Notice to Parents, Teachers and Employees of the Rockcastle County Board of Education

On October 22, 1986, President Reagan signed into law the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA, Public Law 99-519). The law required EPA to develop regulations which provide a comprehensive framework for addressing asbestos problems in public and private elementary and secondary schools. On October 30, 1987, EPA published the Asbestos-Containing Materials in Schools Rule (40 CFR Part 763 Subpart E). This Rule requires all public and private elementary and secondary schools to inspect for friable and non-friable asbestos, develop asbestos management plans that address asbestos hazards in school buildings and implement response actions in a timely fashion.

To carry out the above activities involving inspections, management plans, and response actions the Rockcastle County Board of Education has utilized accredited personnel. On April 30, 1987, EPA published the Model Accreditation Plan (40 CFR Part 763 Appendix C to Subpart E) required by AHERA, which specifies training, examination and other requirements for persons who inspect, develop management plans and design or conduct response actions in schools. The Model Plan became effective on June 1, 1987.

In 1988, the Rockcastle County Board of Education retained Barry W. Cooper, P.E. who completed an initial inspection to locate all asbestos-containing building materials (ACBM) and developed and submitted to the State of Kentucky an asbestos Management Plan that includes the results of the inspections. In December of 1988, the Rockcastle County Board of Education began to implement this management plan.

Copies of the management plan are always available for review to those interested persons at the Administration Office at Rt. 5, Box 69, Mt. Vernon, Ky. and at the Principal's Office at each school any time during normal office hours.

Copies are available for duplication at a cost of 25 cents per each 8.5"x11" page of the Management Plan.

Robbers caught on tape Arrests made locally after Pulaski Co. break-in Four Mt. Vernon men and a juvenile were arrested and charged last week with a reported burglary at Country Pleasures Market on Ky. 461.

Pulaski county sheriff's deputies reported they responded to a report of a burglary at the market. They did not provide any details leading up to the arrests only that an investigation led to the arrests.

Charged after Mt. Vernon police viewed a tape of the burglary were Kenneth M. Prewitt, 19; Jason E. Newcomb, 18; Donovan D. McGuire, 19, and Jeremy B. Owens, all of Mt. Vernon.

Each was charged with two counts of second-degree unlawful transaction with a minor, and third-degree burglary and theft by unlawful taking over $300.

The juvenile was also charged with third-degree burglary and by unlawful taking over $800.

Prewitt, Newcomb, and the juvenile were additionally charged with third-degree criminal mischief in connection with a broken window at Eastway Market on east Ky. 80.

All were lodged in the Pulaski County Detention Center except the juvenile who was under house arrest. Kentucky State Police and Mt. Vernon Police Department were involved with the Pulaski Sheriff's Department in the investigation.

Everett C. Brown Memorial Award

Rockcastle County Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr. is this year's recipient of the Everett C. Brown Memorial Award. The annual award honors a local individual who has made exceptional contributions for the betterment and improvement of Rockcastle County. The award was begun in 1978 in memory of Everett C. Brown who lived in Rockcastle County as a child. Mr. Brown retained a strong feeling for his hometown throughout his life and upon his death the Brown family established this award as a memorial to his life's achievements. Shown presenting Mr. Towery with his award is Maude Randolph, a member of the local Kiwanis Club, the group that selects each year's recipient.

At Tuesday's board meeting Officials answer parent's concerns

By: Richard Anderkin
A Livingston area parent brought a petition to the Rockcastle County Board of Education meeting Tuesday night that requested that the board do something about the many problems she says all county students encounter each day.

Because of long bus rides, over crowded classrooms and buses and hazards encountered at the new high school, Mrs. Leann Zaring even went as far as to request that board members vote to re-open Livingston school, make school be in session year round and even allow students who live farther from school to go an hour later and stay at school for an hour after other students leave.

While none of Mrs. Zaring's requests were actually voted on by the board an hour and half long discussion did take place after her complaints.

Rockcastle's Director of Transportation Glen Vanwinkle, RCHS Principal Ronnie Cash and Mt. Vernon Elementary School Principal Loretta Powell were all in attendance to answer the charges made by Zaring.

Mrs. Zaring told the board that buses traveling in the Livingston area were overcrowded and were arriving at school too late for students to eat breakfast.

She said that figures Vanwinkle gave to the Signal last week were from the top of his head and not accurate. "Mr. Vanwinkle was on the Livingston buses Thursday and Friday counting heads," Mrs. Zaring told the board.

However Vanwinkle gave Mrs. Zaring the same figures again Tuesday night, telling her that no bus had more students on it, than was allowed by law. Vanwinkle said the most crowded bus has 64 students with a capacity of 66.

Mrs. Zaring told the board that the construction at the new high school is also a hazard to children. Exposed wires, floors not existing, no lights at the entrance were among the complaints Mrs. Zaring made about the new facility.

Principal Cash told Mrs. Zaring that the only place the floor was not down was the gymnasium and that it was off limits to children. He said that any exposed wires were computer wires and not electrical wires and that he too was concerned about no caution lights at the entrance, but that, he said, is a state highway department project that schools have no control over.

Northern water losing over 60,000 gallons on mile stretch

County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlolis stuck to his guns Tuesday at a Fiscal Court meeting when he advocated a 60,000 gallon-a-day water loss in the Northern Water District.

He was fuming about the length of time it was taking to repair leaks in a mile section which was engineering study allocated money to do the job.

In 1993, Northern applied for a Community Development Block Grant. Included in the full grant was a one-mile stretch of very bad leaks called section 2, which lies north of Barlow Valley and south of Roundstone.

If the repairs for this one-mile stretch were not addressed until the entire project was let out for bidding, millions of gallons of water could be lost underground, resulting in higher rates on Northern customers to compensate for the water loss, plus added burden upon the City of Mt. Vernon pumping station.

By declaring an "emergency" for this one-mile section only, Northern will be permitted to hire a contractor immediately to make all necessary repairs.

If this non-competitive method to get a contractor is unsuccessful, Northern would, by law, have to ask the state for permission to claim a "Sole Source Procurement" process in order to expedite repairs.

The remainder of the systems repairs will, of course, have to take the regular contract bidding and award procedure. The $37,830 estimated by engineers to repair this one-mile section is only a fraction of the amount that will be let out on bids.

N & N gets bridge bid; court $120,000 for jail

By: Ray McClure

Bids were opened by the Rockcastle Fiscal Court at its Tuesday meeting on White Oak Bridge replacement.

Apparent low bidder was N and N Contractors of Mt. Vernon at $32,800 for the 30-foot long one-lane structure.

Another bid was Lakeview Construction of Lexington for $33,000. Two other bids were Kay and Kay Contractors of London for $39,557 and Bluegrass Contracting for $36,436.

Jim Woodrum of Architecture Plus, the architect for the $360,000 jail renovation project, told the court he was ready with plans for the Maximum Security and PVA office and that bids should be called for and opened on Oct. 11.

He said the county had received $120,200 grant from Kentucky Local Corrections Facilities paid over 10 years at $12,000 a year to help pay part of the county's $240,000 cost of the project.

He presented the county with bills totaling $8,611 for phase one plans. He reported to the court that a lot of the demolition work in the jail project is being done by inmates saving the county an estimated $20,000.

Randall Templeman, director, Bige Towery, clerk, and Ray Brown, board member with Rockcastle Conservation district met with the court to explain their programs and to give an annual report.

Expenditures of the district were $45,270 and receipts were $49,410. Balance on hand at the end of the year (June 30) was $4,140.

Brown told the court the Conservation District tries to help farmers into new crops now that tobacco is gradually being lost as income.

The court adopted a resolution authorizing the filing of a site preparation for Image/Entry funding of $13,843.

The court decided to take bids to repair a slide on the Conway-Copper Creek Road. The notice came from the Transportation Cabinet and authorized $10,000.

The Class of 1944 was honored this year as this was their 50th reunion. Joe Henderson introduced the class and presented The John Lair Society Certificate Awards to each member.

A social time was enjoyed following the business meeting with entertainment by Gene Witt, guest pianist from Richmond and our own Jack Lincoln Adams on trumpet.

