NOTICE

The Somerset Ranger District of the Daniel Boone National Forest is considering an exchange of land with Lake Cumberland Resorts, Inc. The main tract (4123) of Federal land being offered is located in Pulaski County at Roberts Bend on the South Fork of the Cumberland River. There are two other very small Federal tracts - one in Whitley County (4123a) and one in McCreary County (4123b). The three tracts total 489.82 acres. The seven private tracts offered for sale are located on Line Creek (4076), Nancy Branch (4086a) and Turkey Creek (4086d) in Pulaski County; Laurel Branch (4086b) in Laurel County; Rock Creek (4086) in McCreary County and Oak Creek (4086c) in Rockcastle County. The private tracts total approximately 1,466 acres.

Further information concerning this exchange proposal can be obtained by contacting the Somerset District Ranger, U.S.D.A. Forest Service, 135 Realty Lane, Somerset, Kentucky 42501 or by calling (606) 679-2018. Comments concerning this proposal must be received in writing by November 3, 1997 to be considered in the analysis process. Address comments to the above address.

Public involvement is essential to the planning and management of our National Forests. This is an opportunity to voice concerns, share knowledge and become involved in the management of your National Forest.

Interviews October 20 Four apply for vacant board seat

Four people have applied to fill the Rockcastle County Board of Education's vacancy in division number four.

The board has been operating with only four members when Teresa Boley resigned in August because she and her family moved from the county.

The first time the board advertised for a replacement, no one answered the call.

At this time, Juanita Robinson, a nurse at the Rockcastle Hospital, local story teller and Health Department employee Beverly Carter-Sexton, retiree Martin Vanzant and Martha Winkler have all applied for the position.

Rockcastle County School Superintendent Larry Hammond said Monday that each candidate would be interviewed by a three-person panel from the State Department of Education on Monday, October 20.

After the interviews, Kentucky's Education Commissioner Wilmer S. Coby will make an appointment to the board, based on a recommendation by the committee.

That person will serve on the board until November of 1998 when a special election will be held for the remainder of the term, which will expire in 2000.

The school board's division four is made up of voters in Orlando and Clmax precincts.

Stolen car found burned and wrecked

Police recovered a stolen vehicle on Hwy. 1912 at Brush Creek Sunday morning. The only problem was that it was wrecked and burned.

According to Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Tim Cameron, Donald Rice of Livingston reported his 1981 Ford Thunderbird stolen on Saturday night.

"They had apparently been driving around during the night and failed to make a sharp curve on 1912 when they ran into the ditch," Cameron said.

The deputy said it appeared that the thieves got the engine too hot while trying to get the car out of the ditch and caught it on fire.

No arrests have been made, but police have a suspect.

No driver's test Monday

Rockcastle County Circuit Court Clerk Denver Miller announced this week that no written test or driving test will be given by the Kentucky State Police on Monday, October 13.

Miller said that due to scheduling conflict, KSP officers would be unable to give the tests. Tests will be given on Monday, October 20.

Parent-teacher conferences at RCMS Monday

Parent and teacher conferences are scheduled for Monday at the Rockcastle County Middle School. Parents are invited to visit the school from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m.

To subscribe to the Signal call (606) 256-2244 or fax us at (606) 256-9526 or write us at P.O. Box 185, Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456. In county, $15.00. In State out of county, $20.00. Out of State $26.00.

Bittersweet Festival '97

A mainstay of the festival has always been Mike Robbins and his family. This year was no exception as Robbins set up on main street with plenty of pumpkins, gourds and decorations for Fall. The festival, which was held Friday and Saturday in Mt. Vernon, was the largest and best festival to date.

Mrs. Betty Linblom and members of her story book hour dressed as their favorite story book character and participated in Saturday's parade.

Andy Barnett and the gang from Cove Branch brought their race car to the parade at the Bittersweet Festival.

From left: Cheyanne Carmack, of Mt. Vernon, Frank Stallworth of Roundstone, Mark Brummett of Brodhead, and Earl and Robbie Phillips of Mt. Vernon were among the 102 runners taking part in the 5K run Saturday morning.

Jury orders Chrysler to pay widow $3 million

A federal court jury ordered Chrysler Corporation to pay more than $3 million to the widow of a former Rockcastle County man who died in 1993 after he was thrown from his truck in a collision with a police cruiser.

The U.S. District Court jury in London found that the 1992 Dodge Ram truck had a defective door latch. The jury ordered Chrysler to pay $3 million in punitive damages, plus about $235,000 in compensatory damages.

Charles Clark, 59, of Richmond and formerly of Orlando, was killed October 14, 1993 in Knox County when he tried to make a left turn on U.S. 25E and pulled in front of the Kentucky State Police cruiser.

During the collision the door on Clark's 1992 Dodge truck flew open, and he was thrown onto the roadway. He died later at the University of Kentucky Medical Center and was not wearing a seat belt at the time of the collision.

Two other people in Clark's vehicle, Bill Clark, 39, and Freddie Clark, 43, were injured in the wreck as was state trooper Dwight Barnett, 44.

After hearing three days of testimony, the jury found last week that Chrysler built a "defective and unreasonably dangerous" truck and that the defect was a "substantial factor" in Clark's death.

Somerset attorney Richard Hay, who represented Clark's widow, Dorothy and executor of Clark's estate, argued that Chrysler was negligent in designing the truck.

Jury said door-latch design substantial factor in Charles Clark's accidental death

Hay said during the trial that the door-latch's design allowed it to twist and malfunction in some side-impact collisions. A Junior City man involved in a similar accident testified at the trial.

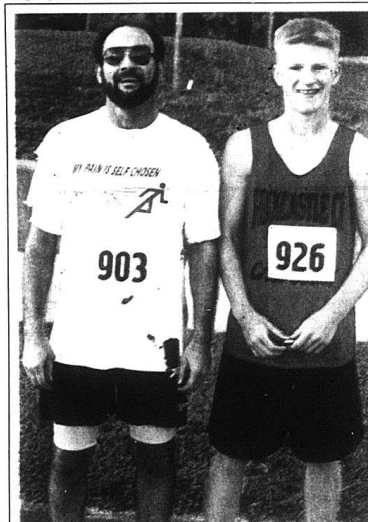

Hay said it was the only similar case he knew of in Kentucky. The jury awarded Clark's estate the punitive damages because of Chrysler's "gross negligence" in building a defective vehicle.

The jury also awarded the estate $471,258 in compensatory damages to pay hospital and funeral bills, lost wages, pain and suffering and loss of companionship.

But Chrysler was ordered to pay only half of the $471,258 because the jury found that Clark was partly responsible for his own death and assigned 50 percent of the blame to him.

If Chrysler appeals the judgement, they will have 30 days to do so.

However, Chrysler will have to post bond in the amount of the judgement and Chrysler will have to pay 12 percent interest on the money while the appeal makes its way through court.

James Bullens wins 5K

35-year-old James Bullens, left, of Mt. Vernon defeated Rockcastle County High School sophomore Stewart Arbery by just five seconds Saturday in the Bittersweet Festival's 5K run through the streets of Mt. Vernon. Bullens had a time of 18:49, while Arbery finished at 18:54.

"It is Written"

In Matt. 5:20 Jesus in teaching on the sermon on the mount said, "For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the Kingdom of heaven." Our righteousness, what is required by our Lord under the gospel order of things, must exceed, surpass, excel, be better than the righteousness of the Pharisees and the scribes. Our righteousness must be within our hearts, that affects the very heart and core of our being and soul. The religious folks of Jesus day, their righteousness was only superficial, shallow, external. They were more concerned with what men thought, than what God thought and required. Jesus in the sermon on the mount seeks to show men what would be required and expected in order to enter the kingdom of heaven, and anything less would not be accepted nor recognized. Our Lord deals with attitudes we ought to be, in Matt. 5:12. There is a progressive nature in the thoughts that are given, as well as an overall cumulative teaching in the beatitudes. Each of the 8 beatitudes begins with the word blessed which means delighted, a genuine joy of mind and heart. It is somewhat different from happiness in that happiness is related to what is "happening" to us. If things on the outside are well and going good, we are happy. Yet in blessedness it is possible that a man could be blessed and joyful, while setting in prison, beaten, humiliated, and having your feet in stocks, consider Acts 16:22-25. Over the next few weeks we shall be discussing the beatitudes.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month

October is a month of transition. As the leaves change color and the weather cools, we are reminded of the changes that take place in our lives, especially those regarding our health.

This month, Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center (RCCC) is offering mammograms for only $65, in honor of October being Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The charge of $65 at Rockcastle Hospital covers all expenses, including the actual X-ray and reading of the X-ray.

While there is an ongoing debate about when women should start having mammograms, experts believe that women between the ages of 40 and 49 should have a mammogram every two years; women over the age of 49 should have a mammogram annually.

"This is a great opportunity for women to do something for themselves," said Janice Mullins, mammographer at RCCC. "Any woman who cares about her health should take advantage of this opportunity."

To make this service even more accessible, Rockcastle will offer extended hours throughout October to accommodate working women. Saturday appointments also will be offered. In addition, each woman who schedules a mammogram with Rockcastle Hospital in October will get a free RCCC tote bag filled with items such as food coupons, ink pens and cancer awareness information. "We are proud to offer this opportunity to the women of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County," said Lee Keene, Rockcastle Hospital administrator. "We feel we have a responsibility to the citizens to offer them the best health care possible."

One in every eight women will develop breast cancer in their lifetime. But scientists do not know what causes breast cancer. While more than 70 percent of women diagnosed with breast cancer have no identifiable risk factors, certain variables increase the odds:

- * family history - if an immediate family member, such as a mother or sibling, develops breast cancer, one's chances of developing the disease dramatically increases.
- * pregnancy and hormones - any woman who had her first child after the age of 30 is at a higher risk. Also, any woman who started her menstrual cycle before the age of 12 or completed menopause after the age of 55 is also at risk.

Breast cancer affects more American women than any other type of cancer. It is the leading cause of cancer deaths for women between the ages of 35 and 54. Since the cause of breast cancer is unknown, the best way to beat the disease is through early detection. Mammograms are the most effective means for detecting breast cancer. A mammogram is a safe, low-dose X-ray taken of the breast. If breast cancer is detected early, there is a 90 percent survival rate. More than 1.6 million breast cancer survivors are alive in America today.

"It is important to remember that you do not need a physician referral to get a mammogram, just a desire to take care of yourself," Keene said.

Anyone wanting to schedule a mammogram should call (606) 256-2195 and ask for the X-ray department for an appointment.

