property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days.
3. Any purchaser on credit of the property so sold, except the plaintiff or any other lienholder, shall be required to execute a bond for the purchase price with good and sufficient surety approved by the Master Commissioner, payable to himself, bearing interest at the rate of twelve (12) percent per annum from the date of sale until paid, and shall pay 25% of the sale price to the Master Commissioner immediately following said sale. Said bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment upon which execution may issue and shall be and remain a lien upon the property sold to secure the payment of said indebtedness, interest and costs.
4. The purchaser may pay all of the purchase price or may have the privilege of paying the aforesaid bond at any time before maturity by paying the same with interest thereon to the date of payment. If the purchaser at said sale should fail to execute bond, then the Master Commissioner shall declare the next highest bidder the purchaser of said property.
5. In the event that the plaintiff becomes the purchaser of the real estate with improvements hereon at the commissioner's sale and should its bid be less than the debt, interest and costs adjudged to be due, the plaintiff may comply with the terms of the sale by taking credit upon this judgment and without making any cash deposit as provided for hereinabove.

$315,000 federal grant approved

Lack of county funds may kill project

By Richard Anderkin
 A $315,000 grant from the federal government to improve a 58 acre industrial site near Mt. Vernon may be in jeopardy unless the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court can come up with $105,000.

The $105,000 is the county's portion of a $526,000 project that would build new roads, lay water and sewer lines and construct a storm water retention pond to help with the drainage.

The proposed park is located off Hwy. 150 at the Henderson bottoms. It has set idle for over 5 years.

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlotis said he was very thrilled about the federal grant and U.I. he hoped the county could find some way to come up with their portion of the money for the project.

"The money must come from the general fund and the general fund is broken," Carlotis said.

"It will be very difficult to find $105,000 of local money for this project, very difficult," Carlotis said.

The other $105,000 for the project will come from a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission. That grant has yet to be approved, but Jim Cass, of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, said that he had received information from the ARC that the $105,000 from them would be forthcoming. Cass has been in charge of the grant application from the outset.

"Attracting new, good paying jobs is critical to the Rockcastle County area," Rogers said. "A new, well developed industrial park will help make Rockcastle County more competitive to prospective industries. I'm delighted to have been of assistance in this effort and hope to see the creation of new jobs."

"Attracting new, good paying jobs is critical to the Rockcastle County area."

U.S. Representative Harold Rogers

"This industrial park is expected to attract nearly 500 jobs in the next decade and will provide economic support for Rockcastle County," McConnell said. "I'm very pleased that the economic development administration has awarded this grant to the fund vital to infrastructure."

The federal grant approval, from the Economic Development Administration, was announced by U.S. Representative Harold Rogers and U.S. Senator Mitch McConnell.

No money will be released by the federal government until the county can come up with their share of funding for the project.

Bastin Hardwoods Lumber Co. broken into Bastin Hardwoods of Burr was broken in recently. Entry was gained by forcing a back door.

Bastin has offered a $500 reward for any information leading to the arrest of any persons involved in this breakin.

Taken were: one chain saw, three drills, sander/grinder, ratchet, 2 wrenches, a saw, flash light, tool box and tools and a bolt cutter.

Deputy Darrell Dean investigated.

Maple Grove man arrested

Merville Brown, 50, of Maple Grove Road was arrested Monday on a charge of illegal possession of alcohol in a dry territory.

Deputy Sheriff Darrell Dean and State Trooper Craig Sutton were driving by when they saw someone carrying a package out of the house resulting in a search.

Police found 282 cans of Budweiser, 78 cans of Busch, 10 bottles of Kessler whiskey and one bottle of Jim Beam.

He was held on 10 percent of a $3,000 bond.

Four people hurt in wreck

Four persons were injured in a two car wreck on Purr Rigby Road Feb. 23.

A car driven by Faye Rigby of Purr Rigby Road and another driven by Kristopher Cromer of Bradley Powell Road collided at the intersection of Purr Rigby Road and old Brodhead Road.

Passengers in the Rigby car, were Hazel Rigby and Christy Rigby, driver of the other car, and his passenger Rachelle Cromer, were all treated and released at Rockcastle Hospital. Faye Rigby was uninjured according to a police report.

Firefighters not soliciting

The Mt. Vernon Volunteer Fire Department is not soliciting funds at all, according to Fire Chief John Cox. Cox said if anyone calls to send money just ignore the request.

Cox reported solicitation was also being made in London and Corbin.

Multi-million dollar annex deteriorating

The Rockcastle Judicial Annex adjacent to the Rockcastle Courthouse is well used and has some problems, and it looks like the county will have to foot the bill to remedy them.

So said County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis at a recent meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court.

It was one of the items on a lengthy agenda.

The judge said a leak had to be repaired; tiles on the first floor have come loose; heating system doesn't work in cold weather and windows in the skywalk between buildings, leak

Charged with selling sex Former Berea councilman prostitution trial delayed

The trial of a former Berea city councilman charged with second-degree promotion of prostitution has been pushed back to March 29, said Commonwealth's Attorney Thomas J. Smith.

Judge Julia Adams agreed Monday to reschedule the trial from next week to the end of the month, because the timing conflicted with another case, Smith said.

Adams also wanted more time to consider some motions from Towery's defense attorney, Smith said. The motions ask that the case be dismissed because of a lack of evidence that Towery profited from prostitution and that a videotaped statement that Towery made to police be thrown out, Smith said.

FFA chapter receives $1500 grant

The Rockcastle County FFA Chapter has been awarded a $1,500 grant under a new program administered by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

The funds will be used for purchasing a computer and printer for an agriculture technology laboratory. Roy Reynolds, Agriculture teacher, submitted the proposal.

Utilizing the annual interest earned on its Kentucky Rural Rehabilitation Fund account, the Agriculture Department last year established the state 4-H and FFA grants Program to assist local projects. Among 96 project proposals which were submitted for the first year of the program, 44 were approved for funding totalling $59,506. The maximum amount allowed under program guidelines is $3,000.

Everybody knows that Brer Horse has about "shot his wad" as they say in shotgun circles. It cost him a few million dollars to become the governor and he succeeded in getting some special legislation passed for the horse set. Some would say that's all he ever really wanted to do even though he made some noise about the pitiful inadequacy of health care in our state. Some, of course, are right, as they always are.

I've been thinking about running for governor myself. Just putting my name on the ballot and waiting around to see what happens. And maybe talking it up among my close friends and acquaintances. Except, as I understand it, you have to put up fifty dollars just to file and let the people in the courthouse know what you're up to. The question I'd like to ask someone in Frankfort is, What the heck do you do if you want to run for governor and you don't have fifty dollars?

Cause I don't. I can't run for governor because I can't afford to file.

