PART 4 - EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Rockcastle County Schools continued with the challenge of implementing a major restructuring effort during the 1994-95 school year. Meeting the physical challenge included a new high school facility, the middle school concept initiated at the former high school site and redistricting of Mt. Vernon and Livingston area students. Each effort was accomplished without losing sight of our main objective, educating the students. The stakeholders in Rockcastle County have embraced the opportunity for progressive change and continue to focus toward the educational process.

The information furnished in this Annual Performance Report specifies areas of improvement through the 1994-95 school year. As can be gleaned from this information, Rockcastle County Schools continue to improve. Future success will routinely rely on the collaborative approach, involving all stakeholders in the county as we proceed with the educational journey.

Primary accomplishments of the Rockcastle County School District for the 1994-95 school year were:

- Implementation of Middle School Approach (Concept);
- Implementation of secondary block scheduling as consequence of restructuring;
- Occupancy of a new high school facility;
- Continued participation in the Effortive Schools Process;
- Continuation of high school restructuring including N.A.R.E., Tech-Prep and School-to-Work programs;
- Continued improvement in curriculum development;
- Surveilment of a high attendance rate, 96.1 percent;
- Continued to meet the professional development needs of all staff members; and
- Continuation of emphasis of the idea of a learning community.

The following goals have been established for the 1995-96 school year:

- Continue to modify block scheduling at the secondary level;
- Continue to participate in the Effortive Schools Process;
- Continue to emphasize high attendance and low drop-out rates; and
- Continue to promote the total district participation with the National Alliance for Restructuring Education (N.A.R.E.);
- Make Internet access available at each school;
- Increase the number of teachers and administrators trained using Different Ways of Knowing (D.W.O.K.) in grades Preschool-R and
- Continue participation with the KY Council on Economic Education.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Rockcastle County Schools is to develop students who have the knowledge and basic life skills to lead productive, fulfilling lives; therefore, we must create a positive, educational environment which requires a well-defined curriculum, appropriate facilities, and a total commitment from school personnel, students, parents and community.

"Many people think the arts and humanities are just drawings and good novels but they're not. Arts and humanities are our nature, sports, music - they are our culture. We are the arts.

Arts and humanities play a vital, necessary role in my life. One of the components of art that I identify with is color. Color can be used to show people's life brighter. Colors of nature can make people jubilant. (Some colors though, can show people's sadness). Color affects your behavior.

Colors can express many different feelings and just by seeing them can offer control, peace, or confusion to a person's life.

Color is all around us. It is in the man-made-world as well as the natural world. I believe God created the world in color because he understood the beauty it could bring to our lives. Color is only one aspect of the arts that is an integral part of everyday life.

Angela Mullins

"In many ways the arts are the part of our culture that give us all happiness. Yet in many ways people don't realize it. The arts bring beauty and grace into our lives. To give beauty and happiness is something great no matter if it is enormous or something minute. When we want to express to someone that we appreciate them, we often give them something beautiful or associated with arts.

The first part of any culture is survival. But then man begins to strive for beauty. All over the world in Egyptian pottery, North American basket making and weaving, European dancing and painting -- wherever a culture developed one can find beauty. In any age, in any place, art begins with the people's culture. Often the people most admired are the artists, the craftsmen, the poets, the musicians, the teachers, the ministers. Why? Because they bring beauty into everyone's life through a form of the arts."

Jeremiah Myers

"When you look at the world around you, although you don't know it, the arts are all around you. The language you speak, the house you live in, the music you listen to, and even the clothes you wear are all of the arts because they are a part of our culture.

Arts are important in our life because they do make life more interesting and enjoyable. Can you imagine living without music, poetry and the wonders of nature? Another part of the arts that has become very famous through the years is sports. Many humans even in other countries, enjoy sports. Whether it's football, basketball, baseball, hockey, swimming, soccer, gymnastics or ice skating, we all share the same enjoyment for sports. We appreciate the beauty of the sport. This is an example of how the arts are a major part of our life.

If someone said, 'All arts are to be taken away,' this would be hard to do and our world would be boring. There goes the paints, crayons, Michael Jordan, Hootie and the Blowfish, all musical instruments, and clothes. Our languages, sports, music, poetry, writing, television, sculpture, carpentry and nature would also go.

As you can see, the arts serve an important, vital role in our lives. They are seen in every aspect of living. Without the arts, our culture just would not function as well.

Judge puts off Denny murder trial again

The murder trial of a Chestnut Ridge man has been continued once again by Rockcastle Circuit Judge William Cain.

A hearing will held December 8th to set a new trial date in the 28 month old case.

Jerry Lee Denny, 28, is accused of gunning down eighteen-year-old Jeffrey P. Payne on June 12, 1993 at a party in Pine Hill.

According to court records Denny shot Payne and Gerald Lewis Cotton, 37, during a late night party in Lime Plant Hollow.

Witnesses said that an argument broke out between several individuals before Denny began shooting with an automatic weapon.

The trial was originally scheduled for Monday October 2, but Judge Cain delayed it until Tuesday because of what he called, "prejudicial pretrial news coverage by the local newspaper." Cain was apparently referring to a story in the Signal two weeks ago concerning the delay in the trying of the case.

On Tuesday, Cain continued the case to December 8th, at which time a trial date is supposed to be set.

Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Bill Thompson, who is prosecuting the case said Tuesday that he strongly objected to action taken. "We are ready to try this case and this family is more than ready for a trial to take place," Thompson said.

"We have told Judge Cain that we want to try cases in Rockcastle County, but we have had very little luck getting that to happen," Commonwealth Attorney Ray Carmichael said Tuesday.

Hospital has 30 days to act on property

By Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle Hospital board has thirty days to make a decision on the future of the Rockcastle County ambulance service facility.

The time deadline came as the result of a motion at last week's regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle fiscal court.

For several months the Rockcastle ambulance service has wanted to make needed improvements to the property that would allow the ambulance service to house three more ambulances. But the board does not want to spend the $30,000 it will take without some guarantee they won't be looking for a new home, should the hospital board decide it needs the property for hospital expansion.

The Rockcastle fiscal court actually owns the property, but according to ambulance service director David Pensol, the ambulance service is willing to pay for the necessary improvements the property if they can get a guarantee from the county, that the hospital will not end up with the property and the ambulance service end up with no place to go.

"We are going to give both boards time to try and work out a solution to this problem, because I was told by Rockcastle Hospital Administrator Lee Keene, that the hospital is interested in the facility," Rockcastle Judge-Executive Buzz Carlolifis said this week.

