prestigious honor at the Mental Health Institute held at the Hurstborne Center in Louisville, October 7, 1996. Mrs. Morris was nominated by persons and groups across the state of Kentucky for this award. She was selected for this honor for several reasons per.

Dr. Paul Weaver's remarks, "Carolyn Morris is a strong team leader, Manager and Regional Director for Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center in Mt. Vernon. Using her extensive professional experience, she has helped adult consumers (of mental health services) develop one of the strongest community-based programs in the state. Her Therapeutic Rehabilitation Program (Gateway) was the first satellite site on the Internet for the Common-ground Training Center Network. She established the first and only consumer-family driven NAMI (National Alliance for Mental Illness) Chapter in the United States." This chapter was begun in 1989, located in Mt. Vernon and currently serves a twelve county area. "Carolyn has served as a member of the Kentucky Mental Health Council since its inception. Carolyn is described by staff, professionals and consumers as caring, humble, and devoted." Dr. Weaver ended his remarks by stating, "It is with great honor that we present Mrs. Morris with the 1996 Award for Kentucky's Outstanding Mental Health Advocate."

Mrs. Carolyn Morris is Regional Behavioral Health Care Director, County team Manager of the Mt. Vernon Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center and Area Team Supervisor for the Mt. Vernon and London Comprehensive Care Centers. She also serves as a consultant to the Cumberland River Alliance for Mental Illness (C.R.A.M.I.) chapter. Mrs. Morris began her career in 1975 in medical social work in Palm Beach County, Florida. She has served in both the public, private and industrial settings for over 21 years in social work, counseling, teaching, facilitating, consultation, training and management.

Dear Phillip Dustin Thomas, well, here it is again, another birthday. Oct. 28. What a big boy you've become. 9 year old. It's hard to believe you are that old. I'll always love you as my grandson. Love, Granny Ries.

Combined Final Notification and Finding of No Significant Environmental Impact

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development (RD) has received an application for federal assistance from the Western Rockcastle Water Association, SAI #K960430-0317.

The specific elements of this proposed action consists of adding additional waterlines, replacing 4,000 feet of transmission line and paint one storage tank and upgrade a booster station.

USDA/RD has assessed the potential environmental impacts of this proposed action and determined that the location of the proposed action and determined that the location of the proposed water system construction would impact the 100-year floodplain. It has been determined that there is no practicable alternative to avoid this impact. The basis of this determination is as follows:

- The floodplain could be impacted by the construction of the proposed water system due to stream crossings.
- The proposed water system must be located within the floodplain in order to serve the proposed customers.
- The applicant will be required in the RD Letter of Conditions to amend its bylaws whereby it will deny service to any new customer planning to build in a floodplain.
- The proposed action conforms to applicable state and local floodplain protection standards.
- The waterlines will be laid on public right-of-ways, where necessary, to avoid impacts on any prime farmland and/or wetlands or endangered species habitat that may be in the vicinity.
- There are no cooperating agencies on this project.

It was also determined that the proposed action will not significantly affect the quality of the human environment nor will an environmental impact statement be required.

Any written comments regarding these determinations should be provided within 15 days of this publication to Mr. Thomas G. Fern, State Director, Rural Development, 771 Corporate Drive, Suite 200, Lexington, Kentucky 40503. USDA/RD will make no further decisions regarding this proposed action during this fifteen day period. Requests to review the USDA/RD environmental assessment upon which this determination is based or to receive a copy of it should be directed to the USDA/RD District Office, 95 South Laurel Road, London, KY 40041.

Rockcastle Beef Producers proactive in education

In this era of tight school budgets, beef producers in Rockcastle County and around the county are helping out by offering educational materials to teachers. The materials, offered at little or not cost through the Kentucky Cattleman's Association, address topics as diverse as conservation, food safety, nutrition, recycling and grocery shopping for students in preschool through college.

"Surveys of cattle producers have shown that one of their main concerns is the education of young people," said Stephanie Blevins, Director, Promotion and Consumer Affairs of the Kentucky Cattleman's Association. "Just like other parents and business people, cattle producers want to see the nation's children receive a good education — especially as it relates to beef, the beef industry and agriculture in general."

Two new check-off-funded educational products have recently been introduced to help in that effort. The first, And the Winner is... Ground Beef, focuses on food shopping, using ground beef as an example. The sports-theme booklet teaches the fundamental principles of food safety, health, nutrition and value shopping to junior and senior high school consumer education students.

"Kids this age are very concerned about fat and nutrition, as are their parents," said Blevins. "This booklet assures them that ground beef can fit into a healthy diet."

Third-and-fourth grade students are the target audience of Dig In!, the second new product. Students learn about the Food Guide Pyramid while studying the types of foods eaten by the ancient Egyptians.

"Studies have shown that kids don't eat a balanced diet," said Blevins. "This package is part of an ongoing effort to emphasize the importance of eating from all the food groups."

Through Dig In!, students learn basic skills in the areas of language arts, social studies, math/technology, science/health and fine arts. A unique, specially designed Food Guide Pyramid included in the materials features food that the Egyptians ate, including beef.

"The meat group portion on the Food Guide Pyramid shows cattle and geese, which were often displayed in ancient Egyptian art, while the fats, oils and sweets group at the top of the pyramid depicts a honey bee because the ancient Egyptians ate honey rather than sugar," Blevins said.

Other beef industry educational materials include posters, educational video kits, study print programs and fact sheets. For more information about beef industry educational materials or for a free catalog, please call: Kentucky Cattleman's Association 1-606-233-3722.

Renner & Sons participate in 'Festival of Fences'

Wendell Renner, Sr., owner of Renner & Sons Stone, participated in the Festival of Fences on the weekend of October 26, 1996 at the National Building Museum, part of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. Richard Tufnell, coordinator of the International Day Stone Masonry Institute, and Mr. Renner, who is an active member of the Institute, provided a public service by building a stone wall using no mortar and allowing the public to participate. This was to promote the craft of stone masonry and for the preservation of rock fences, their history and the skill involved in construction. Over 2,000 attended the demonstration and coverage was provided by CNN. The Dry Stone Masonry Institute and Renner & Sons Stone are both based in Lexington. Renner & Sons has been in business for 38 years and employs over 20 Rockcastle county residents.

Livestock waste conferences scheduled

A series of Livestock Waste Conferences is scheduled across Kentucky beginning November 14, 1996.