I'll have to borrow money from the credit union to pay last month's electric bill because my lazy youngsters let the fire get down and that Godforsaken baseball head kicked in. You could smell spider Webbs burning where they got laced up between the coils. It's an awful stink. And it'll make your meter run so fast that you'll think it's going to rip right out of the wall.

Personally speaking, I'd a lot druhr just freeze than put up with electric heat.

Anyway, we got to checking around among my friends and acquaintances and Loreta's as well and between the two of us we could probably strong-arm enough contributions to pay my filing fee. The only problem is that most of them would be mad as heck if I didn't get elected.

It's not a risk I'm willing to take. I've got two or three shoe boxes full of "I Like Ike" badges that I found in the back of an old outhouse here on the farm. I think it may have been Republican headquarters back in the fifties. Eisenhower's picture is dead center in the middle of every badge and Loreta swears that if I shaved myself bald-headed she'd think it was me.

Loretta honestly believes that if we could come up with the filing fee, we could pass those badges around and get elected. She points out that it's already worked once.

"If it ain't broke Honey, don't fix it!" she insists. "And if you're really true, you could probably get a few people besides me to like you too!"

But it's not ethical. At least I don't think it is. I don't believe it's right for March is here with wild flowers blooming and 'good old mountain tea coming up under the leaves after a winter of rest. It has tender, green leaves with bright red berries which we hill country children picked early.

We didn't have Snickers or Baby Ruth candy bars to eat so we went to Nature for our "kicks."

You can buy or see the Teaberry chewing gum in stores now. I like to chew the wintergreen flavor and taste the mountain tea flavor in it.

Another plant which is just for its beauty, is the trailing-arbutus with its small, pink, star shaped flower. I dig up the vine out of the leaves and put it in a bowl of water and watch it bloom. You can count on purple violets coming out in damp places. I also bring in the violet and put in Most folks called him "Uncle Sidney." But to me he was "Grandpa" - Sidney Edward Hellard, retired carpenter, would-be grocer, and one-time town marshal of Livingston. He passed away in April of '55 at the age of 88, one month before I graduated from high school. So, I only knew him as an old man.

In heating stove seasons, I filled his coal buckets every evening often sat with him in front of the radio, listening to Lowell Thomas and the News, Lum and Abner, Amos and Andy, and Beulah Bondi, on WHAS. Sometimes I slept the night with him, so I remember his bedtime ritual. First, he read his Bible, outloud when I was present. Like most people, he had trouble with biblical names. Then he'd sing: "How tedious and tasteless the hours/When Jesus no longer I see" or "When I can read my title clear/To mansions in the sky. Those old tunes seemed sorta mournful to me at the time, but now I realize they were songs of hope to him.

He would remove his hearing aid paraphernalia and lay it alongside his Bible, pipe, and twist of leaf tobacco. Shuffling into the bedroom, he stripped to his long-johns and checked his 38 Smith & Wesson holstered on the brass bed post. Then, he withdrew a bottle of moonshine from beneath his mattress, took one healthy swig, returned the bottle to its hideaway, and went to bed. (He got his "tonic" from the county judge!)

Once nestled in for the night, he sometimes prayed, aloud, always ending his intreaty with "And, Lord, save John." John was my father! Had Dad known, he would have cursed up a tempest, which would have been nothing out of the ordinary for him. Grandpa and Dad had nothing in common, except a tendency to argue.

me to run in Eisenhower's stationery. On the other hand, his name was Dwight and he called himself Ike. That doesn't sound very ethical to me either. Am I wrong?

What if I went around asking you to vote for me and I told you my name was Dwight? What if you all elected Dwight for governor and I came along and told you my name was really Ike.

You'd be made as heck, and well you should.

But at least ole Dwight had the filing fee. I wonder if he had to pay extra to call himself "Ike."

In the meantime, please be advised that I'm not running for governor or constable or anything else. But if somebody does give you a politician badge with my name on it, please be kind to them. They mean well.

They probably threw a quarter into my filing fund and figured it was a sure thing. And that is to be kind.

Be as gentle as you can when you tell them know that I'm not on the ticket. Tell them to call me up and I'll see to it that they get all their money back. Etc.

Tell 'em too, that we'll all appreciate their votes for some ethical behavior in politics and if they don't want to vote, tell them to call the editor of this newspaper and fuss at him. Even that's better than kicking the dog.

Cause me and the dogs can't afford to get into politics. And your editor can't afford not to.

and old age. (My father was sixty-six years old when I was born!) And when Grandpa moved in with us, those commonalities produced no little furor, and a heap of hysteria-for me. Poor Momma was usually in the middle trying to make peace.

Grandpa always voted Republican, no matter who was running. Dad was just as loyal to the Democratic roster.

And that led to a profusion of debate and expletives, usually in front of an audience in our grocery and dry goods store. One election year they got into it so fiercely that a bet was made. Dad lost. So, Grandpa sat in a wheelchair, and Dad pushed him from the store on Richmond Street (now the Rolla Corcoran place) to the Court House, and back home.

Other kinds of incidents added fuel to the fire. One day Grandpa decided to help Momma do the weekly clothes washing—which made her want to scream "Help!" While Momma was away from the tubs, Grandpa proceeded to feed the "whites" through the ringer, and the ringer leaked out. Not knowing there was a release button, he tried in vain to free the clothes wrapped tightly around the rollers. But he would not be defeated. He simply opened his pocket knife and cut them loose, shredding a shirt and creating an additional slit in Dad's long-handles. That was doubly serious because Dad had on his only other pair!

The most hilarious exchange occurred one winter while I was away at college. Overnight, the fire in the living room Cole Sieve died out, infuriating Dad, who thought he had banked it well. Rushing about to kindle new fire, and mumbling non-church words as he went, Dad spiced Grandpa coming into the room, barefooted, in long handles.

"Gee? Sidney, the fire's out. Go back to bed."

"Who's dead, John?" Grandpa asked innocently.

More non-church words—which Grandpa couldn't make out without his hearing aid. Come to think of it, he couldn't make them out with it.

"Well, what do you reckon was wrong with him?" Grandpa said.

"0% &#x26;," Dad exclaimed. "Go back to your room. You'll catch pneumonia on this cold floor."

"I declare," Grandpa said, sitting down. "Who was the whore, John?"

water. Be sure to dig up a clod of the rosin. Be sure dirt and violet in water also and watch them bloom.

Soon wild greens will come in and you talk about a "good mess" to go with cracklin bread if you've got the side meat of a hog to season the greens with.

So many folks were without electricity after the storm which will be called the "Terrible Winter of '94."

Did I tell you about old timer Bill Stewart trying to kill himself or at least I thought so when he had a bad fall at his home in Wildie. He didn't break anything, on himself, but it sure shook him up. He did have had his hearing aid.

