Motor fuel quality testing legislation passed

The Kentucky General Assembly has passed legislation authorizing the Department of Agriculture to administer a motor fuel quality testing program.

House Bill 135, which was signed into law by Governor Breton Jones on March 22, makes Kentucky the 45th state to have a program ensuring that gasoline meets federal quality standards. The department expects to begin the program this summer, with Weights and Measures inspectors obtaining fuel samples at retail outlets and shipping them to a laboratory for testing. The test results will show if the fuel meets proper requirements for octane level, volatility and other qualities important to vehicle performance.

The program will be funded by an annual $50 license fee on the approximately 6,000 retail gasoline outlets in Kentucky.

Agriculture Commissioner Ed Logsdon pursued the legislation after a pilot program last summer revealed an 8 percent error rate on octane level from 200 fuel samples obtained from throughout the state.

The legislation had the support of the Kentucky Petroleum Council, including Ashland Oil and the state's other leading fuel distributors.

Logsdon brought all of the supporting organizations together last summer to work on the legislation. Similar legislation had failed in the 1990 and 1992 sessions of the General Assembly.

"It was no small task to bring these groups into agreement on this issue and it is very gratifying to see all this hard work result in a program that benefits all Kentuckians," Logsdon said. "This program will ensure that consumers get what they pay for at the gas pump. And I'm especially pleased that we found a funding mechanism that will not affect the taxpayers. We think a $50 fee on gas stations is a reasonable way to fund this."

Under the legislation, gasoline refineries, distributors or dealers that are found to be distributing poor quality fuel to the public are subject to prosecution by the Attorney General's Office. When the department finds problems, it will trace the origin through record keeping requirements.

With Kentucky's program in place, only Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Oregon and Wyoming do not have fuel quality inspection programs. Legislation is pending, however, in West Virginia.

Period drama returns to KET as Masterpiece Theatre presents Eliot classic

Hailed by literary critics as one of the greatest novels of the 19th century, Middlemarch charts the concerns of a town full of people struggling to give their lives meaning in a world on the brink of the Industrial Revolution. KET brings George Eliot's epic saga of youthful idealism, disillusionment, and blackmail when Masterpiece Theatre presents a six-part adaptation beginning at 9 p.m. Sunday, April 10.

"Middlemarch" focuses on two main characters: Dorothea Brook, played by Juliet Aubrey, a passionately idealistic young woman trapped in a loveless marriage, and Tertius Lydgate (Douglas Hodge), a well-meaning doctor betrayed by his pretty wife's egotism and his own weaknesses.

Jail budget drops $180,000

By: Ray McClure

A proposed budget of $360,063 to operate the Rockcastle County jail was approved by the Rockcastle Fiscal Court at a called meeting last Thursday.

The budget does not reflect the cost of a forthcoming remodeling project at the jail expected to cost about $350,000, or more.

Judge/Executive Buzz Carlifotis told the court the Kentucky Infrastructure authority may come up with about $370,000 to pay for the renovation work at the jail. It would be a "gift," he said.

The judge said he was hopeful. "This would help us a great deal," he said.

The jail fund has only about $100,000 to contribute to the project.

The $360,063 budget for 1994-95 is considerably less than the $542,858 budget for 1992-93. The big amount came in the contract with other counties which decreased from $134,046 in 1992-93 to an estimated $85,000 in 1994-95. The decrease was due to a loss in housing state inmates from other counties.

Judge Carlifotis said newly constructed large jails are taking state inmates, such as the new jail at London and other surrounding counties.

Former Joe Howard told the court inmates are being transferred to the newer jails "so they can see the sun," something they can't see in Rockcastle.

The new budget, however, shows a $135,000 cash balance. Expenditures for 1994-95 shows $179,133 for personnel; $71,800 for operating expenses; $2,000 for equipment and $107,130 for administration, showing a balanced jail budget for 1994-95, as required by law.

Judge Carlifotis had prepared a sheet of expenses and other items for the court.

It said in part, "the General Fund is in dismal bad shape. It pays everything from cleaning supplies to official's salaries. With expenses in gen-

Conway man killed by train Saturday

A Mt. Vernon man, searching for his lost dog, lost his life Saturday when he was hit and killed by a train at Conway.

Larry B. Reed, 32, was struck by a southbound CSX train about 6:15 a.m. while looking for his dog that had run away.

State Trooper Gary Lane said Reed had been walking in the northbound tracks when a northbound train began blowing its whistle to warn him. He jumped into the southbound rail fund since July 1993 totaling $325,000, reflecting eight months.

A "projected deficit of $38,000 is expected on June 30. No money can be borrowed from the Road Fund to help this shortfall on June 30. In other words, we can help it along as needed, but every penny must be repaid to funds borrowed from by close of day, June 30," the report showed.

The judge said, "at the rate we're spending we'll have that '$39,000 deficit.'"

The court authorized Libke, Romack Associates to proceed with a private natural gas pipeline funding at no cost to the county.

The company will contact citizens to help raise the money for the project.

avoid the train, not realizing that a southbound train was also coming blowing its whistle.

"He jumped out of the way and got hit from behind," Lane said. "I don't think he even heard it."

Reed was a forklift operator for Continental Metals in Richmond.

Ironically, Reed's twin brother, Gary was killed in an auto accident in 1991 on Hwy. 150 between Mt. Vernon and Brodhead. (See complete obituary on Page B-12.)

Mother, son die in early morning fire

By: Richard Anderkin
 A Rockcastle mother and her son died in a early Wednesday morning fire that also destroyed their small frame house at Blue Springs.

According to Rockcastle County Deputy Coroner Roy A. Martin, Mary Edith Loudermilk, 47, and Virgil Lee Loudermilk, Jr., 25, died in the 3 a.m. blaze, that also severely burned Virgil Lee Loudermilk, Sr.

Martin said that both Loudermilks had extensive burns over 99 percent of their bodies, but both victims probably died from smoke inhalation.

The Loudermilks' bodies were found in a bedroom about 10 feet from the back door of the home.

Mt. Vernon fireman Gary Hansel said that firefighters received the fire call at 3:13 a.m. and by the time they arrived a few minutes later, the house was completely engulfed in flames.

Hansel said that Virgil Loudermilk, Sr., told authorities that his wife woke him and told him the house was on fire and to go to a neighbors and call for help. When Loudermilk returned, he realized that his wife and son were still trapped in the burning house.

State Deputy Fire Marshall Doug Silvers said that the two victims apparently tried to exit the house through the back door, but it was nailed shut. Silvers said that he thought the fire started somewhere around the fireplace, possibly when a couch caught on fire.

Hansel said that Virgil Loudermilk Sr., received second and third degree burns on his face and head. He was treated at Rockcastle Hospital and released.

Virgil Loudermilk, Jr., was employed at Super Saver Supermarket in Mt. Vernon. His mother was a homemaker.

Joint funeral services for the Loudermilks will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Skaggs Baptist Church. Visitation is scheduled for Friday night at 6 p.m. at the church.

Grand Jury: Shepherd shooting death justified

A Rockcastle County Grand Jury has ruled that Kentucky State Police acted properly when they gunned down a Brodhead man last summer.

Ray Carmichael, Commonwealth's Attorney for Rockcastle County announced today that the Rockcastle Grand Jury, convening in a special session, conducted an inquiry into the shooting death of Gary Shepherd of Brodhead.

Shepherd was shot by the Kentucky State Police on August 8, 1993, as they attempted to arrest him.

The Grand Jury heard testimony or reviewed statements from several witnesses present at the shooting. A result of their inquiry, the Rockcastle Grand Jury, in a three page report, concluded that Mr. Shepherd, "was predisposed to confront police from the initial contact rather than permit officers to seize his marijuana."

The Grand Jury found that Shepherd's actions clearly reveal that a "peaceful resolution was not his intention." The Grand Jury further concluded "the Kentucky State Po-lice's action constituted a justified and appropriate response for the protection of themselves, Mr. Shepherd's companion and their four year old child."

Members of Shepherd's family have contended since the shooting that police acted too hastily in shooting Shepherd, who did not fire any shots at anyone.

Ray Carmichael praised the Grand Jurors for conducting such a thorough inquiry and for the detail of its final report.

Mayor breaks tie to give himself $450 month raise

By: Ray McClure

The Mt. Vernon City Council voted Monday night to raise the salary of Mayor Gary R. Cromer from $50 to $500 a month.

It voted to keep councilmen's salary at $25 a month.

The council voted 3 to 2 to raise the mayor's salary. Mayor Cromer united the vote with a yes vote.

Voting no were Mrs. Lou Vanhoose, Wayne Gregory and Clark Mullins. Voting yes were Terry Owens, Lee Keene and Karen King.

Mayor Cromer said he voted yes because he felt he did as much work as some local officials who make over $1,000 a month.

The council voted to purchase 20 Cleveland Select Pear trees for Main Street at $42 a tree.

If the trees are damaged the person will be arrested for Criminal Mischief and will have to replace the tree plus labor costs.

The council voted to take over upkeep of roads in Elmwood Cemetery and to regularly patrol the area. The cemetery board asked for both.

The city paved the roads with the cemetery paving rather than permit contractors to seize his marijuana."

