County gets $11,939 bill for housing juveniles in Clark Co.

A $11,939 bill for keeping four local teenagers in the Clark County Detention Center has been sent to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court for payment. The court can only pay it, according to state law.

Even an ordinance passed by the court to charge parents when their juveniles are incarcerated hasn't helped much. The parents can claim indigency.

Clark County is one of four centers that accept juvenile offenders and it's the cheapest. They charge $75 a day.

The Rockcastle court considers themselves lucky. Clark County is all filled up and there's a waiting list.

"We're just lucky to get them in there, said county judge/executive Buzz Carltofus as he looked over the bill. "We have no alternative though we're required to pay the bill to and from (transportation) and the stay."

There's a little light at the end of the tunnel but not anytime soon.

Gove. Paul Patton has been quiet as saying that in the next five years, the state will take care of the bills. Presently, the state doesn't pay a cent.

Four centers currently accept juvenile offenders: Clark County, Bowling Green, Owensboro and Prestonsburg.

The county has two in Prestonsburg and has had three or four at one time in Owensboro.

And, the local court must send juveniles on their way as soon as possible. The county is not allowed by state law to hold juveniles in the county (without the proper facilities). And, it takes the sheriff and deputies to take them to a center for safe keeping.

Also, if the juvenile is arrested by city police, the county still has to pay the bill. Juveniles are turned over to the county.

Appreciation Fund Raiser

Members of the Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department held an Appreciation Fund Raiser last Saturday at the department's new station at Conway. Several activities were scheduled for the day-long event, including an auction and free entertainment by the Wild River Band, Jr. Anglin and Bluegrass Country Ramblers and the Rockcastle County Courthouse Gang. The top photo shows several members of the department with their fire truck. In the photo are, from left: Asst. Chief Clyde Burdette with the mascot "Sparky," Shawn Sizemore, County Judge/Executive Buzz Carltofus who was on hand for the event, Ben Burdette, Shannon Taylor and Andy Woods. Second row: Chief Eddie Brock, Rick Fry, Irene Hale and Larry Mullins. Photo at left: Smokey the Bear was a popular attraction for the youngsters and Tyler Vaughn, son of Janet and Earl Vaughn of Conway got a special hug from Smokey as Chief Eddie Brock looks on.

High Speed Chase ends in fatal crash

A high speed chase that began on Interstate 75 in Renfro Valley Tuesday ended in the death of a Tennessee man at Richmond.

According to Kentucky State Police Public Affairs Officer Gilbert Acciardo, Jr., the deadly chase began about 5 p.m. after a motorist notified police at the London post by cellular phone that an apparent drunk driver was traveling north on I-75 at a high rate of speed.

State Trooper Jimmy Silvers observed the suspect vehicle driving erratically near the Renfro Valley exit and activated his emergency equipment, according to Acciardo.

The suspect vehicle failed to stop and Trooper Silvers continued to pursue the vehicle at high speeds after the vehicle failed to stop, Acciardo said.

Also according to Acciardo, the driver of the 1984 Toyota Supra rammed Silvers' vehicle at Exit 87, south of Richmond where the driver lost control of his vehicle, crossed the median and hit a southbound 1977 Dodge van in the driver's side. Gary W. Turner, 50, of Morristown, Tennessee was killed instantly, police said.

The 15-year-old juvenile from Chesapeake, West Virginia received back injuries in the wreck and was listed in serious condition at the U.K. Medical Center Wednesday. Trooper Silvers was not injured.

Charges filed Wednesday against the juvenile include: Manslaughter, 1st degree, Wanton Endangerment 1st Degree, Criminal Mischief 1st Degree, and Attempt to Elude a Police Officer.

A Kentucky State Police Regional Accident Reconstruction Team is investigating the accident which slowed traffic in the southbound lane of I-75 to a crawl for hours and traffic in Richmond to a virtual standstill.

Three plead guilty in separate cases

Jerry Lee Denny, 29, of Chestnut Ridge has pled guilty to reckless homicide in connection with a June 1993 shooting at Pine Hill.

According to court records, Commonwealth Attorney Ray Carmichael has recommended that Denny serve a five year sentence.

Denny was originally indicted for murder and assault in connection with the shooting that claimed the life of Jeffrey Payne, 18, of Pine Hill.

According to court records, Gerald Lewis Cotton, 38, of Rt. 5 Mt. Vernon, was also shot by Denny the same time as Payne was shot.

However, Denny has contended since his arrest that he was acting in self-defense during the party in Lime Plant Hollow.

Denny is scheduled to be sentenced Friday by Circuit Judge William T. Cain.

French pleads guilty to criminal solicitation

Darinda French, 35, of Mt. Vernon, has pled guilty to soliciting Mose Brock in July of 1994 to burn down her house on Old Hwy. 461 in order for her to collect the insurance proceeds.

Commonwealth Attorney Ray Carmichael has recommended a probation five year sentence for French and agreed to drop two other charges against French in connection with the fire. French was indicted in August of 1994 and is scheduled to be sentenced Friday.

Robinson pleads guilty

Adren Robinson, 38, of Rt. 2, Orlando, has pled guilty to theft by unlawful taking over $300. Robinson pled guilty to stealing $634 from James Alexander on May 17, 1995 after he had been shot to death.

A sentence of one year has been recommended for Robinson by the Commonwealth Attorney's office. He will be sentenced Friday, Sept. 13.

Deputy Reynolds resigns

Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Randall Reynolds announced Monday that he had resigned his position as a deputy for Rockcastle Sheriff Shirley Smith. Reynolds said he was working another job and that he planned to run for Sheriff in the next election. Reynolds had served as deputy for three and a half years.

London firm gets bid for sewer project

By: Ray McClure

A bid of $731,875 for a city sewer project was approved by the Mt. Vernon City Council at its monthly meeting Monday night.

Howard Engineering and Construction of London was the low bidder at $1,087,223. The only other bid was from N.A.C. Heavy Highway, Inc. of Lexington for $1,250,000.

To reach a workable stage, the council struck several items from the overall project amounting to $355,000.

The project includes the new high school, Jerri Lane and a few other minor areas.

The city figures it can do the project for between $900,000 and $950,000 with the help of city employees.

Among items struck from the project and turned over to city employees were the construction of two buildings, a water line and holding tank and a box culvert. City engineers estimated the box culvert would cost $90,392 to construct. Howard's bid was $178,465.

The state must approve all water and sewer projects. When the council receives approval it will make the bid permanent.

