PUBLIC NOTIFICATION
Monitoring Violation

The Western Rockcastle Water Association hereby gives notice that during the time period of October 1, 1993 through December 31, 1993, it water supply failed to comply with certain monitoring requirements as required by 401 KAR 8:010 through 8:700 inclusive.

The specific violations for the time period are: November - failure to submit the required number of bacteriological samples.

Any potential adverse health effects to any segment of the populations could not be determined due to failure to comply with the monitoring requirements.

In most cases, monitoring violations do not require the public to seek alternative water supplies or take preventive measures. If alternative water supplies or preventive measures are needed, the public shall be notified immediately.

The Western Rockcastle Water Association will take necessary action to reduce or eliminate monitoring violations. For more information, contact Charles D. Burton, 758-4331, at Western Rockcastle Water Association.

The violation was a result of the water samples being taken one (1) day late.

Decedent Robert E. Robinson and Marguerite Robinson obtained their interest in the subject real property by deed dated August 17, 1973, executed by William Cash, Jr., et al, which said deed is duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court in Deed Book 95, page 133.

Further, Robert E. Robinson and Marguerite Robinson were conveyed the rights to take water from a spring located on the south side of the Brodhead-Mt. Vernon Road located on property belonging to Hazel Turner Hayes, with the right to erect reservoirs, pipe lines, conduits and pumping facilities and the further right to go upon said land for the purpose of making such repairs, enlargements or extensions as deemed necessary or desirable to the same extent as conveyed to Earl Turner by Henry Turner in deed dated October 15, 1964, recorded in Deed Book 85, page 129.

The Property Will Be Sold Upon the Following Terms and Conditions:

1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of sixty (60) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five percent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond bearing interest at twelve percent (12%) per annum.
2. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale.
3. Buyer shall pay the 1994 county, state and school taxes on the property.
4. Buyer shall have possession of the premises upon compliance with the terms of sale.
5. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Willis G. Coffey, Master Commissioner of the Rockcastle Circuit Court

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

My family would like to express our appreciation to two members of the Rockcastle County Hospital Staff: Dianna Partin and Roy Lucas.

On July 26th we were visiting my parents, Jack and Mary Craig in Mt. Vernon when my eight year old son, Jack Fields, fell and severely broke his right forearm. There was also a question as to injury to his spine.

Your agency was contacted to transport him to Rockcastle County Hospital and then on to U. K. where his arm was set and a spinal injury ruled out.

I have been an R.N. for almost twenty years and have experienced many emergency situations so I feel qualified to highly commend Mrs. Partin and Mr. Lucas. Mrs. Partin appeared, as the team leader, most efficient and knowledgeable. She and Mr. Lucas were both very skilled and also compassionate towards Jack.

The staff at Rockcastle Hospital was also very courteous and professional. Unfortunately, I didn't catch all the names, but would like to thank Dr. Wilson, Grea, the R.N. in the ER and others.

Having grown up in Mt. Vernon, graduated from U.K.'s B.S.N. School of Nursing and worked in several "big city" facilities, I can say the people of Rockcastle County are fortunate to have Mrs. Partin, Mr. Lucas and their hospital.

Thank you,
Debra Craig Mains

Were like a lighthouse beacon on the shore,
Guiding us through the stormy seas

of life,
Lighting our path and making spirits soar.

There in the lamplight
Shining like an orange halo
She read her favorite passages
With her face all aglow.

She would always read her favorite
Which was the 23rd Psalm,
For it had a soothing effect
And it was our spiritual balm.

During the great depression years
Times were hard and lean,
But there was a promise of a better life to come.
For she always finished with John 3:16.

One by one our numbers have diminished
And the circle has gotten small,
But I can still see all their faces
When mother lit the lamp and read to us all.

The home of Coy French near Skaggs Creek was completely destroyed by fire last Friday morning. Mt. Vernon firefighter Garry Hansel said that arson is suspected in fire because no electricity was on in house and no one was living there at the time of the fire.

Rockcastle County teachers took part in opening day festivities at the Rockcastle Middle School Wednesday morning. The opening of school has been delayed by three days.

Towery announces Tuesday

School opening delayed 3 days

Superintendent Bige W. Towery announced late Tuesday that the opening of school had been delayed until Thursday, August 25.

Towery said the safety of the children was paramount and that even though the school district had been issued a 30-day occupancy permit by the state fire marshal's office Monday, "I do not feel good about allowing students in the building (the new high school) at this time, especially since they do not have a place to assemble."

Finance officer Richard Bray also said one of the main reasons for the delay was that the new high school and Brodhead Elementary both needed to be cleaned thoroughly before opening. Brodhead also underwent some extensive remodeling this summer.

The delay in school opening has also caused orientation to be rescheduled at the high school. Orientation days are now set for Tuesday and Wednesday, Aug. 23 and 24 (see ad on page A-7 of this week's Signal for times).

The official opening day of school was held Wednesday for teachers and staff at the middle school.

The theme this year was "Implementation - It's Happening," with Dr. Crystal Arlene Kuykendall as keynote speaker.

Dr. Kuykendall holds a doctorate in educational administration from Atlanta University and earned her law degree from Georgetown University Law Center in 1981.

She has been a teacher, upward bound instructor, guidance counselor, a university instructor, an author, a government administrative intern, an in-demand conference speaker and a liaison to community groups.

In her address, Dr. Kuykendall said, "Our agenda must include every child. When children leave school with no hope, many leave with anger, bitterness and rage. We cannot bring out the best in our children without giving the very best we have. Teachers are the merchants of hope."

In his opening address, Supt. Towery told the group "Implementation - It's Happening" is a profound message... We are not speaking merely of implementing KERA components; that has already occurred. We are referring to the implementation of authentic learning, authentic teaching and authentic assessment of student performance. We are referring to student engaged learning, the changing role of teacher as facilitator, coach, coordinator and leader. Teachers are being judged by what students know and can apply rather than their personal knowledge."

Not indicted

A Rockcastle County Grand Jury has declined to return an indictment in a graduation night altercation between a Mt. Vernon firefighter and a local motorist.

According to Carla Baker, a deputy clerk in Denver Miller's office, no indictment was returned against Tiny Bostic, the Mt. Vernon fire fighter who was accused of striking Jeff King in the head with a flashlight while directing traffic.

Mrs. Baker said that the grand jury heard evidence from a KSP detective who investigated the altercation after both parties asked county attorney Jeff Burdette for a warrant.

Stabbed

A Mt. Vernon man suffered stab wounds Friday night following an altercation at a residence on U.S. 150 near Kentucky Stone Company Quarry.

Jeffrey Renner was treated for stab wounds in the left leg and side. Jeff A. Howerton was not arrested since Renner declined to prosecute.

Renner was taken to Rockcastle Hospital for treatment and sent to U.K. Medical Center. He has since been released, according to Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan, who investigated.

Car burned

A 1982 Dodge car belonging to Ravin Alcorn on Wildie Road was stolen Aug. 10.

It was found by Sheriff Shirley Smith burned Aug. 11 on Roy McCollum Road.

Chipboard

A total of 120 sheets of chipboard valued at $1,207 was stolen Friday from a construction site at the property of Larry McKnight, Sheriff's Deputy Karen Alcorn, who investigated, reported.

The new home is being built on Scaffold Lane Road.

Booze

State Trooper Jimmy Silvers found 720 cans of beer when he stopped a vehicle on I-75 driven by Gary Wayne Hoskins of Jackson Church Road, London, recently.

Hoskins was charged with transporting alcoholic beverages.

Miss Kentucky is now a Renfro Valley entertainer

Tonya Dee Virgin, Miss Kentucky 1993, has become the newest member of the Renfro Valley Barn Dance cast.

Joining more than 40 other Renfro Valley stars, Tonya will demonstrate the vocal skills that won her a talent award at the Miss America contest in September, 1993.

