Dear Editor,
Dear Friend of Mareburg Cemetery for many years,
I received your letter the same day as my Signal. Since you would not sign your name, I must write one more time.
My family has been buried for many years at Mareburg Cemetery, not Berea. I have no interest in talking to the folks there, as you suggested.
My contributions to Mareburg Cemetery are to help the trustees keep up the great job they have done for years. It never entered my mind to claim it as an income tax deduction, as you seem to think that is what contributions are for. No one fed me a line of misinformation. I visited the cemetery twice in the last two weeks, and saw no damage done to graves or stones, just wasted gravel. As you said I made a grave error writing to the local paper: looks like now I've made two. At least I sign my name and address.

"It is Written"

In Acts 16:27-34 we read about the conversion of Philippian jailer. Let us study this case for a few moments today.
After the earthquake the jailer was about ready to kill himself vs 27. It was then that Paul said, "Do thyself no harm: for we are all here." vs 28. In vs 30 we read about the jailer bringing them out and asking that a great question, "Sir, what must I do to be saved?" Notice what they said, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house" vs 31. Now a lot of folks want to stop right there and close their Bibles, and say, "That's all you have to do to be saved. Just believe in Jesus, faith only." But that is not where the story ends. How would the jailer and his family know what to believe about Christ? How could they have known about death, burial and resurrection of Jesus from that statement of vs 31? Notice vs 32 "And they spoke unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house" vs 31. They had more to say in teaching them, than what is stated in vs 31. Let's continue in vs 33, "And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his household." Washing their stripes was a manifestation of the fruits of repentance in their lives. Take note that they were baptized the same hour of the night, (sometime after midnight vs 25, approximately 1-3 AM in the morning). How did they know about being baptized? They had "spoke unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house" vs 31. Why would they be baptized in the middle of the night? They wanted to be saved from their sin. Baptism is a condition of salvation that is to be preceded by true repentance. Mark 16:15-16 "And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Have you ever noticed how that in man made churches they want sometimes weeks to baptize people? It's because they deny the necessity of baptism in salvation 1! But the story concludes in vs 34, "And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his household." Yes saving faith moves one to obey all that God says to be saved. then one can rejoice in the Lord!

Customers will pay more to help fund water project

City of Mt. Vernon water customers will pay more for their water in the near future -- $2.26 more for the minimum charge for customers in the city limits. Customers outside the city limits will pay $3.00 more per month and wholesale customers will see .74 added to their bill for the first 1,000 gallons and .70 for each 1,000 gallons thereafter. The City Council approved the increases at Monday night's regular monthly meeting but it was a "have to" case. The city will receive a $750,000 grant and a $950,000 1 1/2% loan from the Rural Development Corp. (formerly Farmer's Home Administration) for their water project but, and this is where the "have to" came into play, Rural Development required the rate increase as a condition of the grant/loan to ensure that the city had adequate cash flow to repay the loan, according to Mt. Vernon Mayor Gary Cromer.

At the same time, the sewer charge, which is figured on the number of gallons of water used, will not increase. It will still be figured on the old water charge rate.

The city currently has 1,888 total water customers and 1,000 sewer users.

Connie Allen of Nesbitt Engineering presented the council with the figures and said that Rural Development was pleased with the city's performance as to bookkeeping, etc.

Ms. Allen was also the bearer of the good news that Rural Development officials would be in Mt. Vernon Thursday morning to present the city with the $750,000 grant and $950,000 loan which will be $1.7 million of the $4.5 million dollars needed for the line, plant and tank project.

The project includes renovation of the city's existing 75,000 gallon water tank and the construction of a new 500,000 gallon water tank near McDonald's on property owned by Clarence Carter.

The rest of the funding for the project comes from a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) in the amount of $401,014, and a bond issue for the remainder.

Ms. Allen did tell the council that Rural Development has said they have more 4 1/2% loan money available if the bond sale interest rate is higher than 4 1/2%. She emphasized that Rural Development couldn't loan the city the entire amount to be furnished by the bond sale but could provide some additional loan money to keep the amount the city will have to finance by the bond sale lower. This, of course, is all contingent on the interest rate for which the bonds sell.

In other business, Glenn Miller of the Tourism Commission, asked the city to approve the installation of ten street lights on U.S. 25 through Reno Valley (from the bridge to Hummel Road) by Jackson Energy Cooperative (formerly Jackson Co. R.E.C.C.)

Miller said the lighting was necessary for the safety of tourists crossing the road after dark. Miller presented the council with a proposal by Jackson Energy to install the ten lights for a charge of $1,533.60 per year or $12.78 per month, per light. On a motion by Councilwoman Karen King, the motion was approved.

The police report, presented to the council by Asst. Chief Eddie Delaney, showed the following activity for the month of June:

Citations issued, 43; total charges, 105; DUI arrests, 14; calls for service, 290; accidents, 19; other agency assists, 44; motorist assists, 11; criminal cases opened, 14 and Mt. Vernon fire runs, 13.

The Gift of Life...

