

Teachers, children, parents and instructional assistants in the Rockcastle County School District are significant partners in each stage of production. Welcoming photographers into their classrooms, they worked hard to assure that learning events could be described with pictures that really are "worth a thousand words."

I Am

Slade Moore

am a nervous person who has a strong temper
 wonder why people don't care
 more about good grades
 hear the darkness howl out from the silence of the night
 see the future through a never winding story
 want to make the best out of everything in my life
 am a nervous person who has a strong temper

pretend I am a perfect person feel everything I do is right and never wrong
 the water from a spring of never winding life worry the world is becoming lost of all basic morals

cry for the people suffering from hunger am a nervous person who has a strong temper understand making good grades sometimes takes effort

say we should respect everyone dream that at some point in time we will all live in peace

I try my best at making a good grade
 I hope school will go easy

I am a nervous person who has a strong temper

Jeff

Amanda Collins

You're really all I ever think about.
 You're always on my mind.
 You're in my dreams and laughs
 Just hoping it could last.
 When I look at your picture and see that gorgeous smile
 When I look back to all the memories and how much fun we really had
 To see you again I'd really be glad You're so special to me
 a special love I can't explain.
 A love so wonderful and happy no one could ever change.

Our Love

Emily Mullins

Our love is like an eagle
 Soaring in the night
 Our love is like a candle
 and in your eyes I see the light
 The sparkle in your smile
 The ring upon your hand
 The one I bought so long ago
 Your golden wedding band
 50 years have come and gone
 I'm so glad we made it last
 It seems as if they've flown by
 So very, very fast
 Tonight we'll settle down
 and recall the years behind
 Setting in front of the fire
 Sipping a glass of wine
 Our hands intertwined
 Your other around my waist
 talking of the troubles
 through our lives that we have faced and on the day
 When God calls upon my soul
 Remember you're the one who has made my life a whole
 When you look upon me
 and I take my final breath
 and gently fold my hands upon my chest
 Do not weep, do not shed a tear
 For you are the one who has made me happy throughout all these years.

My Lost Love

Angie Eaton

He came into my life,
 I gave him my love
 Step by step, we took separate roads.
 Each time I tried to meet him ahead.
 I knew he was slipping away.
 Still, I loved him more each day
 The love I gave, he threw away,
 And now he is no more.
 The pieces of my broken heart have finally healed.
 I can live again.

Autumn Day

Anna Hulker

The fall leaves are on the ground
 The smell of winter is in the air
 Soon the snow will be coming down.
 But I'll have a blanket in the easy chair
 Setting by the fire watching the glare.

The Hallway

Karen Stallsworth

As the inward wind
 comes in
 I see a vast and dark
 hallway.
 Not many have walked down this hallway
 many think it is a new world
 one of new trials
 and pain.
 Everyone is centered around a hallway even if it is a little one.
 We all must live and die in the same
 hallway of life.

Tears Fallen

Sonya Chasteen

My heart has broken.
 My tears are fallen.
 Slowly, Slowly,
 You are going.
 Leaving me alone,
 Nothing left

My Life

Kara Kelley

My life is full of trials,
 With nothing but lies.

My life is like a hurricane
 That never wants to die.

Animal Lover

Sean Kelley

Walking out of the door
 I look up
 I see an eagle soaring through the sky
 I lift my bee-bee gun
 Blind eagle

Turning my head
 I look down
 I see a caterpillar crawling on the driveway
 I raise my foot
 Squashed caterpillar

Hearing a noise
 I look left
 I see a squirrel collecting nuts
 I pick up my Tonka truck
 Direct hit

Scratching my chin
 I look right
 I see the neighbor's dog peeing on my foot
 I pick it up
 50 yard punt

Thinking to myself
 I look around
 I see these creatures realizing what I have done
 I raise my head
 Laughing hysterically

My Poem

Edna Hines

My poem is of a very average sort
 About so long, though it doesn't keep time.
 Things seem to go and come through the space of my mind.
 Time goes by for an average life time.
 Once in a while I wonder why
 there is life.
 Then at a point in time, we will all die.
 Things happen but those left living will somehow survive.

Football

Gordon Sowder

Football is a wonderful thing.
 It will sometimes make your head ring.

It is a rough sport
 Because it is not played on a basketball court.

The hits are hard, the players are tough.
 The players are dumb and don't know much stuff.

Fall To Winter

Crystal Griffin

On top of a hill
 there is a tree
 Imagine if you will cause everyone can see.
 On this tree
 Change will come about
 the green color will flee
 And orange, red and yellow will come out.
 Soon all leaves will fall
 as the cool hard winds will call.
 After all the leaves disappear
 this lets us know
 that winter is near.

Thieves rob Brodhead post office during day

By: Richard Anderkin
 Thieves walked into the Brodhead Post Office Friday during lunch and carried out two garbage bags full of mail, money and money orders.

According to Brodhead Postmaster Liz Tipton, thieves gained entrance to the operations area of the post office by breaking a lock on a recently installed large mailbox and crawling through the box to the other side.

No one is in the post office from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Tipton said she realized the post office had been burglarized as soon as she returned from lunch Friday and she immediately shut down the post office and called for police and postal inspectors.

The large boxes that thieves used to gain entrance to the back were installed during a recent remodeling of the post office. However, after Friday's break-in the large boxes will be removed.

Mrs. Tipton said that until the boxes are removed the lobby of the post office will be closed to the public during times when no postal worker is in the building.

That means the main door will be locked from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and at 4 p.m. daily.

Postal inspector Jim Cunningham said that anyone with information about the break-in could receive as much as a $10,000 cash reward for any information that may lead to the arrest and conviction of those involved in the break-in. Persons with information can contact Cunningham at (606) 231-6778. All information will be held in confidence.

Some money orders were taken in the break-in and anyone wishing to know about a money order number can call Mrs. Tipton at 758-8044. She has the numbers of the money orders that were stolen.

Mt. Vernon postmaster Ben Culbertson said that his office also has some of the larger boxes since its recent renovation, but that the Mt. Vernon office has an alarm that would be triggered by someone going through the boxes.

Culbertson said that he felt that a small child had to be involved in the Brodhead break-in because the box that was broken into still does not pull all the way out into the floor. "It would take a very small person to crawl through those boxes," he said.

Culbertson has no plans to change Mt. Vernon's operating hours, the main lobby will still remain open until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The Brodhead post office was robbed during the day Friday.

Thieves entered the back of the post office through a rental box.

RCHS Graduation, May 31

Awards night is Thursday, Baccalaureate Sunday

The 22nd graduating class of the Rockcastle County High School will receive diplomas during commencement exercises on Tuesday, May 31 at the Rockcastle County High School gymnasium.

RCHS's 178 graduates of 1994 will be the last group to graduate from the present RCHS structure. A new high school will open next fall on the Hwy. 461 by-pass near the present school.

Valedictorian Tracy Todd and Salutatorian James Dee Bussell will deliver the commencement addresses to their fellow classmates.

Rockcastle School Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr., and RCHS principal Ronnie Cash will also speak and George Poynter, vice-chariman of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, will present diplomas.

On Thursday, May 26 RCHS seniors will receive individual awards and scholarships. That is slated to begin at 7 p.m. at the high school.

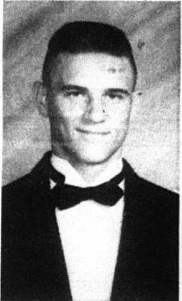

On Sunday, May 29, Baccalaureate services will be held at the new auditorium in Renfro Valley. For 20 years Baccalaureate services were held at the high school, but a ruling by the United States Supreme Court effectively banned prayer in public schools, therefore canceling Baccalaureate on school grounds.

The Rockcastle Ministerial association has paid the $300 rent on the auditorium for the past two years. Bro. Randy McPherson will speak at this year's Baccalaureate, which begins at 2 p.m.

Manufacturing Ribbon Cutting

Rockcastle Manufacturing held a ribbon cutting ceremony last Friday in honor of their recent $3.4 million expansion which added 70 jobs to the workforce at the local sewing factory. Rockcastle Manufacturing now employs over 245 people. Several local officials and employees of Rockcastle Manufacturing and Cintas Corporation, owner of Rockcastle Manufacturing were on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremony. They are pictured above from left; Tandy Pedigo, plant manager; Wayne Stewart, Chairman of Ky. Highlands; Don Girdler, Field Representative for U.S. Congressman Harold Rogers; Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary Cromer; Jerry Ikerd, Chairman of the Board of The Bank of Mt. Vernon; Steve Carter, Ky. Dept. of Economic Development; Mary McElwee, Cintas Engineer; Gatliff Craig, Rockcastle Industrial Authority; Bill Pratt, Executive Vice President of Cintas and Carol Bryant, Executive Assistant of Rockcastle Manufacturing. At left, BMV Chairman Jerry Ikerd talks with Bob Kohlhepp, president of Cintas. BMV provided $250,000 of the $3.4 million funding.

"Doc" Blevins will face Harold Rogers in fall

By: Ray McClure
 State Sen. Walter "Doc" Blevins defeated Steven Maynard 105 votes to 33 in Tuesday's Democrat Primary election in Rockcastle County.

There were no Republicans on the ballot so Sen. Blevins will face incumbent Rep. Republican Harold Rogers in the November election.

Only 8 percent of Democrats voted Tuesday. The GOP holds a 7,459 to 1,719 majority in Rockcastle.

But it was in the 2nd district that Republicans showed their power. Hardin County minister Republican Ron Lewis defeated State Sen. Joe Prather, Democrat, by a convincing margin. Lewis won the seat of the late William Natcher in congress.

It was the first time since the Civil War the district has gone Republican. Democrats hold a 234,000-to-97,000 edge.

The low turnout of 21.2 percent helped Lewis.

Lewis will take office in a matter of days. His victory creates an even split of 4 Republicans and 4 Democrats in the state's congressional delegation.

The race received national attention because Lewis made it a referendum on President Clinton, and the tobacco problems.

In the 5th district West Liberty dentist Blevins defeated Inc. businessman Maynard, 10,332 votes to 6,625.

Two arrested after raid by local police

Two persons from the Mt. Vernon area were arrested Thursday for illegal alcohol sales following a raid on their residence.

Elsie "Gertrude" Mullins, 43, of Wadd-Jones Road was charged with illegal sales of alcoholic beverages in a local option territory; illegal possession of alcoholic beverages in a dry territory, and possession of a police scanner. Sheriff Shirley Smith reported.

She was released from jail on a 10 percent cash bond of $500.

Walter Daum, 41, same address, was charged with illegal alcohol sales in a dry territory and illegal possession of alcoholic beverages. His bond of $2,500, or 10 percent, was also posted.

Daum was arrested again Friday and charged with driving on a suspended license and a concealed weapons charge.

Five officers exercised a search warrant on the Mullins property and found two gallons of moonshine and a six-pack of beer.

They crossed the road to a semi-abandoned house owned by Milton Cox and exercised a search warrant.

