Think about what you and your spouse contribute to the well-being of your family. If anything should happen to either one of you, the loss would certainly be more than emotional. And that's true whether you're a two-income family.
Ask your Cotton States agent about life insurance coverage for your wife or husband.
You'll find the cost surprisingly reasonable, especially when you consider the value of what you're insuring.

Concurrent Notice Notice to Public of No Significant Effect on the Environment and Notice to Public of Request for Release of Funds

February 29, 1996
Rockcastle County Fiscal Court
P.O. Box 755
Mt. Vernon, Kentucky 40456
(606) 256-2856
TDD 1-800-247-2840

To All Interested Agencies, Groups and Persons:
On or about March 18, 1996, the above-named county will request the Kentucky Department of Local Government to release Federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 (PL 93-383) for the following project:
B&H Tool Works of Rockcastle County, Inc.
(Project Title or Name)

To assist in the start-up of the above-named company's machine tool operation (Purpose or Nature of the Project)
Rockcastle Industrial Park #2, Rockcastle County, Kentucky
(Project Location)
(Census Tract)

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and, accordingly, the above-named county has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (PL 91-190). The reasons for such decision not to prepare such statements are as follows:

All of the potential negative environmental impacts resulting from the projects proposed activities can be avoided or mitigated by following the requirements and recommendations as outlined in the projects Environmental Review Report.
An Environmental Review Report respecting the within project has been made by the above-named county which documents the environmental review of the project and/or fully sets forth the reasons why such Statement is not required. This Environmental Review Report is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying, upon request, at Rockcastle County Courthouse between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.
No further environmental review of such project is proposed to be conducted prior to the request for release of federal funds.
All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the county to the Rockcastle County Judge Executive. Such written comments so received will be considered and the county will not request the release of Federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified on the preceding sentence.
Rockcastle County Fiscal Court will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the Kentucky Department of Local Government (KDLG) under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. Rockcastle County Fiscal Court is certifying to the state that Rockcastle County Fiscal Court and George C. Carlotts, in his official capacity as County Judge Executive consent to accept the jurisdiction of the federal courts if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making, and action, and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, Rockcastle County Fiscal Court may use the Block Grant funds and the state and HUD will have satisfied their responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The state will accept objection to its approval only if it is on one of the following basis:

- The certification was not in fact executed by the county Certifying Officer.
 - The county has filed to make one of the two findings pursuant to SS8.41 or to make the written determination decision required by SS578.57, 58.53 or 58.64 for the project, as applicable.
 - The county has omitted one or more of the steps set forth at Subparts F and G for the preparation and completion of an EA.
 - No opportunity was given to the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation or its Executive Director to review the effect of the project on a property listed on the national Register of Historic Places, or found to be eligible for such listing by the Secretary of the Interior, in accordance with 36 CFR Part 800.
- (e) Objections have been made by a federal agency.
Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedures (24CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to the Kentucky Department of Local Government, Division of Community Programs, 1024 Capital Center Drive, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Objections to the release of funds on basis other than those stated above will not be considered by the State. No objection received after April 5, 1996, will be considered by the state.

Bussell makes 19 arrests in Brodhead

Police officer, Joe Bussell of Brodhead had a busy time this past weekend.

He made 19 arrests in Castle Village and six more in and around Brodhead, he reported.

Four were driving under the influence and two were drug related. Three at Castle Village were DUI's and four were females for alcohol intoxication.

Members of the Rockcastle County Sheriff's office assisted in the arrests.

Saturday night Deputy Randall Reynolds arrested Otis Amburgey of Berea at Castle Village for possession of a controlled substance, and a controlled substance not in a proper container.

Two arrested for possessing narcotics

Two persons were arrested last week on charges of possession of narcotics and alcohol intoxication.

Sammy Stewart of Orlando was arrested for resisting arrest and possession of marijuana.

The resisting arrest charge came after officers found him lying in bed with a loaded pistol beside him. State Trooper Bill Madden reported.

Arrested at the same time was Keith Falin, also of Orlando, for alcoholic intoxication.

Trooper Madden said other charges were pending.

Stewart was released on 10 percent of a $2,000 bond and Falin on his own recognizance.

The Lincoln County Grand Jury Friday indicted two Rockcastle County men.

Kevin Dwayne Jones, 19 of Simpson Road, Brodhead, was charged with the theft of various tools from the home of Mary and David Hendrickson in Crab Orchard.

On the night of Oct. 22, Mrs. Hendrickson saw a gray car coming onto her property and then leave.

She and her husband followed the car to Simpson Road, off KY 39 south of Crab Orchard, but eventually fell behind the car and lost sight of it, but not before getting the license number.

When they returned to their home, they noticed that several tools were missing, including a welder and two weed eaters. They searched the woods where the gray car had parked and found their portable generator, accessor and other tools. The incident at Smith's gas station.

Death row inmate on trial here

By: Richard Anderkin

Just because you are already on death row doesn't mean you can't be tried for allegedly trying to kill someone else.

At least that is the predicament that Ronnie D. Bowling, 26, of Burning Springs finds himself in this week in Rockcastle Circuit Court.

Bowling is being tried for attempting to kill Ricky Smith on February 25, 1989 at Smith's Burr Sunoco Station.

The Clay County man has already been convicted of murdering Ronald Smith and Marvin Hensley in 1989. He was convicted of killing Marvin Hensley, 48, who lived at Burr, but owned a gas station in Laurel County, only three days before he allegedly tried to kill Smith.

Hensley had been the pastor at the Assembly of God Church in Burr for many years at the time of his shooting death. When Bowling shot Hensley, police believe that he only got about $100 in cash.

Bowling is awaiting execution on Kentucky's death row, but he is being tried in Rockcastle County because he will not plead guilty here and prosecutors will not drop the lesser charges.

Security is tight for the trial which is expected to last through Thursday. A jury was seated on Tuesday morning and opening remarks began that afternoon.

The incident at Smith's gas station.

tion in 1989 occurred just like the two murders in Laurel county. Police say Bowling used the same gun in all three incidents and struck about the same time in the morning. But, at Smith's gas station, the owner, who was somewhat nervous about Bowling's looks and the way he was acting, shot back after he (Bowling) pulled a gun and began firing at Smith.

Most gas station attendants in the area were very nervous about strangers at that time because of the two Laurel County murders.

Smith slightly injured Bowling in the shoot-out and the description of Bowling and his car that Smith gave to police made it easy to locate his car after Bowling fled the scene. A total of nine shots were fired during the exchange of gunfire at Smith's station.

Smith, now 38, still owns and operates the gas station.

He is expected to positively identify Bowling during the trial.

Canoes, other items taken at Mullins Station

Carrie A. Suth of Lexington reported several items were stolen this past weekend from her cabin on Mullins Station Road.

Taken were two canoes, two paddles, two trash cans, one metal watering trough, a fuse box and wire out of the house, two saw horses and electrical supplies.

The cu prits broke a front door frame to gain entrance to the cabin. Sheriff's Deputy Nathaniel Price investigated the theft.

Development meeting hosted by Carloftis

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carloftis hosted a meeting at the Rockcastle Co. Courthouse on Tuesday morning for a discussion of long range economic and industrial development potentials that are possible for Rockcastle County's citizens.

Hospital unveils new logo

Saying that the new design was created to reflect the qualities that employees exemplify and the opportunities the hospital offers its patients, Administrator Lee Keene unveiled a new logo for Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center last Friday during a special ceremony.

The logo features the word Rockcastle with a sunburst design nested in a space created by overlapping the "O" and "C". Colors used in addition to black are green and blue, denoting the earth and sky. The sunburst design may also be used separately from the word.

