

County clerk's office is important stop in county

One of the first visits a newcomer to Rockcastle County will want to make is the County Clerk's office, located on the first floor of the courthouse.

Longtime residents also visit the office because residents who want to register to vote, renew their motor vehicle registration or get a marriage license must do so at the clerk's office.

Motor Vehicle Registration

To register a motor vehicle in Rockcastle County, residents from out-of-state first need an inspection from the County Sheriff's office located next to the clerk's office. This inspection is not required for newcomers from within the state.

Once the inspection is completed, a title, proof of insurance and documentation that out-of-state usage taxes have been paid must be presented to the clerk.

Newcomers from out-of-state are credited for taxes they have paid in another state. The cost to register an automobile is $14 plus motor vehicle property taxes. The value of an auto is determined by the state-based on a national auto appraisal book.

The law states out-of-state autos must be registered within 10 days, but usually 30 days will be sufficient.

Your tax rate is determined by where you live. City residents will pay a county and city property tax charge.

According to Deputy Clerk

Thelma Adams, most of the out-of-state registrations come from Ohio.

Most of the new registrations from other counties in the state come from Madison County, she said.

Handicap Permits

Permits for handicap parking are issued through the county clerk's office. There are two types. A 6-year permit is granted to persons with missing limbs or difficulty breathing. A doctor's statement is required for those with difficulty breathing. The cost is $8.

There also is a 6-month temporary permit issued to those drivers with broken legs or other temporary handicaps. The cost is $2.

The clerk's office also issues handicap license plates which cost $14. Those plates are good only for the car registered with the plates.

Boats

To renew or register a boat, only a registration certificate is required. Taxes are determined by the length of the boat, size of the engine and whether the engine is inboard or outboard.

Boats up to 16 feet pay $13.50. If the operator uses a trolling motor less than 1 HP, there is no license required.

For jet skis, the cost of a license is $27.

All water craft licenses expire April 30.

Fishing and Hunting

A fishing license is $12.50 per year, a hunting license is $12.50 and a combination hunting and fishing license is $20 per year. A husband and wife can also purchase a joint license for $22.50.

Hunters and fishermen can also purchase licenses at K&M Market in Livingston; Cox Hardware, David Bishop's, Peg's Food Mart, Mahaffey's Sporting Goods, all in Mt. Vernon; Bentley's Service Station, B&L Grocery, Brodhead; Gilliam Grocery, Lamer; Snyder Grocery and Lake Linville Boat Dock.

All fish and wildlife licenses expire February 28.

In addition, special stamps are required for hunting and fishing particular species. Stamps for trout are $5; for deer and turkey $17.50.

Duck stamps also are required, but must be purchased through the Post Office for $15.

Local fishermen and hunters can apply for a free lifetime license at the clerk's office. The license is issued through the state, but application can be made at the clerk's office. Those 65 and older or disabled are eligible.

Voter Registration

The rules for voter registration are simple. You must show proof of residency and be a resident of the county for 30 days. Residents who live in the county and move to another voting precinct are responsible for notifying the county clerk's office of their change of address.

The county clerk's office is responsible for conducting elections, ensuring that machines are operating and counting the votes.

Marriage Licenses

For couples, age 18 or older, there are no requirements. There is no residency requirement, waiting period or blood test.

No proof-of-age is required, but couples swear an oath that the information they give the clerk is true and accurate.

If either of the couple getting married is under age 18, a parent or guardian must sign their consent.

The only exception is if the bride is pregnant. If a parent refuses to sign, the under-aged bride can petition a judge for permission to marry.

If the bride or groom are under 18, the license must be issued from the county where the bride resides, although they can be married in any county.

Marriage licenses cost $31.00.

History

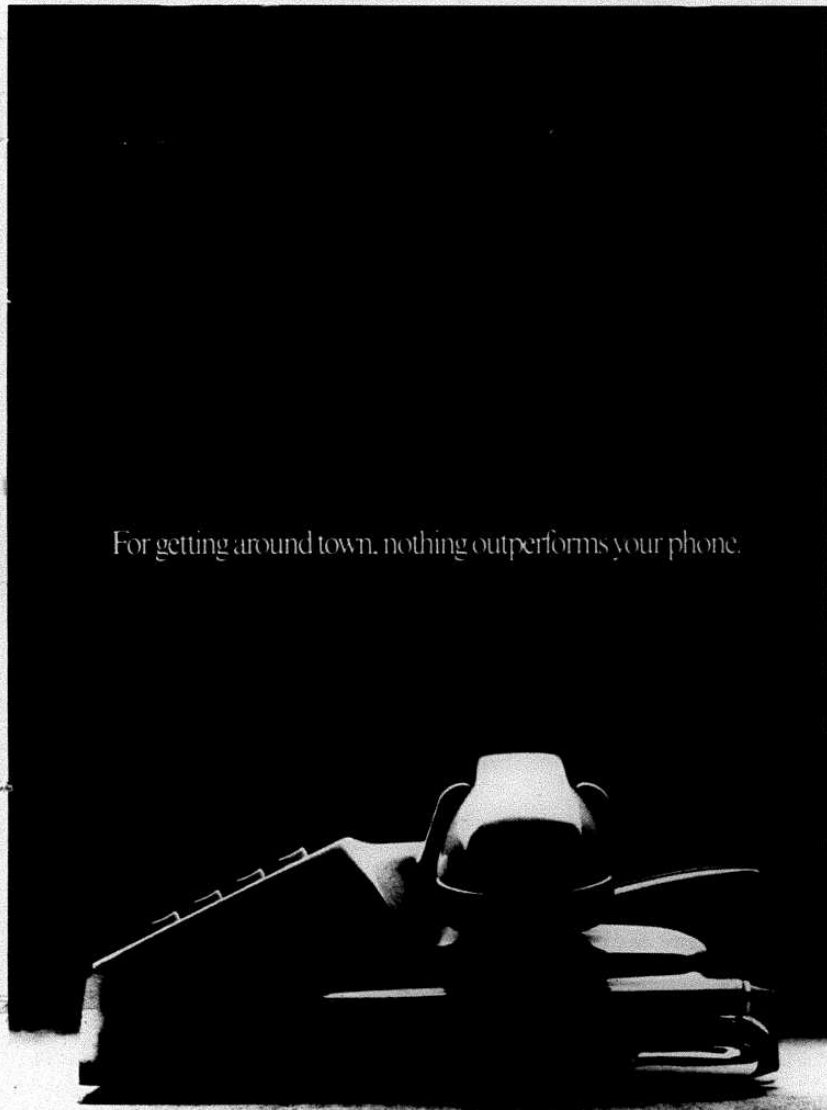

The county clerk's office provides a wealth of information for genealogists and historians. The clerk's office also stores mortgages, judgments and liens, deeds and wills.

P-24 The Mt. Vernon Signal GUIDE '94 May 12, 1994

Just One of Our Many Signs of Caring.

There are many ways we have worked to let our caring show. Designated parking, specially designed restrooms and extended ramps to allow for easy wheelchair access are several important ways. We believe efforts like this make life easier for the 40 million disabled people across America. And, even if it helps only one person in our own community, then it has been worthwhile.

Dr. Cunningham: Exercise is the best

By: Ray McClure

"Staying fit after 50 depends in large part upon you," Dr. James A. Cunningham told the Kiwanis Club Thursday at Kastle Inn.

He concluded by saying, "It's never too late to take charge of your life by starting an exercise program."

Election is Tuesday for Democrats

There'll only be Democrats on the May 24 primary ballot in Rockcastle. There are no Republicans.

They are State Senator Walter "Doc" Blevins and Steven Maynard seeking the seat of U.S. Representative Harold Rogers.

The winner will oppose Rogers in the November election for the U.S. House seat.

New school year begins Aug. 22 for students

According to the 1994-95 school calendar draft approved by the Rockcastle County Board of Education last week, students will begin next school year on Aug. 22. Teachers will have professional development August 8-19.

22 marijuana plants found

Sheriff Shirley Smith and deputies reported 22 marijuana plants were found and destroyed at the home of Scott Gadd at Snyder Sunday.

The sheriff said most of the plants were in the woods behind the mobile home. They were about six inches tall.

Carl Shea of Georgetown told sheriff's deputies he was driving on Ky. 461 recently when a deer came off a bank in front of his truck and he was unable to stop.

Norma Crank, of Ky. 70, Brodhead, told sheriff's deputy Darrell Doan someone broke into her house May 12 and stole a necklace, three cedar jewelry boxes and two watches, all valued at $120.

We haven't had any hate mail here in the column since the last election. And actually, when you get right down to the bottom line, we haven't stuck our neck out far enough to generate any.

That's about to change. As I write this column it is exactly 17 minutes till 3 in the morning of Saturday, May 14. It's a clear night. I've just been outside and you can count every star in the sky. You may also be interested to know that the barn owls are courting each other.