Conservation Reserve Program sign-up Oct. 14

Submitted By John E. Graham, District Conservationist

The USDA will be conducting a sign-up for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). The sign-up will be from October 14, 1997 to November 14th, 1997. The CRP program is an opportunity for landowners to enroll cropland, and in some cases other lands, into a program where landowners will receive a payment each year for each acre they have enrolled in the program for a ten year period. All contracts are for a ten year period and land will be sowed and maintained in a sod cover for the life of the contract. Each contract offer will be rated and given an environmental ranking according to what types of cover the landowner is willing to sow and the position of the fields to environmentally sensitive areas. Then a per acre dollar figure is calculated for each offered contract and the landowner decides whether they want to submit their contract to the government for contract acceptance procedures or stop the contract at that point with no obligation on either party.

There are numerous options for CRP contract applicants and landowners may select from these options.

If you are interested in learning more about CRP contracts, the Rockcastle County Conservation District will be hosting a CRP contract meeting along with their regular Conservation District Board meeting. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. on October 20, 1997 at the Farm Service Center Office located at Rt. 4 Box 374A, Highway 150 in Mt. Vernon.

If you have any questions please contact us at 256-2541. We will be more than happy to assist you in any way possible.

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) prohibits discrimination in its programs on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, political beliefs and marital or familial status. (Not all prohibited bases apply to all programs.) Persons with disabilities who require alternative means for communication of program information (Braille, large print, audiotape, etc.) should contact USDA's Target Center at 202-720-2600 (Voice and TDD).

To file a complaint, write the Secretary of Agriculture, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250 or call 1-800-245-6340 (voice) or (202)720-1127 (TDD).

Loretta Lynn at Renfro November 15

The folks at Renfro Valley have presented without a doubt the best concert series in Kentucky during 1997 with the likes of Barbara Mandrell and Tim T. Hall performing on the Valley stage. And the good news is—they're not through yet.

On October 25, Rommie McDowell will perform and on November 15, the first lady of Country Music takes center stage.

She's a Lady. She's a Legend. She's Loretta Lynn, one of country music's most beloved entertainers. Her life and music have been an inspiration to fans and performers for many years.

Loretta's career began when she was just a woman-child and her career moved so quickly that she never had time to lose the child-like qualities of honesty, integrity and sincerity. The Coal Miner's Daughter married her childhood sweetheart, Mooney, and was a grandmother by age 28.

Loretta's first release, "I'm a Honky Tonk Girl," was a top ten hit in 1960. That same year she was invited on the Opry and nominated "Most Promising Girl Singer." In 1971, she won the Country Music Association's "Entertainer of the Year" award, the first female singer to ever receive this prestigious award.

"Little did she know back then that she would someday receive more honors and awards that she could dream about. Today, she is one of country music's "Living Legends." She has been named one of the ten most admired women in the world by Ladies Home Journal Magazine, putting the lady from Butcher Holler, Kentucky alongside other such notables as Mother Theresa, Jackie Kennedy, Queen Elizabeth and Golda Meir.

Among her most cherished honors is the prestigious "Golden Plate Award" presented to her by the American Academy of Achievement. This is an award usually reserved for scientists and scholars, not country music performers. It recognized the impact Loretta's music had on the world as well as her ability to overcome obstacles and break down barriers for others who wished to follow after her. "The first time I heard of Loretta," recalls Dolly, "I just remember every body talking about this country girl. They said that she'd get up on stage and take off her shoes and goes on stage with rollers in her hair and that she's just a real person. I started hearing her songs and thought now that's just something for somebody to write songs like 'Don't Come Home a Drinkin' With Devils' on Your Mind."

"That's the kind of stuff I've heard grow up with my family. I just love her. She was something and she still is." That is a statement Dolly made several years ago in an interview, after she, Loretta and Tammy Wynette debated their album, "Honky Tonk Angels."

Nothing seems impossible to the dreamer who also is willing to make it happen. This is the woman who, as a girl singer, would listen to WSM every night and would call up and say "I'm so-and-so from Alabama and would you please play 'I'm a Honky Tonk Girl' by Loretta Lynn?" And they played it every night. Loretta said,

First Lady of Country Music Loretta Lynn will be at Renfro Valley November 15.

$525,000 economic grant to provide low-interest loans for shell buildings

U.S. Rep. Harold "Hal" Rogers announced that the Economic Development Administration of the U.S. Department of Commerce has approved a $525,000 grant to the Southern Kentucky Economic Development Corporation (SKEDC) to provide low-interest loans to build speculative shell buildings.

"These buildings will help stimulate job creation, encourage industry development, and bring new businesses to our region," Rogers said. "This grant is a real boost in the arm for counties that are trying to create new jobs to replace those lost with the decline of coal industry. I'm pleased that the funding has come through, and I will continue my efforts to help create more jobs and opportunity for the citizens of this region."

SKEDC is an independent, non-profit organization designed to encourage economic development through job creation in a 27-county area in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. SKEDC is one of the components of The Center for Rural Development in Somerset, which is dedicated to providing economic and educational opportunities in Southern or Eastern Kentucky so no young person has to leave home to find their future.

Rogers, who is chairman of the House subcommittee that funds the Economic Development Administration, helped SKEDC with its grant application. The low-interest loans will be available to counties in SKEDC's service area: Adair, Bell, Casey, Clay, Clinton, Cumberland, Estill, Garrard, Green, Harlan, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Lee, Leslie, Lincoln, McCreary, Meigs, Monroe, Owsley, Putnam, Rockcastle, Russell, Taylor, Wayne and Whitley.

Bullock joins American Angus Association

Timothy Bullock, Brodhead, is a new member of the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with over 31,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on over 12 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association. Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

Rockets are 1-0 in District with 20-7 win over Wayne

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rockets picked up their fifth win of the season and first district win Friday night when they finally pulled away from Wayne County 20-7.

For only the second time all season long and the first time in five games the Rockets found themselves behind 7-0 Friday night.

The Rockets were as flat in the first half of the Cardinal game as they have been all season long and it was well into the second half before they showed enough life to pull out the victory.

"I thought Wayne County matched up with us pretty good, but we were no doubt flat. I'm not sure if being off from school on Friday or just the fact that Wayne County has not been much competition lately was the reason for the letdown," head coach Tom Larkey said.

Larkey said that Wayne County, a team that has won four games this season, had also been practicing for the Rockets for about three weeks. "They had a week off and they played Casey County the week before they were off, so they had plenty of time to get ready," Larkey said.

After the Cardinals took the lead, Rockcastle mounted a scoring drive late in the second quarter, but failed on their two point conversion attempt. Wayne County kept the lead until the fourth period when quarterback Chris Bishop found receiver Andy Hale wide open in the right flat.

Hale scampered 66 yards to give the Rockets a 12-7 lead. Bishop then went to Hale again in the end zone to tie the lead to 14-7.

Two possessions later, after an interception by senior Nathan DeLeon, the Rockets punched it again when Andrew Carrera took it in from the one. The Rock's attempt at a two point conversion failed.

During the second half the Rocket defense allowed Wayne County only 21 yards of total offense.

Junior linebacker Brooks Ingram had another excellent game on defense with eleven tackles and assists and two quarterback sacks.

Gary Coffey had nine tackles and assists and one quarterback sack when he lowered the boom on Wayne County's highly touted and Eastern bound quarterback Seth Rice.

Besides stepping up on offense, Chris Bishop contributed nine tackles and assists. Kevin Bradley, who plays with a tender shoulder every week had eight tackles.

Senior Dusty McClure added seven tackles and recovered the only Wayne County fumble of the night.

Other Rockets with tackles Friday night, were: Carrera 6, Jon LaFavers 5, Bobby Cundiff 3, Hale, 5, DeLeon 4 and Cliff Markovich 5.

On offense, Carrera had 116 yards on 22 carries, Bishop had 32 yards on six carries and 121 yards passing.

Hale had 24 yards on seven carries and sixty-six yards in receiving yardage. Josh Hendrickson had six yards on three carries.

Henry Bryant punted three times for an average of 29 yards because one of his punts was only for 11 yards.

Andrew Carrera tries to bring down Wayne County's highly touted back, Seth Rice during Friday night's action. The Rocket defense held Wayne County to just 96 yards of total offense.

RCMS Cross Country teams excel at South Laurel meet

Rockcastle County's cross-country teams competed at South Laurel on Tuesday, September 16. Both middle school and varsity teams had excellent competitions.

The boys middle school team won 1st place as several runners placed in the top twenty. Sixth grader, Andrew Nelson ran his best race of the year and won first place. Sixth grader, Brandon Campbell also ran very well and was not far behind, finishing third. Eighth grader, Josh Whicker ran well and finished in sixth place. Sixth grader, Ben McKibben ran a great race and placed seventh. Sixth grader, Elijah Lunsford also made the top 10, finishing in eighth place. Other top 25 finishers were as follows: Daniel Dobbs, 11th; Jamieson Cable, 12th; Karac Grubb, 13th; Chris Tolle, 15th; Josh Ramsey, 17th; Nathan Kirby, 18th; Adam Stallworth, 19th; Travis Burton, 20th and Daniel Nolan, 21st.

The girls middle school team finished in second place, despite losing fifth grader, Johanna Abney to illness during the race. Sixth grader, Cassandra Ramsey ran the race of her life and won first place. Seventh grader, Ashley Cottrell also ran an excellent race and finished in sixth place. Eighth grader, Jessica Ramsey ran well and placed 12th. Seventh grader, Kelly Jones ran a good race and finished 13th. Fourth grader, Megan Anderkin ran well and finished 14th. Third grader, Morgan Kincaid, the youngest cross-country member in Rockcastle history, ran great and placed 15th. Fourth graders, Allison Carter and Melanie Bullock also ran a good race and finished in 16th and 20th place respectively. Fourth grader, Rachel Killen placed 21st.

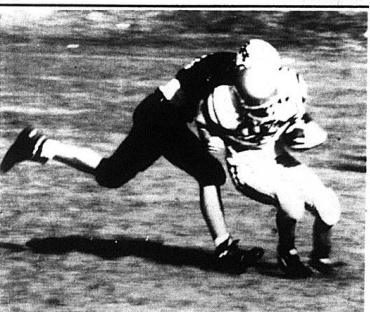

The boys varsity team had a good competition. Sophomore Stewart Abney was the top finisher for Rockcastle, placing 22nd in a hard-fought race. Freshman, Jeremiah Myers ran well and placed 31st. Other finishers were as follows: Jason Whicker, 69th; Kent Smith, 73rd; Bryant Reams, 74th and Stephen Hopkins, 79th.

