Tommy Makem and Odetta perform on KET

A legendary Irish folk singer is featured in a special performance entitled Tommy Makem in Concert with Special Guest Odetta. This performance, which airs on KET 9 p.m., Thursday March 23, brings together both old and new friends of Tommy Makem's in a performance taped before a live studio audience.

followed by two rows of six spots, and a forth row of two spots. The margins of the pronotum are white. They resemble Mexican bean beetles and squash beetles in general appearance, but have a different arrangement of spots. A small number of these beetles either have no spots or only traces of 4 to 6 spots on the wing covers. In Asia, this beetle occurs in at least 100 different color forms including black forms with orange spots.

This lady beetle may be a significant predator of some aphid and scale pests on trees. Whether or not it will aid in managing aphid and scale problems in orchards is not known.

The ladybug beetles congregate on homes in wooded areas in search of overwintering sites. They usually select the west or southwest side of buildings for initial congregation sites. The beetles usually move into leaf litter, underneath boards or logs, or other protected areas after the first frost as preferred overwintering sites. The problem occurs when they enter homes to overwinter.

As usual, prevention is the key to keeping this ladybug beetle from getting into homes and causing problems. Make certain that cracks along windows and doors are weatherstripped. Ventilation openings in attics should be screened or sealed as appropriate. We DO NOT RECOMMEND USING AN INSECTICIDE to kill these beetles. These are beneficial insects that we will need to depend on in the future. If they get into the house or attic, sweep them out. They do not bite or sting and can be handled safely. They can be swept away from around doors or windows if they are a nuisance. Usually a small vacuum cleaner can be the best tool to clean up the unwelcomed insects.

Kirby released on bond

A Rockcastle County man charged with murder, is free this week after he posted a $200,000 property bond on Monday.

Wally Junie Kirby, 37, of Chestnut Ridge is charged with the February slaying of his girlfriend Tracy Caudill, 22 of Orlando.

Kirby had previously been held on a $500,000 cash bond, but district judge Mike Henry lowered his bond at the request of Kirby's attorney.

Commonwealth Attorney Ray Carmichael said Tuesday that he would present evidence in the case to a Rockcastle County Grand Jury in April.

"I feel certain we will get an indictment in this case," Carmichael said.

"We did not seek an indictment against Kirby in March because we did not have enough time to gather all the evidence that we needed to present a rock solid case to the grand jury," Carmichael said.

Police first reported that Miss Caudill was shot in the face by Kirby, but after the autopsy, it was revealed that Miss Caudill was shot once in the back of the head.

The first of what will probably be many wrecks occurred at the new traffic light at the junction of U.S. 25 and U.S. 150 in Mt. Vernon on Wednesday morning. Mt. Vernon police officer Eddie Delaney said that Mrs. Deborah Lubbeck of Bee Lick turned into the path of a car driven by Kimberly Lovell of Mt. Vernon after the light changed to green. Delaney cautioned motorists to remember that thru traffic has the right of way at the light. The new light was put into operation on Monday.

Board declares Livingston School surplus property

Option given to DBC

The Rockcastle County Board of Education declared the Livingston School, surplus property and priced it at $42,125, during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

The board also granted a 90 day option to purchase to the Daniel Boone Development Council, a group that has applied for a $569,314 grant to purchase and improve the site.

Daniel Boone's plans called for assisted living apartments and a community center.

The board also reviewed their attendance zone policy and discussed possible changes in the policy that may have to be made to keep Mt. Vernon Elementary school from being overcrowded.

Board members, nor Superintendent Bige Towery, Jr., made any specific suggestions, but it was made clear that changes in the policy, which currently allows children from all areas of the county to attend Mt. Vernon, would probably have to be made.

The board is expected to arrive about 11:30 a.m. He will go to the second floor courtroom of the Judicial Annex.

The county clerk's work directly with high schools to inform students of the registration opportunity.

About 54,000 Kentuckians reach their 18th birthday annually, yet less than 3,000 are registered to vote. Kentucky law allows persons who will be 18 on or before the date of the November general election to register to vote and to vote in the preceding primary.

"There is a major myth still associated with voter registration," Babbage pointed out. "Many people still think that they will be chosen for jury duty if they register to vote."

The General Assembly in 1990 changed the law to state that jurors will be chosen from a combined list of persons over the age of 18 with valid drivers' licenses and voters.

Governor Jones here Friday

Kentucky Governor Brereton Jones is expected to announce Friday that a $1.6 million dollar water project for Rockcastle County is virtually a lock.

Officials, including Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlfortis won't say exactly why the governor is set to make his third visit in a year to Rockcastle County, but Carlfortis did say he thought everyone would be well pleased with what the governor has to say.

If the governor is bringing news of the water project, it would mean that another 350 homes in Rockcastle County would get water.

The project is being administered and constructed by the Rockcastle Water Association, which applied for a grant and loan last year.

Several local residents and the County Judge have made several trips to Frankfort to discuss the project.

The court will make county recommendations for the roads, but were told the state makes the final decision.

It was the longest agenda for the court since Judge Carlfortis has been court. But it moved along as the court reviewed the items. Several items were tabled until a special March 28 meeting.

Jack Cass of Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD) told the court bids on Industrial Park 2 should be taken by mid-April if the state finishes their review of bids. He estimated cost of the project at between $350,000 and $400,000.

The court signed a contract with CVADD to continue the commodity Food Program even though the county will only get food through April. The amount is $1,980 with a net increase of $1,355. The county usually get $625 a quarter.

The court signed an agreement with

160 sign up under new law

A total of 160 Rockcastle Counties have registered to vote in the first two months that registration opportunities have been expanded by the new "Motor Voter" law, according to Secretary of State Bob Babbage.

The public response so far has been much greater than we anticipated," Babbage commented. He said early expectations were for about 1,000 new registered voters per week, but the total comes closer to 1,000 per work day.

Persons can still register to vote at their county clerk's office. The new law expands registration opportunities to the circuit clerk's office, Medicaid offices, AFDC, foodstamp, WIC offices and military recruiting stations.

Additionally each high school has been sent information about allowing students to register to vote. Many county clerks work directly with high schools to inform students of the registration opportunity.

Summer road projects will cost $600,000

By Ray McClure

State Transportation Cabinet officials recommended four secondary road projects for the summer totaling $600,692 for Rockcastle County.

But the county's share will be only $291,820 out of the total.

Projects recommended in the Rural Secondary Program were:

Ky. 2549 (old Ky. 461) from .135 miles north of Ky. 461 to U.S. 150, a distance of 2.495 miles of bituminous resurfacing.

Ky 1912 (Brush Creek-Orlando-Climax Road) from Ky. 1787 to Ky. 2614 a distance of 2.529 miles of bituminous resurfacing.