"When we thought about what it is that makes Rockcastle special, we realized it is the warm, personal and sophisticated care that our employees provide," said Keene. "The logo uses a contemporary style, but has curved lines that are soft. The sunburst design suggests optimism for each new day. I like that," he said.

The hospital has provided care to the region since 1956 and began accepting specialty patients into its respiratory care program in 1981.

"Rockcastle is a unique resource, not only for this area, but for the whole state of Kentucky," said Controller Steve Estes. "We plan to step up our communication over the next year to help the public and other health-care providers learn more about our outstanding programs and the new logo is the first step in that direction," he continued.

All 400 of the hospital's employees were invited to attend the unveiling ceremony and enjoyed a large cake decorated with the new design. Pins featuring the logo were given to those attending.

"I'm glad that we have a fresh, new look for Rockcastle," said Cindy Burton, associate Director of Nursing. "It makes me feel proud to work here," she said.

The logo was designed by The Preston Group, Inc., a public relations, marketing and research firm based in Lexington.

Rockcastle Hospital Administrator Lee Keene unveiled the hospital's new logo during a special ceremony Friday morning.

He was last seen leaving the home of Darrell Griffin on Negro Town Hill in Mt. Vernon. Robinson's camouflage coat and a boot he was wearing at the time of his disappearance were found near Griffin's house.

If anyone has any information about Robinson's disappearance, please call his brother at (606) 355-2946 or Mt. Vernon police at (606) 256-2121.

Ellis Robinson, shown here with his nephew, has been missing since October, 28, 1995.

Riddle's condition improving

The Brodhead Elementary school student who set off a explosive device in his mouth last week, is still in critical condition in the burn unit at the University of Tennessee Hospital, but his condition is improving.

Doctors are beginning to try and wean Christopher David Riddle, 7, from his respirator, according to his teacher Mrs. Rita Shafer.

Shafer said that family members were very encouraged by Riddle's progress and that he had even tried to talk to them this week.

Riddle was critically injured last week when he put some type of firecracker between his teeth and lit it.

I was so sick after Pat Buchanan won the New Hampshire Republican primary last week that I couldn't muster up enough energy to write a column. It's not that I believe that this newest "der fuhrer" has won the remotest chance of ever becoming president of the United States. Because he doesn't. What makes me ill is that he won't over 100,000 people in one of our nation's tiniest states turned out to endorse a blatant, bare-faced, lying bigot and make him the most popular Republican candidate to lead the land.

Actually I was sick already. Over the week-end I helped toss a load of firewood into the cellar and, by Monday morning, my sinuses had gone berserk and my wind-pipe was raw from one end to the other. Every breath I took felt like I was sucking extra lit blow torch. My face looked and felt like I had lost a world title boxing match the night before.

It had never occurred to me that well-stored wood could harbor and protect so much pollen through the sub-zero weather we've had of late. But it did, and I went through late September all over again.

If you don't have sinus allergies, you should thank God for sparing you the misery of this plague. If you do have allergies, you know what I'm talking about and you also know that the only satisfaction we normally get out of winter weather is some respite from the ragweed and golden-rod pollen that is the very bane of our existence. So when they hit you in the middle of February, you start appreciating the way Job must have felt. "Why me Lord?"

"Please Loretta, don't look back, because the last thing I need right now is to have you turned into a pillar of salt."

But we're off the subject here. Which is, of course, the thing that I do best. I can and frequently do get off the subject when, for instance, I call directory assistance.

"How's the weather there in Atlanta?" I will ask an operator while she's looking up the number and before you know it we'll be talking about how bad the woolly worms missed this year's forecast and the fact that her grandmother was born in eastern Kentucky and maybe we're distant cousins. I've even had "em call me back late at night."

"My Granny was a Cornett who grew up on Line Fork," they may exclaim while I scratch my head and wonder who the heck I'm talking to.

"Now who is this again, I'll ask?" as I rub the sleep out of my eyes.

"Oh, oh, oh. I'm sorry. I'm Mary June here in Atlanta, the telephone operator you spoke with this morning," she'll explain. "Don't you remember," she'll pout.

"Mary June (How I wish I had given a daughter that beautiful name) of course I remember! It's just that I've been asleep for a couple of hours. I'm getting old and my memory's going bad and frankly, dear, I never expected to hear from you so soon."

And then we'll go through some dialogue for an hour or so and I'll finally convince her to call Dock or Elwood Cornell since it turns out that Mary June and I aren't close cousins after all—and while my wife keeps mumbling, "Honey when are you getting off the phone? We have to work tomorrow."

See how easy it is to get off the subject? I've said since I turned out that Mary June yet and we're out of space for this column without even dealing with the subject.

And, as I recall, the subject commenced with Pat Buchanan. (So it's no wonder I got off it the same way that it's no wonder I want to change the subject if it sounds like I'm going to have to make a business trip to Atlanta). It's called prolonging the agony.

Or maybe it's just looking for any other excuse to avoid the bitterness. Because I cannot conceive of human garbage like Pat Buchanan enjoying serious consideration for the presidency without feeling bitter. I am bitterly disappointed that hundreds of thousands of people who live in this land of freedom and democracy would deny their fellow human beings of other races and beliefs the basic freedoms that established our country in the first place.

I am tremendously frustrated that something so elementary as our constitution is so conveniently construed by bigots like Pat Buchanan and Newt Gingrich so that it excludes everybody who doesn't measure up to their selfishness and idiotic notions of supremacy. I am bitterly disappointed that hundreds of thousands of Americans will sign onto the hatred and nonsense of fools. I fear, in fact I am sure, that this country is losing sight of what it is supposed to be all about.

Subject Pat, as we mentioned earlier, is a racist of the highest calibre and the closest thing to Adolph Hitler the modern free world is apt to see in our life times. Give him a topee and a dark square moustache and Buchanan would not only act the part, but look it too.

Pat panders to the illiterate and paranoid elements of our society in much the same way that Hitler pandered to naive, fair-skinned Europeans in the 1930's. And he rallies the holier-than-thou in much the same way. It's scary. It's scary that so many Americans, more than 200 years after its founding, have no idea about what the United States is all about in the first place. It's pure irony that human garbage like Pat Buchanan can rally such a host of hypocrites into proclaiming that the Bill of Rights and the Constitution of this country were written by accident. Pat Buchanan really does believe that this country was founded to cater to his ilk—white, anglo-saxon, protestant supremacists. And he has folks like him signing up by the thousands.

"Go Pat. That's us."

Fuhrer Pat would have you believe that the Preamble phrase of our national existence, "all men are created equal" really refers to all me he can claim kin to. The in-bred cousins who make up the Ku-Klux-Klan and these sick little grenade-toting militias that seek springing up are Herr Patrick's biggest supporters and most of them are members of something they call churches?

Thank goodness, America is bigger and better than that. Thank the God you worship of whatever faith—or just feel thankful if you are agnostic—that whenever the little Pat Buchanans stick up their ugly heads, we don't have to salute and yell, "Heil Patrick."

Because that's what this little clown would have you do before it's over. And a bunch of folks will ultimately do just that.

We should all, I think, bear witness to this bigotry and feel tremendous pity for our country. We should recognize the evil among us and know that we have a long way to go before we are really united into what our founders had in mind when they framed the constitution.

On the other hand, some of us can rejoice a bit, too, as the Republican Party goes through its current track of self-destruction. Pat is taking the party down the tubes and Newt Gingrich is going to get sucked down the same sewer. Every clown, as they say, is a silver lining.

Bill Clinton, on the other hand, is going to be President until the year 2000 and I'm not so sure that's something we should necessarily be celebrating. It's not a time to be resting on our laurels. It's a time when all of us should be worried sick and taking a more personal hand in forming and directing our government. In the final analysis, democracy begins and ends with folks like you and me.