State to resurface four county roads

Four roads in Rockcastle County will be blacktopped by the state during the first round of road construction and improvement projects for Kentucky's rural and secondary road program, according to a release from Gov. Paul Patton's office.

The four roads to be worked on will be 2.8 miles of Ky. 328, the Bee Lick - Quail Road, 1.8 miles of Ky. 1249, Sand Springs Road, 1.7 miles of county road 1365, the Brodhead-Chestnut Grove road and 2.3 miles of county road, 1258, the Poplar Grove road.

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlotus said that while the fiscal court was glad that the four roads would be worked on, the projects represent only a small fraction of the road mileage the fiscal turned into the state for resurfacing.

"The magistrates and I are pleased we are getting these roads paved at state expense, we are very unhappy the state failed to consider all of the other roads we submitted in each of the magisterial districts," Carlotus said.

"When former Governor Jones was in office, we got every single project we asked for - we were never turned down, and we got approximately $3 million in projects paid for by the state, which was far more than Rockcastle had received before Jones' administration and certainly more than we have received during Patton's administration," Carlotus said.

"To date, these road projects are the first monies to be spent by the Patton administration on county projects, which is very disappointing," Carlotus said.

"We have also turned in storm damage on county roads to the Patton administration and we have been told to make the repairs at our own expense," Carlotus said.

State approves jail plans

The Kentucky Department of Corrections has approved the Rockcastle County fiscal court's corrective action plan for the Rockcastle County jail.

State will suspend driver's license if insurance cancelled

Beginning August 1, Rockcastle residents who intentionally cancel or allow their insurance to lapse on their vehicles, may also find themselves without driver's license.

A new state regulation will try to force all Kentucky residents, who own and license a vehicle to keep insurance on the vehicle the entire year, according to Rockcastle County Deputy County Clerk Janet Burdine.

"Once insurance on a vehicle is canceled or lapses that person will get a notice from the state that they must provide our office (Norma Houk's) with proof of insurance or their driver's license will be suspended," Burdine said.

"Each year many vehicle owners will obtain insurance only long enough to get their license renewed on their vehicles and then they will cancel it and get their money back," Burdine said. "The state is trying to stop people from driving without insurance," she said.

Some vehicles that the insurance can be dropped on will include: seasonal vehicles, vehicles in inoperable condition, vehicles which are owned by people with restricted operator's license, vehicles on which the ownership has been transferred, vehicles that have been junked, vehicles which are owned by people who no longer live in Kentucky and vehicles which are sold to someone out of state.

"People will have to show proof if they don't want their license suspended," Burdine said.

RCHS council names two assistants

The Site Based Council at the Rockcastle County High School hired two administrative assistants during their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday.

Ruth Allen and Barry Noble, both teachers at RCHS, were hired to replace former assistant principals, Connie Hamm and James H. Cox.

Cox and Hamm retired at the end of this school year.

Allen and Noble were both hired as administrative assistants, because neither have their principal certification at this time, according to RCHS principal Ronnie Cash.

However Cash said that both Noble and Allen are being required to obtain proper certification.

The job descriptions were changed by the SBDM council after Cash said that no acceptable applications for the jobs were received by the council.

"I think both of these individuals will do a good job and because they are familiar with the school and the students it will be a much easier transition for them when school starts than it would have been for someone not familiar with our school," Cash said.

Allen, who has taught English at RCHS for the past 25 years, is a graduate of Livingston High School and Eastern Kentucky University.

She has her Masters Degree and Rank I and will obtain her principal's certification in January. Ms. Allen and her daughter Julie, a nursing student and her son Jason, a junior at RCHS live at Otawa.

Noble, who has taught U.S. History at RCHS for the past two years and been assistant basketball coach and golf coach, is a native of Hopkinsville. He received his bachelors and masters degree from Western Kentucky University and has taught in Allen County and at Southwest Pulaski County.

Noble is married to RCHS girl's basketball coach Chrysi Beaver Noble and they live at Mareburg.

Noble will continue as golf coach, but has resigned as assistant basketball coach. He will be replaced by former Middle School coach Jason Coguer.

In Rockcastle and Jackson ARC to spend $142,000 on 30 new homes

U.S. Rep. Harold "Hal" Rogers (KY-5) announced today that the Appalachian Regional Commission has awarded the Sand Gap Houses that Empower Program a $142,095 grant to build 30 new houses for low-income residents in Rockcastle and Jackson Counties.

"This grant will help make the dream of owning a home come true for 30 families in Jackson and Rockcastle Counties," Rogers said.

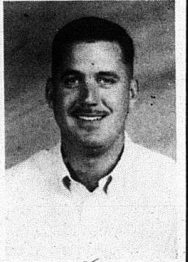

The program will work with the Jackson County Empowerment Zone Housing Group and other local agencies to take home buyer applications. Each applicant family will be asked to contribute 200 hours of labor during the construction of their home. Pre-closing training and counseling on home ownership and home maintenance will be provided for each family.

