

Teachers Are Learners Too

Opal Adams, Speech Pathologist, attending ADHD/Tourettes Syndrome training.

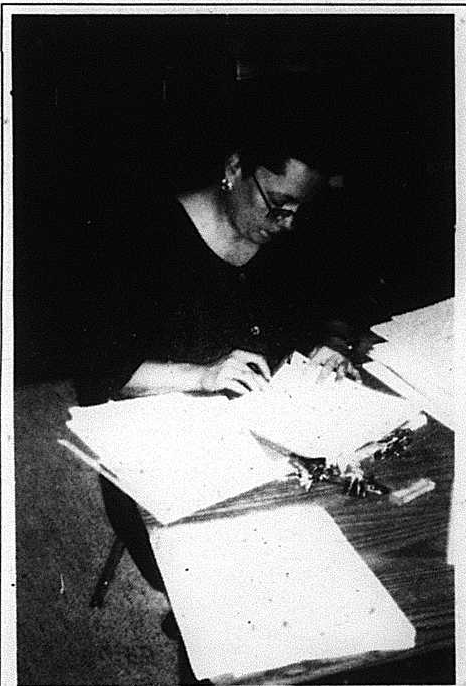

Almost everyone has noticed that what children learn and when they learn it has changed. Parents realize that their children are learning many things in different ways and often times earlier than they themselves did. It has been somewhat difficult for parents to realize that the workplace and colleges are now requiring students to learn differently. The same has been true for teachers. Teachers in Rockcastle County have been working very hard in an attempt to provide our students with the best instruction available during these times of changes.

Teachers in Rockcastle County would be the first to say, "I am as much a student as I am a teacher." They have found themselves back in the classroom learning how to be even more effective as teachers.

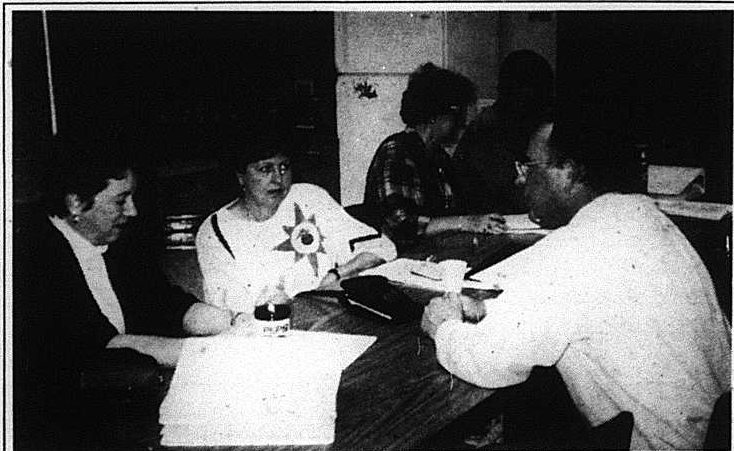

If anyone visits Rockcastle County High School on Tuesday evenings, they will witness teachers attending math and writing classes. Thirty teachers, grades K-4, are involved in a math class. They are learning how to help students enjoy learning, how to add, subtract, multiply, and divide by using manipulatives. They are also learning to help students solve problems which require thinking and reasoning skills.

Twenty-five teachers are also taking a writing class. They are learning how to help students develop the skills necessary to become proficient writers. Each week during their class they learn strategies that they can apply in their classrooms. Not only are the teachers learning but our students are also benefiting from the training as well.

There are numerous other training sessions being offered in the areas of economic education, science and strategies for helping teachers deal with student behavior. The teachers in Rockcastle County are extremely hard workers. They are to be commended for all their hard work and commitment that is shown as they strive to provide our children with a quality education. We in Rockcastle County are extremely fortunate to have such a highly professional group of teachers. Our hats are off to you!

"Preschoolers Prepare For Their Future"

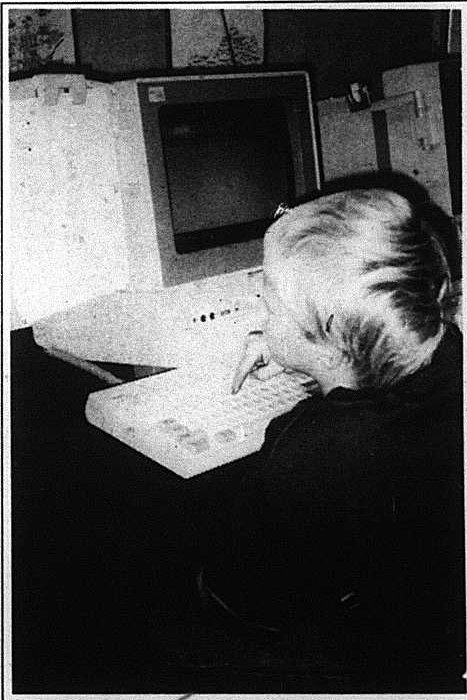

Preschool is designed to help young children prepare for their future by providing opportunities to develop and prepare their minds for learning. The centers provide a balance of active and quieter play which incorporate real and imaginary challenges. Children in preschool often imitate home, family, and school since they make up the largest and most important parts of their lives. Exciting things happen on a daily basis in preschool classrooms. The classrooms are set up in centers for books, games/puzzles, blocks, motor development, housekeeping, art, drama, music, computer, and more. Noise is abundant, movement is quick, and social interaction is encouraged as the children do and discover! The teachers plan for, work at, and foster confidence and language within every aspect of the program. It is wonderful to watch as these young children progress from simple materials dealing with color, size, and shape to matching, sorting, and classifying. We know and believe that children learn by doing and the concepts they learn from active play are indeed their foundation for future success in school and life.

Are You Plugged In?

Computers, software and other technology products are invaluable tools in the workplace and it's important for our children to learn how to use the tools of their day while they are in school. Twenty-first century workplaces will demand graduates who have experience with and knowledge of technology. In addition, exciting new technologies offer invaluable benefits to children's learning, making learning come alive and creating learning opportunities not previously possible.

We must also recognize the powerful impact technology can have for educators, as a tool in the curriculum, having access to world-wide resources, and in communicating with other educators. It can be particularly effective in motivating students who have not been easily reached through traditional teaching methods. Educational technology is a critical tool in delivering better instruction and services.

We are fortunate that all our schools are online and have access to these global resources. We hope to continue to increase the number of online computers in each school so access will be more readily available for staff and students. Residencies Support Arts and Humanities Instruction

Kentucky Shakespeare Festival

Debra Hille, Mixed Media specialist

Rockcastle County Schools have district and school level administrative support for the Arts Education Program. Arts and Humanities is a separate component in our KIRIS assessment constituting 7% of our total accountability index.

It is essential that the Arts also be taught as an interdisciplinary component embracing the content areas of Reading, Math, Science and Social Studies. To ensure we reach our goal of 100% proficiency by 2012 it is necessary that we continue to address arts instruction.

Rockcastle County Arts Specialists, which already have established programs in each school, cannot be expected to reach this goal alone. For this reason Artist Residencies help supplement basic classroom instruction. As consultants artist residencies must be utilized more for teacher professional development than merely entertainment or isolated classroom projects.

The most important aspect of student achievement lies within the classroom instructional program.

Rockcastle County has teachers willing to become trained toward better development/implementation of the Arts.

*"There is no choice to be made between practical workforce skills and academic knowledge.
The two reinforce each other and go hand in hand."
— President Bill Clinton*

Rockcastle County, along with the rest of Kentucky, is creating a School-to-Work system. We hope to impact the future of our children by giving them both academic skills; as well as technical and vocational skills. This is being done by bringing real-life activities into the curriculum and the classroom.

What Makes A Good School?

What Makes A School Good

by Sonya Hensley • 10th Grade

When asked the question, "What makes a school good," my mind was instantly flooded with the thoughts of all the things it takes to make a school good. Teachers, principals, a selection of classes, and counselors who help us, as students decide which career and college is best for us. It takes all of this for my school to function correctly and be the best it can be. Hello, my name is Sonya Hensley. I am writing to answer the question: what makes a school good? As a student at Rockcastle County High School (RCHS), I can say that it takes a variety of things and people working together to make a school good. Everything in a school depends on each other. For example, with no teachers to teach our gigantic assortment of classes they would be useless.

As a freshman last year I recognized first hand just what a vast amount of classes we as students of RCHS have to choose from. From chorus to agriculture to technology, it seems as though we have every possible aspect of our education covered.

There are a lot of people that make RCHS good. Teachers are one, they teach us the vital things that we must know to survive in the everyday world and as adults. Without them we would become a county of illiterate, confused people. You see, from the moment you first started school a teacher was there. They taught you to read, write and do math. Some of us may have learned at home but someone taught you and was your teacher. Another example of people who make our school good are the counselors. They help us decide which college and career is best for us. They also are the ones you go to for scholarship information.

Next are the principals. Many students think our school would be good without them. Can you imagine a school with no principal? Principals help keep a school a learning environment and "weed out" the students who disturb this environment. A school with no principal would be a very unruled environment where no one could learn.

As I said there are a lot of things and people that go into making a school good and that go into making Rockcastle County High School one of the best schools in the state and certainly the best it can be.

What Makes My School Special

by Darin Poynter • 9th Grade

If you ask a lot of people what they think about school, they will probably tell you that they do not like it very well. If you asked me, however, you would get a different response, a positive one. I would tell you that I like school and I think it is special to me. But why, you ask, is it special. I will tell you why.

School is many things. But, the first thing it was was an institution of learning for people who wanted to better themselves and become scholars. It was also only for those who were well-to-do financially, though. However, over time, more people began to thirst, to thirst for knowledge. This thirst led schools to become what they are today. This makes my school special to me, the fact that it grew over time from an idea to a reality. Not many ideas have persevered like this and it is great when one does. It shows strength in those who helped make it a reality and it shows respect for those who make sure that it is always a reality. This in turn, shows me good leadership and allows me to learn from those people.