The Grand Jury found that Shepherd's actions clearly reveal that a "peaceful resolution was not his intention." The Grand Jury further concluded "the Kentucky State Po-

KU pays the city a 3 percent franchise fee.

The employees of the City of Mt. Vernon Water and Sewer Department came together to ask the mayor and council for a 20 percent raise coming in July instead of 5 percent "for all our hard work and dedication to the City of Mt. Vernon."

A petition bearing 12 names of water/sewer employees was presented to the council.

The mayor said they would get their 5 percent raise as of July 1.

Water/Sewer employees receive $4.25 an hour starting with a 5 percent increase at the end of the year.

The March city police report shows 196 complaints, 14 motorist assists, 25 other agency assists, 9 cases opened, 94 citations issued, 12 driving under the influence arrests, 159 total charges.

The city said it had talked with CSX railroad officials about the depot parking lot and submitted a bid for the property.

Since they had no official documents they decided to withhold the bid price until documents were received.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

Back in the seventies I had to travel, by plane, a lot to Washington, D.C. and Atlanta. It wasn't unusual in those days for me to wind up at my destination only to discover that my luggage had somehow decided to go to Canada or the Bahamas.

Normally I'd fly in the night before and didn't really need a change of clothing until the next morning. So the airline would pay cab fare or put me in a limo to get me to my hotel, buy me a much nicer dinner than I would have spent on myself, give me unlimited drinking privileges in the hotel bar, supply me with a shave kit and offer me a pair of pajamas or a sweat suit to sleep in while they tracked down my luggage.

I used to tell the folks, that airlines here to be embarrassed for them, that I slept in my birthday suit... But anyway, most of the time when I'd get my wake up call the next morning I would also be informed that good old Eastern airlines had delivered my luggage sometime before daylight. Normally there would also be an envelope containing an invitation to have another meal on them at the restaurant of my choice.

On two separate occasions in Washington, however, when I'd flown up in the morning wearing jeans or whatever, I told them that I had to be in a suit by 10:30 and they literally took me to Macy's and decked me out. Shirt, tie, suit, socks and shoes. In fact, Eastern Airlines got me hooked on Florsheim shoes and they also bought me the two best suits I've ever owned. Stuff that I'm way to tight to ever spend that kind of money on.

But in all fairness, it had been more than a decade since an airline had separated me from my luggage until last Sunday night when I was returning home from Jacksonville. Under the circumstances, that might have been excusable, but instead of losing my luggage, they lost me. My suit case and duffel bag apparently had no problem making connections in Allantia and showed up in Lexington where Loretta met them around midnight. Meanwhile I was being bussed to a Holiday Inn still trying to figure out what happened.

It all started out when something went wrong with the first plane I caught out of Jax. To make a long story short, we got off the ground about three hours later than scheduled. The plane that I was supposed to catch in Atlanta was, in fact leaving the Peachtree state about the same time I was getting out of Florida. I had, however, checked my handy pocket guide to airline schedules and discovered that there were two later flights that I ought to be able to hook up with.

Now, you first need to understand that there are only two cities in Kentucky larger than the Atlanta International Airport. Its divided up into four subdivisions named A, B, C, and D. To get from one terminal to another involves catching long escalators from one floor to another. Then catching a train to another escalator and then walking a lot. I got off the first plane on the B side of town and took me to the very last gate in "D Concourse." Gate 35 is where I found out around 7 p.m. that, in fact, I could get on board around 8:30. So I called Loretta and told her to come to the Lexington airport and fetch me. At 8:29 somebody paged me and informed me that my flight had been canceled. No reason why. "That's all I know pal," the guy informed me, "but there's another flight at 10:28 leaving gate A2."

In other words, all the way across town the only thing farther away from I was standing was A1! I called home to discover that my wife had already left to pick me up, but he guy at D35 offered to send a telegram informing her of my delay. In the meantime I headed out on my journey to A2 where I arrived, wet with sweat, some 20 minutes later.

The guy at A2 was dealing with several other angry customers. I showed him my ticket and he informed me that the guy's at D35 was all wrong. I needed to be D26, he informed me. Now a understorm had gone through Georgia and all these little television screens that give you flight information were blinking on and off too fast to read. I had no choice but to take the guy's word and I take back to in the other direction and arrive, on wobbly legs at D26

Everything we planned to do for Easter fell through. We had planned to go up and spend the day Saturday with our two sons, three grandsons, one great grand grandson and his mother but the weather turned bad Saturday morning and stayed that way until this Monday morning. I got sick Saturday morning and only got better Monday when a beautiful day came out helping everything.

We didn't even get to go to church at Dixie Park as I wanted to and hear that great preacher turn on. He had been on a vacation trip but he came back for services Easter Sunday and I couldn't get there. But with the Lord's will, he'll be there from now on.

His preaching satisfied the hunger in me for God's Word.

I want to send congratulations to John D. Adams who graduated from Berea College recently. He lives in Scaffold Cane near my kinfolks and I hear I may get to go to a wedding up there and congratulate him again.

I saw him on the campus once walking with my cousin, Heather Reynolds, Bill and Flossie Stephen's granddaughter.

"Great scotti!" I said, "who is that great looking fellow?"

Now I learn he has been hired as a trainee manager at 84 Lumber Company at Richmond. You fellows down there had better look out for a riot with women and girls looking for lumber (they'll say).

I apologize to Ora Phelps, a barber on South 25, about the spelling of his name. I had always heard it spelled Ora so that's the way I wrote it but it seems I'm wrong some way.

When I talked to Janice Caldwell at the Signal office last week, where she works, Janice told me a funny story on husband, Brother Lester Caldwell. It seems he came into possession of a buggy, something he had always wanted much as we a new car today. He had gotten the buggy from Steve Bullock who probably did his "courting" in it, taking long drives through the country until Dana said "yes." Then Steve had no more use for it and sold it to the preacher.

When it was pulled into the yard, Brother Caldwell called Janice to come and look at this buggy asking her how she like it.

"Why it's alright I guess," Janice gasped as she said, "But what on earth will you pull it with?"

The preacher clasped his hand to his forehead and said, "I never thought of that!"

I hadn't seen Margaret Linville since Clyde passed away so John and I went out to the home of Edd Mullins where Margaret had rooms since her home had been returned to William K. Bullens, who owned it.

Margaret was sitting in her wheel chair watching a basketball game on television. Dorothy and Edd greeted us and showed us Margaret's living quarters. A large window looked out on the yard so that Margaret could see who came down the walk.

In their living arrangements, Edd did the cooking, Margaret said, so I'm going back one day near meal-time to sample his cooking. Margaret

Well, another Easter has come and gone, with rain, which is better than snow, which is better than ice, all of which are better than a tornado!

Most churches registered what will be their highest attendance of the year (excluding of course, those who host miracle-maker, Henny Bind, for a revival). Easter is a great day for most worshippers—but not for choir members who have to hide their splendor, expensive, new outfits under plain, dull choir robes. Somebody ought to make a motion that choir members not have to wear robes on Easter Sunday, but also not wear sombrero size hats! One Easter when I was a child, a certain alto in my home-church choir wore a hat so huge that it blacked out the entire bass section. (By the way, is Easter Sunday redundant?)

Back to my train of thought—which I think has to do with Easter church attendance. I'm reminded of a particular service at the Indian Fork Baptist Church in Shelby County in the early sixties. That church was without a pastor, but had invited a seminary student to preach a "trial

Local men qualify for Red Man Division tourney

A field of 164 anglers competed on Lake Cumberland at Grider Hill Dock in Sunday's Red Man Mountain Division qualifier.

Red Man All-American qualifier, Tee Watkins of East Point, Kentucky, placed first and took big bass honors with a catch of five bass weighing 17 pounds, 5 ounces.

His largest bass registered 6 pounds, 1 ounce. Watkins collected $2,660 for first place plus an additional $1,000, a fishing rod, cap and trophy from Abu Garcia for his big bass. More than $9,000 was awarded to top anglers in the event.

Watkins fished dead grass on points in Otter Creek using three-eighth ounce spinnerbaits with 17 pound test Stren Super Tough line. There was a tie for second place between Ron McClure of Mt. Vernon and David Young of Junction City. Both anglers weighed in five bass limits totaling 14 pounds, 10 ounces and each received $1,005. McClure fished grass points in Otter Creek using Bulldog spinnerbaits while Young fished lower end pockets using Pulsator spinnerbaits and Rattleback jigs.

Roger Bell of Stanford and Patrick Debord of Middletown, Ohio, tied for fourth place with five bass limits totaling 14 pounds, 9 ounces. Each angler received $491. Bell fished clay mud points with sycamore bushes in Indian Creek. He caught his fish on 14 pound Clear Stren line with Storm Wiggle Warts. Debord also fished points with sycamore trees in Indian Creek. He caught his fish on 12 pound test Stren line with three-eighth ounce Stan Sloan spinnerbaits.

Rounding out the top 10 positions were: (6) Ue, Sam Cotton, Whitney City, five bass, 13 pounds, 12 ounces; $398; and Sam Lemons, Sweetwater, Tennessee, five bass, 13 pounds, 12 ounces; $398; (8) John Bray of Mt. Vernon, five bass, 13 pounds, 11 ounces; $318; (9) Richard Littlepage, Cincinnati, Ohio, five bass, 13 pounds, 8 ounces; $265; and (10) Shannon Devere, Berea, four bass, 12 pounds, $219.