The total cost of the project is $1.6 million. Other sources of funding include a $178,510 grant from the federal HOME program; a $75,000 weathering grant; $88,000 from the Jackson County Empowerment Zone; $36,000 in home owner volunteer time; and $1.1 million in local construction financing and other private and foundation funds.

Last Saturday morning I got out of bed right at the crack of dawn because the forecast was calling for hot muggy weather the rest of the week—and I wanted to get a little gardening done while I could still enjoy it.

We've had Roma beans making up for the time they spent shivering and drowning a few weeks ago suddenly beaming in profusion. There's only one row and it's 150 feet long but it has produced more than three five-gallon buckets already and I could easily get another bushel right now.

Roma beans and young potatoes cooked together with a big onion head and a handful of fresh basil is a dish that I could eat for breakfast. And we've had all the ingredients coming out of the garden to eat ourselves and share with a dozen or so other folks who appreciate them just as much. Unfortunately we're at least two weeks away from ripe tomatoes, but the Kentucky wonders should be ready by then.

My intentions were to set out a few tomatoes and pull some weeds from the ones we have growing, but first I thought I'd sit on the front porch and enjoy a cup of coffee and watch the day begin to turn into itself.

It was still dark to see them, but birds were singing in all directions. As the light came up a flock of ten to twelve barn swallows began putting on an aerial acrobatic show as they wiped out any mosquitoes and moths that might be trying to escape before sunrise. Like purple martin, swallows can catch a mosquito in flight and devour everything but its wings which will subsequently fall to the ground like tiny leaves.

Suddenly there was a sound very similar to jack-hammers coming from the fence between our place and the neighboring farm. A big dead white pine had attracted two pileated woodpeckers which are about the size of crows and look like something you'd expect to see in the Jurassic Park movies. Normally shy, I'd only been able to catch fleeting glimpses of them, but there they were within 40 feet of me and I didn't have a camera.

Pileated woodpeckers can make chips fly like lumberjack, but they're not fighters and birds a third their size can scare them away. Which is exactly what happened within five minutes or so when a gang of starlings gave chase.

Next two cardinals and an over-weight robin landed on the lawn looking for night crawlers and any fleeing bugs of the night. A pair of eastern

Dear hearts, I haven't done well at all. My doggies expect some conversation each day. Mame, the older and smartest of the three, will think I'll fill if I don't converse with her. I'd write out a note for her, but her eyesight is not so good now that she's almost twelve years old.

I feel a twinge of anxiety when I have to let the phone go unanswered. I wonder who is calling and what about. Sometimes I console myself with the thought that at least half of the calls are from telemarketers.

And, as you might recall, my situation leaves me wide open for jesting by those who think it comical that I, a talkative soul for sure, have to play the part of a mute.

Worst of all, I can't even talk to myself. Spending the greater part of my waking hours alone, I need to talk to myself. Me, Myself, and I can get some pretty lively talk going. But not for the past week.

My having to be silent has put me to thinking about silence itself. And I'm reminded that many folks cannot abide silence. (It has been said that we feel safer around a madman who talks than with one who cannot open his mouth.) We turn on the radio or the television but don't tune in on anything in particular. All we want are sound bites to fill the void.

Ah! The Void. We're frightened by it. So we make our noises, dance our jigs, and play our games, ever active because we're afraid to look into the depth of our inner Abyss, into the Silence, into the Void out of which we've come and to which we return.

Cops! Sorry about that, beloved. I almost went metaphysical on you.

Come, dear hearts, and consider silence with me. Here are a few of my thoughts about silence alongside insights from others. Perhaps you have something to add.

Silence, I've been told, is golden. But not always. There is a silence that is "yellow."

The Good Book encourages us to "make a joyful noise unto the LORD." But that same sacred tome says, "The LORD is in his holy temple. Let all the earth keep silence before him."

I take those imperatives to mean that there are times when we should "let out the stops" in praise and that there are also times when we should close all stops, allowing nothing but the sound of silence.

Question: How do we know when to open up or shut down?

Answer: I have none, except to say that praise isn't the continual whooping-it-up that you can see on the Trinity Broadcasting Network. Dear hearts, is "electronic" the way to the heart of God? Does "multimedia" bring the peace that passes all understanding?

The following poetic insight into silence by Adelaide Crapsey may grasp your heart as it does mine:

Three silent things:
The falling snow . . . the hour
Before the dawn . . . the mouth of one
Just dead.

And Mother Teresa was right on when she wrote: We need to find God, and he cannot be found in noise and restlessness. God is the friend of silence. See how nature — trees, flowers, grass — grows in silence; see the stars, the moon and sun, how they move in silence. . . . We need silence to be able to touch souls.

Then, dear hearts, there is the silence known as "holding your tongue." Back in the early sixties, I was privileged to minister to a flock of souls in Mercer County. One of those souls, however, often left me wounded in the ditch by the side of the road, so to speak. Her philosophy was: If you think it, you might as well say it. And, beloved, she did! I took Band-Aids to church every Sunday.