According to the court's motion the hospital can trade with the ambulance service if the facility traded to the ambulance service is equal to the facility they have now. But, "the final approval would have to come from the ambulance board," Carlolifis said.

If nothing has changed when the thirty days is up, Carlolifis has been instructed by the court to give the ambulance service a restrictive deed to the property.

The court also renewed the four-year contract with Little World's Fair Inc., provided that something is worked out with the Rockcastle County Little League board, including parking.

Little World's Inc., exercised an option for three more years at a cost of $5,255 per year. Little World's Fair Inc., is owned by William Frank Martin and William M. Gentry.

The court also passed a resolution accepting a low bid of $104,748 to repair the Copper Creek Road slide if the state and federal governments provide the extra funding needed for the project. Earlier estimates to fix the road had been $87,000.

City raises property taxes

By Ray McClure
The Mt. Vernon City Council set the 1995-96 tax rate for the city at its regular meeting Monday night which reflected a six tenths per $100 increase.

The city tax rate on real estate and personal property jumped from 15.7 cents per $100 assessed value to 16.3 cents per $100.

Watercraft and motor vehicle tax remains the same at 16.5 cents per $100 assessed value that is subject to taxation.

The tax bill will have a 2 percent discount if paid by Nov. 30 and a 6 percent penalty after Jan. 1.

The first reading of the ordinance setting the tax rate was approved on a motion by Councilman Lee Keene, seconded by Karen King.

The council agreed to wait one month before making a "give away, anyone" motion on the city's caboose.

Mayor Gary R. Cromer made a motion to give the caboose to anyone who'll take it if they want it, saying the Mt. Vernon Fire Department didn't seem to want it. The motion failed from lack of a second.

Ann Wilson talked to the council suggesting a curfew, or some kind of remedy, for young people in cars near the car wash in Mt. Vernon who make unnecessary noise. She cited medical reasons.

The council's suggestion was that she get the names of the persons making noise and get a warrant for them. City police have not seen or heard noise from those involved.

The September activity report by city police showed 47 citations issued; 92 total charges; 13 DUI arrests; 196 calls for service; 20 accidents; 32 other agency assists; 8 motorist assists; 5 criminal cases.

County sets tax rate same as last year

In other business the court voted to set the 1995-96 county tax rate which is the same as the 1994-95 rate.

Real estate is taxed at 7.9 cents per one hundred dollar assessment and tangible property such as automobiles and fishing boats will be taxed at 8.2 cents per one hundred dollar assessment. That's the county's share. Others getting a hunk of change from Rockcastle taxpayers are the library board which taxes real estate at 1.66 cents and tangible property also at 1.66.

Soil Conservation district will get .008 cents per one hundred dollar assessment on real estate and the health department will get 3.2 cents on real estate and 3.2 on tangible. The extension service gets 2.6 cents per one hundred dollar assessed value and 2.5 cents on tangible property.

The school system gets the lion's share of Rockcastle county taxpayers property taxes with a 44.8 cents per one hundred dollar assessed value on real estate and the same on tangible property.

Bank shares are taxed at 29.39 cents per $100 assessed value and the forest service will get .02 cents per acre on privately owned forest land to be used to help fight forest fires.

When it is all said and done, for every $100 worth of real estate you own, you will pay approximately 62 cents in property taxes.

More simply, if you own a $100,000 farm the property tax man will get $620 of your hard earned money.

If you own a pick-up truck the government says is worth $10,000 it will cost you $62.00 in property taxes on it this year as well.

Deputy Sheriff Doug Thomas investigated.

Kiwanis officers installed

One of the most active civic organizations in Rockcastle held an installation of officers Thursday night at the Rockcastle Steak House. The Kiwanis Club which sponsors many community events in the county elected County Attorney Jeff Burdette as president for the 1995-96 year. In the photo are, from left: Geraldine Mize, a Lt. Governor in the state Kiwanis organization, Sue Hamm, treasurer, Linda Gregory, vice president, Mr. Burdette, Maude Randolph, secretary and Rocky Rockwell, past president. The Kiwanians will be holding a yard sale this Saturday in Mt. Vernon during the Bittersweet Festival.

Today the golden days of autumn begin. Yes, I know the calendar says autumn begins September 23 but the last days of September are often a prelude to the beauty of autumn throughout the month of October. This is the month when nature brings forth its most beautiful colors and struts them before the world to see.

This is also the month when "yellow" is in the pumpkin patch and frost is on the vine. "Saturday these words from something I had read in my childhood kept ringing in my ears as Polly and I were cleaning off the weeds and vines from a short row of sweet potatoes down on the farm. As some of you may know, but probably most of you never heard about, October is the month when sweet potatoes are usually harvested. And a heavy harvesting them he was cranky. They had to be bedded just so-so, then setting them out was a chore I would rather not remember. First the tender young plants had to be carefully pulled from the bed (more stooping and reaching) then set out in ridges that had been prepared for them. This was usually done crawling along on one's knees and the plants were set by hand, one plant at a time, placed carefully in an opening made by one's own hand or a planting tool in the freshly loosened soil and gently pressed into place. This was backbreaking work but nothing to compare with the watering of them after they were set. All my faithful readers of "Sweet and Sour" undoubtedly have read my previous complaints about our lack of water at that time in my life and how we had to find enough water from somewhere to water a half acre or so of these tiny plants. Each had to be watered separately and thoroughly immediately after setting them out and again the next morning if it was a very dry season. And where did this water come from?

Well, we had been catching every bit of rain water that came off the house so there were a couple of barrels under the drip of the house that was used and the spring down under the hill was emptied every time we could find a gallon or two of water in it. This had to be dipped with a long handled dipper into buckets and carried up the hill to the garden where it was then dipped back out and poured carefully, so as not to lose a drop, onto the tiny plants. But it paid off for we always had a bumper crop of juicy golden sweet potatoes when digging time came. It was then we faced another time of backbreaking work. Mat would watch carefully for signs of the first frost and, when the morning arrived when he saw one, he would call out for all of us to get prepared to cut the vines before the frost had time to go down into the potatoes and ruin them. For, if it did, we would have dark bitter streaks throughout them. So, armed with sharp knives to clip the vines, we headed for the potato patch. Now, October sun may be warm and soothing to your back when you are setting over, but an October frost steeped on leaves that have to be walked through and handled, can freeze the hands and feet doing the work. After cutting the vines, we would gather them all into a big pile and begin carrying them to the barn for cattle feed. The cows loved them and would haunt the fence hoping for the treat of an armful as we passed.

