PART 4 - EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The challenge of meeting the needs of today, with a plan for meeting the needs of the future was evident throughout the 1995-96 school year for Rockeastle County Schools. Current demands/needs are not only throughout the 1997-05 school year to recrease to county schools. Current contains account and only calculational in nature, since the challenge has been increased to include physical and social needs of students. The extent to which all needs are met determines how well the primary challenge of education will be accomplished. Increased commitment from all stakeholders has been crucial to the success of the district. School personnel, students, parents and the community as a whole, have accepted the mission to prepare our students adult life and the world of work that anxiously awaits them.

This Annual Performance Report outlines information that substantiates the continuous impro ent that was made during the 1995-% school year. As we raise expectations, standards and commitment, Rockcastle County Schools will continue to improve. Future improvement is contingent upon the concept of a learning community, with an increased community and all.

Primary accomplishments of the Rockcastle County School District for the 1995-96 school year were:

- Continued improvement/modification of block scheduling at the secondary level
  Continued participation in the Effective Schools Process
  Continued emphasis/attainment of high attendance rate (96%)
  Successful implementation of plan to make Internet available in all schools Increased the number of teachers and administrators traised/asing Different Ways of Knowing
- D.W.O.K.)
- Continued participation with the Kentucky Council on Economic Education

The following goals have been established for the 1996-97 school year:

- Improvement of human service delivery (from the school system as well as or Improve coordination of management resources (professional development for (Rate evit
- Improvement of KIRIS score

- Improve chemical of kitch scores improvement of kitch scores in prove technology usage (staff, student and community)
  Improvement of public engagement initiatives (community of learners)
  Continued promotion of a safe and orderly environment
  Continued implementation of School to Work initiatives
  Continue to emphasize high attendance and low dropout rates
  Continue promotion of District participation with the National Allience for Restructuring Education
  N.A.P.E. INAREL
- ue secondary restructuring efforts to include time usage (block scheduling), Tech Prep and High Schools That Work (HSTW)
- Continue participation in Effective Schools Process
- Continue emphasis of increased expectations and lifting education aspirations of students and community

Mission Statement

The mission of Rockeastle County Schools is to develop students who have the knowledge and basic life skills to lead productive, fulfilling lives, therefore, we must create a positive educational environment which requires a well-defined curriculum, appropriate facilities and a total commitment from school personnel, students, parents and community

The word commitment means a pledge or a promise to do something. When I hear the word commitment, I think of a bus driver. He is committed to take children home safely and see that they get there.

Justin Woodall 7th Grade

When I think of commitment, I think of people like teachers committed to their students and parents committed to their children. Commitment means you stick with something. Teachers and parents never give up on their kids. They are always hoping for the best.

Aaron McKibben 7th Grade

Commitment is considered by most an obligation such as marriage. It is also considered a commitment to finish a sport once you start. To me, a commitment is similar to most people's ideas. The only difference is that I don't believe obligation is similar to commitment. I believe an obligation is something that has to be done and a commitment just should be done.

James Thacker '8th Grade

I recognize commitment in my parents' lives by their faithfulness in marriage.

Rachelle Hammond 8th Grade

Commitment:

an act of committing to a charge or trust.

A commitment can be as small as doing a chore or going to football practice. It can also be as big as taking care of the United States. When you commit to something, you should stick with it, no matter how tough or hard it is to see it through.

Thomas Coffey 8th Grade

Commitment is the act of committing but goes much deeper than a state of being committed. It is being totally focused, taking something completely to heart. A commitment is doing what you say you'll do to the best of your ability, doing everything you possibly can to fulfill the commitment you've made. A true commitment requires your immediate and utmost attention. A commitment is one of the most sacred morales of civilized mankind.

Steven Hopkins 8th Grade

To me, commitment is a cherished word. The human race often says they are committed to something when they are truly not. People often shun commitment. It is not that they dislike it but that they have a fear of it.

Tasha Vanzant 8th Grade

When I ponder the word commitment, immediately I think about God, church and family. I also associate the words values and morals with the word commitment.

Stephanie Cummins 8th Grade

Commitment is a word that can be associated with many things. It can be associated with things in the real world and things you promise to do or act upon.

Tara Burton 8th Grade

When I hear the word Commitment, I think of people helping each other. For example: When someone is sick or hurt and they ask for help, it is your responsibility or your duty to help them. I think there should be an eleventh commandment "Thou shalt be committed."

Ben Taylor 6th Grade

Each day, we make a commitment to get up to go to school and our parents go to work and right there, you are making a commitment to start a new day.

Michelle Rowe 6th Grade

When I think of commitment, I think of football. When I was in the fourth grade, I decided to try football. I didn't work at it like I should and I didn't stick with it. I decided I was not ready to play and I wasn't committed to the game, so I quit. In the fifth grade, I decided to try football again. I stayed with the game and gave it the very best I could.

Tanner Abney 6th Grade

Everyone knows or should know what commitment is. It is when you take the time and effort to get something right or finished. Notice the word time. Commitment takes time.

Coty Laswell 6th Grade I think everyone should have a commitment to themselves. They should be determined to finish school, never do drugs and shouldn't care what others think about them. I feel everyone should have a commitment to themselves.

Amanda Cummins 6th Grade

In my own words commitment is when you make a promise to keep something; for example, as a student, I make commitments in my education to learn as much as possible. Teachers are committed to teaching kids and helping them learn. If teachers weren't committed to their job, what would our schools be like?

Sheena McKinney 7th Grade

The word commitment has many diverse meanings. Each person's perception of the word is different. I think commitment is being determined to excel. When you enjoy something, you are willing to spend most of your time putting effort into it. Teachers are committed to helping their students learn and to expand in all that they can accomplish.

Fatal crash results in three count indictment

'A Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down a murder indictment/last week against a Lexington man accused of murdering an entire family last summer.

Charles Mullins, 34, of 401 Brainbridge Court, was indicted on three counts of murder in connection with the July 4th crash on the Ky. 461 by-pass near Mt. Vernon that claimed the lives of three members of an Ohio family.