PRECIOUS SOULS, CHILDREN OF AN EVIL AGE, greetings and quietude from dear ole Wabed, lifelong home of the late Ade B. Singotham, long-time cooper for Quillmore's Brewery, and part-time peddler of Uncle Edwin's One Week Wari Remover, who said, "Times are especially trying for those who aren't trying."

Speaking of trying, beloved, have you ever tried not speaking — for a whole week? I mean going a whole week without even a whisper? Dear hearts, I'm here to tell you that it's pert nigh impossible. But, bless Bess, not talking is precisely what I have been doing for the past week. Let me explain.

Early last week I paid my local physician a visit because a hoarseness had been building up over three weeks and would not go away. I had neither a cold nor sinus drainage, the usual culprits.

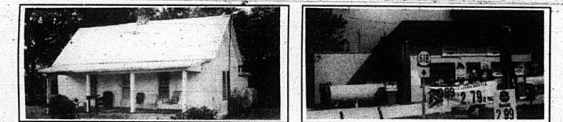

Doc looked down my throat and into my ears. Nothing there but space. After a few questions, he said, "I want you to shut up . . . for a week. I'll give you an antibiotic just in case something viral is at work." Then he said that if I didn't see significant improvement he would send me to an ear, nose, and throat specialist. He emphasized not talking, and explained that whispering is out, too, because that also employs the vocal chords.

Sufferin' Shadrach! Have I had one frustrating week, carrying a note-pad, scribbling out every item of conversation. Too many times I forgot and blurted out something. And Nancy sometimes forgot and either asked a question or made a statement that invited comment. And I responded.

Cards of Thanks

A Special Thank You

To Saul Carpenter, Sanmy Stallworth, Robbie Singleton and the Livingston Fire and Rescue Squad for helping us in finding Willie Mason during his accident. We also want to thank the people who came to visit and sat at the hospital. He is out of the hospital and doing real well. We want to thank each and everyone who prayed for him and want you to keep praying for him.

May God Bless Each of You, Leon Mason - Willie's Dad

I have a friend who admires Bobby Knight, the bafeul coach of the Indiana Hoosiers, he whom many Big Blue fans love to hate. My friend says Knight is a "man" because "he knows what he thinks and isn't afraid to say it."

Well, dear hearts, my friend, and the whip-tongued member in Mercer County, may be right. Indeed, there are times when we need to speak our minds, unpopular though it be.

But I'm thinking now of another friend, the late Rayme Cummins, my father-in-law. I admire and remember that man for several reasons. But most of all, I remember Rayme as a man who also knew his own mind - but didn't speak it.

"Points East"

kingbirds lit on the phone line and were joined by two Baltimore Orioles. A feisty blue-jay landed on a low branch of the huge maple in our front lawn and began daring anybody in the neighborhood to come out and fight.

And by then I was captivated. An hour and a half later I was still sitting in the same spot, afraid that if I moved I'd disturb the birds because it was like I was sitting in my own, private little aviary. I counted seventeen different species that I could recognize and two that I'm still not sure about. And I don't know when I've been so royally entertained.

The house we moved from was so over-ridden with black birds that it was difficult to look for any other species except for the house sparrows that roosted in the holly trees beside our backdoor. We still have too many black birds and starlings around, but we also have one mean jay that commands their respect.

I finally spent about ten minutes in the garden and decided that the tomatoes and weeds could wait another day or two. Then I went back into the house and dug out the Petersens Field Guide to Eastern Birds to see if I could find the little brown guy with the yellow top-knot and orange throat along with the little dark brown one that I'm sure to be some kind of wren.

And, folks, if you've never been bird watching but appreciate industriousness get up early in the morning and sit on a front porch in the country and watch what happens around you.

Marcella Coffey

Marcella Coffey, 50, of Rt. 3, Mt. Vernon died Sunday, July 13, 1997 at her home. She was born on January 21, 1947 in Gas City, Indiana the daughter of Roy and Mildred Anderkin McCollum. She was a cook at the Renfro Lodge and a member of the Fairview Baptist Church.

Agricultural News

By Warden Alexander, Director

The final date to report crop acreage for tobacco and all other crops except small grains was July 15. If a crop WAS NOT PLANTED by the final reporting date of July 15, the acreage must be reported by 15 calendar days after the planting is completed to be considered timely field. If a crop report is filed after the final reporting date because the crop was planted late, a statement will be added to the report saying when the crop was planted, and initiated by the producer. Late-filing fees will not apply if the crop is reported within 15 days after planting.

Nominating petitions for the FSA Committee election are being accepted now through October 27. FSA encourages county committee participation by under-represented. FSA is looking for the farmer-elected county committee from groups that have not been active with the agency's committee in the past. The committee is an important link between national USDA programs and the needs of local farmers. As part of the committee, members will make important decisions on local programs such as price support loans, establishing allotments and yields, and eligibility for farm loans, conservation activities, and disaster assistance. The committee is also USDA's eyes and ears in the community, and local farmer's voice in USDA.