I was outside between 1:30 and 2:30 a.m. and I heard them talking to each other. One of the things that I do best is wad my fist up just so and poke it sort of back in my mouth and go "whoow" so that it sounds darn near like an owl. At least it sounds enough like an owl that they'll come looking. They'll fly right into the maples in our yard and yell "Whooh ah Whoohoo" right back at me and wake up the dogs. And folks you really haven't lived until you have dogs and owls threatening to fight with each other. At this hour of the morning, of course, when you have two or three horny owls whooping it up on one side of the house and a dalmation yelping every breath and clawing at her kennel on the other, people tend to wake up and angrily demand to know what's going on.

In this particular case, the power has been off for nearly three hours, and like I said before, it's a clear, starlit night.

Right at midnight I was wrapping up a column that had to do with dishonest politics. I swear to you that I am not lying. I started at 9:30 and I ranted and raved about the fact that Kentucky is cursed with inept, dishonest, self-serving scoundrels on its school boards, fiscal courts, legislature and the office of governor. I was writing on my new computer and just wrapping the whole thing up when the juice went off.

The computer shut down and every light within a mile went off. Everything I had written was lost - wiped out - gone forever so I cursed the RECC and went outside to talk to the owls.

And I'm sick of it. I'm tired of paying exorbitant bills for power service that is whimsical at best. I can look out my window right now and see distant street lights glimmering because they are served by Kentucky Utilities. I'm writing to you on a battery charged lap-top computer and I'm angry that I have to have battery charged anything in my household.

I'm a member of the InterCounty Rural Electric Cooperative and I would just as soon be an inmate of a cooperative prison. In effect, that's just what I am. It's not my right to choose a more efficient and cheaper source of electrical power. I have to put up with high prices and David Dick's ramblings on the back cover of a monthly magazine and there's a law on the books that says I ought to be happy with that.

Several times tonight I have spoken to an ill-tempered woman who has no idea what's going on and she finally told me to stop calling. "Sooner or later we'll find out what the problem is," is the most definitive answer I can get.

Forget about incompetent school boards and crooked fiscal courts for a minute if you will. Forget about the fact that Breer Howe just collected

Roamin' Rockcastle

By: Hilda Payne Gabbard

This being May 16th I thought we would be having hot or warm weather anyway outside so I took my weather equipment out to my "summer quarters" on the front porch last week hoping I could write this column while I breathe in locust tree blooms which are heavy with sweet smelling flowers now. But its so cold I'd need my long Johns.

Joe Francis is a friendly clerk at Long John's Restaurant in Berea. He's always joking with John.

"We went in one night to eat some fish, John said, "How about some food?"

Joe simply looked at us, shook his head, and said, "Food! I have no food as you can see," and he threw out his hands to make his point.

"Yes, you do. We want two of your specials," John said. The cook and another worker joined us since they weren't busy and they began to enjoy the joke.

"I'll report you to the manager if you don't get us some food," John pretended to be mad.

"Go ahead and do that. I've got two workers here who think back to that I have no food over here by the register," Joe was getting good in his joke and they nodded their heads.

By this time other customers began to come in so Joe said, "But if you want fish, I'll try to borrow some from them and sell you!"

Richard Lemaster is a Masonic Lodge brother to John so he was there and he came over to talk. At one time he had rented a store building from me, he told John but I did not remember him.

Coming up Clear Creek road from Disputanta, we saw a teenage boy walking real fast up the road. He was David Harding who was going to Berea to see his girlfriend he said.

Now that's the kind of sweatheart to have, one who'll walk seven miles to Berea from Clear Creek, a long distance, to see you. That's what David was doing!

I saw two of the prettiest women eating supper at the Long John Silvers and I wondered who they were for they kept smiling at me. I took them to be my readers and they were! So I was glad to see Mary Neely and sister Betty.

We had to go to see Lewis Linville about the Scaffold Cane Cemetery since he is on a committee to take care of it.

The storms that hit us all some time ago really did hit the graveyard bad. We made a picture of it for this issue of the paper. Lewis said contributions are badly needed to help get the graveyard back in shape.

If you have folks buried there won't you help by sending a contribution soon. Avia Brock of Berea is treasurer of the group. He lives at Berea but gets up to Scaffold Cane.

Lewis and Effie Linville live in a pretty trailer home on Flat Gap road. Effie showed me through the large living room, bedroom and bath with large kitchen space and a room for a washer and dryer set. There were great closets, one for each, husband and wife.

On the opposite end of the trailer was another bedroom with a large walk-in closet.

We wanted a trailer but can't find parking space for it.

Effie showed me a doll which had three characters, Red Riding Hood. When the shirt was flipped over there was the Old Wolf, turn him over and you have Grandma. I told Effie that she needed to go to a primary grade in school and tell the story of Red Riding Hood and show the kids the characters.

I want to thank my good reader Glenna M. Fletcher of Indianapolis, Indiana for the lovely card she sent me. It went to two or three places before I got the card so I'm slow about writing it to Glenna. That's the first thing I get from the mail box and read it your column." What a nice thing to say and it makes me feel great now, if one of my bosses, Rich and Anderson, threatens to fire me I can say, "Just wait until what Glenna and all my readers have to say." Thank you again for writing me.

When we were out last week visiting folks, we stopped at Elmer and Edith Hale's home near Roundstone. Elmer has been sick since the last

HERESAY

By: John Norman Meadows

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF ANEVIL AGE, it was four sheets and seven breads ago that our fourfifths brought forth upon this continent a new mattress, conceived in comfort and dedicated to the proposition that all men would sleep better. And bless Bess, I have such a mattress. But I don't always sleep better, especially if I eat a fried egg and horseradish on rye sandwich while watching the eleven o'clock news or if my wacky back acts up. (Since my mistress is lumber, should I say, "acts down"?)

What do you do when you can't slumber? Eat and watch television? Perhaps, but if others abide in your abode, the noise could keep them from resting. You could read. I do a lot of that. But many nights, read hearts, it's a situation where I'm too physically out of it to read but not so out that I can ignore my wretched spine.

I have, however, found a panacea

(in no way related to pan of biscuits). I don't even have to get out of bed, and it doesn't disturb Nancy. I call it ponderationizing. It's the act of meditating up the great mysteries of life - most of life is mystery. So, being the kind, benevolent soul that I am, I will share with you some ponderations that for me and may for you, and I hope you will reciprocate (if you're not averse to doing that kind of thing). I have a parcel of thought provokers that I choose from, but you won't need them all. So, here's a sampling of some pretty good up-all-night ponderations, in varying degrees of preponderance, some of which may be old hat to you.

1. Does WD-40 relieve arthritis? What about lumbago? And ambrosia of the donkey?

2. Are most seaxenarians perverted?

3. Should a poet's license cost more than a driver's license?

Your eyes.....
By: Lee Cain, O.D.

The Best frame for you

Look at what the glamour girls of Hollywood and TV are wearing these days--glasses! Wearing glasses is now fashionable... and smart.

It's traditional to choose eyeglass frames to complement your facial structure and your coloring. But the newest idea is to treat glasses--especially sunglasses--as a fashion accessory. Get several different pairs that look good on you and change with your whim.

Keep in mind that a round face will look slimmer wearing wide frames angled up. A long face needs the illusion of width it gets from angular frames, with a square face, choose an upset, frame to balance a strong jaw. Anyone with a large nose should avoid a frame with a high bridge. An oval face usually looks good in any shape glasses--but avoid oversize frames that can overwhelm a small face.

Someone with blond hair and light skin should avoid yellow or clear frames and choose instead a color that will stand out on a pale face.

It's the Rural Electric Cooperatives that are screwing us out of our birth-right now. If you want to talk about dirty politics and gross incompetence look no further than the electric cooperative that is billing you for the power that heats your home and makes your refrigerator work and gives you light to read by. And if you think I'm lying, compare your bill to anyone who is hooked up on Kentucky Utilities.

It's after 4 o'clock now. In fact it's 4:17 and my power still isn't back on. A little beeper on my computer is indicating that I have just five more minutes on the battery. I wonder how they're gonna react at the RECC when I pay my bill with thwated out chickens.

Good night you all. And may your cooperation be happier than mine. I'm going to light a match now and go to bed!

Brother John Dodson has been called to pastor the Galilee Baptist Church on the Scaffold Cane Pike.

The new church is in the process of being built. Kaye Abney tells me they are getting ready to install rugs in the Fellowship Hall and Sunday School rooms.

The Abney Memorial Garden was mowed recently and will be mowed just before Decoration Day. It will be mowed once a month until fall. If you can make a donation, it will help out on the upkeep. Bill Stephens is treasurer. His address is Route 3, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456.

There has been the installing of rest rooms in the Macedonia Baptist Church which have been badly needed, the church house has been redecorated on the inside making it a place to be proud of by the members.

Till next week:
Praying is one of the most powerful actions we can take when we are in trouble.

This is a scene in the Scaffold Cane Cemetery just after all the storms. Donations and help is needed.

Dennis R. Lane, M.D. and B.J. Parsons, M.D. are pleased to welcome

Jeffrey A. Ollo, M.D.

specializing in general orthopedics and Sports Medicine

Dr. Ollo comes to Somerset from Highland, Indiana. He is a graduate of Indiana University and completed his residency at the University of Cincinnati Medical Center.