Next came the digging after they had matured from the removal of the vines. It was then when Mat really was cranky. To him, sweet potatoes were the most delicate vegetable grown and had to be handled with extreme care. He usually used a digging fork and the tines would be sunk deeply into the earth just below the ridge and, as he lifted the fork out, he would shake the dirt loose and only place the golden potatoes left on it in a neat row beside the ridge. We all took turns at the digging, sometimes he would allow one of us to use a mattock if we would watch carefully where we digging so as not to cut too many potatoes or bruise them. Of course, there are always some of them cut so these were the first to be used or canned for later use (one could always find canned sweet potatoes in my cellar). After the potatoes had been dug, they had to lie in their neat little rows until the dirt on them had thoroughly dried. They dare not

Dear Editor,

In the Mt. Vernon Signal of Thursday, Sept. 21st, there was an article about the "Home Economics" get new name and new face. This name has been changed to "Family and Consumer Science." I refer to the above only as a means of identifying the particular part I am offended by. Members of a 10th grade class referred to as Practical Living visited the Sowder Nursing Home in Broadhead. The remarks made by the students amazed me. Even after Mrs. Whit explained the services of the home, they concluded their visit with a deplorable conclusion. The patients here were a deprived group of elderly people longing for love and receiving none. This is the most misplaced observation I have ever encountered. When these students entered the home, their first observations had been the attractiveness and immaculate cleanliness of the home. This does not portray a place where unloved humans are "dumped" to be discarded for the rest of their lives.

I am a resident patient in the Sowder Nursing home. I was placed here by a daughter-in-law who loved me and wanted a place where I would be taken care of in a way it was demons spirits that may have taken hold of me. I'll surely attend, and it if sure, I'll be glad to give a blessing and sing a stanza or two of "Praise to the Riverside." Make that "Shall We Gather at the River?"

Regarding the snake-handling passage in Mark's gospel, the Reverend McKibben's letter-to-the-editor states that "signs" were confirmed to the first generation of Christians only to affirm their message. That is pure conjecture.

I argue that a portion of Mark's original gospel was lost, and that later another ending was written and appended in place of the lost portion. But the styles differ, and hints of post-resurrection events in the genuine portion of Mark are never taken up again (e.g., Mark 14:28 points to at least one appearance with the disciples, and 16:7 anticipates a meeting of the Savior with Peter). The passage beginning at Mark 16:9 spurious and contains at least two directives the Savior never would have given.

At rest, Dan, I have some faith on my side. I like to believe manuscripts of Mark that do not contain those "miracles" of snake handling, drinking poison, casting out demons, and speaking in tongues. Even the Scotfold Bible notes that older manuscripts differ. And I would add a memory service to the right that they were never even consulted by the King James translators. It would be every Christian good to read a book on how the Scriptures came to be, and especially preachers.

I must go, precious souls, and visit a prostragenous about my bed back which, after medications were changed, allowed me three whole weeks of no pain at all before returning with all its fury. Surgery may be in offing. A C-scan shows two ruptured discs and spurs here and there. I'm waiting for the result of an MRI.

Sometime ago, a well-meaning acquaintance suggested that my black trouble might cease if I were to go back into the ministry. (I hadn't told him all the reasons why that could never be.)

"Oh, I wouldn't dare try that," I said to him. "Why not?" "For several reasons," I said, "but mainly because preaching can be dangerous." "What's dangerous about preaching?" he asked. "Somebody's apt to believe you," I replied.

"John Norman," that doesn't make sense. "Think about it," I said. But I thought to myself that he might not do that because thinking is painful, and that explains why most people avoid it and settle for easily conjured, easy answers.

Until next week, precious souls, the Almighty willing - whom, contrary to some folks opinion, I do reverence - meditate on a little verse composed by Swademan Nhoj, a Norwegian friend of mine:

*Up the paps
On the first of seven
To half past eleven
To tell of heaven
Chiming out his doctrine dear
Of things that harmonize
and cheer
But naught of thronics

possible to do in our home. The patients here, which number near one hundred, range in disabilities of complete incapacity to those, like myself, who are physically disabled but have our mental facilities intact. We need 24 hour care in order to function. This we have here all alike, who are completely disabled and who are physically so. This wonderful service rendered by a group of trained aides who treat us with so much love and compassion that, after a short time, we feel like members of a loving family. We have a nurse on duty all the times to assure our medications are properly dispensed. No elderly person is going to accidentally overdose here. If our physical condition deteriorates, they immediately notify the family and doctor and the patient is transferred to a hospital. We have a speech people who monitor our diet and prepare 2-3 nourishing meals every day. Others do the laundry which keeps the linens fresh. The family of the patient may decide to do the laundry of the clothes of their loved one. It is not convenient for the family, the laundry here takes care of it.

I haven't scratched the surface of the services supplied here to make this place the establishment so very adequately take care of the elderly physically but they do it in the loving caring way that friends and families see when they visit. Visitors are always welcome. The students are welcome to come anytime, but when you do, get acquainted with the nursing home and really know what you are observing and I'm sure you will be as happy to render a service you won't be giving the elderly the only love that they will be shown. It was love that brought us here and we are being loved after we get here.

A satisfied resident,
Melinda J. Randolph

be washed nor handled until this had happened. Then, each potato was picked up and laid carefully in a basket or tub to be taken to the attic where they were again carefully placed in a prepared area with dirt still intact. And, they were not allowed to touch one another unless it was a dire necessity. They were never dumped out of their container into piles. When it was necessary to have stacks of them, it was after they had cured for a few weeks to toughen their skins. And then it was done by hand. Can anyone imagine taking care of fifty plus bushels of potatoes this way? Well, we did, it was the way of life back then and none of us seem to be the worse for it. I have always thought "hard work won't kill anyone" and maybe I am proof of that saying.

Now, maybe Mat was cranky about the way sweet potatoes had to be handled, but one thing for sure, IT handling injuries. The delicate skins and causing rot to set in, and curing them well before storing them for the winter, more than paid off for we always had an ample supply of golden, juicy and flavorful sweet potatoes the year around.

Poly even recalled the many times Mat would stold her for not handling them with care. She said, "I could understand it when I was little but it was hard to understand after I became an adult for Dad to say, 'watch what you are doing; those potatoes have tender skins.'"