The Non-Insured Assistance Program (NAIP) provides protection against a widespread loss caused by a natural disaster to designated areas for which crop insurance is not available. To qualify for this program an area must have at least 5 producers of crops on separate and distinct farms that were affected by the same natural disaster with total production loss of at least 35%. Producers must have a crop report on file prior to the July 15 deadline to be eligible for benefits. Some of the non-insurable crops in Rockcastle County include hay, pasture, soybeans, pepper, sweet corn, green beans, any fruit or vegetable grown commercially for food.

A new program, Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP), was established to assist crop and livestock producers deal with environmental and conservation improvements on the farm. Sign-up for this program began June 3, and will extend until July 30. The objective of the assistance to be provided is to ensure the maximum level of environmental benefits possible. Rockcastle County has not allocated any funds for this program at this time.

Producers who received cards concerning the AMTA (corn) program should come in and revise undesignated shares prior to August 1. Undesignated shares mean that payments have not been allotted to anyone. Shares could be designated so that final payments can be issued in September.

For more information on any of the above listed programs, contact the Rockcastle County Farm Service Agency at (606)256-2525.

Jane Couldn't Run Far Enough

Have you ever said or heard someone say, "Women who are abused should just leave. They are stupid to stay around and take that?" In a college class I attended a couple of years ago, one male student said (in reference to an abused woman), "She knows where the door is. All she has to do is leave."

I don't see it that way. Women stay in abusive situations for a variety of reasons, one of which is fear. The most dangerous time for a woman is when she leaves a relationship.

Jane Wells, a Kentucky native, wrote the story of her life and called it Run Jane Run. If you have ever doubted that a woman can be trapped in an abusive relationship, read this book. If you want to see how the system that is supposed to protect a woman often fails to do so, read this book.

Jane's second husband, Michael, was physically and emotionally abusive to her. She would call the police, but when they came, he would assure them (being very polite) that everything was OK. "It's just her hormones," he once told a deputy. When the police left, he would beat her even harder. He beat her when she was pregnant. He tore off her clothes in front of his teen-age sons. She went to an attorney and was told that under Kentucky law she could not get a divorce while she was pregnant. "Come back after the baby is born," the attorney told her. Jane wasn't sure she would still be alive by then.

When Jane eventually did get away from him, he stalked her. He made harassing phone calls to her at work, until her boss fired her. He continued to "visit" her and her daughters (one of whom was his) and terrorize them.

He continued to abuse her.

Jane's first husband, Johnny, volunteered to help Jane and her girls start life over again. He helped them move into a rented house and spent time with his daughter. Tragedy soon struck, however. Michael came to "visit" again, while Johnny was there, and shot Johnny four times and killed him. He would have killed Jane, but his gun jammed.

The night before Jane had called the police, who had taken Michael into custody. He was released after only a few hours, however, and returned, ready to commit murder.

Michael's trial was a horrible experience for Jane. She had to testify to all the bloody details of what had happened that day. The judge in the case excluded any testimony about Michael's abuse of Jane. She was not allowed to tell the whole story of how Michael treated her and the girls. The jury eventually found him guilty of manslaughter and sentenced him to seven years in prison. The district attorney apologized to Jane, "I thought we had a better case than that. He should have gotten murder one or two."

Jane's physical and financial resources were now spent. She moved to Cincinnati and slept in her car. She couldn't get government financial assistance until she had an address, but she couldn't rent an apartment until she had some money.

Through persistence and with a little help from her friends, she will soon receive her college degree in criminal justice, political science and women's studies. She has been forced to move even further away, because Michael is eligible for parole soon, and she knows she will not be safe when he is out. He has threatened many times to kill her.

Leger attends Washington Leadership Conference

By Jeremy Reynolds, Reporter. Recently, William Leger, our 1997-98 Rockcastle County Chapter FFA President, attended the 1997 Washington Leadership Conference June 16th through the 20th at our nation's capital, William, along with Roy Reynolds, a High School Agriculture teacher, attended one of the five weeks of the conference, which is hosted by our National FFA Organization in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Education.

Memorial, as well as others. William also visited with Senator Wendell Ford, who represents the Commonwealth in Legislative dealings.

Through cooperative learning with fellow FFA members and leaders, attendees learned of new leadership techniques and activities made possible through the FFA. Participants also reviewed current legislative issues affecting agriculture and education.

William was the only individual from Kentucky who received a full scholarship from the FFA Alumni Organization to the conference, which was obviously an honor, especially considering the fact that the FFA is an organization which has over 452,000 members strong nationwide. This organization has 7,263 local chapters throughout the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam and Virgin Islands with members preparing for leadership roles and careers in the science, business and technology of the agricultural field. FFA's mission is to make a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their potential for success in all areas of life.

This week-long program assists both FFA members along with agriculture teachers and FFA advisors in gaining new ideas for FFA activities and classroom instruction, as well as to improve leadership skills. Teachers and students also learned up to increase their understanding of the nation's heritage with visits to many of our National shrines and historic sights of Washington, D.C. Among them, the Smithsonian Institution, Arlington National Cemetery, the Jefferson Memorial, the Washington Monument, the Holocaust Museum, the Lincoln Monument, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Vietnam

This year the sporting events will be held in Lexington and surrounding counties over two weekends, July 18-20 and July 25-27.