They found 1,343 cans of beer, 12 bottles of beer, 115 bottles of liquor and arrested Daum.

Making the arrest were Sheriff Smith, deputies Randall Reynolds and Darrell Doan. State Troopers Craig Sutton and Dom Acciaro. Arresting Daum a second time was Trooper Brent Roper.

Viewpoints

Points East

By: Ike Adams

For those of you who read the big city papers or otherwise keep up with what's going on in Frankfort, this piece is going to be old hat. But it occurs to me that many folks who read my drivel may not know that more than 70 "guests" of the Governor received personal escorts by the State Police at the recent running of and other events surrounding the Kentucky Derby.

By escorts, I'm talking about service as combination body-guards/traffic managers/line-breakers etc. By "guests" I'm talking about politicians, professional gamblers, entertainers, in-laws and some industrial development prospects who had state troopers at their beck and call for a couple or three days over derby weekend.

In all fairness to Brer Horse, this is a new tradition. Previous administrations have also sought to make life easier and egos fatter by providing select high and mighty horse types with their own personal state troopers for a few days before and after the annual run for the roses. It's not just a matter of getting the big shots through Louisville traffic and commanding parking spots close to Churchill Downs. We're talking about going to parties, nightclubs, or wherever without any worry about getting pulled over by the law. We're talking about turning law-enforcement personnel, in fact, into personal servants as opposed to their sworn duty to be public servants. We're talking about Kentucky taxpayers picking up the bill.

Now the argument could be made that, at least in the Bluegrass, there are apt to be as many, if not more drunks on the road on Derby Day than on New Year's Eve. If you can't get invited to a Derby Party in the Bluegrass you have less social status than most convicted felons. One major difference between a Derby Party and your average New Year's Eve bash is that Derby parties tend to start about mid-afternoon while New Year's events hold off till after dark. Instead of singing Aunt Lang Syne at midnight, Derby parties tend to yell "They're Off!!!" 5:30. Then most attendees tend to sing various versions of the blues till after midnight and often all day on Sunday.

Of course the other major difference between New Year's Eve and Derby festivities is that you have about 100 more state policemen on the job they're really hired to do on New Year's Eve and they get a lot more escorting done. But instead of making sure that the big shots get safely back to the hotel from the Madden blast, they're accompanying lesser mortals to county jails all over the state. Instead of making sure the limo, they're calling Bubba's wrecker service and arranging for average jalopies to be towed off the road.

If one of the Governor's pals gets soused at a Derby event, he or she gets safely hauled back to the hotel and tucked in. And that ends it.

If the average Kentuckian gets soused and finds himself in the company of a state cop, he gets at least one night in jail, his driver's license suspended, a fine in the $300 to $500 range and a tow bill of $50 to $100. In other words he's a state policeman who winds up being escorted by a state policeman paying a premium price for the service.

When the cops escort the likes of Merv Griffin around it doesn't cost him a dime. What bothers me is that the average Kentuckians also pays that premium too.

I'm still not using my desk (picnic table) in my summer office (front porch) here on May 23rd. Why I haven't given up my long Johns yet, its been so cold and I'm waiting on warmer weather if it ever gets here.

I want to tell Alberta Johnson and husband of Scaffold Cane, what a fine son they have. I claim kin to him by marriage, Acy Johnson who lives in Berea. He was married to my niece, Patty Payne Johnson, until she died several years ago.

Patty is buried in the Abney Memorial Garden across from the Macedonia Baptist Church. Being on a committee to ask for donations for upkeep of the cemetery, I go to Acy once a year and he makes it so easy, I don't feel as if I'm "begging."

So I want to tell him publicly that I feel so great having him for kinfolks.

And while I'm talking about the E.T. Johnsons, I'd like to thank Alberta for being a reader of mine.

In about one more week and we go to the cemeteries in Rockcastle to show that though our loved ones are gone, they are close to our memory. When I go out to the cemeteries, it just seems I am with my folks again and it comforts me.

Did you see the picture of the cemetery at Scaffold Cane that the Signal was kind enough to put in the paper last week for me. This shows only a small spot where damage was done. The whole place looked like it.

John and I visited a once good friend of mine, Saturday, Stella Frances Dees. She had passed away March 11, 1994, but her spirit was there in the Dees' Cemetery on Upper Clear Creek. It seemed I could hear her voice as she would tell me, "Why didn't we get together before the last ten years, I love you for the good friend that you are to me," and she would tell me how much I meant to her. Stella was a woman who loved the Lord and tried to follow His teachings.

We drove on down Hammond Fork Road out of the hollow where Stella lay by her husband Tommy Dees and raised so many children who keep the family's good name going, a mountain tradition in the hills.

Bill Stephens of Route 3, Mt. Vernon, 40456, is the treasurer of the Abney Memorial Garden so please send him your donations for the cemetery.

There has been the installing of two rest rooms which were badly needed in the Macedonia Church. The church auditorium has been redecorated on the inside making it a place to be proud of.

I'd like to congratulate Tonya Kendrick on her new profession that she has taken up. At one time Tonya taught piano and gave me lessons. Now she works with the Don Foster Company. So I wish her well on her new job.

The Signal has been doing a nice thing for the middle and upper grades at school. I know the school schedule is about over but let me urge you to get a copy now of the outline map of Rockcastle County that the Signal has been printing in the paper. It will help every kid to have a knowledge of this county and can be used in class work on through the grades.

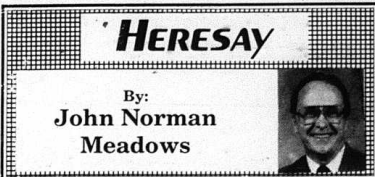

For instance, fill the kids with knowledge of their county. Divide the room in halves. Assign captains and give such questions as -- Is Level Green on the right side of the county or the left?

What stream is Brodhead located on? Tourists coming in on I-75 from the north come to what settlement on the map first.

It makes me want to teach again! Henry and Margaret Mullins Cain of Flat Gap Road in Rockcastle came up to where we were checking and cleaning the Abney Memorial Cemetery about first of this month.

Margaret said she had taken the Signal for her daughter, Rosalee Richardson, who lives in Indianapolis, Indiana. It seems she asked the girl what she'd like as a birthday present and the daughter quickly said, "The Mt. Vernon Signal!"

Now I think that was a wise choice of Rosalee Richardson and her mother both for reading the paper.

HERESAY

By: John Norman Meadows

Watching television coverage of funeral services for "Jackie" Kennedy Onassis, I was made aware of an attitude shift that has occurred in my thinking about things "Catholic." It came about something like this . . .

I probably encountered "Catholics" for the first time when I was four years old. My mother had surgery at a hospital in Lexington, and Uncle Alfred and Aunt Mae Owens took me to visit her. I have no recollection of seeing Momma, but I do recall an eerie, somewhat frightening feeling I had when I saw nuns in habits, and statues -- and that crucifix in the lobby! My first impression was a negative one. I do not know if anything was said then that would have influenced me, but I learned early on that Catholics and Baptist were different.

As a child I visited often with my "northern" Baptist relatives in Cincinnati. And there I picked up a mind set that would abide for many years, an attitude that said, "All Catholics are going to hell in a basket." That view was reinforced often in my own home and church, namely that Catholics are "lost" because they worship the Pope. I grew up convinced that being lost is not as bad as being a lost Catholic.

I began to question my antipathy toward Catholics while in college. A college education usually broadens your perspective and challenges your conclusions about "life." I must say, however, that multitudes manage to get bachelor degrees, and more, but remain as entrenched religiously and philosophically as they ever were.

In June of '63, I happened once again to be in Cincinnati. Pope John XXIII had died, and a lot of television

"Roamin' Rockcastle"

(Cont. from A2)

Cordia Jacky and Children visited Bill and Flossie Stephens recently. We attended church at Gallice Baptist on Mother's Day.

There was a tray of lovely flowers on a stand before the preacher. So of course there was a game to it. Brother Dodson trying to get the ages of the women and we would try as hard as we could to keep them. First Brother Dodson asked for the oldest mother in the room to come down and get a flower. No one took the bite. After a bit of fooling around. Then he asked for the youngest mother and got ground there. Anyway we all got a flower and we left him shaking his head.

was devoted to his funeral and to the election of his successor. One of my northern Baptist cousins disparaged every comment based on the popularity and openness of John. The apex of his derision came when he sneered, "Well, the pope's popularity won't help him in hell." Another cousin exulted in the fact that the steeple of the newly built sanctuary where he worshipped was "higher than any Catholic spire in Cincinnati." And I said to myself, "I don't want to be like you guys."

In the 1960 presidential election I voted for Richard Nixon for one reason only: JFK was "a Catholic." But after the Cuban missile crisis in '62, I wrote in my journal that if Kennedy ran for re-election I would vote for him. And I ruefully remembered my bias and that journal entry when he was assassinated.

My openness toward Roman Catholics really came about while I was in graduate school. One of my graduate friends was Sister Mary Vuckmanic, a Roman Catholic nun who earned a doctorate in theology alongside me. Sister Mary and I had many long talks regarding points of agreement and tension between my Baptist stance and her Catholicism. One thing I remember most about her: Mary loved the Savior. Mary was a Christian. If she wasn't, a lot of "saints" are in deep trouble!

So... am I say Jack and Jackie will enter the pearly gates? No, I'm not. It's not me to say. This I do believe (but cannot prove): our eternal destiny -- Baptist, Catholic, Methodist, or whatever -- has to do with how we relate to God's revelation of himself in the person called Jesus. I don't know how JFK really felt about the Savior. We now know he was also an adulterer. I don't know how god-related Jackie was in her heart of hearts. We do know she was faithful worshiper. But that may not mean anything more than it does for scores of folk who attend other denominational services faithfully but sit there mindless and unchanged week after week, going through a ritual, never experiencing the All in All.

(Hey, precious souls. I'm no paragon of virtue. I need the Lord as desperately as does JFK. But having been a minister for thirty years, I honestly think much of our religious doings are nothing more than a "going through the motion.")

So what's my point? Here it is: I'm trying to be less judgmental. Who really knows what is in the mind of another person? Who really knows how a certain soul relates to the Lord? The Judgment Day will have some surprises: surprise that some folks, whom we were certain would go to hell, gained heaven; and surprise when we look around and realize

How does one build a castle?

Castle, airing on KET at 9 p.m. Tuesday, May 31, based on a book by architect/illustrator David Macaulay, depicts the planning and building of a fictional but historically accurate 13th-century castle.

KET offers college courses for 1994 summer session at Ky. colleges

Summer school can be more manageable than one might think. This summer, many Kentucky college students will attend class in the privacy of their own homes with KET college telecourses. Televised classes, including one graduate-level class and four undergraduate classes, begin the week of June 12. Students can register for KET telecourses at their college or university.

KET telecourses are fully accredited college-level courses convenient for students who have to juggle their college schedule with other commitments such as work or family. Students can watch the courses on KET or record the programs to view later. The telecourse professor on campus makes assignments and administers tests to students over the course material. Study guides, textbooks, and other course materials can be purchased at college bookstores.

