Library News

By Geraldine Robbins

The Halloween Party was a great success. We had about forty children in costumes. The costume contest were Corey and Kasey Powell dressed as Frankenstein and Mrs. Frankenstein. All the costumes were great and I certainly could not have made a decision. The winners in the pumpkin decorating were Kendra Leger, Anthony Mason and Shane Rowe. We hope to have an ever better party next year.

All of the children received a treat and a gift. Thanks to all the parents that took time to bring the children in and also for putting in a lot of time making the costumes.

The library is now opening at 10:00 a.m. on Thursdays. This will make all the days have the same opening hours. We hope this will help some of our patrons that may want to come in earlier on Thursday.

My husband and I did take a short vacation last week. We went to Davidson, North Carolina, to visit our son, Terry and family. While there, I was looking at the Charlotte Observer, their local daily newspaper. There was a large article written about the novel COLD MOUNTAIN, that I reviewed last week. It gave a lot of information about the setting, including a map of the area. The main character, Inman was based on a relative of Charles Frazier. It was very interesting. I have the paper if anyone is interested in reading about the novel. To me, this makes a book more interesting to know some of the facts behind the story. We also went to Florida for a short visit with some relatives that we hadn't seen for several years. All this we did in five days so we didn't stay in one spot very long. I'm always glad to get back home though to see all the family here and get back to work. Especially since my desk is piled high with mail and other things that have to be sorted through and several new books to be processed. I don't like to get behind with my work and especially with the books. We always have patrons waiting for the new books. We have received enough donations and with money from our book sales to match the grant from the LIBRA Foundation. This will allow us to purchase $1,050 worth of children's books. This is a great opportunity for our library. Only four other libraries in the state were chosen to receive this grant. One of the stipulations was that the money had to come from donations and not our general fund.

Some of our new books are 1. FINDING LAURA by Kay Hooper. ...Over the years, the wealthy aloe Kibbourne family has suffered a number of suspicious deaths. There are no witnesses, never charged; only doubt and unsolved questions. Now the charming and seductive Peter Kibbourne has been found stabbed to death in a seedy motel room. And for Laura Sutherland, nothing will ever be the same, because the struggling artist was one of the last people to see Peter alive and one of the first to be suspected of his murder. If only Laura hadn't gone to the Kibbourne estate sale...but all her life she was collecting mirrors and when she found the tarnished brass hand mirror, she knew it was the same, because she had been looking for all these years.

So when Peter shows up at her door asking to be the boy in the mirror back, Laura refuses. But she never imagined that his visit would entangle her in the dangerous intrigues of a powerful dynasty.

2. BEYOND THE PROMISE by Barbara Bickmore. ...Cat Browning's moment of triumph has finally come in a Boston courtroom. A brilliant young lawyer with a promising future, she's just won her first big criminal case, but still, she questions the direction her life has taken. Putting her ambitions on the back burner, she decides to join her best friend Annie on a vacation in the tiny town of Cougar Valley, Oregon-300 miles and a world away.

While the majestic splendor of eastern Oregon's ranch lands and the warm intimacy of small town life cast a spell on Cat, it is her idyllic romance with the irresistible Scott McCullough that truly captures her heart. But she chalks it up to a whirlwind romance and goes back to Boston. Then Scott turns up on her doorstep and quietly takes her away. This is only the beginning of a sweeping novel from a master storyteller that takes readers into a world of natural beauty and savage elements of love and loss, laughter and tears.

A non-fiction book by David Brinkley...EVERYONE IS ENTITLED TO MY OPINION. From America's favorite television reporter-wise and hilarious humorist on the always fragile human condition. In this one-of-a-kind book, we get the undiluted David Brinkley. He marvels at government regulations that require paint cans to bear a label reading "Do not drink paint." He reminisces about a White House that once welcomed casual picnickers on its lawn. He observes that "if we can put a man on the moon, we could put Congress in orbit." He skewers lawyers, bureaucrats, Washington insiders, hypocrites of all stripes. He commemorates absurdity and hence suffers fools gladly. This collection is Brinkley at his unbeatable best.

Livingston News

Mr. John Kelley spent several days with his father, "Bug" Kelley and Mrs. Carrie Kelley.

Mrs. Myrtle Durham, her two daughters, Patricia and Shirley and her niece, Judy Howard of Ohio spent last weekend in Tennessee. All had a wonderful time.

Fairview News

By Mrs. Hubert Chasteen

Hello everyone.

Another nippy Monday morning, but it is fine with me. After all we should be thankful that our Heavenly Father has given us another day upon this earth, and we should be glad and enjoy it.

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his regular appointment at Fairview over the weekend with a large attendance at both services. Sunday School attendance was 128. We are really blessed with our youth and children, and so thankful for the parents who attend with their children.

We extend our deepest heartfelt sympathy to all those who have lost loved ones recently, including the families of Rev. William Howard Meadors of Brodhead, Mrs. Trethie Cope of Mt. Vernon and Edward Lee Dean of Cynthiana. They all have our love and prayers.