Each of the four conferences will deliver an innovative, producer-oriented program approach to livestock

Montgomery pleads guilty to shooting at Livingston

A Livingston woman pled guilty in Rockcastle Circuit Court on Monday to a charge of first degree manslaughter.

Marjorie Gail Montgomery, 35, pled guilty in connection with the shooting death of William Carpenter, 69, of Livingston, last November.

According to court records, prosecutors have recommended a ten year sentence for Montgomery, who will be sentenced on December 9.

Grand Jury to look into altercation

Evidence from an altercation in Livingston on Halloween night will be presented to the Rockcastle County Grand Jury.

Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette said Tuesday that the incident involved Livingston Mayor Ed Lyle, Livingston Fire Chief Sam Stallworth and resident Jeremy Holt.

Burdette said that the Rockcastle Sheriff's department is investigating the incident, but that no arrests were made Thursday night.

Mt. Vernon discusses block grant

By Ray McClure

Discussion concerning the recent block grant from the state of $401,000 and related water and sewer projects occupied the Mt. Vernon City Council at its regular meeting Monday night.

Mayor Gary Cromer told the council that the city now has a commitment from FMHA and has a total of $2.1 million of the $4.3 million in funding needed for water plant improvements.

The mayor said the city would get the remainder for the needed money through a bond issued or low cost loan. He said the city hasn't yet decided in which direction to go.

"We're working on various proposals and will take what's best for the city," the mayor said.

Dole, McConnell carry county

President wins Kentucky

Rockcastle County Election officials counted absentee ballots in the county clerk's office on Tuesday afternoon. A total of 127 people cast absentee ballots, while 4,814 people went to the polls or roughly 49% of those registered. Shown above, from left, Shirley Riddle, Juanita Davis and Sheriff Shirley Smith.

For Clinton, it's four more years in the White House.

He won an unexpectedly close race in Kentucky Tuesday. The latest totals showed Clinton with 619,983 votes to Bob Dole's 605,730.

Ross Perot got 116,062 votes in the state.

In the U.S. Senate race it was another story. Republican Mitch McConnell won a third term, at latest count, 689,144 to Steve Beshear's 534,758. McConnell's largest majority ever.

Republicans also took five U.S. House seats, only Democrat Scotty Baesler was re-elected 124,245 to Ernie Fletcher's 98,491. U.S. Representative Harold Rogers of Somerset was unopposed.

Congress is safely Republican for another term.

Jefferson County, the state's most populated area, gave Clinton his victory margin. He won Jefferson county by nearly 30,000 votes.

Tobacco farmers, who criticized Clinton for his stand on tobacco, to allow regulation as a drug by The Food and Drug Administration, did little to change the Clinton vote. Clinton won Kentucky's 8 electoral votes. Overall, he got 379 electoral votes to Dole's 159.

In the vote on the amendment changing the wording of two provisions - the poll tax and segregated schools - the yes vote was about 67 percent for and 33 percent no.

Clinton did not reach the 50 percent he hoped for in the popular vote, receiving only 49 percent.

As expected, Rockcastle voters cast ballots overwhelmingly for GOP candidates in Tuesday's General Election.

Bob Dole, defeated President Bill Clinton, in Rockcastle, 3,106 to 1,160 votes.

Ralph Nader got three votes one in north Mt. Vernon, one in east Livingston and one in west Livingston.

Votes cast in unopposed races were: Hal Rogers, 3,563; Albert Robinson, Republican State Senate, 2,607 and State Representative Danny Ford, 3,570.

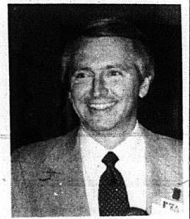

Rockcastle voted yes on the amendment-1,039 to 863.

President Bill Clinton won Kentucky by 14,000.

Incumbent Mitch McConnell won by his biggest margin ever.

Democrat Steve Beshear said big money cost him the race.

Rockcastle County Clerk Norma Houk prepared to count the votes cast on the absentee voting machine in the county clerk's office. 127 absentee votes were cast in Tuesday's election.

Baker elected at Livingston

Earl Baker received 6 write-in votes to win the fourth seat on the Livingston City Council in Tuesday's General Election. Three candidates were on the Livingston ballot but four are needed for a full council.

Those on the ballot were Katha Carpenter with 35 votes, Todd Mink with 30 votes and Sandra Tyree with 27 votes.

Receiving write-in votes in Livingston were: Bradley Durham, 2; Sherry Newcomb, 1; J.D. Rice, 1 and Ernest Mink, 1.

In the Mt. Vernon Council election all six candidates were unopposed. Elected council members and the number of votes they received were:

Clark "Joe" Mullins, 309; Lee Keene, 262; Clarice Kirby, 224; Wayne Bullock, 247; Karen K. King, 289 and Terry Owens, 273.

Lois Vanhoose, Ricky Bullock, and Gary Noe, all got one write in vote for the Mt. Vernon City Council.

Members of the Mt. Vernon Volunteer Fire Department responded to a fire at Little Clear Creek Tuesday afternoon. The mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Roberts was completely destroyed by the fire that apparently started when a burner on the electric stove shorted out. The Roberts two children were at home when the blaze occurred and got out with only the clothes on their back. Above fireman Tim Cameron puts water on the fire. The fire department was also called to the Family Dollar Store in Mt. Vernon on Tuesday night. Around 9 p.m., someone set fire to several empty boxes and some pallets beside the store. Fire fighters were able to extinguish the blaze before any damage was done to the building.

Sturgill told police death was accident

Hours after police say he shot and killed Rebecca Mitchell, Kenneth Wayne Sturgill, of Livingston, told his ex-wife about the crime, but said that the shooting was an accident, a state police detective said Monday.

Testifying at a preliminary hearing for Sturgill, Detective Mike Hopkins also said that police found bloody clothes and a .38-caliber handgun that Sturgill allegedly stashed at his ex-wife's home in Rockcastle County after the October 24 shooting.

After his arrest, Sturgill did not make a statement, but he told KSP Detective Gary Lane that what happened was an accident, Hopkins said.

Sturgill, 46, is charged with murder, burglary and stalking in the slaying of Mitchell, 31, of London.

After Monday's hearing, District Judge John Knox Mills, ruled there was probable cause for the case to go to the Laurel County grand jury. An indictment could be returned November 15.

Hopkins testified that friends and neighbors told police that Sturgill followed Mitchell, constantly telephoned her and had been violent to her in the past.