Ky. 1912: Box Culvert over Brush Creek Road (extension).

Ky. 1004 (Brush Creek Road) from Poplar Gap Road to Ky 1955, a distance of 3.611 miles of bituminous resurfacing.

DOT keeps money out of the county allocation to maintain roads out of the original total. County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlfortis, like other judges in the state, will receive $3,862 for his expenses in connection with the project.

The court turned down a proposal from Sheriff Shirley Smith for a service fee of domestic violence orders. The court was told a service fee is unconstitutional.

The All American Club got a raise from the court from $125 a month to $200 a month to store the trash pickup program in the county. The club supervised pickup trash along roadways in the county.

The club picked up 104 bags of litter during February. The club spent a total of $84.50 for gas which the county pays during February.

A $150 claim against the county jail for lost clothing by Jamie Ramsey was rejected by the court.

County Attorney Jay Burdette brought draft copies of three ordinances to the court session. They were a 911 ordinance; a National Flood Insurance Ordinance and an investment policy ordinance.

The court tabled the ordinances until the special March 28 meeting. Judge Carlfortis took time out to thank persons for their help in clean-up in the 5th District recently.

Cleaned up were Brush Creek Springs and One Branch (lower end). Dumps were cleaned up by Rockcastle River Rebirth personnel under Jerry Waddell.

Others helping were inmates from the Rockcastle Jail. Community Service Workers who had not paid their fines, volunteers from Maple Grove, the All American Club and Judge Carlfortis.

Some March 31 the county may be out of a dog warden. Jon Gunning contract ran through that date. The court will discuss it March 28. The dog warden receives $425 a month and $100 for gas.

The court hired George Kirby for the County Road Department at $6.04 an hour.

Belcher indicted

A counselor with the Christian Appalachian Project has been indicted for apparently interfering with a guilty plea that Charlotte McClure of Brodhead was set to enter in Rockcastle Circuit Court two weeks ago.

McClure and her boyfriend Allen Charles also of Brodhead were indicted this year for involving minor children in sexual performances at McClure's Brodhead apartment.

Ray Carmichael, Commonwealth's Attorney for Rockcastle County, said this week that, Belcher is accused of giving Charlotte McClure legal advice during the course of her pending criminal charges on child pornography offenses. Specifically, Mr. Belcher instructed Ms. McClure to disregard her court appointed attorney's advice to plead guilty and terminate his services. Mr. Belcher acknowledged to McClure's attorney that he was aware of the strong evidence against Ms. McClure including the video tapes showing her conduct. Ms. McClure followed Mr. Belcher's advice on the morning she was to plead guilty in Circuit Court. Pulaski Circuit Judge Daniel J. Vanders immediately revoked Ms. McClure's bond. Mr. Belcher does not possess a law degree nor is he a licensed attorney in the state of Kentucky.

Mr. Belcher's bond was set at $5,000 cash or property pending arraignment in the Rockcastle District Court. Carmichael said that Mr. Belcher's misconduct in the prosecution of Ms. McClure demonstrated irresponsible behavior and will cause innocent children the trauma of having to testify in Circuit Court. The Commonwealth Attorney's Office is handling the prosecution of Mr. Belcher, who was to have surrendered to authorities this week and post bond. Belcher has not turned himself in as of yet.

Three indicted for promoting gambling at Derby City

Three persons were served warrants this week for promoting gambling at Derby City South Truck Stop in Mt. Vernon.

Owner Jim Mitchell was charged with seven counts and his wife, Evelyn, with six counts.

Eliza York was charged with seven counts of promoting gambling.

They posted $20,000 property bonds. In investigating the charges were Deputy Sheriffs Randall Reynolds and Darrell Doin.

All three were indicted by a Rockcastle County Grand Jury Friday. Arraignments set for 10 a.m. April 14.

Jackson jail fund depleted

From Jackson, and county officials are concerned that Rockcastle will follow suit with men.

Rockcastle Jailor Joe Howard could be reached for comment. His jail holds men charged in Jackson County with murder, first-degree burglary and fourth-degree drunken driving, among other crimes.

Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Tim Fee said he can't imagine not arresting men who are suspected of murder, appear to be driving drunk or have broken domestic-violence protection orders.

He probably will keep making such arrests, then call one of the county's district judges for advice about what to do with the men, he said.

After an arrest is made, a suspect can't be released without a judge's permission, Fee said.

It wasn't clear yesterday how the crisis would affect people sentenced to jail for misdemeanors. One local woman, for instance, pleaded guilty to third-degree criminal abuse after

Owes Rockcastle over $11,000

Smith said that magistrates or other employees could donate their pay to the county, but that the fiscal court could not force obligated officials to take a pay cut now.

Jackson County's magistrates each make $11,556 a year, plus $3,600 for expenses. Smith, the sheriff and the county clerk allow $44,048 apiece -- the maximum allowed by law.

Jackson County provides several services not required by state law, such as dispatching for ambulances fire departments and police. Treasurer Gabbard said the dispatching center costs the county $300,000 a year, but the city of McKee contributes $10,000 of that.

The fiscal court recently voted to take on another expense: $36,776 for a new ambulance, also not required by state law. About $19,000 of that will be covered by a state grant, Gabbard said.

A few weeks back my lemon Jeep was leaking oil from at least a dozen different spots. A drop here and another there along with some gushers that were developing around the valve covers, the filter holder, the sending unit and various other gaskets.

What I had was a big bunch of minor tributaries that converged at the bottom of the oil pan and then blew backwards in a fine spray that covered most of the underside of my truck. To say that my chassis was well-lubricated would grossly underestimate the situation.

It had gotten to the point that much of the oil was blowing back onto the exhaust system so that, after I had driven a few miles and got her warmed up real good, the muffler and tail pipe etc. would get the oil hot enough to start smoking. And I'm talking about smoke literally billowing from the front wheels back on both sides.

It finally got so bad that motorists would pull up behind me and begin flashing their lights and blowing their horns and motioning for me to pull over. I would do so and stick my head out the window so that they could yell and tell me that I was on fire.

The leaks were so bad and so varied that three different garages told me that the only way they would tackle fixing them would involve pulling the motor. A couple of them suggested I might be better off just buying a new one. Repair estimates ranged from $400 to more than $1,000. Then my fuel pump started leaking which meant gas was mixing with all that oil and I started worrying that the lemon might, in fact, catch on fire. I finally came to grips with the fact that I either had to park her or get her fixed.

Anyway, I was muttering and cursing to the folks I buy gas from at Happy Landing Chevron about never ever owning a Jeep again and how garages wanted $40 an hour and all that when someone asked if I had talked to Dave Maggard. One of the proprietors pointed to a little advertisement Ole Dave had penned on an index card and tacked on the bulletin board. The card simply stated a list of certifications indicating that Dave was "Master certified" to work on about anything, that he charged "reasonable rates" and it listed a Paint Lick phone number which I will share with you shortly.