We all still miss our elderly people who are not able to attend our services any more. Some are disabled and one of our dearly beloved members passed away. Mrs. Bernice Dixon (Mrs. Emily Pensol's mother) departed this life on September 25th at the Berea Hospital. Graveside services were held in Valdosta, Georgia on September 28th. We all loved Mrs. Dixon, she was such a kind and friendly lady, who loved her Lord, church, family and friends. May God comfort her loved ones at this time. We love them all.

On Sunday afternoon, October 26th two of our young men were ordained as deacons, and that night two were added into our church family by baptism. All in all we had a glorious day.

Visiting Mrs. Mary Cope recently were Mrs. Helen Powell of Berea, and William Cope and stepson of Eubank.

Hubert Chasteen visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hale one day last week. Guests of Mrs. Hallie Alexander over the past few weeks have been Mrs. Anna Carey, Mrs. Kim Wattenbarger and children and Mrs. Kenny Carey and children, all of Crossville, Tennessee. From Hudson, Florida were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bae; Floyd Brooks and friend, Sue and Mr. and Mrs. Randy Mickey and two sons. Others have been Mr. and Mrs. David McFarland and son of Berea, Frank Begley of Lexington and her pastor Rev. John Dodson and grandson.

Hubert and I visited our son and family, Junior and Lynetta Chasteen and son, Rodney in Berea on Sunday afternoon.

Some of our recent guests have been Wayne and Carolyn Chasteen of Berea, Mr. and Mrs. James Seals and daughter, Kim of Fort Lick; Howard Harding of Disputanta and Mr. and Mrs. Ben and Elsie Hunsucker of Berea. Also Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hudson of Lexington. The Hudsons also visited my brother, Tip Reppert and family.

Please attend church and Sunday School every time you can. The way to happiness; keep your heart free from hate, your mind free from worry, live simply, expect little, give much. God bless you.

"IT IS WRITTEN"

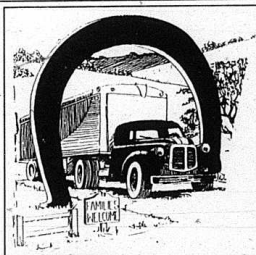

We continue our study of the beatitudes by looking at Matthew 5:6. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled." The term here does not suggest a mild hunger pain that we sometimes get when it gets close to meal time, but a very intense desire that we would have after doing without food or drink for a few days. I read one time where one liken this desire by the following illustration. If a person were to hold you under water, after about 60 seconds what would be your desire? Getting rid of your cat? Getting another job? Painting your house? Putting out of a few wrinkles? Or would it be the desire to get a breath of air? Yes, this would be our burning desire! Even so, we must have this burning desire and thirst for righteousness. Peter said it this way, "As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby." 1 Peter 2:2. One thing about a little baby, when they are hungrier they will let you know, and no, is not the answer they want. We must want the truth, desiring it more than anything, and will not let anyone anything get in the way. Human wisdom will not satisfy, the doctrines of men will not satisfy, the vain reasoning of false teachers will not satisfy, but only the righteousness of Jesus Christ found in the word of truth will satisfy this longing! Yes, those who seek shall find.

Tiger Pause

Don't forget there has been a schedule change for the Junior Girl Scout Troop. No meeting will be held on Thursday, October 30. Girls will meet on Thursday, November 6, and 13th instead.

If you have plastic bags from the grocery store or other shops please save those and send them to the FRC in use in the micro-society mall. Every purchase is put in a bag so we need lots of them! Recycle and send back the ones your child brings home.

The G.E.D. class is meeting at Brodhead City Hall each week on Thursday from 9:00-12:00. For more information contact C.A.P.

Congratulations to the following B.E.S. students for winning in their age category at the county level 4-H poster contest. Fourth Grade, 3rd place, Courtney Cordier; fifth grade, 1st place, Angela McKinney; 2nd place, Chris Croucher; 3rd place, Britany Perkins. Great job!

Join us tonight, Thursday, November 6, for Family Night. Games for all ages will be offered. Family Night begins at 6:00 p.m. in the gymnasium.

P.T.A. will meet next Thursday, November 13, at 7:00. Fall Festival results will be discussed. A special thank you to all the parents and community volunteers for their time, energy and craft and food donations. Without you and your time the festival would not have been possible. Parents that sent cupcakes and other baked items may pick up their cake pans and containers under the mailboxes in the front hallway. Congratulations to Mrs. Sandy Burdine for winning the faculty door prize from P.T.A.

The Brodhead Family Resource Center Advisory Council will meet at 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 13, in the Family Resource Center room.

The Log Cabin Folk Dancers from Cane Run Elementary in Louisville, will be coming to our school on November 13 and 14 to teach different international dances to our students. These dancers have traveled throughout the United States and Europe performing. On November 13, the Log Cabin Folk Dancers will be having an open workshop for students, parents and community members to participate in dancing activities beginning at 6:00 p.m. At 7:00 p.m. the P.T.A. will be meeting and afterwards the dancers will perform for the P.T.A. and guests. Mark your calendar for November 13, at 6:00 p.m. and come join us in the fun.

