Rockets shut-out Garrard 15-0 for fourth win

Lions gain only 10 yards

By: Richard Anderkin

Behind one of the best defensive teams in the state, the Rockcastle County Rockets proved once again why they are the number two ranked team in Class AA when they traveled to Garrard County Friday night and blanked an excellent Golden Lions team 15-0.

The Rockets defense which has been superb all season long, held the Golden Lions to only two first downs one coming on an interference penalty by the Rocket secondary. Both first downs were in the second half, Garrard managed none in the first.

The Rocket defense has given up only 13 points in four games, one of those scores was given up by the Rocket junior varsity and the other score was on a fluke pass play by Prestonsburg. In a nutshell, the Rocket defense is awesome.

The Rocket offense is not too shabby either.

Including Friday night's shut-out the Rockets have outscored their opponents 160 to 13. They have held their opponents to 178 yards, while the Rock offense has gained 1450 yards.

Friday night the Rockets did it by ground and air, getting 187 yards on the ground and 69 in the air.

Quarterback Jamie Linville passed 12 times completing six of those tosses, to four different receivers, while Jon Cromer led the Rocket backs with 158 yards on 29 carries for an average of more than five yards a carry.

Cromer also scored both of the Rocket touchdowns on gussy runs of 17 and 40.

His first score came early in the second quarter when Cromer took a Linville handoff and sprinted down the left side lines, walking a tight rope the last ten yards before diving into the end zone. Raymond Blackburn's extra point kick was blocked.

The second score came in the fourth quarter after defensive end Slade Calhoun forced an intentional grounding penalty in the end zone which resulted in a Golden Lion safety. The Lions had to kick from their 20 yard line.

Cromer had fumbled before the safety to give the ball to the Lions, but he atoned for his mistake by rambling 50 yards down the left sideline to seal the Rocket victory. Blackburn added the extra point.

When the dust had settled the Rockets had won 15-0 over one of the top rated Class A teams in the state and in doing so had held a good offensive team to just 10 yards of offense.

Dallas Rigbsy, Jason Childress, Stevie Owens and Neil Sparks pursue a Garrard runner in Friday night's action in Lancaster. The Rockets won their fourth straight game 15-0. Rockcastle's homecoming is Friday night when they host Whitesburg.

Dallas Rigbsy, who was held to minus two yards rushing had six tackles to lead the defense, while line-backer Neil Sparks played excellent on defense with five tackles.

Junior Defensive back Ronnie Vanzant played the option very well Friday night and got five tackles in the process. It was his best game of the season by far.

Defensive end Eddie Todd, who helped contain Garrard's speedy backs the entire game, got four tackles as did David Coffey and Jason Childress. Childress also had one interception on the night.

Jason Brown, who played in his first game of the season after injuring his knee at football camp had three tackles and Slade Calhoun, Adam Browning, and Jarrod Singleton each added two tackles. Jason Weaver, Stevie Owens and J.B. King each had one tackle.

Besides Cromer's 158 yards rushing, Neil Sparks had 30 on just three carries and Jarrod Singleton had four yards on one carry. Jason Brown also had a yard on two carries.

Jason Childress caught two balls for 39 yards, the first catch, set up the Rockets first score and Chris Bullock caught one past for 6 yards.

Jarrod Singleton caught two passes out of the back field for sixteen yards and Jon Cromer grabbed one Linville pass for eight yards.

The Rockets host 4 and 0 Whitesburg Friday night. It is also the 22nd Rockcastle County High School football homecoming.

Assistant Coach Tony Saylor says that Whitesburg will be a tough foe because of their run and pass combination they use on offense. Whitesburg is also a state play-off team from a year ago.

Senior Dallas Rigby gained only a yard on this play as Aaron Ball closed in to make the tackle Friday night. Rigby had a minus two yards rushing Friday, but turned an excellent defensive effort for the Rockets.

Junior Chris Bullock missed this pass, but caught another for 16 yards Friday night in the 15-0 Rocket victory. Jamine Norris and Kevin Broughton were ready to make the play for Garrard.

Forty-Niners and Panthers win in Corbin Panorama

Rockcastle's senior division youth league football teams were presented trophies for winning bowl games at Corbin Saturday night.

The Forty-Niners won a hard-fought victory over Bell Co. Middle School 8-6. Jimmy Gay scored from two yards out for the touchdown and the two point conversion was good on a pass from Josh Hale to Paul Hays. William Blair ran the ball well and the entire defense did a great job holding back Bell Co. in the 4th quarter.

The Panthers defeated Boston Elementary 12-8, scoring on a 65-yard run by Marty Regan and a 15-yard-run by P.J. Rowe. Clay Dooley ran the ball well also and the entire defense played hard to preserve the victory.

In Junior Division play, the Redskins traveled to Williamsburg and won 14-0. Adam Sallsoworth and Jared Burdette scored touchdowns and Adam York made the conversions.

In Junior Division league play Tuesday night, the Bengals defeated the Bucs in a hard-fought contest 13-7. Brandon Campbell and Jason Reynolds scoring for the Bengals with James Michael Bussell scoring for the Bucs.

The Wildcats defeated the Redskins 14-0 with Austin Miller and Aaron Anderkin scoring the touchdowns and Stephen Boering adding the conversion.

Tuesday night the Wildcats easily defeated a Williamsburg team 22-12, a game that saw all Wildcats get a lot of playing time. Austin Miller scored two touchdowns, and Chris Settles scored a touchdown for the Wildcats on the first play of the game on a 70 yard run up the middle. Aaron Anderkin found Stephen Boering in the end zone for two extra point conversions.

The 11 and 12 year old Panthers also played a Williamsburg team Tuesday and lost 12-0.

The 11 and 12 year old Forty-Niner's won at Wayne County over the Chiefs 32-0 Tuesday night.

Local small team play resumes Thursday night at Rounstone when the Bengals (1-1) play the Redskins (1-2) and the Bucs (1-1) try to derail the Wildcats (2-1).

SALAD SAVVY

Crisp, flavorful, refreshing ... These are words that are used to describe a salad. Today, however, nutritious and low calorie are buzz words salad-lovers want to hear, too.

Salads - deliciously combine lettuce or other vegetables, meat, poultry or fish; eggs; or fruit with various herbs, seasonings or dressings (an appetizing sauce served with the salad). Although usually served cold and frequently raw, salads can be made from cooked or canned foods, or contain hot ingredients.

Salads can be served as an appetizer, accompaniment to the main course, dessert or even the main course itself.

Source of Nutrients. Many salads are high in nutrients. Most fruits are valuable sources of nutrients. Citrus fruits, strawberries and cantaloupe are high in vitamins C and A. Fruits also can be a good source of fiber.

Dark-green leafy vegetables are known for their high nutrient value.

Watercress is a good source of vitamin A. Spinach is not only a good source of flavor and appearance appeal, it is rich in iron and other nutrients. One-half cup of fresh spinach provides almost twice the amount of vitamin A and half the vitamin C needed for one day. It, like other vegetables, also is a source of fiber.

From the Bottom Up. Salad greens are the foundation of most salads. Greens are the main ingredient of a tossed salad, but also can be used as the base for many other salads.

Greens make a pleasing background for other flavors, and add color and texture to the mixture. Each type of salad green has a distinct flavor, color, shape and texture. A combination of greens provides an interesting flavor and appearance.

Here is an example of a low-fat salad that may be used as an appetizer or sandwich:

Favorite Chicken Salad

- 1/2 cup fat-free salad dressing or mayonnaise
- 1 Tbsp. lemon juice
- 2 chicken breasts, cooked & diced
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- salt and pepper to taste
- 2-4 Tbsp. chopped pickles, optional

Combine salad dressing and lemon juice. Add chicken, celery and onion. Season with salt and pepper. Chill. Serve on bread as sandwiches or on lettuce. Yield: 4 Servings

A Tribute to David M. Smith

Posthumous winner of the Medal of Honor David Smith was from Livingston His heart was brave and true, He proudly answered the call to colors America's red, white and blue.

For Americans were fighting communism In a far off distant land, Holding back the communist tide And making a gallant stand.

Enemy forces were overwhelming Smith and buddies were facing great odds, As the enemy encircled them Their fate was in the hands of their God.

ood of mountain heroes Through his veins was flowing, And his quiet steadfast courage Would soon be showing.

Machine guns were chattering Amid incoming rounds-hellish roar, Soon he would save his buddies And be honored forevermore.

In their midst came flying A powerful hand grenade, With only seconds to act His decision was swiftly made.

Hurling his body on the grenade Shielding his buddies from the blast, Saving them from certain death Knowing the decision would be his last.

America bestowed her highest honor To a hero, who gave his all, In the fight against communism And so his buddies would not fall.

As we travel the David M. Smith Highway Let us think thoughts profound, For it was heroes like David Who brought the walls of communism down.

for 4-H

4-H SHAPES OUR YOUNG PEOPLE IN A POSITIVE WAY

4-H is a world-wide organization for youth between the ages of 9 and 19, designed to help them learn-by-doing through practical, hands-on learning experiences.

4-H is conducted by the University of Kentucky through the Cooperative Extension Service. Three Extension Agents work with the 4-H Program in Rockcastle County. All other leaders and advisors are volunteers.

4-H Clubs are being formed in the elementary & middle schools and should be completed by next week. After they are organized, the clubs meet once a month to hold their 4-H Club Meeting.

Youth can participate in many activities and contests throughout the year. Some County Events include: Poster Contest, Talk Meet, Demonstration Contest, Fashion Revue and Variety Show. You can also participate in judging events such as Vegetable Judging, Landjudging and Dairy Judging. Our 4-H Sewing Project will begin in the Spring of 1996.

Parents can get involved by assisting as leaders for a club, project groups or volunteer as a 4-H Council Member. If you are

IMPORTANT NOTICE OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT OF CLASS ACTION AND FAIRNESS HEARING
IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF ALABAMA SOUTHERN DIVISION

Jack H. Woodward, et al. vs. NOR-AM Chemical Company
No. 94-078-CB-C

U.S. WORKERS WITH ON-THE-JOB EXPOSURE TO FUNDAL® and Their Spouses, Children, Other Relatives and Legal Representatives and PRICE v. CIBA-GEIGY, Civ. No. 94-067-CB-S (S.D. Ala. 1995), SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS.

FUNDAL® was a COMMERCIAL AGRICULTURAL PESTICIDE WHICH WAS MARKETED IN THE U.S. BY NOR-AM CHEMICAL COMPANY. FUNDAL® WAS NOT MARKETED FOR THE PRICE SETTLEMENT. PRICE SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR CLASS SUPPLEMENTS UNDER THIS PROPOSED LEGAL SETTLEMENT.