This was the second attempt by the city to award a bid for the project. The first time, all bids were well over

Ralph Gabbard dies suddenly; was part of Renfro Valley revitalization

Ralph Gabbard, the main influence behind the total revitalization of the Renfro Valley Entertainment Complex, was found dead Tuesday.

The broadcasting giant was 50.

Gabbard, president and board member of Gray Communications Systems Inc., was found dead in a hotel room in Boston, Mass. where he had gone to meet with potential investors in an effort to raise $150 million for Gray Communications to buy John H. Phipps, Inc. of Tallahassee, Fla., whose holdings include TV stations in Tallahassee and Knoxville.

Security workers at the Four Seasons Hotel found Mr. Gabbard dead about 7 a.m., apparently of a heart attack, after he failed to answer a wake-up call, said Bill Fielder, chief financial officer of Gray, who had dinner with Mr. Gabbard Monday night.

Gabbard was probably best known for his long-time association with two Kentucky stations, WKYT in Lexington and WYMT in Hazard but, locally, he will be best remembered for heading a group of investors who bought the Renfro Valley Entertainment complex in February of 1989.

It was Gabbard's apparent love for country music and Renfro Valley that led to the total revamping of Kentucky's Country Music Capital.

"Ralph loved Renfro Valley and without his vision for the Valley, things would have never changed as they have," said Jane Thorne, Renfro Valley's Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer.

"Ralph's work and dedication to Renfro Valley has affected thousands of lives," Thorne said.

"Although Ralph was not an owner of Renfro Valley any more he was always willing to help when called on. We will all miss him and our sympathy goes out to his family," she said.

Gabbard was a past president of the Kentucky Broadcasters Association and received its most prestigious honor, the Al Temple Award, in 1993.

Mr. Gabbard is survived by his wife, Jackie Upton Gabbard; four sons, Joseph Marlon Gabbard, Jason Ralph Gabbard, James Matthew Gabbard and Jesse Eden Gabbard; his mother, Maggie Eden Gabbard and a sister, Charlotte Moore, all of Lexington.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Calvary Baptist Church in Lexington. Visitation will be from 1 to 4 p.m. and from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday at W.R. Milward Mortuary - Broadway. Burial will be in Lexington Cemetery.

Loretta and I so seldom spend a weekend together doing something that involves getting away for a bit of R&R that our Labor Day weekend jaunt to Cincinnati is probably worth a headline in and of itself.

We actually made the trip to spend a couple days with our friend, Martha Wheeler, and to do tourist stuff in the big city. We reasoned that approximately half of the population of Southern Ohio would be coming to Kentucky, for the holiday and that, as a consequence, traffic shouldn't be a problem.

When we got to Georgetown on 1-75, Saturday afternoon we nearly had the northbound lanes to ourselves. A few dishard trucks were going in our direction and that was about it. The Southbound lanes, however, were bumper to bumper.

I doubt that anybody goes to Ohio just to visit unless it involves a baseball game. And apparently the Reds were out of town on the Saturday before Labor Day. I've been traveling to Cincinnati on business for more than 25 years and I've never seen less traffic on the interstates or the city streets. Loretta was driving and she managed to get all the way to the Northside of the city to Martha's place without getting honked at for cutting off another motorist. I know that has to be a first.

I, on the other hand, was giving directions and not once did I even come close to raising my voice in the pitched scream I reserve when Loretta doesn't change lanes fast enough to suit me or zooms on past an exit we should have taken. And that probably ranks as a miracle.

As I think I've mentioned before, Loretta gets in the floor and prays when I'm doing the city driving. I generally cuss a lot when she's doing it. Our relationship would be far less jeopardized if we took separate vehicles when we travel together. But I'm off the point.

On Sunday morning while Loretta and Martha took off to places where they could spend money, I decided to take a long hike through Northside where there seems to be either an old church or a bar on every corner. And incidentally, the bars are open at 8:30 a.m. on Sunday! Apparently lots of folks like to get their attitudes adjusted before attending service.

Around 9:30 I turned a corner and heard a distinct eastern Kentucky accent just like mine loudly giving directions to somebody unloading an old pick-up while yet another same accent was explaining to a city cop that they'd have the truck out of the street as soon as they got the couch off it.

I could tell they needed help so the cop and I pitched in and helped a Caldwell family from Knot County get their plunder onto the front porch so the neighbors would stop complaining about the street being blocked. Turned out Mr. Caldwell had found work as a mechanic and was using the same reasoning I'd used about his timing to move into town.

On Sunday night we drove over to Newport to catch the fireworks that were going to be set off from barges in the middle of the Ohio River so they could be viewed from both sides. Martha reasoned we'd have a better chance of finding parking on the Kentucky side. The fireworks were free.

others in the congregation. It didn't take "new folks" long to find out that Jack had been there from the beginning, and by all ideas they had should be "bounced off" Jack before being aired.

Worst of all, Jack bussed Jill. So much so that she tearfully pouted out her heart to me one day about how "cold" he was to her and how "stern" he was with their children, and how she felt like "an object" rather than a person.

But that came as no secret to me. The first week we were there and Jack and Jill took Nancy and me and our two boys on a half-day tour of that history-laden area in which we lived. Jack was a fast driver, and I'm sure my fright showed as he whipped us around some of the roads. Every cow path in Boston became a road! And that was for a lot of curves.

"Jack, why don't you slow down a bit so Bro. Meadows and Nancy can see me." Jill gently suggested.

SCREEECH! We came to a stop so quickly I should have had whiplash. Jack opened the door, got out, opened the back door on Jill's side, and yelled at her. "You think you can do a better job, then YOU drive." Jill wasn't the only red-faced soul among us there on the circle in the heart of Concord! And how unlike he was to the man who prayed such a "humble" prayer at the noon meal that day.

Dear hearts, after about a year of Jack's lordship, I decided something had to be done, for the church's sake, for Jill's sake (who was telling other people how "cold" Jack was), and for my own sake as pastor. I would drive up to his home in Salem and would confront him in a Christian manner. DUUUUM!

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and allegations from Nod's Little Acre in the bustling burg of Wabed, navel of the earth - a truth of which you might need to be reminded - and lifelong home of Semonius L. Garfieldhuren, long time Professor of History at the Wabed Community College, and part time fly setter for Dooley's Overall Factory of Burr, who once remarked, "Knowing what's none of your business is as important as knowing what is."