My school is also special to me because of the way it treats me, the student. Most of the other schools I have been to treated me like I did not matter but for the achievements I received; they treated me like I was only important when I could get something valuable to the school. My school now takes pride in treating the students as if each one of us is special and that we do always matter to them. This idea makes me feel better about myself and my school and enables me to want to do more for it. This is a very good way to be in this day and age.

The last reason I am going to express as to why I think my school is so special is because my school is a part of me and everything that is a part of me is important and special to me. It will always be a part of me and I will always remember and cherish my memories at my school.

Now that you know why I think my school is so special, is there any way that you can argue that my school is special? I think not. Nobody can and be honest with themselves, when they take into effect all of the things that I have said about it, can they?

Our Good School

Contrary to a popular belief I feel that our school is a very good school. So, when I was offered a chance to write an article explaining why I feel our school is good I jumped at the offer.

First, I feel our school is good because of our students. I feel that good students are the main key to having a good school. Good students help contribute to a good school spirit, a good attendance, grades and help to give our school a good name (so to speak).

Another vital key to having a good school as ours is to have caring, qualified teachers, who know how to teach so that all students understand. Teachers that care can help explain their subject(s) to their students and how they may pertain to their lives, which help the students get involved.

The third and final key to a good school is extracurricular activities, such as basketball, softball, cheerleading, band, football and other various clubs. These activities help create well-rounded, happier students that care about these sports, clubs and organizations, while keeping their grades up to stay in these organizations.

Sincerely, A Challenge student, Derrick Dooley • 10th Grade

What Makes A Good School

by Alex Tyler • 9th Grade

Different people think that different things make a good school. I asked some people what they thought made a good school. Among the responses were girls, breaks, teachers that understand students, lunch, school spirit, and lots of different classes. Also received was the comment "I like school, but teachers and classes get in the way."

After all of the surveys followed by logical elimination aided by common sense concluded that, because of differences in opinion not everyone can be satisfied yet compromises can be made.

A good school would have to have teachers who were energetic in both academic area and school spirit. These teachers would have to be able to help the student with any problem faced and should understand them. Teachers also should not seem to pick favorites or 'teacher's pets.'

The school should have a wide variety of classes for the students to choose from. By having the variety of classes the student would have more of a chance to get a class which they would enjoy as well as learn life and job affecting skills.

A good school should have both male and female students and teachers from a wide variety of races and ethnic groups. This would be needed to slack down on prejudices. Schools should have the things that I've listed, if they want to be considered a good school. Different people would agree and disagree with this depending on their opinions on this topic.

Local man charged in pharmacy burglary

A Mt. Vernon man was arrested by city police last week and charged with burglary and theft by unlawful taking.

Clarence Jones, 32, of Valley View Apartments in Mt. Vernon is accused of breaking into Saylor's Pharmacy and taking "several medications."

Acting on information, Police-men Lefe Owens and Barry Adams questioned Jones and received permission to search his apartment. They found several medications that came from Saylor's, police reported.

About $3000 to $4000 was involved in the theft, police estimated. Jones' bond was set at $10,000 cash. He remains in jail.

On November 7, someone entered the offices of Dr. George Griffith on Main Street by breaking a back door glass.

The thieves got some sample medications, a digital thermometer, a microscope and office equipment. Police recovered all office equipment. Jones is a suspect in the break-in.

Officers Eddie Delaney and Lefe Owens were involved in the investigation.

No injuries in school bus wreck

Two wrecks, one involving a school bus, occurred during the past few days, and resulted in no serious injuries.

A Roundstone bus, with eight children and driven by Sylvia Gabbard, 61 of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon and a car driven by Debra Britton, 39, of Mt. Vernon collided on Thacker Road in the Scaffold Cane area about 7:30 a.m. last Wednesday, police reported. No one was reported injured.

According to Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan, who investigated, Mrs. Gabbard said she came around a curve and did not see the Britton vehicle.

Deputy Doan also investigated an accident between Mary Lawrence, 36, of Ottawa and Jonathan Butler, 19, of Quail last Friday.

Deputy Doan said that someone (Cont. to A9)

Two Laurel Co. men were flown to the University of Tennessee hospital suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning Saturday. The men were found unconscious and foaming at the mouth by a group of local men in a remote area off Cromer Ridge near Exit 49 of I-75.

Glenn Turner, 21, of 2402 Lang-nan Road, London and Mike Johnson, 29, of 1291 Somerset Road, London, were loaded into a U.T. Lifestar helicopter about 2:30 p.m. Saturday, after Shawn Mullins, Jason Lear, Steve Renfro, Eric Childress and Coby Smith, all of Rockcastle County, found the two men about 10:30 a.m. in a 1987 Suzuki Samurai that was stuck in a mud pit near the Rockcastle River some five miles off Ky. 909.

$200,000 lost in fire at Conway

By: Richard Anderkin
Jerry Slate is wondering how he will be able to afford to give his eight children a decent Christmas this year, following a fire at his business on Sunday afternoon.

Slate's Auto Repair and a mechanic business owned by Gene Caldwell were completely destroyed by the 2 p.m. blaze.

Slate said the loss of the two businesses will exceed $200,000.

Four cars, two complete diesel engines, tires, compressors and tools were among the items lost in the fire. A faulty kerosene heater is being blamed for the fire.

According to Mt. Vernon deputy fire chief Bud Cox, Slate was working in his garage when something went wrong with a kerosene heater he was using to heat the building.

Slate said Tuesday that he was putting a motor in one of the four vehicles lost in the fire when the fire started.

Internet system goes "on-line" at Rockcastle Library Thursday

By: Perlina Anderkin
"It's the only public access to technology in the county and the library now qualifies as the Information Center for our county," so said Allen Pensol, chairman of the board of the Rockcastle County Library. Mr. Pensol was referring to the new computer station and Internet system which will be available to the public Thursday (today) during regular library hours.

The opening of the Internet System completes Phase II of our improvement plan for the library," Pensol said. Phase I involved a nine-month physical renovation of the inside of the library which is now complete.

To have access to the Internet system, patrons must sign an Internet Agreement which states, among other things, that the patron, or parents or guardian of an underage internet user, is solely responsible for any material sent or received on the Internet. Also patrons or parents or guardians of underage users, must agree to hold the library and its Internet carrier blameless for any material, or lack of material, found on the Internet.

The computer station was purchased from library funds but Pensol said the library has commitments from businesses to help with the funding of more computers. The library plans to eventually purchase two more computers and to put their book index file on computer.

Two persons Pensol singled out to praise for their efforts in getting the system up and running were Kelly Pensol, technology coordinator for Rockcastle County Schools, who not only provided much-needed expertise but, through her contacts, helped the library get on-line at no cost.

Pensol also recognized Jerry Burke, an acknowledged computer expert, for his help with the purchasing and installation of the system. Burke also provided one-on-one staff training in addition to the regional classes they attended. Mr. Burke recently was named to the library board to replace Maud Randolph, who resigned because of moving from the county.

Pensol stressed that the new addition to the library would be an "on-going learning process" for everyone, staff and patrons. "There are going to be people using this equipment who know more about it than all our staff put together and this is fine,"

Pensol said, "as long as the system is used within our guidelines."

Witnesses said the Phelps' truck flipped several times after she lost control of it on U.S. 25 at Burr. Mrs. Phelps was partially pinned under the vehicle. David Eaton Jr., of Central Body Service, used the winch on his wrecker to pull the truck off Mrs. Phelps. She was transported to the Rockcastle Hospital and later flown to the University of Kentucky, where she is listed in stable condition with several broken ribs. Shown removing Mrs. Phelps from the scene were Darrell Doan, Roy Lucas, David Bales, Tim Daugherty, Ray Lear and Anita Barron.

Patsy Cable and her daughter Linda Loudermilk were injured in a two car wreck at Brodhead Friday. Members of the Mt. Vernon fire department used the Jaws-of-Life apparatus to free Mrs. Cable from her car. According to a Kentucky State Police Officer, Mrs. Robin Lear of Brodhead pulled into the path of the Cable car in front of Foodland Supermarket. Mrs. Lear and her son Logan were not injured.

It begins with a pounding heart, like you have just dropped 10 floors progresses to a dry mouth, rubber knees and finally, a stomach that feels like you have just dropped 10 floors in a high-speed elevator. No, I'm not describing your emotions on an im-hour photos I had left for the paper. I left at 6:30 and returned to Eastern to watch Allison swim for a few minutes before the 7 p.m. quitting time. When I arrived, I found all the doors to the pool area locked and panic struck, especially after I convinced a custodian to unlock the door to the pool, only to find it dark and no one around. Needless to say, several security guards knew I was on the premises and their attempts to calm me were not successful. After deciding she was not in the building, I finally went outside to the side entrance she uses and found her wandering around waiting for me to arrive at my regular time and place to pick her up.

In retrospect, I was irrational. Allison, who is a good-sized 11-year-old, would be quite a hand full for anyone to abduct besides being, I hope, intelligent enough not to willingly go with a stranger without putting up a fight. But, at times like that, reason plays no part at all. An avid reader with an active imagination, I immediately feared the worst. The most traumatic part for Allison, I decided later, was when I found her and grabbed her and began crying in earnest because I was so happy she wasn't misplaced. She admitted later that she was "terribly embarrassed" being embraced by a hysterical mother in the middle of EKU's campus. Allison's sister, Paige, commiserated with me but said she could imagine the guard's confusion at seeing me find a "child" nearly as tall as myself when he was probably expecting some helpless little girl. But, to another more cheerful subject, Jim and I recently welcomed another grandchild, Alaina Victoria, born to our daughter, Sara, and her husband, Jason Cogger. This was grandchild number six for us. Needless to say, she's beautiful and we can only hope she will live up to her namesake, her great grandmother, Victoria Reese. Mrs. Reese is a grand lady and with a little luck Alaina will inherit her many fine attributes. We can only hope her mother buys a harness the minute Alaina takes her first step so she can keep better track of a wandering child than Sara's mother has over the years.