Everyone there was trying to help him find it but no luck. It's been over a week or so and the family may have it by now. He can't hear a thing without it.

Old man (country title) Bill's son, Kenneth, came in and John joked with him, saying that now Bill couldn't hear, they could talk about him.

I asked Ballard Parsons what he sold the most of from his store in Wildie during the bad time weather-wise we had.

Ballard said, "milk and bread were my best sales. Of course the kids bought candy and they had plenty to trade on."

I'm wondering, since the kids were so "well healed" with cash during this bad weather, if they hadn't been paid to be good.

Hey, that might work for me! When I go in the kitchen and play my radio while I wash the supper dishes, John has the television on and he complains he couldn't hear his program. Why can't he pay me to be quite like the Wildlife kids do?

We have come through a bad time. Our dog, Spot, left home on February 21st and didn't come back until the 27th, looking more dead than alive. We thought he had taken up with a group of coyotes who have been seen in the land around here, and the hills.

We thought someone had killed him. He had lost weight, the hair on his body was greasy and dirty and he could hardly move.

We've been awfully good to him since he came back for we missed him like a child in the family.

My second big worry this week was losing my check-book. Someone could check out my 15 cents that I keep in my account.

Sunday night John said, "Let's go to church. We've been sick all winter and I feel like going tonight. So we went to our church, Galilee."

Lee Abney met us as he was going out. I said, "Lee, I've heard that you might take an axe to the dogwood trees I gave the church."

"No, I just cut a few of the lower limbs off for firewood. The place is kindly chilly."

He was serious, but I know Lee, he was joking me.

Brother Ira Dean led the service and he was good at it but after all, he has had a little practice!

Kaye Abney, wearing a real pretty knit blouse was a knockout. So was Barbara Spire.

I am so happy we are coming into spring. Maybe I can get to Paris and Linda Swinford house. It sure looks nice up on the level hill where they get a good country view of Scaffold Cane.

Don't forget. These first five days will tell us about the weather to come in the last five.

Spring will be here on March 21st, that's when I take a chair and sit in front of the window to greet it. No going to Florida for me—I like Rockcastle any old time. Sure the snow is bad but you can pop corn and eat cold raw cabbage out of the "hole" in the garden. Outside of Superior Market, I saw a cart with sacks of small onion sets in them. Right then I develop spring gardening fever and beg John to buy some to plant.

Till next week: I catch up on some promises - Don't fly too high. Mark will freeze up your steam.

Births and Birthdays

It's a Boy!

Mark and Tresha Taylor Parsons of Mt. Vernon would like to announce the birth of their son, Tyler Lloyd born February 4, 1994 at Humana Hospital. Tyler weighed 8 pounds 8 1/2 ounces and was 20 1/4 inches long. He is welcomed home by his brother, Mark Edward and sister, Krystal. Maternal grandparents are Lloyd and Diana Anglin of Waco. Paternal grandparents are Stewart and Lucille Parsons of Wildie.

The Snow Storm of 1994

By Ruby Marler Alcorn

This is Jan. 16th of 1994 and the weather man is giving snow for tomorrow. In January we always have a lot of cold weather here in Kentucky. The night of the 16th rain, sleet and snow came down. I got up to a snow covered world on the 17th. We had four inches 6 a.m.

The whole world looked like a fresh white wash in the sun. It is 11:30 on the 17th the snow is still falling. We now have 7 inches of soft fluffy snow. Wednesday snow came down. I got up to a snow covered world on the 17th, the snow has stopped. All the world is so quiet and peaceful. All the roads in Kentucky are closed. The south bound traffic is backed up at the Jellico mountains in Tennessee. It is another day, Jan. 18, at 8 o'clock.

We have four below zero. The Governor closed all the roads in the state today. It is now 4:30 on the 18th we have two above zero. The Red Cross is helping any way they can to give shelter for anyone who needs help.

It is now foggy on the 17th, the snow has stopped. All the world is so quiet and peaceful. All the roads in Kentucky are closed. The south bound traffic is backed up at the Jellico mountains in Tennessee. It is another day, Jan. 18, at 8 o'clock.

We have four below zero. The Governor closed all the roads in the state today. It is now 4:30 on the 18th we have two above zero. The Red Cross is helping any way they can to give shelter for anyone who needs help.

Out to Lunch

Fourth graders earned a special treat from Mr. Carter last week. Treated to a lunch away from school at Lit for successful completion of writing portfolios were Tina Powell, Sandra Moore, John Kuhn, Justin Woodall, Wesley Halford and Heather Powell.

Attendance Incentives

The winner of the boom box at the perfect attendance drawing last week was Rebecca Brewer.
Also, Mr. Carter announced a new class attendance contest which will run from March 7 to April 1 whereby classroom winners will receive a trip to the Regency Cinema.

In addition, as of February 28, any class with 20 consecutive days of perfect attendance will win a theatre trip, and any class with 15 consecutive days of perfect attendance will earn a trip to Mt. Vernon Pizza Hut or McDonalds.

Primary News

The AFC Gang is this week researching various information on the solar system. Additional activities include scientific experiments, model constructions, writing projects and museum exhibitions.
Students are creating "moo necks" to display in their very own Moon Museum. They are also busy completing portfolio entries. When! Students and teachers are looking forward to their field trip to the Lexington Children's Theater in Lexington to watch the play "Beauty and the Beast."

Intermediate News

Fifth grade students have been writing Bio Poems which provide descriptions of themselves.

They also have begun a unit on whales. Recently, they adopted Granny, a whale which is a member of a group called J-pod. Granny was filmed in the opening sequence of the movie, Free Willy. Students learned that Granny and her pod of 20 are most frequently observed traveling together in the waters of southern British Columbia and Washington State.

Class members plan to write letters to President Bill Clinton and Ambassador Kjeld Vibe, Ambassador of Norway, to voice the importance of stopping Norway's outrageous violation of the global ban on commercial whaling.

Mrs. Eversole and the entire fourth grade would like to thank Mrs. Kelly Pensol for conducting a mini workshop involving the use of a computer to construct graphs. Students applied skills they learned to create graphs in their math portfolios.

Our Students write The Worst Christmas

By: Adam Collins
Grade 4

Every year my whole family goes to my Mamaw Payne's house and we help her put up a Christmas tree. We put lights on it that go around and around. We help her put lights of different colors on the outside of the house.

Well, it was 1989 and we had just finished putting up all the decorations. My cousin Paul (2 years old) and I were in the bedroom playing with G.I. Joe's. In case you don't know what G.I. Joe's are, they are war toys that come with guns that really shoot and they come with cars. You can push the cars. They have guns too. Paul and me were in the middle of a big fight when my mom said, "Adam, come and eat."
I put Paul in his little red doodle bug car and pushed him to the dining room. Then his mom put him in his high chair, but she did not put the tray down. Paul was sitting Indian style. He picked himself up by the rails and put one foot on the table and the other foot in the stuffing.