Ah! Semonius. How right you were. But oh, how difficult it is to stay out of other folks' dilemmas, delusions, and determinations, especially if you are a pastor upon whose shoulders the welfare of a church has been placed. Such was my predicament many times. Let me tell you about one of them. In 1919 my family and I moved to greater Boston, Massachusetts where I began a new ministry with a church what was "new," in that it had been established only seven years before. I went there thinking about working with a "young" church would be quite rewarding in that it wouldn't be "set in its ways" and therefore would be open to new methods of ministry and outreach.

Indeed, we did do some things differently - and daringly. For instance, we carried "faith" to the hill moneywise. We started every new year with a zero balance, having paid all bills for the previous year and having given any surplus to missions. That meant I wouldn't get my pay if we were snowed out on the first Sunday of the year. Thank goodness it took a lot more there to have a shutdown than it does in this part of the country.

Dear hearts, I'm not surprised that people don't give liberally or sacrificially to churches these days.

Why do that when so many churches sit on thousands of dollars in more interest-bearing "funds" than folks can keep up with?

Oops! I'm straying. As I was saying, I went to that "new" church thinking it would be free of some of the set-in-concrete traditions that had stifled some of the Kentucky churches I had served. But bless Bess, beloved, that "new" church was "old" in one respect, a most troublesome respect - it had a "boss."

A certain man, call him Jack, and his wife, call her Jill, were charter members. The first Bible study group that eventually grew and became that church had met first in their home. Jack was one of the first three deacons elected to serve that church. He was the first treasurer. He had personally paid the preacher when offerings weren't sufficient. The list of his "sacrifices" is a long one. But on with my story.

Jack, I found out the hard way, was accustomed to having the pastor "check things out" with him before he brought it up to anyone else in the church. Beloved, there were other charter members, Fred and Alice, for example, had done as much as Jack and Jill to make that fledgling flock grow. But they didn't think they owned it. They too had been there from the beginning.

Well, when I brought up a proposal in a church council meeting, I noticed that Jack had nothing to say. Jack had always had something to say. My idea was discussed at length and some initial steps were proposed. Jack was the first one to leave, which was about one second after the closing prayer.

Later that evening, he called the parsonage and invited me to have breakfast with him at Jendly's Restaurant the next morning.

Dear hearts, we met, I had breakfast, and Jack had me! He was distraught that I had not bounced my idea off him, as the pastors before had always done.

Beloved, this story could bog down quickly. So let me add one more tid-bit and get on to the thrust of my tale. Jack not only tried to "boss" the preacher, he did it to but we wound up paying ten dollars for a place to park and it's one of the best bargains I've ever had in my life, because the fireworks were awesome and that's an understatement, five thousand major shells were exploded over the course of 35 minutes. Shells and explosions that dwarfed any fireworks display I'd ever seen in my life and the whole thing was set to music being played over loudspeakers roughly the same size as your average Kentucky Courthouse as well as by thousands and thousands of boom boxes supplied by the crowd.

I don't know where they came from, because a city that had seemed virtually empty throughout the day suddenly produced a crowd estimated at over half a million to watch the pyrotechnics.

Here's a travel tip. If you have nothing else to do on the Sunday evening before Labor Day next year, head up I-75 and take any exit that will get you onto the river bank between Cincinnati and Newport. Live bands, reasonably priced food, no alcohol allowed or served, no long lines at the porta-johns and absolutely the best fire-works display you'll ever see. But get there early if you expect to find convenient parking.

And then on Monday when you head back south you'll notice that there's not a car in view in front or behind you when you head back south but it's bumper to bumper and five miles an hour in the other lane as your cousins head back to the city.

floor, Jill sat in a recliner, and I sat on their couch. I told Jack that several folk thought he was "lovely," "insensitive," and "coldly brazen." I enumerated several instances that illustrated and supported my opinion. Jack didn't say a word while I talked. And when I concluded, he stood up and said, "I'll have to pray about this before I say anything at all. Let's give it some time and prayer. And then we'll talk some more."

Driving home from Salem that night, the moon was full, the snow that would stay for months lay like a shroud on the countryside, and I felt a chill in my soul. In the course of church business, I had stuck my nose into "family business." Things weren't going to be better. I hadn't done well at all.

Within a week's time everyone in the church knew about my "visit," and a few folk had sided with Jack - one of whom was Jill! Winter stayed in that congregation, through spring and into summer. And by the end of August I had resigned, moved to a "student" pastorate in Ghent, Kentucky, and commenced doctoral studies at Southern Seminary in Louisville.

My point? I have more than one. Point One: When things don't go well in a church, the brunt of it eventually falls on the pastor, who eventually leaves, while the source of most problems remain in the congregation, quite often in its "bosses." And if those "bosses" are deacons, the problems will be there as long as those fellows live. Such a reality has given rise to the saying that "such and such a church won't grow until it has a few really big funerals."

Point Two: Although I lost a battle, that "new" church won the war. When that congregation was organized, its constitution called for the church to elect deacons to service every year. Deacons terms "rotated." A man served three years and then was deemed "inactive" for a year, after which he was eligible for nomination and re-election by the congregation, not the incumbent deacons. Jack was never nominated again.

Point Three: Now and then the pastor is a church's primary problem, but most churches could stand a "de-deaking" or two now and then. Electing deacons to serve for a lifetime is unwise and without biblical support.

Nonetheless, beloved, I would re-nominate if I did not add, in support of good deacons everywhere, that all too often they have to be "bosses" because most members aren't involved enough in the life of the church to keep it going.

And I'd better get going - for the state line! What I've said today is enough to get me burned in glory on the churchyard lawn.

Rockcastle County represented among EKU summer grads

Ten Rockcastle students received degrees from Eastern Kentucky University at the end of the summer term. Honored at the University's 89th summer commencement Thursday, August 1 were 397 degree candidates: 369 bachelor's, 177 master's and 51 associate.

The EKU graduates include: Debra Bowles, Charles Ray Bullen, Sherrie Bullock, Elbert Carl Bustle, Jennifer Cook, Patricia Himes, Darlene Martin, Saica Morgan, Robynne Parkerson, and Jeannine Parsons. Dr. Merita Thompson, a long-time professor of health education at EKU and the 1995 Acorn Award winner for outstanding classroom performance, delivered the commencement address. The Acorn Award, the highest honor bestowed by the Kentucky Advocates for Higher Education, is given annually to a professor whose particular strength is teaching and motivating students.