We owe it to ourselves and our country to make sure that democracy for all the people, without consideration of race, creed or color, does, in fact, prevail. That's what got us where we are today. Sick little twerps like Pat Buchanan have gotten in the way of democracy before but, at least, they make us realize what a quandy the country is in when they start getting attention.

This is a wake-up call. Your country needs your attention just now.

It shall be with me in Paradise!" I had read this chapter in the Bible but as the young preacher quoted them, they seemed to affect the whole church.

"A preacher can tell you how to be saved but he can't save you," Brother Dave told the church.

At the door, as the crowd filed out I shook hands with him and said, "I believe I am sure relation to you."

"Yes, I think we are," he said.

Flossie Stephens came to church on this day after being unable to attend for about a month. I talked to her after she had gotten into their car and asked why they seemed to be in such

I went down to Superior Market last Saturday evening where so many of the help — clerks, assistant managers and carry out fellows — are all real handsome and I got a good squeezing and hugging.

No, I don't get excited for it was none of them. I met Hallie Alexander from Fairview country who said, "I haven't seen you for a good while. Let me hug you," and she and I hugged each other real good.

"How are you an Eugene since he had a heart attack? We haven't seen much of you all and John can't drive at night," I asked her.

"Well, Eugene can't either so we only go to church on Sundays. Come and see us anytime you can. We are lucky in that so many neighbors come to see us."

John and I do not attend service anywhere at night but when we heard Mark McGuire was to preach on Wednesday night for services at Galilee Baptist church, we went to hear him for Brother Mark is a kind of favorite of ours.

He was, or is, a member of the Galilee Gospel singers which includes Lee Abney and Mike Gaye, a group that can't be beat we think.

Brother Mark joined the group to sing a song for John who made the request of "God on the Mountain". It can bring tears to your eyes.

I was talking to Kaye Abney after prayer meeting and asked her if she had any of the candy left that I had given her when she and Lee came to our house February 18th to a birthday party for Lee of four people (can you have a party with four people? Well we did). "No, I don't. Mine is all gone and I can't find Lee's for he always hides his present to keep the rest of us from getting any," Kaye complained to me as Lee joined us in the aisle.

Hearing what Kaye said, Lee shook hands with me and said, "Mine is all gone too. I can't find any," as he went on to the door.

We shook hands with Brother Mark at the door telling him he was the only reason we were there since we didn't go out after dark. John doesn't drive well then.

We attended church at Macedonia Sunday and to our surprise Brother Sears did not give the sermon but had asked Brother David Spires to preach for him.

We had heard of this young man who was the son of Herman Spires, who is kinfolk to John and I both. The young preacher gave a title to his sermon "The Path of Salvation" from the Book of Luke.

The church seemed spellbound listening to him. He started talking about the thieves on their crosses by

Jesus and one had said, "Remember me on this day, Lord when thou comest into thy Kingdom!"

Jesus answered him, "Today thou

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and discrepancies to you my faithful readership (no relation to sportsmanship, championship, or The Good Ship Lollipop).

I thank the Almighty for the spell of warm weather that is about to end in simultaneity with this week's issue of the Signal. I don't expect spring weather until the spring solstice that will occur this year on March 20. Even then I'm leery. Remember the Blizzard of '93? In March!

By the way, beloved, technically speaking, the Blizzard of January '96 was not a "blizzard." Snow has to be blown by winds at a minimum of 35 miles per hour to become a "blizzard." It might have been that and more on the east coast, but not here in the Realm of Wabdonia. I told you that because you never know when you'll be on Jeopardy and pick "Winter Weather" for $1,000 and the answer has to do with what I've just told you about a blizzard.

As I expected, there has been a surge of interest in the "canoe expedition" that commences at Coyne's Branch and ends in New Orleans. The venerable H. Lee Durham, wanting some excitement in his retirement years, has signed on. Lee, however, has opted to go by raft, having wanted to do so since he read Huckleberry Finn as a youth in Lincoln County. He plans to take his rocking chair, along, with rope to secure the chair in turbulent waters. Others have told me they are interested. But they haven't signed up yet! Don't wait too late, fellows. To sign up, call 256-2922 and for Cy Duffessquat, the President of the Greater Wabdonian Exploration Society.

Oh, I almost forgot. Cy said the return trip will be by CSX boxcar with inflatable mattresses, television, and fax updates on the stock market.

Men, at only $99.95, this deal cannot be beaten. Cy said he's certain he will never again get so good a package.

Well a mercy and a blessing my soul in the bosom of Abraham, I couldn't believe what I was seeing last Sunday night at the church where I am an evening service attendee. We had our annual emphasis on Home Missions and the Annie Armstrong Offering for Home Missions. (Annie, if memory serves me rightly, was a sister to Jack Armstrong, whom I used to see in Saturday matinee serial flicks at the Theater "heated back in the forties. Annie, of course, was a missionary and thought theaters were dens of iniquity.)

Our Home Mission emphasis focused on three chaplaincy programs supported by the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. The first fellow we saw was a suit-and-tie, tall man with whom I share a common malady, viz., a more that patchy pot belly!

We saw another chaplain who also had a pot belly. And this is hard to believe, but my eyes didn't lie — when he baptized a rather portly soul in the baptismal font, he stood outside the tank, reached over, and dunked the new convert.

Friends, John the Baptist, who founded the first church ever, would never have done that. He got down in the river with the baptizees, and got wet in the doing. Now some upstarts who have no respect for tradition are trying to change that ancient tradition! If we aren't careful we will see folks being baptized by a computer! Arise, O defenders of custom! Trim your lamps! Guard up your loins! What your swords! The battle's afoot! Let us deal modernism a lethal blow!

And, dear hearts, although this outside-the-tank water was based in a Baptist church (he had a bus), I don't think he was a true Baptist. The man wore a white collar that surely smacks of Catholicism (as Rev. Elmer Elliott, one-time pastor of the Broadhead Baptist Church was wont to say).

And then there was this woman chaplain who in one scene could be seen wearing a robe — not a choir robe — that suggested to me that she preaches! My, oh my, what has happened to the Southern Baptist Convention?

Dear heresay, I did view the video with interest — but not with good hearing. The film show the chaplains dealing with despair and death in the cities. One man shown had AIDS and died six months after the film was shot. I sat there thinking, "We'll give our money but I wonder how many people, yours truly included, would tolerate those people in our church. Especially considering that the majority of people in crisis in the video were black! ZING!"

Moving right along...

A good soul who read last week's Hersey said she agrees the congregation ought not stand for two hymns in a row. She thinks the moving service makes us think we have to stand for the offertory hymn.

On Sunday morning, her church stands for the money song, because right after the plate is passed, the choir renders an anthem, followed immediately by the declaration, "So, she opted, we do repeat in the offering service because of how we did things in the morning worship hour, even if there is no special music in the evening order of worship."

I'm presently composing a letter to the President of the SBC, asking him to rule on the matter. The problem should be settled by one who knows the mind of God.

Oops! I must take leave of this writing and go purchase paint for Nancy to put on our fence posts. Until next week, beloved, don't sit for offertory hymns, don't peep during prayers, and above all else, don't split your intimacies. And ponder — the insight of Wash DeBirdly, long time Wabdonian constable and one-time stampicker at the Rockcastle County Republican headquarters, who later, during a heated political season, remarked, "The dictionary is wrong when it says the dumb can't talk."

a hurry. He said Bill had a cow that he wanted to check on as it was about time for her to have a calf, so they needed to hurry back home.

So Cousin Bill was going to play a midwife to his cow. Well, he has such good luck with his cows, I guess you can't blame him.

Going back to Brother Mark McGuire who gave the message for Prayer meeting Service at Galilee he chose his message from the 12th chapter of the Book of Romans. Some of his words were "Jesus went the last mile of the way for us" and another quotation was "Come into God's House and don't allow the devil to overrun our lives."

