INSPECTION PERIOD FOR THE PROPERTY TAX ASSESSMENT ROLL

The Rockcastle County real property tax roll will be opened for inspection from June 11 through June 25 under the supervision of the property valuation administrator or one of the deputies, any person may inspect the tax roll.

This is the January 1, 1997 assessment on which state, county and school taxes for 1997 will be due about September 15, 1997.

The tax roll is in the office of the property valuation administrator in the county courthouse and may be inspected between the hours 8:00 a.m. nd 4:00 p.m.

Any taxpayer desiring to appeal an assessment on real property made by the PVA must first request a conference with the PVA or a designated deputy. The conference may be held prior to or during the inspection period.

Any taxpayer still aggrieved by an assessment on real property, after the conference with the PVA or designated deputy, may appeal to the county board of assessment appeals.

The taxpayer can appeal his assessment by filing in person or sending a letter or other written petition stating the reasons for appeal, identifying the property and stating the taxpayer's opinion of the fair cash value of the property.

The appeal must be filed with the county clerk's office no later than one work day following the conclusion of the inspection period.

Any taxpayer failing to appeal to the county board of assessment appeals, or failing to appear before the board, either in person or by designated representative, will not be eligible to appeal directly to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

Appeals of personal property assessments shall not be made to the county board of assessment appeals. Personal property taxpayers shall be served notice under the provisions of KRS 132.450(4) and shall have the protest and appeal rights granted under the provisions of KRS 131.110.

The following steps should be taken when a taxpayer does not agree with the assessed value of personal property as determined by the office of property valuation administrator.

- (1) He must list under protest (for certification) what he believes to be the fair cash value of his property.
- (2) He must file a written protest directly with the Department of Property Taxation within 30 days from the date of the notice of assessment.
- (3) This protest must be in accordance with KRS 131.110.
- (4) The final decision of the Revenue Cabinet may be appealed to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.

There's A Secret To A Long Marriage
My wife and I are getting ready to celebrate our 26th wedding anniversary. Someone asked me last week why we had been able to stay together. Asking a newspaper columnist a question is dangerous — it will almost inevitably lead to a new column — and that is exactly what happened. I began to ponder why some marriages stay together, and I think I have discovered something. I'll call it the "secret to long marriages."

This secret has worked for me, and men, I think it will work for you, too. It doesn't matter if this is your first or a subsequent marriage; the secret is still valid. Here it is: the secret to my marriage of 26 years is that I married a woman with a lot of patience. I encourage all you men to do the same. It will certainly make a difference.

My wife has been very patient with me throughout our marriage. Since we men don't grow up until age 35 or 40, she patiently waited for me to mature. (I'm sure she sometimes still wonders if I have made it to maturity or not.) A patient woman is a priceless treasure, men.

My wife has been very patient through my career changes. Some people know what they want to do by the time they reach 21. I've been a little slower than most, finally finding my niche as a counselor age 37. She hung in there throughout the whole process, even encouraging me to make career changes that I felt were necessary. I should point out that she has been the model of consistency, holding the same position now that she did twenty years ago.

My wife was very patient throughout my struggles with depression. As a survivor of depression, I can tell you that it is not a very pleasant experience for the depressed person nor for his spouse. It was even more frustrating because for many years we did not know what we were battling. Finally, about ten years ago someone called it depression, and we could begin to treat it. She hung in there through it all of that with me, even when I tried some unusual remedies for the depression. As it turns out, therapy and medication were the things that worked for me. That is why I recommend those so highly to my clients.

Please do not hear me saying that we have always had a wonderful marriage. We have not. We have had our bad times just as any other couple does. We made some mistakes along the way that did damage to our relationship. Some of those things I did that hurt her still cause me grief. Looking back I wonder how I could have been so insensitive.

Besides marrying a patient woman, I have searched my brain for other reasons we have managed to stay together. I know some reasons that don't apply to us. We haven't stayed together because we are smarter than other couples. It's not because we are more religious than others. And it's not because we have always been perfectly wonderful to each other.

It helps that we are interested in some of the same things. I know that's a trite thing to say, but some things are trite because they are true. Also, our temperaments seem to fit together nicely. And both of us have parents who stayed in one marriage throughout their lives, and I know that made an impression on us.

But when I am pressed for the reason we have stayed together, I keep coming back to the fact of my wife's patience. Men, as you search for a mate, try to find one with an overabundance of patience. I can almost promise you that her patience will help your marriage last a long time.

Project will keep jail open

County will spend $600,000 on jail

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court voted Tuesday to spend $600,000 on the Rockcastle County jail.

The unanimous vote came after a lengthy discussion, which focused on whether or not the court could allow the jail to close and send county prisoners elsewhere.

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlottis told the magistrates it was his opinion there was simply no way the county could afford to close the jail.

Carlottis said such a closure would cost the county approximately $250,000, which would have to be paid from an already depleted general fund.

The fiscal court was notified in May by the Kentucky Department of Corrections that they would close the county jail if the court did not continue with a renovation project that will place the jail in compliance with all state regulations.

Each magistrate agreed with Carlottis, including third district magistrate Bill McKinney, who has been very outspoken in the past about the cost of running the jail and the financial crunch it has put the county in.

McKinney said he thought the only way the county could keep the jail open and not expend an enormous amount of general fund dollars was to go ahead with Phase II and Phase III of the remodeling project.

Everyone seemed to agree with McKinney, especially Carlottis who presented the court with a written outline showing their options concerning the jail.

In his outline, the Judge pointed out that the county would have to spend about $350,000 a year to house the county's prisoners elsewhere. The county takes in only about $100,000 in revenue at the jail when no other prisoners are housed. Carlottis said the county could only afford to keep two prisoners a day with the jail's income, if it were closed. Currently the local jail houses about 28 county prisoners a day.

Another option was to do the necessary renovation required by the state to be in full compliance, but not to make room for any more prisoners.

Price takes job in Junction City

Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Nathaniel Price is leaving his position effective Friday.

Price is taking a position with the police department in Junction City. Price has been a deputy since November of 1994.

That Carlottis said would cost the county approximately $200,000.

"You can either pay for a jail in another county or pay for a jail in this county," said Jim Woodrum president of Architecture Plus, Inc. a company that specializes in building and renovating county jails.

Woodrum worked for the county on Phase I of the jail renovation project, which has been completed, and has drawn the necessary plans for Phases II and III.

Phases II and III call for adding on to the current courthouse on the side facing Church Street and remodeling the former Clontz and Cox Law office area.

The current jail has 34 beds. The renovation and remodeling will make enough room for 26 more.

"By having the extra beds, we will be able to keep prisoners from other counties, state prisoners and federal prisoners, which will gener-

Only twenty-five percent of crop set

Tobacco hit hard by rainfall

Rockcastle County tobacco farmers are in the same boat as other Kentucky farmers this week, as they wait for fields to dry so they can finish setting this year's crop.

Official records show that since May 1, 6.81 inches of rain has fallen in the county. Since May 24, 4.21 inches of rain has fallen and, during the first four days of June, the county has gotten a little less than two inches of rain. Some areas of the county have received more.

"It certainly looks like it is going to be a tough season for the tobacco farmer," said Rockcastle County Agricultural Agent Tom Mills.

"There was already a shortage of plants because of the increased allotments and shortage of tobacco last year and this weather is playing havoc with the condition of the plants farmers do have," Mills said.

"Farmers are doing everything they can to keep tobacco plants from getting too big, but the rainfall is making that almost impossible," he said.

Mills said that many farmers are topping plants in float beds and in conventional beds, but some plants are still becoming too tall to go through the tobacco setters.

"We need every plant we have this year and we are too big, if the weather doesn't break soon," he said.

To date only about one fourth of the tobacco in the county has been set.

Mike Smith was busy recently topping tobacco plants with a weedeater on his family's farm at Maretburg. The Smith family is raising six acres of tobacco this year. Because of the bad weather, the Smiths have been able to set only two acres thus far.