October, the month of beautiful colors, warm sunshine, crispy cool mornings, gold on the pumpkins and sweet potato digging time is probably my favorite month of the year.

Health Dept. News

By Beverly Carter-Saxon
The Family Planning Program, offered at the Rockcastle County Health Department, enables all women of child bearing age to obtain affordable gynecological care and access to birth control.

A woman who comes to the Family Planning clinic will receive a health to physical check, a breast exam (mammograms are available for women who qualify), a pap smear to detect early signs of cervical cancer, a pelvic exam, testing for sexually transmitted diseases, if necessary, and HIV/AIDS testing, if requested. If any medical problems are found, the patient will be referred for further medical evaluation. Under certain circumstances, the health department will pay for further medical care, but this is determined on an individual basis, based on income and insurance availability. Sterilization (vasectomy for men and tubal ligation for women) are available on a very limited basis.

Many different forms of birth control: pills, the Depo Provera injection, NorPlan, IUDs, diaphragms, spermicides (Emko, Dolphin, VCF film) and condoms are available with the needs of the patient in mind.

Pregnancy testing is also available at the health department. If a woman has a positive pregnancy test, she is encouraged to take advantage of programs offered at the health department that are designed to promote a healthy pregnancy and optimal health for her and her baby. The Rockcastle County Health Department does not make referrals nor provide for abortions.

All fees for services are based on a sliding scale, based on the patients' total family income.

For more information, or to schedule an appointment, call the health department at 256-2242. Our office hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

October is National Arts and Humanities Month

Recently, County Judge Executive, Buzz Carlolits joined with the rest of the nation in proclaiming October as National Arts and Humanities Month. Judge Carlolits met with a group of Rockcastle County Middle School art students and signed the proclamation, which states in part, "The Arts and Humanities provide opportunities for developing an awareness of self, the environment and creativity through Arts and Humanities experiences." Upon signing the proclamation, Judge Carlolits told the students, "Many times we don't realize the important role the Arts and Humanities play in our everyday lives. All we have to do is look around the Rockcastle Community and we can see how our cultural heritage is expressed by local writers and artists, people who quilt and work with wood in addition to the art and objects being produced by students everyday.

Adding sea animals to our shirts.

You don't have to go far to visit the ocean. Mrs. Annette's and Mrs. Cindy's class have created an underwater world at B.E.S. The students are showing what they know with art work, writings and a seashell exhibit. They also painted T-shirts with a variety of ocean animals and plants.

STATIC Primary provided those attending the September P.T.A. meeting with an entertaining performance. Special thanks to the STATIC team.

The STATIC group of Mrs. Dyehouse has been working on self-portraits, memory boxes and a family memory quilt. Their display is located outside their classroom in the hall.

The Classes of Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Thompson would like to express their thanks to Mayor Gary Cromer for coming to B.E.S. to share information with them about his position. These classes are setting up a classroom community and want to learn about various businesses and leaders needed to operate a community. Mr. Cromer's information was very useful and the students enjoyed his visit.

A special thanks to Marvin Stone and Bill Beach for bringing Smokey the Bear to visit with several classes at Broadhead Elementary. Smokey has a good message to share and certainly causes excitement among the students. Also, a special thanks to Linda Hayes and Anna Gibson, two volunteers who helped Smokey around B.E.S. last Thursday.

Rock wins first district game, beats Somerset 30-9

Start out flat, but take charge in second half

The Rockcastle County Rockets won their first district game of the season Friday night when they defeated visiting Somerset 30-9.

Although the Rockets played somewhat of an unenthusiastic first half, they took control of the game in the second half and cruised to their fifth victory of the season.

The Rockets took the lead in the first half when quarterback Jamie Linville took the ball in from the one yard line, but Somerset came right back on their next possession to make it 7-3 when placekicker Shawn Kleeper booted a 23 yard field goal. The Rockets upped their lead to 15 to nine when senior full back Neil Sparks scampered 39 yards up the middle to pay dirt and tailback Jon Cromer added the two extra points with a run.

But, Somerset wouldn't lay down and die and came back on their very next possession to score on a 20 yard pass play. The Briarjumper's two-point conversion attempt failed and the Rockets took a 15-9 lead into the locker room at half-time.

The Rockets continued their unenthusiastic play throughout the third period until junior Jon Cromer culminated a 58 yard drive in the beginning of the fourth quarter, with a three yard touchdown run.

Somerset threatened to score again in the fourth period, but the Rocket defense which has been so tough all season long, stopped the Briarjumper and returned the ball to the Rocket offense. That's when senior Dallas Rigby turned in one of his best runs of the season.

Rigby took the ball off right tackle and rambled 34 yards for the touchdown slamming the door shut on the Briarjumper's hopes of the upset victory.

"That game was a lot closer than the final score indicated," said Rocket head coach Tom Larkey. "Somerset has got a good team and I think they'll make the play-offs," he said. "Their offense gained more yards on us than anyone else we've played," he said.

Indeed, Somerset did have 168 yards of offense and they held the Rockets to just 286.

Ironically the Rockets had no yards passing Friday night and Linville attempted only two passes with one of those being picked off. "We thought we could run on Somerset and we did gaining almost 300 yards," Larkey said. "Passing just wasn't part of the plan Friday night because Somerset was more vulnerable to the run," he said.

Larkey praised the efforts of full-back Neil Sparks who had 86 yards on just eight carries Friday night. "He had some good runs and scored a touchdown, but he also made some key blocks for our other backs, he played an outstanding game," Larkey said.

Jon Cromer led the Rockets in rushing again with 92 yards on 17 carries and Jarrod Singleton had 67 yards on eight carries. Linville carried the ball twice for 11 yards and Dallas Rigby had 35 yards on just two carries. Linville, Sparks, Rigby, Cromer all scored touchdowns and Cromer also had two two-point conversions.

Placekicker Raymond Blackburn added two extra points.

Not only did Neil Sparks play an excellent offensive game, he played superbly on defense as well leading the Rockets with 11 tackles and assists and he also blocked a punt and had three and half sacks.