I understand Mark hasn't been ordained but he is just as good as those who have been. I could list a long time to this young man.

When I took up this life with a writer I asked God to help me, 10 or 15 years ago, to do the best I could. I had retired from school teaching but did not want to settle down doing nothing but housekeeping so I attended classes in English at Berea College for several semesters. I asked God to help me write and he has. I wrote several papers for the Berea Citizen then came to Mt. Vernon to write for the Signal where I've been ever since.

Richard Anderkin has been kind enough to hire me and I've been in this business ever since.

At that time I declared my location to be Northern Rockcastle, Berea where I live now, Southern Madison, Scaffold Cane, and any where I meet you, if it's in Alaska!

The reason I explain this is because I have received two letters which I usually answer in this column. One has no name to it and the other which is from one of my "good readers" for which I thank you first for taking the paper which gives me a job (the reason that I write) but if I don't have a name I can't write about you, can I? Are you ashamed of your name, you didn't sign it so I don't know whom to write to nor what to say. I can't drive very well much more so I can't go far. I have to explain to my husband where I need to go or to see. He doesn't want to do this when he could be fishing.

Yesterday, he went fishing with his good friend and our landlord, Preston Seals. A neighbor, Arthur Davidson, went with them to a lake up near Jackson County. Neither of the men caught one but John caught four which he gave to Pete, what everybody calls him.

He said he told Pete the only way to catch fish was to keep your hook in the water and wait.

But back to my second letter which was signed Gus Thacker from Dayton, Ohio. It was such a good, interesting letter telling me all about himself and family, about living near me a long time ago, naming people we both knew that I can answer him (in the column, costs too much to write everybody).

But being a woman I really liked what he said to me at the end.

"You sure was a good looking girl back then as you are today! Now that was putting the icing on the cake, Gus! And I'll remind my husband too when he gets mad at me."

I want to thank Lelmae Gaines in Sun City, Florida for her nice letter to me and what she said about "Aging." But best of all she went along with my Birthday Fantasy Party and pretending she came up to it.

Thank you, honey, for being so sweet. John's heart attack bills were he had hospital treatment have begun to come in and if it weren't for Medicare or Aetna we would really be in trouble.

So it was to settle one of them that I went to Berea Hospital to see the insurance manager, Bill Sowder from Mt. Vernon. He must be good in what he does for I went to him many years ago and he was very kind in letting me pay what I could.

Can't you see, I'm just walking up and down halls with good looking men like Bill Sowder, one of the Jubilee Singers from Mt. Vernon.

Before I left Bill I asked if I could write a Valentine verse to his wife from his in my column.

"You sure can and I know I'll like it," he smiled at me and I sighed for some men have a great smile. Here goes to your Sowder, "I love you a little, I love you a lot, But that's not all the love that I've got!"

Cheryl Saylor send this one to James her husband, "I love you much, I love you mighty, I wish you jaggas, beside my lacy nightgown. Now don't be mistaken nor don't be misled, I mean on the clothesline and not in the bed!"

Phillip Gatliff sends this one to his pretty sweetie, "Roses are red, sweet daisies are yellow, look no farther, I'm your fellow!"

Bertie Parsons at the Berea National Bank send this one to her husband who is a mail clerk at the Post Office: "As sure as the vine grows around a stump, you are my sweetest, kindest, lovinest, darlingest sugar lump. Can't beat that one can you?"

Till next week: This is all I have to say, I'll write again on another day.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chastean

Attendance was very good at Fairview February 25th with 110 for Sunday School. Thank the Lord. We all need to be in the Lord's House every time we can. I can't understand why so many people out there don't attend for services some where. But I guess worldly activities are more attractive. But one day they will need the Lord.

I guess my spirits are low this morning. I see people that are not concerned about others and have no love for services some where. But I guess worldly activities are more attractive. But one day they will need the Lord.

We want to extend our sympathy to the family of Clarence Hall who passed away recently. May God especially bless his mother, Mrs. Cora Hall. He was her only child. She is elderly and sick and needs our prayers. Bless her heart, she is going through a grievous time, as all people do when death comes to a loved one.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander enjoyed a delicious fish supper at the home of their daughter and family Rex and Jewell Davidson and children of Broadhead on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Cope has recently had her children visit her Jean Hayes of Winchester, Christine Barnett and Helen Powell of Berea and William Cope of Eubank. Buddy Cope and wife, Mary who live close visit his mother often. She has wonderful children who love their mother dearly.

Eugene and Hallie Alexander visited Mrs. Cora Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isaacs recently and also Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith. Visiting them one day last week was their pastor Rev. John Dodson.

The Week at Livingston

By Frances Dickerson

Mr. and Mrs. Dees "Chigger" were visiting in Livingston one day recently. They were from Indiana and were down to attend the funeral of his Uncle Mr. Walter Dees.

Since the last writing those who visited Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mullins were Mr. and Mrs. John Mullins and daughter, Rachel of Frankfort, Brad Mullins and his three sons, Joshua, Cody and Brandon of Robinson, Illinois and Stuart Mullins of Frankfort.

Mrs. Lois Mullins spent a week with her sister, Mrs. Minnie Garnor, near Fairbairn.

Franz Carroll has returned from Atlanta, Georgia where he took some computer training.

Tosha Farris spent last week end in Corbin with her grandparents.

Mrs. Juanita Medley entertained her sisters last week end — Ruby, Jessie, Bethie, Ethel and Chasity. They, and Margaret Burdine, had dinner at Jen's Restaurant.

Mrs. Lena McClure and Mr. and Mrs. Gary McClure of White Pine, Tennessee visited in Lancaster, Ohio

Our visitors recently have been our children Junior and wife, Lynnetta, Wayne and wife, Carolyn of Berea. Joyce Seals and daughter, Kim or Paint Lick. The two that live close to us, Janet and Darlene are out and often. We love our children, grandchildren and great grandchildren very much and thank God for them.

I've enjoyed my telephone conversations so much recently with Mrs. Cora Williams of Conway, my great niece, Bertha Alexander of Tennessee, my sister, Dorothy of Ohio and a very dear friend Garnet Cope of Ohio. Bless their hearts. I love them all.

Please pray much. Our country is in a bad shape but we could make a difference if we would only do what the Bible teaches. Chronicles 7:14. I wish each of you the very best and God's blessings always.

Tony and Carolyn (Cromer) Isaacs would like to announce the birth of their first child, a son, born at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington. He weighed 6 lbs. 13 ozs, was 19 inches long and has been named John Matthew. Grandparents are Kizzie Isaacs of Mt. Vernon, the late John Isaacs and James and Margie Cromer of Renfro Valley.

last week end. This was their first visit with Lena's great grandson and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Gary McClure. They spent the week end with Lena's son, Mike.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver Mullins attended the funeral of their son-in-law Al Gote of Shelbyville, last Sunday.

Sympathy is extended to the Waddle family in the death of Mrs. Candace Waddle.

Charles McClure remains about the same as reported by his wife, Lena.

James Mink of Lexington spent the week with his mother, Mrs. Ruby Mink.

Cecil Mullins and his father, C.F. Mullins, spent the week end in Livingston.

"SYMBOL OF QUALITY"

Dusty McClure tried to take it to the goal Monday night but No. 42 for Jackson Co., Dewayne Carl, had other ideas as he applied a clean block to the ball. McClure ended up with 14 points in the game.

Chad Severance tries to slide around Jackson County's 6'8" sophomore Brian Miller for a goal Monday night. Severance was second leading scorer for the Rockets with 16.