The boys placed sixth overall in the team competition. The girls varsity team also had a good competition. Freshman, Cheyenne Carmack remained in the top five runners for most of the race until allergies and illness forced her to pull out of the competition. Sophomore, Brandy Reynolds, ran an excellent race and finished in 18th place. Sophomore, Brooke Roberts, also ran very well and placed 24th. Sophomore, Jessica Cobb finished in 29th place in a hard-fought race. Theresa Chislum, a freshman, finished 34th and freshman, Mindy Bullock, placed 45th. The girls placed fifth overall in the team competition.

The cross-country team next competed at Pulaski County on Tuesday, September 23. All teams continued to show great improvements, with several individuals recording personal best times.

The boys middle school team continued its winning ways and came in first for the second straight meet. Andrew Nelson led the team again and finished strong in seventh place. Josh Whicker also ran well and finished in 11th place. Karac Grubb ran well and placed 12th, completing the scoring for the boys were: Elijah Lunsford, who placed 19th and Chris Tolle, who placed 20th.

Corbin away Friday night

Possibly the Rockets toughest test of the season comes on Friday night when they travel to Corbin to face the 4 and 2 Redhounds.

Corbin lost their first district game of the season on Friday night, when Somerset trounced the Redhounds 42-28.

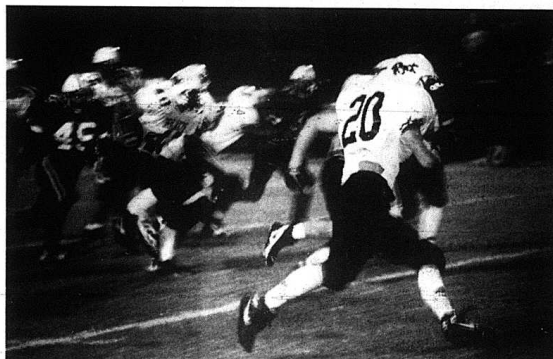

Somerset scored the first three times they had the ball and moved out to a 28-0 lead.

Coach Tom Larkey said he is expecting a tough, tough game as usual and doesn't know how Corbin's team will react to the loss at Somerset. "It may fire them up or it may cause them to go the other way, you never know with young players," he said.

The only common opponent the Rockets and Redhounds have faced has been South Laurel. The Rockets lost to the Cardinals 28-8 opening night, and Corbin defeated South Laurel 35-21 the second week of the season.

The least punts, Corbin has put on the board this season has been 21 and on Friday night, even after their best running back was put out of the game, they still managed to score 28 points," defensive coordinator Tony Saylor said. "They have an awesome offense and we will have to put forth our best defensive effort of the season to win," Saylor said.

Game time at Campbell Field is 7:30.

Rock JV improve to 4-1

After dropping the season opener at Lexington Catholic 19-0, Rockets J.V. have bounced back to win four in a row.

In the second game of the season, the J.V. rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat North Laurel 26-20. Running back Brad Powell got the Rockets on the board first with a 12 yard run as Jeff Linnville added the two point conversion on a pass from Dustin Crawford.

On the first possession of the second half, the Rockets increased their lead on an 8 yard run by Josh Hendrickson as Powell added the conversion on another pass from Crawford. But North Laurel answered with 20 straight points as they led with only four minutes remaining in the game.

After the Rockets J.V. lost the ball on a turnover the defense came up with a big stand as they forced a Laurel safety which gave the Rockets J.V. two points plus allowed the Rockets to receive the ensuing kickoff in a great field position. Then with less than two minutes on the clock, Christopher Parsons hit Kevin Childress for the winning touchdown as Hendrickson added the conversion.

The third game of the season was never in doubt as the Rockets routed an undefeated Whitley County team 34-6. The Colonels score came with only three minutes remaining in the game.

Hendrickson opened the scoring in the first quarter with a three yard run along with a two point conversion run. In the second quarter, Henry Bryant scored on a two yard run as Parsons hit Kevin Childress for the conversion.

In the second half started, Hendrickson again scored on a five yard pass from Parsons. On Whitley's next possession, Bryant returned an interception 50 yards for the score. The Rockets finished the scoring as Parsons hit Josh Singleton on a 65 yard pass.

Another undefeated team fell to the Rockets as they downed Pulaski Southwestern, 20-7. After Southwestern scored early to take a 7-0 lead, the Rockets ran off 20 unanswered points for the win.

Linnville got the Rockets scoring started on a 25 yard fumble recovery followed by a 30 yard touchdown pass from Crawford to Hendrickson. The Rockets final score came on a Hendrickson 40 yard run along with his two point conversion run.

On Monday, the Rockets defeated East Jessamine County 30-6 as Josh Singleton scored three touchdowns to lead the Rock.

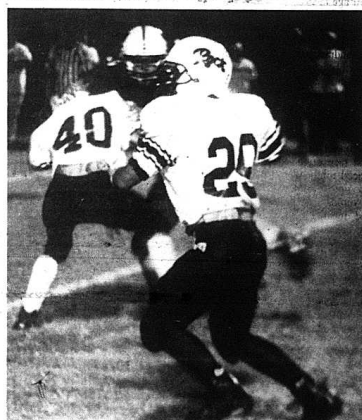

Singleton scored his first touchdown on the third play of the game as he ran 75 yards for the score. His second and third touchdowns came on pass receptions of 27 yards and 40 yards from Parsons.

Josh Seiber scored his first touchdown of the season on a 7 yard pass from Parsons. Also scoring his first touchdown was Josh Dooley on a 3 yard run.

Time running out to take Hunter Education course

The cooling temperatures and falling leaves are a sign that Kentucky's hunting season is quickly approaching. If you've yet completed the hunter education course, time is running out.

If you were born on or after Janu-

Quarterback Chris Bishop prepares to throw one of his nine attempts against Wayne County Friday night. The Rockets won 20-7. Bishop had 121 yards passing on six completions and a touchdown pass.

Senior Dusty McClure looks for running room in Friday night's game against Wayne County. McClure had 33 yards rushing and 36 yards of receptions in the 20-7 victory.

RCMS eighth graders win two; seventh grade girls lose

The eighth grade girls team and the sixth grade team both put two in the win column in their last two outings, but the seventh graders had a rougher time, losing both games.

Against Southern Pulaski last Thursday night, the eighth grade girls were led by Leslie Carpenter with 19 points, thirteen in the first half. The girls had a 24-12 half-time lead and held the Warriors to only two points in third quarter to up their lead to 32-14 at the third quarter stop. The fourth quarter saw Coach David Owens clear his bench and allowed Southern to get back in the game for a while until Owens put his starters back in to quell the uprising for the final 45-37.

Leslie was followed in scoring by Ashley Carpenter who had 10 points; Amanda Barnett got 5. Angie DeBore's four all came at the free throw line; Ashley Mink also got 4; Jessie Hayes 3 and Amber Thacker 2.

Tuesday night, the eighth grade starters saw limited action against Meecoe Middle School as they defeated the Jumpers easily 47-21.

Ashley Carpenter came through with a big first half, getting 12 points on two baskets and eight free throws. Carpenter added four more points in the second half to lead the scoring for the Lady Rockets with 16; Leslie Carpenter was next with 10; Amber Denney got 6; Amanda Blanton 4; Lora Beth Bell and Alisha Lamb, 3 each; Amy Barnett and Jessie Hayes, 2 each and Angie Boring 1.

The closest game ever was was early in the first quarter when the Rockets only led 3-2, after that it was all downhill for the Jumpers with the rockets ahead 10-6 at the end of the first quarter; 29-13 at half time and 38-19 at the third quarter stop.

The eighth grade team is now 7-4 on the season.

Against Southern Pulaski last Thursday night, the seventh graders lost a close one 35-32. The Lady Rockets were ahead 5-1 in the first quarter and saw the Warriors put together a 7-1 run to be ahead 8-6. In the second quarter, the Lady Rockets came back to take the lead at 14-12 but the Warriors sank two free throws in the final seconds of the first half to go to the locker room with a 19-18 lead. At the third quarter stop, the Lady Rockets were ahead 26-25 but the Warriors had a better fourth quarter, outscoring the Rockets 10-6 for the 35-32 final.

Amy Barnett led the scoring with 12 points; Jessie Hayes had 9; Ashley Mink 6; Bryanna Bussell 3 and Vanessa Childress 2.

The seventh graders were without the services of Ashley Mink Tuesday night against the Jumpers and, despite a stellar performance by Amy Barnett, the girls suffered their third loss of the season 46-37.

The Rockets were down 15-8 at the end of the first quarter but came back in the second half to tie it at 22 all. They were ahead 32-31 at the end of the third quarter but foul trouble forced Barnett and Vanessa Childress to the bench for most of the fourth quarter and the Rockets offense suffered, only managing five points to the Jumpers 15 - nine of those from the free throw line.

Barnett led the scoring with 15 points; Jessie Hayes got 8; Heather Fingbaum 6 and Bryanna Bussell, Vanessa Childress, Jessica Thacker and Rebekah Lyons, 2 each.

The seventh grade team is now 8-3 and 3.

The sixth graders had two easy games their last two outings, defeating Southern Pulaski 39-21 and Meecoe 19-10.

Against the Warriors, Allison Anderkin led the scoring with 19 points, nine in the first quarter; Stephanie Price, Jenny Durham and Anna Gufford got 4 each; Krystal Parsons scored 3 points; Natasha McClure, Jennifer Kidwell, Lauren Clontz, Jena Owens and Shenea Swinney had 2 each and Amanda Rogers got 1.

In their game with the Meecoe Middle School Jumpers, the 6th graders won 19-10 with Shenea Swinney leading the scoring with 6 points. Other scoring were Allison Anderkin and Jenny Durham, 4 each; Krystal Parsons 3 and Heather Adams, 2.

The sixth grade team has five wins against only one loss.

ary 1, 1975, and want to hunt in Kentucky, you are required to complete the free 10-hour hunter education course and pass the written exam before you head out to the field. (Only hunters exempt from carrying a Kentucky hunting license and children under 10 are exempt from this requirement.)

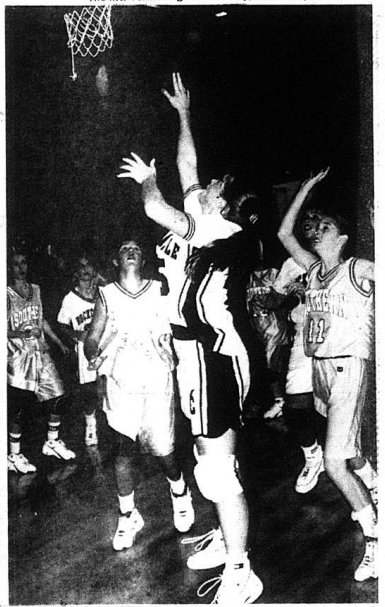

A bow-hunter not in possession of a firearm while hunting may carry a valid National Bowhunter Education Program course completion card in lieu of the hunter education course card. Although children under 10 years old may hunt without a hunter education card, they must be accompanied by an adult who shall be in position to take immediate control of the child's bow or firearm at all times while the juvenile is hunting. One adult shall not accompany more than two children at one time.

The Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources offers the course around the state all year long. To find out the next course near you, call (502) 564-4336. Although there is no size limit on the classes, it is strongly suggested that you arrive early. This time of year finds classrooms filling up quickly, and those who arrive late may have to be turned away due to limited space.

Seventh grader Jessie Hayes stole the ball and went in for a lay-up against the Warriors Tuesday night.

Eighth grader Ashley Carpenter goes for two against the Southern Pulaski Warriors last Tuesday night. Carpenter had 10 points in the girls sixth win of the season.

Jr. Pro sign-up begins

The first sign-up for Rockcastle Jr. Pro Basketball for 1997-98 season will be this Thursday night, October 9th.

The elementary school girls also had a race. Rockcastle easily won as the entire team ran very hard. Morgan Kinser led the way for the girls finishing in seventh place and Rachel Killen was very close behind. This was the first chance the elementary girls had been given to compete on their age level.

The middle school girls did not have an individual meet and were forced to run with the varsity team. Cassandra Ramsey was the top middle school finisher. She ran an excellent race and placed 23rd. Fifth grader, Johnna Abney, also ran a great race and placed 30th. Seventh grader, Ashley Coutrell also ran well and finished in 45th place. Cheyenne Carmack led the varsity girls with her best race of the season. Cheyenne placed ninth overall and improved her time by 25 seconds. Brandy Reynolds also ran an excellent race and finished in 11th place. Competing the scoring for Rockcastle was Brooke Roberts, who placed 28th. Other finishers were: Jessica Cobb, 32nd; Theresa Chislum, 41st and Mindy Bullock, 50th.

The varsity girls place fourth overall.

The boys varsity team placed sixth in their competition, despite a strong performance from Stewart Abney. Stewart ran his best time of the season and finished 17th overall. Jeremiah Myers also ran well and placed 36th overall. Other finishers for the boys were: Jason Wheeler, 57th; Kent Smith, 61st; Bryant Reams, 69th and Gisten Hopkins, 75th.

Results from Berea and South Laurel will appear in next week's Signal.

9th, at Roundstone Elementary School from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. during the Little League Football games. The next sign-up time will be Thursday, October 16th, also at RES during Little League Football games. Our love was so strong it didn't compare to mild.

Every night we talk to him as if he is still here. Time passes slowly, slowly for we've shed many tears. To him is where we looked for comfort and love. For we know you are happy now in the heavens up above.

We know you're in heaven where there are no tears.

But when we talk to you it seems that you are near.

We look to you for guidance when we're feeling down. You put smiles on our faces in place of a frown.

Your love carries us higher than the wings of a dove. For we are both so special to have received one man's love.

We love and miss you,

Gospel music in sign language at Central Baptist

A group from the Deaf Baptist Church in Mason, Ohio will be at the Central Baptist Church (U.S. South) for a special presentation of Gospel music in sign language (with music background for the benefit of the hearing) on Sunday, October 12 for the evening service at 6:30 p.m.

Everyone in the area, and especially the Deaf and Hearing Impaired, is invited and encouraged to attend this service.

Pastor James Head and the Central Baptist Church believe everyone will receive a special blessing by attending this service.

Van transportation and an attended Nursery are available for this and all services of the Central Baptist Church.

There is a Difference — Come and See.

Top quartets in Renfro October 17, 18 and 19

There is a unique harmony that only gospel music's most dedicated, most talented can produce. That special, spiritual harmony is celebrated at Renfro Valley's Gospel Quartet Weekend, October 17-19.

This year's Gospel Quartet Weekend is a special celebration as Renfro Valley calls to its stage four of gospel music's best-loved, most enduring groups: The Bishops, The Perrys, J.D. Sumner & The Stamps and The Singing Cooks.

Tickets to the Gospel Quartet

Weekend concerts are $10.00, $12.00 (preferred seating) per concert, plus tax and handling. Reservations are recommended and may be made by contacting the Renfro Valley Box Office at 800-765-7464 or 606-256-2638.

Gospel music is celebrated each week at Renfro Valley in the Mountain Gospel Jubilee (Saturdays at 3:30 p.m.), the Gatherin' on Sunday mornings and the Renfro Valley Barn Dance, Fridays and Saturdays at 7:00 p.m.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chastean

"Delayed"
Worship services were well attended over the weekend at the Fairview Baptist Church. Sunday School attendance was 118 for which we are thankful.

Well, I haven't sent in my column for awhile but I've been busy with church work and canning. Etc. So please forgive me.

Rev. Kale Conner filled in for our Pastor both services Sunday. Bro. Penzol was in Georgia with his family attending the funeral of Mrs. Penzol's mother, Mrs. Bernice Dixon.

We extend our deepest heart-felt sympathy to the family of Mrs. Bernice Dixon who passed away at the Berea Hospital on Thursday morning, September 25. She was a member of our church and was such a wonderful lady, such a devoted Christian who loved her Lord, her family and her church. She will be greatly missed. May God comfort her family in our prayers.

We enjoyed so much the Gideon speaker, Bro. Ronald Fenton, on September 21st. These men are doing a great job and need our prayers and support.

We wish a speedy recovery for Larry Burdette who submitted to heart surgery recently and remains a patient in the Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington. We miss him at W.R.V.K. Renfro Valley. He is a fine man and loved and respected by many friends.

We miss so much some of our elderly people who are unable to attend worship services any more. Among them are Mrs. Vida Richmond, Mrs. Mary Cape, Mrs. Gladys Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hale, Aunt Edith Mullins, George Blair and Gertrude Anderkin. Bless their hearts, we love them all!

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy McCall of Springfield, Ohio recently visited at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hallie Alexander. Other recent guests have been Eva Reed, Jennifer Gabbard, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isaacs, Susan Lovell and daughter and Mayme Gregory.

Mrs. Ardilla Tinch and Mrs. Thelma Miracle of Ohio spent a few days here last week visiting relatives, especially Ardilla's mother, Mrs. Edith Mullins of Smider.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cope of Pasadena, Texas are here visiting their mother, Mrs. Vida Richmond and Mrs. Mary Cape, enroute here they stopped in Georgia, to visit their daughter. Other visitors have been her children, Jean Hayes, Helen Cope and Mr. and Mrs. William Cope.

Some of our company have been my brother, Trip Reppert, Fran Gabbard, James and Joyce Seals, Wayne and Carolyn Lewin, (Barrett of Indiana.)

Please remember our church and Sunday School. God bless you all.

McGuire of Richmond, Indiana; Bobby Abney of Covington; Ed Chastain; June Decker; Rosedilla Dalton; Carol Portman; Steve and Mac Chastain; Doris, Christine and Gary Dalton, all of Louisville.

Matie Burgess of Boreo, California; Connie Coffey of Centerville, Indiana; Walter Coffey; Bob and Lois Petrey; Jim and Wallace Duncan, all of Cincinnati.

If you were there and we omitted your name, please forgive us and give us another chance next year. We'll spread the word around and let us aim for a larger turnout. See you then.

Mary Laswell walks over 2000 minutes in Diabetes Support Group program

People with diabetes are in better control of their blood glucose levels if they watch their diet and exercise routinely. The Rockcastle County Diabetes Support Group recognized the need to incorporate exercise into their daily health management plan; therefore they organized a walking program and then make a contest out of it to challenge one another to walk. Members of the group have been keeping a log of the time spent walking for the past few months. Each person developed his or her own routine based on personal ability. The group then challenged the Clay County Diabetes Support Group to do the same.

At the September meeting of the diabetes support group, the logs were totaled and the winner announced. Each member who walked received a Walk For The Life of It T-shirt, donated by the health department. The group donated one hundred dollars to be awarded to the grand prize winner. Mary Laswell from Brodhead was the grand prize winner! She accumulated over 2000 minutes of walking time. She contributes her success to setting a routine and sticking to it rain or shine. Mary not only became healthier due to her effort, she also is healthier. She lost over 10 pounds and her blood glucose levels are reduced naturally. The Diabetes Support Group and the Health Department congratulate Mary on her success.

We have not heard from the Clay County Support Group, but we are confident we out performed them!

For more information on the walking program, or the diabetes support group, contact Beverly Sexton 256-2242. The next support group meeting is Monday, October 20, 6:00 p.m., in the lower level of the Home Health Building.

Three graduate from Cooper/Clayton Smoking Cessation program

Cora LaPerin, John Campbell and Danny Kirby recently completed the Cooper/Clayton Smoking Cessation Program at the Rockcastle Health Department. The Mt. Vernon Signal provided complimentary meals to the graduates. Cora, John and Danny were all heavy, long term smokers. Their combined cigarette consumption was 10 packs per day with an average of 30 years each as smokers. They are now non-smokers.

"I felt so good to tell a doctor "NO" when he asked me if I was a smoker. I never thought I would be able to say that again," said Danny. That statement was also voiced by Cora and John.

The Health Department congratulates Cora, John and Danny on their accomplishment and thanks Pizza Hut for their support!

A Cooper/Clayton Smoking Cessation Program will be offered by the Rockcastle County Health Department in cooperation with the American Cancer Society.

Cost? The comprehensive program, with 24 one hour sessions, is free. The Cooper/Clayton Smoking Cessation Program normally cost $200.00 plus the cost of nicotine patches or gum. But, through special arrangements with Drs. Thomas Cooper and Richard Clayton, The American Cancer Society is authorized to offer this special program at no charge. You only have to provide your own nicotine patches or gum. When? A one hour session will be held on Tuesday, October 14th from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. in the Health Department across from City Hall. Registration? Non necessary - just come on in!

During the last ten years, Thomas M. Cooper, D.D.S. and Richard R. Clayton, Ph.D. developed this highly successful smoking cessation program at the University of Kentucky. For more information about the Cooper/Clayton Program, contact Beverly Sexton at the Health Department 256-2242.

Annual October Trail Ride and Pig Roast held

The annual October trail ride and pig roast was held at the farm of Roger, Patricia and Tony Bullock located on Highway 1249 in Rockcastle. The ride was led by Tony and Roger led the trail ride. Ron Gedeon and Gary Kidwell did the cooking. They served up roasted pig, roasted turkey and a variety of other meats. The food was provided by Patricia Bullock, under the shade of two tents on a 30' x 8' table, where approximately 275 not only ate but were entertained by the Victory Boys and The Sand Spring Outlaws bands. A great time was had by all.

There were as many as 60 horse rider participants and 10 wagons. People from as far as Indiana came to enjoy the weekend. After a hardy thanks to the Bullock's, Patricia Bullock in particular, a sincere appreciation for Ron Gedeon and Gary Kidwell, every body said goodbye and they'd be looking forward to next year.

