Perry and Linda Montjoy would like to thank everyone for their prayers, visits, and love gifts, especially Flat Rock Baptist Church, Brush Creek Holiness Church, Bittersweet Cloggers, Hill Top Stompers, the doctors and nurses at UK Hospital and Rockcastle Hospital, and the factory where Perry worked. Perry has been in the hospital since January 1st, and has been in the trauma unit for 5 weeks. He still needs everyone's prayers. P.S. Perry's mother, sisters and brothers would like to thank Linda for being such a good wife, she has stayed right by his side day and night for 80 days.

The family of T.C. Hayes, Jr. would like to thank family, friends and neighbors for all their love, kindness and prayers during our loss. Thanks to those who sent flowers, food and money. A special thanks to Bro. Sonny Krehenbuhl, Bro. and Mrs. Billy Medley and pallbearers, Chan, Shannon, David, Dean, Tyler and Johnny.

The family of Chase Dillingham - Words cannot say how the love and support of our family and friends have helped us in our time of need. The loss of our darling baby Chase has left our family in such deep grief that it has taken us awhile to thank everyone for their kindness. There are so many people to thank that we hope we haven't left anyone out. Thanks to the Brodhead Dari Delite, all of my good friends at Rockcastle Manufacturing, special thanks to all of our neighbors on Bowling Ridge - no community could have been more loving and caring to us. Thank to David and Vickie York, Billy and Shirley Long, Doris Correll, Bruce Houk, Brother Randall Adams (whose kind words eased our pain), Watson Funeral Home, and special thanks to Dr. Karen Saylor (who went above and beyond the call of duty). Also a very special thank goes to Sharon and Anthony Lear, Betty and Raymond Singleton, Reda Hopkins, Phyllis (Sissy) Bell, Missy, Bobbi and Becky Birney, Cheryl Miller, Joey Blair, Sandy Harris, Danny Woodall, Peggy Allen, Mike and Missy McKinney, Tonya Holman, and Tammy and Marty Burton. And to everyone who sent flowers or money, or who brought food by for us, or just spoke some kind words. Each and everyone of you were so good and kind to us and tried everything you possibly could to ease our pain. Thank you so much. We will never forget what you have done for us. Thank you - Tim, Samantha

The American Experience explores Legend of Geronimo

In 1886, the United States government sent 5,000 soldiers to capture one and his 39 followers. That man, Geronimo, was thought to have magical powers that allowed him to see the future, walk without creating footprints, even hold off the dawn to protect his forces.

The American Experience 'Geronimo and the Apache Resistance' airing at 9 p.m. Tues., March 29 on KET, is a search to separate myth from reality.

Local scores show continued improvement

By: Richard Anderkin
 Recently released test results show that Rockcastle County schools are continuing to improve at both the fourth and eighth grade level, but results showed a 12 percent decline for seniors at Rockcastle County High School.

Livingston Elementary school showed the most gain, while the best overall test scores were from Brodhead Elementary School.

Students were tested in five areas, reading, math, science, social studies and writing. Attendance was also factored into the overall test results.

Rockcastle School Superintendent Blige Towery, Jr., said Tuesday that he was pleased to see the increased performance of the fourth and 8th grades.

"I feel assured that all our schools are working hard to reach their defined threshold levels," Towery said. All of the fourth graders in the county improved their test scores from a year ago, gaining almost seven points on the accountability index for the 1992-93 school year compared to the 1991-92 results.

Rockcastle fourth graders scored their highest marks in reading and made the most improvement in writing, scoring over 25 points higher than the previous year.

Livingston fourth graders showed the most improvement by far and Brodhead fourth graders had the best overall test scores.

Brodhead's accountability index in the fourth grade showed an improvement of almost 8 percent points and a total score of 41.0. Their highest scores were in writing. Brodhead's fourth grade also had the best attendance in the county at 97.12.

Livingston's fourth grade improved their scores by 13 percentage points and had the second highest overall scores in the county at 38.6. Livingston also had the second highest attendance at 97.04. Their highest scores were achieved in the reading portion of the test, with a score of 35.91.

Mt. Vernon's fourth graders improved 5.9 percentage points from a year ago, with a total score of 37.1. They also had the third highest attendance in the fourth grade in the county. Their highest score of 29.58 was achieved in social studies.

Roundstone fourth graders improved their scores 5.2 percentage points, but had the county's worst scores in the fourth grade at 35.4. Their best scores were in reading with a score of 29.04. Roundstone fourth graders also ranked last in attendance with 95.29 percent of their students attending on a daily average.

Roundstone eighth graders scored 6.7 percentage points lower on their accountability index for the 1992-93 school year than they did in 1991-92. The biggest declines for Roundstone eighth graders were in the math and social studies portions of the test. Roundstone's overall score was 35.8. In 1991-92 Roundstone eighth graders had a very high composite score of 42.5.

At Livingston, eighth graders scored almost 14 points higher than they did a year ago. In 1991-92 Livingston eighth graders had one of the worst scores in the state at 24.6 and last year they scored a composite of 38.4. Their highest score was in reading at 42.49.

97.22 percent of Livingston's eighth graders attended school last year, while 95.11 percent of Roundstone's eighth graders went to school on a daily basis.

Eighth grade scores were not available for Mt. Vernon and Brodhead students because they have appealed a part of the test results they received.

RCHS seniors scored 4.7 points lower than seniors did in 1991-92.

Seniors scored lower in every area tested and went to school about a half a percentage point less than in 1991-92.

The seniors best scores came in the writing portion of the test.

"We are working very hard to improve our test scores at RCHS," said principal Ronnie Cash. "We are very concerned about last year's results and we are making every effort to meet our threshold, this year," Cash said.

Rockcastle's low scores were indicative of many senior classes across the state last year.

A threshold is the score the state department of education says that a school should be able to achieve over a two year period. Rockcastle's score last year was 34.8 and their threshold is 45.6.

"This new test is a completely different way of assessing student performance and I believe we need time to make definitive judgements regarding this assessment data," Supt. Towery said.

"Obviously I am pleased to see the many areas of gain, but I do not feel this data alone measures a school's total effectiveness or 'ineffectiveness,'" the superintendent said.

"Of course RCHS's assessment results indicate a decline in student performance for 1993. RCHS is a very good school, but like most high schools RCHS has only begun the process to restructure and align the instructional program with the initiatives of school reform and the new performance based assessment. RCHS has designed an impressive plan that should guarantee improvement in the future." Towery said.

Mt. Vernon and Brodhead eighth grade scores will be printed once their appeal process is complete.

Fire at Rockcastle Villa

Mt. Vernon firefighters Wendell Price and Bill Towery remove a burning mattress from an apartment at Rockcastle Villa. The apartment, rented to Melvin Baker, sustained minor damage.

Forest fire alert

The Division of Forestry has taken action on 440 fires in Kentucky since Jan. 1. These fires have burned more than 5,100 acres.

Due to these beautiful spring days, people are beginning to clean up limbs and fallen trees from the recent ice storms. In addition to this debris, many people are cleaning up other material around their homes by burning anything from piles of trash to garden spots and fence rows.

The Division of Forestry advises that outdoor burning is dangerous. It can result in property damage and personal injury. This is especially true when we have warm temperatures, low humidities, and windy conditions.

One death and one serious injury have already been reported this spring from people attempting to put out fires that escaped while they were burning trash in their yard. This seems to happen every year: people get injured or die in forest fires started as seemingly innocent trash fires," said Mark Matuszewski, director of Kentucky's Division of Forestry.

To prevent the threat of outdoor fires to woodland and timber values, the state legislature designates March 1 to May 15 as "Fire Hazard Season" and prohibits burning within 150 feet of any wooded area except between 4:30 p.m. and midnight.

Violation of this law can result in a fine up to $500 and imprisonment up to six months. Also, there are air quality and waste management regulations, as well as some local ordinances, that restrict outdoor burning.

The National Weather Service predicts dry, warm days with low humidity levels—right into the weekend. The Division of Forestry asks everyone not to burn during this high fire hazard period. If you have questions regarding outdoor burning, call the Division of Forestry office nearest you.

County expects to receive $12,000 to help with clean-up

By: Ray McClure

Spring finally sprung Sunday and the whole world was overjoyed to see the last of it, or most of the world.

Local transportation maintenance crews are out in force cleaning up after snow and ice storms in December, January and February.

State and federal (FEMA) officials have been in Rockcastle in the past weeks to check on damage done and how much help is needed.

Rockcastle is expected to receive about $12,000 in help. Although not a lot, it will help some, said County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotts this week.

"We need to get into a prevention program instead of reacting after the fact," the Judge stated. "It sure would be cheaper."

"This winter has been one of the worst Kentucky has ever experienced," said Don Kelly, Kentucky Secretary of Transportation. "And it severely disrespected our state roadways."

Rockcastle could have sustained nearly three quarters of a million dollars in telephone and electric and overtime problems during the ice storms.

It even impacted major roads. I-75 in many places has asphalt missing including south toward London, and northbound from the Rockcastle River bridge on I-75, as well as U.S. 25 south of Mt. Vernon.

But the big hit came on County roads, according to Jack Cromer, subcounty road superintendent, and Judge Carlotts.

White Oak Road washed out four or five times since Oct. 1, the judge said. It took the road totally out.

"The road also slid down the hill on a road off Chestnut Ridge Road. On Linc Creek (Buffalo) area the county put in a 6-inch tie," the judge reported.

There are countless places where the asphalt has literally sunk into the mud," the judge reported.

"We just patched it for awhile, it's too wet to ditch."

In the area of gravel nearly $49,000 was spent by the county and even more for fill.

In December, $3,913 was spent for gravel.

In January, $5,332 was spent on gravel.

In February, a total of $8,000 was spent, and as of March 1, a total of $5,139 was spent.

The county also had 180 hours of overtime in the January snow. The ice storms cost the county about 200 hours of overtime. The county does not get help on the 180 hours during the January snow.

Incidentally, the use of a chainsaw per hour was $125.