UPBEAT ECONOMIC NUMBERS NO MIRAGE

In the movie, Casablanca, Humphrey Bogart tells inspector Claude Rains he came to Casablanca for the water. "But we're in the middle of the desert." Rains exclaims. Bogart replies, "I was misinformed."

Luckily there's no misinforming when it comes to the latest numbers on the deficit, unemployment, wages and inflation. These numbers are the best proof that the 1993 deficit reduction package was in the best interest of the nation and our economic future. And most importantly, that deficit reduction package paid off huge dividends for hard working families and set this country on a fast track to the ultimate goal -- a balanced budget.

The latest budget deficit figure for 1996 is the smallest since 1981, making the U.S. Deficit -- as a share of Gross Domestic Product -- the smallest of any major economy in the world.

Back in 1993 we laid out a plan to cut the deficit in half, and put the nation back on sound economic footing. We more than fulfilled that promise by cutting the deficit by 63 percent. In fact, the deficit has fallen for four years in a row for the first time since 1945.

When we passed a tough budget plan in 1993, many made dire predictions about skyrocketing deficits, unemployment rates and inflation. But the results show:

- Four years ago, the deficit was $290 billion, the highest in history. Today, it's been cut by more than half to $107.3 billion.
- Four years ago, unemployment was above 7 percent every month. Today, unemployment is just 5.4 percent. That makes unemployment below 6 percent for the 23rd consecutive month. We've also seen 10 million new jobs created, with 68 percent of those new jobs in high-wage industries.
- Inflation has averaged just 2.8 percent per year -- that's the lowest average rate of inflation since Kennedy was President; and.
- Today we're seeing the lowest mortgage rates in 30 years, averaging 7.8 percent, and the highest home ownership in 15 years.

While we still have more work to do -- including balancing the budget -- our economy is the most solid it's been in a generation. The strongest stock market growth since World War II is only one reason the U.S. has been named the "most competitive economy in the world" for the last three years in a row.

According to Money Magazine, "The majority of Americans are better off on most pocketbook issues after 3 and a half years under Clinton, who's presided over the kind of economic progress any Republican would be proud of." And what about Business Week? They say, "Inflation is low, growth is good, and the dollar is strengthening. America is in its best economic shape in 20 years."

Those endorsements are further proof that the upbeat economic numbers are no mirage. Instead, they're solid accomplishments we can build on over the next four years for Kentucky's hard working families.

Or as Bogart says at the end of Casablanca "This looks like the beginning of a beautiful friendship."

A Kentucky Christmas Chorus planned for December 17

Whether you sing only in the shower where no one else can hear you, or you're the star soloist of your church choir, you are invited to raise your voice in song with Kentuckians from across the state at the ninth annual A Kentucky Christmas Chorus on Tuesday, December 17, in Lexington's Rupp Arena.

Over the last eight years, thousands of choirs, choral groups, families and individuals have made this FREE sing-along a favorite holiday tradition. The Lexington Philharmonic, conducted by George Zach, and the Lexington Singers will lead everyone in song. Solos will be performed by Melissa Baler and Othello Pumphrey, and local country musician and singer Troy Lee Gentry will also perform.

"I am continually pleased by the extraordinary number of people who tell us how much they enjoy watching the Christmas Chorus on television—live and on Christmas day," said Dr. William Colis, surgical director at the Kentucky Eye Institute. "And the event is so well received around the state that the number of people attending grows each year. I wonder if this is the year we'll fill Rupp Arena?"

The doors open for this FREE event at 6:00 p.m. and pre-show entertainment, and activities begin at 6:15. Entertainment will include the Main Street Brass Band, the Salvation Army Band, the UK Newman Center Bell Choir and the Lexington Police & Fire quartet. In addition, Frosty and other holiday mascots will be on hand.

Representatives from Southern Belle Dairies will provide free egg-nog samples during the pre-show activities and concession stands will be open.

The singing begins at 7:30 p.m. and A Kentucky Christmas Chorus will be televised LIVE on WKYT-TV, Channel 27, in Lexington and

'Busy Bees meet

Busy Bees met Tuesday, November 12th at the Extension Office in Mt. Vernon. Meeting was called to order and Ms. Shell Gilliam, devotional leader, read two lovely poems that had been written by her great grandmother, Carolyn Gilbert gave the roll call and asked that we answer by naming our favorite food. We had 10 in attendance; four of those were visitors.

Old business discussed was our annual Christmas Dinner, which will be

December 6th, 6:30 p.m. at Sweet Betty's Restaurant in Berea. New business discussed was a Christmas program involving the REAP program. Ms. Britany Cromer recreation leader, had a very challenging game for the evening.

Lesson for the month was a video entitled Harvest of Hope. The tape told of life in the Ukraine. We are so blessed in America. Ms. Shell Gilliam shared a craft, color and placed in jars, and then it was refreshment time.

Reminder: keep saving those pop can tabs, they will be recycled and proceeds donated to U.K. Children's Hospital. Have a happy and safe Thanksgiving holiday.

Pine trees not totally ever-green

They may not turn shades of bright red and orange in the fall, but pine trees do go through the same process of foliage drop as hardwoods each year.

Doug McLaren, Extension Forester with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture said species of pines drop their needles just like other trees drop their leaves. So falling pine needles are not cause for concern.

"The pines also lose leaves during the fall like the hardwoods. The only difference is pines do not lose all leaves in a single season," said McLaren.

Fall needle dropping on pines is especially evident on white pines because the needles turn bright yellow or brown before they fall, he said.

White pines are easy to identify by the five needles per needle bundle. Their limbs also grow in a complete set at one height on the stem. Usually these groups of limbs are three feet apart. A set of limbs grow all around the stem every three feet.

Foliage drop on white pines is more noticeable because the brown needles contrast with the uniform dark green foliage, McLaren said.

McLaren said autumn needle fall is normal and should not be confused with disease or insect damage. McLaren said if the color change is not uniform and if it is taking place on the outer-most part of the limb rather than the inner-most part of limbs, the needle fall is not natural. "Normally, needles will change to a brownish-yellow first, then abruptly brown," McLaren said.

"Cause for alarm for any pine, as well as hardwoods, would be seeing foliage turning from green to brown on the exterior of any limb while still green on the interior." He said if this method of color change and needle fall should develop, a sample should be taken to someone with expertise in forestry to determine what the problem is stemming from.

McLaren said pines will also drop needles in early winter to leave the tree uniformly green for spring.

Choirs and choral groups can get reserved seating and have their names appear on the television program by calling 606-258-3026 or sending in the reservation form they received in the mail by December 2. Groups who register in advance will also receive discount coupons for the Southern Lights holiday light show at the Kentucky Horse Park.

Printed programs will contain the words of all the songs to be sung at the Chorus. The programs will be inserted in the December 16 Lexington Herald-Leader and handed out the evening of the event.

A Kentucky Christmas Chorus is sponsored by Kentucky Eye Institute and WKTV-TV, Channel 27, in cooperation with the Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government and about 150 community volunteers.

Adoption Agency Opens

The opening of AdoptInc. has made adoption services more readily available for people in eastern and central Kentucky. Services were previously limited in the area. Founded by adoptive parents, Brenda Riddle and Larry Ledbetter, AdoptInc. will provide adoptive home studies for international, domestic, and independent adoptions. Services will be available weekdays/evenings and weekends as needed, to accommodate potential adoptive parents.

November is National Adoption Month.

If you, or someone you know, has an interest in learning more about adoption, please contact AdoptInc. @ (606)275-5012, and speak with Brenda.

AdoptInc. is a Kentucky licensed adoption agency.

Welcome Home Baby Lee

By Brenda Riddle

Being "mama" to Lee Riddle Ledbetter is the most incredibly wonderful experience of my life! The joy of being a parent is beyond description, but the way it came about for us is a bit out of the ordinary.

A year ago on Derby Day, 1995, we received approval as an adoptive home. Just two days later, a phone call announced the referral production, boy waiting for us in Guatemala! For fifteen long weeks we waited for the Guatemalan adoption process to become finalized. For me though the bonding process began when we received pictures of Lee. We were lucky that the adoption worker was planning a medical mission trip to Guatemala in a couple of weeks. She would get to visit the baby and the foster family while in Guatemala. She promised to take pictures and send them to us.

Our bags stayed packed and waiting and, in late August, we received the phone call to "fly!" We spent a couple of days in Guatemala siteseeing, getting a feel for the Guatemalan culture, gathering memories to share with Lee in later years.

The plan was the attorney, interpreter and foster Mom and Dad to bring the baby to our hotel room around 5 p.m. Here we were waiting, waiting, waiting again! Five o'clock passed, six o'clock passed. We watched TV in Spanish. I saw a button on an sweater. We played "hangman." We tried not to let our imaginations run wild and I found myself saying, "This is God's will it's going to happen!"

Finally the knock on the door came. They're here! I showed Lee the rattle I had for him and took him in my arms. (My husband, Larry was gracious enough to let me hold him first!) It was clear that the foster mother and father loved Baby Lee, who had been in their care for about four months. They were sad to let him go, but happy for his new life with us. Close to the time for our visit to end, Baby Lee was sleepy. I let his foster Mom get him to sleep, then they quietly slipped out. Of course, Larry and I were snaking up everything about the precious sleeping baby who was now ours! I didn't get much sleep that night because I just wanted to watch the baby. Larry snoozed away!

We had to be at the United States Embassy by 7:30 a.m. the next morning. The interpreter met us at the hotel and went with us to the Embassy. We made application for Baby Lee's visa, which we would be able to pick up in the afternoon.

