Retired teachers meet

By: Elнора Burke

The 10th annual fall workshop of the CKRTA-East District was held August 25, at the Holiday Inn in Richmond.

A delegation from Rockcastle County Retired Teachers Association attended. Those present were our current president Geoff Craig, Neil Craig, Aslie Bray, Sarah F. Hamm, Geraldine French, Linda Williams, and Elнора Burke. Considering the number of retired teachers in this county, our number should have, and could have, been much greater.

Upon our arrival, we were greeted by Virginia Shaw, president-elect of the State organization. Mrs. Shaw is from Crab Orchard. All of us owe her our thanks and gratitude for all the time and effort she expends on our behalf.

We were served coffee and rolls and the morning session began.

The meeting was opened by Berdenia Johnson, district president. After her welcoming remarks we offered the pledge to the flag, and the invocation was given by Eldon Bowling of Jackson County.

A number of speakers addressed us. Ruby Smith, state president, welcomed us, had county by county roll call and then invited us to Frankfort on Oct. 2 for a reception for Ted Crosswait, who is retiring as our legislative representative.

M.L. Archer, committee chairman of the Retirement System, talked to us about membership. Our district ranks 9th in the state membership with 67.2 percent. Rockcastle County with 90.4 percent membership put us first in our district. In 1993-94 we had about 21,000 retired teachers in Kentucky, but only 14,758 belong to the association. We want and need stronger local organizations.

Robert Kelly, Committee Chairman for Insurance and Health Care, also urged us to work toward improving membership in our local organizations. He said that just because you put in your years as a teacher you are not guaranteed all the benefits you thought you would get. We know that we're now having to pay for our insurance. All of you retired teachers need to get involved. You have an obligation to help - after all you reap the same benefits as those of us who work for improvement. We need strong, local associations. Come on and join us. There's power in numbers: Read this as an example.

Lessons From the goose
By flying in v-formation, as each bird flaps its wings, the whole flock adds 75 percent more flying range than if each bird flew alone.

Lesson: People who share a common direction and sense of community can get where they are going quicker and easier because they are traveling on the thrust of one another. Maybe being called a goose is not as derogatory as we have been led to believe.

When the lead goose gets tired, it rotates back into formation, and another goose flies at the point position. Lesson: It pays to take turns doing the hard tasks, sharing leadership, thus being interdependent with each other.

Pearl Miller, State Coordinator for AARP-NRTA urged us to work locally for better voter participation - get the vote out -- it's everybody's business.

Several other guests were introduced. Bobby Humes gave a report on legislative proposals we are working on.

We were served a delicious lunch by the Holiday Inn folks. This was a nice place for our meeting, and we appreciate their help.

After lunch, Norma Willoughby, district secretary-treasurer, gave her report and then Geraldine French presented us with a memorandum to our deceased members. We would like to share that with you.

The Chosen Ones

By: Geraldine French

Time passes so swiftly. It seems it was only last month we were having our annual 1993 KRTA meeting and remembering the long list of deceased retired teachers for that past year. The list is just as long this year and trying to express our loving memories is just as difficult. I fully realize this can't be done in spoken and written words and I am attempting a task where angels would probably dare to tread.

Another year of our lives has gone by, like a rushing flood, stopping for nothing or no one. So lucky are we who are teachers to have been allowed to spend our time guiding, nourishing and molding the future generations. It is like a living monument - a way of sending some part of ourselves into a future that we will not be able to go.

A handful of days, that's what we all have been given. How many will be ours, we do not know. Only the Lord who sitteth upon the floods of life and time knows.

As teenagers and young adults 60 years or more ago, these teachers probably could not imagine our future world and the important part they would have in it. How could they know the floods of time would let them see people walking on the moon? How could they know they and their friends would be riding across the nation and around the world in fast planes? How could they know they would be able, in the future, to see things happening around the world just as they happened, by means of TV? They could not know medical science would conquer diseases and illnesses that took the lives of their family and friends so quickly and often 60 years or more ago.

No one is here by mistake. They are all a creation of God, on a mission. God loved and God sent to help others become all they can be. A very sad and moving story of one learning the hard way the value of others and what things are really of value, is that of President George Bush's campaign manager the late Lee Atwater. He was a genius at vote getting. He possessed a sort of sixth sense. He could read others and what was in the air. He sensed something crucial was missing in the lives of all the people he talked with as he traveled about the country. He planned to take advantage of this missing element for the benefit of his political party.

He told George Bush, "You might take a kinder gentler approach, but I'm not going to because it doesn't get any votes."

In his own words he describes himself as one cocky guy. Before the age of forty he had accomplished his life's goals. He had achieved wealth, success and power, only to be stricken by a deadly brain tumor.

Near the end of his life, he said, "How wrong I was, what is missing is a little heart and a lot of brotherhood." His biggest regret was the way he thought of other people. "I treated everyone who wasn't with me as against me. There is nothing in life more important than human beings, nothing sweeter than the human touch," he said.

I tell this story to remind us as teachers that we have been given one of the most important jobs life has to offer.

"The Chosen Ones" would be a good name for these teachers who taught over the past sixty years or more. Surely they must have been chosen by a higher power than man, to have been trusted with the responsibility of educating the youth during the time the nation was experiencing such growth and changes. Also, their teaching must have been right on target, because they got the job done. Although the days were long, working conditions far from ideal and the salaries were very, very low, these teachers remained civic minded, patriotic and did very little complaining. The beautiful thoughts from Helen Steiner Rice's poem, "The Praying Hands," describes these teachers well. They made a sacrifice, so another might succeed and this makes them a true disciple of our blessed Savior's creed. Who can say with certainty where the greatest talent lies, or who will be the greatest in our Heavenly Father's eyes.

How proud those who departed life this past year must have been as they gave an account of their handful of days. What a sobering thought it is to know that out of the dark, mystery of non-existence God gathered the priceless, secret stuff of life, to fashion us. For a span of time, there is upon this planet a person who bears our name, sees with our eyes, feels with our fingers, has our work, our associations and our memories. It has been said, we can't fully live until we have faced our finiteness our inevitable death. Life is richest when we realize we are all snowflakes. Each of us is absolutely beautiful and unique and we are here for a very short time.

Let us all use our handful of days to the fullest and when we must give an account to the one who controls the floods of life and time we can say like David in Psalm 23:4, I will fear no evil.

Remembering Ephesians 4:32, I will be kind, tenderhearted, forgiving of others.

As Paul admonishes in 1 Corinthians 16:13, I will stand fast in the faith. Remember Joshua 1:9, I will be strong and of good courage, I will not be afraid, for my God will be with me.

I feel our departed ones are not so far away, even very near. I would like to read to you a poem titled, "In My Father's House," by Robert Freeman.

"In My Father's House," by Robert Freeman. It has given me a lot of comfort in helping face the loss of a loved one, but it comfort you also.

In My Father's House

By Robert Freeman

No, not cold beneath the grasses,
Not closed-wild within the tomb:
Rather, in our Father's mansion,
Living in another room.

Nearer than my son whom fortune,
Beacons where the strange lands roam;
Near;
Just behind the hanging curtain

Serving in another room.

Shall I doubt my Father's mercy?
Shall I think of death as doom,
Or the stepping off the threshold
To a bigger, brighter room?

Shall I blame my Father's wisdom?
Shall I sit enshrouded in gloom,
When I know my loves are happy -
Waiting in another room?

We pay special tribute to those Rockcastle County co-workers who departed this life since July 1, 1993. They are: Robert J. Mink; Marie K. Cox; James Clyde Lynville; D.A. Robbins and Elizabeth Mullins.

and see their optometrist regularly for testing. Very often a stronger prescription may make driving safer and less stressful. Many older drivers also find it helpful to compensate for increasing vision problems by modifying their driving habits: avoiding heavy traffic and night driving and spending less time on the road.