The state reported that in the first two months of 1994, the Cabinet used 5,242 tons of pothole patching material, over twice that used during the same period of 1993. About $107 million was budgeted for the current fiscal year for all maintenance activities which includes patching.

BMV is solid, but FDIC criticizes local bank's holding company

According to a story in Saturday's Lexington Herald Leader, Federal regulators have told Mt. Vernon Bancshares, Inc. to stop making loans and paying dividends to its principal stockholders, Jerry S. Ikard and his wife, Brenda.

The Ikards were also ordered to refund $16,500 and add $55,890 in capital to the bank.

The federal order accuses the company (Mt. Vernon Bancshares, Inc.) of "certain unsafe or unsound practices and violations of law and regulation." It did not detail the alleged violations.

In a news release in this week's Signal, the Bank of Mt. Vernon states that Mt. Vernon Bancshares, Inc., and the Bank of Mt. Vernon are two separate corporations with their own respective corporate and capital structures.

It further states that the Bank of Mt. Vernon had no involvement with the technical matters addressed.

Moreover, the release notes, officers of Mt. Vernon Bancshares, Inc., state that all technicalities were corrected in 1993.

The release also states that the Bank of Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle oldest and largest financial institution has a 2.5 percent capital to asset ratio, which according to the release is higher than the state average for banks of 8.77%. Bank of Mt. Vernon has assets of $63 million.

According to Saturday's story, as a result:

"The company was ordered not to declare dividends on its stock without regulatory approval.

"The Ikards were told to refund $16,500.50 in dividends, plus interest from various payment dates, and to contribute $55,890, plus interest, to the bank's capital.

"Jerry Ikard was ordered to convert at least $120,000 in loans to common stock in the bank.

"The bank was barred from any transaction with the Ikards involving more than $1,000.

The bank and the holding company also were ordered to submit a plan to maintain adequate capital and reserves and to make regular reports to regulators.

Davis is county republican chair

Juanita Davis was re-elected chairman of the Rockcastle Republican Party at a meeting Saturday at the courthouse.

Ricky Kirby was chosen vice chairman and Juanita Witt secretary/treasurer.

Patty Kirby was chosen assistant secretary/treasurer.

Captains and co-captains were chosen for the May election.

A breakfast for U.S. Rep. Harold Rogers will be held at Kastle Inn at 8:30 Tuesday, March 29.

Shepherd arrested

Bill Shepherd, of Barnett Road, Brodhead, was arrested this week and charged with first degree wanton endangerment and terrorist threatening.

The charges stem from a complaint filed by Kim Dale Robinson also of Brodhead.

In his complaint, Robinson says that Shepherd has threatened to kill him on more than one occasion and ran his vehicle into the ditch.

Shepherd filed a $500 bond and is due back in court on April 11.

We've had a windstorm here in the flatlands that's been going on for two or three days at this writing. It's coming, for the most part, out of the west and it's been gusting up to 55 and 60 miles per hour for at least the last 48 hours. I've been feeling somewhat thankful about all the weight I've gained since I gave up cigarettes because I can, at least make it out to the truck without getting knocked off my feet.

But there's a big telephone line running alongside the road by our yard and it goes through two clumps of trees. On one side we have maples and on the other there's three or four Kentucky coffee trees. Two or three families of squirrels took up residence in the hollow part of the maples and they recently discovered that upwards of a ton of coffee tree beans lie free for the taking just 200 feet away.

I don't know why they call these things coffee trees. I've tried drying the beans and grinding them up and brewing the proceeds. The result neither looks nor smells remotely like coffee. It's a brownish yellow liquid with hardly any taste at all, but I can attest to the fact that it will cure constipation. And if you don't have constipation, it'll darn sure clean you out.

Apparently though, they don't have the same effect on squirrels: a squirrel will travel ten miles to get his jaws full of coffee tree bean seed and it only takes three or four. The pods are up to a foot long and the seeds are bigger than most lima beans.

Anyway, it's maybe 150 feet from the maples to the coffee trees and our front lawn is the only thing that separates them. Just a smooth, flat, short expanse of dead crab grass mowed down to the ground. A squirrel in a hurry could cover the distance in less than five seconds. Or walk it in less than a minute because we have neither dogs nor cats that have any interest in aggravating a squirrel.

But the squirrels don't see it that way. They refuse to intentionally get close to the ground until they have beans in sight. Instead they tigger and totter on the thinness of branches until they can get to the telephone line and then they dash madly along it into the coffee trees. They tear down the sides of the coffee trees, snatch up a mouthful of beans and head back to the wire, which is their highway back to the nesting holes in the maples.

At least that's what they'd been doing before the windstorm.

Have you ever heard the sound a squirrel makes when he or she hits the ground after falling off a telephone line some 30 feet off the ground? Unlike cats that always land on their feet when they fall from any height at all, a squirrel may land on its back or side or even its nose. You hear, "huhh," "garrumph," "whuuuun" etc. but they'll still get up spitting every time and squawk at the phone line as though it was to blame.

This afternoon I watched the same squirrel take at least a dozen falls as he/she tried to negotiate the phone line. The wind would simply ball him up and he'd wrap his tail around the wire and then KAWHUMPPP. "Squawk, Squawk, Squawk" he'd yell as he high-tailed it back to the maple to try again and he must have been blown off at least a dozen times before darkness set in. Finally, right at the edge of dark, I picked up a five gallon bucket of coffee tree beans and dumped them under the maples. [I know one squirrel that's going to be too sore in the morning to catch his balance on the telephone line. Its going to be interesting to see if he'll take charity in this bad weather.

In the meantime, and since we're already speaking of varmints, I am a bit pleased that there is a blessing in all this winter. It's doing nothing to keep skunks from attempting to mate on the medians of our major roads but at least it's carrying the stench almost directly toward Frankfort, and things already smell so bad there that they'll never notice. Frankfort is, after all, full of live skunks right now and PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and salutations from the plains of Wabed, home of a few noteworthy, several notworthies, and a couple of near-notworthies.

"What's new?" said a certain someone whom I hadn't seen in some time. "Nothing," I replied, trying to be biblical. The author of The Book of Ecclesiastes wrote: "There is no new thing under the sun." Of course, he hadn't been to Wal-mart! (Did you know the word "ecclesiastes" is a feminine participle meaning "calling out one," i.e., "preaching one?" Hark! I just heard a shout from somewhere -- "Not in my Bible, you heathen!")

What's new? In the field of computer technology, plenty is new. Virtual reality programming is already here, and after some refinement, will be available to plebeians and patricians everywhere -- well, to those who can afford it.

You put on some computerized headgear and suddenly you are hiking through Yosemite National Park, or riding a dog sled to the North Pole, or tripping the light fantastic with Sophia Loren (you must wear Musk of Moose, lest she take another partner).

As Jack Paar often said, "I kid you not." Virtual reality makes you feel you are there! Just think, a boasting acquaintance of yours returns from a month-long tour of the Far East, and says, "That Great Wall of China is something. Ever been there?" And you say, "Yep, about an hour ago."

The possibility of virtual reality in my own home is a pleasant prospect. Nancy and I want to travel when we get a bit older, but even if we have the financial wherewithal to do so, it will not be possible. I really do have a bad back, and a specialist in Lexington tells me the condition is inoperable. In fact, I get down in my back just driving to Lexington to see the specialist. So, if the Almighty is willing, I'll still tour the Lake Country of England where Wordsworth and Coleridge penned many an immortal line. And, I will orbit the earth in a space shuttle, and walk the Via Dolorosa on Good Friday, and stand in awesome silence atop Mt. Everest.

There is a downside to all of this, however. We may get to the place where we no longer are able to distinguish reality from appearance -- not that we don't already have problems in that arena. On the other hand, some might ask what difference will it make if virtual reality helps us fulfill our dreams and expand our intellectual horizons -- whatever those are.

Oops, I almost went philosophical. Paradise that will never do. So, back to virtual reality. One of the greatest boons it will provide has to do with church attendance. Say it's Sunday evening. You just got home from a fishing trip to Lake Cherokee. Your neighbor comes over and tells you what you missed by not being in church that morning. "Sally Sue Ables sang 'We Are Standing on Holy Ground' and we all felt like we were. And the whole house was convicted, and there were more people at the altar than in the pews. Brother, you just missed it!"

Little does your neighbor know. You have CD virtual reality capability with your computer. And, since the church also records the services (virtual reality cameras, etc.) for hospital patients and shut-ins, you, being a computer hack, know how to tap into that program via your modem. Dumb neighbor! You'll experience the same thing he did

John and I were back in church Sunday morning at Dixie Park Full Gospel Baptist Church, which is now called I. I had talked so much of the pastor, Brother Mark Sarver's preaching, that John wanted to go with me and hear him.

It was such a pretty, sunny day and the crowd was there again wearing lovely spring clothes, to come and meet their Lord.

The pastor was everywhere, passing out church bulletins, bringing out more folding chairs, helping people find seats, as if he was just a member. Again, we heard a good sermon, with the crowd in agreement with Brother Sarver. He spoke on getting away from the very appearance of evil and said God would give you a way to escape. The pastor talked on husbands and wives and that they should love and agree with each other. When he came down to "carrying out the garbage" without a big racket in the home as well as some other things that couples had trouble over, John nudged me several times which made me mad for he's no angel about home chores (jobs).

"You heard what the man said," John teased me later.

I was human enough to say, "Yes, but the pastor doesn't have you to live with!" I came back at him but we were soon laughing at each other.

Lots of folks came around to shake hands with us, asking John and I to come back.

We saw Shirley Twimer, Shorty Vanwinkle, Connie Combs from the Big Value Grocery, Jeanie and Harold Cole and daughters, and several others that we knew.

On our way home from church we stopped at Howard McKeehan's, John saying he was a Lodge brother, to they're been spraying for the last six weeks.

This afternoon I made a round trip from Lancaster down 39 to Crab Orchard to 150 into Broaddhead and then Mt. Vernon. From Mt. Vernon, through Renfro Valley and up U.S. 25 to Berea. From Berea you take 21 back into Palm Lick and you've covered about 70 miles of two-lane back-top.