Dr. Ollo will be joining our practice at 340 Bode Street, Somerset, Ky. on June 6, 1994. Patients are now being accepted.

Tiger Pause

Both parent and teacher SBDM (School-Based Decision Making) council members for the 1994-95 school year were elected on May 12. The election results are as follows: Teacher members, Gary Scott, Katreka Cash, Kathy Dyehouse. Parent members: Shane L. Bullock and Kathy McCauley.

The Title V After-school drug prevention program ended last Wednesday with all participants enjoying a picnic at William Whitley House. Special thanks to these facilitators: Mandy Carpenter, Regina Burton, Charlotte Bullock, Tammy Miller, Wanda Carroll, Betty Brown, Joanne McClure, Mary Hamm and Onna Owens.

We would like to remind you again that the Chapter 1 Parent/Teacher Conference will be held Friday, May 20 in Mr. Rita Shaffer's room (block building) from 8 a.m. - 9:30 a.m.

The class of the 21st Century would like to thank Junior Anglin and Jeremiah Taylor for visiting their class.

Mr. Anglin played the fiddle and Jeremiah played the banjo. Both shared their accomplishments, which resulted from lots of self discipline, determination and perseverance.

John McQueary, 4-H Extension Agent, was in our school Wednesday promoting the annual 4-H Camp held annually July 11-15 for ages 9-14 at J.M. Felner Camp in London. Costs is $63.

Educational talent search of Berea College is sponsoring a pizza party for our middle school participants - Monday, May 23. Those students are: James Hudson, Eric Hudson, Jason Allen, Jody Taylor, Vernice Bryant, Kendal Mink and Christina Judd.

Parents and invited guests enjoyed the final performance of the Showstoppers, Tuesday evening. We appreciate the hard work of Mrs. Pam Martin, Ms. Janice Huff and all of the performing arts students.

Our seventh and eighth grade students will celebrate year's end at their banquet Friday night May 20 from 8 - 10. Our eighth graders will graduate Thursday evening, May 26 at 7 p.m.

Livingston Link

Our students are still reaping the benefits of good attendance. Our most recent winners in the weekly prize drawing contest are Robert McFerron (stereo headset) and Travis Powell (basketball). Remember, good attendance counts! You may be a winner yet!

Primary news: On Friday, May 6th, the Primary 1 horses came out running at Livingston Elementary. The students worked hard preparing for their Kinder Derby which involved the parade of colors, presenting derby hats to attending mother's, 5 heats in which winners composed a pool of riders for the Derby.

Fifth Grade News
Mr. Robbins' fifth grade class traveled to Stearns, on May 13th to visit the Blue Heron Mining Camp. After riding the Big South Fork Scenic Railway into the reconstructed coal mining town, they visited all the exhibits and enjoyed a picnic lunch. Upon their arrival back at the train station, they visited the gift shop.

Students also enjoyed stopping at Natural Arch and walking to the first overlook to take in the view. However, the other trails were closed due to the ice storms this past winter.

Everyone was famished when they stopped at Burger King in Somerset for supper. In addition to enjoy the late 50's and 60's decor, they also had a terrific time on the playground equipment.

At about 6 p.m., a tired but happy group of students arrived back at LES after a fun-filled day.

Doug Flynn Visits
Doug Flynn, a former Cincinnati Reds defensive player, captivated his audience when he visited LES last Friday. Mr. Flynn stressed the importance of making good decisions and not yielding to peer pressure. In addition, he warned students about the dangers of alcohol, the liquid drug.

In closing, Mr. Flynn encouraged students to tell their parents they love them and their friends they appreciate them. He told them that he only wished he could express his feelings to his own sister who has been missing for 17 years.

World's Fair
Throughout our school, students have been participating in activities and preparing exhibits involving various countries of the world.

In preparation for this event, Mrs. Cowan's and Ms. Fain's primary classes read Mexican Folktales, drew maps and flags, and made and designed paper bag pinatas. They also are planning a cooperative project with Mr. Roark's classes whereby both groups will combine for a culminating activity involving food, dance, music, and, of course, the breaking of the pinatas.

Mrs. Anderkin's class studied Japan and enjoyed various activities including making erupting volcanoes. Mrs. Ballinger's class has worked in cooperative groups and has the following products on display: Paper Maché Mummy of King Tut (Paula Marcum, Amy Cromer, David Ashcrafts and Jessica Collins), Hieroglyphic Scroll (Chris Kirby, Angela Bradley, Deanna Doan and Tom Clark), Beaded Egyptian Headdress (Gail Smith, Joanie Hines, Bridgett Payne and Stephanie Uffman), Grid Enlargement of King Tut (Robert Clark, Christina Mahafey and Robbie Gibson), Cloth Map of Ancient Egypt (Renea Brewer, Amy Smith, Jonathon Collins and Cory Kirby), and 3-D Pyramid Models (Tim King, Angie Gibbons, Ralph Powell, and Stephanie Bumgardner).

In addition, Mr. Robbin's class study of the United States has been ongoing. Their display includes maps and stories, in addition to family trees which highlight 1994 as "The Year of the Family."
Our Students Write.....
Baseball is in the air as can be seen in the following poem by Alex Martin, Primary 4.

We Are the Heroes

Baseball fans cheer and cheer
Watch us slide
And watch us bat
Watch us run
From base to base.
We run outfield
And catch the ball
And make home runs
And we are heroes.
We score the most runs
And we pitch the best
But umpire don't call
Safe the right ways

We're the greatest
To strike them out.
We are the best and the other team knows it.

Sue Bennett Early education Center gets $35,000 boost

The Sue Bennett College Early Education Center recently received a $35,000 grant from the Steele-Reese Foundation to purchase equipment for the center's new playground. The Early Education Center was established in 1992 to provide Sue Bennett College students, faculty and staff, and members of the London community with an education-based alternative to traditional daycare for their children. The center, which had been located on Third Street in London, is in the process of moving to the south end of the Sue Bennett College campus. The move will offer the children a more spacious building, a larger play area, and ready access to college facilities.

KET surpasses TeleFund goal

KET viewers made it happen during TeleFund 94, reported KET Development Director Shae Martin. Preliminary figures show that 7,199 viewers -- almost half of them new members -- pledged nearly $422,000 to support KET programming during the annual on-air fund-raiser held in March.

account for about one-fifth of the agency's annual tab for program purchases and productions. Popular programs purchased with viewer dollars include ongoing KET series such as Mystery! and The MacNeill Leher NewsHour as well as music specials such as Peter, Paul and Mary... Too!, The Judds: Their Final Concert!, and Yanni: Live From The Acropolis.

Garbage Dumps Are Illegal

Stiff fines and hours of community service await those in Rockcastle County who still litter the roadsides by throwing bottles, cans and fast food garbage from their cars. Fines await those who have garbage dumps even on their own property.

Dumping and littering are illegal! County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis wants everyone to know that such actions will no longer be tolerated. One man from Laurel County recently was sentenced to forty hours of community service by our new district judge, Mike Henry, for throwing a bottle from his car window. He has been painting, scrubbing floors, and doing other clean-up jobs in the courthouse.

Dumps are a health hazard! Dumps destroy property values! Dumps are unsightly! Dumps eventually ruin the ground water! Dumps cause the proliferation of rodents! Dumps can spread disease! Dumps are a health hazard!

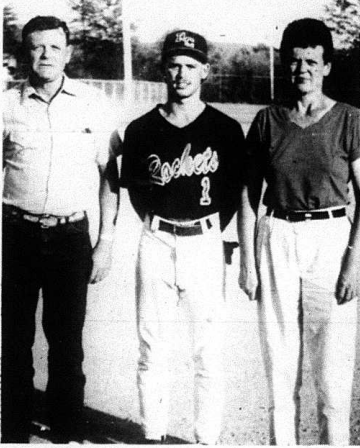

Disposal of household waste at any place other than a permitted site is a violation of KRS Chapter 224 and is punishable by penalties of up to $1,000 per day for each day a violation continues. Rockcastle County is required to uphold this state law as well as the county ordinance regarding proper disposal of waste.

For information regarding disposal of household garbage in Rockcastle County, please contact the solid waste coordinator at 256-5315.

Rockcastle Rockets advance to Regional

Rockcastle 3 • Jackson Co. 0
The Rockets opened up district tournament play impressively as they blanked the Jackson County Generals

(4-10) Monday night in Manchester, 3-0.
Rocket pitcher and senior co-captain J.D. Bussell turned in one of his finest performances by throwing seven innings of one-hit, shut-out baseball.

Bussell's intensity on the mound proved too deadly for the Generals as Bussell struck out thirteen batters and was involved in sixteen of the possible twenty-one put-outs in the game.

"It was time to get serious," Bussell said about his performance on the mound.

Coach Ryan Riddle was impressed with Bussell's job on the mound. "He mixed his pitches really well, keep-

Lady Rockets overpower Pulaski; face North Laurel

By: Jason Coguer

The Rockcastle Lady Rockets (23-10) opened up district play at home against Pulaski County, overpowering the Lady Maroons 14-3.