Farmers Market opening for second consecutive year

Fresh, ripe, nutritious locally grown fruits and vegetables. Many people have found these benefits by including a weekly trip to their local farmers' markets. Residents and visitors of Rockcastle County will soon be able to stop by Rockcastle County Farmers' Market. Operating for its second consecutive year, the market will be located on Hwy. 25 at Burr Hill the same location as last year. "We are planning to open sometime in June depending on when fruits and vegetables become available," says Ina Taylor, Director of LEAP. The farmers' market has something to offer for everyone. "We found that older people, especially liked to come here because many of them cannot have their own garden. The farmers' market provided fresh vegetables for them," says Vicki Anglin, LEAP Board Member and vendor at

Hospital's Medical Arts building open for business

While the weather may have dampened the surroundings, nothing could dampen the mood of those who attended the dedication of Rockcastle Hospital's new Medical Arts Building on Saturday.

Just one year ago, CB&S Construction broke ground on the 25,000 square-foot facility. At least five to six physicians will call the building home, along with a number of visiting specialists who will use the facility as needed.

"This medical arts building is a tremendous asset for Rockcastle County," said Lee Keene, Rockcastle Hospital's administrator. "If you want to keep good doctors and recruit new ones, you must provide them with convenient offices. By having this type of facility, we're also ensuring that residents won't have to travel out of the area for the very best medical care available."

"I'm looking forward to moving my practice to the new medical arts building," said Dr. Karen Saylor. "It is extremely convenient for both me and my patients. It centralizes

I'd been telling people all month that this was the wettest and coldest month of May that I could remember and now it's official.

According to the National Weather Service, this was, in fact, the second coldest May in Kentucky since they started keeping records back in the 1800's. Apparently it was colder than this 80 years ago.

My Mom used to say that if it thundered in February it would frost in May. It thundered a lot in February here in Paint Lick and it frosted three times. One of my neighbors who planted beans on Good Friday has had to replant them twice already.

I planted smart beans the first time around. I thought they had rotted in the ground because it took over three weeks to sprout. In retrospect, it seems they had enough sense to not come up when I thought they should, because on the morning of May 16 they would have gotten fried along with the tomato plants that were nearly knee high in the neighboring row.

The tomato plants that looked like a sneer of road tar through the garden when I got home from work that afternoon. I knew they were gone when I got out of bed and looked out the window because I thought it had snowed. I had absolutely no doubt as I rummaged under and behind my truck seat for an ice scraper.

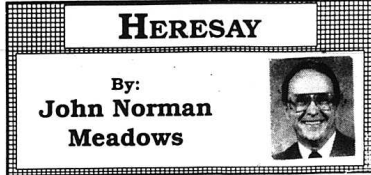

An ice scraper. On May 16th.

But for that matter I won't be surprised if it frosts in June. Last year we were eating beans out of the garden the first weekend in June. This year I'm not even able to hoe my beans for the first time during the first week of June. In the first place it's too muddy and in the second place I just don't feel right about wearing long johns while working in the garden.

Several old timers have told me that a cold Spring is sure sign of a hot

Autumn. What about a cold summer? If it doesn't fair up here pretty soon we may be throwing snow balls in July.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings milestones - which are to be preferred to gallstones or headstones - from the reeking wet Weald of Wadl, home of Delonney J. Carmichael, long-time Wadlian manager of McBane & Addleson Haberdashery (formerly Fuddmore and Addleson), and part-time director of the Annual Greater Wadlian Really Bizarre Christmas Charity Bazaar, who said, "Age is what makes antiques worth more . . . and people worth less."

Amery! Dear heaves, it's geriatrics time for yours truly. Come Sundays if the Almighty willing, I'll reach the big 6-0! No presents please. You sent so many last year that our little abode was bulging. However, you might want to make a donation to my favorite charity, The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, a good example of which you can see of a few hundred yards north of Nod's Little Acre.

Late on a Tuesday evening, sixty years ago, a middle aged woman named Lucinda, who had married an old man named John, who to the neighbors disbelief still had some fire in his furnace, delivered a ten pound screaming, baby boy. Word has it that John went outside, looked heavenward, and cried, "Why? Why? I wanted to spend my last years in peace. I know I've led a wayward life, but do I deserve this? And with that he gulped down a two-jowl swig of shine to alleviate his pain.

Lucinda, however, was overjoyed. Having already reared one son whom she so wanted to be a preacher, who did not become a preacher, she named her new son "John," not so much for his father as for that fiery tongued Baptist prophet who, clothed in camels hair, cried out from the waters of the Jordan River, "Behold! The Lamb of God who take away the sins of the world!" (The King James was much in vogue in those days, especially in Holy Land bibles.) Thinking her sizeable-suckling needed a middle name, Lucinda added "Norman," after the son of her good friend, Lenora.

SIXTY YEARS OLD! A-mercy! Faith and begorra! Aback and alts! Egads! Hells bells! And Holy Moley! Say it ain't so. Please, say it ain't so!

[TIME OUT] It's now thirty minutes later, beloved. And thanks to a talk with my Chow-Chows, and a glass of wine for the ole rickter, I've stabilized and will now finish today's missive.

My thirtieth birthday was just another day, although I recall that when I was twenty I thought a thirty year old friend was "old."

It was forty that really did me in, as is does not a few. Yes, I know, there are a bunch of even-keeled souls (but not as even-keeled as they think) who say a "forties crisis" is "all in your head."

Sure it is! It is a mental looking back at what one has accomplished or not accomplished, at what is compared to what was planned. The kids are adults and are leaving home. And big men at that stage do some very stupid, but very understandable things. I was one of them. I'd climbed the pinnacle of education only to discover that for all a Ph.D. could do for me, I was empty. I had no more mountains to climb. The forties are fraught with mental pain, a pain that hurts just as much as a broken bone or a kidney stone.

Fifty, however, was not traumatic at all. I'd gotten out of the pastorate, was teaching in a college, preaching revivals, and serving as interim pastor of churches (that means if the saints got sassy - as Baptist saints are wont to do - I could say "Bye!" without losing a pay check.) Beloved, I lie not, for the first time in my life I was not constipated. And the tension headaches that plagued me weekly when I was in the pastorate absolutely went away!

But I was still in the "arena of religion" - and the Southern Baptist Convention was a two ring circus with each ring engaged in a power struggle, with one ring pretending to be a God-ordained instrument to bring about a New Reformation. Being a teacher, I grew weary trying not to antagonize one side or the other. (That release from headaches and constipation should have told me something, but I was slow to perceive.)

So, I revolted again, not prettily, and today my only connection with a church is that of being a member of the one in which I was reared, which I attend sporadically because I am at the mercy of my maniacal lumbar and a terrible malady called clinical depression - which a host of folks debunk because they cannot understand it. (If I don't understand it, therefore, it is not.) I pray they never understand the term. On a talk show, she said, "It refers to the fact that folks under fifty openly or subconsciously are certain that no one over fifty has anything worth saying." The tell-tale sign of agemism is that glazed over look in the eyes of pre-fiftians when an older person commences to speak. It's sad, but so true. And it hurts.

So what will I do with my sixties, if the Almighty lets me live them? To be sure, some of the few dollars I'd hoped to save for rainy days will be spent on my children and their children's rainy days. And if I have to

Forgetfulness, while showing up in the fifties, really gets rolling in the sixties, as the next quote attests:

First your forget names, then you forget faces, then you forget to pull your zipper up, then you forget to pull your zipper down. - Leo Rosenberg

Old age is like a plane flying through a storm. Once you're on board, there is nothing you can do about it. - Golda Mier

The older I grow, the more I distrust the familiar doctrine that age brings wisdom. - H. L. Mencken

And there is agemism. You may not have come upon that term since it's of recent vintage. A sociologist whose name I did not catch coined the term. On a talk show, she said, "It refers to the fact that folks under fifty openly or subconsciously are certain that no one over fifty has anything worth saying." The tell-tale sign of agemism is that glazed over look in the eyes of pre-fiftians when an older person commences to speak. It's sad, but so true. And it hurts.

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

The Open House at the Rockcastle County Library was a great success. A large crowd came out to take part in the festivities. Dalarna Breetz and Cheryl Cole-Bennett from the Department for Libraries and Archives at Frankfort came to be with us. Dalarna is Director of Field Services and she talked to the group about library services and our library in general. She made many favorable comments about the changes that had been made in the library and she thought the Rockcastle County Library Board of Trustees were very deserving of the Kentucky Library Trustees Association's Outstanding Kentucky Library Award.

