Vacation Activities for Language Development

"I don't have anything to do." How many times have you heard that statement during the summer months? These activities will provide hours of fun for your child. They'll also give your child learning experiences that develop listening, speech, and language skills.

Take a walk around town or your own neighborhood. Ask your child to talk about what's going on—dogs running, children playing softball, people buying things in stores. Respond to what your child says. For example:

Child: Play baseball.
Parent: Look! She's running. Fast! She hit the ball far. Will he catch it? By making comments, you help your child to focus attention. Pointing out the details teaches children to learn from what they see and hear. As you talk, your child will learn words for different experiences. Language helps children remember, and later talk about, what they've seen and heard. On your walk home, play a memory game. Ask your child to remember and tell you what happened during your walk.

If your child is working on saying specific sounds such as "L" or "ch," help your child look for things outside with these sounds.

Parent: Look at the ball rolling. I hear your "L" sound in "ball" and in "roll."

Parent: I see a chimney. Guess what? Chimney has your sound. Praise your child by saying "Good!" or "nice try!" when your child says words with the special sounds.

Talk about different sounds you hear and help your child learn what makes the sounds, for example: "I hear an airplane. Let's look at the sky and see if we can find it."

Here's a language game to play in your own yard. Take turns being the leader. The leader repeats an action, saying it while doing it. "I'm jumping, jumping, jumping." Everyone says and does the same thing as the leader. The leader changes the action quickly. ("I'm clapping" or "I'm marching" or "I'm turning.") Anyone not changing actions with the leader is "out" and steps back.

Take turns hiding a small ball or other object in your yard. The person who does the hiding gives directions to the others to find the ball: "Go to the edge of the house and turn left. Look in front of the bike." Whoever find the object first gets to hide it next time.

Here's another language game to play in your own yard. Take turns thinking of an animal and acting out its actions. Try to guess the animals acted out. A monkey could be acted out as reaching up into an imaginary tree, picking a banana and then peeling it. Describe what you're doing as you do it: "Now I'm reaching for a banana in a tree." See how many different animals you and your child can cut out and describe.

Indoor Activities. Cut up old magazines and make silly pictures. Glue a winter coat on a child playing at the beach, your child will have fun talking about why the pictures are silly.

Save cartoons from the newspapers. Help your child cut out your favorite characters. Glue them on another piece of paper. Draw speech bubbles for your characters and write in new things for the characters to say. Read your new cartoons to each other.

Have your child tell you what's needed to make lunch. Ask your child to describe each step as you do it (opening, pouring, slicing, spreading, cutting, mixing, etc.). Ask what would happen if the steps were reversed. "Can I spread the jelly before I open the jelly jar?"

Have your child help you write your shopping list. Ask why you need each item. Which ones are vegetables? Fruits? Meats? Cereals? Snacks? Ask how the foods feel (hot, cold, soft, hard, crunchy, juicy, dry). Ask which foods are eaten at breakfast, lunch, supper, or snacks. After shopping, ask your child to help you put away the groceries. Talk about where each food will go (refrigerator, freezer, cabinets).

Busy Bee Homemakers

We met at the home of Irene Winstead for our May meeting. Irene has a beautiful home surrounded with beautiful flowers. A special thanks to her for sharing her home for the meeting.

Barbara Praior opened the meeting by having the devotion presented. This month's devotion was entitled "A Profile of a Mother" and was read by Cecilia Renner.

Roll call was given and we had to answer by "What do we like about the month of May?" Most all answers included something about the anticipation of warmer weather and the beauty of nature. I thought this was one of the prettiest spring seasons we have had in a while.

Carolyn Gilbert read last month's minutes. She collected the items we brought to be given to the local Red in order to maintain eligibility for crop indemnity payments.

Crop acreage reports are presently being taken for farms which have only hay and/or pasture to report. This crop report can be made, for instance, when you come in to sign a tobacco lease. Avoid the rush of crop certification, come in now and do your crop report if you have only hay and pasture to certify. The reporting deadline for planted crops (corn and tobacco is July 15th).

For the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) practices available include; new seeding, ponds, critical areas, sod waterways, diversion, forestry practices less than ten acres. For a seeding practice, a current soil test is required. The test must be less than 1 year old and completed through UK. Test results must be submitted upon filing.

When you need Emergency Medical Treatment . . .

Millie Eaton, ER
 Rockcastle Hospital

More often than not, if you or someone in your family requires emergency medical care, it is a serious situation. In such a situation, you don't need a lot of unnecessary hassle, a lot of problems at a time when you need medical treatment.

At Rockcastle Hospital, we make every effort to provide medical care first. We get the necessary information we need to administer the proper treatment without asking a lot of unnecessary questions because we don't want to add to the stress for family members of an already difficult situation.

We are proud to provide quality emergency healthcare to our friends and neighbors in Rockcastle County.

FAITH POINTS TO LESSONS LEARNED FROM WEATHER DISASTERS

Last year's news was dominated to a great extent by the weather, at least during the spring and early summer. Depending on where you live, there was either too much or too little of it, ranging from the fifth year of a drought along the west coast to heavy flooding and an incredible parade of tornadoes in the midwest. However, one lesson emerges from all this excessive storm activity, which must be expected now and then: God gave us the ability to prepare for these periodic disasters; with better construction methods, storm shelters, and more accurate forecasting; and we learn this increasingly as time progresses. Attend your House of Worship, remembering that God did not put man on this earth to destroy him, but to teach him to cope with whatever comes along.

The truly noble spirit...becomes more conspicuous in times of disaster. — Plutarch

Vacation Bible School

The Brodhead Christian Church will be hosting its Vacation Bible School, June 12-16, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Young people from the ages of 4 to 14 are invited to come and learn more about Jesus. An adult class will also be offered. For information, call Andrew Paris (minister) at 606-758-8721.

Vacation Bible School

June 12-16, 6:30-8:30 p.m. at the Brodhead Christian Church (on US 150 across from Watson's Funeral Home). These five fun-filled days of Bible lessons will focus on ordinary kids from God's World who became heroes because God's power was at work in their lives. By bringing your children (ages 4-14) to VBS at Brodhead Christian Church, they can become God's "Super Kids," with a self-esteem message the world is waiting for...it is cool to be Christian! If you have any questions or if you will need transportation to and from the church, please call the minister, Andrew Paris at 758-8721.

Poet's Corner

Valedictorian Class of 1995

by Preston Parrett
She was reared in Rockcastle County on a Negro Creek baby farm, Where she was taught responsibility and developed beauty and charm.

She went to Brodhead Grade School and her mind took flight, As new horizons opened up and her intellect soared out of sight,

She did her chores at home and her homework as well As she improved and advanced profoundly up the educational trail.

She enrolled at Rockcastle High where her commitment to excellence was unabated, And she would be at the top of her class with a perfect 4.0 when she graduated.

She took the toughest courses and burned the midnight oil, As she successfully mastered each course with extra effort and a lot of toil.

She became a Governor's Scholar because her attainments were great, And she won wide acclaim in our school and our state.

She was a member of various clubs and was on the tutoring team, Helping others with her special attributes and adding to our school's esteem.

If everyone used her as a role model our school would be so grand, For we would have the greatest students in all of our great land.

Being Valedictorian of her class will put her in the Rock Hall of Fame, So that all will remember that Rebecca Fay Blanton is her name.

Salutatorian Class of 1995 by Preston Parrett
She was born in Corbin, a small Kentucky town.

In Laurel County she began her education where her work became renown.

From kindergarten through junior high her grades began to soar, As she worked and studied hard raising her academic standards more and more.

Moving to Rockcastle County she enrolled at Rock High, A driving force of dedication and perfection which her record would exemplify.

Through her four years of study her courses were all mainstream, And with her high intelligence she was a valiant member of the academic team.

Her home and school life were balanced leaving her time for religious work, For she was of the Pentecostal faith and her faith in God would not shrink.

With a strong sense of responsibility she had a part time job at night, Working hard on job and studies her educational goals were always in sight.

She was a member of various clubs and she had a high G.P.A. She'll be graduating with honors on her graduation day.

If we all used her as a role model our school would be great, For we would have the best students in all of our great state.

Being Salutatorian of her class will put her in the Rock Hall of fame, So that all will remember that Rebekah L. Blanton is her name.

