Junie Kirby murder trial ends with hung jury Wednesday

A Rockcastle Circuit Court Jury was discharged by Circuit Judge William Cain after deliberating for nearly five hours on Wednesday when they could not reach a verdict in the murder case of a local man.

Wally "Junie" Kirby, 39, of Chestnut Ridge is charged with the February 25, 1995 shooting death of his girlfriend, Tracey Caudill, 22, of Orlando.

However, Kirby testified that Miss Caudill was shot only after a gun she was carrying accidentally discharged.

Kirby testified that he tried to take the gun away from Miss Caudill after she showed up at his home and became violent.

Kirby's defense attorney Jerry Cox also pointed out, during the three day trial, that no murder weapon was ever recovered by police and that Kentucky State Police Detective Eddie Pierce erred when he did not take fingerprints at the crime scene or order drug screens on Kirby and Caudill.

Cox said that an autopsy showed that Miss Caudill's body contained several illegal drugs at the time of the shooting. An expert for Kirby testified that the drugs found in Caudill's body could have caused her to become violent.

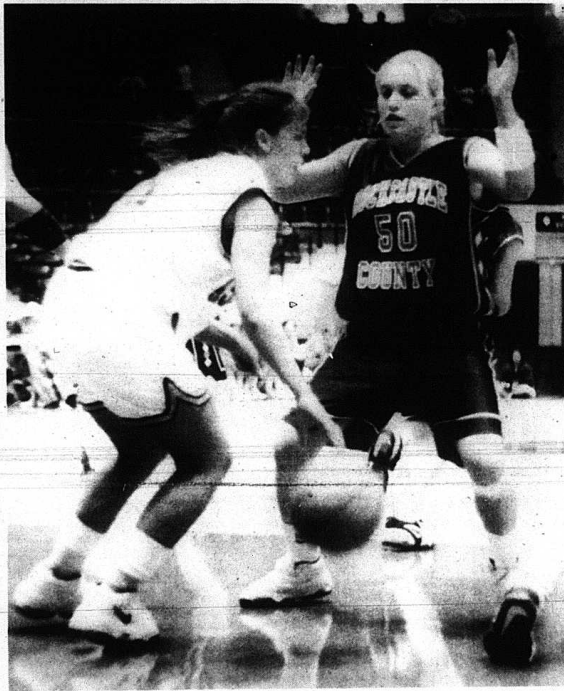

The defense attorney also pointed out that there were no witnesses to the alleged crime.

According to one juror, the seven men, five women jury were deadlocked at 10 to 2 for acquittal.

A new trial date will be set at an April 11th hearing.

Kirby is currently being held in the Rockcastle County jail, where he is serving a two year prison term after pleading guilty in Laurel County to a felony.

School board may return corporal punishment

Behavior problems at the Rockcastle County Middle School have prompted school officials there to ask for spanking to return to Rockcastle County schools, if local site based councils so desire.

During last week's regular monthly meeting of the Rockcastle County Board of Education, RCMS Principal John Hale told the board that corporal punishment was needed to enable his staff to maintain discipline at the school.

Hale said that corporal punishment would be used only as a last resort, after everything else had been tried, but that after months of discussion by his staff and members of the Site Based Council at the school, the general consensus was that paddling needed to return.

Hale also said that a parent survey indicated a nine to one majority for corporal punishment. The Principal said that only 13 no responses were received from the survey.

Hale asked the board to amend their policy so each school council could make a decision on corporal punishment without having to go to the board of education for a waiver to their policy.

School board policy #09-433, which was passed in 1988, prohibits (Cont. to A11)

Local woman dies in head-on collision

A Mt. Vernon Plastics employee was killed and two of her sisters seriously injured in a head-on collision in Danville on Saturday.

According to Boyle County Coroner James Ramey, Alice W. Carpenter, 49, of Garden Lane, Crab Orchard, and formerly of Rockcastle County, died instantly of a head injury in the 5:30 p.m. crash.

Her two sisters Janice W. Helton, 47, also of Crab Orchard, and Gladys Chestnut, 52, of Mt. Vernon suffered multiple injuries.

Ms. Chestnut and Ms. Helton were treated at a Danville hospital and transferred to the University of Kentucky Medical Center where they were listed in stable condition on Wednesday.

Police said the accident occurred when Jeffrey T. Carmicle, 19, of Stanford drove his 1991 Ford Mustang into the westbound lane of Hwy. 150.

Police said Carmicle was behind a pick-up truck which had stopped to turn left onto Gose Pike. Carmicle told police he knew he was not going to get stopped before striking the truck in the rear and he could not get around the truck on the right because there was another vehicle blocking his path.

Police said Carmicle jerked the vehicle to the left and locked the wheels, causing the head-on collision.

Carmicle and his passenger, Jason Napier, 18, also of Stanford were both injured in the accident.

Napier was also transferred to U.K., but Carmicle was treated at Danville.

Inquest rules homicide in Shelton death

The shooting death of a Conway man on October 29 of last year has been ruled a homicide.

Police originally thought that Joey "Bo" Shelton, 31, of Lakes Road, Conway, died after his .22 caliber rifle accidentally slammed against the floor and discharged.

But after a coroner's inquest in Madison District Court on Tuesday, Rockcastle Deputy Sheriff Darrell Doan and Kentucky State Police Detective Gary Lane will present the case to the Rockcastle County Grand Jury on April 11.

Doan said Wednesday that Shelton's girlfriend, Dorothy Sattelfield told police at the time of the shooting that it was an accident.

But, Doan said that after the inquest and the homicide ruling, an indictment would be sought against Ms. Sattelfield.

Shelton was shot once in the head and was dead on arrival at the Berea Hospital.

Blood Drive

Every few minutes a Kentuckian receives a blood transfusion. Blood is needed for open heart surgery, organ transplants, accident victims, and persons with debilitating diseases such as cancer. To keep up with the amount of blood use, healthy volunteer donors are needed every day to keep the lifeline flowing.

Rockcastle County Donor Group will sponsor a blood drive on April 1 from noon to 1:30 p.m. and 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Rockcastle Agriculture Extension Service located on Richmond Street. Be part of those who care enough to share. A free t-shirt to all donors. For more information about donating, call Chris Lawson at 1-800-775-2522.

I can make it rain just about any time I want to. All I have to do is line up a tractor to get my garden disked and the black clouds will roll right in. Lightning will flash a couple of times and the thunder will roll and before you know it there will be three inches of water in the basement and the garden will look more like a place to catch catfish than something you'd think about planting peas and sowing lettuce in.