Our Regional Librarian, David Wilder, made a brief talk concerning the many changes that have been made in library services in the last few years.

I, along with the other staff members and the trustees, want to thank everyone for coming out and making this a wonderful evening. To know that people appreciate what we have accomplished and what we will continue to do, makes us all feel like our work is worthwhile.

Also, several of the participating artists were on hand to tell about their work and experiences and we also want to thank them for making the Local Art Show a great success. There were sixteen exhibitors and their work consisted of paintings, drawings, needlecraft, weaving, ceramics, carvings, handmade dolls and decorative gourds in three different styles of art work.

Those of you who were not able to come in and see the outstanding talent that these artists have missed a great show.

We hope to have an even bigger and better show next year.

I am planning to have some of the artists do a personal exhibition of their work in the future. I would like to have an exhibit on display all the time. If you are interested, please contact me and we will discuss the possibility of an exhibit and make arrangements for this.

I want to personally thank everyone who contributed to the fund to help me stay out of jail. The bail money was raised but I would have like to have more to help out The American Heart Association. This is a very worthy cause and I like I said, if this will help one person to avoid a fatal heart attack, I will feel have helped the cause. Several new books are now available for checking out and there are several free books for our patrons to take home.

Rockcastle County's Most Wanted

Rockcastle County residents are preparing to appeal to the Cardiac Arrest Parole Board and Judge Carlotis for leniency in their cases of crime against the heart. The American Heart Association's Cardiac Arrest event will be held on June 5th, with over 80 citizens scheduled to appear before Judge Carlotis and the parole board.

Buzz Carlotis, County Judge Executive and Cardiac Arrest Judge, said, "This is a fun event and I am glad to be able to help the American Heart Association in our area. Heart disease affects all of us, either directly or by touching the lives of our loved ones. We need to rally behind the effort to fight heart disease by helping to raise money for the American Heart Association."

Cardiac Arrest parole board member, Joyce Machal, of the Bank of Mt. Vernon, says the Cardiac Arrest is unique because it combines fund-raising and fun into one event. Machal continued to say, "A group of very important citizens will be charged at the Cardiac Arrest for 'Crimes of the Heart.' In order to be cleared, the 'Arrestees' will post 'Bail.' The purpose of this event is to raise donations and public awareness which will help the American Heart Association in its fight to reduce death and disability due to cardiovascular disease and stroke."

According to Remona Edenfield, director of the American Heart Association, Southeast Region, research is an important commitment of the American Heart Association. Nearly a third of every dollar donated to the American Heart Association in Kentucky goes to fund lifesaving research at the University of Louisville and the University of Kentucky. This year 28 research projects are being funded for a total of $525,000.

Members of the parole board hope to reach a goal of $7,000 to help support AHA research in Kentucky, along with education and community service programs in our local area.

The jailbirds are not actually arrested, instead they come to the event on their lunchbreak. The arrestees will turn in their bail money, enjoy a heart healthy lunch, have their mug shot taken and appear before Judge Carlotis for sentencing. A full docket is prepared.

The event is scheduled for Thursday, June 5, at the First Christian Church, on West Main Street, in Mt. Vernon. Arrestees may come any time between 11:30 and 1:30 and they may take their lunch out if they would like.

Judge Carlotis said, "Leniency will not be given to any of their arrestees. These are serious crimes that warrant serious fines."

"Heresay"

Keep taking a plethora of pills, that hope of great sex in the golden years will wane away. An imperable three-points-of-trouble spine and arthritis do not bode well. And unless anti-depressant research makes a quantum leap, I'll likely spend some time in what John Bunyan in his Pilgrim's Progress called "The Slough of Despond."

I've spent quite a bit of time cogitating about the coming decade. It's possible I will round up a gun or two and go after somebody if some computers somewhere cannot deal with the number 2000, causing them to reckon I don't exist, therefore not sending out some checks that I dearly need. Anybody want to join me?

Now, dear hearts, I know that I cannot continually take the pain relievers that presently help me. There is the possibility of addiction and dangerous side affects. Epidurals can cause systemic problems. Hot tubs help only for a while. What I must do is find a way to transcend pain. In other words, I won't be free of it, but neither will it be my master. Some have done just that. Why cannot I? Beloved, I'm not complaining, I'm looking forward - anticipating, yearning . . .

And then there is always the hope that the Great Physician will touch me. As with many, however, He might not take the burden away, choosing instead to strengthen the bearer. I'd be pleased with either.

Some lines from the British poet, Matthew Arnold, express to a great degree the attitude I have about tomorrow, a realistic attitude I think. And I have italicized a line that has a formula for us all, whether living at ease, suffering, or dying. Here is what Arnold wrote in Dover Beach:

The sea is calm tonight,
The tide is full, the moon lies fair
Upon the straits; on the French coast
The light gleams and is gone; the cliffs of England stand, Glimmering and vast, out in the tranquil bay.
Come to the window, sweet is the night air!

Only, from the long line of spray
Where the sea meets the moon-blanch'd land,
Listen! You hear the grating roar
Of pebbles which the waves
Drew back and flung,
At their return, up the high strand,
Begin, and cease, and then again begin,
And then again cease,
With tremulous cadence slow, and bring
The eternal note of sadness in.

Sophocles long ago
Heard it to the Aegean, and it brought
Into his mind the turbid ebb and flow
Of human misery; we
Find also in the sound a thought,

The Mt. Vernon Signal
Thursday, June 5, 1997 P-A3

Hearing it by this distant northern sea.

The Sea of Faith

Was once, too, at the full, and round earth's shore
Lay like the folds of a bright girdle furled.

But now I only hear
Its melancholy, long, withdrawing roar,
Retreating, to the breath
Of the night wind, down the vast edges drear
And naked shingles of the world.

And I have said to myself,
Ah, love, let us be true
To one another! For the world, which seems
To lie before us like a land of dreams,
So various, so beautiful, so new,
Hath really neither joy, nor love,
nor light,
Nor certitude, nor peace, nor help
for pain;

And we are here
as on a darkling plain Swept with confused alarms of struggle and flight,
Where ignorant armies
Clash by night.

Those lines, beloved, were written over a hundred years ago, but, oh my soul, how contemporary they are!

Read Dover Beach again.

Girls 800m relay earns first place ever in state competition Rover Rockcastle County track team members qualify for state championships

Rockcastle's varsity track teams competed in regional competition on May 23 and 24 at Cumberland College. In running events, the top eight competitors would qualify for the finals on Saturday. Field events held preliminary and final rounds on the same day. Those individuals or relay teams placing in the top two in each event would qualify for the state championships.

The boys team had an excellent meet, scoring 39 points and finishing in fifth place. The highlight of the boys competition was their qualification for the state championships in three events. Sophomore Jeremy Saylor made it to the finals of the triple jump. He qualified for state by placing second and also broke his own personal record. Jeremy was even more awesome in the long jump as he placed first, winning the regional title. The boys 400m relay team ran very well and qualified for state with a second place finish. The team consisted of sophomores Jon Burdette, Jeremy Saylor, Michael Parsons and Andy Hale and junior Cliff MacKovchik. This was a great accomplishment for the relay team, which lost two of last year's key members. The feat was also notable because last year's team, easily on their way to state, was disqualified for missing an exchange zone. Several other boys also did well in regional competition. Michael Parsons qualified for the finals in the 100m dash. Michael ran well and finished in sixth place. Sophomore Nathaniel Bullock ran very well in the 300m low hurdles and made it to the finals. Nathaniel ran an excellent race and narrowly missed going to state with a third place finish. The boys 3200m relay team finished in fourth place. The team consisted of freshman Stewart Abney, eighth graders Thomas Coffey and Josh Lyons, and sophomore Jeffrey Linnville.