Finally, the court passed over a request from Rockcastle Emergency Assistance Program for a contribution to the program. The court said there was no amount included and

13.3 miles of Rockcastle may become part of Wild and Scenic Rivers System

A total of 13.3 miles of the Rockcastle River is under study to become part of the Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

None of the river is in Rockcastle County. It does include the Narrows. Also under consideration is 14.9 miles of the Cumberland, 15 miles of Marsh Creek and 17.5 miles of Rock Creek.

The rivers run through or from the borders of Laurel, McCreary, Pulaski and Whitley counties.

A public meeting on the proposal will be held Sept. 20 in the Laurel County Courthouse, London.

If the plan goes forward, parts of the Rockcastle and Cumberland Rivers and Marsh and Rock Creeks in south-central Kentucky would receive more federal protection and recognition as relatively natural and undeveloped.

Rivers in the national system are protected from government actions -- such as dam-building -- that would change their natural character.

The government has much less jurisdiction on private land along each river. For example, residential or retail developments could be built along the water's edge if they comply with other applicable laws.

But the government often tries to buy the land from willing sellers to maintain the areas' character. A draft environmental impact statement prepared by the Forest Service says the rivers have "outstandingly remarkable values."

All except Marsh Creek already are designated as Kentucky Wild Rivers. National listing would give them additional protection.

Mt. Vernon School reunion

The Mt. Vernon High School Association held their annual reunion in grand style Saturday night, Sept. 10th at the new Rockcastle County High School.

The meeting was presided over by President Lena Hurst. The Invocation was given by Vice President Susan Bull. BrannanHS Assistant James H. Cox, RCHS Assistant Principal and Superintendent Bige Towery welcomed the over 200 in attendance to the new facilities.

The Class of 1961 was welcomed into the association after which class member Howard Coffey introduced each class member present.

The Class of 1944 was honored this year as this was their 50th reunion. Joe Henderson introduced the class and presented The John Lair Society Certificate Awards to each member.

A social time was enjoyed following the business meeting with entertainment by Gene Witt, guest pianist from Richmond and our own Jack Lincoln Adams on trumpet.

It's coyote time again here in the Knobs. We've had a spell of cool nights that make our Bufford Caudill fall beans ripen much faster than they would in hot weather so that the seed grows faster than the hull and they just burst wide open. Big old beans. Bigger than marbles. And the hulls are as tender and soft as silk. A six quart kettle full coddled with a big hunk of fat-back and simmered for about three hours is as good to us as Hillbillies as any lobster ever served in Boston.

Just before dark this evening I picked a five gallon bucket full and divided them up in plastic grocery bags so that I can share them with some folks I work with and with some friends who haven't had a chance to experience them yet.

If I'm lucky enough to get to Heaven, the first thing I intend to ask Saint Peter is to cross the Pearly gates is what they're having for supper. And if Bullford's Fall beans and corn bread along with some cucumbers, onions and sliced tomatoes ain't on the menu, I intend to be prepared to quarrel. Walking on streets of gold doesn't impress me at all. If I knew that I could have fresh fall beans for supper every day the street could be made out of mud for all I care. And I'd also put a lot more effort into getting to Heaven.

If any of you all breathe to Heaven, you tell old Peter and Gabriel and the rest of the Saints that I'll bring my own seed and grow 'em year round; enough for everybody; if they'll give me a piece of ground that doesn't have any crabgrass. And if there's no crabgrass in Heaven, I just as soon go to Hell.

In the meantime, the coyotes are congregating here on the outskirts of Paint Lick. They get atop the ridges when the weather cools like this and call to each other. Wawhoooooo oooohhahwooooo...oooo. Over and over again.

You can sit here on Fairview Ridge, just after dusk and count them from at least half a dozen different locations. You can sit on top of the bean bucket, the way I did tonight, and close your eyes and it's like listening to that part of the sound track of an old black and white western movie just after Cowboy Copas or John Wayne had thrown some dirt on the fire and bedded down for the night. And you have to wonder how in the heck did they old cowboys ever go to sleep.

This summer we have been blessed/cursed with a covey of bobwhite quail with whom we've shared our garden.

In dry weather quail will single out the largest, nearly-ripe tomato in the garden and they will use it as a source of water and substance. They'll peck at it until you only have a core hanging on the vine. They'll shuck sweet corn halfway down the cob and then poop all over the rest of the cob. You can unsuspectingly walk into the garden with perfectly innocent intentions to pick a cucumber or a mator for supper and step on a quail's tail feathers at which time it will squawk and 97 of its brothers and sisters will come screaming out of nowhere to flog you in the face, try to get up your britches, hit you in the straddle, in the chest, on the back, knock your cap off and leave you grasping at your chest because you figure the devil just got you by the short hairs and a heart attack is the easy way out. I've sown lettuce, spinach, kale, mustard, turnips, collards, beets and I've planted a good row of late beans. I have cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli just leaving out and I have rabbits galore feasting on the tendrils of everything I have sprouting. But I raise enough to feed us all in my late garden. Under ideal circumstances I would walk the fields behind my house, more than a thousand acres, when hunting season arrives and use my shotgun to harvest the fat quail and

Roamin' Rockcastle
By: Hilda Payne Gabbard

By the time that you read this, it will be September 15th and half the month will be gone. I'm not ready for fall even though farmers are harvesting their crops, cutting tobacco, cutting hay into yellow doughnuts lying around in the fields.

Women are gathering the late beans on the vines and making kraut out of the late cabbage. Around here it's cane cutting and sorghum molasses making time. If any of you need good help in molasses work, I'm going to tell you a good person to hire for the job.

John and Arthur Davidson, his partner in the three cane crops needed help so, Geraldine Davidson, Arthur's wife, and I hired out to them in union wages. Now Geraldine is the person to hire. She was at the pan where the green juice was bubbling when she said, "Even though I've never worked in molasses before, she thought she was doing a good job now!" she said, as the hot steam from the molasses pan turned her face red and sweat poured down, from her face.

Arthur and I just got the cane cut juice as John and Geraldine skimmed the foam from the molasses.

But I tell you I don't want to get into that work another year. John tricked me into coming up to where they were working. "Come and watch us make the molasses. Bring a large spoon if you want to taste of them," he said and when I got there, I was told to stir the juice where it came from the mill. Later, I was told to stir by the pan and stir the foam as the molasses came from the pan. I sneaked a taste of the sweet stuff which was "good molasses" the men said.

I had a good letter from Betty Bisbee, my niece in Lubbock, Texas. Her husband, Bob, is in training as a doctor, and Betty edits for a newspaper there. Her father, my brother, John Payne, would tell tales on Clear Creek folks. Some he told on himself.

Betty closes her letter by saying, "You mean a lot to me so take care of the contract operation you are going through."

I also got a letter from Jane Lee Dondanville. She has had cataract operations and said when there was in the corners of her house so had work to do.

She says she thinks of me sitting on my nice pool porch and wishes she were here with me.

Jane Lee talked of her brother, Frank Payne, who went to Washington state and says he doesn't mind the cool weather there. He is in good health there and is 78 years old now living close to his children. We were in Wildie recently and of course stopped at Ballard Parsons store where we met the pretty woman I wrote about last week. It was Ballard's mom who was sitting near him and her name was Ruth Parsons. She is a pretty woman and Ballard ought to be proud to claim kin to her.

Vinson Fish came in laughing for he was one of the men who said they were afraid to talk about Ballard for he might get mad and burn their barns down. Ballard didn't seem to mind his saying that.

"What kind of bargains do you have this week?" I asked Ballard.

"Why everything is a bargain here," Ballard said then he told John that Henry Voltner had called and talked to him one night.

"He's a pretty nice fellow. Tell him to come down and we'll go out some night in my electric car," he said, to John.

"Well, how is your under the counter business?" I asked Ballard. "It's doing well due to tobacco cutting now. Say, I do have a bargain in 'Moon Pies'. I sell one for 35¢ or 2 for 70¢," said Ballard.

In talking about coffee to drink, Glen Coffee, a neighbor said, "I'm a Maxwell House man myself."

In talking of Clear Creek, I asked Glen if he was related to Sam Coffey who lived there but had passed away some years ago.

John said he was related to him.