I put some onion sets in a five gallon bucket and set them out in the garage back around the end of February. Last Saturday, having given up on gardening for yet another weekend, I decided I might dig a little trench somewhere in the backyard, mud or no mud, and at least plant a few onions.

I went out to the garage and discovered that my bucket had become a mass of vegetation. I'd set it up on a shelf beside the window where it was getting a little light and apparently a little rain had blown in on it because I had onions about as big around as a cigarette and nearly twenty inches long. It would take a little imagination to call them "green" onion because they were more a yellowish hue and they bore a striking resemblance to bean sprouts. But they were about the size you'd expect to read about if the story had been entitled, "Jack and the Bean Sprouts" instead of Bean Stalk.

Anyway, the Good Lord blessed me with imagination, if not much else, so I decided to see how they'd go with a piece of corn bread. So I'm here to tell you that if you try hard enough you can learn something new every day. They were crisp and sweet and just barely tasted like onions. I ate on em all like and even shared some with Dave Maggard and his kids who gave them rave reviews. The first thing I'm going to do Monday morning is run back over to E.J. Hazy's store and buy another pair of onion sets and put them back in my garage window. If you want to try this yourself, make sure you have a little rich dirt or potting soil in the bottom of your bucket and just enough water to dampen the sets a bit. And you should water them every three weeks. At least I did and I wasn't even trying.

Speaking of gardening, I've talked to several people who swear they've already had their peas a time or two. And a lot of people get it in their minds that if you haven't planted your peas by the first of March, there isn't any use in fooling with them. Don't believe a word of it.

Ralph King and I used to grow snow peas, (some people call them salad peas), commercially and we never thought about planting them until the middle of April. They still came in about the same time as folks' who had planted theirs in the dead of winter.

Of course we planted an acre instead of one little row and I'm just now getting back to the point that I can even stand the thoughts of looking at a pea vine.

If you want to grow peas, let me suggest that you make sure you are growing something that you can eat shell and all. The best two varieties of salad peas are Mammoth Melting Sugar and Oregon Sugar Pod II. The Mammoth have to have a trellis or an old piece of fence wire to grow on as on his dead bed.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and aspirations from the burgeoning Dell of Wadd, birthplace of the late Dr. Willibus C. Strumkider, long-time Professor of Philosophy at Furmire College in upper Idaho, and part-time peddler of Funderburk's Evening Elitist for Reluctant Wreckers, who said, "An educated person is one who knows how to be ignorant intelligently."

Ah, Prof, how right you were - how little we know.

It is said that a young king, just ascended to the throne, called three of his friends, commissioned them, and sent them into the world to find the answer to one question, namely, What can we know for certain? "When you have found the answer," he said, "return quickly so that I, too," may know what is certain in life."

Many years passed, so many in fact that the emissaries were old and hoary headed when they finally returned to the court of their king who was on his death bed.

"Quick!" cried the king, "my strength is fading fast. What can I know for certain?"

One of the three searchers stepped forward, knelt beside the bed of the king, took his hand, and said only four words: This too shall pass. That saying prevails in this present age of nuclear power, artificial intelligence, and sophisticated dispensing of man's inhumanity to man. Many say the only certainty we can claim is that everything is forever changing. (Can a conservative believe that?)

The ancient Greek thinker, Heraclitus, said a man cannot step twice into the same river because by the time one step has been made, new water, i.e., a new river, surrounds him.

Here we are on this darkling plane, as Matthew Arnold put it. The waves of the sea crash and grate upon the shore and retreat, never leaving the shore the same. And amidst like tides sweep over one another, forever changing the face of the earth. The best we can do, he reckoned, is to love and be true to each other. But that, too, shall pass.

Holy commiseration! Am I ever in a melancholy mood in Louisville. He was one of four professors on my graduate committee from '72 to '75. His area of expertise was the Old Testament and classical Hebrew.

Page was the most humble professor I knew at Southern. A few, to be truthful, were whatever is the opposite of humble. Earning a graduate degree was as much an exercise in survival amid mighty personalities as it was the commanding of an area of knowledge. A lowly grad student had better know what those professors liked and disliked, including the fact that some of them did not like each other!

I never feared when I was with Page Kelley, so constant, caring, and encouraging was he.

A few brilliant professors expected you to push their buttons now and then, as if you were doing some kind of obeisance to them. And we did! Old Testament graduate students were privy to a body of oral tradition about each professor, his favorite authors, his writings, his quirks, and his opinion of the opinions of other professors. We had a "book" on each of them. But the "book" on Page Kelley contained no lines. He was kind, most knowledgeable, and ever engaged in a quest for enlightenment. He was the epitome of an Old Testament wise man.

Many students shunned his classes. He was not a dynamic lecturer like some profs at Southern. But day after day in his classes, listening to him explain the Scriptures, I soon realized what a storehouse of biblical knowledge he was.

And did he ever know the Hebrew Old Testament? His doctoral dissertation had to do with The Book of Mal- achi. He could recite that book word for word from beginning to end - in Hebrew!

Page talked often about the "the tools" one uses to mine the truths of Scripture. If you make a bold statement orally or in a paper, you'd better be able to tell him how you arrived at such a conclusion.

One of the great temptations of a new seminarian, caught up in the wonder of truths upon truths, is to unload his newfound knowledge on because they are big vines. The Sugar Pods (with a Roman Numeral II) which Ralph and I grew, need no support. The best snap peas, which you can break up like beans to cook, are Sugar Snaps, but they also need something for the vines to climb. I've been growing a couple of varieties over the last three years that are nearly as good as Sugar Snaps called Sugar Daddy and Sugar Mel.

Both of the latter two varieties will do well without any support but they don't produce like Sugar Snaps and they're not hardly as sweet.

The trick to growing peas planted in April is to soak the seed over-night in a quart of lukewarm water to which you have added a tablespoon of Peter's Professional garden fertilizer (20-20-20) or a tablespoon of Miracle Grow with the same NPK rating. One measuring cup of seed will soak up a quart of water and they will sprout within 24 hours. In a matter of three or four weeks, they'll catch up with your neighbor's crop that was planted during the first week of February.

Finally, you readers who don't garden may as well get used to the fact that over the next several weeks we're apt to be talking a lot about growing stuff in this space. Loreta says that we can start talking about fishing as soon as we get our household plunder moved from big piles that occupy every room but in the meantime we shouldn't even talk about buying our license.