No stranger to the spotlight, Tonya began singing before audiences at the tender age of 13. The Greenup County native traversed the small towns and cities of Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia to perform wherever country music fans fathomed.

Tonya's father acted as road manager, chauffeur and most enthusiastic fan during the treks from their Oldtown, KY home. In addition to regular performances on the Coalton County Jubilee in Ashland, KY, Tonya also opened for national country acts like the Judds, the Kendalls and Exile.

In spite of the demands of her performing career, Tonya did not neglect her formal education. She attended Ashland Community College and transferred to Morehead State University, where she earned a bachelors degree in communication/marketing.

At an early age, Tonya Dee Virgin recognized her desire for a career in country music. Audiences at Tonya's performances and judges in the Miss Kentucky and Miss America pageants recognized Tonya's vocal talents and engaging stage presence.

Renfro Valley audiences now have the opportunity to hear the pure country vocals of this impressive young star. Tonya performs every Saturday night during the Renfro Valley Barn Dance. For Barn Dance tickets, call the Renfro Valley box office (toll-free) at 1-800-765-7464 or 606-256-2638.

20,000 marijuana plants found in national forest

Nearly 20,000 marijuana plants have been found in the Daniel Boone National Forest by law enforcement authorities including the State Marijuana Task Force.

Law enforcement authorities arrested 131 people and destroyed nearly 120,000 marijuana plants in an unusual sweep across Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia.

Authorities said yesterday that it was the first such cooperative arrangement among so many agencies in the three states.

Code-named Triple Play, the operation from Aug. 1-10 discovered 1,668 plots in the three states, 14 of which were protected by booby traps.

Kentucky Drug Enforcement Administration Chief David Haight said at a news conference that the cooperation also should pay off in the future with intelligence gathered about marijuana trafficking operations that cross state lines.

Haight said Kentucky was the primary target of the tri-state operation.

"The state of Kentucky has led the nation in marijuana eradication for years, but we still have a major problem," he said.

Nearly 100,000 of the plants that were destroyed and 1,400 of the plots

Court asks state to fix road

County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlottis and the Rockcastle Fiscal Court have asked Jerry Algin, Department of Transportation Commissioner to upgrade and repair a county road.

The road is a connecting corridor between Berea and McKee and 1787 in Rockcastle at Disputanta.

The judge said the road is widely used and is in extremely bad shape. "To our knowledge it has not been resurfaced for over 20 years. It is marked with huge and unavoidable craters, not potholes, that quickly get worse," Carlottis said.

He said the county cannot afford to repair the damage. "The only thing we were able to do in late winter was compact stone/dense grade in the holes.

"We understand the tremendous strain your funds have been placed under due to the last winter, and realize there is only so much you can do for our county. Likewise, we cannot expect the state to repair every road throughout the commonwealth."

"We are simply asking for your consideration of this road and, if at all possible, some relief for it, if only a part."

Hamilton withdraws from Livingston council race

Livingston's middles Nov. 8 city election became less muddy Tuesday when Justice Hamilton withdrew her name for City Commissioner.

That leaves a vacancy on the commission. A blank will appear.

Unemployment down

Unemployment fell in Rockcastle in June compared to May it was revealed by the Cabinet for Human Resources office in Corbin.

The unemployment rates in May stood at 6.1 percent compared to 5.7 percent in June.

None of the seven counties in the Corbin office area were lower, Kentucky's June rate was lower at 4.8 percent.

Since Livingston is a sixth class city write-in candidates for the post will be counted.

Prospective candidates for any office in this election have to file papers with County Clerk Norma Houk.

Although there is a candidate on the ballot for mayor anyone can write in a candidate opposing Ed Lite, who filed.

Two earlier city officials resigned opening the election to new candidates.

Mayor Ralph Hamilton resigned his post. It was filled by mayor pro tem Ed Lite. Peggy McClure resigned from the City Commission leaving her seat open. Both expressed personal problems as reasons for resigning.

It seems pretty obvious that professional baseball players are going to be on strike for awhile. The poor fellows feel like they aren't making enough money.

Never-mind the fact that they average more than a million dollars each in annual salaries for playing a game six months each year. Never-mind that the average baseball fan now has to shell out a day's wages to attend a game. And never-mind the fact that professional sports are the most over-rated bunch of nonsense, ever perpetuated on civilization. The lard heads want more.

I personally hope they stay out on strike. I hope football, basketball, hockey and professional golfers join them out of sympathy. And I hope the whole darn bunch stays on strike long enough for the public to become fascinated with gardening or reading or something that has some semblance of worth.

Just think for a moment what might happen if the fans went on strike. Which is precisely what ought to happen. In addition to stiff prices for gate admission, we all pay more for automobiles, cereal, insurance, soda-pop and almost everything else we buy as consumers because most manufacturers feel obligated to spend a few million advertising on sports events. A new automobile, for example costs you thousands of dollars more than you ought to have to pay because the auto industry spends billions of dollars every year promoting sports events.

Take professional sports out of the picture and every single consumer in this country would start seeing lower prices.

To play professional baseball, you do in fact, have to be able to throw a baseball, catch it and hit it. You also need to be able to say duh and rub your crotch a lot. Unfortunately those are not the kinds of attributes that carry much weight if you're filling out a resume and looking for a real job.

The truth of the matter is that most professional athletes don't even have the skill to wash dishes at a greasy spoon restaurant. And wouldn't it be interesting to give them an IQ test.

The questioning might go something like this:
"Okay Bruiser, spell kitten."
"Duhhhhhh. Say that again."
"Spell kitten. You know. A baby cat."
"Duhhhhhh. Why don't you let me spell cat. I'm too big to spell kitten."
"Okay Bruiser, spell cat."
"Duhhhhhh. It starts with a k don't it?"

So what is Bruiser going to do for a living if you take professional ball out of the picture? It seems to me that professional welfare is the only alternative. Even though he may be able to crush rocks by smashing them against his helmet, or better yet, by simply smashing them against his head without the helmet, the construction industry still has machines that can work circles around him.

So why does Bruiser deserve to earn a million dollars a year?

You tell me.
High school and college athletes play for the sheer joy of the sport.

Fewer than 99 percent of them ever make it to the professional level and most know that they don't even want to.

The fact of the matter is that Bruiser and his cohorts are ridiculously over-paid already, no matter what sport they are in, and we should all have our fingers crossed that they go on strike and stay there. Permanently. In the meantime they should leave athletics with the school boys and girls and do our best to teach them how to earn an honest living. There is certainly nothing honest about the way professional sports are treating the very people who are keeping them in business.

If you have to have a hero, go out and find a good teacher and become his or her biggest fan. Applaud the folks who are seeking cures for cancer and AIDS and send them fan mail. But for heaven's sake, do not feel any pity or concern for the greedy

HERESAY

By: John Norman Meadows

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and saccharoids from my peaceful porch of wonderful Wab, where one of our dearly departed citizens, Ezra Abernathy, once remarked, "A newspaper is a circulating library with high blood pressure."

Old Ezra was right on the mark. I perused Sunday's paper and got so out-of-kilter that I had to partake of an extra bowl of Prince Albert too get over my anxiety. Several articles were disturbing, but I'll mention only one. A Senator stated that, at the present rate, Social Security benefits, Medicare, and other human assistance programs will bankrupt our nation early in the first decade of the twenty-first century. About the time my dear wife retires from an underpaid lifetime of work!

With that prospect in mind, and the spread of AIDS -- you don't have to be a pervert to get it accidentally through a blood transfusion -- and the escalation of man's inhumanity to man, more than half of me wants to become a hermit. If that becomes reality, I'll never leave my Nod's Little Acre, take no newspapers and magazines, and watch no television. Have you ever seen so much inanity in your life as parades across our tubes. Oh, some of those stupid sit-coms, those strum and shake rock videos, and those less than shallow, shake and roll religious antics on GDBN (Get Down Broadcasting Network!)