Sixteen dead skunks I counted that had been hit on the road. That figures out to one dead skunk every four miles. I figure that for every one I saw, there was another one just out of sight in the ditch line.

I only got a whiff or two strong enough to threaten my digestion and that was with the window down.

So the squirrels may not be liking this windstorm very much but like everything else in nature, it's serving a purpose.

In the meantime, I'm off to Florida for a few days. By the time I return the Legislature should be wrapped up and the coyotes should have eaten most of the dead skunks. Spring should be upon us and things should smell nicer. But be forewarned, The Woolly Worms still insist that we have another big snow storm coming.

without dressing up, going to the altar and or giving an offering!

Mercy: "I must go see a man about a mule, but until next week, I urge you to muse over Jallaludin Rumi's observation (a distance relative of James Lamber, Sr., I'm told): What a piece of bread looks like depends on whether you are hungry or not.

express our sympathy on the death of his wife. Howard was not at home.

We came out of Superior Market Saturday behind Conley Saylor and his pretty wife, Virginia who was the better looking of the couple!

I send birthday greetings to Juanita Crouther on March 20th hoping she had a great day. Her age is a secret! Doesn't matter for she's a pretty woman who keeps Edd in line.

My youngest son, Chesley Corne, visited us Saturday for a short visit and ate up all the green onions that I had prepared to go with soup beans, his favorite menu.

Stella Francis Dees, who was 86 years of age when she passed away on March 11th, having lived a busy life, said to me once, "I don't know why God keeps me here on earth. I'm not much good for anything."

But Stella was wrong. The ten children, 265 grandchildren, great, grandchildren and great, great, grandchildren, all needed her to be a leader of this Dees family.

Stella was partly crippled but didn't let that hold her back.

She and I became great friends after I came to Berea.

One thing I liked about her was the beautiful prayers she could give when invited to pray. Once I took Stella to a restaurant for dinner, on my birthday. On this occasion she gave such a beautiful prayer as we sat in the restaurant that I felt wonderful.

The ten children are all grown and that is a record. About two years ago, Stella was told that she had cancer and couldn't live very long but Stella, with the help of the Lord, lived at most two years longer.

Now she is in Heaven. "Holding the gate open" for me. I never knew a person who was so faithful to her Lord.

I gathered a big bouquet of yellow March flowers (jonquils as other people call them) Saturday, when we went out to Cleve and Blanche's for awhile. They were so pretty with their yellow heads sticking up through the dead grass around them.

This has been a bad winter but God gave them cover.

Helen Seals, wife of Monroe Seals, passed away recently, due to the effects of cancer. This is such a sneaky disease. Helen always looked well when I saw her after I had heard that she had the disease. She held a job and went on as if nothing was happening.

Suddenly Helen was sent to the hospital and never returned home. Seven weeks later she died.

As I stood before her casket, talking to Monroe, I commented on how well she still looked, to Monroe.

"She planned everything about her funeral, how she should be dressed and all that was to be done," Monroe told me.

What courage this woman, who lay in a pretty casket, had to face the unknown future yet could talk of her coming day. She must have called on God to walk with her as she made the last steps to eternity.

Yesterday was the first day of spring, according to the calendar, March 20th.

I'll declare, there is a cold winter like drizzle out this morning. I meant to do as the students up on campus do, put on some shorts and wear them out no matter what the weather.

I talked to my brother Blufford's wife, Laura. She is still distraught and very grieved over Blufford's death even though he's been gone since October 4th, over five months ago.

She has called me twice to talk to me of Blufford, I tell her to go to God. He's the only help that will help her to deal with her grief. She keeps it constantly before her.

As a man said to me about his wife dying, "you have to bury the dead before you can live again!"

Ora Phelps who is a barber on U.S. 25 south at the edge of Berea sent me word that I had spelled his name which was Ovide wrong but he had changed it to Ora so I was right after all. He was probably ticked off because I'd called his place a "loafing parlor." But that's where John stays most of his waking hours. Anyway I want to wish Ova a happy birthday on March 22.

I've just gotten some good remedies using apple cider and honey for cures. They say it works with cancer, memory loss, bad breath, sore feet and tiredness. You name it and I can give you the remedy to use and be cured. There is no charge.

My cute little Sara, at the paper's husband, Jason Cogger, gave me a weather prediction to use -- "If it thunders in February, you can look for frosts in May!" That means you early gardeners can plan to cover up your early plants that you planted.

Yesterday, a young dog came here that looked like Spot, our dog. John said he was Spot's son. For I told you we had trouble in keeping Spot from romancing.

He had run off from his owners and did that twice.

As soon as Boots came to our back door, I fed him dog food and a bone to gnaw on.

So he didn't want to go with his owner when they came after him. He got behind me and I was so sorry for him. Till next week when a man had dreams and saw them come true, and talks of death.

Roundstone's SBDM Council will be having their regularly scheduled meeting on Thursday, March 24. All parents and concerned community members are invited to attend.

I like Earth's blue skies

Mrs. Clark's class is bursting into spring with our unit on insects. We have started with butterflies and are enjoying doing many exciting projects. We are doing "The Very Hungry Caterpillar" this week and also planning on building a fruit caterpillar. We have been working on measuring different insects and comparing size in math. We wrote great stories on "How We Can Bee Good Workers."

Ms. Mink's class has been studying "Spring" things too. We have started our unit on farm and are enjoying watching them make a new home. We are making books telling all about the Solar System. We have discussed the Sun as our most important star. In Math, we finished up our unit on measurement. We are looking forward to starting, more Spring Units on Plants, Seeds and Insects. We are also looking forward to our field trip to see Beauty and the Beast.

Pointing out the particulars at the south end of the Roundstone fourth grade science mural are Jessica Carmack, Sandra Dawson, Laura Handley, Kyle Parsons and Lee Gadd.

Mrs. Martha Coffey's Roundstone Fourth grade science classes recently completed a three dimensional rain forest wall mural. Showing off the north end of the mural are from front to back Tracy Isaacs, Jackie Kirby, Jessica Hoover, Jessica Saylor and Ashley Miller.

Mrs. Michelle Atkin, EKV student teacher in Mrs. Patty Renner's Roundstone primary class, invited her husband, State Trooper Tom Atkin to share information about the Kentucky State Police. The primary students get a close look at Trooper Atkin's cruiser.

Tiger Pause

Congratulations to four students in our sixth grade for winning special recognition for their Science project in Nelson Graves' classes. Grand prize winner was Neil Childress. First, second and third prize went to Matthew Hayes, Jessica Lowery and Brooke Roberts, respectively.

A drawing was held Friday among those primary students with good attendance. Disney videos were given to Jamie Wheat (CUBS) Amanda Wright (STATIC) and Latasha DeBord (SWAT). This activity was initiated by Mrs. Owens to promote attendance.

Our fourth six-weeks grading period ended Wednesday, March 23 and report cards will go out Wednesday, March 30.

Roy D. Adams, John Dyhouse, Matthew Hayes and Jeremy Rustick placed 8th in the state (of 19 teams participating) at the Dairy Quiz Bowl held Thursday at the University of Kentucky in Lexington.

Mrs. Onna Owens and eighth grader, Josh McKibben, will go to Louisville Saturday where Josh will participate in the Scripps Howard National Spelling Bee at the Seelbach Hotel. Winning this event which is sponsored by Courier Journal would advance Josh to the finals in Washington, D.C.

After-school drug prevention classes, coordinated by Mary Hamm and Onna Owens, began March 7. Mrs. Wanda Carroll is assisting twelve students in making "poodle skirts" which they will wear for their spring performing arts concert. Mrs. Tammy Miller and Mrs. Joanne McClure are instructing an aerobics class for approximately 30 students.

The students are learning the importance of a balance in exercise, diet and rest. There are two classes of arts and crafts where students are decorating caps, tennis shoes and T-shirts. The instructors are Mrs. Regina Burton, Mrs. Betty Brown, Mrs. Charlotte Bullock and Mrs. Mandy Carpenter. Each class devotes a portion of the time to drug prevention activities. The students and workers are looking forward to a fun picnic at Levi Jackson State Park at the end of the program.

April 4-8. Teachers will be scoring writing and math portfolios Monday and Tuesday of that week.

The 21st Century class would like to thank their guests: Barry Shoemaker, Water Safety Patron, Pam Burdette, manager Pizzas Hut, Dolores Albright, social worker, Bill Dowell, cornerer and John Wit, GTE.

Our students that participated in the Healthy Breakfast-Healthy Kids program received toothbrushes from Dr. Coffey and Dr. Parsons - coupons from Wendy's, Dairy Queen, McDonald's and Hardee's. Home-room students of Mrs. Cindy Ellington and Mrs. Gayle Scoggin were treated to a pizza party by Pizza Hut. Mrs. Kathy Reynolds class received ice cream sundaes from Brodhead School for having the most kids participating in the breakfast program during the designated week. We would like to thank Hazel Jackson, Judy Hudson and Benda Saylor, but especially our cooks, Wanda Carroll, Doris Blanton, Geri Anglin, Mary Bussell, Joy Todd, Helen Albright, Becky Anglin and Ruby Thompson. Also, the lunchroom has been brightly decorated with spring colored balloons and fans. We appreciate these ladies for making our luncheon inviting.

BES students are involved in economics, the middle ages and literature.

Mrs. Tammy Miller's classes started their study of economics with a 'choices and changes' unit in which the students learned basic economic concepts. Understanding these concepts were essential for the remainder of the study. The students learned to make decisions as a consumer (i.e. paper towel test, taste test, etc.) The classes discussed the importance of getting an education - took an interest inventory - surveyed job opportunities and interviewed several people in the community about their jobs and choices.

The class is currently studying the stock market and playing the stock market game. Another unit was called "Trade Around the World." Students worked in cooperative groups studying countries - main products, climate, GDP, GDP per capita. The findings were presented to the class and displays were made for the library and hallway.

Mrs. Miller's Literature classes are required to complete three book projects each six weeks grading period. The students develop an oral presentation told from the main character's point of view. Five of the eighth graders performed for the fifth grade. These students were Emily Potter, Tonya Stewart, Shannon Hess, Jennifer Bullock and Scotty Moore.