"We left the company gathering there and drove toward Roundstone near the place where a store burned down some years ago. We came to Parson's Gas Company and talked to David Parsons. We also met Libby Smith, a sister to David and a wife to Shirley Smith, Sheriff of Rockcastle County. Roger Parsons put his picture on the bulletin board to make a joke.

Libby Smith, was a clerk and announced that she was going home to help load tobacco.

Roundstone Creek seemed sluggish, slow moving and I didn't think I wanted to be out playing in it.

Next we went to Cecil Abney's place where he built a home right on the bank of Clear Creek. Tasked Cecil to sell it to us. He said, "No, I won't sell it but I will rent it to you.

John doesn't want to leave Menelaus Road where he raises bees, and sugar cane.

Cecil had the cutest little dog that he had named "Stinker" and it would eat anything, he said.

"How is your love life? It ought to be pretty well since I see you have a new car?" I asked him.

"There's no love life down here. I went to Conway to a singing and it was good," he told us.

This past week we stopped at Lara Clark's to get a pretty, pink, checked gingham dress that she had made for me.

A man was there whom Lara made us acquainted with and said he was Harrison Cook from near Mt. Vernon, and a cousin to Lura.

Now when I write for the Signal about 10 years ago, I got letters from a man who said he was Sherman Cook living in Climax and he told me he carried the mail on the route from Climax to Boone by horseback.

Harrison Cook said his uncle Sherman Cook had died in the 30's. He thought it might be some of Sherman's kinfolk. I hope to talk more to this man and find out about his kinfolk.

A station wagon drove up to our door last week and out came Mildred Holtz from Lowell, Indiana, her cousin, Dorothy Browning from Tollesboro, Greg Nichols and his fiance, April Wiltzer, from Lansing, Illinois. They were good friend to Henry Volmer who is a long time reader of this paper. Henry didn't come down with them due to illness and we were so disappointed not to see him.

We were so pleased that they went out of their way to stop and see us. Henry lives in a mobile home in Mildred's yard. He called later in the evening and said he was too ill to come along but was glad the others had come.

I told Henry, John and I may make a trip this fall up to see him. John said to Henry to look up some girls and they would turn on. So you understand when I say I may not go after all.

rabbits that my garden has sustained. But it doesn't work that way. Coyotes get most of the game on Fairview Ridge.

The quail and rabbits that my garden feed won't be fair game to me until November. But the coyotes opened season back in July. And by November, they too, will be well-fed. Instead of shooting quail and rabbit, I'll be cursing coyotes and wishing that I might get one within my sights.

Every night through the fall and winter you can sit in my back yard and hear packs of coyotes yelping to celebrate their kills. If you listen closely you may also hear a few tax-paid biologists at the Fish and Wildlife Department in Frankfort marveling that Kentucky now has a new wild species.

Coyotes are not natural to our neck of the woods and they need to be eradicated before they destroy our small game. When you purchase your hunting license this year, make a point of dropping a card or letter to the address you will find on that license and let the folks in Frankfort know that you support a bounty or whatever it takes to get rid of coyotes.

In the meantime, my number is 606-792-2093. Call me up if you want to hunt coyotes. I'd like to see somebody kill one. It's not nearly as easy as you might think.

Coyotes are not natural to our neck of the woods and they need to be eradicated before they destroy our small game. When you purchase your hunting license this year, make a point of dropping a card or letter to the address you will find on that license and let the folks in Frankfort know that you support a bounty or whatever it takes to get rid of coyotes.

Hello to all my good friends and readers of the Mt. Vernon Signal. Just hope you are well and happy!

Jones get-together

On Saturday, September 3, Gladys A. Jones of Broadhead was hostess at a breakfast for her children: Chet Jones of Nashville, Tenn., Cleta Szokoe of Doylestown, Pa. and their first cousins (second generation descendants of the Jae Steve and Ida Albright). The only cousin missing the reunion was Terry A. Jones of Lake Oswego, Oregon.

After an old-time country breakfast featuring country ham and red-eye gravy, Warren Albright of Birmingham, Ala. began with, "Do you remember Pap's old mule Pete?" and the reminiscing continued.

Also from afar, to attend the reunion was Janet Daniel of Lake Forest, Ill. Local cousins attending included William M. Cash, Jean Gentry, Kathleen "Teet" Stevens, Josephine "Tooter" Albright and N. Steve Albright. Others present were Jewel Albright, Fanny Albright, Bill Gentry, Don Stevens, Nina Cash, Eric Jones, Mike S., Rebecca and Jessica Albright.

enjoying life. Worship service attendance was good over the weekend and the Sunday School attendance was ninety three (93). Maybe more will attend Sunday School now that some of the family reunions and vacations are over.

We had one addition to our church by baptism last Thursday night. We welcome the good man into our fellowship. He has our love and prayers.

Glennys Pulliam, daughter of Edith Rae Pulliam spent a few days in the U.K. Medical Center, Lexington last week. She returned home on Saturday and thank the good Lord, she is improving very nicely.

So sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Edna Mae Singleton of Mt. Vernon who is a patient in the Rockcastle Hospital at the present time. I'll always love and appreciate Edna Mae for the good care she gave my mother, Mrs. Liddie Reppert, the last few years of her life. She was always so kind and loving to the older folks and children that she kept in her home. They were kept clean, given plenty of good food and a good place to stay. We Repperts can't even thank her enough for the care she gave our mother. I hope and pray that God grants her a quick recovery and good health soon.

Jeremy Davidson, son of Rex and Jewell Davidson of Broadhead had the misfortune of breaking his arm this past Saturday. Bless his heart, he is such a sweet child, and I just hope he gets along fine and gets well soon. Mrs. Mary Cope is celebrating her eighty sixth (86) birthday today, Sept. 12th. There is another dear sweet lady that I love so much. And I hope and pray this next year (God-willing) she will have good health and happiness. God bless her.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Gabbard and daughter Gail Lee and Mrs. Gladys Rose recently was Buddy's niece, Laura Parsons of Maryland.

Another birthday, Mrs. Hallie Alexander, celebrated her sixty-fifth (65) birthday. On Saturday night Aug. 27th her daughter Jewell Davidson had her birthday supper at her home at Broadhead. Jewell's husband Rex and their children, Jenia and Jeremy also were present. Then, on Sunday night, her son Gerald, wife Irene and children Courtney and Cody visited Hallie and Eugene in their home, and Irene prepared another birthday supper for Hallie. So all in all, she had a great time. (Cont. to A6)

"mind, eat breakfast." Mrs. Zaring told the board. "But our children do not have time to eat when they get to school," she said.

However Mrs. Powell and Mr. Cash both assured Mrs. Zaring that any child that needed time to eat would be allowed to do so. As for the caution lights at the high school, board member Dr. G.W. Griffith told Mrs. Zaring that she, board members and concerned parents should contact State Rep. Danny Ford about the need for the light. "I have always found him very helpful each time I have needed his assistance," Dr. Griffith said. "Those lights are a concern of everybody's and I think Mr. Ford would be a good place to start and try to get something done. Dr. Griffith also took exception to a comment Mrs. Zaring made to the board before she gave her presentation.

Mrs. Zaring said that more supporters of her cause would have been at the board meeting but they were afraid of their jobs. "They are afraid the board will retaliate against them if they stand up for what they think is right," Mrs. Zaring said.

Dr. Griffith told Mrs. Zaring that anyone with a concern would be more than welcome at the board meetings and that the only job the school board is responsible for is that of Superintendent Bige Towery Jr. "We cannot hire or fire anyone except the superintendent," Griffith said.

"It is the feeling of all school officials that considering the major adjustments that were made this year, that the schools are operating very efficiently," Superintendent Bige Towery Jr. said Wednesday.

The board has asked us to continue monitoring these concerns and to make any adjustments that might improve the situation," Towery said.

In other business the board voted to approve G.E.D. certificates to Mary Sue Caudill, James E. Cromer, Sharon R. DeBorde, Ramona Mahaffey and Sharon J. Vargas.

Baseball plays on KET!

With major league baseball players on strike, we don't know whether the talk this fall will be of pennant races and record chases or of salary cap fights and players' rights. In any case, there will be Baseball on television, as KET premieres Ken Burns' epic 18 1/2 hour miniseries about America's favorite pastime beginning at 8 p.m. on Sunday, September 18. The series airs in nine episodes, or "innings," with innings one through five from Sunday, Sept. 18, through Thursday, Sept. 22. After two "travel days," the series resumes play with the final four innings Sunday, Sept. 25, through Wednesday, Sept. 28.