A little bit later I stopped in at Uncle Tom's Grocery in Paint Lick where Tom Clark informed that Dave was, indeed, "good" and he worked "cheap." And those are my two favorite adjectives when situations arise wherein I have to part with money.

I called the number when I got home and Dave's wife answered the phone at home. She told me Mr. Maggard was at the garage which is located on the Old Railroad Grade which is Paint Lick's alternative to a larger city's Broadway. To keep overhead down, Dave doesn't have a phone in the garage. And everyone knows you can't get any real work done if you have to keep answering the phone. Mrs. Maggard said that she'd have Dave call me back when he got home and she figured that would be "just a little after 9 p.m."

As it turns out Dave goes to work at daylight and quits in the garage about

The deepest snow that we've had this year came last week. When we went to bed there was nothing to warn us that we would have a heavy cover of white the next morning.

The countryside was paralyzed and traffic came to a standstill.

The only ones to be happy were the kids who didn't have to go to school and went out to play in the deep white stuff.

I spent time feeding the birds. We had failed to put any feed in their feeders so they came in bunches and sat in the vines on the porch letting us know we had failed to do our work. Now on Monday, March 13th the weather is warm and springlike. I feel like putting a lettuce bed with green onions around it under canvas.

Arthur Davidson, a neighbor, gave John two of the largest turnips I've ever seen. He said to fry them just as you would potatoes. Made a good dish when other foods got scarce. We've already eaten the parsnips, cabbage and other food we had put up in the garden. I don't have an outdoor cat house so I saw Ruth Abney come out from carrying a jar. I thought it was canned meat such as ribs, sausage, or back bones as we folks in the hills used to do. It was tomato juice.

Coming from Clear Creek up Davis Branch Road we decided to stop at Candy Ramsey's house but she only opened the door a crack and said she hardly had time to talk to me as she was cleaning house.

I understood that and asked her, "What are you doing now since you quit the drycleaners job down by Superior Market?"

"Oh, I'm working now at Churchill Weavers," she said, so I left her.

In Anglin Falls country, I met Marie Venable outside of the house making over rough places where cars had backed up off the road.

I asked if she was living by herself and she said, "Oh, no. My daughter Eva Jean Brown, and her two sons moved in with me so I'm not so lonesome now."

About that time a pickup truck drove up and I met the two grandsons, John and Brian Brown carrying a load of rods, reels, bucks and other fishing gear but the usual tale they told that they had not caught any fish, I expected.

Brian stayed outside with us while John went into the rustic house where everything was modern.

I asked Brian the usual question that I asked young folks, "Do you have a love life?"

It didn't bother him a bit and he knelt down to scratch a dog's ear as he answered, "Well, I used to have one!" and went to play basketball with his brother John.

Are you doing any handwork this winter? I asked Marie.

"No, not now. Seems all I do is wash and keep the washer going," she laughed, "but they, and my daughter Eva are so much company I don't mind."

Eva and the son, Ray Cobb who is here visiting from Wisconsin, had gone with some others to do repair work on the Fellowship Church on the road toward Mt. Vernon going from Berea.

Marie has her membership there and is faithful to the church.

Chris Cobb in the truck with the boys is the son of James Cobb and is a grandson of Marie.

She said she cooked beans and potatoes mostly every day when I asked her what they ate on when they couldn't run to the store often.

Across a stream was a nice new house built by Robert Clark who lives there with his four school age children.

You know one child will bring another to their home so there was plenty of noise and playing by young kids. Marie had a circle of Crocus, spring flowers of different colors, blooming in her yard so spring is just around the corner.

Robert works at Berea and the kids ride the schoolbus which confines almost to their door.

Rockcastle makes sure all the kids get a chance at a good education.

Harriet Neesley has been in the hospital at Berea from a heart attack but is home and feeling better.

I went down to Southern States Farm Store at Berea with John and he left me to sit in the truck.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and geriatrics from the Straits of Wadd, birthplace of the ubiquitous Ezra Q. Shunmutter, world-renowned cartographer, and a part-time maker of maps, who in a lecture delivered to the Spiritan Actors Guild in the spring of '53, said, "Friends, humility is like underwear. We should have it - but not let it show."

Speaking of Spiro, have you heard? A Wadd-Spiro border-dispute is in the making - and word has it that a passel of Level Greenarians are close to throwing their hats into the fracas. Keeping reading this column for updates on this highly volatile situation.

Well I was wrong about the church of which I am a erratic member putting my sweetie and me in the BAPTIST BULLETIN OF BOLDLY BAD BACKSLIDERS for attending a "NIGHT ARTIST" church service of Sundays ago. WE WERE REALLY WORRIED! I, however, being the one who took of our waywardness in this very column, was called on the carpet by the Board of Deacons and warned not to let it happen again. In addition, to being "listed," I would be locked in the churchyard stocks for forty days and forty nights and lashed thirty-nine times diurnally with a long, wet noodle, by the light of the silvery moon, AND... should I commit ecumenism a third time, they adjured, I would be sentenced to serve two-score and five years as a church curch - and report every fortnight to a five-woman board of fundamentalists!

As soon as I got off the carpet, I telephoned my son, Mike, and told him that if he has anymore kids Nancy and I will not be able to attend their baptisms. So, hearing that, he and Terri, immediately decided not to further propagate the race.

But you, dear hearts, while the deacons' censure struck fear in my left ventricle, there was a sense in which I relished their admonition. Let me explain.

Being "called on the carpet" is a practice that harks back to the days of the early church, namely, the First Baptist Church in Jerusalem, which summoned the Apostle Paul to appear and explain his unorthodox habit of organizing churches which were composed predominantly of "the uncircumcised" - and, worse still, accepted Gentiles without doing a background check AND allowed Lewis Linville from Flat Gap Road came out and started talking to me about an old check that he had when my dad, O.M. Payne, had paid his three month telephone bill for about $1.50. Lewis' father or grandfather owned up books on the rural line a long time ago.

I sure wish my phone bill now could be that small instead of in the $60's or $70's as ours is.

Preston Seals came out of the store to have Kay see the doctor about her dog Buster tied in the truck who knew me and he was so friendly.

There is a saying that if dogs and children seem to like you then you are an "all right kind of person."

Preston was talking of his new grandson who is about three weeks old. I said, "I hear you are a new grandpa, that makes you get old!" He said he didn't mind that.

Cleve Payne made a flying trip to Mt. Vernon one day last week. It seems he needed a hair cut and had to get tobacco insurance which all farmers must take out if they raise tobacco.

John has stopped raising tobacco. He had a lot left over one year so he made twists of them and gave to friends.