If you have gardening tips that you'd like to share with other folks who live in the free world, please send them along to me at 301 Charley Brown Road, Paint Lick, (you can't lick) KY 40461. We're particularly interested in hearing from folks who know how to freeze salad or snap peas without them coming out of the deep-freeze tough as leather and tasting like something a goat wouldn't eat. And if you have a tractor with a disk harrow hooked up to it that I can park alongside my garden for a couple of weeks, we'd be even more interested in hearing from you. I'd promise to return it just as soon as the rain stops for two or three days.

his congregation. Most seminarians in my day were also pastors.

One day in a class on the Hebrew version of The Book of Exodus, Dr. Kelley used the "tool" of "form criticism" to bring to light an insight that escapes most laymen. I was taken away by what I heard. It answered a long-standing question I'd had about the passage we were studying. And I said something like, "I can't wait to tell this to my church."

Dr. Kelley smiled and then proceeded to lay me low. "John, don't display your tools of interpretation to your people. Give them the end truth. Don't burden them with your methodology - which they are not ready to deal with. Don't do that to them, John."

I learned a lesson that day. It was a tad embarrassing to be redressed in front of other students. But what he said to me probably hit several a round that table. I soon got over the embarrassment and let that little dab of wisdom sink into my soul. Imparting knowledge is one thing; showing off your knowledge is something else.

"Criticism," dear hearts, in education does not mean to find fault with. That, of course, is the popular understanding of the term. When we criticize someone or something we find fault. Doing biblical criticism means looking at all sides of interpretation, evaluating the worth of this or that theory, using every means possible to understand the passage in the sense in which it was written, and eventually coming to a valid conclusion.)

I remember a subtle something that Dr. Kelley did when I was "defending my dissertation" to that committee of four. There they were - questioning, challenging, making me sweat, probing the depth of my subject knowledge.

One professor turned a tad "mean" and put a hard question to me. I realized that I was dangerously close to refuting one of his "pet" interpretations. I took my time, measured my words, and in a non-aggressive manner, countered that professor quite well. And when I finished, I happened to look at Dr. Kelley. He had a little smile on his face, and a quick wink of his eye said, "Good job, John!" That one little gesture bolstered my self-confidence. And I "got by" my committee. They approved my work, and recommended to the Dean that I be given my degree.

So, why am I melancholy? I suppose it has something to with my realization that years of superior human effort just passed away. How that man studied! Always reading. Ever learning. Ever listening.

Oh yes, much of what he said he put into writing. He was a better writer than lecturer. But the written page is not Page Kelley. It was Kelley the man who lived and preached the Word he taught that blessed my soul. As John Donne would say, "His death diminishes me."

Another factor in my melancholy is the passing this week of an elderly Wabedian whose children I know better than I knew her. But for as long as I've known Wab, I've known Mattie Norton Hansel. I'll remember her simply as Mattie Red, daughter of Jersey Bob and Miss Daisy Norton. She has gone to the Almighty. May the Almighty comfort those she leaves behind.

No one says. Nothing admits. Life is always in transition. Father and mother come. Father and mother fade away. Lovers meet, marry, and nurture their own. But those lovers soon or late must leave each other and leave those they've nurtured. Great teachers come. Great teachers pass away.

"That's life," someone says, as if merely saying so should banish my melancholy. And I say, "Yes, that is life." But I don't have to like it! And please don't talk to me about Death being "natural," a part of things as they are. That might be, but I don't like it. And please again - don't give me any of that "Death as a friend" jargon. Death, pardon my grammar, ain't no friend of mine. The minute I was born Death went to work on me. You too. The Scriptures tell us that Death is our enemy. Always was. Always will be - until Death too shall pass away!

So, here we are, beloved, thrown into this enigmatic thing called life, tossed about between the pillars of being and non-being. But in that charming and turning we are becoming! Changing! In transition! Never status quo! Never going back! And maybe, just maybe, we will become and become and become until we become... being! Because BEING makes it so. BEING that does not pass away.

March Clean-Up Month Proclamation

Now that Spring has arrived, it is time for all of us to clean-up our property. We must all do our part to keep Mt. Vernon one of the cleanest and most attractive towns in the state.

In as much as the All American Club has been instrumental in keeping our community clean; and

In as much as the City of Mt. Vernon acknowledges the efforts of the All American Club; now, The Mayor and the City of Mt. Vernon wish to express their appreciation to the All American Club for their efforts and do hereby proclaim the month of March to be Clean-up Month in the City of Mt. Vernon.

The Mt. Vernon Signal Thursday, March 27, 1997 P-A3

The Scriptures tell us the Word of the Almighty endures forever. And now and then, if you listen, you might just hear the words that will not pass away. Above the din of this darkling plane, you might just hear those eternal words...

I AM... with you!
Can I prove that? No.
Can I believe that? Yes! If I can not, then with the Apostle Paul I say, "I am of all men most miserable."
Today, dear hearts, I'm not miserable. But I am melancholy. I'll get over it. So will you.

Busy Bees News

Busy Bees met February 11th, at the home of Wynona Isaacs for their regular monthly meeting. We had seven in attendance.

Shell Gilliam chose two poems and a reading of scripture with the theme "What is Love?" for our devotional.

Roll call, given by Carolyn Gilbert, was answered by; How do you celebrate Valentine's Day? Barbara Prater gave the treasurer's report. Minutes of last meeting were read and accepted.

Recreation leader, Brittany Cromer, had a fun game prepared for us. Answers to the game applied the word heart. Shell Gilliam and Carolyn Gilbert tied with most answers correct. A guess of a number made Shell the winner.

Some new projects we will be doing this year are: saving our pocket change and turning it in at our June meeting, collecting non-perishable foods to be donated to REAP at the end of the year and providing some hospitality to patients at the Rockcastle County Respiratory Center.

Thank you Wynona for sharing your home and food. Lydia was the winner of the door prize.

March meeting was held at the Extension Office. We had a total of 6 in attendance. Barbara Prater couldn't be with us due to surgery. We really missed her and wish her a quick recovery.

Devotion was given by Shell

Gilliam. Roll call was answered by: Do you have any spring cleaning? Minutes of last meeting were read and accepted.

