PUBLIC NOTICE
Notice of Finding of no Significant Impact on the Environment and Notice of Intent to Request a Release of Funds

To All Interested Agencies, Groups and Persons:
On or about August 26, 1994 Daniel Boone Development Council (DBDC) will request Kentucky Housing Corporation (KHC) to release U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) funds under Title II of the National Affordable Housing Act of 1990 (NAHA) for the following project:

Project: Town Hill Housing Project
Purpose: Demolition/clearance of existing structures and construction of four single-family rental units to provide safe and affordable housing for low-income persons

Location: Sand Springs Road, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky
Estimated Cost of Project: $263,321

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment, and accordingly, KHC has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190).

An Environmental Review Record respecting the within project has been made by KHC which documents the environmental review of the project. The Environmental Review Record is on file at Kentucky Housing Corporation, 1231 Louisville Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601 and is available for public examination and copying upon request during normal business hours.

All interested agencies, groups and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by DBDC to Mr. Frank Jones, Executive Director. Such written comments should be received at Richmond Rd., P.O. Box 277, Manchester, Ky. 40902-0277 on or before August 25, 1994. All such comments so received will be considered and DBDC will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

DBDC will undertake the project described above with HOME funds from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title II of the National Affordable Housing Act of 1990. KHC is certifying that KHC as State Participating Jurisdiction consents to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision making, and action; and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, DBDC may use the HOME funds and KHC will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. KHC will accept an appeal to its approval of the release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases:

- (a) The certification was not in fact executed by KHC's certifying officer.
- (b) KHC has failed to make one of two findings pursuant to 558.41 or to make the written determination decision required by 558.47, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project, as applicable.
- (c) KHC has omitted one or more of the steps set forth as Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an Environmental Assessment.
- (d) No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the National Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800.
- (e) Objections have been made by a Federal Agency.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to Kentucky Housing Corporation, 1231 Louisville Road, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

Objections to the release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by KHC. No objection received after September 9, 1994 will be considered by KHC.

Robert W. Adams,
Executive Director
Ky. Housing Corporation

CARDS OF THANKS

The family of Helen Faye Owens wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers, food, and all the prayers. Also, thanks to everyone who helped in any way.

The family of Pauline Smith want to thank everyone for their kindness during the loss of our loved one. A special thank you to Bro. Ron Roberts, Jackie and Nancy for their comforting words and compassion. Thanks to the ones that brought food, flowers and gave donations and also to Dowell and Martin Funeral Home. God bless you all. The children.

6. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Willis G. Coffey, Master Commissioner
Rockcastle Circuit Court

REFUND!
FOR FORMER KU CUSTOMERS

You may have a refund coming from Kentucky Utilities Co., but we need to find you to deliver it.

If you think you qualify for a refund, call us at 1-800-383-5582 to let us know where you are.

A persistent KU effort to pass along fuel cost savings to our customers has culminated in the approval of a refund plan by the Kentucky Public Service Commission. This refund affects current and former residential and commercial customers who received electric service in their name from KU between June 1985 and December 1990.

Your refund amount depends on your electricity usage during this period.

If you were a KU customer during this period and have received continuous KU service without interruption since then, any refund you are due will be automatically credited to your account as a current customer.

Not completely finished but...

Officials says school will open

By: Richard Anderkin

The number of student drivers may be limited, chorus students may have to sing in the library and band students will definitely be bused to the Rockcastle Middle School, but come August 22, Rockcastle County schools will open complete with a new, semi-finished Rockcastle County High School.

Barring any unforeseen catastrophe, RCHS staff will be able to occupy the new building next Monday, Tim Geegan told Supt. Bige Towery, Jr., and members of the Rockcastle County Board of Education on Tuesday night.

Finance officer Richard Bray, who has headed the project for the local board, also told board members that RCHS staffers were already moving things from the middle school to the new high school and that most of the new furniture for the school is already placed in the classrooms.

The list of things that will be completed at the new school when it opens is certainly longer than the "not completed" list, but several things including the chorus and band rooms, the gymnasium and the auditorium will have to be finished after school starts.

Geegan wouldn't give a definite time frame on how long it will take to complete the entire project, but Bray told board members that it was his understanding that all phases of the project will be completed by the end of September.

Towery told the board that he had discussed the chorus and band rooms problem with RCHS principal Ronnie Cash and that he did not think that would be a problem.

"While academics is no doubt always the number one priority of all our schools, the first six weeks at the high school academics will be the only priority," Towery told the board. "We will shuttle students to band at the middle school until that room is completed and the library is certainly large enough to hold the 150 or so chorus students," Towery said.

Geegan also told the board that while it was very important to his company that the school open on time, his main concern was for the safety of the students and staff at RCHS. "We are not going to jeopardize anyone's safety just to get this school open, we are doing everything by the book and of course before we can open, we must have a temporary occupancy permit from the state fire marshal.

Geegan said that the fire marshal had already been in the building and that he would return Monday for another inspection. "We walked through the building with him the other day and we feel really good

Bill Cook and Burley Burkhardt were busy Tuesday moving boxes from the Rockcastle Middle School to the new Rockcastle County High School. School officials say that staff will be able to occupy the building on August 15 and students on August 22.

Filming is this weekend

Renfro part of TBS series

If you've always wanted to be in show business, then this weekend in Renfro Valley may be your big break. That is, of course, if casting directors are scanning the crowds and you've got a ticket to one of the six shows scheduled for this weekend.

TBS Superstation's six-hour series, The Roots of Country, begins its first major road trip to Kentucky's Renfro Valley on Thursday in order to capture one of country music's key sites.

Wild Wolf Productions is traveling to Renfro Valley to film the world famous Barn Dance, the Mountain Gospel Jubilee, the Jamboree, and the Sunday Morning Gaithering.

Old Joe Clark, Pete Stamper, Jim Gaskin and founder John Lair's daughter, Ann Henderson-Lair, and other Renfro Valley stars will be interviewed for the series.

"We are enormously excited about this road trip," said Roots of Country producer Tom Neff in making the announcements yesterday. "We hope to capture for the production one of the most important areas that spawned traditional country music.

Renfro Valley is a region that has kept traditional country music alive and it still active today. We will illustrate that the Barn Dance is a tradition that is still very much vibrant and current. After all, country music is not only found in Nashville, Tennessee, but in other important locales like Renfro Valley. In short, events like the Barn Dance are a part of the living culture of country music."

The Roots of Country is the most ambitious overview of country music's heritage ever undertaken in television history. Wild Wolf Productions, under the direction of Ted Turner's TBS Productions, is producing the six-hour series to air on the TBS Superstation in the fall of 1995. TBS reaches 61.1 million cable television subscribers in the United States. The Roots of Country will explore the history of country music using archival footage, interviews with musicians and fans, documentary footage of festivals and events, a wealth of historic graphics, and profiles of the men and women who laid the groundwork for this billion-dollar industry.

The Roots of Country will be written by noted country-music historian Robert K. Oermann. Renowned as a Nashville multi-media personality, Oermann is the co-author of Finding Her Voice: The Saga of Women in Country Music, produces the hit Nashville Network TV series The Country Music Video Album Hour, hosts his own Music City's New Country radio show on WSM-FM and wrote the script for the acclaimed CBS-TV special The Women of Country.

"The one thing I've always tried to do is to convey the love that I have for country music to others," said Oermann. "That's been the constant in my professional life, whether it has been in print, on TV or on radio. I try to bring quality to everything I do; and I hope The Roots of Country will become the definitive documentary on country music."

Academy Award nominated Jerry Bruckheimer (The Divided Trail: A Native American Odyssey) has been tapped to direct the series.

A TBS Superstation crew will be in Renfro Valley this weekend filming for a six hour mini-series, and Tuesday a reporter and cameraman from WAVE TV in Louisville were in the Valley filming for a Kentuckiana news segment to be shown later this month.

Shepherd family sues state police

Reprinted from the Wednesday, August 10, 1994 Lexington Herald-Leader

By: Gail Gibson South-Central Kentucky Bureau

The family of a Rockcastle County man killed by police last summer has filed a wrongful death lawsuit seeking more than $23 million in damages.

Gary Shepherd was shot and killed Aug. 8, 1993, after a daylong standoff with police over marijuana plants on his Broadhead property.