The home of Jim Earl Gray was heavily damaged by fire Sunday morning. Lightning may have been the cause of the fire, but an arson investigator was on site Wednesday to help determine the actual cause of the fire.

Saturday fire heavily damages Gray home

A fire that started in the basement and worked its way through a vent, at the home of Jim Earl Gray on Hwy. 150 Saturday night, heavily damaged the structure. Brodhead firefighter David Ott said that a motorist traveling from Stanford noticed the fire around midnight. Ott said firefighters were able to save many items on the first floor, because the fire actually went from the basement to the second story through the duct, but that the second floor was heavily involved when firefighters arrived on the scene. Ott said an arson investigator was scheduled to inspect the site on Wednesday to help determine the cause of the fire, although arson is not suspected. Ott said that lightning may have been the cause since there was a lightning storm in the area before the fire was reported. Gray and his family were renting the home from Jim Cass of London and were not at home at the time of the fire. Mt. Vernon firefighters assisted Brodhead at the scene.

Council decides against pool

Amphitheatre, track included in park project

By: Richard Anderkin
The Mt. Vernon City Council voted Monday night to not build a swimming pool in the new city park on Williams Street. The council heard two proposals from designer Bill Carman of Lexington for the 2.5 acre site, formerly the Thrifty Lumber Company. The council opted to go with the proposal that does not include a swimming pool, but will include an amphitheater, walking track, two picnic shelters, six horseshoe pits, basketball court, a tennis court and a grassy area. A fence separating the park from the railroad will also be constructed. There will be about ten parking spaces on the park property. Carman told the council they should buy all pre-fabricated equipment so that any liability with a possible design flaw would go back to the manufacturer of the equipment and not the city.

Mayor Gary Cromer said the project would cost the city an additional $250,000 to complete. With the pool the project would have cost $450,000 more. The one item that would have been eliminated by the pool would have been the grassy area. Mayor Cromer said that Carman who has been very adamant about her displeasure with the park site, voted against the proposal. The rest of the council in attendance, Karen King, Lee Keene, Wayne Bullock and Terry Owens, voted for the proposal. The council also learned Monday night that they would be receiving a grant for $39,218 to hire an additional full-time police officer. The COPS grant from the federal government is the second one received by the city this year. All total, the city will hire four new police officers, three of which have already been selected.

Lawson pleads to non-support

One of Kentucky's top "dead beat dads" will likely end up jail after a guilty plea in Rockcastle Circuit Court on Monday. John William Lawson, 33, was indicted in May of this year, for flagrant non-support of his two children. According to court records, Lawson owes his former wife, Kimberly K. Lawson, $41,328 in child support, dating back to December of 1988. Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Mike Pratt said that Lawson offered to pay $350 last week to dispose of the case, but Pratt said that was only about $41,000 shy. Pratt said that when Lawson is sentenced on December 22, he would recommend a jail sentence.

Mink home robbed Monday

Police are investigating a robbery at the home of Vonie Mink in Livingston on Monday. According to Ms. Mink, someone broke out a back window to her home while she was at work at the Board of Education's central office. Ms. Mink said several items were stolen, including jewelry. Kentucky State Police are investigating the break-in.

County, city, state offices up for grabs

The first Tuesday in November came and went in Kentucky this week and for the first time in many years there was no general election. But that doesn't mean elections are not on the minds of many Rockcastle Countians due to the fact that next year is a county election year. Rockcastle County Clerk Norma Houk said this week that changes in Kentucky's election schedule made it unusual in that there was no general election. But next year nearly every county and state office will be up for grabs, as will, city offices, state positions and school boards. There will also be a race for U.S. House and Senate. Races in Rockcastle for circuit judges, circuit clerk and commonwealth attorney and Supreme Court Justice will not be held until the year 2,000. Houk said that anything wishing to file can do so until January 27. To file for the May primary, a candidate for county office must be at least 24 years old, except for County Clerk, where a candidate must be only 21 years old; a resident of the state of Kentucky for two years and a resident of Rockcastle for one year. The filing fee is $50 and the filer must have at least two signatures from registered voters in Rockcastle County. All non-partisan candidates will have until August 11 to file for the November general election. Those races include school board seats in districts one, three and four and all city council positions throughout the county. The Burley Co-op represents over 148,000 family farmers in Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Ohio and West Virginia. Kuegel, a 44-year-old Owensboro tobacco farmer, is the 10th Kentuckian elected Co-op president since its 1921 founding. At the same meeting, Henry West was re-elected as first vice president. West, 53, of Paint Lick, is also president of the Council for Burley Tobacco. Others re-elected for 1997-98 are:

The only thing I like about the weather we've been having over the last several days is that it puts Loreta into a soup-making mood. And there are few things I like better than my wife's home-made soup.

The kids and I have already polished off a huge kettle of vegetable-beef and we're more than half way through the same kettle that started out nearly full of brown bean soup.

Loreta can basically empty the refrigerator. Part of a head of cabbage here, some carrots there, two or three onion heads that were started on and then wrapped in cellophane, three or four little parcels of ground beef that she froze to keep from spoiling, whatever canned vegetables she finds in the pantry, a couple of bay leaves, some salt and pepper and whatever amount of water it takes to cover the concoction and within an hour it's thick, hearty soup.