The girls team also had a tremendous effort in regional competition scoring 71 points and finishing in fourth place. They were very close to state, but they were not quite a favorite to win the region next year, despite their youth. The girls also qualified for the state competitions in three events, and missed qualifying in five other events by only one place. Junior Heather Burton and sophomore Jena Davidson qualified for the shot put finals. They both threw very well, with Heather taking third place and Jena finishing fourth. 8th grader Jennifer Carmack qualified for the long jump finals. Jennifer jumped well and finished in sixth place. Eighth grader Theresa Chislum qualified for the finals in the 300m low hurdles. Both girls ran excellent races with Theresa finishing in sixth place. Senior Bethanie Hammond ran well in the 3200m run and finished in sixth place. Jena Davidson made it to the finals of the discus where she finished in third place and broke her own school record by over three feet. Jena barely missed qualifying for state competition in a year in which knee surgery nearly ended her season. Jena came back more determined and has continued to improve on her status as the best female discus thrower the school has ever had. Eighth grader Cheyenne Carmack ran the very tough triple, which includes the 100m, 200m, and 400m dashes. She holds the high school and middle school records in the 100m and 200m dashes, and is closing in on the record in the 400m dash. In the 100m dash, Cheyenne qualified in fifth place. In the 200m dash, Cheyenne made it to the finals, where she ran a great race and placed fourth. Cheyenne ran a personal best time in the 400m dash preliminaries and qualified for the finals. In the finals, Cheyenne again set a personal record and narrowly missed qualifying for state with a third place finish. Freshman Jessica Cobb had a great meet. In the 100m dash, Jessica ran her best time of the year, and qualified for the finals. In the finals, Jessica ran extremely well and qualified for state with a second place finish. In the 200m dash, Jessica made it to the finals where she ran a very good race, and finished in third place, missing state qualification by only a hundredth of a second. The girls relay teams also had a good showing. The 1600m relay team ran one of their best races of the season. They finished third in a very close, hard-fought race. The team consists of Theresa Chislum, Brandy Reynolds, Rachelle Hammond and Jennifer Carmack. The 3200m relay team ran an excellent race and finished in sixth place. The team includes freshman Brandy Reynolds, seniors Jessica Albright and Bethanie Hammond, and sixth grader Amy Barnett. The girls 400m relay team ran exceptionally well and qualified for state with a second place finish. The team consists of Mindy Bullock, Rachelle Hammond, Jennifer Carmack, Jessica Cobb, Cheyenne Carmack and Brandy Reynolds. The girls 800m relay team was unbelievable as they finished in second place in a very close race with Taylor County. This was the second straight year that the team had qualified for the state championships. The team has a slightly different look this year as two seniors were lost and replaced by eighth graders. Their second place finish came in a school record time, breaking their own record set earlier this season. Team members include Jon Burdette, Cliff MacKovchik, Michael Parsons, and Jeremy Saylor. The girls 400m relay team, despite its youth, ran a very competitive race against some great competition. The team ran one of its best times of the season as they improved upon their state qualifying time by over a second. The team consists of Cheyenne Carmack, Mindy Bullock, Brandy Reynolds, Jessica Cobb, Jennifer Carmack and Rachelle Hammond. The girls 800m relay sought to make the finals and earn Rockcastle its first point ever in the state championship competition. The competition was tough and Rockcastle's youth was apparent as the teams lined up and prepared to run. The girls ran an excellent race and easily finished among the top four teams in their heart, qualifying them for the finals on Saturday for the first time in school history. Team members included Cheyenne Carmack, Jennifer Carmack, Rachelle Hammond, Jessica Cobb, Brandy Reynolds and Mindy Bullock.

On Saturday, weather was the key concern as heavy rain made the track surface slippery and difficult to run on. Jeremy Saylor competed in the long jump competition, which became very difficult due to the condition of the sand pit and the runway. Jeremy still performed very well and had a great series of jumps, nearly qualifying for the finals. The last item on Rockcastle's agenda for the day was the 800m relay team and their bid for a state championship. Although track conditions were unfavorable, the girls ran an excellent race. They were in first place for the first portion of the race and remained among the top four teams nearly halfway through. Cheyenne Carmack got off to a great start and set the tone early. Jennifer Carmack and Rachelle Hammond, both ran excellent races in the middle of the relay, and Jessica Cobb ran a great final leg of the race. The girls finished in eighth place and earned a spot on the medal stand as they took their place among the best in the state. All four girls received very nice state medals for their tremendous effort. They also scored the first point ever in state competition.

The team was the youngest in the competition and should have several more chances at a state title in the years to come.

Congratulations to all those who qualified for state competition. The coaches and parents are very proud of your accomplishments, and of the hard work and determination that the team has shown this year. Rockcastle track continues to improve and make great strides toward a very bright future. Both boys and girls teams are abundant with youth and show a great deal of promise for many exciting seasons to come.

The coaches would like to thank all those who helped to make this track season a successful one including the parents of the athletes, local businesses, those who helped with the meets, and most importantly, the athletes themselves. A special thanks to Kacey Taulbee, Rachel Ott and Megan Berryman for their invaluable assistance with stats throughout the year. Thanks once again.

Bluegrass State Games entry booklets available at Mt. Vernon Signal

The Bluegrass State Games is a statewide, Olympic-style sports festival featuring 27 sports with age and ability levels for all Kentuckians. In 1996, nearly 20,000 athletes representing 116 counties participated in the Games. Cheyenne Carmack competes in the 400m run at the regional competition at Cumberland College.

Jessica Cobb ran the final leg of the 800 m relay at the state championships at U.K. The relay team finished eighth and earned the first point in state competition for a track team from Rockcastle. Cobb competed in three events.

Jessica Cobb, Rachelle Hammond, Jennifer Carmack and Cheyenne Carmack won the "weather" state championships last weekend at the University of Kentucky.

Jeremy Saylor competed in the triple jump and the 400m relay.

Greg Harper was selected as the MVP for the RCM's vs. Clay Co. game on May 19th. Greg pitched the fifth and sixth innings of the game with four strikeouts and two pop-ups which were caught for a two inning shut out. Greg was also a 9 for 11 at the plate. He is the son of Everett and Debbie Harper of Brodhead. Coach Coffey would like to thank the players and parents for their support and dedication this season. Pictures may be picked up at the middle school and uniforms may be dropped off there as well. If you have any questions please call 256-5118.

Mt. Vernon native receives UK Pharmacy degree

Kimberly Jo Richards, of Mt. Vernon, was awarded a doctor of pharmacy degree from the University of Kentucky this month. The University's commencement program was held at 10 a.m. on May 10 at UK's Memorial Coliseum. Keynote speaker for the ceremony was Gerald Baliles, former Virginia governor and attorney general.

In addition, the UK College of Pharmacy honored members of its 127th graduating class at a special recognition ceremony and reception from 7 to 9 p.m. on May 9 at the UK Singletary Center for the Arts. This spring, a total of 37 pharmacy students received bachelor of science degrees from the UK College of Pharmacy, and another 85 received doctor of pharmacy degrees.

During the College of Pharmacy's commencement program, Richards was presented with the Outstanding Graduating Woman Award.

Long recognized for excellence in education, research and patient care, this year for the second time the UK College of Pharmacy was ranked third in the nation by U.S. News & World Report. The college also was ranked third in the nation by U.S. News in 1993. U.S. News rankings are based on surveys sent to deans, faculty and administrators of accredited graduate programs. Only schools of pharmacy offering the doctor of pharmacy degree are surveyed.

Lawhorn named All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Rebecca Marlene Lawhorn from Mt. Vernon has been named an All-American Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

Rebecca, who attends Rockcastle County High School, was nominated for this national award by Iris Young. Rebecca will appear in the All-American Scholar Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Scholar Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy.

"The Academy selects All-American Scholars upon the exclusive recommendation by teachers, coaches, counselors and other qualified sponsors. Once awarded, the students may be recognized by the USAA for other honors.

Rebecca is the daughter of Lillie Lawhorn from Mt. Vernon. Her grandparents are Henry and Marie McCracken of Orlando.

