To Whom It may concern, This is my last will and testament. I have been led by the Holy Spirit to pass this on to you.

Our heart is burdened as I write this, not of my passion but for the horrible death that Jesus had to pay on the cross for my sins and the sins of all mankind that might be saved from a burning hell. Through His love of us He made it possible for us to have eternal life with all that will accept him as their Savior and Lord of their life.

To my loved ones, my brothers and sisters in Christ, my friends and neighbors; don't weep over this old corruptible body for one day I will have a new body, praise His holy name, I have a mansion waiting for me in heaven, praise his holy name. If I have failed to witness to you or have been a stumbling block, please forgive me. I realize now I could have been a greater soul winner for Him if I had been permissible to his Holy Spirit.

Jesus said today is the day of salvation. We have no promise of tomorrow. My prayer is that all of you will be there for heaven won't be real without you there. I have no treasures here on this old earth, just my loved ones, brothers and sisters in Christ, my friends and neighbors. My treasure is in heaven. I pray, my loved ones will carry on and not make the mistakes I have made. I want to personally thank all who have meant so much to me in my life. To all my pastors and brother deacons and the Word of God that has been such a good road map for me to follow.

I missed the route a few times but that was old Satan's fault. Thanks be to God. He put me back on the right road. I give Him all the glory, not that I was worthy. It was through his love just as any father would for his child.

Bullock tells board bus drivers want pay increase

By: Richard Anderkin

A local school bus driver told the Rockcastle County Board of Education and Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., that Rockcastle County bus drivers wanted and needed a raise.

Bus drivers Greg Bullock and Darlena Bowles told board members that in the last few years were not adequate and that local drivers wanted to make as much money as drivers in other counties.

Towery told Bullock that the board did not have to collectively bargain with employees because of Kentucky law, but that he certainly wanted drivers to be treated the same as other drivers in comparable districts.

Board members echoed the same sentiments. "We just want to be as fair with you as we possibly can and make sure drivers pay in this county is in line with other districts," said board member Terry Burton.

School finance officer Richard Bray told Bullock that he thought the local pay for drivers was certainly in line with other districts, but that he would gather pay scales from those districts and compare them with the local scale.

Bullock said after the meeting that he was simply trying to head off any problem that may occur between the board and drivers. "When you make $60,000 a year, 2% is a fairly decent raise, but when you make what drivers do, it means only a few dollars," Bullock said.

Currently Rockcastle County school bus drivers with more than 20 years experience, make $6,430 per year. Drivers with less than four years experience are paid $6,134 per year. Drivers with four to nine years experience are compensated $6,216 a year, and drivers with 10-14 years on the road are paid $6,291, while drivers with 15 to 19 years experience get $6,360 a year. Drivers who make extra runs, such as for field trips and sporting events are paid extra.

Bray said this week that he had done some preliminary research on area pay scales and that so far Rockcastle is "very, very competitive" with other districts. "But, we still have some more data to gather and that information will be presented at the next regular scheduled board meeting," he said.

Supt. Towery, echoed the same sentiments saying that he certainly wanted Rockcastle pay scale for drivers to be in line with other comparable districts.

A Mock Disaster Drill was held Thursday afternoon by members of the local Disaster and Emergency Service. Above, Millie Eaton, Emergency Room Tech at the Rockcastle Hospital, tags a patient who was brought in from the Mt. Vernon Plastics Company. Gary Asher, local director of the DES said that mandatory drill went off without a hitch.

Gilpatrick murder trial will start Monday in Pulaski County

The murder trial of Allen Gilpatrick of Mt. Vernon is set to get underway Monday in Pulaski Circuit Court.

Gilpatrick, 48, is accused of brutally beating his wife, Virginia "Ginny" Gilpatrick, 55, to death in their West Main Street Mt. Vernon home on February 7 of last year.

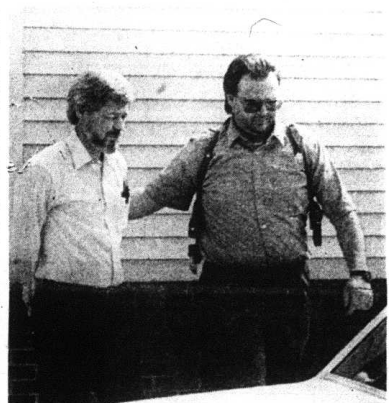

Mt. Vernon police believe that Allen Gilpatrick beat his wife, almost beyond recognition, with a homemade billy club before he stabbed her one time.

Police found both murder weapons in the Gilpatrick house. The homemade billy club was found in a bloody paperbag, which, according to police, had Gilpatrick's fingerprint on it.

The fingerprint in the blood stains was the main evidence police used when they presented the case to the Rockcastle County Grand Jury last March.

Gilpatrick's trial has been continued several times, but his attorney John Clontz said Tuesday that he did not believe the trial would be delayed but that a pre-trial conference was scheduled for Friday at which time prosecutors and defense will know for sure if it is a go.

The trial has been moved to Pulaski County because of a change of venue order issued by Circuit Judge Dan Venters. In issuing the order, Venters said that due to all of the local publicity, it would be very difficult to select an impartial jury in Rockcastle County.

Mt. Vernon police arrested Allen Gilpatrick at his office in the Scott Building last March.

Board will spend $60,000 on Brodhead school

By: Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Board of Education voted last week to spend between $60-$65,000 on improvements at Brodhead school.

An intercom system and 64 new windows are among the improvements that will be made to the school this summer.

Local school Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., told the board that all of the improvements to the elementary school were recommendations that came out of the facility survey of the local planning committee.

Towery said that the 64 replacement windows will seal out moisture and prevent further damage to walls, ceilings and floors. The windows, Towery said, will also result in increased energy savings and make the building more secure.

Ceiling tile and drop-in fluorescent lights for classrooms, hallways and the cafeteria covering some 19,724 square feet will also be installed.

With the closing of Livingston school this fall, BES would have been the only county school without an intercom.

The board also approved five additional days of professional development for teachers, but not without a lengthy discussion by board members and some hard questions for teachers by member Dr. G.W. Griffith.

Although Supt. Towery told the board that the five extra days of professional development were needed because of all the changes Kentucky school are still going through, Griffith questioned whether or not teachers were actually receiving professional development or catching up on paper work.

"I certainly think that extra professional development is essential in any profession, but I don't want these days turned into a grading papers day," said the local physician. Griffith questioned whether or not some math portfolios were graded by teachers during a recent professional development day and said, "These days should be used for simply what it says, professional development."

"It bothers me to see teachers out of school on days when they are scheduled to be receiving training," Griffith said.