Rockcastle and Pulaski County Commonwealth's Attorney Ray Carmichael said that results of tests conducted on Mullins at the time of the wreck indicated that he was under the influence of alcohol.

"His blood alcohol level was well above the legal limit for Kentucky drivers when he drove his van into the path of the other vehicle that night," Carmichael said.

Killed in the 2 a.m. accident were Romie Schumaker, Cindy J.

Schumaker and their nine-year-old son, Gustin Schumaker all of Pataskala, Ohio a suburb of Columbus.

The wreck also injured the Schumaker's neice, Amanda Schumaker, who was treated and released from the Rockcastle Hospital. Ironically Amanda Schumaker was the only one wearing a seat belt the night of the crash.

Mullins is currently being held in the Fayette County Detention Center under a $100,000 cash or property bond. He will be arraigned in Rockcastle Circuit Court on October 11.

Parents cited, fined for educational neglect

The parents of two Rockcastle County Middle School students ound themselves in court last Wednesday facing charges of educational neglect.

Donna Hopkins, 32, of Brodhead and Isabel Watkins, 40, of Mt.

Vernon both pled guilty to not sending their children to school.

Hopkins and Watkins were both fined $100 and court costs, but District Judge Mike Henry suspended the fines for a period of one year on the condition the students are sent to school.

"We are taking these kinds of situations very seriously," said oretta Powell, Director of Students Services in Rockcastle County. "Those children have returned to school and we will monitor their situation to see that there are no new problems," Mrs. Powell s "We will not hesitate to bring charges against any parent we find to be neglecting their responsibilities in sending their children to school," she said.

Man injured in stolen, wrecked pick-up A Mt. Vernon man was found injured in a wreck on Chestnut Ridge Road early Sunday.

Darrell Rogers of Mt. Vernon was taken to Rockcastle Hospital where the doctors took 200 stitches and released him.

Rogers is accused of stealing the pick-up truck from Richard Gibbs of Mt. Village Apartments , Mt. Vernon. He was charged with DUI, receiving stolen property, burglary, and criminal attempt to commit a theft.

Rogers, who was thrown from the truck, is in Rockcastle Jail under $5,500 cash bond.

ring the accident, he reportedly tore down a mail box belonging to Rodney Reams.

Truck stolen, recovered

A 1995 Toyota pickup was stolen from Chad Neal on Davis Street in Mt. Vernon on September 21.

It was found burned in Sand Springs the same day. Policeman Lafe Owens investigated.

A Ford Festiva belonging to Kenneth Buker on Richmond Street was stolen Sunday night.

It was recovered by the owner on September 17.

Doan back in sheriff's office; Alcorn leaves

Darrell Doan is the new deputy sheriff replacing Randall Reynolds who resigned about two weeks ago.

Doan has been a deputy sheriff for about nine years

He resigned from Sheriff Shirley Smith's office in September 1994 after differences with Sheriff Smith.

In another job in the sheriff's office Deputy Karen Alcom will leave her job on October 1.

Alcom has been a deputy for nearly seven years. She has taken a job as Pre-trial officer.

Homecoming Festivities

Miss Amy Whitter was elected Homecoming Queen and crowned during halftime festivities of the Rockcastle - Garrard football game last Friday night. Miss Whitter, a senior, is the daughter of Bobby Whitter and Brenda Renner and was also Jamboree Bowl Queen two weeks ago. In the top photo are Miss Whitter and the other two top vote getters Renea Bowles and Heather Hayes. Miss Bowles, a senior, is the daughter of James and Delina Bowles and Miss Hayes is the daughter of Hayes. Some of the other

prisoners to county jail

State agrees to return

The Kentucky Department of Corrections has agreed to allow the Rockeastle County jail to house their prisioner again, according to Rockeastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette. "We have ngodiated anagreement with the Justice Cabinet and Departmentof Corrections for the jail to once again house state immates," stated Burdette, who represented becounty in negotiations Wednesday. "It simply requires the Hearing Officer's approval once it is reduced to writing and I expect that to occur this week."

week."

Burdette went on to say that "Jailer
Joe Howard and County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis worked diligently to comply with all requests made by the Department of Corrections and credit is due them in helpine to facilitate this agreement."

In August the state pulled their prisoners from the county jail because of what they called "continued problems with the day to day operations."

tions."

The jail's budget has been hit hard by the mounting bills to house juvenile offenders in other facilities and the renovation project. That, along with the loss of revenue from the state to house prisoners awaiting transfer to another facility or sen-tenced for a short period of time, has put the county jail's budget in dire

During the regular monthly meeting of the court on Tuesday, county treasurer Joe Clontz told the court the jail budget was $23,640 in the red and that some bills had not been paid.

Last year the Kentucky Depart-ment of Corrections paid the county $107,000 to house "state prisoners." Currently the county is not receiving any money for that service. "That's our cash flow, we need it back," Clontz

Fiscal Court told Library needs repairs

By Ray McCL ure
"The outside of the Rockcastle Library is falling down around us,"
Library Board Chairman Allen Tensol told a meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court Tuesday.
He was accompanied to the meeting by Librarian Geraldine Robbins, who concurred with Pensol's evaluation.
Pensol said the library needs a new roof before the fall rains as well, as building up the parking lot around the library so it will drain off the water.

"We can't spend another winter with the parking lot an ice skating rink," Pensol stated. "The library also needs some paint and a new roof."

roof."
Pensol said the indoor renovation is complete which the library board did. "But we can't do the outside of the building."
Judge/sexecutive Buzz Carloftis told Pensol and Mrs. Robbins the court will do some of the work the said maintenance supervisor James Willer was making an inquiry into the needs and would take a report soon.

The judge said shingles for the roof will cost about $2300, not inroot will cost about $2,300, not in-cluding installation. He said a painter who is in jail will do any painting. The parking left was not mentioned. The judge ended his discussion with the two visitors with, "The county will try to get to it before winter." The court filled a vacancy on the board of directors for the library by naming Jerry Burke to fill the seat vacated by Maude Randolph, who vacated by Maude Randolph, who resigned.