Local kids invited to attend fishing derby June 7th

Local kids will have a chance to celebrate National Fishing Week and take home a nice stringer of rainbow trout at the All American Kids Fishing Derby on Saturday, June 7th. The Berea Ranger District of the Daniel Boone National Forest, along with local and national sponsors, invites young anglers age 5 to 16 to test their fishing skills and win valuable prizes at the annual Kid's Fishing Derby from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the Turkey Foot Recreation Area, Berea Ranger District.

patient care because it has laboratory facilities housed right there on site, and, if necessary, the hospital is just across the street. It is a wonderful situation for everyone."

Other physicians who will be using the building include Drs. Stern, McElwain, Graham, Cornelius and Hamilton.

The building, designed by Arch II, a Lexington-based architectural firm, was planned with growth in mind.

The basement and first floor will house physician suites, a medical laboratory and a medical records area, a waiting area, additional office and work spaces. Once these offices are completely filled, the second floor will be opened up to create additional space.

Kenne credits the community for its contributions to the building.

"This truly was a community effort -- from the groundbreaking to the development, to dedication ceremony, this community has really come together to make this medical arts building a reality," said Keene. "Whether it was the local bankers who helped set up the financing or the local preacher who helped with the dedication, this facility was built by the people of this community."

Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center is one of the county's largest, private employers, with more than 340 employees and an annual payroll of more than $9 million.

Several offices are already open in the new building, which is located directly across from Rockcastle Hospital.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the campground. Fishing will begin at 9:00 a.m. All kids must register prior to fishing and be accompanied by a parent or guardian. Warfork Creek in the Turkey Foot area will be closed to all public fishing from 1:00 p.m. on Friday, June 6th until noon June 7th except for registered participants at the Derby.

All entrants must bring their own fishing equipment and bait (live or artificial). Entrants' prizes will be presented in a variety of different class; biggest fish (which will be eligible for the state-wide contest), smallest fish and heaviest stringer of fish caught, there is no entry fee.

The Daniel Boone National Forest has a strong commitment to America's youth and is proud to celebrate National Fishing Week by sponsoring an enjoyable day of fishing for you and your kids. Many local sponsors are also committed to making this day a success. The Berea Ranger District contains around 120 miles of streams available to anglers on a year-round basis. For further information contact the Berea Ranger District office at 986-8431.

Local "Seniors" invited to attend fishing festival June 7th

Area senior citizens, 65 years of age and older, are invited to enjoy a day of trout fishing sponsored by the Berea Ranger District, Daniel Boone National Forest. The local "Seniors All-American Fishing Festival" will be held on June 7th from 8:30 a.m. to noon at the Turkey Foot Recreation Area Association, a venue of over 500 acres held nationwide during the summer of 1995. Entrants must bring their own fishing equipment and bait (live or artificial). Prizes will be awarded for largest and smallest fish caught. Local winners will qualify for consideration at the national level.

The Daniel Boone National Forest has a strong commitment to the seniors of the area and is proud to celebrate National Fishing Week by sponsoring this event along with many local sponsors. The Berea Ranger District contains about 120 miles of streams available to anglers on a year-round basis. For further information contact the Berea Ranger District at 986-8431.

Maretburg Cemetery meeting

Maretburg Cemetery Trust Committee with Col Hopkins, Lloyd Cash, James O. Hamon, and Ben French met Monday, May 26th and made a decision to chip gravel the road starting at front entrance and exiting at lower gates. Vote was unanimous. Plans were also made to blacktop front entrance this summer and the rest in the future. Money in the perpetual fund cannot be touched and there is not enough in the checking account. Any donations would be appreciated. Anyone desiring to donate please contact one of the committee members.

Middleton promoted

Clinton R. Middleton has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of private first class. Middleton is a mental health technician with the 47th Field Hospital at Fort Sill, Lawton, Oklahoma. He is the son of Phyllis J. Bradley of Crab Orchard. The soldier is a 1992 graduate of Lincoln County High School.

to the market. Many children also like to come to the market with their parents because they could pick and choose produce.

Farmers who participated last year found the market to be an excellent way to sell products while meeting customers face-to-face. Not only is a source of extra income, but many farmers grow gardens that produce more than they can consume themselves. So surplus produce can be sold to others. "We were very proud of selling our produce at the Farmers' Market," commented Vicki.

LEAP, a non-profit community grass roots organization, is proud to be supporting the market in its second year. The Farmers' Market like other LEAP projects, encouraging a locally based economy which involves people of all income levels, specifically to improve the well-being of residents of Rockcastle County. A local market strengthens the local economy in several ways. By spending locally, money does not flow out of the local economy. That money in turn can be re-spent locally thereby sustaining other local enterprises. In economic terms, a greater multiplier effect occurs.

Anyone interested in selling locally grown produce at the Farmers' Market can do so by simply reserving a space with LEAP. Members pay no setup fee, non-members pay a seasonal $10 booth fee. A planning meeting is scheduled for June 8th, 7:00 p.m. at the LEAP building on Hwy. 25, six miles south of Mt. Vernon. All interested vendors are invited to attend. ate enough income to run an efficient jail," Carlolff said.

However in order to keep state and federal prisoners, the county jail must be in full compliance with state regulations. Carlolff said the jail has not been in full compliance since 1983 when the state placed much stricter guidelines on county jails.

Carlolff said the county would lease the needed funds for the construction from the Kentucky Association of Counties, with an interest rate of about four percent.

However, even with a 60 bed facility that could generate $380,000 a year in income, the fiscal court will more than likely have to pay the debt service on the jail out of the general fund.

Woodrum told the court that in his opinion the jail would not generate enough money; somewhere between $50-$60,000 a year that would be needed to pay the debt service. "That's sure a lot better than $250,000 said magistrate Amos Burdette.

Judge Carlolff pointed out that the general fund would not be able to pay the debt service, if the court had not passed the tax on insurance premiums.

Woodrum told the court he would be ready to award bids on the project by September 1 with construction to begin by October 15.

"I'm a family entertainer. I've been successful doing that and God has always blessed me." This man from Yazoo City, Mississippi, is indeed one of the true masters of country comedy.

He has been an MCA recording artist longer than any other performer, with a total of 25 albums. He has published four books and is the only non-musical member of The Grand Ole Opry.

Clower never intended to make his living as a comedian, but his stories of life in the rural South entertained people no matter where he went or what he did.

A fertilizer salesman by trade, Clower would attend conferences where he would try to sell his product. In 1974, at a conference in Lubbock, Texas there was a farm director out in the audience" remembers Clower. "He said, the stories you tell are funny. Why don't you make a record?" I said, "You're crazy. I'm not going to make a record." The next time he heard me, he taped me and pitched it to MCA records. The folks from the record company flew to Yazoo City and 30 days later, I had an album that was No. 5 on the Billboard chart world-wide.

Clower will perform at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m. in Renfro Valley's New Barn Theater on Saturday. For tickets call 1-800-765-7464 or 606-256-2638.

set, according to Mills who said that plans are ready, some overly ready, to set at least fifty percent more of the crop. Rockcastle County farmers can grow around five million pounds of tobacco this season, but Mills said that will not be the case. "They will be short again this year," he said.

"Farmers will be setting tobacco the entire month of June, let's just hope there's not an early Fall," Mills said.

Mills said farmers should be on the look out for Blue Mold because conditions are perfect. (For more information on Blue Mold see page B7)

FFA holds annual banquet

By Jeremy Reynolds, Chapter Reporter

On Thursday, May 15th, 1997, our Rockcastle County FFA Chapter held its annual banquet presenting high-achievers in the FFA with various awards and honors. Over 140 people were present to witness and participate in our chapter banquet among those, over 50 of them were Rockcastle Chapter members. The evening began with a meal and proceeded into the awards program where many individuals were presented with awards, those ranging from Proficiency awards to Speaking awards. Although all were special and great achievements by our members, undoubtedly, one of the highlights of our program was the Special awards. These award recipients were specially chosen by our Chapter Advisors and Agriculture teachers here at the high school, Mr. Jeff Hayes and Mr. Roy Reynolds, and were individually honored for their outstanding achievements in the FFA.