The Lady Rockets struck early in the first as lead off hitter Janetta McLemore singled, then later scored off a Becky Osborne triple.

Sophomore Angie Moore then doubled to score Osborne from third, and Rockcastle led 2-0.

Freshman Amy Robinson then singled, moving Moore to third and setting the table for freshman catcher Suzie Carpenter.

Carpenter smacked a bashtit to score Moore, and the Lady Rockets left the first inning with a good lead, 4-0.

The Lady Rockets came back in the third to add to their lead as Osborne scored when Moore collected her second hit, a single.

Robinson then crushed a three run homer to power the Rockets ahead 6-0.

Then in the fourth inning, pitcher Melinda Smith, who did an excellent job on the mound for the Lady Rockets, helped her own cause by hitting a lead off triple.

McLemore picked up her second hit of the game by hitting a shot to left field that was good enough for a triple and a RBI, scoring Smith. McLemore then scored herself on a Pulaski County throwing error.

Back to back singles by Osborne and Cindy McCauley set the stage for Moore.

With no one out and runners on first and second, Moore collected her third hit of the game by blasting a three run homer to right field, giving the Lady Rockets a 11-0 lead.

The Lady Rockets played excellent defense in backing up Smith on the mound, holding the Lady Maroons to only three runs for the game, two of which were unearned.

With the score 11-3 in the bottom of the fifth, the Lady Rockets were looking for some insurance runs.

They did not have the wait long as Osborne, who went three for three, collected her final hit, a lead off double.

Power hitter McCauley came to the plate and knocked a clutch, two-run homer to right field, giving the Lady Rockets their final lead, 13-3.

Smith did a great job on the mound as she allowed only three hits, all singles, and three runs through seven innings to pick up the victory.

Rockcastle made amends for last year's disappointing first round loss to South Laurel. They faced off against North Laurel (34-5) on Wednesday night in the semi-finals.

Senior Kelly Gentry powers a hit into right field in Monday night's district tournament action against Jackson County. The Rockets advanced to the finals on Wednesday night with a 3-0 victory.

ing the hitters off balance," Riddle said. Bussell sat the first eight batters down with strike outs.

"Bussell was overpowering early, he was bringing some senior heat," Riddle added.

In the first, Rockcastle saw their lead off man Greg Bowman hit a blooping single to centerfield.

Bowman later stole second and with two outs, Co-captain Michael Shaffer stepped to the plate. As he has done all year, Shaffer delivered with a single to right field.

Bowman rounded third and was trying to score when the Jackson County outfielder came up throwing and threw a strike to the plate. Bowman tried to hook slide around the tag but the Jackson County catcher made a good play, tagging Bowman out at home.

The score stayed 0-0 until the bottom of the third. With one out, Bowman came through with another bloop single to left.

Bowman then stole second to pick up his second of the game. After McClure flied out to right field, Bussell stepped to the plate and was promptly hit by the Jackson County pitcher to reach first.

A balk by the Jackson County pitcher allowed Bowman to take third and Bussell later stole second while Shaffer was at the plate.

Shaffer faced a 0-2 count, two-out pitch and drove it sharply to center field to come through with a huge two-run RBI single to put the Rockets ahead 2-0.

Freshman Amber Coffey singles a shot into left field in Monday night's district tournament action against Pulaski County. The Lady Rockets advanced to the semi-finals on Wednesday night with a 14-3 win.

"Shaffer's hit was crucial, we could have been intimidated after they hit J.D.," Riddle said.

The Rockets added one more run in the sixth as Eric McKinney hit a RBI double, scoring Jason Payne to give the Rockets their final lead of 3-0.

Bussell's no hit bid was broken up in the top of the sixth as the Jackson County batter hit just past a diving McClure, who had no chance to make the play.

That hit would be all on the offensive side for the Generals in Monday's action.

The Rockets faced Clay County Wednesday night for the championship, trying for back-to-back district titles.

Mrs. Stella Morrow Sexton, 64, of Kings Mountain died May 11, 1994 in Lexington.

She was born April 2, 1930, the daughter of Geroge and Jettie Kidd Morrow. She was a member of Cedar Hill Baptist Church of Monticello.

She is survived by a daughter, Hazel Pruitt of Wellington, Ohio; six sisters, Evay Simpson, Rosetta Branscum, Elsie Cromer, Geneva Cook, Hilda Hampton and Jean Gilbert; seven brothers, Roosevelt, Bennie, Louid, Dewey, Forest, Clifford and Lawrence Morrow.

Services were May 14 at Cedar Hill Baptist Church with Bros. J.S. New and Wendel Morrow officiating. Burial was in Morrow Cemetery.

Carbone

Mrs. Sherry Mason Carbone, 43, of Valrico, Fla., formerly of Erlanger died May 7, 1994 in Gainesville, Fla. She is survived by her husband, Patrick Carbone, and her parental grandfather, George Mason of Orlando, Ky., several brothers and sisters.

French

Archie French, 90, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon, died May 17, 1994 at the Rockcastle Hospital.

He was born on Aug. 31, 1903 in Livingston, the son of the late William and Caroline Freeman French, a retired farmer and member of Ottawa Baptist Church. He was preceded in death by his wife, Gladys Sayers.

Survivors include several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held Friday, May 20, at 2 p.m. at the Ottawa Baptist Church with Bros. Vestal Mezee and Ray Raleigh officiating. Burial will follow in the Sayers Cemetery.

Arrangements are by the Watson Funeral Home where friends may call after 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

I love her very much. She is the greatest grandmother as such.

You could ask her for anything she would give it to you in sunshine or rain. I gave her a cat named, "Foo." She named him that for all the crazy things he would do.

All of her grandchildren are male except me. I don't know what she would do if all of them were he's. There is no word that can explain her because she is so nice. She would go just for you, out in snow or ice.

My Granny is the perfect Granny there is no one else above her. That's why I will always love her.

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

School will soon be over for this school year and I'm sure a lot of the children are looking forward to the Summer Reading Program at the library. The date for this year's program will be later than usual. Betty Lindbloom, the children's librarian, will be taking a sick leave in June so we will not start the program until July 11th. This will probably be better for the children. By that time that will be getting bored by not being in school and they will enjoy having some special activities to participate in and hopefully will enjoy reading some good books. More information with exact dates for special events will be announced later.

The theme for this year's program is "Reading Is a Magic Trip." The Magic School Bus books will be used in conjunction with the theme.

Two special art exhibits are now on display in the library. Hope Carmack and Janetta McEntire, art students at the Rockcastle County High School, each have their own display. Both girls are very talented and I encourage you to come in and see their fine work. We always like to give our support to the young people for using their talents and trying to achieve recognition for their work.

I'd like to give you some facts about public libraries in the state of Kentucky.

Public Libraries do make a difference! In 1992-93, more than 1,600,000 or 43 percent of Kentuckians were registered borrowers at public libraries.

The number of Kentuckians who were registered borrowers exceeded the total vote cast for candidates in the 1992 Presidential election.

More than 19,400,000 materials were circulated by public libraries in 1992-93. Materials circulated during the year would stretch from Ashland to Paducah if stacked side by side.

I thought these facts were interesting and I wanted to share them with you. As you can see libraries do make a difference.

I recently attended a Director's retreat at Lake Cumberland State Park along with eighteen other directors from different areas of Kentucky. We had two special sessions, one was

The Library/Business Partnership and the other one was Negotiation Skills. Then we had an evening get-together of sharing ideas from all the different libraries. I learned that a lot of the libraries in the western part of the state are already fully automated. This is probably far in the future for this library since the costs runs from about $50,000 to $90,000 depending on the size of the library. This does not mean that our service to you will be any less than those libraries that are automated but it would be much easier for the director and other staff members in their work. I did learn of some programs that are available at a reasonable cost, that may be used with the computer that we now have. This will be of great value to us when we get them. I plan on using some of the ideas presented in the workshops here in the library. For example, one suggestion was to have a special section of materials for the small businesses in our county. It was pointed out that the start of small businesses are growing by leaps and bounds. Other ideas are feasible to use in our library.

Many of you have been doing spring cleaning and perhaps some books might have been found that are long overdue. It is very easy for library books to get misplaced and we realize this but if you have found any and dislike bringing them in because of the overdue fines, we are going to help you. There will be no overdue fines charged on overdue books beginning May 23rd through the 28th. Books may be dropped in the box outside if this is more convenient for you.

I have just sent out notices for books that were due in April and second notices on overdue books from Jan., Feb. and March. These are just a reminder to let you know that the books have not been returned. Also a reminder about videos. These are only checked out for two days. Please return them on time or a fine of $1 a day will be charged.

A new collection of videos and audio tapes have just been received at the library. Seventy-five videos are in the new set.

Several new books are now available. Come in and look at our table of new books, both fiction and non-fiction. One non-fiction book that is very entertaining is: Having Our Say by Sarah and Elizabeth Delany. This is the story of two sisters, one is one hundred years old and the other is one hundred and two. Their story will make you both laugh and cry.

