- c. Any condition which provides harborage for rats, mice, snakes and other vermin.
- d. Any building or other structure which is in such a dilapidated condition that it is unfit for human habitation, or kept in such an unsanitary condition that it is a menace to the health of people residing in the vicinity thereof, or presents a more than ordinary dangerous fire hazard in the vicinity where it is located.
- e. All unnecessary or unauthorized noises and annoying vibrations. Including animal noises.
- f. All disagreeable or obnoxious odors and stenches, as well as the conditions, substances or other causes which give rise to the emission or generation of such odors and stenches.
- g. The carcasses of animals or fowl not disposed of within a reasonable time after death.
- h. The pollution of any public well or cistern, stream, lake, canal or body of water by sewage, dead animals, creamery, industrial wastes or other substances.

- j. Any accumulation of stagnant water permitted or maintained on any lot or piece of ground.
- k. Dense smoke, noxious fumes, gas, soot or cinders, in unreasonable quantities.

Whenever a nuisance is found, as within the City, a duly designated officer of the city shall give five (5) days written notice to the owner or occupant of the property upon which such nuisance exists or upon the person causing or maintaining the nuisance.

The City shall proceed to abate such nuisance and shall prepare a statement of cost incurred in the abatement thereof.

Any and all costs incurred by the city in the abatement of a nuisance under the provisions of this chapter shall constitute a lien against the property upon which such nuisance existed, which lien shall be filed proven and collected as provided for by law. Retired teachers meet

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County Retired Teachers was held at the Kastle Inn April 17. The table was attractively laid and a delicious dinner was served by Mr. Hale and his staff.
The meeting was opened by President Gail Craig. He introduced Bobbi Durham who offered a devotion and prayer to bless our meal.
After dinner, Sue French, gave a short report on the K.T.R.A. meeting which she, Aslee Bray and Sarah F. Hamm had attended in Louisville April 11 and 12.
A ceramic basket, donated by Aslee Bray, was won by Gail Craig (Neil took it) as the door prize.
About fifteen of us attended this meeting. There are more than a hundred of you out there who could have come.
Our next meeting will be the 4th Monday in June. Retired teachers make plans to attend. After all, this is your organization, so come and make your voice heard.

Life Chain this Sunday

Do you think abortion is wrong? Would you like to let others know how you feel? Well, on May 7 at 2 p.m. you can come and join Right to Life-Rockcastle County as we stand along 461 By-Pass in front of the high school in a Life-Chain. What is a Life-Chain? It is a chain that is formed by people standing side by side in a quiet, orderly manner letting others know that abortion is not right no matter how legal or how much it happens today. We are asking that for those who want to take a stand for life to come and be with us this Sunday afternoon. Parking will be available at the high school. We ask that you not park on the side of the road. If you have any questions please call free to call 256-4034 or 758-8406.

"Sweet n' Sour"

could choose shallow water for those who were learning or deep water for the more adventurous. One day when I was feeling up to it I joined those more adventurous ones and we swam across the river and waded to those left behind from the banks of West Virginia.

This is another of the waterways that progress, population explosion and carelessness has ruined. Boating, yes. Boats of every size, only the waters from Pittsburgh, Pa. to Cairo, Ill. where it joins the Mississippi River. But these are things that float on the water and above the contamination. One can no longer grab a swim suit and head for the swimming hole on its banks, under a big old willow tree. For one thing, the willow trees have long been gone and the place where it was is now a dump site. And another is the warning signs, "unsafe for swimming." "Woe is me, I guess I will have to make do with the memories of the past seventy years or so since I can no longer grab my bathing suit and head for the banks of the beautiful Ohio River for one more swim.

McKinney indicted for murdering wife, her children

The Rockcastle County man accused of murdering his wife and two stepchildren was charged last week with arson, abusing their corpses and tampering with evidence.

Gary McKinney, 28, Mt. Vernon, was named in an eight-count indictment handed down Thursday by a Pulaski County grand jury.

The indictment charges McKinney with the murders of his wife, Shirley Faye Bowles McKinney, 29; and her two children, Brian Lee Bowles, 11, and Amy Michelle Bowles, 3.

McKinney was further charged with first-degree arson by starting a fire with intent to destroy or damage a house on 829 Poplar Hollow Road, when said building was inhabited by Amy Bowles, Brian Bowles and Shirley McKinney, "according to the indictment.

Count five accuses McKinney of tampering with physical evidence" by setting fire to the scene of a crime, thereby destroying physical evidence that (McKinney) believed would be used in an official proceeding with intent to impair the availability of said physical evidence."

The final three counts accuse

McKinney of abusing a corpse by burning the three bodies, "knowing it would outrage reasonable family sensibilities," the indictment alleged.

During a preliminary hearing in the case last week, Daniel P. Owens of Brodhead testified that McKinney allegedly confessed to killing the three by shooting them prior to the April 2, fire. The fire destroyed the Poplar Hollow Road residence in northeastern Pulaski County.

Alan Stringer, Pulaski County's coroner, said Shirley McKinney was shot four times, once in the upper right forearm, once at the base of her skull, once in a collarbone and once in the lower chest.

Brian Bowles was shot three times, Stringer said, probably with a .22 rifle, in the back of the head.

Amy Bowles was shot once through the roof of the mouth, the coroner said.

Jury took only 15 minutes to acquit Clarence Kirby

It took a Rockcastle County Circuit Court jury only a few minutes Monday to acquit a Chestnut Ridge man of carrying a concealed handgun.

Clarence "Beacart" Kirby, 35, had been charged on December 5, 1994 by Mt. Vernon City police officers Barry Adams and Lefe Owens after they stopped him behind the Rockcastle County Courthouse.

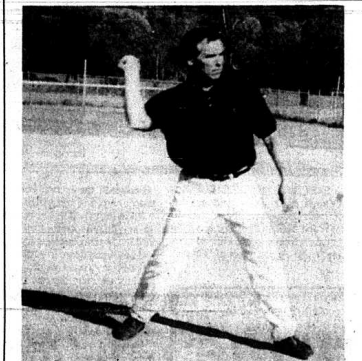

Kirby, who was indicted by a Rockcastle County Grand Jury in January, took the witness stand in his own defense. Owens and Adams testified for the prosecution.

Along with the indictment for possessing a handgun by a convicted felon, Kirby was also indicted for being a persistent felony offender, because he has been convicted of three other felonies in Rockcastle County, including a rape charge in March of 1982.

Kirby's attorney, Jerry Cox of Mt. Vernon, said Tuesday that Monday's verdict was a clear vindication of Kirby since both Adams and Owens, as well as Kirby testified during the trial. "It was simply a question of who was believable and who was not," Cox said.

Kirby has filed a lawsuit against Adams and Owens for false arrest in connection with the case, which is still pending in federal court. Cox said Tuesday that his client would now proceed with that case.

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carloffis threw out the ceremonial first pitch at Thacker Field last week to kick off the 1995 Little League baseball season in Rockcastle County. The regular season is in full swing at both Thacker Field and Roundstone Elementary School.

Renfro Barn Dance receives "Promotor of the Year" award

The first annual traditional music association awards were presented April 15, at the Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Tenn. The Renfro Valley Barn Dance was honored as "Promotor of the Year."

Accepting the award were veteran Renfro Valley entertainer Pete Stamper and vice president of entertainment Connie Hunt.

The Traditional Music Association (TMA), based in Park city, is an organization which promotes, preserves and presents traditional music. The founder and executive director is Oscar Sullivan of "Lonzo and Oscar" fame, a duo which performed on the Grand Ole Opry for 35 years. The president is Wallace Thompson, a fiddle player from Greensburg. The TMA has over 200 members from Alaska to Florida, from Hawaii to Germany.

Categories for the TMA annual awards include New Artist, Disc Jockey, Producer, Person and Promotor.

Renfro Valley's World Famous Barn Dance is a traditional country music show, complete with fiddles and banjos, cloggers and comedy and remains very much as it was when John Lair created it in 1939. May through October, showtimes for the Barn Dance are Friday and Saturday nights at 7 p.m.

Court awards $75,000 damages Alf Lining Inc.