As of today, the two largest team sports are Softball, with 304 teams representing 5,936 players, and Soccer, with 304 teams or 5,472 individuals. Other large team sports include: Three-on-Three Basketball with 155 teams; Volleyball, 120 teams; and In-Line Hockey with 9 teams.

Track & Field is the largest individual sport with 554 participants followed by Tennis with 375 entries. Other large individual sports are: Swimming, 340; SK, 269; Equestrian, 263; Martial Arts, 229 and Gymnastics, 189.

Fourteen sports will take late registration at Opening Ceremonies on July 25. They are: Archery, Canoeing/Kayaking, Chess, Croquet, Cycling, Fencing, Horseshoes, Martial Arts, Power Tumbling, Shooting, Tennis, Track & Field, Wrestling and the 5K Road Race. On-site registration is available for all of the sports listed here except Track & Field and Wrestling.

Last year nearly 20,000 athletes from 16 countries participated in the Games. Entries ranged from 3 to 85. This year 60 sites in seven counties will be used during the Games.

This year's participants from Rockcastle County include: Sarah Rowe, gymnastics; Christopher Frieh, martial arts; Kacey Taubee, martial arts; Dakota Mahaffey, martial arts; Jared Taubee, martial arts; Courtney Alexander, swimming; Cody Alexander, swimming; Heather Hammond, swimming; Andrew Hammond, swimming; Allison Anderkin, swimming; Victoria Clontz, swimming; Lauren Clontz, swimming; Suzanne Brown, swimming; Lorie Rockwell, table tennis; Jerry Cox, SKs; James Bullen, SK and Charles Bullen, SK.

The Bluegrass State Games is made possible through the contributions of its founding partner, The Valvoline Company. Other Corporate Partners include the Lexington Herald-Leader, WKYT-TV, Columbia/HCA, Fruit of the Loom, Kentucky Utilities Company, the Kentucky Broadcasters Association and the Kentucky Press Association. Bluegrass State Games Supporting Partners include the Commonwealth of Kentucky, Lexington-Fayette Urban County Government, Champions for a Drug Free Kentucky, the Kentucky National Guard and KET-TV. Jail Plans

Four charged

(Cont. from front) would not close the county jail because of the court's action to comply with all state regulations. Carlifus said the project will bring the county jail into full compliance with state regulations for the first time since 1985.

Four Rockcastle County inmates were charged with criminal mischief after they apparently did damage to their jail cells.

The four men who are facing other charges in Rockcastle Circuit Court were arraigned in district court on Wednesday, where their cases were continued.

Construction and renovation will begin this fall and will cost county taxpayers approximately $600,000.

The state had told the county this Spring that if they did not make the necessary improvements to the county jail they would shut it down.

Farmers need to certify 1997 Crop Acreage

With falling fall grain prices, farmers may want to consider certifying their 1997 crop acreage.

"The grain price situation has changed dramatically during the last several weeks. Farmers may now be evaluating storage as a pricing strategy for their harvest," said Steve Higgins, Extension agricultural economist with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Marketing loan rates for Kentucky range from roughly $1.97 to about $2.10, depending on the county. Farmers need to check with their county FSA office for the exact county rate, he said.

The deadline for certification is July 15. Farmers who do not have their acreage certified by that date may still participate, but will need to pay a fee for their late entry into the program. In addition, the entry process will be more cumbersome, he said.

ORDINANCE NO. 6-97 Summary of Ordinance July 17, 1997

An ordinance of the City of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky, establishing rates and charges for the use of and the services rendered by the municipal sewer system of said city, and providing for the collection and enforcement of such rates and charges.

This Ordinance establishes user charges in the City of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky to provide funds needed to pay for the operation, maintenance and replacement (OM&R) and debt service expenses associated with the City's municipal sewer system.

Monthly Sewer Charges for Residential Sewer Customers
The following monthly rates for sewer system shall be based on the customer's monthly water consumption or measured flow to the municipal sewer system and will take into account: (a) the OM&R costs of the municipal sewer system; and (b) the debt service requirements of bonds and loans issued on behalf of the City's municipal sewer system:

- (i) Minimum Bill - First 2,000 Gallons or less
 - OM&R $7.30
 - Debt Service $1.90
- (ii) All over 2,000 gallons
 - OM&R $3.50 per 1,000 gallons.
 - Debt Service $0.00 per 1,000 gallons
- (iii) The monthly sewer rates for low income single family residential customers using 6,000 gallons of water or less shall be billed at a rate of fifteen (15%) percent less than the above rates. "Low Income Single Family Residential Customer" is defined as any residence with a household income below the Federal poverty level or any residence designated as low income under Kentucky law.

Also all non-residential sewer customers located in the Renfro Valley Revitalization and Expansion Service Area and the Industrial Park Revitalization and Expansion Service Area shall pay in addition to the regular monthly sewer bill, a Surcharge as set forth below.