Poet's Corner

Innocent Eyes
By Melissa Coffey
It was a hot summer night
I was standing on a long pier,
I was thinking of a wonderful time,
where you were here.
We were so in love, and blind to the world,
Through our innocent eyes,
A boy and a girl,
Time goes on, but the memory won't fade.
When I hear that old song,
I can't help thinking about the love
our two hearts made.
One time I'd like to go back
To see better without so innocent eyes.

One time I'd like to do that,
If I could find away,
Now that innocent eyes have faded.
On the night we met,
We danced across the floor,
From our first embrace,
We were hungry for more,
Time goes on in my memory, remembers your sweet face.
Then, when you hear that old song,
Do you ever stop thinking about the love we once made.
One time I'd like to go back
To see better with not so innocent eyes,
One time I'd like to do that.

The Book Fair Continues Through Friday!

The RCMS Library is currently holding a book fair. Your child can still visit the fair, as it runs through Friday. All proceeds will go towards purchases for the new library.

We encourage you to read to or with your child. Reading is an activity which will last a lifetime!

Yearbook Order Forms

Enlosed with Report Cards

This year, the yearbook sales will be conducted differently. There will be no sales during school hours, as an order form was enclosed with your child's report card.

This order form and $15 should be returned to school with your child and given to their homeroom teacher. The deadline for returning the order form is October 17th. Don't delay!

There is no extra charge for your child's name to be on his or her yearbook, and everyone will have their name on the yearbook they order.

Y-Club KYA Deposit Due

Friday, October 10th

If your child is a member of the Y-Club and plans on participating in the Kentucky Youth Assembly, the $10 nonrefundable deposit is due this Friday, October 10th.

If your child is in the sixth grade, Mr. Gabbard is the person who is taking the deposit. Seventh grade deposits go to Mrs. Miller and eighth grade deposits go to Mrs. Singleton.

The registration fee for KYA is $172, which includes hotel lodging and meetings, administrative class, insurance, program materials, awards, and Governor's Banquet costs.

All fees must be paid in full by Tuesday, November 4th. The Kentucky Youth Assembly will be held December 11-13 at the Executive West in Louisville and the Capitol Building in Frankfort.

There is an information packet in the office if you wish to know more about KYA.

PTA Membership Drive Ends Soon!

The membership drive for the Parent Teacher Association will be wrapping up on Friday, October 24.

Membership is $3 per parent and forms can be picked up in the office or sent home with your child by his or her homeroom teacher.

Remember - your child earns points for RUST for every parent PTA membership, plus attendance at a minimum of one-half of all meetings.

PTA meetings are held every third Monday of the month at 5:30 p.m. at the school.

8th Grade Beta Club Membership Drive

The eighth grade Beta Club membership drive will end Friday, October 17th.

If your child did not receive a grade below a B, he or she is eligible to be a member of the Beta Club. All members must also keep their grades at a B or above throughout the year.

The membership fee is $10 and should be turned in to Mrs. Molly Belcher, Beta Club sponsor.

6th Grade will be taking the DRP test

Each year, we administer the Degrees of Reading Power (DRP) tests to students at Rockcastle County Middle School.

These tests assess how well a student is able to understand the surface meaning of what he or she is reading. This is very important because students who do not adequately comprehend the surface meaning of text find it very difficult to learn from what they read.

We use the results of this test to identify students who need extra help in reading, to determine which textbooks and other types of printed material are most suitable for instructional use, and to document the annual growth our students make in reading.

These reading standards reflect our goal to make sure that all students are prepared for productive employment and further learning when they graduate from high school.

If you wish additional information about your child's performance on this test or in the classroom, please feel free to contact the school at your convenience.

Tiger Pause

We will once again be collecting pop can tabs at B.E.S. for the Rockcastle County Extension Program to donate the proceeds to the University of Kentucky Children's Hospital. Students may bring these to the FRC as the collect them. Tabs will be weighed at the end of April 1998 by Mr. John McQuay to get a total number in pounds of our contribution.

Family Night is Thursday, October 16, at 6:00 p.m.

Parent-Teacher Conferences have been scheduled for Tuesday, October 28 from 1:00-7:00 p.m. The annual P.T.A. Fall Festival will also be held this time. Watch for more information.

Lost and found items not claimed by Friday, October 17, will be sold in the micro-society marketplace beginning the following Monday. Please hand your child come to the Family Resource Center to look for lost articles or feel free to stop in yourself.

Local students part of record-breaking class at Transy

Final enrollment figures for fall at Transylvania University show full-time enrollment up in Transylvania's 21st century. Over 90 percent is a new five percent - 979 to 1027; and up student enrollment - 327 freshmen and 16 transfers - is the same as last year's all-time high for new students.

"We are extremely pleased with this year's enrollment," said President Charles L. Shearer. "The 1997 freshmen are outstanding in every measure of academic strength, and they join an academically strong student body."

Transylvania is consistently ranked in national publications as an outstanding liberal arts college and as a good value. Transylvania is included in Money magazine's College Guide; The National Review

College Guide: America's 50 Top Liberal Arts Schools; Guide to 100 of the Best Values in America's Colleges and Universities; Peterson's Top College for Science; Peterson's Guide to Competitive Colleges and the Smart Parents Guide to College.

Transylvania is ranked among the top 100 national liberal arts colleges by U.S. News & World Report.

Located in Lexington, Transylvania University is a private four-year liberal arts college. Founded in 1780, Transylvania is the sixteenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States and the first college west of the Allegheny Mountains.

There are three students from Rockcastle County attending Transylvania University: senior Tracy Todd and freshmen Jessica Albright and Bethanie Hammond.

EKU Alumni from Rockcastle County invited to Homecoming

The approximately 430 Eastern Kentucky University graduates residing in Rockcastle County are invited to the Richmond campus October 25 for Homecoming '97.

Thousands of alumni are expected to come back to Eastern for a fall weekend full of floats, football, fun and fellowship with former friends and faculty.

Saturday's events kick off with an open house at the Mary Frances Richards Alumni House at 9 a.m. followed by the Homecoming Run and Parade at 10:30 down the traditional Lancaster Avenue route. Advance entries for the race are $10 per entry, entries after October 22 are $12. For more information about the Run, call 606-622-1244. To register a band for the parade, call Chris Hayes at 606-622-1429; for non-band entries, call Mary Doug Arthur at 606-622-1266.

The largest tailgate party on campus, the Colonel County Fair, follows at 11 a.m. in a new location; the lot across the by-pass from Roy Kidd Stadium. The Fair will feature fun for all ages: concessions, carnival booths and entertainment.

"Eastern has many alumni and friends in Rockcastle County," said

Larry Bailey, director of the Division of Alumni Affairs, "and we always love to see them back on campus."

The weekend also includes the 30-year reunion of the Grantland Rice Bowl football team, as well as the 15th year reunion of the Pioneer Bowl. In addition, various departments, colleges and organizations will have their own receptions, brunches and other events, some at the Colonel County Fair.

"All the activities are family-oriented," Bailey emphasized. "Homecoming at Eastern is always a community celebration."

The Homecoming game, at 2 p.m., will be with the Colonels against Ohio Valley Conference rival Tennessee Tech. The queen coronation will be held at halftime. Game tickets may be reserved by calling the EKU athletic ticket office at 606-622-2122 or, 606-622-1266 in Kentucky, 1-800-262-7493, ext. 2122.

After the game, a reception for alumni and friends will be held until 6 p.m. at the Arlington Motel Barn.

For more information about Homecoming '97, call the alumni affairs office: 606-622-1260 or, toll free in Kentucky 1-800-262-7493, ext. 1260.

Three earn Certified Medical Assistant credential

Debra J. Hayes, CMA earned the prestigious Certified Medical Assistant (CMA) credential by passing the June 1997 American Association of Medical Assistants' Certification Examination.

Debra J. Hayes is a graduate of the medical assisting program at Kentucky College of Business in Richmond and is employed by Dr. Orson Arvin and Dr. Tony Arvin in Mt. Vernon and Portmadame Health Information in Lexington.

The Certification Examination, administered by AAMA's Certifying Board, tests clinical and administrative knowledge needed for competent medical assisting practice.

Although medical assistants are employed in a wide range of health care delivery settings, medical assistants are the only allied health practitioners trained specifically for the physician's office.

There are over one million medical assistants working in the United States. According to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, medical assisting is projected to be one of the fastest growing occupations through the year 2005.

The American Association of Medical Assistants is a professional association headquartered in Chicago, Illinois. In addition to sponsoring the Certification Examination, the AAMA provides continuing education programs and other benefits for medical assistants.

Brenda S. Merritt, is a graduate of the medical assisting program at Kentucky College of Business in Richmond and is employed by Berea Hospital Healthcare Express in Berea and an instructor at the Kentucky College of Business in Richmond.

The Certification Examination, administered by AAMA's Certifying Board, tests clinical and administrative knowledge needed for competent medical assisting practice.

Although medical assistants are employed in a wide range of health care delivery settings, medical assistants are the only allied health practitioners trained specifically for the physician's office.

There are over one million medical assistants working in the United States. According to the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, medical assisting is projected to be one of the fastest growing occupations through the year 2005.

The American Association of Medical Assistants is a professional association headquartered in Chicago, Illinois. In addition to sponsoring the Certification Examination, the AAMA provides continuing education programs and other benefits for medical assistants.

Extension Home Economics

Need or Greed?

By Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

The average American uses far more than his or her share of our planet's resources. And we generate more trash, by a long shot, than any other citizens of the world. A similar imbalance is reflected even within our own country.

Compared to other industrialized nations, the United States ranks first in billionaires and number one in big homes and number one in homelessness. And while we're last in savings, we lead the world in private consumption.

During recent decades our habits of consumption have expanded significantly. Shopping has become one of the most popular away-from-home activities. Not surprisingly, many teenage girls report that shopping is their favorite activity.

As we consumer more, we have more to take care of and more debt. We drain the earth's resources, contribute more to pollution, and spend more time on the job. The average North American works 20% more today than in 1973 and has 32% less free time. If, therefore, due to loss of higher paying jobs, some individuals have been forced to work more hours just to break even.

Circle of Simplicity* author Cecile Andrews recommends that we ask ourselves a series of questions before making a purchase. The following Universal Shopping List is drawn in large part from Dr. Andrew's work:

- 1. Do I really need this? Is there anything I can use instead?
- 2. Will this item bring enjoyment and beauty into my life?
- 3. Will it benefit others?
- 4. Will this item help me to engage in life more fully?
- 5. Is the cost of the item worth the time it takes to earn the money to buy it?
- 6. Could I buy it used? Borrow it? Rent it? Share the purchase with someone else?
- 7. How will this purchase affect the environment?