On March 10, the Rockcastle Circuit Court awarded ALF Lining, Mfg. Inc., a local company operated by Ron McClure, C.C. Ponder and Joe Ed Hansel, $50,081 in damages for losses the company suffered in 1991 and 1992 due to actions taken by Orville Burkhardt, of Livingston.

A former owner and officer of the business, the court held Burkhardt caused the company to lose profits because "he blatantly ignored his duties of loyalty and good faith," and "he abused his position of trust."

The court also awarded punitive damages to Alf Lining in the sum of $25,000.

ALF Lining made and repaired brake systems for underground coal cars. ALF was represented by local attorney John E. Conitz.

Group urges drop in burley support price

The support price on certain grades of burley should be cut to lower the average market price 3 to 4 cents a pound this year, helping U.S. farmers compete with overseas growers, an advisory group recommended yesterday.

Although farmers generally oppose price reductions, they probably will maintain the same profit margin as last year. A key expense in growing tobacco, known as the no-net cost

Mt. Vernon council votes to sell caboose; vandals hit Elmwood

By Ray McClure

Vandalism caught the eye of the Mt. Vernon City Council Monday night and the council decided to remedy part of it.

It decided to advertise for bids on the caboose in the city's railroad parking lot.

With the bids will be the stipulation that the caboose must be moved from its present location.

"We have a terrible problem with vandalism in the city," said Mayor Gary Cromer. "And its difficult for the police to be everywhere at once."

To point out the problem, the mayor told the council that Elmwood Cemetery had been vandalized recently.

A total of 28 tombstones were turned over or broken by vandals. Some of them were large and it appeared it would need more than one person to do the job.

Concerning the caboose which has been damaged the mayor said he had one offer of $2,100 for the caboose.

He said the unnamed person said he would enclose it with a chain-link fence and install an alarm system.

The mayor said another group wanted to use it as a meeting place.

"The same thing will probably happen again if we fix it up," the mayor related. "My recommendation is we put it up for bids. We have the right to reject all bids."

The mayor stated the public has to report vandalism problems to the city police when they see them occur.

"The public has to be responsible and report vandalism," he added.

In the case of Elmwood Cemetery the mayor said it was patrolled by city police.

"But vandals watch for the police. When they catch them, nothing happens," he said.

It was not the first time vandals have damaged stones in the cemetery. It's been done several times. At one time, years ago, the vandals were caught. Then County Judge Charles Carter put the vandals to work repairing the damage. It took the men several days of sweat repairing their dirty work. A jail sentence was also imposed.

"There is no excuse for that kind of behavior," Mayor Cromer said. "But our citizens must be concerned so we can pinpoint the problem."

No time or date was reported on a bid opening for the caboose. The bids will be sealed.

During the discussion, someone mentioned a curfew, but the idea didn't get off the ground.

In another action, the council passed an ordinance combining the job of city clerk and city treasurer. Bond for the job was set at $200,000.

Assistant Police Chief Eddie Delaney gave the police report for April.

Citations issued, 62; total charges, 109; DUI arrests, 13; calls for service, 221; accidents, 18; other agency assists, 56; motorist assists, 10; criminal cases opened, 8; Mt. Vernon fire Department runs, 27.

Bill Dowell, president of the Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Association examines one of the 28 tombstones that were vandalized recently at the cemetery in Mt. Vernon.

Dowell said that a crew was scheduled to fix the damage on Wednesday.

I'm so disgusted with the slate of candidates running for Governor, in both parties, that the only feeling I can muster in regards to being a Kentuckian for the last half of the decade comes straight from a Hue Haw jingle.

"Deep dark depression, excessive misceogee."
The only thing that would get me to the polls at the end of this month would require that the election commission decide to offer us an opportunity to vote for "None of the above." Or that C.M. Newton or Wendell Berry somehow mounted a last minute write-in campaign.

Normally I encourage folks to go to the polls and tout the responsibility we all have for selecting the leadership of our state and local governments. But what is there to choose from in this election? Does anybody really want to on their conscience that they voted for one of these guys? Does anybody believe there's a chance that Kentucky will see any signs of progress between now and the next century?

If you can provide encouraging answers to any of these questions and you aren't in politics, I'd love to hear from you because I really do need cheering up.

Let's quickly run through what we have to choose from.

Republicans have Larry Forgy and Bob Gable.
Forgy dropped out the last time around and stranded his party in mid-stream. The main plank of his platform has to do with getting Clinton out of the White House and helping the rich get richer and the poor get poorer. Just the kind of leadership Kentucky needs. The one and only thing we know for sure about Larry Forgy is that he is a proven quitter.

Bob Gable is an eccentric multimillionaire who gets a kick out of filing frivolous law suits against the government. Gable's only objective for becoming Governor is to stick as much money as he can into his already overstaffed coffers. And he makes Pat Robertson look like a screaming liberal.

The Democrats have four candidates who are apt to get more than 100 votes each and one who might get a dozen votes from members of his immediate family. Let's take 'em in alphabetical order.

Bob Babbage. The running riddle in our neck of the woods now is "What is the difference between a Babbage head and a cabbage head?" Answer: A cabbage head isn't hollow. What I'd like to know is how someone who can't perform basic math ever got to be auditor and how did he suck himself into being Secretary of State? I'd have to see Bob Babbage add 2 plus 2 and come up with 4 without a calculator and two consultants to believe he has the ability to do it. Surely nobody is taking this clown seriously.

Gatewood Galbraith. Gatewood has done something about the image under his eyes which greatly improves his image since the last time around.

And he isn't afraid to stick his neck out on controversial issues, but he'd like to give local school systems back to the political hacks and that, alone makes him too dangerous for me. Of all the candidates, however, he's the honest one.

Maynard. whose first name escapes me and who apparently thinks that having his name on the ballot will enable his kids to get better grades or something like that.

Paul Patton. Patton is running on the strength of his job creation record. He claims to have created 40,000 new jobs over the last 4 years. If he'll show me a list of those jobs and explain his role in their creation, I'll believe. In the meantime I think the number is closer to 4,000 chicken pluckers who can earn minimum wage with no benefits. Patton's low-wage, low job creation has essentially perpetuated poverty instead of solving it. Look for more of the same.

Eck Rose. What the heck, Eck decided to run because the Republicans won a few new Senate seats in the most recent election? What scares and motivates Eck is that so many of his buddies are pulling jail time. Nevermind that he escaped the BOPTR investigations, he is in a position to

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and inflammations from the vernal vale of Wabed, birthplace of Doctor Wifus L. Quattylebaum, who, while addressing Wabed High's Class of '37, said:

"Graduates, the human body, with proper care, will last a lifetime." Speaking of health, I've been down with Wabed, literally, on the floor most of the time, waking and sleeping. Nancy and I motored down to Knoxville on Good Friday to visit our daughter and her husband, and the ride there and back was hell, and I'm already ailing back. (Now let the congregation stand and sing all four stanzas of "My Heart Cries for Poor Ole John.")

How bad was it? It was so bad I didn't even make it to church on Resurrection Sunday. (A no-show on Easter is second only to "peeping during prayer" on the Baptist List of Likely Reasons for Being Struck by Lightning.) How bad is it? It's so bad I cannot sit long in my chair on the back porch - that cherished, oak rocker in which I once ruminated and broke out with poetry, and in which I often did not even make it to church on Resurrection Sunday. (A no-show on Easter is second only to "peeping during prayer" on the Baptist List of Likely Reasons for Being Struck by Lightning.)

To be truthful, beloved, my unruly lumber has kept me out of church for four weeks now. Well, that... and the rumor that a female bevy of First Baptist masticators have devised evil (EE-ville) against me because of my recent heresy attack on "chomping gum in church."

Hey gals, I'm only trying to be true to tradition. Read your Bibles! You will not find one shred of evidence that biblical people chewed gum in church. Furthermore, the venerated, nineteenth century New Hampter Confession of Faith, published by Baptist, clearly eschews chewing gum in church - tobacco and snuff, too.