By: Lee Cain, O.D.

Older Drivers

Older drivers with vision problems are three or four times more likely to have automobile accidents -- 15 times more likely to have accidents as intersections, according to a study published in the journal Psychology and Aging. Some vision tests are now designed to measure the visual field of view (UFOV), the visual space within which the individual can be alerted quickly to visual stimuli-like fast-moving traffic. Scientists at Western Kentucky University who designed the new UFOV test say it accurately identified drivers at risk of accident in nearly 85 percent of cases.

Smart seniors know that driving makes extra vision demands on them

Fire departments could charge homeowners $500 per fire call

By Ray McClure

If your house catches fire in the future, or some other emergency occurs, you may be charged $500 by your Volunteer Fire Department to put it out, or solve the problem.

Under a new state law, volunteer departments are allowed to charge a fee for fires or other emergencies to persons who do not contribute money annually to the departments.

But, no department in Rockcastle, charges for anything. They get money from the county, and in Mt. Vernon, the city, and through fund-raisers.

The county budgets $3,500 for the three departments and the departments use it for gas and truck parts by sending the county an invoice. The county also pays for insurance on the vehicles, part of the overall insurance policy held by the county.

The Mt. Vernon city council pays from $300 to $400 monthly for fire runs and budgets $5,000 which the department always goes over.

"We never charge," said Mt. Vernon City Clerk Kay Rader and Gary Hansel of the Mt. Vernon Department.

Hansel said he thought the Herald Leader article was a little "misleading."

"It's not going to happen here," he said. "We could charge if we wanted to but it's not going to happen."

David Ott, fire chief at Brodhead, was of the same opinion.

"We never charge and never would," he declared, "we in the department talked about it once but we didn't think it would work. Some insurance companies pay some fire departments based on men used, trucks and distance to the fire. The auxiliary also have fish fries and road blocks to help."

Sam Stallworth, assistant fire chief at Livingston, and Fire Chief David Mason agreed Livingston Fire Department does not charge, but sometimes insurance can help out, as well as donations.

"I imagine if we got hard up in the Department we might have to charge, but Livingston people have been good to us in fund-raisers and donations," Stallworth said. "I don't go along with charging for something that is our civic duty."

The Herald-Leader story on volunteer charging said:

"It's going to be real good for us," said Chris Snow, assistant chief of Baskett Volunteer Fire Department. "We have one of the biggest districts, but only 60 to 65 percent of our people pay."

"This will help our fund-raisers. This will put a little fear in people."

Snow said annual dues are $25. Most departments receive money from the county and supplement that with barbecues and other fund-raisers.

People think, "They have to come, but since they're volunteers I don't have to pay them."

Under the new law, departments can charge up to $500 for extinguishing fires at single-family homes, small utility areas or businesses with less than 100 people.

A fire squad can charge up to $1,000 for multifamily residences or businesses with more than 100 people. Property owned by the state and federal governments is exempt from any charges.

"I think it's pretty good myself," said Jess Hurt, assistant chief of Roberts Volunteer Fire Department. "But if a family's lost everything they've got or if they had no insurance, we don't charge anything. They already have a rough time."

Hurt said his department never had any problems collecting a fee after a fire, but other departments have.

Under the law, which took effect last month, homeowners have 30 days to reimburse the department. If they refuse, they can be taken to small claims court.

The law also requires volunteer fire departments to develop guidelines on what fires they will respond to. Before the change, departments were loosely governed and had no legal obligation to respond to every call.

"This is finally putting in writing what we need to do, instead of freelancing," said Larry Koerber, president of Cairo Volunteer Fire Department. "It gives us something to live up to."

One thing seems to be the point of view of all firemen: Volunteer departments will eventually be a thing of the past. The government will tell them to operate them like ambulance service.

The government doesn't like volunteers no matter what they are volunteering for. So government agencies will have to come up with money for department personnel or charge for fire and safety runs.

"We are called on by residents to save their homes and even their children, as well as people who are trapped or injured," Stallworth stated. "We also risk our lives and often don't get credit for it. We are often fussed at if we cut a hole in the roof to put out a fire or some such thing. It's not an easy life."

Brindle Ridge man killed in single car wreck near Brodhead

Mt. Vernon Signal/Richard Anderkin

Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell removes the wallet of Timothy Lawson, 25, of Brindle Ridge. Lawson was killed in a single-car crash on the old Brodhead-Mt. Vernon Rd. Wednesday morning. Another local man was flown to the U.K. Medical Center where he is listed in critical condition.

A Brindle Ridge man was killed and another local man was critically injured in a single car accident on the old Brodhead-Mt. Vernon road Wednesday morning.

According to Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dowell, Timothy Lawson, 25, died instantly when he lost control of his 1993 Corvette about a half mile from Brodhead.

Another Brindle Ridge man, Joe Roland, 26, was critically injured in the 10 a.m. wreck. Roland was taken to the Rockcastle Hospital and flown by helicopter to the University of Kentucky Medical Center, where he is in critical condition with massive head injuries.

Eyewitnesses said that Lawson's vehicle, which was traveling toward Brodhead at a very high rate of speed, left the road on the left side, severed a telephone pole and then struck a row of trees before overturning completely and coming to a stop in the middle of the road.

Both men were ejected from the Corvette.

Lawson is survived by his mother Clela Mays of Brodhead.

The fatal accident was one of five injury accidents that occurred in Rockcastle County Wednesday morning.

Children's safety is priority

School's open so drive carefully. The AAA Safety Foundation and the Mt. Vernon Police Department remind motorists to use extra caution around school buses.

It is illegal to pass a school bus while the stop-arm is extended and the lights on the bus are flashing. The only exemption is cars that are traveling in the opposite direction on a four-lane, or more, highway.

Although more than 22 million pupils annually ride school buses each day, being transported to school poses a few dangers. During the 1991-92 school year the latest national statistics available, an estimated 110 persons, including 35 pupils, were killed in school bus accidents, another 8,300 were injured.

"As you'd expect, students are injured most often when the school bus approaches or leaves a loading area," said Lilla Mason, director of the AAA Safety Foundation. "Incidents usually occur when children near the bus move out of the driver's line of sight. This might happen when they bend down to pick up a dropped article, or walk behind the bus or where they can't be seen by the driver."

The AAA Safety Foundation has tips for motorists who drive through school zones or on roads with school buses:

- Stay back at least four to six seconds when following a school bus.
- Search the ground for signs of unseen pedestrians between parked cars and around school buses.
- Scan ahead about one and a half to two city blocks for signs of children that may move into your path of travel.

- To ensure that the ride to and from school is as safe as possible, Mason offers these safety tips for parents of first-time school bus riders:
- Make sure the student leaves home early enough to arrive at the bus stop on time

News Briefs

Break-in.....

About $1,000 worth of cigarettes was stolen from Cromer's Cash n' Carry General Store in Livingston last Thursday morning.

According to Shirley Cromer, co-owner of the store, thieves gained entrance to the general store by breaking out a front door.

Mrs. Cromer said that the thieves had piled up several other items from the store in the middle of the floor but something obviously scared them away.

State police are investigating and no arrests have been made.

Wreck.....

A Berea man died last week of injuries received in a traffic accident two weeks ago.

Christopher L. Baker, 34, of 322 Copper Creek Road died at the University of Kentucky Hospital at 12:30 a.m., according to a coroner's report. Baker was injured in an accident Aug. 15 on Ky. 52, 6 miles west of Richmond. He was driving west on Ky. 52 when he lost control of his car while going around a curve. Baker was thrown from the vehicle after it hit a fence and overturned.

Baker, who was charged with drunken driving, was not wearing a seat belt.

Cows.....