Also, Hazel C. Little, a civic leader in Richmond, Va., received an honorary doctor of letters degree. A 1929 Eastern graduate, the Paint Lick native taught in various Kentucky school systems 1928-46 and later at George Peabody College for Teachers, where she earned a master's degree. In 1989, she established the Thomas C. and Hazel C. Little Institute for School Administrators, helping many teachers to further their education and pursue careers in school administration.

In addition to providing a permanent endowment for the Institute, she was also a major supporter of the EKU Libraries Capital Improvements Campaign and the Thomas and Hazel Little Building. The new addition in EKU's expanded and renovated library, complex is named in honor of her and her late husband.

Following the formal ceremony in the Van Penseum Amphitheatre at the center of EKU's campus, graduates were invited to receptions sponsored by the University's nine academic colleges.

The new graduates join more than 68,000 EKU alumni in Kentucky, in region and across the United States.

Rockcastle Hospital prepares students for real world

With the beginning of each new school year, some students struggle to regain their study habits after a relaxing summer vacation. At first, the minds tend to wander. The brain has to remember to move at a faster pace. New concepts take a little longer to sink in.

But for others, retaining that competitive edge is no problem - they never lost it in the first place.

These students worked during the summer at Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center, located in Mt. Vernon. As secretaries, speech participant students and pharmacy technicians, these students served the hospital in a number of capacities. And, that's just the way Lee Keene, hospital administrator, likes it. Keene prides himself on fostering what he calls "a local teaching hospital."

"I love having students at our hospital," said Keene. "They're a great resource for us, and we give them a great deal of experience they wouldn't get anywhere else. It's a great arrangement."

The students, ranging from high school juniors to preclinical graduate school students, perform a number of vital functions. Selena Mink, a sophomore at Cumberland College, was Keene's administrative assistant while his regular assistant was on maternity leave.

"Selena's a perfect example of how well this program works," said Keene. "We needed someone to come in immediately and help out with administrative matters. She learned a lot about how an office runs, how to handle executive correspondence and how to deal with the pressures of a real job. In turn, I had a reliable, efficient secretary who made my life a lot easier."

Not all the work is an office. A number of other local colleges and universities utilize Rockcastle to allow allied health students to gain valuable practical experience.

Linda Gregory, director of speech pathology, and Becky Powell, a speech pathologist, say having practical experience is essential to becoming a good speech pathologist.

"The students, under strict supervision, get the chance to apply what they have learned in the classroom in a real-life setting," said Powell. "They work directly with patients, teaching them basic communications skills. It's so rewarding to work with these students because all the book knowledge in the world doesn't compare to the advantages practical experience gives you."

Gregory believes there's an even more important reason to have students work in a real-life hospital setting - to teach them people skills.

"In the health care profession - whether you're a doctor, a nurse, or a speech pathologist - learning how to deal with patients in a caring manner is crucial to the healing process," said Gregory.

"Knowing how to comfort them and ease their anxieties is just as important as knowing how to take their temperature or teaching them how to speak again. In our hospital, one of the first things we teach is how to provide comfort," she added.

Sharon Grissom, a speech pathologist for Jessamine County

School System, worked with Gregory and Powell, this past summer and agreed that her experience at Rockcastle has been invaluable.

"Working at Rockcastle made a world of difference for me," said Grissom. "I learned so much that I can apply to my job now," said Grissom. "I gained great experience, but even more importantly, I gained confidence in my abilities that I never would have had before."

Students participating were: Elena Leger, who worked in medical records. A senior at Rockcastle High School, Elena plans to pursue a career in medical records. She is the daughter of Benny and Martina Leger of Brodhead.

Brandi Martin, in the business office. A junior at Rockcastle High School, Brandi is currently undecided about a career. She is the daughter of Jerry and Debbie Martin of Livingston.

Sharon Hensley, hospital pharmacy. A senior at Rockcastle High School, Sharon is also currently undecided about a career. She is the daughter of Bill and Louise Mink of Burr.

Selena Mink, worked as administrative assistant to the chief administrator. A sophomore at Cumberland College and currently undecided about career, Selena is the daughter of Bill and Louise Mink of Burr.

Jaime Parkey worked as administrative assistant to the nursing director. A senior at Rockcastle High School and the daughter of Kenton and Terry Parkey of Wildie, Jaime has also not chosen a career as yet.

Depression

By: Pat O'Sheuness, CSW

Most people today have experienced some depression during their lives. For the average person, depression is simply a day of feeling "blue" or "down". For other people, however, depression is more than just an occasional bad day. It is a nightmare of "heaviness" that can last weeks and months.

Clinical depression as opposed to occasional or situational depression consists of several of the following:

1. A depressed mood most of the day, nearly every day for two to six weeks.
2. Lack of appetite or increased appetite that results in a significant weight loss or weight gain.
3. Lack of interest or pleasure in all or almost all activities during the day.
4. Insomnia or hypersomnia (sleeping all the time) nearly every day.
5. Agitation or a chronic feeling of restlessness.
6. Fatigue or loss of energy nearly every day.
7. Feeling worthless.
8. Decreased ability to concentrate or inability to concentrate.
9. Recurrent thoughts of death.

Sometimes medication, alcohol or other drugs can induce depression. Changes in hormones such as menopause or postpartum changes can create depression. In these cases, symptoms of depression stop when the source of depression stops (i.e., a patient quits taking a medication). If symptoms linger, then clinical depression may be present.

Most experts agree that with proper treatment, clinical depression can be alleviated. People do not have to suffer for the rest of their lives. With a combination of antidepressants and/or other medications, counseling and occasional crisis intervention, people who suffer from clinical depression can feel better and become active and successful again.

If you need help with depression call us at your local Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center, 864-2104. We want to help you change as we are changing.

Pat O'Sheuness is a Certified Social Worker with Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center. She was written this article as a public service announcement.

Brown, defense lead Rockets past Warriors

By: Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Rockets upped their record to 2 and 0 Friday with an impressive 20-6 victory over visiting Southwestern Pulaski County.

What had been headlined as a tough game for the Rockets appeared to be going to live up to its billing as Southwestern took the lead 6-0 on their first possession.

But the happiness on the Southwestern sideline would be short lived as the Rockets would take a 7-6 lead into the dressing room at halftime and add two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter for the final margin.

The Rocket defense, which was bitten by three big plays in the first half, bowed up in the second half to give up only seven yards of total offense to the Warriors and only one first down. The only first down for the Warriors came on a roughing the kicker call.

"We were well pleased with our team's overall performance," said head coach Tom Larkey. "As an entire unit we improved greatly from the South Laurel game," he said.