The complete 1994 summer schedule of KET undergraduate telecourses includes Discovering Psychology, an introduction to the field and some of its leading researchers; The Sociological Imagination, an introduction to the field and some of its leading researchers; The Sociological Imagination, an examination of the perspective and intellectual tools needed to think critically about social change; Business and the Law, integral to the course of study for students planning to major in management, marketing, accounting, finance, or business administration; and Portrait of a Family, a close look at marriage and family today for sociology and family studies students.

The Efficacious Teacher is a graduate-level education telecourse for teachers and administrators. The series presents basic concepts and principles fundamentally important to educators. Some critical areas covered are evaluating organizational constraints on teachers, dealing with individual differences among learners, providing corrective instruction, and involving students in learning.

The following universities and colleges still carrying some or all of the 1994 KET summer telecourse schedule: Eastern Kentucky University, Kentucky State University, Morehead State University, Murray State University, Northern Kentucky University, University of Kentucky, Western Kentucky University, Elizabethtown Community College, Madisonville Community College, Paducah Community College, Prestonsburg Community College, Southeast Community College, Cumberland College, Saint Catharine College, and Union College.

Bluegrass Festival success

On May 21 the Rockcastle Bluegrass Group entertained an estimated crowd of 3,000-4,000 at Ows Millroy Bluegrass Festival in Albun.

The group consists of Curt Roberts, Ken Hopkins, Casper Bowling, Owen Dillingham, Kenneth Mink and Loyd Mink from Mt. Vernon and Russell Blackburn from Livingston.

We appreciate the support of our parents during this school year. Please continue to emphasize the importance of attendance, good school behavior, and classroom performance. Help make the remaining school days a very special time for Livingston School and our students.

Attendance

Congratulations are in order for last week's attendance winners, Alex Martin, Clint Daugherty, Darlene Slusher, Cassie Hamilton and Cassandra Shelton. We appreciate these students and all of the others who have contributed to our superb attendance record.

Chorus Program

We all enjoyed the L.E.S. chorus program "All American" on Thursday, May 19. Ms. Cornelius and the L.E.S. chorus are to be commended for their effort and enthusiasm presented through various patriotic songs and poetry. Special thanks to Mr. Carter for providing red, white and blue chorus t-shirts. Also, thanks to Ms. Vickie Arnold and Ms. Regina Jett for reading patriotic poems.

Assembly Program

LES faculty and students were treated to some marvelous entertainment on Friday, May 20. First on the billing was Poetry Alive, featuring LES students, Meagan Berryman, April Martin, Gloria Phillips, Leslie Morris, Ladonya Mink, Kayla Cook, Jessica Carpenter and Ashley Francisco. Following their spectacular performance, students roared with laughter during the presentation of The Dancing Donkey.

Field Trips

On Wednesday, May 11, Mrs. Brenda Bullock and Mrs. Peggy McClure's Primary One and Two students, along with many parents, visited the Knoxville Zoo. Upon arrival they enjoyed a picnic lunch which was especially welcome after a 2 1/2 hour bus ride.

During the tour all were fascinated by the birds, reptiles, and other animals they saw. Some students even took an elephant and train ride!

After stopping at Shoney's for dinner, the bus rolled into Livingston at approximately 7 p.m. Everyone had a wonderful trip except for Clint Daugherty who broke out with chicken pox while at the zoo. Clint may have been more fortunate than Minnie Uffman and Gus Scalf who

Project being launched to study dying Appalachian forest hardwood trees

Scientists and conservationists who are concerned that trees in the Appalachian hardwood forest are dying more rapidly than elsewhere in the United States are launching a project to study the forest.

The Appalachian Forest Action Project is sponsored by several environmental groups, including the Sierra Club, Lucy Bran Association and Trees for the Planet.

About 25 people took part in a weekend workshop for those who will train volunteers to monitor the death rate of trees in 100 counties in West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama.

"We know that the mortality rate for trees is much higher than normal in a few small sample plots that have already been established," said Oris

L. Loucks, a professor of forest ecology at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. "We need a larger sampling to see if this is happening across the region and to what degree."

A mortality rate of 0.5 percent a year appears to be normal for the region, Loucks said.

"At that rate, about 50 percent of the trees in a stand will die every 100 years, and you'll have some trees living well into the next century," he said. "The idea of having a forest where there are no old trees is frightening."

The first phase of monitoring will begin in 10 counties this year, said Lowell Dodge of Washington, D.C., who is helping organize the project. Organizers hope to continue the study next summer.

"Our first phase will involve getting an idea of the rate of tree death, and our second phase will take a look at whether the death rates are abnormal or connected to certain species or geographic areas. We hope to get the Forest Service interested in investigating the causes," Loucks said.

News Briefs

County roads

A nine-hour trip on county roads by county Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis and magistrates recently was one of the "most productive and helpful events I have been involved in since taking office," Judge Carlotis said this week.

"We all got to see every other magistrate's road and now know what they need, the judge said.

He said the magistrates especially looked at cemetery roads.

He noted that they may all (the fiscal court) make the trip each spring and fall.

Free money

Rockcastle County is expected to receive about $32,000 from federal and state governments for damage caused by a snow storm in January and an ice storm in February.

$11,000 came from the state for snow removal, and about $21,000 is expected to come from Federal Emergency Management Authority for ice damage.

A snow plow was damaged in the January snow when it hit a fence and tree.

County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotis said pothole patching is not being done by county employees, but by prisoners under a work-release program. They are working in lieu of fines set by District Court Judges and overseen by County Attorney Jeff Burdette.

Break-ins

Sheriff deputies are investigating break-ins in the past few days.

Sterling Hoskins of Johnetta reported an outbuilding was broken in about May 17 at which time 11 items were reported taken including:

Four chain saws, air compressor, saw, weed eater, battery charger, oil heater, generator, wood splitter, skill saw, skill power saw and a tool set.

Everett Higgins of Poplar Gap reported someone broke a door lock and stole an electric razor and two chain saws. Deputy Karen Alcorn investigated the May 19 break-in.

Danny Mason who lives on Ky. 1004 reported someone broke into his house Sunday and stole his television and VCR.

Mt. Vernon break-ins

City police are investigating a break-in at E.C. Porter grocery early Saturday morning.

Entrance was gained by breaking out a front window.

Taken from the store were sunglasses, coolers, cartons of cigarettes and quarters.

On the same day, a rock was thrown through a back window of a van owned by Cox's Florist parked near the floral shop on Maple Street.

broke out with chicken pox the day before the trip. In addition to Minnie and Gus, we also missed Rose Pre-witt and Teddy Stallworth who also were unable to make the trip to Knoxville.

Primary One and Two would like to express their appreciation to the parents who helped chaperone. To

Mr. Carter for his support in all our field trip endeavors, and to the LES PTO who financed our trip. Special thanks goes to Mike Jetz who, incidentally, was the only father who accompanied us on our trip. Not only did he transport our food and drinks, he made himself available to change a flat tire for one of our chaperones. The classes would also like to pay tribute to their adopted, smiling bus driver, Darrell Allen, who has always seemed to enjoy transporting the students throughout the school year.

Mrs. Grigsby, Mrs. Alsip, Mr. Phillips and Livingston's seventh and eighth grades traveled to Cumberland Falls State Park on Tuesday. Everyone enjoyed the viewing of the falls and learning some interesting statistics. Cumberland Falls is one of only two falls in the world with a moonbow and the only one in the Northern Hemisphere. Cumberland Falls was, once, privately owned by the DuPont family. The DuPonts donated the land, including the falls, to the State of Kentucky for a park. A moonbow is just like a rainbow, but is formed after sunset on a clear night with a full moon. The teachers and classes would like to thank Mr. Allen for being their driver for this trip through Kentucky history and geography. They loved it!

Mr. Robbins' and Mrs. Eversole's classes were recent visitors to the Museum of Appalachia, a living mountain village in Norris, Tenn. The display buildings and authentic cabins house over one million artifacts from our country's pioneer past. While completing a scavenger hunt of various pioneer items, students and teachers often listened to front porch music.

Primary teachers report that students had a fabulous time when they visited Jacobson Park in Lexington last week. The only complaint heard was that the trip just didn't last long enough. My, how time flies when you're having fun!

Brodhead man receives Bachelor of Science degree

A Rockcastle County resident was among 165 students receiving degrees during the 1994 commencement ceremonies held May 14 at Cumberland College.

Aaron Dean Purcell, son of Betty and Rodney Purcell, Brodhead, was graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Due to the sudden illness of guest speaker, Schuyler M. Meyer, Jr., Patricia Gordon presented his commencement address.

During the event James W. Bowling was awarded the honorary Doctor of Administration degree. Rickard Gayford Briley and Norbert S. Hill, Jr., were awarded the honorary Doctor of Laws degrees.

Cumberland College, a four year private, liberal arts institution located in Williamsburg, is in its 105th year of operation. Cumberland offers 21 major fields of study, as well as 7 professional programs.

Madden awarded Bachelor of Health Science degree

Tina Madden was awarded a bachelor of health science degree in health administration from the University of Kentucky College of Allied Health Professions at special commencement ceremonies May 8.

Dr. Thomas C. Robinson, dean of the College, presided during the ceremony which was held at the Singletary Center for the Arts. This was the College's 24th graduating class. The guest speaker was Dr. Peter P. Bosomworth, retiring chancellor, University of Kentucky Chandler Medical Center.

The College of Allied Health Professions, the Medical Center's youngest college, is now the largest college of the Medical Center, as well as the University's fifth largest college in terms of the number of students enrolled. The college offers an educational experience for students interested in this rapidly developing area of health professions. This college has assumed a major role in meeting the needs of primary care practitioners in the Commonwealth.

While in school, Madden was on the Dean's List. Madden is the daughter of Bill and Vada Tincer of Tynes.

Search open for new coach

Dr. Joe DeBella has resigned as head football coach and athletic director at Sue Bennett College effective June 10, 1994. Dr. DeBella will remain at the college as a faculty member in the Physical Education division. Dr. James Check, academic dean, has been appointed as acting athletic director and will immediately begin the search for a new football coach. The college will begin its second year of football competition in the fall opening with Cumberland College in Williamsburg.

Sue Bennett College names new ladies softball coach

The Sue Bennett College Sports Information Office announces the naming of Stacy Price as head softball coach. Ms. Price, a native of Boyle County, graduated from Union College with a B.S. in History in 1993. She has previously served Sue College, where she also played basketball.

Ms. Price is optimistic about the season outlook for 1995. "We are in the rebuilding process, but I feel that the team will represent Sue Bennett College well. I am very excited about the position, and I feel that I can help the program a great deal." Ms. Price will continue her work in residence life and hopes to continue assisting the women's basketball program next season. Frank Whisman will step down as softball coach in order to teach full time.

Rockcastle students starting at EKU this fall urged to attend annual orientation

You've graduated, or will soon graduate from high school in Rockcastle County.

And now you've decided to attend Eastern Kentucky University this fall.