The court accepted the Board of Education tax rate at 44.4 cents per hundred dollars.

The court approved paying a sheriff's office dispatcher for vacation time she failed to take when she quith Fe job. The court approved the payment if the woman had not been paid for some days she took off. She was hired by the sheriff's office and had been considered full time for a d been considered full time for a full year.

Once again the jail fund was deep in the red, to the tune of $23,640.

That was the balance at the end of August. The Joe Howard Jail Fund was in the black by $7.550, which is at telephone calls by immates.

Judge Carlotis said the expected to receive a check for $112,000 from FEMA for the amount the county was allocated for 65 mad projects last May. He said the money left would go into the road fund.

The court approved a resolution designating the Commonwealth of Kentucky as a Child Support Model

There was a time in my life when numerous adolescents and tecnagers

Many of the boys were trim, macho athletes and the girls were slender, giggly, chewing-gum nunchers who ran around in groups munchers who ran around in groups of three or four shyly hoping the previously mentioned boys would cast a glance their way. Now I encounter the boys in shop-ping malls and at social events with full beards and bellies hanging over unabashedly kiss me on the cheek. Then I discover that the last time I saw them was when they were flat hested and in braces in the eighth grade at Mount Vernon Elementary and I feel ashamed of myself. In 1972 I lived just around the corner from Suc Bennett College in London, Kentucky, Four or five guys who were students at the college shared anapartment in the same building. I believe it was against college niles for them to live off campus but they were all flunking Freshman English and they made a pretty pittiff all present the state of the night, after they learned that I had majored in English in college, wanting help with stuff they should have learned in grammar school.

After a week or two of this, I offered to set up a tutoring session twice a week if they'd do things like wash my car, clean my apartment or perform any other chore that needed doing. By the end of the semester I had them and all five of their girl-friends in the session. I not only had friends in the session. I not only had the cleanest and best kept apartment in the complex, but my shirts were always starched and ironed, my pants pressed, and my old Volkswagon consistently looked like it had just been driven off the show-room floor.

By the end of the second semester, all ten of those kids had earned A's and B's in their dreaded Freshman English courses. And to this day that's arrived. But while working on the commode, which has always rocked a wee bit when occupied, the base cracked – and suddenly Nancy and I realized we were in for a commode less night. In other words, we had something in common with the proverbial snake that didn't have a pit to hiss in

But we managed. A quote from Dolly Parton is appropo in that it explains how we managed. Said she, "I like living far enough out in the country that you can pee off your porch."

later our good plumber returned to hook it up. Bu when he opened the box that contained the bowl part of the unit, he said, "Uh-oh!"

"What's wrong?" I asked. He pointed to a crack that rounded three-fourths of the small of the bowl – AND THEN HE POINTED TO WATER STANDING IN THE BOWL. It was obvious that this bowl had been connected and used somewhere before the crack was discovered and the unit was returned to the place of purchase — WHERE IT WOULD BE RE-BOXED AND SOLD TO US!

Our plumber immediately cutred it. Because he tid not have the receipt, which Nancy had the come flack. But our good plumber got tough, telling this fellow what was up and what was in sorre for his place of business if he didn't get with it right away. He did, and our man returned with a new bowl and affixed it to the floor of our bathroom.

Beloved, the last two days have been somewhat exasperating. First of all, a Monday trip to Lexington which involved seeing one doctor in the morning and another in mid-afternoon, and having to "wait" when I got to their offices on time, kinda took the sap out of me, I being one who is over fifty and haz grey-haired man with an ax in a current television vitamin commercial.

And I forgot to take my pain relief medication. By the time I go them I was tight and hurting to home I was tight and hurting po little bit, and somewhat grouchy. (By the way, I read last week that the philosopher, William James, had bad back and referred to it as bid work and referred to it as in "dorsal insanity." James is known for his theory of pragmatism. He said, 'If an idea works, then it is true. "But I'debes not get into that, because I might end up saying that what is true for one person is not necessarily true for another person! [An azide] My dearly beloved, Anoxy Katherine, accompanied me to Lexington. While she was waiting for me in the reception room of the Pain Management Clinic, one of the clinic doctors came to the front desk for some reason. While there spoke to the receptionist in a voice he apparently thought would not be heard in the reception room itself. Defending The Institution of Marriage

A tragic consequence of the decline of morals in our society has been the degradation of the institution of marriage. Now Congress is faced with the task of defining marriage. Apparently, this has become necessary in today's world.

Traditionally, marriage has been defined as a union between a man and a woman. Now, however, there are groups who believe this definition is too narrow. They feel that same-sex "marriages' should be recognized and treated no differently than heterosexual couples receive.

It is a sad commentary on American society when we are debating the issue of whether or not we should legally recognize homosexual marriages. It has been proven time and time again that what children need most is a mother and a father who care. The needs of our nation's children should certainly come before the social agends of groups seeking to further their own interests.

This is why I am a co-sponsor of the Defense of Marriage Act, which passed the Senate recently with a voic of 85-14. This bill defines marriage, in federal law, as a union between husband and wife, and gives states like Kentucky the right not recognize homosexual marriages that are performed in other states or jurisdictions. This does not mean that same-sex marriages will be banned. It simply means that the government of one state is not required to recognize a same-sex marriage performed in another state.

Since the beginning of time, the institution of marriage has

Since the beginning of time, the institution of marriage has been a sacred union between a man and a woman. We must ask ourselves if we are willing to abandon the ideals of most in order to appease a few. I am proud to be a co-sponsor of The Defense of Marriage Act, which protects and defends the institution of marriage.

Act, or any other issue, please feel free to contact me at my office,

While people's individual prefer-ences vary, the less acidic, sweeter varieties generally are best eaten fresh. These varieties include Fuji, Gala and Red Delicious. More tart varieties with a firm texture, such as Granny Smith, Rome Beauty and Jonathan, are best for cooking. Some varieties are all-purpose and can be used fresh and cooked. These include Golden Delicious and Winesap.