The next stop along the Red Man Tournament Trail for Mountain Division anglers will be April 24 on Baren River at Baren River State Park. Entry deadline is April 13.

At the completion of the six Red Man qualifying events, the top 30 anglers, determined on a basis of pounds and points, will move on to Regional Championship competition. There they will compete against the top 30 fishermen from four other divisions for a spot in the Red Man All-American where the winner will receive $100,000. All Red Man tournaments are catch and release events.

where absolutely nothing is going on. Lines of people 75 and 100 deep are standing in front of the information desks so I decided to go pick a fight with the idiot at D35. He'd gone for the day.

His replacement punches around on his computer keyboard for five or ten minutes and tells me that I'm supposed to be at A2 and that, in fact, they've issued a full boarding call. He says he'll call to see if they can hold the flight and off I go again on legnum from my hip sockets down. When I get to A2, the plane is gone, with my luggage on it. So we send another telegram to Loreta instructing her to pick up my bags and go on home.

To compensate me for my trouble, I was bused to a Holiday Inn and issued a voucher for $4 which almost made a down payment on breakfast the next morning. Loreta had to pick me up at the airport the next morning around 10:30 and I have spent most of the time since yearning for the good old days when you were treated like royalty when the airlines screwed up.

said Edd was a first rate cook. I'm wishing he could show John how to cook some dishes so I could take off from cooking.

Some time ago about the last week in January, I got a letter from Jeff Dondavnille of California, a nephew of mine. He said he was going to give his mother, Jane Lee, a birthday surprise party. He wanted to know if I would help him or if any of the family would, by sending old pictures and other things that might show how Jane Lee looked as a young girl. Well, I was ill at the time and couldn't but I did send him an account of how several girls, Jane Lee, myself and Rosa Finnell, went swimming one moonlight night in the warm waters of Clear Creek without a stitch of clothing on but our birthday suits or "buck naked" or whatever but in those days girls just didn't do that.

On March 23, Jane Lee's birthday, she called me excitedly telling about the wonderful birthday party she had been given by her son, Jeff, and my letter had been used as a memory of days long ago.

We have pictures of the damage done to Scaffold Cave graveyard by the storms that went through the county, or it must have been a tornado, Lewis in Linville was telling John, and asked if anyone would give some help in cleaning up the damage to the graveyard. If you plan to make a donation to the graveyard this year, now would be a good time to make it.

Avia Brock of Berea is on the committee who is in charge of donations. Till next week: I count my blessings with flowers, never with the leaves that fall.

sermon" (what a terrible term!) on Easter when more people would be present to "try" him. The young fellow had never served a church as pastor but was eager to do so. He planned to use a measure of humor, which he had been told would help "win" his audience.

He was aware that there are always some worshippers present at Easter who do not attend church during the rest of the year. They are easy to spot because they display uncity (guilty?) countenances, not unlike the grimace caused by pent up of gas. The fledgling preacher had that group the focus of his joke.

"It's a pleasure to be here at Indian Fork today..." And away he went, praying the church for his good Sunday School attendance and for the beauty of its newly decorated sanctuary. Then he announced his sermon text, and while pewsters located the passage in their Bible, the would-be pastor threw in his humorous remark. "By the way I want to wish some of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year because I know we won't see you again until next Easter."

He was right. They did return the next Easter. But he didn't.

Day care costs plague low-income working parents

By: Heather K. Reister KPA News Bureau

The air is filled with a certain warmth and energy. Laughter and music filter through the doorway. Little voices singing Barney songs can be heard mingling with older voices reciting numbers in Spanish. Eyes filled with curiosity peer over the various gates separating the different age groups to see the stranger who has come to visit.

This is Capitol Ave. Day Care Inc. in Frankfort, a second home to 38 children. About 13 of these children are on a state child care subsidy program while others are on the waiting list. Many of their parents work for the state. Melissa Reed is one of those parents.

After Reed's husband walked out on her, things began getting tough. With three children below age seven at home and an annual income of about $9,000, Reed found it difficult to work, pay child care, pay her bills and eat.

"I did without quite a bit," Reed said. "Things that the children probably needed were purchased by other people, like my mother. I was so far under water, utilities were turned off." Reed is not alone. Only about 25 percent of the families who have been identified as needy are receiving help through the Department of Social Services' four federal child care subsidy programs. Lack of funds makes it impossible to provide help to all those who need it. About 10,000 children remain on a waiting list to receive child care subsidies in Kentucky. It is estimated that it would take about $20 million more to help these children.

"There is a tremendous need for these working subsidies across the state," said Tom Johnson, family services program specialist with the Child Care Service Branch for the Department of Social Services. "We are serving every family possible that's allowed by allocation of Federal funds."

Because of the lack of funds, no new names have been added to the waiting list since Aug. 1, 1993.

"We're hoping that within the next few months that we can begin to look at the possibility of some new applicants from the waiting list," Johnson said.

The Department of Social Insurance also offers a child care program to anyone on the Job Opportunity Basic Skills Program. This is a program designed to help AFDC recipients increase their job skills. As long as a parent is on the program, the department will pay for child care.

In the fiscal year 1993, about $12.2 million federal and state dollars went to fund this program. Cathy Mobley, senior policy analyst for the department, said. This helped about 1,109 children.

Kentucky also received about $16.3 million in the same year for the Child Care and Employment Block Grant program.

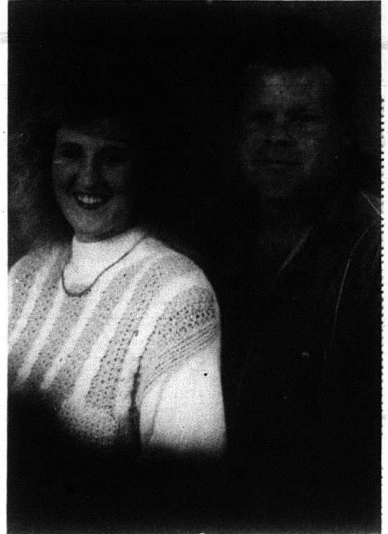

The majority of these funds are used to subsidize child care expenses for low-income families," Johnson said. Some of the funds go toward grants and contracts aimed at improving child care services in the state.

But it isn't enough. Even though the number of children who receive child care services has tripled in the last couple of years, there are still many more who are waiting. Many parents throughout the state are forced to stay at home and rely on welfare and other federal assistant programs because they can't afford child care.

Reed, who is a seasonal employee for the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority in Frankfort, thinks that the child care program cuts down the number of those receiving welfare checks.

"The state makes it too easy to stay at home versus working, through programs like Medicaid and welfare," Reed said.

Because of the amount of her income, Reed said it would be to her financial benefit if she did not work.

Brenda Miller to wed Rick Miller

Rev. and Mrs. James M. Miller of Mt. Vernon would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter Brenda Kay to Rick Miller, son of H.B. Miller of Orlando and the late Janice Miller. The ceremony will take place on April 22 at 7:30 at the Livingston Pentecostal Church. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mrs. Nellie Wilmott celebrated her 79th birthday, March 31st; at the Charleston Healthcare Center in Danville, where she is presently a resident. She enjoyed herself on this day because she is now able to walk down the hallway using the walker. She is working very hard to improve, so she can once again return to her daughter's home in Brodhead. She also enjoyed a phone call from Grace, her daughter in New York, her lovely gifts, cards and birthday cake, which she shared with her roommate and the nice people who are taking care of her. This picture was taken Nov. '93.

When asked why she did, she laughed and said, "I'm just not the housework type."

Although there is currently a waiting list to get into the social services child care subsidy program, Reed has a suggestion for the department about informing the public of the programs.

Greetings:

Hope everyone had a happy and joyful Easter. It was a dark, dismal and rainy day but we could still have love and peace in our hearts, and celebrate the Christian Resurrection of Jesus, our Lord and Savior. We all need to thank God everyday of our life for His Goodness and mercy.

Our Sunday School attendance at Fairview on Easter morning was 109. An Easter Sunrise Service was held at the Fairview Cemetery. For the morning worship service, the choir presented an Easter musical, "Lord of Glory," and the Lord's Supper was served on Sunday evening. So all in all we enjoyed a wonderful day and give the good Lord thanks for all of it. We just had a "full house" of people on Sunday morning and also good attendance Sunday evening. We enjoyed our visitors and welcome them back any time.

Mrs. Doris Gabbard (teacher) and her Sunday School class members enjoyed a very delicious breakfast Sunday at a Berea restaurant. Attending were Buddy, Doris, Gail Lee Gabbard, Johnny and Paula Gilliam; David and Danna Gilliam; Cleus Peters; Elwood and Betty Brock; Lloyd Jordison; Bro. Several state child care subsidy programs available

By: Heather K. Reister - KPA News Bureau
A low paying job and the high cost of child care are just two obstacles that must be overcome by many Kentuckians on their road to riches. Unfortunately, many attempt to jump the hurdle, only to catch their feet at the top and fall back into the murky welfare system. The problem? Too many hurdles and not enough funds.