I must admit, however, that a change may be the way. A motion was made at last year's meeting of The World Council of Churches - embraced by Baptists everywhere - that will allow gum chewing during a worship service if (1) it is not bubble gum, and (2) the wrapper clearly indicates the gum is kosher, i.e., its ingredients include eoloolah, an extract of a rare bulrush (Scirpus yerdan) that grows only in the River Jordan. Word has it, however, that Southern Baptist, the front-runner among denominations on the highway of holiness, will add a third requirement, namely, that the wrapper must read "SBCK kosher," which means the gum, before it is marketed, must be stored for forty days and nights at a Southern Baptist Sunday School Board warehouse in Nashville and then be prayed over by the current convention president.

The World Council will vote on the motion in 1997. But look out, dear hearts! If it passes, the next thing you know, just like falling dominoes, one liberal measure after another will wipe every time. I'd like to see the interdenominationalists that have distinguished Baptists since they began that blessed and

But alas and alack, beloved, we traditionalists might not prevail in the battle against modernity. That's all I have to say about that.

So precious readers, until next week - the Almighty willing, of course, - ponder the opinion of Wadd-born Seamus O. who have lost loved ones. Bless your heart, you have our love and prayers. Also to those who are ill or in pain, heart broken or troubled in any way, my heart goes out to you. You know Jesus loves us and we are here to love one another. So just keep praying and trusting in God. He will see you through it all.

We recently had some beautiful day warm and sunny, but the past few days have been so cold and windy. But, we received some much needed rain for which we are thankful.

My sister Mary Jane Sorah of Elyria, Ohio is still very ill and needs the prayers of good Christian people. My brother Tip Reppert and his daughter Mrs. Melody Reynolds and I spent this past Wednesday night with her and her family.

It was so good to see her again. We all enjoyed the good supper prepared at Mary Jane's by her daughters, granddaughters and my sister Dorothy who lives close and is such a great help to the family. We made pictures and reminisced about the Reppert family and growing up years.

We also spoke about the Lord and His goodness. The departure was sad but we all hope and pray Mary Jane can be better soon. When you pray, please remember her. Thank you. Mrs. Mary Mullins of Berea and my granddaughter, Sherry Ridgell and I attended the Gospel Singing at the Liberty Avenue Baptist Church in Berea with our daughter Joyce Seals on Sunday night. I've never heard better singing. We really enjoyed it. Their revival started Sunday and will run through Thursday night. May God bless them is my prayer.

Well, I have more news but no time to write, will have more next time. Pray much, and live as good a life as you can. Be an example for our younger people. They need us. God bless you.

Geneva Forbes, Marengo, Ind. She was preceded in death by her husband Arthur, two grandchildren and three sisters.

A year ago God took you home He knew how you hurt and wanted to go.

To be no burden on anyone but he hurt so much since you are gone I know God knew best for all concerned
You were a good husband and father. Your door was always open to all, young and old.

Senior Citizens Volunteers honored

As proclaimed by Governor Jones and Judge Carlotta, April is "Volunteer Awareness Month." Each year during this time, it is very appropriate to recognize those folks who have volunteered services to the Rockcastle County Senior Citizens Program.

This year, we also want to recognize those who have volunteered so much time toward making Rockcastle County a cleaner place to live. The All American Club has made a most worthy, voluntary contribution by cleaning up debris along the roadside. Because of their effort and example, perhaps many individuals will become more conscientious about the appearance of the green hills and land we call Rockcastle County.

Although volunteers request no special reward for their services, the Rockcastle County Senior Citizens Program is highly esteemed by their actions. Their efforts toward volunteer service cannot go unnoticed. Each volunteer was presented with a certificate and volunteer pin, a small token of our appreciation for their services.

A certificate was also presented to Bobby Bullen, Junior Griffin and Charles Wayne Bullock (not shown) for their volunteers services cleaning up around the county.

Emma Gray of Orlando had a big find recently while "dry land" fishing recently. Ms. Gray found this "honeycomb" variety mushroom which was 10.5 inches long, eight inches around and weight 5.5 oz.

For Home Repair Program LEAP accepting applications

The Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress (LEAP) is accepting applications from low-income families for its 1995 Home Repair Program. Applications will be taken from May 4th through May 19th, 1995. This program is sponsored by out-of-state church groups, which make repairs on homes in Rockcastle County. Their usual tasks include fixing roofs, building porches, painting and underpinning trailers, etc. Our responsibility is to line up the jobs according to what they can afford and what skills the workcamp groups have; they will provide the materials and the labor.

LEAP is a community organization, which means we do not want to be just a "handout" organization. Therefore, we encourage Home Repair participants to work alongside the volunteer groups if they are physically able. That kind of direct tion. After earning 25 of these Merits, a photographer may earn his "Master of Photography" degree from the Professional Photographers of America.

The event was judged by "Masters of Photography" from all over the United States. The Mid-East Regional Competition consists of entries from Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Ohio, and is one of the largest print competitions and exhibitions in the country.

interaction will provide a more valuable learning experience for both the volunteer groups and the local participants. Many long-lasting friendships have begun through this program.

In order to participate in this program, please fill out an application at the LEAP office. You must be a LEAP member in order to apply $5 per person, $7.50 per couple, and you can become a member at the same time you fill out an application. A Home Repair Committee will look over each application to determine if the job is suitable for the volunteer groups.

Please contact the LEAP office if you are low-income and are interested in the program or have any further questions. Our office is located on Hwy. 25 just 1 1/2 miles north of Livingston at Calloway, and our phone number is 453-9800.

Rockcastle to conduct health appeal campaign

Rockcastle Judge Executive Buzz Carlotta has announced that Rockcastle employees will conduct the first ever combined health appeal of Kentucky Charitable Campaign next month.

Combined health appeal represents a major change in the way that the charitable health agencies raise funds in support of their programs. "In the Past," according to executive director Gary Rawlings, "The health agencies raised needed funds through special events. In recent years, the cost of raising money that way has grown to the point that they have become inefficient."

"Through Payroll Deduction, costs of raising money can be kept down. Plus, people like to be able to support their favorite causes through the convenience of payroll deductions."

Carlotta will direct this year's campaign effort.

"Combined health appeal hopes that this will be the first of many campaigns in Rockcastle," Rawlings added. "If you wish your employer to offer combined health appeal as an option in your company giving plan, contact Carl at (502) 456-6237."

Participating health agencies include the Kentucky Easter Seal Society, the American Diabetes Association, the Arthritis Foundation, the Lupus Foundation, the National Kidney Foundation, Prevent Blindness, the Kentuckiana Memophilia Foundation, the Leukemia Society, Muscular Dystrophy, the Kentucky Mental Health Association, The National Multiple Sclerosis Society and the Alzheimer's Association.

22 Years Experience in Taxes

Highest score on state PVA Exam

Hello,

My name is Douglas Glynn Bullock. I want the people of Rockcastle County to know that I am capable of doing the job in the office of P.V.A. and all that it entails; field trips, assessments and running the office in a professional yet friendly manner are of top priority to me if given the chance to prove myself.

I know what rules, requirements and regulations this office is based upon and will do my best to accommodate your needs. This is one of the reasons I will reopen the office on Saturdays. The state only requires the office be open 5 days a week at 8 hours per day. But, by going a step further, I will serve the people which is my first obligation. This office works in concordance with Mrs. Houk's office which is open on Saturday also. I would like the chance to be your next P.V.A. I am a hard working man looking for a job with a future here in our county.

Your Vote and Support Greatly Appreciated

Senior Angie Moore had a good night for the Rockcastle Lady Rockets last Friday night against Pulaski County as the Rockets beat the Lady Marrons in both games, 11-4. Moore was four for four with two homers on the night.

Rockets beat Wayne and Williamsburg

The Rockets came from behind last Wednesday night to defeat the Wayne County Cardinals 5-4 behind a strong performance by George Durham on the mound.

Durham gave up three walks, five hits, a two-run home run and got six strike-outs.

With a 5-4 edge going into the top of the 7th, Durham set the side down in order.

The Rockets didn't get on the scoreboard until their part of the 4th inning when, with two out, Jason Childress singled to right and scored off a Derrick Tompkins double. Houk followed with a single but Tompkins was thrown out at home to end the scoring. At that point it was 2-1 in favor of the Cardinals.

There was no scoring action in the Cardinals' 5th but the Rockets came through in their part of the inning with four runs to finish their scoring for the game.