The Gulf between those worlds might seem wide now, but you can cross a bridge that will make the transition much easier. It's called summer orientation, and EKU has scheduled several dates from which you can choose.

About 2,000 new freshmen, and about that many parents, will get a welcome to university life during the annual orientation sessions, starting in late June and continuing through late July.

"The intent is to formally introduce students to Eastern and help them get them off on the right foot," said Dr. Hayward "Skip" Daugherty, dean of student services at EKU and one of the orientation directors. "It's a positive and formative experience for the students and their families."

Area nurses first to get degree via satellite program

To university faculty and administrators, it's a high-tech world of distance learning, satellite technology, uplinks and downlinks.

For the students, it's simply convenience. And for several area nurses, the marriage of convenience and technology has translated into a baccalaureate degree.

Five women from Pulaski and adjacent counties were recognized recently as the first Eastern Kentucky University students to take all their nursing courses by satellite enroute to a baccalaureate nursing degree. They are: Peggy Edens, Science Hill; Tamara Muse, Ferguson; Carol DeRossett Denny, Albany; Ruth Martin, Monticello and Jackie Ray Hiatt, Mt. Vernon. Denny graduated with honors.

Thanks to EKU's baccalaureate degree outreach nursing program, which is targeted at the area's associate degree registered nurses, the students were able to do what was once difficult, if not impossible: take all their classes and clinicals close to home. Since 1988, EKU has received about $50,000 in grants from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services to develop the outreach program.

The five area women were among a group of 10 to have taken all their baccalaureate degree nursing courses via Kentucky Education Television's satellite STAR Channel. The courses originated at EKU's Perkins Building and were beamed simultaneously to Southern Middle school in Somerset and EKU's educational centers in Corbin and Manchester, thereby enabling the students to maintain their nursing jobs without having to juggle trips to the Richmond campus.

Dr. Carol Baugh, outreach project director, said a baccalaureate degree means the nurses "are better prepared to assume leadership roles in health care settings. And we have a large component of community health in our curriculum, so this helps meet that growing need."

In noting the success of the project, Baugh cited the efforts of site coordinator Joyce Begley, on-site facilitator Maxine Shepherd and faculty Bev

Task force to develop plan to support states' biological diversity

Kentucky has 2,000 to 3,000 species of plants, more than 200 species of freshwater fish, 105 species of amphibians and reptiles, 340 species of birds and 75 species of mammals. "Add to this an unknown number of insects. Then consider the wide variety of ecosystems that support plants and animals life from hardwood forests and grasslands to caves and wetlands. This range and complexity of life and landscapes is known as biological diversity or biodiversity.

Biodiversity Task Force. The task force will meet for the first time Thursday, May 26, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Old State Capitol in Frankfort.

By October 1995, the task force is to submit to the governor a written report on the status of biodiversity in Kentucky with recommendations for its maintenance and conservation.

In preparing this document, the group will look at factors affecting Kentucky's biodiversity; species, natural areas and parts of the state that need special attention; how government agencies, universities and private organizations can improve coordination of their biodiversity programs; and how to better educate the public on biodiversity issues.

In March, Gov. Breton C. Jones appointed 32 Kentuckians to the group will recommend a comprehensive detailed strategy for sustaining and protecting local, regional and statewide biodiversity.

Lady Rockets give good showing against Jaguars

Rockcastle 10 • N. Laurel 17

Rockcastle County Lady Rockets quest for a district title fell short Wednesday when they were defeated by the top ranked team in the district North Laurel, 17-10.

The Lady Rockets fell behind early, as the Jaguars scored five runs in the top of the first inning. Rockcastle came back in the bottom of the second, taking the lead by two, scoring seven runs off hits by Amy Robinson, Angie Moore, Cindy McCauley, Becky Osborne, Janetta McLemore and Ginger Mink.

North Laurel quickly answered, scoring five more runs in the top of the third, taking the lead, 10-7. For the next four innings, the Jaguars and Rockets traded runs with the Jaguars coming out on top, scoring seven to the Rockets three, win-

Rockcastle 6 • Clay Co. 2

The Rockcastle Rockets overpowered rival Clay County last Wednesday, capturing their second district title in as many years, 6-2.

Rockcastle had a big seventh inning, scoring five of their six runs off a lead-off single by right fielder Jason Payne.

Strong Rocket fielding helped pitcher Kelly Gentry hold off several Tiger threats, not letting Clay County score after the first inning.

It was intense play as both teams were held to single digits in the "hits" department, Rockcastle with six and Clay with five.

Clay struck first, early in the top of the first, with their lead-off man slapping a double into right field. He was ning 10-7.

Senior Cindy McCauley and junior Becky Osborne were named to the All-Tournament team for district "play.

advanced to third by the third Tiger batter, who singled into left field.

With two men on, Clay struck for the final time in the first as the number five batter singled a shot into left field, scoring both baserunners.

Gentry struck the next batter out to end the threat, sending the Rockets into the bottom of the first down by two, 2-0.

Rockcastle bats fell silent for the first three innings, but opportunity knocked in the bottom of the fourth with the top of the lineup batting.

Lead-off man Greg Bowman hit a single up the middle, but was picked off first.

Second batter and second baseman Mickey McClure sent a single chasing after Bowman's up the center, reaching first base safely.

With two out, clean-up hitter Michael Shaffer sent a screamer up the middle, advancing McClure to third and chalking up his first hit of the night with a double.

With two men in scoring position, the Rocket threat ended as catcher Aaron Cox grounded out to second base to end the inning.

Clay County's bats were silent also as they went hitless for three straight innings, through the fourth.

The top of the sixth saw the first Rocket run as Greg Bowman hit a single, stole second and was advanced to home on a J.D. Bussell double to center field. The Rockets cut the Clay lead in half, 2-1.

Clay could not muster another run out of pitcher Kelly Gentry and went into the bottom of the seventh trying to hold onto the lead, but to no avail.

Rockcastle rallied around one another, starting off the bottom of the seventh with a big single by Jason Payne.

Payne was advanced on a bunt by Scottie Cotton, who safely reached first on an error by the first baseman.

Eric McKinney sacrificed the runners to second and third for the first out. Pinch hitter Dee Thomas was hit by a wild pitch, sending him to first to load the bases for the lead-off man.

Bowman singled, scoring Jason Payne and tying the ball game, 2-2. McClure hit into a fielder's choice, scoring Chris Bishop but forcing Bowman at second.

With runners on first and third and two out, Clay County opted to walk J.D. Bussell, once again loading the bases, this time for clean-up batter Shaffer.

Shaffer answered the call, ripping a liner to right field, clearing the bases for Rockcastle and capturing

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Singleton of Louisville spent some time the past week with Mrs. Mary Leach (Charles' sister).

Lisa Burdine and her sister Brenda Callahan visited their sister, Mrs. Brian Carol, in Knoxville this week.

Tosha Farris spent the weekend in Corbin with her grandparents.

Joe Hinsel visited his sister, Mrs. Hazel Mullins, last Thursday.

Tommy Bullen had the misfortune of getting his arm broken while playing baseball Saturday.

Bill Hall of Richmond, Ind. visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Durham during the week. He is Mrs. Durham's cousin.

Bill Shackelford and Susie were in Hartan and Middleboro visiting Bill

Caldwell and his aunt. Again the family wishes to thank the people for their prayers. They found Bill Caldwell much improved and happy to be back home.

Mrs. Nettie Mullins spent a few days in the Rockcastle Hospital during the week.

Brad Mullins and his three sons, Joshua, Cody and Brandon, of Robinson, Ill. spent the weekend with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullins.

Don't forget the Yard Sale given June 1st and 2nd of June near Lee Mullins' store given for the benefit of Ward Cemetery.

Spend patriotic weekend with historical, music programs airing on KET May 29-30!

Spend patriotic weekend with programs on KET

KET offers several programs in honor of Memorial Day, D-Day, and an American heroine.

Once, not too long ago, the battleship was believed to be the weapon of the future. The USS Wisconsin, the last battleship ever built, was decommissioned on September 30, 1991.

USS Wisconsin: The Last Battleship, airing on KET at 7 p.m. Sunday, May 29, is the story of a ship that saw service in three wars -- in World War II, in the Korean War, and in the Persian Gulf War, when it served as a command center.

Three generations of men who served on the Wisconsin tell their stories as the camera records the ship's final cruise, a reunion organized by the USS Wisconsin Association. The program documents the history of a unique ship, whose 16-inch naval guns were the largest naval guns in the world.

Next, join in a celebration of song with The National Memorial Day Concert, airing at 7:30 p.m. This year, the popular annual program offers a stirring musical salute to the Allied soldiers of the Normandy invasion and the American nurses of the Vietnam War. Hosted by veteran artist Ossie Davis, the concert will feature singers Clint Black, Maureen McGovern, and Harolyn Blackwell; actresses Jill Clayburgh and Mary McDonnell; Gen. Colin Powell; and the National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of pops maestro Erich Kunzel.

On Monday, KET airs two programs in the American Experience series. First, at 8 p.m. CT is "D-Day." This one-hour documentary chronicles the single most dramatic event of World War II through the voices of the people who participated in the planning and execution of the invasion, and in the battle for the Normandy beaches. Their stories and voices, edited from more than 100 hours of interviews, are woven together with footage and photographs from American, British, and German archives, much of which has never appeared on television.

Then at 9 p.m., the life and mysterious disappearance of a daring female aviator is explored in The American Experience "Amelia Earhart". The first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic, the first woman to fly alone across the continent -- and the first to cross it nonstop -- she was daring, determined, and an outspoken supporter of equal rights for women. She was also photogenic and glamorous. Yet "The First Lady of the Air" has remained an enigmatic idol whose colorful and complex life has been overshadowed by her mysterious disappearance on July 2, 1937.

The program features interviews with people who knew Earhart, including author Gore Vidal; Sally Putnam Chapman, granddaughter of publisher George Putnam; Earhart's husband; fellow flyers; family members; and biographers and historians. The program also contains newsreel footage and archival material from private collections and institutions.

EKU summer Community Education courses

From computers to car maintenance, from handgun safety to homes schooling, and from bookkeeping to bow making, Rockcastle Countians can probably find a subject to their liking among the 70-plus community education courses offered this summer by Eastern Kentucky University's Division of Special Programs.

The non-credit courses begin as early as June 6 and continue through Aug. 30, offering community residents an informal and inexpensive way to learn new skills or polish existing ones.

All the courses are open to the general public. No previous college experience is required. And there are no tests or grades. Most of the courses are offered during evening hours, and others on Saturdays.

Early registration is urged for all classes, since the summer classes are especially popular. To register, for more information about class times and tuition (generally $12 to $34), or to receive a brochure by mail, call (606)622-1228.