And then there is the possibility of Earth being bombarded like Jupiter was a few weeks ago. (Is that the 'fire from heaven' that will end it all, as the Good Book declares?) And there are still thousands of nuclear bombs around with foils in charge of them.

Maybe old Harmon Smith was right. Back in 1960 we felt strongly that the US and the Soviet Union -- Communism is still alive and well in our world, to say nothing of the likes of idiots like Saddam Hussein and the fanatics in Iran -- were headed for war. So, our government began a civil defense program to teach people how to build fallout shelters. I survived! I was selected as one of the instructors in Lincoln County and taught the course at Broughtontown Elementary nightly for a week.

I was also pastor of the Willow Grove Baptist Church between Stanford and Danville and figured the

I hadn't noticed Virginia Saylor being a woman who eats a lot. She is Conley's wife, a pretty, friendly woman who takes a lot when he talks about her.

Seeing him yesterday in his front office at Superior Market, I said to him, "Where did you get that tan you are wearing?"

Conley came down out of the office to talk to me as if things were more than he could bear.

"I tell you I've been plowing corn, hoeing potatoes, and gathering tomatoes to feed that woman of mine, she eats so much," he grinned at me and I knew he was making that up and I would never get the truth for I had heard he was in Florida a lot this summer, probably being on the beach straining his eyes, (he wears glasses) while James and Tommy minded the store.

I'll bet Conley will have black eyes when Virginia reads this.

I'm in my office on the front porch

this Tuesday morning where it's so cool and the birds fly down to tell me they have no food in their feeders. John says what with having to buy seeds for the birds, food for the dog and food for my four ducks, we can hardly buy food for ourselves but God said he would feed us if we took care of His animals. I believe that for God doesn't lie.

I had a very nice letter from my good friends Ruth and Phil Gatliff in Indiana. They had been down here this summer galivanting around a lot at reunions where they would see a lot of kinfolks. I'll bet Phil over ate and had to go home to get better.

I tell you one shouldn't try to eat some of everything and which had several kinds of cakes on the table.

Ruth said some cheering things about this column which helps me a lot when I think no one cares about it. She knows how hard it is to make news when there is none.

Say, "World what????"

congregation would welcome the instruction. So, I used a Wednesday night to "enlighten" my flock. I began with a film showing the explosion and destruction of an H-bomb and then made a case for preparation against what the Soviets might, and probably would, do.

One fellow stood up and said to me, "Now brother Johnny, we don't have one thing to fear from them Communists. I not too pastorly told him a lot of American soldiers would still be alive had it not been for the Soviet and China communist agenda in North Korea. He sat down, not a little embarrassed.

Then Harmon spoke up. 'Preacher,' he said, "If Russia drops their bombs on us, I'll go right out and feed my chickens just the same." What an ignorant, fool-hearty statement, I thought.

I don't know if it was faith or defiance that prompted Harmon's remark, but I now tend to see things his way. However, I not so sure war and bombs will be the culprit that does us in. It could be that we will so poison the good Earth that we'll just die away.

Man's greed and inconsideration of others has more potential for evil than all the bombs in the world.

The New Hampshire poet, Robert Frost, wrote a little two-stanza rhyme called "Fire and Ice." It discusses poetically, and a bit sarcastically, how the world might end. Fire symbolizes war and atomic weapons. Ice represents the absence of brotherly concern. Frost ends by saying, "Ice is nice and will suffice." Our cold, icy "rugged individualism" may be the malefactor that brings about our demise.

So, I may become a hermit. I'll feed my twenty-one species of birds, fight summer's battle with weeds and grass, brave winter's cold grip, love my wife, cats and dogs, and let come what may. (How nice it would be to be a bird and be all the Maker meant me to be.)

By the way, when we bought our place it was grown up like a thicket. I've cleared it all, which didn't help my aching back. I'm proudest of the green strip that borders Cummins branch. (I may turn it into a one-hole golf course. Now!) I say all that about my place to let you know that I'm writing a book about my experience with my land. I've entitled it How Green Was My Bottom. It sets forth one of the unwritten law of life in Wabed which states that "Them that has bottoms ought to keep them clean."

See you next week -- unless I get real serious about this hermit business.

For instance Cleve Payne has taken upgunning humming birds by keeping their feeders filled with the nectar they eat and Blanche makes it up for them.

So many hummingbirds fly around that Cleve's part is to call Blanche and tell her the feeder is empty. I tell you that is hard work carrying the feeder in and out of the house.

Joe Abney, the Sreaker, is working hard overseeing the building of his children's house they are putting up on Clear Creek. I'm bound to say the kids will be sorry they are putting up a new home there for Joe is known to borrow and either, be slow in paying back, or forget it one.

I feel very sad to learn my good friend, little Sara Anderkin Coguer will not be in the front office of the Signal any more since she has gone to work in the office in the Education department in the schools of Mt. Vernon. I first started knowing Sara at the Signal office in Berea when I took my copy in of an afternoon.

Sara would be hungry as young people get then so I would take her candy, cake, or a treat, and she gladly ate it.

I attended her wedding and enjoyed seeing her wedding dress, doing a writeup on the affair. She was almost the daughter I never had, so I really will miss her in the front office of the Signal. I'll have to now take Paige, as I did Sara, to help me in my mistakes in the paper.

It is such a pretty day when on Menelaus Road this morning which makes me feel great but I already was feeling great from my weekend visit with my two sons, Russell and Chesley Cornett, in Florence and Edgewood.

Both men are bachelors and do a pretty good job of housekeeping.

John took me up Friday and Russell and friend, Wilma brought me home Sunday afternoon.

I never have seen as much north-bound traffic on I-75 as we saw that Sunday afternoon. It seems that everybody in Ohio had come to Kentucky this weekend and were now going home.

On Friday, I had cooked a large kettle of soup (pinto) beans, baked several ponies of corn bread to take up with me, bought several bunches of green onions and sliced peaches and bananas in a container for salad.

I never saw anyone enjoy themselves as my two sons did in eating yet complaining because I hadn't fried a skillet of potatoes and brought along too.

Cheese took me out for supper Saturday night and cooked "brunch" at noon Sunday. When I tried to help by telling Ches when he needed to turn the sausage over in the skillet, he would say, "Now, mom. I'm a big boy and can cook, so just let me," and he was a good cook.

I haven't felt like eating much lately which worried my doctor, young Dr. Bill Stewart, yet I was losing weight every day so I enjoyed Cheese cooking my "brunch."

I have a row of red scarlet sage plants all around my porch which makes a pretty sight. But I don't have as many now as I did for I fell into them as I started up the steps of the porch and skinned my arm. I fall pretty often and John is afraid I will break something on myself.

I want to thank Dorothy Wilson, the mother of Brenda Rogers at Paint Lick who once worked at the newspaper office with me, who lives between Berea and Richmond, for being a good reader of my column. Brenda says her mother calls her and tells her something I've said in my column that she thinks Brenda would like to hear. I appreciate your interest, Mrs. Wilson, things like that keep me going when I feel like giving up.

It is said by old timers that the first frost will fall in six weeks after the kaydids began hollering. We don't have long to wait. That will about the first of September. A killing frost is supposed to come around in October.

The leaves are beginning to fall from the trees.

Chesley said, "I live right in the middle of a large settlement yet I feel like I'm in the country. Trees are thick behind me so I get all kinds of animals to come around. There are rabbits, squirrels, chipmunks, possum, raccoon, a snake lives in a wood pile, all kinds of birds, the cardinal, blue jays, doves so all I'm waiting for is a deer which may be soon as they've been seen in subdivisions. Since I have no dog, they visit at night and eat my vegetables especially the rabbits and chipmunks.