U.S. WORKERS WITH ON-THE-JOB EXPOSURE TO FUNDAL® MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR FREE MEDICAL MONITORING AND/OR CASH PAYMENTS UNDER THIS PROPOSED LEGAL SETTLEMENT.

PRICE SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS ARE ALL U.S. WORKERS WITH ON-THE-JOB EXPOSURE TO GALEXON® (INCLUDING GALEXON® AND FENDAL®) WHO DID NOT EXCLUDE THEMSELVES FROM THE PRICE SETTLEMENT. PRICE SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS MAY BE ELIGIBLE FOR CLASS SUPPLEMENTS UNDER THIS PROPOSED LEGAL SETTLEMENT.

PLEASE READ THIS NOTICE CAREFULLY. YOU MAY BELONG TO A CLASS OF PEOPLE COVERED BY A PROPOSED SETTLEMENT UNDER THIS PROPOSED LEGAL SETTLEMENT. YOUR BELONGING TO A SETTLEMENT MAY AFFECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS. FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 1-800-211-4913

By Order of the Court, a class action has been conditionally certified for settlement purposes. On January 9, 1996, a fairness hearing will be held at the Courthouse, United States District Court, Southern District of Alabama, 113 St. Joseph Street, Mobile, Alabama 36682-1001. At that time, the Court can determine if the class action should be finally certified and if the proposed settlement is fair, reasonable and adequate. All proposed participants in this settlement are voluntary. All Woodard Settlement Class Members who do not timely exclude themselves from the lawsuit will be bound by the Woodard Settlement if it is approved.

I. DEFINITION OF CLASS
Under the Woodard Settlement, Fundal® is defined as chlorobutene or any other pesticide, formulated, packaged, distributed or sold by or on behalf of NOR-AM Chemical Company ("NOR-AM") or related parties, regardless of the trade name of the product, or any metabolite of Fundal®. Chlorobutene is the substance known as 4-COT or 5-CAT. Galexon® has the same meaning as it did in the Price v. Ciba-Geigy Corp., Civ. No. 94-067-CB-S (S.D. Ala. 1995), Settlement ("Price Settlement"), and is thus defined as chlorobutene or any chlorobutene-formulating product, formulated, packaged, distributed or sold by or on behalf of NOR-AM Chemical Company or related parties, regardless of the trade name of the product, or any metabolite of Galexon®. The substance known as 4-COT or 5-CAT. Fendal® has the same meaning as it did in the Price v. Ciba-Geigy Corp., Civ. No. 94-067-CB-S (S.D. Ala. 1995), Settlement ("Price Settlement"), and is thus defined as chlorobutene or any chlorobutene-formulating product, formulated, packaged, distributed or sold by or on behalf of NOR-AM Chemical Company or related parties, regardless of the trade name of the product, or any metabolite of Galexon®. The substance known as 4-COT or 5-CAT.

II. IMPORTANT MEDICAL NOTICE TO NOR-AM Exposed Persons and Ciba Exposed Persons (as defined above)
You may have an increased risk of developing bladder cancer if you had on-the-job exposure to Fundal® or Galexon®. Workers exposed to Fundal® and/or Galexon® should participate in a medical monitoring program to assess early detection of bladder cancer. You can obtain further medical information or enroll in medical monitoring if you contact:

III. PROPOSED SETTLEMENT
The Woodard Settlement provides for the establishment of NOR-AM of two funds to provide medical monitoring and compensation to eligible Woodard Settlement Class Members or their legal representatives. This settlement is intended, where applicable, to work as a complement to the Price Settlement.

(1) The NOR-AM Medical Monitoring and Treatment Fund ("The NOR-AM MMT Fund"). If the Woodard Settlement is approved, NOR-AM will make an initial deposit of $3,000,000 into the NOR-AM MMT Fund, and will thereafter make additional deposits on an as-needed basis. There is no limit on the amount of money NOR-AM can be required to contribute over the life of the NOR-AM MMT Fund, which will last a minimum of 20 years. NOR-AM Exposed Persons will be entitled to participate in the NOR-AM medical monitoring and treatment program. Woodard Settlement Class Members may receive medical monitoring and treatment benefits only if they are eligible for the NOR-AM MMT Fund. The NOR-AM MMT Fund will also pay for all medical monitoring and treatment provided through the Price Settlement or scientific. The NOR-AM MMT Fund will pay for a medical monitoring program designed to detect early stage of the form of bladder cancer alleged to be associated with exposure to Fundal®, specifically, primary urinary bladder cancer of the collecting system, i.e., renal pelvis, ureter, bladder and urethra. The NOR-AM MMT Fund will also pay for all medical monitoring and treatment provided through the Price Settlement or scientific. The NOR-AM MMT Fund will also pay for all medical monitoring and treatment provided through the Price Settlement or scientific.

as determined by the Court. The total attorney fee award to be requested will not exceed 20% of the benefit conferred upon the class. The benefits of the NOR-AM MMT Fund will continue as long as the NOR-AM MMT Fund continues, or until the NOR-AM MMT Fund is exhausted. If the NOR-AM MMT Fund is exhausted, NOR-AM may continue paying for compensable claims. If NOR-AM does not continue to pay for these compensable claims, Woodard Settlement Class Members will be able to opt out of the NOR-AM MMT Fund and pursue any legal claims they may have, except for claims for medical monitoring, medical treatment, fear of cancer or cancer or treatment of illness or cancer.

IV. CLASS REPRESENTATIVES AND CLASS COUNSEL
The Court has designated the following Woodard Settlement Class Members, Jack H. Woodward, Ala. Woodard, Tom Lofton, Cindy Lofton and Rita Stone, as class representatives. They represent all Woodard Settlement Class Members. The Court has also designated as Class Counsel the following attorneys: Timothy E. Elkes, S.D. Middlefield, III, and David R. Donaldson.

V. RIGHTS AND OPTIONS OF WOODWARD SETTLEMENT CLASS MEMBERS
If you are a Woodard Settlement Class Member, you have the following options:
(1) You may do nothing and remain a Woodard Settlement Class Member. If you choose to take no action, you are a member of the Woodard Settlement Class and will be represented by the Class Representatives and Class Counsel at no cost to you.
(2) You may remain a Woodard Settlement Class Member and opt out of the settlement. If you do so, you will not be represented by the Class Representatives and Class Counsel, and you may receive the benefits afforded by this settlement within six months of the Court's order directing this Notice.
(3) You may choose to remain a Woodard Settlement Class Member and opt out of the settlement. If you do so, you will not be represented by the Class Representatives and Class Counsel, and you may receive the benefits afforded by this settlement within six months of the Court's order directing this Notice.
(4) You may request exclusion from this settlement.

VI. PROOF OF CLAIM PROCEDURE
In order for any Woodard Settlement Class Member to receive any of the benefits of this settlement, he or she must comply with the proof of claim procedure. To learn how you may receive benefits under this settlement or to obtain a Proof of Claim Form for medical monitoring, medical treatment or disease compensation, call 1-800-211-4913 or write to Woodard Class Action, Post Office Box 974, Charleston, SC 29402.

VII. FURTHER INFORMATION
THIS NOTICE IS ONLY A SUMMARY: If you are a Woodard Settlement Class Member, you are urged to call 1-800-211-4913 or write to Woodard Class Action, Post Office Box 974, Charleston, SC 29402 to obtain further information regarding this settlement, how to exclude yourself from the class, and how to obtain benefits. DO NOT CALL THE CLERK OF COURT with questions about this Notice or this settlement.

Forgy here Monday

Kentucky Republican gubernatorial candidate Larry Forgy will be in Rockcastle County once again. Forgy is scheduled to be at the Rockcastle County Middle School at 8:30 a.m. on Monday Sept. 25 and he will speak at the Rockcastle County courthouse at 9:30 a.m. during a rally on his behalf.

MVPD police report Thieves hit house under construction

A house under construction on Chestnut Hill Drive in Mt. Vernon was the focal point of a robbery Sept. 12.

According to police chief Bill Mink, Karish Construction Co. of Mt. Vernon reported several items stolen, including a garage door and opener, two weed eaters, saws, drills and tillers.

Mink said the total was $4,056. Chief Mink also reported a truck tried to turn around in Super Test parking lot on Sept. 12 and struck the canopy, causing damage.

Driver was Jimi Thurman of Philco, Ill. He was uninjured.

On Sept. 14, Rebecca Gibbon, 18, of Orlando, pulled out of Wendy's parking lot and was struck by a car driven by Judy Maples, 43, of Mt. Vernon.

Officer Barry Adams investigated. Scott J. Duncan, 24, of Ferguson, was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by Kristi Cummins of Mt. Vernon recently.

Ms. Cummins was treated at the Rockcastle Hospital and released. She was driving a 1990 Ford Taurus.

Duncan was driving a 1977 Lincoln.

Officer Barry Adams investigated. Ethel Hurley's vehicle was struck in the rear by Susan Gustens on Richmond Street on Sept. 16.

Officer Mike Peters investigated. A 1980 Chevrolet Malibu, owned by Saylor Pharmacy, was stolen Sept. 8 from the pharmacy parking lot and was later recovered in Junction City.

Someone used a ceiling vent to enter Saylor Pharmacy on Sept. 12. Valium and pain killers were taken. No money was taken.

The thieves left the store by a delivery room door. There was damage in the break-in.

Officers Thomas Bussell and Barry Adams investigated.

Homecoming is Friday

Merle Haggard, Pam Tillis to appear at Renfro Valley Sunday

On Sunday, September 24, two of country music's hottest names share the billing in one of the area's biggest concerts. Merle Haggard and Pam Tillis headline an outdoor concert Renfro Valley appropriately calls a "Mega Concert."

Haggard, who first appeared on the country music charts in 1963, claims a list of awards and accolades longer than most singers' biography. His titles include: Male Vocalist of the Year, Entertainer of the Year and Best Male Vocal Performer. He has won awards for his songs, his videos and his albums. In fact, his songwriting credits match

Former Judge Hubert Thacker dies

A longtime Rockcastle County public official has died. Hubert Thacker, 79, of Richmond Street, Mt. Vernon, died Saturday, September 16, 1995 at Berea Hospital in Berea.

Thacker was born in Clay County June 1, 1916, the son of the late Yancy and Sylvia Martin Thacker and was a member of the Macedonia Baptist Church.

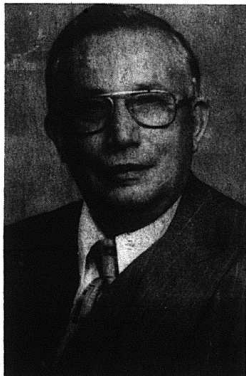

Thacker served as magistrate for Rockcastle County for 6 years; Rockcastle County Judge for 8 years and Rockcastle County Judge/Executive for 4 years. He was a member of Dave Jackson Masonic Lodge in Livingston and of the Mt. Vernon Lions Club.