Charlie Cameron of Mt. Vernon showed his Holstein cattle at the Kentucky State Fair Aug. 20 and 21 and won.

Livingston homecoming

Remember, Livingston will observe its annual homecoming on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The parade is set for 11 a.m. Saturday. A recognition program will follow the parade about 12:20 p.m.

There will be clogging, fun and food and all kinds of events during the three days.

Council.....

The Mt. Vernon City Council will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 6, instead of Monday, due to the Labor Day Holiday on Monday.

Festival.....

Renfro Valley will play host to their second bluegrass festival of the year this weekend in the valley.

The Coon Creek Girls will headline the festival which starts Friday.

Retirement Fellowship

First Baptist Church will host a retirement fellowship in honor of Rev. Wendell Romans in the Fellowship Hall of the church on Sunday, Sept. 11, from 3 to 6 p.m. The public is invited to share this momentous occasion with a dear friend.

Witnessing for Christ

Gene DeMott, a self-proclaimed witness for Christ, was in Mt. Vernon Tuesday speaking to a group of youngsters at the Rockcastle Teen Center. The group is shown above from left: Mary Jo Rodefer, Catina Cromer, Frances Bailey, Marie Lewis, Michael Gladdish, Brian Baker, DeMott, Bill Bailey, DeMott has traveled across the United States with a wooden cross in tow. The former tugboat worker averages about 30 miles a day and is enroute to Athens, Tennessee to visit his daughter. He started his "Witnessing for Christ" on April 12.

I'm not much of a vacation person. Work travel enables me to see as much of the rest of the country as I care to and I already spend too much time in motel rooms.

Sometime back in the eighties Loretta, the kids and I attempted a so-called "family vacation" wherein we attempted to have fun traveling by automobile to several state parks across the state of Kentucky. I still have nightmares that we might try doing that again.

Our "family" has difficulty keeping peace while riding in the same car to Berea and back and that's only a 24 mile round-trip. We survive trips to Louisville and Cincinnati by agreeing that at least three of us will sleep while the car is in motion. But six or seven days on the road together and then sharing a motel room is not even a subject that comes up for discussion.

Loretta took the kids to Pennsylvania and New Jersey this year while I stayed home and fed the critters and made sure the house didn't get burglarized. They came home swearing they had fun.

I spent five days in the head of Blair Branch in Letcher County visiting my brother, squirrel hunting and messing around in the woods and I enjoyed that immensely. I came back to Garrard County and pretty much fished around the clock for the next four days. And while I would like to take off with my wife for a few days, it's something we may have to postpone for a year or two until the teenagers in our household become responsible enough to leave at home alone.

I have a feeling that we may be on this sort of vacation schedule for at least the next couple of years.

On the other hand, while I enjoyed my time away from work, I found myself literally walking the floor on Sunday night because I was more excited about getting back into the swing of things at the office and about the telephone than I was about getting away from it all in the first place.

The hills that I roamed and ran through as a kid have somehow gotten much steeper and rockier over the years. The backs of my legs are sore to the touch right now, and I was up most of the night after my first day of hunting with cramps in my calves and thighs. After two trips up the mountain, I discovered that it was far less tiring if not less crippling, to have someone haul me to the top of the hill in a jeep and let me get my hiking done by coming down.

For those of you who are interested, I don't recommend Blair Branch for a squirrel hunting vacation. Animal lovers may be pleased to know that I never killed a single one. I did, however, kill one copperhead and I avoided getting bitten by the ones I didn't see.

Back in Garrard County I managed to catch dozens of smallmouth bass in creeks where both banks are lined with horseweed and ragweed thickets that are just now in full bloom.

In addition to sore legs and feet, my eyes are nearly swollen together and big tears roll down my face, my nose is running like a mountain spring, my ears ring, my temples are throbbing and I have a dry hacking cough. I still have several allergy remedies that I haven't tried but I don't really have much hope that any of them will work.

August 29th and the summer is leaving us as I write on my front porch - I mean my office. Already the leaves have begun to fall and we go into September with some regret. "Why didn't I do this or why didn't I do that?" You ask yourself but the moment is over never to return.

Boyl! a lot of folks had birthdays this month. Michele Abney's was on the 22nd of August.

Hallie Alexander of Fairview had one on August 28. As we walked into church at Galilee Sunday, she said, "I'm glad to reach 65 so I can draw Medicare and get some help with all these bills for myself."

She looked unusually well, not like a person who needs S.S. but I'll bet living with Eugene, her husband, would keep anybody sick. He never lets up on me, calling me grandma. I'm not only grandma, but I have a great grandmother - about two years old whom I'm very glad to have call me, grandma but not Eugene. He looks like a grandpa.

I wish Debbie Gadd whose birthday came August 29th, a lot of everything and being so pretty, she'll get it. Betty Lamb celebrated on August 25th.

Coming into September, my sister, Angie Payne Phillips who passed away in 1980 would have been 94 years of age on September 2. I miss her a lot for we were close sisters.

Jeremy Abney, Leo and Kaye's son, had suddenly grown up. He keeps his hair slicked down, not burr cut, he doesn't romp with boys his age but has taken up learning to play the guitar.

What better teacher than his dad, Lee, could Jeremy have. Now if he can sing like Lee who plays the piano for the church and helps in the choir, Jeremy has it made.

Brother Dodson has a brother, Donald, who is a good church member, had a birthday Sunday too, and Brother Dodson joked a lot about it saying he was the older brother at home and got the most paddlings of all the children in the family. We didn't get Donald's age but he didn't look like an old man, all that, and being a bachelor too made his chances at romance pretty good.

John went to Clear Creek to see how ripe the cane patch, that he and Arthur Davidson were raising, was getting to be so I went along to get news.

Blanche said Nyra Hart and Louise Fowler had been to see them. Nyra is Cleve's niece.

We went on up to Lura Clark's home on Anglin Falls road where she had company in her son, Jim Clark. Jim is recovering from a heart operation and he came to see his mother and Kaye as soon as he was able.

Kaye was fixing Jim a late dinner and I'll bet it was some of Lura's best food. I wouldn't have minded eating myself. Kaye was opening a jar of plum jam preserves, frying some ham, cutting a kumquat pie like Ruth Abney makes.

Lura had frozen some wild greens which was what she was cooking, and Jim's favorite, so John said, Let's move on. "I guess he couldn't stand all the good cooking smells either."

Joe Abney was sitting on his cool front porch looking over Clear Creek where he's so proud to be.

There men working on the foundation of the new home his grandson lerry Lee Thomas is building. Joe was probably watching his crops grow.

Cleve Payne and Don Gadd, his renter on the tobacco crop they are raising sure have a pretty money crop that they are expecting to bring in some green this fall.

I read that the tobacco crop is supposed to be good for everybody. I saw Dr. John Baker's home on Chestnut Street being remodelled and

HERESAY

By:
John Norman Meadows

So, he went up on Vinegar Ridge and brought in a car-load of children—six of widow Nell Peyton's eight offspring.

But when the Peyton's clambered into his Ford Escort, he had second thoughts about his strategy. They were wild—and they stank. He drove to church with a window down.

By the end of the Sunday School hour both commodes in the rest rooms were stopped up with paper towels, and three fights had broken out in the Children's Department. The pantry in the church's small kitchen had been ransacked, and Constance Renner, a teacher, had resigned and gone home.

The Peytons sat alone in the sanctuary during the worship service, due their aroma. They made no less than ten trips to the rest rooms, in and out through the swinging doors to the left of the pulpit. Eventually, some deacons took them in tow, braved the odor, and sat down with them. It was offertory time. Isabell Iverson, pianist at Harmony since the fall of Jericho, lit into her rendition of "Charlots of fire." Bro. Aeshal perused his sermon notes, and the choir members preened themselves and shuffled their music, getting ready for—the special.