"Every game we get under our belt simply makes us a little better because of the inexperienced team we have this year," defense coach Tony Saylor said.

"Our kids played hard, they gave their all, and they will get better - we were real proud of the game they played Friday night," Saylor said.

"We looked like a veteran team when we made some clutch plays in third down a couple of times and our punting was great when they had to, it was just a good win for us," Larkey said.

The Warriors, who defeated the highly touted Lincoln County Patriots a week earlier, were held to only 244 yards of offense, 23 of those yards coming in the first half.

Although he coughed the ball up twice, Senior tailback Jason Brown had probably his best ever game as a Rocket gaining 143 yards on just 15 carries and scoring all three Rocket touchdowns.

"What can you say, he played well, he hit the holes hard and he had a heck of an offensive night," Larkey said.

Besides his offensive output, Brown also picked off one pass and chased down a Southwestern back to stop a touchdown.

Brown was not the only standout on offense, junior running back Dusty McClure turned in a good performance gaining 58 yards on eight carries but many of his yards came on crucial third down plays that gave the Rockets a first.

Besides McClure's excellent offensive output he picked off two Southwestern passes and now leads the team with three interceptions for the season.

"McClure played a good game for us Friday night," Larkey said. "He may have had only 58 yards, but it seemed like he came up with the big

Sixth grade downs M'boro

The Rockcastle County Rocket sixth grade team upped their record to 2-0 after a 22-0 shutout of the Middlesboro Yellowjackets on Saturday in the Bell County Bowl at Pineville.

It was the Rockets second win and second shut-out of the season after manhandling the Patriots from Estill County 28-0 on Tuesday night.

Halfback Austin Miller scored two touchdowns in that game for the Rockets.

Marty Reagan scored twice, once on the ground and once through the air and Chris Settles scored once in Saturday's game.

Mike Hayes caught a pass for one extra point conversion and Quarterback Aaron Anderkin ran in the other one. Anderkin was 9 for 11 throwing, hitting ends Stephen Boring and Hayes a total of six times. Reagan had three catches.

The Rockets entire team played excellent with the defense allowing only two first downs the entire game. Their defense also allowed only one first down against Estill County.

Members of this year's squad, which will play Bell County in the Corbin Bowl on Saturday, are: Doug French, Chris Settles, Clell Swinney, Jackie Weaver, Brian Mullins, Ross McClure, Quinton Hunter, Aaron Anderkin, Austin Miller, Mike Hayes, James Michael Buswell, Steven Boring, Johnathon Bullock, Jerred Stevens, Darrin Harris, Tanner Abney, Adam Stallsworth, Joe Wagers, James Cotton, Marty Reagan, Brandon Bullock, Reed Janssen, and A. J. Hensley.

The sixth grade team is coached by Willie Coffey and Matt Bryant.

runs when we needed it," Larkey said.

The Rockets may not have completed a pass against South Laurel a week earlier, but that certainly wasn't the case Friday night.

Quarterback Malcolm Shepherd completed four passes for 74 yards and he also ran for another fifteen on three carries.

Sophomore Andy Hale caught two of Shepherd's tosses for 48 yards, one was an excellent catch between two Southwestern defenders.

Junior fullback Chris Bishop also grabbed one pass for 18 yards and he also gained 13 yards on the ground in five carries.

Besides Brown's 143 yards on the ground he also gained eight yards, after catching a Shepherd pass.

Senior halfback Jon Cromer, who suffered an injured eye in the first half, gained 31 yards on eight carries.

All total the Rockets amassed 334 yards of total offense against the Warriors.

Cromer, who has had a numb face since Friday night was first diagnosed with a fractured eye socket, but after extensive tests, the diagnosis was a bruised optical nerve.

Dr. David Caborn, an avid Rocket fan and also the team doctor for the University of Kentucky basketball team conducted the tests on Cromer on Monday in Lexington. The senior fullback/linebacker has been cleared to play.

"He got poked in the eye in the first half, a severe poke that knocked out of his contacts, but he played with only one contact and quite a bit of pain, he is just a tough kid," Larkey said.

How tough? The senior only had nine tackles and assists to lead the Rocket's defensive effort.

Coach Saylor praised Cromer's play and especially his six solo tackles. "He did a lot of that only being able to see out of one eye," Saylor said.

Interior defensive linemen David Coffey and Mike Muncy also played well on defense as did linebacker Dennis Miller.

Saylor said he was proud of his inexperienced defensive squad that returned only three starters to the team from a year ago.

"These kids have the heart and if they give the kind of effort every Friday like they gave this week, we will be okay," he said.

Besides Cromer's nine tackles, outside linebacker Slade Calhoun, who also played well for the Rockets on the offensive line added a solo tackle, Anthony King had two solos, Brooks Ingram had one solo and one assist before going down with a slight injury, John LaFeavers added a solo tackle and one assist.

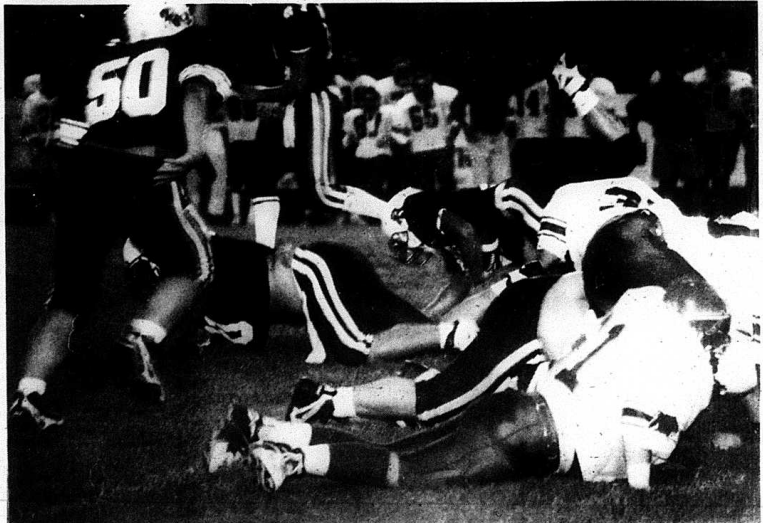

Brown had three solos, three assists, while Muncy had five assists and two solos.

Coffey helped out three times and picked up one solo, while Miller made three solo tackles and helped out once.

Brown turned in another good defensive game, picking up three solos and three assists, while Shepherd and Ronnie Vanzant each had a solo tackle.