Seventeen computer courses are scheduled this summer: Introduction to the Pg for the Non-Typist, Introduction to the PC for the Scared and Nervous, Introduction to DOS 6.2, Advanced DOS 6.2, Introduction to Windows 3.0, Introduction to WordPerfect 6 for Windows, How to Buy a PC and Software, Lotus 1-2-3 for Windows, Advanced Lotus for Windows, Financial Management with Quicken 4 on the PC, Introduction to WordPerfect 6.0, PageMaker 5.0 for the PC, Advanced PageMaker 5.0 for the PC, Continuing WordPerfect 6.0, Beginning PageMaker on the Macintosh, Advanced PageMaker on the Macintosh, and Introduction to the Macintosh and Word Processing Using WordPerfect.

"Rockets" (Cont. from A9)
The district title for the second year in a row, defeating Clay County 6-2.

Rockcastle 1 • Cawood 5
Rockcastle opened up regional play Tuesday night against Cawood, the top ranked team in the region. Rockcastle could not find the sweet spot as they went down with only one run scored in the 5-1 loss.

The Cawood Trojans pushed five runs across the plate, two scoring on a Rocket error.

Solid 6 1/2 inning pitching by J.D. Bussell could not take Rockcastle to the next round, as Rockaste fell silent until the sixth inning, when clean-up batter Michael Shaffer advanced J.D. Bussell home, scoring their only run.

Miss Gentry to wed Mr. Rowe

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Gentry, 17324 North Ky. 39, Crab Orchard, wish to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Shandra Denise, to David Ray Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurney Rowe, Mt. Vernon. Miss Gentry is a 1988 graduate of Rockcastle County High School and a 1992 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University. Mr. Rowe is also a 1988 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. The wedding will take place at 2 p.m., June 11 at Liberty Baptist Church on Ky. 328. A reception will be held at the church following the ceremony. All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Poynter celebrate 25

Mr. and Mrs. Don Poynter will celebrate their 25th anniversary with an Open House reception, hosted by their daughter on Saturday, June 4, 1994 at Ferguson Baptist Church, 509 Murphy Ave., Ferguson, Ky. between 2 and 4 p.m. The couple were married June 6, 1969 at Poplar Grove Baptist Church. They have one daughter, Michelle (Liddell) Vaughn. All friends and relatives are invited. The couple requests no gifts.

Vanzants celebrate 40 years

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Vanzant will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary May 29.

Rogers says highway project is "one step closer"

Kentucky is one step closer to approval for a highway project that U.S. Rep. Hal Rogers, R-Somerset, says will lead to economic growth for southeastern Kentucky.

The National Highway System Bill, which includes money for I-66, a transcontinental highway that will pass through Kentucky, passed the House Public Works and Transportation Committee on Tuesday.

Money for the project will be appropriated in the next fiscal year if the bill is passed by the full House and Senate and signed by President Clinton as Rogers expects, said Frank Maisano, a spokesman for Rogers. I-66 would stretch across Kentucky from the Missouri state line to the West Virginia line, touching the Virginia border on the way. It is the main strand of the web-like network that would connect all the major roadways in Kentucky. Rogers said that the NHS recognizes the needs of Southern and Eastern Kentucky by including several important highway corridors. Those corridors include I-75, U.S. 87, U.S. 25E, the Daniel Boone Parkway, the Mountain Parkway, Kentucky Highway 80, 114 and 15, U.S. 23 and U.S. 119. At Rogers' request, U.S. 460 from Paintsville to Salsersville, was included in the Committee-approved bill. "The Federal government has made a long-standing commitment to build a transportation link between the road-starved and economically-needy counties of Southern and Eastern Kentucky and other states," Rogers said.

Also, Rogers said the Committee authorized $4 million for a project to improve and widen U.S. 27 from Somerset to Eubank. "This begins a project that will eventually four-lane U.S. 27 from south of Lexington to the Tennessee State line," Rogers said.

Rogers also added the project will "help bring new jobs, new opportunity, new industry and new hope to our region."

Rockcastle River Day is June 4

The 11th Annual Rockcastle River Day has been scheduled for Saturday, June 4 at the ASPI Demonstration Center. The center is located on Hwy. 1329 on the Rockcastle side of the Rockcastle River. Festivities are set to get underway at 9 a.m.

As you read this brief history of the river, hopefully you will be near the river and can answer the question at the end.

Gabriel Arthur was credited as the discoverer of the river in 1674 after his captors, the Shawnee tribe, released him. He crossed the Rockcastle enroute to east Tennessee from Ohio.

The first surveyed trail (Boone Trace) was completed on April 1, 1775. Daniel Boone, with 20 men in his party, cut an 18 inch wide path from Cumberland Gap to Berea. This path was used by over 70,000 pioneers from 1775 to 1795. They crossed the river in Jackson County.

The Wilderness Road was completed in 1796. The road followed the general direction of Boone Trace but they were two separate routes, as one went to Boonesborough and the other to Crab Orchard. Some historians pointed out that the Wilderness Road was the beginning of civilization for the state of Kentucky. Others noted that it was the beginning of the destruction of the Rockcastle country.

In the mid 1800s through the early 1900s the Rockcastle River was the road to success for the timber and coal industries. Logs were floated downstream from as far away as the upper forks near Clay County. At Livingston, they were cut, loaded on trains and sent to central Kentucky to build homes, churches and schools. Some of those structures are still standing.

Coal was extracted by miners from the high cliffs and transported across the river by cables and buckets. This came the name "Bucket mines" located a few miles northeast of Livingston. Some of the old tunnels can be seen during the fall and winter.

The Rockcastle River was used as a strategic location during the Civil War. A battle for control of it was fought on Wildcat Mountain in October, 1861. In many ways the battle is still going.

Since that historic date, the river has been slowly filling up with soil erosion due to uncontrolled timber cutting and coal mining. Swimming holes of the 1950s cannot be walked across without getting your knees wet. Its banks have been used for discarded household, restaurant and service station items. Its water was used to transport human body waste from the farms upstream to the farms downstream. The Rockcastle River has been used, abused and forgotten.

What can we do now to bring the Rockcastle River back to the way it was in Daniel Boone's time?

Attend meeting

School Superintendent Bige Towery Jr., and County Judge/Executive Buzie Carlisle attended a School-to-Work program May 17 at Eastern Kentucky University.

The program basically will facilitate students with a high school education to find work opportunities. Judge Carlisle reported that Diana Waddle of Rockcastle County High School was chosen vice chairman of the School-to-Work Local Partnership Council.

Open House

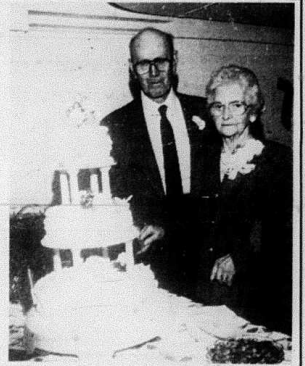

The children of Lillie Saylor are having an open house at her home on Sunday, May 29, at 155 Ford Drive, Mt. Vernon, between the hours of 1 and 6 p.m. to celebrate her 85th birthday. Friends and relatives are cordially invited to help her celebrate this milestone in her life.

Paynes celebrate 65th

The children and grandchildren honored their parents and grandparents, James and Flossie Payne, by celebrating their 65th anniversary with them on May 8 at the Freedom Baptist Church at Spang. James and Flossie were married on May 8, 1929. They have 10 children, 21 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

The event began by having 65 family members attend church with Mr. and Mrs. Payne. During the worship service, the children sang a favorite song of each parent. Their son, Rev. Curtis Payne, delivered the morning message. After the worship service a dinner complete with a three-tier cake and punch were served.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Lena) McKinney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jewell) Whitson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Payne and family, Mrs. Nola Gordon and family, Mr. and Mrs. John (Margaret) Kirby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Payne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey (Lillie) Hayes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Payne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray (Virginia) Decker and family and Mrs. and Mrs. Coy (Gayle) Brown and family.

Rockcastle Council for the Arts "The Dancing Donkey"

On May 19-20, the cast of "The Dancing Donkey" toured the production in each of the elementary schools.

The next Arts Council production will be the summer musical production of "Becca."

Vaccinate your children to protect them from disease

Advances in the way children are vaccinated have made it easier than ever to protect your child from common, but potentially lethal, childhood diseases.

New, combination vaccines allow physicians to protect children from several diseases with one inoculation, which should make every one who has tried to reassure a child that "the shot won't hurt for very long," feel better about the ordeal, according to Janet Kurzynski, Extension nutrition specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The development of vaccines to protect against childhood diseases has been the hallmark of the second half of the 20th century. Before vaccines, thousands of children died each year from common diseases, such as measles, mumps, whooping cough and polio. And many more thousands suffered permanent damage as a result of the diseases.

Today, vaccines have nearly eradicated several diseases, such as smallpox, polio, whooping cough and Haemophilus influenza B, she said.

The near eradication of these diseases has come from two factors. First, children vaccinated were protected against the disease. Second, because so many children were vaccinated -- and did not develop the diseases -- there were dramatically fewer sources of infection for exposure for children who did not receive the vaccinations," Kurzynski said.

As a result of fewer outbreaks of these diseases, many parents have not worried about getting their child vaccinated. The outcome is that several of the diseases that previously were on the decline have sprung up with new infections among these children not protected, she said.

Measles, for example, dropped to fewer than 1,300 cases in the U.S. in 1983, only to surge to more than 55,000 cases between 1989 and 1991, leading to 132 deaths.

Estimates on the number of unvaccinated children range from 37 to 56 percent of American children under two years of age. In certain areas where poverty is pervasive, the Center for Disease Control estimates that fewer than 10 percent of children have been vaccinated.

"If you have not had your child vaccinated against the common childhood diseases, you need to schedule your child for them at once. Your health care provider will be able to start your child on the schedule or bring your child up to date on overdue vaccinations," Kurzynski said.

In Kentucky, families can have their children immunized at the county health department. The cost of the immunization varies according to the family's income, she said.

cerned with the erosion of rights guaranteed by the Constitution. I keep reading and pondering Rick Madden's recent letter regarding gun control laws. Is Rick for us or against us? The garbled message I get is that he really doesn't know.

I am well aware that, in editing, letters-to-the-editor often lose their meaning, as happened to one of mine recently on the same subject. With this in mind, I am trying to read them in the lines to see what might have been deleted from Madden's letter.

The guy bemans the fact that our freedoms are being regulated out of existence and that, "as adults, we have to act ourselves, as we look at gun laws today and gun laws yet to come. . . . What you can and cannot have in your hands is not freedom."

With each new paragraph I kept saying, "Amen?," then rescinding it almost simultaneously. Toward the end, Rick admonishes us thusly: "Remember this when you go to the polls, if they (U.S. Congressmen) have sold out our freedoms to the NRA, they must go?" He closes with the stern warning: "Hold up there, NRA you have gone too far!"

So I am wondering whether the writer actually knows what the NRA stands for; that this organization is protecting our right to defend life, home, family and belongings against marauding intruders whose only reluctance to smashing doors and taking what they want is that they are not quite sure at this time who it is and who isn't adequately insured - by Smith & Wesson?