Our first special award was presented to Matt Ford for Outstanding Committee Chairman. Travis Wynn was presented with the Outstanding Assistant Officer Award, while the Star Greenhand Award went to Jeremy Reynolds. The recipient of the Star Chapter Farmer Award was LeAnn Sigmon, our Chapter Reporter for the past school year. The Star Agribusinessman Award went to J.C. Harris. Our Chapter FFA President for the past year, Jon Adams, received the Dekalb Award, as well as the Outstanding Office Award. Matt Chaliff, our Chapter Vice President, as well as the Kentucky River Region President for the past year received both the Outstanding Leader Award, as well as the 110% Award. We would like to congratulate all of our award winners and commend them on all their hard work and dedication to our chapter.

The parents of our three Senior Retiring Officers, (Randall and Thelma Adams, parents of Jon Adams; John and Pam Chaliff, parents of Matt Chaliff; and Nancy Sigmon, mother of LeAnn Sigmon), as well as our county Extension Agent, Mr. John McQueary, and our High School Assistant Principal, Mrs. Connie Hamm, received an Honorary Membership Degree from our chapter.

We also installed our Chapter Officers for the 1997-98 school year. Our officers will be: William Leger, President; Travis Wynn, Vice President; Amanda Clark, Secretary; Eric Helton, Treasurer; Jeremy Reynolds, Reporter and Charles Leger, Sentinel.

We are also pleased to announce that Jon Adams will be serving as the Ky. River Region President for the coming year.

Our Chapter President for the coming year, William Leger, received a full grant from the Kentucky State FFA Alumni to attend the Washington Leadership Conference. Of over 14,000 FFA members across the state of Kentucky, William was the only individual who received a full grant. William will be representing our Rockcastle FFA Chapter at Washington along with thousands of fellow members from across the country.

Jon Adams also received a grant from the Eastern Kentucky University Agriculture Department on the night of the banquet.

Our Rockcastle Alumni Chapter presented Matt Chaliff with a one hundred dollar grant towards his college education.

Our Rockcastle County FFA Chapter would also like to extend our thanks to all of the sponsors and individuals who have supported us this year, for without them, much of our endeavors would be impossible.

Curtis Cotton, son of Darlene Cotton of Mt. Vernon, recently completed a ten-week Leadership Seminar at Cumberland College. He was presented with a certificate by Dr. Michael Colegrove, Vice-President for Student Affairs, for successfully completing the class. The seminar is provided as part of a four-year leadership project required of all students at Cumberland, designed to assist student leaders to a better understanding of how leadership is effectively exercised.

Congratulations to Charles Troy and Jacki Burdette Johnson on their graduation from New Testament Christian Bible College in Graham, Washington.

We love you. All your family

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I was impressed with Bev Rockwell's letter in opposition to the Middle School's policy of using corporal punishment. She said what I wanted to say but didn't think I would do any good. I assumed everyone in our county agreed with the decision passed by the middle school SBDM. However, I now realize, that it is through our failure to speak out and take action that allows policies as archaic as the one adopted at the middle school.

Hitting adolescents is not the answer to the discipline problem at the middle school. It is merely a desperate attempt to apply a quick fix to a complex problem. I don't think our children are any worse than children anywhere else, yet I have visited many schools that have discipline programs in effect which are working without the use of spanking. I recently was an artist-in-residence at a middle school very similar to yours in size and population. The students were very well behaved and engaged in academic pursuits. I asked a teacher what was the secret for their success. She replied, "The teachers and administration work together as a team and we have high expectations for our students. We also enjoy our work and truly care for the kids." Corporal punishment had not been used in the school since she began teaching, which was 26 years ago. Nor was it used as a threat to "keep kids in line." She was appalled that our community had used spanking as a means of discipline as long as it had. "We are no longer teaching majority, live lives unimaginable for us. School may be the only safe place they can count on."

A few years ago a teacher in one of our county elementary schools said to me about an angry, disobedient 6 year old boy: "He needs to be shut up in a room with a bunch more kids just like him and left there until they all kill each other." The teacher did not know, or maybe did not care, that they boy had been abandoned by his mother, did not know who his father was, was living with his elderly grandmother and had been sodomized by his uncle. I surely wonder the child was angry and disobedient.

Today's schools are filled with children who have been scarred with hit, abused, and abandoned. They are truly a lost generation in desperate need of a genuine loving, nourishing environment. But that's not the school's problem is it? Well, thank God we still have some caring teachers in our county who are willing to try and reach these children through love and understanding, and who will not resort to sending a child out to be hit by a so called "designated authority."

Our schools can not be expected to solve society's degenerative attitude toward youth, however, they don't have to add to the misery. The future does not have to be hopeless for our children - not if we as a community unite together in a life saving effort. We can begin today by getting down on our knees and interceding to our loving Father in heaven and behalf to these children and their families. Then we need to follow up with actions demonstrating Christian charity. We should be willing to express a loving concern for our children as Bev Rockwell has so eloquently done in her letter.

Sincerely,
Beverly Carter-Sexton
Orlando, KY

Dear Editor,

I would like to respond to the letters of Bev Rockwell and Dan McKibben on corporal punishment of children.

To those who would get their advice on corporal punishment from the Holy Bible and the wisdom of Solomon in Proverbs, I would suggest (as Solomon would suggest) that they also consult other books on the history of the human race in order to add to their wisdom.

I am sure Mr. McKibben would not want to be responsible for the injury of any child, however, I think we are all well aware of the mistakes mankind has made when given too much power over those weaker of less able to express their pain. I think we all know that this power has been abused in our past. We need only look in any national newspaper on any given day to see evidence of the types of abusive power that adults have over children.

Sorry, Mr. McKibben, I have to side with Bev Rockwell on this one—we should be logical and loving enough to realize that when a child is hit it doesn't need less of our patience, it needs MORE patience, and understanding, and yes, it needs explanations, guidelines, rules and directions, in other words, "DISCIPLINE". We've tried raising children the hard way, (Solomon's way), look where it got us, prisons full of angry "children".

Laws protecting children are necessary. We all know the old saying, "Give them an inch and they'll take a mile." There are people having children, or had children, that shouldn't be allowed to buy a dog license. While that may sound like I favor government infringement on the family, consider this, children raised by animals aren't part of a family as we know it. They are part of an evil, secretive world in which you have no voice. And now you want to add corporal punishment to their existing pain. Besides, Mr. McKibben, I thought, "Jesus loved the little children."

Read, 1 John 4:18 and 4:19. We (adults) are referred to as "children" or "little children" in more than just a few passages of the Bible. If God loves us as though we are "children", and God is love, God's love is a perfect love, love is not fear, and he wanted us to love each other, why would he give us permission to hurt our own children? He knows us better than anyone, remember? He knows our weaknesses. Makes no sense to me.

And, if you believe in the teachings of Solomon in Proverbs, as does Mr. McKibben, then you must also believe that "wisdom is a woman" (PR. 1:20 thru 1:33). Ms. Rockwell was seeking wisdom, just as Solomon said she should do—look it up. Ms. Rockwell was "thinking" and examining an issue to which she reached an intelligent, wise, conclusion in her own mind. As long as she sought that wisdom and gives credit to God, she's done no wrong according to John and Solomon. Also read Proverbs 3:13 thru 4:9.

I seriously doubt when Solomon spoke his "words of wisdom" that he could have imagined all the ways in which mankind has found to mutilate, abuse, torment, torture, and strip away the spirit of a child. I'm sure he never envisioned parents setting fire to their children, burning them with cigarettes, choking or shaking them to death, because they thought (thanks to the wisdom of Solomon?) that child was given to them by God with their own piece.

I am very happy for Mr. McKibben who seems so sour off for the invasion of his soul at the hands of another. I think that he was very lucky to have gone through life without low self-esteem, lack of confidence, alienation from expressions of love, lack of trust in his family. You see, we damage more than the surface when we deliberately try to hurt a child. Some children grow up and see it as a deliberate attempt to hurt, and we all know the rest of the story. You have no way of knowing how that punishment is going to be perceived in later years, after the damage is done.

And before I end this letter, Proverbs 18:6 states, "A fool's lips bring strife and his mouth invites a flogging." Does that mean what I think it means? Where do we go to get our floggings?