Mrs. Miller's seventh graders have been involved in Performance Events Activity in Social Studies while studying the Middle Ages. The students wrote and performed a play. For example, one group developed an ordeal which revealed to the audience the ways in which one's guilt or innocence was determined during that era. Others demonstrated the process of knighthood, Charlemagne's accomplishments, etc. Their work will be performed before a six grade audience.

Mrs. Miller and students would like to thank the following for their contribution to the study:

Mrs. Judy Hudson, Mrs. Brenda Saylor, Anne Harris, Bill Sowder, Doug Brock, Julia Blackburn, Dale Whitaker, Helen Owens, Lloyd Jordan, Randall Templeton, Joanne McClure, Blanche Johnson, Mark Brummett

 Mr. Woodall's class has been doing multiplication and division in math. They are studying about rivers around the world in Social Studies. In science, they are studying weather. In their Portfolios, they have been working on Letters to the Reviewer. In P.E., they have been playing a game called "Crackabout".

Mr. Alexander's 6th grade has been doing an "Ag in the classroom" project. They plan to make ice cream as part of their study of matter.
 Mr. Napier's Student of the Week is Tiffany Daugherty. The class had a visitor, Mr. Gray, who came from The Fish and Wildlife Department, to talk to them about amphibians. In reading, they are having a test over physically challenged people. They took the word handicapped, out of their vocabulary. In writing, the students are writing Ziggy comic strips.

Ms. Darst's 7th grade students have a student teacher, Ms. DeTrina Lee. She has been teaching the classes about Nonvascular Plants. This topic deals with algae, molds, fungi, mosses and yeast. Upon completing this unit, the 7th graders went on a tour of Pizza Hut. On this tour they saw how yeast makes dough rise and they were able to prepare their own personal pan pizzas. Needless to say, it was definitely a learning experience. Thanks, Pizza Hut for being such good sports!

Several classes from Mt. Vernon Elementary entered the state's "Color Me Beautiful" poster contest in February. In this contest, the children had to design a poster showing how differences such as physical handicaps should not keep children from participating in activities with other children. Ashlee Bowles, from Mrs. Carter's Connections Class was chosen as third place winner in this state contest. Congratulations Ashlee!

On March 13, 14 and 15, ten students from Mt. Vernon Elementary participated in the Kentucky United Nations Assembly in Lexington. Those students are Lorabeth Payne, Dana Mason, Heather Bray, Megan Holbrook, Tiffany McClure, Cory Bailey, Andy Hale, Michael Parsons and Nathaniel Bullock. They represented the country of Haiti. Details and pictures will appear in next week's news.

Recently Mrs. Carter's first level class received a trip to Pizza Hut for twenty days perfect attendance. They had a great time and really enjoyed the pizza! Thank you, Mr. Hale, for providing that nice treat for us!

belts. EKU practicum student, Carolyn Stevens, organized the program given by Trooper Accardo from the London Police Post. We all learned a valuable lesson about saving our own lives and the lives of others.

Community Church Directory

Providence church of Christ

Let me begin by expressing our thanks to the Mt. Vernon Signal for allowing us this opportunity to present some things about who we are and what we are trying to do.

The Standard
First, we believe the Bible is the inspired Word of God, II Tim. 3:16-17, and is a complete guide, Jn. 16:13. We live in a time when people look to various sources of authority for what they do in religion: tradition, councils, creed books, latter day revelations, pope, etc. Yet Christ has all authority as Mt. 28:18 teacher; and His will is expressed in the Bible, our complete guide.

The Church
The Lord Jesus promised to build His church in Mt. 16:18. We read that He purchased the church with His own blood, Ac. 20:28. We read that Christ is "head over all things to the church which is His body, the fullness of Him that filleth all in all." Eph. 1:22-23.

Paul went on to say in Eph. 4:4 that there is "one body" or one church, since the body of the church is the same.

We are persuaded and are contending that we can be a part of the church Jesus built; and not be a part of any denomination. In fact denominationalism is splitting up, factions, schisms, divisions, is sinful and contrary to the will of Christ. Read I Cor. 1:10-13 and Jn. 17:20-21, and see for yourself that division is sinful. Now someone might say "But doesn't the Bible speak of churches, like the churches of Galatia and the seven churches?" Yes, but in each, each local church was taught the same things from the Lord. Paul said that Timothy would "bring you into remembrance of my ways which are in Christ, as I teach every where in every church." I Cor. 4:17.

Thus we have accepted and seeking to teach the oneness of Christ's Church. To stand on pattern or blueprint the Lord Jesus laid down for His church, Hebs. 8:5.

Plan of Salvation
The Bible is very clear on what a man must do to be saved. One must hear the gospel, Rm. 10:17, Ac. 18; then one must believe Jesus' death, burial and resurrection, I Cor. 15:1-4, Lk. 24:47; then one must repent, Ac. 17:30, Lk. 24:47; then to confess faith in the Lord Jesus, Rm. 10:9-10, Ac. 8:37; and then he must be baptized or immersed in water, this being the final step to become a Christian and have your sins remitted. Ac. 2:38, Ac. 22:16. Then as a newborn babe we are to grow in the grace and knowledge of the Lord and Saviour. It's so sad that many religious people today, have not learned the simple plan of salvation. We hope all the readers will submit to Christ's plan to save you from sin.

Worship
The New Testament teaches us that there are five acts of worship. We know God seeks people to worship Him in spirit and in truth, Jn. 4:23-24. Ac. 2:42, 47, gives us a very concise way, these 5 acts:

1. Apostles' teaching or instruction was one of the things the disciples did in worship, Ac. 20:7. Men preached God's truth to exhort, reprove and rebuke. II Tim. 4:2.
2. Early Christians gave of their means as they had been prospered, which is fellowship sharing. I Cor. 16:1-3. They did not have church rummage sales, or beg the public, but by their offerings, the Christians gave to the work of the Lord.
3. Breaking of bread or the Lord's Supper was another item of worship in the early church. We learn they did it on the first day of the month, Ac. 20:7, which of course comes every week. We know

God told the Jews to remember the Sabbath Day Ex. 20:8, which they understood to mean every Sunday. Thus should have no problem to understand that the Lord's Supper must be observed every first day of the week to be accordance with God's Will.

4. Prayers are to be expressed when the church assembles. Some examples of such Ac. 4:24-31, I Cor. 14:14-16. Certainly individual disciples prayed in the "closets" Mt. 6:6. But public prayers are to be led when the church assembles.

5. Lastly, praising God, i.e. singing and making melody in the heart unto the Lord is the last act of worship we can find in the N.T. Read all the passages that command music in the N.T., and you will only find vocal music authorized, mechanical music or instrumental music is not authorized by Christ. God told us to sing Eph. 5:19, Col. 3:16, etc. friends, we are not going corrupt worship with things God did not ask for! Any Sunday you meet with us, these are the only things that we will participate in, as we seek to worship God in spirit and in truth.

Christians

Three times in the N.T. we read of the term or name Christian used, Ac. 11:26, Ac. 26:28, I Pet. 4:16. Notice Ac. 11:26 says, "And the disciples were called Christians, first in Antioch." Now they were not called Baptists or Methodists, or Catholics, or Mormons, or Lutherans, or Jehovah's witnesses, or Pentacostals or anything else.

What did God say they were called? Christians! Men who wear names that exact him, men whom Christ and His made doctrines are fighting against ourselves. Thus we simple call ourselves, Christians.

Organization

God teaches that disciples band together from local church of Christ Rm. 16:16, Ac. 9:26, Col. 1:2. Each church is autonomous, which means they "self rule." The Providence Church is not tied to, or led by any earthly headquarters. We are a local church that is to be under the headship of Jesus Christ, Eph. 5:23. God has ordained bishops or elders or pastors to lead and rule the flock by example and wisdom. Men must meet certain qualifications given in I Tim. 3:1-7, and Titus 1:5-11 to be appointed to this office or work. Ac. 20:17, 28 shows us that the terms, elders, bishops, overseers, pastors (to be Ac. 20:28) refer to the same office but from different viewpoints.

We are served by three elders here at Providence I Tim. 3:8-13 tells of the qualifications of men who can be appointed to the office of deacon. We have five men who serve in the capacity. The N.T. also speaks of men who serve as

God teaches that disciples band together from local church of Christ Rm. 16:16, Ac. 9:26, Col. 1:2. Each church is autonomous, which means they "self rule." The Providence Church is not tied to, or led by any earthly headquarters. We are a local church that is to be under the headship of Jesus Christ, Eph. 5:23. God has ordained bishops or elders or pastors to lead and rule the flock by example and wisdom. Men must meet certain qualifications given in I Tim. 3:1-7, and Titus 1:5-11 to be appointed to this office or work. Ac. 20:17, 28 shows us that the terms, elders, bishops, overseers, pastors (to be Ac. 20:28) refer to the same office but from different viewpoints.

We are served by three elders here at Providence I Tim. 3:8-13 tells of the qualifications of men who can be ap-

Mt. Vernon Lions Club

The Mt. Vernon Lions Club celebrated the 50th anniversary of its founding on Feb. 17. Its founding was sponsored by the Livingston Lions Club. Rockcastle County boasts three active Lions Clubs. Those clubs are Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston. The Lions International, which covers the free world, has a membership of over two million people. Different clubs take on many and varied projects but, the main purpose of Lions International is to promote sight conservation. Of all cases of blindness, over half of the cases are from unknown causes.

The Mt. Vernon Club will purchase a minimum of 20 pairs of glasses for indigent children each year. These glasses are purchased for indigent school age children and mothers who have poor vision and have children in school. We also sponsor children to Trooper Island. This is a week of camp which is run by the Kentucky State Police. The Club also sponsors a local student in the Kentucky State Band. The participating student is selected by the Rockcastle County High School Band Director. The Mt. Vernon Lions Club has thirty-two members and meets on the first and third Thursday of each month at Kastle Inn Restaurant. The meeting time is 6:30 p.m.