A federal lawsuit filed Friday in London charges that Kentucky State Police was not justified in killing Shepherd. Members of the Rockcastle sheriff's office, the Governor's Marijuana Strike Force and the Kentucky National Guard also are named as defendants.

"For long periods of time during the siege of Gary Shepherd's home he was away from any weapon and could easily have been arrested in a peaceful manner," the lawsuit alleges. "Law enforcement officials could easily have made a peaceful arrest, but chose not to do so."

In April, an internal state police report and a Rockcastle County grand jury both determined that police acted properly and used deadly force only as a last resort.

Capt. Rodney Brewer, state police spokesman, yesterday declined to comment on the lawsuit. State police attorneys had not yet received a copy of the complaint, he said.

"It is 'very common' for wrongful death lawsuits to be filed after a police shooting, Brewer said.

This suit was filed three days before the one-year deadline for wrongful death cases. It was filed by Bill Shepherd, Gary Shepherd's brother.

Mary Jane Jones, Gary Shepherd's common-law wife, and Jacob Jones Shepherd, Gary Shepherd's 5-year-old son, also are named as plaintiffs.

Eleven officers are named as defendants in the suit as well as 10 unidentified officers and the Rockcastle County Sheriff's department.

State police have never released the names of the officers who shot Gary Shepherd.

The 28-page complaint, prepared by an attorney from New York state, gives a detailed account of the day Gary Shepherd was shot.

Police said they had seen pot plants in his garden during a helicopter search that morning. When they landed, Shepherd reportedly told police, "You will have to kill me before you come on my property and destroy anything."

For the next several hours, police staked out Shepherd's home. At times, he held a rifle. He also played with Jacob in a sandbox near the house and worked on his pickup, according to the lawsuit.

Police said they shot Shepherd after he walked toward them and pointed the rifle at them.

The lawsuit says that Shepherd, a wounded Vietnam veteran, was carrying the gun with the barrel aimed at the sky.

In addition to the wrongful death allegation, the suit also charges that the police actions that day amounted to a conspiracy to silence Gary Shepherd, who advocated marijuana legalization and occasionally conducted religious services in his home.

The suit also charges that police invaded his home, searched it without a warrant and abused his wife and son through their actions. The suit seeks $8.5 million in compensatory damages and $15 million in punitive damages.

State criticizes court over litter program

By: Ray McClure

The state has told the court in no uncertain terms that it is not in compliance with its litter program. It noted the county has made good progress in implementing its solid waste plan the cleanup of litter and open dumps is not being done according to schedule.

The annual open dump survey was due in March.

Joy Morgan, supervisor of Local Planning and Assistance Section, wrote to the court, each governing body must implement its plan, passed by the court in August 1991 after it was drawn up by Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

The Natural Resources and Environmental Cabinet said the county should reply by Aug. 26.

The reason for failure to comply with the plan in the areas listed (litter and dumps) should be made, along with a proposed revised schedule for those areas.

"The revised schedule must follow the plan's format and must show an aggressive effort to implement your plan," Morgan wrote.

She indicated on the next implementation visit the staff will ask to see

HERESAY

John Norman Meadows

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF EVIL AGE, you'll have to read an "oldie" this week. I've had a spell of lunardic terza rima and can't get my writer's juice flowing.

Uncle Jim Meadows was close to eighty when the First Baptist Church at Mt. Vernon renovated their sanctuary in the mid-fifties, putting in more pews and a new baptistry.

That was some baptistry! Wendell Belew, a previous pastor, painted a placid picture of the Jordan River on the wall behind the pool. And the front side of the tank contained a long pane of clear glass that let the congregation actually see the baptizee (or "baptismal candidate") under water.

Baptists have always been sticklers for total immersion, i.e., everything goes under. However, word has it that back then some folks at First Baptist weren't "full" members because a certain frail, short pastor in years gone by hadn't gotten their more-than-ample frames all the way under—like Mabelle Sturdivant, who was 6 feet three, and weighed 275 before breakfast. With that size, your baptistry, however, everyone would know when a body didn't go all under.

After watching several immersions in the new baptistry, Mabelle got under conviction about being only a partial member and asked to be rebaptized (not unheard of in a Baptist church). And she was. But after the BWWC (Baptismal Water-Watching Committee) conferred—its five members were positioned at strategic viewpoints around the sanctuary during a baptism—the chairman yelled out, "Souise her again, Preacher. You got everything but her topknok." And he did. Thereafter, no one was more a member than Mabelle, except Tap McNeely, who "got saved" about every other revival and therefore was baptized again and again.

Mabelle's decision was well thought out. For instance, a prospective pastor needed 75 per cent of the ballots cast to be called by the church. Mabelle was afraid the day would come when some decent preacher, because of her, would get only 74.5 per cent approval. Of course, if truth be told, there are to this day a handful of members at the church, who, according to a former pastor, were not soaked sufficiently and should have only half-votes in church matters.

A study of church records—after 1956, when the BWWC was activated—shows an average of one in five being dunked again because their initial dips weren't deep enough. But that's better than the Baptist's convention-wide average of two double-dips out of five.

I asked an old friend, Ike Campbell, about the ratio in his denomination. He didn't know, but he had heard that years ago his church lost a baptizee when they went to the river in January and broke ice to get to "running water." (They had to baptize him right then; otherwise, he might die before he was baptized and straight to hell.) One of their pastors put a portly fellow under but let him slip away and float downstream, in a swift current, under the ice. "Well, let's have another one," he intoned. "That one's gone on to glory."

Now I passel of people, including non-Baptists, think baptizing indoors smacks of "modernism." "If the outdoors was good enough for John and Jesus, it's good enough for us," they declare with veal and zignor. And they're dead set against a recent fad being touted in liberal seminaries. I refer, of course, to the abominable practice of no-handkerchief immersion. Believe it or not, some ministers today do away with the kerchief and tell their candidates that they won't take in any water if they hold their breath and keep their mouths shut.

The custom of a kerchief over a candidate's nose and mouth at the moment of immersion is an ancient tradition. It dates back to the first century, B.C., when a super-pious company of Jews left Jerusalem and moved down in the wilderness near the Dead Sea to await the imminent Day of the Lord. They built cisterns to collect rainfall and made macramé and scrolls to pass the time away. They also baptized each other a lot to keep themselves ceremonially pure—which also kept them cool. A scroll fragment, discovered recently by a teenage goat-herder, tells of the Dead Sea dwellers using handkerchiefs to keep salty sea water out of their nostrils during baptisms—unless, of course, the baptizee had sinusitis.

When will these revisionists cease

I'm in my office (?) on our front porch and I could not be in a nicer, cool place as I write the news. I've got to learn to control my pen, or keep my mouth shut, when I say I'm going to hug some good looking man as I did about the groom to be at the Heather Reynolds - John Adams household shower. When I said I was going and planned to hug him, I didn't know he would read the Signal and see it too as everybody else did (shucks, everybody reads the Signal).

So John pestered me to hug him and I made all kinds of excuses such as his neck might be dirty but he said no, he had washed his neck. About the time I got ready to go home, I said to him we had a good time and enjoyed the shower.

John stood up from where he was sitting and said, "Well, I guess I can hug you."

"Oh but your wife, I mean or I mean your bride to be, might not like it," and I felt someone else's arm go around me and I turned to find Heather was hugging me too.

laughing women who were at the shower. We played games and enjoyed watching Heather and John open their gifts. There were several sets of dishes. I guess the givers thought if Heather broke one set on John, she had another set to use or break. The refreshments were great. There were three kinds of cake and Brother Denton Sears, pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church, tried to eat some of all three, as I did, but we didn't make it.

We didn't know it but it seems everybody was surprised to know we were all attending two events. Ginger Mink, kinfolk, was having her 17th birthday at this time. Before we ate, someone came in carrying a cake blazing with candles and I believe Ginger was as much surprised as we were but she puckered up and blew them all out after making a wish.