Students will not attend the five days that teachers receive the additional professional development. That means instead of 175 days for students next year, they will attend only 170, the same as this school

In other business the board voted to:

- issue GED certificates to Iona Cromer, Orville Cromer, Sherry J. Frith, Daniel E. Gray, Debbie J. Isaac, Crystal G. Lawson, Rhonda K. Payne, Leah Rowe, Pearl Sowder, Patricia M. Stanfield and Lynda S. Weaver.
- approve an additional leave of absence for Patricia Lynn Wilson, a

Crop reporting deadline May 15

When producers apply for the 1994 farm programs, they may report the acreage and intended uses of their wheat, oats, barley, rye and other fall-seeded crops, according to Harold Ballinger, CED of the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. The sign-up period ends April 29th.

"Fall-seeded crops which are not reported by May 15, will be ineligible for program benefits," Ballinger said.

He said producers who have already seeded spring crops or know the intended acreage to be planted to spring-seeded crops may also report the acreage and intended uses of these crops at sign-up.

To be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and other program benefits, producers must report their actual acreage planted or harvested.

"Producers who may be undecided about the 1994 programs, or who have questions about certifying their fall-seeded crops should contact our office for more information," the ASCS office said.

Charles, McClure indicted

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury indicted a Brodhead couple on charges that they used minors, all girls, in sexual performances.

The charges against Allen Charles, 35, of Brodhead, a dairy farm laborer and Charlotte McClure, 29, also of Brodhead, span a two and a half year period, in which McClure and Charles are accused of sexually exploiting eight children, including McClure's daughter, all of whom were under sixteen years old.

McClure is free on bond and Charles is still lodged in the Rockcastle County jail. The two will be arraigned on April 22, before Circuit Judge Dan Venters.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, here's your reader request—is "that church business meeting story" I penned in '92.

Harmony Chapel Church had a big turnout for business meeting last week. They discussed building a "Fellowship Hall" for church dinners, wedding receptions, and the like. Last month, Theo Taulbee, Harmony's most miserly member, tried to scuttle the project but got nowhere. His maneuver didn't rile his sister, Hattie Amos, but she kept quiet. (About all Theo and Hattie have in common are their parents and an amazing ability to abuse the mother tongue.) Ap Thomas, who has yet to have an original thought, echoes everything Theo says. Ap asked how in the kingdom come they would ever pay for the construction, let alone the upkeep. Bro. Aeshal Gorforth, pastor and moderator, said there is a "goodly amount" in the Building Fund (it's been accumulating since Noah parked the ark on Ararat). Then, Esby Atherton, head deacon and a director of People's Bank in Siler said the church could borrow the rest.

Clovis Smith, normally a "nay" vote no matter what, flabbergasted everyone when he said, "Me and my woman here likes the notion." (Her name is Oatney.) Clovis does think, however, that the church ought not spend good money on a lot of showy stuff like the town churches "who'll be tryin' to outdo each other come Judgment Day."

Then Bro. Aeshal recognized Ira McClung. "Preacher, I want everybody here to know I'm fer this thing one hunner per cent," said Ira, "and I'll give a dollar or two a month 'til she's paid for. But one thing bothers me."
"What's that, Ira?" asked Bro. Aeshal.
"Whatever we do, don't connect that eatin' room to this here meeting house." Ira said his brother Will's church up in Maysville put up an "eatin' hall," and the next year more members died than in any year in the church's history, dating back before the '37 flood.

"Some folks laid it on the flu and a hard winter," Ira went on, "but my brother Will said it was the wrath of the Almighty at work. Somewhere the Bible says—I forget whether Will said it was in the Old Bible or the New—it's a sin to eat in church. But after Will showed 'em the light, they tore down the covered walkway that linked them buildin's and things got better. So folks, let's not make the same mistake."

Bro. Aeshal thanked Ira and assured him his words would be remembered. Then he appointed a Fellowship Hall Feasibility Committee. Thinking he would humor Theo and Ap, he asked them to serve on the committee -- where they could be watched.

Theo stood up slowly and spoke in his "humble" voice, "Preacher, I'm duly honored at being asked to serve, but on account of the way my lumbago's actin' up, I'll have to decline." Well, before Theo could sit down, Ap sprang up and said, "It's about the same with me, Preacher. I'll have to decline, too."

Then Hattie, Theo's sister, took out the floor. It was obvious she was put out with Ap for aping Theo. "I know the Bible frowns on women speakin' in church," she said, "but I figure since Sam's passed away, I should speak for 'em." Bro. Aeshal, who's a tad liberal on the woman issue, said it would be all right.

Hattie aimed an evil eye at Ap and her brother and said, "I side with the thinkin' people here tonight who knows we need this new buildin'." She reckoned her daughter, Uta, might not have eloped last month "if she'd had a decent place to celebrate after the ceremonial."

"It's a dyin' shame," Hattie added, "that the nearest place for dinners and such is that cigar stinkin' old Mason's Hall twenty miles away over in Siler."

"A-A-a-men, Hattie!" whooped Tillie Hahn, president of the Alliance of Good Godly Homemakers (AGGH). Tillie doesn't give a shekel who's right about women keeping quiet in church.

"I've been a sittin' here thinkin'," Hattie continued, looking trance-like toward the vaulted ceiling. "Wouldn't it have been nice if Uta and Darryl Gulla said their wedding vows right here in this beautiful old sanctuary, and then we all could have gone right into a new Fellowship Hall and had the conception?"

Bro. Aeshal asked for a motion to adjourn--and got three!

give out to any Kentuckian who needs it. The board, however, will not review rate increases by insurance companies. Instead, the state Commissioner of Insurance will have that power.

The provider tax called for in the original draft remains intact. The tax will be used to fund the state Medicaid system.

A health purchasing alliance will be established to help Kentuckians who do not have insurance. The alliance will be comprised of state employees and eventually government employees at the city and county level. Kentuckians who find health insurance premiums are too high for them to pay will be able to get cheaper rates through this alliance.

Kentuckians who have been denied health insurance because of pre-existing conditions will no longer have to go without insurance. Instead, there will be a maximum six-month limitation because of pre-existing conditions.

A few hours after the House passed the health care legislation, Gov. Brereton Jones held a ceremony in the rounds of the capital building to sign the bill into law. "This is a big day in Kentucky," Jones said. "We have had many major accomplishments during our administration, but this is the one I have looked forward to with the greatest anticipation."

In the aftermath of the passage of health care reform, however, sits a proposed state budget that nobody can seem to agree on. House members voted last week to uphold the governor's veto of the budget bill. The action means the legislature will have to convene in special session sometime before July 1 to hammer out a compromise. The budget, by law, must be passed before it takes effect.

In the Senate:

- Sen. John Rogers, R-Somerset, stepped aside from his post as Senate Minority Floor Leader after being indicted on extortion charges. The indictment came after an investigation into a questionable 1984 banking bill. Republicans will be led by Sen. Tom Buford, R-Nicholasville, caucus chairman, and Sen. Charlie Borders, R-Russell, minority whip. Rogers is not expected to resign.