Now, Worley Isaacs, one of the ushers, has for a long time battled arthritis in his hands. About midway through the congregation, he took the plate from Bertha Duncan, but his grip failed and he dropped it. Checks, cash and coins spilled into Bertha's lap and on to the inclined hardwood floor.

The coins hadn't rolled two feet when all six Peytons hit the floor. They scrambled wildly under the pews, collecting coins and crawling through the legs of some of the saints. Amy Oldham let out a shriek, and before his wife could stifle him, Ty Holtom barked out, "What the hell!" The kids emerged from under the front pew in full view of the congregation, with the two oldest boys contending over a quarter.

The deacons scuttled about corralling the Peyton back again, and choir arose quickly to sing "Peace Be Still!" Then Bro. Aeshal delivered a mighty message on "God's Love, Our Love." Forty-seven minutes later the congregation stood and the invitation began.

"Whosoever will may come!" Bro. Aeshal chanted above the singing of "Why Not Now?" Eight-year old Celia Peyton pulled away from deacon Eric Cundiff and headed down the aisle.

"Here comes one! Is there another?" Bro. Aeshal intoned as he reached out and gathered Celia into his arms.

"Why have you come, little one?" he asked, hovering over Celia to her her confession.

Celia squirmed and whispered, "I got to get to a rest room afore I wet myself."

The service ended, and the parishioners exited past Bro. Aeshal at the front door. Some muted their mirth, put on their piety, and said their usual "I enjoyed that sermon, Preacher."

"Preacher, come by my place tomorrow," Tillie Hahn commanded. "I'll give you a box of Tide and some Ivory soap for you to take up to the Peyton's place. Tell that woman that being poor's no sin, but being dirty is." And Slim Tharp put in his penny's worth. "I'd give something to bringing them Peytons in again. Maybe their mamma needs to teach 'em some manners before they come back."

Driving home, I noticed the new sign. Bro. Aeshal had praised the Bergmans for a job well done, and rightly so. "You never know when some wandering soul will see that sign and come out way and get right with God," he said.

It is an eye-catcher. Its warm, brown letters on creamy white background read:

Roamin' Rockcastle

We went in to speak to Clay, John's brother who was working there. I'd always wondered how it looked on the inside but there was so much being done that it was hard to tell how it had looked.

It was Dr. Bill Baker, son of deceased Dr. John Baker who with his wife, Bijl (pronounced Bee-gee) had come home to Berea to live.

Dr. John and his wife, Matty Bell Baker had built the home and then passed away leaving this property to their son, and other property to their daughter living in Richmond.

Dr. Bill is a retired dentist or orthodontist (if I can spell it right) but he doesn't plan to work now except on the home.

Bijl is busy helping him to plan or do some of the decorating.

I asked if I could come back after it was all finished for it would be so beautiful. I liked Bijl for she, or both of them, were so friendly.

As we left, Dr. Bill came out to the car to say good-bye and he dropped a hint that she was planning to make a "Bed and Board" home.

If anyone could make a success of a "Bed and Board" home, I believe Bijl and Dr. Bill could for they are some of the nicest people one could know.

I'm going back if I have to drive up and spend the night. Well, even since the wedding invitation came last week, I've been hard to live with says John.

"Anybody would think you were about to get married for you act so happy," John scolded me.

Every since he had said he was going to kiss the lovely bride, I made plans to hug the handsome groom this time.

John Adams and Heather Reynolds were being the least at Macedonia Baptist Church with Brother Denton Sears as the tier.

It was such a lovely wedding with Heather looking more beautiful than I'd ever seen her. Her headpiece was a white veil with ribbons and flowers. The groom wore a black knee-length coat something like Johnny Cash's outfit. It was a wedding with lovely bridemaid dressed in royal blue taffeta with shoes to match.

The ring on a small white satin pillow was carried by a classy dressed little boy, one of the bridesmaids. Then a cute little girl came up the aisle carrying a small basket of flowers which she was supposed to drop before the bride. She must have been struck with all the beauty, like the guests for she only dropped one rose petal and carried the rest up and back.

As I came out with the crowd, we were passed in front of the wedding party where the bride and groom were lined up to receive all the guests.

"It's my time to hug you," the groom put out his arms.

"Wait, did John kiss Heather?" I asked and Heather, smiling agreed with her husband.

"Then I'm going to hug John," I said.

All were laughing as John, who is so good looking, hugged me and then I stepped in front of Heather who said, "I'll hug you too," as she was laughing.

I don't believe there is anything more prettier than a happy bride. I tell you Heather looked more beautiful than you could imagine with all the white lace, and ribbons and flowers.

Then it came time to have the girls at the party line up while the bride turned her back and threw her bouquet to the girls.

A pretty blackheaded girl caught it. She was Benny Stephen's daughter from Taylor Mill near Covington and a cousin names Ami Stephens. "Oh, she is getting married next month!" the word went through the crowd.

Next the men lined up to catch the bride's garter thrown by the groom. The crowd gathered to watch. John took the bride's blue lace garter and swung it over his head and threw. There was a general screaming and laughing and son said, "Oh, Blaine caught it and he is marrying her next month!"

I'm going to tell next a tale on Heather's grandpa, Bill Stephens. John was laughing because the men joked about Bill wearing his necktie and hat (with a red feather) all afternoon while others changed their clothes.

The groom wore his coat until he, and the bride, got ready to leave going to Cincinnati and flying to Florida.

Till next week. For in God we live, and move, and have our being.

I still have a week of time-off coming. If I'm not feeling any better by Wednesday, I may have to use it while I'm lying in bed to recover from my vacation.

A couple of years ago, I came upon the Bergman brothers, Bill and Dewey, working at the intersection of Big Split Road and the four-lane. They were putting up a sign advertising Harmony Chapel Church, a mile off the main road.

Dewey said, "It's high attendance day." I thanked him and promised to be there.

It was the last of Four Fantastic Sundays in February. Bro. Aeshal Goforth, their zealous young pastor (who has since enrolled in law school), wanted to set an attendance record.

Gospel Singing

Starting off our Livingston Homecoming this year will be our annual Gospel Singing

Friday, Sept. 2 at 7 p.m.

We have several good gospel groups signed up to sing this year. The Singing will be on the firehouse lawn in Livingston. Seats provided.

Don't miss this night of good gospel singing!!

Also, Saturday afternoon, starting at 3 p.m., we will feature some good bluegrass bands:

Curt Roberts & Rockcastle Grass
Ray Scalf and the Clay Co. Ramblers
J.R. Anglin and Mountain Grass Band and Dora Mae
Also, from 6 to 7 p.m., the Hilltop Cloggers.

We are much more than a long-term facility . . .

We are much more than a long-term facility. Are you aware of the other services offered by our community hospital's Respiratory Care Department?

There are EEG (electroencephalograph) services for all ages. These tests allow a physician to detect any abnormalities in the brain waves. These tests are transmitted to Lexington where they are read by a neurologist.

Pulmonary Function testing is also available. This type of test helps determine if lung function is impaired and to what degree. Another use of these tests is to determine eligibility for Black Lung Benefits. You can also see the amount of improvement achieved after using a bronchodilator.

Stress testing is a very important step in evaluating cardiac function. The patient has lead wires hooked to electrodes placed at various spots on the chest. He/she will then be asked to walk on a treadmill while the technician and physician carefully monitor the function of the heart during the "stress" of walking.

These are just a few of the services offered by our fine hospital's Respiratory Care Department.

Words and Meanings

There has been much ado about the names of certain areas of Rockcastle County that goes back to a past when words such as Negro and Nigger were a part of our speech and had no vulgar intent whatsoever. The southern people have always been known for their peculiar speech, that to some may sound strange, but to others it has a charm. The soft drawl and ending of words with, "er," and pronouncing the letter "r" instead of "e," such as, "yaller," instead of "yellow" or borry instead of borrow, goes back to old Elizabethan English and remnants of it can still be found in the hills of Appalachia.