Our trip home was long, but which one of us didn't sleep as soon as we got home? Me, of course. I was too excited. My Mom called, then one of my best friends, Lois, called to share in our joy. So many people were praying for us!

People who haven't adopted may wonder about "bonding" with an adopted child. From talking with others who have adopted and from what I've read upon the subject, I gather that bonding with an adopted child is similar to biological parenting; it occurs naturally for most, yet it's different for different people. For me, bonding with Baby Lee was the most natural thing. I find that my love for Lee becomes deeper and deeper, yet at times I think I couldn't possibly love him any more than I already do! We've had Baby Lee in our lives for more than a year. Now I know why babies are called "a bundle of joy." I've also noticed that most things other parents have told me about the perils of parenting usually turn out to be true! Yeah, I'm forty and having the time of my life! Thanks be to God... (and thanks for the times that little angel takes a nap!)

Sharon Hensley, daughter of Allen and Rose Hensley of Pine Hill, has a perfect 4.0 standing at RCHS. She will be attending Somerset Community College and will be majoring in Pre-Pharmacy, upon completion she will apply to the U.K. College of Pharmacy. She is the Vice-President of Programs for FHA and is involved in FCA, Key Club, Beta Club and is a member of the National Honor Society. She is currently enrolled in a college English course. Her hobbies include playing the piano and singing in the church choir.

Hospice: the preferred option in the end-of-life debate

Recent court decisions and the activity of Michigan's Dr. Jack Kevorkian have placed the issue of physician-assisted suicide squarely on the national agenda. Hospice of the Kentucky River, Inc., and the National Hospice Organization (NHO) urge the public during November, National Hospice Month, to think through the matter rationally and thoroughly and to recognize hospice as part of the continuum of end-of-life care. NHO is the nation's largest advocacy organization for terminally ill patients and their families.

Hy Mahoney, president of NHO, issued the following statement: "To date, court decisions and the resulting media coverage have reflected only the extremes of this debate. Terminally ill patients are presented with two bleak choices: aggressive treatment to the bitter end, or asking a doctor to purposefully end their lives. However, there is a middle ground in the form of hospice care. While hard to summarize in a brief statement, hospice meets the needs of more than 390,000 patients and their families each year. Although framed as an issue of 'choice,' the current debate on assisted suicide omits the most rational option for people faced with a terminal illness."

One such program providing this option is Hospice of the Kentucky River, Inc. (HKR). Like the 2,800 hospice programs across the country, HKR offers a special kind of care designed to provide sensitivity and support for people in the final phase of a terminal illness. Hospice care seeks to enable patients to carry on an alert, pain-free life and to manage their emotional and spiritual needs so their last days may be spent with dignity and quality at home or in a home-like setting.

Hospice services are available to persons who can no longer benefit from curative treatment; the typical hospice patient has a life expectancy of six months or less. Most receive care at home where a team of trained professionals - physicians, nurses, social workers, chaplains, nursing assistants, therapists and volunteers - provide medical care and support services not only to the patient but to the entire family.

Patients are usually referred to hospice by their primary physician.

Cards of Thanks

The family of Denver Howard would like to express our sincere appreciation to those who gave their support at the time of our loss. Thanks to those who sent the beautiful flowers and plants, brought in food and beverages, sent lovely cards or visited to express their sympathy. Special thanks to Jerry Jones for being such a loyal and good friend when called upon. Also we would like to thank the staff of Dowell & Martin Funeral Home for their kindness and friendship.

We, the wife and children, mother, brothers and sisters of Karl David Cromer wish to thank everyone who showed kindness toward us during the worst time in our lives. Thanks for all food, supplies and services rendered, even for any thoughts of kindness. We are only human so we can't possibly know all. But God knows. We ask Him to richly Bless each one. We love you and thank you.

The Cromer Family

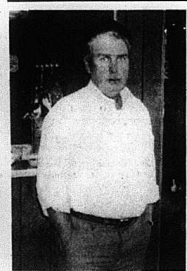

The family of Joey (Bobo) Shelton would like to thank everyone who sent flowers, brought food, called, came by, or just thought of us during our time of grief. It means alot to know that Bo was thought alot of.

The family of Cleo Shivel would like to express with sincere thanks to all our friends for all the prayers, flowers, food, cards and kindness during the loss of our loved one. Special thanks to Dr. Saylor, the staff of Rockcastle Hospital for the care and kindness shown. And to Watson Funeral Home staff. Extra special thanks to Bro. Wade Johnson for the comforting words and the beautiful service. Also to Theresa Davis for the beautiful music, adding so much to the service. May God Bless each and everyone of you.

The Shivel Family, Richard & Marjorie, Gehazi Trowe, Kathleen Hale and their families

The Family of Clifton Mize would like to thank Dr. Karen Saylor for being there for us, Billy Dowell and Roy Martin for the beautiful job they did, my pastor Bro. and Mrs. Steve Weaver, who've been there every step of the way for me, Bro. and Mrs. Raymond Offutt, who showed me such love, Bro. and Mrs. Shawn Madden, Bro. Eddie Hammond.

Those who sent flowers, gave money, brought food. The beautiful cards. Those who visited the funeral home. Without each and every one of you, this would have been so much harder. Thanks Bro. Jack and Sister Betty Bruce for the wisdom you gave and kindness you showed. And, thank you all for the prayers. God bless you all. A very special thanks to my sisters, Peggy and Ronnie Hurley, Carol and Rick Kunkel, my Mom and Dad, my brother, Eddie and Donna Mahaffey and family and in-laws, Christine, Brilla Rose, Monroe and Billie. I love you all. Wife, Rita Mize; Mother, Christene Morris and Sister, Brilla Rose one cold November Day.

Our Mom was laid to rest,
Beneath that lowly mound of clay,
While in her humble place of stay,
God sent His angel and took her away.
To live in a better home above,
Where all is joy, peace and love.
No more heartaches, no pains to bear,
In that beautiful home over there.

I Am Not Here
Written By Bonnie Hysinger
Do not stand at my grave and weep,
For I am not there, I do not sleep.

I am a thousand winds that blow,
I am the diamonds glittering on the snow.

I am the sunlight that makes roses
grow,
I am in the garden with voice,
sweet and low.

I am the rainbow after a rain,
I am in a land where there is no pain.

I am an eagle spreading its wings in flight,
I am the stars twinkling at night.

I am the dew drops on violets in spring,
I am the robins as they sing.

When you awaken in morning
hush,
I am the birds singing in the bush.

I am awaiting your hand,
To join me in this beautiful land.

Do not stand by my grave and cry,
I am not there, I did not die.

Sadly missed,
Wife, Bonnie and family

"Conway Fire"

Mt. Vernon, Brindle Ridge and Brodhead responded.

Slate was upset Tuesday by what he called a very slow response from the Brindle Ridge Dept.

Brindle Ridge fire department houses their trucks and equipment a few hundred feet from where the fire started.

Slate said that when the fire broke out, he and his 12-year-old son ran to the fire department building to ask for help.

"Two men were in there but because they didn't know how to operate the truck," Slate said. "They handed us a fire extinguisher and we tried to put the fire out by ourselves," Slate said. "What good is it to have a fire department if they are no help," he said.

But, Clyde Burdette, a member of the fire department said that Brindle Ridge responded as soon as possible.

"We don't have radios yet and we have to call our firemen. As soon as I got there I pulled one of our trucks out - to try and help fight the fire," Burdette said.

"The two men there, neither of whom are qualified to drive the truck, called Mt. Vernon and Brodhead to the scene," he said.

"We still have about fifteen men in training and without radios our response time is going to be a little bit slower than others," he said. Members of the Mt. Vernon fire department were the first on the scene.

After Mt. Vernon arrived they set up a 1,500 gallon holding tank to pump from and two trucks from Brodhead and Mt. Vernon's tanker truck fed the pond.

Slate, who said he had talked with an attorney about Brindle Ridge's slow response, said that he had no insurance on his tools or equipment.

Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette, who advises the Brindle Ridge Fire Dept., said Wednesday that there was absolutely no basis for any time of litigation against the Brindle Ridge Fire Dept.

workers from Laurel County used four-wheel drive trucks and all-terrain vehicles to reach the two men during a three-hour rescue that started around noon on Saturday.

The two men were released from the hospital on Monday, according to a hospital spokesperson, who said that both men were in the intensive care unit on Saturday night.

Laurel County Deputy Brad Mitchell reported that Johnson and

Turner went four wheeling late Friday night and did not return home. Family members asked employees, about midnight Friday, at the two Exit 49 gas stations if they had seen the two men.

The vehicle Johnson and Turner were riding in became stuck nearly waist deep in mud off Cromer Ridge.

Authorities believe the men were overcome by carbon monoxide during the night when they used the truck's heater to stay warm.

"We'd stopped to rest and talk along the edge of a cliff when I heard a car running and looked down and saw the truck," said Mullins.

Mullins, Lear, Smith, Childress and Renfro pulled the victims from the vehicle and used their jacks to keep them warm until rescuers arrived.

"We kept trying to get them to wake up, it must have been 20 minutes. They just kept foaming at the mouth," said Mullins. "That's when I rode back and called 911."

One of the men did come to just as he was being loaded into the helicopter which had landed at the Curry Shell Mart at Exit 59.

Laurel County Paramedic Timothy Gibbs was one of the first emergency people on the scene.

"The two victims were lying on a berm near the vehicle where the motorcycle riders had found them," said Gibbs.

"A great deal of credit is due the guys on the motorcycles who rode out to call 911," Gibbs said. "They took us back in there and helped at the scene with a sense of real concern for the victims," Gibbs said.

board. However, Pensol said the board now feels that before an Open House can be held, everything connected with the renovation should be in place. "We just feel that even with the inside renovation and opening of our Internet system, we need the outside renovation completed (roof shingled and parking lot paved) before an Open House is held." Pensol went on to say, "Hopefully, by the spring we will have added to our bank of computers and outside renovations will be completed and the Open House can be for a facility of which everyone can be totally proud."