Friends said that on one occasion, Sturgill had knocked out some of Mitchell's teeth, Hopkins testified. Another time, friends thought Sturgill might have even killed Mitchell after a severe beating, Hopkins said.

The day of the shooting, Sturgill allegedly told his ex-wife that he "done what they said I did before," according to Hopkins' testimony.

Court records in Laurel County do not show that Mitchell tried to get a protective order to keep Sturgill away from her.

Mitchell died about six hours after she was shot in her home on Homestead Lane, about a mile outside London.

Kenneth Sturgill

Hopkins said that Mitchell had been beaten with the gun before she was shot in the head. Sturgill allegedly told his ex-wife that the gun accidentally discharged while he was beating Mitchell with it.

Sturgill is being held in the Laurel County Detention Center without bond.

For the first time in my adult life, I didn't buy a deer tag for hunting season. In fact, I haven't even mentioned deer season to Loreta because I don't want her thinking for one instant that the first and last thing on my mind on weekends is anything other than the old house that we are remodeling. I have more or less become a slave to the project — trying to figure out where to run wires and plumbing; where to put doors and windows and just about everything else you'd expect a house to have. And which to do first. If anyone has ever heard me say anything about enjoying home improvement projects please know that I was temporarily out of my mind.

Which is not to say that I'm anywhere near sane at this writing because this darned house is literally driving me crazy. I wake up in the wee hours in a cold sweat dreaming that I am locked inside the place and that I can't come out until it's completely finished. On several previous occasions I have insisted that I would never move into a dwelling without city water or with a coal furnace. This one has to be a smelt that I believe somebody used to turn iron-ore in a steel mill. I have also recently discovered that there's much more to getting water installed than simply digging a ditch. Lots of bureaucracy involved and lots of waiting until someone with a backhoe can work you in and you hope that will be before the turn of the century.

Carmiachel selects Day as new assistant prosecutor for Rockcastle

Daryl Day, of Crab Orchard, was selected among several applicants who applied for the position from all over the state.

In selecting Day, Carmiachel stated that Day has the background and knowledge of the area that will make him an excellent prosecutor. Day will be responsible for prosecuting felony criminal cases in Rockcastle and Lincoln counties.

Day, a 1995 graduate of the University of Kentucky, College of Law, attended Berea College and was a 1988 graduate of Lincoln County High School. Day is married to Dawn Day and currently resides in Stanford. Day will continue to practice law in addition to his duties as a prosecutor.

State Supreme Court Justice Joseph Lambert swears in new assistant prosecutor Daryl Day. Looking on is Commonwealth Attorney Ray Carmiachel.

KY 89 chosen as a Scenic Byway

The Kentucky Cabinet of Transportation has announced that KY 89 has been chosen as a Kentucky Scenic Byway. The nomination for this designation was prepared by the Northern Jackson County Committee and submitted by the Jackson County Development Association. Of the five roads chosen this year, KY 89 was the only route so designated in eastern Kentucky and shares this honor with only one other eastern Kentucky highway near Pine Mountain that was made a scenic byway last year.

Jim Hays, NCCC member who prepared the nomination, says that this will mean that KY 89 will appear in the official Kentucky Vacation guides and is likely to mean a considerable increase in ecotourism along the route, especially in the spring and fall. The KSB signs will go up in the next few weeks. "The committee that visited does not tell you when they are coming to tour the road," Hays said, "but it so happened that they came the week of the spring clean-up this year and were very impressed with the pride area residents were taking in cleaning up their environment and roadsides. If you have never traveled from Drip Rock to Lainero in the spring or fall, it is one of the most scenic highways in the state with an abundance of wildflowers, like the aster that are blooming now."

One of the few restrictions on the byways is the construction of new billboards. KY 89 begins at the Rockcastle County line near Lamero and continues into Jackson County at the Wyndon Horse Lick bridge, through the city of Mt. Vernon and on toward Irvine. The scenic byway section will end at the Jackson-Farr County line.

The MVES Library and the AR program. Kentucky Educational Television and other sources for the use of our facility in implementing the core curriculum. Our average daily check out is 150 books.

This large circulation of books is in part made possible by the use of a computer to help in the checking in and out of titles. Library hours are from 7:45 a.m. until 2:45 p.m. daily. Students in Kindergarten visit the Library once per week to check out one title. While in the Library, they hear children's stories and watch educational programs related to topics which they are learning about in their classrooms.

Students in Primary School and students in grade four and five have a scheduled visit to the library once a week for 30 minutes. Students at this level are permitted to check out two books per week. While in the Library, students do library skills lessons, see videos related to the topic which they are studying in the classroom, do research using encyclopedias and other materials, and participate in SSR and Sustained Silent Reading.

Besides their weekly scheduled library time slot, students in grades 1-5 are permitted access to the Library on an as needed basis to return books they have finished reading and to check out new titles. Students are also allowed to come to the Library to use the Accelerated Reader computers to take a test as needed. They do not have to wait until their next scheduled library time slot to visit the library.

Students using the library have supervised access to the Internet, access to Grolier's Electronic Encyclopedia, and various other CD-Rom research tools. In addition to these technological advances, our Library also has three computers for our students to take tests on the Accelerated Reading program.

Classroom teachers frequently schedule research projects in conjunction with the library staff. This is accomplished by using the flexible time slots which we have in our weekly schedule.

The Library staff also helps the classroom teachers by gathering books, videos and filmstrips which pertain to their current topics of study.

Another way in which the Library staff helps the faculty and students at MVES is to obtain the latest in educational programming for their use. Recent additions to our holdings are the 12 newest Magic School Bus programs, the new Arthur, the Aardvark series, programs on the 1996 President election, and the Newspaper in the Classroom program from KET. These programs were taped by the Library staff on weekends.

Our Library is extensively involved in the Accelerated Reading program. This program used library books and a computer testing program to track a student's progress. The premise of the program is that a child reads a book which our library has the computerized test for, takes the test, and earns points. Students no longer have to agonize over oral book reports. Teachers can now be certain that the child actually read the book. The computer immediately scores the test and lets the child know what his score was. Students scores are retained for the school year and for their entire time at MVES.