New business of a fund raiser and a one day trip for the club was disussed. Pioneer Playhouse in Danville is where we will be going if all works out.

The lesson for the month was Salad Savvy. We learned that the proper name for that hood over the salad bar at restaurants is sneeze shield. Salads are a great addition to any meal and can be an appetizer, side dish, main course and a desert. Salads are high in nutrients and I think a lot of people like them for the convenience and easy preparation.

Irene served us with vegetables and cheese cracker snacks and a delicious strawberry cake. We missed those who couldn't be with us but hope to see you next month when we will meet at the Extension Office on June 13th.

Open House
Sowder Nursing Home will host an Open House Thursday, June 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. for Alice Haman and Zella Stencel. All family and friends are invited to come help celebrate the 100th birthday of these dear ladies.

Don't forget if you have a picture or memory to share it needs to be submitted by Monday, June 12.

Rockcastle County High School SBDM minutes

The May meeting of the RCHS/SBDM Council was held on May 22, 1995 at 6:30 p.m. the meeting was called to order at 6:37 p.m. by Principal Ronnie Cash. Council members present were Ruth Allen, William Lynch, Charles Norris, Ronnie Sears and Judith Smith. Several parents and teachers were in attendance. The fact was noted that the agenda date of May 5, 1995 was an error and the date should have been May 22, 1995. The correction will be made when the minutes are typed.

Minutes of the regular April 24th meeting and special called meeting on May 4, 1995 were distributed to the council members and guests for review. Discussion was held on the necessity of increasing graduation requirements and raising standards throughout the curriculum and school.

Following the discussion Ronnie Sears made the motion to accept the minutes as written. Judith Smith gave a second and the motion passed.

Five teachers from the RCHS math department (Scott Adams, Trina Bustle, Joy Cooke, Mike Elkins, and John Wells) were present to propose strategies to improve the mathematics curriculum. Curriculum improvement has been a continuous endeavor since the spring of 1994. The material being presented to the council tonight is the result of work done recently on the School Transformation Plan (STP) for the 1995-96 school year. This has been in collaboration with Jane Harris. Distinguished Educator assigned to RCHS.

The teachers presented to the council seven different proposals the teachers wanted approval to implement. These proposals are as follows: prerequisite Policy, Math Showcase course requirement, amendment to the policy passed May 23, 1994. The amendment would require students to pass a math class each of the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade years, then pass the math showcase class the twelfth grade year, mastery exams and credit, all or no credit policy, no drop back policy, drop/add policy.

Mr. Cash, Mr. Cox, and the council wanted the minutes to reflect their appreciation for the hard work and dedication the math teachers have given throughout the year attempting to increase standards in the math department. Mr. Cash stated, "We applaud your work and efforts." Further work is planned with the middle school on May 30th to address mastery exams at their level.

Mr. Cash informed the council of the current status on filling staff vacancies: interview dates and times have been scheduled for the math and home economics positions.

A committee consisting of Mr. Cash, Mr. Towery and Mr. Bray conducted interviews for the commissioned JRCITC officer position. Mr. Cash will make a recommendation to Mr. Towery on Tuesday for this position. The non-commissioned officer (NCO) will be hired later.

The bond director is a district position and a committee for this will be determined at the central office. This is expected to be initiated in the next two to three weeks.

The position for librarian is still in the planning stages. Mr. Cash expects the committee to select this person will be the SBDM Council.

Mr. Cash informed the council that he had worked on the individual budget appropriation for each faculty member. The math and science components have not been presented to the STAR Program (EIAC) in Frankfort and we are depending on this funding to assist in implementing initiatives stated in the STP. Mr. Cash requested the council delay their approval until after the STAR appropriations are determined. By consensus the council agreed.

Mr. Cox presented the council with policies pertaining to math, English, social studies, and practical living. These have been presented earlier and final action is needed.

The policies are: Math requirements: this stipulates that students will be required to complete three and one-half credits in math to receive a diploma from RCHS. This topic was discussed at length by the math teachers therefore, the council withheld action until further revisions could be made. English policy: this stipulates that graduates of RCHS must complete four and one-half credits in English/language arts and replaces the Senior Transition class policy of April, 1994. Ronnie Sears made the motion to accept the policy and William Lynch gave the second. By consensus the motion passed. Social Studies policy: this policy was passed at the April meeting however, revisions were made to further clarify the intent of the policy. William Lynch made the motion to accept the policy as revised. Judith Smith gave a second and by consensus the motion passed.

Mr. Cox presented a letter to the council which was to be submitted to Mr. Shelby Reynolds. This letter was in support of the N.A.R.E. affiliation that the high school has been involved for the past two or three years. By consensus the council gave its endorsement and directed Mr. Cash and Mr. Cox to sign and forward this letter to Mr. Reynolds.

Mr. Cox then presented the council with the district budget for Gifted Education. By consensus the council gave its approval.

Mr. Norris presented a question for addressing excessive absences. Mr. Bill Lynch was appointed to select a member from each grade level teacher team with Doug Bullock as a parent representative. This committee will present their recommendations at the next meeting. If any recommendations can be implemented prior to the next meeting, the council, by consensus, agreed to do this.

Another question Mr. Norris was requested to present concerned students electing to enroll in a class for credit then deciding to audit the class for no credit. This has had some adverse consequences in a few instances. Mr. Norris was asked to form a committee from each grade level team and a parent to provide guidelines for students to audit a class.

Another item concerned what would be the most appropriate times for sending out notes for faculty/team meetings. The council decided that this should be discussed within each grade level team prior to any decision being made.

Faculty and administrators of the University's academic colleges were on hand, as well as thousands of family members and friends of the new graduates.

The commencement address was given by Dr. Helen M. Reed, Lexington, an educator for the past 60 years. Reed and author Bobbie Ann Mason received honorary doctor of letters degrees.

Following the University-wide ceremony, each of the nine colleges sponsored receptions for the new graduates at various campus locations.

Poynter awarded

The American Medical Association awarded a First Place Certificate of Excellence in Health Reporting and a check for $250 to Kathy Wilson Poynter of Berea. Poynter, a junior at Eastern Kentucky University, won the recognition as a part of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's Gold Circle awards which were presented in the city of New York. Poynter's health feature "Sex and its Consequences" was published during the fall term by the Eastern Progress, EKU's campus newspaper.

Teresa Warber receives scholarship

Teresa Gail Warber of Mt. Vernon has become a recipient of a scholarship from the Lexington Clinic 1995 Health Scholars Program. The scholarship program was established in 1993 to assist residents of Central and Eastern Kentucky who, after graduation, plan to work in Central or Eastern Kentucky. Scholarships of up to $1,000 per year are available to eligible students enrolled at an accredited Kentucky college, university, or vocational school. The Lexington Clinic Health Scholars Program Award recipients were selected based on academic and potential, financial need, and community involvement.

Rockcastle native is Bellarmine graduate

Bellarmine College awarded degrees to 351 graduates during its 62nd annual commencement exercises on Saturday, May 13. Of the 351 degrees, 104 were masters degrees.

Ceremonies began at 12:30 p.m. in Knights Hall on Bellarmine's campus.

Rockcastle County native Sharon A. Coffey was among the students receiving their degrees. Coffey, who is a graduate of Rockcastle County High School, received a bachelor's degree in communications.

Bellarmine is a private, comprehensive liberal arts college in suburban Louisville with an enrollment of approximately 2,400. It offers undergraduate degrees in arts and sciences, nursing, education, and business as well as graduate degrees in business administration, nursing, education, liberal studies and teaching.

EKU needs applicants

Are you looking for a way to pay for your remaining years of college, or pay off your college loan?

Are you looking to gain some valuable work experience, while serving your community at the same time?

Then Eastern Kentucky University's Student Service Consortium (SSC) is looking for you. Applicants are needed in Rockcastle County to work with local students of all ages in facilitating service-learning projects and fostering civic values by linking schools and communities.

EKU's College of Education was awarded funds through the 1993 National and Community Trust Act to administer the Consortium, which involves a collaborative, regional partnership of school districts, institutions of higher learning, community agencies and public advocacy groups. As a part of Americorps, the new national service program created by the Act, the Consortium implements annually a broad spectrum of service-learning experiences for thousands of area students from kindergarten through post-secondary and allows college students or graduates to earn education in exchange for 1,700 hours of community service.