Over the years, we have contributed to the Eye Bank Foundation in both Louisville and Lexington and are now in the process of contributing one thousand dollars to the Eye Research Foundation. This money will be used to study eye diseases and methods of treatment. In past years, we have also sponsored transportation for young people to attend 4-H Camp at the Felner 4-H Camp in London. We have contributed to the purchase of a chair at the Eye Institute in Louisville and the Mt. Vernon Lions Club was the sponsoring club of the first cornea transplant in Rockcastle County. The Club also sponsors the Farmers' Businessmen's Banquet on a bi-yearly basis.

Lions Clubs in Rockcastle County, have the longest tenure of all civic organizations and they do much more than "meet and eat." The last living charter member of the Mt. Vernon Lions Club was the late Clyde Barnett.

Income tax "filing days" to be held

Taxpayers who need assistance filing their 1993 Kentucky individual income tax returns can receive help during special "filing days" at Kentucky Revenue Cabinet (KRC) Taxpayer Service Centers (TSCs) statewide. This annual program has offered special assistance to countless Kentucky taxpayers for nearly 40 years.

In order to receive assistance from KRC, taxpayers must complete federal copies of their 1993 federal income tax return and supporting federal schedules.

Through a joint KRC/Internal Revenue Service (IRS) taxpayer assistance program, all KRC TSCs provide federal individual income tax forms. Likewise, IRS service centers provide Kentucky individual income tax forms. KRC staff, however, cannot provide assistance in completing federal income tax forms.

TSCs will offer help with individual income tax returns to taxpayers on the following weekdays between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Monday and Tuesday: Ashland, 134 Sixteenth Street Corbin, Falls Road Plaza, Suite 5, 1707 18th Street Paducah, 555 Jefferson Street Pikeville, 1279 North Mayo Trail Tuesday and Thursday: Hazard, 233 Birch Street Hopkinsville, 105 Hammond Plaza Lexington, 301 East Main Street, Suite 500

Northern Kentucky (Ft. Mitchell), 2055 Dixie Highway, Room 210 Owensboro, 311 West Second St. Assistance in the Frankfort area is available at the Taxpayer Ombudsman's Office, (502) 564-4580.

Kentucky income tax forms can be ordered from the Property and Mail Services Section, Kentucky Revenue Cabinet, Frankfort, Kentucky 40620. However, the KRC no longer provides bulk income tax forms free of charge to tax practitioners.

preachers or evangelists. II Tim. 4:2-5 I serve in this work and receive my living, for such, as I Cor. 9:14 teaches. We have several young men who preach a sermon from time to time, which we are thankful.

Work of the Church
Local churches are appointed by God to function and work in three capacities. A congregation is to be involved in evangelism, sounding forth the Word of the Lord. I Thes. 1:7-8; to spread the gospel within the scope of their ability. Accord work is, to edify or build up the church of Christ, as Eph. 4:10 teaches. This may involve things like teaching, worship services, preaching and discipline (I Cor. 5) when such becomes necessary. A third and final area of work, as a local church is for it to assist needy saints, Ac. 6:1-6, Ac. 11:28-30, II Cor. 8:9.

We are trying to be busy about God's work that He has given us a congregation of His people. We refuse and oppose to get sidetracked in things like church recreation, family life centers, ball teams, church camps, church dining rooms, etc. As many churches are heavily involved in Families, and individuals should take care of food, fun and frolic. This is what I Cor. 11:22-24 and Rm. 14:17 teaches us.

Services Offered
People are welcome to visit any of the regular services here at Providence. We meet on Sunday at 10 a.m. for Bible study for worship at 10:35 a.m. and 7 p.m. Also on Wednesday evening at 7:30. We have a radio program every Sunday morning at 8 a.m. on WRVK 1460 am. We have a newspaper article every other week in the Mt. Vernon Signal called What Saith the Scriptures. We offer home Bible studies to any interested in a study of God's Word. Our monthly bulletin is passed out at services which is designed to instruct in the Will of the Lord.

Set for the Defense
Paul said he was "set for the defense of the gospel" Phil. 1:17. Jude exhorts us to "earnestly contend for the faith once delivered unto the saints." Jude 3.

We are ready to defend what we believe what about your friends? I know many will take offense to some of the things we have written, but we are fully persuaded we have set forth the precious truth of Christ. We are ready to study any of these topics with any of our readers who may disagree. If we are wrong and you will point this out from the Word of God, we will change. Would you be willing to do the same?

Conclusion
Jesus died to set men free from sin and death. But it's only the truth that will liberate, Jn. 8:32

"What Saith the Scriptures"
In Col. 1:12-13, we read, "Giving thanks unto the father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light: who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son." Again in Hebs. 12:28 we read, "Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear." Both these passages teach us a very important point: that the kingdom has been established since the writing of the New Testament, in the first century.

We have many in our religious world that deny that the kingdom of Christ is now in existence or has yet been established. These folks have the mistaken idea, that the kingdom is yet to be established, in the so-called, millennial reign of Christ here upon earth. This doctrine is false to the core.

Jesus is now reigning and ruling in heaven over all the earth and over all people in a general sense. To those who submit to his reign, he blesses us and translates us into his kingdom, Col. 1:13. We must receive the benefits of the rule of christ into our lives and hearts, Hebs. 12:28.

Zachariah prophesied that Jesus would be a priest upon his throne "Zach. 6:13. The same time he would be priest, would be the same time he would be king, and rule upon his throne." Jesus indeed is priest now, Hebs. 4:14, 8:1-4, thus he must also be king now. If he is not king now, then he cannot be a priest now, for Zach. 6:13 said he would be priest and king at the same time, "A priest upon his throne."

Now the practical implication of this important truth is, that we ought to bow in submission to this King of Kings. Jesus has the right to rule in our hearts, and he will bless if we will willingly submit to his authority. A failure to do so will bring upon us the wrath of God. Rebellion to the reign of Christ will bring shame, heartache, and finally eternal destruction. Have you obeyed the Lord's plan to be saved and thus be translated into the Kingdom of his dear Son?

"Comical" was probably a poor word

Looking over this week's letters to the editor, it is obvious that my story concerning last week's state public hearing ruffled a few feathers.

And looking back, I probably made a mistake when I used the word comical in my account of the hearing.

Exactly what I was referring to when I said that some of the comments were comical, were these remarks, "pumping sunshine up our skirts", "telling commissioner Boyesen to 'go back to fairyland'", "telling the local planning committee to 'lick their calf over'" and calling the LPC, the board's "puppet committee".

When a 'community school' was closed, I know that it is a very emotional thing for many people and certainly the valiant efforts of the Livingston school supporters have been anything but comical.

They have fought a hard fight to keep their school and I have tried to present both sides of the issue as well as possible could.

When I said in last week's story that some of the comments made were inaccurate, that is true.

The cost of the present high school is not over budget as was stated, in fact at the present time the cost of the new school is actually running a little under budget.

The comment that it cost $5 million dollars for Mr. Towery to re-direct the county in 1972 was also inaccurate. Mr. Towery was assistant principal at RCHS in 1972 and the cost of any re-directing at anytime has been minimal.

A couple of people have said that they were misquoted, which is simply not true. When people are speaking publicly about something as emotional as the closing of a school, they often remember, in retrospect, saying things differently than they actually did even different than they may have written them down to say.

I commend the efforts of the Livingston school supporters and certainly not I nor anyone else at this newspaper have any reason to want to see Livingston school closed.

Richard Anderkin

For the record

This speech was given at the state public hearing by two Livingston school supporters.

Ed's Note: The comments gathered at last week's hearing including this speech will be presented to the state school board at their July meeting. This speech was presented at the local state held public hearing for the most part by Livingston City Commissioner Ed Lile.

A line from the Local Planning Committee's report states, "Livingston is not a school center that can be reasonably considered as a long term asset for the Rockcastle County Schools."

Maybe the local board feels that the Livingston School is not an asset to the county's educational system, but I beg to differ with the board.

They are dead wrong!! I have the facts and figures to show that the school at Livingston is in indeed an asset.

Brodhead has a total enrollment of 597, PTO membership of 175, and volunteer hours per year of 2250.

Livingstone has a total enrollment of 208, PTO membership of 75, and volunteer hours per year of 1500.

Mt. Vernon has a total enrollment of 866, PTO membership of 169, and volunteer hours per year of 1575.

Roundstone has a total enrollment of 449, PTO membership of 90, and volunteer hours per year of 500.

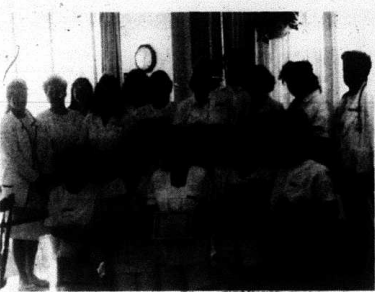

This means that Brodhead has 3.76 volunteer hours per child, Livingstone has 7.21 volunteer hours per child, Mt. Vernon has 1.81 volunteer hours per child and Roundstone has 1.11 volunteer hours per child.

The percentage of PTO membership per student enrollment is 29% at Brodhead, 36% at Livingston, 19% at Mt. Vernon and 20% at Roundstone.

These facts and figures show that Livingston is the number one school in the county in volunteer hours per child and in PTO membership per student. I would like to see an asset to me! And there is more. As reported in the Lexington Herald-Leader on Friday, March 11, the Livingston 1993 state test scores for grades 4 & 8 have a 53.39% increase over 1992 scores and Roundstone has a 0% increase for the same grades and time period. Brodhead's and Mt. Vernon's test scores are being contested and are, therefore, not included. An interesting figure in this article is that the high school's scores for seniors dropped almost 12%. Again, it looks like Livingston is an asset.

This newspaper article also says that Livingston School will receive rewards from the state if this trend continues. I guess their reward will be the closing of their school.

These facts and figures, along with the fact that Livingston School has the best attendance rate in the county, tells me that things are working well at Livingston School. The teachers are teaching well and the students are applying themselves, are motivated

URGENT!!!