The Department of Social Services is trying to give that extra boost to those that are so close to the top, but can't quite reach it.
The Department is helping about 11,000 children through the four subsidized child care programs it offers. Unfortunately, this is only about 25 percent of those children in low-income families who have been identified as needy.
The recipients of these programs must have incomes at or below $21,753 for a family of four for fiscal year 1994. Although this could be set at a lower standard, John Sammons, another family service program specialist, said the recipients of these subsidies are those who are almost independent but need that little edge to finally reach it.
Cases are redetermined every six months and recipients are allowed for their income to go up to 75 percent of the median income and still receive Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) because of increased earnings.

"At-Risk Child Care—is available for families who need child care to work and would otherwise be possible AFDC recipients.

• Child Care and Development Block Grant—is available for low-income families who need child care in order to work or attend some type of education or training program.

The Department of Social Insurance has also set up a program that provides child care for children of AFDC parents who are in the Job Opportunity Basic Skills program.

Developing the dream for a drug-free world

The Cumberland River Regional Prevention Center, located at 317 Cumberland Ave. in Barbourville is one of the services offered by the Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center. The Regional Prevention Center is available to provide accurate, up-to-date information and training about the prevention of Substance Abuse and the problems it causes to the citizens in Bell, Clay, Jackson, Harlan, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle and Whitley counties.

The Regional Prevention Center is directed by Dr. Dennis Trickett. He along with four other staff provide services in five (5) component areas. The Community Mobilization component offers consultation and training to help organize and mobilize community resources to address substance abuse problems.

The Youth Impactor component is designed to provide information and training for anyone who has a primary influence/contact with young people. Some target audiences include parents, teachers, ministers and youth workers and coaches. In the Adult component, information and consultation is offered to address prevention issues and strategies among adult populations. Programs in which youth take an active role in community programming are provided in the Teen Leadership component.

A resource library is available to the public as the information component of the Regional Prevention Center. The library contains books, pamphlets, video tape and journals to provide accurate information about drugs, their effects and how to prevent problems.
The staff has been trained in various programs pertaining to their component area. These have been successfully presented in many areas of the region.

Should you want more information on prevention issues, stop by our office or call (606) 546-2105.

Deadline April 29 '94 Feed

Grain sign-up

'94 feed grain sign up is going on now—and this year the program provides advantages as never before!! You can grow up to your entire corn base, plus... if you grow 85 percent of your base or more (up to your base) there is no set aside! That means if you sign up, you can get payment for growing corn you have to normally grow anyway. The corn can be used for grain or silage. This is a super deal for dairy and beef farmers.

Other options are available for producers who do not wish to grow any corn, or for those who wish to limit their corn acreage.

Check the program out this year, you have nothing to lose. Deadline to enroll is April 29th. For more information contact the Rockcastle County ASCS Office.

Food stamp anti-fraud law becomes effective

U.S. Senator Mitch McConnell announced today that provision of his Food Stamp Anti-Fraud Act was included in the Food Stamp Improvements Act of 1994, which was signed by President Clinton last week. The provision would allow the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to share information with law enforcement and investigative officials across the country to help fight food stamp fraud.

"This provision helps fight fraud in our nation's largest food assistance program," said McConnell. "My effort will save taxpayers millions of dollars by providing USDA with the proper tools to investigate suspected abusers of the program."
The Food Stamp Program Improvements Act also included a provision by McConnell requiring the Secretary of Agriculture to monitor participation by stores to ensure the integrity of the Food Stamp Program.

Jamie were Sharon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.S. McKinney.
Boyd Graves of Ohio spent Saturday night with his mother, Mrs. Lavada Graves.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sowder of Atlanta, Ga. visited Wanda's mother, Mrs. Pansy Nicely, Thursday.
Jack Lovins of Lexington and girl friend Angie, Jim Lovins and girl friend Jenny, both of Richmond, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lovins Sr. and Jamie over the weekend.

C.S. McKinney celebrated his birthday April 2nd. We wish him many returns of the day.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Brown were their daughter, Mrs. Brenda McFerron and grandsons Terry and Jerry.

Mrs. Ada Kirby and daughter Barbara, of Indiana, spent the week end with her Bessie Kirby.

Mrs. Sharon Lovings visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. C.S. McKinney recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chafic Zenni and baby Tatiana of Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Shirley Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Blanton and Mildred Hunt and friend, visited Mr. and Mrs. Carol Blanton Sr. Sunday.

Before Reed got into the subsidy program, she said after paying for child care she did not have enough money to live on. But she didn't want to quit her job, so Reed periodically had to go to food stamps and a medical card for help.
"If I had known about the program, some things could have gone a lot different for me," Reed, reflecting back, said.
Soon after calling the department, she was able to begin receiving help from the At-Risk Child Care program which is set up to assist families who might otherwise be "at risk" of being eligible for AFDC.

Reed was one of the lucky ones. The Department of Social Services gave Reed a list of the day cares in Frankfort that accepted the government subsidies. From that list, Reed chose Capital Avenue Day Care Inc.

"If you feel good about the place, you feel good about the children," Reed said. The choice is nice.

Mary Smither, director of Capital Avenue Day Care, said she will refer parents to the department if they need help with child care. Smither said she knows of parents who are struggling now but can't get help because the funds aren't available.

Reed said although the process of getting aid is not quite that simple, the program is definitely a benefit.

"It's quite a bit of paperwork. You have to have a lot of verification, like rent, income, and proof of custody," Reed said. "But if I didn't have the help from them, I wouldn't be able to work."

Now explores world of counter

Some people make money the old-fashioned way -- they make it. Modern high-definition color copiers have greatly simplified the process of counterfeiting, turning out respectable copies of U.S. paper money in minutes and enticing otherwise law-abiding citizens into a life of crime. Growing the perfect rose

For centuries, the beauty and fragrance of roses have captured the imagination of people the world over. They are a part of history, as evidenced by their presence in the Garden of Eden, ancient Persia and the Hanging Gardens of Babylon.

These days, roses remain just as popular. From the Rose Bowl to giving roses as a gift on Valentine's or Mother's Day, everyone loves a rose. Roses are readily available at nurseries and floral shops, but how do you grow the perfect rose at home?

According to the experts at The Scotts Company, manufacturers of Once Season-Long Rose Food, there are more than 100 rose species and thousands of varieties. Blooms come in a rainbow of color ranging from red to lavender to white, or in some cases, two or more colors in a single blossom.

There are miniature roses that are perfect ground covers or easily grown in containers, and disease-resistant, hardy floribundas, commonly used as barriers, borders, and along pathways. Able to grow three to five feet tall and with blossoms up to five inches wide, Hybrid tea roses are arguably the most prized of roses grown today.

Planning Tips

If you are seriously considering growing roses, consult a gardening primer to determine which type you would like to raise and to learn if it will thrive where you live. Still or help? Consult your landscaper or ask for help at the local nursery. Roses require at least six hours of sun daily, so pick a planting site with easterly exposure. The site should be slightly sloped to ensure maximum water drainage. Plant roses away from other shrubs and trees so there's no competition for moisture and nutrients.

Rose bushes are sold either in containers or bare-root. Bare-root roses need to be planted immediately after purchase. Prior to planting, soak the bare-root in a bucket of water to protect roots from drying out. Container roses can be planted at your convenience and needn't be pre-

Ethical issues of Neonatal medicine explored in documentary

Recent technological advancements allow doctors to save smaller and smaller babies, but with more handicapped children surviving, parents are forced to deal with the tremendous financial cost. Tough Choices, airing on KET at 10 p.m. Friday, April 15, looks at the cost of prenatal care versus the cost of extraordinary treatment of extremely premature babies. Hosted by NBC anchor Mary Alice Williams, this special also looks at the choices neonatal medicine presents to society as a whole.

Frontline examines the most controversial doctor in America

"The world knows there is a need for this," says Dr. Jack Kevorkian of his suicide machine. "You have two things involved: medicine and personal autonomy. That's all that's needed."

Kevorkian, the controversial champion of the right to die, has his share of supporters, but others find his nonchalant attitude towards death deplorable, giving him the nickname "Dr. Death." In "The Kevorkian File," airing on KET at 10 p.m. Saturday, April 16, Frontline separates the facts from the emotional rhetoric to find the real Jack Kevorkian. In making this report, Frontline was granted special access, not only to Kevorkian himself, but to his friends, family, and the survivors of many of the 20 people he has helped commit suicide.

The side-splitting savagery known as "Forbidden Broadway: Volume II" is on the road again, proving the enduring appeal of the show's wicked, wicked ways. Also on the burner are "My Fair Lady," "The Music Man," "Evita," and "Annie."

New scheduling plan is good

This opinion is by Angie Parsons, assistant editor of The Rocket, school newspaper for Rockcastle County High School

Next year the students and faculty of Rockcastle County High School will not only be in a new building, but will also be adjusting to something else new, something called "block scheduling."

Block scheduling, or four class periods a day, is a new and innovative idea for most of the Kentucky high schools who join RCHS in adopting it, but many schools throughout the United States have used it to encourage higher education.

The purpose of changing to the new schedule is to give students a better education by putting more emphasis on the subjects of study. Instead of fitting six subjects in the six period day for a semester, the school system wants to give as much time as needed to classes yet provide for more subject choices.