Thus far, the only repair to the exterior of the building has been trim painting. The shingles have been purchased for the roof but no definite date has been set by the fiscal court for the work to begin on the roof or parking lot.

Friday, November 8 was an exciting day at B.E.S. Parents and teachers met for the first school wide conference of the year and the P.T.A. hosted the annual Fall Festival.

Students participated in treat walks, musical chairs, and used their tickets to buy all kinds of toys, games and jewelry at the general store and refreshments at the concession stand.

At 1:00 the entire school assembled in the gymnasium for a short program and then the games opened. Bean bag toss, tic tac toe, golf, toilet paper throw and many more games were enjoyed by students and parents. Volunteers and staff worked together with the P.T.A. to help make this event a success.

The P.T.A. presents this festival in conjunction with the conference to allow parents and teachers time together to work with one another toward what is best for each individual student.

A special thank you to all the parents that attended, all the volunteers that took their time to help, and to the students for their interest and good behavior. Many donations of craft items and baked goods were sent and all were appreciated. Also, we would like to thank the P.T.A. for providing dinner for all the staff.

US Burley Market is promising for growers

(Reprint from Burley News '96)
Higher Prices Lower Profits Are Likely

By Randy Greene
The total value of Kentucky-grown leaf tobacco may exceed $800 million during 1996 sales, according to Will Snell, an ag economist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

If that happens, this would be the sixth time in the past seven years that leaf sales in Kentucky have topped that $800-million mark, Snell recalled.

Included in this total are burley, dark-fired, dark air-cured, and Green River tobaccos.

But what price may individual burley growers expect, once auction sales begin, November 25?

"Burley market prices will likely exceed last year's $1.85-a-pound average," Snell predicts.

Hedged auction prices in the $1.90 range during recent U.S. flue-cured sales and recalled that "U.S. burley growers did receive $1.90-range prices for a few grades back in 1984."

However, Snell cautioned that the world supply for flue-cured tobacco is much tighter than is the case for burley.

As a result, U.S. burley market prices may not reach the high flue-cured levels.

So U.S. burley growers will probably receive near-record-high market prices, but their net profits may decline due to higher input costs and lower yields, Snell said.

Auction prices for 1996 burley are supported by a federal safety net of $1,737 a pound, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Buyers must pay one cent above the support price in order to purchase burley at auction.

Federal marketing assessments on 1995 burley were 3.5 cents a pound less than farmers paid during the 1994 sales season.

Comparable assessments on 1996 burley will be one cent a pound for producers, plus the same amount for buyers.

Each one cent assessment will contribute 0.1315 of a cent to the federal burley no-net-cost program and 0.8685 of a cent to the federal deficit reduction program, according to the USDA.

ity regulations affect U.S. tobacco consumption? Will there be significant changes in the tobacco program? What will the world supply for burley be during 1997?

"These concerns complicate the outlook for next season's burley quotas," Snell said.

If U.S. tobacco manufacturers' intentions stay the same, then the USDA formula may allow a 2-percent increase in burley's basic quota for 1997, Snell said.

But if manufacturers "inflate" their intentions in order to restore American leaf production to "acceptable" levels, then a higher quota hike may occur, Snell said.

In any case, a quota cut is not likely.

Quota hikes affirm U.S. burley strength

(Reprint from Burley News '96)
By Randy Greene

U.S. burley growers received a boost in quotas for the 1996 crop.

Their effective quota is 724 million pounds, and their basic quota is 634 million pounds.

Quotas represent the amount of burley leaf tobacco that U.S. farmers may market in a given crop year.

More specifically, this crop's effective quota gained a 25-percent hike over last year's level.

This quota hike affirms the short-term strength that the U.S. burley market has garnered.

Moreover, this year's hike creates the eighth-largest effective quota since burley farmers switched from acreage to poundage quotas in 1971, according to Will Snell, an ag economist with the University of Kentucky.

The basic quotas is a single year's marketing ceiling. The effective quota includes both a given year's basic quota plus any unused quota carried over from previous years.

American burley growers won't know until February 1, 1997, what their quotas will be for the 1997 crop.

That's when, by federal law, U.S. Ag Secretary Dan Glickman must announce burley quotas.

However, quota increases over the past two seasons are in sharp contrast to where burley growers found themselves two years ago.

"In the fall of 1994 we were threatened with a 45-percent cut," said Danny McKinney, a Rockcastle County farmer and CEO of the Burley Co-op.

"But the 1994 buyout solved those problems, and for the 1995 crop we got a 2-percent increase."

Next, growers got a 15-percent increase for this year's basic burley quota. But some uncertainty lies ahead.

November is Gun Safety Month

In grade schools around the state children are finding out about Eddie Eagle. He's the mascot for gun safety and the star of a program taught by Kentucky State Police (KSP) Public Affairs officers, according to Lieutenant Jerry Nauert of the KSP in Frankfort.

November is Gun Safety Month and the Kentucky State Police, along with the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR), have joined together to promote it. They will be in the schools teaching on safety through the conservation education classes and Eddie Eagle programs.

"The Eddie Eagle program focuses on gun-proofing your child rather than merely chill-proofing your gun," says Mac Long, KDFWR Hunter Education Administrator. It is a program that reaches over one million kids each year.

The Eddie Eagle program is taught in schools and civic organizations to make children aware of the dangers of firearms and what to do in real situations where guns are involved. It is geared toward first through sixth graders. Teachers and police officers can receive free NRA Eddie Eagle teaching material by calling 1-800-336-7402. These gun safety programs do not promote or discourage guns in general.

Fifth and sixth graders will also learn about gun safety through the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife's Conservation Education program. The program is taught by Conservation Education Program Leaders and reaches Kentucky schools with fifth and sixth grade classes. In November, leaders will focus on gun safety.

Children interested in outdoor sports can learn further valuable gun safety lessons by taking the Hunter Education course that is offered free around the state. In this course, safe and ethical use of firearms is taught. For information on a class near you call (502)564-4762.

As an added effort for awareness during gun safety month, volunteers will make appearances at community locations promoting gun safety and handing out materials on the subject.

Miss Cash weds Mr. Spragens

Sherry Lynn Cash, daughter of Joyce Lark and the late Bobby F. Cash of Brodhead, and Mark Hagan Spragens, son of Frank and Wanda Spragens of Lebanon, were united in marriage Saturday, June 22, 1996 at 6:30 p.m. at the Brodhead Baptist Church, Bro. Don Jones of Somerset performed the double-ring candle-light ceremony.

The church was decorated with a fifteen candle arch candelabrum in the center and eight candelabra on each side decorated with greenery and yellow bows. Each stained glass window featured a lighted taper surrounded by greenery. Ceramic angels, greenery, and yellow bows were used throughout the church.

As the guests entered, they were invited to sign the guest registry attended by Courtney and Anne Claire Spragens, nieces of the groom. Special helpers were Courtney Cordier and Lara and Rachel Cash, cousins of the bride, and Brittany Perkins, friend of the bride, who distributed programs. A photo of the bride's late father was displayed on a table in the entrance foyer in remembrance.

Music was provided by Frank Spragens, brother of the groom, accompanied by Lori Spragens, sister-in-law of the groom on piano. Vocal pieces were performed by Bill Adkisson and Bro. Mark Whicker. Selections included "Air on the G-String", "Wacht Auf!", "Simple Song", "I'll be Magic", "Sheep may Safely Graze", "You and I", and "The Lord's Prayer". The mothers and grandmother were seated during the playing of "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Escorted down the aisle by her nephew, Mikhael Shaffer, during the playing of "Te Deum" the bride stopped and presented a long stem yellow rose to her mother and the groom's mother. The bride was dressed in a floor length gown made of silk, with pearls and sequins. To complement her ensemble, she chose a Juliet Cap with sequins and pearls and a finger tip veil. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses, daisies and baby's breath. Entwined in her ribbon was her father's Masonic ring. She chose to accessorize her dress with a strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Rita Shaffer, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a two-piece yellow suit and carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses. Bridesmaids were Ann and Sara Spragens, sisters of the groom, Kaye Rigby, Lavada Adams and Regina Bengo Griffin, friends of the bride. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to Mrs. Shaffer's.

Flower girl was Mary Sheryl Saylor, friend of the bride. She wore a tea-length white lace gown and carried a white basket filled with yellow rose petals.

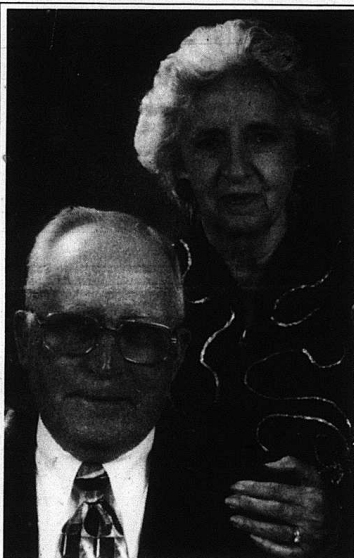

The groom was attired in a traditional black tuxedo with a black cummerbund. He wore a single yellow rose boutonniere.

Frank Spragens, father of the groom, served as best man. Frank and James Spragens, brothers of the groom, Todd Page, brother-in-law of the groom, Mikhael Shaffer, nephew of the bride, and Anthony Asher, friend of the groom, served as groomsmen. Stewart Spragens, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer. They

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to a letter by Mr. Peter T. Ayers of Livingston Fire and Rescue, published in last week's edition. With some reluctance, I decided there was a portion of Mr. Ayer's letter that needed some clarification.

For your readers who have not been following the exchange that has been occurring over the past few weeks, Ayers was writing in reference to an incident that happened a few weeks ago in which Jeremy Holt of Livingston was supposedly assaulted by Livingston's Fire Chief and some other members of the department.