Respectfully,
Abigail Andersen
Mt. Vernon, KY

Dear Editor,

We recently spent four nights (April 17-20) in the wonderful state of Kentucky, with three of them staying in our motor home at the Renfro Valley RV Park. We hadn't been to Renfro Valley in nearly ten years (only passing in many times on I-75 in the meantime) and were pleasantly surprised at all the changes which have occurred since we last visited Renfro Valley. We took in the Friday Night Barn Dance and Jamboree, Saturday afternoon bluegrass show, Patty Loveless concert Saturday night and the Sunday morning gathering. We enjoyed every bit of the entertainment, especially hearing Susan Tomes' sweet voice again and the familiar voice of Jim Gaskin. Patty Loveless will be in our area next month, but since she was appearing there, we decided it was a good "excuse" to come camping and see how Renfro Valley has changed. Everyone at the Renfro Valley complex was so hospitable. On Saturday morning, we had a delicious breakfast at the Renfro Valley Lodge Restaurant waited on by a super-friendly waitress. We shopped your Renfro Valley shops and walked down to the local Dairy Queen. We took a long peaceful walk down the paved road which runs behind the campground. To sum it up, we sure enjoyed ourselves.

However, we do want to make you all aware of the one unpleasantish on our trip occurred on Saturday when we went into Mt. Vernon. We took our motor home into Mt. Vernon and filled up with gas there, bought groceries there, and went to the Catholic church there. Because of the residential location of Our Lady of Mt. Vernon and because of our 22' motor home, we parked in the Mt. Vernon Elementary School parking lot. Because we had errands to do and because we weren't sure of the church's location, we ended up parking in the school parking lot early for the 5:00 p.m. Mass. Imagine our surprise when we returned to our vehicle after Mass and found an envelope stuck in the driver's window with a terse message inside from Principal Robinson and Brown. It told us we were parked on school property without permission and our vehicle would be towed if not moved within the next six hours. When we got back to the campground and went to use the rear access door, there was another envelope stuck in it with the same message enclosed. Obviously, someone wanted to make sure we got the message.

We got the message alright, but we resented finding this letter very much and these were our immediate thoughts:

- 1- If the parking lot was off limits, we certainly saw no signs to that effect. Perhaps it would be wise to consider installing a sign or two. If you have had previous problems with unwanted vehicles in the parking lot, all the more reason to have it posted.
- 2- We left our money at one of Mt. Vernon's grocery stores, one of your gas stations and one of your churches and this is what you think of us as, unwanted vehicles in the parking lot.
- 3- We are astonished that a public school principal doesn't have anything better to do than a Saturday afternoon to monitor the school parking lot. The time of the message was 5 p.m., the time that Mass started. Is this the time the parking lot is patrolled?
- 4- The school principal knew we had a Michigan plate and from the time of day would have been able to guess we were probably a Mass. We know Catholics are a minority in this part of Kentucky, but is this how you treat them?
- 5- We harmed the parking lot in no way, not by our vehicle weight, not by littering, not by dumping anything. We only used one parking spot for a very brief period of time.

We have traveled the United States for years and have never encountered anything like this. Most people and communities are gracious to people in recreational vehicles. First and foremost, they like to see their tourist dollars, but secondly they realize parking an RV is not the same as "It is Written"

Today we want to study a few moments about the purpose of miracles in the New Testament. May we begin by affirming that there was a twofold purpose for miracles in the 1st century: to confirm the word and to reveal the word of God.

Miracles were divine "badges" given to God's messengers, notice in Mark 16:20 "And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen." Notice again in Acts 14:8 "Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the town, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands." Notice also in Hebrews 2:3 "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him: God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?" Consider also ICor. 12:12, Ac 2:22, 4:3, John 3:2. How would one know that these men who spoke this "new" message was from God, back in the 1st century? Miracles were signs to confirm the message as truth from God.

How would folks know the mind of God before the New Testament was recorded? God's truth was miraculously revealed by inspiration. It was given by verbal inspiration in gifts like prophecy, word of knowledge, tongues, and the interpretation of tongues, ICor. 12:14. Then it was recorded in the Holy Scriptures by inspiration. When the perfect or complete revelation of the will of God was given, the need and purpose of miracles was ended. Miracles were not performed to merely accommodate the needs of men, but to fulfill the divine purpose. That purpose was accomplished, and thus miracles DO NOT HAPPEN TODAY!

Brindle Ridge Fire Department gets honors

The Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department was recently chosen as the Most Improved Fire Dept. in Eastern Kentucky and one of their firefighters, Irene Hale, was named "Rookie Firefighter of the Year, 1996." Besides Hale, the department also has another lady firefighter, Betty Burdette. "I'm very proud of these two ladies," said fire chief Ed Brock.

The department also went through an I.S.O. inspection in mid-May and received a Class 9 ranking. For anyone within a five-mile area of the department, this amounts to a savings for the community of 25 to 35% on their home and property insurance, Brock said.

Brodhead Volunteer Fire Dept. Chief Ed Brock, left and asst. chief Larry Mullins are shown with the plaque they received for "Most Improved Fire Dept., 1996." Brock said, "I'm very proud of our fire department. We have some very hard-working people. A special thanks to Larry Mullins and to our community for their support. We hope they will continue to help support us."

Brindle Ridge Fire Department holding fund raiser for insurance and fan

The Brindle Ridge Fire Department will be doing a fund raiser for the Fire Department to collect funds to pay insurance and buy a positive pressure fan for the Fire Department. The insurance is $3,200.00 yearly the fans is $1,375.00.

For each donation of $10.00 or more you will receive a $10.00 family picture, a $25.00 value. The pictures will be taken by appointment at the Fire Department located at Conway on these dates: June 27, 28 and 29, 1997.

Most home owners living within a five mile radius of the Fire Department will see a 30% or more savings on their insurance on homes and lots the first of August, 1997. We recently passed an I.S.O. inspection. We went from a class 10 to a class 9. We thank each of you for your support in the past and hope you will support us in the future.

Their are three people that will be authorized to collect for the pictures, Mr. Ron Mize, Mr. Conley Mize and Mr. Michael Watkins.

Thank you very much for your support. May God Bless and guide you.

Edward W. Brock, Chief, Brindle Ridge Fire Dept.

FSA-Ag Credit provides loans for Socially Disadvantaged persons

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) can make and guarantee loans to socially disadvantaged applicants to buy and operate family-size farms and ranches. Funds specifically for these loans are reserved each year.

A socially disadvantaged farmer and rancher is one of a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic, or gender prejudice because of their identity as member of the group without regard to their individual qualities. For purpose of this program, socially disadvantaged groups are women, African Americans, American Indians and Alaskan Natives, Hispanics and Asian and Pacific Islanders.

Direct loans are made to applicants by FSA and include both farm operating and farm ownership loans.

Guaranteed loans also may be made for ownership or operating purposes, and may be made by any lending institutions subject to Federal or State supervision (banks, savings and loans, insurance companies and units of Farm Credit System including Bank of Cooperatives) and guaranteed by FSA. Typically FSA guarantees 90 or 95 percent of a loan against any loss that might be incurred if the loan fails.

Farm ownership loan funds may be used to purchase or enlarge a farm or ranch, purchase easements or rights of way needed in the farm's operation, erect or improve buildings such as a dwelling or barn, promote soil and water conservation and development, and pay closing costs.

Farm operating loans funds may be used to purchase livestock, poultry, farm and home equipment, feed, seed, fuel, fertilizer, chemicals, haul and other crop insurance, fossil clothing, medical care, and hired labor. Funds also may be used to install or improve water systems for home use, livestock or irrigation, and other improvements.

To be eligible, an applicant must, among other requirements: have a satisfactory credit history; have education, training or experience in farm management; be a US citizen or legal resident; and be unable to obtain credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms; and possess the legal capacity to incur the obligations of the loan.

Applications and more information on this program may be obtained at the Rockcastle Farm Service Agency located 3 miles west of Mt. Vernon on Hwy. 150, just past Freedom School Road.