Our students at MVES have already earned an amazing 6337 points for this school year. We hold team competitions for top scoring classes. The top point earning class for the twelve-week grading period earns a popcorn party and a G rated movie for their outstanding efforts on the AR program. These competitions are divided into two groups. The Primary classes compete against each other and the 4th and 5th grade compete against each other. The top Primary class thus far in this twelve-week grading period is Mrs. Cowan's class with a total of 545 points. Ms. DeBorde's class is running a close 2nd with 521 points. The top 4th and 5th class thus far is Mrs. Powell's class with over 379 points. Mrs. Eversole's class is in second place. The competition will end on November 11 with winning classes being announced over the intercom by our principal, Mrs. Brown.

In addition to the twelve week team competitions, the Library staff has also purchased items to be given away at the end of the school year to the top students at each grade level. These awards include t-shirts, sunglasses, mini footballs and softballs, bumper stickers, pencils and sports cup. These items are prominently displayed in the Library to help serve as an incentive to our students to read more books and to pass more tests.

The tests consists of multiple choice questions based on comprehension and vocabulary for the book. Top AR students in the Primary classes are:

- 2nd grade: Chris Baldwin, Michael VanWinkle, Kelli Martin, Heather Spires and Bobby Prewitt.
- 3rd grade: Shawoncha Smith, Allison Carter, Carter Hammond, Jason Daniels and Britany Kincer.
- 4th grade: Scarlet Frederick, Katelyn Cash, Ashley Mize, Brooke Bradley and Candi Laswell.
- 5th grade: Anna Guilfoit, Jessica Arley, Maggie Phillips, Summer Owens and Chastity DeBorde.

The highest scoring student so far this year is Scarlet Frederick with a total of 1773 points. All top AR students will be recognized at the annual Awards program held at the end of the school year. In addition to the prizes which students can earn,

We want to thank you veterans for your freedom and encourage everyone to attend Veterans Day services in each of your communities.

"Thank You"

Saluting our Veterans on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, 1996!
Soldier

I was that which others did not want to be, I went where others feared to go and did what others failed to do.
I asked nothing from those who gave nothing and reluctantly accepted the thought of eternal loneliness, should I fail.
I have seen the face of terror: felt the stinging cold of fear; and enjoyed the sweet taste of a moment's love,
I have cried, pained and hoped but most of all, I have lived times others would say were best forgotten.
At least someday, I will be able to say that I was proud of what I was, a soldier.

"Mt. Vernon Message"

top scoring students at each level are rewarded with a pizza party and free playground time at the end of the school year.

Our library has over 7,800 books which the students may read and take an AR test. These titles are designated with a purple dot and shelved in special sections of the Library to aid our students in finding the titles which they want. We have 3,768 AR tests for the children to choose from.

Students may take an AR test in the computer lab, in the library, or in their classroom. This easy access to the AR program helps the student to not only use technological skills but to also motivate them to read more. Our strongest belief at the MVES Library is that the best way to improve a child's academic success is to foster a life long love of reading. We believe that the AR program helps to foster this love of reading. Books being checked out are the best-selling Goosebumps series by R.L. Stine, the Pee Wee Scouts books by Judy Delton, the Boxcar Children series by Gertrude Chandler Warner. Other popular titles include the Berenstain Bear Chapter books, Dr. Seuss stories, the Magic School Bus series by Joanna Cole, and any of the titles by Patricia Reilly Giff.

Our reading test scores on the KIRIS test were more than 70. This score has in part been attributed to the vast success of the AR program in our school. This success has been made possible by the joint cooperation of the librarian, the classroom teacher, and the students. Our library has amassed a wide and varied selection of books and tests for our children to select from. This variety enables children at all levels to find books which they can read and which interest them.

At MVES Library the needs and wants of the students come first. We continually strive to obtain books which the children want to read. This effort helps our children to be more successful in their reading classes and also helps to foster our main goal which is to make life long readers of all our children. We firmly believe that reading is the key to the world, that reading can pave the way to becoming a productive member of today's and tomorrow's society.

Red Ribbon Week

October 23-31, 1996 was designated as Red Ribbon Celebration time. The purpose was to show a commitment toward the creation of a drug-free school and community.

During this week at Mt. Vernon Elementary School, Red Ribbon week was celebrated in many different ways. From prize drawings to signing a graffiti wall, making friendship bracelets, receiving Red Ribbon trick or treat bags, and most of all, just learning about the choice to be drug free. We feel this will help children make the right choice to be drug free. Students received a numbered Red Ribbon sticker that enabled the students to be registered for a prize drawing. Flyers that explain Red Ribbon Week and the activities that we did to celebrate were sent home to parents. Attached to the flyers were red ribbons that parents tied to their car antenna.

The Elementary School thanks everyone for joining our celebration and the choice to be drug free. A special thanks to the Family Resource Person: Ms. Regina Jett for coordinating with Ms. Molly Belcher at RCMS. Their efforts proved to be worthy activities for our students.

Tiger Pause

The next Family Night is scheduled for Thursday, November 7, at 6:00 p.m. Please join us and learn to line dance. Mrs. Shari Troctor will be demonstrating and teaching us the basics. Friday, November 8, Parent and Teacher conferences will be from 1:00 - 7:00 p.m. The P.T.A. Fall Festival will be taking place at this time also. Please come and see your child's teacher and then join your child in the gymnasium for lots of fun and games!

The P.T.A. meets Thursday, November 14 at 7:00 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

5th Grade News

The fifth grades traveled to Sigmon's farm on October 15th for Farm Field Day. The students had a very informative afternoon with information being presented about forestry, wildlife, FFA, soil conservation and ground water. Lunch was also provided by the Sigmons. The 5th grade had a great time and really appreciated everyone's hospitality.

The Respiratory Therapy class at Harry Sparks Vocational School got all dressed up for Halloween and passed out candy to the little ones at all the elementary schools.

The Rockcastle Teen Center's Haunted House was a great success this year mainly by these ghosts and goblins who inhabited the Haunted House.

Rockets down Engineers 21-6

By: Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Rockets are headed to the state playoffs for the sixth straight year after a solid win at Estill County Friday night.

Behind the strong running of senior Jon Cromer the Rockets won 21-6 and finished second in their district. The Rockets compiled a 9- and 1 regular season mark and a 4- and 1 record in the district with their only loss coming to Corbin, which finished the regular season with a perfect 10-0 mark.

The Rockets will face the Boyle County Rebels Friday night at home in the first round of the play-offs. Game time at the local middle school is set for 7:30 p.m.

Besides Cromer's 200 yards on 25 carries, junior Dusty McClure picked off two Estill County passes to lead the defensive effort. McClure's two picks Friday night adds to his school record of six interceptions in a season. McClure's eight interceptions is two better than Ronnie Vanzant's previous record of six.