Generals go on and Rockets go home as both teams lose in district action

Rockets fall to Generals 95-59

"If you like to support the underdog, then you should have in Jackson County Monday night, Rockcastle County as definitely the underdog in their first-round district contest with the Jackson Co. Generals and there was no fairy tale ending for the Rockets.

There was one brief time, in the last of the first quarter, when Rocket fans dared to hope that the Rockets might pull the upset when the Rockets battled back from a 20-9 deficit to pull with four at 22-18 at the end of the first quarter. But, the General came out smoking in the second quarter and outscored the Rockets 28-14 for a 50-32 half-time lead and from there it was all downhill.

The third quarter again saw the General put more points on the board with a 28-20 edge and the same in the fourth quarter as Coach Cash cleared his bench and the Rockets could only muster 7 points in the quarter to the General's 17 and the final 95-59.

Free throws did not play a part in the contest as the Generals were 15 for 23 and the Rockets 16 for 25 but many Rocket fans felt the Rockets should have had more chances from the charity stripe as the referees seemed to let a little too much of over-the-back and pushing and shoving go on.

Seniors Gary Burns and Chad Severance led the scoring with 20 and 16 points, respectively; Dusty McClure got 14; Dallas Rigby 4; Eric McGuire 2 and Travis Anderkin, Layne Nicely and Jesse Bugg, 1 each.

Defeat Wayne Co. 44-20

RCMS 7th graders win tourney

The Rockets (19-5) seventh grade team finished second in the South Central Middle School Athletic Conference regular season with a 10-2 record, but came out on top of the tournament conference by defeating Wayne Co. 44-20 in the championship game.

The seventh graders opened the tournament with a victory over Southern Pulaski 29-26.

Chris Parsons led the Rockets in scoring with 10 points; Jeremy Neeley came off the bench to add 6; Thomas Coffey got 5; Greg Harper added 4; John Singleton 3 and Shea Davidson, 1.

In second-round action, the Rockets jumped all over Meecoe Middle School, winning 49-27.

Coach Reynolds went to the bench early in the fourth period with all the Rockets seeing action and eight scoring. Parsons again led the scoring, this time with 15 points; Josh Singleton added 11; Greg Harper got 9; Shea Davidson 5; Thomas Coffey, 3 and Josh Lyons, Josh Linville and Jeremy Neeley, 2 each.

In the championship game, the Rockets continued to dominate the tournament, running past Wayne Co.

It was only the Jackson Co. Lady Generals fourth victory of the season but it was undoubtedly the sweetest as they defeated the Lady Rockets 48-45 in first-round district tournament action at Jackson County Tuesday night.

The Lady Rockets had defeated Jackson Co. in both regular season games, in overtime at Rockcastle and by ten at Jackson Co. and were ahead 29-15 at half-time of the district contest. But, the Lady General came out in the second half ready for action and took the third quarter 16-9 and the fourth 17-7 for the win.

The Generals took their first lead with 40 seconds to go on free throws by Sam Smith, who scored a game high 19 points for Jackson County.

Melinda Alcorn, playing probably her best game of the season, scored six of the Rockets nine points in the third quarter and finished as the leading scorer for the Rockets with 12. Kristi Moore was next with 11.

The Rockets could only muster four points in offense in the fourth quarter until Jessica Albright hit a three-pointer at the buzzer.

Besides Alcorn and Moore, other Lady Rockets scoring were: Dee Reams and Jessica Albright with 6 each; Tiffany McClure and Suzie Carpenter, 4 each and Amy Robinson, 2.

The Lady Rockets finished the season with a 10-15 record.

The 8th grade team was runners-up in the conference tournament, losing out to the Corbin Redhounds 35-25. It was the first time in the three-year history of the conference that the same school was in the championship game in both grades. In the photo are, front row, from left: Josh Singleton, Greg Harper, John Renner, Neil Childress, Robert Clark and Stephen Robinson. Back row: Coach Jason Coquer, Christopher Parsons, Daniel Morgan, Asst. Coach Greg Parrett, Jacob Burdette, Luke Hayes, Asst. Coach Jerry Reynolds, Andrew Cash and Matthew Brown.

THANK YOU
The varsity basketball team and coaches would like to thank the following businesses and individuals for their support during the season:
Pizza Hut, Super Saver, Carter's Market, Waddy's, Blimpie's, Mt. Vernon Signal, WRVX, Bill Sowder, Terry Burton, Harold and Ann Amy, Hank Vanzant and Dwight Griffin.
If we have missed anyone we extend our apologies.

Travis Anderkin, Dallas Rigby and Dusty McClure tried to apply the press to Mitchell Madden, No. 20 for the Jackson Co. Generals, during tournament action Monday night at Jackson Co. It didn't work very well, well, actually not at all, as Madden led the scoring in the game with 31 in the Generals 95-59 rout of the Rockets.

Leadership development available

The Cumberland Valley Area Development District, in conjunction with the Kentucky Council Area Development Districts, will be coordinating a series of activities that will enhance the leadership skills of business and professional women throughout Eastern Kentucky. The program is designed to work with women who are in the early stages of their career and have a desire to become leaders in their communities and their work.

The program will offer workshops and training programs in leadership development, as well as providing a mentor who will be available to give guidance and support to the women who participate in the program. The mentor will be someone who is already a leader in their work and their community, willing to give their time to help develop other leaders. In addition to these activities, a newsletter will be developed that will help women informed of activities and opportunities for involvement in their communities and district. A resources directory will also be developed that will be a tool to enable women to network and share ideas.

This program is funded by the Appalachian Regional Commission and was developed as a result of discussions at the Annual East Kentucky Leadership Conference. For additional information about becoming a participant or a mentor in the program, contact Judy Duerson at the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, P.O. Box 1740, London, Kentucky 40743-1740, 606-864-7391.

"Long-range, in this respect, refers to years down the road but, the longer we wait to address these issues, the longer it will take us to reach our goals," Judge Carloftis stated.

Those attending the meeting, in addition to Judge Carloftis were Judge Onnie Sizemore from Leslie County; Judge Dennis Dane from Laurel County; Judge James Garrison from Clay County; Assistant Judge Dr. Doug Arnett from Clay County; Judge William O. Smith from Jackson County; John Clantz, president of Rockcastle County Industrial Authority; Joe Swafford, representing the Clay Industrial Board; and the Kentucky Commission for Economic Development and aide.

The purpose of the meeting was to learn from the state's commission the possibilities for bringing development to each of the respective counties, and to raise questions from each of the county judges attending the meeting.

"Each of the judges was there to represent this county's interests and to receive as much information as possible from the state," Judge Carloftis said. "It was a very informative meeting for each of us, and gave us a lot to think about when we attempt to make our county an even better place to live in as we look into the future."

ording to court records. They moved the generator but noticed that the gray car returning to the spot later and the occupants searched the area where the generator was found.

Mrs. Hendrickson later was driving on Simpson Road and noticed the gray car parked at a house and spotted the state police.

The state police found the car which was owned by Jones and arrested him, the grand jury indicted.

In the other case, Junie Kirby, 38, of Rt. 5, Mt. Vernon was charged with attempting to obtain drugs on a forged prescription at Quin's Pharmacy in Stanford on February 5.

Kirby is also under indictment in Rockcastle County for the February 1995 shooting death of Tracy Caudill, 22, of Orlando.

Miss Caudill was pregnant at the time Kirby allegedly shot her in the face. Her baby girl was delivered by caesarian section at Rockcastle Hospital before Miss Caudill died.

Kirby is free on a $100,000 property bond and is scheduled to be tried in Rockcastle Circuit Court on July 1.

The 8th graders didn't fare as well in the tournament championship game, losing to the Corbin Redhounds 35-25.

The Rockets had to defeat Wayne Co. to get into the championship game and they did just that, beating the Cardinals 52-38 behind a strong showing by Andrew Cash with 24 points.