Legislature passes health care reform; budget woes to be taken up during future special session of General Assembly.

Thunder roared over the stained glass window above the chamber of the state House of Representatives.

I know insurance companies have been telling people their insurance rates are going up because of this health care reform," Rep. Greg Stumbo, D-Prestonsburg and House Majority Floor Leader, said as rain drops pelted the window in the chamber ceiling.

"But if insurance companies think they can rip Kentuckians off and blame it on this bill, they're wrong. They're not going to get away with it. It's a lie, and it's worse than that, it's a 5% lie."

"It could have been worse," Stumbo continued. "We could have not had the opportunity to pass this bill."

Even a tornado warning for Franklin County could not stop the debate on House Bill 250, a bill designed at reforming health care in the state. The bill passed and was signed into law by Gov. Brereton Jones on the last day of the 1994 General Assembly.

Some people in the state capital building headed quickly for the basement and the underground tunnel that connects the capital to the capital annex building when word of twisters in the area spread.

House members, however, remained undaunted.

"This about winds this session up in good shape," Rep. Marshall Long, D-Shelbyville, said with a laugh as word of the tornado warning spread throughout the chamber.

A few House members stood to protest during the regular session of the General Assembly in 1996.

As passed, health care reforms call for:

Gov. Jones sets date for next "Open Door After Four"

On Monday, April 25, at 4 p.m., Governor Jones will open his office door in the State Capitol, and will meet with any Kentuckian who wishes to speak with him about any subject. The Governor promises to stay in his office at the Capitol until he meets with every person who registers. Members of his staff also will be available to help those people wishing assistance.

Those wishing to speak with the Governor will be seen on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration will begin at 2 p.m. in the Capitol Rotunda. The public is advised that, in previous "Open Door" sessions, so many people have signed up to meet with the Governor that a wait of several hours is not uncommon.

According to the Division of Historic Properties, visitors are reminded that signs mounted on poles are not allowed inside the Capitol, and groups wishing assistance for their signs must do so outside the Capitol building and must apply for a permit through the Division of Historic Properties.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

The weekend worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend, and our Sunday School attendance was one hundred and one (101). We thank the good Lord for each one.

Our Spring Revival closed Friday evening April 15th. We certainly enjoyed the good messages delivered by Bro. Ronald Rose, our evangelist.

Even though there were no additions at this time to our church we hope and pray souls will be saved in other revivals in progress at this time. We should always rejoice and be thankful where we hear of anyone being saved regardless of who it is or wherever it is. And if we are born again, Christians we will feel that way, and love all people. This world needs love and more love, as we can all see what a chaos it has become. When the people turn their back on God, they pay the consequences and as the old saying goes, "We ain't seen nothing yet." It will get worse as the world gets darker, we must let our light shine brighter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey and Elizabeth Thomas left Saturday morning for their new home in Murray. They have been our friends and neighbors for many years and members of our church. We certainly will miss them, but they have our love and prayers.

We wish for them a happy life in their new location and above all, we hope they will be satisfied. God bless them.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ray and Sherry Isaacs on the birth of their new son, Lucas, born Friday, April 8th. They also have another son, Logan, nearly two years old. We wish for them all much happiness and good health and above all God's blessings.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and Logan Isaacs attended the birthday party of their grandson, Jeremy Davidson given at the home of his parents Rex and Jewell Davidson of Brohead on Tuesday night, April 12th. He is ten years old. Others attending were, of course his parents and sister Jenia; and Gerald and Irene Alexander and children Cody and Courtney of Sand Springs. We wish for Jeremy many more happy birthdays. He is such a sweet little boy and we all love him.

Well, I'd better close this edition as this is a busy time, and this is potato planting day.

So try to attend the church of your choice and pray one for another. God bless you all.

Mrs. Lelia Jones, were in Lexington, Friday.

Mrs. Betty McKinney is seriously ill in the Somerset hospital.

Brad Mullins and his two sons, of Robinson, Ill., visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullins, during the weekend.

Mrs. Bertha Deshields of Louisville passed away during the past week. She was a long time resident of Livingston. She taught a Sunday School Class and was pianist of the Christian Church for years.

Sympathy is extended to the Hammond and Nicley families in the passing of Ella Mae.

Mrs. Warren Albright of Alabama visited Mrs. Jewel Albright and Mother for awhile Wednesday.

Mrs. Willard Nicely is on the sick list. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Roberta Cravins of Ohio spent Wednesday and Wednesday night with Mrs. Lucille Brown.

Poet's Corner

My Queen
April 6, 1994
By: Lewis F. Bowling

Today is a special day
The birthday of one that's gone away,
January twenty-six, nineteen eighty-seven
The Death Angel came and took her to heaven.

Time is so short, yet seems so long,
As I go back over the years that have gone,
Each day I think of her as time goes by,
Good memories all, yet at times I cry.

I know some day, I know not when,
We will be together again,
When we will meet to part no more,
On Heaven's bright shore.

In my dreams she is young and fair,
The sun is shining on her beautiful hair,
Her eyes are sparkling like the dew,
With her love for me showing through.

Now I must bring this to an end,
I hope I did not bore you, friend,
Though she is gone and we are far apart,

She will always be the queen of my heart.

In remembrance of my wife Roxie Brock Bowling.

Motivating Your Child
Keep Your Child Interested in Writing:

When kids are young, they love to write stories, letters and even books. But for many children, that enthusiasm fades quickly. Here's how you can help your child enjoy writing:

- 1) Remember that adults write for real reasons. Kids will be more likely to write if they, too, are given real-world reasons for putting their words on paper.
- 2) Write a poem for a name. Use the first letters of your child's name to create a poem. B is for Brenda, bright and beautiful.

R is for reading and running all right.

E is for experience, extending my reach.

N is for nursery school I want to teach.

D is for dancing and digging each day.

A is for ambitious cause that's my way.

- 3) Create a time line. When your child learns about a series of events, a time line can help show how they fit together. Create a time line for your child's life.

4) Write a sequel. If your child has a favorite book, have her write the next chapter.

5) Write a list if your child is a babysitter, have him create a kit of information he'll need on the job. He might include basic safety rules, ideas for entertaining children and emergency information. If your child enjoys a hobby, the list could include projects.

- 6) Write new lyrics to a popular melody.

Nutrition and Fitness

LES students continue to participate in a nutrition and fitness class held each Thursday afternoon. We appreciate the important information and hands-on activities that Ms. Lynette Fortney, from the Health Department has provided.