Vocational School learns to work safely at seminar

On Aug. 30, David Wilson, Snap-On Representative presented a safety seminar and technology clinic to the Industrial technology classes at the Rockcastle County Vocational School. He presented a safety video on the dangers involved with misuse of power tools. He displayed a wide variety of power tools, explained their proper use, showed examples of broken and damaged tools and shared experiences of how people were hurt by not using tools properly. All the students in the Automotive Technology, Electricity and Welding Technology completed the safety program and were presented a certificate from Snap-On Tool Corporation. All students will benefit from the safety awareness they gained from Mr. Wilson's experience. He provided this service at no charge to the school. Thanks to Mr. Wilson and Snap-On Corp.

Town Firemen find Bible undamaged by 800 degree fire

Submitted by Freda Warf

An Appalachia official said discovery of two virtually undamaged Bibles in the ashes of a fire officials estimate exceeded 800 degrees "ran cold chills" over firemen at the scene.

Appalachia Fire Chief Robert Anderson said his son, fireman Travis Anderson, found the Bibles during routine salvage and overhaul efforts conducted in the wake of one of the hottest fires the department has battled in some time.

He said the fire quickly reduced the rental quarters of Jeff and Sherry Jones to rubble.

The Jones, who had no insurance, had lived behind Bessie's Diner in Appalachia for several years, Anderson said. The 50 foot trailer and adjacent addition were fully engulfed in

The Cedar Rapids Dolphins Swim Team held their potluck and awards night Friday at the club. flames when firemen arrived about three minutes after Sherry Jones 9:38 a.m. fire call July 19, he noted.

"She called in the fire, then ran out with her three children," Anderson said. The children were ages three years to nine months, he noted. "It was an older type trailer without the flame resistant paneling. When we arrived, the fire was so hot that at first, it was like water spread it instead of contained it."

Anderson said he pulled five pieces of equipment and 13 men to the fire before he got it under control. He said that in his 26 years of fire fighting he had never run into a trailer fire he couldn't easily contain with water.

The fire burned part of the washer and dryer, left only charred pieces of wood where upholstered furniture had been and exploded glass doors and windows, he said.

Because the structure was less than 10 feet from an adjacent trailer, and a car was up on wood blocks between the burned trailer and nearby trailer, firemen sifted through rubble to ensure there were no hidden "hot spots" which could re-ignite, he said.

Travis Anderson was sifting through the ashes of what had been a cabinet in the living room when he found the first Bible, he said.

The books and papers in the cabinet looked as if they had been incinerated and crumbled when touched, he said.

However, even the pieces of paper marking places in the Bible were intact, he noted.

A few moments later, firemen found a white Bible in a corner across the room. Although the cover was discolored from the smoke, the Bible was "in good enough shape to read and use," Robert Anderson said.

"It has to make you wonder — there has to be something out there -- you feel it when you pick up a Bible from the ashes like that," Travis Anderson said. "There was nothing covering either Bible to protect them and the temperature in that trailer was way over the 800 degree mark. You could see that from the damage the fire did. It sent a chill down my spine, I tell you."

Travis Anderson said his father asked the Jones if firemen could borrow one of the Bibles to let the men in the department get a good look at it. Other firemen in the department have similar stories about fires where all the pictures on walls in a room would burn except the religious ones, or about Bibles found in the rubble of other fires, he said.

"I've seen three or four like that, where the whole house would burn and the Bible would still be there."

Robert Anderson said.

Anderson said local citizens have been gathering clothing, household good and other items to help the Jones family. He said policemen in the town took up a collection to pay for a motel room for family members the first night after the fire.

Lexington school still no match for Rockets

Rock rolls over Dunbar again, 22-3

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rockets roared into Lexington Thursday night with one goal in mind—to beat the Dunbar Panthers and show the rest of the schools in the area once again that they are a class program in Ky's 2A division.

Thursday's 22-3 thrashing of the Panthers left little doubt as to the continued strength of the Rocket program.

Tom Larkey's kids totally dominated Dunbar on both sides of the football enroute to their second win this season and first ever in Fayette County.

"I'm proud of the way our players responded after losing to Southwest-ern last week, they could have tucked their heads and given up on this season, but they did just the opposite, they came out ready to play and they executed well," Larkey said.

The Rockets didn't waste any-time getting on the scoreboard taking the opening kick-off and driving 77 yards before quarterback Jamie Linville scored on a one yard run. The key play in the drive was a 39 yard completion on third down from Linville to Jason Childress. Childress caught two passes on the night for 47 yards.

The Rockets scored again at the beginning of the second quarter on a 66 yard drive that took only 11 plays. Sophomore Jon Cromer scored from the four yard line and senior tight end Donnie Eversole hauled in a Linville pass for the two point conversion.

Jason Cromer added the final exclamation point for the Rockets when he rambled in from four yards out with 1:30 left in the third period.

Dunbar's only score came in the second quarter when Joe Mike Anderson boosted a 39 yard field goal. "I thought coach Saylor had his defense very well prepared for what-ever the faster Dunbar threw at us," Larkey said.

"No doubt the Panthers were a faster team than us, but we were able to contain them most of the night," Larkey said.

"Our goal was to play ball control and keep the football away from them as much as possible and we were able to do that," he said.

Jason Cromer led the defense with nine tackles and assists combined, while Greg Mink had six tackles and a fumble recovery.

Besides hauling in two passes for his team, Jason Childress also picked off a Panther pass in the second quarter, while Dunbar was driving toward the goal line.

Junior Neil Sparks led the Rockets in rushing with his first 100 yard game. Sparks had 118 yards on just 12 carries.

Jon Cromer had 66 yards on 19 carries, while Jarrod Singleton had 36 yards on six carries and Dallas Rigby had 12 yards on one carry.

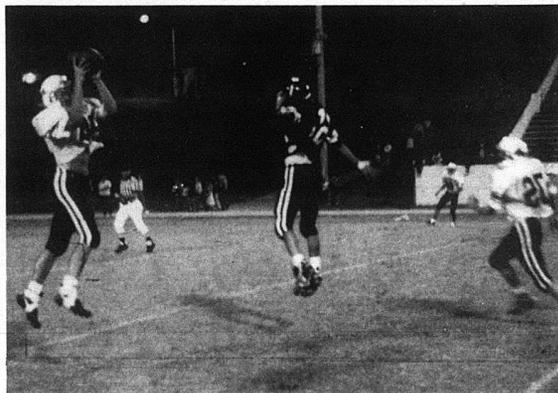

Besides Mink and Cromer, other Rockets making tackles included Donnie Eversole with six, Casey Blaney 4, Eddie Todd 3, Stacy Kirby 4, Jeremy Lane 3, Sparks 5, Saben Blair 3, Rigby 4 and Jason Weaver 1.

The Rockets play their second home game of the season this Friday night when they host Everts at 8 p.m.

The Rock rolled into Lexington Thursday night and defeated the Paul Laurence Dunbar Panthers, 22-3.

Rockets vs- Bulldogs

By: Preston Parrett
September 8, 1994

The Rockets journeyed to Lexington To play the Bulldogs of Dunbar. The Rockets were up for the game And their eyes were blazing fire When the Bulldogs strotted on the field They were licking their chops, And against the mighty Rockets They were going to pull out all the stops They were growling and snarling And they raised their shackles, But the powerful Rock defense shackles.

The Rock was followed By a huge traveling crowd, And the cheering that they did Was inspiring and loud The Rock cheerleaders were great In numbers about two dozen strong And they did acrobatic maneuvers As they cheered the whole game long.