Jacob Burdette added 8 points; Luke Hayes and Chris Parsons each scored 7 and Matt Brown added 6.

The championship game was a rematch of last year's contest and the Rockets fell to the Corbin Redhounds 35-25.

Luke Hayes, Andrew Cash and Chris Parsons each scored 5 points for the Rockets; Daniel Morgan and Matt Brown added 8 each and Jacob Burdette got 2.

After the game, Coach Jason Cogger praised the team's hard work all season long and noted that as seventh graders, this team finished fifth in the conference and also posted a record with more losses than wins. This year's team finished 13-10 overall with an 8-4 second place conference finish.

Junior Pro-Invitational won by Lexington team

Rockcastle County Jr. Pro held an Invitational Tournament for Training League (8&9 year olds) this past weekend at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. The tournament, which serves as the annual fund-raising vehicle for Jr. Pro, was a rousing success. The MVE's gym was packed during the majority of the tourney as fans flocked in to watch All-Star Teams from Rockcastle Co., Pike Co., Scott County, Madison County, Casey County and Lexington compete in a double-elimination format. The team representing the Eastland Jr. Pro group of Lexington, coached by former UK Wildcat Sean Woods, swept to the championship. Justin Taylor of Lexington Eastland was named MVP of the tourney. Casey County was the Cinderella team of the tourney, managing to win over fans from all the other groups involved while enroute to a series of narrow victories that netted them the second place trophies. The Casey County team was coached by Steve Fort in-law of former Lexington Roundstone Elementary Coach Harry Hollard. The two Rockcastle County All-Star teams had mixed success in the tourney as the "Blue" team won two games and lost two games, while the "Red" team was eliminated in two. Everyone associated with Rockcastle Jr. Pro was exceptionally proud of each of our teams as they hustled, played hard, and showed great enthusiasm during the tourney. Listed below is a recap of the games played by the Rockcastle squads of 8&9 year old All-Stars.

MADISON COUNTY WHITE 20 ROCKCASTLE CO. BLUE 13

In the tourney opener, the host Rockcastle Blue team played hard enough and, in some phases of the game, well enough to win. However, they did not. The Rockcastle Blue team utilized their superior quickness and aggressiveness to outbound the much taller Madison White squad and they also played solid defense in this one. However, the key to this game was the fact that the rim seemed to have a lid on it. The Rockcastle Blue team shot poorly in this game, and were not able to capitalize on the advantages they were gaining with their aggressive rebounding and defense. Rockcastle Blue fell behind 10-6 at the half, 16-8 at the end of the 3rd and just couldn't pull much closer down the stretch. For Rockcastle Blue, Matthew Silcox led the way in scoring with 5 points and added several steals as well; Derrick Hurst came off the bench to fire in 4 points and give quickness to the point; Blake Roberts scored 2 points and attacked the backboards and Brandon Reams provided 2 points and provided good defense. As a special note, Jesse Hamm did not score but simply dominated the backboards. Estimates from the scoring table were that big Jesse pulled nearly 20 rebounds down in this one.

ROCKCASTLE BLUE 25 PIKEVILLE #12

Rockcastle Blue again shot the ball poorly from the field, but managed to advance on the strength of their rebounding and defense. This one kept all the fans on the edge of their seats though, as it was back and forth from the tip-off until the final buzzer. Rockcastle Blue led by 1 at the half, but Pikeville had tied it by the end of the 3rd period. Rockcastle Blue managed to gain the win in this one by doing what it takes to win games. ... they sank the clutch free-throws. Rockcastle Blue was a perfect 1-7 in the decisive 4th quarter, as Colby Brown made 4 and Derrick Hurst 3. For Rockcastle Blue, Jarred Burdette led the way with 8 points and several rebounds; Hurst finished with 7 points and added cut-quick defense; Brown finished with 6 points and added several steals and Blake Roberts scored 4 points and pulled down several rebounds. ROCKCASTLE BLUE 30 PIKEYVILLE #20 The Rockcastle Blue team avenged the earlier loss of the Rockcastle Red team to Pikeville #2 by eliminating Pike #2. This one was never much in doubt as the Blue team put together perhaps their most solid showing of the tournament, highlighted by the fact that each team member scored. The Blue team marched out to a 15-6 lead at the half and never looked back as they held on to oust both Pike County squads from the tournament. For Rockcastle Blue: Blake Roberts stepped up to lead the way with 9 points and as many rebounds; Jesse Hamm again provided strong board work, while collecting 4 points; Jarred Burdette added 4 points and inside quickness; Brandon Reams again performed well off the bench, as he netted 3 points and had several assists; Matthew Silcox, Colby Brown, Derrick Hurst, Jacob Tyler and Ricky Sandusky all added 2 points and added great hustle to the tally. CASEY COUNTY 26 ROCKCASTLE BLUE 17 The Rockcastle Blue team was eliminated from the tourney, falling to the eventual second place finishers from Casey County. Poor shooting from the field, which had plagued the Blue team in every other game, proved to be their final undoing for the tournament. The team again hustled and hit the boards well, but they just couldn't buy a bucket. Rockcastle had every chance in the world to win this one, as they only trailed by 3 at the end of the 3rd quarter. However, Casey County managed to pull another trick out of the book on this one and advanced by winning a game much closer than the score indicates, as several late free-throws expanded the margin. For Rockcastle Blue:

Jarred Burdette led the way with 6 points and hit the boards for some carrots; Matthew Silcox buried two long-range 4th quarter jumpers for a total of 4 points; Derrick Hurst again was Instant Offense off the bench as he hit for 3 points and Blake Roberts and Ricky Sandusky each hustled to add 2 points to the Blue total. PIKEVILLE #2 20 ROCKCASTLE RED 13

The Rockcastle "Red" team gave a very credible showing of themselves in this one. The "Red" team were down 5-2 at the end of the 1st quarter, but managed to fight back to trail by just one at the half. The 3rd quarter, Pikeville #2 really cranked up the defensive pressure and managed to claim the win as this Rockcastle squad, like the other, was unable to consistently make their shots fall. For Rockcastle Red: Mikah Reams led the way with 4 points and played very solid defense; Kyle Mullins added 1 point and provided good leadership at the point. Matthew Evans, Ronny Lee McClure, Nick Williams and Brandon Cameron did not score, but all played nice defense and gave good hustle. The Rockcastle Red team was eliminated from the tourney with a final loss to a very tall Madison County Gold squad.

In Loving Memory of Eugene and Liddle Reppert and their children, the most recent was Mary Jane.

When I came to the end of the road And the sun has set for me, I wait in a gloom-filled room, Why cry for a soul set free? Miss me a little - but not too long, And not with your head bowed low. Remember the love that we once shared, Miss me -- but let me go. For this is a journey that we all must take, And each must go alone. It's all a part of the Master's plan, A step on the road to home. When you are lonely and sick of heart, Go to the friends we know, And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds, Miss me -- but let me go.

Happy Birthday To All Your Loving Family

Attention: Parents of 5th Graders

State Law says that every child entering the sixth grade for the first time must have a second MMR (measles, mumps, rubella) and a second physical. These must be presented before your child will be enrolled into the sixth grade this fall. Any student not having these records either already on file or presented upon the first day of school will not be allowed to return to school until he/she brings the required records.

These services can be obtained either at the Health Department or at your doctor's office. Please make an appointment as soon as possible to get this done. Both the Health Department and the doctor's offices will be very busy this summer so it would be advisable to try to get this taken care of before this school year ends. Make an effort to get these records by June 1st so your child will have the required records to enter the sixth grade, and you will not have to worry about what to do if you are unable to get an appointment this summer.