Another non-fiction book is: Reba, My Story by Reba McEntire with Tom Carter. . . . Reba is one of the rare stars who is popular enough to be known only by her first name. She is today's bestselling female country music recording artist.

Reba writes with great pride about the enduring values she learned growing up in the hardworking rodeo and ranching McEntire family in Choctaw, Oklahoma. A third generation rodeo brat, Reba was increasingly drawn toward singing. "This little red-headed girl started singing, and it just blew me away." That was a typical comment when teenage Reba McEntire first started performing. Here was the hardest of career paths: night after night to VFW halls, honky-tonks, fair shows, and holes-in-the-wall where dances were more like fistfights set to music. But Reba's beautiful voice and fierce determination soared above it all to carry her toward the start of her musical career.

We welcome your comments and suggestions.

News from Kiwanis

By: Bev Rockwell

In keeping with the observance of National Prayer Week, May 8-14, the Rockcastle Kiwanis Club presents annually, the Spiritual Aims Award. The award is given to a local citizen who best exemplifies putting into practice a spiritual emphasis into all aspects of life, both professionally and personally. Last year's recipient was John McCreary, our county 4-H leader. This year Gary Cromer was chosen for this special honor and given the award at a Prayer Breakfast hosted by the Rockcastle Kiwanis Club for the local clergy.

Mayor Gary Cromer has endeavored to place God into every aspect of his life and to live with a strong religious ethic. As mayor of Mt. Vernon he works hard to see to the needs of his community and to serve as a spokesman for a better and more prosperous city. In his business dealings he is tireless in his effort to serve those needing medical equipment and commit long hours providing that service. Gary Cromer is a member of the Kiwanis Club as well as other volunteer and civic organizations and is an active member of the Mt. Vernon Pentecost Church.

In attendance at the Prayer Breakfast was Pastor Wendell Romans. As the guest speaker he emphasized the importance of a positive attitude and how hope given and received can change a life forever.

At the noon meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday, May 19, at the Kastle Inn, Jerry Emmons and Ruby Alcorn will present a program on Adult Education in Kentucky. Guests are always welcome.

Auditions being held

The Rockcastle Council For The Arts will hold auditions for the summer musical production of "BECCA," Monday, May 23, 7 p.m. at Our Lady of Mt. Vernon Catholic Church Hall, located directly behind the Rockcastle Teen Center.

"BECCA" is a powerful exploration of the inner journey of Jonathon and his little sister, Becca. Mixing reality and fantasy, through music and dialogue, we see the world through the eyes of children - a world full of mystery, dreams, and love, but also a world where the need for control sometimes results in the loss of freedom, abuse of power, abandonment of responsibility. A timeless play that speaks to children of today, "BECCA" reaches out to every age, for it is a play that resonates the child in every one.

Right to life news

On April 11th 'Right to Life' of Rockcastle County sponsored an oratory contest held at the Teen Challenge Center. Nathan Beach of Eubank received the $50 first place prize.

Then on April 23rd, Nathan competed in the state competition. This was held at Louisville at the Southeast Christian Church. Nathan had some very good competition, but came away the first place winner there and now will compete on the national level where he will travel to Houston, Texas.

The benefit concert held at MVES was a wonderful success. Greater Vision and Jubilee Echoes were a great blessing to all those who attended. A special thanks to all who contributed their time, money and hard work to make this year's concert such an enjoyable event.

May declared Better Hearing and Speech month

The Rockcastle Speech and Hearing Association, composed of area speech language pathologists serving in the schools, hospital, home health and other service agencies, recently held its spring meeting. It was decided to request Rockcastle County through its County Judge Executive to proclaim the month of May as Better Hearing and Speech Month in Rockcastle County. On Monday, May 16th, Judge Carlotis signed a proclamation recognizing the importance of the identification and management of communication disorders. One of the main goals of RSHA is to improve community awareness of community disorders and of the availability of services and of the availability of services locally. Further, the group works together to facilitate service delivery to those persons with communication disorders. Area speech language pathologists or the Rockcastle County Schools can be contacted if you would like further information regarding communication disorders.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chastene

Greetings to everyone everywhere. Hope you are well and happy. If not may God bless you to be feeling better soon.

And hope you were able to go to church over the weekend. Our attendance at Fairview was good but only had eighty seven (87) on Sunday School. Maybe the attendance at several churches was low, due to a power outage that morning that lasted at some places only a short time but for others a number of hours -- from 2:30 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. Some came to Sunday School and church without breakfast, some cooked on heating stoves and others went out to eat. But, anyway some of us made it to church and thank God for it.

Mrs. Ebel Thacker of Scaffold Cane and her daughter Geneva Howard of Richmond spent some time at the Fairview Cemetery last Wednesday afternoon, and on their way back to Mrs. Thacker's, stopped here and got some sprouts from my flowering spice bush. I enjoyed their visit so much and hope they can visit again soon.

Some few days ago Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hudson of Lexington visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Repper. It's always nice for friends to get together.

Bro. John Dodson visited at the home of Eugene and Hallie Alexander last Saturday morning. Other recent guests have been Mrs. Eva Blair and infant great nephew of Fairview and Mrs. Mac Gabbard, Mrs. Geneva Gabbard and Mrs. Kay Abney all of Berea.

Connie Adams of Richmond visited at the home of her mother and family, Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Ridgell and daughter Sherry on Sunday.

Hubert and I visited my sister Myrtle Wilson and daughter Pam at her beauty shop in Berea a few days ago. Myrtle and her family moved here last fall from Ohio. We enjoyed our time together.

It was so good to see Aunt Edith Mullins at church again Sunday night. Everyone loves her so much.

Hubert and I had such an enjoyable visit with our neighbors Bill and Flossie Stephens last Friday afternoon. We have always been such good friends, even in our growing-up years. Flossie and her sisters and I went to school at Fairview. Bill and Hubert were together a lot in their teen years and so were Flossie and I. Then, when we married we lived close together and our children went to elementary and high school together. They are such good people and we love them like our own family.

Our daughter Joyce Seals and her daughter Kim of Berea visited us last Friday morning.

Here is a little poem I'd like to share with you:

Some go to church just for a walk
Some go there to laugh and talk
Some go there for observation
Some go there for speculation
Some go there to sleep and nod
We should go there to worship God.
Please attend Sunday School and church somewhere, every time you can. And always, remember to love and pray for one another.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In Eph. 5:19, we read, "Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord." Again in Col. 3:16 we read, "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord."

Paul tells us in these passages the kind of music God wants in worship. He desires that we offer vocal music unto him, singing! It's said that men and women are not satisfied with giving God what he asked for. Far too many are presumptuous on this matter and think that God will accept mechanical instruments of music in worship. If God had wanted us to "play" in worship he would have told us in the New Testament scriptures. He plainly told the Jews under the Old Testament days to praise him with stringed instruments, organs, trumpets, timbrel, etc. in Psalms 150. But someone will say doesn't Ps. 150 allow us to do the same thing in worship today? No, because we are not under the O.T. law today. The O.T. was done away with and we are under the Law of Christ, Col. 2:14, Rm. 7:2-4, Hebs. 8:6-13. If we try to go back to the O.T. to justify our practices we would be a debtor to do the whole law and would fall from Grace, Gal. 5:1-4. Then someone will say, didn't Paul say "make melody or make music" in Eph. 5:19. Yes, he did, but notice two things. First, Paul tells us where to make melody or music, in the heart not on a piano or organ. Secondly, if make melody means to play on a mechanical instrument of music then everybody must sing and play! For Paul said to all the brethren, "Sing and make melody." Thus if you fail and refuse to sing, you disobey the command of the Lord or if you refuse and fail to play, you would disobey the command of the Lord, but who can believe it?

Yes, friends, I know a lot of religious folks who have instrumental music in worship today, but it's sad to say "But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men," Mt. 15:9. We challenge our readers to search the scriptures, for Bible authority, for instruments of music in worship today, if you can find one verse, please let us know.

FAITH REMINDS US OF OUR DUTY TO BECOME GOOD CITIZENS

We all live in or near a community of some kind, be it a metropolitan area or a small village, that just barely made it on the maps, and even if we only work or shop there, we should take an interest in it. Every municipality has its governing body made up of men and women whose job is to improve the local quality of life. However, every town also has its problems, and we can help those officials solve them by attending city council or town hall meetings and speaking up about the issues that concern us. At your House of Worship you will always receive the courage to do the right thing, and if that includes alerting your elected officials to specific problems, you will thereby improve not only your own life, but also the lives of all the other residents of the area.

Fishing derby set for children ages 5-15

The London Ranger District of the Daniel Boone National Forest and the Laurel County Optimist Club will sponsor a free kid's fishing derby on June 11.

Kids 5-15 are invited to test their angling skills at the Laurel County (Ponderosa) Fish and Game Club from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Upper Cumberland Fish and Game Club, Kentucky Department of Wildlife Resources, and Laurel County Fish and Game Club are all assisting with the event.