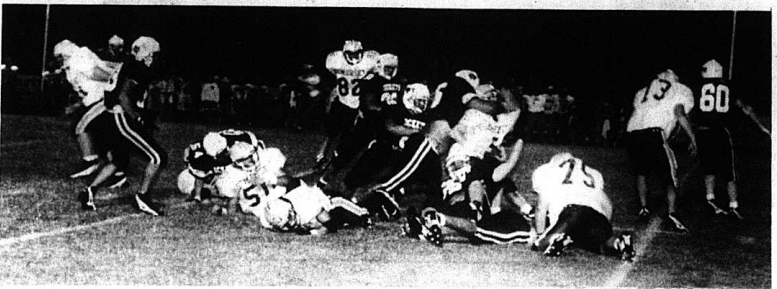

Rigby also played well on defense with nine tackles and assists.

Rocket defensive linemen Eddie Todd, Adam Browning, Jason Weaver and Steve Owens, all played well Friday, especially in the fourth quarter when it was obvious the Rockets were the much stronger team on the line of scrimmage on both sides of the ball. Browning, Todd, Weaver and Owens played both ways.

Todd and four tackles, Weaver had three, Owens 2 and Browning 4. Slade Calhoun also played well on defense with three tackles and David Coffey added six tackles from his linebacker position. Jarrod Singleton, Ronnie Vanzant and Jason Childress played well from their defensive back positions as did J.B. King, Singleton, Vanzant and Childress each had five tackles and assists and King had 2.

The Rockets have now turned their attention to always tough Corbin. They must travel to Corbin Friday night and Coach Larkey expects another dogfight. "This is the toughest game on our schedule, they may be three and three, but they have lost to powers such as Harrodsburg and Clark County.

When the Rock last played in Corbin in 1993, the Redhounds defeated the favored Rockets. It was the Rockets only loss in regular season that year and it cost them their third straight district title.

Above Jason Weaver, Adam Browning and Eddie Todd combine to stop a Briarjumper Friday night. The Rockets play Corbin Friday night.

At right, referee Howard Haddix, helps Panther Clay Dooley after he was slightly injured in a game Sunday at RCMS. The Panthers won four in a row before Sunday's loss. Next week a complete run-down of the youth football season can be found in the Signal, for all teams.

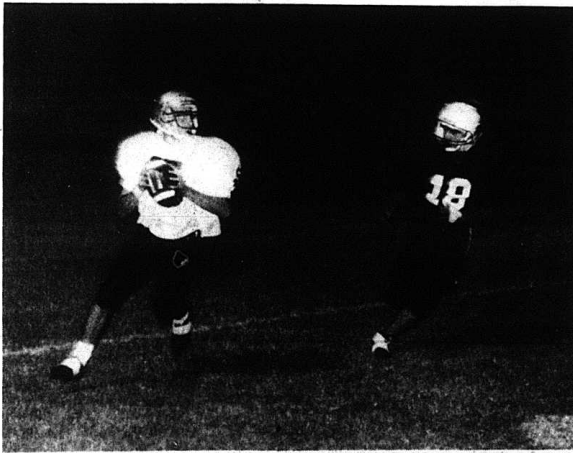

Trenton Owens and Paul Rowe caught 20 catfish that weighed 77 lbs. at Vanzant's Pay Lake.

"We must play mistake free football to win, it should be a great game," the coach said.

Game time is 8:00 p.m. and fans should go early because of road construction delays.

Jarrod Singleton forces a Somerset back out of bounds Friday night. After a slow start the Rockets won 30-9. They play at Corbin this week. Above Dallas Rigby chases down a Somerset back.

Junior Anthony King, #18, pursues the South Laurel quarterback Monday night at RCMS. The junior varsity won their fifth straight game 27-0. The junior varsity has given up only one touchdown all season long and host Bell County at RCMS Monday night. The freshman also won Monday night 36-6. Their only loss of the season was in double overtime to Whitley County last week.

I-64 wreck takes life of Boyle teen

A Junction City teenager died Tuesday, Sept. 19th from injuries received in a traffic accident on Interstate 64 near Frankfort, three others in the car, all from Lancaster, also sustained injury.

John William Robinson, 16, of East Grubbs Lane, formerly of Lancaster, suffered massive head injuries and a broken leg, died at 12:20 a.m. Tuesday at the UK Medical Center in Lexington.

Also injured were Jason L. Acord, 24, the driver of the car, and passengers David R. Hall and Keny Hatfield, both 28. Hatfield was admitted to the Bluegrass Regional Medical Center with broken ribs and a crushed elbow. Acord and Hall were treated and released.

The accident occurred about 3:15 a.m. Monday, Sept. 18, 3.1 miles from Frankfort. Trooper Jerry Wise, who investigated, said the group apparently was coming from Louisville when Acord fell asleep while driving east and struck a tractor trailer parked in the emergency lane.

The truck, which was unoccupied, was a Freightliner with a large cattle trailer. The driver had stopped to help a lady who had run out of gasoline. The car driven by Acord ran off the highway and struck the left, rear side of the truck.

Wise said no charges have yet been filed in connection with the accident. Police stated they saw no evidence that alcohol and drugs contributed to the accident.

The car, a 1987 Pontiac Grand Am, was registered to a Lancaster woman who had taken it to the father of David R. Hall to be repaired.

Wise stated that the car was being driven without the woman's knowledge or consent, but she indicated that she will not press any charges.

Police have not yet determined whether anyone other than Robinson was wearing a seat belt, or how fast the car was traveling when it crashed.

Robinson was a passenger in the right, front seat.

Robinson was born Oct. 6, 1978 in Madison County and was a freshman at Boyle County High School.

Survivors include: his mother, Shirley Jean Shepherd Robinson of Junction City; three half brothers, James Shepherd of Toledo, Ohio, Alvin Shepherd of Danville and Chris Shepherd of Paint Neck; two half sisters, Sharon Robinson of Danville and Teresa Cooley of Sanford.

The funeral was held Sept. 21st at the Preston-Pruitt Funeral Home in Danville by Revs. Raymond and Donnie Pingleton. Burial was in the Junction City Cemetery.

Pallbearers were: Andy Robinson, Troy A. Jams, Brooks Wesley, Robert Kramp, Corey Shepherd and Scott Dreyer.

Survivors also include: his father, Freeman Jack Robinson of Casey County; four half sisters, Audrey Bishop, Reda Bowman, Esther Hecker, all of Mt. Vernon and Teresa Contrabasso of Yuma, Arizona; three half brothers, Kim Robinson of Brodhead, Edwin Robinson and Vernon Price of Mt. Vernon. Robinson was preceded in death by paternal grandparents, Julius and Susan Ellen, Thomas Robinson, an infant sister and a nephew, Michael McClure.