These are the guests that were there but some came in late and I'm not sure if I got their names. Flossie Stephens helped me so if I left some out, blame her. The guests were Neva Bullens, Flossie's sister, Mary Ann Williams, another sister of Flossie who came from Berea, Lora Lee Mink and daughters, Sherri and Ginger, Barbara Bullens, Gail Rice, Joy Stephens, Donna Cromer, Darla King, Jennifer Whitmore, Kathy Reed, Ann Sears and her husband, Dennis, my husband, John, Donnie Stephens, and Bill. As I say, if I didn't get all the names, I apologize.

Flossie thanked me for the gifts we brought, a dish drainer which had all kinds of kitchen tools in the pan, and I wrote on our card, "We don't think you should sit around and admire everything. We think you should go to work!"

One game we played was so funny, everybody was given a sheet of paper and told to write some advice for the bride. Many funny things were said. I wrote "When your husband comes in late, meet him at the door with a rolling pin." There were lots of laughing as I knew so I wrote the last line, "And ask him what he wants for supper!"

Another funny piece of advice was given when someone wrote what she wanted her husband to do, then said,

17 Rockcastle Countians participate in largest ever Bluegrass State Games

The 1994 Bluegrass State Games has turned out to be the largest ever. The record 12,274 Kentuckians from 119 counties competing for medals in 25 sports. Approximately 4,665 medals were awarded during this weekend's 10th annual State Games in Lexington.

Last year a total of 18,503 persons from 111 Kentucky counties participated in the Games. "We challenged Kentuckians to 'Get In The Games' this year and they responded to the challenge," said Sam Dunn, Games' Executive Director. "We are very pleased that on this the 10th anniversary that we were able to set a record for participation. We are also pleased that the quality of the activities continues to remain so high, considering the number of participants. We will go to work tomorrow in planning a bigger and better State Games in 1995."

The 1994 Games will be held in Lexington July 28, 29 and 30. The most medals went to Fayette County, which ended up with 751 medals, followed by Jefferson County with 618 medals. The top 10 counties and number of medals earned by participants (including Fayette and Jefferson) were: Kenton, 203; Boone, 195; Campbell, 192; Franklin, 125; Scott, 119; Jessamine, 116; Woodford, 112; and Hardin, 107.

The oldest participant, excluding Pace-setters, was Vernon Jorgensen, 85, from Verona in Boone County. O'Mega Madden from Louisville was the youngest at age 1. She competed in the 100 meter dash in track and field. She finished the race but did not win a medal.

Track and field was the most popular individual competition with 945 participants, followed by gymnastics with 537 participants.

Softball was again the largest team event with 378 teams (6,048 individuals). Soccer was the second largest team sport with 266 teams (4,788 participants) in the Games.

The Games was launched Friday night with a colorful opening ceremonies at Commonwealth Stadium. The nationally known band, The Kentucky Headhunters, performed at the ceremonies.

The Games is sponsored by Valvoline, Inc. and Coca-Cola and is under the auspices of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The Games is organized by the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government, with the help of more than 700 volunteers.

There were 17 participants in the Games from Rockcastle. Medal winners were: Joseph Wagers, bar-bow and 8 and under barbow; Noah Faulkner, freestyle unlimited and 9-12 unlimited; Jacob Faulkner, freestyle unlimited and 9-12 barbow; Troy Goforth, bowhunter freestyle unlimited and 16-17 bowhunter freestyle unlimited; Gary Langford, 18 and over bowhunter freestyle limited and 18 and over bowhunter freestyle limited; Shirley Faulkner, 18 and over bowhunter freestyle limited and 18 and over bowhunter freestyle limited; Joel Kirby, traditional 18 and over; Casey Faulkner, 13-15 bowhunter freestyle unlimited; Kevin Bullock, 18 and over freestyle unlimited and Christopher Frith, karate kata 22-34 novice.

Workshop scheduled

Tuesday, August 16, Roundstone Elementary School will be having a workshop to inform parents about academic expectations for the coming year. It will also be an opportunity for parents to meet their child's teachers. The meeting will be from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. All parents are invited.

God works through scriptures on you

We were told to read the 78th chapter of Psalms for more about it. I lost a good friend of 72 years on Monday morning when I went to Berea Hospital.

It was hard to see them go for we had been together for 72 years. Dr. Daughtery was there being kind to me as I sat in a chair and tried to keep blood from coming out my mouth for I was having a molar pulled which I used and needed for the last 72 years.

Dr. Daughtery is such a good dentist. I hardly feel the pain when he does pull a tooth, only when he numbs my gums.

He made me an upper plate some time ago and I guess I'm working on a lower denture.

At Snider we stopped and I talked to Frankie Cope and cute wife, Billie Cope. He wore a pretty good size beard and I asked him if he had a reason for growing one.

"Well, I can't afford razor blades and we have a good life as it is with our children Frankie Jr. who is 9 years old and Alyssa age 3." he answered me as they left.

The clerk who was behind the counter said he was Raymond Carl, a good looking fellow, who helped July in the store.

No one was in the store loafing as they usually do but Carl said some that came around were Cleidith Peters, Boyd Wren and Ralph Carpenter. Frankie Cope works as a dryer-waller.

In the store, I looked at the groceries on the shelves. Judy seemed to have a good stock of groceries. There were a few of everything from sour kraut to medicine called Nyquil. She tries to meet the needs of the people.

As I went out, a truck pulled up in front of the door. Two young boys Terry Gullet, 17 and Michael Corbett, 17 of Poynter Road also said they did drywall or worked some times for Tracy Poynter in a sawmill.

Both were nice looking boys and when I thanked them for the talk, they thanked me too. I'll say one thing, both boys shouldn't have any trouble getting a date!

We crossed the railroad track going toward Fairview and stopped to see Kenneth Thacker and wife Edith Baker Thacker from Manchester.

I found her breaking up a mess of green beans. We got to talking about her family of which she had nine children, the oldest being Virginia who married Conley Saylor of Superior Market in Berea.

There was a picture of their son, Rabon who was killed on the railroad tracks near by.

Edith said they couldn't attend church because she had a heart condition but watched it on T.V.

Edith and Kenneth Thacker have been married 61 years, she told us. They lived the first 22 years in Scafold Cane where Kenneth Saylor had an eye on Virginia Thacker making sure she didn't get away from him. Kenneth moved his family to Berea then back to Fairview where he's been for 14 or 15 years where he now does mechanical work. I hope to write more on the Thackers next week.

Till then: Truth never damages a cause that is just.

tampering with age-honored rituals? They do so under the fallacious assumption that a no-kerchief baptism better symbolizes a burial-resurrection. Have they not read that when Lazarus was raised from the dead, he had a napkin over his face? What heretical nonsense will they conjure up next? No-tablecloth communion? White grape juice at Christmas communion? Oops! I almost forgot Uncle Jim. The house was packed for the first baptism in the new baptistry. Uncle

Jim sat, as usual, in the second pew from the pulpit because his hearing and eyesight were impaired. He did not know about the glass in the front of the pool; it was even less visible under indirect lighting. On his way out of the church that night, he said, "Bro. Lawrence, it's a mystery to me how you made that water stand up there like that."

Local teacher participates in EKV Education Institute -- Dottie Williams, center, a teacher at Brodhead Elementary, was among 10 educators taking part in the Thomas C. and Hazel C. Little Institute for School Administrators at Eastern Kentucky University. The Institute was established by a gift from Hazel C. Little of Richmond, Va., and the late Dr. Thomas C. Little, both Eastern graduates. Dr. Little served the Richmond, Va. public schools for 22 years, retiring in 1976 as superintendent. The Institute's goal is to encourage outstanding educators to prepare for a career in educational administration. It provides full-tuition scholarships for the summer graduate-level program. Participants also take part in guest lectures, seminars, clinical or field experiences, and other activities. With the participant are Dr. Leonard Burns, left, chair of EKV's Department of Administration, Counseling and Educational Studies, and Dr. Kenneth Henson, dean of EKV's College of Education.

Report crop loss to ASCS

Should your tobacco, corn, pepper, or any crop acreage be destroyed by disease or any other means (excluding unworkman-like manner) prior to harvest, be sure to contact the Rockcastle ASCS Office and file an ASCS-574 (Application for Disaster credit) to ensure that your farm receives proof of production for the crop year.

Producers filing an ASCS-574 will be required to provide a deposit to cover the cost of a farm visit, but when you are determined eligible the deposit will be returned to you.