The derby is free and open to the public. The Optimists will provide lunch to all children participating in the derby.

Trophies will be awarded for the most fish caught, total weight, and biggest fish in each of three age brackets. There will also be a casting contest with prizes for the winners.

Participation is limited to 100 children. Participants are encouraged to fill out the pre-registration form printed below and return it to the London Ranger District, P.O. 907, London, KY 40341. Children who are pre-registered will be guaranteed a spot at the derby. Pre-registration forms are also available at the Ranger District Office.

Veterans reunion set for May 20 to 22

The 6th Annual Vietnam Veterans Reunion, L.Z. (Landing Zone) Bluegrass, is scheduled for May 20 to 22 in Frankfort, at the Capital Plaza, adjacent to the Holiday Inn.

This year will be emphasizing the United States Marine Corps. The Marine Color Guard from the Louisville Military Examination and Processing Station will present the colors at the opening ceremony. The Fern Creek High School Marine JROTC will perform close order drill, and the Shelbyville High School Marine JROTC, this is their first year in existence, will assist with the Memorial Service at the Kentucky Vietnam Veterans Memorial.

The May 21 Armed Forces Day with 125,000 Vietnam veterans in Kentucky, would like to have all of them arrive in Frankfort and be honored. The reunion is for all veterans from any branch or time period. Some of the activities include military displays, live entertainment, vendors and veteran information booths. All events are free and the public is invited to attend.

Rockcastle dairy producers receive $6401.70 in refunds

Rockcastle County dairy producers who reduced or did not increase their 1993 milk marketings filed 13 applications and received refunds totaling $6,401 according to Harold Ballinger, county executive director of the ASCS office.

The cash payments were issued to dairy producers in the county, under the Dairy Refund Payment Program (DRPP), authorized by the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Acts of 1990 and 1993.

"Producers who provided evidence that they did not market more milk in 1993 than in 1992 were eligible to receive the entire amount deducted from their milk proceeds if they met the eligibility requirements and claimed the refund by March 15," Ballinger said.

The 1990 Act provides 11.25 cents per hundredweight milk marketings assessment will be increased on May-December milk marketings each year to compensate for refunds made for the previous year.

Therefore, effective May 1, 1994, the assessment was increased by 8.03 cents for a total of 19.28 cents per hundredweight. ASCS official Ballinger said this rate will remain in effect through the remainder of this year, and will revert to 11.25 cents per hundredweight on Jan. 1, 1995.

Don't adopt wildlife

Spring is a wonderful time to be outdoors. Nature once again comes alive with buds and blooms, and all kinds of wildlife begin producing young to sustain their existence.

During the months of May and June especially, when people begin engaging in more outdoor activities, they often encounter young wildlife. Sometimes these encounters lead to capturing wildlife for pets. And in a vast majority of cases, taking in, adopting, or capturing young wildlife eventually spells trouble. Why?

Because you can't take the wild out of wildlife. Wild animals are exactly that. Wild: Their instincts and behaviors aren't adapted to a domesticated environment.

At first, providing food, water and shelter for a newborn raccoon, for example, is fun. It's a new experience and entertaining. Soon, however, the newness wears off and caring for the animal becomes a big burden. Continually having to feed the raccoon, clean up after the animal and watch the kids around the animal gets old quick. In a few weeks, the newborn raccoon isn't a newborn anymore. As it gets bigger it becomes more active and sometimes destructive. And then about when the new wildlife pet owner starts looking for a way to unload that pet. Usually by then, though, the animal has become dependent on its owner, and if released would have a hard time surviving because it hasn't been taught how to fend for itself. All of a sudden, a seemingly harmless thing has resulted in an animal which would have likely been fine if left alone, but now is going to have a very tough time. So we need to think ahead first instead of acting on impulse.

Some of the most common situations involving humans attempting to adopt a wild animal or bird are when people observe a young animal by itself, assume it needs help, and then take it home to care for it. Most of the time, the parent(s) is nearby, and the newborn is in no danger. The parent may not be out collecting food, resting, or simply hiding. Almost all wildlife have a instinctive fear of humans, and will avoid getting too close if at all possible.

The best thing to do when finding what appears to be abandoned or orphaned wildlife is to leave it alone. It's hard to do, but it's the best thing to do as the best possible chance to be returned to the wild. Trying to take the animal in yourself usually turns out a disaster for both you and the animal. Remember, though, when in doubt, leave it alone.

Before taking any wild animal or bird from the wild, you should make sure the young animal's parents have indeed perished. You should also be aware that caring for young wildlife takes a tremendous amount of work and time. Wild animals are not like dogs and cats. They may have constant attention. Keeping wildlife as a pet also requires a permit from the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

Maybe you've noticed an adult robin feeding its young. Feeding goes on nonstop for days and days. Wild animals also learn how to survive from their parents, how to find food, what to be afraid of and how to interact with others of their kind. Taking the young from their natural environment interrupts the learning and developing process, and it leaves the animal less than adequately equipped to make it on its own later.

Wildlife is beautiful and entertaining to watch, learn from and interact with, but if we really care about wildlife itself, we should follow sound wildlife practices. Making pets of wildlife is rarely a sound practice.

If you do happen to find truly orphaned, injured or abandoned wildlife, you may want to contact an experienced wildlife rehabilitator who can handle the animal properly so it has the best possible chance to be returned to the wild. Trying to take the animal in yourself usually turns out a disaster for both you and the animal. Remember, though, when in doubt, leave it alone.

Legislative changes affecting the assessment of tobacco bases

In the midst of growing concern about the tobacco program in Kentucky, the 1994 General Assembly was able to provide an avenue to lessen the property tax burden of Kentucky Tobacco farmers.

Legislation was enacted that amends KRS 132.010 and 132.020 to require that tobacco bases are no longer included as part of the farm real estate assessment. Instead, a tobacco base is now to be considered intangible property and will be taxed at a rate of 1/2 % per $100 of assessed value at the state rate only. This legislative change includes a provision which makes it retroactive to the Jan. 1, 1994 assessment date.

For intangible property tax purposes, tobacco base allotments (not the annual crop price) are valued at $2 per pound. Two dollars per pound should be used by all allotment owners in completing an intangible tax return.

For example, an allotment owner with a 20,000 pound tobacco base would have an assessed value of $40,000. The 1 1/2 % tax rate would generate a $6 tax liability.

The tobacco base allotment should be listed in Section 8, line 4 of the Intangible Property Tax Return. Property owners with less than a 17,500 pound tobacco base allotment will not be required to file a return. Returns must be filed by May 15, unless the individual has an approved federal income tax extension. Forms can be obtained from the local PVA or Division of State Valuation, Intangible Property Tax Section, Brighton Park #6, 330 Versailles Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40620, telephone number (502)564-8160.

Sheep production can be termed environment friendly

Sheep can be viewed as one of the most environmentally friendly animals that will be produced in the next century.

"As it relates to water quality, grazing sheep tend to favor the growth of sod-forming plants," said Mnty Chappell, extension sheep specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "These plants prevent erosion and improve water quality."

Also, legumes will probably be growing in the same areas that sheep graze, Chappell said. Legumes fix nitrogen from the air and, in effect, fertilize themselves. Sheep and air quality are related also, he added. Growing plants convert carbon dioxide to oxygen and carbohydrates. As plants are grazed they produce more plant material and actively clean the air by converting more carbon dioxide to oxygen.

Highly erodible land, wetland rules

To be eligible for payments and any other USDA program benefits the Rockcastle County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), 1994 farm program participants must comply with the highly erodible land and wetland conservation provisions.

Producers will lose program benefits if they plant an agricultural crop on highly erodible land without using an approved conservation system. Producers also will lose program benefits if they plant agricultural commodities on wetlands converted after December 23, 1985, or if they convert a wetland to make agricultural production possible after November 28, 1990.

Beginning January 1, 1995, all conservation systems must be fully applied on highly erodible land for a producer to earn program benefits.

The highly erodible land and wetland restrictions apply to all farm program participants. Once a crop is planted in noncompliance of the highly erodible land or wetland requirements, it is too late. The producer will be considered ineligible for 1994 benefits.

The ASCS officials said producers who still need determinations on whether the land they planned to annually-till crop, or designated as conservation uses or acreage conservation reserve, is highly erodible or a wetland, should contact the county ASCS office of the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation as soon as possible.

Painter preserves American landscape

The natural environment of America is quickly vanishing, and painter David Armstrong feels this places an even greater responsibility on artists to record the beauty of the disappearing countryside. "I once felt that the images I painted were timeless," says Armstrong, "but... I've realized that what I'm painting is the vanishing American landscape."

Join Armstrong on location in some of America's most beautiful natural settings as he explores the Vanishing American Landscape, airing on KET at 9:30 p.m. on Monday, May 16.

Returning clippings to lawns apparently has no effects on diseases

With public concerns about filling up landfills with grass clippings, more and more homeowners are opting to leave the clippings on the lawn. But does that practice increase diseases?