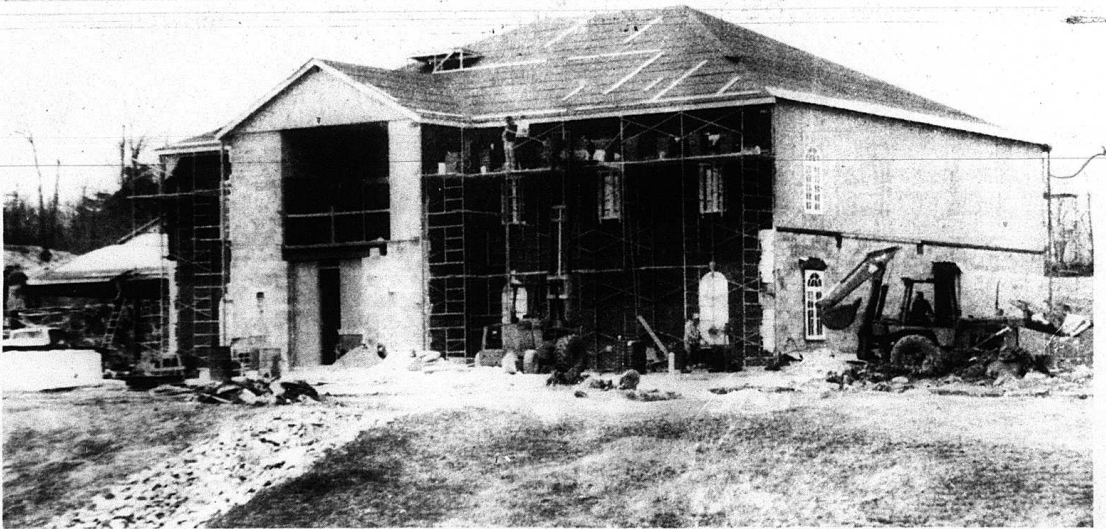

Old business included; canned food collection, loose change collection, tabs from aluminum cans and Respiratory patient visits.

New business was a report from the Leadership Council meeting Lydia and Cecilia attended March 10th. Lesson for the month was an indepth look at the Amish way of life.

Shell was our hostess for the month. Brittany picked a fun game to play, one of the answers included her favorite actress, Lucille Ball.

Next meeting will be April 8th at the home of Barbara Prater. Happy Easter.

Mother's Cloak

*Dedicated to Salute Coffey
By Carol Ann Coffey*

As days go by, and one by one they certainly do,
We crave to go back into the past,
Where times were tranquil and sheltered for us.
By a cloak of love draped over us ever so generously.

But we cannot do that, for no one was ever granted,
The Luxury that all things good would perpetually last.
We need to march into each new dawn, simultaneously,
And hand in hand together, without restrictions.

The tasks that lie ahead for us will not be easy.

But realize that the cloak of love will always be there.

Let's nevermore forget who put it there.
Cherish her memory until the end of time, protect it with all your care. I understand your heart is heavy, yet bare, both one in the same.

How can that be?
Why did God take this wondrous life?
Is there a message in all of this for you and for me?

Perhaps he's preparing us for our own destinies. Be strong,
Hear the words coming from him, the very words we heard from her. Let her guide us now, we owe her that.

All of her years here on earth she exhausted herself in our salvation, Unselfishly, and so matter of fact. Relish yourself in her likeness and you will be redeemed.

As she was, what could make her smile on us more than that?

We miss the uncomplicated life we had with her.
She made things so understandable for us in all kinds of ways.

But it's her turn now, she's in her glory land,
Where she wants to be. Encircled by the love of her Jesus.

She prayed so hard to get there, night after night, day after day.
She deserves to be there, she paid her fee.

Somewhere in the soft, billowy clouds of heaven,
she patiently waits there.

So we must now construct our own plan to join her in the hereafter.
But until that day comes when we will all be united with her again,

And filled with joyous laughter,
We have to settle for the warmth from the cloak of love,
She gave us to wear.

Kentucky Rain

A Journey of a Christian Appalachian Project Volunteer

Kentucky rain beckoned my name.
"Live for Jesus not for fame.
Soar with the eagle on Mount High,
Freely to the 'Sweet By and By'."

My Master called, "Pick up your cross."

I, concerned with my worldly loss,
Thought I had not much to gain.

Until I felt Kentucky rain.
Bubbling brook I follow each morn.
To a place where God adorns.
To me at first a cold shelter,
Now, home away from shelter.

Every day I walk in the door,
Kentucky rain starts to pour,
Drenched with love, no time crases,
Memories of smiling faces,
Soaked in rain, baptized with His care.

Gifts from Jesus. Ours to share.

Strolling along in the quiet eve,
Know to give is to receive.

Clear, crisp nights filled with Blue Moonlight,
Once blinded, I now have sight.
God's children habit all these hills,
Graced with faith, trust and strong will.

Warm drops of love nourish my days,
Blessed in many wondrous ways.
Appalachia - Home of God!
Thankful your soil I now trod.

Roundstone Elementary School hosts Parent/Student Art Night

Roundstone Elementary School and The Family Resource Center held a Parent/Student Art night on Thursday, March 20, to recognize March Youth Art Month. With approximately 180 participants, centers in art, drawing and painting were set up in the gym as parents and students created art together. "Roundstone Elementary School wanted to take advantage of Youth Art Month as an opportunity for parents to become involved in activities with their children," said Sandy Bullens, Family Resource Center Coordinator. "I don't think any of us expected the large turnout or the enthusiasm for this project. This shows the willingness and importance of parent involvement."

Dr. JoAnne Guilfoil, ECU Art Education Instructor, along with teachers and administrators helped facilitate the activities and gave encouragement to parents who needed a little inspiration. "Once parents started working the clay or spreading paint, it was obvious that they not only appreciate the arts but enjoy creating as much as their kids," added Dr. Guilfoil.

Packets of visual art activities and a copy of the Core Content in Arts and Humanities for Fifth Grade Assessment were given to each parent at the end of the evening. Parents were encouraged to continue participating in art activities with their children at home. Principal David Pensol stated,

"We tried to make two points: One, that arts are fun and fun to do together. And two, the arts are instructional and can be tools for learning additional content skills. When we have parents, students and teachers all working together, we have learning."

Brittany Himes to compete in State Spelling Bee March 29

Brittany Himes of Brodhead, has been declared eligible to compete in the Kentucky State Spelling Bee, scheduled for Saturday, March 29, at the Downtown Holiday Inn in Louisville.

Himes is one of more than 50 Kentucky and southern Indiana youngsters who will compete for a trip to the Scripps Howard National Spelling Bee later this year in Washington, D.C., as well as other prizes.