It is not for the NRA's constant vigilance these intruders who invade, rob, rape and kill at random would have no reason to doubt. They could be comforted in the assurance that the flaming liberals in Congress had long ago relieved law-abiding citizens of any means to deter their reign of terror and destruction; that behind those barred doors and windows are helpless, quivering souls who can only pray that God will do for them what they were once able, under the Second Amendment of the Constitution, to do for themselves.

And this type, thanks again to the liberal influence on schools and the unreasonable desire to protect the rights of the criminal element, has little knowledge or fear of Divine power. They understand and fear only one thing, and we all know we're losing if any means to deter their government who swore on the Holy Bible to protect and defend all of the Constitution, not just the parts that suit their personal fancy. Using God's Word in such a manner is blasphemous?

Thank you,
Sincerely,
Ivan McKinney

Our Readers Write

Dear Friends,
I wish I could personally join the Cintas Board Members, Jerry Rickett of Kentucky Highlands and the Cintas employees on this great day for Rockcastle County.

Cintas is making a solid commitment to their Rockcastle plant because of you, the employees, who are highly dependable and productive. This is the second such expansion by Cintas in Rockcastle County. In 1986 when sales were growing faster than production capacity, the plant was expanded and many new jobs were created.

Your hard work, high productivity and excellent management has demanded another expansion. This expansion will add another 70 new, high skill jobs bringing the total Cintas workforce to over 250 employees.

This is exactly what economic development in Southern and Eastern Kentucky is all about. An excellent, productive workforce will attract companies and good-paying jobs to our communities, just like Cintas.

I would like to extend a hearty congratulations to Tandy Pedigo, who over the last five years has dramatically increased the output of this plant. Your leadership is a major reason why Cintas has made such a strong commitment to the Rockcastle plant.

I congratulate you all for your great work and service. With this new expansion, I am confident the Rockcastle plant will be Cintas' most productive manufacturing division in all of the United States.

Sincerely,
Hal Rogers

Preventing manganese toxicity problems in tobacco

By Tom Mill - County Extension Agent for Agriculture

It is estimated that manganese toxicity costs burley tobacco producers $30 to $40 million per year in lower yields and quality. But these losses could be reduced.

Manganese is an essential nutrient to burley tobacco. But in excess amounts it causes a disorder commonly referred to as manganese toxicity. This usually occurs early in the growing season just after transplanting.

Visual symptoms of manganese toxicity are characterized by a light green or yellowish color between the vein and stunted growth. However, growth may be retarded by manganese toxicity even when other symptoms are not visible.

The key to reducing losses due to manganese toxicity is prevention. Once symptoms become visible in the field, damage has already occurred.

The use of large amounts of nitrogen fertilizers causes soil pH to decrease one-half to one unit below the initial pH level. When soil pH drops below about 5.5, manganese toxicity may occur.

Prevention may be as simple as annual soil testing and lime addition to bring soil to a pH of 6.4 to 6.6. Ideally, lime should be applied at least one year prior to transplanting to allow time for lime to react. For this season, if a field has a borderline pH of 5.8 to 6.4 and lime has not already been added to correct this problem, then consider the following practices to reduce manganese toxicity.

Band 80 to 90 percent of the nitrogen fertilizer, at least 10 to 12 inches from the tobacco row ten days after transplanting. This separates the bulk of acid-forming fertilizer from young plant roots.

Apply molybdenum in setter water at transplant. Use one-fourth to one-half pound sodium molybdate per acre divided equally among the number of barrels of water used per acre.

Finally, soil test early for next year's tobacco ground and apply lime in fall as needed to bring soil pH to 6.6. By following these management strategies, growers should be able to avoid tobacco crop losses due to manganese toxicity.

farmers still need to be aware of the possibility.

Entire fields are rarely infested and armyworms can be controlled by treating infested portions of the field, Bessin said.

Because infestations usually begin around field margins in conventional tillage adjacent to grassy strips and small grass, farmers need to determine how far infestations extend into the fields before treatment. In notified fields, infestations can begin within the field.

When scouting for armyworms, growers should look for small, oval, yellowish eggs located behind the head of the worm. These eggs are fly parasites that eventually will kill the worms and keep them from reaching damaging levels.

Before using insecticide, farmers should consider the size of armyworms. Control actions in corn are recommended when armyworms reach between one-half and three-fourths inches long. Farmers should also check the entire field. Control actions are warranted when the entire field averages 35 percent infested plants or 50 percent or more defoliation is seen on damaged plants.

European corn borer moths are now active across the state. Farmers should check with the Public Access Weather System (PAWS) for a listing of degree day accumulations to monitor the moth's development.

Attention wheat and feed grain participators

Hampton Henton, Jr., State Executive Director of the Kentucky State ASCS Office announced May 18th that land designated as conserving uses for soy (set aside acres) cannot be hayed or grazed during the five principle growing months of June 1 through October 31.

ASCS official Henton also reminded farmers that land designated as set aside must meet both the cropping history and minimum size and width eligibility requirements. Harvesting on set aside acres is prohibited for all crops in the current year.

Farmers who do not adhere to the grazing, haying and harvesting restrictions on this acreage will be determined out of compliance and could lose all program benefits.

Producing top quality soybeans

Producing top quality soybean crops in Kentucky requires skill, experience and good timing.

To get a better soybean crop this year, don't plant too early, said Morris Bitzer, Extension grain crops specialist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "Many farmers want to get their soybeans into the ground too soon after they have planted corn," Bitzer said.

If the soil temperatures stay too cool, the soybeans will sit in the ground for two or three weeks before they even can germinate, he said. This leads to seed corn maggot and other damage.

"Wait until soil gets about 65 degrees to plant soybeans," Bitzer said. Toy soybeans yields are obtained in 20-inch rows or less. Bitzer advised growers not to seed too thick.

A University of Kentucky's progress report recently put out soybean variety information, provides a good guide to how many pounds of seed should be planted per acre.

Finally, picking the right variety is important to produce the best soybeans, Bitzer added. There are many good varieties that can be used anywhere in the state.

Just because a farmer is in southern or southwest Kentucky doesn't mean he has to use a group V variety, he said. Group IV varieties have actually shown higher yields over the years. In addition, farmers should spread risk out to get better yields year after year by using more than one maturity group soybean.

Program on KET highlights Bluegrass roots

Bill Monroe, "the Father of Bluegrass Music," popularized the Kentucky-born art form he learned from the townfolk of Rosine, Ky. and from his uncle, old-time fiddler Pendleton "Uncle Pen" Vandivere.

Rosine: The Legacy of Uncle Pen, airing on KET at 10 p.m. Thursday, June 2, takes a look at the origins of bluegrass music and its impact on the culture of Western Kentucky. The program was supported by the KET Fund for Independent Production.

Crop reports will be taken June 1 through July 15

The Rockcastle County ASCS Office will be taking crop certifications, or reports, June 1 through July 15. Producers are urged to schedule a appointment by calling 256-2525, as this will allow us to have maps and other information on hand and prevent your having to wait.

Crop reports are made on a voluntary basis for the following reasons:

- As a basis for disaster and emergency programs; such as disaster initial pH of burley tobacco and filing for disaster program benefits

- As a record of land use and crops planted; for establishing crop acreage bases such as corn, for "set aside" history, etc.

- To prevent reduction of loss of future crop acreage bases; reporting will hold your base and/or build it up

- To verify producers responsibilities regarding sodbuster, Swampbuster, and conservation compliance provisions; all farms are required to be covered under a conservation plan by 1995

Crop reports are required from producers who are participating in the 1994 Wheat and Feed Grain program and those who are in the Conservation Reserve Program (CCP).

Monitor corn fields weekly for pest damage

Corn farmers need to check their fields weekly as their crops begin to emerge for several insect pests, which include cutworms, armyworms and the European corn borer.

Serious cutworm damage has been reported in Hardin County, and growers should monitor fields weekly for signs of activity in their fields.

"Growers should examine 20 consecutive plants in at least five areas of the field," said Ric Bessin, Extension entomologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "They should record the number of plants that are cut, wilted or show signs of leaf feeding. If two or more cutworms per 100 plants are observed and 3 percent or more cutting of plants is recorded, treatment may be warranted."

Farmers should notice the evenness of corn stook infestations as they walk through fields. Often infestations are restricted to just a few "hot" spots. Treating only these spots saves time and money.

"They should look for live cutworms around freshly damaged plants," Bessin said. "First, growers should check under clods around the base of the plants, then, dig up an area three inches in radius and three inches deep around the plant. They should record the number and average length of the live cutworms."

Farmers should also pay close attention to weedy fields before planting. Those fields are at greater risk to cutworm infestation.

An intense outbreak of armyworms occurred in portions of Tennessee, Bessin said. An additional report of army worms also was reported in sweet corn in Daviess County, KY. The armyworm problem in Tennessee does not mean there will be a serious problem in Kentucky, but

A note for mother Mary Prewitt who passed away May 31, 1963

May 31 my dear sweet mother passed away. I hate so bad to see her go. She won't be back here on earth to see me no more. But I'm going to meet her on heaven's bright shore. Oh so many times I heard her pray asking the Lord to keep us through another day. She prepared the meals for us to eat. When she was so tired to stand on her feet, her old ragged apron and torn up shoes. Now she is in heaven where everything is new. I hope she meets me at the gate and says oh child you're not too late. As days go by I feel so sad now that I have no mother or dad.

Love you Mom,

Sun Protection for Kids

Children's sunglasses, years ago, were little better than toys—cheap, cute and not much protection from the sun. The new little sunglasses are as cute as ever, but they're now junior versions of their parents' quality protection against ultraviolet rays.

Children should wear sunglasses when at the beach or pool for long periods. One guideline: any time you'd put sunblock on the child, put on sunglasses, too. Truth is, infants and children lack pigment on the lens of the eye, which means that more ultraviolet rays will reach a baby's retina than an adult's. Life time sun damage starts early.

The optometrist can help you choose appropriate sunglasses for your youngsters. It's smart to choose those with impact-resistant polycarbonate lenses. Remember that ultraviolet protection is more important than the darkness of the lens. Lenses must not be warped; frames should be rounded and flexible. And yes, sunglasses can be worn too much.

Kids should remove them indoors and in the shade.

Poet's Corner

Violet

By: Preston Parrett

I visited a country cemetery
It was just before decoration day.
And I admired all the expensive
flowers
As I went along my way.

Far back in a corner
Underneath a tall pine tree,
There was a small grave
And a young mother down on her knee.

The young mother's jeans were patched
Where they were torn and old,
Her blouse was faded out
But covered a heart of loving gold.

I heard her sadly saying
In a teary voice sweet and low,
Violet, sweet Violet, you are gone
And baby I miss you so.

You were like the fragile flower
From whence you got your name,
Violet, sweet Violet, without you
My life will never be the same.

I miss your loving warmth
As I held you close to me,
Violet you brought me joy and peace
With your smile and your glee.

You were only with me for awhile
When God called and took you away
And I'm sure heaven is brighter
But I'm more lonely each day.

I cannot decorate with expensive
flowers
But I'm sure you can see from above,
That this can of wild violets
Are watered with tears of my love.