From a nutritional standpoint, apples are a good source of fiber and are free of fit and sodium. Whether picking apples at a tree, roadside stand, or grocery store, choose fruit that its firm to the touch with a bruits—free, smooth, clean skin. Immature apples have less color and flavor. When too mature, apples are mealy and lack that crisp crunch.

"Store apples in the refrigerator, preferably in the crisper compartment," Brown said. "Apples ripen 10 times faster at room temperature than when kept chilled. When eating apples fresh, let them warm to room temperatures for about an hour to achieve the best flavor. Dunk apple slices in a 50-50 lemon juice and water to keep the fruit from turning brown."

Rockets beat Garrard Lions 14-12

The football Gods were looking kindly on the Rockcastle County Rockets Friday night as they helped Rockets Friday night as they helped them hold off an excellent Garrard County team 14-12 for their fourth straight win of the season. "We played well, our kids ect-tainly deserved to win because of the excellent effort they gave," said Head Coach Tom Larkey.

Coach Tom Larkey.

Garrard County, which was ranked third in Class A, brought an excellent team to the Rock Friday along with a host of Garrard fans hoping to avenge a loss to the Rockets a year ago. ets a year ago.
The Lions left with 23 yards more total offense but two fewer points.

"Our boys bowed up when we needed it the most," Larkey said.
With 12 seconds left in the game,

With 12 seconds left in the game, Garrard County scored on a 36 yard Dass from quarterback Nick Sullivan to wideout Willie Hill. They were down 14-12 and of course went for two to tie the game. The Garrard quarterback took the ball around left end, but defensive end Slade Calhonn got a hand on him early to slow him down and comerback Dusty McClure finished him off on the one yard line, sealing the victory for the Rockets.

This team is capable of winning the Class A state title this year and 1 think we did a back of job, getting the win over them, "Larkey said.

But, the Golden Lions and their think we did a heck of job, getting the win over them.* Larkey said.

But, the Golden Lions and their fans left the Rock Friday njght feeling like they had been cheated out for he game by a controversial third quarter call.

After the Rockets took the lead on a great 70 yard nun by Jason Brown, Quarterhack Sullivan took the hall on the next series and headed on a 60 yard run for the end zone.

But, when Sullivan got the end Zone. But, when Sullivan got the end zone he fumbled the ball and the Rockets recovered giving them the ball back on the 20 yard line.

Lion's coach Jerry Perry was absolutely outraged and the call and had to be walked off the field by head refegre Rollie Anders.

Perry thought, as did many spectators and players, that Sullivan was in the end zone when he fumbled and that the ground actually caused the fumble, which would have given Garrard another touchdown.

However the referee following play play did the fire following play did the see it that way and called the fumble a live ball and therefore a fumble recovery by the Rock.

Coach Larkey admitted on Tuesday that the Lion player may have indeed scored on the controversial play, but he said those things happen in high school footshell and it may not have made any difference anyway. There is no way of knowing if that call really had anything to do with the win or not," he said. On offense the Rockets were led by Jason Brown, who $\frac{4}{8}$ having a great year from the tailback position. Brown carried the ball $2$ times and racked up 197 yards. He scored one of the Rockets two touchdowns. Jon Cromer turned in another excellent game with 40 yards not one carry, Madeon Shepphers, and Anthony King had 13 yards on five carries.

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month

This month, battered women's advocates throughout Kentucky and across the nation, are working to focus public awareness on the epidemic of dimestic violence and encouraging all Americans to become part of the solution.

Domestic violence has reached epidemic proportions. In the United States, four million women are physically abused each year by the men who promised to love them. And here in southeastern Kentucky, over four hundred women and children had to seek shelter, due to domestic abuse over the past year. The Family Life Abuse Center, a spouse abuse shelter, of the Christian Appalachian Project, serves victims in the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, made up of Bell, Clay, Jackson, Harlan, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle and Whitley counties. The shelter offers safe harbor from the abuser, while also providing counseling, legal advocacy and assistance in obtaining educational, employment and housing opportunities. No woman should fear violence in sistance in obtaining educational, employment and housing opportunities. No woman should fear violence in her home. No child should dread coming home. But help is available. During the month of Octobe, domestic violence prevention advocates will be raising public awareness of domestic violence, providing people with ideas for action, and letting women who are abused know that they are not alone and that help is available.

Domestic violence affects all of available.

Domestic violence affects all of us—every community, every workplace, every family. And we all have a responsibility to end domestic violence. Action can be simple as contributing money or clothing to a contributing money or clothing to a local women's shelter. Some pople might prefer to volunteer their time to a local program or shelter. Affix-ing a bumper sticker to a car requires only seconds, but sends a clear mes-sage that there is no excuse for do-mestic violence. Individuals who are looking for ways to help, or would like to participate in Domestic Vio-lence Awareness Month activities can all (660/256-9511 or the crisis hot-line is 1-800-755-5348.

In loving Memories of Our Family David and Eliza Westerfield

David and Eliza Westerfield From their ywo daughters and sisters Our circle has been broken as mom and dad went away. They were met at the golden gate, the three grown sisters and the five little infants. They all had on these beautiful gowns. They all had on these beautiful gowns. Their golden crowns in their hands. The little angels, so small they could hardly be seen, Golden slippers on all their feet. What a beautiful sight to see. As the older ones started to sing.

The baby ones joined right in, Their voices were loud and plain. They could hardly stand, But they couldn't fall,

For the King that stood by them all. Sadly missed by the two daughters and sisters, Mollie Westerfield and Tara

SENATOR WENDELL FORD

When Sesame Street's Kermit the Frog addressed

When Sesame Street's Kermit the Frog addressed Oxford University in England last year he joked that "It used to be that the only way a frog could get into a university was as an experiment in dissection."
White there's little doubt frogs will still be going to college the traditional way, too many middle income families aren't so confident about the availability of traditional avenues to higher education for their children, like student loans and scholarships.