Four 90-minute classes a day will be the new schedule for next year. The grading period and semester length will be nine weeks. In one 18 week period, students will have had eight classes rather than the six.

Changing over to this new way of schooling will be a wise choice for Rockcastle County High School. Not only will there be more time for book work, but also for lab time, hands-on work, and use of other resources outside the classroom. This will give students a more in-depth and practical perspective of the subject. More may actually be accomplished in the time allowed each class period.

Block scheduling will also be beneficial to students by offering many more classes. Possible added classes are debate, Latin medical terms, and new science classes.

A wide variety of classes will give students a chance to explore and experience the different subjects offered. With only six periods a day for the whole year, students often have to eliminate some of the classes they were interested in to take the ones required. Block scheduling will change that negative.

More positive use of the school day will also be evident with only four periods. Learning more by doing more is one point this new scheduling will make. Less time will be lost in changing classes.

Even though teachers may have more total students during the year, they will have fewer students per day, or per nine week period, which may reduce the time required to grade papers and allow more time for lesson planning. Teachers will have more time and opportunity for teaching one to one, for developing new teaching techniques, and for planning what will be taught in the revised curriculum.

Helping kids plan for their futures is a goal that the high school hopes to achieve through block scheduling. Next year, every teacher will have a homeroom and will act as advisor to the students in his/her homeroom, helping them with difficult homework, offering suggestions for courses to include, and in general monitoring the success of the students.

Time allowed for students to eat will probably be less than this year; however, included in the block schedule will be something called "flex time." This will be a time students can use to talk to their advisor, work on library research, or attend club meetings. Flex time will also be used for such things as club meetings, class elections, pep rallies, class meetings, and student council meetings, all of which had previously taken class time.

Block scheduling has many beneficial qualities that are going to help the average high school student achieve in life. Its main goal is to further enhance the education students are receiving. If all goes as the school system plans, Rockcastle County High School will be the ideal place to learn.

John D. Rogers likely to be indicted soon

The lawyer for Kentucky Senate Minority leader said Sen. John Rogers of Somerset might be indicted to day.

A federal grand jury investigating a 1984 banking bill apparently will charge Rogers with violating the federal Hobbs Act, which involves extortion conspiracy, said Atty. Jack Smith of Louisville.

Rogers, who one time was Senator for the district that encompassed Rockcastle, was vacationing in Florida and unavailable for comment. He also took the bankruptcy law about two years ago. He now serves another district.

"There's no guarantee that it will happen, but I've talked to the federal people, and this is what they indicate," Smith said.

Rogers is innocent and will fight the charges, Smith said. An indictment could be part of a larger investigation of former Gov. Wallace Wilkinson, Smith said.

A government witness, Jay Spurrier, said last year that Wilkinson offered bank shares to Rogers and others who could help pass a bill that made it easier for banks to be bought and sold.

The legislation failed in 1982 but narrowly passed in 1984 and drew up the value of bank stock. It went through the Senate Banking and Insurance Committee, of which Rogers was a member.

Wilkinson, whose business interests included banking, lobbied for the legislation.

Spurrier's allegation came in testimony in the trial of Bruce Wilkinson, the former governor's nephew and aide. Wallace Wilkinson denied the allegation, as did Rogers.

The legislation was big for in 1982, voted for it when it came up in the committee and voted for it in the Senate," Smith said. "How can you make a deal for something like legislation that you're already for?"

Rogers has been in the Senate since 1976 and has been its Republican leader since 1987. He could not be reached for comment.

County Jailor from 1966 to 1970 and was Mt. Vernon city councilman in the 70's.

Mr. Alcorn, an antique dealer was also a World War II veteran, who was injured in a battle in the Philippines in 1944. He lost his eye when he was shot twice during the battle.

Mr. Alcorn is survived by his wife, Frank McKinney Alcorn. (See complete obituary on Pg. B-12)

in 1954.

Mrs. Davis, 80, of Mt. Vernon, was also very instrumental in the building of the present library building in 1974.

An active member of the Providence Church of Christ, Mrs. Davis is survived by her husband, longtime Rockcastle County businessman Phillip Davis. (A complete obituary can be found on Page B-12) reached for comment. A colleague, Republican Sen. Tom Buford of Nicholasville, said Rogers was vacationing in Florida.

Assistant U.S. Attorney E.J. Walbourn confirmed that a federal grand jury is meeting in Covington today but declined further comment.

Doug Alexander, a spokesman for Wallace Wilkinson, noted that the former governor also has denied Spurrier's charge and will not comment further.

Shot in Lexington

A Lexington man killed last week, the city's sixth homicide this year, had ties to Rockcastle.

Timothy Lynch, 36, husband of Sarah Hiatt Lynch, formerly of Mt. Vernon, was shot on Ohio Street in Lexington.

Lynch whose groin was pierced by a rifle bullet staggered down the driveway and died near his car parked in the street.

Why he was in the neighborhood has not been determined.

He was buried in Hiatt Cemetery Sunday in Renfro Valley.

Van burglarized

A radar detector was taken from a van owned by Phillip Cowell of Florissant, Mo., sometime early Saturday.

The van, a 1990 Dodge Caravan was parked at Holiday Motel on U.S. 25, south, was entered by breaking a side window. Deputy Sheriff Doug Thomas investigated.

Kentucky Utilities robbed during lunch

An undisclosed amount of money and checks were stolen from the Kentucky Utilities office in Mt. Vernon while employees went to lunch Monday.

The theft was discovered when they returned. There was no forced entry.

Police Chief Bill Mink and assistant Chief Eddie Delaney investigated.

Phelps injured

Mrs. Ola Phelps, 81, of Rt. 4, Mt. Vernon, is in fair condition at Rockcastle Hospital following a one-car accident Tuesday morning.

The accident occurred on U.S. 150 near Negro Creek Road.

Mrs. Phelps said she was travelling west on U.S. 150 when she lost consciousness, when she regained consciousness, she said she was on the east side of the road, saw a car approaching, cut to right, ran off the road hit an embankment and overturned in a ditch.

Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan investigated.

No one hurt

A Lexington man escaped injury Tuesday when he lost control of his car and it went over an embankment opposite Babe's Pizza on U.S. 25 north.

Christopher Hopkins, 23, was uninjured in the crash. He told police two other cars watching him wreck, were involved in a rear-end collision.

Identification of the other cars was not revealed, Police Chief Bill Mink reported.

Election Day May 24

Kentucky's next election will be held on May 24. This is the annual primary during which voters choose their party's nominee for election in November.

In order for Kentucky government on all levels to adequately reflect the will of the people, citizens must register and vote, according to Bob Babbage, Kentucky secretary of state.

Over 500,000 Kentuckians are eligible, but not registered to vote.

Many important decisions will be made by our elected leaders which will dramatically influence our future. Our voice in those decisions can be heard at the polling place on election day and when we take an active part in the development of public policy.

First we must register to vote. This year we have until the close of business on April 25 to go to our county clerk's office and register.

Those who are already registered would be wise to check the registration at the clerk's office, especially if you have moved or changed your name. Also some precinct boundaries may have changed which will also affect voting opportunity.

elle Hall record a unique view of the underwater wonderland of the Caribbean and the tropical Atlantic when National Geographic presents "Jewels of the Caribbean Sea," airing on KET at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 13.

The Hall's cameras capture extraordinary scenes of marine-life behavior: a male jawfish gently incubating a mouthful of eggs; thimble jellyfish swarming in such great numbers that they almost block out the sun; playful bottlenose dolphins; and fascinating action at the "cleaning stations," where fish sometimes roll over and do head and tail stands. Also highlighted are the positive effect divers who value sea life more than seafood can have on this undamaged natural wilderness.

"Jewels of the Caribbean Sea" was produced by Howard and Michelle Hall and the National Geographic Society. It is closed-captioned for hearing-impaired viewers.

Period drama returns to KET as Masterpiece Theatre presents Eliot Classic

Hailed by literary critics as one of the greatest novels of the 19th century, Middlemarch charts the concerns of a town full of people struggling to give their lives meaning in a world on the brink of the Industrial Revolution. KET brings George Eliot's epic saga of youthful idealism, disillusionment, and blackmail when Masterpiece Theatre presents a six-part adaptation beginning at 9 p.m. Sunday, April 10.

We try to put our patients at ease . . .

Radiology has a unique function in the hospital. At Rockcastle Hospital, technology is the key to helping diagnose a disease or injury. But, it takes specially trained personnel to utilize this technology.

In the eight years I've been here, Radiology has changed dramatically. It's a much larger department now and we've added new diagnostic services, including mammography and our own CAT scanner.

When patients come in, they're often scared, so we try to explain the procedure and answer their questions. We're like family here, we want our patients to be comfortable.

I think taking time to talk to each patient and being polite is important. "We really care about people at Rockcastle Hospital."

"What Saith the Scriptures"

April is a month that we can have some pretty bad storms. It was twenty years ago that Kentucky had the worst outbreak of tornadoes in history. A lot of money and energy is spent to help people prepare and to be warned about these deadly storms. Yet the Bible warns us of a much greater "storm" that is coming and exhorts us to make our life ready for this event.