When Aunt Rhonda glanced and discovered that he had stepped in the stuffing she screamed, "Paul you didn't!" Paul (also known as later head) got so scared that he fell right in the pumpkin pie, bottom first. Then my mom started crying because she had worked on it for so long. I said, "Mom get a hold of yourself." Then Paul jumped off the table and the turkey flew off with him. Paul ran to the living room. He left tracks on his way to Papaw. That Christmas we had a bowl of mashed potatoes and crumbled up biscuits. It was the worst Christmas ever.

What are heroes? To most people, heroes are acknowledged for different reasons. Some people would say a hero is someone who saves a life. Other would say it is someone that they look up to, while still some people feel heroes are people who stand up for what they think is right. All of these characteristics signify heroes. There is not any wrong answer for someone's opinion on who their hero is. I have a group of people that I can truly think of as heroes. The Rose family is really a family I admire. I am going to set my standards for a family by them.

Mrs. Rose is my fourth grade teacher, and a very pleasant lady. She was a loveable woman and never had a cross word to say about anyone. Unfortunately, she was struck with a serious illness, that horrifying word, cancer. In that should have been the best years of her life, she had to suffer. She would have been eligible for retirement soon, and could have been eligible for retirement soon, and could have finished watching her son and daughter grow up; however, fate didn't see it that way.

Not only did Mrs. Rose suffer, but her family also suffered standing by watching her go through all that pain. They proved to be strong enough to give her love and support through it all, stronger than my thought possible. She taught her classes with her illness in tow, until she couldn't handle it any longer. Then she was forced to retire. It just about broke her heart, and her student's hearts, as well, not to have her in the classroom.

Her son Jason is fourteen years old now. He was in at Whitley County Middle School, even though it hurt her deeply to think of his deceased mother, he would speak of her once in a while. I remember one of the wisest and most touching things he ever said to me. He said, "I think of the way my mother suffered, and of how long she fought and struggled with her illness. Then I hear people walking around killing others for no reason, or people committing suicide, and it tears me up. She wanted to live and couldn't, but these people just take their lives for granted." To hear him talk of her would bring tears to my eyes and I could almost feel his pain. He is very remarkable, a lot like his mother.

I was not closely acquainted with the other members of the family, but in my mind they are also heroes. They were just as strong as Mrs. Rose and her son. It had to be hard for Mr. Rose to lose his wife, and, of course, it will be hard for their daughter to grow up without a mother. A young girl needs her mother so much, especially in days like these. With our world as cruel as it is, and becoming crueler by the minute.

They truly are heroes. Any family who can watch a loved one suffer and will away before their very eyes, and still be able to go on day after day with their lives, can really be respected and thought of as strong.

Heroes come in all different shapes and sizes, from Mighty Mouse to a fireman, or a family member. Every one has at least one in their life time, if not more.

Counselor's Connection
Livingston Elementary is pleased to have Ms. Carolyn Stevens, through the Family Resource Center and Mrs. Keli Wells, providing support services at Livingston Elementary School. These placements are for practicum experiences this semester through Eastern Kentucky University's Department of social work.

Both are involved in consultation and collaboration with the counselor in helping to meet the needs of students and families. Carolyn is from Wildie, and she works at LES on Tuesdays through Fridays. Keli is from Somerset and she is at LES on Tuesdays. Carolyn and Keli are presently involved in a Seat Belt Awareness project that will begin in March.

Our Future, Our Future
Rosemarie Guld
February 1994

For each individual child to experience success. It takes more than a loving home and a mother's warm caress.

Reflecting on childhood, did you satisfy the yearning
To be the best you could be and never stop learning?

From where do you come? Where are you going? Did you ever go astray? Who were your encouragers lighting the way?

You've traveled many miles seeking answers, sometimes with strife, And traveling beside you were treasured companions from all walks of life.

Each one contributed in a meaningful way. Gifts passed on by those who cared helped make what you are today.

How active are you in the paradigm shift? For someone who needs you are you providing a gift?

It matters how far you've come, if you remember how you got there. Offer your gifts to children.

Let them know you care.
Visions of the future can transfer from us to them.
So, focus on the students.
Give them a chance to win.

Primary Entry Level class birthdays are beginning a unit on Nutrition. Last week they were working on the letter S and the number 16. They would like to thank Dr. Parsons and Dr. Skidmore.

Mrs. Carter's Student of the Week is Derek McCarter. The class is studying about their families and their importance. They would like to invite any family members to come visit the classroom. They are keeping a family diary. Jessica Doan will celebrate a birthday on March 16 and Nicholas Williams on the 27th. In math, the students are studying tens and ones. They would like to announce their 20 days perfect attendance.

Last week, Ms. Webb's class welcomed a new student, Ada McClure. They celebrated Lincoln's birthday by making log cabins with pretzels. Students have been learning to count money and each of them got to buy something from the candy store. They have also been graphing numbers of family members each student has. Chandra Sexton celebrated a birthday last week. To celebrate 100 school days, each student brought in 100 items to count. They made a circle in front of the school made up of 100 primary students. This week, they are reading stories about pets. In the afternoon, geoboards, tangram patterns, vowel and math games have been the name of the game. Each student has homework every night, and they are learning to be responsible.

Ms. Smith's Student of the Week is Gabi Guillot. Happy birthday to Ronny McClure and Brittany Anderson. The class is studying and writing about their families. In math, they are learning how to measure.

Ms. Yarnant's class has been writing concrete poems about the sun and ice cream cones. A concrete poem is a picture, shaped with words. The words must describe the picture. Students of the Week are Allison Mink and Kasey Whitehead. The class will be making finger puppets in reading class. In connections this week, they will be working on the five senses. Birthdays in March are Allison Mink, Andrew Cromer and Josh Hasty.

Ms. Roark's Student of the Week is Ashley Beil. The class has been completing Portfolios and studying

Rockcastle's upset bids foiled Lady Rockets lose controversial game

The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets were robbed of the victory by the officials in Tuesday night's action against the Jackson County Generals, 83-75.

Jackson County went on a six to zero run to begin the game as Lady Rocket Coach Christi Beaver called the first time out at the 4:55 mark to try and regroup.

Rockcastle came out of the huddle to score, as Cindy McCauley hit the bucket and then was fouled, cutting the General lead in half, 6-3.

It was a close game from the beginning as three or less points separated the two teams during the first quarter, with Jackson County coming out on top by three, 11-8. Jackson County extended their lead to begin the second quarter with a three point basket, 14-8. Rockcastle played catch-up the rest of the second quarter, not being able to get closer than seven, ending at the break down by as many, 34-27.