A recent poll for CNN and USA Today found that for the first time in history, voters rated education as their top priority, above crime, the economy, health care and the deficit. And they've got good reason to be concerned. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that 60 percent of all jobs created between 1992 and 2005 will require more than a high school education.

That's why Democrats and this Administration put into place key programs to improve the quality of elementary and secondary education and to make college more affordable for working families, including Direct College Lending, Community Service, Goals 2000 and the School-to-Work Act.

We also beat back efforts in this Congress to enact some of the largest education cuts in the Nation's history and to repeal the successful education initiatives Democrats had put into place less than a year before. If we're going to have the best trained work force in the world, then we have to build on initiatives like School-to-Work and Direct College Lending. Our mexit goal should be to assure that by the year 2000, any American who wants to go to college has the opportunity.

To reach that goal, we need to consider proposals

It is a S. 1500 per year tuition tax credit, a HOPE schol-arship for the first two years of college, deductions for college tuition costs, and tax-free IRAs for education costs.

And access to more education shouldn't be limited to just the college bound. A new GI bill for American workers, with a $2,600 grant for unemployed and underemployed workers, would assure they could get the training and the skills they need to go back to work at better-paying iobs.

training and the skills they need to go back to work at better-paying jobs.

But perhaps the most important aspect of these proposals is that they're offset and paid for with other spending cuts to assure that while we're better preparing our holldren and our workers, we're not simultaneously mortgaging off their futures.

Whether assuring that every classroom has the tools it needs from chalk to computers or increasing access to a college education from scholarships to tax breaks, we need to strengthen our educational system not further weaken it. And for now, that means leaving any cuts in education to Kermit's dissection experiments.

And when they get together It's always an awesome test

The Lions were out for revenge From a licking the year before, When the Rock invaded their turf And came out on top of the score.

It was homecoming night at the Rock And the players were filled with

For they'd had a bonfire rally thenight before That set their souls on fire.

The Rock went through their warm-ups

As the Lions looked on in awe. Then they started snarling And baring fang and claw

The Rock dance team Performed admirably before the crowd,

And the appreciative audience Cheered long and hard.

JROTC presented the colors As the national anthem was played by the band. And the huge crowd arose
To honor the symbol of ourgreat land.

A monstrous sized spirit line Made a lane for the Rocks
And spirit was at a fever pitch
For it would be a game of hard knocks

On the Rock's first possession, Good runs were made by Carrera, Cromer and Brown, and blocks.

But it all went for nought As a field goal attempt fell down.

Lions on their possess Tried to make the Rocks fly, But they had a foul up

The Rocks latched onto the ball took it into the land of honey and clover, Then Shepherd on a two yard run

Bulldozed the ball on over

Blackburn kicked the extra point And the Lion's possession was three

The Rocks got the ball and fumbled it But the Lions fumbled right back and - made the home crowd shout.

The Rocks returned the favo an interceptiion by the Lions And on this possession, they scored But the PAT attempt went toward's

During the halftime intermission There was a great performance by flag girls and band Then Amy Whitter was crowned

Homecoming Queen
Surrounded by the most beautiful girls in the land.

The Rock scored again in the third, On a seventy yard run by Long Gone Brown, Who turned on his afterburners

And cruised right on down

Again Blackburn kicked the extra point And the Rock was up by eight, And for the hard-fighting Lions The hour was growing late.

But like a championship tam, They rallied for a late fourth quarter

When on a thirty six yard pass to Hill, They tacked on six more

Now the Rock led by only two And the fans rose to their feet, For the Lions had to make two Or for sure they were beat.

The mighty Rock defense rose to the occasion,

And once more they would prevail, Leaving the Lions two points short For another chance at the victory

The Rock fans celebrated the victory As fireworks rent the sky,
And the Rock players and coaches
Gave a relieved and joyful sigh.

Congrats to the coaches, team and supporting cast
For youall are really going great,
And there's very few teams
That are 4-0 in the state.

Momma Shepherd predicted victory

The Rock always wins.

counties growing--and growing old Rural

Mount Vernon Signal

According to the University of Louisville's Kentucky State Data Center (KSDC), the rural population of Kentucky has increased by an average of 4.7 percent since 1990. Deven more interesting, though, is that the population growth is not attributed to a baby boom-but to baby boomers.

omers.
Ron Crouch, director of the KSDC,

RonCrouch, director of the KSDC, said Kentucky's population is graying. "There's good news and bad news," said Crouch. "The good news is—we're living longer. The bad news is—we're living longer."
According to census projections, in the next 25 years, Rockcastle and the surrounding counties should see the pumber of residents age 65 and older swell from 28,320 persons to 41,180 persons. That's a growth spurt of nearly 48 percent in that age segment.

Crouch believes the effects of this trend are huge, especially the impact it will have on health care. That's trend are huge, especially the impact it will have on health care. That's because, generally, as people get offer they require more frequent and more advanced medical services.

Dr. Alan Graham, a surgeon at Rockeastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center, said he has noticed the trend's impact on local health care.

"Of the more than 500 surgeries Rockeastle performed at the outpatient surgery center last year, most were general surgeries like gall stones and hernia removal. We also direarly 200 general diagnostic tests, such as mammograms, CAT scans, such cardiograms, stress tests and xrays," said Dr. Graham. "Those procedures primarily are for older adults."

Other businesses are experiencing this trend too. Tim Young, cowner of Young's Pharmacy on downtown Mt. Vermon, says his convert of Young's very many older adults.

"Children and young adults usually only have one or two refilts owner base also is brimming with older adults."

"Children and young adults usually only have one or two refilts on their prescriptions, to clear up things like a sore threat or an ear infection, said Young."

"Other adults, though, generally get multiple refilts on their medications to help regulate chronic prob-lems, such as high-blood pressure. They are likely to come back more Young pointed out that his pharmacy, which serves nursing home facilities, has seen a dramatic increase in that segment of the business 'I'd say that as a whole our population is definitely getting older, judging by the huge growth we've seen in our nursing home services. That's great. It means people are living longer."