We speak about the 2nd Coming of the Lord Jesus Christ. The return of Christ will be a most awesome event, that will affect all mankind and all nations of all time. "When the Son of Man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory; and before him shall be gathered all nations; and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats." Mt. 25:31-32. Now just think about what is being pictured here. Jesus in his regal power, with all the holy angels, comes to planet earth. The trumpet shall sound at this mighty event, I Thes. 4:16, he raises all men from the dead, Jn. 5:28-29 and thus all men, of all ages, dead and alive are gathered before the judgement seat of Christ. The day of separation has come. The righteous will hear the Word done thou good and faithful servant" and invited to "come and inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world," Mt. 25:21, 34. But the old stubborn, rebellious goats of the world who knew not God, nor obeyed the gospel, will hear another thing. II Thes. 1:8. The Lord will say "Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels." Mt. 25: 41. What a sad day indeed if we should lose our souls at that time. There is no question but that all of us are heading for this "storm." The warning is being sounded out to prepare and be ready. Mt. 24:42, 44/Mt. 25:13.

It's amazing that some are scared to death of storms in this life, but are not the least bit afraid to stand before the wrath of God. Yes, we can escape this wrath through Jesus, Rm. 5:9. Have you?

Census Bureau says One in five full time workers earns low wages

About 18 percent of the nation's 81 million over-18-year-old full-time worker earned less than $13,091 per year in 1992—a 50 percent increase over the 12 percent who had low earning in 1979—according to a new Census Bureau statistical brief. Entitled "The Earnings Leader" (SB94-03), the brief will be released today by the Commerce Department's Census Bureau.

Commerce Secretary Ronald H. Brown, noting the new Census Bureau earnings study, said it demonstrates the importance of this month's G-7 jobs conference in Detroit and the need for continuing multilateral discussions on this crucial issue.

The bureau's low earnings threshold is a modified version of the poverty level for a four-person family with two children. The modification involves the use of an alternative index to measure changes over time in consumer prices. The use of the alternative index results in a low earnings threshold that is 8 percent lower than the poverty threshold.

Bureau analyst Jack McNeil says, "The shift towards low levels of earnings has had a significant effect on young workers. For both the 18 to 24 and 25 to 34 age groups, the proportion of year-round, full-time workers with low earnings roughly doubled between 1979 and 1992. The proportions for the 18 to 24 age group were 23 percent, or 2 million, in 1979 and 47 percent, or 11 million, in 1992. The 1979 and 1992 figures for the 25 to 34 age group were 9 percent (7.1 million) and 18 percent (4.3 million)."

Women are more likely than men to have low earnings, although the likelihood of having low earnings has risen for both sexes in recent years. The proportion of women with low earnings increased by 16 percent over the period, from 20 percent in 1979 to 24 percent in 1992. The figures for men were an 83 percent rise, from 8 percent to 14 percent.

Low earners tend to have less education than other workers. Among men, the percentage of year-round full-time workers with low earnings was 32 percent for those without a high school diploma and 6 percent for those with a bachelor's degree. A similar pattern was evident for women.

The study defined high earners as workers who earned $52,364 or more—four or more times the low earnings level. Men (15 percent) were much more likely than women (3 percent) to be high earners in 1992. However, in 1979, the disparity had been even

Fish: Buy, Store and Cook it right for safety

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Fish for dinner can be one of life's little pleasures if you buy, store and prepare it correctly.

Here are some guidelines for buying, storing and cooking fish:

- Heed your nose. Fresh seafood should not smell unpleasantly fishy. It should smell like a fresh ocean breeze. If the fish smells strange, don't buy it.

- Fresh fish steaks and filets should be moist, with no drying or browning around the edges. The eyes of fresh, whole fish should be bright and clear, not cloudy or sunken. Scales should not be slimy and should cling together tightly to the skin. Gills should be bright pink or red.

- Mollusks in the shell, such as clams and oysters, should be alive when you buy them. See if the shells are tightly closed; if they are, they are alive. To test for freshness, hold the shell between your thumb and forefinger and press as though sliding the two parts of the shell across one another. If the shells move, the shellfish is not fresh. Discard any that do not close tightly.

- Buy seafood only from reputable dealers. You can't know what you're buying from the back of a pickup truck. It could have been caught by someone not subject to federal or state inspection.

- Cook shellfish no later than two days after purchase.

- To store fish properly, keep them cold -- in the coldest part of the refrigerator, usually under the freezer or in the meat drawer, until it's ready to cook and serve.

- Store live mollusks in your refrigerator in containers covered loosely with a clean, damp cloth. Do not store live shellfish in airtight containers or in water.

- Canned fish should be refrigerated after opening.

- Smoked fish, pickled fish, vacuum-packed fish and modified-atmosphere-packed fish products should always be refrigerated.

- Keep cooked and raw seafood separate. It's not safe to put cooked seafood back in the original container used for raw seafood or to store raw and cooked seafood together.

- The safest way to thaw frozen seafood is in the refrigerator in its own container. Allow about one day for defrosting.

- For fin fish (baked, broiled, poached, fried or stewed), allow 10 minutes cooking time for each inch of thickness. Turn the fish over half way through the cooking time unless it is less than a half inch thick. Add five minutes to the total cooking time if the fish is wrapped in foil or cooked in a sauce. Properly cooked fish will flake easily with a fork and should be opaque and firm. It should not be translucent.

- For mollusk shellfish, remember that shells will open during boiling.

Once the shells open, boil for another 3 to 5 minutes. If steamed, cook 4 to 9 minutes from the start of steaming.

- Use small pots to boil or steam shellfish. If too many shells are cooking in the same pot, it's possible that the ones in the middle won't cook thoroughly. Discard any clams, mussels or oysters that do not open during cooking. Closed shells may mean they have not received adequate heat.

- Shucked oysters should be boiled or simmered for at least 3 minutes. Fry in oil for at least 10 minutes at 375 degrees F. or bake for at least 10 minutes at 450 degrees F.

Following these steps for buying, storing and cooking fish will help protect you and still allow you to enjoy seafood.

Nodding thistle robbing farmers of pasture land

By Tom Mills
County Extension Agent for Agriculture

A controllable weed is robbing Kentucky farmers of pasture production. The weed, called nodding thistle, can be controlled by attacking them at the right time. The weed produces thousands of seed each year capable of producing thousands of new plants. The key to controlling the weed is to take measures to control it before it sets seed, which is usually in late May and early June. Once seed has set, it is difficult to control the spread of the seed and farmers will need to wait until fall or next spring to obtain control of even more weeds.

The nodding thistle emerges as a rosette which is a circular cluster of leaves with the growing point close to the ground. The dark green rosette is 6 to 8 inches in diameter. Rosettes appearing in the spring can be sprayed and killed. Herbicides such as 2, 4-D and Banvel are more effective when the rosette is small and actively growing. They can be sprayed in the spring as long as daytime temperatures are above 50 degrees. Timing is critical for good control. The weed must be attacked when it is small if the sprays are to be most effective. This means late April will be the last chance for farmers to get an effective chemical control this spring.

If spraying is delayed until the plant is older, it can be controlled by either mowing the plants or hoeing it out by hand. However, with either method, the weed must be destroyed before it sets seed. Mowing at or after bloom may mean that the seeds produced will be scattered to a larger area.

Chemical control is the best means in eliminating seed production. The Department of Agriculture and local Extension Service will be conducting 10-acre Demonstrations on April 25th and 26th. If you have pasture or hay fields infested with nodding thistle and would like to participate, call Tom Mills at 256-2403. The Department of Agriculture supplies the chemical and sprayer. The farmer supplies the water and applies the chemical with his farm tractor.

wider, at 15 percent for men and 1 percent for women.

From 1979 to 1992, the percentage of women with high earnings increased for those with either a high school diploma or a college degree.

while the proportion for men declined for those without a college degree.

The Statistical Brief is based on results from the March 1993 current population survey. As in all surveys, the data are subject to sampling variability and other sources of error.

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

The library has lost one of its most dedicated people in the death of Mrs. Alleyne Davis. We want to pay tribute to her for the many years of service that she gave to the library.

Mrs. Davis began her career as librarian in 1956 and held this position until her retirement in 1990. She was very instrumental in the growth of the library during this period of time. She will be remembered as a caring and helpful patron by many of our library patrons.

The Rockcastle County Local Art Show will be open for the public April 18th - 30th. I hope to hear from more of you this week or before the 13th. Space is limited and those people that bring their art work in first will have the choicest spots for display. We want to have a good exhibit and to do this, we need to have good participation from the artists in the county. Last year there was about 22 exhibitors and hopefully we will have as many this year but please call and let us know if you plan to enter your art work. The number at the library is 256-2388.

Any paintings, drawings and etc. that has been on display at the library before this year will not be accepted. All art work must be in the library by April 16th.

April 17th - 23rd is National Library Week. We try to plan for our Local Art Show to be held during this period of time. The object of National Library Week is to get more people acquainted with their local libraries and we hope by having this special show more people will come in and visit with us and find out all of the other services that we have to offer.

Thanks to Kathy McCracken's great article that was published in last week's Signal, many of you should know more about this library than you did before. We appreciate Kathy's interest in the library. She was a patron of mine many years ago when I was the bookmobile librarian and she realizes the value of library service.