"Leaving grass cuttings on the lawn generally is not related to disease development in the lawn," according to Paul Vincelli, Extension plant pathologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Based on our experience and research in Kentucky, there may be a slight advantage to bagging clippings during an active outbreak of brown patch in tall fescue," he said.

Brown patch is only a problem during warm, muggy conditions during the summer and not during springtime, when most growth of turf occurs, Vincelli said.

Research conducted at Texas A and M University found that clippings returned from mulching mowers, a new type of mower that shreds the clippings to a fine texture did not increase disease; instead the researchers found that the finely shredded clippings were an excellent home for bacteria that kill disease-causing fungi, he said.

"The added bonus to returning clippings to the lawn is that they return nutrients to the soil that otherwise would be lost," Vincelli said.

Farming brings $14 million to county economy

By: Ray McClure

"Farming in Rockcastle is looking good and demand is great so far," Harold Ballinger, ASCS County Executive Director reported recently. Farming income in Rockcastle County totals $14 million with $7 million attributed to tobacco.

All farming is up except tobacco where there seems a slowdown, Ballinger explained.

All figures are for 1993 since this year's crop is yet to be figured.

There was a total of 1,538 farms in the county in 1993 with a tobacco basic quota of 3,107,418 pounds. This year, the number is expected to be 2,788,857 pounds.

Many crops in 1993 were affected by the weather, Ballinger said.

"It started out wet and ended dry." There were also such problems as black shank, blue mold and, in alfalfa, alfalfa weevils.

"There was not much of a problem in livestock last year," he said. "But during the winter of 1993-94, there was a hay shortage, still is."

A per pound of butfley in 1993 brought $1.81 per pound. It is expected to bring $1.83 in 1994.

A breakdown of tobacco production shows 44 percent of farms in 1993 in county had less than a half-acre of tobacco. 78 percent had less than one acre and 93 percent had less than 2 acres.

And further, 5 percent of farms had two to four acres of tobacco. 1.5 percent of the farms had 4 to 10 acres of tobacco, and less than one percent of farms had 10 acres or more.

A total of 903 farms were issued market cards in 1993. Of those, 635 leased the basic quota.

There is about 400 acres, compared to 300 acres in 1993 in Bell peppers, pimento pepper, wheat and soybeans.

There are 25 dairies in the county, the same number as last year, with 12,000 pounds per cow as compared to 11,417 pounds per cow last year.

There are 7,600 beef cows now compared to 7,200 last year and 1,300 hogs to 1,000 last year.

"We, of course, don't know yet about 1994, but indications are we have about the same number leasing," Ballinger said.

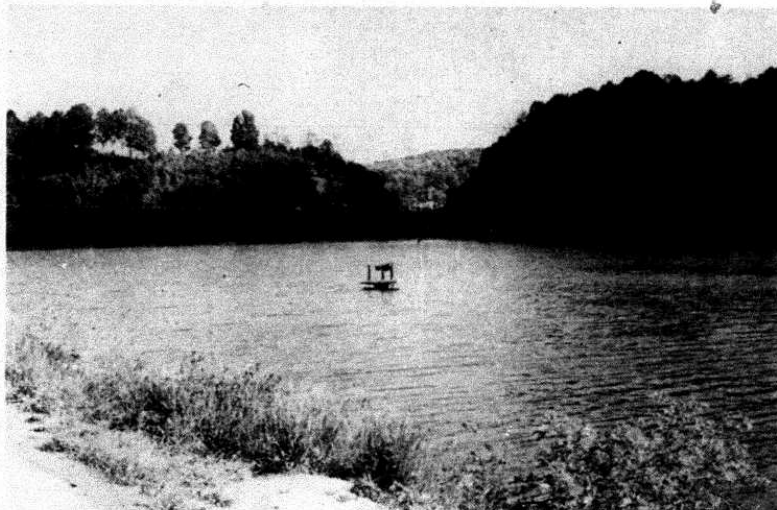

In other crops, there is 3,000 acres of corn, up from 2,500 acres in 1993.

There is 3,000 acres of alfalfa hay planted compared with 2,700 acres in 1993.

In other hay, there is 15,000 acres planted in 1994, compared to 14,500 in 1993.

There's also more home gardens this year, a total of 1,600 compared to 1,500 in 1993.

"The big increase in home gardens is in the amount grown. There is more interest in gardening, especially in towns," Ballinger reported. "Also, greenhouse business is booming and truck cropping is good in our area."

480 acre Lake Linville provides all city water for Rockcastle County, except in the Livingston area. Built in 1969 the lake is named for former Mt. Vernon Mayor Clyde Linville who was very instrumental in the building of the lake. The lake also provides recreational opportunities for swimmers, skiers and fishermen.

Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress is privately funded self-help organization

Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress (LEAP) is a non-profit organization whose goals lie in creating economic self-sufficiency in the Livingston area. Located in the southeastern region of Kentucky in Rockcastle County, Livingston is just 60 miles south of Lexington.

In the early 1940's Livingston, once a booming railroad town, found itself a victim of a sharp economic decline. Presently, over 305 of the families in Rockcastle County live at or below the poverty level, and local communities are burdened with a lack of employment opportunities. The "official" unemployment rate, hovering around 10%, does not include the disabled or those who have simply given up hope of finding a job.

Determined to change these percentages, LEAP was organized by a group of Livingston citizens and they began to develop several programs that would provide community residents with employment opportunities. They knew that developing such jobs would create a locally circulating economy. Today LEAP sponsors several economic development projects in Rockcastle County.

These projects include:

The Sweet Sorghum Project. This project, established in 1984, assists the local farmers in the production of sorghum as a supplement to their income and an alternative to tobacco farming. Sorghum is a traditional Appalachian sweetener, used as a nutritious substitute for sugar.

Opportunities for Women. While an economic decline touches everyone, women are affected the most. Few employment positions in this country are open to women and the positions that do exist offer low wages, no benefits and no opportunity for advancement. Starting with a cookbook of sorghum recipes, the Opportunities for Women Project (OFW) began in 1986. OFW workers have developed a line of Kentucky specialty foods products under the Golden Kentucky Products trademark.

Heifer Project International. As members of Heifer Project International, LEAP provides small farmers with livestock, used for extra food and income. When a participant receives livestock, they are required to return the firstborn female offspring to LEAP. The animal is then "passed on" to another family, chosen by a LEAP livestock committee.

Home Repair Program. Many families in Rockcastle County cannot afford the materials to make necessary repairs on their homes, and some people are physically unable to do the work themselves. Leaking roofs, rotting floors and uninsulated walls go unattended for years. LEAP's Home Repair Program began in the summer of 1991. Church groups made up of men, women and young adults volunteer their time and building materials to improve the quality of life in the region.

Christmas Fruit Box Project. Each Christmas, LEAP acts as a catalyst, collecting donations from local businesses and individuals for the purchase of fruit. This fruit is distributed to over 100 needy families in Rockcastle County.

We Need Your Support
By supporting the Opportunities for Women project through the purchase of Golden Kentucky Products, you have a direct impact on the lives of low-income families in this area. If you would like a Golden Kentucky Products catalogue, please call the LEAP office at 1-800-578-9829.

Donations to LEAP will help the progress of current projects as well as the development of other meaningful projects in Rockcastle County.

LEAP Membership
Membership to LEAP is open to anyone concerned about the quality of life in Livingston and Rockcastle County. A LEAP membership enables community members to choose its own Board members and attend monthly board meetings.

LEAP is a branch of the Central Appalachian People's Federal Credit Union. Members of LEAP have the opportunity to join the credit union and receive the financial services they offer. This branch is open during regular business hours Monday-Friday at the LEAP office.

Membership to LEAP is available at the annual fee of $5 per person or $7.50 per couple. A subscription to LEAP's newsletter, LEAPs and Bounds, is included.

"Renfro Valley"

Claude Sweet Roy Davidson, Russ and Jo Fisher and others.

Some of the Renfro Valley Folks have gone on to far-away places following their musical careers, others have chosen to stay near family and friends in Rockcastle County, and some have returned home after tasting "life on the road." Renfro Valley also welcomes visitors from all over the United States and other countries. For all these folks, visitors and kin-folks alike, Renfro Valley in Rockcastle County, Kentucky, offers both a place for family entertainment and a quiet haven, a place to reflect on the past while looking toward the future.

Soil conservation district helps preserve resources

The USDA Soil Conservation Service and the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District work jointly to help preserve our natural resources. We are located at 115 Richmond St. (Ag Services Center) and we can be reached at (606) 256-2541.

The USDA Soil Conservation Service is a branch of the federal government that implements wise farm use, and technical assistance with ACP practices such as springs, waterways, ponds, etc. They also provide technical assistance to landowners, users and groups in planning and applying soil and water conservation measures on the land. The USDA Soil Conservation Service Mt. Vernon Field Office employs a District Conservationist - Randall Templeman.

The Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District was organized under Kentucky legislation and they are legal subdivisions of state government. Each local conservation district is governed by a 7-member board of supervisors elected by the registered voters within that district.