The Rockets had a tough time getting on track Friday night when they didn't score until two minutes to go in the first half.

On a third and three play Jon Cromer took a pitch from quarterback Malcolm Shepherd and rambled 25 yards to give the Rockets the lead. On that play McClure also made an excellent block on an Estill defender to free Cromer for the score.

Raymond Blackburn added the first of what would be three extra point kicks to give the Rockets a 7-0 lead.

On the ensuing kick-off the Engineers fumbled and sophomore Josh Hendrickson recovered the ball.

Two plays later Senior Anthony King carried the ball to the Engineer's three yard line. Cromer scored from there and the Rockets led 14-0 with 22 seconds left in the first half.

The Rockets scored again in the third quarter on a 2 yard run by Cromer and went ahead 21-0. Estill managed only one score in the second half and the Rockets had beaten another team on the road in front of a hostile crowd.

The Rocket defense played good as a unit with David Coffey leading the way with eight tackles and assists.

Malcolm Shepherd had seven tackles and assists and Mike Muncy had six tackles and assists.

Besides McClure's two interceptions, he also had five tackles. Ronnie Vanzant had five tackles, as did Jon Cromer, Dennis Miller and Andy Hale.

Slade Calhoun had two tackles and assists, Anthony King, one and Brooks Ingram, three.

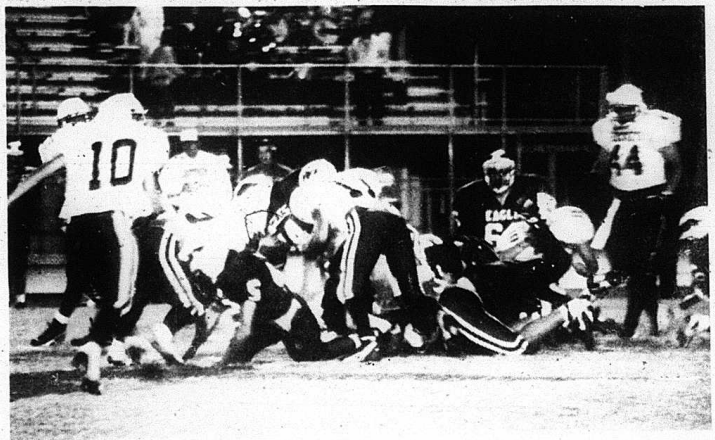

Besides Cromer's 200 yards, Shepherd had 23 yards on four carries, McClure, eight yards on two carries, Chris Bishop 10 yards on one carry, Anthony King, 63 yards on five carries and Brooks Ingram had 23 yards on four carries. Shepherd completed one of four passes for one yard.

The Rockets will face the same team that knocked them out of the play-offs a year ago. Boyle topped the Rockets 14-13 in the second round last year and the Rocket coaching staff is expecting a dogfight Friday night.

Boyle County's only two losses came at the hands of the Anderson County Bearcats and the Danville Admirals.

And the team received official word this week that tailback Jason Brown, who was severely injured in the Somerset game will not be back.

"We are pretty banged up, but we will have everybody, except Brown and Andrew Carrera, who is also out for the season," head coach Tom Larkey said.

The Rocket defense allowed their opponents only 98 points this season. Above Dusty McClure #10 intercepted two passes against Estill County on Friday night. He has the Rocket record for interceptions with eight.

Also in the photo is #44 Mike Muncy, #19 Anthony King, #59 Dennis Miller and #17 Malcolm Shepherd. The Rockets host Boyle County Friday night in the first round of the state playoffs.

John Phillips, KDFWR's Deer Program Coordinator, expects an increase in harvest this year. "We seem to have had good reproduction and survival, which means more deer will be available during the season."

Kentucky's modern gun deer season is set for November 9-18 in most counties. Even though the herd size is growing in Eastern Kentucky, and most of the harvest increase will come from that area, some southeastern counties still have only a five-day modern gun season (November 9-13) due to lower herd sizes.

Hunters are required to have permission from landowners before entering private lands. Hunters participating in any season that is open at the same time as a deer firearms season must wear hunter orange clothing on the head, chest and back. The deer season limit is two deer per hunter, only one of which may be antlered. Hunters should review regulations for the county they plan to hunt to learn when and if antlered deer hunting is permitted.

Archery deer season will continue statewide through January 15, 1997. Crossbow season will run November 26-December 5. The final segment of muzzle-loading season is December 14-20.

Persons under age 16 must be accompanied by an adult when hunting deer with a firearm. Persons born after January 1, 1975 and required to have a hunting license, must also complete an approved hunter education course before going hunting and carry a course completion (orange) card while hunting. Unless exempt, hunters under 16 must have a junior hunting license and may purchase a maximum of two youth, one-tag deer permits ($12.50 each).

Also, keep your eyes open for deer while driving this fall. This is the time of year when deer are on the move and the reports of deer and car collisions increase.

Rockcastle schools receive Goals 2000 continuation grant

The Rockcastle County School System announces that it will receive a continuation Goals 2000 grant award of $50,000. Goals 2000 is a federal initiative which provides incentives for schools and school districts to make improvements.

Superintendent Larry Hammond states, "The district will use the Goals 2000 grant to support each of our school's participation in the National Alliance for Restructuring Education (NARE)". This will be the second year for all Rockcastle County schools to be a part of this school improvement initiative.

NARE was formed as a joint effort between business and education. Dialogue between the two revealed a need for schools to better prepare students for "life after school". As a result, schools from eleven (11) states began a partnership to learn how to best improve every child's education.

The focus of NARE is quite simple:

- * determine how students are currently performing;
- * clearly define what students need to know;
- * set high expectations for every child; and
- * help each school develop a plan which enables every child to perform at a very high level

Local student enrolls at Centre College

Adam Browning of Mt. Vernon has enrolled this year at Centre College. The college has a near-record enrollment of 968 students, with 281 students in the first-year class.

Browning is the son of Janice and James Browning of Mt. Vernon and is a 1996 graduate of Rockcastle County High School.

Centre has been ranked by U.S.

Each school in Rockcastle County has indicated that participation in NARE has been a very positive experience. Rockcastle County educators have benefited from communicating with educators from other states and with successful businesses and regarding how they make changes that help them to reach high standards. This direct line of communication has been made possible as schools have been able to send staff members to workshops to learn how to lead their schools in developing a research-based plan for improvement.