Negro is a dictionary word describing a race of people and has every right to be honored as the name of a place whether it be avenue or road. Other races have been honored the same way and as far as I know have not complained about it. The speech pattern of our ancestors, black and white, using the quaint endings familiar to them, simply turned Negro into Nigger as a natural way of talking. So what is the difference in Negro Hill or Nigger Creek? They were both named by our ancestors and are a part of our culture and county history.

I support Buzz Carlotta's County Judge, in his efforts to preserve this bit of history. Buzz is one of the least bigoted persons I have ever met. He honors all people and as far as I know shows no favoritism to anyone. Let's allow him to get on with his job of helping our county preserve its place in history and make a better one for our future generations to be proud of. We cannot afford to bow to all the disgruntled peoples' requests to change words that are a part of our history.

Calloway School News

(From Jan. 28, 1937)

Submitted by
Jean (Martin) Shoemaker
"When I was in school, we had seven months of school. School began the third Monday in July and ended the last Friday in January."

I talked with Ms. Lela Mae Turner, who said that Calloway School was the first school to consolidate. Her salary at Calloway at $78 per month. After she went to Livingston, her salary was raised to $92 per month."

Calloway school closed January 22, with Mrs. Lela M. Turner of Pine Hill as teacher. The outstanding events of the year are:
July 15, School Opened. Fifty enrolled on the first day. The enrollment increased to sixty.
Oct. 9, Pie Supper. $31.72 was made.

Oct. 17, All school children and most of the parents attended the School Fair. Calloway won second prize on singing.

Dec. 24, The Christmas Play "Red and the Christmas Whoppers" was given which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Jan. 1, The seventh and eighth grades presented the play, "A Little Clogdopper." Special music was furnished by Misses Almeta Pennington and Sue Ward, of East Bernstadt. After the play, the eighth grade had their graduation exercises. Miss Myrtle Bryant gave the address and Mrs. Turner delivered diplomas to Vigil Stokes, Flossie Mullins and Lela Mae Barnes. All three have entered high school at Livingston.

Jan. 22, Stories, games and stunts were enjoyed on the closing day. Those who received gifts for being neither absent nor tardy during the terms were: Lorene Stallsworth, Jean Martin, O.V. Hilton, Jr., Flora Anna Cofforth, Ralph Stallsworth, Frank Cox, Vernon Moore, Naomi Stallsworth, Junior Stallsworth, Eva Moore and Chester Cox. Chester Cox hasn't missed a day since he started to school. He is now in the sixth grade. The improvements that were made during the year are: the building was painted on the inside and some new seats were added and much work was done on the grounds.

This community is well pleased with the progress our school is making. We hope it will continue. Mrs. Turner has been with us two years and we are thankful to her for the work she has done.

IN MEMORY OF

In Loving Memory of Flossie Burdine
who passed away
Sept. 1, 1993
We were together for many years. Your sudden passing has brought many tears.
I miss you and sometimes feel alone, but find comfort in knowing you're in a heavenly home. I'll meet you again, but not in this life. I'm grateful that in 1935, you became my wife.
Sadly missed by your husband, Bill Burdine

My Unpeaceful Country
Walk
By: Flora Mae Taylor
July 23, 1994

My husband and me and our old dawg,
Decided to go for a country walk.
We came upon this herd of cows,
To get around them, we discussed the hows,

One old cow, she began to kick up her heels and fleec,
I thought right then, she was after me,
It must have been a very funny sight,
As I took my frightful flight,

Well, over that hill I went, at a heated pace,
The way my husband laughed, was a disgrace,
Then he just stood there, like a Matador,
While I thought my life on earth was o'er,

I told my husband, our marriage vows said,
To love and protect, "Like a husband should,"
He said, with those strides I was making
Looked like I was protecting myself pretty good,

Now I'm not young, in fact I'm quite old,
And on this walking for your health, I'm not completely sold,
When the doctor says, it's what you need every day,
It could be just a way for the funeral director
To get your money,

On this Health Plan, They're really talking,
I believe they think we'll kill our ourselves,
With all this walking, I don't believe a woman of my age,
Should be doing all this walking,
with such a craze,
But I keep on doing it, with all its pain and strife,
Though I do believe sometimes, it endangers my life,

Ladies, the next time you decide to go for a walk,
Have a good long talk with your Master,
And no matter what your husband says,

Don't go through that cow pasture,
The news media has been talking about the excitement of flying saucers, aliens and such,
But to me a good country walk is excitement enough!

Opening Day
By Preston Parrett
August 25, 1994

It was the opening day of school
And things were going well
Which just goes to show
That good planning will tell.

With the opening of a new school
There's no use singing the blues
For like a new ship
There has to be a shake down cruise

Traffic problems multiplied
But will work themselves out.
We all need to make adjustments
So there's no need to panic.

Students are checking maps and schedules
Wondering where to go,
A few will get lost
But that's O.K. you know.

But in a day or two (Cont. to A8)

Welcome Back!
School is back in session and busy as ever. Our 'Back To School' day held August 18 was a great success. Faculty and staff were on hand to meet with parents and answer questions. Three hundred eighty-two parents and children attended. Each child that visited the Family Resource Center was given a new toothbrush and an issue of Highlights magazine. We want to thank everyone for making a special effort to attend.

We would like to express our thanks to the P.T.A. for providing the delicious refreshments. Marilyn McKinney was the winner of the arrangement donated by Sparks Florist.

Marilyn joined P.T.A. during Open House and this made her eligible to enter her name in the drawing. Congratulations Marilyn.

Your child should bring a letter soon about saving soup and various other product labels. The P.T.A. is working toward new supplies for B.E.S. Send the specified labels to school by your child. Let's all remember 'Working Together Works.'

Our P.T.A. membership now stands at 85. We invite all parents and interested community members to join. Show your support of B.E.S. The P.T.A. will meet Thursday, Sept. 8 at 7 p.m. The Book Fair will begin after the meeting is adjourned. Make every effort to attend.

My friend is Amy, she lives close to me. I love my classroom.

The Amazing Thing That Happened to Me
By: E. Erin VanWinkle

Sunday morning I woke up the sun was shining and the sky was blue. It was close to 9 a.m., so I woke up my brother. We got ready for church. My mom took us to church. My teacher, Ms. Fain, asked me what would I want to do before school started. I said, "I would like to go swimming before school started." When I got home my mom told me that we were going to cook out and go swimming!

My Grandma
By: Jacob Cooper
I went to my grandmas house last week and this week she's in the hospital. She's really sick. I love her!

My Summer
By: Charles Henstey
I had a good summer, but I did not have a good summer. I didn't go anywhere but fishing. My summer could have been better.

Stories from Mrs. Clark's class
The Game

By: Cole Hammond
Shaq and the other dream team I was playing a game, it was half-time and they were down by 15 points. When half time was over they went and played. Shaq had the ball he passed it to Price, he swished a 3 pointer. Italy had the ball but Hardaway stole it and passed to Kemp for the 360 slam. Italy shot a three and missed, Shaq got the rebound. He passed it to Hardway for the three. It was the fourth quarter they were down one point, there were five seconds in the game. Price passed it to Shaq, there was one second Shaq did a 360 from the foul line. Boop. They won the game because of Shaq!

Grade 4
I have a favorite pet. But it's not mine. It's my grumpy. His name is Snowball. He is nice. You can play fetch with him. He is real gentle. He is about 1 year old. He will lick you. It is fun when he licks you. His friends are nice too. Except for one, he kills the cats. Snowball is a dog.