Durham helped his cause by leading off the inning with a single. Dusty McClure was inserted as a speed runner and promptly stole second and wound up on third on a passed ball. Chris Bishop was safe on an error on the third base man with McClure scoring on the play. The Cardinals made a pitching change and he got Travis Anderkin out with a grounder from second to first. Bishop went to third on the play and scored on a great squeeze bunt play executed by Scottie Cotton. Cotton later scored when Dee Thomas was safe on an error on the first baseman. Jarrod Singleton came to bat and was safe on a fielder's choice and Everrole, speed runner for Singleton, scored the final run for the Rockets on a double by Jason Childress.

The Jayvees lost their bid for an undefeated season the same night because they had to play the varsity squad for Wayne Co. who didn't bring their jayvee squad to town. The Jayvees lost 2-0.

It was a cold, dreary, damp day Thursday when the Rockets traveled to Casey County and the Rockets' spirits were in the same shape when the game was over after dropping a 2-1 decision.

Despite an excellent outing for pitcher Chad Severance, the Rockets just couldn't generate any offense for Severance and the base paths were muddy, slowing down the usually speedy Rockets and causing three base runners to be thrown out trying to take an extra base in the first three innings.

The Rockets did draw first blood in the third inning when Dominic Everrole led off with an O-2 single and scored on Jimmy Houk's double. However, when Chris Bishop flew to centerfield, Houk was thrown out trying to advance to third on the centerfielder. Travis Anderkin followed with a single but Cotton flew to center to end the scoring at one run.

The Rebels tied the score in the bottom of the fourth and took the lead at 2-1 in the bottom of the fifth and that was the final score for the game.

The Jayvees got back in the win column, beating the Rebel Jayvees

14-3. At Williamsburg Saturday, the Rockets jumped on the Yellow Jacket pitcher early, scoring two runs in the first. With one out, Anderkin walked, took second on an overthrow for first on a pick-off attempt and scored on a Scottie Cotton double. Cotton stole second and scored on an overthrow White Sox catcher Matthew Cromer returned the ball to County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotta Friday after Carlotta threw out a pitch to officially open the Little League season in Rockcastle County.

First Rockcastle Middle School boys' baseball team is undefeated on season

The RCMS baseball team is off to a fast start with a record of 7-0. The Rockets are undefeated due to their ability to put the bat on the ball and several strong efforts on the mound. A team batting average of .416 and a pitching staff that has posted 2 shut-outs, have proven a successful combination.

The top 5 batting averages thus far are Jacob Burdette, .714, Andrew Cash .611, Waylon Isaacs .550, Matthew Brown .500, and Layne Nicely .438. Josh Martin leads the team in the RBI department with 13 (including 2 homers), followed by Waylon Isaacs with 10. Andrew Carrera, Layne Nicely and Matthew Brown have 6 each.

On the base paths the Rockets have stolen 59 bases in 62 attempts. Andrew Cash leads the way with 14 stolen bases, followed closely by Andy Hale with 13 and Brooks Ingram with 11.

On the mound, Andrew Carrera, Brooks Ingram and Andrew Cash have each posted 2 wins while Andy Hale has 1 win.

Results of the first seven games are as follows:

Apr. 6 RCMS 11 Richmond Model 0
Apr. 10 RCMS 9 - Clark Moore 7
Apr. 13 RCMS 19 - Berea 5
Apr. 18 RCMS 11 - Wayne Co. 9
Apr. 22 RCMS 4 - Richmond Model 0

Apr. 27 RCMS 17 - Whitley Co. 7
Apr. 28 RCMS 13 - Estill Co. 3

Freshman shortstop Chris Bishop slides home in the first game Saturday at Williamsburg where the Rockets took a double-header from the Yellow Jackets. The Rockets are 10-11, including their Florida games, on the season.

to third while he was stealing the base. Singleton also got a single in the inning.

The Rockets' second inning saw another run added when, with one out, Derrick Tompkins was safe at first on an error on the third baseman. Ronnie Vanzant followed with a bunt single and Chris Bishop beat out an infield single. The bases were loaded when Travis Anderkin hit into a fielder's choice but the run scored from third.

In the fourth, the Rockets produced three runs on singles by Ronnie Vanzant and Chris Bishop a bunt single by Travis Anderkin. Vanzant scored on a passed ball; Bishop scored on an error on the third baseman on a ball hit by Scottie Cotton and Travis Anderkin scored on a sacrifice fly by Dee Thomas to centerfield.

The Rockets added three more runs in their 6th inning when the Williamsburg pitcher issued walks to Anderkin, Cotton, Thomas and Singleton. Jason Childress hit the ball to third base and Cotton was forced at home but the Yellow Jacket catcher, in the excitement tried to get Childress at first and overthrew the base, allowing Thomas and Singleton to score.

That completed the scoring for the Rockets in the game and they went into the bottom of the 7th with a 9-0 lead.

A very strong performance by Jon

Pope had allowed the Yellow Jackets only four hits and one walk. But Pope had to dig a little deeper in this inning as Williamsburg mounted their only serious threat of the game. After getting the first man to fly to Childress in left, he gave up four straight singles and two runs before getting the next man to pop to Cotton at third and the last out on a fly ball to left field which Childress gathered in on a great catch.

In the second game, the Rockets again scored first, ahead by one at the end of their part of the first inning but Scottie Cotton had trouble settling down on the mound and a couple of infield errors allowed the Yellow Jackets to turn a walk and two singles into four runs. However, this was to be the total offensive output by the Jackets and the Rockets kept chipping away at the lead during the next six innings.

In the third, Anderkin led off with a single but was forced at second by Cotton. Vanzant entered as a speed runner for Cotton. He got second when a balk was called on the pitcher and took third on a put-out at first of Dee Thomas. An error on the short stop on a grander by Jason Childress allowed Vanzant to score the Rockets second run of the game.

The Rockets fifth was the big one as they put together three hits for three more runs and for what would be the final 5-4 score.

With one out, Anderkin singled, Cotton got on when he was hit by a pitch and Dee Thomas snaked a single through the infield which was mis-played by the left fielder, allowing to runs to score. Derrick Tompkins got a single, scoring Dee from second for the final run of the game.

The Rockets games Monday and Tuesday were rain-outs, but they traveled to Oneida Wednesday to make up the Tuesday rain-out of a district game.

Thursday, they will host Whitley County; Friday Lincoln Co. comes to town and Saturday there will be a home doubleheader with Casey County. Next Monday, the Rockets travel to Whitley Co. and Wednesday will host Lynn Camp.

My Bowling Trip

By Marie Collins
4th grade

Friday, April the 28, the fourth grade took a bowling trip to the Maroon Lanes in Richmond, Kentucky. We separated into groups.

I had a lot of fun. I scored one strike and a few spares. I liked it when it was my turn to bowl. My friend Britney Reynolds took pictures of the trip.

The people who taught us to take score was Mrs. Judy Bullock and Chris Cornelius.

I got to keep score for my group. I think everyone made a good score. This trip made me realize that whatever age you are you can still bowl.

4th grade

On Friday, April 28, my class went on a field trip to Maroon Lanes in Richmond, Kentucky. We had lunch at McDonald's in Richmond.

I was in lane 11. We had a teacher with us to help instruct our bowling technique. She also bowled with us. (She was like one of the kids.)

I really had a good time at Maroon Lanes even though I only scored 35 points. Everybody in my class had fun because we got away from our school work and that's a big relief.

The day I was playing with Sean and Eldon. We played baseball. Then here came my sister and Matt. I looked up and there was Larry. He said, "Hey Matt, get your hands off my girl." Then they started to fight. My sister said, "Stop fighting." I said "I'm just enjoying the fight."