In our country and around the world, the differences between the "haves" and "have nots" are quite extreme. Each of us can play a small yet vital role in helping to bring more balance to these extremes.

By streamlining our lives in simple, satisfying and comfortable ways, we help to stretch our world's abundant resources so that the basic needs of all can be more fairly met. Every time we consume, recycle, reuse, share, or forgo a marginally important purchase, we make a difference through our actions and by our example.

Powdery mildew causes more rapid water loss through foliage so water plants sufficiently to prevent drought stress. Wet the soil, not the foliage. Mulch well to conserve soil moisture.

Reduce plant stress by avoiding mechanical injuries from lawnmower and string trimmer damage and controlling insect pests. Follow good sanitation practices to keep overwintering spores from causing disease problems the following year. Remove and destroy fallen leaves and prune out and discard dead branches.

Powdery mildew is unique in that you can see the disease-causing fungi without a microscope: this isn't the case with most other pathogens. Signs of the disease are white, dusty growth on the leaf surface, primarily small young leaves. Symptoms on larger leaves are patches of dead areas, reddish discoloration and a rolling inward. Leaves eventually turn yellow and drop.

Dogwood anthracnose symptoms on leaves appear as dead spots with dark margins and eventually lead to twig and branch dieback.

Conservation farm plans and compliance

By John E. Graham
District Conservationist

Now is the time to review your farming operation to insure that you are following the requirements of the conservation farm plan you signed up for your local Natural Resources Conservation Service office (the former Soil Conservation Service). Status reviews or farm checks will be conducted this coming Spring to check to see if landowners are following the four basic requirements of their conservation farm plan and the 1985 Food and Security Act Farm Bill that congress passed. There are four basic requirements that will be checked on each farming operation during a status review. They are: 1) Waterways to be left in good during plowing and planting; 2) Cover crops to be sown in the fall of the year and/or residue left on soil surface to protect soil over winter months (measures should be made in the spring of the year after planting); 3) Sod based crop rotations and 4) Contour or across the slope planting and plowing.

Status review farm tract numbers are chosen by a random computer sample taken in Kansas City, Missouri. Tract numbers to be checked for each county in the United States comes from this random computer sample and sent to each county office to be checked.

Since this review will be conducted in the Spring of 1998, it is VERY IMPORTANT that cover crops and waterways be sown this Fall. All cover crops are supposed to be sown on highly erodible cropland by November 1, 1997. Waterways should always be left out in sod when plowing or planting. Now is the time to sow cover crops if not already sown. Now is the time to reseed or seed waterways so they will be in good fescue sod when status reviews are conducted in the Spring.

Please review your farm plans insure that you are following the crop rotation you signed up for on each one of your highly erodible fields. Make sure you are following the sod based rotations signed up for on each field.

All crop fields should be plowed and planted on the contour or across the slope of the land. This means no plowing or planting should be done with rows or plow furrows up and down the hills. All plow furrows and planting should be done across the slope of the hill.

Please don't hesitate to give me a call at 256-2541 or stop by my office at Rt. 4 Box 374, Highway 150, Mt. Vernon, if you have any questions about all or any of the four above mentioned requirements of your farm plan. If you are selected for a 1998 status review for the Spring of 1998 your farming operation will be checked for these four requirements. Farmers not found in compliance could lose eligibility for loose price support on tobacco, will lose eligibility for Government Farm Loans and lose eligibility to participate in Government programs. Please make every effort to be in compliance.

Dogwood Anthracnose Declining—Powdery Mildew Flourishing

Dogwoods have long been a favorite tree, ushering in Spring with their white blossoms and giving brilliant color in the Fall with their red leaves and berries. However, your tree may be under attack.

Anthracnose, only recently the scourge of dogwood trees, is on the wane in Kentucky. However, in its wake comes powdery mildew—a potentially more devastating disease in these important native trees in ornamental settings.

According to John Hartman, U.K. College of Agriculture Extension Plant Pathologist, five years ago we didn't see powdery mildew in dogwoods. Now, many dogwoods are in terrible shape.

Powdery mildew is attacking dogwoods early in the growing season and poses a significant threat to trees. Although this fungal disease doesn't kill trees, it weakens them and makes them more attractive to pests such as dogwood borers that will kill infected trees in the long run.

For most plants, late season powdery mildew attacks are not as serious because the leaves have finished the year's work and plants are beginning to shut down for the winter.

Dogwood anthracnose tends to attack trees primarily in moist forests and heavily shaded landscape areas. But powdery mildew is becoming a problem in all home landscape locations. While anthracnose requires a wet leaf surface for infection, powdery mildew only needs a high humidity situation. On ornamental plants, there are many different kinds of powdery mildew but they are host specific; that is the type that attacks one host but won't infect a different host.

U.K. Specialists advise gardeners to consider using a preventative fungicide spray when the tree is important to the landscape and has shown disease susceptibility to prevent infections.

Apply the fungicide in the spring after bloom as a preventative measure. A fungicide won't do anything good after the tree is infected. Be sure it is labeled for dogwoods.

Homeowners can reduce disease problems by promoting landscape conditions that discourage infections. Air circulation around plants, ample soil moisture and good sanitation practices will reduce the chance of infection.

Since most dogwood diseases thrive under moist or humid conditions, circulating air promotes more rapid leaf drying and thus less disease. Space plants apart and prune them when necessary to increase air movement. Since dogwood anthracnose tends to be in highly shaded areas, plant trees where a morning exposure to sun will enable them to dry quickly.

The USDA Service Center will be closed Monday, October 13, for Columbus Day. We will re-open Tuesday, at 7:30 a.m.

Congratulations is extended to the staff of Rockcastle Farm Service Agency. Each individual employed was recognized with a Certificate of Merit from the Ky. State FSA Office for demonstrating a high level of performance during peak work times and for providing Farmers Home Administration.

Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) sign-up #16 is scheduled for a 5 week period between October 14 - November 14. This is the second CRP general sign-up since Federal Agricultural Improvement and Reform Act of 1996 amendments to the Food Security Act of 1985.

CRP is designed to improve America's natural resources base. Landowners enter into contracts with the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) to enroll erodible and other environmentally sensitive land in contracts for 10 to 15 years. In exchange, they receive annual rental payments and a payment for up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing approved practices. Under Sign-up #16, the CCC will continue to evaluate and rank all eligible CRP offerings using an Environmental Benefits Index based on the environmental benefits that would potentially accrue if the land were enrolled in the CRP. Maximum CRP payments will be determined based on county average dry land acre or cash rent equivalent rates adjusted for site-specific, soil-based productivity factors.

FSA continues to seek voters and candidates for the upcoming County Office Committee election. With today's changing farm economy, it is essential that the committees represent the wide variety of producers who make up the business of production agriculture. To work best, the county committees must represent the whole of local agriculture. By seeking diversity, FSA will bring a greater range of expertise, different perspectives, and a broader understanding of the various business and marketing aspects to the committee's work. In the end, the decisions the committee make work on behalf of all area farmers. FSA, needs everyone's help—from voters to active participants as candidates for committee membership. There are some 2500 committee seats up for election this year—one third of the national committee membership. There are some 2500 committee seats up for election this year—one third of the national committee membership—and the deadlines are approaching fast. Deadline to accept a voting petition is October 27.

Tobacco marketing cards will be mailed out in early November to producers who have their required paperwork on file. Each producer receiving a check at the warehouse for the crop should have an AD1026 (sodbuster/swampbuster) on file AND Federal Crop Insurance or an FSA 570 Waiver of Insurance. Each farm having tobacco planted should complete an MQ-38 Eligibility to Receive Price Support (Pesticide Paper). If you have not completed these forms, please contact the FSA Office.

October is Fire Prevention Month

Residential fires are the top danger to children. Every year, over 1 million children are treated for burns and other fire-related injuries. These are the leading causes of death for children 1 to 4 in Kentucky. The worst part... most of these injuries and deaths are preventable.

"The first step is to prevent a home fire from occurring," said Sharon Rangers, R.N., of the Kosair Children's Hospital Office of Child Advocacy. "Anyone who is responsible for a child's safety - including parents, grandparents, babysitters and older siblings - should have a basic understanding of how to reduce the risk of a fire in the home."

"The next step is to teach the kids about fire safety," added Rangers. "Children should be taught to be safe from fire. These are adults. They often hide under beds or in closets thinking they are safe."

When a fire starts in the home, time is precious. Children should be prepared and know what to expect so they can react quickly. They should be properly prepared ahead of time, he or she will have a better chance of escaping the fire safely. Kosair Children's Hospital offers the following suggestions for protecting your children:

Install smoke detectors. A working smoke detector should be located on each level of your home and outside each sleeping area. Test the batteries monthly and change them at least once a year. Keep smoke detectors clean - dust and cobwebs can impair the sensitivity. A working smoke detector cuts your chances of dying in a fire in half.

Plan and practice two fire escape routes. Have two ways out of every room in case flames or smoke block one of the exits. If a door is hot, use an alternative route. Teach children to crawl under the smoke and get out of the house immediately.

Designate an outside meeting place. In case of a fire, get out of the house immediately. Don't stop for anything and do not go back into a burning home. Once outside, all family members should go directly to the meeting spot so they can be accounted for quickly.

Teach children to "stop, drop and roll." Children should know what to do if their clothing catches on fire while leaving the house.

Be the best way to prevent fire-related injuries and deaths is to eliminate potential fire hazards. Kosair Children's Hospital provides the following tips:

Keep flammables, matches and other heat sources away from children at all times. Store them up high and out of reach. Teach children that matches are a tool, not a toy.

Throughout your home, place non-slip mats on all stairways. Cover all unused electrical outlets. Don't overload electrical outlets or extension cords.

Use a metal screen on your fireplace and have your chimney cleaned regularly.

Keep electric and kerosene space heaters out of children's play areas. Never leave a child unattended in a room with a space heater or a fire burning in a fireplace.

Houseplants aren't working properly, have them repaired.

Keep paint, gasoline, solvents, fertilizers, pesticides, pool chemicals and household cleaners stored outside of reach of children's reach and if possible locked up. Do not store near a heat source or open flame.

Use extreme caution with cigarettes. Don't leave smoking cigarettes in ashtrays and never smolder in bed.

Kosair Children's Hospital is Kentucky's only full-service hospital dedicated exclusively to children. We have a strong commitment to the health and safety of all children. Since preventable injuries are the number one killer of children in the United States, we're leading the way in teaching parents, children and caregivers about injury prevention. For more information on keeping your child safe, please call us at (502)629-KIDS (5437) or write Kosair Children's Hospital, ATTN: Mailbox 59-4, P.O. Box 35070, Louisville, KY 40232-5070.