The thing that amazes me though, is that it always turns out tasting the same way even though it's the only thing she cooks without following a recipe. I've stood by and taken careful notes while Loreta made her soup and then tried later to do it myself. I still don't know what I'm doing wrong, but my soup never comes out in the same league as Loreta's.

I've watched her make bean soup which involves a pot of cooked pinto, some diced onions, carrots and tomato sauce along with the seasoning, and I promise it's one of the things I expect on the menu if I ever get to Heaven. But when I try to make it myself, the dogs won't even have anything to do with it.

Lots of other stuff that Loreta makes, especially Italian dishes, I don't even want to learn to do because it's far too complicated and I can understand why she needs to pull out the cookbook. She does things with spaghetti that involve whole pieces of chicken or shrimp cooked in a sauce that I can't even pronounce, much less prepare. But anybody ought to be able to make a kettle of a soup.

The kids tell me that I need to stick with frying fish and making combread which they allow that I can do better than their mother.

And while I envision myself as a chef of sorts, the kids also allow that most of my efforts amount to "making another mess that Mom's gonna have to clean up."

Leaps and bounds towards the future

Dear Editor: Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress, has seen amazing growth since its 1983 beginning as the Rockcastle River Community Land Trust to continue tackling local economic conditions.

The community land trust, organized by Don Martin, was developed to assure land above Livingston was protected and used in ways to meet the needs of those closest to the land.

The grassroots organization was also determined to find alternative methods of earning income -- thus LEAP was born. Today, the office is located at the former grocery store at Calloway on Hwy. 25 -- four and one-half miles south of exit 59 on I-75.

Ina Taylor, director since 1990, has been instrumental in guiding the organization. Along with help from other members of LEAP, she has organized many of the existing programs. Once focused on the Livingston area, LEAP has expanded its programs to help low income people in all of Rockcastle County.

Appalling conditions still prevail in Rockcastle County. Poverty is chronic for over 1,100 families. According to The Kentucky Deskbook of Economic Statistics, little reduction in family poverty has occurred in over 10 years. LEAP, a non-profit organization, is attempting to make a dent in this situation. Currently, seven programs are operated by LEAP to help community residents improve their lives.

The Sweet Sorghum Project, established in 1984, assisted local farmers in the production of sorghum as a supplement to their income and an alternative to tobacco. Sorghum is a traditional Appalachian sweetener, used as a nutritious substitute for sugar.

In 1986, another program was introduced. Opportunities for Women (OFW) provides employment to enable women to obtain skills necessary to operate their own business or enter the workforce. OFW markets and develops specialty gourmet food products, such as sorghum, sweet toppings, honey and mustards, marketed under the "Golden Kentucky Products" trade name.

In this tobacco, "Shop at LEAP" is located at the Calloway location, Golden Kentucky Products and Countryside Crafters, a modern cooperative of crafters, sell their products through this unique outlet. The Shop at LEAP is a direct response to changing economic conditions. The former grocery store which served local residents is now serving the expanding tourism industry. We have the customers that come from different parts of the state and as far away as Florida," says Countryside Crafters' coordinator Marie Faulkner.

A very sustainable program that LEAP sponsors is High Protein International. Farmers can start a herd of animals such as milk cows, beef cows, sheep or goats, for extra food and income. When a participant receives livestock, they are required to return the first born female offspring to LEAP for redistribution to another family.

Other projects directed at those Rockcastle families in need are the Home Repair Program, the Christmas Fruit Box, and the Garden Seeds program. Each provides immediate and long term solutions for food and shelter.

Finally, the Rockcastle Farmers Market is a place where local farmers can sell their produce. For the past two years, the Farmers Market has provided fresh produce to WIC recipients. Expectant mothers and children received fresh garden vegetable by presenting coupons they received from the local health department, thus supplementing their regular WIC coupons.

To become a member of LEAP a moderate membership fee is charged. Members are eligible to participate in any program offered by LEAP and receive the quarterly newsletter called "LEAPS AND BOUNDS." The newsletter tells you what is going on within the LEAP organization. Another benefit of a LEAP membership is access to the Central Appalachian People's Credit Union in Berea. Through this organization, moderate and low-income families have access to financial services, such as household loans, otherwise denied to them by main line banks.

Today, LEAP has benefited many local residents. For example, the programs have given women the incentive to start their own businesses such as produce and fruit farming, chicken and large-bird farming, dairy, beef, sheep or goat operations. As well as, more and bigger gardens are sprouting and many folks live in better homes. Even though LEAP has come a long way since their beginnings in 1983, LEAP still needs assistance to operate. LEAP is not a government funded organization and receives assistance from individual people, churches and volunteers. Volunteers such as Frank and Darlene VanHoove from Canada, Frank is presenting working on marketing plans to continue marketing the "Golden Kentucky Products." This initiative will enable "Golden Kentucky Products" to expand and increase the number of women working and produce sustainable revenue from product sales. The Van Hooves were replaced here by the CORA Volunteer Program and are now current residents of the county. "It is truly an honor working with the folks here in Appalachia. We are receiving much more than we could possibly give," says Darlene of her volunteer work to date.