The Rockcastle County District Board of Supervisors consists of the following members Roy Brown, chairman; Tommy H. Mink, vice chairman; Jack Dailey, treasurer; Harold Ballinger, Lloyd Cain, Garlan Cummins and Joe Bullen. The Rockcastle County District employs a District Administrative Secretary, Becky Daugherty. The District's monthly meeting is held the 3rd Monday of each month at the USDA Soil Conservation Service at 115 Richmond St. (Ag Services Center bldg.) Mt. Vernon at 7:30 p.m.

The Rockcastle County Agricultural Center is located on Richmond St. in Mt. Vernon

All programs and services of the Rockcastle County Conservation District and Soil Conservation Service are offered on a non-discriminatory basis, without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, age, marital status or handicap.

PVA assesses property for tax purposes

The Property Valuation Administrator (PVA) is responsible for assessing property in the county. Property owners pay taxes at rates established by the county's taxing districts based on property values set by the PVA.

Property is assessed every four years, with one-fourth of the county assessed each year.

By state law, assessments should fall between 90 percent and 110 percent of market value.

The PVA office, located on the third floor of the court house, assists taxpayers with any problems they have in assessments of their property, motor vehicles and water craft.

The office also checks deed transfers to ensure that the tax rolls are current.

Tangible and intangible tax returns are processed by the PVA for the state.

Those items include stocks, bonds and business equipment.

Homestead Exemption

Residents eligible for a homestead exemption can apply at the PVA office.

According to Elmer Hale, Rockcastle County PVA, the current exemption is $21,800 off the assessed value of an owner-occupied home. Persons eligible for this exemption must be 65 years of age and must sign only once to get the exemption each year.

The same exemption applies for persons who are totally disabled but these persons must apply for the exemption yearly.

There are about 6,000 pieces of property on the Rockcastle County tax rolls valued at $137 million. Of that amount, $17 million is exempted under the homestead or disability provisions.

Also exempted from taxes are churches, schools and property owned by the state, county and city governments.

Renfro area has seen major growth

For years Exit 62 off I-75 at Renfro Valley was dotted with only a few gas stations, a motel and a couple locally owned restaurants.

In the 1970's there came Burger Queen which transformed to Druthers and is now Wendy's Restaurant. For years Druthers was the only chain fast food restaurant at Renfro Valley. It was followed by Pizza Hut, in the 70's which located at Exit 59.

But with the multi-million dollar expansion of the Renfro Valley and the new Hwy. 461 by-pass the 1990's has seen tremendous growth on the Renfro Valley interchange.

First, Druthers changed to Wendy's, Dairy Queen and Denny's opened and McDonald's and Hardee's followed. Along with the new chain restaurants came a new Days Inn and transformation from Gregory's Motel to a remodeled Econo-Lodge.

All three service stations on the Renfro Valley exit were remodeled during the 90's and a small complex of specialty shops and a new grocery were built.

Labor officials estimate that over 350 people work in businesses at the Renfro interchange and earn an annual estimated income of over 3.7 million dollars.

That does not include the 75 employees of the Renfro Valley Entertainment Center, which does not operate any food service, gas station or grocery business.

Fifty-five years ago

John Lair founded the Renfro Valley Barn Dance

Renfro Valley, a part of Rockcastle County's heritage

In 1936, when the WLS Barn Dance in Chicago was at the height of its popularity, John Lair, a Renfro Valley, Kentucky, native, made a decision that was to affect not only the rest of his life, but the lives of thousands of others.

Mr. Lair observed that if live audiences were coming from all over the mid-west to hear "hillbilly music" (as it was called then) and to see Red Foley, Slim Miller, Lily May Ledford and the rest of the WLS Barn Dance cast, why wouldn't they drive from the cities to the country . . . to Renfro Valley? He spent the next three years gathering financial backing and building a huge barn, restaurant building, and log tourist cabins. On November 4, 1939, the doors opened on the first Renfro Valley Barn Dance.

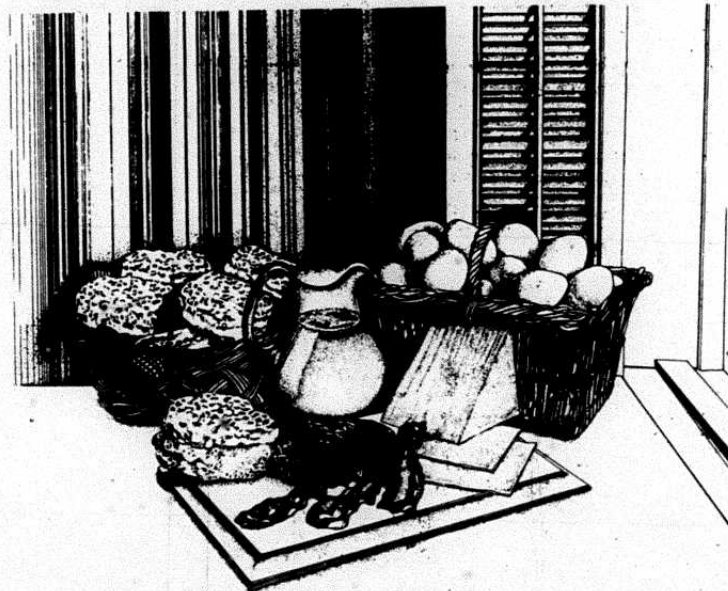

Fifty-five years later, the Barn Dance is still going strong. Other shows -- the Gatherin', The Jamboree, the Mountain Gospel Jubilee, and many special events and festivals -- have been added to the line-up. In 1990, a building and renovation project, under the direction of new owners, saw the completion of a new 1500-seat barn and a crafts village, as well as the remodeling of all the old log-and-stone buildings

The Renfro Valley Barn Dance, from its beginnings, sought to showcase local talent. Many of the Renfro Valley Folks are, or have been, Rockcastle County folks. Over the years the stage in the Old Barn has welcomed Rockcastle residents Lily May, Rosie, and Susie Ledford of the Coon Creek Girls, Emie Sowder, Bob and Jess Baker, Betty Callahan, Little Clifford (Harry Mullins), Virginia Sutton, Pete Stamper, Glenn and Scott Thompson, Emory Martin and Linda Lou Martin, the Eversole Brothers, Old Joe Clark and Terry, Dale Ann Bradley, Red Creech, Jan Cummins, Patty Flye, Miss Ruth Mullins, Chris Robbins, Donna Dailey, Charlie Napier,

Many Revolutionary veterans chose Rockcastle area

Shaped by the wind beating against the face of the sandstone cliffs; the rain washing the soil the valleys below. The dense low-growing ivy and laurel; towering trees reaching skyward. America's own people hunting the forest game and taking refuge in the numerous "rock houses" of the hills. This was a "rockcastle country" even before the white men named it.

In 1750, Dr. Thomas Walker wrote in his journal of how he and his men camped on the Rockcastle River, taking shelter under a rock large enough for two hundred men. They traveled from the New River Crossing in Virginia to the rough Rockcastle country, on the route which the future Wilderness road would generally follow.

For years before actual settlement, the frontiersmen used this country for a hunting ground. Traveling from the Cumberland Gap, the Road forked at the Hazel Patch on the Rockcastle River: the Hunter's Path going westward; Boone's Road leading to Boonesborough.

During the time of the Revolution, when George Rogers

Clark defended the westernmost borders, Lord Henry Hamilton was captured at Vincennes and sent overland to the East. Lord Hamilton wrote in his diary of the "wild beauty of the Rockcastle region where the trees were high and the water clear and bright."

In 1781, the "Traveling Church" made its way to the "promised land" by way of the Wilderness Road, and at the Hazel Patch, turned west to the Skaggs trace and crossed through the Rockcastle area, eventually settling around Gilbert's Creek in Garrard County. This migration was the forerunner of other large companies moving west after the close of the Revolution.

Collins' history lists many Revolutionary veterans who chose the Rockcastle country as their new home. Among them were: Wm. Abney, Humphrey Bates, Elijah Denny, Moses Faris, George Harloe, Nicholas Houk, Wm. Lawrence, Ruebin Pew, Thomas Ramsey, Francis Ramsey, George Sigmon, Jacob Stephens, Wm. Sweeny. This land was good to these old soldiers, for the list was made in 1840, when all these men were in their 70's and 80's.

By the large concentration of these settlers in our area, we know the Rockcastle was a well-known country in their day. At first, a word spoken and talked about; a far-off hunting ground; next, a by-passed wilderness; at last, a homeplace. What more could present day descendants wish to find in their rich heritage?

"Walkers men camped on the river"

state 75 which runs through the county. Brodhead is seven miles northwest of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 150 and is the site of the annual Rockcastle County Fair in August. Livingston, at the foot of Wild Cat Mountain, the site of a famous Civil War battle on the Rockcastle River, is nine miles east of Mt. Vernon. There are many smaller villages and settlements.

Three miles north of Mt. Vernon on U.S. 25 is colorful Renfro Valley, originally developed by the late John Lair. It is nationally known for its country and folk music shows and broadcasts. The Renfro Valley Barn Dance has been a Saturday night tradition since 1939 and has done much to preserve the traditions, customs and music of the hills.