Survivors are one son, Bobby Thacker of Conway; five daughters, Betty Sue Bullen of Wildie, Maggie Mae Leach of Smyrna, Tennessee, Ruth Thacker of Cynthia, Ruby Lawson of Berea and Patricia Thacker of Lexington; one brother, Willie Thacker of Scaffold Cane; 9 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Zella Thacker; a sister, Nancy Ann Grey; a half-sister, Mary Jane Smith and two half-brothers, Robert Benge and Oscar Martin.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, September 19 at the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home Chapel by Bro. Bill Hamilton and Bro. Ballard Rader. Burial was in the Scaffold Cane Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were: Tommy Greene, Chris Parsons, Junior Bullen, Terry Lawson, Wayne Benge and Kenneth Benge. Honorary pallbearers were: Joe Clark, Danny Sargent, Raymond McClure, Dr. K.R. Burdette, Galidiff Craig and Clesion Saylor.

Former Rockcastle County Judge/executive Hubert Thacker died Saturday.

Denny murder trial finally set for October 2nd

The trial of a Rockcastle County man accused of shooting an eighteen old Pine Hill man to death over two years ago, may finally go to trial next month.

Jerry Lee Denny, 28, of Mt. Vernon is charged with the murder of Jeffery P. Payne on June 12, 1993.

According to court records, Payne died from a gunshot wound to the chest at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, after he was apparently shot by Denny at a party in Lane Plant Hollow.

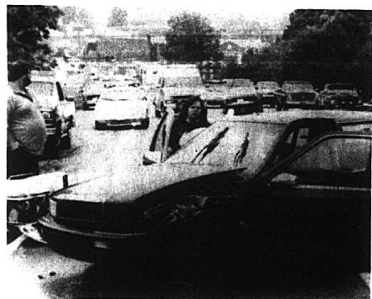

According to court records, Denny's brother Mike, had gotten into an argument with several people at the party around 1:25 a.m. when his brother Jerry began shooting with a semi-automatic gun. According to court records more than one witness said that Denny shot at least three times striking Payne and Gerald Lewis Cotton, 37, of Mt. Vernon.

Cotton was shot in the neck and paralyzed at the time of the shooting. Payne family members said this week that they are very concerned about the delay in holding Denny's trial.

However, according to court records the delay has occurred because of the changing of the commonwealth attorney and during the last hearing before Judge Dan Venters, prosecutors strongly objected to any further delays.

Denny, who was also charged with first degree assault, is free on bond, pending the outcome of his trial.

Granville Mosley, 83, of Mt. Vernon received facial injuries after Marcella Woodward of Corbin pulled her Chrysler LeBaron into his path on U.S. 25 in Mt. Vernon in front of Super Test gas station, Wednesday morning around 10 a.m. Mosley was transferred to St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington. Woodward was admitted to Rockcastle Hospital for observation.

Indictment

A Livingston man was indicted by a Rockcastle County Grand Jury last week, in connection with a August 30th shooting on interstate 75.

David Bruce Morris, 28, was indicted on two counts of first degree assault and one count of first degree wanton endangerment.

Morris is free on a $50,000 property bond until a Oct. 13th hearing.

Import agreement could stabilize quotas for Ky. tobacco farmers

Kentucky tobacco farmers may have finally gotten some good news from the federal government.

After three years of negotiating limits on imported tobacco under GATT, U.S. Senator Wendell Ford (D-Ky) today said an agreement has been reached on maintaining a stable import quota which will benefit domestic growers.

Ford said negotiations on the import level, which has been announced by President Clinton, will ensure that huge imports of tobacco, like those experienced from 1991-93, would not be allowed in the future.

The President's announcement, known as a "Tariff Rate Quota Proclamation," will set the import limit of foreign tobacco somewhere between 1991 and 1992 levels -- roughly 150,000 metric tons. In 1993, more than 340,000 metric tons of foreign tobacco came into the country.

"This is good news for our tobacco farmers, ensuring a stabilized import level for many years to come," Ford said. "We've had a tremendous fight on our hands, but I'm pleased we've reached an agreement that should prove to be of great benefit to Kentucky farmers."

Ford championed a bill that passed

Congress in 1993 requiring cigarette manufacturers to use 75% domestic tobacco in cigarettes manufactured in the United States. The effect of Ford's bill greatly curtailed the importation of foreign tobacco.

However, certain aspects of the law were challenged and portions were found to be inconsistent with current international trade agreements. The President's announcement today ensures an alternative which complies with international trade agreements, resulting in a new tariff structure for imported tobacco used in cigarettes.

One of my Dad's favorite and most used sayings was, "It always rains at the end of a long dry spell."

When was growing up, we had dry spells year round that often had little to do with the weather. Mine lay-offs were frequent and sometimes lasted for weeks or months so when Dad went back to work or found another job, a dry spell had ended. If the chickens stopped laying for a while and then started back, the blight finally left the tomatoes alone or he finally found something that get rid of bean bugs, such events signified the end of a proverbial dry spell.

Here in the Highlands, some of my die-hard friends who are football fans would tell you that the University of Kentucky just ended the longest dry spell in major college sports by beating Indiana last Saturday afternoon.

But the rain that started in the early morning hours before the Hoosiers and the Wildcats kicked-off was worth much more to me and my farming neighbors than an undefeated season by any sports fan.

The rain started sometime after midnight here on Fairview Ridge. And it was a gentle, soaking rain. I woke up around 4 a.m. and, even though I couldn't hear it, I sensed that something good was happening. I opened the back door and saw that everything was wet and getting wetter.

Not a trace of lightning flashed and not even a whisper of wind broke the stillness but there was a crinkling sound and a discernible hum as the grass and leaves soaked up this much needed gift. I know that we've had a few short-lived, hit and miss, dry weather showers over the last few weeks but nothing that would suggest the dry spell was really over. But this time I knew it was for real.

I slipped on some britches and walked around barefoot until they were soaked and then I sat on the front porch for an hour or so. I thought about getting a flashlight and catching a few nightcrawlers until it occurred to me that even the worms were desperate for rain. What right had I to become a predator when almost everything in nature was so vulnerable?

It seemed far more appropriate to sit, with Pepper, our family Dalmation huddled at my feet and just listen to see if I could hear the grass grow.

And more than anything else, that's what we needed here on Fairview Ridge and all along all the ridges like ours across Kentucky. Cattle prices are way, way down already and there's not much profit to be had off the family farm even in the best of times.

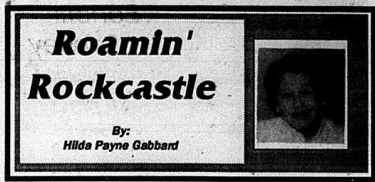

The dry spell that we've been through has not been good for anything related to agriculture, particularly grass. But now, I hope, the earth is dampened deep enough to bring on one last surge of growth to the grasses that our cattle need to fatten instead of being sold at losses. I hope to pick enough cornfield beans off the vines growing on my fence to get at least a mess or two and maybe even a canning and maybe my late greens will finally start to sprout.

The creeks have risen just enough and the water cooled so that wily smallmouth bass will finally venture forth again. Perhaps, next week end, we'll fry some up on Sunday afternoon.

And the oak and hickory leaves may yet turn every hue of red and yellow instead of dropping to the ground burned dry and brown.

"It always rains at the end of a long dry spell," according to my Dad. I hope that you are as thankful for this one as I am.

I tell you, I can't get used to the weather. I'm going to copy you a forecast of the winter weather, as given by Dick Frymire, a weather prognosticator who depends on trees, worms and other things in nature to help him give this forecast:

October: 17 or 22 the first killing frost.

November 8: First snow flurries.

November 26: First tracking snow.

December 22: 3 inches of snow.

January 6: 6 inches of snow.

January 19: Sleet and hazardous driving.

January 22: Coldest day of winter at 12 below zero.

January 5 thru February 2: Expect it to be "very cold."

Clip out this forecast and keep to judge if one can tell ahead by trees, worms and other signs of nature.

My sister-in-law, Mary Frances Payne, is in the hospital at Berea, having suffered a light stroke. This is the second one she has had and they do slow you down.

She wants to come home but Dr. Kerby says "not yet" because she can't stand on two feet.

Mary can't get used to being cared for by male nurses. She said she put a diaper on her and she was embarrassed but was getting used to them by now. I talk to her on the telephone by her bed. Sometimes I can't understand her very well.

Jimmy and Millie Payne of Michigan, Mary's son, came down to see her on Saturday. Kenny of West Virginia came with Johnny Payne from Lexington Saturday.

The children are very concerned when their mother takes sick.

Collette Temple, Mary's granddaughter, plans to take Mary home with her when she is well enough to make the journey.

Raymond and Lorene Hurley from Lower Clear Creek have moved to Berea to be nearer to the doctor, Raymond says. They have the place for sale and it will make a good home for someone. A lot of work has been done inside as well as outside to make the place more comfortable.

Raymond and Lorene have had close contact with the church and they will be missed by the community.

As we went down Clear Creek, we saw what looked like a small deer lying on the side of the road, birds were eating on it. We thought someone had hit the animal as it tried to cross the road. But later, someone told us it was a young lamb.

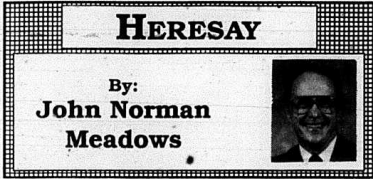

We had planned to attend the wedding anniversary of Vernon (Peanut) Payne and his wife Saturday night at the Berea Folk Center for their 50th anniversary but didn't make it.

I had a nice letter from Lelamae Francisco Gaines, who lives in Sun Center, Florida thanking me for putting the picture of the Broadhead lovely young girls in my column.

She said I had made a mistake about saying one girl, Barbara Phillips, had died since the picture was made. The other one that had passed away was Thelma Robbins. Now I remember her death so thank you very much Lelamae for correcting me.

The county, along with John and I, were saddened by the death of Judge Hubert Thacker this past week. We send our sympathy to his family.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and Appalachian approximations to you and yours from the placid vale of Wabba where most of our citizens feel more like we do right now than we did yesterday.

"Am I getting mail lately? Strange you should ask because my answer is 'yes,' especially E-mail from folks who want to know what I think about snake-handling in a worship service. The inquiries doubled after last Sunday's Herald-Leader featured a lengthy report on the subject.

Well, beloved, if you believe every word of the Bible, then you must admit that practices such as handling snakes, drinking poison, and speaking in tongues are scripturally legitimate despite the trumped up anticipations that are often put forth to get around such practices.