The SSC, working with the Kentucky Community Service Commission, will recruit and train 20 individuals across a 13-county area of central and southeastern Kentucky. All applicants should have completed at least two years of college with at least a 2.8 GPA. For 10 months of full-time service, each student coordinator will receive an educational award of $4,725, a stipend of $7,640, and health-care benefits.

According to Jamie Begie, who served as Madison County's SSC coordinator this past year, the program is worthwhile from any perspective.

"It's an opportunity to work with all ages on projects that can make a difference to the giver and receiver," she said. "It was valuable work experience as well as a wonderful learning opportunity."

Bruce Blanton, the SCC coordinator in Rockcastle County for 1994-95, said the program "allows you to help all people see the need for assisting others. You can make a difference."

PUBLIC NOTICE

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL FOR GRANTWRITING, TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE AND PROGRAM IMPLEMENTATION SERVICES RELATING TO THE ROCKCASTLE COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT PROGRAM.

Rockcastle County is seeking proposals for grantwriting, technical assistance and program implementation services relating to Community Development Block Grant projects in four program areas: Economic Development, Housing, Public Facilities, and Community and Environmental Projects. Minimum requirements include experience in preparing and managing projects funded by the Community Development Grant Program. A proposal packet is available from the Office of the Judge/Executive, Rockcastle County Courthouse, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, 40456, containing:

- (1) minimum requirements for experience;
- (2) proposed scope of services to be provided; and,
- (3) selection criteria for awarding a contract.

Attention is particularly called to the requirements as to conditions of employment to be observed under the contract, Section 3, Segregated Facility, section 109, Title VI, EO 11246, and EO 11275. Small, local, minority and female owned firms are particularly encouraged to participate.

All interested persons and firms should contact Judge Buzz Carlotta at the above address. In addition, a telephone Telecommunication Device for the Deaf (TDD) has been established via an 800 number for the hearing impaired. Call 1-800-247-2510 and an "Interpreter" will connect the caller with the requested person.

Proposals must be received at the above address by 4 p.m., June 15, 1995. The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court reserves the right to reject any and all proposals not meeting this request for management consulting services.

U.S. SENATOR FOR KENTUCKY

Mitch McConnell

Lawsuits. American style!

What do baseball, hot dogs, and lawsuits have in common? Well you may be scratching your head trying to figure out this brain teaser, but you shouldn't have to think too hard. The answer is simple: they are as "all-American" as mom's apple pie.

But you may be asking yourself: "why are lawsuits on the list?" Well it is because America has a case of "lawsuititis." The U.S. legal system is the most expensive in the world, and something needs to be done to change that. According to a recent poll, 83 percent of American people surveyed believe that our current legal system has major problems and needs serious improvement.

Congress has taken the first step in changing our legal system. The Senate recently passed a product liability bill, which caps punitive damages in product liability cases at $250,000 or twice the amount of a victim's loss. This legislation will help reinvigorate our economy, give consumers a greater choice of products and decrease the expense and unpredictability of our legal system.

While passage of the product liability bill is a victory for legal reform, we still have a long way to go. Legal reform is so desperately needed that I believe the bill should have served as a basis for broader, more extensive action. I added an amendment to the bill to include medical malpractice reform, which would have been a perfect fit with product liability reform.

Both doctors and medical malpractice victims suffer from the same unaffordability of our civil justice system: cases take too long to conclude, anywhere from 2 years to more than a decade. And of every dollar spent in the liability system, only 43 cents goes to the injured party. A full 57 cents of every dollar goes to the system itself, the lawyers and court costs.

The goals of my amendment were basic and fundamental: to promote patient safety; compensate injured patients; make health care more affordable and accessible; contain the costs of the liability system; strengthen the doctor-patient relationship; and encourage medical innovation.

The Senate agreed with the American public and voted in favor of my medical malpractice amendment. However, even though the majority of the Senate voted for the measure, it did not receive the necessary votes to block a filibuster. This means my medical malpractice amendment had to be dropped; but I promise that we will be back.

What it may not be the most comprehensive bill possible, the product liability bill is still a significant reform to our legal system. I will not give up the fight to completely reform the system. Our economy, our citizens, and the injured parties who depend on the legal system all deserve a better one. America is suffering from "lawsuititis" — let's work together and find the cure: a strong dose of legal reform.

COMMONWEALTH OF KENTUCKY 28TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT ROCKCASTLE CIRCUIT COURT - DIVISION 1 CIVIL ACTION NO. 95-CI-00014

The Bank of Mt. Vernon Plaintiff, v.
Janie Clark Wooten and Douglas Wooten, Defendants.

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to judgment and order of sale entered in this action on May 4, 1995, for the purpose of satisfying the judgment against the defendants in the amount of THREE THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED AND 50/100 DOLLARS ($3,400.50) plus costs, interest and attorney fees, I will offer at public auction the herinafter described real property in Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

AT THE COURTHOUSE ON EAST MAIN STREET
ON June 20, 1995
BEGINNING AT THE HOUR OF 11:00 a.m.

The real property is improved with a 1977 Freedom Mobile Home, Ser. no. ALFG83864991A, Title No. 9118861020002. Said mobile home shall be sold with the following described real property: Beginning on a fence post in the right-of-way of Freedom Road common corner to Tract #1 and Singletree; thence leaving said right-of-way and going with new division line S 75.07° 11' 45" to an iron pin in the right of way of Creech Road; thence with said right of way S 13 deg. 19' 53" W 174.03' to a post corner to Sowder; thence leaving said right of way of Creech Road and going with another new division line the following courses and distances N71.2 deg. 09' 36" W 256.68' to a post; thence N 12 deg. 37' 26" E 174.09' to the beginning and containing 1.025+- ac. Surveyed by Joseph B. Curll, Jr., R.L.S. No. 2292.

Janie Clark Wooten obtained title to said real property by deed dated July 3, 1991, executed by Minta Bullock of record in Deed Book 143, page 423, in the office of the clerk of the Rockcastle County Court, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.

- The property will be sold upon the following terms and conditions:
1. The property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five percent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond bearing interest at twelve percent (12%) per annum.
 2. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale.
 3. The buyer shall pay the 1995 County, State and School taxes on the property.
 4. The buyer shall have possession of the premises upon compliance with the terms of sale.
 5. In the event plaintiff, The Bank of Mt. Vernon, is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required and the property will be conveyed to The Bank of Mt. Vernon in due season upon payment of the expenses of sale.
 6. This sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise.

Kenny "Sky" Walker and a few more former U.K. players visited Rockcastle County Tuesday night for a benefit basketball game at RCHS. Walker, also an NBA player, encountered more difficulty trying to accommodate all the autograph seekers after the game than he did with the defense of the local team. Walker was accompanied to the county by former players Richie Famer, Ed Davender and Jeff Brassow. The U.K. players won easily over the local all-stars. (See other photos in A-section.)

I can still remember my senior year of high school like it happened over the last several months. It was one of the very best years of my life—perhaps the single best.

It was a good year because I had a combination of good friends and excellent teachers. It was also the only year of high school that I made straight A's on my report card.

At graduation the class of '67 was not a teary-eyed bunch. Our graduation was a celebration where every single one of us knew every other, not just on a first name basis but at a personal level that I haven't experienced before or since. We were, in fact, very proud of each other and there was a vivid sense that we hadn't finished anything but that we had established a concrete beginning.

Sixty three of us graduated. We had started out as 68 but four of our classmates had been killed in freak accidents and another had moved away. I doubt that any class before or since the class of '67 at Leitcher High School can boast a lower drop-out rate.

In 1977, I was invited back to commencement speaker. D.C. Taylor, our principal, had instituted the practice of having someone who had graduated ten years before to speak at graduation. I still don't know what qualified me for the honor. That was before I had become a famous but starving writer and several, if not most, of my classmates were more economically and academically successful. But I accepted because it was the highest honor I'd ever received and it holds that status yet today.

I remember telling the class of '77 that the biggest regret I had in my life was not being able to stay in Leitcher County and earn a living and I encouraged them to study in college or trade schools so that they might be able to come back home and make a difference. I doubt very much that the message sank in. I expect that like my own class they are scattered now to the four winds.

Last Saturday night I sat in what had to be the hottest gymnasium in central Kentucky and watched my daughter Jennifer graduate and I wondered if she was having the same sensations I felt 28 years ago. I'll bet she'd tell you that this has been the best year of her life and felt the pride, the lump in my throat, that I'm sure my own folks felt in the Spring of 1967.