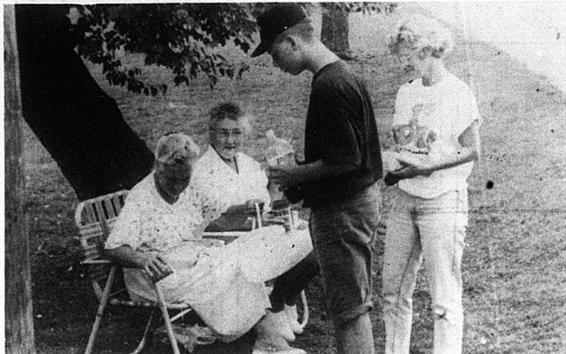

TD--TD--score a touchdown Was their battle cry, And Linville answered on a keeper Took it on the fly. The cheerleaders kept on cheering Score another TD was their call, And John Cromer took a hand-off Then went over the goal line with the ball.

A two point conversion attempt Was made by Eversole, Then everyone could see That the Rocks were on a roll. The scoring was not over The Rocks added another just for fun, When John Cromer scored On another great run. When the game was over The score was twenty-two to three, And the hard fighting Rocks Had, won another victory. Congrats to coaches, team, cheer-leaders and crowd The job that you do is great, And that's the reason why You're respected throughout the state.

Combined Final Notification and Finding of No Significant Environmental Impact

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development Administration (RDA) has received an application for financial assistance from the Western Rockcastle Water District, SA# KY930910-1103. The specific element of this proposed action is the construction of approximately 122,000 L.F. of 4" and 3" waterlines in various sections of western Rockcastle, eastern Lincoln and northern Pulaski Counties. RDA has assessed the potential environmental impacts of this proposed action and determined that the location of the proposed waterlines would impact the 100-year floodplain. It has been determined that there is no practicable alternative to avoid this impact. The basis of this determination is as follows:

- The floodplain will be impacted by the installation of the proposed waterline and the items of construction necessary to lay the line.
- The proposed water distribution system or portions thereof must be located within the floodplain in order to serve the proposed customers.
- The applicant will be required in the FmHA Letter of conditions to amend its by-laws whereby it will deny water service to any new customers planning to build in a floodplain.
- The proposed action conforms to applicable state and local floodplain protection standards.

RDA has also determined that the proposed action will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment and will not prepare an environmental impact statement. Any written comments regarding these determinations should be provided within 15 days of this publication to Mr. Thomas G. Fern, State Director, Farm Home Administration, 771 Corporate Drive, Suite 200, Lexington, Kentucky 40503-5477. FmHA will make no further decisions regarding this proposed action during this fifteen-day period. Requests to re-view the FmHA environmental assessment upon which this determination is based or to receive a copy of it should be directed to the FmHA District Office, 207 London Shopping Center, London, Kentucky 40741. Federal Law prohibits discrimination on the grounds of race, color, national origin, religion, age, handicap, and sex in this program.

REAP and state taking names for Christmas

If you are aware of a family in need this Christmas, or if your family is in need, please contact the Department of Social Services in the Scott Building on West Main Street, Mt. Vernon. Applications can be picked up and filled out from October 1 through November 1, 1994, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

All applications must be returned to the DSS office by the end of the day, November 1, 1994.

We cannot guarantee that everyone who fills out an application will be getting food and gifts, but we will give out by verified need. Any one who would like to make donations, or help can contact the DSS office at 256-2138, or REAP at 256-3217. If you are helping a family, please call and let us know so that we can avoid duplication. We found that one family received gifts from several churches last year and this is what we try to avoid. We get a copy of the CAP application list and each name is double checked on this list and we also work with PTA and many churches. It helps spread around the holiday spirit if we can avoid duplication and give to more families.

Holiday greetings sounded

The holiday season started early in Rockcastle's Ashlee Carter Homeless Shelter, Mt. Vernon, as the people there announced the start of their 1994 holiday greeting card sale, a fund raising project to help the homeless here and in the rest of the state of Kentucky.

Lu Ed Nielsen, program manager of the Ashlee Carter Homeless Shelter said proceeds from the greeting cards expected to be a major source of income for the shelter and for the Homeless and Housing Coalition of Kentucky, made up of some 200 organizations like Ashlee Carter Homeless Shelter. By purchasing the cards she said, people can express traditional holiday greetings to their friends and relatives and at the same time help fight homelessness in Rockcastle County.

Mrs. Nielsen said that many people think that America's homeless are only in large cities like New York or Chicago, but many thousands also are homeless throughout Kentucky. She said the greeting cards were designed by Kentucky artist Susan Fichner especially for the Housing and Homeless Coalition. Cards are priced at $15.50 for a pack of 25 cards and envelopes, plus $2.90 handling and shipping. All proceeds from the sale will go help the homeless in the coming year. She added that the Homeless and Housing Coalition hopes to make holiday greeting cards an annual fund raising project.

For information on how to purchase greeting cards, call the Ashlee Carter Homeless Shelter at 256-9599.

Unwanted clothes

R.E.A.P. again asks that clothing and other items not be left in the front of the building or on the premises. This is an eyesore to the community. The building has been sold and we will soon be moving to another location. We have no way to handle clothing. I cannot lift or take care of the things that are left.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Rockcastle Little League Picnic

Ronnie Brown, James Bradley and Rudy Burdette enjoyed Sunday's meal at the Rockcastle Middle School. Over 200 people attended the annual picnic in which 15 new board members were elected. They are John Hale, Cindy Anderkin, Richard Bray, Gary Gentry, Howard Saylor, Debbie Cash, David Riddle, Coy Taylor, Glen Roberts, Bobby Boring, Bear Bradley, Ronnie Brown, Rudy Burdette, Everett Harper, Linda Taylor.

Passing out trophies during Sunday's picnic was John Hale, who was also the leading vote-getter for the second straight year. Also in the photo is little Mary Saylor, Rockcastle County sports #1 fan.

No final payments on wheat, barley, oats

Since market-year prices on 1993-crop wheat, barley, and oats exceeded the basic loan rates for these crops, Hampton Henton, Jr., executive director of the Kentucky State ASCS Office said no increased deficiency payments, known as Findley payments, will be made.

The basic loan rates were $2.86 per bushel for wheat, $1.62 per bushel for barley, and $1.02 per bushel for oats. The national average prices received by producers from June 1993 through May 1994 were $3.26, $1.81, and $1.36 per bushel, respectively.

Henton said, "Findley payments are possible when the loan rate for a crop is reduced below the basic level to maintain domestic and export markets. However, Findley payments are earned only if the 12-month national weighted average market price is less than the basic loan rate," he explained. "This did not happen this year."

Rogers back veterans

U.S. Rep. Harold "Hal" Rogers voted today to provide $37.6 billion for the veterans of America.

The funding was part of the Veterans' Administration/Housing and Urban Development Appropriations bill, which passed overwhelmingly, 313-61. The bill is expected to pass the Senate and then go to President Clinton's desk for his signature.

Rogers, a member of the Appropriations Committee, said the bill includes a three-percent cost-of-living increase for veterans benefits. It also includes increased spending for veterans health care, life insurance benefits and VA facilities.

Overall, the legislation provides $16.6 billion for the Veterans Health Administration, $355 million for construction of VA facilities and more than $17.6 billion for compensation and pensions.

"Veterans have made great sacrifices for our country," Rogers said. "They put their lives on the line for us and deserve to be treated with a special status."

"I will continue my efforts to help veterans in every way possible," Rogers added. "America's veterans were there for America. I will always be there for them."

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I think both sides of the issue of the Livingston School should be known. There has been so much controversy over Livingston area children attending Mt. Vernon Elementary School that it has become a publicity issue instead of concern over our children.

Yes, we lost Livingston school, we lost the convenience of having our children close to their home. But this is all we have lost as far as the children are concerned.

The part that these people are leaving out is the positive qualities that we have gained.

1. Better quality education in a more controlled, modernized facility.

2. Honest teachers that have a real interest in the education of the children (some of these come from Livingston School).

3. Opportunities that could not be obtained until this move was completed. (Cont. to B3)

A principal that every child finds is always ready to help in any situation and always has a smile and a good word for them. And most importantly makes them feel wanted and welcome! Is this not what we want out of an educational institution for our children?

The group who is causing such a ruckus do not represent the parents at Livingston as a whole. A large percentage of us have happy well-adjusted children that like their "new school." They enjoy the atmosphere, the curriculum and the new friends they have met.

I would suggest parents visit their child's class and observe how they excel in the new surroundings. Maybe then the public comments of negativity will stop. This only serves to hurt the children and put unneeded doubts and fears in their heads.