It is important to remember that when filing an application for Disaster Credit, contact this office before you harvest any of the crop.

Producers wishing to disaster lease away burley tobacco quota due to crop destruction must notify ASCS of the destroyed crop prior to harvest, and have farm inspected by ASCS personnel. Failure to take action before you harvest may make you ineligible to disaster lease away your burley tobacco quota. Anyone having questions may contact the Rockcastle ASCS Office at 256-2525.

Mink elected staff regent on EKV board of regents

Ronnie Mink for years had been satisfied just being a loyal and hard working Eastern Kentucky University employee.

However, with a little encouragement from his frzier's, he decided he wanted to do more.

Mink entered the world of the Movers and Shakers at Eastern, when he was elected staff regent on the board of regents. Now Mink will get a chance to see how the major decisions are made and who makes them. He's going to mix and mingle with the big boys.

However Mink said it really didn't bother him meeting with all the other members on the board of regents. "I already knew all of them, so I didn't feel any different," said Mink.

As a matter of fact, when Mink showed up for his first meeting to observe the proceedings, he caught a little flake. The meeting had to be moved to another room because the air conditioning wasn't working. So the other regents couldn't pass up the chance to get in a shot at Mink.

According to Mink, it was all in good-natured fun. They said, "Now that we have a (staff) regent, we can get the air conditioning fixed."

Mink's position was created when a law went into effect that required representation for non-faculty workers on the board of regents.

Mink, who has been employed at Eastern since 1978, as an electrician, is married and has two children. His wife, Connie, is also an employee of Eastern.

After much encouragement by his fellow employees, Mink decided to run for the newly appointed seat on the board of regents to represent the working class.

When asked if he has received many requests from fellow workers, on matters that they would like to come before the board of Regents, Mink said, "No I haven't, because I haven't really taken the position yet. I don't actually get sworn in until sometime in July."

"However, I'm very interested in helping the university, and hopefully by doing that I will also help the employees," Mink added.

Holding important positions within his group is not unfamiliar territory to Mink. He has held several, including a position on the Affirmative Action Committee at Eastern, the master of his lodge, the Masons, and presently serving his third year as secretary of that Mason's Lodge.

Mink earned his position on the board of regents by running against 12 other candidates: E. Douglas Dowlin, Connie Dirks, Greg Hopkins, Nancy Kenner, Donna Masters, Harry D. McBride, Sandra Moore, Lucie Nelson, Ann Puckett, Tom Richardson and Robert L. Turpin.

In the May election among university staff, no one received a majority of the ballots.

Reprinted from the Eastern Progress

The candidates with the two-highest number of ballots, Mink and Masters, director of grants and contracts, were selected to compete in a run-off election that Mink won.

When asked what kind of ideas or suggestions they would want to share with the other regents, Mink replied, "I haven't had time to think of any. I am still learning."

Mink said he does not know what all his responsibilities are going to be.

"I was just elected and I have not been instructed yet, but I am interested in doing what I can to help the university.

Mink will not be the newest regent. Gov. Breerton Jones last week appointed Alice Graham Rhodes, an attorney from Ashland, to the university's board of regents to fill the unexpired term of Cynthia E. Elliott, who resigned in April.

A graduate of East Strauburg University in Pennsylvania and the University of Pennsylvania Law School, Rhodes has practiced law in Kentucky for 15 years.

Ronnie was a 1975 graduate of Rockcastle County High and a two-year electricity student at Harry Spark Vocational School.

Owens featured this month at the Silo Art Gallery

Janice Harding Owens of Rockcastle County is being featured this entire month at the Silo Art Gallery in New Milford, Connecticut. The Gallery is owned by Ruth Henderson, whose husband Skitch founded the New York Pops Orchestra at Carnegie Hall over 10 years ago. The Hendersons have an original painting by Janice Harding Owens in their living room at Hunt Hill farm near New Milford.

Ron Owens accompanied his wife and six daughters to the opening at the Gallery on Sunday, July 31. The opening was featured in a story in the New York Times that day which appeared in all New England subscribers. His craft work has been sold at the Silo Gallery for several years but this was the first show for Janice outside of Kentucky.

The Owens family visited the grave of Grandma Moses near Bennington, Vermont and also toured the museum there that features her art work. They were photographed with one of Grandma Moses' great granddaughters.

Award-winning program on KET revisits era of illegal abortion

Until recently, the era of illegal abortion has been a sealed chapter in the history of women. When Abortion Was Illegal: Untold Stories, airing on KET at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday, August 17, is an oral history of the largely undocumented period before the 1973 U.S. Supreme Court ruling on Roe v. Wade that legalized abortion.

When Abortion Was Illegal: Untold Stories reveals the physical, emotional, and legal consequences of a time when abortion was a criminal act. The program presents interviews with women who chose back-alley abortions, people who risked arrest and tried to help women find safer abortions, and health care workers who reall the results of unsafe procedures.

How to eliminate fleas from pets and homes

Fleas, annoying little pests that breed at a tremendous rate, can drive you and your pets mad with their pricking bites.

No matter how many fleas you pick off your dog, they still seem to proliferate. How do you get rid of these nuisance creatures?

The best method of control is to treat your pets and their home environment (house, yard), said Mike Potter, Extension entomologist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Adult fleas lay all of their eggs on pets, but the eggs soon fall off into carpeting or furniture," said Potter. "After hatching, the tiny larvae hide deep within carpeting, furniture cushions and other areas where pets lay, sleep and spend time. Then the larvae transform into pupae within cocoons, emerging as adults within two to four weeks, sometimes longer. These cocoons resist insecticide and will still survive even though homes have been treated with insecticide."

Systematic treatment in the home should successfully eliminate fleas, but first make sure all floors are tidy so all areas are accessible to treatment. Put away pet dishes and wash any sort of pet bedding. Thoroughly vacuum all floors, carpeting and beneath furniture cushions. Vacuuming floors is very important because it removes many unhatched eggs, larvae and pupae. Vacuuming also encourages pre-emerged fleas to erupt from their insecticide-resistant cocoons.

Insecticides are about the only way to get rid of fleas once they have infested your home," Potter said. "Follow directions on the container label and make sure everyone and the pets leave the premises until the insecticide spray has dried completely."

Many insecticides are available for control, but the most effective products are those that contain an adulticide (kills fleas in the biting adult stage) and an insect growth regulator (suppresses fleas' development - prevents eggs and larvae from developing). Carefully apply the insecticide to all areas likely to be infested including carpets, throw rugs, under and behind beds and furniture and beneath cushions where pets sleep. Most people find aerosol formulations easier to administer.

Fleas probably will linger on for about two to three weeks. They probably are newly-emerged adults that have not yet been affected by the insecticide. It is often unnecessary to retreat the house, just continue to vacuum. Sometimes a follow-up treatment is required two to four weeks later.

Because adult fleas essentially spend their entire life in the pet's fur, spraying the house alone will not abolish all fleas. Treating your pet is a crucial step for total flea extermination. Animals should be treated by a veterinarian or by the owner. Some on-animal products contain an insect growth regulator (IGR) as well as an adulticide. These prevent eggs from hatching. The Orioviol Flea Egg Collar contains no adulticide but does keep eggs from hatching for several months. For best results, place the collar on the animal before flea season begins (April-May).

Read instructions carefully. Some insecticides work only for dogs and should not be used for treating the home or yard on animals. Total flea elimination is most effective when animals have been treated near the same time premises were treated.

In situations where the pets spend most of time outdoors, yard treatment may be necessary. It should not be necessary to spray the entire yard. Concentrate treatment in areas where pets rest, sleep and run, especially around doghouses, kennels and underneath decks. Insecticides such as Dursban or Diazinon can be applied with a hose-end or pump-up sprayer. Long term flea suppression can be strengthened using compounds containing a light-stable IGR such as fenoxycarb.

You can successfully eliminate fleas from your home, pet and yard if you exercise the methods discussed above. People who lack time to treat their houses or feel uncomfortable using chemical pesticides may want to hire a professional pest control firm.