The young mother got slowly up
And went sadly on her way,
Leaving behind the most beautiful
flowers
That I'd ever seen for decoration day.

Expressions
By: Preston Parrett
March 30, 1994

I love to sit in the mall parking lot
And watch the human tide ebb and flow.
Wondering forever wondering
Why their actions and expressions are so.

I saw one dear old lady
Her face drawn into a pout.
And I wondered if she'd been weaned
on vinegar
Or was she married to a lout?

One couple with hands in each others
hip pockets
Had smiles that were unreal,
I wondered if they were practicing to be pick pockets
Or seeing if they had buds on left.

One fellow was walking in a sneaky way
And sidling along with an expression of guilt
I wondered if he had diarrhea
And had accidentally messed his Fruit-of-the-Loom.

Three ladies with bowed backs and blood shot eyes
Were moosey along in a stupor.
And I wondered if they were teachers
Whom KERA had thrown for a looper.

One kid was blowing snot and boogers
And was being led off by a cop.
He's been caught shoplifting
And his crocodile tears wouldn't stop.

One poor man grazed a fender
And he guiltily looked all around,
Then he swiftly backed her out
And took off back to town.

One scared, dyspeptic looking man
Was tagging along behind his wife,
He'd been forced to come along
And must have been in fear for his life.

The most sneaky people of all
Are those who park in handicap spaces.
They look all around in shame
With sheepish expressions on their faces.

So if you're short on ready cash
And want to see a show,
Just go to a mall parking lot
And read expressions of people on to go.

Mrs. Geneva Wilson and husband Bob of Ohio visited Mrs. Edna Caldwell.

Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rogers were Mr. and Mrs. Cleston Roberts, Mrs. Eva Sowder of Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lawson and Mrs. Wayne Todd and Jeffrey.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barker of Ohio spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Burton.

Lillian Brooks visited her brother-in-law, Toy Rogers and her two nieces Saturday, Norma Kinman and Peggy Cordier and husband William. They all enjoyed the day together plus two delicious meals. This was the first time they had all been together since the death of her dear sister, Lucille Rogers, one year ago in April.

Lillian has been visiting her sister, Thelma Rogers, who has been real sick for a while in Lake Cumberland Hospital in Somerset and now is back at the Britt-Haven Nursing Home on the third floor. She is blind and has to be fed her meals. Lillian has been going every other day to feed and see how she is doing. She asked the prayers of the Christian people for her.

AAA expects record travel this Memorial Day weekend

Almost 29 million Americans are expected to travel 100 miles or more from home this Memorial Day weekend, AAA Blue Grass/Kentucky reported today.

According to AAA, 25.4 million persons will vacation by motor vehicle while another 3.5 million will travel by plane, train or bus.

Overall, travel has increased one percent from year ago. "Travel remains one of this country's great bargains as stable lodging rates, low gas prices and continued airfare discounts make this summer an ideal time to travel," said AAA's Marketing Manager, Kathy Gross.

Nationally, AAA reports the five most popular domestic travel destinations for this summer are Orlando, FL; Grand Canyon National Park, AZ; Yellowstone National Park, WY; Williamsburg, VA and Washington, DC.

Internationally, the most requested destinations for air travel are: London; Frankfurt; Paris; Cancun; and the Alpine region of Austria, Germany and Switzerland.

Please note!!!

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court meets the second Tuesday of each month instead of the first Tuesday as reported in the 1994 guide in the Signal last week.

32 individuals recognized for acts of courage by KSP

Thirty-two individuals were recognized for acts of courage, great achievement and for lifesaving efforts recently during the 1994 Kentucky State Police Awards ceremony held at the Holiday Inn Capital Plaza.

One officer, Sgt. Allen Houchin of the Bowling Green Post, was presented the Governor's Medal for Valor, the highest honor given to a law enforcement officer in the state of Kentucky. Houchin was recognized for helping a woman to safety during a shootout with a Bowling Green man on Oct. 14, 1993. During the confrontation, he was severely wounded in the abdomen but later made a full recovery.

Kentucky State Police Commissioner Jerry Lovitt also presented awards to 20 other KSP officers and 11 civilians and officers from local law enforcement agencies.

Det. David Mirus, with the Drug Enforcement/Special Investigations East Branch, was named 1993 Trooper of the Year. Mirus, who is from Morehead, has been with the state police since 1975. He was selected from among 17 other nominees. Mirus has been heading up the investigation into the "First Family," a group of central Kentuckians involved in a cocaine pipeline that ran from New York to the Commonwealth.

Sue Bennett College to host pastors conference

For the next two weeks Sue Bennett College will play host to more than 50 Methodist pastors from the Appalachian region who will gather together for fellowship, spiritual growth and mission education.

"Participants in the Appalachian Local Pastors School will be given training in skills that will enhance their gifts as pastoral leaders," said Edwin LeMaster, director of the program. "Specifically, the program is designed to prepare local pastors/lay missionaries for the development and strengthening of their Appalachian congregations."

Nurses honored. . . .

Patient Care Assistants who were voted by their peers as PCAs of the year are Barbara Graves and Julie Hammons. Ms. Graves has been employed at the hospital since 1986 and Ms. Hammons since 1988. All of these individuals have contributed to quality patient care for this community.

Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center celebrated National Nurses Week last week with week long festivities. Those nurses honored as "Nurses of the Year" were Gail Bowles, RN and Rosemary Jones, LPN. Ms. Bowles has been employed by the hospital since 1987. She is a charge nurse on the Respiratory Care Center. Ms. Jones has been in nursing for many years and is currently a staff nurse on acute care.

said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Bounded on the north by the lands of Sam Anglin and Effie; on the east by the lands of John McCracken and Conley Hale; on the south by the lands of M.J. Miller and Owen Allen and L.M. Davidson; on the west by the lands of L.J. Scott and contains 150 acres, more or less.

There is excluded and excepted from the above the following three tracts of land, to-wit:

(1) One-half acre, more or less, conveyed to Lee Owens and Mary Owens, by deed dated July 17, 1963, recorded in Deed Book 85, page 525, beginning at a walnut near a hollow; thence a new line northeasterly with Ballard Owens 87 feet to a stone, a new corner; thence northeasterly 69 feet to a fence post, a new corner; thence southerly 127 feet with Eddie Owens (now Lee Owens) to the point of beginning and containing one-half (1/2) acre, more or less.

(2) Fifty (50) acres, more or less, conveyed to Eddie Owens by deed dated December 13, 1946, recorded in Deed Book 81, page 212, beginning on a poplar on the south side of Dry Fork, the beginning corner of the Skinner survey; thence S 17 W 20 poles to a white oak on the side of the hill; thence S 35 poles to a pine and chestnut oak on a high ridge near a large rock; thence with the meanderings of said ridge its general course about S 35 W 100 poles to a hickory smallmaple and small poplar; thence N about 63 W 30 poles to a stake in said Chastain line; thence to a gap in a cliff, the course being about 63 E; thence down the ridge to a beech in said line the corner in the line of Eddie Owens; thence with the said Eddie Owens line to a walnut; thence a E course to the beginning, containing 50 acres, more or less.

(3) Two (2) acres more or less, conveyed to Eddie Owens by deed dated January 10, 1944, recorded in Deed Book 82, page 68, beginning on a small poplar on the south side of the county road; thence a southeast course crossing a bottom to a walnut near a hollow; thence a west course to a beech in the line of M.E. Scott; thence with the said M.E. Scott line to a small elm, on the south side of the county road; thence an east course, with the said county road to the beginning and containing two (2) acres, more or less.

Defendants obtained title to the above-described real property by deed dated June 10, 1991, executed by Sterling Hoskins, et al, of record in Deed Book 143, page 276, in the office of the Clerk of the Rockcastle County Court, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.

The Property Will be Sold Upon the Following Terms and Conditions:

1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of sixty (60) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five per cent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond bearing interest at twelve per cent (12%) per annum.
2. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale.
3. The buyer shall have possession of the premises upon compliance with the terms of sale.
4. In the event the plaintiff, Citizens Bank, is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required and the property will be conveyed to Citizens Bank in due season upon payment of the expenses of the sale.
5. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back line, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Willis G. Coffey, Master Commissioner of the Rockcastle Circuit Court sent get-well cards and called to ask about him. We also wish to thank all the churches, both here and in Indiana, and their congregation who had hom on their prayer lists. Also WRVK and Larry Burdette for having him on the prayer list. We wish to thank everyone who brought food, sent flowers, called and sent sympathy cards. We especially want to thank everyone and their families for their prayers. We want to thank Cox Funeral Home and staff for all their help and consideration shown the family. A special thanks to all the members of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church and the "Willing Workers." Each and every act of kindness and sympathy was deeply appreciated. The family of Ralph C. Sigmon.

Garbage Dumps Are Illegal

Stiff fines and hours of community service await those in Rockcastle County who still litter the roadsides by throwing bottles, cans and fast food garbage from their cars. Fines await those who have garbage dumps even on their own property. Dumping and littering are illegal! County Judge/Executive Buzz Carolotis wants everyone to know that such actions will no longer be tolerated. One man from Laurel County recently was sentenced to forty hours of community service by our new district judge, Mike Henry, for throwing a bottle from his car window. He has been painting, scrubbing floors, and doing other clean-up jobs in the courthouse.

Dumps are a health hazard! Dumps destroy property values! Dumps are unsightly! Dumps eventually ruin the ground water! Dumps cause the proliferation of rodents! Dumps can spread disease! Dumps are a health hazard!

Disposal of household waste at any place other than a permitted site is a violation of KRS Chapter 224 and is punishable by penalties of up to $1,000 per day for each day a violation continues. Rockcastle County is required to uphold this state law as well as the county ordinance regarding proper disposal of waste.

For information regarding disposal of household garbage in Rockcastle County, please contact the solid waste coordinator at 256-5315.

For Non-Stop Service

WE'RE FRIENDS YOU CAN DEPEND ON.

Ask someone who didn't receive good service when needed, and you'll find out how important it is. Especially if the service they expected (and didn't get) should have come from their insurance agent.

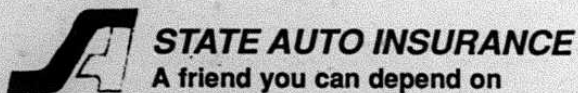

That's where we come in. Our business is providing dependable insurance service at all times, and protection plans based on your individual needs.

When you need us, we'll be there.

May we serve you? Just give us a call. You'll find we're friends you can depend on.

To The Graduates

Mr. & Miss RCHS

Seniors:

We are approaching the close of another school year and the final closing of the original Rockcastle County High School. The classes following you will graduate from the new RCHS with memories similar to your memories here.

It is also a time when we must pause for a moment to remember that we are completing high school. And, while graduation brings a momentary end to school, it does not bring an end to your education.