Parenting Fair

We want to thank the Family Resource Center for organizing the parenting fair at MVES this past Saturday. This fair helped in connecting Rockcastle County Families with community resources. We hope that this event will be continued in the future.

In addition to the transitional tests, Roundstone fourth and eighth grade students will participate in a series of tests called Performance Events on Thursday, April 28. Performance Events testing provides an opportunity for students to show what they can do while working together in small groups. These tests cannot be made up; therefore, it is important for fourth and eighth grade students to be present on the twenty-eighth.

Students in primary levels three and four (formerly referred to as second and third grades) and fifth, sixth and seventh grades are taking tests similar to the transitional tests. These tests are referred to as continuous progress tests. These students do not participate in the Performance Events testing.

Maroon and white decorated the Roundstone gymnasium as parents, cheerleaders, players, coaches and special guests gathered to celebrate the Eagles' successes during the 1993-94 season.

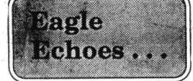

During the ceremonies special comments acknowledged that (while intramural games continue) the close of this year's season ushered in the close of formal school teams at Roundstone Elementary since sixth, seventh, and eighth grades will be moving into the new Rockcastle County Middle School in the fall.

A number of Eagles supporters received recognition at the banquet. Appreciation certificates went to Mrs. Sharon Thacker and Teresa Robinson who diligently followed the teams providing support as a statisticians and scorekeepers, to Jewel Jackson who opened many games with the National Anthem; to former cheerleading coach Tracy Gabbard for his guidance and dedication; and to Scott Parkey who volunteered many assistant coaching hours throughout the athletic seasons.

Appreciation award will be sent to other former coaches and supporters who received acknowledgement during the ceremonies. Certificates will go to former cheerleading coach Vickie Scott; former boys' basketball coach Harry L. Holland; and former girls' basketball coach Cathy Short. Appreciation certificates will also go to Lisa Reams for her strong support of girls' basketball at Roundstone and to Clyde Burdette for his strong support of boys' and girls' basketball by consistently being available as team bus driver.

Coaches Darla Reams and Tanya Clark presented Girls' Basketball Awards to Courtney Cobb, Miss Defense; Wendy Himes, Most Valuable Player; Jackie Johnson, Miss Hustle; Most Rebounds, Most Steals; Heather Rucker, Most Improved; April

KIRIS Testing in Progress

At Roundstone this week students in primary level three through the eighth grade joined students around the state to demonstrate what they have learned. Students are taking tests to provide schools with data needed for the Kentucky Instructional Results Information System (KIRIS). These transitional tests began Tuesday, April 19, and are scheduled to conclude on Monday, April 25. Most test will be administered between 8:30 and 10 a.m. each day.

Of course, students do their best work on these tests if they are rested and have had breakfast. In addition, students generally do their best when they take the tests with their class.

The Art of Dance
Dance artist, Chris Doerflinger, made her first of a series of visits to Roundstone last week. Sixth grade homeroom teacher, Tracy Gabbard, worked with District Basic Arts Coordinator, Allen Pensol to design the residency. The elements of dance (movement, space, time, force, technique, and expression) are being incorporated into other classroom disciplines, particularly social studies and science. The theme of this project is "Dance the Universe." The movement of the universe is a focus, but also the changing seasons, weather and forces of nature will be included as a total study. "Dance with the Universe," will strengthen the students' interpretation of portfolio writing, communication skills and the value of their own self-esteem and their place in society. This project includes all fifth and sixth grade students. A school wide performance is scheduled in May.

Practicing some dance movements at Roundstone Elementary are Jacob Burdette, Stewart Abney and Niki Moore. Coach Darla Reams is in the background.

Managing Pyrethroid-Resistant horn flies

By Tom Mills
County Extension Agent for Agriculture

Development of insecticide-resistant horn flies is a selection process similar to that used to improve a cattle herd. Continuous use of a particular active ingredient can kill susceptible flies. Survivors produce offspring that are harder to kill, meaning a control failure. The active ingredient that once gave good control is no longer effective.

Resistance has developed at several locations in Kentucky where cattle ear tags impregnated with synthetic pyrethroid insecticides were used for several consecutive years. So far, no resistance problem has been seen with organophosphate insecticides. These two insecticide classes attack the nervous system of the horn fly differently so rotation keeps from pressuring one activity site.

Here are some tips for using insecticide-impregnated ear tags:

- 1) Rotate synthetic pyrethroids with organophosphates. Avoid continued use of a particular class of insecticide year after year.
- 2) Wait to tag. Begin treatment when there are 200 or more flies per animal. This may not occur until early to mid-June. Treating too early, especially with ear tags, may mean poor control in late summer when the flies are most abundant and can lead to resistance.
- 3) Change application methods regularly. Use dust bags, backrub-bers, or sprays instead of relying continuously on ear tags. Continued use of an insecticide in a slow release form (ear tag) may eventually lead to resistance.

4) Lactating cows and growing calves appear to have the greatest potential for loss to horn fly attack. Give them top priority.

Confirmed problems with pyrethroid-resistant horn flies in Kentucky are infrequent but can occur anywhere. The suggestions listed above should minimize the potential for future problems. However, practices on surrounding farms will have an effect on flies. Should resistance develop, these suggestions are the only way to obtain satisfactory control.

There are many brand names and switching between brands in not the objective of ear tag rotation. Switch between organophosphate and synthetic pyrethroid active ingredients.

Rockets are 5-2

By: Jason Coguer

Rockets 5 • Estill Co. 1
The Rockets got a complete game from sophomore Scottie Cotton as they cruised to a 5 to 1 victory over visiting Estill Co. in the first game of a twin bill last Saturday.

Cotton scattered six hits, struck out six and gave up one unearned run to get the win, his first of the season. The Rockets were out-hit six to five, but were able to take advantage of some aggressive baserunning and timely hits to knock their fourth win of the year.

The first score for the home team came in the second inning when senior Jason Payne was able to steal home on a passed ball to home plate to give the Rockets a 1-0 lead.

In the third, the Rockets blew it wide open as they sent nine batters to the plate and came away with four runs off three hits (extend their lead to 5-0).

The hit-and-run was worked to perfection with Micky McClure stealing second as J.D. Bussell drove the ball to centerfield for a single. McClure was able to get to third and Bussell moved to second.

Michael Shaffer walked and the bases were loaded for Cotton. However, the first run in the inning was scored compliments of the Estill Co.

pitcher who threw the ball away trying to pick Shaffer off first, allowing McClure to score easily.

Then Cotton helped himself with a one-run scoring single that brought Bussell home and stretched the Rocket lead to 3-0.

After an Estill pitching change, Kelly Gentry got a single that scored Shaffer and another throwing error on an attempted pick-off play enabled Cotton to score from third to give the Rockets their 5-0 lead.