I'm sure that at least one of my parents also had a corn that was aggravating the devil out of them and that maybe both had also wished they'd worn short sleeves. Three years from now when Christopher marches down the aisle I'm sure that I'll remember the class of '67 one more time, but I'll also remember to leave the coat and tie at home.

place in St. Boniface Roman Catholic Church on Chase Avenue. As you may or may not recall, after I attended a non-Baptist church back in March, the deacon of the church where I am a not-so-kosher member warned me to not let it happen again. So, I may be looking for a church...but where, oh where, will I go? (Please, so Jehovah's Witnesses knocking at my door.)

I forgot to take my hearing aid to Cincy. And with a battalion of fans whirling away, the only thing I understood was the outburst of the congregation every now and then. The priest must have said some shocking things, because most of the people cried out, "Lord a mercy!" Nonetheless, I understood much of what took place because it was so highly symbolic. All things considered, it was an impressive event.

And I must report to you in this potpourri that my ailing back continues to improve. Just why I don't know. I'm sure that in addition to the physical pain caused by my spayoliosis, mental stress is a factor. So, I deleted Channel 29 from my television and immediately the pain began to subside. That's TBN, the Tower of Babel Network. And, I do believe a medication called Relafin has something to do with the improvement. Usually, after a long haul to Cincy and back, I would have been in the floor for a week, popping pills, using wet heat, and doing William exercises. But not so! Thank the Almighty.

Beloved, the boys beckon. So until next week, the Almighty willing, ruminate on the theory of Wab's beloved psychiatrist and part-time recycler of scapable cat litter, Dr. Speck Pot. He concluded that "reality is the leading cause of stress for those who are in touch with it."

And pray for me as I return to my church to see if I'm still on the roll. Word has it that the deacon are talking about something called a "gauntlet."

HERESAY

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and investigations from the hallowed hollow of lush and leafy Wab'd where we try to appreciate the simple pleasures of life, especially scratching and sneezing.

I'm writing this week's article with a bit of a handicap—the older two of three grandsons, Andrew and Alex, are visiting Nancy and me. Talk about a change in our life style! Nancy has taken the week off from her job because she knows I alone couldn't cope. Believe me, Batman and Robin aren't the only "dynamic duo."

Andrew, age seven, and Alex, closing in on five, are wonderfully boyish bundles of perpetual motion and incessant questions. For that I'm glad. We learn by questioning. On the other hand, their questioning poses a real problem for me. Because of near total deafness in my left ear, I have a difficult time understanding them, even with my hearing aid. (And I'm losing it in my right ear.) Asking them to repeat, repeat, and repeat frustrates me. They, however, seem to take it in stride.

Yesterday we trekked up the hill behind our house and entered the Cave-With-No-Name, for the third time. Normally we would have been on the lookout for the Evil Moopah who often resides in that cave, but the word around Wab'd is that he and his cousin, the Grand Bloopoo, have gone to Atlanta to train and tryout for the broad jump in the Olympics next summer. So, when we got to the "big room" in the cave, we three peeped on a big rock that is shaped like a chair and is known far and far as the Evil Moopah's throne. Nancy declined to participate.

Also yesterday, we played baseball and computer games. And we did some target shooting with my bee-bee gun. How proud those guys were when they hit the target—the scoop of a snow shovel hanging on my shed—without any help from Grandpa!

I don't know how well the "gun" bit will go over with their father. When he was just a teenager, I bought him a 410 shotgun and we went rabbit hunting. Mike took aim and hit a rabbit in the rear, crippling him. When I karrie-chopped the rabbit behind the head to finish him off, tears rolled down Mike's face. He was finished with hunting. So was I.

I got the bee-bee gun several years ago when I was in the pastorate. My next door neighbor had a beagle hound. Now, his bedroom was on the far side of the house from the dog pen, and he never heard them when they took up their midnight ritual of baying at the moon or whatever. But Nancy and I heard them! So, I bought the gun, and when they commenced howling, I gently raised our bedroom window and popped them. Before long, all I had to do to stop their "crowing" was raise the window.

The boys and I also watched our video of Rudyard Kipling's The Jungle Book, the non-animated version. I enjoyed it as much as they. And we've been to the Dairy Queen, where the ice cream is good but the service isn't. And we plan to go to Richmond or Lexington for a McDonald's meal, followed by a movie—we hope to see Batman Forever.

Last night Nancy fixed spaghetti for supper. The boys and I got to "cutting up" at the table and got spaghetti on more things than our forks. Nancy loved that!

(As I write this column, Andrew and Alex keep coming into my office, asking when I will be through, so they can play 3Point Basketball on the computer. That, of course, affects my concentration. So, I fired up me ole pipe. That'll keep them out! Oop! I spoke too soon. They're on the front porch, going wild in the swing, which hangs exactly in front of my office window office.)

Oh, how much they remind me of Mark and Mike when they were that age, asking when I will be through, so they can play 3Point Basketball on the computer. That, of course, affects my concentration. So, I fired up me ole pipe. That'll keep them out! Oop! I spoke too soon. They're on the front porch, going wild in the swing, which hangs exactly in front of my office window office.)

To The Democrats of Rockcastle County
Several months ago Lt. Governor Paul Patton asked me to be his coordinator for Rockcastle County, as the primary was approaching. Obviously, I agreed since Lt. Governor Patton and I have been close friends since 1968. In fact, I served on the Pike County Board of Health for several years as a Representative of then Judge Executive Paul Patton and the Pike County Fiscal Court. So, I would like to thank the Democrats in Rockcastle County for voting "Patton-Henry" in the primary and ask all Rockcastle Countians for their help in the November 1995 general election.

Thank you

Bluegrass legends to gather at Renfro Valley

Some of the most famous entertainers in bluegrass music will gather in Renfro Valley June 30 through July 2. The occasion? The annual Old Joe Clark Bluegrass Festival.

Each year, Old Joe Clark—himself a legend in the world of bluegrass—involves some of his friends in the business to join him for three days of non-stop music in Renfro Valley's festival field. This year's event features the Osborne Brothers, Illrd Tyme Out and the New Coon Creek Girls. Joining these acclaimed bluegrass stars will be: Del McCoury, The Lewis Family, Lonesome River Band and Rarely Herd. Because Old Joe believes that "more is better", he's also invited Traditional Grass, Randall Hylton and Raymond Fairchild to join the show. Ernest and Elwood will make a special appearance on Sunday and Blue Night interrupts their traveling to be at the festival on Saturday and Sunday.

"Honey, I am bluegrass to the core," claims the irascible Old Joe Clark, "and if I'm gonna throw a shindig, then it's gonna have the best pickers and singers there is. Period. That's what this festival is all about—good music, good friends and just about the best weekend a body could hope to have!"

RCMS students raise money for Oklahoma City bombing victims

by Melissa Singleton
This school year I have tried to stress to my students the fact that history is happening all around us. We have discussed not only our nation's past but also its present and its future. Students have been very interested in newsweekly events including the October riots in Lexington, the O.J. Simpson trial, the Susan Smith crime, and most recently the Oklahoma City bombing. Within our discussions we have always talked about the effects of these events locally, nationally, and internationally.

During one of our class discussions about the bombing, several students expressed their desire to do something for those who lost loved ones, those who were injured, and those helping in the recovery efforts. As a team, we decided to sponsor a one day donation drive within our school and all proceeds would go to the Red Cross efforts in Oklahoma City. Mrs. Lou Ed Nielsen of the local Red Cross chapter made sure our donation went to this project. In one day, we were able to collect $200.00 schoolwide. But this was not the end. Along with the drive, the students were given a writing assignment. Samples appear with this report.

On May 3, 1995, my flex-hour group was given the responsibility of another donation drive sponsored by the Rockcastle County Kiwanis Club. From May 3 to May 10, 1995 we held "Penny Drive '95" and collected a school wide total of $1,273.76, with the winning homeroom collection of $211.45.

My students and I would like to take this opportunity to thank those who made this drive a huge success.

John Hale, Onna K. Owens, Rose Brown, and the entire office staff at Rockcastle County Middle School for their support; the Kiwanis Club for the chance to do something for those in need; for Pizza Hut for delivering our pizza prizes. Finally, a special thank you to the staff of the Bank of Mt. Vernon for donating the money for the pizza and also for their help in our donations. Finally, thank you to the staff and students of RCMS for your hard work during "Penny Drive '95."