One of the major LEAP funders is CORA (Commission on Religion in Appalachia). CORA is a coalition of church denominations and community groups who have worked together over the last thirty-three years to confront the structural causes of injustice in Appalachia. Denominational representatives focus on Appalachia's economy and ways to improve communities and support groups like LEAP that make real changes in Appalachia. LEAP was recognized and presented a certificate for terrific, magnificent and outstanding work in the area of Economic Development for the betterment of Appalachian Communities. HOO-RAY FOR LEAP!

LEAP also receives support from the people, people like you and me who work to help support program such as Opportunities for Women by spreading the word about Golden Kentucky Products. The first weekend of October 1997 saw a lot of this going on. LEAP had people in four different states promoting the LEAP Organization. Ina Taylor spent October 3rd thru 8th in New York meeting with several Reformed Church congregations. At the same time, Frank and Darlene Van Hoove were in Michigan and Ontario, Canada presenting at Reformed Church congregations. Tammy Cornett spent the weekend at the Harvest Festival at Renfro Valley promoting "Golden Kentucky Products" and her home based business along with Marie Faulkner and the Countryside Crafters. Yvonne Sowder attended the 10th 4th at Ripley, West Virginia attending the annual CORA conference. The conference was a time of learning and sharing with other community development organizations -- Ina Taylor, Tammy Cornett, and Yvonne Sowder attended the Berea Arts and Crafts Fair on October 10-12 selling "Golden Kentucky Products."

As one can see LEAP, guided by a diligent board of directors, has come a long way in the last fourteen years. There are many success stories in which LEAP has helped improve individual lives and the economy in the county in general. The love and support received from friends throughout the county guarantees successful programs for the future, and the smiles of appreciation from the people served gives hope for a better tomorrow... LEAP invites you to call (606) 453-9800 or drop in at our office to discuss how you can become involved. Maybe you have crafts or produce you wish to market or have land available for a garden or for some livestock. Ideas for these programs were initiated by people like yourself. LEAP facilities and makes them work.

LEAP wishes to thank everyone for their support and hopes this will continue as we help Rockcastle residents improve their lives and boost their self-esteem in the coming years. For more information contact Yvonne Sowder or Frank Van Hoove, (606)453-9800.

Sincerely,
Yvonne Sowder, LEAP

Dear Editor: The Bus Wreck that occurred on Thursday, October 23, 1997 had some information wrong in the story.

Joshua Whicker who was the one student treated at the hospital and released was Not Treated some three hours after the accident.

When Josh came home about 20 minutes late - which worried us as we couldn't find out why he was delayed - and informed us there had been a bus wreck and that he was hurting and could not get a good break - I, his father, immediately called our family doctor - Dr. Karen Sawyer. Dr. Sawyer said to bring him to her office immediately. When we did, that was about 3:50 p.m. I also called Mr. John Hale the Principal at the Middle School and informed him - and he informed Mr. David Perkins who talked with us at the hospital. Josh was then taken to the hospital for x-rays. When we walked into the E.R. department, it had only been about 45 minutes or less since the bus wreck - not some three hours later. Due to the other persons involved in the accident - it was about 5:35 p.m. before the x-rays were taken. We got back to Dr. Sawyer's offices at 6:00 p.m.

The x-rays showed that Josh has a compressed disc fracture and Dr. Sawyer said that he also had muscle strain - which was the cause of not being able to get a good breath.

Furthermore - nothing for any of the kids were properly checked out at the scene of the accident. The deputy asked them individually if anyone was hurting. When he asked my son this, Josh told him he was

Hammon announces

Born and raised in Rockcastle County, Hammon and his wife, Julie Anna, a nursing assistant at Rockcastle Hospital returned home to Rockcastle County in 1984.

Hammon, who currently runs a vinyl siding business, also received 27 hours of training at Eastern Kentucky's Law Enforcement school in 1985.

He is a veteran of the Korean war and served in the Marine Corp. Besides working as a state trooper, Hammon also worked in the federal prison system for four years.

He and his wife have six grown children.

This will be Hammon's first attempt at political office and at this time he has not chosen any running mates.

One major change for candidates this political season is the fact that all candidates will have to file a personal financial disclosure statement.

Mrs. Houk said the financial statement must be filed with the county's Ethics Commission, thirty days after each candidate files for office. "All county officials are required to file a personal financial statement once a year - and now all candidates will have to do the same," Houk said.

Mayor Cromer said the new officers will attend the law enforcement school at Eastern Kentucky University in January, but will probably start to work before that.

The additional police officers will give Mt. Vernon nine full-time officers and one part-time.

The council also voted to enter into an agreement with Kentucky Utilities company, which will provide for a new lighting system throughout the city.

Mayor Cromer said that once the project is complete all streets in the city would be lighted and there would be over three times more light.

Currently some light poles only have the capability of producing 500 lumens of power.