Then my sister got mad at me. Jody Alexander

Last night my sister and me scared my baby sister, by telling her we saw a monster. My baby sister got under the covers. I said, "He is coming over to get you." Mary was scared. She wanted mom. We told her that we were tricking her. Then we went to bed. Then we thought we heard mom. But it was not her. My dad told us to go back to bed then we went back to bed. Then when we got back in the bed she was back from the grocery. Makayla Bryant

This Thursday my grandmaw gets to go home. When she gets home all my cousins will come to her house. We will clean the playhouse so she can sit down on a swing. My grandmaw has been very sick. She has been in the Good Samaritan Hospital. I feel very good because she is coming home. We had cleaned her house very clean. My papaw feels good because she is coming home. Last night when I went to see my grandmaw's house my cousin Richard threw mud on me. My grandmaw wanted my dad to take her stomach tube out. My dad didn't take out her stomach tube, but the doctor did. Hannah Chism

Ifly my kite in summer. I run on the grass. I climbed a tree today. I saw a bird when I was 2 years old. My grandmaw picked me up when I was 1 year old. When I was a baby my brother and my dad changed my diaper and at the same time. I play Barbies some times and I play house some time and I play mens with my brother. And my brother and me got in a fight. And we moved and now me and my brother don't fight. I like my trailer but I really love my room. When my birthday comes I will be 8 years old. Jessica Allen

Carter named

All-American scholar

The United States Achievement Awards announced today that Tiffany Carter has been named an All-American Collegiate scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Collegiate Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

Tiffany, who attends Eastern Kentucky University, was nominated for this national award by Joy Anderson chair of the department of occupational therapy.

Tiffany will appear in the All-American Collegiate Yearbook, which is published nationally. "Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, executive Director of the United States Achievement Award.

The Mt. Vernon Signal

Thursday, May 4, 1995 4 p.m. don't go out, growers can take home the same pay."

The committee came up with a list of recommendations to make U.S. burley more competitive on the world market. They were presented at a news conference at the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association in Lexington.

The average market price for burley in 1994 was $1.85 a pound. Consequently, the reduction in support levels would trim the average price to as low as $1.81. The panel recommended freezing the reduction in support levels for four additional years.

Although price remains a contentious issue, most reforms concern improving the quality of U.S. leaf. "Given our high cost of production, it's very difficult to compete on price," said Will Snell, a University of Kentucky tobacco specialist. "So the focus is on quality."

Snell said foreign tobacco has increased in quality while U.S. burley has "slipped a notch." Quality questions coupled with lower prices for foreign tobacco have led to declines in U.S. market share.

The committee suggested grading the burley when the bales are weighed instead of at the time of the sale. This way, the grader could inspect each bale as it is placed on a pallet. Normally, graders judge the entire pallet by looking at the top bales.

"This will ensure the quality is consistent throughout," Snell said. The committee also recommended the possibility of using more advanced instruments in the grading to reduce the subjectivity of the process.

A 34-member committee was formed last fall after cigarette companies agreed to buy the entire inventory of surplus tobacco from the 1994 crop, including more than 400 million pounds of burley, over seven years.

The agreement prevented a 30 percent to 40 percent reduction in the burley quota and restored stability to the industry.

Sen. Wendell Ford, D-Ky., said in a statement that although the committee's recommendations "may not provide an answer for every problem we face, I do believe they represent a credible first step as we work to ensure our burley remains competitive on the world market."

Most of the recommendations, including the price reductions, can be accomplished without congressional approval, said McKinney, chief executive officer of the growers cooperative.

The committee has been meeting regularly for the last three months to set long-term policy goals for flue-cured and burley tobacco producers, sellers, buyers and manufacturers.

The Day I Got in Trouble
One day I was playing basketball in the house and I got in trouble. I got a spanking with a leather belt. My Dad made me pick up cans for a week and my sister did to. I had one day left and that day passed. Now I know not to play basketball in the house again.

James (Jimmy) Renfro, 61, a major Renfro Valley property owner, is in serious condition in Knoxville Medical Center following a two-car crash west of Hyden, it was reported Monday.

Five other persons died in and after the crash, Brandon Begley, 22, of Leslie County, who car crossed the center line about 10:15 p.m. Friday and crashed head-on into a car with Barbourville businessman Herman Mills, 65, of Heidrick, who died in the wreck, and Renfro, the only one of the four who survived a seat belt.

Dying in the Begley car were Begley, Ida Melinda Howard, 21 and Kay Jo Morgan, 18. Angela Caldwell, 17, died at the Knoxville Hospital Sunday.

Renfro's condition was originally described as critical but was upgraded to serious Sunday.

Jeff Jones, Leslie County deputy coroner, said beer cans were found in the Begley car but he did not know whether alcohol contributed to the accident.

Renfro, who claimed in an earlier interview that his family was originally from Renfro Valley, is a frequent visitor to the area.

He owns property surrounding Harde's Restaurant, a house now occupied as a business operated by Virginia Sutton Bray, and land along around Renfro Creek. He makes his home at Flat Lick in Knox County.

ROTC to be offered at RCHS

by April Cramer
ROTC offered

All RCHS students will have a ROTC (Reserve Officers Training Corps) class offered to them next year which can be taken all four years if the student chooses. It is a two term class (open to both males and females) which teaches leadership training.

Students who take the class are not obligated to join the military or to college ROTC, however, if a student do decide to enter the military, they will be used to the structure and procedure of military training.

The class, for which RCHS administrative staff had to apply to the military, will be taught by a retired military officer who will be interviewed and hired by the school personnel, according to Mr. Dale Whitaker, guidance counselor.

Uniforms for students will be supplied by the army and worn one day a week.

Some classes offered through the ROTC program include: marksmanship and safety, army customs and courtesy, consumer education and budgeting, leadership skills, ceremonial drills, current events and communications.

"We have a large number of students who join the military after graduation. I believe it will help students. It will give them an advantage over students from other schools and will give them a higher rank in the military. It will also set higher standards and provide discipline for the students," says Mr. Ronnie Cash, principal who pleased the army made the decision to include Rockcastle County High School in its program.

Other new offerings

The Home Economics Department will also offer a new elective called Child and Elder Care next year. It is open to juniors and seniors.

In addition, the Agriculture Department will offer two new electives, Large Animal Science and Wildlife Conservation for sophomores, juniors and seniors. Also a TV course, Introduction to Animal Science, will be offered for juniors and seniors.

Tribute to Mother By Lavone Dyer.

Mother, your love is the greatest love on earth
Your love has been with me, through good times and bad, Since my birth.
Your love never weakened, It became stronger As I grew.
When I was an infant, you took care of me,
All right.
Often, staying up all night
If I had a temperature, or sick in some small way,
You would rock me gently,
And silently pray.
When I was just a toddler, then in school
And in constant demand,
You guided me gently,
And used a firm hand.

My teenage years were as tough on you,
As they were on me.
Until I married and had children of my own,
That, I couldn't see.
Your love for me mother,
Is just as strong as it's always been,
That's why I want to pay Special tribute to you,
For I know, without a doubt,
You are my best friend,
Our love Mother,
Will remain stronger,
Until the final end.

A New Start By Lavone Dyer

It's a warm spring day
There's a song in my heart
The future looks promising
Like I've been given a brand new start
The birds are chirping

Flowers are starting to bloom
I'll try to hold on to this feeling of Hope
Stay away, doom and gloom.

I Love a Storm By Edith Barnes Rader

As I sat in my living room facing the open door,
The lightning flashed, and the thunder roared,
While the Lord washed the world once more.

Next morning, how clean the world did look,
So fresh from its bath of the night before
All the flowers and even the weeds looked up.
In praise to God who had blessed them once more.

I love a storm, in it I see the power of God, and His love for me.
His protecting hand yet His mighty power
And His great love when He sends the shower.

We really appreciate your kind and generous contribution to our league.

Rockcastle County Little League Board, players, fans, David Brock

Dear Editor,

Congratulations are in order for Ms. Johanna Ward, Rockcastle County High School Chorus Director, who recently presented an outstanding choral performance at the new school's state-of-the-art theatre.

Selections for the program had been chosen by the students and revealed their diverse musical tastes ranging from old spiritual hymns to contemporary Christian music, popular songs to country and even included an operatic performance from "Phantom of the Opera." For the grand finale, several percussionists accompanied the Castle Chorus while the students sang an African song in the native language. Stage lighting, which had been computer preset, added another dimension by providing a spectacular light show.

Because the students themselves were allowed to dominate the spotlight, one could almost believe that they had created this entire performance. However, a superior presentation such as this could only reflect countless hours of dedication and devotion to excellence by their teacher.

Thank you, Ms. Johanna, for allowing the Rockcastle County students to shine. Your spirit gave them a glow of confidence and pride that might possibly last a lifetime and isn't that, after all, the intrinsic value of education?