Dear Editor,
I feel a public note of congratulations is due all participants and organizers of the very successful Bitter-sweet Festival held on Main Street in Mt. Vernon. I was very impressed with the way the festival committee conducted the fall celebration, and a lady I met from upstate New York said she had never seen a community display itself in such fine fashion. My personal congratulations to Bernice McHargue, Vicki Cox, Gary Hensel, Buddy Cox and others who organized the weekend events, and to the City of Mt. Vernon employees for dressing the town up so well, and, I understand, to the floral artists who handled so many of the calls. I think it's just great to see all three towns in our county host festivals and homecomings. These are great ways to bring cohesiveness to our community. The only bad thing about being a successful volunteer is that, next time, the volunteers find themselves "drilled." I hope the City of Mt. Vernon's Bitter-sweet Festival "drills" the same committee next year. Wishing the City of Mt. Vernon many years of successful festivals. I remain,

Most Respectfully,
Barry Carlotta

These qualified persons will be more than glad to meet with your group (at no cost) to discuss the latest knowledge and changes which we are all experiencing in our health program as well as other issues as the living will, power-of-attorney, home care, long term care and many more. The Knoxville Comprehensive Breast Center will be open for service beginning at 8:30 a.m. For information call 1-800-456-8169.

The Festival will present top entertainers including Jerry Isaacs, The New Dawn Gospel Singers, Whitley County Extension Homemakers, Bryan Black and Ron Marguardt. The Memory Museum will take us back to our grandparents days with many items on display, crafts and other items of interest. The old fashioned dress theme will enhance this memory and friendship. The many door prizes will be worth your attendance.

It is impossible for us to know the many services in our community available to the fulfillment of a better life. If anyone in this capacity wishes to know more about the activities or would like to be apart please call 528-4207.

Livingston and Lamero was our designated clean-up site. Fifteen volunteers filled three pick-up trucks to overflowing with trash from two dump sites and the roadsides. We all wore the tee shirts furnished by the Kentucky River Authority.

Audrey Bishop and I want to thank everyone who helped, especially Wendy's for furnishing sausage and biscuit sandwiches for breakfast and Super Saver for furnishing our lunch and all the Pepsi and Mountain Dew we could drink! David Barron, who picks up aluminum cans seven days a week on Rockcastle County roadways, helped us also. Thank you, David.

We are planning other community events to call attention to illegal garbage disposal in our county. Let's all do our part to clean up the trash from both public and private property.

Dear Editor,

I would like to call attention to the RCMS football team. I'm from out of town and I came Thursday night to watch my nephew play. My nephew is a "Rocket". At half time the score was 41 or 43 to 0. Rockets had the game. What happened to the coaching staff. Did they see "Blood"? There were the second string of players for the Rockets that either didn't get to play or maybe no more than 30 seconds the rest of the game. Does only the elite or who's who of RCMS play? The second string of players come to practice every day, they come to the games and all the get to do is take space up on the sidelines.

Coaches, would it have hurt you to put the second string in, even if North Laurel made a touchdown. A win is a win.

I believe your school's our County's mission statement says something about building character. Coaches what character are you teaching, beat your opponent to the ground then rub their nose in it.

I hope that someone will look closely at your football (social program).

I hope my nephew will learn more about winning at the high school than he has at RCMS. I truly was ashamed of Rockcastle (my home I had grown up in). Have you lost sight of the child? Does only the stats count?

HERESAY

By: John Norman Meadows

PRECIOUS MOMENTS, CHILDREN OF THE 1970s, greetings and suppers to you and yours from my modest abode, which I deem to call Nod's Little Acre, located in the heart of the enraptured land of Wald, home of the late James P. Zimdther, long-time chimney sweep, and part-time grave digger for Baptists, who said,

"There's no substitute for conscience unless it's knowing you're being watched."

Well, a-blessa my soul in the bosom of Abraham! This spell of earnestness whether is nothing short of haemutous. (I know "haemutous" isn't in the dictionary, but it ought to be "Supernals" and "summers" too — and a handful of other words I've conjured from week to week in this column.)

But my Chow-Chows are distressed. They thought the weather was here to stay. I explained to them that the only thing they can count on is my love for them. Mame, the elder of the three, said their feelings were mutual and that she appreciated growing old along with me — aches and pain bearing notwithstanding.

Speaking of conscience, beloved, I recall seeing a Disney flick (sorry, NBC) years and years ago in which a little cricket, named Jimmy, counseled a boy named Pinnochio, who was wont to lie when in a bind. Said Jimmy to the puppet who would be a real boy, "Let your conscience be your guide."

That saying made an impression on me because I had Pinnochio's penchant for prevarication. I could whip up a whopper at the bat of an eye. After seeing Pinnochio, I didn't give up my habit of equivocation, but was more keenly — and cautiously — aware that I was doing wrong.

But shucks, beloved. I can't say that tale-telling puppet story was the only cause of my feeling of guilt. My "hell-fire and damnation" Baptist environment did a lot in the formative years of my life. Baptists then must have had a list of a thousand things you could go to hell for.

When I was a little tyke, not yet in school, something caused me to let out a "bad word" — and Momma overheard it. (This remembrance is not an embellished tale. Momma told it to me when I was a teenager.) Momma did not spank me, which was sometimes the case. Instead, she just said, "If you and your Daddy don't quit your cussin', you're going to go to hell."

If I ran as fast as I could from our grocery store to the feed store that Daddy managed I climbed up in his lap at the desk and said, "Daddy, if me and you don't quit cussin', we're going to go to hell." I was afraid for both of us because I had picked up my cursing ability from Daddy. Could he ever lay you out!

Daddy looked into my frightened face, and said, "Your mother's been talking to you again, hasn't she?" (Momma was only a few paces away behind the feed store door.)

Now when Momma told me that tale, she did so because she thought it was humorous. And it was.

But maybe it wasn't. Put a fear-like that in a child's head, along with Jimmy Cricket-like admonitions and Pinnochio catostrophes, and mix in a heap of the "worm theology" that ruled back then — put that mix in a kid's head and you could have a pretty serious case of "worm theology."

"Worm theology," dear hearts, is a term derived from the first stanza of Isaac Watts' hymn, Alas, and Did My Savior Bleed, which goes:

Alas, and did my Savior bleed
And did my blood
Would he devote that blood
To do what I desire that he should

Isaac Watts was greatly influenced by the theology of John Calvin who emphasized the utter extremities of an infatuated Holy God and an infinitely fallen, sinful mankind. (In the sixties, I think Baptist hymnal editors, not completely in tune with Calvin and Watts, amended the last line of the above hymn to read, "For sinners such as I?")

Calvin and Watts, in my biblical opinion, were right on the mark. But when preachers, Sunday School teachers, grade school teachers, and parents major on the headed-to-hell worm theme as a means of scaring a child into "being good," curious, even catastrophic, effects can occur. I can't say I was the most guilt-laden kid on Richmond Street back in early forties. I recall a day back then it was in summer time because I was barefoot (a barefooted, which is allowable) a customer on my grocery cart about a "break" in one of the "uptown" stores, and said the sheriff was ought to get him, that he was going use "the bloodhounds" to pick up the thief's trail.

Not long afterwards, I was playing under one of the big maples that formed a line between our store property and the Oscar Hilton home, which also had some large maples. Folks, when I spied the sheriff (or whoever it was) with two bloodhounds on leashes, coming round the bend of Richmond Street at the Dixie Boone Hotel, I grew so frightened that I somehow climbed high up into ones of those thick-trunked maples and there, under the hounds had sniffed far past our property.

If that isn't a talk-ridden kid, what is? I hadn't "broke in" anywhere, ever. My "go to hell" sins at that time were lying, cursing, non robbery. But I got a job on that day.

I've thought about that event many times over my good and bad years and have come to the conclusion that, although only a child, I was subconsciously aware that I had been using a proclivity for "chevy," or worse. Someone wrote somewhere that every soul has the propensity to be an Adolph Hitler or a Judas. I think that someone was correct.

I've also thought a lot about Jimmy Cricket's advice: "Let your conscience be your guide." And I think Jimmy, bless his chirping little heart, was right up to a point. What he didn't say is that as we age we learn to shut down or turn a deaf ear to conscience, so that conscience is never heard. And when I recall conscience crying out to me. And sadly, I recall when my Conscience was so seared by "rationalization," I no longer heard His cry. (Am I the only Waldsonian in that boat?)

Now and then something "awful" transpires — sometimes in the lives of those I knew in childhood — and I say, "How could he do that? How could she do that?" But then I remind myself that Conscience is often rejected when our emotions or dollars are in the driver's seat.

Dear hearts, there are two types of people: those who sin and get caught, and those who sin and don't get caught.

There are also variations of sins. There are the biggies like drunkenness and drug addiction, adultery, fraud, and violence — against which there are written laws.

Then there are those "little" sins that are as legal as the day is long and are as immoral as hell it hot. I'm thinking about those amass fortunes by selling things for more than they're worth to innocents who don't know worth. And those who charge what they will because we must have their services or products? Or those who take advantage of us in our moments of weakness? I dare not be any more specific lest I be sued, which is legal — and a good way to amass a fortune.

Beloved, I don't know how to bring this rambling attempt at essay to a conclusion. Should I urge parents to be careful how they teach their children right and wrong? Should I remind us that the mind can turn a "wrong" into a "right"? Should I recommend that we all catch up on Calvin or read Jonathan Edwards' immortal sermon, Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God. Or should I suggest we stick with Garfield and George Carlin.

I could just close out by saying that if there is no just and righteous God, then let the good times roll. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you — only do it first. But, beloved, I must add that if there is a just and holy God, then there is not one among us who does not need a Savior.

Ah, dear hearts, I must take leave of you and go tend to Tyson, my big, black Chow friend. He's been quite ill lately. So, until next week — the Almighty willing — give a measure of preponderance to the opinion of the late Elias R. Gitton, long-time Waldian architect and builder of silos, and part-time reciter of Shakespearean sonnets who said, "Conscience is that impediment that is so rudely interrupts when money is talking."

Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

Thanks to everyone that visited us at the Bittersweet Festival. We had a lot of local people and visitors from at least six states. I thought this was very encouraging since we had never had this large a turnout before. I also want to thank all my staff for sharing their time with me at the booth. I had a great time but I did get sunburned out of it. We shouldn't complain since it wasn't cold or raining.