Me and My Friend
By: Nicole Nicely
I am fond of my best friend Whitney. She is real nice and I love her. She is not in the same class, but we are still friends. Me and her always play school. Me and her are the same age and I am so glad!

Ashlee Bowles
I miss my Mamaw Bowles so. But where she is she will never come back. I miss her so much I cried on her funeral day. I sometimes look at pictures and remember her. I know she's in Heaven she has a home.
I miss Dela Bowles

Baseball
By: Aaron Anderkin
I love baseball! This season is the longest season I've ever had. Baseball is fun. It's the only sport that has three different things. A baseball, bat, and a ball. I usually play first base. This year I played all over the infield except pitcher. I usually don't play pitcher. In All-Stars I played pitcher once, I played third-base 6 times. I played 1st base 3 times. I didn't play 2nd base at all, and I played catcher 3 times. I love baseball.

Cole Hammond
Grade 4
I like my cats because, when I fed back my cats cheer me up. My friend Tim Bullock gave me my cats. We kept my cats in a box but one of them jumped out of the box. My cats are almost 5 years old now. My cats are Calico.

Jonathan Baldwin
Grade 4
My best friend is my dog. It is a boy.

His name is Muffin. He is about 3 years old. I had him since he was a pup. He is a good dog. His fur is all different colors. The colors are red, white, black and gray. He is a mutt. He's fun to play with. His favorite game is tug of war. I think he likes it because most of the time he wins!

April Durham
Grade 4
I have a dog her name is Fluffy. She is a good dog. I have had her for many years. She can do lots of tricks. Someone had trained her. Fluffy had 12 puppies this time. But only 3 lived and the rest died. We had to take Fluffy to the vet, so she can't have any more puppies.

Friends Forever!
By: Vanessa Brook Childress
Bridgette and I have been really good friends for a long time. We do lots of things together. We go to each others houses and spend the night with each other. We hang around with each other and play with each other. She is a really good friend to have and we have fun too. When I have a problem she is always there for me. I hope we stay together forever!

My Friend And I
By: Bridgette Lear
Grade 4
Vanessa is a good friend to me because we do a lot of fun stuff. She comes to my house and swims. And I come to her house also. But some times we can't visit one another. That makes me feel mad. I stayed all night with her and she stayed all night with me. It made me feel happy!
My mom and Vanessa's mom are good friends. - Just like Vanessa and me!

Forthcoming marriage

Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Smith of Stanford announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Heather Noel Burgin Smith to Richard Darrin Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins, also of Stanford. The wedding will be September 10 at 2 p.m. at Stanford Baptist Church. The Smiths are former residents of Brodhead. Heather is the granddaughter of Mrs. Lucy Smith of Brodhead. All friends and relatives are invited to attend the wedding and reception immediately following the ceremony.

Hart - Carloftis

Saturday, June 18 at 11:30 a.m., family and friends attended the wedding ceremony of Toni Hart and Dusty Carloftis.

The ceremony was performed by Buzz Carloftis, brother of the groom and Rockcastle county Judge Executive. Suzanne Bullock was the pianist.

The wedding took place on the lawn of Fort Sequoyah, the home of Lucille and the late Carlos Carloftis in Livingston. Tish Jones Hill of Louisville coordinated the wedding.

A reception immediately followed at the home. Susie Hart, sister-in-law of the bride, Koula Verda Collinsworth and Laura Whitney Burchette, nieces of the groom, served while Betsy Lucille Overbey, niece of the groom, attended the guest book. Landscaping and flower arrangements, including the bride's bouquet, was done by Jon Carloftis, brother of the groom and owner of Design Six Landscape in New York City, New York. He resides in Erwinna, Pennsylvania.

The bride is a graduate of Corbin High School and Morehead State University and is employed by the Corbin Board of Education. She is the daughter of Duane Hart and Barbara Tripp of Corbin.

The groom is a graduate of Rockcastle County High School and Eastern Kentucky University and is employed by the Laurel County Board of Education. He is the son of Lucille and the late Carlos Carloftis of Livingston.

Rockets upset Cawood

By: Richard Anderkin
 "We must win, we are expected to win, we will win," so says the sign hanging on the dressing room wall at the Rockcastle County football complex.

And Rocket players must have taken the sign to heart because this was supposed to be a rebuilding year, but after Friday night Rockcastle may once again return to the top of their 2A district.

Friday Rockcastle beat an excellent Cawood team 20-14 to up their record to 33-6 since moving from 3A to 2A.

The win was also a confidence booster for a team that lost 22 players to graduation.

"No doubt Friday night's win was a big win for this young ballclub," said head coach Tom Larkey. "We are very experienced and every game and especially a win is important to us," Larkey said.

Quarterback Jamie Linville was named most valuable player after the junior ran for 79 yards, scored a rushing touchdown and threw for a 2-point conversion.

Sophomore Johnathon Cromer scored two touchdowns and gained 135 yards on 15 carries. "Cromer is only a sophomore and we think his potential is unlimited," Larkey said this week.

Cromer got off to a shaky start when he fumbled in the first quarter after gaining 28 yards on a second down play.

While Cromer and Linville stepped up offensively the biggest play of the night may have been on defense, when defensive tackle Jason Weaver stopped a Cawood back on the one foot line with no time remaining on the clock in the first half. "That play may have been and may be the biggest play of the year for this team," Larkey said.

The Rockets scoring got under way after junior Jarrod Singleton kept a second quarter drive alive when he made an excellent catch of a ten yard Linville throw. The catch got Rockcastle to the five yard line where two carries later Johnathon Cromer took it in from the two. The Rockets extra-point kick failed after a bad snap.

The second score came in the third quarter when Cromer packed it in from the 28-yard line. Linville connected with Jason Childress for the two-point conversion.

Linville sealed the victory for the young Rockets when he rambled in from 42 yards out on a third and eleven possession. Once again, the extra point kicked failed.

Defensively for the game the Rockets were led by Eddie Todd with two solo tackles, five assists and two-and-a-half sacks. Donnie Evers also had a good night with two solos and five assists. Stacey Kirby had five assists and one-half sack. Neal Sparks had two solos, three assists and one-half sacks. Casey Blaney had four solos and one assist. Dallas Rigby had four solos. Jason Childress had two solos and one assist. Johnathon Cromer had two solos. Saben Blair had three assists. Jeremy Lane had one solo. Jason Weaver had one solo and one assist. Brian Mink had one solo and one assist. Shawn Shearer had two assists.

Offensively, the Rockets were led by Johnathon Cromer with 15 carries for 135 yards and rushed for two touchdowns. Jamie Linville had 11 carries for 79 yards and rushed for one touchdown. Neal Sparks had five carries for 21 yards. Jarrod Singleton had four carries for 16 yards. Dallas Rigby carried the ball three times for seven yards. Zach Croffier carried two times for four yards and Jason Cromer carried once for two yards.

Linville completed two of five passes for 17 yards. One was an extra point completion to Jason Childress and a ten yard completion to Jarrod Singleton.

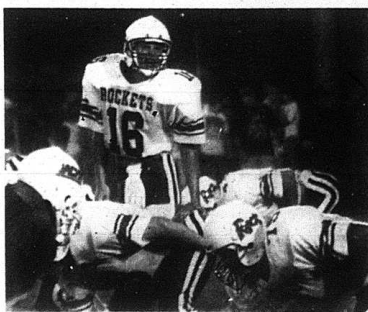

The Rockets take on Southwestern Pulaski Friday night at home in the Renfro Valley Jamboree Bowl.

Southwestern, a team that Rockcastle easily handled last year, beat Bourbon County Friday night 37-14 in Paris.

"We will have all that we can handle Friday night, they have good speed and good size and they have been playing together now for two years," Larkey said.