This is the fourth year that the bee is being held as part of the Kentucky Derby Festival. Kentucky Farm Bureau Insurance Companies are sponsoring the bee in conjunction with 84WHAS Radio and Business First.

Kentucky Farm Bureau President William R. Sprague said he is proud that the Farm Bureau organizations are able to support the students who participate in the spelling bee.

"Academic competitions such as the spelling bee help bring excitement into classroom subjects, and send a message to students that learning language skills is important and can be fun as well," Sprague said. "We want to congratulate all those students who have entered spelling bees in their schools, and wish each contestant at the state level the best of luck for winning that coveted trip to Washington."

Kentucky students who have qualified for the state bee represent grades four through eight in public and private school systems across the state.

B.E.S. school.

At the March P.T.A. meeting the success of the Spring Festival was discussed. The P.T.A. also voted to purchase a new laminating machine for the school. Mrs. Beverly Harrison was the winner of the door prize donated by the Brodhead Family Resource Center.

The Brodhead Alumni Banquet will be held this Saturday night (March 29) at the school. Intermediate students will be on hand to discuss the new additions to the school involved with micro-society. School will not be in session on April 3 & 4 for KEA.

Extension Home Economics

Don't Get Stuck With A Sticky Driveway

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Beautiful flowers and warm sunshine are sure signs of spring, but unfortunately for consumers, spring also brings out house-to-house con artists. Among the most common swindlers are those who operate as driveway repair crews that offer economical paving and sealing services.

The first tip-off to a potential scam is whether the workers' vehicles bear license plates from another state. This could indicate a fly-by-night operation that moves constantly.

Another sign of unscrupulous business dealings is whether the person doing the repairs pressures you to have the work done immediately. Often the workers make it seem like a very attractive deal, offering low-priced services. They frequently claim to have left-over sealant from another driveway job they have just finished and do not want the excess to go to waste. Beware if you are handed this kind of sales pitch.

These repair crews often move from town to town, offering low estimates and making false guarantees of high quality workmanship. The success of rip-off artists depends on their ability to "hit and run", or how quickly they can take advantage of a customer and disappear from the neighborhood.

Reputable companies usually ask for partial payment in advance for materials to be used on the job, but they do not ask to be paid the balance until the work has been satisfactorily completed. Do not pay for a job that has not been finished.

Consumers who are interested in driveway repair services should seek a reputable local contractor and get a written estimate and contract before allowing any work to begin. Also, compare estimates and look at examples of the company's work before committing.

In addition, you might want to contact the local Better Business Bureau at 1-800-866-6668 to see if any complaints have been filed against that company. However, this usually only helps if the firm is based locally.

Finally, report any suspicious repair crews to the police, Sheriff's Department or the Consumer Protection Division of the Kentucky Attorney General's Office.

FSA offers sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program

The sign-up period for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) is scheduled for March 3 through March 28, 1997, to accept offers of environmentally sensitive acreage for new 10 to 15 year contracts to enroll acreage for programs years 1998 and 1999. CRP is a voluntary program that offers annual rental payments, incentive payments for certain activities and cost-share assistance to establish approved cover on eligible cropland. The program encourages farmers to plant long-term resource-conserving covers to improve soil, water and wildlife resources. The duration of the contracts are between 10 and 15 years.

CRP is administered by the CCC through the Farm Service Agency (FSA). The Natural Resources Conservation Service, Cooperative State Research and Education Extension Services, State forestry agencies, and local soil and water conservation districts provide program support. To be eligible to be placed in CRP, land must be: (1) cropland that is planted or intended to be planted, to an agronomy 2 of the 5 most recent crop years which is also physically and legally capable of being planted in a normal manner to an agr commodity; or (2) marginal pasture land that is either enrolled in the Water Bank Program or suitable for use as a riparian buffer to be planted to trees. In addition to the eligible land requirements, cropland must have an erosion index of 8 or higher or be considered highly erodible land according to the conservation compliance provisions. Offers for CRP contracts are ranked according to the Environmental Benefits Index (EBI). The Natural Resources Conservation Service collects data for each of the EBI factors, based upon the relative environmental benefits for the land offered. Bids are then ranked in comparison to all other bids offered and selections made from that ranking.

A new method of division is being implemented to provide for a reallocation of allotment and quota on farms offered for CRP. The CRP allocation methods is the division of the land, offered for CRP, from the remaining land in the farm and allows landowners the option to allocate allotments and quotas to any tract resulting from the CRP allocation division. This means that no bases or quotas will be reduced upon enrollment in CRP.

Eligible acreage devoted to certain special conservation practices such as riparian buffers, filter strips, grassed waterways, shelter belts, living snow fences, contour grass strips, salt tolerant vegetation and shallow water areas for wildlife may be enrolled at any time under the continuous sign-up, and are not subject to competitive bidding. All other eligible acreage must be enrolled during the CRP sign-up period of March 3 through March 28.

floods, hurricanes, or other natural disasters or for carrying out emergency water conservation measures during periods of severe drought. ECP is administered by state and county FSA Committees. Conservation problems existing prior to the disaster involved are not eligible for cost-sharing assistance. Subject to availability of funds, county committees, in consultation with FSA state committees, are authorized to implement ECP for eligible farmers for all disasters except drought. Practices to rehabilitate farmland damaged by wind erosion and other disaster, including drought, may include debris removal, providing water for livestock, fence restoration, grading and shaping of farmland, restoring structures, and water conservation measures. Producers may lose or damage to the local FSA Office.

Burley tobacco leases may be filled through July 1, 1997.

Burley tobacco quotas will be dropped on farms that have not leased away or produced their quota in two of the last three years. To save your quota you must do one of the following before July 1: lease your tobacco, lease away your quota, or sell your quota. If you have any questions, you may call the office.

Producers who are enrolled in the Production Flexibility Program (AMT) and have made changes in tenants, shares, etc., should revise their contract accordingly. Producers who have not made changes in their contract do not need to sign a new one unless some of the shares were redesignated. Please be advised advanced payments were made for Fiscal Year 1997 in December 1996 and January 1997. Final payments will be made by September 30, 1997.

Effective for FY 1998, leases that provide for rental payments that are the greater of a guaranteed minimum or a percentage of the total crop proceeds may be considered a cash lease or a share lease. These leases shall be considered cash leases if the guaranteed minimum would be equal to or greater than normal cash rents in the area, unless COC determines that the share of the crop proceeds provision is likely to be triggered in most years. If such a determination is made, these leases shall be considered share leases. If the cash guaranty of a lease is less than normal for the area, the lease is a share lease.