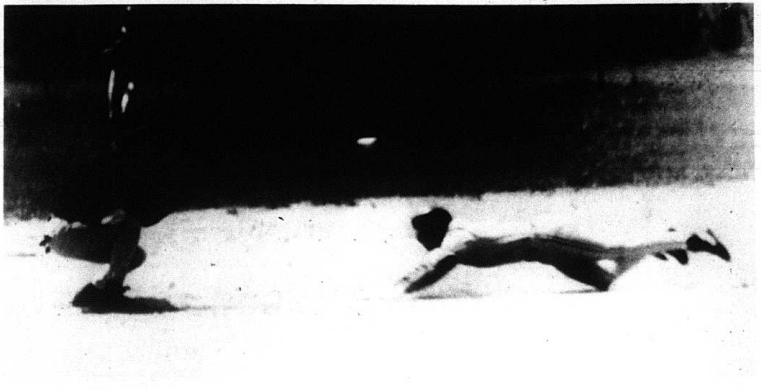

Estill's only score came on a balk by Cotton that sent the runner from third across the plate.

After that, Cotton retired the next 10 of 12 batters, allowing only a base hit and a walk to shut down the Engineers and pick up the win.

Rockets 6 • Estill Co. 3
In the second game of the double header, J.D. Bussell pitched 4 1/3 strong innings and had three RBIs, including a three-run homer, as the Rockets came away with a 6-3 win.

Bussell (1-0) allowed three runs off six hits and struck out six to help the Rockets win their fifth straight and remain unbeaten.

Bussell left in the fourth after giving up an Estill Co. solo home run, a base on balls and a clean single.

"YOU'RE OUT!" and the Engineer from Estill Co. was on the throw from catcher Aaron Cox to shortstop J.D. Bussell. As can

Lady Rockets sweep double

By: Jason Coguer

Lady Rockets 4, Lincoln 2
The Lady Rockets softball team opened their season at home last Wednesday, winning a double-header impressively over a good Lincoln Co. team.

In the first game, the Lady Rockets cruised to a 4-2 victory behind Kristi Moore's 2 for 3 effort which included a double and a three-run homer.

The Rockets scored their first run of the season as Cindy McCauley hit a triple that scored Janet McLamern. Then, in the bottom of the second, the Lady Rockets had runners at 1st and 2nd with no outs.

Kristi Moore came to the plate and came through big with a three-run shot that cleared the bases and the Rockets were ahead 4-0.

That would be a big enough lead for pitcher Melinda Smith and she did not allow a run until the sixth inning. Smith picked up the win, allowing only five hits and two runs.

Lady Rockets 11, Lincoln 10
Angie Moore's no-out triple, scoring left fielder Cindy McCauley from 1st in the bottom of the 7th, gave the Lady Rockets a wild 11-10 victory over Lincoln Co. in the second game of the double-header.

Coach Debbie Cash saw just how explosive her Lady Rockets offense could be when they scored 6 runs in the first inning.

But, Lincoln came back with five runs of their own to close the gap to 5-6.

But, Rockcastle came right back with three more runs in the home half of the second, including a McCauley two-run blast that gave Rockcastle an 8-6 lead.

However, Lincoln refused to quit and rallied in the top of the sixth for 4 runs, mainly on some costly Lady Rocket errors, to tie the score at 9-9. Then, Rockcastle pitcher Melinda Smith scored the go-ahead run off Amy Parker's single.

In the top of the 7th, the Lady Rockets could not hang on to their one-run lead as Lincoln scored on smart base running to tie the game at 10-10.

The Rockets sent McCauley to the plate and she delivered a base hit to put the go-ahead run at first.

Then, Angie Moore stepped to the plate and knocked a triple that scored the winning run.

McCauley finished four for four, including a triple, a two-run homer and three RBIs, as the Lady Rockets got off to a great start on their season at 2-0.

Lady Rockets 12, Garrard Co. 4
Homeruns by senior outfielder Cindy McCauley and freshman catcher Suzie Carpenter helped power the Lady Rockets past Garrard Co. 12-4, making them 3-0 on the season.

It was the second straight game the Lady Rockets have scored ten or more runs.

Suzie Carpenter was red hot as she had a two-run homer in the fourth and then added a three-run blast in the fifth, finishing with five RBIs for the game.

McCauley added a two-run homer in the sixth as the Lady Rocket onslaught continued.

Pitcher Melinda Smith did her job on the mound, allowing only three earned runs and one walk to capture her 3rd win of the season.

Lady Rockets 4, Model 20
It is either feast or famine for the Lady Rockets as they lost their first game of the season at the hands of Model Lab School 20-4.

The hard-hitting Lady Rockets ran into a tough Model team which held the Rockets to only 4 runs off 5 hits.

The Rockets had been averaging almost 10 runs per game and were riding a three-game winning streak when they ran into the Model buzz saw.

Angie Moore was the lone bright spot for Rockcastle, going 2 for 2 with a single and a triple and two runs scored.

These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The County Clerk prepares her financial statement on a prescribed basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the cash basis and laws of Kentucky, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements and excess fees of the County Clerk for the year ended December 31, 1993, in conformity with the basis of accounting described above.

Ky. Stone honors employees for service

Kentucky Stone Company would like to recognize two employees on their 35 years of service. Left to right: Monroe Falin from Palaski Plant and Billy Reynolds from Mt. Vernon plant. Both men receive a large hard hat and a watch. Congratulations to both!

But, in the bottom of the third, with McClure on first, Bussell hit a towering shot to left field that easily cleared the fence. The two-run homer put the Rockets ahead to stay at 4-2.

Estill Co. refused to quit and, in the fourth, added a solo homer to get within one run at 4-3. After a walk and a base hit, Estill Co. threatened to take the lead.

But Coach Ryan Riddle went to the bull pen and brought in Shaffer and from there it was academic as Shaffer struck out the first two batters and kill the rally.

The bottom half of the fifth saw doubles by Payne and Bussell to push the lead to 5 to 3 and the Rockets increased their lead to 6-3 on Cotton's squeeze bunt to score Bussell from third.

Shaffer mowed down the next six batters he faced and the Rockets remained unbeaten with a perfect record of 5-0.

Rockets 6 - Knox Central 3
The Rockets lost their first game of the season Monday at home to a tough Knox Central team, blowing a 2-0 lead in the top of the 7th.

With two out in the top of the 7th and the bases loaded, the Panthers were able to score six times to earn the 6-3 win.

Rockets 7 - Clay Co. 5
Despite a home run by Aaron Cox and a two-run blast by J.D. Bussell, the Rockets couldn't hold off a fine Clay Co. team Tuesday in district play at Roundstone field, losing 7-5.

With the score tied 2-2 in the top of the fifth and the bases loaded and two out, Clay Co. was able to take advantage of Rocket miscues and scored three times to take a 5-2 lead.