(DM)—When you have a yen for food with a "kick," try "Hot & Spicy Grilled Short Ribs." Meaty beef short ribs are easy to barbecue — and they're economical. The ribs are first scored and then simply brushed with a lively sauce of Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze, garlic, horseradish and crushed red pepper. The delicate sweetness of baste & glaze, a time-saving blend of naturally brewed soy sauce, sugar, garlic, onion and select spices, has the perfect flavor balance for the hot and spicy seasonings. The ribs take only 15 minutes to grill, but be sure to turn them over often so they don't char. Baste them occasionally, too, for added flavor. While the ribs cook, grill skewers of vegetables alongside to complete a very easy summertime meal.

HOT & SPICY GRILLED SHORT RIBS

- 3 to 4 pounds beef short ribs, about 2-1/2 inches long
- 1/2 cup Kikkoman Teriyaki Baste & Glaze
- 2 cloves garlic, pressed
- 2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
- 1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper

Score meaty side of ribs, opposite bone, 1/2 inch apart, 1/2 inch deep, lengthwise and crosswise. Combine teriyaki baste & glaze, garlic, horseradish and crushed red pepper. Place ribs on grill 5 to 7 inches from hot coals, brush with glaze mixture. Cook ribs 15 minutes, or until brown and crispy. Turn ribs over frequently and brush occasionally with teriyaki glaze mixture. (Or, place ribs, scored side up, on rack of broiler pan; brush with teriyaki glaze mixture. Broil 4 to 5 inches from heat 15 minutes, or until ribs are brown and crispy. Turn ribs over occasionally and brush with teriyaki glaze mixture.)

Makes 4 servings.

County gets more money for second industrial park

By: Ray McClure

Rockcastle Industrial Park II, located at what is known as the Henderson bottoms off old Hwy. 461 near Mt. Vernon is back in the news this week after County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlolitis announced that another $105,000 had been received from the Appalachian Regional Commission as part of a $526,060 project that will upgrade the park.

The grant is earmarked for Rockcastle Industrial Park, Phase II, for construction of water and sewer lines, a storm water retention pond and an access road to serve the park.

The project is designed to give Rockcastle County a second developed industrial park available to prospective industries.

Only 4.6 acres of land remain in the Phase I portion of the park. Phase two will add 40 acres of prime industrial land for new firms.

Total cost of the project is $526,060. Earlier this year Rep. Harold Rogers helped get the Economic Development Administration to provide $315,636 for the project. The Rockcastle Fiscal Court will contribute $105,212 matching ARC funds.

The Fiscal Court at its monthly meeting Tuesday was asked by Kentucky Highlands of London for $30,000 it is said owed on a previous agreement.

The court, about 1993 reached an agreement with Highlands as its share of an expansion project for Rockcastle Manufacturing.

The court passed over the request by Highlands pointing out it has other pressing bills, including a $21,500 installation to the Hendersons for Henderson's Bottoms.

The court approved payment of $7,029 as its last payment for the county's share of North Rockcastle Waterline Replacement project. Western Water Association was reminded by the Division of Community Programs it is short $11,553 of its cash commitment to its share of its recent expansion program.

County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlolitis said he would contact newspaper parties in an effort to explain the shortage.

County Jailor Joe Howard asked for a five percent raise for jail employees.

He also told the court transportation of juveniles to Juvenile Centers is a burden to the jail. County Attorney Jeff Burdette said he is looking into the situation and would discuss juvenile transportation at a later date.

Attorney Jerry Cox was appointed by the court as its representative on the Rockcastle Health Department board.

The sheriff presented its annual settlement to the court for 1993 with figures about the same as last year, Deputy Karen Alcorn told the court. For example, the sheriff owes the Soil Conservation Service, $14,38. It owes the Library 31 cents. The state audits the report eventually.

Recovered

A Suzuki 4-wheeler stolen from Darrell Whitaker recently was recovered by State Trooper Brent Roper last week in a wooded area on U.S. 25 south.

Wallet stolen

Darlene Blackburn, reported to sheriff's deputies her wallet was stolen from her purse she had left in her car at the Brodhead Fair Saturday night.

She reported $80 in money and $75 in food stamps were taken.

Visitors

Two representatives of the Attorney General's office in Frankfort came to Rockcastle last week to discuss domestic violence, County Attorney Jeff Bragotte reported.

They spoke to a group representing all local law enforcement officials and other county officials about revised statutes and changes in laws, and reviewed procedures. The Rockcastle Department of Social Services was very interested in the discussions, the county attorney said.

about what is left to do, and the time we have to do it," Geegan said.

"The fire marshal's approval is the only thing that could keep us from opening," Bray told the board.

Bray also told the board that the blacktop should start going down on Thursday and that all of the electrical work should be completed by Friday.

"I'm glad we don't have to rely on public opinion about whether or not the school will be ready, because it will be," Geegan said.

In order for the school to be familiar with the new high school an orientation has been scheduled for all students, not just the freshmen students as has always been the case in the past. The dates and times of the high school orientation for all students appears on page A-4 of this week's Signal.

In other business the board voted to:

-- approve GED certificates for Jeffery M. Bullock and Jabari J. Brandon.

-- review an amendment to a board policy in regard to grading periods for students. The proposed change will allow decisions concerning grading systems and grade reporting to be made at the individual school level.

-- approve the project to widen the driveway in front of Mt. Vernon Elementary School to accommodate the number of buses that will be serving the school this fall. The Board also approved a negotiated price to construct the baseball/softball fields at Rockcastle County High School.

-- approve the use of facilities for the Livingston Homecoming events.

-a leave of absence for pre-school teacher Lora L. Lambert was granted by the school board.

documentation of your solid waste management plan activities.

"It is imperative that the county begin assembling a solid waste file which would contain documentation of county activities."

The court was informed that a KACOS Advance Revenue Program shows a general fund investment of $104,055 would yield $530 in net earnings, and a Road Fund investment of $257,755 would earn $1,314 in six months at an annual rate of 5.07 percent.

The figures are based on the amount the state says its representative will receive in the next six months.

Not Ronnie D. McClure

Ronnie D. McClure that works at Motor Wheel in Berea and lives in Mt. Vernon is not the Ronnie McClure that was listed in last week's Signal being charged with public intoxication.

Dolphins Take #1 Honors in LCSA

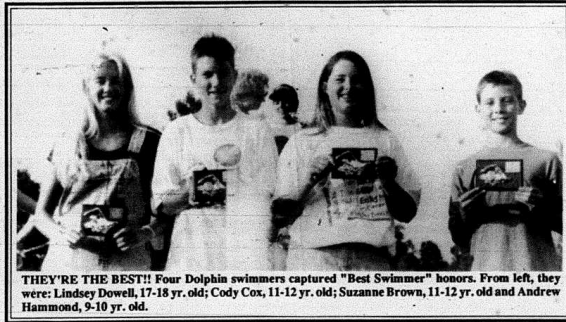

The Cedar Rapids Dolphins proved that in the final analysis, it's quality not quantity that counts as the Dolphins took first place in the recent Lake Cumberland Swim Association conference meet held at Lakewood in Russell Springs. The Dolphins managed the feat even with not having any swimmers in several categories. But, they made hay in the categories they did qualify in -- sometimes winning the first and second positions. Cedar Rapids, under the direction of Carrie Mullins for the last two years, finished second last year and took top honors over the undefeated Knox County Piranhas this year.

Lindsey Dowell

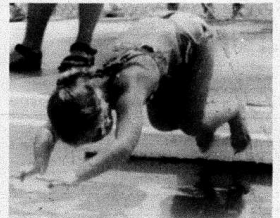

The 11-12 year old mixed medley relay team was swum by Bobbie Jo Barr, in the water, Cody Cox, Angela Owens and Suzanne Brown. They won the gold medal in this event.

Kuykendall to speak

Dr. Crystal Arlene Kuykendall will be the keynote speaker for the opening day of school in Rockcastle County on August 17. A human relations and education expert, Dr. Kuykendall has gained national recognition for her extensive talents and expertise in promoting problem resolution. In fact, if you take a quick look at Dr. Kuykendall's own life story, you'll see a woman who is undaunted by challenge.

Dr. Kuykendall's remarkable career includes being a teacher, upward bound instructor, guidance counselor, a university instructor, an author, a government administrative intern, an in-demand conference speaker and a liaison to community groups. Dr. Kuykendall is currently president and general counsel of K.I.R.K., Inc., a firm established to provide "Creative and Innovative Resource for Kids."