According to The Gospel of Mark (16:15-18), Jesus, after his resurrection, said to his eleven disbelieving disciples, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized will be saved; [Let all Campbellites and Church of Christies stand at attention.] but he that believeth not shall be damned. And these signs will follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover."

Now if that passage were in the Old Testament I would say it must be considered in light of the New Testament—a good rule of thumb for (Cont. to A3)

"Roamin' Rockcastle"

Rockcastle owes most to Hubert Thacker for the 18 years of public life he gave this county in the work he has done as a magistrate for six years, county judge for eight years and county judge executive for four years for a total of 18 years of his life to the safety and well being of the people.

This is for the lady from Indianapolis, Ind. who wrote me for long neck gourd seed. I will have seed for you but a terrible thing has happened to me! I lost your letter and stamped envelope so will you please send me your name and address (but no stamped envelope, I will take care of that) and forgive me for being careless with my mail. I must have put it with other mail I get and throw away. All I need from you now is your name and address.

You should see my gourd vine which was growing up a post of the roof but now, with the weight of a lot of heavy green gourds pulling on it, the vine has begun to fall from the roof.

We measured the longest gourd the other day and it is 34 inches long with a fat bottom as big as a half gallon bucket.

John has gathered his corn crop and put in a large pen that he has made to keep rats and mice out. The wire around the pen is so heavy no wild animal can get in.

But we have a neighbor we don't want to mix with. It is a big, long, black snake that John saw climb up into our smokehouse and we are not about to go out there. He is after the nice living there during the winter months.

John raises field corn so we can have our own meal.

Len Ponder lives out on a country road and has a grist mill to grind the corn. His wife, Lucille, was breaking up "wonder beans" to prepare for winter. This hot weather just cooked the vegetables growing on the ground they said but they did get about a bushel.

Len has been building a barn across the field, they may build near it he said.

Don't forget this coming Sunday, September 24 will be homecoming day at Macedonia Baptist Church. Everyone is welcome, members of the church who used to be members and visitors come and remember the days that used to be.

Till then:
Stack your firewood high and get out your long johns.

"Heresay"

interpreting anything in the Old Testament. But the snake-handling passage is in the New Testament and reportedly came from Christ himself. (I think every part of the Bible, including the letters of the apostle Paul, should be judged in light of what Jesus said.) For instance, the Old Testament demands the stoning of a rebellious, assy son (Deut. 21:18ff.) But Jesus, in light of his teaching about mercy and forgiveness, would not approve such harsh action. (However, I've known of a few cases where stoning might have been appropriate.)

Dear hearts, let's face it. Snake handling, drinking poison, and chasing out demons are Jesus-approved acts for those who believe every word of the Bible. In other words, it's like a bumper sticker I saw several years ago: GOD SAID IT. I BELIEVE IT. THAT SETTLES IT.

Now, it appears to me that the only way to get around snake-handling and such is to ask the question: Did Christ really say that? Stinking, liberal skunk! Fallen, wretched unbeliever! Ungodly, hell-bound humanist!

Those are just a few of the epithets you'll hear if you dare ask: Did Christ really sanction snake-handling? Well, epithets or not, the truth of the matter is that about half of the last chapter of Mark's gospel is not found in older, more authentic manuscripts of the New Testament, manuscripts the translators of the King James Version (1611) did not have or did not evaluate when they set about to do their monumental work. (Even the editors of the New King James Version point out that older manuscripts differ.)

Now, without getting too detailed, let me say that for some reason the Gospel of Mark was not completed (Did Mark die before finishing his account?) or the original ending was lost (Was it torn from the scroll?). Carelessness may have accounted for the missing original conclusion to Mark's record. Or, it may be that there never was a lost ending, i.e. Mark may have ended where he did on purpose. We do not know for sure.

We can, however, say that in all likelihood the present ending of the gospel was written and appended to the original scroll by some pious, enthusiastic, well-meaning but ill-informed soul(s) who wanted Mark's gospel to conclude in the same manner as that of the other gospels.

Well, most who have read this far are either bored or enraged. Nonetheless, since the Herald-Leader only presented the story of snake-handlers and their claims, I thought it might be of interest to some to hear what knowledgeable interpreters have said and written about the matter. And let me add that many conservative scholars hold this view. (You can be a conservative without being a fundamentalist. Not that I claim to be either.)

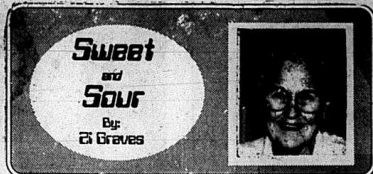

So, I have no problem with the snake-handling passage because it doesn't rightfully belong to the Scriptures. Or I could just say "To hogwash with it all" and agree with an aging friend of mine who came to the conclusion that "all religions are right—but not right for each other."

Oops! I must go—now! I'm catching a flight to Outer Balogna to escape the wrath of those who think what I've just written is grounds for stoning! (Till fax my articles to The Signal until things cool down and my antagonists have something else to jab about—which won't be long.)

Let me remind you that it's not too late to invest in the search for Jacob's stone pillow, buried somewhere near Roundstone Creek. Listen, folks, this is no pious fraud. Sensible, upstanding citizens know it is up to snuff. Why, Lee Durham was almost late for church last Sunday evening because he had been digging all afternoon at Roundstone while Laura, his precious wife, stood on the bank and sang "Climb Every Mountain." And a couple of other deacons left after church to resume digging by the light of the silvery moon and caride lamps. I, of course, can't do my actual digging because of my bad back. But I am putting every smidgen of my archaeological prowess to work on "the dig." Pray about it, precious souls. (You'll know I'm on the level.)

Until next week, beloved, meditate upon the words of Rev. T. Ison Plodon, Pastor Emeritus of Wash's All Souls Community Chapel and part-time vendor of Hankeheimer's Throat Lozenges for Really Long-Necked Preachers, who said one Sunday to his congregation: "The secker of truth keeps an open Bible, an open dictionary, and an open mind."

The Old Meeting House

Last week, I had so many comments on the article about the Buffalo Baptist Church, I decided to do another one continuing the memories of days gone by when little churches and the one room schoolhouse were the social centers of every community. The church was usually called "The Meeting House."

When we moved to the Buffalo community in 1937, there was the usual one room school, built close to the school of Buffalo branch on one side and the dirt road close to the front door on the other. A deep well was in the side yard and water was drawn from it by a bucket attached to a heavy rope. This well was the recipient of a lot of trash by mischievous kids so later the well was sealed and a pump installed. It is still there.

The United Baptist "Meeting House" was a small building perched on the bank almost directly above the schoolhouse and next to it was the tiny community graveyard. This building was in dire need of repair and was soon replaced by a new one. This new one was built close to the schoolhouse and on level ground. The name was then changed from the United Baptist to The Missionary Baptist. Sunday School was held on Sunday mornings at the church and on the second and fourth Sunday of every month, the pastor came for his regular church service. The Swiss Colony Missionary Baptist Church sponsored the Missionary Baptist Church at Buffalo, therefore these ministers of the gospel usually came from Laurel County. Although local ministers were also welcome and often pastored the local church. These were fine and dedicated men of God.

Reverals were held regularly every three or four months and people came from every direction to attend them. I am sure many of them didn't come to get "religion" but came to socialize with their neighbors. Horsermules would be tied up to the trees or an outbuilding close by and some times an old car would be able to make it down the dirt road and would park proudly close to the door. But most of the people walked. What was a three or four mile walk after a day's work if one got to see people they hadn't seen for the last three or four months plus hearing some good singing and a reminder of what the scriptures said about good and evil. And this was the time young folks had a chance to meet other young folks and "go a courting."

On the following Sunday, after the closing of revival services, there was usually a baptizing in the river for those who had made a confession and wanted to join the church. In the early afternoon or sometimes straight from church, people would begin the trek to the river which was several miles away and those who had to walk had to get an early start. The river bank would be lined with people dressed in their best clothes for no one back then went to church, whether it be in the church house or on the river bank where a minister of the gospel was preaching, dressed in anything less than his or her best. Quite often, one could see a well-dressed girl carrying her spike heeled slippers as she tripped barefoot over a narrow rocky path, leading to the river bank then slipping them back on when services started. The hills would ring out with voices singing "Shall We Gather at the River" and the water answered back with its gentle splashing on the banks. As the new converts were immersed and rose from the water, it was not unusual to see them raise a hand in praise and shout the glad tidings of a sinner who had been saved by grace and had now been baptized into the family of God.

One instance stands out in my memory of a revival held during the rainy season of the year. Killas Jones (he was never called reverend) from the Swiss Colony, was the preacher and, after one of the services, it was raining so hard he knew he wouldn't be able to get his car over the mud roads so accepted an invitation to spend the night with Hamp and Allice Mize. When church broke up that night, there was no tarrying outside to say lingering good nights but everyone chose the shortest path to their abode and dispersed quickly. There were several of us in the group that walked with Allice and her kids up the slippery path to their house and, as we topped the hill, I slipped and fell. Of course, I was embarrassed but covered by Killas, as everyone I was not hurt. Nonetheless, when we arrived at her house, which was between the church and our home, Allice insisted on me and the two children, Judy and Rodney, also spending the night with them. It was more than a mile further to our house and it was still raining hard so I accepted her invitation and so began a lifetime of exchanges of wonderful evenings and nights spent together, sitting by the fireplace in Allice's home around our big heating stove in mine. Or at the kitchen table playing games such as "pick-up sticks" or jacks; Chinese checkers or anything that gave us a break from our daily toils. But, this particular evening was spent getting acquainted with the preacher and exchanging our viewpoints on the Bible. Brother Killas, as he was known to all of us, was an old-fashioned preacher who preached straight from the Bible without the help of outlined sermons. His knowledge of the Bible was what he had learned from years of reading it and his faithful attendance at church. His soft voice and gentle manner won the hearts of all who knew him. After that evening of fellowship, he was a frequent visitor in our home and always welcome.

Mat, who didn't mind being out in the rain, soon excused himself and went on home to take care of things and we began tucking kids into beds. To this day, I can't remember where we all slept for they had a little house but somehow, there was room made for all and soon the kids were snoring while we elders sat up and talked till the week hours of morning. Country folks were like that back then. We could always find room for one more whether it was sleeping at the foot of the bed or crowing in at the corner of the table. One just made a little more gravy and an extra pan of biscuits, filled up the sorghum pitcher and opened another jar of jam and, with a big bowl of freshly churned butter, presto, there was a breakfast fit for

Norton-Harbold To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Norton of Mt. Vernon announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Leslie Ann, to Michael Ralph Harbold of Louisville. Mr. Harbold is the son of Ralph Harbold of Louisville and the late Katherine Harbold. The wedding will be Saturday, October 14 at 4:30 p.m. at Mareburg Baptist Church. A reception will follow at Cedar Rapids Country Club. All friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend. No invitations will be sent.