But, Bussell came back in the bottom of the inning when Bussell hit a huge two-run shot over the left center field fence to pull the Rockets within one at 5-4.

Clay Co. got a two-out double and single to score two more runs in the top of the seventh to stretch their lead to 7-4.

The Rockets tried to rally in the bottom of the seventh with McClure's infield hit which scored Greg Bowman from third but the rally ended there.

The Rockets are now 5-2 overall and 1-1 in district play.

In Loving Memory of Mildred Ann Bullock who passed away two years ago on April 20th.

There comes to me from out of the past a recollection true a living glimpse of bygone days dear memories of you.

I have within my dearest heart a picture of your face. And though the years may come and go time never can erase. Still gently stealing through the night are dreams that passed me by and I will ever reminisce till the stars fall from the sky. The things we did I live again like it was yesterday and I am filled with tears that over flow by what my thoughts portray. Your voice that echoed through the years that brought me happy hours still rings in my ears at the midnight hour and in the garden of my memories blooms the fairest flower.

We are so sad when those we love are called to live in that home above. Our hearts grieve when we have to say good-bye but some day we will meet them again in that cloudless sky. Gone but never forgotten and always loved by,
Mom and Day
Brothers and Sisters

In memory of our dad, James Burdine, on his birthday, April 17

It seems like only yesterday Since you left us Though soon a year will have gone.

I still find myself looking for you, Listening (and sometimes hearing) For your voice being carried by the wind.

I never knew how much I depended on you Until you were no longer there To give the much needed advice.

Now there is only an empty chair, An empty place in my heart and life, And empty shoes no one could ever fill.

I only wish I could have told you Of the pride that I felt
I only wish that I had said -
I Love You, Dad.

If policy is adopted RCHS students could lose license for poor grades, attendance

By: Richard Anderkin
RCHS students who don't make the grade or don't show up at school on a regular basis, may find themselves on foot.

A new policy currently under review by the Rockcastle County Board of Education would suspend RCHS students' drivers license for poor performance in the classroom and for receiving unexcused absences.

According to the draft under review, presented to the board at last week's monthly meeting, any 16 or 17-year-old student who becomes academically deficient or deficient in attendance shall be reported to the Ky. Transportation Cabinet for driver's license revocation.

The draft reads further, "a student shall be deemed deficient in attendance when he or she drops out of school or has nine unexcused absences in a class for the preceding semester. Suspensions by school administrators shall be considered unexcused absences."

Students that do not pass at least four courses in a preceding semester would also have their driver's license suspended.
Rockcastle County Director of Pupils Personnel Director Larry Hammond said that he is in favor of the new policy.

"I think if students know they will not be able to drive if they do not try to at least pass four classes and come to school on a regular basis, they will indeed make a more concerted effort," Hammond said.

The law has been in effect in Kentucky for several years, and many

EKU Show Choir to perform Apr. 23

Pop, Country, Stage and Screen. Contemporary. Inspirational.

You'll hear it all when Eastern Kentucky University's Show Choir, the state's only collegiate show choir, performs in concert Saturday, April 23. The event begins at 7:30 p.m. in Brock Auditorium. Admission is $1.

You'll also hear the grand champions from EKU's second annual High School Show Choir Spectacular, to be held all day at Renfro Valley.

EKU's Show Choir, which routinely attracts large audiences for its fall and spring concerts, combines vocals, instrumentals and choreography in high-energy performances. Some of the group selections to be presented include medleys from country music, "Oklahoma," and "Sister Act." Other group numbers include "Free Ride," "Rocky Top," and "Bohemian Rhapsody."

surrounding school districts already have the policy in place.

"It is pretty simple, to evaluate a student's performance at the end of each semester and if they have fallen below the guidelines, the school system notifies the department of transportation in Frankfort and the student's license is revoked," Hammond said. "If a student improves their scores above the guidelines in the next semester and if they do not get more than nine unexcused absences, the school district notifies Frankfort and the student gets their license back," Hammond said. "This policy will also affect students who simply quit school for no reason as well," he said.

The school board will make a decision on the new policy at their May meeting.

Rep. Danny Ford named "Taxpayers' Best Friend"

State Representative Dnny Ford was named "Taxpayers' Best Friend" by Kentucky Taxpayers United (KTU) during an awards ceremony held Tuesday in Frankfort.

Certificates were awarded to Representative Ford and several other legislators during a news conference held in the Capitol Rounda. KTU is a non-partisan citizens watchdog group that seeks to educate the public on the extent to which their elected officials support tax increases. KTU is an affiliate of the National Taxpayers Union, which has a membership of over 275,000 nationwide. The Kentucky organization was formed last year, and has researched the voting records of state lawmakers on key spending and taxation issues.

According to KTU Chairman Rand Paul, this award was presented to Representative Ford for his consistent efforts to curb state spending and reduce the size and scope of state government. The KTU scoring system is based on eleven votes that were taken on tax and spending bills since 1990.

"I was very pleased to accept this award on behalf of the taxpayers of my district," Representative Ford said.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

Paul in 1 Cor. 7:17-28 gives some very important principles that we need to carefully consider and develop for a few moments.

In verse 17, Paul said, "But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called everyone, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches." These principles that he talks about is for all the churches of the Lord. He points out in vs. 18-19 that we may be called by the gospel and be uncircumcised or circumcised but it's not necessary to change either state to be a Christian. In vs. 20, "Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called." Then in vs. 21-23, Paul points out that whether we are a slave or a freeman, we can serve the Lord and these things do not have to be changed to be a Christian, (though if the slave could be freed, this would be better). "Brethren, let every man wherein he is called, there abide with God. Paul points out that in view of the present distress, it would be good for men and women to remain single. In vs. 27, Paul shows that the man bound to a wife should not seek to be loosed nor should the man that is loosed from a wife seek a wife. But if he did, it would not be sin vs. 28. You see, you don't have to become unmarried to be a Christian nor do you have to get married to be a Christian either.

But let me point out an erroneous doctrine that is being taught by some today about these verses. One is teaching that a man or woman who are in an unscriptural marriage, which is an adulterous relationship, can "abide in same calling" wherein they are called. Such is not true! Paul is not talking about abiding in sinful activity. If adulterers, who have violated God's marriage law, Mt. 19:9, can abide in the same calling, why can't fornicators or homosexuals or drunkards abide in the same calling? No, adulterers must repent and put away their adultery as the fornicator, homosexual, drunkard must put away their sin in becoming Christians.

Some of the Corinthians were guilty of these sins, 1 Cor. 6:9-11 but they repented and obeyed the gospel, and were washed in the blood of Christ. Be not deceived by vain words beloved!