Let Your Voice Be Heard on Homosexual Sodomy

In September 1992, the Kentucky Supreme Court legalized homosexual sodomy in our state. In a narrow 4-to-3 decision, the Court overturned Kentucky's historic sodomy law Four of the seven justices said that homosexual sodomy was protected by the Kentucky Constitution.

This ruling

- Opens the door to the public schools for the teaching of homosexual sodomy as an acceptable behavior
- Will promote the spread of AIDS and other sexually transmitted diseases.

- Imposed the permissive moral views of four judges on the entire state by taking the issue out of the hands of your elected lawmakers.

According to a December 1993 University of Kentucky poll, over 70 percent of Kentuckians are opposed to the legalization of homosexual sodomy. Yet this dangerous sexual practice can now be taught in your child's school.

The only way this decision can be reversed is if the Kentucky General Assembly votes to put the question before Kentucky voters in the form of a constitutional amendment.

They are meeting right now. But legislative leaders will let this important issue die unless you ask them to act.

Call 1-800-372-7181 now and leave a message for your state representative and senator.

Tell them you want a

Fiscal Court designates April as Clean-Up Month

At their March meeting, the Rockcastle Fiscal Court designated April as Spring Clean-Up Month. And, the annual solid waste report showed the county on target with Phase Two of the Rockcastle County Solid Waste Plan approved by the state last year.

Two areas of concern exist, however. Household participation in garbage collection is only 70 percent, and new, illegal dumps are appearing as fast as old ones are cleaned up. Judge Buzz Carolotis said stricter enforcement procedures will be implemented. Anyone caught dumping illegally or throwing trash from a vehicle will be prosecuted. The county's clean up cost is getting out of hand.

Nancy Meadows, Solid Waste Coordinator, reminds everyone of Section 8 of the county's ordinance regarding prohibited practices and of Section 10 dealing with disposal of solid waste.

It shall be unlawful for any person to: (1) dispose of garbage, refuse, rubbish or debris by illegally dumping same on any premises in the county with or without the consent of the owner of the premises; (2) dump or permit the illegal dumping of garbage, refuse, rubbish, and debris on any property within the county limits; (deposit solid waste in any solid waste container other than his own without the written consent of the owner of such container and/or with the intent of avoiding the service charge hereinafter provided for solid waste collection and disposal; (4) fail to have solid waste disposed of as provided in this ordinance; (5) interfere in any manner with solid waste collection and transportation equipment, duties as such; (6) dispose of dead animals in any container to be collected by the solid waste collection service; (7) own or operate a dump; (8) dispose of solid waste at any facility or location which is not approved by the county and the Kentucky Department for Environmental Protection; (9) engage in the business of collecting, transporting, processing or disposing of solid waste within the county without a permit issued by the county; (10) fail to be catalogued by a permitted garbage collection service for proper collection and disposal of solid waste.

No person shall throw, drop, deposit, discard, or otherwise dispose of solid waste upon any public place in the county or upon any private property or in any waters within the jurisdiction of the county, whether from a vehicle or otherwise except in a permitted landfill or transfer station designated and approved by the fiscal court.

Questions regarding these regulations or related matters should be directed to Nancy Meadows at 256-5315.

Judge Carolotis says, "With spring just around the corner, all the debris and trash needs to be disposed of properly. Let's all pitch in and make Rockcastle a more pleasing place."

Hospitality program set for Somersret

A program on hospitality awareness will be presented in Somersret Tuesday, April 5.

"With the tourist season just around the corner, it is time to consider if we are truly prepared for our visitors," said Marlene Morgan, management specialist with Eastern Kentucky University's South Central Small Business Development Center, a co-sponsor of the program along with the Somersret/Polaski County Chamber of Commerce. "This program will give insight on attractions, giving good directions, and general knowledge on how to deal with our visitors."

The program will be presented by Julie Godby, executive director of the Kentucky Department for Environ-

Heartfelt thanks to Rockcastle residents

The American Heart Association Annual telepledge was a success, thanks to all the residents of Rockcastle County that pledged to help fight Kentucky's number one killer, Heart Disease. Pledges totaled $1,580 to benefit the American Heart Association. A special thanks goes to the volunteers and the Bank of Mt. Vernon for participating in the event.

Please fulfill your commitment, your support of the American Heart Association is greatly appreciated!

An invitation to visit

My job as your Congressman can be summed up in two words—serving people.

Over the past several years, I have had the honor of serving the residents of Kentucky's 5th Congressional District, representing your views on Capitol Hill, and trying to do what I can to solve the problems we face in our counties and as a region.

Already this year, thousands of residents from all over Southern and Eastern Kentucky have contacted the about issues important to them. I benefit greatly from the ideas and individual experiences residents relay to me in their letters and phone calls.

I am eager to meet with you personally, which is why I hold town meetings each year throughout our 5th Congressional District. Last year I met and spoke with literally thousands of people who wanted to chat or need assistance. Hearing our concerns helps me better serve you.

That's why March 29 I will be in Mt. Vernon at the courthouse at 10 a.m.; in fact, I will be touring every county in the 5th District—27 in all. I hope you will be able to drop by and visit. I want to hear your views and opinions on important issues like Social Security, health care reform, taxes, jobs, and economic development. I also want to hear about any specific problems so I can help.

Of course, if you need to reach me but can't attend a meeting, my office is always open at any of my Kentucky offices and in Washington, just call 1/800-632-8588.

Hope to see you soon. By the way, if you don't have a problem or concern, I still hope you can stop by.

Castle Chorus presents "Tonight's the Night"

Thursday, March 31, 1994

7 p.m. at RCHS

Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Cameron developed an occupation from a 4-H project

What began as a 4-H project 11 years ago has developed into an occupation for a local resident, and gained national and international recognition for him and his family. Charlie Cameron started a dairy heifer project in 1983 when he obtained two holstein heifer calves from his grandfather, Charley Cummins. With encouragement from his oldest brother, Billy, who was then majoring in dairy science at EKU, Charlie began to show his calves at dairy shows held at county fairs. The first year Charlie had limited success at the shows, but with assistance from his parents, Bill and Darlene Cameron and directions from brother Billy, the project continued to grow.

Two registered cows obtained from E.K.U. in 1984 became the foundation for what is now one of the best small dairy herds in the nation. A recent type classification of the herd was performed by the National Holstein Association and a score of 111 was assigned to the 25 adult cows. This score ranks the herd number one in Kentucky and in the top 25 nationally. Members of the herd have won first place at state shows in Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina, but the greatest success was realized last fall when one heifer, Cameron Ridge, Ona, won at the World Dairy Expo at Madison, Wisconsin, and another, Cameron Ridge, Skyla, won at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto, Canada.

Ona has been selected All-American spring heifer and was featured in Holstein World which is the national magazine for holstein breeders.

Skyla has been selected All-Canadian winter heifer and was featured in Holstein Journal which is the national holstein magazine of Canada. Skyla was also chosen reserve All-American and Ona was chosen reserve All-Canadian.

Many members of the herd are also top producers of milk. Two cows produced in excess of 30,000 lbs. each this past year and the entire herd averaged about 20,000 lbs. per animal. A lactation period is considered to be 305 days and a cow must average about 1200 lbs. of milk a day for the entire lactation to produce 30,000 lbs. One cow, Cameron Ridge, Rose Evonn, gave in excess of 130 lbs. per day for the first three months of her lactation.

Charlie hopes to profit more from the sale of breeding stock and show cattle than from the sale of milk. The herd has had prospective buyers from other states and Canada. Last summer two dairymen from South Africa stopped for a visit as they toured the United States observing the American dairy industry. Two yearling heifers from the herd will be sold at the Kentucky National Sale at Louisville in April and Alpha Genetics of Canada is presently negotiating to purchase a two year old cow from the herd.

Charlie says that his success with his cattle didn't just happen. Each animal is artificially bred to a bull which has traits that can improve the offspring. The calves are fed special

Dear Editor,

I didn't realize it was considered good journalism to combine coverage of a public hearing with an "Op-Ed" piece, but then I'm not a journalist.

It would seem however, that Mr. Anderkin's combining of the two would behoove him to identify which statements are "inaccurate," which are "comical," which are true, and which are his opinion/interpretation.

I attended the public hearing, but I must have missed the comedy. Mr. Anderkin chose to leave out most of the arguments to support keeping Livingston's school from closing, and instead used more of the emotional statements in his article. I also differ with his insertion that Mr. Lyle implied "underhanded dealings" concerning the new high school property. My interpretation of Mr. Lyle's comments was that it seems respect of persons/groups plays a significant role in what is considered acceptable expenditure and what is considered excessive expenditure, i.e. keeping Livingston's school open is excessive.

Sincerely,
Allison Reynolds

Dear Editor,

I would like to clarify the newspaper's account or what I said at the state school board hearing on March 14th. I did not say that the "board members intended to eventually close Brodhead and Roundstone Elementary schools." What I did say was that according to financial reports they're more than likely be no funding in order to build Brodhead, a new school. The local board is hoping to get more monies from the state legislature and their only other way to increase revenue was a tax increase. I also stated that the citizens of Rockcastle County are already paying more school taxes than in surrounding counties, and should not have to pay more. With out funds available in the foreseeable future, and if the local board follows their current path, then Brodhead school will probably be closed and in the future maybe even Roundstone will be closed.

These "facts" about the financial reports and current funds were taken directly from figures from the LPC report. These figures were supplied to the committee directly from the local school board. Therefore, if they are not accurate then the local board is supplying the inaccurate data.

One of the first things that they teach in journalism class, is to be precise and accurate. I know that because I took journalism. I believe that Mr. Anderkin was editorializing and not reporting. If he wants to write editorials, then they need to be on the editorial page and not on the front page as news.

Gayle Kvindis-Lile
Livingston

Dear Editor,

We are writing in regards to the article in the Signal concerning Monday night's state hearing for the school board.

First of all, we don't believe that Mr. Anderkin listened very well to what was being said. A lot of what he reported in the newspaper seem to be taken out of context and not very accurate. In regard to the deed for the new high school, there were no names mentioned in Mr. Lyle's presentation. If Mr. Anderkin wants to supply his own interpretation to the comments, then he should not be implying that his comments were stated by someone else.