We sold a good number of books but there is still a large number of books for sale at the library. We're hoping more of you will come by and visit with us and look over these books for sale and all the other interesting things available at the library. For those people who have not come by the library recently, you will certainly see a great change when you do come this way. We now have a new roof on the building and our parking lot has been newly paved. The landscaping still has to be done but we have been assured this will be finished soon. The Board of Trustees and all the staff want to personally thank our fiscal court members and Judge Carlotis for getting this work done and when any of the library patrons see the magistrates or the judge, please thank them, for helping to make it nicer for the library. This will make it so much better about parking and we won't have to worry about leaks in the future.

We are planning a Halloween Party for the children again this year. We want to make some changes in the program since there was such a confusion with about 70 or 80 children trying to decorate pumpkins at the same time last year. We are going to try a different approach to this part of our program. We will have pumpkins for sale at the library starting October 20 and we are asking the parents to come in and choose one and take it home for the children to decorate. Then it would need to be brought back in no later than the 29th of October. There will be prizes for the best decorated pumpkins. If you have your own pumpkins for decorating, this would be fine with us. This would eliminate some of the chaos and give more time for the costume contest, storytelling and the refreshments. We don't want to cut down on the number of children participating, we just want everyone to have a fun time. All children through the age of 12 are eligible to dress for the costume contest. For more information call the library at 256-2388.

I applied for a matching grant from the LIBRA Foundation and have received word that our grant is available but we have to have donations in the amount of $350 and they will then give us $700 to purchase books for children. I think this is great but I do need some donations. If you would like to help us, bring in your donation to the library by October 30th. This will certainly help our children's section of the library. All donors will receive recognition.

I want to thank all my friends that I don't see very often for remembering my birthday and some of them say they read my articles all the time. I appreciate this and your thoughtfulness. Friends are wonderful to have and something you don't want to lose even if your only contact is cards and articles. I really miss visiting with those people that I came in contact with when I was bookmobile librarian.

We have all been really pressed for time here at the library with the Bittersweet Festival and other happenings but I will have some book reviews in my next article.

NOTICE

Rockcastle County Schools Special Education Programs are in the need of volunteers to serve as surrogate parents.

A surrogate is required to be appointed by the district when:

- no one can be identified who meets the criteria of "parent",
- a parent is identified but efforts, including registered mail to the last known address, fail to locate the parent; or
- the child is a ward of the State (i.e., the parent's rights have been terminated by a court of competent jurisdiction). A child or youth is a ward of the State when legal responsibility to make decisions regarding the welfare and education of the child or youth has been assigned to a State agency or a representative of a State agency.

The surrogate must be an adult; have knowledge and skills to represent the child; and have no interest that conflicts with the interest of the child. Employees of any agency involved with the care or education of the child are not eligible to serve in this capacity.

If you are interested in serving as a surrogate or would like more information, please contact Shelby Reynolds, Director of Special Education, or Tammy Gabbard, Assistant Director of Special Education at 256-2125 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Very few people, in my experience, are willing to give up almost every minute of their spare time for the benefit of the kids in their community the way that Bill Adams of Letcher County has done over the last several decades.

A self made man who started his own plumbing, electric and carpentry business in his youth, Bill spent evenings and weekend nearly year after year in Letcher County, voluntarily providing leadership for organized, athletic recreation in the area served by Letcher High School.

He made sure the little league fields had back stops and bases and that they were playable. He practiced and he labored and providing the materials with his own money.

He raised money for uniforms, recruited coaches and coached himself. He tutored kids to practice and to games, the summer months he would frequently miss half a day or more of work to get a load of kids and their equipment to an out-of-county baseball game.

In the winter months he made sure kids got to Saturday basketball practice sessions, and during the four years that I was in high school I can't remember him missing a basketball or baseball game no matter how far away it might have been. If there had been any recognition for names, one fan, Bill would have won it hands down. But he wasn't interested in glory for himself. He took his satisfaction from the achievements that his own two sons and dozens of other kids in the community received.

Last week, I picked up the Mountain Eagle, Letcher County's premier newspaper, and noticed that one of their sons, Dickie, had just been named head coach for the Whitesburg High School girl's varsity basketball team. If you follow high school sports you already know that the Whitesburg program is one of the most successful and most envied in the state.

A chip off the old block, Dickie has spent the last 25 years of his life helping run the family business, teaching during classroom hours and working with kids the rest of the time that he's awake.

After completing a highly successful college basketball and baseball career at Roanoke College in Southwest Virginia, Dickie was eminently qualified to be a head coach almost anywhere, had he been willing to move away from Letcher County. But instead of leaving, he has been content to play supporting roles in the community he loves much like his father did in my younger years.

I called Dickie the other night to offer my congratulations. Whitesburg High School has done well for itself. So has the Letcher County School system, by hiring one of its own in a head coach position. Unfortunately, most rural counties have so little confidence in themselves that they're always thinking the grass is greener on the other side of the fence so that's where they go looking for coaches.

I hope with my heart that Dickie Adams proves that old adage wrong and that Whitesburg High School becomes a model for other communities to follow. I'm sure that Bill is bursting with pride. And I can't think of anyone who better deserves to feel that way.

have much of which to be proud in Southeast Kentucky. "The Secret Communion" Part II: "The Road" premiered at Somerset's Rural Development Center. Danny Dutton's opus about life began in 1996 with "Part I: The Changeling and the Bear." "I saw that production and was so impressed that I made sure I came back for Part II."

Speaking of "The Road," Dutton calls it a "danced opera of collective and individual quests for the Sacred." The dance part is intriguing, as talented dancers portray the journey through life that we all have to make. The music is wonderful. (Don't worry. This is not Italian opera where the words are incomprehensible.) Dutton traveled to the southwestern United States and Japan and Ireland in his preparation for writing "The Road." Dutton's music reflects his travels and his heritage and is a delightful combination of Appalachian, folk, gospel, Mexican, Native American, Irish, Japanese and several other influences I'm sure I missed. At the same time, it is down-home enough that this hillbilly could understand it.

"The Road" is the kind of creative, innovative theater that one might expect to see in New York City or Chicago. Yet here it is, right in the middle of our corner of Kentucky, and the man who wrote, performed in and directed it all is native of Pulaski County.

I first heard of Danny Dutton when he was a student at Pulaski County High School. One of his teachers told me about this incredibly creative student she had in one of her classes. She was amazed at his gifts and trying to find ways to challenge him in his growth.

My claim to fame is that I once acted in a play with Danny. Due to some freakish coincidence Danny and I were chosen to do a song about Joseph (the Old Testament guy) and had to sing it with a French accent. (I will let your imagination run wild how that might have sounded.) Danny describes "The Road" as a "quest for the Sacred." Danny works outside the usual boundaries. In searching for the sacred, "The Road" has no crosses, spies, Bibles, menorals, Buddhas or other well-known religious symbols. His reporting of the search is done in terms of Native American symbols.

Danny Dutton is a resident creative genius here in Southeastern Kentucky. He shares those who would stereotype this part of Kentucky as inhabited by some dumb hillbillies.

Clearly this young man is on an exciting spiritual journey. Thanks, Danny, for sharing that journey with the rest of us.

SMALL BUSINESS
FOCUS

BY JACK FARIS

SCRAP THE IRS TAX CODE AND START OVER

The IRS Tax Code is beyond repair. American small-business owners know this better than most, and they are ready to take action. On September 22, in Independence, Mo., the NFIB launched a nationwide petition drive that encourages small-business owners, their employees, families, patrons-- anyone-- to sign a petition calling upon the President and the Congress to abolish the IRS Code. This grassroots effort will sunset the code by December 31, 2000, and demand a simpler, fairer tax code that all Americans will understand.

The petition drive will now move across America, with a goal of gathering one million signatures by June 1998, the opening of NFIB's Congressional Small Business Summit in Washington, D.C. Ultimately, the petitions will be presented to Congress as a "million reasons" to stop talking about the code and to take the kind of action that taxpayers want.

The Campaign to Abolish the IRS Code will succeed. Already, there is support in Congress. Within two days of the campaign kick-off, members of Congress introduced bills calling for sunseting the code by the end of the century. If anyone tells you it can't be done, remember when the Berlin Wall went up and everyone thought it would be there forever-- now it's gone. Furthermore, nothing is impossible when you have the grassroots support of millions of small-business owners.

Obviously there are many problems with the IRS Code. What began, in 1913, as a one-page form, 14 pages of tax law and a top tax rate of just 7 percent has evolved into the unwieldy monster we know today. Consider this: The current tax code is seven million words. Lincoln's Gettysburg Address is 269 words. The Declaration of Independence is 1,337 words. The IRS' simplest return form, the EZForm 1040, has 33 pages of instruction. The IRS Form 1040 now comes complete with 76 pages of instruction.

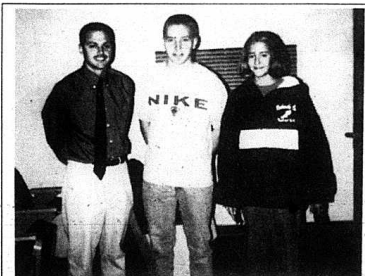

"Our country cannot remain prosperous and dynamic if we continue to over-tax and over-burden American production; if we continue to search only for ways to eke out revenue from sources that are fast drying up."

The current solution to our tax woes is to push Congress into "tax reform," but even the positive steps that take place involve modifying the current code, making it even longer and more confusing. Tax reform does not occur when the tax code is expanded and complicated by even more verbosity.

Our country stands on the threshold of great progress, and we can get there. Tear down the IRS code. Replace it with a system that advocates lower taxes to create jobs and opportunities; one that fosters growth to encourage work and savings. Replace it with a system that is fair for all taxpayers and simple enough to understand; one which is neutral so that people, not government, make choices. Replace it with a system that is visible and accountable so that people know the cost of government; one that is stable so that people can plan for the future.

Congress will hear the collective voices of small-business owners who want the IRS Code eliminated. Congress cannot ignore one million voices. It's time to act.

Jack Faris is President of the National Federation of Independent Business, the nation's largest small business advocacy organization. For information call 1-800-NFIB-NOW.

Kentuckians Unfairly Put Themselves Down

We Kentuckians are unfairly stereotyped by other Americans. Some of those from the North and West see us as dumb, uneducated, barefoot hillbillies. (What's wrong with being barefoot, anyway?) Television shows such as The Beverly Hillbillies have contributed to their picture of us as these pitiful creatures.

It is sad that sometimes we Kentuckians join these other folks in putting ourselves down. Those of us who live in southeastern Kentucky have an inferiority complex about our part of the state. We act as if anything from Lexington, Louisville or Cincinnati is automatically better than what we have here. Many of us have said, "I went to Lexington to (pick one) buy a new car, purchase a computer, have my teeth worked on, have my eyeglasses made, see a doctor or lawyer or counselor, find a cultural event, or get a better deal."

I saw something last Saturday night that reminded me again that we