Kaye Abney is mad at John and her husband Lee. She can't get a kiss off Lee now if he chews the twist John gave him. Kaye ought to sue John I told her for giving the tobacco to Lee. Lee doesn't mind what they do. He happily chews on and then sings beautiful songs at church as he did last Sunday when I went.

"I'll declare, that man has a voice that I wonder if I could box it up and sell.

Lura and Kay Clark had been to Berea just before, we went over there, to have Kay see the doctor about her eyes which had been operated on.

John has been working on a roof of a house when he fell through from the roof on down through the ceiling. He was so battered and skinned up that I told him, "people will think you have been talking back to me again." The way I joke him.

When we went to pay our sewer bill it was at a new location. While there, we ran into David Hale and Larry Phillips doing some outside work on it.

David had a lulu of a hat. I asked if John could borrow it to go to church. David said it was his fishing hat and he wouldn't loan it.

three hours after dark. Then he comes home, returns telephone calls for another couple of hours and schedules you in for whatever repairs you may require on your favorite kemon. Somewhere between midnight and 6 a.m. he sleeps awhile.

It was about 10 p.m. when he got back to me and I spent about fifteen minutes giving him a run-down of what was wrong with my truck. Dave instructed me to go to a parts store and buy a fuel pump and various gaskets and to "bring her on in."

"How much will be all this gonna cost me?" I inquired.

"Parts ought to be around $35 or $40," he reckoned, "and I'll probably have to charge you around $70 for the labor."

I went to the bedroom and woke Loretta up to tell her that I thought I could get the lemon fixed for about $100 and she wanted to know what I'd been drinking before she rolled back over and commenced giggling.

To make a longer story short, I now can't park my truck overnight and there won't be a single oil spot where she sat when I pull away. Nor do I look like a brushfire going down the highway. My gasoline mpg has nearly doubled and she'll start up and idle in cold weather which she would never do before in the six-year history of my ownership. Other mechanics have always insisted that the lemon Jeep was simply "cold-natured." Dave found and fixed a problem with the choke so that now I can run out and fire her up and then come back to the house for a cup of coffee while the heater does its thing. In the past I've always had to sit and shiver for five minutes with my right foot teasing the gas pedal. Now it's almost like having a real vehicle.

I spent $31.87 on parts and when I went to pay Dave he wanted to know if $45 sounded too high!!!! I made him take $60 and I still feel gully.

Dave Maggard is not only the cheapest mechanic I've ever run across; he is also the best. I don't know how or why he can perform his house for so economically but he would be a bargain even if he tripled his rates. And I honestly believe that if Dave Maggard can't fix it, there's no use in going anywhere else.

His telephone number is 606-925-4402 and if you live within driving distance of Paint Lick it would pay you to make his acquaintance. Keep trying if you don't get an answer the first time you call. If you don't live within easy reach of Paint Lick and you know somebody like old Dave who can fix anything and do it reasonably, please let me know because secrets like Dave are way too good to keep to ourselves.

them full voting privileges at their business meetings, which were always held on the third Wednesday after the second Sunday of each month.

Now, according to Quo Ragibus Vadit Tapistestrum, a quite reputable and well-preserved codex, housed in the Southern Baptist Vatican of Antiquities in Nashville, the beloved apostle, while making defense, perambulated hither and thither on a four squared level-loop, camel hair carpet donated to FBC of Jerusalem by Justus Cohen, who served as that congregation's Chairman of Deacons until 70 A.D. (The exact dimensions of the carpet are nowhere stated, but in all probability it was seven by seven feet, which was, and still is, perfect for perambulating.)

For your edification, dearly beloved, let me note that "Quo Ragibus Vadit" is a historical work WONT to call the codex - DONT it KING JAMES' word! And some folk call me a liberal! - was written by the prolific and venerable, Baptist church historian, Estill of Eusebius (you-SEE-bee-us), who flourished circa 325 A.D. and was also in his prime about that time. Estill, of course, is best known by Baptist for his voluminous Codex Juris Canonici, a "what-to-do" and "who-to-do-it-to" compendium of Baptist church law. And his Manual for Southern Baptist Church Growth is the first port of call guide for church planting and gardening.

As you well know, ole Brother Paul stood his carpet very well while being grilled to the nub degree by "The FBC Council," which included James, Pastor of FBC, the seven deacons of the church, and the Apostle Peter, who seems to have been a Southern Baptist Home Mission Board evangelist working in liaison with the First Church. Eventually, after several heated luries of inquiry, Peter beat and told Paul to go to the Gentiles.

Now, according to Estill (ES-tul), the deacons of FBC, Jerusalem so savored their role in the inquisition of Paul that they voted to summons, at least once a month, someone who contained liberal notions or had been seen in public with known liberals, like those left-leaning Galileans ex-ceptives to FBC when their companies transferred them to jobs in Jerusalem. The deacons of FBC felt that putting at least one liberal a month on the carpet, the very same carpet upon which Paul had circumlocuted, would protect the church and sharpen their ecclesiastical warfare skills in the on-going battle with Jerusalem modernists who had no respect for the old-time religion and the King James Version of the Bible.

So, respected readers of Heresay, you now know that "calling on the carpet" commenced in a Baptist church. And since that day in Jerusalem, multitudes have been "on the carpet." Space, so graciously allotted by the Editor of Signal, allows me to mention only a few, most of whom you will readily recognize - Arius of Nabatae, Clys of Istanbul, Luther of Saxony, Joan of Arc (A WOMAN!) Alfred of Erlanger, Bardot of Bridgette (author of And God Created A WOMAN!), and NOW ...

John of Wabell
And FINALLY, precious souls, you see why I found some pleasure in being called ON THE CARPET. Why ... I WAS TREADING WHERE THE SAINTS HAVE TROD!

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to Mr. Don McKibben's letter in last month's Signal. Mr. McKibben was challenging a letter from Marsha Garland in which she praised the clarity of the "New catechism of the Catholic Church." I have a serious problem with some of Mr. McKibben's statements in that letter.

I quote; "How foolish it is for Catholics... to say that God did not give a book (the Bible) that could be understood and reach everyone!" Mr. McKibben I can assure you that no true member of the Catholic church, who is founded on Scriptural truths, and has a lived faith tradition of almost 2,000 years, has ever made such a statement.

You claim that; "One book is from men... one from God, I hope that all may receive the book from God." Every true member of the Catholic church would agree with that statement completely. We would, however, also realize that the Catechism speaks of the lived experiences of millions of faithful Christians (some gone to glory now) which can help any of us live more Christian lives. Mr. McKibben says "... Catholic friends... are not in... rebellion and dissent from authentic Bible authority that comes from Christ." On the contrary, we have never been grounded in anything but that authority. How else could we exist?