It appeared to us that the newspaper slanted their view of the hearing and twisted things around that were said. Mr. Anderkin may have seen the citizens of Livingston as clowns and comical, but what we saw and heard were concerned people trying to save their school.

Denis and Andrea Graves

Dear Editor,

Concerning the state public hearing held on Monday, March 14, I would like to clarify some of the things that were reported in the Signal pertaining to my remarks.

First of all, I would like to apologize to Sam and Danny Ford, and Clarence Carter for their names being printed in the newspaper. I had nothing to do with their names being printed. I never used names and never intended to bring names into the forum. I also did not imply that these men were involved in anything "underhanded" in their business deal with the local school board. I was stating my opinion that with a representative's name on the deed (and this is public record) it didn't look good. This is America and there is freedom of speech.

If Mr. Anderkin is going to quote me, it would be better if he quoted me accurately. I am sorry, if Sam and Danny Ford and Clarence Carter were hurt by these remarks. That was not my intention. My only intention was to try to let the state hearing officer know that I wanted to save Livingston's School.

Thank you,
Ed Lile

Dear Editor,

The Legacy of the Golden Calf International Law guarantees that "Everyone has the Right to Freedom of thought, conscience and religion." America is called the "land of liberty." The pledge to the flag promises "liberty and justice for all." The Bill of Rights ensures individual freedom.

During the 1980s America saw all of these ideals and guarantees sacrificed to "The Golden calf" of the Drug War. A very real war, with enemies, offensives, frontlines and huge military budgets! Truth was the first casualty. Our Bill of Rights and Justice came soon after. We must think back before the 1980s when it was once said by Abraham Lincoln: "We the People are rightful masters of both Congress and the Courts, not to overthrow the Constitution, but to overthrow the men who pervert the Constitution. To sin by silence when they should protect makes cowards of men."

Dear Editor,

We are told that gun registration and eventual confiscation is quite likely to pass its first major hurdle in this session of Congress. Why? Because the folks back home don't seem to mind; congressmen, amazingly, are not hearing screams of opposition from their districts.

The gun-banners are banking on the fact that so many of us cover at the thought of expressing our views to the President and members of the gun control and urge that you keep this in mind when the issue comes up for vote. Then sign and mail to your congressman, whatever his name, at the U.S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20510. Or should you wish to reach the head honcho, address your card or letter to: The President, 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C. 20500.

The people who were elected to serve us should be reminded - and I am doing just that - of how they stood with their left hand on the Holy Bible and their right hand held toward Almighty God and swore to protect, defend and obey the Constitution of the United States, without exception to any of its provisions. This great document had, and still has, the Second Amendment which guarantees the right to keep and bear arms; a protective measure extended to all who cherish and obey the guidelines. This right should be denied only to those who abuse same. In other words, disobey the rules and your "license" gets confiscated, along with your weapons.

I respectfully submit that current lawmakers should review and reaffirm the oath that made them our representatives in government. How soon they forget!

Sincerely,
Ivan McKinney

Dear Editor,

New evidence shows that not only does a mother's smoking affect the developing fetus during pregnancy, but second-hand smoke reaches the fetus as well. A study in the February 23 Journal of American Medical Association shows that newborn infants of nonsmoking mothers who are regularly exposed to second-hand smoke have measurably higher levels of both nicotine and cotinine in their hair. The fact that these chemicals from cigarette smoke are found in the newborn's hair reflects long-term exposure to these toxins during pregnancy.

Other studies have shown that pregnant nonsmokers passively exposed to cigarette smoke are twice as likely to have a low birthweight baby, than those who regularly exposed. Low birthweight (less than 5 1/2 pounds) puts an infant at risk for respiratory problems, hearing deficiencies, learning disabilities and infant death.

Second-hand smoke from cigarette also seems to be related to sickness for infants; young babies living in homes where both parents smoke are more often hospitalized for pneumonia or bronchitis than are babies whose parents don't smoke. They are also at increased risk for middle ear infections.

A British study found that infants with one parent who smoked were four times more likely to have allergies; two parents, almost five times more likely.

The message is one we can't afford to overlook: that both mother and father can contribute to a healthy pregnancy and a healthy start in life for their newborn by avoiding tobacco completely.

IRA - Don't Give It to the IRS

SAFE • SOUND • SECURE

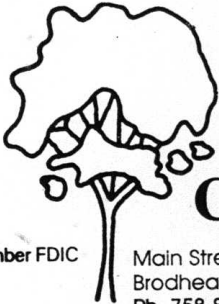

Don't give the I.R.S. a penny more than you have to. We are not advising you to fudge on your taxes. We are strongly urging you to take advantage of every tax shelter legally available to you.

The most obvious one is an Individual Retirement Account. With an IRA you can contribute up to $2,000 per year ($2,250 if your spouse doesn't work). These contributions are deferred from your taxable income till you take the money out at retirement age. If you can't afford to contribute the maximum, you can contribute less.

IRA's are only one of many investments you can make to help you pay less taxes. Money is hard to make, don't give it away. Substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

In the past the library was considered as just a place to go get books if you enjoyed reading and I'm sure a lot of people in our county still feel like that, but times have changed and libraries have changed right along with them. While books are still an important part of our service we now have many more services to offer to you. A few of these services are: videos, audio tapes, magazines, a FAX machine to help you send your messages faster, a copier for use by the public, projectors for film strips, slides, and 16 mm films, screens to use with the projectors, genealogy department, story hour for children and we subscribe to The Mt. Vernon Signal, The Renfro Valley Bugle and the Lexington Herald-Leader. Tax forms are also available here.

Interlibrary loans have also become an important part of our service to you. We have many requests for books and magazine articles that are not available here. But that does not mean that you won't be able to get these. By using our computer we are able to find the libraries, both in our state and out of state that does have the needed books or articles and we may then borrow them instantly. On many occasions the items that are being borrowed leave the lending library on the same day the request is made. We charge $1 to send the materials back.

Sometimes the students come in for information and we are unable to help them because they have waited until the last moment to look for their material and if we don't have it here, we don't have time to borrow what is needed.

A word of caution, as soon as you know what is needed, please let us know and we will do our best to help students or anyone else that has special requests. In most cases we do have what you need but if not we will help you by borrowing.

The time for the Local Art Show is fast approaching. We have not had many responses so far. If you are planning to enter your art work, please let us know by April 10th. It would really help me if you could let me know even sooner than this. I hope that we will be able to do better exhibiting the work this year. The lighting hasn't been very good and we do plan on working on that.

The dates for the local art show is April 18th through the 30th. A reception is being planned for Sunday the 24th.

I am again asking that anyone that has books out from 1993, please bring them in. Most of these are not our regular customers. A list of the people from last year will be posted with the number of books overdue and the cost of the books. They will be required to either return the books or pay the cost before anymore are checked out. Again I'm not referring to the patrons that use the library regularly. Everyone forgets books occasionally, but when reminded, they are then returned.

I don't know why these books haven't been returned but I would encourage anyone that thinks they might have overdue books to please look for them or if they have been lost come in and pay for them. The privilege of using the library will not be extended to these people if this isn't taken care of.

Everyone should be concerned about this matter because many of these books are asked for regularly and this deprives you of using the books and not all books can be replaced. And if they are replaced this keeps me from buying a new one that a lot of people would enjoy.

Some of our new books are: Hometown by John Jakes. Mr. Jakes has created an enthralling new dynasty - The Crowns of Chicago - contending with the awesome forces of history. Hometown is a towering epic of the emigrant adventure in America that calls to mind the rich tradition of Dreiser & Steinbeck. It brings forth a vast gallery of characters in their vitality and distinctiveness. Among the major and supporting cast are: Paul Crown, a Berlin street boy who immigrates to America, to be caught up by the wonders of the motion pictures, and by Julie Vanderhoff, endangered daughter of a Chicago stockyards tycoon, Joseph Crown, Paul's German born uncle, ex-Civil War soldier and iron-willed beer baron and many other exciting characters. Spanning a turbulent decade in world history, 1890-1900, the action sweeps from Europe to America and across the length and breadth of a nation exploding with changes.

The Skylark's Song by Harriet Segal. The Skylark's Song centers on a matronish, the widow of a popular Gershwin-esque musical-comedy composer. The occasion that brings the Rihnhardt clan together is the 75th Birthday salute in New York for the composer, whose wife is enjoying a resurgence on Broadway. As the celebration approaches, Julia, her children and her grand-children cope with a variety of difficulties, past and present: torrid affairs, crumbling marriages and scandalous legal wranglings which threaten to tear the family apart.

With Harriet Segal's understanding of the frailties of the human heart, her talent for painting evocative settings, historical and otherwise, The Skylark's Song is a rich, tumultuous narrative by one of the most talented and mature voices in fiction.

Some new non-fiction are: You Don't Have To Take It: A woman's guide to confronting emotional abuse at work. Tony Gwynn's Total Baseball Player: Winning techniques for hitting, fielding and baserunning. The Good Housekeeping Book of Needlecrafts includes crocheting, knitting, quilting, tatting and embroidery. Raising Funds For Your Child's School, a handbook of proven and successful ideas.

The library hours are: Mon., Tues., Wed., & Fri., 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Thurs. 12 to 5 p.m.; Sat. 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

It was an expensive eight minutes of fishing

By: Orlena Price

It's really hard these days to get out and get a little peace and quiet from the everyday stress and strain of life. You might think the most peaceable place to be, would be out on a private pond (unfished with your mate). No intrusions, no civilization, just sunshine in February, hungry fish? Your soul-mate, oh, the possibilities. Yah? Doesn't it sound wonderful? Just a few hours of lazing, casting, trying to lure out that granddad bass, that you know is laying there eyeing your purple nightcrawler! Total bliss!

Well, it lasted a total of 5 minutes! I'm not kidding! No, I didn't get into an argument over my favorite bait, or remember that I had forgotten something important. No, not this time. The Putaski County game warden saw me, standing there smiling and casting and having such a good time - he just had to come and visit.