The small group of people that continue to carry on with this negative demonstration do not represent all the parents who have children from Livingston, this group that is continuously in the news or on T.V. are a very small group and most do not have children in school or never attended school in Rockcastle County, so they do not represent us that do have children and are dealing with the real issue. Which is getting the best education for our children that we possibly can obtain.

This is the only concern not the personal feelings and grudges that are clouding the judgment of what is best for the children. Last year's misrepresentation by a small portion of the faculty at Livingston and members of the community and a member of the school board caused a lot of complications and again the only ones hurt were the children! Now in a more controlled environment these few people have no voice to further cause damage.

The transition has been alot smoother on the children than any one thought. They are very happy and have adjusted very well. I really don't think they would appreciate anyone disrupting the pace they now seem so content with. With all the petitions and news coverage why not poll the children. I think you will find that they are happy.

Most children from Livingston arrive home 20-25 minutes later than last year. Isn't this a small price to pay for the quality education they will receive? People should realize the real issue is that of the children and their safety, education and happiness. Stop fighting for something that only a very few people (adults) want. After all it's the children's education not your ideas that are important.

Tired of it all,
Sandi Nolan

Dear Editor,

A hypocrite with his mouth destroyed his neighbor" (Prov. 11:9). A man void of wisdom despises his neighbor, "but a righteous man will hold his peace" (Vs. 12) it is easy to assassinate someone's character by tearing down respect for our neighbor, our brother or sister. Sometimes we get "in practice" by doing it first to our enemies. We consider that to be fair game. It is not difficult to include a brother or a sister from there. Jesus experienced many attempts to assassinate his character. He was accused of associating with Publicans and sinners. He was labeled a winebibbler and a glutton. Shocking as it may seem, there was an element of truth in many of these accusations. Jesus did associate with sinners and Publicans in order that he might win them to God. While Jesus undoubtedly did not drink alcoholic beverages of any kind, he did attend the marriage feast of Cana. He was not a glutton, but he did say that there was temporarily no need to fast (Matt. 9:15). But getting at the real truth is not one of the concerns of the character assassin. And if they tried to assassinate Jesus' character, they will certainly try to assassinate yours and mine. Lawyers call it an ad hominem argument if you cannot find anything else wrong, then you go after the man himself. Webster defines character as "personality" "moral strength" "reputation." A good character is vital to the Saints of God, and to ministers in particular I believe one's ministry can be jeopardized, or even destroyed, if our character is impugned, and our respect is destroyed by clandestine character assassination through word of mouth. Usually, unless God or a true friend reveals it to you, Satan will attempt to keep you from hearing what the assassins are speaking about you. When enough stones have been hurled, the victims character is destroyed, and his reputation damaged. It is very difficult for a victim of character assassination to know what is going on until it is too late. He may begin to realize it when he notices a strange loss of contact with fellow "friends" and other ministers. People begin to look at him or her differently. They "know" something he does not. He does not comprehend the change of focus, too. It is difficult to ferret out character assassination because those involved are usually too cowardly to let the victim know he is being stoned, it is done behind his back.

My friend, things are not always what they seem to be! It is wise to be careful before we cast a stone at someone's character. Jesus commanded us to go to our brother over an offense (Matt. 18:15). That is vastly different from talking about our brother!

Your child's eyes

Going back to school places very different demands on your child's eyes than a summer of outdoor fun. Instead of bright sunlight and distance vision tasks, those young eyes will have to cope with indoor lighting that may be dim or glaring, close-vision reading and writing, blackboard work and frequent change of focus, too. If your child's vision up to the task? Don't count on the school's eye screening exams to detect developing problems. The limited eye-chart screening may occasionally spot a basic vision problem—but not the more subtle malfunctions that affect a child's ability to keep up.

Occasionally a parent may notice that their child blinks excessively, squints or rubs one or both eyes. Perhaps the head is tilted to one side. But in many cases, neither parents, teachers or the young child associate poor school performance and slowness in reading to visual problems. It's smart to schedule a complete professional eye examination early in the school year.

Clear Creek dedicates Asher Building

A long-time need for additional academic space at Clear Creek Baptist Bible College, Pineville, recently became a reality with the renovation of the former preschool center.

The Asher Building has two faculty offices, electronic piano lab, organ, organ and piano practice rooms, storage and work rooms, and a large classroom for music, speech, and preaching classes. Cox Interiors, Campbellsville, donated 12 raised panel doors used to complete interior walls. Frank and Martha Robinson, Cleveland, Tennessee, volunteered three weeks of labor on the interior finish. Floor tile was donated by Christian Appalachian Project through the efforts of Rysers Interior, London.

Other volunteer workers came from Northwest Association, Hernando, Mississippi; Bardston Baptist; Clinch Valley Association; Virginia; Bellview Baptist, Laurens, South Carolina and Campers on Mission from Indiana, Kentucky and Alabama.

The rehearsal/speech room was made possible by Tom and Peggy Prather, Louisville, Dan and Ruby Prather, Pigeon Forge, and their mother, Mrs. Sally Prather. Tom is chairman of trustees and Peggy was Clear Creek's first music teacher. An office was furnished by the Beverlys, in memory of his wife Barbara

"Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

Attorney James Lambert of Mt. Vernon, was recently recognized for his contributions to student housing at Clear Creek Baptist Bible College, Pineville. Lambert, a partner of Lambert & Lambert Law Offices, Mt. Vernon, gave the resources to build a student apartment at the college in memory of his wife, Ruth. Lambert is a member of First Baptist Church. Also pictured is Bro. Wendell Romans and former pastor of First Baptist Church, Bro. Raymond and Eula Lawrence.

Changes Can be Confusing

Last week The Herald Leader, Lexington's daily paper, had headline news of the closing of several K-Mart retail stores across Kentucky. This is one of the biggest retail chains in the state and will be sorely missed by an awful lot of people. K-Mart has been well known for its quality merchandise, courteous employees and "blue light specials." When the blue light began flickering in some remote corner of the store all customers would begin to rush or edge their way toward it for everyone knew it would be a special worth looking into if he/she needed the particular article being specialized.

If I remember correctly K-Mart is a spin off of the "Kresge Five and Dime store" which was also a favorite shopping place of people my age. This is where all the small things it took to make a home came from. And what would we have done without a Kresge Five and Dime store with all its affordable gadgets and trimmings when Christmas time came around? Now, just what is happening to cause this giant industry to begin shrinking and closing its doors?

Want to know what I think has happened? Too many changes are being made by new managers who think changing things about is called progress. Once when I complained about not being able to find something because of the change in the location of what I was searching for, I was told, "this is progress." So just maybe the so called "progress" is the cause of these closing doors and the resulting unemployment.

A few years back I could go into any store with a K-Mart sign on it and go directly to the area where I wanted to do my shopping and easily find anything I wanted. Everything was well marked and the price tag was legible and in plain view. Not any more. Now I need a directory to even find the department where women's clothes are sold and a deciphering code to be able to read the prices and sizes once I find it. Then the real fun, if one wants to call it fun, begins: that is the searching for sizes and price tags. Tri focal glasses don't help a bit when one has to peep under the shelf or on top of a high rack to find the price or size of garment. Then it is often in a code that is confusing, especially to some of us old timers who have been used to plain simple figures and dollar signs. One of the frustrating changes to me was when the lingerie department, once discretely tucked in the back corner were one could browse through it without embarrassment and trying on the garments in a nearby dressing room, was moved to the front aisle of the store or so it is in the Somerset store where there is no privacy in choosing one's personal under garments. And where timid customers, often slow and discreet, are shoved and pushed out of the way by more aggressive shoppers as they brazenly hold up to view shockingly brief bikinis or just as shocking bright colored drawers or bras, throw them in their baskets and whirl on to the next rack.

The headlines of today's paper was decisions and see to it you were happy with your choice. So much for a memory of the other way things were

Library News
By Geraldine Robbins

Fall seems to have slipped up on us but we are still enjoying beautiful weather. The days are still warm but the nights are cool enough for great sleeping without the air conditioner. Even though the leaves haven't changed color yet, the fall flowers are blooming beautifully, even the wild flowers. I have trouble remembering the names of wild flowers so when they start blooming I have to find a book to identify them.