Terror In The Heartland by April Thompson

The Oklahoma City bombing was a tragedy that affected people nationwide. It affected their hearts and minds in many ways.

I first heard about the bombing over the radio, a day after it had happened. I was listening to the morning news on Mix 94.5 when I heard about the bombing. At first I thought it was just a small bomb that had just blown up an area that there were no injuries. Boy, was I badly mistaken.

It had occurred on April 19, 1995 at approximately 9:02 a.m. That next afternoon, CNN was covering every aspect of the disaster. I watched for about two hours. In those two hours, I learned of how bad the bomb had actually been. I saw body after body being pulled out of the remains of the building. It was when I learned of the day care center area still trapped that the full affect finally hit me. There were small children still inside this building.

When Timothy McVeigh was led out of the Oklahoma Courthouse nearby, a shudder of hatred ran through my body. How could anyone hate the government as much as this to kill that many people?

What hurt me the most was watching the morning service on Sunday. A single yellow rose was issued to family members losing an adult member and teddy bears were handed to family members losing children. It hurt me when I saw mothers and grandmothers holding three or four teddy bears and several single yellow roses. It really hurt.

The death toll as of this morning, May 1, 1995, stood at 136 people with around 60 still missing. This is a grave loss.

This bombing will affect everyone in the United States in some way. Children are afraid for their parents to go to work because they are fearing that they will not return upon leaving. They are terrified little human beings that need so much protection and reassurance that these types of tragedies are not necessarily going to happen in their hometowns.

Parents in return are cautious about where they leave their children because they may never know when a terrorist is going to try to harm their child.

The rescue workers probably have the nightmares from the sights their eyes beheld such as decapitated bodies and torn limbs as well as simply dead children.

Many other people will be affected in some way. I hope that the person or people responsible for this horrendous crime are severely punished.

Terror In The Heartland: The Oklahoma City Bombing by Nathaniel Bullock

It was 9:05 on the morning of April 19. Children in the day care center of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal building would have just sat down to breakfast when a bomb exploded in front of the building. The front of the building nearest to where the bomb exploded was destroyed. The bomb left a crater eight feet deep and thirty feet wide. Layer after layer of the building collapsed as ceilings crashed to the floor. Desks, chairs, cabinets, even refrigerators rained out of the building. Among the completely destroyed areas was the day care center.

The official death toll stands at 140 with less than 20 still missing. Many of the dead are children. Hundreds of people were injured including some in surrounding buildings shaken by the blast.

There have been many clues about the horrible incident. Less than 90 minutes after the explosion police stopped Timothy McVeigh for 60 miles north of Oklahoma City for driving without a license plate. He was arrested for having a knife and a semiautomatic handgun loaded with "cop killer" bullets. Later that same day an FBI agent found a twisted piece of metal in the back seat of a legible vehicle identification number. Law enforcement traced the numbers back to a truck rental at Elliott's Body Shop in Junction City, Kansas. Employees who worked at the body shop made two subject sketches. Then to further the idea of the truck being used in the explosion, an ATM camera picked up an image of a Ryder truck in front of the federal building shortly before the explosion. Attorney General Janet Reno showed the sketches of the men who rented the truck to the public and announced a $2 million reward for information leading to the conviction of the suspects. Suspects of tips came in from one and one of them paid off. A motel clerk identified one of the men as someone registered under the name of Tim McVeigh. The name was run through a national computer network for enforcement. The man was Tim McVeigh, a 34-year-old man from Perry, Oklahoma, was discovered.

About 30 minutes before McVeigh would have been freed, the law was informed there that they had a suspect in their custody. McVeigh was turned over to the FBI. He was charged with maliciously damaging federal property. So far, he is the only person charged directly to the bombing.

Then on Friday Terry Nichols (who served with McVeigh in the army) surrendered to authorities. He did not match the other sketch but he was the only one with a material witness. A farmhouse in Decker, Michigan was raided. It's owned by Terry Nichols' brother, James. James Nichols was also taken in as a material witness. McVeigh had lived there and still lists it as an address. Local cops and a neighbor report that James liked to play with explosives on his farm. The Nichols brothers have since been charged with conspiracy to build a bomb.

The second man sketched with McVeigh is still out there. He is known as John Doe 2.

We might ask ourselves, "How could anybody do such a thing?" Many people who know McVeigh and the Nichols say they share a hatred for the federal government. One fact that may be tied to the Oklahoma City bombing is that it happened on the second anniversary of the Federal attack on the Branch 1000000 pound near Waco, Texas. All three men believed that the government committed murder and that the government wants to take guns away from the people. Some people who know McVeigh use words like "crazy" and "eccentric" to describe him. He seemed to be particularly angry about Waco. He was said to have visited the Waco scene and treated like a slave. This led to the speculation that one reason for the bombing is that the extremists might be getting back at the ATF (Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms) the bureau responsible for the raid on the Branch 1000000. ATF was one of the federal agencies with offices in the federal building. The men in custody are not talking and federal authorities continue to investigate the bombing.

Many false reports since the destruction in Oklahoma have led to the conclusion that we really shouldn't jump to conclusions about what we aren't completely sure about. The next day after the bombing, a Washington source said several things led to a link to the Middle East. But the Arab connection never appeared and both men in the sketches are whites who were born in the United States.

The bombing has left many stories of horrorism as well as heartbreak. One story we hear is about a woman named Dana Bradley. Rescuers found her in rubble of the ground floor. Her leg was pinned under a concrete slab and there was no way to lift the slab. An amputation would have been the place to remove Dana from the mangled ruins of the building. Dr. Andy Sullivan was the only orthopedic doctor small enough to fit into the dark crevice where Dana was held. Inoperable anesthesia was used during the operation. Several times Bradley begged for the operation to stop, but she did live and was given proper medical attention.

The heart-breaking part of this horror story involved Dana Bradley's family. She had gone to the federal building to apply for a social security card for one of her small children. Her mother-in-law, younger sister and two small children were with her. The younger sister survived, but the mother-in-law and children did not.

Some of the most depressing news of the blast was the news of the children in the building. One child had no face, just burn skin. Rescue workers have reported that they couldn't tell whether some of the children were boys or girls.

So we are left to wonder how could someone, motivation aside, do something so horrible? Do they have no heart? What they did is horrible. Families lost loved ones. Some of those who did escape will never live the same with some of the injuries they experienced in the explosion. Rescuers or anybody that helped to rescue the victims saw horrible things. Things that will probably scar them mentally forever. It will not only scar them, it will also leave a scar on America as a country.

Death Becomes Life by Stephanie Dobbs

Many things happen, some good and some bad, over which no one has any control. A great deal of people may ask themselves why and tell others it can't be true, but most of the time it is. There is no way to change the past, nor any way to take back the sorrow and grief that has been caused.

On the nineteenth of April, in the year nineteen hundred and ninety five, at three minutes past nine o'clock in the morning, a United States Federal office was bombed. Because of the time of day the bombing occurred, many workers and civilians were inside the building and moving around outside of it. On the second floor of the building a child care facility was located. Many of the lives of the children who were in the day-care center were lost during the awful blast.

During the last few days, there has been some question over what is the worst loss this bombing has created. A few say that the news of the children being lost was the hardest to face. Others feel that the loss of lives of the government officials was the hardest blow for them. For the most part, I agree with both opinions. To lose innocent children who had barely begun to live because of someone's madness is by itself an awful thing. But to lose a mother, father, aunt, uncle, grandpa, grandpa, or just a best friend who was heinously murdered is also a bitter pill to swallow.

After the smoke cleared that day, there was a cry heard across the nation for "Help! Barbara, a registered nurse, heard the noise from the bombing, and immediately headed for the site. She went to try to help rescue the trapped and treat the injured. Not long after she got there, some debris fell and hit her on the head. Giving no indication of her injury, she continued working with the people who were being brought out. Shortly after that point, they knew she would not live. It had been Barbara's wish for some time to become an organ donor so that other families wouldn't have to go through the pain of waiting and not knowing if their loved one would live to see the light come into the sky the next morning.