The Robinson Family gravesite memorial service was held Sept. 30th at the Junction City Cemetery with Pastor Tim Smothers residing.

In Memory of

Mildred Ann Bullock on her 23rd Birthday
I remember the day you were

Thursday, October 5, 1995 P.49

born. It was a brisk cool October morn-

The doctor said you have a pretty little girl and surely you were pretty with your pretty black curls. And, as the years went swiftly passing by, we watched you grow into a beautiful young lady and you bless our lives and we were so proud of you.

And, then came your wedding day and you were so beautifully all aglow with love for Bill whom you did love so.

But, then suddenly, God called you away to that land far away and our hearts were broken and still are today. I remember the happiness you brought us when you were born and the sorrow and pain when you were gone. But, thank God in heaven, there will be happiness again when we meet, never to part no more.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were well attended at the Fairview Baptist Church over the week end and Sunday School attendance was 100.

Our Fall Revival started Sunday morning Oct. 1 with Rev. Maynard Head, pastor of First Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon, as the evangelist. One came by profession of faith Sunday morning and several re-dedications and prayer requests were made. We enjoyed both Sunday morning and evening services. We welcome anyone who can to attend our services and we especially covet your prayers.

A birthday celebration was held for our pastor Rev. Harvey Pensol in the educational building Sunday evening, Oct. 1st. After the worship service, Birthday cake and refreshments were served and a good time of fellowship was enjoyed. We all wish Bro. Harvey many more years of good health, joy and happiness. He has our love and prayers.

We all enjoyed having Mrs. Delia Peters of Berea and Teresa Parrott and her mother from the Pine Hill Baptist Church visit with us Sunday evening. We always enjoy having friends attend our services. We have known Mrs. Peters for many years and love her dearly.

Hubert and I visited my nephew, Eugene Alexander, and wife, Hallie last Monday. They are such good people and I'm glad they are part of our family. They have our love and prayers.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Cope recently have been her children, Christine Barnes and Helen Powell of Berea; William Cope and wife, Joyce, of Eubank; Jean Hayes and husband, Frankie, of Winchester and Buddy Cope and family who live near. Her brother-in-law Sylvester Cope and wife of Mt. Vernon also visited Mrs. Cope and Buddy and family a few days ago.

Hubert and I had a nice visit with our son, Junior, wife, Lynetta, and son, Rodney, in Berea Sunday afternoon.

Try to attend Sunday School and church every time you can. You know one day will be our last upon this earth. If you aren't ready to meet God, please get ready to answer the call when it comes.

Keep on believing God answers prayer. Keep on believing. He's still up there. Trials and sorrows will soon disappear, nothing can harm you when Jesus is near.

Hope to see you at our revival - God bless you.

Attention: All Women 35 Years of Age and Older.

Current statistics indicate that one of nine American women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. Mammography screening has become an important tool in the fight against breast cancer. The American Cancer Society recommends a baseline mammogram at age 35 and screening mammograms every one or two years for women age 40 to 50. After 50 years of age they recommend routine annual screenings. The American Cancer Society has declared October "Breast Cancer Awareness Month." For the month of October, the Rockcastle Hospital is offering screening mammograms for the low price of $65.00. This includes the Radiologist fee for interpretation. We have an accredited G.E. Senographe machine and our technologist Janice Mullins, is certified in mammography. For an appointment call 256-2195, Extension 5012. This offer will not be extended into the month of November.

GETTING THE MOST FLAVOR FROM HERBS & SPICES Part 2

You can ensure optimum flavor from herbs and spices by selecting, storing and using them properly to prepare snacks and meals at home.

When buying herbs and spices, look for strength of aroma and color. They should smell strong and fresh, not musty. Their color should be rich and true, not faded. Buy in small quantities because these seasonings lose flavor over time. Always purchase herbs and spices from reputable sources. Herbs and spices should be treated with heat to discourage bugs before they are offered for sale. Use caution when buying from bulk containers because the seasonings might not have been heat-treated.

These seasonings are vegetative products of plants. Herbs are leafy parts; spices are dried seeds, buds, fruit or flower parts, bark or root. Their flavors come from the aromatic oils of the plant. Once these oils evaporate, the seasoning ability is gone. To protect the flavor, store in tightly closed containers in a cool, clean and dry location. A cabinet above the stove might seem a good storage place. However, heat will hasten flavor loss. Some cooks even store herbs and spices in the refrigerator or freezer.

Spices will retain maximum flavor and aroma up to 6 months, under favorable storage conditions. Whole spices keep their flavor almost indefinitely. Properly stored herbs will maintain flavor and color for several months.

Seasonings vary in pungency and their effect on different foods. And, of course, people's personal tastes also vary. So experiment with the amount you use. Start with 1/4 teaspoon per 4 servings. Begin with 1/8 teaspoon of red pepper or garlic powder. If you're substituting fresh herbs, one tablespoon is equal to one teaspoon of dried, crushed herbs. One teaspoon of dried, crushed herbs is the equivalent of 1/4 teaspoon of powdered herbs.

Several factors affect the correct time to add herbs and spices to food. These include the seasoning itself and cooking method. Powdered herbs and spices release flavor immediately. Add these about 15 minutes before the cooking time ends. This timing is especially important when the food is cooked a long time, because you don't want to lose the seasoning's flavor due to prolonged cooking.

It's best to use whole spices in long-cooking foods. Add at the start of cooking to extract the full flavor and aroma during the long simmering process. You might want to put whole spices in a cheesecloth bag for easy removal.

Learning Action Words

As children first begin to speak, they begin by saying one word at a time. Generally, a child's first words are nouns -- the names of objects that can be seen, touched, tasted, smelled or heard. Using nouns, the child can name people and objects ("mommy," "cookie"). Next, the child acquires verbs or action words. Action words are needed to tell what people and things are doing.

In developing language, a child learns to talk about what objects or people can do, what they have already done, and what they will do next, or what they want them to do. The same action can be done with different people or objects. For example, "boy run," "daddy run," "I run," and "doggie run."

As your child develops language skills, action words should be a major emphasis for a variety of reasons:

1. Action words are a part of your child's here-and-now experiences. The child is part of the action while eating a cookie or throwing a ball.
2. Most action words can be demonstrated either by you, your child, another child, a toy, an animal or an object. The ability to experience the action makes it meaningful to your child.
3. An action word is very useful in making meaningful statements. Your child is likely to produce a two-word phrase like "throw ball" or "eat cookie" before a phrase like "red ball" or "big cookie." One reason is that the action + object sentence ("throw ball") can be demonstrated. Also, concept words like "red" or "big" are more difficult to understand.