I really enjoy fall but I can't keep from thinking of the winter that follows, especially since we had so much ice and snow last year. Hopefully we will all be better prepared this winter. Being without electricity for 10 days was an experience that I could have done without. This does help us appreciate the conveniences that we have, because most of us do take things for granted, myself included. As the weather get cooler and a lot of the outside activities are over, come in and visit with us at the library. We continually get new books, both fiction and non-fiction, that should be of interest to everyone. Also videos and audio tapes are available.

The Adult Reading Group will resume their monthly meetings Monday, Sept. 26 at 10:30 a.m. If you enjoy reading and discussing good books, I'm sure you would like to be a part of this group. Different types of books are discussed and everyone gets a chance to suggest a topic for a later meeting. Last spring the group visited the Joseph Beth Bookstore in Lexington. They had a great time looking at all the new books and making some selections.

We are also planning on starting the Craft Class again but we need to know if there are enough people interested. Betty has some new crafts that I especially would like to make and I'm sure that others would also. Please call and let us know of your interest and then the first date will be set. Library number is 256-2388.

The Rockcastle County Library Board of Trustees has a new member, Maud Randolph. Maud is a native of North Randolph and is married to Bill Randolph. We want to welcome her to the library board and I feel sure she will be a great asset to the library.

Three new novels now available are... 1. Daughter of the Stars by Phyllis Whitney... Lacey Elliot seems to have everything - looks, talent, and a thriving business - but there has always been a great deal missing from her life. For the past thirty years, her mother has stubbornly refused to discuss Lacey's absent father or to be alone in the world without any relatives.

While her mother is recovering from a debilitating illness, a letter arrives from a woman claiming to be Lacey's great aunt. Indeed the letter sets in motion events that cannot be stopped, for Lacey quickly learns the whereabouts of her mother's family, that her father was killed when she was very young, and that her aunt believes his killer has returned to walk among them once again.

Daughter of the Stars is a riveting novel of family bonds and the crimes committed for love.

We are much more than a long-term facility. Are you aware of the other services offered by your community hospital's Respiratory Care Department?

There are EEG (electroencephalograph) services for all ages. These tests allow a physician to detect any abnormalities in the brain waves. These tests are transmitted to Lexington where they are read by a neurologist.

Pulmonary Function testing is also available. This type of test helps determine if lung function is impaired and to what degree. Another use of these tests is to determine eligibility for Black Lung Benefits. You can also see the amount of improvement achieved after using a bronchodilator.

Stress testing is a very important step in evaluating cardiac function. The patient has lead wires hooked to electrodes placed at various spots on the chest. He/she will then be asked to walk on a treadmill while the technician and physician carefully monitor the function of the heart during the "stress" of walking.

These are just a few of the services offered by our fine hospital's Respiratory Care Department.

The Gratitude Attitude

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

A positive, appreciative attitude is basic to good mental health and all-around success. Though this may be common sense, it's confirmed by individual and family counselors who state that your attitude also can affect your physical health. Those who see the glass as half full rather than half empty are more than perpetual optimists. They also may be considerably healthier than their gloomier friends and co-workers.

Convincing evidence for this viewpoint comes from a series of studies which examined a large number of business executives and lawyers. Individuals who had positive attitudes and who looked upon stressful situations as challenges and opportunities stayed physically and emotionally healthier than those who did not have a positive attitude when faced with similar circumstances. They were more successful, too.

Long-term studies show that adults who are optimistic about their health maintain a much higher level of well-being than those whose outlook is negative. Research also shows that a positive attitude is an important factor in promoting recovery from surgery. In addition, studies show that peak performers in the business and sports worlds are successful because of their positive, optimistic outlook and expectations of success.

If you would like more information on the relationship between attitude and health, call the Extension Office at 256-2403 for a free copy of the Pub "The Gratitude Attitude."

Those management practices include tree planting, forest improvement, agroforestry establishment, maintenance and renovation, soil and

More specific information about the program can be obtained by contacting the local ASCS or SCS office or the district office of the Kentucky Division of Forestry.

Raven Winters has achieved her dream. Beautiful, savvy and smart, she is the best—the lawyer who brokers the multimillion-dollar deals that make the stars shine and the cameras roll. Yet behind the facade of success and power is the vulnerable little girl who grew up in a world of poverty and abuse that the woman can never forget or forgive.

With all the skill of a master storyteller, Katherine Stone has crafted a brilliant, deeply moving novel of real people—men and women risking change, daring to face the future, transforming the tragically, pain and heartache of the past into Happy Endings.

3... Debt of Honor by Tom Clancy... In this new novel, Jack Ryan faces his greatest challenge—against a peril that may become too real.

In retrospect, it would seem an odd way to start a war... The end of history. The new world order. Fine phrases, but as Jack Ryan is about to discover, history isn't dead yet—and only the nature of the threat is new.

On the Pacific island of Saipan, a wealthy Japanese businessman regards his new-bought land with satisfaction. In the Indian Ocean off Sri Lanka, a foreign navy begins a series of highly unusual exercises. At the headquarters of America's major stock-clearing corporations, an engineer brings a customized computer program on-line for the first time, and smiles at it on his own private joke. Three seemingly unrelated incidents, but all just the first links in a chain of events that will stun the world.

A new biography... Barbara Bush, Her Memoirs by Barbara Bush... Mrs. Bush is certainly among the most popular First Ladies ever to live in the White House. Politics aside, people worldwide have come to admire her wit, her candor and compassion, as well as her unwavering devotion to her husband and children.

In her memoir, Mrs. Bush for the first time gives readers a very private look at a life lived in the public eye for more than twenty-five years. She begins with a compelling portrait of her early years, including: growing up in Rye, New York, and meeting George Bush; Life as a young bride and mother, moving far away from home to West Texas; and the almost unbearable pain of losing a child.

This is a warm and funny memoir that will charm Mrs. Bush's millions of admirers and earn her many more. The titles of some other new, non-fiction are... 1. How To Get Every Penny You're Entitled To From Social Security; A Simple Guide That Cuts Through the Red Tape and Jargon... 2. You Don't Have To Put Up With Crime In Your Neighborhood. Whether you aren't concerned about car thefts or crack houses, this book will show you how you can put an end to crime in your community.

When to cut alfalfa for fall harvest

Growers should cut alfalfa stands before September 15 for the latest summer harvest.

September growth is often the most weed-free and highest quality alfalfa of the year, making a fall cutting very tempting. However, plants benefit from a rest period between September 15 and November 1. After making the last summer cutting, growers should not cut or graze until after the first hard freeze (less than 24 degrees), around November 1. Cutting alfalfa during the rest period of mid-September to early November could lower growth rates and first-cutting yields for next spring.

However, in some instances, growers can reduce the risks of damage or future yield reduction if they choose to cut during this "critical" period. Growers can decrease the chances of stand loss by cutting alfalfa between September 15 and November 1 if the stand has started to bloom. Also, alfalfa plants will tolerate cuttings if it has been 45 days since the last cutting was taken.

Risks are greater in conditions where stands are less than 1 year old or if the field has been stressed during the year due to weeds, insects, frequent cutting, or lack of proper fertilization. Varieties that lack multiple pest resistance also are at risk for stand loss.

To help prevent stand loss, additional potash can be applied. Not only does alfalfa use large amounts of potash, but also depends on potash for winter survival.

The need for high quality alfalfa cuttings may outweigh the risks indicated previously, but growers should realize it will never be wrong to rest alfalfa during the rest period (Sept. 15 - Nov. 1).

New program offers incentives to forest landowners

Landowners who want to improve their forests may be eligible for a cost-sharing program targeted at non-industrial forest owners.