Mr. Ayers wrote to defend the credibility and honor of the department and to affirm his qualifications as a fire-rescue worker. He stated that he has a "medical license" (I am confused by this. Does he mean he is a licensed physician or is he an EMT?)

and some police training. I commend Ayers for rising to the defense of his fellow firemen and touting his personal qualifications. However, I do take exception to the fact that in the second paragraph of his letter he chose to denigrate Mt. Vernon Police and Fire Dispatch.

Ayers stated that Livingston's Fire and Rescue responded to "things" without being paged because Dispatch "could not figure out where the boundary lines are for the departments." Ayers supported this statement by alleging that "in the last four weeks, Mt. Vernon (the fire department) has been paged three times in our (Livingston's) district."

As one of three dispatchers for Mt. Vernon Police & Fire, I was taken aback by these statements. Like Ayers, all the dispatchers here in Mt. Vernon are also trained. We are certified in Telecommunications by the Dept. of Criminal Justice and are required to complete forty hours of inservice training each year. We strive to serve the citizens of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County in the best manner possible.

After thinking about Ayer's statements, I felt compelled to delve into our dispatch logs and see when Mt. Vernon had been sent into Livingston's district. After a painstaking examination of two months (just to be sure) of logs I found no such incidents. I do not believe I am mistaken. If so, I will graciously admit my error.

While this issue of maps and district boundaries is of minor significance, I believe there is a greater issue that needs to be addressed. I assume that Mr. Ayers is a man who is concerned about people or else he would not be a volunteer fireman. I also assume that Ayers expects professionalism and accuracy from those people who serve the public. Believing these things to be true, I was disappointed to read his unfounded and completely irrelevant (at least to the Jeremy Holt incident) remarks.

Hopefully, Mr. Ayers will remember that as fireman, police officers, rescue workers, ambulance drivers and dispatchers, we must all work together as a team to preserve life and property in Rockcastle County. If any of us er, it should be in our attempt to respond to emergency situations as quickly as possible regardless of which department gets the credit.

Respectfully,
Sonya Edwina Anglin
Mt. Vernon, KY 40456

To the Editor,
This is in response to the article in last week's Mt. Vernon Signal concerning the death of William Carpenter.

We believe that Ms. Montgomery should not receive probation for the death of Mr. Carpenter.

We agree that physical abuse in any form is not to be condoned or excused. We also feel that Ms. Montgomery should have and could have ended this relationship at any time, if not for her sake then for her children's. Instead she chose to continue to stay in a situation where she was abused and was also the abuser. She made a conscientious choice to pull the trigger when she shot Mr. Carpenter while he was either asleep or passed out. There is no justification for this act.

We first met Mr. Carpenter in the Spring of 1995. This was in response to a classified ad placed in the Signal for a tree trimmer. He worked off and on for us all summer. During this time, we found Mr. Carpenter to be an honest, hardworking and caring person. We realize that people have different facets to their personality, but the side that we saw was an entirely different one than the one depicted by Ms. Durham in the Mt. Vernon Signal.

It is only possible to judge a person's character by the way they present themselves to you and Mr. Carpenter earned our trust, friendship and affection. We also felt that Mr. Carpenter was the type of person who returned kindness for kindness when kindness was shown to him. We feel that it was morally and legally wrong for Ms. Montgomery to end his life in such a manner. Because of her actions, we have lost someone who was a dear friend to us and if he had lived would have continued to be a very important part of our lives.

We are very displeased that the Mt. Vernon Signal would choose to run an Editorial opinion concerning this matter on the front page of its paper.

We realize that the newspaper editor is entitled to his own opinions but we feel that it is wrong for the Signal to solicit signatures for Ms. Durham on behalf of Ms. Montgomery's probation.

By the way you have handled this story it appears that this is what you are doing. We ask that anyone that shares this opinion with us contact the Commonwealth Attorney.

Sincerely,
Paul and Janice Rader
Renfro Valley, KY 40473
(Ed's Note: While we support Mr. and Mrs. Rader's right to express their opinion, we leave it to our readers to look at last week's story and decide if we editorialized in our news report. pma)

Thanksgiving is almost here and many of you will be cooking in your kitchens smelling the great aroma of your holiday feast. Here are a few turkey tips for you to use.
Selection Tips: • Frozen turkey will keep up to one year. • Check fresh turkey for the sell-by date. Cook and serve within two days of this date. • Look for the USDA symbols: Inspection and Grade A stamps. • Figure 1 1/4 pounds per person for generous portions and leftovers.

Thawing: • Best done on a tray in the refrigerator. Figure 24 hours for each five pounds of weight. • Option 2 is cold water immersion. Place wrapped turkey in sink. Cover with cold water. Change water every 30 minutes.

Roasting: • Cook bird breast side up on a rack in a shallow pan. • Cover with loose aluminum foil tent, or use an oven roasting bag. A roasting bag will maintain a moist turkey, plus it will shorten cooking time. • Insert meat thermometer through foil into inner thigh muscle. • Cook in a 325 degree F. oven. Do Not cook at low heat. • Remove foil last 20-30 minutes for browning. • Cook until meat thermometer reads 180 degrees F. and until the meat's juices run clear.

Cautions: USDA No Longer recommends cooking stuffing inside the turkey. As the turkey roasts, juices migrate to the stuffing. If the stuffing does not reach an internal temperature of 165 degrees F., there is an increased risk for food poisoning.

It is NOT Recommended to cook turkey at a temperature less than 325 degrees F. for safety reasons. Therefore, turkeys should NOT be placed in a low temperature oven and cooked overnight. The low temperature would not destroy salmonella bacteria, if it is present.

If you have any questions concerning roasting turkeys, contact Hazel Jackson at the Extension Office at 256-2403.

family and guests, plan to refrigerate foods as soon as the meal is served. Food never should be left at room temperature for more than two hours.

Remove the leftover turkey from the bones and place in moisture- and vapor-proof wrap. The turkey may be stored in the refrigerator for three to four days or in the freezer for one to two months. Some suggestions for leftover turkey are:
 • Slice white and some of the dark meat for sandwiches later. Divide the remaining turkey into family-size portions and freeze.
 • Chop and mix turkey with pickles, celery and nuts. Add low-calorie mayonnaise. This makes a delicious turkey salad.
 • Combine turkey with your favorite vegetables for a stir-fry dish. If you need extra broth to stir-fry, dissolve a poultry bouillon cube in water.
 • Mix turkey into casseroles or make into turkey pies. Freeze or serve at once after baking.
 • Combine small amounts of finely chopped turkey with other ingredients for sandwiches.
 • Cold ham often is as good as hot ham, so slice some for sandwiches and divide the rest into family-size portions. Refrigerate or freeze as you would turkey. Here are some suggestions for leftover holiday ham:
 • Brown ham pieces lightly and serve with scrambled eggs.
 • Heat slices of ham in a fruit sauce.
 • Use in casserole dishes or cut into bite-size pieces and toss in a salad.
 • Serve as ham and biscuits for breakfast, brunch or snacks.
 • Use ham and turkey to make a hot brown.

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

National Education Week is being observed this week, November 17 through the 23rd. We have chosen this week to officially make the Internet service available to the public. This should be a great asset to the students in getting information for school reports etc. They have access to the Internet at school but don't always have the time to get the needed information. Rules and regulations for using the internet are being published this week, also the information will be heard on WRVK Radio.

The 15th Annual Kentucky Book Fair will be November 23, at Kentucky State University, William

Exum Building. There is a listing of all the authors and the titles of the books available here at the library. Please come in for more information on the Book Fair.

Some new novels ready for you are: REMEMBER WHEN by Judith McNaught... When multinational tycoon Cole Harrison approached her on a moonlit balcony at the White Orchard Charity Ball, Diana Foster had no idea how extraordinary the night ahead would be. The most lavish social event at the Houston season had brought out American aristocracy, Texas-style, in glittering array. So, after losing her fiancé to a blonde Italian heiress and reading about it in a sleazy gossip paper, the lovely Diana felt obliged to make an appearance if only to save face and to bolster her company's image.

Now the pride of Dallas billionaires, Cole Harrison, was closing in on her with two crystal flutes and a bottle of champagne. Neither one dared imagine that a match made in logic's heaven might be headed straight for an unexpected, once in a lifetime love.

SSN by Tom Clancy... America is at war! China has invaded the oil-rich Spratly Islands. The American response has been swift and deadly.

And the Third World War has begun.

Captain Bartholomew Mackey is the skipper of the U.S.S. Cheyenne, a nuclear submarine dispatched to the Spratly Islands to protect a carrier group. But in a few moments, the Cheyenne's mission and the world have changed, as a tense situation has exploded into a full-scale war of nightmarish proportions.

Tom Clancy presents fifteen thrilling scenarios-fact based mission profiles for Captain Mackey and the Cheyenne.

INTERNET USE POLICY

The library shall provide access to electronic information systems to staff members and patrons as is sufficient for the fulfillment of its mission. Use of these systems shall be consistent with the Library's mission, goals, policies and procedures and with applicable local, state and federal laws. The Library also expects that users of these systems shall not interfere with systems operation, integrity, or security, or otherwise inhibit normal library activities.

The Rockcastle County Public Library does not monitor, and has no control over the information accessed through the Internet and cannot be held responsible for it. The Internet is a global entity with a highly diverse user population and library patrons use it at their own risk. The Library expressly disclaims any liability or responsibility arising from access to or use of information obtained through the Internet access.

All Internet resources accessible through the library are provided equally to all library patrons. Parents or guardians, not the Library and its staff, are responsible for the Internet information accessed by their children. Any person under the age of 18 must have a parental consent form on file in order to use the Library's computer systems including the Internet.

Attempts to violate or circumvent library policies and procedures will result in disciplinary action, which may include temporary or permanent loss of system access.