"I ask which of... the Catholic doctrines... would you like to have... shown to be true... so that you... will gladly accept them?" The primacy of God? The Sonship of Jesus? The power of the Holy Spirit at work in the faithful? Our salvation won through Christ's life-giving death and resurrection? Surely you do not reject these, most basic of Catholic doctrines.

As for your hope that "... the Catholic church will end today and folks will only stand for truth." I can only say that we in the Catholic church have stood for the truth of Jesus—as revealed in scripture and lived faith experience—for almost 2,000 years now. What else could we do and still be called disciples of Jesus, the only Son of the Living God? I don't think we will end today (or at any time in the near future), so how about you, and I, and all of us get busy doing the work of Christ and let's stop tearing apart Christ's body with false statements and accusations.

Pine Hill Holiness Church is growing in spirit as well as number. Sunday School attendance for Pentecostals in this area has been rather low in the past but is growing. Our evening services are always great on Sunday night. God is blessing us even on Sunday mornings now. This past Sunday morning there were 130 in attendance and we have room for plenty more. Pine Hill Church is big enough to accommodate the people yet small enough to care. Worship with us this Thursday night at 7:30 and hear Sister Sugar Klette from North Bend, Ohio as she ministers to us in song and word.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Rev. Harvey Penrod filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with very good attendance. For the past couple of Sundays our Sunday School attendance has been one hundred and one (101). Our attendance has been down for the past few months, but thank the good Lord it has now begun to pick up some.

We had our biggest snow of the season last week (there on scaffold Cane we got around 4 1/2 - 5 inches) It is hard to get an accurate measurement as the blowing winds cause drifts. But all in all the 1994-95 winter season has been very mild. I wish more people could appreciate the great blessings God gives us. Children need loving Christian parents to bring them up in Sunday School and church. But we are living in a world today (not like it used to be) where it seems like people are thinking only of themselves. There is too much greed, selfishness, jealousy, and other evil things in the world today - but not enough love of God and our fellowman.

Our building program at our church is nearly finished maybe by the end of this week we will be back to normal, and we are so thankful.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Gabbard and daughter Gail Lee recently spent a few days in Gallatinburg, Tenn. celebrating Gail Lee's birthday. Gail is such a sweet girl and we all love her and wish her many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander of Brodhead recently visited his brother Eugene Alexander and wife Hallie near Fairview.

I'd like to congratulate my nephew Gary Reppert and his wife on their 20th wedding anniversary which was February 15th. Their picture in the Signal was real good. I hope they have many more good years together.

So all love them.

We had as visitors in our home on Saturday afternoon Wayne and Carolyn Chasteen and a little granddaughter, Darryl and Kim Chasteen and infant son, all of Berea and Mrs. Myrtle Adams of Wildie and daughter Phyllis Voe of Richmond.

We have recently talked to Mrs. Rose Finwell, and Allan and Mary Ann Williams of Berea, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rose of near Fairview and James Lambert of Mt. Vernon. They are all good friends and enjoy my column in the Signal.

We have recently lost more friends and extend our sympathy to the families of Mrs. Mary Lacey Croucher and Mr. Chester Richmond, both of Berea and Dick Rucker. We will all miss Mr. Rucker, he lived close and talked to us a lot on the phone. May God comfort the loved ones.

Mrs. Shorrie Isaacs and Mrs. Hallie Alexander visited in the home of Mrs. Shirley McCowan in Corbin last Thursday. Mrs. McCowan is Mrs. Isaacs' great aunt and her great-grandmother. Mrs. Williams also lives with Mrs. McCowan.

Mrs. Dorothy Potter formerly of Snider has spent some time in Florida with her son, but recently came back here and is spending some time with her sister-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hunsucker. She is planning to return home to Ohio.

Please remember church and Sunday School. We are having beautiful

FHA sponsors blood drive

By Angie Parsons

On March 22 the Future Homemakers of America will be holding its annual blood drive in cooperation with the Central Kentucky Blood Center.

In desperate need of blood, the Center urges anyone who is eligible to donate.

In the past, the Harry Sparks Vocational School has been the sight for the drive.

However, because of the location of the new school, the blood drive will be held in the weight room here at RCHS.

It will begin at 9 a.m. and last until 2 p.m.

To donate, a student must be 17 years of age or older and have a valid driver's license or other form of identification.

A student must also sign up in the Home Economics Department for a scheduled time prior to the drive.

The entire process of donating blood from the screening to the rest period afterwards takes around thirty minutes.

After donating, the student will receive refreshments and a free Central Kentucky Blood Center ice shirt. Please donate your time and blood to a worthy cause.

For more information, contact a teacher in the Home Economics Department.

Ballinger attends conference

Southeast Region VICA president, Kenneth Ballinger recently attended the Kentucky Leadership Training Institute in Owensboro. The conference which ran from Sunday through Wednesday included four days of vigorous leadership activities. Kenneth was required to memorize many items from the VICA manual such as motto, pledge, creed, purpose, emblem, opening and closing ceremony, state officers and corporate structure among others. KLTI is designed for the officers of the six Kentucky Vocational Education Regions, to allow them the opportunities to grow into better leaders. He participated in parliamentary procedure training, presentation skills, patriotic salute contest, community construction contest and developing a professional development plan. While there he attended a field trip to GE Industrial Motors in Owensboro, which allowed him to see one of the largest electric motor plants in the world. The tour took in the complete building of motors up to 400 hp from stamping of the steel to wiring of the finished product.

For his efforts in completing all his duties at KLTI, Kenneth received the Kentucky Statesman Award. Statesman is the highest award given at the state level and only about 40 people per year receive this award. Kenneth is a senior welding student at Harry Sparks Area Vocational Education Center. He was accompanied on the trip by Ralph Baker welding instructor and VICA adviser. Mr. Baker also completed all requirements and received the KY Statesman degree.

RCHS teacher helping develop science portfolio assessment of the future

by Brian Sizemore
 Ms. Cindy Witt, biology teacher at Rockcastle County High School was chosen as one of five teachers in the state helping with the piloting of science portfolios. This project is being developed by the State Coalition for Assessment and Student Standards and the Council of Chief State School Officers.

Ms. Witt took samples of work submitted by first semester science students to a meeting she attended in Iowa City, February 13 and 14.

These samples of student work were read and then scored according to a scoring guide developed by teachers and state science consultants.

Ms. Witt was the only teacher from Kentucky traveling to Iowa. Kentucky is one of 13 states participating in developing new science assessment.

The portfolio is one part of the project which also includes open-response models, performance events, and extended time performance tasks.

The portfolios will consist of four pieces including experimental research (similar to a science fair project), a non-experimental research (library research paper), a writing expression piece, and an open format piece. This piece can be in any format including video, paintings, sculptures, poetry and other various forms.