As a part of this initiative, this grant award will fund a team of educators from each of our schools, and the Central Office to attend the national conference being held in Gaines, FL on January 11-13, 1997. During the conference educators will attend sessions to learn about school systems from other countries and to learn strategies for not only setting, but reaching, high standards for all the students in Rockcastle County.

Another benefit, from NARE participation has been help with the use of technology and some limited funding to purchase technology equipment for school use. Our district feels very fortunate to be selected to receive this grant which will help us improve our schools as we prepare to enter the 21st century.

News & World Report as one of the top 50 liberal arts colleges in the country, and this year the college attracted an especially strong first-year class. Among the Centre freshmen, there were 33 valedictorians and 12 salutatorians, along with 22 National Merit finalists and six semifinalists. Nearly half the class members ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school class.

Local resident in ECU Honors Program

A Mt. Vernon resident is among the 121 students in Eastern University's prestigious Honors Program.

The program includes Dallas Graves.

ECU's Honors Program is designed for intellectually promising students who seek a strong grounding in the liberal arts along with their more specialized major. The 28-credit-hour program includes coursework in the humanities, social sciences and natural sciences, with emphasis on effective communication, development of critical thinking skills and integration of knowledge across academic disciplines.

But it's not all work and no play. Honors Program students also enjoy numerous educational field trips and other extracurricular activities and participate in numerous regional and national conferences.

Students who successfully complete the challenging program will be designated "Honors Scholars" upon graduation, and the designation will appear on their diplomas and official University transcripts.

Dr. Bonnie Gray, director of ECU's Honors Program, said graduates of the program are particularly attractive to prospective employers and graduate schools.

"Since the program requires a thesis and strong writing, thinking and speaking skills, it often carries extra weight with employers," Gray said. "Graduates of our Honors Program are very poised and have been active in class, and that has made the difference in their ability to speak in front of people."

Students with excellent academic backgrounds are invited to apply for the program. National Merit finalists and semifinalists are automatically accepted. Beyond that, students with high school grade point averages of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale and with at least a score of 26 on the American College Test will be given priority. Other students demonstrating the potential for outstanding academic performance will also be considered. For more information, contact Dr. Bonnie Gray at 606-622-1403, or visit the Honors Program's World Wide Web site at <http://falcon.eku.edu/honors>. ECU's home page is at <http://www.eku.edu>.

AVIATION BILL MEANS "FRIENDLIER SKIES"

A writer once described her feelings about airplanes as similar to the way she felt about diets. "It seems to me they're wonderful things for other people to go on."

While there are plenty of people who get jittery just at the thought of getting on an airplane, millions of Americans depend on air travel to get them to their destination, whether it's for business or for pleasure. That's why it's so important to assure the industry is run safely and efficiently.

One important way Congress assures this happens is through the Federal Aviation Reauthorization Act, which as ranking member on the Aviation Subcommittee, I was able to help craft.

The bill's goals were two-fold: To assure we have a state-of-the-art national aviation infrastructure system and to ensure the security of that system.

To accomplish these goals we provided funds for airport projects all across the country, including millions for Kentucky, and included many new safety and security measures to address the public's growing concerns.

When most of us rush off to catch our flights, we don't give much thought to just how much goes into getting our plane into the air and to our destination. In fact, our flights are dependent on an array of equipment and facilities including runways, control towers, radar equipment and navigational devices. All of these need to be maintained and updated as both major and commuter airports expand to meet growing demand.

The Airport Improvement Program (AIP), which is funded by this legislation, provides the funding for our airports to build runways, terminals and install navigational devices.

Industry analysts agree that aviation is at a critical point, with an average increase of 3.7 percent in domestic traffic projected by the year 2007. Yet, most of our airports are operating at or near capacity. Funding from the AIP will enable airports to not only keep pace with current demands, but prepare for the future.

This legislation also works to assure a safe and secure system. The tragedy of TWA flight 800 forced the entire country to reexamine our aviation security standards. The President quickly created the White House Commission on Aviation Safety and Security, headed up by Vice President Gore, to assure the public that we won't settle for anything less than the safest air travel possible.

Congress then incorporated many of the Commission's recommendations into our Reauthorization legislation including:

- * the purchase of explosive detection equipment;
- * the placing of security equipment at our major airports;
- * increasing the use of passenger profiling with existing data bases and air carrier computer reservation systems;
- * criminal background checks and FBI fingerprint checks for all security screeners and other airport and airline personnel with access to secure areas; and
- * increased funding for the U.S. Customs and other law enforcement agencies, along with increased training for airport security screeners.

These measures not only send a clear message that terrorism will not be tolerated in the United States, but will also underscore that safety is always the top priority.

In the end, passage of this legislation isn't guaranteed to ease everyone's fear of flying. But it will mean safer, more efficient flights.

For all your hometown news.

Library News

By Betty Lindblom, Children's Librarian

The young patrons of the Rockcastle Co. Public Library have been very busy these last few weeks.

First was the "Story Book Parade" at the Bittersweet Festival. We had 20 children dressed as their favorite story book characters. The imagination of the children and their costumes made everyone sit up and take notice. We had everyone from Huck Finn to the Wizard of Oz Scarecrow.

After parading up Main Street

each child was given a prize in their category.

I would like to thank Pam Chaliff and Judy Wilson for helping me on the day of the parade. I would also like to thank the mothers and fathers for bringing the children to make this such a success. We hope to make this an annual event.

On October 29th, we had a "Goulash" good time at our Great Pumpkin Night. We had over 65 children come for storytelling, pumpkin decorating and costume party. The costumes were so imaginative, it was extremely hard to choose a winner because all the children were winners in one way or another.

As always I would like to thank some people who made my job a lot easier. First the other employees at the library - Pearlie Rash, Pam Chaliff, Geraldine Robbins, and Ruby Sayers. McDonald's restaurant for the loan of their punch bowl, they have been very good to our library over the years. Michael Robbins for helping us get our pumpkins to decorate and the parents who helped us give out the "goodies." I think a very good time was had by all and I want to encourage the children to keep coming to the library. Also remember our Story Hour each Tuesday from 1:00 - 2:00 p.m.

Watch for hypothermia

Few people think of November as an "outdoor" month. To most, it is a cold, wet, windy month, when time is best spent indoors.

Actually, November is a month when hundreds of thousands of Kentuckians, from farmers and hunters to high school football players and fans stay outdoors for hours, often in cold, wet weather conditions.