1. Use of the Internet-access computer is on a first-come, first-served basis. Times will not be assigned, but patrons using the system must observe a one (1) hour limit if others are waiting to use the system.

2. Patrons must sign in before use of computer system at the circulation desk. Key will be assigned to unlock the system. Patrons must sign out and return key after use of computer system.

3. You cannot send or receive e-mail using the library's computer.

4. You MAY NOT use/run your own software programs on the Library computer.

5. Bring your own disk, formatted for an IBM compatible, if you wish to download files. (We do not guarantee that items downloaded are virus-free).

6. Paper printouts are ten cents (10) for black/white printouts and twenty-five cents (25) for color prints. Pay at the circulation desk when you sign out.

7. Library staff may suggest search patterns, but are not available to work one-on-one with individuals using the system.

Cunningham attends conference

Dr. James Cunningham of Mt. Vernon attended the fall conference of the Kentucky Academy of Family Physicians, November 2-3, 1996 at Jenny Wiley State Park in Prestonsburg, Kentucky.

Attendees heard lectures on Diabetes, Attention Deficit Disorders, Peptic Ulcer Disease, Weight Loss Management, Rural Health Issues, and Ethics.

The Kentucky Academy of Family Physicians was founded in 1948. The American Medical Association recognized family practice as a specialty in 1969. The Kentucky Academy of Family Physicians continues to expand with more than 1000 members and publishes a quarterly KAFP Journal and an annual Membership Directory.

Through its committees, educational activities, publications and other ventures, the Kentucky Academy continues to support the goals established more than four decades ago...to support physicians engaged in the family practice of medicine on both a national and state level; to encourage and assist in providing postgraduate study for family physicians of medicine and surgery; to perpetuate the relationship between the family doctor and the patient; and to protect the right of the family physician to engage in medical and surgical procedures for which he or she is qualified by training or experience.

and under admitted free. Tickets can be purchased at your local Christian bookstore. For more info, call 646-598-8234.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Livingston Christian Church will be hosting a Potluck Thanksgiving Dinner, Sunday, November 24th at 4 p.m. at the Livingston Firehouse. Everyone invited to attend.

FOR A REAL EDUCATION, TAKE TIME TO READ YOUR BIBLE

In that busy life of yours, so rigidly apportioned among work, home maintenance, TV, PTA meetings, the bowling league or whatever, try to find time to read your Bible; even if it's only one chapter at a time. It contains a great many elements for our education and well-being. It's history, with the story of the earliest days of the world, faithfully handed down through the generations. It's geography, inviting fascinating comparison between the Middle East and Mediterranean lands, then and now. It's a prescription for better living, with its rules for behavior toward our fellow human beings. It's a great comfort, bringing us guidance and solace in times of trouble or sorrow. All in all, it's the world's most perfect collection of writings, and if we know how interesting and helpful it can be, we will somehow manage to find the time for it.

RCMS students prepare for Kentucky Youth Assembly

By Cheyenne Carmack
All systems are fully operational as RCMS makes final plans for the upcoming Kentucky Youth Assembly. Students attending KYA will be departing on Thursday, November 21st, will be returning on Saturday, November 23rd.

Out of the 74 students participating as Representatives and Senators, several students will serve in various other capacities. Katy Powell and Melinda Coffey, as Youth Advocates, have been preparing for their Supreme Court case. William D. Gregory, a Mt. Vernon attorney, has been working with Katy and Melinda going over law procedures and offering his professional assistance in preparing their briefs. Mindy Bullock and Cathie Midkiff are serving as lobbyists. Their jobs will be to persuade others to vote in favor of, or against, assigned bills. Cathie and Mindy have researched ten different bills in order to enhance their lobbying efforts. (A lobbyist has an extremely difficult job). As Press Corp. Representative, my duty will be to write a newspaper report on KYA. The best news report will receive an outstanding Press Corp Delegate award. I have compiled a journal of preparations as well as completing this pre-report. Tasha Vanzant will serve as a page. She will run bills from the House to the Senate and to the governor's office.

(This job is absolutely exhausting!) Chelsen Stratton will serve on the Governor's Cabinet. Chelsen will be a Doorkeeper in the House of Representatives. RCMS also has 14 students who are bill authors and will be attempting to steer their bills through committees, and the House and Senate, to be signed into law by the youth Governor.

This year, for the first time, RCMS, has two students running for a state office at KYA. Brian Reynolds, a 7th grader, will run for Attorney General. Brian has been busy creating banners, collecting business cards, as well as writing his campaign speech for the General Assembly.

Courney Alexander is running for the office of Secretary of State. She has also created banners, cards and her own campaign speech! We wish these two the best of luck!!! All delegates are anxious for KYA to get here. KYA has proven to be a worthwhile experience for RCMS students. It is one of the most outstanding opportunities we, as students, can participate in where we have a voice in government.

The Y-club would like to thank the following for their contributions to several students at RCMS in order to attend KYA: Mr. John Hale, Bank of Mt. Vernon, Citizens Bank, Youth Services and Don Walker, Scholarship Fund.

VICA officers elected

The Rockcastle County Area Technology Center recently elected Vocational Industrial Clubs of America officers for this school year. The officers come from the Industrial Technology students at the Vocational School. The students are in the Automotive Mechanics, Electricity, and Welding programs. Two students were elected to each office for A.M. and P.M. classes. The students and the offices they hold are as follows: President, John Brown and Justin Phelps; Vice-President, Dean Richards and Scotty Moore; Secretary, Phillip Spornamore and Eugene Robinson; Treasurer, B.J. VanWinkle and Chad Fugate; Reporter, Derrick Payne and Tim McNew; Parliamentarian, Jody Carter and Jason Allen; Chaplain, Joe Gardiner and William Seiber; Historian, Mikie Miller and Evelyn Scaif; Sergeant at arms, Robert McClure and Marcus Sigmon.

On Friday, October 18, 1996 several of these officers attended the Fall Leadership Conference located in Hazard, Kentucky. They attended classes on opening and closing ceremonies, job interviews, prepared speeches and parliamentary procedures. Derrick Payne, Justin Phelps and B.J. VanWinkle represented Rockcastle County Area Technology Center as regional officer candidates. Others who attended the conference were: John Brown, Joe Gardiner, Scotty Moore, Chad Fugate, Tim McNew, Jason Allen, William Seiber, and Mikie Miller. The club has started preparations for leadership and skill competitions at the regional levels.

Vocational school raises money for charity

On Thursday, October 24, 1996, the Second Annual State-Wide Walk/For for the Leukemia Society of America was held. Two clubs from the Rockcastle County Area Technology Center took part in this charitable event. The Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) and Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) walked to benefit the Leukemia Society and, as a school, $1,044.55 was raised. Students who collected the most money were: Rebecca Mink $200 plus; Wendy Himes $100 plus; Joyce Carpenter, Curtis Galiff, Shannon Stevens, Crystal Lear, Satia Vance, and Cherie McHargue, all $50 plus and Jack Cundiff, Teri Mize and Jason Aiken, all $25 plus.

Staff members from the school who participated were Carl Bustle, Claretta Hodges, Rick Fry, Kristie Reynolds, Donna Hopkins, Shelby Fathergill, Ralph Baker and Patty

Tiger Pause

Family Night is scheduled for Thursday, November 21, at 6:00 p.m. The program for this night will include family kick ball, dodge ball and more. Just as a reminder, if school is cancelled or not in session for any reason, Family Night is also cancelled.

We still need a leader for the 2nd and 3rd grade level Boy Scouts. We have several boys interested in being a part of the scouts but this will not be possible without parents that are willing to be troop leaders. Training is provided and the programs is explained in detail. We have local parents that have volunteered as leaders for the youngest troop at this time and they would be more than happy to discuss any aspect of Boy Scouts with anyone that might be interested. Also, you may contact Brian Patterson at 624-2880. He is in charge of our area.

The Junior Girl Scouts will have their last meeting on Monday, November 25, at 1 p.m. in the Family Resource Center.

DON'T FORGET there is NO SCHOOL on Thursday, November 28, or Friday, November 29, due to the Thanksgiving Holiday.

Blair reports for duty

Navy Hospitalman Recruit Nicole C. Blair, daughter of Gary E. and Irene D. Blair of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon, recently reported for duty at Naval Hospital in Beaufort, S.C.

Blair's new assignment is an example of how Navy and Marine Corps men and women are assigned to ships, squadrons and shore commands around the world. Whether serving in the Persian Gulf near Iraq or in the Adriatic Sea near Bosnia, people like Blair are making a difference as they work to improve their knowledge and skill as part of the most highly technical naval force in history.

The 1995 graduate of Rockcastle County High School joined the Navy in January, 1996.

Durham named to Who's Who

The 1997 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICA'S TWO-YEAR COLLEGES will include the names of 28 students from Somerset Community College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students from more than 1,800 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1966.

Students named this year from Somerset Community College include Ms. Virginia C. Durham, of Rockcastle.

Guy Baker named Service Forester

Guy Baker has recently begun work as a Service Forester with the Kentucky Division of Forestry. Baker is a 1995 graduate of the University of Kentucky, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Forestry, and is now working out of the Southeastern District Office in Pineville.

As the Forest Stewardship Program representative for Rockcastle County, Baker will be working with woodland owners to plan forest management practices that will meet the owners' needs to achieve the optimum benefits from their woodlands. If you are interested in Forest Stewardship planning services, you are encouraged to call Guy Baker, P.O. Box 130, Pineville, KY 40377, phone (606)337-3011. He can assist you with planning for timber production through managing timber stand improvement, natural regeneration, tree planting and timber harvesting. Management assistance is also available for water quality, forest recreation, and wildlife habitat improvement, in conjunction with Wes Hodges, wildlife biologist.

Master Commissioner of the Rockcastle Circuit Court

NOTICE

Rockcastle County Schools
Plan for Inclement Weather
• School Closings
• Early Dismissals

Every effort will be made to keep parents and concerned citizens informed as to school closings, early dismissals and possibly a delay plan.