Bell-Goodwin vows said

Loretta Bell and Andrew Goodwin were united in marriage September 9, 1995 at Fairview Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Dorothy Blair of Fairview and James Bell of Brodhead.

Kiwanis Club says Thank You!

The Kiwanis Club's project, Rockcastle County for Oklahoma City, raised $5,001.53. This accomplishment reflects the goodness and generosity of our community.

The outpouring of compassion for our neighbors in Oklahoma City could not have been put together without the air time and facilities donated by WRVK and the Rockcastle Community Hospital.

Nor could it have been done without the support of the Mayor's office, The Bank of Mt. Vernon, Rockcastle Manufacturing, Mt. Vernon Plastics, Rockcastle Co. Hospital, school students and teachers, county and state employees and all the individual kind and generous citizens of our entire county who unselfishly gave for the cause.

On behalf of the innocent victims of this tragedy, we wish to sincerely thank you.

Birthday, Reunion Celebration

The families of the late Bob and Lula McClure of Livingston held their annual family reunion at Boonesboro State Park Sept. 16.

Everyone attending had an enjoyable day and, as always, lots of delicious food. Beautiful organ music was provided by Donald McClure who resides in Tennessee.

We all look forward to getting together next year to enjoy another marvelous day of fun and family and to those who could not attend, we missed you.

"What Saith the Scriptures"

One of the evils found common among men today is the problem of gambling. How should we feel about gambling, is it really wrong? Let's look to God's word for the answer.

First the word "gambling" is not found in the Bible, but neither are the words: incest, rape, abortion, bootlegging, shoplifting, etc. Yet, we shouldn't conclude that any of the above are OK and right to practice.

God recognizes 5 legitimate means of gain:

1. The Law of Labour, whereby one works to earn money, or something of value Lk. 10:7
2. The Law of Exchange or Trading, where one trades, say eggs for flour, Jm. 4:13.
3. The Law of Inheritance, where one receives goods from a dead relative. Lk. 12:13.
4. The Law of Love, when of my own will, I choose to give someone something. Ac. 24:17
5. The Law of Renting, where one rents a house, car, land, etc. for money. Ac. 28:30.

Now, as we study gambling, it does not fall under any of these five categories of legitimate gain. Gambling is not working or "horse trading," nor is it a rental fee. Where then would we classify it?

Actually, gambling is stealing by consent. Based on some element of chance, one wagers or puts up a certain stake against another man's wager or stake, and whatever the outcome of this element of chance, determines who takes the other man's money. God says in Rm. 13:0, "Thou shalt not steal." Though it is done with consent, it does not make it right. Dueling is murder by consent. An unmarried couple may mutually consent to have sex, yet it's still called fornication. Remember a gambler always profits at the loss of others.

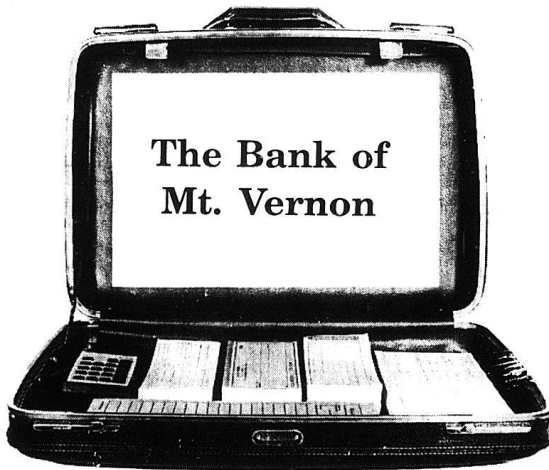

Gambling breeds, and is in, a company of other evils, such as covetousness, Lk. 12:15; Laziness and addiction, 1 Cor. 6:12. Some may reason that since it's legal it must be right to participate in gambling. Drinking booze is legal, but it doesn't make it right. People may legally go out to public pools in "colored underwear" (Swimsuit) but it's still immodest.

Friends, your best bet is not to make one!

Cameron

Othal Cameron, 78, of Eminence, died Wednesday, September 13 at the Ky. Veterans Center in Wilmore. He was a native of Rockcastle county, a retired truck driver, Army World War II veteran and member of the New Hope Baptist Church.

Mr. Cameron is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Rosella Kelley of Nashville, Tenn. and Mrs. Marilyn Littrell of Eminence; a son, Wendell Cameron of Eminence; two sisters, Mrs. Naomi Abney of Mason, Ohio and Mrs. Frank (Velma) Saccomano of San Francisco, California; 9 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren. He was preceded in death by his wife, Elsie Vanwinkle Cameron and six brothers and sisters: Pearl Cameron, Bud Cameron, Lewis Cameron, Robert Cameron, Frank Cameron and Willis C. Chesnut.

Funeral services were Friday afternoon, September 15 at the Prewitz Funeral Home in Eminence with Rev. Michael Duncan, officiating.

Interment was in the Eminence Cemetery.

Casket bearers were: Robert Littrell, Eddie Winters, Mike Kelley, Jim Kelley, Chuck Littrell and Rick Fisher.

Forms of contributions are requested to the Alzheimer's Association.

Turner

Ulys "Red" Turner, a musician on Cincinnati television's "The Midwestern Hayride" in the 1950s and on the Reno Valley Bandstand, died recently. He was 79.

Mr. Turner was born in Eastern Kentucky, where he aspired to become a musician. He never took a music lesson but nonetheless mastered the piano, banjo, fiddle, bass and rhythm guitar, said his daughter, Aileen Martin of Independence.

"The love of his life was his music," she said. He performed for Reno Valley as a young man and then joined The Midwestern Hayride which started in 1949 as one of WLWT television's first programs. He was known as "Red" on the country-western music variety show.

Mr. Turner was known for his trademark ending to his banjo pieces. He would lift his shoe and the words "That's All" were printed on the sole.

After leaving the show, he became an evangelist and founded the Covington Baptist Temple, which celebrated its 32nd anniversary recently. Mrs. Martin said. He was pastor of the temple for 17 years.

He was an avid golfer and continued to perform gospel music at local churches after his retirement. In his later years, Mr. Turner was a member of the Northern Kentucky Baptist Church in Lakeside Park.

Other survivors include his wife, Emma Monday Turner; a son, James E. Turner of Ryland Heights; a brother, Monroe Turner of Norwood, Ohio; a sister, Axle Vaughan of Middleboro; six grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Erlanger. Memorial are suggested to the building fund of Northern Kentucky Baptist Church.

(Submitted by Cecilia Renner)

In one of his famous debates with Senator Stephen Douglas, Abraham Lincoln said "...eighty years ago, we began declaring-all men equal, but now (as steadily as a man's march to the grave) we have run down to that other declaration, that for some men to enslave others is a sacred right of government. These principles cannot stand together. They are as opposed as God and Mammon, and whoever holds to the one must despise the other."

In 1857, the United States Supreme Court decided in the Dred Scott case that slavery was permissible. That decision declared that a black slave was not a person under the constitution but merely property whose future depended on the whims of his/her owner. In 1973, the Supreme Court, in the Roe vs. Wade decision, once again declared, that an unborn child was not a person, and the "legal right to an abortion was granted to any mother in all 50 states." A mother had the right to dispose of the baby for whatever reason or for no reason.

Recently, I have heard a statement that really doesn't make a lot of sense to me. The statement is: "I think abortion is wrong but I support the woman in her right to choose." What really is being stated here is; I support the woman in her choice of murder for her child, because it's legal. This kind of logic is so typical of the times we live in. The value of human life has been cheapened and it seems as if higher law and moral principles have no place in today's society.

I'm reminded of a passage in the Bible, where the Israelites had turned from God and were worshipping Baal, and the prophet Elijah stood and said "How long have ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him. And the people answered him not a word. I see that same attitude when it comes to the issue of Abortion. So many are afraid what their neighbors, friends and family think of them, instead of what the Lord must think.

Meeting to be held @
Our Lady of Mt. Vernon
Church

Due to renovation and restoration work that has begun on the building of First Christian Church services for this meeting will take place at Our Lady of Mt. Vernon Church on Williams Street, across from the Mt. Vernon Elementary School. Public is invited.

This renovation and restoration is Phase 1 of a Three Phase Project. The projected cost for this work is approximately $250,000 and is scheduled to be completed in mid-December. This project was initiated due to the generous gift of nearly $100,000 by Ross Gentry Caudill.

The congregation of First Christian Church believed, by faith, that they could match her gift and anything above that would have to be a "God sized" project, one in which only He could accomplish, so that He might receive the glory and honor for its completion.

Phase two will be the construction of a fellowship hall/Family Life Center to be built on the existing parking lot behind the church. This facility will include nearly 5,000 square feet of space with a new kitchen, rest room and shower, storage and a half-court size recreation and fellowship area. Phase three would enlarge this area to a "full-size" recreation area. The cost for this phase is yet to be determined, but projected beginning to be in three years.

Since September 1, the congregation has been meeting at Our Lady of Mt. Vernon Sunday services, except for Sunday Nite Live, a new ministry to teens, that meets in various homes of the youth.

First Christian Church is a non-denominational congregation in brotherhood with other independent Christian Churches/Churches of Christ. Bro. Eddie Hammond, Preaching Minister and Sara Cogger, Youth Directors, invite the public to attend services and discover that this congregation is "A local church, in the HEART of Mt. Vernon, with a HEART for the world."

Nutrition program improves health of women and children

About 118,000 low-income Kentucky women, infants and children are being served monthly by the federally-funded Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program.

The number of Kentuckians served monthly has increased slightly from nearly 117,600 in federal fiscal year 1994. Nationally, an average of more than 6.8 million women, infants and children have participated monthly in the WIC program in this federal fiscal year to date. About 79 percent of Kentuckians who are eligible for the WIC program are enrolled.

WIC is a health and nutrition program that provides nutrition assessments and education, nutritious foods and referrals for other health services to women who are pregnant, postpartum or breastfeeding, infants and children under five years of age.

To qualify, participants must be at nutritional risk and in a family that is at or below 185 percent of the federal poverty level. For example, a family of four with a monthly income of $2,336 would qualify under program guidelines.

Participants receive WIC checks for the purchase of specific nutritional items such as milk and cheese, iron-fortified infant formula, vitamin C-fortified natural juice, iron-fortified cereals, eggs, dried beans, peanut butter, tuna fish and fresh raw carrots.