Highlights of the second quarter were two blocked shots by McCauley and several Rockcastle County steals. It was no avail, however, as Jackson County was able to maintain an even lead.

Rockcastle, who has been an aggressive second half team, did not let the crowd down as they fought their way back in the third quarter tying the game at the 4:45 mark with a McCauley layup and free throw, 48-48.

Rockcastle was able to extend their lead by two, but then the two teams played see-saw with the lead, with Jackson ending on top at the end of the quarter, 46-44.

Jackson County once again started off the fourth quarter with a big trev, extending their lead to five, 49-44. Rockcastle's Melinda Smith hit a bucket, cutting it by two, 49-46, but Jackson answered with its own bucket, 49-46.

Rockcastle called a timebut with 6:45 to go, trying to cut into the General lead. Two freethrows by Janeta McLemore did just that, at the 4:01 mark, 57-57.

A Jackson County turnover at the 3:51 mark and two more free throws by McLemore extended the Lady Rocket lead to two, 59-57.

Jackson County, once again feeling the pressure of the Rocket defense, had another turnover with a steal by McLemore and a bucket by Suzie Carpenter, giving Rockcastle their biggest lead, 61-57.

Jackson County tied the ballgame at 62-62, and then took the lead with a free throw, 63-62. Carpenter answered with her own basket, 64-63, with a pass from Becky Osborne.

Carpenter once again hit a big bucket with an assist from McCauley, 66-65. Rockcastle's Osborne grabbed her own rebound and extended the Rocket lead by two, 68-66.

It was at that point that the officials took the momentum away from Rockcastle, when a walking call was made on McCauley who instead, was obviously fouled by several Jackson County players who were trying the stop the clock with 22 seconds to go.

McCauley was finally knocked down to one knee, with no whistle being blown, and while trying to pass the ball off and get a General player off her, the whistle blew and a walking call was made.

A blatant attempt by the officials to take the ballgame away from Rockcastle at that point was obvious, as it took another eleven seconds of serious Jackson County fouling to get a foul call made.

McCauley was finally sent to the line for the one and bonus freethrow but could not connect on the first as a Jackson County General grabbed the rebound and drove the length of the floor for the basket at the buzzer, 68-68.

Although it should not have gone down to an overtime, Jackson County took the early lead 50-48. A technical foul was called on a Jackson County player who slammed the ball down after being called for her fifth foul.

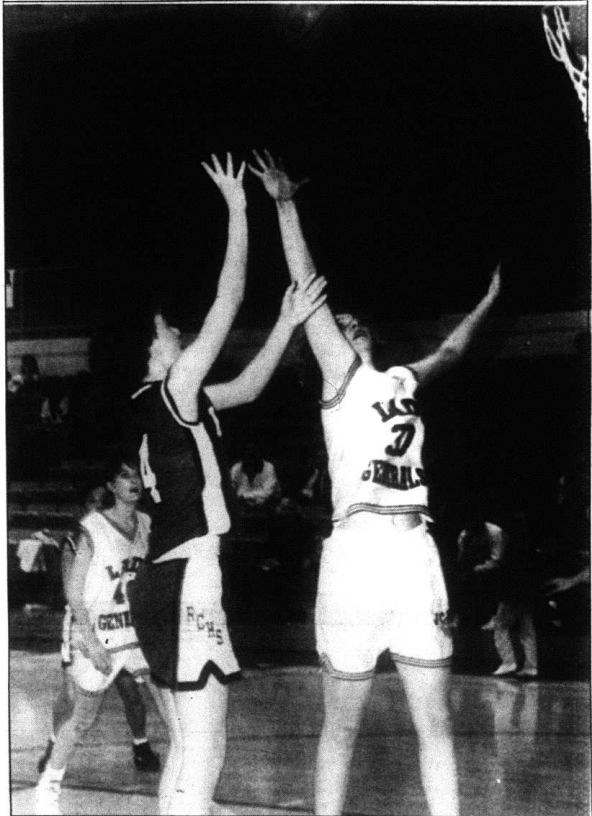

McCauley tied the ballgame and then took the lead with two free throws, 71-70. McCauley extended the Rocket lead by three with two more free throws, 73-70.

Another very controversial, and in my opinion bad, call by the officials ended the Rocket's run, as Melinda Smith got the easy layup and was then fouled, but was called for traveling prior to the shot.

The tide turned against Rockcastle at that point as Jackson County took advantage of the officials favor and attacked the Rocket defense with vigor, scoring a big bucket, cutting the Lady Rocket lead to one, 73-72.

McCauley committed her fifth foul at that point, sending a Lady General to the line where she connected on one, tying the ballgame, 73-73.

Senior Janetta McLemore shoots a bucket over a Jackson County General in Tuesday night's district tournament action. The Lady Rockets lost a disappointing game, 83-75.

Rockets win moral victory

It was the best of nights, it was the worst of nights, but it was definitely a night to remember. If nothing else, Rockcastle's almost upset over the Clay County Tigers was a moral victory.

Clay County had to outscore Rockcastle County 25-15 in the fourth quarter to finally pull away from a determined Rocket team, 64-56.

Rockcastle, who was ranked 14th out of the 17 teams in Region 13 finished the season with three wins against twenty-three losses. Clay County, who was ranked third in Region 13 advanced to the district finals to face Jackson County Thursday night.

Rockcastle spread the floor on offense, and connected on some backdoor plays that helped control the tempo of the game.

The Rockets also took advantage of a cold shooting Clay County team and kept the Tigers off the offensive glass. The result of the two helped Rockcastle to a 14-10 lead after the first period of play.

Rockcastle's bid for an upset seemed imminent when they came out of the second quarter red hot as they outscored Clay County 9-2 and built their four point lead to eleven early in the second quarter.

But after Clay County's coach Bobby Keith called his second time out, the Tigers were able to put together thirteen unanswered points and the Rockets suddenly found themselves down two at 25-23.

The Tigers went on another six to two run to end the second quarter up by four, 31-27 at the break.

The start of the third period saw Clay County jump out to a 17-29 lead and it looked like Clay County would take control of the game.

But Mickey McClure helped keep the Rockets stay close as he hit key baskets in the lane. And when Eddie Todd and J.D. Bussell connected on two huge three pointers, the Rockets had battled back to tie the Tigers at 39-39.

As time ran down in the third, Brian Carter connected with Todd for a lay up and the Rockets upset bid was alive and well as they held a two point lead, 41-39, going into the final period.

The Rockets extended their lead to as many as five, 48-43, when Aaron Cox knocked down a 14 foot jumper from the baseline.

However, Clay County called another time out at the 5:45 mark and the stage was set for the comeback.