Steve Estes, the hospital's chief financial officer, said Rockeastle's rural hospital is uniquely prepared to serve those requiring specialized care, failure is pro'lem that can happen to anyone at any age, it can be espe-cially debilitating to older persons.

"We are the only respiratory care facility in the state to specialize in pediatric care, but for the most part, our residents are older adults," said Kim McGowen, director of respira-tory care. Rockeastle County will gain even more health care services when the more health care services when the new Medical Arts Center opens in October 1997, across from the hospi-tal. Cardiac, urology, and internal medicine specialists will locate in the new building, along with more primary care physicians.

"Adding the Medical Arts Center "Adding the Medical Ars Center really rounds out the county's health care services," said Lee Keene, hos-pital administrator," with all of this specialized care so close to home, there won't be any need to travel ousside the area for health care. For older people who may be more relu-tant to travel or who need more spe-cialized care, the hospital and medi-al center are tremendous assets."

New vaccine for Chickenpox available at Health Department

A relatively new vaccine that rotects against chickenpox is now vailable at the Rockcastle County available at the Rockessler County Health Department. Chickenpox (varicella) is a highly communicable disease in children, adolescents and adults caused by the varicella-roster virus. Approximately 10,000 persons with varicella require hospitalization each year and 50 to 100 deaths are reported annually due to varicella complications.

Varicella vaccine is recommended for immunization of all susceptible children by their 13th birthday. Children who have not been immunized previously and whe do not have a reliable history of chickenpox are considered susceptible. However, be-Health Department Chickenpox cause of the limited availability and high cost of this vaccine, only the following groups are eligible to re-ceive it at the Rockcastle County Health Department in accordance with instructions from the Kentucky Department for Public Health Routinely to children from 12 to 23 months of age. 2. Adoiescents who are within 12 months prior to 6th gradeentry and 3. Susceptible household member of immunecompromised persons. All three of the above groups do not need vaccine if they have already had chickenpox.

"Despite our limitations on who is eligible for this vaccine, we are trying to assure varicella immunity by the time a child reaches age 13" said Diana Napier, R.N. Nursing Director, "Because, after 13 years of agetor, "Because, after 13 years of agetor, "Because, after 13 years of agetor, and the said of the control of the control

Dear Editor:

I would like to respond to the article that appeared in the Tuesday. September 17 issued entitled, "Judge Urge Dismissal of Suit Against Troopers."

Orge Distinssal of Suit Against Troopers.

The Stepherd Family has, from the date of Gary Shepherd's death on August 8, 1993, tried to achieve some measure of justice for the unnecessary murder of Gary, Yes, Gary did break the law by growing a small amount of marijuana in his yard. But when we begin exceuting every person who breaks the law or does something illegal, there will be no one left.

No one should die the way Gary died that tight A decorated, Vietnam war hero, who was blown away by camoullaged police with blacende faces, who invaded our small, rural home that day, Gary's four-year-old son, Jacob, standing only a few feet away, cringed in terror ash is Dad fell to the ground, his blood splateing the son he loved so much. That same boy today, seven-year-old Jake, doesn't wear the same happy, smiling face he did before this happed. After all, he had seen what the policy out the seven was the proposed of the seven which was the same had been the same and the seven that the policy out asked him, he'd tell you that his Dad didn't "advance and point" an assault rifle in the moments before he was

HELP YOUR HOUSE OF WORSHIP: IT'S A GOOD FRIEND OF YOURS

The finest way to show friendship is by means of reciprocity. When you need help, hopefully you have a friend to provide it, and that you are prepared to return the favor when it's your friend's turn to encounter some difficulty. The same relationship should be established with your flouse of Worship, which has been a source of help and guidance to you in the past. Unfortunately, many such religious institutions must rely heavily on volunteer assistance in order to function and if yours many such rengious institutions must rety neavity on volunteer assistance in order to function, and if yours has been a blessing to you, offer your services. Even such simple acts as making phone calls or typing can be of great value. Ask your clergyman what you can do. This will help your reciprocate the friendship of your House of Worship, by doing something for it in return.

How dare Magistrate Johnson to elude to the fact that the Shepherd family's case should be dismissed due to "technical grounds." Is this the only thing he could come up with after his review of the case? This family complied with all legal aspects of this case and their completion on a timely basic. This is just another example of the efforts that have gone into trying to keep this family from standing up for the truth, and the public from hearing this shocking account of what happened that day, and since, at trial. The amounts and levels of corruption from the smalless to the largest "public servants" has been, and continues to be, shocking, and really does exist. I know because I have personally witnessed it on numerous occasions.

Sheep referendum set for October 1

By Tom Mills Co. Ext. Agent for Agriculture

Co. Ext. Agent for Agriculture haten ender the sheep producers across the sheep producers across the sheep producers across the program of promotion and research for the sheep industry for the second time this year. An earlier referendum vote was invalidated by the secretary of U.S. Department of Agriculture. The referendum, set for October 1, will take place in County Extension Offices throughout the nation during normal business hours.

To be eligible to vote in this To be eligible to vote in this referendum, a person must have been engaged in production, feeding or importation of sheep or sheep products during 1994.

Because of alleged irregularities in voting procedures during the February vote, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued a set of guidelines addressing voting eligibility. For the purpose of this vote, the USDA said that a person means either an individual or a legal entity, such as a corporation or family. And each person will be allowed only one vote in the referendum. That means that a couple who jointly own sheep will be allowed only one vote in the referendum. It approved, the program would be funded by a mandatory assessment for domestic producers, feeders and exponers of live sheep and wool at the rate of 1 cent per great wool sold. Importers will be assessed on an equivalent basis for live sheep, products, wool sold. Importers will be assessed on an equivalent basis for live sheep, products, wool and wool products.

Citizens Bank Offers Classroom Improvement Course For Older Drivers

Citizens Bank has joined with the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) to offer the 55 Alive/Mature Driving course. AARP developed the eight-hour classroom refresher course to help drivers 55 years of age or older improve their skills and prevent traffic accidents.