When asked if she had known the fate that lay ahead of her, would she have gone to the bomb site anyway, her husband replied, "It wouldn't have made any difference. She would have gone anyway." Because of Barbara's willingness to give, even up to the Lady Rockets take region title

Girl's softball reigns supreme at RCCHS since the team is the first ever to advance to state competition with their regional championship at Somerset Saturday.

The girls defeated Clay County 7-1 and erased a 2-0 deficit and broke a 2-2 tie in the bottom of the seventh when Suzie Carpenter lashed a hit to left field to score the winning run.

Somerset's only two runs came in the top of the first off two hits and one error by the Lady Rockets.

The Rockets defense turned it up a notch for the rest of the game as they faced only 17 batters the remainder of the game.

Becky Osborne highlighted the Rockets defense making two outstanding plays in left field. With the Brian Jumpers threatening in the top of the seventh, Osborne made a sliding basket catch to take the wind out of Somerset's sails. Osborne also made a shoe string catch in the top of the third with two men on and Somerset threatening again. First baseman Angie Moore also snagged a line drive taking a hit away from Somerset in a crucial part of the game.

Lady Rockets first state tourney game is Friday, 9 a.m. Capitol View Softball Complex in Frankfort Suzie Carpenter gets a lift from teammates after she got the game winning RBI for the Lady Rockets in the regional championship against Somerset Saturday.

Rockcastle began scratching away at Somerset's slim lead in the fourth inning. Osborne singled and scored on Moore's two-base hit to cut the lead to 2-1.

The Lady Rockets tied the game in the sixth with two out. Amber Coffey singled and Amanda Osborne laced a shot into left field to score pinch-runner Heather Deckard to tie the game.

Somerset got a hit to begin the seventh but three more batters and three outs sent the game to the bottom of the seventh and the game tied.

Becky Osborne singled and moved to third on Amy Robinson's base hit. After Somerset issued clean-up batter Angie Moore an intentional pass, Suzie Carpenter ended the game with a clean hit to left field.

Senior Melinda Smith did a good job pitching for the Rockets as she issued no walks and fell behind a couple of batters 3-0 to only get the batter out.

"The girls had me worried when they didn't hit the ball like they're capable, but I guess they hit it when it counted and we are all excited about the regional championship, head coach Debbie Cash said.

The girls will now travel to the state tourney in Frankfort and play at 9 a.m. Friday at the Capitol View Softball Complex.

Statistically for the Rockets: Melinda Smith was 0 for 3; Becky Osborne was 2 for 2 scoring two runs; Amy Robinson was 1 for 3 scoring one run; Angie Moore was 1 for 2 scoring 1 run; Suzie Carpenter was 2 for 3 scoring one run; Donna Cash was 0 for 2; Ginger Mink was 0 for 2; Kristi Moore was 0 for 2; Amber Coffey was 1 for 2; Tiffany McClure was 0 for 2; Amanda Osborne was 1 for 2 and Heather Deckard scored a run for the Rockets.

Angie Moore rounds second after a RBI double.

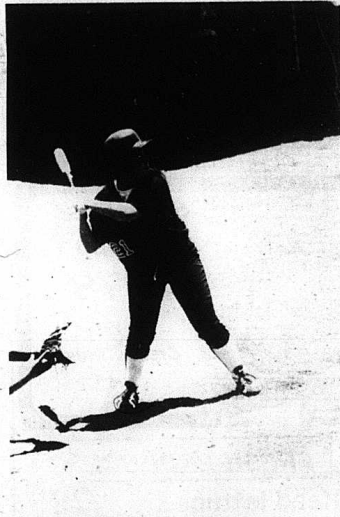

Ninth Region Champs

Shortstop Amy Robinson did an excellent job for the Lady Rockets with six assists for the game.

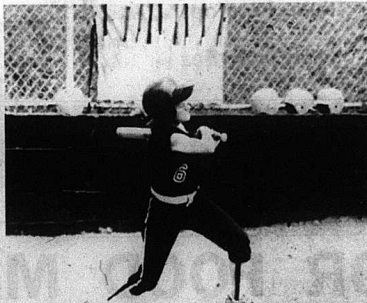

Tiffany McClure goes to bat for the Lady Rockets.

Melinda Smith pitched a superb game for the Lady Rockets allowing no free passes to Somerset.

Amanda Osborne knocked in the second run for the Lady Rockets.

Mrs. Judy Mahaffey of Michigan spent Memorial Day weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Everette Mahaffey.

Mrs. Lena McClure visited Charles in the VA Hospital in Lexington Friday. Mr. McClure remains about the same she reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thompson of Fort Charlotte, Fla. visited Mrs. Lena McClure during the past week. They were enroute to Columbus, Ohio to visit their children.

We wish to thank the V.F.W. of Rockcastle County for the flags for Memorial Day for the Ward Cemetery. Also thanks to Lois Mullins and Earl Pooder. Lois sat with Mrs. Pooder (who is ill at this time) while Earl placed the flags on the graves as has done for several years.

Ronnie Black visited Mr. and Mrs. Denver Mullins last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garner of Falmouth visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullins last Sunday.

Lois Mullins was in Frankfort Sunday, during the week she was at St. Luke Hospital. She also visited Mrs. Mary Ewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard McClure of Winchester visited Mr. McClure's grandmother, Addie Miller, last weekend.

Mrs. Harold Durham had surgery May at UK in Lexington. At this time she is able to be home, but not doing so well.

Memorial weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herstal R. Nicely was his cousin Mrs. Debi Hodden Nicely, daughter of the late Ernest Nicely. It had been 34 years since Debi had been with her family from this area. She was accompanied by her husband, Andy Hodden Nicely and their two sons, Chase and Dylan. Debi and Andy reside in Boise, Idaho and have their own newspaper publication. Other family members visiting were: June Nicely Fowler and Lela Napier of Sharonville, Ohio; Pat Nicely Wiseman and husband Paul of Middletown, Ohio; Sheila Nicely Patton and friend Jeff of Middletown, Ohio; Larry Nicely of South Lebanon, Ohio; Ronald and Betty Nicely of Mt. Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. Mack Taylor of Owensboro; Danny Ray Williams of Richmond and Mrs. Tammy Nichol Roundtree and husband Randy and their son Jamison Cody of Winchester. Everyone had a wonderful time visiting and getting to know Debi and her family.

Fairview News

by Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend. Sunday School attendance was 101.

We are getting a lot of rain at the present time, but I don't think we should complain. In fact, we hope one day we may be wishing for rain and not get it. We take whatever God sends and should be thankful. As I've said many times before, we receive many blessings from God that we don't deserve. After all, what do we do for our Heavenly Father (think about it).

Well, our whole county was shocked by the death, or murder of J.B. Alexander of Orlando a few days ago. He was my nephew and such a friendly and loving man. He could have been living a healthy life today, but his life was snuffed out, like blowing out a candle. Bless his heart, we will miss him. His family has our sympathy and prayers. All his brothers and sisters were here for the funeral. Johnny Alexander and daughter Felicia from Orlando, Fla., Georgia McCall and husband Jim of Springfield, Ohio, Anna Carey and husband Kenneth of Crossville, Tenn., William Alexander and wife Ruby of Brodhead and Eugene Alexander and wife Hallie of Fairview. We often read on tombstones, "Gone but not forgotten," that is the way we feel about J.B. We all loved him.

On Memorial Day, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allen and four daughters of Hamilton, Ohio visited Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hale of Roundstones. They visited, reminisced and later played music and sang some good gospel songs. Elmer and Edith enjoyed it so much, they don't get out much, as Elmer hasn't been well for several months. When they get anywhere someone has to take them. But on Sunday night they attended worship services in Madison County and enjoyed being there and were thankful that they were able to go. Edd Allen mentioned earlier is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Claud Allen.

Little Logan Isaacs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isaacs of near Fairview celebrated his third birthday May 19th. Attending were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Isaacs of Berea and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Whitehouse of Louisville, his great grandparents Mrs. Eula Whitehouse of Louisville and Mrs. Anna Rose Allen of Lebanon Junction. Also two uncles Ronnie Isaacs and Isaac Isaacs and a friend of Berea, Eugene and Hallie Alexander (neighbors) and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and family of Mareburg. We extend our congratulations and best wishes to the Isaacs family. God bless them.

Gerald and Irene Alexander and family, formerly of Sand Springs have moved to Mareburg. May God bless them in their new location.