"Proper nutrition is very important to the physical and intellectual growth and development of children, especially during pregnancy and the early years," said Marvin Miller, nutrition services branch manager in the state Department of Health Services.

"Many serious health problems can be prevented with proper nutrition. Both financial and physical costs can be avoided through early care."

Several Kentucky health status indicators improved from 1983 to 1993 because of the WIC program. The number of children with anemia dropped from 28.2 percent to 17.1 percent, the number of underweight children decreased from 3.6 percent to 2.8 percent, and the number of low-birth weight babies fell from 11.4 percent to 8.8 percent, Miller said.

National studies of the WIC program have shown that WIC significantly increased the head size of infants whose mothers received WIC foods during pregnancy. Head size normally reflects brain growth. In addition, pregnant women who participated in WIC had fewer premature births and sought prenatal care early in pregnancy.

The program is open to all persons and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, sex or handicap.

To find out if you or your children are eligible for WIC, contact your local health department for more information.

Dear Editor,
I am searching for information on my family: James Garland and Celia Casey Garland, married in Washington County, Virginia, 1806. Their first child, John Thompson, was born in Rockcastle County in 1807. Their other children, all born in Rockcastle on Skaggs Creek were George Washington (my great grandfather), Joseph, Samuel, Lucinda Ann, Martha and Mary.

My folks moved to Pike Co., Indiana in the 1840s but some stayed behind and maybe there are cousins who know of the family.

My grandpa Noah Thompson Garland, married Mary Isabelle "Belle" McCormack. The McCormacks were from Stanford in Lincoln Co., and many still live in Kentucky. Recently we had a McCormack reunion at Stanford.

If anyone can help me with locating any information on the Garlands from Rockcastle Co., please write or call.

Dear Editor,
Friday evening, September 15, I walked from my bus to my Mt. Vernon home. I was surprised to hear my 8-year-old brother say, "Today at school, something so unfair happened." My mom said, "Well, what was it?" My brother said, "Today at lunch, I noticed one of the teachers at my school was eating a lunch from McDonald's."

To myself, I began to feel like my brother. He was right, this was really unfair. Some kids don't get to go to McDonald's because they can't afford it. I know for a fact that the CMS policy is that if you have any lunch besides a school lunch or a regular sack lunch that you must eat it on the floor.

Well, I think if this is a rule for students, it should very well be one for teachers. Don't you agree? Because if we should have to eat lunch on the floor, then they should too, unless they bring it from home. To me we are just as important as teachers are. They don't deserve any special treatment! It's just not fair!

Beginning Readers

Beginning readers continue to learn a great deal from being read to. Concentrate on letting your child hear the story. Don't require your child to practice saying the words you know the child can read. Eventually, being read to will be too slow. Your child will show you when that time comes.

Your child may begin to identify letters, call out the words on road signs (such as "Stop"), or try to make letter shapes on paper. You must importantly is your child's desire to learn independently. "I do it myself!" What can you do if your child shows no movement toward these activities? Keep doing the reading, writing, problem-solving and other activities. Be patient. Some children take longer than others. Some children are risk takers. They plunge right in and try, making lots of mistakes but getting practice. Other children are cautious. They won't attempt an activity until they are sure they can do it. For either kind of child, be the cheering squad. Watch your child's face and body as the child attempts a reading-related activity. If the child seems to be struggling, say, "Oh, you're really working hard at that. It takes a long time to learn to read."

If your child succeeds, share the child's pleasure. But don't take over! "You did it!" is enough. "I'm so proud of you!" seems to say that the child is doing it for you. Spoken language is a flow of sounds

Schools Encourage Learning Through Attendance

Schools are off and running, and so are the attendance figures. The importance of a good attendance record is probably debatable among experts. If those experts are employers, they would say that it is very difficult for work to be done if the employee is not in attendance. Most would agree that consistently good attendance increases productivity.

According to Loretta Powell, Director of Student Services for Rockcastle County Schools, "I think that most us as parents, teachers and community leaders would agree that consistently good attendance increases student learning. However, the true rewards of good attendance may not be realized until some point in your child's future.

As parents, teachers and community leaders, it is our responsibility to guide our children in forming good habits which will help them lengthen their lives as well as make their lives more meaningful. I would place good attendance under the "more meaningful" category, along with habits like being responsible, accountable and dependable. Others might make a strong argument for placing it in the "life lengthening" category if schools and workplaces are considered safe places."

The following chart reflects the first month's attendance figures by district and by individual schools on a comparative basis to last year's first month figures.

	1994-95	1995-96
Brodhead Elementary School	98.0	98.0
Mt. Vernon Elementary School	98.8	98.3
Roundstone Elementary School	98.4	97.5
Rockcastle County Middle School	97.8	98.5
Rockcastle County High School	97.7	97.6
District	98.1	97.9

FIVE YEAR ATTENDANCE FIGURES

	1990-91	1991-92	1992-93	1993-94	1994-95

Encouraging good attendance is a shared responsibility between home, school and community. While schools strive to make learning meaningful, parents might find some of the following suggestions helpful in encouraging their children to have good attendance:

1. Visit your child's classroom and talk with the teacher about his/her progress; volunteer whenever possible.
2. Become familiar with the school's Attendance Policy which can be found in the School handbook.
3. Get your child up in plenty of time so that he/she doesn't feel rushed in the morning.
4. Establish some kind of routine for the morning, so that your child knows what to expect and when.
5. Ask your child about his/her activities daily.
6. If your child is ill, contact the school to let someone know. If a doctor has determined that your child must not return to school for 5 or more days, he/she may receive services at home.
7. If your child has an attendance problem that you feel is not caused by illness, contact your school Guidance Counselor.

Sweet and Sour

The last time I saw "Brother Killas" was several years ago. He had retired from the pulpit and his health was failing but he reminded me of the pleasant evening we spent at the Mize home discussing our views on the Bible and asked me once again to join the church he had pastored for so many years.

"Another incident comes to mind of a different kind of socializing at the church. This was the old time singings. Now it wasn't the kind we have today when everything is hooked up to a microphone and the sounds blast you out of the building, it was the kind where those who were interested in singing went to learn how to do it better. And, their voices were all that was needed to fill the house with music. These were fun and really beneficial to many of us. Some of us had heard of a man over in Pulaski County, Oscar Carter, who would come and teach a class if someone would go get him and take him back home every Sunday for a series of 1, think it was ten Sundays. Since most of us were interested in singing and especially interested in the possibility of being together and doing something different for a change, we gladly volunteered to take turns getting him to and from church every week. Sometimes, our old truck would be the vehicle to bring him and sometimes he was lucky enough to have someone with a car do the honors, but one thing for sure, someone always saw to it to get him there and was taken back home at the close of the day. The first day he was there, we got out the songbooks and just sang to our heart's content. He mostly listened to the type of voices he would be dealing with and, every so often stopped the singing to re-pitch the song or re-group the singers so their voices would be more effective. He didn't teach reading notes, but he did try to teach us how to pitch a note and keep time. He would get out his little pitch pipe and hum a few notes then raise a hand and begin the song to perfect pitch and rhythm. I had been taught all this in school but the years had taken a toll and I found myself learning anew some of the essential things about singing. I had been taught to keep time by tapping my toe inside my shoe but by hearing his whole foot while he kept time. And the others joined right in. Old and young attended these singings, for country folks are known for their love of singing and music-making.

The last day of the singing school finally came and we (the now educated and professional singers of Buffalo) set a big dinner in honor of Mr. Carter's efforts. The whole community turned out for this dinner. At the course, a feast was spread and many thanks were given to the departing teacher.

I had baked a cake for the occasion, decorated with musical symbols to honor his skill with teaching music and presented it to him to take home, which he did. For several months, it sat in the showcase at his little country store on 461 where it could be admired by all his family, friends and customers.

Graves in EKU Honors Program

A Mt. Vernon resident is a member of Eastern Kentucky University's prestigious Honors Program.

The program includes: Dallas Graves, a math/physics major. EKU's honor program is designed for intellectually promising students who seek a strong grounding in the liberal arts, along with their more specialized major. The 28-credit-hour program includes courses in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences, with emphasis on effective communication, development of critical thinking skills and integration of knowledge.

But it's not all work and no play. Honor Program students also enjoy numerous educational field trips and other extracurricular activities and participate in numerous regional and national conferences.

Students who successfully complete the challenging program will be designated "Honor Scholars" upon graduation, and the designation will appear on their diplomas and official University transcripts.

Home Economics gets new name and new face

If you are assuming that Home Economics still exists and that it consists of stitchin' and sewin', you are dated. The name change to "Family and Consumer Science" better depicts what is actually involved in this area.

Throughout this current school year, we would like to take the opportunity to inform you of the new classes and its application to the real world. This week, the new class "Practical Living" will be featured.

Practical Living is a required class for all 10th grade students. This particular class includes the life skills needed for independent living. The study includes communication skills, conflict resolution, decision making, risks involved in teen pregnancy, aging, death and dying, career choices and employment skills. Other aspects of the course include physical, mental and emotional development necessary for life-long wellness and learning. Community involvement is a major concern for all classes and for our club, The Future Homemakers of America. Various co-curricular activities and field trips are planned for all classes and for the club.

This past week, the Practical Living class made a visit to Sowder Nursing home in Brodhead. Mrs. Whit explained the services of the facility as the students had an opportunity to visit with the patients. They were very touched and many expressed the desire to continue to visit on their own. Some of the remarks made by the students were:

"It made me sad to see so many lonely people in there. It made me appreciate my life more."

"Visiting the nursing home made me see older people in a different way. I want to help them."

"It touched me to know that the older people had so much love to give yet no one to share it with. It really made me think twice about how I treat my elders."

"It really touched my heart, seeing all the elderly yearning for attention."

"It was my first trip to the nursing home. I was amazed at what I saw and I was sad after I left."

"It was a wonderful experience for us all."

Remember the bicycles to be given away in a drawing for all students that are eligible. Must be present every day between Aug. 29 - September 29 to have your name entered. Only 11 more school days until some students each take home a new bicycle!

P.T.A. will meet Thursday, Sept. 14 (tonight) at 7 p.m. Remember, we are still saving Campbell's Soup labels (and related products). STATIC will be providing the entertainment for our first P.T.A. meeting this year. Please attend and show your support for B.E.S.

Let's work hard to collect as many cans as possible. This is a year long project but we need to start now and save, save, save!

You will have until Friday, September 22, to register for Girl Scouts. Please call Ms. Satica at the B.F.R.C. for more information or if you can be a Girl Scout leader at 758-8512.

If you would like to be a part of the B.E.S.T. (Brodhead Elementary Support Team) volunteer program we would be happy to have you. Stop by the Family Resource Center or call 758-8512 for more information. No scheduled amount of time is required. Just volunteer at your convenience during school hours.