The first session of the course will be held on Wednesday. October 16. 1996 from 4:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. at the Brodhead Fire Department. The second session will follow on Thursday, October 17, 1996 at the same time and place. The fee for this course will be $8.00 per person which covers the cost of the materials used. The first 25 people to register at the Main Office of Citizens Bank will attend free.

For further information or to register for the course, call Citizens Bank at 758-8212

The 55 Alive/Mature Driving course is designed to meet the specific needs of older drivers. Volunteer instructors recruited and trained by AARP conduct the course, which is presented through a combination of slide presentation and group discussion. Refreshments will be served

All automobile insurance companies conducting business in Kentucky are required to provide a premium discount to graduates of 55 Alive/Mature Driving, which is a state-approved driver improvement course.

Schools use proven methods to improve performance

As a new school year begins, 56 Kentucky schools in 17 districts will be employing powerful and proven techniques for helping their students meet rigorous academic demands. techniques for helping their students meet rigorous academic demands. Part of a national project headed by former Xerox CEO, David Keams, these schools are demonstrating that dramatic improvements in student learning can be achieved through a variety of effective approaches to high performance practices and data fo-cused planning. New American Schools, a non-profit organization launched in 1901.

century.

A nationwide study released to-day shows students at New American cay snows students at New American Schools improving test scores and curtailing discipline problems faster than conventional wisdom suggests is possible. Teacher enthusian curtailing discipline provides than conventional wisdom suggests is possible. Teacher enthusiasm is high, and parental and community involvement is growing as they become engaged with educators in a partnership for better schools.

Locally gathered evidence and the RAND Institute demonstrates the impressive results in Kentucky of one of these designs, called the Na-tional Alliance for Restructing Edu-

Of the 15 National Alliance Schools in Kentucky in 1994, the second year of the program, 13 or 87 percent, earned cash awards for significant improvement under the Kentucky Education Reform Act—compared with 38 percent of schools statewide. The following year, the number of member schools doubled and 55 percent still would have earned rewards. The next cycle results will be reported in October.

Jacqueline Austin, principal of John F. Kennedy Elementary School in Louisville says, "I attribute our results to our training at the National Alliance. Now, student achievement is at the center of all our thoughts. Every time we get our test results we

While higher-profile efforts like the Edison Project and Education Alternatives have affected only a handful of schools nationwide, the New American Schools initiative will be part of 500 schools in 23 states this school year. Explaining Kentucky's selection for the project, Anderson said, "We looked for states and districts that shared our basic beliefs — that all children can achieve at higher levels, and the shared our basic properties in the state of the shared our basic properties in the shared our basic project our basic project pr that accountability for results is es-sential, and that different schools sential, and that uniform schools require different solutions."

Recognizing that one size does not fit all schools and communities, New American Schools offers a choice of seven different designs for improving the performance of all students. Unlike many reforms, which offer add-on programs or isolated projects, the designs aim to improve the whole school, from curricula and instruction to funding and commu-nity involvement. New American Schools makes experts from the de-sign teams of educators, schools administrators, and business profes-sionals available to each implementing school, to support teachers on site with tested tools and strategies.

Having successfully field-tested its school designs in 147 schools over its school designs in 144 schools or the past three years, New American Schools is now carrying out the final phase of its effort — scale up — with 10 partner communities: Cincinnati, 10 partner communities: Cincinnati, Dade County, Memphis, Philadel-phia, Pittsburgh, San Antonio, San Diego, the State of Kentucky and

"We believe that all children can reach higher standards," explains David Kearns, Chairman and CEO of New American Schools, "We know ecannot be satisfied with a limited number of exemplary schools, rather, we must make good schools the norm, not the exception." Kearns, a former Deputy Secretary of Education and retired CEO of Xerox Corporation, heads a high-powered board that includes the CEOs of Boeing, IBM, AT&T and Exxon, among others. The RAND Corporation has been retained to evaluate the New American Schools initiative. In Kentucky, National Alliance for Restructing Educations chools are committed to ensuring that all students, by the time they leave high school, demonstrate high achievement in core academic subjects and applied learning. This results-dirven design is developing better ways to measure performance, integrating technology with instruction, rede-signing the transition from school to work, and engaging parents and the public in the reform effort. Kentucky member schools selectively abandon member schools selectively abandon less productive traditions, use data to determine focus and set clearer academic criteria. Each school is coached to better organize its structure and KERA resources for significantly better student results.

Parenting is not what it used to be what it used to be

"Children are so different today,"
I've heard adults say this and lagree.
Children are different today but so are society, parents and parenting.
Society hacknaged from anautocraite aittude where women were, sobservient to all. Today, we live with a more democraite attitude where we strive for social equality making parenting difficult. I realize that children are not socially equal to adults.
We have rights that children don't have such as voting, driving, and other things that society can't allow children to do because it would bechouse. Still, children do have rights and they believe these rights come as rewards. Some parents reward everything with someching of monetary value. When these parents take their children to the store, they buy them hings the children request. They do this for two reasons take their children to the store, they buy then hings the children request. They do this for two reasons take their children to the store, they buy then

hings the children request.
How do

hings the children request.
How do
have the second
hings the children request
hings the children hings because you have to.

We can teach children about natural rewards, but not yif we know how to do it ourselves. A few ways to do this is to treat people as we want to to threat us—helping others just because they need it and not because they need it and not because we want something in return—puting others before ourselves, not that's a toughte. When we do these things, they reward us with a smile of thank you. We reward ourselves with who featings we get when we have We can teach children about natuthank you. We reward ourselves with the feelings we get when we have acted out of kindness and not selfish-ness. These rewards build self-settem and we all ned to do that. Re-member, your children learn from what they see you do, more than what they hear you say. Now let us talk about punishment or consequences (a more delicate word for punishment). Consequences word not ywhen used consistently by a parent who the child respects and thinks of a superior. Parents, who are inconsistent with consequences, will find they become less and less effec-tive (much like our legal system). Children need boundaries and con-Children need boundaries and con-sistent consequences to help them learn appropriate and inappropriate behavior. Consequences come in two forms, natural and logical. If a child touches a hot stove, he receives a natural consequence when he gets burned. Giving another consequence would be useless. However, if a teen-ager comes in fifteen minutes after corfers was must decide what logical curfew, you must decide what logical consequence would be appropriate because in this situation a natural because in this situation a natural consequence is not available. Using logical reasoning can help. For ea week, would not be logical, because being filteen minutes her of baundry for a week, would not be logical, because being filteen minutes from the snothing to ow the lean clothes. The logical thing to do with clean clothes. The logical thing to do would be to delete the fifteen minutes from hen next curfew. This will also helphore to maderstand just how long fifteen minutes are when she says, "What is being deal I was only fifteen minutes late." This logical consequence gives her the time to experience how important fifteen minutes can be. When we relate the consequence with children learn the importance of abiding by he rules.