After the funeral of J.B. Alexander, 38 relatives gathered at the home of Eugene and Hallie Alexander for dinner.

Visiting his mother and her mother, Mrs. Mary Cope and Mrs. Vida Richmond for two weeks were Ernest and Lena Cope of Pasadena, Texas. Enroute here they spent a couple of nights in Atlanta, Georgia with their daughter Diane and husband. They left for home Monday, June 5th. Other guests during this time were: Mrs. Cope's children William Cope and wife, Christine Barnett; Helen Cope; Buddy Cope and wife; Jean Hayes and husband Frankie, also grandson Eddie Barnett and family and brother-in-law Sylvester Cope and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cope and Mrs. Mary Cope visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim and Pearl (Cope) Bowles in Danville recently.

Janet Ridgell and daughter Sherry,

Darleen Abney and myself attended the Rockcastle County High School commencement exercises on Sunday afternoon, June 4th. We really enjoyed it. It was the quietest, most honored graduation that I have attended in years. I wish all the graduates the greatest of blessings in life. They were wonderful.

Guests of Eugene and Hallie Alexander recently have been Mrs. Tretha Alexander of London and her friend of Brindle Ridge and Bill Adams of Mt. Vernon.

Some of our guests have been Joyce and James Seals, Wayne and Carolyn Chastoon, Ernest Cope and Oscar Alexander.

Remember church and Sunday School. God bless you all.

Saddle Club News

by Bev Rockwell

Activities at the Rockcastle Saddle Club are keeping members busy. This month's agenda will include a wagon ride hosted by Bub Legor, Sat., June 10, at his farm at 9:30 a.m., and a horse ride at Chimney Rock led and hosted by J.C. Reynolds, Sun. June 11 at 2 p.m. On Sat., June 17, Allen Dykes will host a ride on Elrod Rd. #3268 at 9:30 a.m. and the following day, Sun. June 19, 2 p.m. Ralph McClure and Steve Zupanic will share the pleasure of hosting a horse ride, 2 p.m. at Cleff Rock. On June 20-22, Mr. Hershel Tye, a seasoned wagon master by any standard, will host his wagon ride from his farm to Rock Creek, leaving promptly at 8 a.m. A few members of the saddle club will meet at the camp grounds Sat., June 17 at 10 a.m. to help clear trails for the upcoming 100 mile ride. Anyone interested in helping would be gratefully welcomed. On the weekend of June 24 and 25 all members of the saddle club are asked to join in an effort to prepare the campgrounds for the upcoming 100 mile ride. There are a number of tasks that need to be accomplished, including painting bench houses, whitewashing latrines, cockshod maintenance, and grounds clean up. We will also ask that a number of volunteers ride and clear any trails that will need for the four day event. The 100 mile ride, which starts Wed. June 28 through July 1, looks to be a big event this year, with a number of guests expected from outside our county and state. Breakfast will be prepared by our own Helen Abney, and the evening meal will be catered by D.W. Cafeteria. Riders are expected to bring their own lunch on the trail. The ride will be divided into two groups this year. The primary ride will leave the campgrounds at 8 a.m. and a pleasure ride, being shorter and slower, will leave at 9 a.m. Joan French will conclude the weekend by hosting the Sunday ride, July 2, starting from the campgrounds at 2 p.m. In addition to the pleasure rides that fill the weekends of so many of our members, (nearly 140 and growing) the club members have now taken on the task of developing a Mounted Rescue Team. The organizer, Jim Combs, a retired police officer, will head the group. A large number of volunteers from the club have already signed up for this project. The rescue team will respond to requests from recognized official organizations only. These mounted volunteers will be able to assist in searching larger areas from higher observational points.

The Rockcastle Saddle Club

Horseback rescue team formed

The Rockcastle County Saddle Club has organized a Mounted Rescue Search Team consisting of members of the club. These volunteers will be available, as a unit, to law enforcement and other rescue officials upon request from the heads of these divisions. This mounted search team will only assist recognized official organizations. Requests by individuals for assistance in a search must be made through official organizations such as law enforcement agencies, forestry divisions, or national parks service departments.

The Rockcastle County Saddle Club Search Team will assist in the tracking of lost children or adults wishes to extend an invitation to anyone interested in horses, from afar or up close, to join us. We meet at the clubhouse on Old Broadhead Rd. (county road #1326) the first Monday of each month at 7 p.m.

from horse back enabling exploration of larger areas and from higher points of observation. The club members wish to extend this service to Rockcastle County residents in particular, recognizing the need to locate missing loved ones immediately.

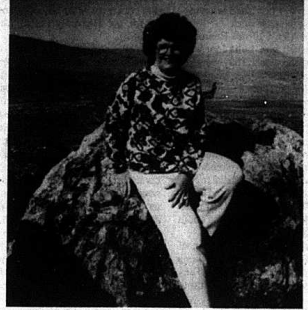

Please contact these individuals for further information. Jim Combs, organizer, 256-2494; Eugene Philbeck, club president, 758-4706 or 544-2255; J.C. Ottenheim '95

by Emily S. Mullins

In the hills of southeastern Kentucky, some honest-to-goodness German heritage still rings true. You can just see the proud memories of the old German culture through the eyes of some of the third generation German descendants that still reside near Crab Orchard, a small, out-of-the-way community known only by the name of Ottenheim.

The German III and IV students got to sit down and talk to two of the residents of this tiny community on May 20th, when they visited a small Lutheran church, known as the Emanuelkirche, erected by the German settlers in 1886. Their names were Orchard back in 1884. After settling there, many Germans began pouring into the small territory. Before long, the townpeople had built a German and an American school, and a Lutheran church (the Emanuelkirche) since so much of their lives were based on religion.

Reconstructing the events of the olden days, Schlappi and Zwahlen taught the German class some very interesting points in Kentucky history. They even got a chance to tour the Emanuelkirche, which holds a fascinating, hand crafted altar and a one-of-a-kind chandelier.

Our group did not know about the rich German heritage of Ottenheim until Schlappi and Zwahlen (both still living on family farms that have been handed down paved the way for the interesting revisitation of the past.

We learned a lot from the trip and would really like to thank Mr. Schlappi and Mr. Zwahlen once again for the information they shared.

Marshall Schlappi and Jerry Zwahlen (both of third generation German/Swiss descent).

Ottenheim got its name from its original founder, Jacob Ottenheimer.

As history recalls, Ottenheimer purchased some land and a small farmhouse from a J.F. Storde near Crab

Tiger Pause

On Tuesday, May 30, BES students were treated to an enjoyable concert given by the RCMS band. We would especially like to mention

Two Rockcastle County 4-H'ers, Tasha Vanzant and Andy Hale, recently competed in the Lake Cumberland 4-H Invitational Junior Talk Meet. The competition was held in Campbellsville at the Campbellsville College. Both Tasha and Andy earned the right to compete at this event by winning their respective age categories in the County 4-H Talk Meet and the Wilderness Trail Area Talk Meet. Tasha was the representative in the 11-year-olds division while Andy was the representative in the 13-year-olds division. Congratulations to these young people on a job well done!

the Brodhead alumni that performed and say the entire band did a fine job.

Covfille, Carolina in conjunction with Mrs. Ponder's class sponsored a Plant Appreciation Festival June 1. Games, food and items to be purchased were all related to plants in some way. Not only was this a fun filled experience but learning experience as well. Special thanks to all the volunteers that helped as well as Randall Templeman and Mrs. Becky from the Natural Resources office.

The BFFC Advisory Council met Tuesday night to discuss plans for the operation of the center for the upcoming school year. Anyone interested in serving on the council or participating in any of the programs offered please call the Coordinator.

Congratulations to Ross McClure our last perfect attendance winner for this year. Ross is a fourth grade student in Mrs. Scott's class and he has not missed a day of school this year. Ross received a calculator, an encyclopedia, and other prizes from the Family Resource Center.

Holmes Arroyave, an exchange student from Columbia, South America, visited Mrs. Cindy's and Mrs. Dotzie's classrooms. Holmes has been in Berea for the 94-95 school year living with the Ralph Arvin family. Holmes shared his country in pictures and in native crafts. The students especially enjoyed listening to a story written and read in English and Spanish. Holmes will be leaving America on June 28 to return home.

Static class of Mrs. Dyehouse and Mrs. Wright would like to thank Mr. McKinney for visiting their classroom. They enjoyed sharing their dictionary activity with him.