Rita Shaffer and Jennifer Addison's CUBS primary students have been incorporating farm animals into the DWOK (Different Ways of Knowing) program "Families Caring for One Another."

A few of the activities the children have been included in are: graphing, creating a Venn diagram, constructing a musical instrument, singing, creative movement, read poetry and farm literature. The children are presently working on a research project.

Adams Feed Supply furnished the class with a baby chick and ducking to observe. Thank you Adams Feed Supply.

There will be a Girl Scout leader training session on Wed., Sept. 27 at 1 p.m. at the Brodhead Family Resource Center. Please attend if you plan to help with the Girl Scouts this year.

Fairview News

By: Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were conducted at the Fairview Baptist Church over the week end with good attendance and our Sunday School attendance was in the 115 for which we are thankful. That was the largest number we have had for some time.

For our morning service, our speaker was Rev. Andy Reece. He spoke briefly about the Kentucky Baptist Children's Homes. He also presented a check for $628.33 which had been collected by the "Mile of Pennies" program during the past few months. We enjoyed having Bro. Reece and Mrs. Reece with us and welcome them back any time. Everyone is welcome to worship with us at Fairview.

I'm sorry that I haven't written my news for some time but I've been busy and also my sister, Mary Jane (Repper) Sorah passed away September 8 in Elyria, Ohio. Bless her heart, she was a wonderful sister, wife and mother. But, God called her home, out of her pain and suffering. We all will miss her but the great consolation is that one day when we all get to Heaven we won't have to be separated anymore. We all love her husband, Earl, and her family. They have our sympathy and prayers.

Attending the funeral of Mary Jane Sorah, from here were Tip Repper, his daughter, Melody Reynolds and myself. From Berea were Myrtle (Repper) Wilson and daughter Pam and Pam's son Scott and her daughter Cindy. Our sisters Ruth Galiff of Indiana and Dorothy Pogorelec of Ohio were also there. Please remember the family when you pray.

We extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of Mr. Hubert Thacker of Mt. Vernon who passed away at the Berea Hospital Sept. 16th. Our love and prayers are with his family and others who have recently lost loved ones. May God comfort them in this time of sadness and heartache.

Dorothy Lambert and Mary Lou Reynolds of Augusta, Georgia have recently visited family members here and attended church at Fairview.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander recently have been Floyd Brooks, Sue McLendon and Mrs. and Mrs. Dan Wilson, all of Hudson, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander of Willailla, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander and daughter, Darla, of Spring Valley, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. James Wattenberger and her mother, Mrs. Anna Carey of Crossville, Tenn and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gabbard and Sherrie Dooley of Berea.

Enjoying the day and seeing lots of old friends and kinfolks at the Mullins Reunion at Mullins Station Sunday Sept. 17th were Mrs. Edith Mullins (now 95 years old), Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Croucher and Lucille Ponder, Lucille and Velma are Mrs. Mullins' daughters.

Jack and Marie Goff have been vacationing in Western Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Visitors of Kenneth and Lillie Parsons recently were their children, James, Laura and Lisa and girls. Also visiting were Lillie's sister, Francis and her husband, Wallace Brant of Walkertown, NC. They all attended the Gabbard/Green family reunion held at White Hall in Richmond.

A birthday supper was held for Donnie Hurst on Saturday evening at the home of Don and Ora Lee Hurst. Those attending were: Nicholas and Jason Leger, Barry, Stephanie, Derrick and Chris Hurst and Gary and Sheila Hurst.

Weekend visitors of Ing and Florine Kirby were Mrs. Joyce Robbins of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kirby and Junior Kirby, all of Ohio.

Week end visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Brownie Martin were their grand-children, Jillisa Lay and Chris Davis Faulkner of Brodhead and Jasmin and Travis Martin of Somerset.

Sally Brown reports that her brother, Earnest Ping of the Woodstock Community, had to be hospitalized on Monday at Lake Cumberland Regional Hospital.

Elmer and Lucille Ponder spent two days last week at Buckhorn Lake in eastern Kentucky in celebration of their 54th wedding anniversary.

Alice Cupp has resumed home from St. Joseph Hospital where she spent three days. She is reported to be feeling much better.

Monday evening visitors of Mary Jane Randolph, Linda and Arvil, were Carol Martin and Betty Lou Whitaker.

The Week at Livingston

By: Carol Martin

Mr. and Mrs. D.F. Cottengin and Mrs. Margaret Burdine visited the ladies' brother Glen Browning Saturday in Harlan. Mr. Browning was injured in a mine accident and is slowly improving.

Mrs. Ruby Roark of Dayton visited her sister, Mrs. Juanita Medley, during the week.

Mrs. Juanita Medley and Beulah Black were in Richmond one day during the week so Mrs. Black could see her doctor.

Stuart Mullins of Frankfort spent the week end with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullins.

L.D. Bond and son, Mark and Harvey Bond were in Lexington Tuesday to visit Herman Bond who is a patient in the V.A. Hospital.

Dougie Medley and his mother were in Barbourville one day during the week for Dougie's check-up. As of now, he is doing fine.

Mrs. Lena McClure reports Charles is in very serious condition at the VA Hospital in Lexington.

We are still getting news from the homecoming. Mrs. Sally Mason's son, Leon Mason, and her brother, Lloyd Bond and his wife were in from Oregon, Ohio. Both her son and her brother are graduates of Livingston High School. It was her brother's first time to attend the homecoming and reported he really enjoyed the event.

Hospice Helpline needs volunteers

Hospice of the Kentucky River is seeking volunteers for their Holiday Grief Helpline. You could become a Helpline volunteer. Twenty-five hours of intensive training is about to begin. These training sessions are packed with information on listening skills, loss, grief, loneliness, dependency and family dynamics. As a Hospice Grief Helpline volunteer, serving one 4-6 hour shift every week, for a period of 6 weeks, you'll give a lot and you'll get even more.

The Hospice Grief Helpline Training starts on Friday, October 20 from 6 to 9 p.m. and continues on Sat., Oct. 21 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Training continues each Thursday evening 6 to 9 p.m., starting October 26 and ending November 16. All meetings will take place at First United Methodist church at 401 Main, Richmond, Ky. The cost for all training sessions is $10 per person.

The Hospice Grief Helpline is sponsored by Hospice of the Kentucky River, Inc. To register in advance, or receive more information, call Myrtle Griffin at 256-3577.

Explanation of handling of administrative fees collected from catastrophic (CAT) coverage

Under the Federal Crop Insurance Reform Act of 1984, the crop insurance program was supplemented with a new CAT coverage level available to farmers for a fee. Producers must sign up for at least CAT for each crop of economic significance to be eligible for USDA farm programs, including commodity price support, the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) and certain Farm Credit loans. CAT coverage will protect against yield losses greater than 50% at a payment rate of 80% of the expected market price. This is a level comparable to recent ad hoc disaster relief programs.

This coverage can be obtained through CFSA County Offices and private reinsured companies for an administrative fee to the producer. The fee established by the Reform Act is $.50 per crop per county, but not to exceed $200 per producer per county and up to a maximum of $600 per producer for all counties in which a producer has insured crops. These fees are paid by the producer at the time the producer applies for CAT protection.

When CFSA County Offices provide CAT coverage and collect processing fees, up to $100 of the fees collected from each producer will be retained by CFSA to provide funds for payment of operating and administrative expenses incurred by county offices for the delivery of CAT protection. Fees in excess of the $100 per producer per county are deposited in the FCIC Insurance Fund Account in the amount of the Corporation Estimated fee collections for CFSA county office delivery costs were allocated to county offices in advance. CFSA will retain approximately $36 million of the $43 million in service fees collected from program participants. This comes from an accounting reconciliation done in Kansas City.

Fees collected by private reinsured companies making CAT coverage available are handled in the same manner. Up to $100 of the administrative fees paid by each producer are retained by the private reinsured companies for payment of operative and administrative expenses incurred by the reinsured companies in connection with CAT coverage. Fees in excess of the $100 are to be deposited in the FCIC Insurance Fund account for programs and activities of the corporation.

Agricultural News

By Warden Alexander
County Executive Director
Because of a change in the formula for calculating deficiency 1994 and 1995 payments, an additional payment is expected in October. The payment rate at the 5-month point was 57c, but only 42 3/4c was paid. This rate was subject to a factor of 75%. The 75% adjustment was made to keep producers from having to refund deficiency payments due to risprings.

Assuming prices remain constant or rise, the 12 month deficiency payment would be based on the 5-month price plus 7c ($2.18). This means the producer will essentially earn the 25% reduction, making the total 1994 deficiency payment 57c. Producers have already received a total of 42 3/4c meaning the 12-month payment in October will be 14 3/4c. This is not a Findley payment, so it counts against the $50,000 payment limit. Corn prices would have to crash violently to generate a Findley payment.

Sign up for the 3rd Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) is going on now until September 22. Producers may sign up or receive additional information by contacting Rockcastle CFSA at 256-2525.

Alice Lloyd College students Honored at conference

More than six thousand delegates participated in the Phi Beta Lambda National Leadership Conference in Orlando, Florida this summer. Seven Alice Lloyd College students represented Kentucky. Those participating were: Jason Chapman, Canada, Kentucky; Rebecca Denny, Brodhead; Kevin Diamond, Borderland, West Virginia; Mary Beth Holbrook, Pippas Passes; Dwayne Meadows, Stanton; Brian Mullins, Pikeville and Danielle Wells, Wooton.

Four of the seven received awards during the conference, including Rebecca Denny who got a fourth place award in management.

The chapter's advisor, Lenore M. Pollard, commented, "We had a wonderful trip to Orlando. The students conducted themselves in a professional manner and made me proud to be their advisor. They represented Alice Lloyd College, as well as Kentucky, enthusiastically!"

Mt. Vernon Message

We want to welcome Mrs. Rose Brown as Mt. Vernon Elementary principal. Mrs. Brown's first official day was Friday, Sept. 1. A reception was held Tuesday, Sept. 5 in the library to allow the staff to meet their new principal and wish Mrs. Powell the best in her new position as DPP. Mrs. Brown has formerly served as assistant principal at RCMS, counselor at Roundstone Elementary. Also, she worked as counselor and primary teacher in Laurel Co. She is married to Cleis Brown and they have two sons, Cleis and Mathew.

The Mt. Vernon School staff is dedicated to providing the best education possible for our students as they develop their potential. We look forward to Mrs. Brown's leadership as we work together toward our goals.

Thank You

We would like to thank the following students for their time and help during our Open House: Courtney Alexander, Chris Setles, Rhonda McClure, Kalisa Robinson, April Gibbons, Chris Robbins and Holly Mullins.