Dr. Kuykendall holds a doctorate in educational administration from Atlanta University, and she earned her law degree from Georgetown University Law Center in 1981. Seven years later, she was admitted to the Bar of the District of Columbia after passing the Bar Exam on her first try.

Dr. Kuykendall is living testimony to what people can do when they're motivated. Come hear what she has to say about education... making it happen!

Mental activity helps ward off Alzheimer's disease

It may be more beneficial than you think. In addition to the pleasure we get from reading, mental aerobics just might help keep us from developing Alzheimer's disease.

A recent study in Shanghai, one of seven such inquiries being conducted worldwide, has shown that levels of education have a profound effect on the ravages of Alzheimer's disease and other forms of dementia that chiefly affect older people. The Chicago Tribune reported. After studying more than 5,000 Shanghai residents ages 55 to 75, researchers found that all other factors being equal, the uneducated subjects of the study had twice the risk of dementia as those with elementary or middle-school education.

Harvard neuropsychologist Marilyn Albert, who conducted a study of elderly Bostonians, says "having more education means not only that you develop your brain when you're young, but that you use it more through your life, and that produces some sort of protective mechanism that helps keep the brain from developing Alzheimer's disease."

A unique study by University of Kentucky researcher David Snowdon is also focusing on the connection between education and later-life mental functioning. For the past seven years, Snowdon has been studying the School Sisters of Notre Dame congregation, comparing disease and death rates of the more educated sisters to those of the less educated.

Initial studies focused on sisters of similar age who represented a broad range of function and health — from those who were confident and confident to those still holding full-time jobs in the community. The more highly educated sisters lived approximately four year longer, with a good level of mental and physical functioning, than those who had less than a bachelor's degree. At every age, between 20 and 95, the less-educated sisters had twice the mortality rates of the more educated.

"One explanation for this might be that higher cognitive function is due in part to higher-educated people having jobs — as well as recreational activities — that keep them mentally alive," says Snowdon, who is working with a team of other scientists at UK's Sanders-Brown Center on this study.

"Another line of evidence is that people who have a rich vocabulary early in life end up having high mental function later in life." These results have been determined, Snowdon explains, from examining words used in autobiographies written at age 21 and mental function assessed 60 years later.

"We also looked at what the sisters were writing at age 21, then looked again at what they were writing 25 years later, at age 46," says Snowdon. "Those sisters who improved their vocabulary between ages 21 and 46 had better mental function at age 80. "My suspicion is," he says, "that more highly educated people have better connected brain cells." Snowdon goes on to say that one explanation for these stronger connections in the brain is that more highly educated people might exercise their brains more and thus end up with an agile brain in old age.

In discussing the nature of brain cells and the ongoing Nru Study, Snowdon says there is no reason to believe that brain cells are any different than muscle cells. "There's a lot of good evidence to back up the idea of 'use it or lose it,'" he says. "The women in our study keep very intellectually active, whether it's reading, playing scrabble or watching Wheel of Fortune. They refuse to simply resign themselves to downward mental decline."

Peabody to have quota hunts

Peabody Wildlife Management Area (WMA) will have two quota deer hunts this fall during the regular 10-day gun deer hunting season.

Hunters wanting to apply for the Peabody hunts, or any deer quota hunt offered by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR), must apply on official application forms provided by the KDFWR.

Last year deer hunters who purchased a Peabody WMA permit ($10) were allowed to hunt deer on the area during any deer hunting season. Hunter safety and deer management are the primary reasons for permitting only drawn applicants to hunt deer during quota hunts on Peabody WMA this year.

"People who apply for quota hunts on Peabody have a very good chance of being drawn," says Art Boebinger, acting director of the KDFWR's wildlife division.

Applicants drawn for the Peabody hunts will also need to purchase the Peabody WMA permit mentioned above.

Peabody WMA is located in Ohio and Muhlenberg counties between Pond River and Central City.

Don't forget to buckle up -- It's the law!!!

KDFWR quota deer hunt applications delayed

Distribution of applications for quota deer hunts on wildlife management areas (WMAs) owned by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR) will be delayed until late August.

The agency will not receive applications in late July as expected. However, the original Aug. 31 deadline for hunters to return completed applications will be extended to accommodate the delay.

More than 20 quota deer hunts will be offered on KDFWR-owned or operated WMAs this fall. Participants must receive an application from the department and must be chosen by random computer drawing.

When the applications are delivered, they will be available from hunting and fishing license outlets and from the KDFWR Central Office in Frankfort.

Quota hunt applications for areas such as Land Between the Lakes (LBL), Ft. Knox and Ft. Campbell Military Reservations and Bluegrass Army Depot are directly processed by agencies other than the KDFWR.

Rockcastle County Schools

Safety is everyone's concern, whether at home, work or play. We, in the Rockcastle County School District, view student safety as our number one priority. A safe environment leads to greater productivity in and out of the classroom.

As we begin the 1994-95 school year, let me express my personal hope that parents and students alike will continue to respond positively to all rules and regulations regarding pupil safety.

SCHOOL BUS RULES AND REGULATIONS

The privilege of any pupil to ride a bus is conditioned upon their good behavior and observance of the following rules and regulations. Pupils violating these rules and regulations shall be reported to the principal of the school which the pupil attends for necessary corrective action.

Safety is the primary concern in the transportation of pupils. In order to assure proper safety it is vital that pupils and parents understand the rules and regulations of school bus riding. Following is a list of basic rules and regulations as adopted by the Rockcastle County Board of Education and the Kentucky Department of Education:

1. Arrive at bus stop on time. The bus has many scheduled stops and cannot be delayed.
2. Never stand in the road while waiting for the bus. Parents should encourage safety measures for pupils as they wait for the bus and walk home from the bus.
3. Cross a safe distance (10 feet) in front of the bus so the driver can see you.
4. Take a seat upon boarding the bus and do not change seats while the bus is in motion.
5. The driver is in charge of the bus and pupils and has the authority to assign seating arrangement.
6. Keep noise to a minimum so that the driver's attention can be devoted to driving.
7. Do not extend arms, legs, and head out of the bus windows.
8. Obey the rules posted on each bus.
9. Do not block the aisles in any way.
10. Knives/other sharp instruments are not permitted on the bus.
11. Never run toward the bus. Always load and unload when the bus has come to a complete stop.
12. Apply the above rule (no. 11) when transferring buses.
13. Never use the rear exit unless an emergency exists.
14. Ride only your assigned bus unless you have a signed note from the principal. Parents must write or call the principal to obtain permission for pupil to ride another bus or to exit at a different stop.
15. Report any damages to the bus driver.
16. Do not occupy more space in a seat than required.
17. Open and close windows in compliance with the driver's instructions.
18. Pupils and parents are to accept the responsibilities of listening for dismissal announcements on the radio on days when inclement weather disrupts the regular schedule.
19. The following rules are of particular concern and the activities mentioned are prohibited at all times:
 - a. Use of profane/foul language
 - b. Smoking or other use of tobacco on the bus
 - c. Fighting on the bus
 - d. Destruction of bus property
 - e. Defiance of driver's authority
 - f. Throwing objects on or from the bus
20. Disciplinary Action: Violations of the above stated rules and regulations shall be reported to the appropriate school principal. The principal shall record the incident and determine the appropriate disciplinary action. Should any pupil persist in violating any of these regulations, it shall be the duty of the driver to notify the principal and after due warning has been given to the pupil and such violation persists, the principal and/or board of education shall then forbid such disobedient pupil the privilege of riding the bus. Written notice of the action of the principal shall be furnished to the parent and the superintendent.

*Bus routes, Drivers, and Bus numbers are subject to change before the first day of school.

of Steve Albright's and Ms. Dolores Albright's

HOUSE AND 29 ACRES, M/L In Three Tracts

Sat., August 13th, 1994 1:30 p.m.

Near Brodhead, Kentucky

Location: Near Brodhead, just off Highway 150 and on Highway 70. Watch for auction signs.

Steve Albright and Dolores Albright have contracted our firm to offer their property for the high dollar.

The property will be offered in three tracts reserving the right to regroup in any manner to reflect the best results for the sellers.