Some new books now available at the library are... 1. Deepwater by Paul Jekel... A brilliant saga sweeping from the earliest colonial settlements to the aftermath of the Civil War, tracing the lives of four generations of indomitable and passionate southern women who learn they must create their own happiness. Jekel is also the author of Columbia.

2... Seasons of Her Life by Fern Michaels... Following the grand finale of her bestselling Texas series, Fern Michaels has written her most ambitious work of contemporary fiction yet... an exhilarating novel about an exceptional woman who discovers the depth and breadth of who she is. The novel follows her from childhood to the "winter" years of her life.

3... Code of Honor by Harold Coyle... Mr. Coyle presents a spine-tugging military thriller in which the decision to send U.S. troops to Columbia as a peacekeeping force to prevent anarchy and civil war leads to a vicious full-scale conflict. "Coyle is the best natural storyteller I know."

-Tom Clancy, author of many novels. Two new non-fiction books of interest are... Flea Market Trader, ninth edition revised... This is a unique price guide, geared specifically for the convenience of the flea market shopper. Several categories have been included that are not often found in general price guides. The new categories will serve to introduce you to collectibles that are currently coming on, the best and often the only source for which is the flea market. This is the first full-color edition published.

Husford's Old Book Value Guide... It has 25,000 listings of old books with current values.

Dr. James A. Cunningham of Mt. Vernon has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

AAFP members are required to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The AAFP, which has more than 75,000 members, is one of the largest medical specialty organizations in the country. It was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical advancements through regular continuing medical education.

Dr. Cunningham has been an active AAFP member since 1984. As a family physician, Dr. Cunningham is qualified to work in all major areas of health care and trained to treat patients of all ages for the vast majority of health problems.

Dr. Cunningham has practiced at the Mt. Vernon Clinic since April of 1993.

Ten free shade trees

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Weeping Willow, Sugar Maple, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tulipree, Silver Maple and Red Maple.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's "Arbor Day" news magazine, The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care, and a membership card.

Applications for Berea College's New Opportunity School for Women now available

Applications for the summer session of Berea College's New Opportunity School for Women, a free educational and career exploration program for women 30-55 years of age, will be accepted through April 20.

The upcoming session is scheduled May 29-June 18 on the Berea campus. Women of low income who have high school diplomas or GED certificates but who have not completed college are eligible to attend.

The three-week program will offer educational and cultural opportunities through field trips to museums, music programs, lectures, courses in Appalachian literature, writing and computer basics. Job skills will be identified and participants will learn to write a resume and practice job interview skills. The program includes placement in a suitable part-time position on campus or in the community.

There is no fee for attending. A grant from the Second Foundation of Cleveland, Ohio, covers all program costs. Lodging and meals also will be provided at no charge and grants for travel and child care may be requested. Children may not accompany their mothers to campus.

Requests for applications and additional information should be addressed to Jane Stephenson, director of the New Opportunity School for Women, Berea College CPO 2276, Berea, Ky. 40404, (606)986-9341, ext. 6676.

Time for Termites

Spring marks the beginning of termite swarm season in Kentucky.

The next few months will generate more questions about termites than any other household pest," said Mike Potter, extension entomologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Recent studies indicate that termite colonies may contain a million or more individuals, he added. The location of the colony may actually be in a neighbor's yard rather than beneath the infested house. Termite workers can forage the length of a football field.

Favorable temperature and moisture conditions trigger termite swarmers to emerge from a colony, especially on warm days following rain, he explained.

Only a very small percentage of swarming termites survive to start new colonies since most are eaten by birds and other insects, he added. Termite swarms emerge inside a structure almost never survive, but are a sure sign that the building is infested.

The presence of winged termites or their shed wings inside a home almost always indicates an infestation that warrants treatment," Potter said. "Swarmers that emerge from tree stumps or other outdoor locations are generally not cause for concern." Termite swarms are attracted to light and will often be seen around windows and light fixtures, he added. They can be differentiated from winged ants by the shape of their antennae, waist and wings.

"Another indication of termites infesting a home are pencil-width, mud shelter tubes extending over walls, plumbing pipes and other exposed surfaces," Potter said. "Termites construct these mud tubes as they travel over exposed surfaces between the soil and the structure. Termite-damaged wood also has mud or soil lining the feeding galleries."

Termite treatment is usually a job for professionals, he said. Possible exceptions would be if a mailbox post, sandbox or similar outdoor wood object not attached to the house is infested.

Pest control firms should be licensed by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture and should guarantee their work, Potter said. Consider getting at least two to three estimates and be cautious of price quotes substantially higher or lower than the others.

To achieve adequate termiticide dispersion in the soil, a lot must be used, Potter said. Inadequate amounts are unlikely to provide a continuous chemical barrier in areas where termites can enter.

Holes drilled vertically through porches, patios, basement floors and similar concrete slabs should be spaced no more than 18 inches apart, he added.

Studies conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture indicate that all registered termiticides should control termites for at least five years, Potter said. The bad odor of some treatments can usually be alleviated by ventilating with fans during and after treatment. Low odor products are also available.

Although termites forage randomly in the soil, the enormous size and foraging capability of a termite colony means that localized, or spot, treatments are a gamble except in cases of retreatment, he said. Most pest control firms will not guarantee a spot treatment since there is a high probability that termites will eventually find other points of entry into the structure.

WHEN YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP NEEDS YOUR HELP, OFFER IT

Whenever a friend does you a favor, you should reciprocate it. Your House of Worship is the best friend you'll ever have, and if you have been attending it regularly you must have done so because of all the blessings it has brought you. If you or any member of your family have been ill, had surgery or lost a loved one, you know that your clergyman and the entire congregation have been a tower of strength for you. Whenever you come to a fork in the road where a difficult decision must be made, your clergyman is always ready to listen to your problem and give you the best advice that his experience can provide. In return for these benefits and many others, be prepared to serve your House of Worship to the best of your ability, even if only by dialing a few phone numbers. You have received so much there; now it's your turn to help.

Poet's Corner

Spring
By: Preston Parrett
March 24, 1994

We've survived the foulest weather
And the snow piled on the ground,
With ice coating everything
Wires and limbs came tumbling down.

We've lived through Tonya Harding
And of Whitewater we've had our fill,
As the media and congressmen
Move in for the kill.

If I had a dairy herd
The cows would never go dry,
For I'd let the media do the milking
And the cows would be fresh till they die.

The arduous winter is over
Spring is finally here, Daffodils and hyacinthss are blooming
And people are filled good cheer.

Spring rains are falling
Seems if they'll never stop,
Ditch lines are filling up
And Rockcastle orchids are floating to the top.

As we drive through the springtime
All we've got to do is peek,
And we can tell by the cast off cans
Which is the beer of the week.

The smell of burning leaves are in the air
As gardening gets underway,
And daylight hours are longer
Giving more time to work and play.

The grass is greening up
And farmers are beginning to toil,
As they fire up their tractors
And turn over fertile soil.

Calves are frisky in the pasture
Colts are running wild,
Basketballs are bouncing
As outdoors brings joy to a child.

Dandelions are blooming yellow
Trees are budding out,
The roosters comb is turning red
And he's strutting all about.

Robins are pairing off
They're chirruping about a nest,
And they're looking the trees over
To find the limb that is best.

Soon the dogwoods and redbuds
Will put on a colorful show
And nature will spring forth
With a beautiful majestic glow.

If I only had one day to live
And was given one last fling,
I'd spend it with family and friends in Rockcastle
And enjoy the beauty of the spring.

Uncle Hobert and Old Julie
By: Preston Parrett
March 13, 1994

Mabel Davidson is a local artist
Who portrays the life of old
When people were close to nature

And God reigned in each household.

It was a time of hardship
Amid a life of toil,
For our ancestors of a by-gone day
Were true sons and daughters of mountain soil.

Her portrayal of Uncle Hobert
Along side of Julie, his famous mule,
Is drawn in such beautiful details
That could come only from God's art school.

Uncle Hobert dressed in overall pants
The farmer' apparel of the day,
With the knees worn and shiny
Where he got down to pray.

Uncle Hobert's God was everywhere
And he often asked for guidance on bended knee,
As he prayed for family and friends
Under God's own canopy.

There among the wide open spaces
Where God's handi-work was beautifully seen,
He lived close to mother earth
Among God's streams, oaks, maple and evergreen.

The painting makes us long for
A simpler time and day,
When everything was in harmony
And people took time out to pray.

The Last Home Games
By: Preston Parrett
February 24-25, 1994

The last home games of the season
Players and parents are standing tall,
Bidding an emotional farewell
To friends, neighbors and teammates all.

For during the hectic season
Friendships are welded strong,
And it all boils down
To the final swan song.

The band is loudly playing
Fans are clapping hands,
And there's a melancholy feeling
Of utter sadness in the stands.

The cheerleaders are yelling
As they do acrobatic thrills
And pyramids are formed
As they display athletic skills.

Parents, fans and cheerleaders
In unison cheer and clap,
As the band plays the fight song
Grandpa Riggsby's cane begins to tap.

The crowd gets into a frenzy
Then a full throated roar,
As tip-off approaches
They yell "score team score."

When the anthem is played
All rise with great pride
For each and everyone feels
The flutter of butterflies inside.