Clay County turned up the defensive pressure causing a Rocket turnover that the Tigers were able to convert into baskets enroute to a 13-2 run that gave Clay County a 56-50 lead.

From there the Rockets had to foul and play catch up as the Tigers survived a huge scare, winning 64-56.

Jackson scored again gaining the lead, 75-73, and a controversial turnover by Rockcastle gave Jackson County the ball and they extended their lead to five, 78-73. Rockcastle was then forced to foul and play catchup, but could not regain the lead as they lost a very disappointing game.

A Tribute to Clyde Linville

(Ed's Note: We are reprinting this tribute to Clyde Linville because the last paragraph was inadvertently omitted in the first printing.)

Dear Editor,
Over fifty (50) years ago I had the good fortune to have a principal at Livingston High School whose leadership, many unselfish acts and support had a major and positive impact on my life. I'm sure many others of that time and later can say the same about Clyde Linville.

He was dealing with "at risk" kids which included most of us and underfunded school systems; more than likely unfunded, before the terms became fashionable.

He was rather unconventional in doing things to help or motivate people that would make him appear to be a candidate for the asylum or the penitentiary in today's time of political correctness. A few of the things I remember is him wrestling a student at a school carnival, leading a band down Main Street, arranging for a young man expelled from Mt. Vernon to attend high school at Livingston and taking young men off the street into his home at night to play cards.

On a more personal note, I'm perhaps the only person in history to have completed requirements for graduation from high school via a correspondence course in poultry. This was arranged and probably paid for by Clyde.

May the young people of today in need of a benefactor encounter a Clyde-Linville.

clocks. On the 101st day of school, they watched 101 Dalmatians. Next week they will be studying animal helpers.

Ms. Maples' class welcomes a new student, Sallie Kidwell. Timothy Coffman celebrated a birthday on February 13th. The class has been finishing Portfolios and working on dictionary skills.

Ms. Wallin has been conducting individual tests on her students.

Mt. Vernon Elementary raised $7206.82 in the Easter Seal Shoot-out. Bridgette Lear raised the most money with $1096.75.

Ms. Adams' Student of the Week is Savannah Renner. The class has been working on Transparencies and the Four Food groups. They are also learning to subtract one and two digit numbers.

Ms. Brewer's class is working on multiplication tables. They are also studying about Norway and the Olympic Games. Portfolios have been of major interest in the last few weeks. Ms. Brewer's class has the state winner of the Easter Seal Shootout Contest. Bridgett Lear will go to a U.K. Game and meet the U.K. wildcats!

Last week, Ms. Clark's class was glad to be back in school after the huge ice storm. It was especially boring when the electricity was out. Most of the time back has been spent on Writing and Math Portfolios. Students have been working on the Math-A-Thon to help St. Jude Children Research hospital. This week, Ms. Clark's class has been deciding on a candidate for the National Spelling Bee. Kane Holbrook was the candidate competing. However, he was defeated by Joseph Lambert, who won in the whole 4th grade. School finals will be Wednesday, March 2, and county finals will be Wednesday, March 9.

Ms. Kincaid's class has 15 days of perfect attendance. They hope to get 20 days so they can go to Pizza Hut. As a good behavior reward on Friday, March 4, the students will receive a trip to Dairy Freeze to eat a snack. In reading and science, the class is studying plants. They will be bringing in different plants. They are also planning to plant seeds and watch them grow. In math, they have done order of operations and prime factorization.

Mr. Napier's Student of the Week is Tiffany Daugherty. Writing Portfolios are finished. In math, students are finishing portfolios and starting adding decimals. In reading, they are studying about physically challenged people in our world. In science, the class is studying cells. Did you know you are made up of over 300,000,000,000 cells? The students have been enjoying Lt. Sears with the D.A.R.E. Program. They learned about pressures that might cause them to drink or take drugs, and how to say NO!

Chad Silvers, from Ms. Abney's homeroom, will compete in the Academic Team State Competition in the Math and General Knowledge areas.

Shawn Jones is the 7th grade Spelling Bee winner.
Spelling Bee Grade winners are as follows: 4th Grade - Joseph Lambert, 5th grade - Katy Powell, 6th grade - Josh Dooley, 7th grade - Shawn Jones and 8th grade - Chad Silvers. School finals will be Wednesday, March 2, and county finals will be Wednesday, March 9.

Tobacco Producers Meeting

By Tom Mills
County Extension Agent for Agriculture

Local Tobacco producers are invited to the Annual Tobacco Producers Meeting on Tuesday, March 8th at 7 p.m. at Mt. Vernon Elementary. Please register with the Extension Office at 256-2403 by Friday, March 4th at noon.

This year's program will look at local results from Demonstration plots as well as two University Demonstrations. How much nitrogen per acre should be applied to tobacco and what happens if you exceed the recommended amount? How can you increase production per acre while lowering number of stalks handled? What effect does topping early have on yield per acre? As production costs continue to increase, farmers will be forced to generate more income per acre in order for tobacco to stay profitable. Please accept this as your invitation to attend Tuesday, March 8th at 7 p.m. A special "Thanks" goes to The Bank of Mt. Vernon and Citizens Bank for sponsoring this year's program.

DAN MCKIBBEN SURRENDERS

Signal readers, you have been witness to a brief, written discussion between Dan McKibben and myself on the subject of communion and the number of cups used in the observance of the Lord's Supper. (If you have missed the previous articles, we would be happy to send you copies of them if you send a request to the address at the close of this article). Mr. McKibben, realizing that he was fighting with a dull, cracked bent sword, has thrown it down in the face of the terrible swift sword of God's Truth. In his surrender column, he waves the rusty thing feebly, refusing to answer the questions raised in our previous articles, but trying to end the razor sharp blade of Scripture. Let us take a look at this poor excuse for a weapon as it hits the dust.

How blunt is the argument that 2 actions = 2 elements? Well, this argument is so dull that Mr. McKibben had to change the number of ACTIONS in order to make it meet his number of elements. The observance of the Lord's Supper is comprised of 3 actions - Blessing, eating and drinking. 1 Cor. 10:16 reads "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ?" The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" The bread which we break is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" All of the Scriptures cited previously shows that a prayer was said to begin the observance with God's blessing. Certainly, it is tempting to jump on the fantasy bandwagon and proclaim: AHA! 3 actions = 3 Elements! But we refuse to indulge in this kind of thinking because there is no Scriptural or other rational basis for equating actions and elements. But rather let the sharp sword of truth shine out from the scripture quoted above.