Producers who raise tobacco on their farm should be aware that tobacco undermarkings (pounds that you were short) can only be carried over for one year. If you do not sell the amount of your undermarkings the next preceding year, they will be lost the next crop year.

Producers may sign up to have their program payments made through direct deposit. This method simply allows FSA to put money in your account directly and you will be saved a trip to the bank. It's fast, easy and safe. A verification of the payment and deposit will be mailed to you when funds are transferred.

Youth who are involved in 4-H, FFA or other similar activities may be eligible to receive needed funding to develop income producing projects through FSA's Ag Credit. Loans of up to $5000 are available to assist youth in financing the items which are necessary to establish their project. Loan repayments will be scheduled to coincide with the project income schedule.

The Emergency Conservation Program (ECP) provides emergency funding for farmers to rehabilitate farmland damaged by wind erosion,

Lady Rockets lose to Assumption, 51-38

The Rockets won their first game of the girls Sweet Sixteen -- the only problem was it was the Assumption Rockets not the Rockcastle Rockets. The girls came out tight and got off just 13 shots in the first 16 minutes of play. They also had the ball stolen 13 times.

A lot of the credit for Assumption's 51-38 win can go to their 6-foot-1 freshman Jenni Benningfield who had 16 points, six rebounds and four assists. Rockets coach Chrym Noble said of Benningfield after the game, "She's the best post player I've seen. We had somebody in front of her and somebody in back, and she didn't panic."

After taking the lead at 7:06 in the first quarter on a basket by Amy Robinson, the Rockets saw Assumption go on a 7-0 run and found themselves down 13-7 at the end of the period. Eight of the girls 13 first half turnovers came in this period. In the second quarter, Suzie Carpenter had scored twice and Robinson once and the girls were down 21-13 when a half-court shot by Tiffany McClure swished through to get the girls back to within five at half-time 21-16.

Assumption put together a 10-4 run in the third quarter to go ahead by 13 and to outscore the Rockets 15-8 in the period for a 36-24 third quarter bulge.

In the fourth quarter, the girls just couldn't stop the bleeding although they seemed to be more aggressive in taking the ball inside and to the goal and free throws accounted for eight of their 14 fourth period points. In this period, Amanda Osborne came off the bench to score four points, all at the free throw line.

McClure led the scoring for the Rockets with 10 points. Assumption had scored the Rockets at the Regional Tournament and it was obvious to them that they needed to shut Carpenter down inside and they did, holding her to eight points. Robinson got 7 points; Moore 5 and Albright and Osborne, 4 each.

The Rockets finished the season with a great 25-6 record. Coach Noble will be the assistant coach for the 13th region all-stars team when they play the 12th region all-stars. Robinson, Carpenter and Albright are expected to be named to the team although that is not official. Robinson has a knee injury that might preclude her from participating.

Jr. Pro's head to Nationals

The Rockcastle County Jr. Pro JV All-Stars, who won the State Championship of Kentucky will face Beaver Creek, Ohio in their 1st round match-up in the Stokely Athletic Coliseum in Knoxville, Tennessee, this Thursday at 6:15 p.m. The Rockcastle Training League All-Stars, who were State Runners-Up of Kentucky will face East Knoxville, Tennessee, in their 1st round matchup in Alumni Gym in Knoxville, this Thursday at 6:15 p.m. Both teams will play Friday at 7:15 p.m. in the same venues if they win. Should they lose, they will each play at 1 p.m. in the same venues. Any fans interested in seeing the teams compete on a National level can leave with the caravan of coaches, players and parents on Thursday at 2 p.m. from the parking lot behind the Catholic Church.

Jessica Albright cuts through the lane looking for a pass in the Lady Rockets 51-38 loss to Assumption in first round action of the Sweet Sixteen Tournament last week.

Amanda Osborne retreats a loose ball during Sweet Sixteen action last Wednesday.

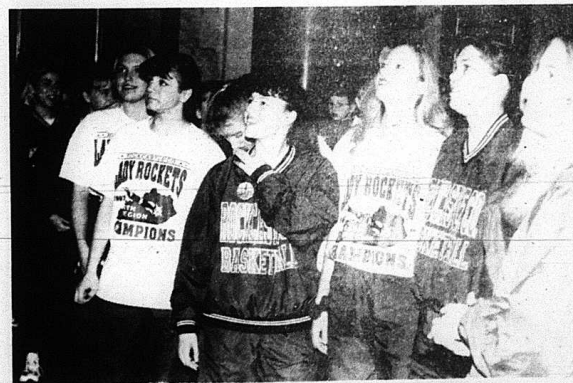

Tiffany McClure goes in for an uncontested lay-up as Jessica Albright looks on.

Many loyal Rocket fans attended the reception.

Bishop gets first home run of year for Rockets Rockets beat Lions in opener 5-1

The Rockets baseball team started the season off right Monday with a 5-

1 win over the Garrard Co. Lions. Junior Nathan DeLeon was on the mound for the Rockets and turned in a superb performance, scattering five hits, striking out five and issuing no walks.

The Rockets jumped on Lion pitching early, with junior Travis Anderkin getting a double in the first inning, advancing to third on a wild pitch and scoring the first run of the game on a balk.

The Rockets struck again in the second inning when Derek Tompkins got a lead-off double, advanced to third when DeLeon hit into a fielder's choice and scored on a single by senior catcher Jason Dillingham.

The Lions got their only run in the bottom of the second, collecting three of their five hits in the game on two singles and a double.

The third run for the Rockets came in the third inning when Anderkin led off by striking out. However, the ball got by the catcher on the third strike and Anderkin took off for first. The throw got by the first baseman and Anderkin wound up at second and later scored when Marcus Reppert hit into a fielder's choice.