Dear Editor,

On behalf of Kiwanis of Rockcastle County, we would like to express our appreciation to you for the excellent coverage you gave our recent luncheon and style show.

This event, which was created for the purpose of raising money for the Kiwanis Cincy-Dixie-Martin Scholarship Fund, was a huge success! We raised enough money for a $500 scholarship to be awarded to a senior who has excelled in community service. (This is an on-going scholarship fund).

The success of this event is due to the hard work of many Kiwanians and others. Our community supported it by their attendance. We appreciate this tremendous support and are pleased that this developed into a wonderful community affair. Hopefully, it will become an annual event.

We would like to acknowledge the following donors: Wayne Mason Gregory, McAlpin's CBO; Bobbie Todd, fashion consultant, and her models; and Sheri Hamm Gilbert, Estee Lauder consultant.

A very special thanks goes to the Rockcastle models who did a most outstanding job! We are very proud of them.

Remember to watch for advertising next March for the Second Annual Kiwanis style show and luncheon. You won't want to miss it! Sincerely,

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In Jn. 4:23-24, we read, "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit and in truth; for the father seeketh such to worship him. God is a spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." Let's focus our attention on the importance of worshipping God.

First, let's define the word worship. Worship suggests the idea of homage, reverence, affection toward, to bow in praise to. Of course our worship is directed toward God. Now one may ask, why should I worship God? Let me suggest 3 reasons why we should worship God:

1. God is our Creator, Gen. 1:1, Col. 1:16
2. God is our Sustainer, Col. 1:17, Heb. 1:3
3. God is our Redeemer, Col. 1:14, 20:21

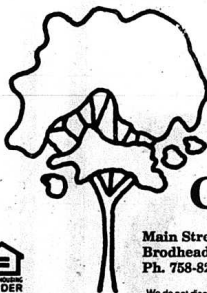

Now if any man can show that God is not his Creator, or Sustainer, or redeemer, we can exempt yourself from worshipping God. But, beloved, we know God is our creator and we know he sustains our world and God sent his Son to die for our sins.

God is seeking men and women to worship him in spirit and in truth. God has given us free will, we can choose to obey him or we can choose to reject him. He desires and seeks that we worship him. True worshippers must worship with the right attitude and in the right way. Doing the right things but with a wrong attitude is not acceptable. Doing the right things but with a wrong attitude is not acceptable. We "must" Jesus said, worship with the right attitudes and doing the right things. Jesus warned of those who worship in vain, in Mt. 15:9, by "teaching for doctrines the commandment of men." Yes, it's possible for us to worship God in spirit and in truth. It's said that a lot of folks are not too this treated in worshipping God the way he directs. So many want to "do their own thing" when it comes to worship. But friends, we are not trying to please ourselves or men in worship, but God. Let's do the things that will please God, for they are revealed in his word. Let us know if you would like to study the Bible.

Kentucky Extension Homemakers Observe National Volunteer Week

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

This week, National Volunteer Week, recognizes the importance of volunteers to American society. Extension Homemakers members exemplify the spirit of helping others. Members of the Kentucky Extension Homemakers, a volunteer group made up of more than 29,000 persons throughout the state, know the meaning of volunteering. Members of the group spend more than 531,337 hours each year volunteering in their communities. The Kentucky Extension Homemakers, through their volunteer work, make a real difference to Kentucky.

The group this year alone has donated more than $31,000 for ovarian cancer research for the University of Kentucky Medical Center. In addition, members have donated $20,000 to fund the renovation of a College of Agriculture meeting room.

In their communities, Extension Homemakers provide leadership for 4-H Programs, community activities and organizations, as well as extend home economics education.

In Rockcastle County, nearly 100 persons belong to Extension Homemakers. Current volunteer projects include: maintenance of Quail Community Park, Indian Summer Camp, Can Tab Drive, County Blood Drives and well as club support for several projects benefiting children & nursing home residents.

Extension Homemakers groups are located throughout the county in most communities. These small groups are linked to the county and state groups and work cooperatively to make their communities a better place.

Rockcastle County presently has clubs located at Conway, Brodhead, Quail, Mt. Vernon (day time) and Mt. Vernon (evening). If you want to join an Extension Homemaker Club in your community, contact Hazel Jackson, County Extension Agent for Home Economics, at 256-2403.

Roy Hubbard of Brodhead with his bountiful garden harvest last summer. Mr. Hubbard, 85, says he will be unable to raise a garden this summer due to health problems.

Dear Editor,
This is just a few words to express how much I have enjoyed the Signal since I came to live in Brodhead 14 years ago. I was born and raised in Wolfe County but lived most of my adult years in Ohio. My husband Roy Hubbard was born and raised in Rockcastle County and always wanted to come back. I was also homeseick for good old Kentucky so after we both retired we sold our home in West Chester, Ohio and bought property here.

The reason I'm writing I just wondering if it would be possible for these pictures to be put in the Signal (at this late date)? Before I could get this done last fall he had a serious heart attack. He is doing real well. He has always been a farmer. (In his bib overalls he looks the part). He has always prided himself on his big garden here and the nice vegetables he grow each summer. As usual he had his big garden planned for this year (which of course he'll never be able to do anymore). He had it disced two weeks ago and will sow it in grass. He wanted these two pictures published to let all his customers know there will be no more of the big sweet potatoes, tomatoes, beans, etc anymore. He always sold so many each fall. (He is 85 year old plus) so I think its high time he retired and takes it easy, don't you?

If it's not possible to put both of these pictures in just use the one of him. I appreciate your paper so much and wouldn't want to be without it. But as we grow older about all we can do is read the news and pray for our nation. I belong to the Brodhead Baptist Church and we're so proud of our nice new addition. It's double in size now. I don't expect you to put all this in the paper. Just the pictures and word it (no matter how brief) on what I have explained. Thanks for all you have done for us.

Lower Plant Populations

Decreasing plant populations on burley tobacco might lower yields per acre but actually increase net returns from a given amount of quota. The increase in net returns occurs because several production costs (especially labor) decline dramatically as plant populations are lowered.

Consider the following example of producing a 10,000 pound quota at two different plant spacings: 16" in a 42' row and 24" in a 42' row. The data in the example are based on six years of university field research.

10,000 LB. OF QUOTA
Plant Spacing	16x42	24x42
plants per acre	9334	6223
yield per acre	2892 lb	2653 lb
land requirement	3.46 ac	3.77 ac
labor requirement	782 hr	626 hr
seed no. plants	32500	23500
barn nails required	360	312
gross return	$18,300	$18,300
net return	$7,569	$8,753

The higher population spacing out yielded the lower population by 239 lb/acre but required 50% more plants. The lower population actually yielded 38% more than the high population on a per plant basis.

Because of the lower per acre yields, slightly more land is required to produce 10,000 pounds of quota, and the land related costs (such as fertilizer and tillage) would be higher for the wider spacing.

Exit 96A off I-64 - 1225 Early Dr. - Winchester, KY

Now Kerry herself has gained quite a reputation as a smart and relentless prosecutor. Then suddenly Kerry's plans are turned upside down. Her beloved daughter, Robin, is injured in an automobile accident. It is in the doctor's office that Kerry first sees the woman with the beautiful face, a face that she remembers from the past but can't place. Then on another visit to the plastic surgeon, she sees the same haunting face again—but not on the same woman as before.

What is the connection? What follows makes for one of Ms. Clark's most suspenseful novels. The Carousel by Belva Plain. . .

This is a spellbinding novel of an American dynasty shattered by secrets and nearly destroyed by greed. It couldn't happen to a family like the Greys. Surely, Dan and Sally's troubled five-year-old daughter could not have been molested as the doctor claimed. She was too well guarded for anything like that to happen. But she was destroying their homes and their lives. Meanwhile the family business was waning, threatened by dissent from within. The pressure was on to sell family land to foreign investors, a move that divided the Greys and threatened Grey's Food and the small upstate New York City it fed.

Amanda, Dan's estranged sister, had the knowledge, the power, and the motive to destroy them all: an unpeackable secret that would link her to a small girl and a silver carousel.