I didn't want any company, mind you, I had all I needed. But I was so happy and content I was still smiling. When he asked, "What're you doing?" I just said, (really happy) "Fishing!" It was kind of apparent, you know? He smiles too. He stood and watched a minute. I had never even gotten a nibble, but I wasn't worried, I had only been there about 8 minutes.

He said, "Have you got a license?" Sure don't, I replied. (I'm still smiling) cause I'm on private property and I have permission. (My husband's aunt's property.) He was really flabbergasted that I was so happy about not having one. "Nope, My husband's family owns this pond, and we have their permission to be here." I said this loud and full of authority. I'm still smiling, my husband's smiling too. We know we're not in trouble, we're legal. We're not drunk, we're not insecure, we're not playing hooky, we're not bothering a soul. We're just fishin'. Nothing could ruin our day right?

"You know I'm going to have to give you a citation!" My smile starts to fade a little about now. But, a citation is just a warning meant to make you aware that you might have been doing something wrong, isn't it? No??? Oh, it's a $67.50 fine, for doing something you thought in your heart and soul was right, for trying to sneak away from the world for a couple hours and relax. Thanks. Unbeknownst to me, while I was going to the car to get my I.D., my husband gave the game warden some "attitude." So, while he was only going to give us one "citation," now he was definitely going to give us two "citations." If he had told my husband that from the start, he might not have shown "attitude."

Anyway, while our friendly game warden was writing us up it really got to me. It was hard to believe that this one little guy could destroy so much peace and solitude - he did it pretty politely too. There I was, in tears, cause I never did anything wrong - not even a speeding ticket - ever! The warden said, "This is no big deal lady - just send us $135."

Well, $135 for 8 minutes of fishing and not even a nibble is a big deal to me, but worst of all, I still didn't believe I was doing anything wrong. Neither did my husband's family - any of our friends, no one we knew. Everyone said we were in the right.

So... Instead of paying the fine, we went to court. The warden said we could do that, and take our chances with the judge. I knew the judge would see the wrong of this, and make it right??? Wrong! Wrong!

We had to wait until every other case was heard, about three hours. The longer we waited the less our sense that right would prevail became then again - we were small potatoes compared to DUI, spouse abuse, possession of drugs, terrorism.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Austin Garrison

Miss Blevins weds Mr. Austin in double-ring ceremony

Miss Lisa Carol Blevins, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Blevins of Brooksville and Timothy Austin Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubry Garrison, recently of Jamestown, North Carolina, were united in marriage amidst greenery, lace and candles at Centralia New Life Church with the bride's father performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father and escorted to the altar by her brother, Lee Blevins, was radiant in a white silk and lace, off the shoulder gown with a victorian influence. The veil cascaded from a hat trimmed with lace, pearls and satin rosebuds matching her bouquet.

The groom was attired in white tie and tails, the flower girl, Deanna Knott and the ring bearer, Chance Blevins, were also dressed in white carrying white crocheted basket and pillow accented with lace, pearls and satin rosebuds.

Gowns of rich victorian royal blue, dark mauve and purple were chosen by Matron of Honor, Melissa Blevins, bride's maids Angel DeMint and Olivia Poff and guest book attendant Christian LaRose.

Brocade vests echoed the same colors for the best man Lee Blevins, groomsmen Bryant Lisenby and ushers Cache Blevins and Kevin Jones.

The ceremony and reception were attended by the many close friends and relatives of both families, among which were the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Ansell, Brooksville, FL, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Julia Reynolds of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Some other family members present were the bride's sister, Denise Jones and sons, Michael, Kevin and Adam, Cleveland, Ohio; cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Maresco, S. Daytona Beach, FL, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knott and children, Mark, Terra and Deanna of Mocksville, N.C.

High above town and farm and village
With days that point to the sky
Are hilltops--where trees lift their branches
And sing--to our God on high.

Rockcastle's Singing Hills

By: Mrs. Bettie Rich Coleman

All around and above Renfro Valley
And it's scenic rocks and hills,
Towering above the peaceful low lands
Are Rockcastle's singing hills.

They stand tall--like stately cathedrals
And offer praise--day and night
Sometimes dressed in greenery and blossoms,
Sometimes in gold or white.

These ancient hills have heard the music
For--well over fifty years,
And they know the sweet songs and ballads
That have moved--men's hearts to tears.

Oh they are singing, forever singing
A hymn--or a song that thrills!
Yes, robed,--and standing above "the Valley"
Are Rockcastle's singing hills.

News from Kiwanis

By: Bev Rockwell

The Rockcastle Kiwanis Club would like to extend an invitation to our county citizens to join our group. As a member of a volunteer, non-profit charitable organization such as ours, reaching out and making a difference in the community is the way to "get something done" that one person alone cannot. People from all walks of life are members. Professionals, local business men and women, retirees and homemakers are but a few of the cross section of people who make up our membership.

Our club has been a leader in initiating programs and funding projects that serve the people of our community. Our major emphasis is "Young Children, Priority One." Our future rests in the hands of the young people we are raising now. Seeing to their many needs today will insure a better tomorrow for us all. Kiwanis Club members are anxious to do their part in their important endeavor.

Hundreds of dollars are raised each year for the "Gimpy" Chipmunk Scholarship Fund, Project Graduation, and for preschool books and materials for our public library. Contributions are made to The early Childhood education Program along with the sponsorship of a RCHS Childhood Education Program along with the sponsorship of a RCHS Sophomore to the Hugh O'Brian Youth Conference.

We lend a hand at the hospital and with the Children's Crusade. Many of our members volunteer as tutors also. This year a new and exciting "Parenting Fair" will be hosted by our club and the Rockcastle Family Resource Center on April 16th. These are some of the ongoing projects we promote. The vigor and spirit of our club members are what shapes these activities and keeps alive the promise of a healthy, vital community.

Fellowship and good will are our key to success. Each week we have interesting, enlightening, and entertaining speakers. Recent among them: Lt. Governor Paul E. Patton; Brother Wendell Romans, pastor, First Baptist Church; Tom Mills, County Agriculture Extension Agent; Ed Young, North Side Correctional Facility; Mark Halford and Keith Johnson, Teen Challenge; Dr. Arvin, a visit to Russia; Bige Towery, Superintendent Rockcastle County Board of Education; Kim McGowan, Director Respiratory Care Unit, Rockcastle Hospital; Ian Heiman, Kentucky Council on Economic Education; Ben Culbertson, Postmaster of Rockcastle County and Paula Woodman and Ruby Alcorn, Adult Literacy. Some of our upcoming speakers will include Jennifer Coffman, U.S. District Judge; Loyal Jones, Appalachian Author/Humorist; Dr. James Cunningham, Optimist View on Aging; Arts Councils players introduction to their summer musical and Shelby Reynolds, the stock market game.

The Rockcastle Kiwanis Club

meets each Thursday noon at the Kastle Inn, Mt. Vernon, for lunch. The club business and guest speaker is fit into an hour long program. The meeting is adjourned promptly at 1 p.m. so that members may attend to their days work and activities. You are invited to attend our noon meetings as a guest or join with us as a member.

KET notes...

Nova explores the science of TV ratings

From hand-written diaries to electronic "people-meters" to surveillance cameras that keep a constant eye on television viewers, advertisers have applied numerous methods to determine what America is watching.

Nova looks at this inaccurate science in "Can You Believe TV Ratings," airing at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 29 on KET. This age of short attention spans, unlimited channels, station hopping, and TV sets in every room, Neilson Media Research attempts to compile exact statistics on what shows are being watched, often with unlikely results.

Nature's acclaimed miniseries returns

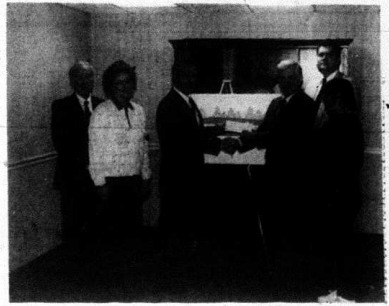

The Nature of Sex explores KET for six consecutive weeks beginning at 8 p.m. Sunday, March 27. This series spans the globe to illustrate how an astonishing diversity of life forms find their mates and how they conceive, raise, and protect their offspring.

Berea National Bank pledges $30,000 to the White House Clinic Campaign

Fred Williams, president of Berea National Bank, recently announced that Berea National Bank pledged $30,000 to the White House Clinic Campaign.

This gift represents our basic support of the White House Clinic program in Madison County and in Jackson County," said Williams. A first payment of $10,000 was presented to Dr. Philip R. Curd, the Founder of the White House Clinic and Ms. Debby Gray, a White House Clinic Board Member from Berea. In making the presentation at a special ceremony at Berea National Bank, Williams, a new member of the White House Clinic's Board of Directors said, "It is our hope that this gift will challenge others in the corporate and financial community, as well as individuals, to make their own gift or pledge to the campaign. The White House Clinic has undertaken an ambitious program to build a new medical and dental center facility in Jackson County and provide new medical services for the whole community including surrounding counties such as Rockcastle County," Williams added. Also participating in the special awards ceremony were Keith Riley, executive vice president; Nancy Leach, vice president; and Johnny Walker, director of Berea National Bank.

Dr. Curd and Ms. Gray expressed the profound thanks and appreciation of the White House Clinic staff and its Board of Directors to Mr. Williams and the Bank's Board of Directors.

According to Dr. Curd, Berea National Bank's gift will support every phase of the campaign, including the possibility of a new outpatient teaching center that would be constructed jointly with Berea Hospital and local physicians. "We have been extremely pleased with the financial support that we have received already from several individuals, and corporations in the region. Berea National bank's gift is certainly a leadership gift that will challenge others," said Curd. "To date, we have received approximately $400,000 from just 120 gifts," Dr. Curd added.

The White House Clinic campaign is a $2.5 million effort that will provide funds for a new medical and dental facility in McKee; a Health Care Fund to address emerging and changing health service needs in the region; for a teaching center and for scholarships to attract area residents to careers in medicine, dentistry and other health professions.