A child may not be ready for concept words. Using an action word is easier because the action can be seen. A child can begin building sentences using action words. Difficult concepts such as color and size can be mastered later.

4. Perhaps the most important aspect of action words is that they enable the child to interact with the environment. Using verbs, your child can request information, give directions, ask permission, state demands, describe actions and solve problems. Through language, the child can get the listener to act.

To help your child start using action words, talk about what the child is doing. Use the action words many times.

Tell your child what you are doing, what other family members are doing, and what people on television are doing.

Play games in which an action is repeated. Name the action each time: Kick the ball, blow the bubbles, hit the balloon, clap hands, etc.

Help your child experience many actions. Children need to experience actions before they can start talking about them.

When your child says one word to name an object, expand the remark to include an action if possible.

Child Parent
"Juice." - "Drink Juice"
"Baby." - "Hug baby."

When your child uses an action word correctly, let the child know. Child Parent

"Knock door." "Yes, you can knock on the door."
Help your child learn these early verbs:

eat, sleep, hug, sit, drink, go, wash, see, come, kiss, cry.

Learning how to use action words shows your child the usefulness of language. It is wonderful to be understood and to get results by mastering language. Learning action words is fun and it encourages your child's efforts to understand and use language.

Denny gets scholarship at Alice Lloyd College

Alice Lloyd College in Pippa Passes is pleased to announce that Rebecca Denny of Brodhead has been awarded a Memorial Scholarship for the 1995-96 academic year. The Memorial Scholarship is the most prestigious award presented by the college. Students receiving this scholarship are selected on the basis of academics, citizenship, leadership and dedication to the Appalachian region.

Rebecca Denny

Expand! Build upon what your child says. Add a few words to make a complete sentence or correct expression. Expansion gives your child a model of correct speech. It also shows your child that you have understood the child's remark.

Hospice training classes start soon

Master the Art of Listening...

In a church meeting room, small groups of men and women sit in close circles of chairs. At first glance, they appear to have nothing in common - a schoolteacher, an engineer, a retired computer programmer, a home-maker. They listen intently as one person in each circle speaks.

"Christmas is such a lovely time since my husband died. I can't get much more of this time of year. I'm at the end of my rope!"

The woman speaking is a Hospice Grief Helpline training facilitator, pretending to call the Helpline. The other members of the group are learning how to become Hospice Grief Helpline telephone volunteers.

Every day from Nov. 20 - Jan. 1, 6 a.m. to midnight, the Hospice Grief Helpline volunteers provide crisis intervention, supportive listening and referrals to people who are experiencing grief over the death of a loved one. Every call to the Hospice Grief Helpline is anonymous, confidential and free.

Through training, the volunteers learn necessary skills to assist grieing persons.

The Hospice Grief Helpline Training begins on Friday, October 20 from 6 to 9 p.m. and continues on Saturday, October 21 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Training continues each Thursday evening 6 to 9 p.m., starting October 26 and ending November 16. All meetings will take place at First United Methodist Church at 401 Main, Richmond, Ky.

For those interested in learning more about the Hospice Grief Helpline, call Myrtle Griffin at 256-3577. Cost for all training sessions is $10 per person. The Hospice Grief Helpline is sponsored by Hospice of the Kentucky River, Inc.

"HUNTER EDUCATION" CONTINUED FROM B-3

This will be the ONLY Hunter Education Course offered this fall, so please take advantage!

Coordinator appointed for LEAP program at RCHS

Berea College today announced the appointment of Ms. Dreama Gentry as coordinator of the Lift Educational Aspirations Program, a new partnership between the College and Rockcastle County schools.

Funded with a grant from the Jessie Ball DuPont Fund, "LEAP is a three-year, cooperative effort designed to increase the number of Rockcastle students who pursue studies beyond high school," Berea president Larry D. Shinn said. Specific objectives of the program are to help more students become aware of their potential and of the variety of post-secondary learning opportunities and resources available to them.

From an office based in the Rockcastle school system, Gentry will work with four major constituent groups within the county: a task force of 12-15 community leaders; teachers; guidance counselors; students and parents.

Major program activities will center around workshops for those groups. Suggested workshop topics include: "Planting the Seeds for College," a session for parents of middle-school students; "Standardized Tests," which would help parents, teachers and counselors prepare student; "Financial Aid," a review of resources available through scholarships, grants, loans and personal assets.

"The involvement of financial aid and admissions representatives as well as faculty from area colleges and universities will be instrumental in this project's success," President Shinn said, noting that there are five private colleges, two state universities and two community colleges within a 50-mile radius of Rockcastle County.

Gentry, who assumed the new position Sept. 1, was born in Rockcastle County. She received a bachelor of arts degree in Political Science from Berea College in 1989, and earned a law degree from the University of Kentucky in 1992. Gentry was associated with a Bowling Green legal firm for three years and also taught classes at Draughon's Business College in Bowling Green. Most recently, she was assistant director of government relations for the National Tour Association.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Gentry of Mt. Vernon, Rt. 4, she also holds a half-time position on the Berea campus as coordinator of conference events and continuing education.

Mrs. Marilyn Feldkamp of Mt. Vernon has been employed as office manager for the LEAP project during its first year. The program eventually will be run by volunteers from within Rockcastle County.

Roger & Lee Ann's Grand Illusion Magic Show

Should unborn children have a right to life that is protected by law? To answer that question, we must begin by asking a broader question.

Do all human beings have a fundamental right to life which should be protected by law? Millions down through the centuries have answered that by giving their lives for the freedoms and human rights we enjoy today.

In America, Thomas Jefferson stated the most fundamental principle of our developing nation when he wrote in the nation's first document, the Declaration of Independence, that we were "created equal" and "endowed...with certain unalienable rights" and that among these rights was "life". Life was the first right mentioned. Life was basic because life is necessary in order to be able to exercise any other rights. Thomas Jefferson also wrote, "The care of human life and happiness, and not their destruction is the first and only legitimate object of good government."

Since 1776, we have strived as a nation to expand basic human rights for all. But, even as we do so, we must also defend it against those who mistakenly believe they can expand their own rights by trampling on the rights of others.

In a twisted distortion of human rights, some people advocate abortion as a woman's right. Legitimate human rights must recognize the rights of all other human beings. When rights are in conflict, the most basic right must prevail - not the rights of the most powerful. Abortion is not the legitimate "freedom of choice," but the ultimate violation of another being's most fundamental right.