"I'm very proud of this young team and with a lot of hard work and continued dedication we can have another good season," he added.

Junior quarterback Jamie Linville, #16, was named MVP of the annual Rax Bowl at Cawood High School Friday night after Linville led the Rockets to a 20-14 upset of the Trojans. The Rockets will face Southwestern Pulaski County Friday night in the Renfro Valley Jamboree Bowl. Game time is 8 p.m.

Cancer Ride

Broodhead fifth grader Justin Bradshaw, a member of the Rockcastle Co. School Has Started. Watch Out For Our Children.

BE ALERT TO VISUAL CUES: Watch for school zone signs, cross walks, school crossing guards, buses, and kids walking along the roadway. Around parked cars, watch for shadows and motion-signs that a child may be present.

SLOW DOWN: At only 20 mph, a car travels 41 feet between the time you see a child and actually stop. If you're sleepy or distracted, reaction time and stopping distances increase. Worn tires and wet pavement have a similar effect.

ALLOW YOURSELF TIME TO REACT: On two-lane streets, move as close to the center line as possible, allowing room for bicyclists and pedestrians. As mornings become darker this fall, drive with your headlights on so that you can see and also be seen.

USE YOUR HORN JUDICIOUSLY: A light touch is all that's really necessary, whereas a blast might scare a child.

USE CAUTION AROUND BUSES: Motorists are required to stop for loading/unloading buses and remain stopped as long as the bus has its red lights flashing and stop sign extended. However, drivers on multi-lane highways (more than 4 lanes) need not stop for loading/unloading school buses traveling in the OPPOSITE direction. Keep in mind that buses require extra room for turning at intersections.

BE PATIENT, PARTICULARLY ON THE WAY HOME: Risk of accidents is FOUR times greater in the afternoon - due to human psychology. Drivers are less alert and are irritable after a long day at the office. Kids, however, are excited to be out of school. As frustrating as it may be, keep your temper. Being two minutes late for dinner won't kill you or anyone else, Rushing just might.

Parker Seal workers win financial aid

Reprimond from the Richmond Register

By: Rebecca Mullins
Register Staff writer

Rockcastle Countians who worked at Parker Seal in Berea will be eligible for federal funds after losing their jobs.

Around 50 employees laid off at Berea's Parker Seal Co. and the Parker Hannifin Corp. in June are eligible for federal financial aid.

The U.S. Department of Labor has certified the 50s "adversely affected" by the new North American Free Trade Agreement, the state Cabinet for Human Resources said Friday.

Around 280 people work at the Berea plant, which produces O-rings, or rubber sealing devices. The company has been in business in Berea since 1951.

Assistance is provided under the federal Trade Act, which helps employees of business and industry hurt by import competition, the cabinet said. Employees were laid off from Parker Seal June 24 due to a drop in business, said Parker Seal human resource manager Scotty Crump. The import competition evidently was affected by the free-trade agreement.

Crump, who works for Parker Seal Co. division headquarters in Lexington, was not available for comment Friday on the assistance program or company pressure from import competitors. Federal certification for assistance to Parker Seal's laid-off employees covers all workers producing "discrete art works" laid off by the company on or after Dec. 8, 1993, the state Cabinet for Human Resources said.

Any of those employees whose unemployment insurance benefits were used before they were called back to work or found work elsewhere may receive retroactive benefits under the Trade act, the cabinet said. To qualify for assistance, a worker must enroll in approved training either by the last day of the 16th week after the week the certification was issued, whichever is later.

Financial assistance, training and job search and relocation assistance is available from the federal government until Aug. 8, 1996, the cabinet said. Applications can be obtained at the Department for Employment Services in Lexington at 300 S. Upper St. or in Winchester at the West Lexington avenue office.

Attempted robbery at Bank of Mt. Vernon

Two Men Die In Crash When Bandit Tries To Escape. Third Man Dies Of Heart Attack At Accident.

It Was No Joke . . . Told to Get In Corner and Be Quiet . . . Loot Bag Is Left

C. Lefe Owens thought a Mt. Vernon bank robber was joking, tried to wrest gun from him and was shot in hand.

The attempted stickup began when Gillis Allen entered the bank, drew a gun and ordered Mrs. Laura Brown (standing) and Mrs. Ann Miller, clerks, to "get in that corner and be quiet" after they explained they couldn't open the time vault.

ard Davis arrived, with a State Patrolman, at the scene. When Mr. Davis saw the dead bodies he became ill and died of a heart attack.

Teller Bernard Mitchell can smile now, holding the little bag left behind—and empty by the would-be bank robber.

Probably at no time in the long history of this little city has there ever been an event that had such an aftermath of tragedy as the one that happened last week Thursday when a lone man attempted to rob the Bank of Mount Vernon in broad daylight and failed so tragically.

Three days later on Sunday afternoon three funerals were held simultaneously within a radius of a few miles, all the

is a stickup? They were told to open the door and go inside. They were huddled in a corner of the bank just behind the entrance. "Do as I tell you, don't report this, you will not be hurt," said the bandit to them. Then he asked them to open the safe. The women said they cannot open the safe. They do not know the combination. For quite a few minutes the bandit and the women argued back and forth about opening the safe. About twenty minutes later Bernard Mitchell, also an employee of the bank, arrived at the bank, not knowing what was going on inside. When he unlocked the door, the bandit turned the gun on Mr. Mitchell and on Lefe Owens who was with Mitchell. "This is a stickup," he told the two men. Lefe Owens at first thought the man was just kidding but soon realized that it was a serious business. He grabbed the man by the arm and warded off the pistol. In the tussle that ensued the pistol went off, and the bullet hit the ceiling and grazed Owens' index finger. The bandit pushed Owens away from him and then fled in panic. The shot that went off had attracted the attention of Mr. Charles Childress who was standing at the door of Bryant Bros. Store across the street from the bank. He saw the bandit flee out of the bank building and heard the shouts of the women. The bandit can across the street to his car which was parked at the last parking meter near the railroad track. Mr. Childress gave the alarm to Mr. Watkins and together they chased the bandit to Mr. Watkins' station wagon. Childress identified the car as a two-tone Pontiac. But the bandit went so fast that Childress and Watkins could not overtake him. However when they got to Renfro Valley they came upon a wreck and discovered that it was the Pontiac car. The bandit was lying on his back beside his car. He was seriously injured.

When the bandit attempted to pass a pick-up truck he ran into an oncoming car driven by Enoch Ward of Conway. The Ward car caught the bandit's car right in the middle. Ward died instantly and his wife was seriously injured in the crash.

A few minutes after the crash the deputy sheriff, Leonard Davis arrived, with a State Patrolman, at the scene. When Mr. Davis saw the dead bodies he became ill and died of a heart attack.

Enoch Ward

The body of the bandit was taken to the Berea College Hospital where it was later identified as Gillis Allen of Climax, and an employee of the Berea Rubber Plant for the past year. The gun he used in the holdup had recently been purchased at Berea. It was a thirty-two caliber pistol. Jack Petrovsky, plant manager of the Berea Rubber Plant and Clint Hensley, personnel director of the same plant, went to the College Hospital to identify the body. It was difficult for them to realize that this should be the man who would hold up the bank, for he had a perfect record at the mill operator. It was a job that required a great deal of technical skill. It meant that he would have to know the exact amount ingredients to be mixed. Allen was one of the plants top men.

For all history buffs. Reprinted from the Dec. 11, 1932 Signal

Sam Ford named to Hall of Fame

An auctioneer from the region who has contributed greatly to the auction profession has been inducted into the National Auctioneers Association (NAA) Hall of Fame. The new inductee is Sammy L. Ford of Mt. Vernon. The induction ceremonies were held Aug. 19 at NAA's national convention in Indianapolis, Ind.