During the spring semester at RCHS, students will turn in a finished portfolio which will be scored by Ms. Witt. The portfolios will then be sent to Iowa City, Iowa where they will be scored by ACT (American College Testing) scorers.

Sometimes in the future, science portfolios may be required of all students, so Ms. Witt's classes will have a head start. Also pieces from science portfolios can now be used as pieces in a student's writing or math portfolio.

Representatives of Cumberland College are shown helping college-bound seniors and their parents with financial aid forms at the Financial Aid Workshop sponsored by the Guidance Department at RCHS.

The "poet laureates" of Rockcastle County High School, Preston Farrett, is shown presenting Jeannette Martin and Phillip Seale a framed poem he wrote for each of them. The poems each focus on the perseverance and extra effort each one has put forth.

"Board of Education"

made at a later board meeting.

In other business the board authorized a request be submitted to the Kentucky Department of Education asking for the two days missed last October due to a chemical spill on 1-75, be declared as disaster days. Superintendent Towery told the board that state department officials had indicated to him that the days would be granted.

G.E.D. certificates were approved for James L. Mink, Marty J. Poynter and Patricia A. Townsend and CPA Joseph B. Clonitz was awarded the bid for the fiscal year 1995 audit of the school system's finances.

Pro Gun activist receives award

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms is pleased to announce that Carl E. Payne of Mt. Vernon has been selected to receive a Citizen of the Year Award.

Payne has been selected to receive this Citizen of the Year Award because of a dedication to the efforts to preserve the right of the people to keep and bear arms as guaranteed by the Second Amendment to the United States Constitution according to Committee officials.

"If it weren't for people like Carl E. Payne, our Constitutional rights would have been eroded years ago," stated Alan Gottlieb, Chairman of the Citizens Committee.

Criteria for selection of the Citizen of the Year award is based upon the activities of individual members. Such as being active in local, state and national gun rights issues, by writing editors of newspapers, contacting elected officials or appearing for public testimony. It is not necessary that individuals meet all the criteria.

The Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms is a national organization with nearly 500,000 members as well as more than 130 members of Congress serving on their National Advisory Council.

Rockcastle County residents benefit from and contribute to heart and lung center

The Jewish Hospital Heart and Lung Center is one of the nation's few free-standing medical facilities devoted exclusively to heart and lung care. The center, which will open in April, has a close connection to Rockcastle County.

Last year, 14 Rockcastle County residents had heart procedures performed at Louisville's Jewish Hospital, which ranks as the nation's 16th largest open heart surgery center-out of 850 open heart surgery programs nationwide. Now, Rockcastle County residents can receive world-class care close to home. In fact, Rockcastle and other counties outside of Louisville/Jefferson county accounted for more than 2,227 (36 percent) of the 6,134 patients who received heart and lung care at Jewish hospital last year.

Cardiovascular disease is the #1 killer in the U.S., killing 27 people each day in Kentucky alone. Jewish Hospital is committed to making major advancements in treating heart and lung disease. According to Henry Wagner, president of Jewish Hospital HealthCare Services, Jewish Hospital's recovery rate exceeds national averages.

"We visited with the medical teams at other prominent heart and lung centers and brought into our facility the best of what we observed, greatly streamlining patient care while ensuring the very highest quality," said Gerald Tenes, M.D., chairman of the Jewish Hospital Heart and Lung Institute.

Through the affiliation with the University of Louisville School of Medicine, many of the region's heart and lung care "firsts" were performed in Kentucky at Jewish Hospital. Together they have also trained many of the physicians who now practice throughout Kentucky.

"No longer will the residents of this region have to travel out-of-state to receive the services and technology available only at the top cardiovascular and pulmonary facilities in the world. The Jewish Hospital Heart and Lung Center is setting a higher standard of excellence. We are committed to this region and plan to stay," said Wagner.

The new Jewish Hospital Heart and Lung Center, located in the Louisville Medical Center, will open its doors to the region in early April. Pictured: technicians install monitoring equipment in the open heart recovery area.

Varsity Division to play at Middlesboro Saturday Junior Pro 7-and-8-year-olds finish second in local tourney

The Rockcastle County Junior Pro Basketball League played host Saturday, February 4th to a one-day, double elimination Training Division All-Star Tournament at Brodhead Elementary School. The tournament was for 7 and 8 year olds, and featured the Rockcastle County All-Stars, Garrard County All-Stars, and two Lexington All-Star teams. A very strong Garrard Co. team captured the Tournament Championship, while Rockcastle County's own young All-Stars finished as runners-up. The members of the Rockcastle Junior Pro Training Division All-Star Team were: Colby Brown, Jarrod Burdette, Brandon Reams, Mikah Reams, Blake Roberts, Max Saylor, Matthew Silcox and Nicholas Williams. The team was coached by David Riddle and Howard Saylor. Rockcastle Junior Pro would like to thank these fine young men and their coaches for a job very well done. Rockcastle Junior Pro would also like to thank everyone who donated their time and effort in making this tournament a great success; your effort was deeply appreciated. Summaries of the games played by the Rockcastle All-Stars in this tourney are as follows:

Rockcastle Co. 26 Lexington Mary Todd #1 12
Neither team came out nervous or tight in the early morning tournament opener. Despite their young age, both teams executed well early and wasted no time putting points on the scoreboard, as at the end of the 1st quarter it was a near stand-off with Lexington up 10-9. Over the next two quarters, defense was the key as the Rockcastle All-Stars swarmed all over the Lexington All-Stars, shutting them down and holding them scoreless. In this game, Colby Brown and Jarrod Burdette led Rockcastle in scoring with 9 and 8 points respectively. Matthew Silcox and Nicholas Williams fired in 6 points each. Blake Roberts scored 1 point, while Max Saylor and Brandon and Mikah Reams each added hustling defense and spark.

Game 2
Garrard Co. 32 Rockcastle Co. 23
In a preview of the eventual championship game, Rockcastle knocked heads for the first time of the day with the Garrard Co. All-Stars. The effort and heart shown by the young Rockcastle All-Stars was a sight to behold, but the tough Garrard Co. team, which already had several tournament appearances under their belt, stretched out the victory with a strong fourth quarter rally that saw them outscore Rockcastle 14-4. Until the fourth quarter, it had been nip and tuck. The teams were tied at the ends of the first and second quarters, and Rockcastle held a one point edge after the 3rd quarter. Rockcastle featured a very balanced scoring attack in this contest. Colby Brown and Jarrod Burdette led the way with 6 points apiece, while Blake Roberts and Matthew Silcox hit for 4 each. Max Saylor scored 2, while Mikah Reams connected for 1. Brandon Reams and Nicholas Williams each added some good hustling defense to the cause.