Dear Pizza Hut Business Manager:
Our letter to you today comes with our heart-felt thanks and gratitude.

As inter-state travelers, my family and I stopped for lunch at your restaurant in a hospital.

We had already traveled many hours and my oldest son Joe had begun to feel ill, with stomach distress and shaking. We were seated at a booth, my youngest son collapsed and fell out onto the floor unconscious. Your manager Pam immediately came to our aid, folding her own jacket to place under my son's head while he tried to come himself. Pam, then got our some food right away to help my oldest son's shaking. When it was determined the boys were not going to need an ambulance, but medical attention, she had us follow her through town and directly to the emergency room at Rockcastle Hospital. Pam offered to return for us to escort us back to the expressway when we were out of the hospital.

Very seldom in this fast-paced world does anyone come into contact with a person of Pam's calibre, one who cares and love for others, even total strangers whom she probably will never see again. Pam is such a person, and we would have felt helpless without her kindness, love and caring. We wish to have Pam recognized by her employer as well her community, for she truly does personify the term "good and faithful Samaritan."

P.S. Our sons are both totally recovered back to mischief! Bless you Pam!

With sincerest thanks,
Marcus J. Gardner and Family

as an offense against another person or another person's property. You can look now and find it has been changed to read... "an act committed or omitted in violation of a law forbidding or commanding it; and for which punishment is imposed upon conviction. Now one must ask, "Won't this new meaning create a dictatorship?" What if Congress passed a law saying who can and can not have children and just how many you could have (?) If you did break this "law," would you now be a criminal subject to confiscation of the contraband you are in possession of? e.i. That being your child.

As we are saved by these kinds of acts through our system of democcracy? Would that be the same system of democracy that is led by Congress? Did Congress think that was democracy when it gave itself a pay raise in secret in 1991-92? Should we not resist a perverted meaning of the word crime before the meaning of freedom is destroyed and there is none left? You change the meaning of freedom in our dictionaries and you change the meaning of what has been said by Gary Shepherd and by so many others...

Dear Editor,
Recently consumer advocates Bobby Joe Bullen and Junior Halcomb Griffin attended the National Alliance for the Mentally Ill (N.A.M.I.) Convention at the Fontainebleau Hilton in Miami Beach, Florida last year.

An article concerning the outcome of the convention was published by the Kentucky Mental Health Advocate for Consumer's Advocacy.

Office of Consumer Advocacy established Frankfort -- For months Jimmie Persley, Margaret Penninton, Ellen Garrison, and many others prepared for the hiring of a fulltime person to work with consumer issues for the department.

Dr. Paul Weaver, a 21 year veteran of school and university administration, was selected to establish the office.

He recently completed visits to all 14 regions and state hospitals meeting with some 1,300 staff and consumers in individual interviews or in groups. Weaver brings a strong background and interests in quality assurance to the department.

Dear Editor,
April is Child Abuse Prevention Month. Each of us should make a personal commitment to find ways to end this tragedy. The National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, The Kentucky Council on Child Abuse, Department for Social Services and the Rockcastle County Health Department are calling on local organizations -- professional, business, religious, volunteer and educational -- to end abuse in their communities. We are asking individuals including parents, teacher, counselors, social workers, neighbors, friends, business owners and relatives to make a personal commitment to intervene where necessary to prevent child maltreatment.

We should each take a step to assure that growing up is a safe journey for all children. Here are a few suggestions for what we all can do when we see parents abuse their children in public:

Sympathize with the parent. Say something like, "She seems to be trying your patience," or "My child used to get upset like that."

Divert the angry parent away from the child. Strike up a conversation with the adult. Ask a question or directions, anything to provide a distraction and the time for the parent's anger to subside.

Compliment or praise the parent or child. Say something positive. "What a big, strong boy you have. How old is he?" or "It's a lot of work to shop with a child. You have my admiration for managing it."

Offer sympathy and help. Sometimes a parent's anger is fueled by some embarrassment at the fuss the child is making. "Children sure can wear you out. Is there anything I can do to help?"

Alert the store manager if you are concerned about the child's physical safety. Ask someone with authority over the parent to communicate that, "This is a safe place for children. We do not spank here."

Quietly stand guard if the child is being neglected and is in jeopardy. For example, a child left unattended in a grocery cart or at a street curb.

Do not give dirty looks or make snide remarks. Disapproval or anger will only increase the parent's anger and make matters worse. If someone else in a store or restaurant is clearly disapproving, step in and be an obvious ally to the parent by offering a kind remark or some help.

Sincerely,
Beverly Carter, Sexton

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

The Local Art Show is now on display at the library. We are hoping a lot of people will come in and see the fine art work that our local artists have done. On display are, paintings, drawings in pencil and ink, photography and some pictures done in needlework.

Those artists exhibiting their work are Betty Cain, Pat Keene, Betty Lindblom, Joyce Mink, Janette Vickers, Jane McClure, Aimee Miller, Debbie Bugg, Lydia McLemore, Phillip McLemore, Eric Hudson, Betty Whitaker, Michael Parsons and Thelma Bullock.

A reception for the artists and friends will be held Sunday afternoon, April 24th, 2 to 4 p.m. Come in to view and show these artists your appreciation and support for their fine work. We all like to be recognized for our ability and talent to create beautiful things. I would surely like to be able to paint a beautiful scene from some of the landscapes out there. I have some of the most beautiful scenery in the state of Kentucky. That is one of my goals when I ever find the time to learn the basics of art work.

Also this is National Library Week and this could be an important time to visit the library. Come in and see with you some of our services. After all the library belongs to the community and our commitment as library director and staff is to serve the needs of this county with the resources needed for pleasure reading, information, entertainment resources, videos and audio tapes, and as a supplemental source of information for students.

The library will be sponsoring a Summer Reading Program again this year. The dates are: June 20th through July 15th. We are expecting to see all the children that participated last year and many new ones. Betty is planning some special programs and activities for the children. We hope to make this an enjoyable summer program for the young people. Prizes will be awarded in different categories and age groups.

I'm glad to be back at work after being off for ten days. My husband had knee surgery and I stayed home to help him in his recovery. I want to thank the staff for filling in with my job along with their other duties during this period. Also, I attended the exhibit at the Parenting Fair for me and I thank her for doing this.

We were glad to be a part of this affair and hope that some of the parents that were present will be encouraged to bring their children in to the library. We have a children's section for the preschool and primary age group. We have lots of easy books and also toys for the children to play with while waiting for the parents.

I hadn't been able to get any new books out for the last two weeks but some new ones are available now.

1. City of Widows by Loren D. Estleman. . . Estleman's hero, Page Murdock, is sent to the tough New Mexico of 1881 to track a man and bring him to justice. But more than a trail of revenge, Murdock finds himself on a desperate odyssey. For in the Southwest a friend can turn out to be one's cruellest enemy, an enemy one's finest friend. And the woman he loves will be as voluptuous as venus and wicked as sin.