Valley of the Sun by Louis L'Amour. Valley of the Sun tells the stories of the American heroes whose lives have become the stuff of legend. In these tales, cattlemen ride alone across the open range under the blistering heat of the sun and the deadly aim of roving desperados. Gamblers stake their fortunes and their lives on a deck of cards and Lady Luck. Strong-willed Senoritas seek independence through an enticing and painful combination of beauty, audacity, and spirit. Lawmen and outlaws walk the same dusty streets, sit in saloons drinking the same whiskey, and speak a common language.

In these remarkable stories, Louis L'Amour—like the very heroes he depicts—blazes a trail across the American frontier. He captures for all time the innocence and violence, the drama and danger of our true heritage. Now with the rediscovery of these classic tales, we can once again join this master storyteller or an unforgettable journey into the heart of the western experience.

Infant Massage: The Loving Touch
Infant massage is a system of touching and stroking your baby in a way that expresses love, support, and affection. It is a unique and specific way to create and strengthen a special closeness and awareness between parents and baby.

To survive, we need touching as much as we do food. Humans can go through life blind, deaf, and completely lacking the senses of taste and smell—but survival is not possible without touch.

Infant massage is a therapeutic and effective tool to promote your baby's health and well-being. It will make you and your baby feel wonderful. Massage helps you to welcome your new baby into the family. Your touch can tell your baby how life can be pleasurable, painless and relaxing. It shows acceptance, tolerance, and love, and it can help create a sense of security, reassurance, and safety for your baby.

Bonding is perhaps the most profound and powerful of all human contacts. This first tie between you and your child relates to the world throughout life. Don't worry if an early hospital stay separated you from your infant—bonding is an ongoing process, so it is never too late to bond with your infant. Some of the elements that create bonding feelings are:

Eye-to-eye contact: The eyes are fascinating, compelling, and stimulating. Evidence suggests that a baby's vision starts working when the baby first sees the "bull's-eye" shape of the mother's eye and nipple. Some parents say they first felt a "belonging" with their baby when they gazed into each other's eyes for the first time. Keep steady eye contact when you massage your baby.

Touch: There seems to be a specific touch behavior when parents meet their newborn. They lightly massage, stroke, and touch with their fingertips.

Voice: Parents typically use a high-pitched tone when speaking to their newborn, which works well with the baby's sensitive hearing.

There is a strong link between your speech and your baby's physical response. When your baby moves to your voice, you are encouraged to communicate more. As you talk, sing, and soo to your baby during massage, the two of you are bonding.

Odor: Mother and infant can recognize each other by odor. The close contact of massage makes that link stronger.

Heat: The mother's body provides the exact temperature that the unborn baby needs for warmth and comfort. After birth, your warm touch helps create the closeness of bonding.

Infant massage affects all systems of the body. Massage:

- Increases circulation and speeds up the development of the nervous system
- Increases weight gain and creates a deeper, better sleep
- Relieves stress, gas, and colic
- Increases body awareness for both parent and infant, and shows parents how much relaxation, stimulation, pain and pleasure the baby can endure.

Yes! Before birth, your baby is used in to the mother's rhythms and routines—her sleep-wake cycle, the rhythm of her walking, the beat of her heart, her breathing, and her daily routine. After an ordinary birth, you can help your baby set an "intrauterine rhythm" by following a steady routine in the early days.

Because infant massage is a routine—rhythmically repeated, done softly, painlessly, and lovingly—it helps your baby establish a sense of order, balance, calmness, and trust. Your baby learns that:

- "Life is good."
- "I'm perfect just the way I am."
- "I can trust."
- "Everyone is here to help me."
- "I'm going to make it."

Thanks to everyone who has participated in the "Pass a Buck" campaign. If you have not picked up your card yet, it is not too late. To make an impact, we need every member of Congress to receive a minimum of 100 postcards. The Deadline is June 1st.

The "Pass a Buck" campaign will urge Congress to designate an additional cent per person for support of school, public and college libraries. We believe, and the American public believes, that libraries are worth it.

Pam, Betty and I attended KLA at Louisville last week. Different workshops on library services were presented all day. We came back with a lot of new ideas and we hope to implement them here at our library in the future. We are always looking for new ways to better serve our patrons and to introduce new people to our library. As I have said in the past a lot of people have the wrong impression of libraries.

Several years ago the theme of most libraries was to just have reading material for the public but now we probably check out more informational books than we do fiction books. And not only is information available in book form but magazines, pamphlets, videos and etc. are available here.

While we were at the conference, we discovered some disturbing news by talking to other librarians. Many of the counties have cut back on bookmobile service. I certainly hope that we will not have to do this any time soon. I know that many of the people in rural areas greatly appreciate the service that Pam gives to them. It always helps to give a word of encouragement to our staff whether it's on the bookmobile or in the library and I know Pam would like to hear from her patrons.

We always welcome comments and suggestions.

I would like to make one suggestion to our patrons. Please return the books that you borrow. I realize that all books cannot be returned on time

Meandering Waters of Appalachia

Meandering waters of Appalachia, these words alone puts me to dreaming of cool mountain streams and dark damp hollows. I have always loved mountain streams, the kind that meanders in and out of hollows, down mountain sides, through narrow valleys and over broad plains.

A little trickle of water from a remote spring, perhaps tucked under a cliff or on the side of the hill, is soon joined by other such trickles which create the branches and creeks and rivers and finally reach the oceans of the world. It is quite interesting to trace these waters on a map but much more exciting to follow the meandering, twisting and turning on foot, or by driving alongside the streams and watching the tiny trickles become rivers.

I don't know where the "Rockcastle River" was born but I have seen much of its beauty as it grew into a river and wound its way through Rockcastle County on its journey to the ocean. I, with kids in tow, swam in pools of water between big boulders, and sat in the shallow water of the rapids while the rushing water swirled around and about us sometimes almost taking our breath with its mad rush to get past us and on its way to its destination. We were never much for hunting or fishing but what little we did was mostly done on the banks of Rockcastle River. There is a special little spot there that was our recreation site when our kids were small. Their treat for doing their work well was to get an afternoon off to go to the river for a cooling off swim, swimming and picnic. Rockcastle River has been designated as a "wild river" and if you once travel it between Livingston and Bee Rock, in Pulaski County, you will understand why.

The parts of it I have been able to see without the rough trek of entire way by water have carved images on my mind of rapids, quiet deep pools, huge boulders reaching a river then spewing it out in tiny racing waterfalls followed by a nice evenly flowing stream of gentle water losing itself under a bridge. Even now when I think of Rockcastle River these are the memories that come to my mind. Today I am sure there are different sights to be seen, such as left over camp sites, litter filled banks, broken glass and such that makes the old swimming hole unsafe. Shame, Shame, Shame, on our sports people of today.

Several years ago I was shown a bubbly little spring high up on the mountain side close to Jenkins, in Leitcher County that was said to be the beginning of the Kentucky River and we all know how this river twists and meanders throughout the whole state. At one time, or so I have been told, this river was the only way the mountaineers had to get their logs to the markets in the south where building new cities was booming. Many a mountainside in Kentucky has donated its huge oaks and pines to fill the waters of the Kentucky River in the spring where men braved the dangers of rafting them to far off places such as Louisville and New Orleans, La. The beautiful old homes still in existence in these places were in all probability built from these sturdy logs from Kentucky. Now this beautiful scenic river that was once the life line of the settlers of Kentucky can no longer be used safely for swimming or boating.

Now contrary to what many of you may believe Appalachia is not confined to Kentucky and Tennessee, it begins in Quebec Canada and ends in Alabama, so my meandering waters of Appalachia covers a lot of territory and you can readily see how a contaminated spring in a hollow close by can help contaminate the oceans of the world.

There was a time when all these springs and streams of water were pure and sparkling and the weary traveler could safely drink from any spring he found oozing or gushing out from beneath a cliff or big tree. It's a joy to behold a stream of water leaving its mountain hideaway. The water from the larger springs come tumbling out creating small waterfalls or from between large boulders where white foam and cool sprays of mist fill the air before settling down to a quiet deep pool. Then there are those streams that glisten like moving ribbons of silver as they weave their way through meadows then finally get lost beneath a bridge or valley. These waters seem to be happy and singing as they rush between big rocks and down mountainsides to join some mighty river or ocean. Their gurgling singing voice either makes one want to join in their merrymaking and sing along or simply to lie quietly beside the stream and soak in the soothing sounds that can be medicine to frazzled nerves.