Players, fans, farmers and hunters need to be aware that wet, cold, windy weather are ideal conditions for hypothermia, a medical condition caused by the body cooling to dangerous levels. It is always painful, and in severe cases, can be fatal.

Surprisingly, cold, wet conditions produce more hypothermia cases than extremely cold weather does, said J. Stephen Stapczynski, M.C., associate professor and chair of the department of emergency medicine at the University of Kentucky College of Medicine.

"We usually have the most hypothermia cases during cold, wet, drizzly periods," Stapczynski said. Colder weather, with high wind-chill factors, will also cause hypothermia, but most people will take precautions during an extreme cold spell.

They may not be as cautious, however, during the cold, drizzly periods of late fall. "Outdoors" persons are susceptible to mild cases of hypothermia. This occurs, Stapczynski said, when the body temperature drops below 96 degrees.

"Between 94 and 96 degrees could be normal for some individuals. Below 94 degrees would be distinctly abnormal and is generally associated with problems," Stapczynski noted.

Most of these cases, provided the person is appropriately clothed, take at least three to four hours of exposure. For persons in poor health and children, the time may be shorter. In times of extremely cold weather, it may only take a couple minutes.

The worst situation for farmers, hunters and others who may be outdoors, is cold-water immersion. This can occur by falling in creeks, ponds, or other bodies of water.

"Cold-water immersion is the homeless and others who may suffer from the weather, is one reason for the decrease, Stapczynski said. Credit also goes to the media and medical communities for their educational efforts about cold weather, he added.

"We just don't see as many hypothermia cases as we used to," Stapczynski said. "The kind we do see are cold-water immersions caused by people walking across a frozen pond and falling in, or persons who are outdoors for recreational or occupational purposes and overreacted themselves."

The best way to avoid hypothermia is to use common sense. If you are outside in a cold, wet rain, don't overdo it. Get inside, dry off and warm up. The same rule applies in extremely cold weather.

It is also important to dress appropriately. Layered clothing is the best method and all parts of the body, especially the head and hands, need to be covered.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
Can anyone please tell me why the firemen in Livingston act as if they are ambulance, hospital, police and prosecutor when actually a part of them do not even have a high school education. Let alone a medical license or police training.
They overstep their bounds in every field possible. They run at breakneck speed to wrecks (without being dispatched) or any ambulance run that may have some kind of gory mess for them to leaver over. They are at many police activities and have been asked on occasion to step back, get out of the way or just leave. They have no training for any police activity and are not policemen! Yet the fire chief and his followers seem to year and almost militia-like in their never ending glory trips. Recently the fire chief was at a fatality car wreck in a school bus.
He was of no use at all because there was two State police, the coroner and his assistant. They seemed to have everyone they needed on such a terrible scene yet here sets a school bus and our fire chief.

He has since been removed from the charge he had over the buses, but he still thinks he is a policeman and those little followers of his are his officers.
I know this because recently during an argument with the Mayor Ed Lite, the fire chief Sam Stallsworth and his assistant held me and beat me in the head with his police-type flashlight. I received 13 staples in my head and bruises and cuts to my neck and face.
I was grabbed from behind and held while the beating took place. I am currently in the process of having these vigilantly-type people prosecuted. Since the firemen are of the Fire Department, I am hoping to have help from the Fire-Commissioner also.
I hope the other people in our community can now safely cross the road without fear of being run down and our fireman can have leadership as firemen not police, coroner, ambulance, prosecutor and judge.

Thank you,
Jeremy M. Holt

Dear Editor,
I am in the fifth grade at Hart-Ransom School in Modesto, California. I have adopted your state as a class project. I will be doing a report and making displays about your state. In May, my class will be having a "States' Fair". I will display and show everything I have learned about your state.
It would be helpful to me if you could send postcards of your state, maps, brochures, information about wildlife, industry, neat places to visit, statistics, sports team and any other information and items your readers feel would be helpful.

I hope your readers can help me with my project. I'm looking forward to hearing from people in your state.

"Our Readers Write Continued"

Dear Editor,
 In response to Maynard Head's published sermon "Who Are Southern Baptists?" in last week's Mt. Vernon Signal (10-31-96), I make a few observations.
 There are several points that I must wholeheartedly agree and concur with Mr. Head on. That Jesus is Lord, Saviour the Chief Cornerstone, the "head of the body, the church; who is the beginning, the first born from the dead, that in all things he might be the preeminent." Col.1:18; Eph.1:21-23. I must agree that the Bible is God's truth without any error, that it is to be our sole rule of faith as II Tim 3:16-17 affirms. I must agree that we are all individually responsible and accountable before God, and each man must make their decision for or against Christ, Rm14:12, Mt. 12:30.
 We would concur on points like: The deity and humanity of Jesus; the substitutionary death of Christ on the cross for our sins; Jesus' death, burial, resurrection and Ascension back to heaven. We would agree the church and state must maintain separate identities and functions for the good of both, for indeed, whenever religion has controlled the state or state has controlled religion, both have been corrupted and religious and civil liberty have suffered; yes, these are words well spoken. I would agree with the idea of the independence of the local church from hierarchical control. IPeL5:12. That salvation is by God's Grace, Eph2:5,7,8. Yes I also believe "It matters vitally what we believe. Ideas rule the world. The world's conduct is molded by its beliefs." Because it does matter vitally what we believe, Gal1:6-9, Jude 3, Jn 8:32, there are two issues in particular I disagree with Mr. Head on that are contained in this published speech, I would like to address.
 First, it is stated that "what we now call the Baptist Faith and message can be traced all the way back to Jesus." If this was true, can it be found in the New Testament where we can read, about, the "Baptist Church" or "Baptist Churches" or "Baptist Faith"? I have yet to find any verses containing the above. I read about the disciples being called Christians first in Antioch, Ac1:26. But never do I find the disciples of Jesus ever being called "Baptists". It will not suffice to cite verses about "John the Baptist". John was "the Baptist" not "a Baptist". Just as Jesus was "the Christ" not "a Christ" as if there were many, dearly beloved.
 A second vital point I disagree with Mr. Head about is Believer's Baptism. We do agree that baptism is by Immersion, for Col.2:12 affirms, "Buried with him in Baptism" which necessitates an Immersion. We would agree that a person must be a believer in Jesus first, before Baptism. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved," but he that believeth not shall be damned." Mk16:16. The point which I disagree with Mr. Head about is the meaning and purpose of Baptism. Notice Mr. Head said, "Baptism does not save." Dear friends, open your Bible to IPeL3:21; Peter said: "The like figure where unto even Baptism doth also now save us." I prefer to believe the Bible on this score. How does "Baptism doth also now save us" in the same exact sense that faith saves us, or that repentance saves us, or that confession saves us. These are all conditions Jesus sets down for us to obey, to receive his cleansing blood into our lives. Baptism is not our Savior, Jesus is. Faith is not our Savior, Jesus is. Repentance is not our Savior, Jesus is. Confession is not our Savior, Jesus is. But the Savior said men must believe, repent, confess, and be baptized to be saved. Jn8:24, Lk24:47, Rm10:9-10, IPeL3:21.