Be aware that the Immunization Certificate must reflect all the vaccinations that your child has received, not just the second MMR. Also be aware that the sixth grade physical form must be the form approved by the State Department. The correct form is a Sixth Grade Physical form

Our Readers Write

Defending Burdette's honor

Dear Editor,

Last week's headline news where that it was sprawled all over the front page of our only local paper that Mr. Jeffrey Burdette was accused of being a liar. This was not only an unjust smear against him but also to that of his office and worst of all us as a county.

With all of the negative publicity we have had lately that surely the paper would not make an effort to make one of our top officials, who I might add devotes a large amount of his personal time to different organizations, speaking to students, volunteering his time to be available and accessible to the young people of our county. You could have written of this instead of what turned out to be "harsh" or a misunderstanding. Liar is such a strong word. Maybe your reporter should visit one of the classrooms where he comes to speak. After all, further on and almost insignificantly down the page the finger pointer states maybe liar was harsh but she fell or was under the impression which as I have been taught is a far cry from accusing one of being a liar.

It seems your reporter really sensationalized the article against Mr. Burdette, almost to the point of jumping on a chance to print something both insulting and injuring to the county Attorney and his office.

I am a student and have had several opportunities to hear Mr. Burdette speak and have met and spoke with him personally afterwards. He is a great role model and always has time for the people in our county. I truly feel he deserves more respect than to be insulted like this. I truly think by honor he deserves an apology for such sensationalism from your reporter.

Thank you,
Robert L. Clark

Responding again to McKibben

Dear Editor,

I would not wish this to become a running debate with the Rev. Dan McKibben, as such a public display of scriptural "knowledge" or making a point has never been that important to me. In fact, I find arguing the scriptures abhorrent and doing so only makes me guilty of the same things I find objectionable in others. I've never felt compelled to defend my faith or anything I do. If one feels secure it isn't necessary. I would, however, plead for the privilege of attending the church of my choice without a constant barrage of offenses from those who interpret the scriptures differently. How many times must one "turn the other cheek" without retaliating?

The Holy Bible and Constitution are both quite explicit in granting the freedom to worship according to the dictates of our own heart. It's one of our most sacred rights and calls for no explanation or clarification. I'm reminded of a song the lyrics of which go something like this: "You go to your church and I'll go to mine, but let's walk along together." Amen! I'm for that.

Was Jesus pleased with his pompous disciples who came to him boasting that they had dispersed a group who were casting out devils in His name? I say to you, Nay, He was not happy! He rebuked them, saying, in essence, "forbid them not, if they are for us they can in no wise be against us." Jesus was quick to point out the fact that "other sheep have I that are not of this fold. . ." Bro. McKibben is only one of many shepherds, each of whom leads as he feels led. All are deserving of our prayers in these difficult times.

We, of the various folds, have scriptural grounds for what we believe, else we would not believe it. And certainly, in these final days before the Lord's return to Earth, we should be doing better things than nit-picking and casting aspersions. I believe God will hold us accountable for every soul we cause to become discouraged and confused. Christians should be emphasizing the important areas of agreement even to the point of visiting and worshipping together under the same roof, joining in the parts we feel comfortable with and quietly ignoring the little things we don't.

In short, we should be rehearsing overtime for the day when we'll all be living together as a family. For I would remind you, God has not prepared a separate place for each little group of believers, nor has He prepared a place for only one group, casting all others out into eternal darkness. It would be extreme to suggest that Bro. McKibben and his flock would be forever damned for following their belief that church kitchens are dens of "iniquity," or that others who feel such facilities are useful and good might be denied access to the Kingdom of Heaven. How could anyone believe that the loving God we serve is that difficult to please? And what is there about such a God that anyone should desire to serve him? How could we ever feel safe and positive that we're not doing something, unwittingly, that will get us zapped? I'm sorry, but I just can't see it. I truly can't! And yet I have no quarrel with those who hold such an opinion of their God, so long as they don't expect me to share that view.

I do appreciate the kind words of Bro. McKibben concerning my ability to reason things out and to ably express myself. In closing, I would return the compliment. So often I think, with this man's keen intellect and talent for writing, great and marvelous things could be accomplished if he would concentrate on the positive aspects of Christian living rather than forever searching for and arguing what he perceives to be the shortcomings of others. Jesus said, "If I be lifted up I will draw all men unto me." We should endeavor to be more mindful of this when expressing thoughts that might pos-

Frankfort Update

By: State Representative Danny Ford

Student testing, adult education, and alternative certification for teachers were among the educational issues discussed this week in Frankfort.

One bill that has generated a great deal of mail and telephone calls were considered by the House Education Committee. House Bill 137, would create a trust fund to pay tuition costs for Kentucky National Guard members.

This bill would provide full tuition awards to active members of the National Guard to attend universities, community colleges or vocational schools. Some believe this bill would be a recruiting tool for the agency. HB 137 would require repayment of tuition based on grades, failure to complete courses or if terminated from service. It places a 10-year limit on awards.

HB 137 received an unanimous vote by legislative committee members and was sent to the Appropriations and Revenue Committee for the task of figuring out how to finance the program.

Committee members passed House Bill 194, which relates to alternative certification of secondary school teachers. This bill creates a process for persons with five years of full-time teaching experience at the college level to be certified to teach to complete an internship to qualify for certification.

House Bill 327 was approved by the committee. Each teacher would be required to pay a $50 certification fee every five years, which would generate about $600,000 for the Education Professional Standards Board.

A bill moved out of the House Education Committee that establishes an alternative to the GED program for persons 25 years or older to obtain a high school diploma. Under House Bill 461, persons would earn an "external diploma" based upon demonstration of knowledge and skills.

Nine bills-most which dealt with housekeeping matters in education were signed into law by the Governor last week. For example, House Bill 95 gives the State Board for Elementary and Secondary Education the authority to waive administrative regulations when school districts and schools can show good cause, hardship or alternatives that would produce the same results. House Bill 96 requires school districts to have student discipline codes available for inspection rather than filing with the state board for approval.

Regarding student testing, House Bill 569 was submitted to the Education Committee for review next week. The bill addresses statewide assessment of public schools. It would require the state program to measure student skills and knowledge in reading, math, writing, science and social studies in grades 4, 5, 7, 8, 11 and 12 beginning the 1996-97 school year. The result of 1996 through 1998 school years would be used to form the school baseline. Sanctions of unsuccessful schools would be delayed until the 1998-2000 school year. While the focus was primarily on education, there were other pieces of legislation that were voted out of the House.

House Bill 445 would allow two or more conservation districts to consolidate offices and services.

House Bill 411 would allow police officers to work shifts of 10 hours per day for four days week in

The Mt. Vernon Signal Thursday, February 29, 1996 P-43 at least partial filing fees and court costs.

House Bill 335 prohibits local ordinances declaring agricultural and silvicultural land use as nuisance if operation has been in place for a year or more.

House Bill 211 allows a portion of Local Economic Development Funds to be used for water treatment, extending water lines or constructing facilities.

House Bill 376 allows a guardian of a minor or disabled person to settle or compromise certain monetary controversies, such as inheritances, on behalf of that person.

House Bill 323 allows a court to dismiss frivolous lawsuits by prison inmates and requires inmates to pay

Senate Bill 137 is an effort to curb the problem of teen smoking by increasing penalties against anyone selling or distributing tobacco products to a juvenile. It also increases the fine if a teen buys tobacco products.

Public debate continued this week over the concealed weapons bill. House Bill 40, which was voted out of the House, was discussed at a hearing held Tuesday by the Senate Licensing and Occupations Committee. The committee is expected to vote on the bill at its next meeting on Feb. 27.

We are much more than a Long-Term Care Facility...

We are much more than a long-term care facility. Are you aware of the other services offered by your community hospital's Physical Therapy Department?