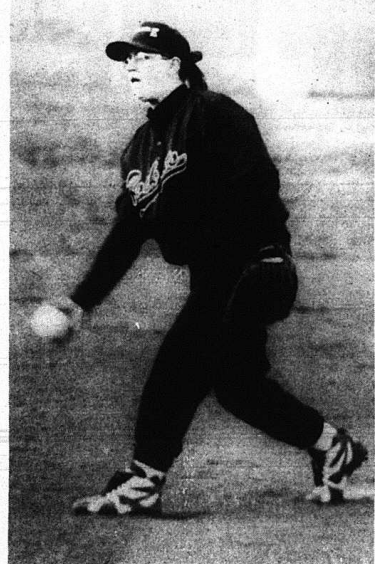

The first home run of the season for the Rockets came in the fourth inning on a 2-0 count off the bat of junior shortstop Chris Bishop and accounted for the Rockets fourth run of the game. Bishop also scored the final run for the Rockets. With one out, Bishop reached on an error on the Lions shortstop. Then, clean-up batter senior David King singled up the middle and, one out later, Derek Tompkins singled to score Bishop. King was tagged out at home on the same play for the third out.

Sophomore Patty Stamper opened the Lady Rockets slow pitch softball season off Monday night as she, along with sophomore Tiffany McClure, pitched the Lady Rockets to a 14-10 and 11-7 victory over Jackson County. The girls then took two on the chin Tuesday night as they traveled to Clay County and lost 25-17 and 14-12. The girls next game is Monday, April 7 when they host Lincoln County for their first fast-pitch game of the season.

Rockets lose to Boyle

Tuesday night, the Rockets fell to Boyle Co. in ten innings 7-4.

It was a game of errors for the Rockets and for Boyle Co. with all four of the Rocket runs unearned and four of the seven Boyle Co. runs.

The ace of the Rockets pitching staff was on the mound, senior left hander George Durham and, after a shaky start, Durham settled down and pitched four great innings of baseball.

Durham recorded 11 strikeouts, gave up five walks, all in the first three innings, and five hits.

The Rebels went up by one in the first inning but the Rockets walked the first three men he faced and one scored on a pick-off attempt at first base.

Boyle Co. added three more in the third inning when the Rebels got two earned and one unearned run. In the fourth, the Rockets got three of them back. With one out, Tompkins got a walk and DeLeon followed with a double. Then Durham was safe on an error on the second baseman and Tompkins scored. Then catcher Jason Dillingham bunted to the pitcher and was safe when the first baseman dropped the ball and DeLeon scored. Dusty McClure was safe after the first baseman left home to make the play on his hit and no one covered first and Durham scored and the Rockets were down by one 4-3.

In the bottom of the seventh, and still down by one, the Rockets sent their second, third and fourth batters to the plate. Anderkin drew a walk, Bishop laid down a sac bunt to advance him and King doubled for the tying run.

McClure took the mound in the top of the eighth in relief of Durham and sailed through two innings before running into trouble in the 10th when, with one out, Tompkins got a double. The next batter reached after being hit by a pitch and Coach Ryan Riddle brought in Bishop to finish the inning. However, the next man got a double, scoring two runs and the next batter singled, scoring the third run for the Rebels.

With one out in the Rockets part of the 10th, Reppert doubled and went to third on a balk call but the Boyle Co. pitcher got the next two Rockets to end the game.

FBLA members win at conference

On Thursday, March 13th, 27 Office Technology students from Rockcastle County Area Technology Center attended the annual Regional 6 FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America) Conference at Eastern Kentucky University. Throughout the day there were many helpful and skill building tests administered some of which include: Job Interview competition, Business Law exam, and Word Processing test. However, not all tests are taken that very day as some require extensive editing and specified allotted time for the administering of these particular tests, for example some of these tests which were administered at the home school was Desktop Publishing, Computer Applications and Job Description Manual, just to name a few. Though all of these tests are helpful and based on real-life jobs, these tests also are judged to help each local chapter gain not only a sparkling trophy but also a trip to Louisville in May for the State FBLA Conference. Harry Sparks Vocational School will indeed be there - attending the State Conference that is. On Thursday, Harry Sparks Vocational (Rockcastle ATC) brought home 2nd place in the Bulletin Board Competition with Bobby Phelps, Crystal Lear and Darlene Slusher.

Another Competition which will be advancing to State are Desktop Publishing students are David King

RTEC presents new van to Livingston Senior Citizens

The Rural Transit Enterprises (RTEC) recently received a new 15-passenger van to provide transportation services for the Livingston Senior Citizens Center. The new van has a center aisle and power-step to enhance accessibility. The vehicle was awarded through a grant in the amount of $26,980.00 through the Kentucky Division of Multimodal Programs. When not in use for the senior center, the van will be used in the coordinated system of RTEC for community transit and the general public.

Transit is provided in the Livingston community daily for $1.00 each ride. Rural rides are $2.00 each and the bus leaves downtown Livingston at 12:30 p.m. on Fridays enroute to Mt. Vernon and returning at 2:00 p.m. The fare is only $2.00 each. For more information about bus routes and schedules in the Livingston Community, call Edna Cameron at the Livingston Senior Citizens Center at 453-9012.

In the photo, Russell Houk, RTEC's Fleet Manager, presents the keys to a new van for the Livingston Senior Citizens to Charles Wagner, RTEC Driver.

Edna Cameron, Livingston Site Manager and Charles Wagner, RTEC Driver are shown with Ed Lyle, Mayor of the City of Livingston, who was also present for the arrival of the new van for the Livingston Senior Citizens. The City of Livingston provides a daily parking space for the van and recently upgraded the sidewalk to improve the accessibility of boarding passengers. The value of the parking privilege is applied toward local in-kind match for operating grant funds.

 Dear Editor,
 How easy it is to forget years of effort Gatewood Galbraith has given to help legalize cannabis industrially and medicinally, but when a movie star flies to Kentucky and plants four industrial hemp seeds and is hailed as the savior of our state, we need to readjust our values.
 Ideas are hard to come by, but they don't cost as much to sell. In 1991 Gatewood Galbraith ran for governor of Kentucky for $100,000. He traveled the state on money made from T-shirt sales and passes of the hat and managed to get his own unique vision of the world heard.
 He took a stand to legalize hemp as a cash crop and intertwined it with his views on poverty, tourism and government intrusion into the lives of individuals. And emerged with the most clear cut ideas of the campaign.
 Willie Nelson showed his support by performing in 1991, and 1995 for Gatewood, but again Kentucky wasn't ready for Gatewood's comprehension of the need to change the medicinal laws against cannabis. Those in need of it fully understand its proficiency, and can't understand why they must go to the streets for this medicine. When will we give credit where credit is due? Sacrifices made by Gatewood's shooting budget deserves recognition. His efforts to show the medicinal values of Cannabis for cancer, glaucoma and AIDS patients have gone unnoticed. How can we allow this? If he were a movie star would Kentucky accept his concept of compassion?
 Sincerely,
 Danny Pigman