Congratulations

Congratulations to the following classes for achieving 10 consecutive days of perfect attendance and winning pizza parties: Ms. Noble, Ms. Roark, Ms. Reed, Mr. Woodall and Ms. McQueary.

Family Resource Center

The Family Resource Center is located next door to the office. Ms. Regina Jett, program assistant, has been very busy helping students and families. Remember, the FRC is here to help address any concerns that may interfere with your child's success in school. You can contact Ms. Jett at 256-2953 or Ms. Betty Lewis at 256-2156.

News from the 4th Grade

Creetings from Mr. Woodall and Mrs. Clark's fourth grade classes.

We have started our year with a study of Careers. Our specific question has been: "How does school help you in your career?" As we've studied, we have participated in many learning activities. Some of them were: "Career Scatographies," which helped us think of many unusual occupations; "It's in the Bag," which helped us relate jobs with tools used; and, finally, we completed realistic applications for employment.

Three guest speakers have visited our class to tell us about their careers. They were: Mrs. Lisa Clontz, pianist; Ms. Virginia Miller, paralegal; and Mrs. Teresa Bussell, home health worker. All gave interesting talks and we learned many things as we listened. Each of them mentioned that math and reading were especially important in their jobs. We hope to have other career speakers throughout the year.

The first book the children are concentrating on is "The Three Billy Goats Gruff." The children have enjoyed listening to and role-playing the story. Our next unit will be Bears and we will be sorting, measuring, graphing. We will be using patterns estimating and counting stuffed animals.

Our birthdays for August and September are:

Miss Janice's room: Patty Uffman, Alyssa Hasty, Robert Jones, Christopher Mullins, Amanda Morris, Nicholas Miracle and Phillip Hampton.
Mrs. Brenda's room: Thomas Kidwell, Bethany French, Nicole Shepherd, Joshua Moberly Jeremy Bullock, Jessica Witter, Blake Hasty and Rachelle Hoskins.

Mrs. Irene's room: Jordan Barneck, Cody Wilson, Christopher Evans, Andrea Wynne, Kayla Owens, Michael Hansell, Michael Nicely and Brandy Owens.

We would like to thank our parents for their support. Parents please check folders daily and return progress reports. Remember, your child's attendance is very important for success in school. We are in a P.T.A. contest to see who can get the most members. Membership fee is $3.00 and Mrs. Janice's class is in second place.

Mrs. Brenda, Mrs. Irene and Mrs. Janice welcome all parents to visit their classrooms.

The Entry Level Primary Classes have just completed an ocean unit. The unit consisted of two weeks of learning activities centered around the ocean theme.

The culminating activity for the unit was a Beach Day when children pretended to go to the beach. Classes were set up outside for the activities. We have introduced Miss A, Mr. B, and Mr. C and the numbers 1, 2, 3 and the circle, square, triangle and rectangles. We are also learning our colors.

Caring Connection

represented by groups of letters. Each person has to discover through many experiences that letters represent individual sounds. Your child needs time to learn how the individual letters c-a-t, for instance, form the word cat. Your child comes to know this from lots of experiences of being read to, talked with, looking at pictures of cats and seeing the letters c-a-t placed under the picture.

Learning letter sounds is a very small, though important, part of learning to read. As your child looks at books with you, run your finger along the line of text you are reading out loud. Read smoothly and let your finger point to each word as you read it.

Concentrate on the meaning of the story. Soon your child will be pointing to words and waiting for you to say them. Recognizing a letter, your child may say, "My name starts with that." This kind of learning is called "phonemic awareness." An example is the awareness that the group of letters c-a-t is pronounced cat.

Some researchers suggest that a child with phonemic awareness knows that the print, not the picture, determines what is read aloud. Children without this awareness may want to skip the pages with no pictures. You might say to your child, while pointing at a pictureless page, "These words are what I read to tell the story about the pictures."

If possible, take your child to the library weekly. You and your child can select your own books to "read" during rest times at home. This quiet time when you both read your own books can become part of your daily routine.

Mega Concert

the awards won by his performance and recordings. He has been called a "country music immortal," a legend, a superstar, the "godfather of country" and "the greatest country artist of all time." Regardless of the title, Merle Haggard is a force in country music. He walks in no man's shadow.

But the shadows cast by Merle Haggard are large and far-reaching. His songs begin in the heart and come to life in rich, textured vocals, telling tales of hard work and lost loves, struggles and successes, memories and fears.

On September 24, Haggard shares Renfro Valley's concert stage with a singer whose rugged individualism parallels his own: Pam Tillis. In the four years since Pam Tillis enjoyed her first number one hit, "Don't Tell Me What to Do," her songs have endured at the top of the charts. A string of hits like "Maybe It Was Memphis," "Shake the Sugar Tree," "Let That Pony Run," "Cleopatra, Queen of Denial," Run, "Cleopatra, Queen of Denial," has kept Pam in the country spotlight. Fans have come to expect honesty, energy and the unexpected from the clear-voiced soprano. And Pam Tillis delivers, in person and on tape.

Renfro Valley staff predicts a sell-out for this exciting double feature and reservations are recommended. Tickets are on sale at the Renfro Valley box office, 800-765-7464 or 606-256-2638. The concert starts at 2 p.m., and guests are reminded to bring lawn chairs. Gates open at 10 a.m.

During re-enactment Antique hearse used to bury the Boones again . . .

On a request by the Kentucky Historical Society, Robert L. "Bud" Cox of Cox Funeral Home recently took his horse-drawn hearse to Frankfort for a re-enactment of the return of the bones of Daniel and Rebecca Boone to Kentucky. The Boones were originally buried in a small family cemetery in Missouri and were moved to Kentucky in 1845.

Newspaper reports of the day say that the reburial was Frankfort's biggest event ever, drawing thousands of people. Seven descendants of the Boone family traveled from New York, Florida, Illinois and Boston to witness the re-enactment which was part of Franklin County's year-long bicentennial celebration.

A procession of dozens of people in period dress accompanied two horse-drawn hearses through the streets of downtown Frankfort to a ceremony on the steps of the Old State Capitol on Broadway.

The horse-drawn hearse was purchased in 1907 by W.A. Cox, grandfather of Bud Cox, for use in the funeral business. Regular use of the hearse continued until around 1930. The hearse is occasionally used in parades and funeral association exhibits.

Completes Basic

Navy Seaman Recruit John Helton, son of Mary F. McFerre of 185 Floyd St., Mt. Vernon, recently completed U.S. Navy basic training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week program, Helton completed a variety of training which included classroom study, practical hands-on instruction, and an emphasis on physical fitness. In particular, Helton learned naval customs, first aid, fire fighting, water safety and survival and a variety of safety skills required for working around ships and aircraft.

Helton and other recruits also received instruction on the Navy's core values -- honor, courage and commitment; and what the words mean in guiding personal and professional conduct. Helton joins 55,000 men and women who will enter the Navy this year from all over the country.

Men and women train together from their first day in the Navy just as they do aboard ships and at shore bases around the world. To reinforce the team concept, Helton and other recruits also were trained in preventing sexual harassment and ensuring equal opportunity.

Even as the naval service gets smaller over the next few years, highly motivated young people like Helton, are still finding an opportunity to improve their knowledge and education as they become part of the most highly technical naval force in history. This year alone, the Navy will have more than 57,000 job openings and opportunities, most of which include guaranteed training.

Helton is a 1995 graduate of Rockcastle County High School.

Powell joins Navy

Kimberly Jo Powell recently enlisted in the United States Navy for guaranteed training in the Airman Apprenticeship Program.

Powell, daughter of William Powell of Mt. Vernon, is a 1995 graduate of Rockcastle Co. High School. She will report to Recruit Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., in December for active duty, where she will undergo basic training.

Following basic training, Powell will begin three weeks of instruction at the Airman Apprentice school in Great Lakes.

Petty Officer 2nd Class Joe Suell of the London Navy Recruit Station, Powell's recruiter, noted that Powell may go on to additional schooling or be assigned to any one of the Navy's duty stations around the world.

Notice to Parents, Teachers and Employees of the Rockcastle County Board of Education

On October 22, 1986, President Reagan signed into law the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA, Public Law 99-519). The law required EPA to develop regulations which provide a comprehensive framework for addressing asbestos problems in public and private elementary and secondary schools. Materials in Schools Rule (40 CFR Part 763 Subpart E). This Rule requires all public and private elementary and secondary schools to inspect for friable and non-friable asbestos, develop asbestos management plans that address asbestos hazards in school buildings, and implement response actions in a timely fashion.

To carry out the above activities involving inspections, management plans and response actions, the Rockcastle County Board of Education has utilized accredited personnel. On April 30, 1987, EPA published in the Model Action plan (40 CFR Part 763 Appendix C to Subpart E) required by AHERA, which specifies training, examination and other requirements for persons who inspect, develop management plans and design or conduct response actions in schools. The Model Plan became effective on June 1, 1987.

In 1968, the Rockcastle County Board of Education retained Barry W. Cooper, P.E. who completed an initial inspection to locate all asbestos-containing building materials (ACBM) and developed and submitted to the State of Kentucky an asbestos Management Plan that includes the results of the inspections. In December of 1988, the Rockcastle County Board of Education began to implement this management plan.

Copies of the management plan are always available for review to those interested persons at the Administration Office at Rt. 5, Box 69, Mt. Vernon, Ky and at the principal's office at each school any time during normal office hours.

Copies are available for duplication at a cost of 25 cents for each 8 1/2 x 11 page of the Management Plan.

Our guarantee to you... A hospital that cares about you and your family

We may not be as big as other hospitals, but we like to think that is one of the reasons that makes Rockcastle Hospital special.

At Rockcastle Hospital, we have made every effort to equip our hospital with the latest, most modern state-of-the-art equipment for a facility that is fast becoming a hospital that will be second to none.

Our recent renovation of our acute care wing is just another example of our commitment to provide the best care possible for our patients. We know that more times than not, a visit to the hospital is a trying, serious matter that can overwhelm many individuals. At Rockcastle hospital, we want to make our patients feel as comfortable as possible.

We may be a small hospital, but we are a hospital that cares about you and your family.

Generations of Service.

Rockcastle County's spiritual beliefs have always been rooted in our churches. Our families have grown up with the help and guidance of our churches. Our churches have proven themselves as one of the most vital institutions in our community.

At Cox Funeral Home we feel that the sincere dignified service we have provided to Rockcastle County families since 1907 is also an institution. We have dedicated ourselves to provide the respect that families need in their hours of grief and loss. We are proud of our service to Rockcastle County, and applaud the spiritual support extended by our communities' churches.