In this Scripture, all 3 elements are clearly shown, the Cup of Blessing which we bless is a drinking vessel containing fruit of the vine. (Paul used the same words as God when He spoke to Isaiah in Isaiah 63: "As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, destroy it not; for a blessing is in it"). Thus the New Testament, the Blood that ratified it, and the body sacrificed to bring it into effect are clearly seen and remembered, as we observe communion. Again, refer to the 9th and 10th chapters of Hebrews to understand why these 3 things are not, cannot be separated.

The bent sword of Mr. McKibben is revealed in what he called a "little grammatical device" in which he wanted you to change the word "cup" into "fruit of the vine." Judge for yourselves as I reproduce his own words in the October column where he responded to our first article.

"Paul said 'drink this cup' 1 Cor. 11:26, and when Keith or the other men listed, will drink down a plastic, glass or metal container, maybe they will have a point."

But now, Mr. McKibben wants you to change this solid into a liquid! Good people, this "little grammatical device" is not metonymy, it is hypocrisy! Well, go ahead and make this change, but remember you have to change it all the way through, not just at a few places. When you have done that you will see that you have, for example, 1 Cor. 11:25 saying "this blood is the New Testament in my blood" which we all know cannot be. No, the fruit of the vine is in the cup. You cannot have contents without a container. Please use one container.

Picture in your mind the last supper when Christ established the observance of communion. Christ and the disciples had just eaten the Passover meal. Every disciple would have had his own drinking vessel before him and yet Christ took one cup and it passed among them all. Ask yourself, why? I believe that the Scriptures and reasoning we have presented should help you answer those questions.

If you were a sinner and wanted to find the blood of Jesus Christ, where would you look? In the New Testament! If you wanted to have that blood wash away your sins, how would you contact it? By coming into contact with relationship with God? Even so, to engage in the "communion of the blood of Christ" we drink of the fruit of the vine representing His blood from the cup representing the New Testament - contents and container - you can't have one without the other.

Thank you, Dear Signal readers for your attention to these matters. If you would like to know more about the Churches of Christ that follow the Lord's example in communion and all other aspects of worship, we have listed the locations and people you can contact all over the state of Kentucky.

Black

Barnett

Mrs. Elsie Black, 78, of Mt. Vernon, died Feb. 27, 1994 at the Rockcastle Hospital.

She was born on Feb. 14, 1916 in Rockcastle County, the daughter of the late Jimmy and Rosella Kirby Barron. She was a member of the Wellhope Baptist Church.

Survivors are a son, Charles Black of Mt. Vernon; two sisters, Mrs. Hazel Hines of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Gladys Burdine of Christina, Tenn.; several nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by four brothers and two sisters.

Services were March 2, at the Cox Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Wendell Romans officiating. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Charles Barnett, 38, of Brodhead, died Feb. 27, 1994 at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington.

He was born on June 20, 1955 in Madison, County, the son of Mrs. Jeanette Burdine Barnett of Brodhead and the late Alfred Barnett. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Survivors besides his mother are several uncles and aunts.

Services will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday (today) at the Watson Funeral Home with Bro. John Ervin officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. Watson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

In Memory

In memory of my husband, Robert E. Robinson, who passed away Feb. 2, 1993. He would have celebrated his 73rd birthday March 1st.

Happy Birthday, Robert
By: Gail Robinson

Happy was my life with you
And so much joy you brought me too
Proud to be your loving wife
Perfect describes our day to day life
You were the best

By your Side
Is where I was content
Rob, I felt
That you were Heaven sent
Death took you
Away from me
You, my love, will always be

Remember always,
Of course I will
Before and Ever after, loving you still
Rob, I miss you and wanted to say
Thanks for your love -- and -- Happy Birthday.
Love,
Your wife

Helton and Callahan vows said

Mr. and Mrs. Willard (Sonny) Helton of Indianapolis, Ind., wish to announce the marriage of their daughter Crystal Helton to Kevin Callahan of Indianapolis February 14, 1994. She is the granddaughter of George Napier of Indianapolis and the late Jewell Napier of Lagrange, Ky. and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Helton of Conway.

have these talented ladies in our club. The Rockcastle Homemakers are collecting can tabs. We will be collecting until May 20th. If we can collect a clothes dryer box full, we can sponsor a child with cancer to attend a special camp this summer. So we would appreciate everyone helping us out. We also discussed a trip for the summer. We had several suggestions of places we would like to visit. Barbara Prater was our hostess this month. She taught the lesson, "Stretched Out but Not Strung Out." We discussed ways to reduce stress in our daily lives. The lesson was very helpful for everyone. Cecilia won the beautiful door prize a "Valentine Wreath" made by Barbara. The refreshment table was decorated in red and the refreshments were delicious. Barbara always does a fine job. Our next meeting will be 6:30

March 8th at the home of Judy Johnson. The lesson will be "One Dish Meals." If anyone would like to visit us, come on out!

Open poetry contest

The National Library of Poetry has announced that $12,000 in prizes will be awarded this year to over 250 poets in the North American Open Poetry Contest. The deadline for the contest is March 31. The contest is open to everyone and entry is free. Any poet, whether previously published or not, can be a winner. Every poem entered also has a chance to be published in a deluxe, hard-bound anthology. To enter, send one original poem, any subject and any style, to The National Library of Poetry, 11419 Cronridge Rd., P.O. Box 704-YF, Owings Mills, MD 21117. The poem should be no more than 20 lines, and the poet's name and address should appear on the top of the page. Entries must be postmarked by March 31. A new contest opens April 1.

Kentucky Arts Council to award $180,000 in project grants in 1994

The Kentucky Arts Council announces the 1994 deadline for non-profit organizations to apply for arts projects occurring between July 1, 1994 and June 30, 1995. Application postmark date is March 31, 1994 and must be submitted to the Kentucky Arts Council, 31 Fountain Place, Frankfort, KY, 40601. A total of $180,000 will be available for 1994-95 projects. Organizations and schools may apply for project grants.

of the Kentucky Education, Arts and Humanities Cabinet, to support the implementation of the Kentucky Education Reform Act, the Kentucky Arts Council voted to encourage project grant proposals that create partnerships which support arts education projects between arts organizations, businesses, schools and artists. Also available through the project grants will be grants in folk arts apprenticeships and touring. Apprenticeship grants honor master traditional artists and encourage the perpetuation of Kentucky's living and traditional arts. The four grants provides opportunities for Kentucky communities to present live performances by authentic regional folk arts from across the Commonwealth. Contact the Kentucky Arts Council to receive a project grant application form or to request further information (502/564-3757).

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
I am writing to you because I need to let everyone in Mt. Vernon know how I am doing.