Game 3
Rockcastle Co. 30 Lexington Mary Todd #1 26
Banished to the Loser's Bracket, the Rockcastle All-Stars ran back into the strong Lexington Mary Todd #1 team that they had beaten in the tourney opener. At this point, losing meant a quick trip home, while winning meant the opportunity to get another shot at Garrard County and gold trophies. Lexington Mary Todd #1, after having eliminated the other Lexington All-Star club from the tourney, was fired up and eager for a rematch with Rockcastle. The Rockcastle All-Stars would not think of backing down from a challenge; they welcomed one. Rockcastle had their hands full in the rematch though, as the Lexington All-Stars hustled like men possessed. However, no amount of hustling could outmatch the Rockcastle All-Stars in this one as they again used aggressive defense to gain the victory. Colby Brown led Rockcastle with 11 points, while Mikah Reams finished with 7. Nicholas Williams fired in 4 points, while Jarrod Burdette and Blake Roberts each hit for 3. Matthew Silcox added 2 points, while Brandon Reams and Max Saylor provided good hustling defense.

Championship Game
Garrard Co. 29 Rockcastle Co. 19
The Tournament Championship was on the line as Rockcastle County and Garrard County stood toe-to-toe for the second time of the day. Due to the rigorous nature of double elimination tournaments, Rockcastle was forced to play it's 3rd consecutive game with essentially no rest. Taking nothing away from a good Garrard Co. squad that played well and was coached well, but fatigue was certainly a key for them in this one. The young 7 and 8 year olds on Rockcastle were on rubber legs, but went down like champions as they hustled.

scrapped, and absolutely refused to quit until the final horn. Taking home gold runner-up trophies and the admiration of all the fans who had seen their effort, Rockcastle had great reason to be proud. The game stars: Colby Brown led Rockcastle in scoring with 10 points; Matthew Silcox pumped in 4 points, while Jarrod Burdette and Mikah Reams each hit for 2 apiece; Blake Roberts added 1 point, while Brandon Reams, Max Saylor and Nicholas Williams each added excellent hustle and defense.

Five little-known minerals have big impact on your health

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Minerals contribute to many body functions. Low mineral intake can increase the risk of certain diseases and overall poor health.

The best way to ensure that you have sufficient quantities of minerals is to eat a variety of foods based on recommended daily servings from the food guide pyramid.

Five little-known minerals that play an important part in good health are copper, chromium, magnesium, manganese and selenium.

Copper is essential for the formation of hemoglobin, the oxygen-carrying component of the blood, as well as bone development and energy production. Deficiencies can lead to anemia, arthritis, high blood cholesterol and blood sugar, and heart irregularities and disease.

The richest source of copper is whole-grain products. These include rye, whole wheat and multi-grain breads and legumes, such as dried beans and peas. Foods that are good sources of copper include dried fruits, tomatoes, bananas, grapes, potatoes and lean meats.

Chromium helps insulin remove glucose, a type of sugar, from the blood so it can be used by the body for energy. This mineral is found in whole-grain breads and cereals, legumes, brewer's yeast, wheat germ, broccoli, cheese, prunes and meat.

Low chromium intake contributes to impaired glucose tolerance in older people, protein-calorie malnutrition in infants, and maturity-onset diabetes.

Research is inconclusive on the benefit of using chromium picolinate to lose weight.

Magnesium contributes to more than 300 body functions, including protein production, repair of damaged cells, and energy release. Since more than half the body's magnesium is in the bones, this mineral also plays a role in preventing osteoporosis.

Good magnesium sources are whole grains, legumes, seeds, nuts, leafy green vegetables and fish.

Use of laxatives, diuretics, oral contraceptives and some antibiotics can trigger a magnesium deficiency, as can prolonged diarrhea, stress or exercise.

Manganese shows promise for diabetics whose high blood sugars do not respond to insulin injections. This trace element also helps prevent osteoporosis.

Whole-grain breads and cereals and fruits and vegetables are good sources of manganese.

Selenium is an antioxidant in body cells, protecting them from some adverse reactions. Most dietetic selenium comes from animal-based foods. The amount of selenium in pasture soils can affect its availability in these foods.

Although selenium might have a role in cancer prevention, excessive intake can stimulate tumor growth, thus supplements are not recommended.

To receive more printed information on trace minerals, call the Extension Office at 256-2403.

throughout Kentucky. Numerous reports of large aggregations of ladybug beetles on homes and other buildings were first received in the fall of 1993. Usually, we would not be concerned about beneficial insects, but these congregate by the thousands on the sides of buildings, and if given the opportunity, move inside. Fortunately, they are not poisonous, do not bite or sting, are not carriers of disease, and do not eat wood or anything else in the home. But they can be a nuisance when they gather in very large numbers around windows and doors. They have a disagreeable odor and can produce a yellowish stain.

These oval, convex, 1/3-inch beetles are pale orange with 19 black spots on the wing covers. The spots are arranged as a row of five spots at the base of the wings.

Lady Bug Beetle: Heroine or Headache?

Rarely does a new species of insect, and a beneficial one at that, cause as much commotion as has Harmonia axyridis in such a short period. This ladybug beetle is new to Kentucky. Our first records only date back to a few specimens captured in Hickman County in 1992. Introduced from Eastern Asia, this species is an important predator of aphids and scales on trees. There were numerous attempts (between 1916 and 1985) to establish it as a biological control agent. It is not known exactly how it became established in the United States. The first specimens recovered in the U.S. were collected in Louisiana during 1988. Since then the beetle has increased its distribution to include Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Oregon, Washington and now Kentucky. Last spring, it was observed in apple trees in Fayette County.

Library News
By Geraldine Robbins

The Rockcastle County Library Board of Trustees is the legislative or policy determining body for the library. They work as a body corporate to provide the best and most efficient library service for the people of Rockcastle County. It formulates the program of service with the advice and counsel of the library director, and supplies the means for carrying it out.

The library board of trustees consists of five members.
The president/chairman is Allen Penson. Allen is a resident of Mt. Vernon and works for the Rockcastle County School System as Arts Coordinator.
Sue Hamm is the vice chairman and lives out in the country at Spiro. She is retired from the Rockcastle County School System. She worked as a teacher and was assistant principal at Brodhead Elementary School.

Carol Bryant is the secretary/treasurer for the library board. Carol is also a resident of Mt. Vernon and works at the Bank of Mt. Vernon.
Maude Randolph is a native of North Carolina but is now living at Spiro. She is also a retired teacher and she and Sue Hamm are doing some substitute teaching.
Ken Maitingly also works for the Rockcastle County School System as a teacher at the new middle school. He lives in Mt. Vernon, also.
All of the board members with the exception of Carol Bryant are or have been employees of the school system. They help us here at the library to have a closer working relationship with the schools. After looking at a library-user survey that was done a short time ago, it was decided that we needed to focus on our preschool through college population and support the educational process in this county. An educated and trainable population of young adults will be in great demand in this state, and we want our people to have the opportunity to be a part of Kentucky's economic future.
I want to share with you a book review from one of our young patrons. Joseph Lambert is 10 years old and a fifth grade student at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. He is the son of Joe and Debra Lambert. He has been borrowing books from our library and he expressed the desire to do a book review for us.