Tract #1 House and 4 acres, more or less

If privacy is what you're looking for, then you'll love this beautiful contemporary home with over 3400 sq. ft. of living area. You can enjoy the winter evenings around the stone fireplace in the family room and the summer evenings on the wrap-around deck overlooking the meadow in front of the house. The setting of this house is picturesque with a backdrop of Kentucky Hills.

The house has living room, dining room, kitchen, spacious family room measuring approximately 16x28, bath and office on first floor and four bedrooms and a bath on the second floor. In addition, there is a walk-out basement with fireplace and 2 car attached garage. This well-constructed home has hardwood floors, heat pump and wood furnace for supplemental heat, central air, washer/dryer hook-up, built-in dishwasher and Pella windows. Besides the house, there is barn/shed measuring approximately 44x84 with concrete floor.

Tract #2:

Consists of approximately 17 acres and has frontage on both the Paul Napier Road and Highway 70. This tract is a dandy small farm within itself and could be used agriculturally or developed. City water is available.

Tract #3:

Located on the west side of Highway 70 and contains 6 acres, more or less. This tract could make a great building site with ample privacy or it could be divided into some smaller tracts.

We will also be selling 57 large round bales of hay

The 1994 Basic Tobacco Allotment is 919 lbs. and will be sold separately from the farm.

Auctioneer's Note: Remember to mark your calendar to attend this important auction on Saturday afternoon, August 13th at 1:30 p.m.

TERMS: 20% down day of sale, balance in 30 days.

Announcements day of sale take precedence over printed matter.

Former KU customers should check for possible refund

Kentucky Utilities Co. (KU) is disbursing fuel savings refunds that were recovered on behalf of its customers to eligible current and former customers as a result of successful litigation from a coal contract dispute. KU is trying to located former customers who may be eligible for a refund.

The refund distribution plan was developed by KU in response to a decision by the Kentucky Public Service Commission that allowed KU to return the more than $36 million to its Kentucky customers that were on KU service the period June 1, 1985 through December 31, 1990.

The KU refund plan provides current customers - those persons who are currently on KU's system and who continuously received electric service on or before December 31, 1990 - a refund in the form of a billing credit. Former customers - those persons who received electric service at some time between June 1, 1985 and December 31, 1990 but have discontinued or interrupted service since then - will be required to submit an application for their refunds.

Applications for former customers can be obtained from KU offices or by calling the Refund Processing Center at 1-800-383-5582. Phone applications will result in the quickest and most efficient refund process. Information from completed application forms will be matched with KU records. In some instances, KU may require independent verification of claims before issuing a refund check.

John T. Newton, president and chairman of KU, said, "KU's primary objective is and always has been, a practical and speedy resolution to this matter that returns the largest amount of the money to customers. It is our hope that the majority of the refunds will have been made by the end of this year."

Refund distributions to current customers began in early July and processing of former customer applications began in late July. The average refund amount for a customer who used 1,000 kilowatts of electricity per month for the entire refund period will be approximately $44. Under the plan, a former customer's share of the deposited funds must be at least one dollar for that person to be eligible to receive a refund. The costs of processing and issuing checks for lesser amounts is not economical and impractical.

KU is also providing customers receiving refunds the opportunity to donate them to the WinterCare energy Fund.

Kentucky Utilities Co., based in Lexington, provides the region's lowest cost electricity to more than 438,000 customers in 77 Kentucky counties and five counties in Virginia. KU is the principal subsidiary of KU Energy Corporation.

RVAC News

The Vietnam Veterans of America Chapter 677 held its monthly meeting Aug. 4 at the Rockcastle Veterans Assistance Center in Conway. The meeting was called to order by John Dooley, President Pro-Tem.

The members present joined together for the pledge to the flag and opening prayer.

Mr. Dooley reminded the members that they need to attend the meetings with John Foley, a psychologist from the Lexington vets center, especially those receiving benefits or have a claim for PTSD (Post Traumatic Stress Disorder). These sessions are held every Thursday at 1 p.m. at the RVAC Building and are free and open to any veteran who needs them and not just members.

Special thanks were given to those members who helped with the roadblock on July 23. Mr. Dooley gave a special recognition to the members from the London chapter who assisted us in the roadblock. The members were reminded that to date these roadblocks are our main source of income which we need to keep our building running. Future roadblocks were scheduled for Aug. 20, Sept. 3 and Sept. 25. Everyone was encouraged to come and help with these.

The women members of the chapter requested to use the building for a yard sale on Saturday, Aug. 13. They have pledged 10 percent of what they make to the chapter. The members approved this and the yard sale will begin at 8 a.m. on Sat., Aug. 13. A social was planned for Labor Day, Sept. 5 at 4 p.m. This will be a cook out with everyone bringing a covered dish.

Claims representative and vice-president, Dale Bradley reported that the Claims Office has been very busy. In July the office was open 10 days. On those days he saw 78 people, and received 148 phone calls. The claims office now has 188 active cases. He then asked that anyone who has the spare time come on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday to help answer the phone and greet people.

At this time the meeting was adjourned after which the members enjoyed refreshments provided by Ellemac Gibson and Judy Bradley.

Literacy Training

You might be that special person who can help someone else learn to read.

Rockcastle County Literacy will hold its next free tutor training at CAP Adult Learning Center Sept. 15, 20 and 22 from 6 - 9:30 p.m.

These three sessions can certify you to work with an adult who needs your help. No previous experience necessary.

Volunteer tutors are needed. If you have three hours each week to help someone, please give us a call at 256-5307 and register for the next workshop.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In 1 Pet. 2:2-3 we read "As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby: If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious." In Ps. 34:8 we read, "O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him." The Hebrew writer spoke of those who, "were once enlightened, and tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost, and have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come." Heb. 6:4-5. The concept I would like for all of us to consider for a few moments, is that we must taste of God's salvation and blessing in order to fully appreciate it.

All men who are of the age of accountability have sinned. Rom. 3:23. Thus we know first hand the guilt, the shame, the fears, the bondage, the condemnation of sin; to be in the world without God and without hope. Now the gospel is the good news of salvation, that men and women can be forgiven of all our sins. Jesus can bring peace of heart through his forgiveness, we can be cleansed by the blood of Christ, we can be liberated from the bondage of sin, Jesus can set us free. Lk. 4:18, Mt. 11:28-30. The joy of salvation is beyond description. 1 Pet. 1:8. The blessings of God's salvation come when we believe and obey the gospel as the church in Acts 8:35-39 or the Philippian jailer in Acts 16:30. Only you personally can take advantage of the offer of forgiveness, no one else can do it for you. I can teach you and tell you how great God's grace and salvation is, but friends, you must taste and see for yourselves, to fully appreciate and know how gracious the Lord is. And if you would desire to enjoy a home in Heaven you must partake of God's salvation in this life! I can tell you how good a particular food is, but until you taste and see for yourself, you will never know how good it is. Beloved we exhort you to flee to the Saviour and obey his will, taste and see that the Lord is gracious. Let us know if we can help.

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

Here it is almost time for school to begin and then summer will soon be over. It seems summer just began a short time ago. I, along with many others I'm sure, have tried not to complain about the hot weather after all the bad weather we had last winter. Especially the ice storm. I know I won't forget that for quite a while. Maybe we will get better prepared this fall just in case we have another one like last year.

The summer has been an exceptionally busy time for us here at the library. I really appreciate the way that parents, grandparents and babysitters have been bringing children in for books and to share activities with other children. Hopefully we are getting the message across that reading themselves or being read to, proves to be of great benefit to children.

The Summer Reading Program came to a close with a pizza party, Wednesday. Prizes were awarded to the children that had read the most books in three different categories. A special surprise for the children was a visit by Ronald McDonald. Names of the winners and pictures will be in the next library news. Thanks to all that have participated and especially the parents for taking the time to bring the children to the library and for reading so many books to the little ones. A total of 1,552 children's books were checked out in the month of July.

Sponsors for the Summer Reading program were: Citizens Bank of Mt. Vernon, Super Saver, Foodland of Brodhead, Renfro Valley, Inc., and McDonalds. Thanks to all of these people for helping us with the program. The state librarian, James A. Nelson.

son, has asked that all public libraries have available nomination forms for the Anderson Medal. This medal is a perpetual memorial to Charles W. Anderson, Jr. who became the first Black legislator both in Kentucky and in the south since the reconstruction era.