It was up there and Chess watered all his plants. That night there came a good rain. Chess said, "It never fails."

His son, Chris, who is a first class cadet in the third year of navy training, came home for a week after being in Rhode Island where he was training new inductees in a Preparatory School for the Navy. He now goes back to Annapolis for his last year there.

John and Arthur Davidson who is a partner in the cane fields they are raising to make sorghum molasses are about ready to go, and will be making some this week.

Come by and see them and eat a canestick of skimmings.

Till next week I have a paper with all the good you can get from using apple vinegar. One is it cures hiccups, eases arthritis pain, and many more. I will name some next week.

About Cataracts

By: Lee Cain, O.D.

Cataracts--the clouding over of the lens of the eye--are associated with aging. That is, almost everyone gets them, if they live long enough. As the cataracts develop, images of light entering the eye become distorted; vision gets fuzzy.

There's no telling how long it will take for a cataract to develop; it may take years before it clouds over the entire lens. This varies from person to person, even between eyes in the same person. While the cataract is forming, eyeglasses are usually effective to correct vision. When the clouding is complete and eyeglasses no longer can improve vision in that eye, surgery is often indicated.

What causes cataracts? Chemical changes associated with aging may be the prime cause. There is also evidence that sun damage over the years may hasten cataracts. This is important to have U.V. protection outdoors. Diabetes may be a factor, too. A sudden eye injury can cause a traumatic cataract--yet another reason to see your optometrist promptly in case of injury.

One's mind is in a quandary As it ponders on this and that, Is the spare tire around one's middle Saturated or unsaturated fat?

One should do this often To alleviate daily dietary stress, Is to ask the good Lord

To bless this awful mess.

When one survives another day It shows that one is not dumb, But don't forget to eat a banana To get one's quota of potassium.

Daily Survival
By: Preston Parrett

Starting out in the morning
It's hard to get on the move,
For there's so many things to check
Before getting in the groove.

One must listen to the weather news
And check on the Sun, for
To see how much sun one can take
Before heading out the door.

Then one checks the mold and pollen count
To see whether to wheeze or sneeze,
Then one read the food labels
To see how much fat is in the cheese

One must count the calories
To see how much to eat over all,
But don't forget to check my friend
The total amount of cholesterol.

One must not forget the fiber
Because one needs a daily intake,
For it keeps things moving smoothly
And heading towards the gate.

One must eat an unvarnished potato
Along with a good old bean,
Then one must not forget
To get a daily dose of carotene.

FAITH HELPS YOU COPE WITH REAL OR IMAGINARY WORRIES

You have probably spent many hours of your life in fear of some dreadful calamity. Would you have to go to the hospital, according to those X-rays and other tests? Would that repair job cost an arm and a leg? Were those rumors true that your plant was going to be shut down? Any of a thousand fears can throw our lives into a nail-biting turmoil. In all probability you've lost a lot of sleep for nothing, because most of these things didn't happen; but sooner or later some disaster will come along. In any case, you should attend your House of Worship and also talk to your clergyman. You will learn to dispel your needless anxieties and cope with the real ones. Faith is not a fair-weather friend, but a real source of help and comfort which is there whenever you need it.

One of the nice things about problems is that a good many of them do not exist, except in our imagination. — Steve Allen

Mt. Vernon Message

We open this school year, as if it were one of those special gifts you unwrap with anticipation.

Teachers trained three days this past week in unit development. They worked together to develop units to use in their classrooms. They shared ideas about what makes a great unit. They searched for ways to connect student's school experiences with real life.

Open House

Open House is Thursday, Aug. 18. Ms. Powell has arranged that she and others be available to assist parents and students to locate classrooms, identify teachers and answer questions. Hours are 7 a.m. - 7 p.m.

Landscaping Plans

Plans are underway to allow students a first hand experience in landscaping. Students will learn about plants, growth, planning and much more through participation in this project.

Opening Day

Students, K-5, will begin their new year on Thursday, August 25. The building will open at 7:40 a.m. Students will report to classrooms by 8 a.m. Students will be dismissed around 11 a.m.

Pre-School

The pre-school program will begin on Wed., Aug. 24. Students must have immunizations, t.b. skin test and physical upon entry.

Kindergarten

Parents will accompany their children to school on Monday, August 29th. Teachers request that the morning group arrive at 8:30 a.m. for orientation. Also the afternoon group needs to arrive at 9:15. Each orientation will last approximately 40 minutes. Regular schedules with transportation will begin on Tuesday, Aug. 30.

Morning Group Schedule - 8:10 - 11:30
Afternoon group Schedule - 11:35 - 3:15

We welcome parent involvement! Hats off to our Custodians!

Ms. Louise Kirby, Rick Harris, Brian Cox and Lin Reynolds have worked hard over the summer in getting our building ready. We appreciate all their hard work and dedication.

Counselors Hard

I'm excited about the school year ahead. I look forward to working with students, teachers and parents. I'm aware of many special things planned for our students. Parents, as your children prepare for the new year, allow them to share their thoughts and expectations. Young children need lots of guidance and support at the beginning of a new school year. I'm aware that many of us have got off schedules this summer. Now is the time to set the stage for this new school year. If I can be of any assistance throughout the school year don't hesitate to call me, Deborah Cummins, 256-2953.

Local satellite dealer to sell DirecTV

Eaton Electronics, a satellite television retailer, announced today that it was authorized by DirecTV, Inc., a unit of GM Hughes Electronics, to sell the DirecTV Entertainment programming service. DirecTV, the nation's premier direct broadcast satellite (DBS) service is the largest television start-up in history and is slated to revolutionize the way Americans watch television. DirecTV, programming will be delivered nationwide via satellite, and received by 18-inch satellite dishes installed in homes across the country. Eaton Electronics will begin selling DirecTV, as well as DSS (Digital Satellite System) receiving units no earlier than August, 1994.

DirectTV will deliver approximately 150 channels of entertainment programming through direct broadcast satellites (DBS). Hollywood's hit movies, sports, and special interest programming directly into homes equipped with the DSS receiving units. Manufactured by Thomson Consumer Electronics and sold under the RCA brand name, DSS is a direct broadcast system consisting of an 18-inch satellite antenna, a digital decoder box, and a remote control that will allow retain for approximately $699 (plus installation).

The DirecTV service will be delivered via two tiers of high-power direct broadcast satellites (DBS). The first satellite, DBS-1, was successfully launched on an Ariane rocket on December 17, 1993, from French Guiana, South America. The second satellite, DBS-2, has been launched and will be operational in a few months. The DirecTV programming service began in April, 1994 with approximately 75-80 channels of programming. Once the second satellite becomes operational DirecTV will be at full capacity and deliver approximately 150 channels of entertainment and information programming.

Eaton Electronics is among the first dealers in the country to be authorized to sell the DirecTV programming and the RCA DSS. Through DirecTV, consumers across the country will have access to a wide array of programming choices and selections delivered in near laserdisk quality video picture and CD quality sound.

Programming on the satellites will include the leading names in cable television such as CNN, ESPN, and The Disney Channel, pay-per-view movies from major Hollywood studios, professional and collegiate sports, and special interest programming. Movies and special events will be available on impulse through one touch operations with a special remote control. In addition, an innovative on-screen menu will guide subscribers through the program selections and system operations, and allow customers to establish spending limits and exercise parental control through program rating limit passwords. Because the system utilizes advanced digital compression technology, it will also be compatible with future formats such as HDTV and be capable of providing interactive service for home shopping and video games.

For more information please contact John G. Eaton Jr., Eaton Electronics at 256-4314.