Monthly Sewer Charges for Non-Residential Sewer Customers
The following monthly rates for sewer service for all non-residential sewer customers of the City's municipal sewer system shall be based on the customer's monthly water consumption or measured flow to the municipal sewer system and will take into account: (a) the OM&R costs of the municipal sewer system; and (b) the debt service requirements of bonds and loans issued on behalf of the City's municipal sewer system:

- (i) Minimum Bill - First 2,000 gallons or less
 - OM&R $10.95
 - Debt Service $2.85
- (ii) All over 2,000 gallons
 - OM&R $5.25 per 1,000 gallons.
 - Debt Service $0.00 per 1,000 gallons
- (iii) The monthly sewer rates for low income single family residential customers using 6,000 gallons of water or less shall be billed at a rate of fifteen (15%) percent less than the above rates. "Low Income Single Family Residential Customer" is defined as any residence with a household income below the Federal poverty level or any residence designated as low income under Kentucky law.

Also, all non-residential sewer customers located in the Renfro Valley Revitalization and Expansion Service Area and the Industrial Park Revitalization and Expansion Service Area shall pay in addition to the regular monthly sewer bill, a Surcharge as set forth below.

Renfro Valley Revitalization and Expansion Service Area Surcharge
All non-residential sewer customers located in the Renfro Valley Revitalization and Expansion Service Area shall pay, in addition to the above OM&R and debt service sewer charges, a Surcharge for the total debt service requirements including the Administrative Fee and the Replacement and Maintenance Reserve, for the Kentucky Infrastructure Authority (KIA) loan issued in 1991 for the Renfro Valley Revitalization and Expansion Service Area. The Surcharge will be allocated based on the water usage for the non-residential sewer customers located in the Renfro Valley Service Areas as follows:

$S = (V_r/V_s) \times (DS/12)$
Where:
S = Monthly surcharge per non-residential customer
 V_r = Monthly water usage per non-residential customer (minimum 2,000 gallons)
 V_s = Total monthly water usage from all non-residential customers
DS = Debt Service on 1991 KIA Loan

The monthly Surcharge calculated shall be added to the regular monthly sewer bill issued by the City for each non-residential sewer customer in the Industrial Park Revitalization and Expansion Service Area. The Surcharge will be allocated based on the water usage for the non-residential sewer customers located in the Industrial Park Revitalization and Expansion Service Area as follows:

$S = (V_r/V_s) \times (DS/12)$
Where:
S = Monthly surcharge per non-residential customer
 V_r = Monthly water usage per non-residential customer (minimum 2,000 gallons)
 V_s = Total monthly water usage from all non-residential customers
DS = Debt Service on 1997 KIA Loan Allocation

The monthly Surcharge calculated shall be added to the regular monthly sewer bill issued by the City for each non-residential sewer customer in the Industrial Park Revitalization and Expansion Service Area.

Connection Charges
The Ordinance also establishes the fees and connection charges to the sewer system of utility customers as well as for the owner of a sewer to pretest such sewage, water or 9-10-year-old all star Mikah Reams at bat during an invitational tournament at Breathitt County this week end which they won. The 9-10-year-old all stars also advanced to the state by winning the area tournament at Somerset and the district tournament at Clay Co. The all stars have only lost one post-season game. They will begin state tourney play in Owensboro on July 27.

Earl Adams. Not present was Joe Lambert. The team won the area tournament by defeating Clay Co. Monday night and Jackson Co. Tuesday night. They will play Burnside in the district tournament on Saturday at 1 p.m. at London. Their district tournament runs Saturday thru Monday with eight teams participating.

11-12 year old all star Aaron Cash contributed to the local team's 9-3 win over Clay Co. with a three run homer and a grand slam.

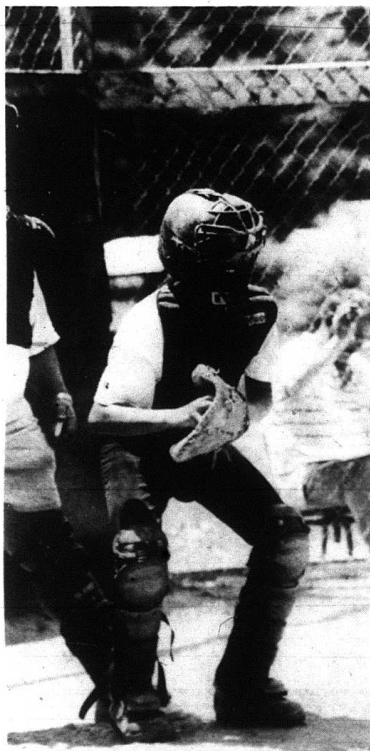

4-15 all star Brandon Bishop was the winning pitcher for his team in heir 6-5 win over Middlesboro Monday night in the championship game of the district.

The 14-15-year-old all stars will play in the state tournament Sunday afternoon in Hazard. Members of the team are, front row, from left: Boyd Durham, who pitched a no-hitter against Whitesburg Sunday, Greg Harper, Josh Singleton, Derrick Bussell, Shea Davidsom and Neal Childress. Second row: Brad McNew, Brian Bell, Matthew Brown, Christopher Parsons, Andrew Cash, Brandon Bishop. Back row: Coaches James Bradley, Cletus Brown and Clayton Cash. The team defeated Clay and Jackson Co. to win the area and got to the championship game in the district by defeating McCreary Co. and Whitesburg.