Bradford Coffey all of Renfro Valley, will present an academic paper about Rockcastle County Cemetery at the American Culture Association in San Antonio, TX on March 28, 1997.
 Dr. Bonham and Patricia Heymann Hiatt published a book of Rockcastle County cemetery inventories in 1986. Two hundred and fifty Rockcastle people helped locate and record tombstones. Their names are listed in the book. The project was started in 1981. The field work took five years to complete. The result was a volume of over 900 pages of important information. Directions to each cemetery are included in the book.
 Janie Ramsey, great-aunt of Dr. Bonham, was the guiding force behind the idea for the book. Miss Ramsey, who will be 98 years old on April 6th, is living at Sowder Nursing Home in Brodhead.
 The Rockcastle County Historical Society and at the Rockcastle County Public Library each owns a copy of the book, Rockcastle County, Kentucky Cemeteries. The book is available to patrons of those two organizations. Four hundred cemeteries were recorded and every stone that could be located was carefully copied.
 Libraries across the United States have ordered copies of the book for their collection. The authors of the book receives letters from people who have roots in Rockcastle but live all over this great land. Some have even returned to Rockcastle to visit cemeteries that are important to their families.

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

Congratulations to the Rockcastle County Library Board of Trustees on receiving the 1997 Kentucky Library Trustees Award. The members of the K.L.T.A. Awards Committee unanimously chose this library board from applicants all over the state and they stated they were very proud of the many accomplishments that had been achieved this past year. A plaque and check will be awarded to the Rockcastle County Board of Trustees in Louisville on May 9th.

Members of our local board are: Allen Pensol, Chairman; Sue Hamm, Vice Chairman; Ken Mattingly, Secretary/Treasurer; Serena Stratton and Jerry Burke.

We are also very pleased and proud of our library board. It is a pleasure to work with them and to know that we need help they are always readily available to assist us. We especially want to thank Jerry Burke for all the help with the computers. Without his help, we would not have the capability to help our patrons with their many needs. It has taken a lot of time and effort on the part of the staff, with help from Jerry, to learn the steps to get into Internet and other things that we are able to do on the computers.

Spring is indeed a very busy time for all of us here at the library. We have a full schedule of coming events planned for our patrons.

First of all National Library Week is being observed April 13th - 19th. This is a time that we encourage everyone to become acquainted with your library and not only the library in this county but this goes for everyone wherever you live. I have a lot of friends and relatives that live in other counties and other states that tell me they read my column so I am asking you too, to visit your public library. Libraries have changed a lot in the past years and there is something for everyone at a library. Even if you are not a reader, in most libraries lots of interesting things are available. Our newest service is our computers and access to internet. We have had over 200 people use this service since November. We also have videos and audio tapes for those people who might like to listen to someone read to them. I find this very interesting when I am in the car. I don't have a lot of time to read so I really appreciate listening to a good book being read to me. We try to have some kind of an exhibit for people to enjoy viewing.

During National Library Week we are planning a Student's Art Show. We have a lot of talented young people and we want them to have a chance to show off their art work. For more information about this show, call the library at 256-2388.

In May we are planning an Open House for those people who have not been in our library since our renovation and hopefully the outside work will be finished by then. We have a promise that the new roof will be on this next month. There will be continuous events happening during the week of May 26-31, with a planned speaker for the 30th. Also during this week we are planning for the 5th Local Art Show of Rockcastle County. More information will be available on this soon. A new brochure of happenings at the library will be available April 1st. This will give a list of our staff, and board members, services available, new books and other interesting facts. These will be available at the circulation desk.

Some new books ready for your reading enjoyment are: A WOMAN'S PLACE by Barbara Delinsky. . . Claire Raphaelis was a true woman of the nineties. She was the perfect helpmate while her husband, Dennis, built his career and the perfect mother when it came time for her children. She managed all this while transforming a furniture hobby into WickerWise, a thriving business.

When arriving home one night from a grueling business trip, Claire is served with divorce papers that claim abandonment of Dennis and the children and he is suing for custody. Her world is shattered. Will Claire survive this traumatic happening?

ABUSE OF POWER by Nancy Taylor Rosenberg. . . and a plot that moves from shock to shock, Abuse of Power bristles with danger and excitement.

A new non-fiction that has been on the bestseller lists for several weeks is now available and one that should be of interest to a lot of people is THE ARTHRITIS CURE by Jason Theodosakis, MD. . . A revolution is about to happen. An arthritis cure has been discovered, and it's as simple as taking two inexpensive over the counter nutritional supplements.

Four decades of medical research from around the world has shown that two nutritional supplements - glucosamine and chondroitin sulfates - can halt, reverse and even cure osteoarthritis.

This treatment has been in use for years in parts of Europe to a great success, but because of a complicated mix of medical conservatism, consumer attitudes and commercial reality, it is largely unknown here.

Dr. Theodosakis has listed valuable information on dosage and the products currently on the market. He also tells you the truth about pain killers and gives you a realistic diet and exercise program to follow.

JANE BRODY'S ALLERGY FIGHTER by Jane Brody. . . This gives a clear, compact, completely up-to-date guide to understanding the allergies that plague you, and the actions that you and your doctor can take now to prevent and relieve their symptoms.

Untreated, nasal allergies can lead to a host of serious health problems, including asthma and chronic sinusitis. Jane Brody's Allergy Fighter is your essential guide to enhance your quality of life right now and in the years to come.

Fairview News

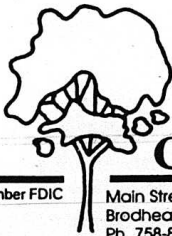

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Hello to everyone.

Hope all is well with you on this Monday morning, March 24th. It is a beautiful, cool, sunny spring-like day with flowers blooming and trees budding and blooming, and the glossy green grass is growing so fast, some people are already mowing. (I don't think I have ever seen grass so green before). But the older we get, I think we realize and appreciate more and more how good the Lord is to us. I feel sorry for people that don't appreciate life and the goodness of God.

We had real good attendance for worship services over the weekend at Fairview with a heart-warming spiritual message delivered by our Pastor Rev. Harvey Pensol. Results were wonderful, one profession of faith and a goodly number of re-dedications and many tears of joy. Maybe we don't always remember "that prayer changes things." And let's always remember to thank God for answering our prayers.

Our Sunday School attendance was 109.