As a child I have waded in some of these mountain streams and drank from the springs from which they sprouted. Many a wet behind and sore bottom I have had as a result of wading in shallows water with slick rocks at the bed of the stream, and often, after we had been scolded for having wet clothes on, we used the excuse, "we fell in" to hide the fact, "we went in" for it really was fun to sit in a small pool and play with the tadpoles and salamanders that inhabited them. Larger streams had big swimming holes beneath big sturdy trees that were truly great for real swimming. Many of us learned how to swim early in life so we could make use of these swimming holes. After one experience of swimming in one of these little pools I decided I was ready to tackle swimming in the Ohio River which was close to where we lived. So, my real learning to swim was accomplished in the beautiful Ohio River.

The Ohio River is another meandering waterway of Appalachia. Its beginning is in Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania, via the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers meet and their joining is the beginning of the Ohio River. This river was one of the gateways to the west and was traveled by many of the settlers of Kentucky as well as the rest of the country. It is a beautiful river from beginning to end growing deeper and wider as it is joined by other streams. Islands are scattered along its length, some big enough to camp on, others just a bright spot in the midst of swirling water. My pleasant memories of it are of the big boats that traveled it with their passengers promading the decks and waving to us on shore. Also of the many hours of swimming in water that had no bounds. "Volunteer Week" FOR THE CHILDREN...

During last week's televised broadcast of President Clinton's weekly radio address, President and Mrs. Clinton spoke with the children of families representing federal agencies with offices in the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City.

In that discussion the children suggested, and the President and First Lady endorsed, sending cards and letters and other expressions of support to the children in Oklahoma City.

Both FEMA and the White House have received calls requesting an address which may be used by children wishing to write to children in Oklahoma City. The mayor's office in Oklahoma City has agreed to receive and forward such letters, which should be addressed to:

For The Children c/o Rick Moore Assistant to the Mayor 200 N. Walker - Suite 302 Oklahoma City, OK 73102

The mayor's office is making arrangements to distribute mail which they receive for the area's children.

"Plant Populations"

However, almost all other production costs are lower at the lower population. The wider spaced tobacco requires about 20% less labor than the narrower spacing, primarily because there are 27% fewer plants to handle. Producing a given quota with fewer plants offer other cost savings as well. Growers using float plant production methods have become conscious of cost per plant. Lower field populations mean more acres from a given number of float beds. Barn space, another costly and scarce resource, is also used more efficiently with lower field populations. 15% less barn space is required to hang the 3.77 acres of wide spaced tobacco even with the assumption that the heavier plants of the lower population treatment were hung with 5 stalks/acre as opposed to 6 stalks/acre for the higher population.

The cost savings of the wider spaced tobacco more than offset its lower yield per acre. With no observed quality differences, the gross return from either spacing treatment is about $18,500 at 1992 average prices. Adopting the cost savings of lower populations can result in nearly $1,200 extra for 10,000 pounds of quota ... the same as a $12/acre increase in price.

Growers facing transplant shortages in 1995 might stretch these plants supplies and take advantage of cost savings by changing to wider plant spacings.

FCIC Actual Production History

In order to improve crop insurance coverage, producers should be keeping production records on all insurable crops. Under the new provisions, with four or more years of records, Transitional Yields (known as Y yields will no longer affect a farmer's APH approved yield. Yields are adjusted CFSA Program Yields used by FCIC to compute a farmer's yield in the absence of certified records. Even 1, 2, or 3 years of records can have a positive result. Producers may also request to have measurement services for wheat, corn, soybeans before harvest to establish actual production history for the farm. July 1st deadline to buy or sell burley quota for crop year 1995. Producers who have bought or sold part of a farm and the farm's tobacco quota resulted in less than 1000 pounds must also action concerning the quota prior to July 1st. Contact the office to find out your options.

Dropping tobacco quotas - Quotas will be dropped on farms that have not leased away or produced their quota in two of the last three years. To save your quota you must lease, produce, or sell your quota.

Conservation Plan- Producers are reminded they must file or update the AD-1026 Highly Erodible Land Conservation (HELCL) and Wetland Conservation (WC) Certification to receive program benefits for crop year 1995.

Acceage Reporting- It is the Insured's responsibility to report all acreage planted, name of person(s) sharing in crop, and date crop planted. Final planting dates are as follows: Corn 5/31, Burley 6/30. Final reporting date is 7/15. Persons selling carrier tobacco are also required to do an acreage report, even though they may not have paid for the FCIC insurance.

April, 1995

I. Welcome and Announcements:
 The April meeting of the RCHS/SBDM Council was held on April 24, 1995 at 6:01 p.m. by Principals Ronnie Cash, Council members present were Ruth Allen, William Lynch, Charles Norris, Ronnie Sears, and Judith Smith. Several parents were also in attendance.
II. Minutes:
 Minutes of the March meeting were distributed to the council members and guests for review. Following the discussion of the minutes/Judith Smith made the motion to accept the minutes as written. Ruth Allen gave a second and the motion passed.

III. Baseball:
 Mr. Cash presented to the council some concerns that had been expressed to him pertaining to the baseball program at the high school. Mr. Cash said he thought the individual would be present at the council meeting; however, the individual had met earlier in the day with the baseball coaches, Ryan Riddle and Jesse Mahaffey, along with Mr. Cox. The concerns presented to Mr. Cash focused on the following:
 • The number of games played on the trip to Florida during Spring Break.
 • Class time missed during the trip.
 • The amount of playing time individual players were acquiring.

Mr. Cash then questioned the council members if they had any parents/individuals to express concern about the baseball program. Ronnie Sears responded by stating that an individual had approached him and expressed concern that some player(s) had been "cut" from the team while another player had been kept who had been accused of violating rules/laws. Mr. Sears further stated that this could be rumor, but he had been approached. Mr. Cash stated he would further investigate this issue.
 Ms. Judith Smith questioned why so few games were played, but no answer was available. Ryan Riddle was not present during this agenda item; however, he entered the meeting late and Mr. Cash re-opened the item near the close of the meeting.

The facts were reviewed that Mr. Riddle, Mr. Mahaffey and Mr. Cox had met earlier during the day with James O. Smith. After a lengthy discussion, some of Mr. Smith's personal concerns were lessened. Mr. Cash asked if anyone had questions for Mr. Riddle. There were none and the discussion ended.

IV. Budget:
 Mr. Cash presented each council member a packet containing teacher budget requests. He commented on several of these and asked that a special meeting be called to discuss budget and staffing. A complete athletic budget would be presented at the special meeting. A suggestion was made by Mr. Cash that some of the budget appropriations be held until second semester next year for things not anticipated. This would also be decided at the called meeting on May 4, 1995 at 6:30 p.m.

V. Staffing:
 Mr. Cash presented the council with the known positions to be filled for the 1995-96 school year, including some which had been announced earlier. The council will be charged with the task of determining what positions should be filled. This will be done after close scrutiny of teaching demands created by KERA, new RCHS initiatives, and student requests through scheduling. These would be decided at the called meeting on May 4, 1995 at 6:30 p.m.
 The following are positions vacant due to announced resignations and the council will decide on which positions to fill:
 -Home Economics (two)
 -Nash
 -Band (district position for RCMS and RCHS)

 -JROTC (Commissioned and non-Commissioned office)
VI. SBDM Elections:
 The time has arrived that new SBDM council representatives be elected. This is in accordance to the guidelines for the RCHS/SBDM Council. VII. Other:
 Mr. Cash informed the council that the cheerleaders were coming to school at 7 a.m. and utilizing the facilities in the weight room to prepare for the coming year. One parent had expressed concern about the time selected to do this training and input from the council and guests was requested. Mr. Cash stated that he had conferred with the sponsors and they were agreeable to working with parents who had "hardship" situations concerning this time.

Two parents of cheerleaders were present and responded. Both stated they would prefer another time, but, in light of all circumstances, this seemed to be the most feasible for all concerned.

• The council was presented the Social Studies Policy which was introduced at the March meeting. William Lynch made the motion to accept the policy. Ronnie Sears gave the second and by consensus, the motion passed.