Over the past four years here at RCHS you have worked at your studies and learned many things which you did not know when school began. What you learned was the result of many factors, not the last of which was your efforts: your individual efforts. It has been said that we get out of life what we put into it. Your efforts in studying, writing, in practice and in the hours you have put into your classes have been rewarded by the new knowledge you have gained: knowledge that no one can ever take away from you.

Now this school year draws to an end as summer approaches, but your learning continues, for all life is a school and we learn by everything we do. This year in school has continued your education for life, but it is life itself that will complete that education: it is life itself that will temper what you learn in school and prepare you for living it.

It is my sincere wish for each graduate that the memories of RCHS will be pleasant experiences for you. May you live life to its fullest: May you enjoy it and may you learn.

Your Friend and Principal,

Ronald Lusk

Tracy Todd and J.D. Bussell

Educating Everyone Takes Everyone

A Publication of the Rockcastle County Board of Education
MAY, 1994

The Rockcastle County Board of Education Provides Equal Education and Employment Opportunities

Superintendent's Message

The theme for this publication is Educating Everyone Takes Everyone. There is nothing strikingly profound about that phrase because we have always believed that all children need educating and that a team approach works best. But, in reality, I am not certain that these two principles have been consistently practiced.

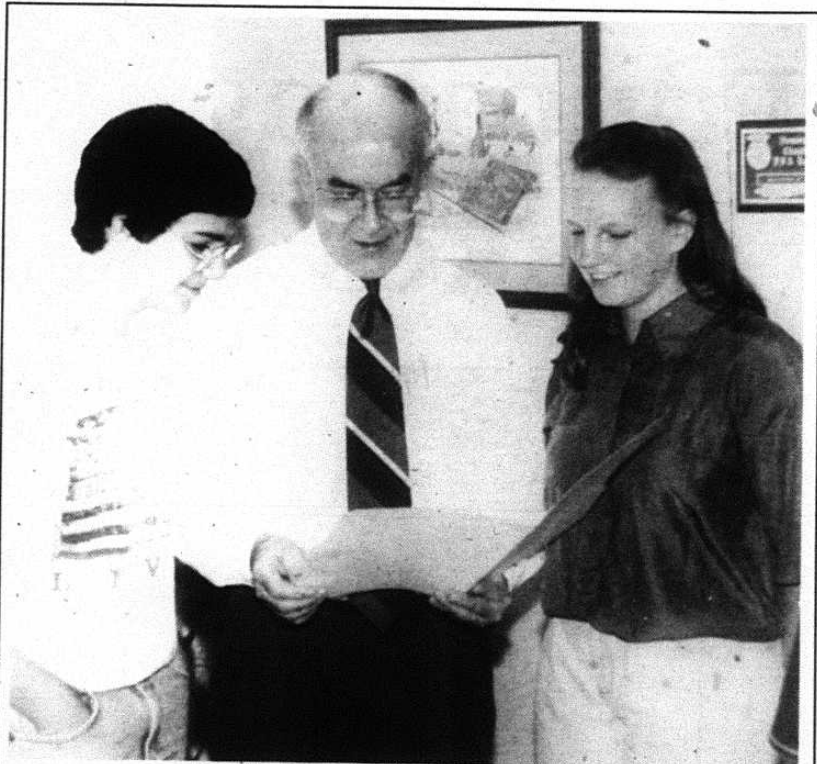

In today's school, it is critical that we teach all children and it is necessary that we broaden our perception of a teacher. Parents are the first and most influential teachers of children. The more structured academic process of education is the responsibility of teachers but we must understand that students also learn from each other, including their younger and older peers, and they learn from community resources which provide an opportunity to apply knowledge in real life situations. Rote learning is no longer enough because our students must be prepared to think for a living.

This different approach to education has a tremendous impact upon teachers. It changes the role of "schooling" promoted in the traditional sense. Teachers today must coordinate numerous activities which expand far beyond a textbook in order to provide students with the necessary learning experiences.

Many times teachers are asked to deal with traumatic changes in their working environment with a minimum of training and exposure. Teachers are pressured to hold on to old practices and yet implement new ones. Teachers are struggling with a changing school culture which many times is contrary to the way they have been trained.

May is Teacher Appreciation Month. I applaud the hard work of our teachers, I respect their concerns and questions about education reform, and I recognize the stress that accompanies this transformation. Most importantly, I want to convey my belief in teachers and a positive outlook that they will face the challenges, seize the opportunities, and continue to transform schools in places where students are prepared to become productive, responsible adults and prepared for success in the ever-changing work place.

Let us all assume responsibility for the important task of preparing our youth for life and work. An old African proverb says, "It takes an entire village to raise a child." Educating Everyone Takes Everyone.

Primary School Points The Way

Beginning with the 1994-95 school year, each elementary school must approve a management program for reporting to parents and assessing student progress. In Rockcastle County, we feel our two top choices are: Different Ways of Knowing (DWOK) or Kentucky Early Learning Profile (KELP). Teachers will begin training this summer to insure proper implementation. The DWOK will assist teachers in writing units of study for students as well as assess their progress and report to parents. This program has three (3) years of research and implementation to support its use. The KELP has been used in a field study for 350 schools in Kentucky last year and as a pilot in several districts in the 1992-93 school terms. It will be the decision of each individual school as to which model or models chosen for use in their primary unit.

The goal of Primary School is to collaborate with teachers and administrators in creating and implementing programs that will help children develop positive attitudes toward learning, school and themselves - and becoming contributing members of society.

The philosophy for the children includes:

- Positive Expectations - All children can learn - academically and socially.
- Active Thematic Learning - Children learn best when they are active participants in learning and when instruction is organized around compelling themes.
- Early Intervention - Children who experience early success are more likely to stay in school and become lifelong learners.
- Powerful Curriculum - An effective curriculum develops the multiple intelligences of children - their artistic and social skills as well as verbal and math skills, intuitive as well as logical thinking.
- The Arts - The visual and performing arts are intrinsically motivating to people and are powerful tools for learning and expressing ideas.

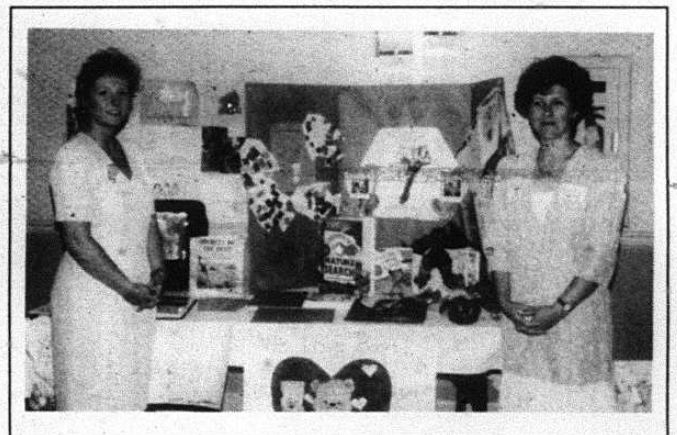

For teachers as learners and collaborators - Teachers need opportunities to learn with and from each other. Teachers are continual learners.

For the home parental partnerships - Parents are important partners in student success.

Brodhead Preschool Recognized a State Model Site

Brodhead Preschool has been recognized as a model program by the Kentucky Department of Education. The preschool program and its staff were observed and rated by the Department last spring and received exceptionally high scores in teacher, child interactions, supplies and materials, instructional program, and facilities. Ms. Tammy Stevens is the lead teacher of the site. Ms. Stevens is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky University. Her instructional assistant is Ms. Mary Ann Childress. Ms. Stevens and Ms. Childress attended a luncheon in their honor in Louisville on May 13, 1994. Ms. Tammy Gabbard, Preschool Coordinator was also in attendance for the district. Rockcastle County is proud of this honor and to have quality programs and staff recognized for their accomplishments.

What Makes A

Lindsay Adams

I can think of many things that make a teacher "good." One thing that makes a teacher a "good" teacher is when a student tells something that he/she thinks is funny, and the teacher doesn't think it is funny at all, but a "good" teacher will laugh so she won't hurt the child.

Another way that you can tell if a "good" teacher is the "best" is when a student has his/her answer that they think is absolutely right, but it isn't right at all. A "good" teacher will say something that will make the child feel like his/her answer wasn't totally wrong.

An awesome teacher is one that will give all the help that she has when a student is hurt or sick. A "good" teacher understands how a child feels without his/her parents or relatives around to help the child.

It is wonderful to have a teacher who cares about your feelings. For instance, one that will make a problem be funny rather than taking it so seriously and embarrassing or hurting the student's feelings in front of his/her friends.

A teacher that wants a child to have the best grades that he/she can possibly have is a teacher that will let you do a test or an assignment over again if you have a lot of answers incorrect.

I have listed only a few things about the wonderful teachers of Mt. Vernon Elem. School. Our teachers put themselves in the shoes of the child to see everything from the child's point of view. That is what makes them the "best" in the county.

Throughout my eight years of schooling, I have had several great teachers. However, just like everyone else, I have my favorite. This special person is not only a teacher but a friend who has the many qualities of a great teacher. This teacher didn't just give me boring facts and assignments, but also a lot of their extra time and love. They always seemed to know when I needed a caring smile or humorous joke to lift my spirits, and they never failed to give me that serious lecture I needed when my efforts began to slack off.

This teacher has the unique quality of encouraging their students to matter what. They believed each student could succeed and become something great. They always tried to relate with the students. They often told of the many difficulties they faced as a child so the students would know that they weren't alone in their troubles.

This special teacher, along with many others, has numerous other great qualities that are going to continue to touch children's lives throughout the years as they have mine.

My fifth grade teacher is a teacher. He is good because he makes us things, he lets us do it ourselves and he won't forget what we do ourselves. He is hard in his class but he lets us have so much fun. One day is about halfway over, he lets us have so much fun.

He has many qualities that make him a great teacher. The way he teaches Math. Before we do a problem on the board, he shows us how to do it. Then he lets us do them. He can see if we understand.

Another thing is how he helps us. In the morning before we start class, he tells us what is going on in the world. He tells us what is going on in the world.

I like my teacher because he is nice to us. Sometimes he gives us candy. I like him for figuring things out ourselves.

My favorite teacher is one who treats each student with respect; but if you make her mad, she can be your worst nightmare. I try to be a good student but I get in a little trouble sometimes. I have had to sit in recess for her before but that doesn't make me dislike her.

She is always interested in her job and will take time to explain things to any student who has a problem.

I think all teachers should be kind, considerate and have love for children.

My favorite teacher is one who has a sense of humor, but doesn't take his/her work too lightly. They should respect their students and use discipline justly.

My favorite teacher would not discriminate between races, sexes or ages. He/She would realize that some students need more help than others, and then give them that help.

My favorite teacher would set a good example, and help us to follow that example. They should know about what they are teaching, and be honest if a student raises a question that they don't know the answer to. Then they should help the student find the answer, and not say that they knew it all along.

This teacher that I have described does not have a name, does not have a face, but has several names and faces. Every teacher has some of these virtues and exercises them at the right times.

If everyone would try to be like my favorite teacher, the world would not be floundering. The world would be almost perfect.