2. Lovers by Judith Krantz. . . Lovers begins in the glowingly optimistic year of 1983 as Gigi Orzini, aching for adventure, begins her first day on the job as a copywriter at the

Emergency Energy Assistance Program

The Daniel Boone Development Council announced today that an emergency energy assistance program will begin operation in Rockcastle County, beginning April 25th. The extremely cold winter caused problems for many low-income families who are faced with high utility bills, or have depleted their fuel supply. This emergency assistance will be made available to households that meet the income guidelines and are without fuel or have a disconnect notice that they can't avoid by making a minimum payment, or face eviction if the heat is included in the rent.

Applications will be taken between the hours of 8 - 12 a.m. and 1 - 4 p.m. at the Daniel Boone Development office, in Mt. Vernon. The program will continue until funds expended.

advertising agency of Frost/Rourke, Bernheim in Los Angeles. During the following year she will encounter enough professional challenges and passionate entanglements to keep even Gigi - that high-spirited, ingenious, redheaded enchantress who grew to womanhood in Scraples Two - on a roller coaster ride that swoops from thrilling personal achievement to new levels of sexual tension and a web of unexpected romance.

3. Someone is Stalking Me a true story of marriage, murder, and deadly illusions in the Michigan heartland, by Robert J. Dvorachak. . . "You should have gone to lunch with me." It began innocently enough - a few phone calls, a lunch invitation, a letter from a zealous fan, but when it was all over, Michigan TV newscaster Diane King lay dead, allegedly the victim of an obsessed fan who adored her, knew her every move, and shot her in her own driveway, in front of her two children.

Someone is Stalking Me probes the bizarre psychological dynamics behind the shocking crime - as it tells the harrowing tale of a woman trapped in a nightmare of lies spun by a psychopath who plotted her death. . . while he whispered softly of love.

Several other new fiction and non-fiction are here for your reading enjoyment and information.

Albright-Cornelius to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lynn Albright of Brodhead would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Angela Janine to Charles Kenneth Cornelius II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenneth Cornelius of Mt. Vernon. The wedding will be an event of May 14, 1994 at 2:30 p.m. at Ottawa Baptist Church in Brodhead. All friends and family are invited to attend.

Lexington Philharmonic goes country for benefit

The Lexington Philharmonic demonstrates skill and diversity by performing a wide variety of music ranging from classical to pop. And now, the Philharmonic introduces country music to its repertoire. On May 12 and 13, the Lexington Philharmonic joins with Renfro Valley

Entertainment Center to present "Country with the Pops." Renfro Valley's top country entertainers will share the stage with the Philharmonic in a 90-minute performance which will include some of today's country hits, along with classical music with a Country-Western flavor by American composers such

Gwyn Fowler and Clayton McNew to wed

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Fowler of Berea announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Gwyn Rae Fowler to Clayton McNew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Clay McNew of Conway. The bride-elect is a graduate of Rockcastle County High School and is currently majoring in physics at Eastern Kentucky University. The groom-elect is also a graduate of Rockcastle County High School and will be graduating in May from Eastern Kentucky University with a degree in Forensic Science. The wedding will be an event of Saturday, June 25th at 1:30 p.m. at Fairview Baptist Church in Fairview. All friends and relatives are invited to attend. A reception will be held immediately following the ceremony.

as Aaron Copland.

This combination of country and symphonic music is a first in the Lexington area. The event was conceived by Dean L. Henricksen, Executive Vice President and CEO of Renfro Valley Entertainment Center. "I've wanted to bring country music together with full symphony orchestration for four years," said Henricksen. "You can trace the roots of most music to the traditional classics and the reverse is also true. Some classical music has its roots in folk or country music. Combining the two forms in concert is a rare and exciting event, especially for Lexington, which has demonstrated its love for both symphonic and country music."

Lexington Philharmonic conductor George Zack echoes Henricksen's enthusiasm. "Nothing excites an artist more than to reach an ever-expanding audience with his art. The Philharmonic is proud to serve audiences as far-reaching in taste to include Beethoven, the Beatles, Rock, and now Country! This is a wonderful opportunity for us to meet and join with a new family of great musicians to add another dimension to the quality of musical life in Lexington," said Zack.

Proceeds from the concert will benefit the Lexington Philharmonic. Tickets are on sale through the Singletary Center box office at 257-4929 or the Renfro Valley box office, 800-765-7464. Reserved seats are available for $20. Contributor tickets are $35 and include an opening night reception. Patron tickets are $75 and include reserved parking and the opening night reception.

The concerts will be Thursday, May 12 and Friday, May 13 at 8 p.m. in the Singletary Center for the Arts on the University of Kentucky campus.

BE TREE SMART

FROM THE START

YOU WON'T HAVE TO DIG AS DEEP IF YOU PLANT A TREE.

Like to help the environment and dig less deeply into your pockets for energy costs? Here's a tip—plant a tree. Trees not only beautify the landscape, but save energy by shielding your home from the sun and wind.

That's why, for the third consecutive year, Kentucky Utilities Company is celebrating Earth Day on April 22 by giving away 60,000 tree seedlings, your choice of either redbud or dogwood, while supplies last.

The only thing we ask is that you be "Tree Smart" when you plant. Plant away from electric power lines, and check the location of underground utility lines before digging. For more information, please contact your local KU office.

WE WELCOME GOD'S MOST ENCHANTING SEASON OF SPRING

When winter snows have left the earth
And warmer breezes start to blow,
Behold the annual rebirth,
When grass will soon begin to grow
And tiny buds of leaves will sprout
On limbs of trees in forest glades
Then flowers soon will blossom out,
Exquisite in their pastel shades,
The air is filled with songs of birds,
And humming insects will abound,
A scene of beauty, where no words
Do justice to each sight and sound
Incorporated in the plan.
Or could describe each living thing
That signifies God's love for man,
When nature comes alive in spring,

YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP HAS SOME GOOD TIMES FOR YOU

If you have been attending your House of Worship, you know what a comfort and inspiration it can be. However, it may have more to offer than just the worship service and, perhaps, a Bible class. There could also be some very pleasant get-togethers, such as pot luck suppers, ice cream socials, etc.; to welcome newcomers, say goodbye to someone, celebrate holidays, or for no reason at all. You can help by joining in the fun, where you will make new friends, renew old acquaintances, and get to know your clergyman and the other members of the congregation better. These occasions will help increase your sense of belonging to your House of Worship, and thereby add to the blessings you have already received by attending it every week.

Attend the church of your choice!

O child of God, guard well your eyes from anything that stains the heart. (Forsake those things that soil the mind).