11-12-year-old all star Aaron Anderkin usually catches when not pitching and has a perfect 0.00 era in post-season play.

McKinney gets law degree from Emory University

During May graduation exercises in Atlanta, Georgia, Emory University's School of Law, which is consistently ranked as one of the top 25 law schools in the United States, conferred upon Angela Danette McKinney the degree of Doctor of Law.

Angela is a 1990 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. Prior to beginning law school in Atlanta, she graduated cum laude from Vanderbilt University in 1984 with a double major in English and Psychology. Angela's summer clerkship between school years at Emory was in Nashville with the law firm of Manier Herrod.

Angela is the daughter of Danny and Betty Jo McKinney of Rt. 1, Brodhead and the sister of Eric McKinney, a 1994 graduate of Rockcastle County High School and a civil engineering major at the University of Kentucky. Angela and Eric are the grandchildren of Arthur and Clarice McKinney and J.L.

Brown, all of Rt. 1, Brodhead and the late Myrtle Cable Brown. Angela has returned to Nashville where she is preparing to take the Tennessee Bar Exam at the end of July.

Kiwanis News

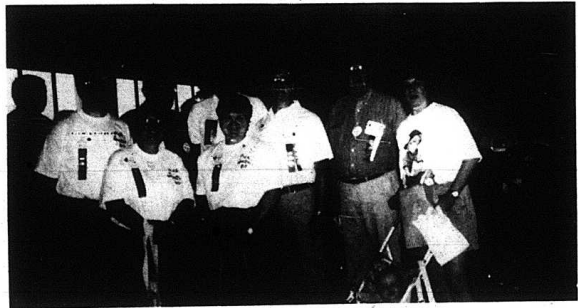

By Bev. Rockwell
Geraldine Mizze and Beverly Rockwell attended the 1997 Convention of Kiwanis International held in Nashville, Tennessee last week. Kiwanis from all of the world attended the five day event that focused on workshops set up to inform and educate each of the 6,634 delegates; cast votes for candidates on the ballot for International Office and voted on implementing new technology so that distribution of information concerning the needs of local, national and international Kiwanis Clubs is done efficiently. Also on the ballot were a number of issues concerning membership, dues and youth services. Highlighted was the ambitious but attainable-endavor of Kiwanis International. "To virtually eliminate by the year 2000 the world's leading preventable cause of mental retardation: IODINE DEFICIENCY DISORDERS (IDD)." Kiwanis Clubs throughout the world are working towards this end by raising funds locally to support this important Worldwide Service Project.

Serving the World's Children is the focus of Kiwanis and our local club has much to be proud of with it's Sponsored Youth programs here in Rockcastle County. Among the service projects we are most proud of are: The "Ginny" Gilpatrick Scholarship Fund given each year, donations to the new "Rockcastle Incentive Scholarship Program," 1994

Parenting Day, 1995 Child Safety Day, 1996 Toys for Tots, sponsoring RCHS Sophomores to Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership Conference, purchase of Louisville Courier Journal for Roundstone Elementary School Students for their Civics Class, donations to Project Graduation, donations to Indian Summer Camp (for children with cancer) and sponsorship of 4-H students to summer camp. Our club has also promoted the establishment of a KEY CLUB at our High School and has purchased books and furniture for the childrens section of our local library. Both Geraldine and Beverly came back from the convention inspired, looking forward to better serving the community and it's young people.

Cromer receives award for poem

The authorized agents of the Executive Committee of the Famous Poets Society have presented the award of recognition to Carolyn Cromer of Mt. Vernon, for contributing to the beauty of our world by writing a special poem entitled, "The Hills of Kentucky". Indeed, the poem was deemed worthy of a formal presentation during our Second Annual Poetry Convention at the Hyatt Regency Alicantine in Anaheim, California.

Her poem was published in Today's Great Poems by Famous Poets Society. Carolyn has also had poems published in River of Dreams in Owings Mills, Maryland, The National Library of Congress and has received Editor's Choice Award.

The following poem is the awarded poem Cromer has published in Today's Great Poems.

The Hills of Kentucky
By Carolyn Cromer
When the sun is sinking,
And the blue moon is shining,
The lonesome sound of the whippoorwill,
Over the hills,
Where tree tops trim the sky,

Where tree tops trim the sky,

Song birds sing high,
The gentle winds blowing,
The Blue Grass is growing.

I love to tread,
The fields of goldenrods.
When summer blossoms say farewell,
The butterflies and bees can tell

When the snow,
I still love to roam.
I'm glad to know,
That you are mine.

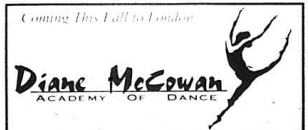

A place called home,
The Hill of Kentucky,
You are the place for me.