To refuse to extend the protection of the law, even to those whom we view as the most insignificant of our fellow human beings, shakes the foundations of our nation and its religious heritage, and destroys the principles we rely upon to guarantee our own rights and freedoms.

Mind-engaging magic show set for Nov. 3 at MVES

If you want spellbinding family entertainment, then mark your calendar for Friday, November 3, 1995 when the Grand Illusion Magic Show will conduct its high-tech pageant of enchantments at Mt. Vernon Elementary School at 8 p.m. The show is being sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Lions Club.

Grand Illusion employs over three tons of equipment worth nearly $200,000 - making it the largest traveling show of its kind in Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee. Plus, the stage show is captivatingly enhanced by stereo sound, computerized lighting, as well as an array of backdrops and special effects, including fog machines, indoor fireworks, flash pots and strobe lights. According to Variety magazine, "You've got to see it to believe it."

In recent years, Roger and Lee Ann have appeared on college campuses, cruise ships and at various shopping malls and convention centers in over 30 states; worked with Ed McMahon and performed on WGN TV, on the Bronx Circus, on A.M. Rochester, NY, as well as on many local TV and radio shows. Roger, who taught the skills to his wife, is a seasoned pro - having been a magician for over 23 years during which he has maintained memberships in the International Brotherhood of Magicians and the Society of American Magicians.

Tickets for the Grand Illusion Magic Show are $6 in advance and also may be obtained at the door for $7.

How much is one million?

Beans for the hungry

By Lu Ed Nielsen REAP program manager A few days before school started in August, Rockcastle Emergency Assistance received a phone call from Mrs. Paula Clark, 4th grade teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. Mrs. Clark wanted a project that would show students what a million of something looked like. She felt they could collect beans and then donate them to the Food Bank. Mrs. Clark and Harold Woodall, also a 4th grade teacher at MVES, began coordinating this project and it soon developed into fully involving all of the 4th grade rooms and then into the 5th grade and finally all of the classes were involved in collecting bags of all kinds of beans. The 4th and 5th grades each took classes to go into and explain their project and what the beans would be used for. On September 22 all of the beans were collected on stage in the auditorium of MVES and the 4th and 5th grades all gathered around for presentation of the beans to Lu Ed Nielsen, program manager for Rockcastle Emergency Assistance Program.

These beans may not sound like much, but to the many families that are served by REAP, it will mean they will have a meal. Now the big need is for food to go along with the beans. The pantry shelves are very close to being empty. The freezers are empty.

The Center is located at 530 Walnut Meadow Road in the Frayley Building. The public is invited to attend.

Although the sign with the beans on stage shows that 830,000 beans were on stage at that time, the teachers challenged each other to collect the 110 pounds needed to go over the 1,000,000 mark. Actually, they collected a total of 1,165,000 (one million, one hundred sixty-five thousand) beans. Pictures of this project will be going to Frankfort for a special program by HUD and will be displayed with pictures from Rockcastle Emergency Assistance program and Ashlee's House Homeless Shelter.

Thanks to Mrs. Clark, Mr. Woodall, Mrs. Reed, Mr. Love, Mrs. Eversole and Mrs. Powell, the 4th grade teachers, Mrs. Kincaid, Mrs. McQueary, Mr. Roark, Mr. Robbins and Mrs. Cameron.

So far, since July 1, we have taken care of 68 families, consisting of 110 adults and 92 children. We have fed a total of 202 people 4,242 meals, 16 families were unemployed or disabled; 10 families were transient or homeless; four were fire losses and 38 families were out of food. Thanks to all of the students and their families for the donations. It means so much to us and the people we serve.

I am extremely proud of the students and encourage them to continue doing community service projects.

YOU ARE cordially invited to a GOSPEL MEETING

Performance Report Edition

A Publication of the Rockcastle County Board of Education
October 5, 1995

The Rockcastle County Board of Education Provides Equal Education and Employment Opportunities

Superintendent's Message

The Rockcastle County Board of Education is honored to share the 1995 Annual Performance Report (APR) with Rockcastle County citizens. The board is optimistic that information in this report will foster an even deeper desire to be involved. As a consequence, future generations will reap the benefits of the continuous improvement.

The APR is a summary of the results for the school district. On an annual basis, these results are published to keep all constituents informed as to the progress being made.

The Kentucky Instructional Results Information System (KIRIS) segment is the primary point of focus for those reviewing the effectiveness of the teaching/learning process, since that is the ultimate goal. These results indicate the areas of strength and as well as those needing the most improvement. By reviewing the 3 levels noted, grades 4, 8 and 12, conclusions can be reached as to our progress. From these results, along with other data, plans are made toward continuous improvement.

Please be reminded that education is a process/journey. KERA (Kentucky Education Reform Act) dictates that we make the journey over a 20-year-period. The process can be improved as we review and make adjustments with planning. The 1995 results can be viewed objectively by looking at previous KIRIS results in comparison. A simple review of the annual scores will give a true picture as to the progress being made. Your concerns and questions are welcome. We desire your input and need your assistance as we continue on the educational journey. Each school has custom data that can be shared with all and will be shared with parents of students in the individual school.

Parents/citizens have the greatest opportunity in history to participate in school decisions. SBDM (Site Based Decision Making) councils welcome your concerns and questions. Increased involvement is necessary if we are to maximize the potential of our students. As participation in the school decision making process increases, improvement will be the result. Rockcastle County School System is striving to be a model district. This is not only possible, but probable with involvement from all stakeholders.

Superintendent Larry B. Hammond discusses tessellations with Mt. Vernon Elementary School 5th graders.

Good News About Student Achievement

Entry and Exit Grades for Students Participating in Extended School Services, 1993-94*

Kentucky's extended school services program provides additional instructional time for students who need it to meet academic expectations. Students who participated in the program for six or more days during 1993-94 posted significant letter-grade improvement. When they entered the program, only 8 percent of the students had grades of A or B in their primary subjects of focus. By the end of the school year, 30 percent had A or B grades. At the other end of the grade scale, 73 percent of the students entered the program with D and F grades in their primary subjects of focus. By the end of the school year, only 40 percent had D's or F's.

*This graph presents the latest figures available and is consistent with data for previous years. data for 1995-95 is still being collected and analyzed.

"Primary subject of focus" is the main academic subject in which a student's low performance results in referral to extended school services.