$29,000,000 is Available for Housing Loans
The Rural Economic & Community Development Service (formerly the Farmers Home Administration) has an allocation of $29,000,000 that may be used by lenders to make 100% loans for the purchase of new and existing homes according to Thomas G. Fern, Acting State Director. The price limit for a house is $77,197 for most rural areas of Kentucky except some high cost areas which have a much higher limit.
Applicants with incomes not exceeding 115% of the median income for the area may qualify for a loan. Loan funds may be used for the purchase price, including closing costs not to exceed the appraised value. The loans have a repayment period of 30 years with a fixed rate of interest. The loans are processed by other lenders with the Rural Economic & Community Development Administration providing the guarantee. For a list of lenders processing these loans in the local area, please contact the local RECD office at 606-287-7126.

The book starts off telling about the situation Sycamore Creek is in with regard to consolidation with Stoller a big-city school that has beaten Sycamore Creek the last ten years. If they beat them again in all likelihood there would be consolidation.
At the Sycamore Creek tryouts, the coach, Mr. Harlan was surprised when Charley Sands walked on the court. Charley can't dribble but he is amazingly quick. Coach Harlan works with Charley some and he gradually gets better. However, Sycamore Creek lost to Stoller 69-58 in their first meeting.
Sycamore Creek did well and their record was unblemished with the exception of the loss to Stoller. In the Sectional Tournament, they won their first three games.
The Stoller game was next! Stoller's star player, Matt Williams came into the game averaging 30 points a game. That was Sycamore Creek's weak spot. In the game Charley had a lot of steals and assists. With two minutes to go, the score was tied at 50. Sycamore Creek went on a run and scored 8 points. The score was 59-50 with 20 seconds to go and Charley had the ball. Stoller players tried to catch him but he was too quick.
Now there would be no consolidation, at least not with Stoller Meadeville, Green Forks, and Sycamore Creek would consolidate to make one big school.
I think this was a good book and it always kept me guessing. I believe that is a trait of a good book. I would recommend this book to any young readers who enjoys sports.
I have just purchased the eight-book "Days of Laura Ingalls Wilder Series" which are the basis of a new television series. These are written by T.L. Todor, a bestselling author, screenwriter, and film producer.
Everyone that has enjoyed the Little

He is mistaken everywhere for a man of whom he has never heard but soon he does to know fearfully well. His diabolical double is everything he is not; a high-living playboy and insatiable womanizer who goes by the name of Angus T. Markham.
In a story in which no one is who he seems and where murderous rags lurk behind every facade, Rosamond Smith once again shows her genius for irresistible narrative seduction and riveting psychological suspense.
For those of you who are interested in the O.J. Simpson case, we have two books available about O.J. and Nicole.
1. Raging Heart: The intimate Story of the tragic marriage of O.J. and Nicole Brown Simpson... by Sheila Weller.
2. Nicole Brown Simpson: The private Diary of a Life Interrupted... by Faye Resnick... O.J.'s book, I Want To Tell You, has been ordered but I haven't received it yet.

Miami attorney Gail Conner has just taken on the biggest case of her career - a case that will mean millions of dollars to her firm, and a partnership for her if she wins. But what begins as a suspected forgery of a wealthy woman's will turns out to be a brutal murder... and what looks like a greedy family's battle over an inheritance turns out to be a complex and monumentally brazen scheme that involves every layer and dimension of Miami's multicultural worlds.
In the person of Gail Conner - smart, beautiful, dedicated - Barbara Parker has created a memorable character and placed her in the middle of a high-charged, high-stakes thriller about the passions that drive people to kill.

The Caring Connection

Becoming a Parent
Having a baby is like starting a new job. Of course you'll be getting on-the-job training after your baby is born. In addition to learning from your own experiences, we are offering information and suggestions to help you prepare for the times ahead.
Breast or Bottle Feeding
Whether you breast or bottle feed, cuddle your baby and hold him close while feeding.
Some advantages of breast feeding
Provides handy feeding method.
Contains essential nutrients in easily digested form.
Protects the baby from some infections and allergies.
Helps restore mother's uterus (womb) to normal size.
Saves money.
Some advantages of bottle feeding
Provides convenient feeding method.
Contains essential nutrients when instructions are followed.
Allow others to feed the baby.
Myths of perfection
There is no perfect birth. Each birth is different. The important thing is to bring your baby into the world in the healthiest way possible - for both the baby and you.
The Perfect Parent... There is no perfect parent. We all make mistakes. There will be times when you won't feel so sure about what you are doing. It takes time, practice and experience to be a parent. The most important thing is to trust your own judgment and stick to it.
The Perfect Baby... There is no perfect baby. Each baby is different, looks different, acts different and grows up different from other babies. Your baby will grow at his own pace - don't be disappointed or try to rush him.
Having Your Baby
Childbirth... Having a baby is a natural event of life, but that doesn't mean it's painless! Special methods of childbirth and medication have been developed to help mothers during childbirth. One of the most popular methods is called the Lamaze method. The mother-to-be learns breathing and relaxation exercises with the help of a partner. Fear of pain may make the mother tense. That sets up a cycle because tension can make the laboring mother feel more pain. That's why the Lamaze-trained mother and her partner practice breathing exercises and body positions during pregnancy to be prepared for the birth.

Many mothers also need or want medication to help them with the intense sensation of labor and birth. Some painkillers are available during labor. They are given either by injection or by an intravenous (IV) solution. Some are given by a nurse, but others must be given by a specially trained doctor.
Premature Birth... A baby born four weeks or more before its due date is called a premature baby or a "preemie." Many times these babies weigh less than 5 1/2 pounds and are considered low birth weight infants. They may stay in the hospital for a while to receive special care before going home to their parents.
Childbirth and parenting classes... Call the Family Resource Center at 256-2156 for information.

We try to put our patients at ease . . .

Radiology has a unique function in the hospital. At Rockcastle Hospital, technology is the key to helping diagnose a disease or injury. But, it takes specially trained personnel to utilize this technology.

In the eight years I've been here, Radiology has changed dramatically. It's a much larger department now and we've added new diagnostic services, including mammography and our own CAT scanner.

When patients come in, they're often scared, so we we try to explain the procedure and answer their questions. We're like family here, we want our patients to be comfortable.

I think taking time to talk to each patient and being polite is important. "We really care about people at Rockcastle Hospital."