The least any pole will have, once the project is complete, will be 9,500 and the most heavily traveled streets, West Main, Main Street, Richmond Street, Hwy. 150 and Newcomb Avenue will be lit by poles with 22,500 lumens. All total over 3.7 million lumens of light will be produced by the project.

The new lights will cost the city approximately $2,100 a month, compared to the $1,100 they now pay.

The council also raised the city property taxes by .4 of a cent from 16.3 cents per $100 assessed value to 16.7. The rate of 16.5 on vehicles remains the same.

hunting and couldn't breathe good. The officer looked at him - ran his hand down his back and told my son that he could see nothing wrong and to get on the other bus and he would be sent home. At the hospital the officer asked Josh why he didn't tell him at the scene he was hurting - and Josh told him that he did tell him.

I personally find this inexcusable. Any accident, in particular an accident involving a bus and kids - each child and person should be checked by a Paramedic before being sent on home. I would hope that the school board would take this into serious consideration. I know that insurance companies do. The first thing that the school board's insurance company asked me by phone was if Josh was checked by a Paramedic on the scene, to which I responded NO.

Furthermore, the story in the paper made it sound as if Joshua was one of the rowdy kids who caused the accident - He Was Not. Josh was on the very back of the bus and, according to my conversation with Mr. Perkins, the students who caused the uproar were seated directly behind the bus driver.

I must also add this, when my son came home yesterday from school - he was very upset with the story. He was taunted all day long by other kids at school over the story and the way it was stated. And he personally requested that he speak with you - the newspaper - about this matter. And as of this morning - Friday, October 31, 1997 - after telling him I would see that the information was corrected, he still wanted to come along, and had he not been in school he probably would have.

I would appreciate that the story be corrected accordingly.

Many Thanks,
Mark A. Whicker, Brodhead

Editors Note: The above letter from Brodhead resident Mark A. Whicker says there was incorrect information in the story. That is, of course, his opinion. Nowhere in last week's story did it say his son was one of the rowdy students - none of the rowdy students involved were identified in the story. Also, police gave us the information about the three hours and they were probably referring to the fact that by the time Josh Whicker had his x-rays completed it was three hours after the accident.

District Court Judges attend Judicial College in Bowling Green

Michael L. Henry and Walter F. Maguire, district court judges for Putaski and Rockcastle Counties, recently attended a judicial college hosted by the Administrative Office of the Courts, and held at the University Plaza Hotel in Bowling Green.

Judge Henry and Judge Maguire participated in a number of training sessions on topics such as: the media process and the judiciary; local domestic violence protocols; the militia movement, extremist groups, and common law courts in Kentucky; "zero tolerance" 02 D.U.I.s; case law update; juvenile justice; the Judicial Retirement and Removal Commission; and complying with the Uniform Interstate Family Support Act. All district judges attending the college earned 14.5 hours of continuing judicial education.

Judge Henry has served on the district bench since his appointment in October 1992. Judge Maguire has served as a district judge since his election in November 1977.

Judge Maguire was honored at the conference as one of the 113 original district judges who first took office in January 1978 under the 1975 Judicial Article Constitutional Amendment.

Regional Fall Delegate meeting held at EKU

By Jeremy Reynolds
On Thursday, October 16th, Rockcastle County, along with the other FFA chapters from our Kentucky River Region, joined at Eastern Kentucky University to hold our annual Regional Fall Delegate Meeting. Several contests were held, with participants from nearly every chapter in our region competing. The competitions ranged from Land Judging and Tractor Driving, to Freshman Parliamentary Procedure and Seed Identification. Our Rockcastle County FFA Chapter was fortunate enough to have a participant in every contest held. In conjunction with the various competitions held at E.K.U., the Kentucky River Region also held its Fall Delegate Meeting to decide on several issues concerning our region. Rockcastle's Delegates serving at the meeting were Jason Whicker and Warren Whitaker.

The Land Judging Team, consisting of members Jason Whicker, Josh McClure, Jonathon Bishop, and Nick Leger, did very well, placing first in the region among many teams competing. They will move on to the State competition in November. Members of the Freshman Chapter Meeting Team who also won their competition were: Warren Whitaker, Heath Payne, Jason Allen, Dackery Larkey, Chaz Cable, J.J. Clark, Eric Denney, Justin Hall, Eric Poynter and Larry Dixon. They won against seven other regional Parliamentary Procedure teams competing. Micah Owens and Shell Gilliam competed in the Nursery/Landscape Plant Identification Contest, placing third out of many regional teams competing. Donald Bullock was the participant from our chapter in the Seed Identification Contest and finished fifth overall in the competition. The other competition held at the Regional Delegate Meeting was the Tractor Driving Contest with Rockcastle representative Kenneth Cromer placing fourth in very tight competition. We would like to commend all our members for their effort in participating in these, and various other regional and state contests.

Among the items discussed at the Delegate Meeting was the upcoming regional softball tournament which will be held for the first time this year. This year's regional meeting served as yet another example of how our Kentucky River Region is continuing to grow and improve in remarkable strides.