McClure got two solos and two assists and Chris Bishop picked up an assist from his safety position.

Senior Andrew Gisler picked two tackles Friday night.

The Rockets host Allen Central from Floyd County Friday night in the annual Renfro Valley Jamoree Bowl.

Two of the new three opponents of the Rockets are ranked higher than them in the statewide polls that came out Tuesday.

The Golden Lions from Garrard County will come to town next Friday night and they are currently ranked third in 1A.

The Corbin Redhounds will come to the Rock later in the season and they are currently ranked fourth in 2A, four spots ahead of Rockcastle.

7th grade wins 39-0

By Jim McAlister,

Sentinel Echo Sports Editor
Rockcastle County and North Laurel Middle School's seventh grade teams battled in the Second Annual Hall of Fame Middle School Bowl at North Laurel High School, Saturday.

The Rockets blasted their way to a 39-0 win over the Bobcats to keep the trophy in Mt. Vernon. Rockcastle beat North Laurel in the seventh grade game last season.

This time around, Rockcastle County scored 14 quick points to take the lead and never looked back in the lopsided win.

Josh Hale passed for five touchdowns, four to Paul Hayes in the win. The first TD came on a 39 yard pass to Hayes for a 6-0 lead. The conversion failed and RCMS led by six points.

Later in the quarter, Hale hooked up with Hayes on a 14 yard pass play for a 12-0 score. William Blair added the extra point and Rockcastle was on top 14-0.

Before the half ended, Hale hit Hayes for a 23 yard pass. The extra point by Blair pushed the Rockcastle lead to 21-0.

The Rockets would add a touchdown in the third and fourth quarters for the final margin. In the third period, Hale hit P.J. Rowe on a 73 yard pass play, Hale ran in the conversion for a 29-0 score.

With seconds ticking away, Hale hit Hayes once again from 39 yards out to put the game away. Blair added the PAT and Rockcastle led the 39-point win.

Hale finished the day with a school record, 206 yards through the air. The Rockets had a total of 248 yards compared to North Laurel's 49. Logan Jones accounted for 37 yards for the Bobcats, now 0-2 on the season.

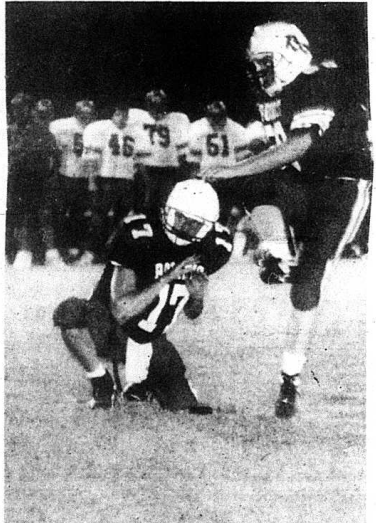

It was the first win for the seventh grade this season after losing to Whitley County on Thursday night.

8th grade wins

The Rockcastle Middle School 8th grade team will try to extend their winning streak when they host Southern Pulaski Thursday night to open the 1996 conference season.

The eighth grade team easily defeated Meece Middle School from Berea last Thursday night, 35-14.

The seventh grade game will begin at 6 p.m. at the middle school.

The Rockets defense held Pulaski Southwestern to only 7 yards of offense in the second half because of plays like the one above by cornerback Ronnie Vanzant.

Senior Jon Cromer (23) wraps up a Pulaski Warrior in the Rockets home season opener win Friday night. The Rockets beat the Warriors 20-6. Ready to help is #10 Dusty McClure who had two big interceptions in the game.

LEAP schedules Festival Day for September 21

Livingston Economic Alternatives In Progress (LEAP) is sponsoring a Festival Day, open to the public, on Saturday, September 21, 1996 from 2:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. This event will be for the whole family. The kids will love the clown and everyone will enjoy the live Country and Southern Rock music of Storm Front, playing from 3:30 - 5:30 p.m. There will be free samples of the delicious "Golden Kentucky Products" recently reported in the August issue of "Southern Living" magazine. Golden Kentucky Products specialty food line includes sorghum, honey, special sauces, barbecue sauce, dessert toppings and biscuit mixes. They are all produced near Livingston by local residents. In addition, the barbecue grills will be cooking up specialty meats produced by local LEAP member who are a part of the livestock project. Have you ever tried luscious lamb or gourmet goat meat? Perhaps you missed the flavor of pastured chicken like Grandma raised. LEAP will have samples of all these meats for you to try at the LEAP Festival Day. If you like what you taste, "Golden Kentucky Products" will be available for sale and order forms for the specialty meats will be available. LEAP is located on US Highway 25, 2 miles north of Livingston or seven miles south of Mt. Vernon. LEAP is a non-profit organization whose goals lie in creating economic self-sufficiency in Rockcastle County. Machal among 27 at Summer Science Honors Academy

Holly N. Machal, a junior at Rockcastle County High School, was one of 27 students participating in the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) Summer Science Honors Academy this summer. It was sponsored by ARC and the Department of Energy (DOE). Machal, daughter of Charles and Joyce Machal of Mt. Vernon, participated in a research project on mechanical properties of materials.

The academy, held in conjunction with a Teacher Leadership Institute, was hosted by Oak Ridge National Laboratory's (ORNL) divisions of Computer Science and Mathematics, Robotics and Process Systems, Metals and Ceramics, Energy, and Chemical Technology. The Oak Ridge Centers for Manufacturing Technology also hosted students. ORNL's Office of University and Science Education arranged the academy and the institute.

Students selected, by their state governments, represent nine Appalachian states—Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York, Mississippi, Maryland and Kentucky.

ARC was established by federal law in 1965 to foster development in 197 counties in the 13 Appalachian states. Other states not represented by students in the summer academy are Georgia, North Carolina, Ohio and Virginia.

The math-science initiative was undertaken in 1990 to give Appalachian students and teachers, especially those from remote areas, exposure to the best in scientific training and laboratory facilities through a cooperative program between ARC and DOE.

ORNL, one of DOE's multi-program national research and development facilities, is managed by Lockheed Martin Energy Research Corporation.

According to CKBC officials, transfusions of blood and components increased by a near-record 14% during the last year. on Tuesday, September 24th, from 12 p.m. - 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. - 7 p.m. at the AG Services Center. At least 65 donors are needed to maintain an adequate supply of blood for The Rockcastle County Hospital and other area hospitals.