The number one concern is the safety of students. After an extensive evaluation of road conditions in the county, taking into consideration all roads, a decision will be made in regard to closing school.

School closings will be announced on 5 radio stations and 3 television stations. They are as follows: Radio- WRVK (AM-1460), WKOK (AM-1500, FM-105.7), WJLK (FM-93), WRSL (FM-96.3), WHAS (AM 84); Television- WKYT (Channel 27), WLEX (Channel 18), WTVQ (Channel 36). If possible, the closing will be announced the evening before the closing date. If a determination cannot be made the day prior to the closing date, every possible effort will be made to reach a decision by 6:00 a.m. The announcement will be made no later than 6:30 a.m. This will be conducted the same for the delay plan, if it is concluded the delay plan would be the appropriate plan of action.

If the delay plan is used, breakfast will be served upon the arrival of students at school.

Early dismissal of school due to inclement weather will be announced on WRVK. Roads will be closely monitored as school is in session to determine if there is a need for early dismissal. If the need for early dismissal does occur, parents should make arrangements to meet children as they arrive early.

Parents and students should not call any radio or television stations to inquire about school closings. This could delay the information distribution to the necessary channel by tying up phone lines.

Rockcastle County School System Delay Plan

Occasionally, there are mornings when an additional hour is needed to check bus routes and temperatures/weather conditions sometimes can change between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m. As a result, the Rockcastle County School System will consider a one hour delay in school opening due to weather conditions.

If a one-hour delay status is warranted, the delay will be announced by the following radio stations: WRVK (AM 1460), WKOK (AM-1500 and FM 106.7), WJLK (FM 93), WRXL (FM 96.3), WHAS (AM 84), and the following television stations: WLEX (Channel 18), WKYT (Channel 27), WTVQ (Channel 36), at 6 a.m. or as soon as possible.

There may be a time when a few isolated bus routes may not be made or may be delayed for an hour while the rest of the bus routes will be made on the regular schedule. These bus routes will be announced only on WRVK radio station.

In instances of a delay schedule, breakfast will be served as soon as students arrive at school.

Cash-Spragens Vows

were attired in the traditional black tuxedo with a single yellow rose boutonniere.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the following hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white linen tablecloth and held a three-tier wedding cake decorated with live flowers matching those used in the bridal bouquet. The groom's table held a single layer lemon cake designed in the shape of a book and decorated with a pipe. Serving at the reception were Joyce Stewart, Janice Mullins, Debbie Brown and Sherri Mink Cash, friends of the bride. The wedding was coordinated by the bride's aunt, Claudina Cash.

The reception was concluded in the traditional manner with the throwing of the bride's garter and bouquet. The special helpers, the flower girl, and John L. Saylor, friend of the bride, helped in distributing rice bags. After the wedding trip to St. Croix, the couple resides in Brodhead.

The bride is an x-ray technologist at the Rockcastle County Hospital in Mt. Vernon. The groom is employed at First Southern Bank in Crab Orchard, as a loan officer.

Public Notification for Informing the Public of Possible Impact to an Important Land Resource

The U.S. Department of Agriculture, Rural Development is considering a preapproval for financial assistance sponsored by the City of Mt. Vernon.

The specific elements of this proposed action is renovation of the water treatment plant, installation of water transmission waterlines, construction of a 400,000 gallon water storage tank and appurtenant structures. This proposal is within the city limits and the immediate outlying areas.

If implemented, the proposed action may directly or indirectly convert important farmland or prime forest land and convert or impact floodplain or wetland. The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of this possible result and to request comments concerning (1) the impacts of the proposed location on important farmland, prime forest land, floodplain or wetland, (2) alternative sites or actions that would avoid these impacts, and (3) methods that could be used to reduce these impacts.

The proposed action is available for review at the following Rural Development Office: Rural Development District Office, 95 South Laurel Road, London, Ky. 40741. Any persons interested in commenting on the proposed action may do so by sending such comments within 30 days following the date of this publication to: Thomas G. Fern, State Director, Rural Development, 771 Corporate Drive, Suite 200, Lexington, Ky. 40503.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

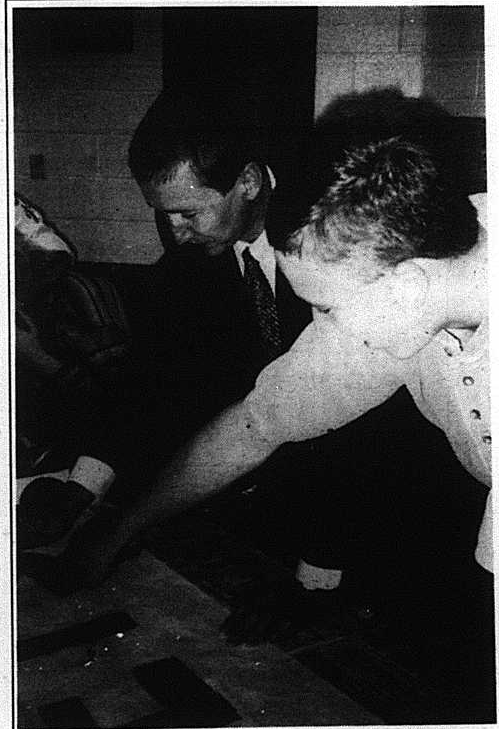

"The Future Begins In Today's School"
November 17-23, 1996

A Publication of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, November 21, 1996
The Rockcastle County Board of Education Provides Equal Education and Employment Opportunities

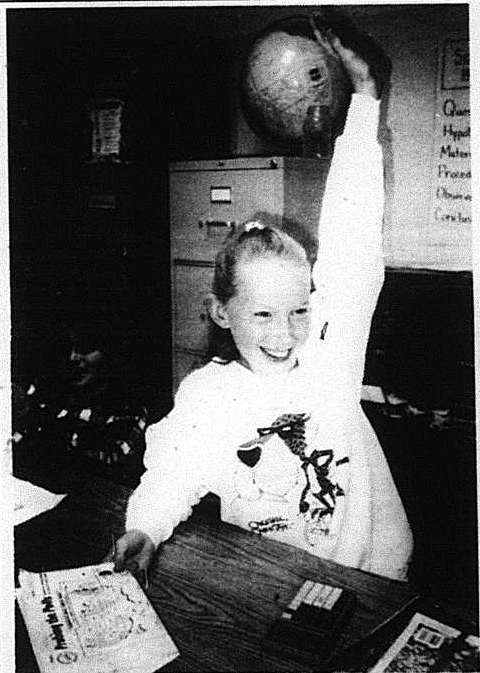

Superintendent's Message

The theme for this year's American Education Week is "The Future Begins in Today's Schools". If this statement is accurate and the future truly begins in the schools of today, we can reasonably determine that the educational process will have a major impact on the destiny of mankind. What we do or fail to do will impact the destiny of society from the local level to the national level and even the world as a whole. With this thought in mind, we must capitalize on the opportunity before us. We must work together in order to shape the Future as we prepare students to become productive members of society. The molding/shaping that occurs with our youth in the schools of today will determine not only their destiny, but to a large extent the future of the next generation of elderly. Collaboratively, with an appropriate plan and commitment to hard work, we can manipulate variables that will enable the future to be more closely aligned with our desires and expectations.

I shared the 1996-97 theme of Commitment for Rockcastle County Schools in the Annual Performance Report. The results of our community being focused on this theme were recently shared through KIRIS (test) scores. Commitment to the task at hand has been profitable for our students and will continue to be profitable as we work toward the future. Rockcastle County Schools believe that "The Future Begins in Today's Schools". They also believe the future is made brighter through increased involvement/participation from all. On behalf of all schools in the county and the Rockcastle County Board of Education, as we focus on the theme of National Education Week, I solicit your continued participation and support as we work toward a brighter future.

Indicators of Engaged Learning

VARIABLE	INDICATOR
Vision of Learning	Learner is responsible for learning; involved in setting goals, choosing tasks, developing assessments and standards for the tasks; has a passion for learning; develops new ideas and understanding in conversations and work with others.
Tasks	Tasks are authentic and pertain to real world; may be addressed to personal interests; are difficult enough to be interesting but not totally frustrating; involve integrating disciplines to solve problems and address issues.
Assessment	Assessments involve a performance or demonstration for a real audience and useful purpose; have meaning for the learner; are part of instruction (and vice versa; students learn during assessment).
Instructional Model	Teacher or technology program is responsive to student needs; instruction is oriented to constructing meaning, providing meaningful activities and experiences.
Learning Context	Instruction is collaborative; learning experiences bring multiple perspectives that contribute to shared understanding for all.
Grouping	Heterogeneous groups include persons from different ability levels and backgrounds; organized so that over time all students have challenging learning tasks and experiences; flexible so that each student works with variety of others.
Teacher Roles	Teacher is a facilitator who engages in negotiation, stimulates and monitors discussion and project work. Teacher guides to help students construct their own meaning; teacher considers self a learner, willing to take risks to explore areas outside his or her expertise.
Student Roles	Students are explorers, cognitive apprentices engaged in real research, teachers in formal and informal contexts, and producers of products of real use to themselves and others.

NOTES:

The results in reading, mathematics, science, and social studies are based on the 30 (29 at grade 4) open-response (common and matrix) questions in each content area.
 Results for arts and humanities and practical living/vocational studies are based on 24 matrix open-response questions in those two content areas.
 In Curriculum Reports for the first Accountability Cycle, separate scores were computed for common and matrix items for each student. For this Curriculum Report, a single score was computed for each student based on both the common and matrix items, using an improved scaling procedure. To ensure a proper comparison with 1994-95 and 1995-96 data, scores were recomputed using this procedure for 1992-93 and 1993-94 results. Therefore, 1992-93 and 1993-94 data will differ from prior 1994-95 Curriculum Reports.