Parenting isn't so difficult if we reward our children because we want to do it, not because what to do it, not because where us do it. Punish consistently and fairly, using natural or logical consequences. Always give low, expect, praise and encouragement. Paying more attention to your children's assets and strengths and less attention to their mistakes will help them build confidence. If you don't do these things, your consequence will be a destroyed relationship with no rewards. Good luck! consequence is not available. Using

Annual Performance Report

A Publication of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, September 26, 1996 The Rockcastle County Board of Education Provides Equal Education and Employment Opportunities

Superintendent's Message

The Rockcastle County Board of Education is proud to share the Annual Performance Report (APR) for the 1995-96 school year in this publication.

The Annual Performance Report is composed of vital performance statistics for the district and is published once each year for public review. This report presents information relevant to the accomplishment of goals toward student achievement as reflected by Kentucky Informational Results Information System (KIRIS) results, as well as data that indicates the efficiency of the district as compared to the achieved results. Results from the 1995-96 school year, which conclude Cycle II of assessment (second biennium) were not available at the time of this publication and are not expected until mid October. Upon receipt, the results will be publicized. Mid point scores of Cycle II provide a basis for much optimism. As reflected by these scores, all schools are showing signs of progress and the probability of qualifying for rewards is very likely for some.

As we anxiously await these results, both school and district plans that were made for FY97 during the spring, are being implemented. These plans will set the tone for success during the first year of Cycle III of accountability. Upon receipt of the KIRIS results from FY96, all personnel will review and make adjustments as needed. Additional information will be available for FY97 with the reentry of some norm referenced tests (standardized tests) in specific grades. This was deemed necessary to ensure basic concepts are adequately being taught and learned.

The district theme for this year revolves around increased commitment on behalf of all stakeholders. School personnel believe this is essential if the concept of a learning community is to become a reality. The stakeholders include not only school personnel, students and parents, but the community as a whole. As we increase the number of participants in each stakeholder sector, the strength of a true learning community concept will be realized through improved/increased student achievement.

I feel very optimistic toward improving education in Rockcastle County through the effort of a learning community and the increased commitment that will come as a result. On behalf of the Rockcastle County Board of education and school personnel, I solicit community support for the continued improvement for our students.

Assessment and students with disabilities

Kentucky is one of only two states in the a student's natural course of instruction and redisabilities. Many states routinely exempt as ment. many as one-fourth of their student population from their student assessment programs.

"As national policy moves toward requiring all states to include students with disabilities in leader in this respect," said Johnnie Grissom, the Department of Education's associate commissioner for special instructional services.

Kentucky students with mild disabilities participatthe in e regular portfolio, performance event and on-demand components of the KIRIS assessment. Accommodations used in included in the school accountability index.

Some Portfolios are moving!

Writing and mathematics portfolios, those continuing collections of student work, will have new "addresses" for the 1996-97 school year. But for mathematics portfolios, the move is temporary - a sabbatical with plans to return in an improved form. Here is an overview of the changes in the Kentucky Instructional Results Information System (KIRIS).

Writing

Written portfolios at the middle school level will move from grade 8 to grade 7, making them part of state assessments in grades 4, 7 and 12. To prepare for this change, a committee of Kentucky middle school teachers convened in July to select 7th grade portfolio scoring benchmarks and training materials. The Department of Education will ship new 7th grade materials to schools in September.

To support new 7th grade writing portfolio cluster leaders -teachers trained to train other teachers in portfolio development and scoring -- the department will hold regional three-day sessions Sept. 19-21. Cluster leaders for 4th and 12th grades met in institutes during the summer to prepare for the new school

Based on recommendations by teachers, parents and others, the content requirements for writing portfolios wil include these changes for 1996-97:

oin grades 4 and 7, more student choice in making selections among the requirements

•in grade 4, removal of the separate content area requirement, enabling students to generate any (but at least one) of their writings from a content area other than English/language arts, as students in grades 7 and 12 do.

Mathematics

Mathematics portfolios are moving out of the accountability index for 1996-97 and 1997-98 and into a research and development phase. Between now and 1998, the Department of Education, guided by an advisory committee of educators and others, will revise the mathematics portfolio assessment system. The goal is to simplify development and scoring and more efficiently link portfolio assessment to the open-response and multiplechoice components of the KIRIS mathematics assessment.

•Fall 1996 -- statewide field study, with teachers in 75 classrooms evaluating the merits of several portfolio models

 Spring 1997 - expanded testing of selected models •Summer 1997 - completion of research and development their statewide assessment and accountability These are students with severe cognitive dis- phase; preparation of a new mathematics portfolio practice

> School Year 1997-98 - a practice year for statewide implementation of the new model (not for accountability purposes)

> 1998-2000 Biennium - the expected return of portfolio scores

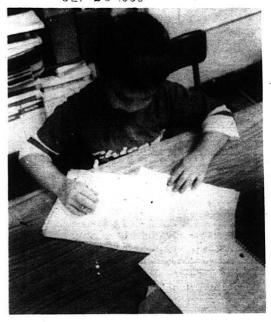

Throughout the process, the Department of Education will provide statewide training for mathematics portfolio cluster leaders. In response to the cluster leaders' recommendation, the training during 1996-97 will be focused on mathematics instruction issues.