Ford is president of Ford Brothers, Inc. Auctioneers and Realtors in Mt. Vernon. He has been an auctioneer since 1965. His firm, which has three offices in southeastern Kentucky, has conducted more than 3,000 auctions, including real estate, business liquidations and antique auctions.

Ford holds a B.S. in Business Administration from Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond. He received a Certified Auctioneers Institute designation in 1981. He was president of the Kentucky Association of Auctioneers in 1977 and was president of the National Auctioneers association in 1984-85.

He's also a member of the Kentucky Association of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors, (NAR) and is presently a member of NAR's Auction Committee. Ford and his wife, Judy, who is the new president of NAA's Auxiliary, are the parents of three children, Devin, John and Amy. One son works for the firm as an auctioneer and Realtor. The entire family is involved with the business.

Renfro's new RV Park opens this weekend

Here's some good news for folks who travel in recreational vehicles. The new Renfro Valley RV Park opens Labor Day weekend and features 63 sites, including all the amenities at every spot: 30- and 50-amp electric hookups, water, sewer, even cable TV hookups. There's also a bathroom and coin laundry.

Perhaps the best news though, is its location: on rolling foothills and a small creek right next to the middle of Renfro Valley Entertainment Center and close to the theaters, shopping and food.

"This has kind of been a missing link in our whole situation," said Renfro Valley chief executive officer Dean Henrickens. "It's been in our master plan since 1989."

Because the campground is within a half-mile of Interstate 75, Henrickens hopes it will draw interstate travelers. The campground will be open whenever the theaters are open, from March until December. Over Labor Day weekend, sites are booked up, but openings should be available after the holidays.

Sites are $15.90 a night until Oct. 15, which they will be $18.02 and $20.14 a night, depending on location.

Henrickens said he and others studied whether Renfro Valley fans would use the RV park and determined that they would.

"We think this will attract a lot of people. It's a great convenience, a great amenity."

In addition to the new campground, Renfro Valley has opened a new 18-hole miniature golf course.

CARDS OF THANKS

The family of Theo Burch would like to thank all those who were there for us during our mother's illness and death. Thank you to all the prayers, visits, cards, food and flowers. A special thanks to Steve and Jennifer Case, Kitty Canterbury and Janice Dooley, Bro. Harvey Pensol, Roy and Kay Himes, Bradley and Rosella Montgomery for the beautiful music, Evelyn Ponder for the beautiful spray and flowers, Fairview Fellowship and Pilot Knob Baptist Churches, Berea Hospital SC 3rd floor and Respiratory Therapy, Hospice, Rockcastle Co. Home Health, Love Joy Medical, Drs. Curd, Hogan, Johnstone, Ostensky, Kellher and Minor and Josie and also Lakes Funeral Home.

The family of Michael Lee McFerron would like to thank everyone for their kindness during the loss of our loved one. A special thanks to our friends and neighbors for their prayers and for those who brought food and flowers. We also like to thank Bro. Jim Kirby for his comforting words and compassion during our loss at the rally, an effigy of first lady Hillary Rodham Clinton was burned.

This means of protest was inappropriate, and I would like to apologize to all who were offended by it.

Several public officials appeared at the rally as guest speakers. None of them knew about this. I erred in not telling them beforehand.

I would like to add that this action was taken not in hate, but to call attention to the unfair taxes on tobacco contained in the various healthcare reform proposals, and the effect these taxes would have on the common people. The Clinton Administration has ignored the feelings of the common people in Kentucky and other tobacco-producing states.

I will be available to answer any questions concerning this issue. Stanley Archchikaviz (502) 684-6179

Some "Straight Talk" On Banking Today... That Can Make Banking Better For You...

Where Does the Money Come From?

Unlike the government, a bank can't just print up a bunch of new money when the supply runs low. The money we loan to you comes from the money you invest with us. When you buy a C.D. or make another investment with the bank, we take that investment and use it to make ag loans as well as the other loans needed in our community. Out-of-town investments take your investment dollar and re-invest it somewhere else.

So when it comes time to invest your money, remember who will be loaning you the money to make some more. Save where you borrow. Substantial penalty for early withdrawal on Certificates of Deposits.

Summer reading winners

By: Pam Chaliff

What happened to Summer???? It sure went by fast on the Bookmobile. I had good participation in the summer reading program, but not quite as many signed up as had in past years. The winners were:

1st place in age pre-school to 7 - Leigh Ann Caldwell
2nd place pre-school to 7 - Harold Burdette

1st place age 8-12 - Christina Amyx
2nd place age 8-12 - Melinda Coffey

I have been very impressed with the books the children are reading.

Harold Burdette - Age 7

Leigh Ann Caldwell - Age 7

Christina Amyx - Age 8

Melinda Coffey - Age 10

Use bumper garden crop to can homemade salsa

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Want to carry the delicious taste of garden-fresh vegetables into the cold winter months? Salsa has replaced catsup as the number one condiment. Homemade salsa is low calorie and contains no fat. It can be used many ways -- baked over pork, chicken or fish; as a marinade for these grilled entrees; or as a dip for vegetables and chips. It is easy and fast to can.

Canned Salsa

- 10 cups (about 6 pounds) peeled, cored, chopped red-ripe tomatoes
  - 5 cups (about 2 pounds) seeded, chopped green peppers
  - 5 cups (about 1 1/2 pounds) chopped onion
  - 1 1/4 cups (about 1/2 pound) seeded, chopped banana peppers
  - 1 1/4 cups (about 1/2 pound) seeded, chopped hot peppers
  - 1 1/4 cups cider vinegar
  - 3 cloves garlic, minced
  - 2 tablespoons cilantro, minced
  - 3 teaspoons salt
- Combine all ingredients in a large sauce pot. Bring mixture to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes. Pour hot mixture into hot jars, leaving 1/4-inch headspace. Adjust caps.

Process 15 minutes in a boiling water bath. Yield: 6 pints Nutritional analysis: 25 calories, 1 gram protein, 6 grams carbohydrates, and 0 grams fat per 1/4 cup.

To increase the hotness, or bite, of this mild version, replace banana peppers with hot peppers. You also can add one teaspoon of hot pepper sauce.

Remember to always wear rubber gloves when working with hot peppers because they contain a chemical that when exposed to air causes a burning sensation on the skin surface. If you forget gloves, these procedures might help.

Soak your hands in warm soapy water for 30 minutes. Then soak them for 20 minutes in a solution of one cup vinegar and one quart of cold water.

If you still have a burning sensation on your hands, coat them with vegetable oil or spray with a benzocaine or Xylocaine preparation. If neither procedure alleviates the burning, run cold water over your hands to keep air from getting to them. Time really is the only cure for the burning sensation felt from this common mistake.

For other canning guidelines or recipes, call the Extension Office at 256-2403.

SECOND ANNUAL

GOSPEL SINGIN' IN THE HILLS

The second annual Gospel Singin' in the hills will be held Friday, September 9th from 6 to 11 p.m. and Saturday, September 10 from 12 noon to 10 p.m. at the outdoor amphitheater of the Laurel Lake Baptist Camp near Corbin.

More than 15 hours of "down home" Gospel music will be presented by some 35 groups and individuals from Appalachian churches including bluegrass, mountain/folk, country and southern gospel.

Included among the singers from Rockcastle County are: The Joyful

Noise of Brodhead and The Jubilee Echoes and the Coffey Twins of Mt. Vernon.

The Singin' is hosted by the Laurel Lake Baptist Camp located near Grove Marina on Laurel Lake. Admission is free and the public is invited. A fish fry and outdoor-grilled beef, pork and chicken along with homemade pies and cakes will add to the Singin' festivities. A covered stage and big tent will allow the Gospel Singin' in the Hills to go on, rain or shine. Proceeds will go to the camp. Call 606-528-3522 for more information.