Nancy Meadows presents Bro. Romans with a certificate

Hospice honors Bro. Romans

Hospice of the Kentucky River honored Bro. Wendell Romans in July with a reception held in the Fellowship Hall at the First Baptist Church, thanking him and showing him our appreciation for his dedication to the Rockcastle County Hospice Team, serving as our Team Chaplain since 1990.

He spent many hours doing his duties as Hospice Chaplain, one of them being to visit each patient that we have had in the program since it opened its doors in 1990, doing whatever he deemed necessary to make that particular patient feel better spiritually and emotionally.

Shown in the picture is Nancy Isaacs our patient coordinator presenting Bro. Romans with a certificate of our appreciation.

"We would all like to say thank you Bro. Romans and you will certainly be missed by all the team.

Dr. George Griffith, Medical Director, Nancy Isaacs, R.N., Carlene Livingood, R.N., Jackie Hiatt, R.N., Anna Hobbs, S.W., Elizabeth Greenhill, S.W., Jackie McGee, S.W., Myrtle Griffin, Sec., Ann Mullins, Sec.

Among our other guests were the following who attended our "Get Together," Gery Morris, S.W. and Miriam Mullins, R.N. workers in Hospice from the Richmond office, also Roy Martin board member and Mr. Vernon Mayor Gary Cromer and Mrs. Lena Romans.

Thanks to everyone for making this an enjoyable occasion.

Study finds Kentucky Utilities well-managed

A study ordered by the state Public Service Commission has found Kentucky Utilities Inc. to be well-managed, cost-conscious and appreciated by its customers, employees and investors.

The management and operations audit also concluded that KU responded well to controversy when its lead lobbyist wound up in the middle of a federal corruption investigation of state government.

The study said that the company did not appear to be involved in the illegal activities of former Vice President Jay Spurrer but has tightened its lobbying and political activities nonetheless.

"KU is one of the most cost-effective utilities in the country and KU's stakeholders hold the company in high regard," said the audit by Vantage Consulting Inc. of Wayne, Pa. The audit was the second of the Lexington-based utility ordered in the commission's program of outside examination of public utilities management. The last audit was done in 1984.

The report also made 63 recommendations for improvement in KU operations, including areas it estimated could save $3 million a year. The savings, though, would amount to less than 1 percent of KU's annual operating expenses.

KU's coal-buying and plans for current and future generating capacity "give it a very competitive infrastructure," the audit concluded.

Spurrer, also a past chairman of the Kentucky Harness Racing Commission in addition to his lobbying activities for KU, was cautions by FBI agents bribing public officials.

Large NHF Day observance expected this September

"I don't know exactly why it's happening - I'm not glad to," commented Gary Kolesar, National Hunting and Fishing Day Coordinator, reporting on a major resurgence of interest in this annual event, observed this year on Saturday, September 24.

"National Hunting and Fishing Day is now in its 23rd year and there's no doubt the event has experienced its peaks and valleys," said Kolesar.

"Recently, however, we've clearly been approaching one of the peaks, as evidenced by a significant increase in requests for information from sportsmen's clubs, individuals, sporting goods dealers, state agencies and manufacturers."

Rising NHF Day interest was also demonstrated by the unanimous show of support which last year's observance received from the nation's leaders.

Program introduced to find owners of unclaimed property

State Treasurer Frances Jones Mills is introducing a new and comprehensive program to find owners of unclaimed property which has been turned over to the State Treasury, and to get companies that hold property to report.

The Unclaimed Property Section was transferred from the Revenue Cabinet to the State Treasurer's office this spring. Since that time, the Treasury has begun taking very aggressive action to locate property which should be turned over to the state, and then, to find the rightful owners of those properties. Investigators will use every resource available to locate owners or heirs.

"Can you imagine how exciting it would be to have someone from the Treasury knock on your door to tell you that you are the owner of property from a distant relative that was turned over to the state?" said Treasurer Mills at a recent meeting. "You may be richer than you think."

"We are distributing information throughout the state telling how the people of Kentucky can inquire about property that may be held in their names," said Treasurer Mills. "I urge people in all areas of the state to keep an eye out for this information and participate by calling 1-800-465-4722 to find out if they have property."

The Treasurer plans to expand the program to improve the reporting of properties to the state. "We plan to have auditors scouring the state in search of dormant funds and other unclaimed properties," said Mills. "So far this year, a record 10,500,000 has been reported to the Treasury, but there's more out there."

EKU student consortium will help meet Rockcastle needs

With one eye on meeting community needs in Rockcastle and other counties in its service region and the other on building citizenship skills in young people, Eastern Kentucky University has launched the Student Service Consortium (SSC). The University's College of Education was awarded $238,800 through the 1993 National and Community Trust Act to administer the project, which will involve a collaborative, regional partnership of school districts, institutions of higher learning, community agencies and public advocacy groups. The grant is renewable for two additional years. As a part of AmeriCorps, the new national service program created by the Act, the Consortium will implement a broad spectrum of service-learning experiences for thousands of area students from kindergarten through post-secondary and allow college students to earn education in exchange for 1,700 hours of community service.

Only five proposals statewide, including EKU's, were funded in the competitive grant selection process. "The Kentucky Community Service Commission (KCSC) is very excited to be funding the Student Service Consortium as one of our AmeriCorps programs," said Dave Crowley, executive director of KCSC. "By making service-learning an integral part of the educational process, this project has tremendous potential to instill an ethic of service in thousands of students, which will benefit the region for years to come."

EKU's College of Education has extensive experience coordinating regional partnerships, including the Educational Excellence Consortium, CampusServe, and the Destination Graduation and Literacy Corps tutoring programs for at risk students. "This program is a true partnership between EKU and many of the communities in our service region," said Nancy Thames, who'll serve as project director. "Together, we have developed a program that will touch the lives of thousands of young people in central and southeastern Kentucky, and have a positive, dramatic impact on their communities."

The SSC, working with the Kentucky Community Service Commission, will recruit and train 20 individuals who have completed at least two years of college with at least a 2.8 GPA. For 10 months of full-time service, each student coordinator will receive an educational award and a stipend. Each student coordinator will work directly with a host-site partner, a school district or institution of higher learning, facilitating service-learning programs and fostering civic aviares by linking schools and communities.

Service-learning, one of the tenets of the Kentucky Education Reform Act (KERA), is a way of learning in which young people gain and apply academic and social skills by addressing community needs. Possible projects might include community clean-ups, peer tutoring, assisting at senior citizen centers and nursing homes, adopting a hospital wing, etc.

"Students will not only understand the concepts of citizenship," Thames said, "but will be given opportunities to be good citizens by providing services that are needed in their communities."

Eastern is looking for 20 student coordinators to work in a 13-county area encompassing Bell, Boyle, Estill, Garrard, Jackson, Lincoln, Madison, McCreary, Powell, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Wayne and Whitley counties. Each of those county school districts are host-site partners, along with seven independent districts within their borders: Berea, Corbin, Monticello, Pineville, Science Hill, Somerset and Williamsburg. Berea College and Cumberland College are also host-site partners.

The student coordinators will gain a tremendous understanding of how public education works, and its importance in their communities," Thames said. "They will also be able to refine their organizational, leadership, communication and interpersonal skills, as they serve these communities."

For more information, or to apply to one of the student coordinators, call Nancy Thames at 606-622-6543 or write her at Student Service Consortium, College of Education, 423 Combs Classroom Bldg., Eastern Kentucky University, 40475-3111.

Students offered KHEAA grants

Over 26,000 Kentucky students enrolling in postsecondary educational institutions for the 1994-95 academic year have been offered Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) Grants, which include the College Access Program (CAP) and the Kentucky Tuition Grant (KTG). Awards to these students total $27 million, according to Paul P. Borden, executive director of KHEAA. A CAP Grant may be used at an eligible Kentucky public or private nonprofit college or proprietary school or publicly operated vocational-technical school. The award amount for college students is equal to the community college tuition rate for the 1994-95 academic year, the amount is $40 per semester hour not to exceed $480 per semester. Students attending a proprietary school or vocational-technical school receive awards equal to the tuition rate at publicly operated vocational-technical schools for the 1994-95 year, the amount is $125 per quarter for full-time enrollment).