I am doing OK after the accident but I still have trouble bending my knee where I had a lot of stitches in it. I will be going to physical therapy in a couple of weeks as soon as my medical records get here from Lexington. I hope that everyone that was concerned for my safety will be glad

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

The weather continues to be a topic of conversation. I was hoping the worst was over after the snow and below zero temperatures left us, but along came the ice. I'm not telling my age but I have been here a good many years and I had never seen that much ice on everything at one time. The damage to all the trees was appalling. We have a lot of pine trees at our house and they looked like a tornado had hit them. Several limbs fell on the power lines to our house and we were without electricity for nine days and nights. Most people were more fortunate than we were since we had to wait until all the main lines were restored. Any way I have never appreciated lights and hot water any more than I did when we were finally hooked back up to the main line.

The library had to be closed again for parts of two days and all day on Friday. The electricity was off at the library that day. And again, I'm hoping the worst is over. I'm sure we will still have some bad weather so take advantage of this time to come in and visit the library. We have most of the best-sellers available, also lots of informational books, videos and audio tapes for you to enjoy. A lot of people doesn't have very much time to read when the weather is better and there is outside work to be done. A lot of students from the local schools have been coming in for materials for science projects and research papers. We are always glad to help them find the books or articles that are needed but it would be better for the students if they would come in as soon as they find out what their topics are. We don't always have the materials but we have access to other library's holdings but it just takes a few days to get these, so it is imperative to let us know as soon as possible what is needed.

Again, I want to remind you about the Local Art Show in April. Please make preparations to exhibit your art work. For more information, call 256-2388.

The Adult Reading Group will be meeting at the library, Tuesday March 8th at 10:30. The group will be discussing the book, "In This House" by Joanna Greenberg. They will also be making plans to go to Joseph Bech Book Store in Lexington, April 12th. I'm sure more of you would enjoy this time together if you would come in and meet with the group.

Some of our new books are: Accident by Danielle Steel... Ms. Steel's thirty-second best-selling work, is the powerful and ultimately triumphant tale of families shattered and lives changed forever by a single devastating moment.

Accident is the story of love that never dies, and people of remarkable courage. In an inspiring novel that explores how many people are affected by one tragic accident, and how they survive it, Danielle Steel brings us close to characters whose lives are as familiar as their own. How do we live as we all do, in a world where everything can change in a single moment.

2. My Life in Spite of Myself... a biography... Roy Clark, for years host of TV's "Hee Haw" and one of country music's most enduring stars, tells the story of his life and career, with behind-the-scenes looks at the people who influenced him, helped him, and sometimes got in the way.

In My Life-In Spite of Myself, Roy Clark recounts his journey from a boyhood in a small town in Virginia to growing up in Washington, D.C., where in the 1940s and early 1950s, his talented guitar and banjo player would earn a living and eventually make a name for himself. What started as a way of making pocket money has evolved into one of the most successful careers in country music history. In addition to playing with many of the greats of the Grand Ole Opry, Roy Clark has had a successful career as a recording artist all on his own.

A juvenile fiction novel that would appeal to our younger readers is: The House In The Woods by Isabelle Holland... The day that Bridget first saw the old house in the woods, she was sure that nothing would ever change her life for the better. Not only did she feel overweight and unattractive, but she had become convinced that her adoptive father no longer loved her. The house, however, seemed to call out to her, as if it had a secret to tell. Can it have something to do with her biological parents and what really happened to them? Or perhaps it will explain why Bridget's younger brother, Morgan, never speaks. Just what the secret turns out to be, and how Bridget comes to deal with it, is the subject of this engrossing story of a girl learning of a past she cannot remember, gaining insight that will help her live in the real and challenging world around her.

Another novel... Ruby by V.C. Andrews. A thrilling new series from the author of Flowers In The Attic and Web Of Dreams. Ruby Landry is a 15-year-old Cajun girl who lives on the bayou with her Grandmother Catherine and Grandpere Jack, the only family she has ever known. When Ruby falls in love with the son of a rich cannery owner, her Grandmother must reveal a secret that will forever change Ruby's life.

I do not have a vehicle yet since the accident but I am hoping to get one soon. I also appreciate the Rockcastle County Ambulance Service and the staff for both my dad's 911 emergency call and for the swiftness in getting us both to the hospital as quickly as possible.

I understand that the Rockcastle County Citizens were very concerned about my health and welfare in the time that I was recovering. I appreciate it a lot because being over 2000 miles from home and maybe going across the water, having the love and support of friends and relatives mean more to me than a homecooked meal.

Sincerely with Love,
James Edward Gibbons

Dear Editor,
I got this subscription for my daughter so she could have a touch of home. Well, now my son and I are with her. Their dad decided to leave the family so we moved here where my one brother is, our parents have passed on. It's too painful to be reminded of your newspaper. We wouldn't have known what was happening if it wasn't for you all, as we lived 15 miles or so from town and had to do most of our business in another town that was closer. Keep up the good work. I hope the paper and Mt. Vernon continue to grow and prosper.

Thank you,
Mrs. Pat Harding
Ex subscriber #4780

Dear Editor,
It is me, David Brock. I have not written you all for awhile. I am writing concerning the Brodhead Invitational Tournament, BIT. The final BIT and the 13th annual, was played the week of January 10th Monday 11th Tuesday, 13th Thursday, 15 Saturday. Teams competing: Northern Pulaski Knights 39; Mt. Vernon Red Devils 51. First game 1-10-94 second game same night, Science Hill Yellow Jackets 45, Roundstone Eagles 41.

First game 1-11-94 Wayne County Middle School Cardinals 54, Lincoln County Middle School Eagles 26. Second game 1-11-94, Brodhead Tigers 57, Livingston Blue Devils 26. Completed first round of BIT.

Semi-finals first game 1-13-94 Wayne County Middle School Cardinals 63, Mt. Vernon Red Devils 43. Second game 1-13-94 Brodhead Tigers 48, Science Hill Yellow Jackets 32. Completed second round action Saturday night January 15.

The weather was not very, very, very promising. The finals were played, consolation game 1-15-94, Mt. Vernon Red Devils 69, Science Hill Yellow Jackets, 25. Mt. Vernon Red Devils took 3rd place in BIT.

Science Hill Yellow Jackets took fourth place in BIT.

Then came the championship game 1-15-94, Wayne County Middle School 44, Brodhead Tigers 37.

Mrs. Shirley Martin and Ladies Auxiliary and Brodhead Volunteer Fire Department BVFD and all BES staff, thank you all for a job well, well done. The tournament was exceptionally well judged also cheerleading judging. Four cheerleading awards - 1st place Lincoln County Middle School Eagles, 2nd place Brodhead Tigers, 3rd place Mt. Vernon Red Devils; 4th place Roundstone Eagles.

Better close for now.

Brodhead Elementary School Scout, David Brock
P.S. Also thank you Chad Burdette and John Ford for doing the game live over WRVK, 1460 am

Also P.S. Long live the BIT in my heart thank you Lord, for these 13 wonderful years.