Agricultural News

By Warden Alexander, FSA Director

Crop reports will be taken now through July 15. Producers will be receiving postcards through the mail with a designated week for their certification. Producers who have crops planted prior to their scheduled week may come in earlier to do their reports, but all crops MUST BE PLANTED prior to filing your report. Producers are urged to call FSA at 256-2525 as soon as crops are planted to schedule a time at their convenience as soon as all crops are planted. Burely tobacco producers are advised to file a crop report, since this will serve as a record of farm production for disaster leasing and production history.

Youth who are involved in 4-H, FFA or other similar activities may be eligible to receive needed funding to develop income producing projects through FSA's Ag Credit program. Loans of up to $5000 are available to assist youth in financing the things which are necessary to establish their project. Loan repayments will be scheduled to coincide with the projects income schedule.

Warden Alexander, CED for Rockcastle Farm Service Agency announced May 27, 1997, that 143,150 acres in Kentucky have been accepted into the new Conservation Reserve Program. Secretary Glickman announced earlier that 16.1 million acres will be accepted nationally into CRP. In Kentucky, 4,921 farms made offers and 3,216 were accepted for 64 percent. Of the 212,807 acres offered, 67 percent were accepted. Nationally, the 16.1 million acres accepted into the CRP will result in an increase in the environmental benefits for every dollar spent. The average Environmental Benefits Index (EBI) of the bids accepted is 46 percent higher than the average enrolled presently in CRP. The environmental greater than those of the current CRP. This is due to a variety of factors, including producer willingness to adopt more environmentally beneficial vegetation. The CRP is a cost-effective, voluntary program in which individuals and the Federal Government cooperate to improve the environment. Landowners or operators establish long-term resource conserving practices on land that is highly erodible or otherwise environmentally sensitive. In exchange, they receive 10 to 15 years of annual rental payments as well as cost-share assistance in adapting and maintaining those practices. The program is administered by the USDA Commodity Credit Cooperation through FSA. FSA County Offices will begin notifying producers whether their offers were accepted during the week of May 27-30.

Producers are reminded that farms which do not have a history of leasing and/or growing their tobacco quota 2 out of 3 preceding years will result in a dropped quota. Farms in danger have been notified and should take action.

The following are some of the FSA deadlines that are coming up: Planting deadlines for FIC insured crops are May 31 for corn and June 30 for tobacco; Tobacco leasing deadline is July 1; Crop reporting and FCIC reinsured deadline is July 15.

Real People. Real Progress.

Extension Home Economics

Children and Saturday Morning Food Advertising

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

U.S. children are said to spend more time watching television than any other single activity except sleeping. By the time they are 70, today's children will have watched TV for a full seven years of their lives.

Television viewing has been examined as a possible factor in the development of obesity in children and adolescents. Overall, this seems to hold true at least to the extent that TV substitutes for other activities that would use more energy. However, while leaner children tend to watch less TV and participate more in community activities, which comes first? Do heavier children watch more TV or does watching more TV make children heavier -- or both?

In addition to engaging children in a passive use of their time, TV might contribute to the development of obesity through the influence of advertising on food behavior.

On ABC, CBS, NBC, Fox and Nickelodeon between 7:00 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on three different Saturdays in late 1991 and early 1992, on average, 19 commercials were aired per hour, 11 of which were for food. A child is exposed to one food ad every 5 minutes.

Of the commercials were for food:

- 43.6% (246) were for foods belonging to the fats, oils and sweets food group;
- breads, cereals, rice and pasta product commercials were next in frequency, accounting for 37.5% (Of these, 130 were for high-sugar cereals);

- fast-food restaurant ads followed, representing 10.8% of all commercials shown;

- milk, cheese and yogurt products followed as 4.0% of the total;

- frozen combination meals as 2.5%;

- finally, meat, poultry, fish, dry beans, eggs and nuts products as 1.6% of all commercials shown.

No food advertisements were for fruits or vegetables.

The advertisements are a concern for a number of reasons:

- 1) Most young children cannot distinguish between programs and commercials and do not understand the persuasive purpose of advertising.
- 2) The amount of time children spend viewing television directly correlates with the request, purchase, and consumption of foods advertised on television.
- 3) Foods that children requested most frequently because they had seen on television were the foods most frequently advertised on television.

For more information on Nutrition and Children, contact Hazel Jackson at the Extension Office at 256-2403.

Reducing Fat & Cholesterol

Dietary fat is either saturated or unsaturated. Saturated fats are found in animal products and whole milk dairy products and are solid at room temperature. Some vegetable products such as coconut oil, palm oil, cocoa butter found in chocolate and vegetable oils that have been hardened by hydrogenation are mostly saturated fats. Saturated fats are a dietary risk factor in developing heart disease and raise blood cholesterol. Unsaturated fats include monounsaturated and polyunsaturated fats. They are found in most vegetable oils and are liquid at room temperature. Oils high in polyunsaturated fats are safflower, sunflower, corn, soybean and cottonseed. Monounsaturated fats are predominant in olive, canola and peanut oil.

Blood or serum cholesterol is a wax-y fat-like substance that is produced by the liver or obtained by eating certain foods. Dietary cholesterol is found in foods of animal origin, especially meats, egg yolk and whole-milk dairy products.

Tips for Reducing Fat & Cholesterol:

- Choose lean cuts of meat, fish and poultry. Trim all visible fat, including the skin of poultry. Serve smaller portions (3-4 ounces).
- Avoid deep-fried foods or limit how often you eat them. If you must fry or sauté use a non-stick pan, a non-stick spray coating, or low-fat, low-sodium broth.
- Limit high fat meats such as hot dogs, salami, bologna, bacon and sausage. Many processed foods are also high in sodium.
- Prepare foods by baking, broiling, steaming or microwaving.

Farm News

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture
Bagworms are Hatching

Bagworm eggs have now hatched and the young larvae are at their most vulnerable stage for treatment. This caterpillar is a serious defoliator of many different kinds of landscape and nursery plants. Infestation and injury are especially severe on evergreens such as Juniper, arborvitae and blue spruce.

Bagworms overwinter as eggs within spindle-shaped bags made of silk and bits of plant material. Young larvae emerge and immediately begin feeding on the upper side of leaves, camouflaged within a tiny bag pointed upward. The bag is gradually enlarged as the larva grows. Older larvae strip evergreens of their needles and consume whole leaves of susceptible hardwood species, leaving only the larger veins.

Control. The best time to control bagworms is during the next few weeks, while the larvae are small. Carefully inspect trees and shrubs for last year's bags. Preventive treatment is justified on plants that were heavily infested with bagworms last year. Small bagworms may also disperse to previously uninfested plant material after becoming wind-borne on silk strands. Evergreens, in particular, should be routinely inspected through mid-July.

Overwintering eggs can be destroyed by hand-picking old bags during the winter or early spring. However, this window of opportunity has passed, and insecticides are now the only effective means of control. Products containing Bacillus thuringiensis (BT) work well (e.g. Dipel, Thuricide), as do Tempo, Orthene, Dursban and Sevin.

Blue Mold threat increasing rapidly

Although no Blue Mold has been reported in Kentucky, Blue Mold activity has increased significantly during the last several days in cultivated tobacco of southeastern U.S. This increased activity can serve as an airborne threat to Kentucky or be carried in on transplants from the South. Recent weather patterns are very similar to an event that moved Blue Mold spores in 2 years ago. A counter clockwise low pressure center, positioned over Kentucky, has been moving wind currents directly North out of Georgia and Florida. Kentucky has been experiencing nearly ideal conditions for Blue Mold to develop any where live spores are present on untreated tobacco.

What Should Farmers Do? In transplant production, use Acrobat MZ at 1-2 teaspoons per gallon water using 3 to 6 gallons per 1,000 square ft of beds and repeat at 5-day intervals. Consult special table for all details, available from dealers or the County Extension Office.

For field production, use Acrobat MZ at the rate of 2 1/2 pounds per 100 gallons. Use 20 gallons/acre the first time or up to 3 weeks old. Increase the volume by 20 gallons/acre till at 7 weeks the full rate of 100 gallons/acre would be used. Spray at 5-7 day intervals with a maximum of 4 sprays or 10 pounds per acre per season. DO NOT treat after topping. Again, consult the special label for all details or call the Extension Office at 256-2403.