Host families sought for international students

American Host families are being sought for high school students from Western and Eastern Europe, Asia, South America, Australia, and the former Soviet Union for the 1994-95 school year in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

These exceptional students, ages 15 through 18, will arrive in the United States at the end of August, attend a local high school, and return to their home countries in June of 1995. The students, all fluent in English, have

Are you truly terrified of the computer keyboard and all its functions? Well, Eastern Kentucky University's South Central Small Business Development Center has the class for you: Introductory Keyboarding.

"If you can turn on the computer, you can learn the keyboard and all its function," said Marlene Morgan, management specialist with the South Central SBDC. "This class is especially designed for the truly terrified."

The software program (MicroAssist) allows participants to learn at their own pace. The instructor, Joey Quinn, director of the Adult Learning Center in Somerset, has taught computer classes since 1985.

The class will meet 6-8:30 p.m. every Friday Sept. 2 through Nov. 4 in the computer lab at Kentucky Tech on Airport Road, Somerset. Participation is limited to 20, so early registration is urged. The fee is $60.

The course is co-sponsored by the SBDC, Somerset/Pulaski County Continuing Education Program and Kentucky Tech.

Old Fashioned Potato Cinnamon Buns

An old-fashioned yeast-rising potato dough gives these plump potato cinnamon buns their special tenderness. Home economists at KitchenAid developed the recipe for their Convection Oven Cookbook. The fan in a convection oven circulates air throughout the oven, saving energy by lowering cooking times and temperatures, while providing more evenly cooked dishes. These "convection confections" are filled generously with cinnamon and raisins and drizzled with a nut glaze. They're irresistible, especially when still warm from the oven.

- POTATO CINNAMON BUNS
- 1/2 pound thick-skinned potatoes
 - Boiling water
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup (1/4 lb) butter or margarine
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 package active dry yeast
 - 1 tablespoon sugar
 - 1/4 cup warm water (about 110°)
 - 4 1/2 to 5 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 egg
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - Cinnamon filling (recipe follows)
 - Nut glaze (recipe follows)

In a saucepan over medium heat, cook potatoes in boiling water until tender when pierced (25 to 35 minutes). Drain, peel, and mash with a potato masher or press through a potato ricer; you should have 1 cup mashed potatoes.

Put potatoes in clean pan and gradually pour in milk, stirring until mixture is smooth and well blended. Add 4 tablespoons of the butter, the 1/2 cup sugar, and salt; warm over low heat, stirring, until lukewarm (about 110°).

In a large bowl, dissolve yeast and the 1 tablespoon sugar in warm water. Let stand until bubbly (about 10 minutes). Add potato mixture, 2 cups of the flour, egg, and vanilla; beat until smooth and well blended. Gradually stir in 2 cups more flour. Turn out on a heavily floured board and knead until smooth and elastic (about 15 minutes), adding remaining flour as needed to prevent sticking. Turn dough over in a greased bowl; cover and let rise in a warm place until doubled (1 to 1 1/4 hours). Meanwhile, prepare cinnamon filling.

Melt remaining 4 tablespoons butter. Punch dough down; knead just to expel air. Roll dough out to a 15 by 18-inch rectangle. Brush with 3 tablespoons of the melted butter and sprinkle with cinnamon filling. Starting at wide end, roll up, jelly-roll fashion; cut into 12 equal pieces, each about 1 1/2 inches thick. Place pieces, cut side down, in a greased 9 by 13-inch baking pan. Brush remaining 1 tablespoon melted butter over rolls. Cover and let rise in a warm place until almost doubled (35 to 45 minutes). Bake rolls in preheated 325° convection oven for 30 to 40 minutes or until nicely browned. Meanwhile prepare nut glaze. Drizzle with nut glaze. Makes 12 rolls.

Cinnamon filling: In a small bowl, combine 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, and 3 teaspoons ground cinnamon. If desired, add 1/2 cup raisins.

Nut glaze: In a bowl, combine 1 1/2 cups unsifted powdered sugar, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1 tablespoon melted butter or

Tobacco in good condition

Tobacco-cutting season has arrived in Kentucky and farmers say this year's burley crop not only survived an early-season hot spell but has turned into one of the best they have seen in years.

That appears to be true statewide in terms of yield, said Kentucky agricultural statistician David Williamson, whose office conducts weekly farm surveys.

He forecast an average yield of 2,300 pounds an acre, which would make it Kentucky's highest in nine years.

Williamson said it was too early to say for sure how this year's crop would compare with others in terms of quality, but noted, "We're at this point saying it looks like a very good crop -- certainly excellent in some areas."

"Even the areas that were quite dry, like Scott County, seem to be coming around," he said.

Statewide production is down because of a 10 percent cut in the burley quota -- the amount farmers are allowed to sell under the Federal tobacco program.

Williams predicted that 402.5 million pounds of burley would be produced. That would be down 6 percent from last year and the lowest total in five years.

Estimated production is 6 percent above this year's quota of 378 million pounds. When farmers produce more than their share of the quota, they must either obtain additional quota from other farmers or store the tobacco and try to sell it in subsequent years.

Earlier Williamson rated the burley crop as 12 percent fair, 73 percent good and 15 percent excellent.

"Overall we're saying that disease and insects and so forth seem to be less than normal, and that's one of the reasons we're rating it as such a good crop," Williamson said. "I just think it's one of the better crops for August that we've had."

Experts say plant diseases that threaten tobacco, such as blue mold and black shank, tend to spread more quickly in wet conditions.

Ziegler, Mason County farmer, said early dry weather seemed to have actually helped the tobacco because it caused it to establish deeper roots. When the rains came in late July and August, he said, the plants flourished.

Williamson estimated last week that 2 percent of the state's tobacco crop had been cut, but that percentage has risen substantially since.

Nancy Hale, John Hale and Kathryn Bradley discussed the upcoming school year during district wide in-service at the Rockcastle Middle School Wednesday morning.

"Pot found"

were found in Kentucky. The bluegrass State also produced 69 of the arrests.

Haight said aircraft flown by Air National Guard units in all three states and the Civil Air Patrol were critical to spotting the marijuana in mountainous regions often inaccessible by land.

The success of marijuana eradication efforts depends on one's point of view, Haight said. In Kentucky, he said, plots are getting smaller each year to try to avoid detection, and many operations have moved indoors.

"We're winning if you use our standards and our yardstick to measure success," Haight said.

Nearly 20,000 of the plants were found in Daniel Boone National Forest, a rugged slice of Kentucky that runs from north of Morehead to the Tennessee line.

Over 800 plants were found and destroyed in the Buffalo area by officers of State Police, National Guard and Rockcastle Sheriffs Department.

"Pack The Pyramid" With A Week's Worth Of Creative Sandwich Ideas For School Lunches

(DM)-Every fall, the ringing of the school bell signals an age-old question facing parents everywhere, what to prepare for lunch that is nutritious and that kids will eat. The answer is as close as your bread box, and is a long-time school lunch staple -- the sandwich. With a little variety and creativity, sandwiches can be fun, good-tasting and nutritious.

Dr. Liz Applegate, an author, mother of two and nutritionist from the University of California at Davis, reinforces the fact that sandwiches are a good way to help children meet the dietary guidelines set forth by the USDA Food Guide Pyramid. The following recipes were created by Dr. Applegate to provide a week's worth of healthy lunches that are guaranteed kid-pleasers.