"Patients are benefiting from the many high-tech medical procedures performed in Kentucky hospitals," says Sally Baker, CKBC spokeswoman.

Dear Editor,

I just wanted to tell you a little about the Livingston homecoming committee. If there has ever been a non-profit organization we are just that. Really it costs us to belong to this committee, gas, phone calls and such. We are the people that do most of the work and pay all the bills.

Here is a list of the people who make up the committee: Darlene Mink, Margaret Burdine, Tevis Bryant, Cioe Bryant, Maude Mullins, Mary McHargue, Bro. Billy Medley, Henry Carpenter, Rita Carpenter, Katha Carpenter, Bill Bryant, Jean Shoemaker and myself, Dell Ponder. We all work very hard so we can all have a homecoming.

As usual we had a very good singing on Friday night.

We were so sorry that Bro. Billy Medley got sick and was unable to be there. I would say it was the first one he has missed.

I think we had a nice parade on Saturday morning and we thank everyone that was in the parade. We know it takes time and a lot of effort to build floats and do all the things that has to be done to be in a parade. It was good to see the Jr. ROTC, class from RCHS and we hope to see you here next year.

Also the RCHS marching band. A parade without a band is just not a parade. We thank you so much for coming.

Our shoot-out didn't come off too well. Billy Medley was in charge of it, and he wasn't able to be here so that hurt but I think we will do it again next year.

Thanks to everyone who sat on the speakers platform. A special thanks to S.F.C. Johnny Harris for his talk about Monroe Smith.

The lawn mower race and pull was fun to watch. I think next year more people will want to be in it. The horse shoe pitching tournament. I know one thing, there are some ole boys in this county that can pitch horse shoes.

There was a mix-up in the paper on a few things. I am sure the reporter was just given the wrong information.

Buzz Carlofus was our Grand Marshal, White Star was the business of the year, Lil's Restaurant was given an award in appreciation of all the things they do for our community. Lee and Louise Mullins were given a plaque for all the years they were in business in Livingston. We wish for them a happy retirement. Dowell and Martin was given a plaque for Livingston's Best Friends of 1996, we cannot say enough about these guys. They support us every year, and we are grateful for that. They are just good old boys. As a matter of fact I think so much of them that they are the last people in this world that I want to have anything to do with me.

It is impossible to thank everyone that helped us with our homecoming, but I want to mention a few. The Mt. Vernon Signal for the very good coverage and the many pictures and the L.V.F.D. for getting all the other fire departments here, for lining up the parade, going after the fireworks and setting them off and for the use of the fire house. It would be hard to have a homecoming without L.V.F.D. Thanks to John Kuhn for the good job he did in calling the parade, and emceeing the program, to Paul Ponder for the donations of the covering for the stage, and putting it up.

A very special thanks to Curt McHargue for all the work he did on the stage floor and on the gym roof. And to our good friend, Donald McClure.

See you all next year. Dell Ponder, chairman Livingston HCC

Many people still feel like we are living in the same time frame that we were 50 years ago. But we need to take a second look. The Information Age is here! I have been told that the information that was available from 8,000 B.C. until 1950 only doubled in that period of time. From 1950 to 2,000 the information will double each year. This is indeed mind boggling but these are the facts and we have to adjust accordingly or we will be left behind.

No longer do we have to rely on the printed word in book form for the information needed. Technology is here in many forms and we here at the library are in the process of having new technical services available.

The library belongs to everyone and it is our responsibility to have the needed information and have the accessibility to get it quickly for anyone needing our services.

Our number one goal at this time is to get connected to Internet. Many libraries are already hooked up and are having great results.

I confess I don't have much knowledge about the Internet, but Betty, Pam and I are attending a class in technical services to be able to help our patrons with the computers when we are connected to internet. Last Friday was the first time that I have had access to a computer with internet and I must say the experience was rewarding. At the click of a button all this information is there before you. I am greatly impressed and can hardly wait until we are connected. So much knowledge is available and not only do the students need this but adults as well. We are never to old to learn new ideas and to gain new information. When people discontinue their desire to gain more knowledge and to keep up with current affairs, they will indeed grow old much faster.

Libraries will always have books but not to the extent that they have in the past. Non-fiction books will not be needed as much when the information may be gained faster and easier by other means. But we will continue to especially buy books for children and always fiction books for reading enjoyment.

We like to hear comments from our patrons concerning their needs. Some novels for your reading pleasure are: WHERE EVIL SLEEPS by Valerie Wilson Wesley... Tamara Hayle is after some much needed R&R down in sunny Kingston, Jamaica, when she is befriended by a chatty fellow tourist from Jersey. Against her better judgement, Tamara joins her new friend, Lilah Love, and Lilah's two male traveling companions for a night on the town; the result is murder. Tamara suspects Lilah, although that lead eventually turns out very cold. More murder, mayhem, and a tryst with a man from her past all put Tamara in the path of a killer, until she finally finds the spot where evil sleeps.

DIRT by Stuart Woods... Feared and disliked for both her poison pen and ice-cyber persona, biocastal gossip columnist Amanda Dart finds the tables have turned. The unwitting victim of an anonymous gossip-monger who is faxing to national opinion makers an outrageous scandal sheet revealing the details of her ongoing indiscretions with a nationally known makeover artist, Amanda enlists the help of New York lawyer and investigator Stone Barrington to learn the identity of the faxer. Everybody is a suspect in the world of tabloid journalism. As the faxes grow more scathing and begin to expose the peccadilloes of not only Amanda but other members of the gossip community, Barrington winds up with more leads that he can handle and an employer who is about to take matters dangerously in her own hands.

DIRT is a mesmerizing tale of betrayal and murder set against the backdrop of the rapid fire Manhattan tabloid business.

A SWEETNESS TO THE SOUL by Jane Kirkpatrick... Based on historical characters and events, A Sweetness to the Soul recounts the captivating story of young, spirited Oregon Pioneer Jane Herbert who at the age of twelve faces a tragedy which begins a life-long search for forgiveness and love.

In the years that follow, young

Jane finds herself involved in an unusual and touching romance with a dreamer sixteen years her senior, struggles to make peace with an emotionally distant mother, and fights to build a family of her own.

Two non-fiction books of interest are... ENTER THE ZONE. A dietary Road Map to, 1. Lose weight permanently 2. Reset your genetic code. 3. Prevent disease. 4. Achieve maximum physical performance. 5. Enhance mental productivity... by Barry Sears, Ph.D... For years experts have been telling Americans what to eat and what not to eat. Fat, they told us, was the enemy. Then it was salt, then sugar, then cholesterol, and on it goes. Americans listened and lost - but not their excess fat. What they lost was their health and waistlines. Americans are the fittest people on earth... and why? Mainly because of the food they eat.