Static Primary Class enjoyed a trip to the Louisville Zoo on May 25. Thanks to everyone who helped make the trip a success.

Exchange student Holmes Arroyave shares pictures about his country Columbia and his native crafts.

Berea buddies

Every other Monday, youth day kids at the Rockcastle Teen Center have been participating in an after-school program called "Berea Buddies." Through this program, the youth are paired up with a Berea College student from the Student for Appalachia organization in order to have fun and form a trusting friendship.

Since the "Berea Buddies" program started in April, the pairs have spent time in the Recreation Center at Berea College, at the arcade, walking on campus, getting ice cream and having a group picnic in Berea Park where they ate Whoppers and played games.

The "Berea Buddies" program will be on hold for the summer since many of the college students are returning to their homes, but will be resumed at the start of the new school year.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,
This letter is for the person who stole the basket of red and white flowers from the grave of Dexter Roberts at the cemetery beside Ottawa Baptist Church on the morning of Sunday, May 27, 1995.

If you had known my uncle then you know that he would have given you the flowers or even the shirt off of his back if he knew you needed it.

I don't know who you are, but God does and you will answer to Him.

Annual 4-H recognition program held

On Wednesday, May 31st, 55 Rockcastle County 4-H youth were recognized for their outstanding accomplishments in 4-H for the past year with a 4-H Recognition Program held at the County Extension Office. The 4-H'ers were greeted with a lunch prepared by County Extension personnel and cake and ice-cream.

After lunch, each youth was presented with a certificate acknowledging their accomplishments in the categories of Poster Contest, Talk Meet, Variety Show, Fashion Revue, Dairy Quiz Bowl Team, Dairy Judging Team, Land Judging Team and Vegetable Judging Team. Special Thanks to Tom Mills, Hazel Jackson, Darlene Mylin, Pat Cromer, Brenda Saylor and Judy Hudson for all their help with preparing and serving the meal. Also, a GREAT BIG THANKS to Darlena Mays for transportation.

Educational Programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Tiffany McClure, Cassie Sowder, Amber Thacker, and Amanda Barnett are shown holding the cakes the 4-H'ers were served at the 4-H Recognition program.

budget. Mayor Cromer told the council, "the city hasn't given up on the tax, but it was not included."

The council voted to advertise for bids on a tractor for use by the city in various capacities. The present tractor is a 1952 Ford. The bids will call for a 50 horse power tractor.

The city will post a letter to the state highway department in Somerset and Frankfort asking for a reevaluation of speed limits on West Main Street that Mayor Cromer called an "on going problem."

The mayor told councilwoman Karen King that there is no ordinance in the city against building barns, but if used for livestock it might be a health hazard, councilman Lee Keene noted.

The council voted to remove park-

Dear Editor:
It seems impossible that the rumor of an appearance by the President of Proctor and Gamble on DONAHUE is still circulating after more than a decade. There is absolutely nothing to this rumor.

The president of P & G has never appeared on DONAHUE, nor has any other P & G executive. Anyone who claims to have seen such a broadcast is either mistaken or lying. It never happened.

Sincerely,
Phil Donahue

Keep Farm Children Out Of Harm's Way

Kids growing up on a farm are probably subject to more life-or-death threatening hazards than are their friends in cities or country subdivisions.

For one thing, the tools of farmwork are just outside the back door—the tractors, chemicals, livestock, silos, power tools, the pond. Parents in other occupations usually leave home to do their work and their families are not endangered by hazards they face on the job. But farming parents must be aware of all homeplace hazards and try to reduce risks to their children's safety.

Kids are more precious than any commodity we raise on the farm, but sometimes we can forget their safety when we're busy trying to get work done.

Normally, Farm Safety Week is observed in September, but with school letting out this week, now seems a better time to remind parents of the importance of Farm Safety.

First, recognize the hazards inherent in farm equipment. Nearly four out of five agriculture accidents involving young people also involve tractors and machinery.

About 3/4 of these accidents occurred from tractor over turning or passengers falling off. Four out of five passenger victims are under 16 years old. Per hour driven, young people have four times more likelihood of an accident than do their parents when driving a tractor on public roads.

To minimize risks of tractor or machinery accidents, parents should make sure children are physically big enough and mature enough for the task. A child has to be big enough to reach the controls, and to react quickly in an emergency to stop the tractor.

Other suggestions are:
- Have a "tractor operator only" policy. Do not allow riders on tractors or other machinery since that is an unnecessary risk.

- Youngsters should operate only tractors equipped with cabs having rollover protective structures (ROPS). The structures offer protection if the tractor turns over.

- Keep safety shields in place, especially with young operators, to give as much protection as possible.

- Educate children on safe tractor and machinery operation and encourage them to participate in tractor driving and safety programs such as those sponsored by 4-H and FFA.

Setting a good example is important in encouraging children to use safety precautions. Training is essential. Remember that kids don't have much experience with equipment or in potentially dangerous situations, so they don't automatically know about the hazards and precautions. As a final precaution, parents should supervise young workers closely until they're sure they understand the risks, the hazards and what to do in an emergency.

Adopting safe work habits at an early age will result in lifelong benefits.

the Extension Office at 256-2403 and ask for "Salad Savvy":

Creamy Potato-Vegetable Salad
6 cups sliced, cooked potatoes
1/2 cup cooked peas, chilled
1/2 cup broccoli flowerets
3/4 cup thinly sliced carrots
1/2 cup sliced celery
1/2 medium onion
1 bottle (8 oz) creamy reduced-calorie buttermilk dressing
1/8 teaspoon black pepper
Lettuce leaves

Combine potatoes, peas, broccoli, carrots, celery and onion in a large bowl. Add buttermilk dressing and mix. Sprinkle with pepper and chill. Serve in a salad bowl lined with lettuce leaves.

Excessive rainfall, flooding, hail, highwinds and tornadoes have been prevalent in recent weeks. Many farmers who had not previously insured crops against losses now are covered under the Federal Crop Insurance Catastrophic Risk Protection Endorsement.

Many crops, including newly planted crops, have been affected by adverse weather. Producers who have catastrophic risk insurance are not eligible for replanting payments and are required to replant the crop. For insurance purposes, insurable acreage excludes acreages of crops damaged but not replanted when it is practical to replant the damaged crop.

Acreage reports, establishment of yields based on actual production history and providing required notice of loss are important to all producers. Producers who have Catastrophic Risk coverage must take steps to ensure that the full benefit is realized from the coverage provided by the policy. Acreage reports are required of all producers who are insured in order to establish eligibility. Actual production history is crucial in order to establish realistic crop yields which will be utilized to establish production guarantees. The final date to establish yields utilizing actual production history for annual grains is May 31. Yields for corn, grain sorghum and soybeans may be established through July 15. Equal importance to reporting acreages and establishing yields, is the recognition of the producers duties in the event of a loss or damage to the insured crop. When it is recognized that a loss has occurred, notice of loss must be filed within 72 hours of damage. Initial notification may be by telephone, however, written notification must be filed within 15 calendar days of the event of loss. It is extremely important that consent be obtained from the insurance provider before any damaged acreage is abandoned, destroyed or put to another use. Consent cannot be given when it is practical to replant or until potential production is appraised.

Making Salads Healthier

By: Hazel Jackson

When we make a trip to the restaurant salad bar or fix a salad at home, we often feel that we are eating a low-fat, healthy meal. But, some of the choices at the salad bar are loaded with fat and calories. Here are some tips for making healthier choices at the salad bar:

*Avoid meats and cheeses that are high in fat—choose healthier alternatives (turkey instead of roast beef, cottage cheese instead of shredded Cheddar). If you just can't stay away from these high fat ingredients, keep your portion sizes small.

*Choose plain, raw vegetables rather than those coated in creamy, high-fat dressing (such as coleslaw, potato salad or pasta salad made with high-fat mayonnaise).

*Experiment with various herbs and spices to perk up the flavor of a cold salad. A touch of mint, basil and sage, for example, can add wonderful flavor to a potato- or tomato-based salad.

*Use low calorie salad dressing instead of the regular versions whenever possible.

*When preparing your own coleslaw, potato salad or pasta salad, use fat-free mayonnaise or a small amount of reduced fat or "lite" mayonnaise.

Here is a healthy at-home salad. For more free salad recipes, call