RIDDLE ROLL-UPS

- 2 slices IronKids Bread
- 2 ounces low-fat cream cheese, softened
- 1 carrot, diced small
- 1 rib celery, diced small
- 1 T. green scallion leaf, diced small
- red bell pepper, diced small
- Salt and pepper

Mash cheese with a fork and stir in other ingredients. Season to taste. Flatten slices of bread with a rolling pin. Spread each with half cream cheese mixture and roll up. Fasten with a toothpick through a piece of paper with a riddle written on it.

Nutritional Information

(1 Sandwich): 282 calories, 13g protein, 40g carbohydrate, 12g fat, 7g dietary fiber, 20mg cholesterol, 660mg sodium.

Servings: bread 2, fruit 0, vegetable 1/2, milk 1, meat 0.

MIX & MATCH TRIANGLES

- 8 slices IronKids Bread
- 2 oz. low-fat ham, 1 t. mustard
- 1 leaf lettuce
- 2 oz. low-fat turkey
- 2 t. low-fat mayonnaise
- 1 leaf lettuce
- 2 oz. fat-free cheese
- Slice of tomato
- 1 leaf lettuce
- 2 oz. cooked breast of chicken
- 2 t. low-fat mayonnaise
- 1 leaf lettuce

Combine each line of ingredients into one sandwich. Cut each sandwich into four triangles, and put one triangle from each sandwich in a lunch. (Makes four sandwiches--lunch for the whole family!)

Nutritional Information

(1 Sandwich): 238 calories, 22g protein, 28g carbohydrate, 7g fat, 4g dietary fiber, 42mg cholesterol, 593mg sodium.

USDA Food Guide Pyramid

Servings: bread 2, fruit 0, vegetable 1/4, milk 1/4, meat 1.

WINNER'S CLIP

- 2 slices IronKids Bread
- 1 cup cooked white chicken meat, cut into small cubes
- 1/2 cup diced celery
- 1/4 cup low-fat salad dressing
- Salt and pepper

Toss salad ingredients together. Refrigerate until ready to use. Flatten bread slices with a rolling pin, fit into a custard cup and let dry in oven. Fill with 2 T. of chicken salad. Wrap in plastic wrap.

Nutritional Information

(1 Sandwich): 200 calories, 17g protein, 29g carbohydrate, 5g fat, 5g dietary fiber, 31mg cholesterol, 381mg sodium.

USDA Food Guide Pyramid

Servings: bread 2, fruit 0, vegetable 0, milk 1, meat 1.

KID'S CLUBWICH

- 2 slices IronKids Bread
- 2 oz. grilled chicken (about 1/2 of a boneless breast)
- 1 strip lean bacon, crumbled

- 1 T. low-fat grated Monterey Jack cheese
- 1 t. honey mixed with 2 t. mustard
- 1 leaf romaine lettuce

Spread bread with honey mustard and top with chicken, bacon, cheese and lettuce. Top with bread.

Nutritional Information

(1 Sandwich): 324 calories, 90g protein, 32g carbohydrate, 14g fat, 4g dietary fiber, 63mg cholesterol, 616mg sodium.

USDA Food Guide Pyramid

Servings: bread 2, fruit 0, vegetable 1/4, milk 1/4, meat 1.

BIT-OF-HONEY ROLL-UP

- 2 slices IronKids Bread
- 2 T. peanut butter (without sugar)
- 1 T. honey
- 2 T. chopped, dried fruit, like apricot
- 1/2 banana

Spread each slice of bread with 1 T. peanut butter and 1/2 T. honey. Sprinkle with 1 T. fruit and place 1/2 banana diagonally in the middle of each slice of bread. Roll the bread around it. Fasten with toothpick, if necessary.

Nutritional Information

(1 Sandwich): 464 calories, 15g protein, 73g carbohydrate, 18g fat, 9g dietary fiber, 0mg cholesterol, 436mg sodium.

A Commentary

Tobacco crop is mainstay for many farmers

By Denny McKintey
CEO Barkley Tobacco Growers
Cooperative Association

We've often heard old sayings like these: "I'll bring your bottles back"; "I'll pay you Friday" or "I'll pay you when I sell my tobacco."

Of these, the latter was probably the most truthful.

Growing up in a rural community and working with farmers all my life, I've come to appreciate when a farmer said, "I'll pay you when I sell my tobacco," especially during the years I worked in credit.

Tobacco crops have been a mainstay for many farmers. Our families, our communities and our state depend on income from tobacco and, I suppose, that income is taken for granted by farmers because it's always been there.

The same thing has happened within our community and state governments, in fact even on the federal level. Tobacco income and tax revenues are taken for granted.

I see rural community leaders begging small industries to locate in their counties. They need the 50 or so new jobs an industry might create, even if the majority of the jobs are at minimum wage.

Meanwhile, they've forgotten, or failed to realize, that with the loss of tobacco income in the average Kentucky county, perhaps 500 jobs are lost.

Right now the tobacco industry is a prime target for criticism by political leaders from Washington, D.C., to California.

Don't these politicians realize that last year California alone took in $600 million in tobacco taxes? Don't they realize that our federal government currently enjoys a $4.5 billion trade surplus in tobacco, and is raking in $6 billion in federal excise taxes on cigarettes?

That kind of money will pay for a lot of education, a lot of health care, a lot of everything.

But if we continue to take tobacco for granted, if we forget the families which depend on tobacco, if we just allow the thousands of tobacco-related jobs and tobacco tax revenues to disappear, then we'll wake up someday soon longing to hear, "I'll pay you when I sell my tobacco."

A former Rockcastle County resident has accepted a teaching and research position at Johns Hopkins University Medical School in Baltimore, Maryland.

Roland Dyche Mullins, II, a 1982 graduate of Rockcastle County High School, earned undergraduate degrees in electrical engineering and math and a masters in electrical engineering from the University of Kentucky before receiving his Ph.D. from there this summer in biomedical engineering.

After completing required coursework for his doctorate, Mullins received grants to support his continuing research on the "Effects of Extremely Low Frequency Electric and Magnetic Fields on Intracellular Calcium Homeostasis" at the Lucille Parker Markey Cancer Research Center at the UK Medical Center.

During the last four years, Mullins has authored or co-authored five publications appearing in biomedical journals. His most recent work was presented in June at an international research conference held in Denmark. Mullins assumes his new position at Johns Hopkins October 1.

Scholarship awarded to local pre-med major

A 1993 graduate of RCHS has been awarded an Academic Excellence Scholarship at the University of Kentucky.

Callie Ellen Mullins, a sophomore pre-med major at UK, will receive the $1,000 Merit Scholarship for the 1994-95 academic year.

Callie, who will also be featured in this fall's issue of UK's View Book, was active last year in the campus Baptist Student Union and volunteered as a Big Sister with the Lexington Chapter.

PTA welcomes students back

The Mt. Vernon Elementary PTA want to welcome the students back to school, and a big welcome to all new students, teachers and parents.

Come into school and get information on joining the PTA and becoming a volunteer.

We have now begun our membership drive. The first 30 parents to become a member will receive a "Mt. Vernon Red Devils" travel mug.

Blood Drive

Members of the Rockcastle County community have the opportunity to join together to save lives on Tuesday, Sept. 20. The Rockcastle County Homemakers are sponsoring a blood drive at the Ag Services Building-Basement from noon to 1:30 p.m. and 3 to 7 p.m. All donors will receive a free t-shirt.

Central Kentucky Blood Center requires 250 units of blood daily to meet the needs of patients in area hospitals. At this time, only five percent of the American population are blood donors. The Rockcastle County Homemakers and Central Kentucky Blood Center urge you to take time to donate. The simple process of donating blood will produce life-saving results for the Rockcastle County community.

If you would like more information about the community blood drive on Sept. 20, contact Pat Cromer at 256-2403.

CARDS OF THANKS

To Family and Friends: We would like to thank everyone for the kindness and hospitality they have shown us. We are recuperating at home. Thanks again, Ted and Verla Scott.