In this scientific and revolutionary book, Dr. Barry Sears makes peak physical and mental performance, as well as permanent fat loss, simple for you to understand and to achieve.

A Guide TO BIRD BEHAVIOR Volume II by Donald and Lillian Stokes... 25 different birds are featured in this book. For each species included, this book contains: Complete life histories; Details of courtship and territorial behavior; How to recognize songs and displays and much more. Great for all bird lovers. Also we have the novel SERVANT OF THE BONES by Anne Rice. Many of you may have seen her in Lexington last week at the Joseph-Beth Book Store, promoting this new book.

Retired teachers meet in Richmond

By Elnora Burke
The 12th Annual Meeting of CKRTA East was held at the Holiday Inn, in Richmond, August 22, 1996. This district is made up of Estill, Garrard, Jackson, Lee, Lincoln, Montgomery, Madison, Powell and Rockcastle Counties.

President Sue French, opened the meeting with welcoming remarks and then introduced CKRTA Rep. Frank Hatfield, our new association president, Robert Estes; Health and Insurance chairman, Robert Kelly; Legislative Representative, Bobby Humes; Membership Chairman, Virginia Shaw and AARP spokesperson, Pearl Miller.

The invocation was given by Eldon Bowling of Jackson County and the pledge to the flag was led by Lincoln County.

President Estes then took the floor and talked about retirement in general. He said he did not know an unhappy retired teacher. I'm not sure I agree with him, but I do think people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.

Virginia Shaw, who has served us well as State Association president, is stepping down from that office and has been named CKRTA Membership Chairman, replacing M.L. Archer.

An award is to be given annually in Mr. Archer's name to districts which have 90% or better membership. It seems strange that a person would work 25-30 or 40 years in a position that would give them the right to be represented by an association that would protect that right, and then not be willing to give $15 yearly to have someone represent them in their retirement. CKRTA-East is 8th place statewide with 69.7% membership. We're proud that Rockcastle County is first in our district with 93.3%.

Mrs. Shaw again reminded us to read our bill from the state. She told us again, "the association does not send out 'junk mail.'" Mr. Estes and Mr. Humes also stressed our need to be informed. Read your publications, know your representative, work with your local association. Let your voice be heard.

Diana Witt, KTRS Representative gave a very thorough report on the history of the retirement system, the number of retirees, average age, average annuity, membership numbers, etc. There's a toll free number 1-800-618-1687 if you have a question.

Robert Kelly, Health and Insurance Chairman, discussed changes to come in insurance. There will be very little change if you are 65 or older, but we're still waiting for decisions on those under 65. He thinks we should know something shortly, maybe in October. There was discussion about long-term care, comp-dent, hearing devices, Legaline, etc. The meeting was then opened to questions several of which were answered by an agent from the long-term care insurance program.

Gatiff Craig was asked to say grace and we broke for lunch, which was served beautifully and well by the Holiday Inn staff.

The afternoon session was called to order by Sue French, Norma Willoughby, of Montgomery Co. read the secretary's and treasurer's reports. A short memorial was given by Catherine Powell of Madison Co. Eldon Bowling was elected District Vice-President and Sue French was named Executive Council member for the next two years.

Local presidents of the nine counties that make up CKRTA-East were introduced. We were happy to have our new president, Betty A. Glover, present.

Elbert Hudson, of Beattyville, was introduced as District President to succeed Sue French, who has served us ably for the past two years. Louis Power, Madison County is President-Elect, Sharleen Power, Madison County was named District Membership Chairman and a By Laws Committee made up of Louis Power, Sue French, Virginia Shaw, Eldon Bowling, and Norma Willoughby was named.

This was a very successful and informative meeting. Approximately 75 people attended. Rockcastle County was represented by Gatiff Craig, Sue French, Joanna Allen, Betty Ann Glover and Elnora Burke.

the directions in which they lead us. He then read Robert Frost's poem, "The Road Not Taken."

Sue French gave a report on the CKRTA-East meeting we had attended in Richmond. She urged us to keep ourselves aware and to be prepared to help if a session of the legislature is called.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Hello everyone. Hope you are well and happy and receiving great blessings from our heavenly Father. He is so, so good to us and blesses us in so many ways (many undeserving). The one question that bothers me is this "Why can't we as human beings love one another as God loves us?" Think about it, and let's all of us try to be a little more loving.

Sunday was another great Lord's day that we all enjoyed. We had good attendance for worship service at Fairview and 99 attended Sunday School. Then on Sunday night we were surprised and greatly pleased to see one of our former pastors of years ago, Bro. Howard Meadows, and his wife visit with us. He has recently married and now lives in Broadhead. He resided in Ohio for many years. We were so glad to see him and hope he and his wife can visit again soon.

Sympathy and prayers go out to all those who have lost loved ones recently.

Eugene Alexander remains on the sick list and needs the prayers of all good Christian people. But, he is blessed with love and concern by many friends and loved ones. Visiting at the home of Eugene and Hallie recently have been, Mike Gay, David McFarland and children; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gabbard; Lee Abney; Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Gabbard; Sarah Shewe; Jerry Gabbard; Phyllis Gabbard; John and Hilda Gabbard; Kenny Holt; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lamb; Floyd Lamb; Mr. and Mrs. Allen

Dunn; Johnny and Jennifer Gabbard; Lorene Napier of Evans and Mrs. Anna Carey and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Wagoner and daughter of Crossville, Tennessee. Also Hubert and Anna Lee Chasteen.

Attending the Mullins Reunion at Mullins Station, Sunday, September 1st were Mrs. Edith Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Ponder and Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Lee Croucher and other members of the immediate family.

Recent guests of Mrs. Mary Cope have been Earl Shupe of Berea and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ceamenas and their son and his girl friend, of Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Cope's children who live close visit her quite often too.

Visiting Hubert and me recently were Mr. and Mrs. Burton Stephens; Darrin and Cheryl Chasteen; James, Joyce and Kim Seals; Wayne and Carolyn Chasteen and Jewell Davidson.

Try to have a good week, don't work too hard I feel that many people today don't get the sleep and rest they need. Most places of employment are working their employees too hard. 10 hours a day and 6 days a week is too much.

Attend Church and Sunday School when you can. Love the Lord and love your neighbors. God bless you.