Students with excellent academic backgrounds are invited to apply for the program. National Merit finalists and semifinalists are automatically accepted. Beyond that, students with high school grade point averages of 3.5 or better on a 4.0 scale and with at least a score of 26 on the American College Test will be given priority. Other students demonstrating the potential for outstanding academic performance will also be considered.

Graves participates in Honors conference

Dallas Graves, a senior physics major from Mt. Vernon, was one of 25 members of Eastern Kentucky University's Honors Program to make presentations at the recent National Collegiate Honors Conference.

The event, entitled "Traditions," was held at the Atlanta Hilton and Towers. Eastern's Honors Program sent the largest number of participants and made the most presentations of any college or university in the nation.

Graves was a panelist for a discussion titled "Fiction: The Lullaby That Sings Our Imagination."

EKU's Honors Program is designed for intellectually promising students who seek a strong grounding in the liberal arts along with their more specialized major. The 28-credit-hour program includes coursework in the humanities, development of critical thinking skills and integration of knowledge across academic disciplines.

Gambling resolutions and hot air balloon featured at convention in Lexington

Submitted by Jack Bruce
The 160th annual Kentucky Baptist Convention begins at Porter Memorial Baptist Church, Lexington on Tuesday, November 11, at 8:30 a.m. Messengers to the convention are expected to vote on an anti-gambling resolution, (specifically, Video Lottery Terminals/VLT's) that will be presented by the Public Affairs Committee. A reformed, compulsive gambler, and Kentucky Baptist church member will share his own personal story as part of the committee's report during the first session on Tuesday morning.

The wildly colorful, five-story Celebrate Jesus 2000 hot-air balloon will be tethered on the corner of Man O' War Boulevard and Nicholasville Road near Porter Memorial Baptist Church on Tuesday and Wednesday from 7:00-9:00 a.m. both days. Interviews and photo ops with balloon pilot and minister-Rusty Ellison, can be arranged by contacting Monty Carter, Director of Communications, Kentucky Baptist Convention, (502)245-4101.

Kentucky Baptist's new website and other technological upgrades will be introduced during the meeting. The annual convention provides opportunities for Southern Baptists to network, share ideas, fellowship and receive motivation. For more information, contact Monty Carter or Karen Brown, Communications/Media Department of the Kentucky Baptist Convention at (502)245-4101. The Rockcastle Association of Missionary Baptist Churches is a part of the Kentucky Baptist Convention.

Rebels no match as ROCK rolls, 54-0

#17 Josh Rickels, #74 Daniel Forbes, #66 Jeremy Pevley, center Josh Jones and quarterback Chris Bishop prepare to score on

Casey County in the first quarter. Rickels scored later in the game on a run up the middle.

It was everything, everyone thought it would be - a blow-out, a mismatch, a drubbing, a massacre, just an old fashion beating.

And it could have been a lot worse for the Rebels of Casey County.

The Rebels came to the Rock like lambs to the slaughter.

With only 19 players dressed and one of the worst teams in the state, the Rockets could have easily beaten the Rebels by over 100 points.

The Rocket varsity played only about six minutes of the first quarter, and the Rocket coaching staff was as laid back as they have been in Tom Larkey's 13 year tenure.

When it was over and it took some time to be over, the Rock, their junior varsity and the freshmen (more affectionately known as the towheads by the older players) had beaten lowly Casey County 54-0. The Rock had won their ninth straight game and Casey had fallen to 0 and 10. The Rebels managed only nine yards of total offense and the Rock's three teams had rolled up 360 yards of offense.

On offense the Rockets had a lot of players with statistics - a lot of players with their name on the stat sheet for the first time.

Quarterback Chris Bishop had three yards on one completion but that was for a touchdown.

Andy Hale had one rush for 32 yards and that was also for a touchdown.

Dusty McClure carried the ball three times for 30 yards and scored one two point conversion.

To show you another indicator of how bad Casey County was, the Rockets' two main rushing backs, Andrew Carrera and Brooks Ingram, did not carry the ball at all.

But freshman Josh Singleton led the ball 11 times for 51 yards, caught two passes for 38 yards and scored two touchdowns. Not a bad night for a freshman.

Senior Josh Rickels scored a touchdown and had 15 yards on four carries.

Freshman quarterback Christopher Parsons had 85 yards on five completions. He also threw one touchdown pass. Parsons also had seven yards rushing on three carries.

Senior Cliff Matekovich scored the first touchdown of the game on a three yard pass.

Sophomore Dustin Crawford had 28 yards passing and a touchdown on his only attempt of the night.

Josh Hendrickson had 18 yards rushing on just one carry and Derrick Bussell also had a fine game.

Freshman Bussell had 14 yards on one carry and he also had 47 yards in receiving on three catches, and he scored one touchdown on one of those catches.

Two other freshmen, Thomas Coffey had four yards on two carries and Duckery Larkey had one catch for a two point conversion.

Freshman Greg Harper had 28 yards on the catch from Crawford, which was of course good for a touchdown.

Junior varsity running back, Josh Dooley had 47 yards on eight carries.

Sophomore Thomas Daugherty had ten yards on two carries and Derrick Bradley had seven yards on a carry, but he picked up one two-point conversion.