The family of Rev. E.P. Whitl wishes to thank those who remembered us during this trying time, those who brought food, flowers and attended the funeral, Caroline Graves who played the organ, Margie Wilcop who sang his favorite songs, pallbearers, Bro. Mark Whicker and Kendall Hutton who conducted the funeral service. Also those who gave donations to the building fund of the Brodhead Baptist Church, those who prayed for us. May the Lord bless you is our prayer. Mrs. E.P. Whitl and family.

Today In Banking

Some "Straight Talk" On Banking Today... That Can Make Banking Better For You...

Your Credit Rating

One of the most important assets you will ever have is a good credit rating.

You can't buy a home without it, you can't start a business without it; in fact, there is very little you can do without a good credit rating.

How do you establish a good credit rating? First of all, maintain a well-managed checking account. Don't overdraw your account. Secondly, make sure all loan payments are made on time. If you're on time, every time, you avoid late charges as well as establish a history of reliability. Protect your credit and it will serve you well in the future.

Do you remember

A simple question like, "oh, do you remember?" then the questioner goes into a happening of the past that can bring about an hour or two of pleasant, bantering conversation that everyone, whether it be two people or a group, will take a part in. And usually there is no conflict unless siblings have a different viewpoint of a memory. Even if that happens it only opens up new avenues of how two different people see and remember things and lead into more recollections of a long gone past. Today's children will have completely different memories to talk about when they reach the age when talking about the past is all that is left to do. Theirs will probably be of how computers opened up a whole new way to play games and changed their way of doing their school work, and about the drug problems that no one seemed to be able to control. And about how the population exploded and single mothers tried to raise their offspring without the benefit of marriage. Also about a welfare system that not only took care of the truly needy but rewarded many unscrupulous people for not working by supplying their needs without the problem of toil and sweat.

My memories are of the hardships, or fun, of growing up in a family of too many children for the size of house we could afford but we did have two parents that worked hap-hazardly together to take care of our needs. Our family consisted of nine children and two parents, a mother who stayed home and had babies and a dad who worked long hard hours to support them. He always believed in, and taught us to believe in, earning our bread by the sweat of our brow. And his constant admonition was "To love one another, that is what the Good Book says."

Now, do you remember the time when children were taught good table and social manners? In our home children were to be seen, not heard. We were not allowed to be present when mom had her women friends in to talk for we may hear something that was not acceptable, in their sight, for a child to hear or we may ask questions about things they didn't believe was proper for a child to know about, or we might interrupt their talking, and for a child to interrupt his elders was not tolerated in our home. So, we were told to go outside and play. Children of today's culture would be outraged by having to do that. We also had to say please and thank you, and yes man, or no sir. And older people were respected and never called by his or her first name, it was miss, mrs. or mister followed by the last name. Many of them were often called aunt, uncle, grandma, or grandpa whether they were relatives or not. When mealtime came at our house the women and men were seated first and children were served last or at another table if there wasn't room for all to be served at one time. Our parents filled our plates at the beginning of the meal and if we wanted more we had to ask for it by saying, "can I have some more please?"

We were taught it was bad manners to reach and go out your hands smacked if we tried it. Yep, smacking of hands and bottoms and switching for really bad behavior was popular back then. That may not have made better kids of us but at least we tried to keep our bad behavior hidden from our parents because we knew their belief in the old adage of "spare the rod and you spoil the child" and my parents did not want to ever be accused of spoiling a child. Our parents were called mom and dad, not by their first names. They were our parents and were to be respected as such. And grandparents, sometimes as young as fifty years old, were treated with respect to their old age. Any request they made such as, "bring me a glass of water or a bite to eat" was instantly obeyed. Sound rough on kids? Well, it wasn't. It was the way of life and a part of growing up and made us more understanding of what a family really is all about.

Each area of the country has its own customs therefore memories of our childhood can vary a lot. I remember well when we were allowed to take our shoes and long underwear off in the spring and go barefoot for the first time. The first day of May was the magic day for us. It didn't matter how hot the weather got before that day we still had to wear our long sleeved, long legged underwear, stockings and shoes till that magic day arrived. In our area it was believed frost was still in the ground until the first day of May and kids would get sick if their bare feet touched the ground before then or cool spring air touched the bare skin of one's arms and legs. Fables? Maybe so, but nonetheless, we couldn't afford doctor bills for something that could be avoided by adhering to the old way of life. I never heard it talked about but in looking backward I seem to feel it would have been a disgrace to parents if they had to admit they couldn't prevent illness or take care of their child's illness without the help of a doctor. Doctors, back then in our family, were for victims of pneumonia, typhoid or some such serious illness or occasionally, when a midwife was not available, for delivering a baby. And these babies were delivered in the secrecy of a room with doors closed, and if possible the other children would be a neighbors or relatives house until the ordeal was over. We didn't always understand why we had to get up in the middle of the night to be taken to a neighbor's or aunt's house until the next morning when we would get back home and find we had a brand new sister or brother waiting for us to welcome into the family.

My mind seems to be in a whirlwind as memories crowd one another for a chance to be shared with those of you who read my column. Some of them are of fun things like playing hide and go seek with all us kids taking a part, even the grown up brothers and sisters and their mates. Sometimes even our mom joined in.

Our dad worked too hard to ever participate in such frivolous things but mom could be the life of the party. She could also be a stern judge and mete out punishment when it was needed. (Often we thought it was unneeded and too harsh.) Then there was the daytime games of mumble peg and hop scotch and marbles and swinging from a swing hanging from a rafter in the loft of the garage or on a near by tree. Somehow we always managed to have a swing close by wherever we lived. I still love swings, especially the kind where a big heavy rope hangs from a high limb of a big old tree and one can stand up and pump it till it touches the leaves high above.

Other memories are of the chivalry of past days. Those were the days when a man tipped his hat to a woman when he met her on the street and greeted her with "Good morning or good evening man," then gently stepped aside while she went her way. It was the time when a man always walked on the outside of a female on the street so if by chance a passing vehicle splashed mud on the sidewalk he would be the recipient of the damage instead of his female companion. It was not proper for a man to hold a door open for a woman and assist her when she entered a car or building. This kind of treatment seems to be out of style now but I still enjoy being treated like a lady.

Children were not excluded from the protocol of the day. They were expected to dress properly, in clothes becoming to their sex, and tend to their husband's and children's needs. This meant doing their own laundry and cooking and housework. We were taught it was not proper for a man to do dishes or laundry after his hard day's work. His duty was to provide for his family and his wife's duty was to tend the house and children. It was the time in history when children, girls especially, had to share the work load. It was not proper for a man to cook, sew, make beds and do dishes. A good mama and a thrifty housewife could teach her girls more about nutrition, sewing and the benefits of a clean house much more efficiently than all the home ec classes they could take during the four years in high school if they were lucky enough to be able to go to high school.

Parents were the teachers of many things although many of them were limited in their own formal education. Dad often quoted moral lessons he had memorized from the old McGuffey reader that had been his source of education. His formal education was a scant few years but his knowledge of math and reading helped all us children through many a rough spot when we were in school. Times have changed mightily since those days. For better or worse, who is to say. This I know. I wouldn't trade my past experiences for anything the world of today has to offer.

Poet's Corner

Lamp and the Bible
By: Preston Parrett

During the days of the great depression
To faith country folks did cling
And at church each Sunday morning
We read the Bible and hymns did sing.

Throughout the workday
The Bible was placed away,
Until darkness began to fall
At the close of the day.

Mother would light the coal oil lamp
And get the Bible from its place,
Then we'd all gather around
To listen to her read with love on her face.

When mother lit the lamp
Nine family members gathered there,
As she read from the Bible
And offered up a prayer.

For the lamp and the Bible