Criteria for the nomination: Nominees must be Kentuckians, either natural or adopted. Nominees may be either living or dead.

Nominee's contribution must benefit people in at least one of the seven EEO protected classes (race, color, national origin, disability, religion, gender, age).

The impact of the nominee's contribution must be statewide or of national significance. The library has the forms and more information if needed.

Here are some of the new books ready to be checked out.

1. Hidden Riches by Nora Roberts. A jewel of romantic suspense, in which treasures are masked in tawdy disguises and the price tags are written in blood.

In Hidden Riches, Nora Roberts plunges into the exotic and decadent world of antiques with a story in which possession is a fatal obsession and a simple mistake leads to a string of murders. At its swirling center is Dora Conroy, a Philadelphia antiques dealer who buys a curious selection of auction items - objects she considers humorous novelties for her inventory. Yet it soon becomes obvious that this merchandise is a magnet for something sinister; in fact, her genteel antiques shop becomes the focus of an international smuggler whose passion for beautiful objects know no bounds.

I have just finished this book and find it to be one of the best I have read recently.

2. . . This is one for our western readers. The Far Canyon by Elmer Kelton. Kelton once again surpasses his previous novels, recalling with vivid simplicity the glories and hardships of life on the American frontier.

Jeff Layne, the young Confederate veteran and hide-hunter of Kelton's award winning epic, Slaughter, is older and ready to forsake the Staked Plains, now littered with the bleached skeletons of massacred buffalo. He has decided to return to his southern Texas homeplace and settle into the relatively peaceful life of a cattle rancher.

Unfortunately, times have changed in the border town of Piedras, Texas, and the disillusioned Jeff finds himself caught in the midst of a fierce border war between dispossessed Mexican ranchers and his longtime enemy, Vesper Freed. Jeff has never forgotten how Vesper ousted the Laynes from their land under the carpetbagger regime.

If Jeff can get out alive, he plans to drive his longhorn herd north to a distant canyon he remembers from his hide unting days. But can Jeff survive this war and get his dream?

3. . . A soul-stirring new novel Say To This Mountain by Bodie Thoenne. We are strangers in a strange land says newspaper reporter Max Mayer to his young son, Davey, upon arriving in their new home. Forced to flee New York City after refusing to cooperate with gangsters, Max hopes the tranquil Arkansas village of Shiloh will provide the refuge he needs. More than ever, he wants to forget the painful loss of his beloved Irene, mother of his son. Here, among Shiloh's hardworking, God-fearing people, Max finds much comfort. But then a near fatal accident and a beartiful woman of faith named Mary compels him to make a shattering decision.

Cool Summer Salads

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

On steamy days when it is too hot to cook, the mealtime solution is simple - until the temperature and humidity index loses its attitude, don't heat up the kitchen. Here are a few no-sweat suggestions for salads to keep you out of the kitchen but eating nutritiously.

-- Buy roast beef, ham, turkey or smoked turkey breast from the deli in 1/4 - 1/2 inch thick slices rather than sandwich slices. This thickness is good to add to your favorite tossed salad.

-- Tins of tuna or chicken are convenient to add to sandwiches or salads straight from the can.

-- Add beans and pasta to cold salads for flavor and nutritious additions. The beans will provide protein, and pasta will add starch to the diet.

-- Fresh fruits and vegetables are abundant during the summer and will add color and flavor, as well as all the valuable vitamins and minerals.

-- Cheeses will also add flavor and calcium. Reduced-fat, fat-free, and low-sodium choices are now available in most cheeses.

The only rule for making one-dish salads is to be adventurous. Usually if you mix and match flavors and textures that you enjoy, you will have a masterpiece salad.

If you want to try some salads

Orange-Cashew Chicken salad

No leftover cooked chicken or turkey at hand? Head for the deli department for roasted chicken or turkey breast, or for the freezer case for diced cooked chicken.

- 1 large navel orange
- 2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
- 1 small red bell pepper, cut into short, thin strips
- 1/3 cup thinly sliced small red onion rings

OUR CHILDREN MUST BE TAUGHT TO RESIST THE DRUG TRAP

Sadly, getting our children ready for the new school year now means a lot more than just clothes and eye exams. No matter how good a parent you are, you cannot be sure that your child won't succumb to the "peer pressure" to try drugs. With drug abuse rampant in this country, the best time to stop it is before it starts. Perhaps your local school system has an anti-drug program, in conjunction with the authorities. If not, get together with them and other parents and start one. Another source of prevention is your House of Worship and its Sunday school, where your children will learn to reject these negative influences. We may have already lost a large part of this generation of children to drugs, so let's do everything in our power to save the next one.

"The greatest thought that has ever entered my mind is that one day I will have to stand before a holy God and give an account of my life."
— Daniel Webster

If you want your children to keep their feet on the ground, put some responsibility on their shoulders.
— Abigail Van Buren

Poet's Corner

Baby's Cry

It's early yet the month is one
Though you can't see me I've just begun.
I am so small I don't have to hide.
I'm just a little seed growing inside.
Four weeks later the month is two.
I'm still small but part of you
Mommy, you'll love me just wait and see
You'll be so proud of me,
The time has passed the month is here.
Now I am someone you see,
My hair is black, my eyes are blue.
Mommy your gonna love having me around.
Now I am gone the month is five
And mommy killed me I'm no longer alive.
Abortion is the name you'll give it
It takes your life before you live it.
I wanted to be born.
The month is six
It's already been done, it can't be fixed
I guess mommy didn't love me
She threw me away
She will never forget me in her memory
I'll say I have a new home the month is seven Mommy killed me.
I know I'm in heaven
I was beautiful but now I'm gone
Only mommy lives on.
If I were around the month would be eight
I know mommy would have loved me
But it's too late, murdered by

mommy's own two hands
I guess I'm too young to understand
Good-by Mommy, the month is nine
I could have been born and been just fine
Although I'm in heaven I have to cry
Because of my mommy, I had to die.

Vern Gosdin to perform at Renfro Valley

The rich baritone voice and barbershop country honesty that have earned Vern Gosdin a place of prominence in country music will be shared with area fans in August. On Sunday, August 28, Gosdin will perform live at Renfro Valley's New Barn. Two performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. matinee and an evening concert at 6 p.m. Given the rumors which Vern Gosdin has accumulated in central Kentucky, a sell-out is anticipated. Ticket prices are $13.50 for preferred seats (front and center sections), $12.50 for remaining seats. Reservations are strongly suggested.

Vern Gosdin's musical career began in the late 1950s when he shared the microphone with family members performing on the Gosdin Family Gospel Show aired on radio station WVOK in Birmingham, AL. From gospel, Gosdin moved to bluegrass music and on to folk-rock. But his pure unadulterated love for the country music of his youth drove him back to his country roots.

Country western Gosdin's pure, smooth style with open arms - and scores of awards and accolades. His trophy case includes gold records and chart hits as well as a Country Music Association (CMA) award for Song of the Year in 1989 for "Chiselled in Stone."

Columbia Records says the secret of Gosdin's success is that "he's as country as they come." That is borne out of his like "Set 'Em Up Joe," "That Just About Does It," "If You're Gonna Do Me Wrong," and "Is It Raining at Your House."

To see Vern Gosdin in concert at Renfro Valley, call the Valley's box office toll-free at 1-800-765-7464, or 606-256-2638.

Harold Rogers announces upcoming town meetings

U.S. Rep. Harold "Hal" Rogers today announced he will hold town meetings throughout southern and eastern Kentucky starting August 22nd.

Everyone is invited to come and visit with Congressman Rogers during the town meetings, which are usually held at the County Courthouse. He will be available to answer questions and hear concerns about issues such as health care reform, social security, crime, economic development or any other issue of importance to you.

Rogers will also be available to talk with residents about any specific problems they may be having with the Federal Government.

"No matter the issue, if it's important to you, I want to hear about it," Rogers said. "Whether you want to discuss an issue important to you, or need help with a problem, I want to hear from you. Even if you just want to visit, I hope you will drop by the town meeting in your county."

Rogers will be at the Rockcastle County Courthouse September 10 at 10 a.m.