The philosophy of the department is to work closely with the physicians, industry and health delivery systems in the Rockcastle area in providing the maximum of quality care. In the rapidly changing health care system, it is important to the Physical Therapy staff to remain concentrated on the needs of the community and concerns of the local residents. They feel a strong sense of commitment to the Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle area and are dedicated to providing services concerned with the rehabilitation needs of the community.

The wound care clinic has the final components needed to provide a center-based approach to the treatment of difficult wounds. A newly-renovated hydrotherapy room, adjacent to the physical therapy department, will provide the equipment and space needed to provide a clinic-environment for the treatment of wounds. Expanding on this, the clinic will also be involved in providing education and training to caregivers and family in providing care at home. For the physician as well as the patient, treating a wound that refuses to heal is frustrating, time-consuming and expensive. Effective management usually requires a multi-disciplinary approach of working together in a collaborating, supporting manner.

Under the direction of Dr. McElwain, the members of the Physical Therapy Department -- Steve Coy P.T., Steve Marcum P.T. and Don Roberts P.T.A. -- have assumed responsibility for this program.

Steve Coy P.T. working with a patient.

We are introducing other special programs to assist the community, not only in injuries and rehabilitation after the injury or trauma, but also in educational activities to help prevent injury and trauma. These will include working in developing back injury prevention, repetitive injury prevention programs, fitness and walking program advice and other wellness issues.

These are just a few of the professional services offered by our fine hospital's Physical Therapy Department. We welcome all to stop by and tour our facility. We are very proud of what we can offer.

DETECTING FRAUD IN WEIGHT LOSS PRODUCTS

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Consumers should question advertisements for weight loss products which promise dramatic losses, announce revolutionary scientific breakthroughs, or claim unnamed supporting research before a decision to purchase the product is made.

Many of these products are medically unable to live up to their promises and scientifically have not been proven effective. Misleading advertisements for fraudulent weight loss products can be detected by consumers who ask a few simple questions.

First, does the product promise a quick fix? For example, one advertisement says its product can take off 49 pounds in 29 days. Most dieticians recommend a loss of one-half to one pound per week, not 12 pounds.

If the amount of weight loss sounds too good to be true, it usually is. A drastic weight loss such as the one in the example's claim is found only in extremely ill people. It would be unhealthy for anyone to loose that much weight that quickly.

Advertisements claiming the product resulted from research done at named institutions by unnamed scientists illustrate another example when products are probably fraudulent. What are some of these "leading institutions," "top studies" or "leading researchers" claiming in the advertisements? They do not specify.

Announcement that the research was published in popular magazines is another indication of fraudulent products. Genuine scientific breakthroughs and research are first published in peer-reviewed medical or science journals. Later the news may appear in popular magazines, but reports of authentic research never originate there.

Finally, if the discovery is truly a scientific breakthrough, why isn't news of the new weight loss product in a front page story or a television newscast? Instead, the information is part of a paid advertisement on an inside page of a newspaper or stated in a television commercial. Some are labeled as "paid advertisements", but others are not. If the breakthroughs were true, they would be a part of the news, not the advertisements.

The Food and Drug Administration does have power to regulate fraudulent advertising of weight loss products, but some of its laws would have to be amended to make it more difficult to profit from misleading mail order claims.

Usually, fraudulent advertisements appear with an address or an 800 number that is only in service on a temporary basis. Within a month to six weeks after the advertisements run, the phone number is disconnected and the company changes addresses. This creates a problem for the FDA in reaching for perpetrators of fraudulent advertising and products. A problem is also created for consumers who attempt to take advantage of money-back guarantees if the product does not perform as promised.

and soils with a low potassium soil test would show an increase in plant magnesium when fertilized. However, massive applications, such as with dolomitic limestone, would probably have a beneficial effect.

The potassium content in the soil is probably the dominant factor affecting the uptake of magnesium by the plant. Potassium competes with the uptake of magnesium in the plant, and, as the potassium available to the plant increases, there is a sharp drop in the uptake of magnesium. A similar type of relationship appears within the animal itself. The higher the amount of potassium entering the animal, the lower the amount of magnesium found in the blood. If the intake of potassium is constant, the amount in the blood is lowered by higher potassium intake. Because of this, the potassium content of the soil should not be allowed to get into the high soil test range. A medium or high medium soil test should be sufficient for good pasture production and prevent significant reduction of magnesium in the plant, and subsequently, in the animal.

Because animals do not store up magnesium, their dietary requirements have to be supplied on a day-to-day basis. The only way to prevent grass tetany is to supplement the diet with additional magnesium. Supplementation should start in mid-December and run through mid-May. This can be done with commercial mineral mixes containing magnesium or with homemade mixtures. Mixing 1 part magnesium oxide, 1 part trace mineral salt and 1 part distillers dry grain will do fine if this is the cattle's only source of salt.

Many farmers feed magnesium year round to avoid the problem in getting cattle back on feed. Not only is this an extra expense farmers do not need, the extra magnesium may interfere with the absorption of certain minerals. When mineral intake becomes a problem, many health problems occur which are hard to explain. For this reason, farmers are encouraged to stop magnesium feeding in mid-May. To help get animals back on minerals containing magnesium, distillers dry grain may be mixed in to take away from the bitter taste.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability, or national origin.

Winter Tetany in Beef Cattle

FARM & HOME NEWS

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent for Agriculture

What is Winter Tetany?

Winter Tetany is basically grass tetany. Since this disorder occurs during winter months when cattle are not receiving pasture, the term winter is used to denote the difference.

Winter tetany or grass tetany is a cow disorder caused by an abnormally low amount of magnesium in the animals blood. This is caused primarily by the cow's feed being low in magnesium. When grasses are used for feed, this condition will mainly occur in spring. However, some herds will experience the same problem on store feeds during January, February and March.

Grass tetany is usually confined to females and is more likely to occur in older animals. Cows are more susceptible during their third and fourth lactations. The animals exhibit milk fever symptoms and may begin to walk stiffly or stagger. Their appetites may decrease, and they usually become very dull in appearance. In many cases they will isolate themselves from the herd. As the disorder progresses, the animal sometimes becomes very nervous and occasionally has muscle tremors and will exhibit rapid breathing. In advanced cases the animal will collapse, go into convulsions and die. The disorder can run its course rapidly, and unless corrective measures are taken, death sometimes can occur less than an hour after the onset of visible symptoms.

If the magnesium level in the blood is low, it is mainly due to a low level of magnesium in the animal's feed. Some reasons why magnesium may be low in the animal's feed are species of grass, soil nutrient status, potassium levels and weather.

Grasses are lower in magnesium than legumes. The early lush growth is likely to be all grass (since legumes start growth later in the spring) and may be deficient in magnesium. Pastures, even grass pastures, should have adequate magnesium content in late spring or summer. Cereal crops such as wheat, rye, barley and oats are poor accumulators of magnesium. Forages of this type are apt to be low in magnesium in the spring or fall.

The plant must get its magnesium from the soil, and soils low in magnesium can cause a low plant content. However, at the present time, it appears that magnesium fertilization on most Kentucky soils would not be feasible. If the soil has a high potassium soil test, the application will do little to increase the magnesium content within the plant. Only coarse (sandy) soils

IRA — You Can Start Small

Usually when Individual Retirement Accounts are advertised, the main point of the ad is the fact that you can invest $2,000 annually ($2,250 if your spouse doesn't work). This is the maximum contribution allowed each year.

Because of the fact that the ads on IRA's always emphasize the maximum contribution, many people have been left with the feeling that you have to contribute $2,000 annually. This is not true. You can contribute whatever amount you want as long as it doesn't exceed the maximum.

The important thing is that you get started with an IRA even if you can only contribute $200 a year initially. Come in and see us about an IRA. Substantial penalty for early withdrawal.