 It does not good to talk about Jesus being baptized, for Jesus was not baptized to gain remission of sins (for he had none). But neither was he baptized to show that he had remission of sins (for he had none). Notice Ac2:38. "Then Peter said unto them, repent and be baptized everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of the Holy Ghost." Notice it said they were to repent and be baptized "for the remission of sins." Some will try to say that "for" the remission of sins means "because of." Let me suggest two reasons why this cannot be. First, in Ac2:37, they asked a question, "men and brethren what shall we do?" Did Peter answer their question or not? Secondly, in Mt26:28, Jesus speaking of the cup said, "for this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins." The phrase "for the remission of sins" is exactly the same in English and Greek. Question, Did Jesus shed his blood in order that sins could be remitted or because of the remission of sins? To ask the question is to answer it.
 May our faith in the Lord Jesus cause us all to humbly bow to his word, the Bible, Jn.12:48.

Local physician attends National Weight Loss Conference

Dr. James A. Cunningham, Certified Bariatric Physician of Mt. Vernon, recently returned from the 46th Annual Obesity and Associated Conditions Symposium of the American Society of Bariatric Physicians (ASBP), which was held in Orlando, Florida. The symposium covered new advances in the treatment of obesity and related eating disorders. The ASBP is the only national medical society whose physician members deal with the medical management of obesity.

In addition, the physicians were updated on the latest health implications of obesity.

Pictured at the base of the Lincoln Statue in the Capitol Rotunda is the "Young at Heart" group from First Baptist Church of Mt. Vernon. The members of the groups recently traveled to Frankfort and toured the Capitol as well as other points of interest. While in the Capitol, they were invited to visit the office of their State Representative Danny Ford who is House Minority Floor Leader.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

I'll try to get some more news in this morning. I wrote my news last week but somehow it didn't get printed. So I'll try again.

We had a wonderful worship service at Fairview, Sunday, November 3rd. Our pastor, Rev. Harvey Pensol delivered such a stirring, heart warming and spiritual message. There was hardly a dry eye in the church, and that is something we don't see much of anymore. We used to see people happy and crying in our services, but there is not that much love and concern for others any more. I first thank god for all that happened. A good number of relocations were made and four professions of faith.

Our Sunday School attendance was 111 for which we are thankful. Well, this slow time has messed up our life again, why can't we be left alone? Our world has changed so much, but not for the better.

And won't we all be glad when the election is over? The T.V. ads have about filled us all. And we've heard so many untruths and falsehoods that it is hard to believe anything anymore. But after a person, (president or otherwise) has served one term in office we pretty well know what they are. And there is a lot of intelligent people in the world.

Melody Reppert and Phoebe Sorah were in Wellington, Ohio recently attending the wedding of Traci Knapp and David Knochiges. Traci is the granddaughter of Earl Sorah and the late Mary Jane (Reppert) Sorah. We wish them much happiness and a long life together. They have our love and prayers.

Visiting Mrs. Hallie Alexander last week were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gatliff of Berea and Mr. and Mrs. Gillis Gregory.

Philip and Ruth Gatliff also visited her aunt, Edith Mullins of Sinder, recently.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Gabhard, October 21st, were his niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Kneofel of Caco, Florida. They all went out for supper in celebration of Buddy's birthday.

Joyce Seals, Darleen Ahney and I were in McKee last Wednesday. We enjoyed the beautiful scenery, it was so pretty.

Please remember to attend Sunday School and church. Pray for those who are sick and hurting. For those who are ill or visit our friends and loved ones. It doesn't take much time to make a phone call. God bless you.

Building Wardrobes Suitable For Children

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Growing, active children are frequently in need of new clothing, but several factors should be considered during their wardrobe planning process.

Social development is one such factor. Preschool children are not concerned with style and fashion. They develop pride in their clothing from comments made by adults and are eager to please them. However, children of elementary school age want their clothing to conform to that of their playmates. Children who realize they do not dress like their peers often become self-conscious and anxious or feel inferior. Children need to develop socially, and clothing can help in their social development.

Children should also develop attitudes toward clothing. They need to learn at an early age why clothing worn to Sunday School may be different than that worn to school or out to play.

Wardrobe building can also be centered around colors. Know children's favorite colors, and choose three coordinating solid ones. Two of these should make up the majority of the wardrobe, and adding the third creates more interesting and versatile combinations. The wardrobe can be stretched further by adding garments with designs or prints in one or more of the coordinating colors.

Fabrics also figure into children's wardrobes. Soft, firmly woven and easy care fabrics are recommended for children's clothing. Smooth, firmly woven fabrics are stronger and stay cleaner than soft, fuzzy yarns, nubby fabrics or loosely woven fabrics. Fabric should also be suited to age, type of garment and the season.

Finally, size and fit need to be considered. Whenever possible, children should try on clothes for proper fit before purchase. Use accurate measurements when shopping alone. Check sleeve and pant leg lengths for fit and comfort. Be sure the child's head fits through neck openings easily.

When children's wardrobes are complete, help them learn what clothes to wear together. Children should decide the night before what they want to wear the next day and lay out pieces before going to bed.

This way, if something needs to be cleaned or ironed, there is time to do so or another outfit can be chosen.

Producers meeting on feeding beef to be held

Beef Producers are invited to a meeting on feeding their cow herd. The Meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 12th at 6:30 p.m. in the County Extension Service Meeting Room. Dr. John Johns, U.K. Extension Beef Specialist, will discuss how the beef cows nutrient needs change during different seasons.

First cutting hay for the past 2 years has been low-quality due to over maturity. Since farmers must feed what they have, we will look at ways to best utilize the feed available. With low cattle prices, many farmers are asking how can feed costs be cut.