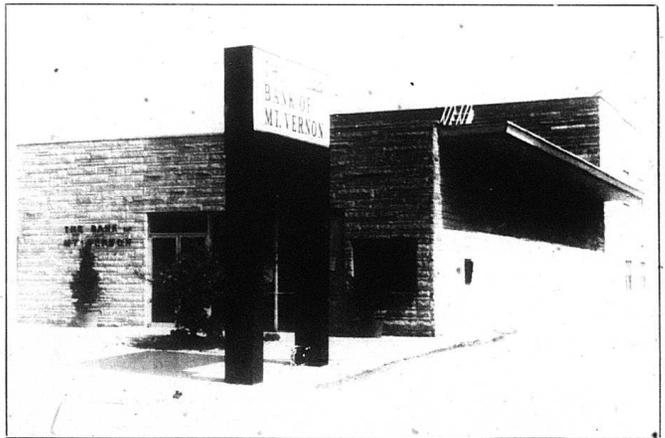

The program, called the Stewardship Incentive Program (SIP), reimburses landowners 75 percent of the cost of improving their forest stands provided their plans are approved by the Kentucky Division of Forestry, according to Don Graves, extension forester with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. To be eligible, a landowner must have at least 10 acres of land, but not more than 1,000 acres of non-industrial private forest. Owners with more than 1,000 acres may be eligible, if the director of the Division of Forestry determines that public benefits would occur.

Landowners also must have completed a Forest Stewardship Plan, which includes a series of recom-

PTA News

Attention parents and PTA members. It has come to our attention that the Rockcastle County School Board meets every second Tuesday of the month. So in order for everyone to have a chance to be at the board meetings and PTA meetings, we are moving the PTA meetings to every third Tuesday of the month.

Kentucky Kids Day/Week - Sept. 27-30
Kentucky Kids Day is a day set aside by the National PTA to honor the students, and to show them that each and everyone one of them are special. Each child is special in his/her own way, but too often we forget to tell them and too many children are not one to tell. So this year we have showcased the children at MVES just how special they are by having Kentucky Kids Week.

Thank you,
Event Bullock,
PTA president

Adventures of Mrs. Clark's Class (Aug. - 29-Sept. 2) By Alex Martin
I'm in Mrs. Clark's class and I think it has been an exciting week at MVES. This is my first year and I love Mt. Vernon School! I think I'll like it for the rest of the year.

This week in Mrs. Clark's class we have been doing lots and lots of stuff. Some of the stuff we have done is: Studied about living things and non-living things. I like studying about it! We have been studying about the world too. We have been doing math-matics and we drew out of the treasure chest! If you draw out of the treasure chest you have to have points from the color change chart and if you brought some of your homework in. We've been planning a trip to see "Lion King" and go to Richmond Mall. I think we're going to have a great time!

The last thing we did was read two books. One of the books was Slower Than the Rest and the other book was How Do Bees Get Their Beautiful Colors. I had fun this week and I think I will have fun for the rest of the year!

This Week in Mrs. Clark's Class
By: Bridgette Lear and Vanessa Childress (Sept. 6-9)
Thursday, we went to Richmond

Mall to see "The Lion King." The movie was very good. After we watched the movie, we came back to school. Mrs. Clark showed us how to draw a lion. Then we got to draw one of our own. We colored them and Mrs. Clark hung them out in the hall.

Today is Friday, we haven't done much today. First we did our spelling test, then later on we did a reading paper and wrote a little story, then we got to read until my class. After my class we got to write a story of what we did this week. We have had a great week!

This Week in Mrs. Cowan's Class
By: Maggie Phillips (Sept. 6-9)
These last few weeks in Mrs. Paula Cowan's 3rd grade class we have been studying about fairy tales. Many of the fairy tales we read are by Hans Christian Anderson and Grimm Brothers. Two fairy tales we read were Rumpelstiltskin, and the Frog Prince. We have made reports about the fairy tales in our fairy tale books.

In units, we have learned about family and friends. We made mobiles and we drew many pictures of our family and friends. We learned how important our world is. This week we had a lot of fun and look forward to reading fables.

Chips the Name
By: Maggie Phillips
My name is Chip and I am a squirrel. I am brown and I have a curly tail. I gathered so many nuts that I had to move into a bigger tree. In this tree I found a mate. I have five baby squirrels. There are two girls and three boys. Their names are Sarcia, Fluffy, Puffy, Crayla and Salem. They look the same as Pat and me. Pat is my mate, lucky for me I got all those nuts.

The kids are almost big enough take care of themselves.
Shhh! Kids, someone is coming with a dog! The dog smells Pat. Soon there is a loud bang! Then we all quickly ran into the emergency hole. Bang! Bang! Bark was falling off the tree. The shooting went on for 30 more minutes and then they left. It was midnight and we went to bed. It poured the rain last night and a few limbs caught on fire, but the rain put it out.

The next morning the sun was very bright and I had a great day!

Mr. Napier's 5th grade
Mr. Napier's fifth grade has had a terrific year at this school year. There are 23 wonderful students in this room. We start our day off with a slogan, "We're Super Great and Getting Better."

In reading, we started this year studying marvelous machines. We researched, read, and built our own models of marvelous machines.

Also we have a reading program called silent sustained reading. This program is successful in helping our students to read. Mrs. Lovell, our hard working librarian, Mrs. Lovell.

In math we jumped right into the KERA approach to teaching math. We have worked on applications using a prompt which ask the student to plan a party using a $25 budget. They used calculators, rulers, various models, figured tax, and did a lot of logical thinking. It's quite slower to use this method, but it seems to get the job done.

In Social Studies, we have studied North American Indians. We looked back 70,000 B.C. up to 1200 A.D. We reasoned how their lives during those times linked to our life now. We used a rubric to conduct our study.

In writing, we kicked off the year with the Great Mail Race. This is where each child chooses a state and attempts to make a connection with another fifth grader. We share things about us and hope they will return a letter to us with the same information about them. We also have a map on which we'll track our project. We have also started a piece on a personal narrative. During this piece we used mapping to get started, pre-writing, conferencing, and doing a final writing.

In Spelling we have been studying the j-sound. We have also been making connections to our other studies looking for words with j-sounds.

In the Discover skills for life, we have been studying ways to improve our self-esteem. We all felt we could use a dose of this study.
Our 10th grade at MVES will welcome Susan Running Deer Stephen, a Mohawk from Canada, as part of our study. We'll be talking about government, economics, and trying to compare our cultures. Susan's tribe now has only 2400 members.

Parents, please remind your children to get their work done in and out of the classroom. Remind your children to obey the rules and respect the right of others in the learning process. Your child is our hope for a brighter future.
Mr. Napier

The Time I Broke My Leg
By: Audrey

I was 4 when I broke my leg and I was in preschool! One day I was playing outside with my friends. And we got on a thing called a jumpline gym. I fell through one of the holes. And when I fell my leg, knee and when I bent my knee, my knee popped. Then the teacher said I was hurt and she was crying and she ran over to me. She picked me up. I screamed. She would not call the ambulance. My teacher called my mom and my mom said she could hear me crying in the back ground. My mom came and got me and took me to the hospital and I got to the Doc. And he checked out my leg. He said I would have to get a cast. He asked what color cast I wanted. I told him pink. He put it on me. After he put the cast on me he gave me a walker. Then he said come back in about 2 weeks, I said ok. Then he let me pick me out some stickers. Then we went home.

The Dark Subway
By: Austin Miller
In August I went to New York City. We parked our car in a parking garage and walked around for a while. And we found the nearest subway station. We went over to a booth and bought a token to put in one of those things like they have at amusement parks that count how many people ride it. If you lived in New York you could buy a card to run through it. Then we went and found where we were supposed to catch the subway.

It was real dark and scary. When it came by there was a huge puff of wind and it about blew me over. When we got on we rode it almost all the way. I was scared because I didn't know what was going to happen. While we were riding it stopped for a long time. Then on our way back I wasn't so scared. When we got off I was happy to get out.

Opening a new school certainly is a challenge. Response to our orientation was great. Approximately 1400 parents and students were here. This helped us successfully open the school year.

Parents, you are always welcome to visit the school. If you need to visit teachers, please check student schedules and visit during teacher planning time (students have P.E. or Exploratory Classes scheduled at that time). We look forward to working with you.

Minds in the Middle

(Positive remarks from 7th graders)

1. Like the middle school because it is much bigger than most other schools and we get a break and get to drink pop and eat a snack and talk to our friends.
2. The classrooms are much larger at our new middle school.
3. We like meeting new friends from the other schools.
4. We like our Exploratory classes, and we like the choices we have, French, music, art, life skills and we get to change each seven weeks.
5. We like our lunchroom menu better - we have a choice and it's good.
6. Our teachers are more fun to have, they talk to us and laugh with us.