When the game is over
Everyone goes their separate ways,
Thinking back with fond memories
Of the good "old days."

Notice of a Correction: Parent Council member nomination deadlines next week!
Deadline dates for Roundstone parent council member nominations and elections were reported incorrectly to the Mt. Vernon Signal for last week's edition. The correct deadlines are as follows: Nominations are due to the principal's office by Tuesday, April 12. Parent council member elections are scheduled for the night of the PTA meeting on Tuesday, April 19. Voting will begin at 6:30. Parents may join PTA prior to elections.

Parents considering running for Council need to keep this Tuesday nominations deadline date in mind, since it comes on the second day back from our spring break. Parents can be nominated by other parents or may nominate themselves.
Roundstone Parents and Teachers hold Conference Day
Thursday, March 31, saw over 29 percent of Roundstone students' parents come to school for a quality information sharing time. Of the 454 preschool through eighth grade Roundstone students, 133 students had parent visitors.

Teachers, parents, and students celebrated student successes and worked together to plan strategies for helping students to improve in areas of concern. Parents who were unable to attend Conference Day are invited to call the school or write a note to the teacher to arrange an individual conference time.

Roundstone Sixth Grade team ranks high in stock market game
Out of thirty-seven teams, Roundstone Stock Market Game team member, Stewart Abney, Christina Cadena, Doug Poynter, and Amanda Gadd placed fifth in the EKUM region in activity during their fourth Wednesday to Wednesday week which ended on March 24.
Students in Mrs. Regina Little's class work in teams each week as part of their strategic math studies. Students work with percentages, fractions, and basic operations as they watch their investment portfolios.

This class of sixth graders consistently has teams ranking high. Congratulations!
RCHS Chorus comes to RES
A sophisticated RCHS choral presentation came to RES just before spring break. Sophisticated because of the high level of polish evident throughout this musical program. Roundstone students enjoyed the upbeat fast paced moves, the humor, and the small group and individual selections. Staff and students enjoyed seeing the many RES graduates participating in the chorus, and all took home... (Cont. to B11)

NOTICE OF SALE OF FRANCHISE
By virtue of a resolution thereto passed by the City Council of the City of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, directing the undersigned to advertise for bids and sell a franchise to use the streets, alleys and public grounds of the City of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, for the purpose of owning, operating, equipping and maintaining a system for the generation, transmission and distribution of electric energy, the undersigned, as City Clerk of said City, will on the 22nd day of May, 1994, at or about the hour of 11:00 o'clock P.M. sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder at the City Hall in said City, a franchise for the purpose above set out.
Said franchise is more particularly described and fully defined in a proposed ordinance granting and creating the same and said proposed ordinance defines the terms and conditions upon which said sale will be made, and is in full as follows:
Kay Rader City Clerk
Mt. Vernon Kentucky
(City)
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle COUNTY, KENTUCKY:
SECTION 1. That Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle, Kentucky, the purchaser and grantee of this franchise, or its legal representatives, successors, and assigns, hereinafter called the "franchisee," be, and it is, subject to the conditions hereinafter contained, hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, purchase, construct, maintain and operate in and through this City, a system of works for the generation, transmission and distribution of electrical energy from points either within or without the corporate limits of this City, in all areas and parts of this City and the inhabitants thereof, as its corporate limits now or hereafter exist, excepting only those areas or parts included within a franchise heretofore granted by the City to Rural Electric Cooperative Organization, and from and through this City in person, through its duly authorized agents, representatives, successors, and assigns, for the purpose of owning, operating, equipping and maintaining poles and other apparatus necessary or convenient for the operation of said system, in, upon, across, and over, and along each and all of the streets, alleys and public grounds, within the present and future corporate limits of this City; to have and hold, as by law authorized, any and all real estate, easements, water and other rights necessary or convenient for said purpose; to use any and all such streets, alleys and public grounds while constructing or operating said electric system of works; and to cross any and all streets and streams in this City for the purpose of constructing, maintaining or extending such poles, wires and other apparatus as may be necessary or convenient for the proper distribution of electric energy in and through this City. Such rights to maintain shall include the right to remove and/or trim trees in accordance with the purchaser's customary procedures. If, after any pole or other structure or facility has once been erected or placed, in exercise of the authority herein granted, the City Council shall order the removal of said pole, structure or facility to another location, the City shall pay the cost of making such relocation, except that, if the relocation is made necessary due to widening, repaving or reconstruction of a street or highway and the pole was originally erected in public right-of-way and is in public right-of-way immediately prior to the relocation, the purchaser will pay the cost of the relocation.
SECTION 2. The purchaser shall indemnify, and save harmless the City from any and all damages, judgments, decrees, costs and expenses, including a reasonable attorney's fee, which the City may legally suffer or incur or which may be legally obtained against the City for or by reason of the use and occupation of any street, alley, or public ground in the City by the purchaser, pursuant to the terms of this franchise, or legally resulting from the exercise by the purchaser of any of the privileges herein granted; and, if any claim shall be made or suit brought against the City for damages alleged to have been sustained by reason of the occupation of any street, alley, or public ground or use of any privileges herein granted, by the purchaser, the City shall immediately notify the purchaser in writing thereof, and the purchaser is hereby given the right and privilege to defend or assist in defending such suit, in the name of the City.
SECTION 3. The City may not impose upon or exact from the purchaser any fee, compensation or remuneration of any kind, or impose upon the purchaser any obligation, for the purchaser's engaging in the City or adjoining territory in the sale and distribution of electrical energy, the payments provided for in Section 9 being in consideration of the rights and privileges herein granted including those with respect to the streets, alleys and public grounds within the City.
SECTION 4. The purchaser shall extend its electric light or power lines and install additional equipment whenever there is assured to it from additional business to be derived therefrom a reasonable return upon the investment required to install such extension.
SECTION 5. The purchaser shall have the right to make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations necessary to the proper conduct of its business and protection of its property.
SECTION 6. The purchaser shall have the right to charge for electrical energy supplied within the City, rates that are reasonable and that are subject to regulation by the Kentucky Public Service Commission.
SECTION 7. This franchise and all rights and privileges granted hereunder shall be in full force and effect for a period of twenty (20) years from and after the date when this franchise is granted to the purchaser.
SECTION 8. This franchise may be transferred by the purchaser and the word "purchaser" whenever used in this franchise shall include and be taken to mean and apply also to all the successors and assigns of the purchaser.
SECTION 9. The purchaser shall, for the grant of this franchise, the purchaser will pay to the City a sum equal to 3% of the gross revenue received by the purchaser, on and after the date when the grant of this franchise becomes effective, from electric service rendered within the corporate limits of the City to customers supplied under residential and commercial revenue classifications, as now defined in the purchaser's system of accounts and reported to the Kentucky Public Service Commission. The amount payable to the City for each full calendar quarter during which this franchise is in effect shall be computed on the basis of revenues received during such quarter, and payment shall be made within 60 days after the close of the quarter. The amount payable to the City for a portion of a calendar quarter at the commencement or termination of the term of this franchise shall be computed on the basis of revenues received during such portion of a calendar quarter, and shall be payable not more than 60 days after the termination of the quarter which includes the period for which payment is made. If any amount paid pursuant to the provisions of this Section 9 is stated by purchaser, at the time of such payment, to be based in whole or in part on revenues which are not subject to refund by purchaser, and if any part of such revenues thereafter is required to be refunded by purchaser, the City shall repay to purchaser that part of the payment made hereunder based upon such revenues required to be refunded, such repayment to be made, at purchaser's option, either on demand or by credit against the payment or payments otherwise next becoming due hereunder. Should any license tax, occupational tax or any other tax, charge or fee except ad valorem taxes be now or hereafter imposed, the amount payable under this section shall be payable only to the extent that it exceeds the sum of all such taxes, charges or fees. The Public Service Commission of Kentucky has directed that payments such as those to the City above provided for are to be recovered as charges to customers served within the involved franchise area, and that such charges are to be listed as separate items on the customers' bills. The City recognizes that the purchaser is subject to the provisions of statutes heretofore or hereafter enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky including statutes prescribing the regulatory jurisdiction of the Kentucky Public Service Commission, and to such Commission's exercise of such jurisdiction, and could become subject to regulatory jurisdiction of other governmental agencies relative, among other subjects, to the making of the said payments and to their rate or other treatment. If, the charging, payment or collection of the sums specified in this Section 9 to be payable to the City should be made unlawful or prohibited by law or regulation, the provisions of this Section 9 shall be deemed null and void from the date of the enactment of such law or regulation, and the purchaser shall not be bound by the terms of this franchise shall continue to be in full force and effect. If the making of the said payments shall not be so made unlawful or prohibited, but if the purchaser at any time shall not be permitted to fully recover in its charges to its customers the purchaser's said payments to the City, provided for in this Section 9, the purchaser shall have an option to terminate this franchise, effective upon the effective date of the law, regulation or regulatory order denying such payment.
SECTION 10. If the purchaser of this franchise is the holder of a franchise previously granted by the City of Mt. Vernon, then, unless the purchaser, as a part of his bid for this franchise expressly reserves its rights under such prior franchise, such prior franchise shall be deemed terminated effective upon the effectiveness of this franchise.
SECTION 11.