Matt Cromer had three yards on one carry, as did Heath Payne and Henry Bryant.

Defensive lineman John LaFevers scored a touchdown in the first quarter on a fumble recovery.

A total of 27 Rockets made their way into the defensive statistics.

Andrew Carrera had one tackle - a quarterback sack.

Daniel Forbes had three tackles and one sack.

Daniel Forbes had three tackles. Josh "Big Daddy" Martin had four tackles and a sack.

Besides the fumble recovery for a touchdown, John LaFevers had two tackles.

Bobby Cutliff had three tackles and a fumble recovery, as well as one sack.

Andy Hale had one tackle and Chris Bishop had two.

Dusty McClure had one tackle, as did Nathan DeLeon, Sean Smith, Wesley Falin and Chris Kirby. Falin and Smith also recorded a sack each.

Cliff Matekovich intercepted one Rebel pass as did Matt Cromer, Derrick Bradley and Derrick Bussell. Cromer also had two tackles and Bradley had four.

Greg Harper had two tackles and a sack.

Josh Seiber, Brad Powell, Brandon Bishop and Josh Hendrickson each had two tackles. Powell also had a quarterback sack.

Freshman Stephen Carrera and junior Jeff Linville led the Rockets defensively with six tackles each. Linville also recorded a sack.

Junior Jon Burdette had three solo tackles and Henry Bryant had five tackles, three of those quarterback sacks.

Last season the Rockets lost in the first round of the playoffs to a fine Boyle County team and this year they face another good team in the first round.

Lexington Catholic brings their 7 and 3 record to the Rock on Friday night. The only losses Catholic has had this season were to undefeated Boyle County, Danville and Bourbon County.

They can throw the ball, run the ball, do everything - even in the games they lost they scored a lot of points. They are very talented, head coach Tom Larkey says.

Catholic also embarrassed the Rockets in a pre-season scrimmage in which they pushed the Rockets all over the football field.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. at the Rock. Tickets will be $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for students. Rocket cards will not be honored at any district playoff game.

Season ticket holders will have the same seat as regular season games but must purchase a ticket for the game.

If Rockcastle gets by Catholic they will then likely host the Danville Admirals in week two - if they get by that they would most likely get a shot at Boyle County. That's a lot of ifs.

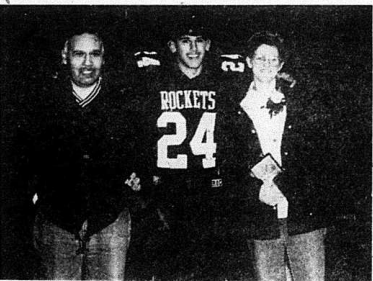

Tickets for Friday night's playoff game are $4 adults and students $2. Rocket cards will not be accepted at any playoff games.

RCMS eighth graders finish third in tourney

The RCMS Lady Rockets tuned up for the conference tourney last Thursday night with all three teams getting one for the win column at Meece Middle School in Somerset.

The seventh grade had the closest call of the three teams, down by three with 1:42 left to go in the ball game. However, Bryanna Bussell, Jessie Hayes and Vanessa Cromer each got a basket for the Rockets in the closing minute to take the come-from-behind win 42-39 and avenge an earlier season loss to Meece.

The girls found themselves down 10-8 at the end of the first quarter but a quick basket by Bussell to begin the second quarter evened the score at 10 all. The Rockets got ahead by as much as ten in the second quarter 24-14, led by 7 at half time and by six at the third quarter stop 31-25. However, the Jumpers came back in the fourth quarter and put on a 19-7 run to take the lead 33-31. The Rockets responded with a three-point basket by Amy Barnett to retake the lead but the Jumpers got two quick baskets to go ahead 37-36 and, after a basket by Allison Anderkin and another by the Jumpers, the Rockets were down 39-36 with 1:42 left in the game. That was when Bussell, Hayes and Cromer all combined to give the rockets the last six points of the game and the win.

Bussell was high point player for the game with 11 points; Hayes got 8; Barnett 7; Ashley Mink and Cromer, 6 each and Anderkin, 4.

The Meece fans were not happy with the outcome of the seventh grade game and the eighth graders bore the brunt of their displeasure, being booed as they took the floor for warm-ups for their game. But, this game was a piece of cake for the Lady Rockets as they came away with an easy 43-27 win.

Coach David Owens cleared his bench in the contest and eight Lady Rockets got in the scoring column with Leslie Carpenter and Ashley Carpenter tying for scoring honors with 11 each. Other Rockets scoring were Amanda Barnett, 6; Amber Denny, 5; Angie Boring, and Amanda Blanton, 3 each and Ashley Mink and Amy Barnett, 2 each.

The sixth grade team likewise had an easy time of it with seven Rockets scoring in the game and everyone playing.

After holding Meece scoreless in the first quarter, the Rockets were ahead 17-2 at half-time; 29-14 at the third quarter stop and the final was 38-18.

Allison Anderkin led the scoring with 16 points; Stephanie Price got 8; Krystal Parsons, 4; Heather Adams and Jenna Owens, 3 each; and Lauren Clontz and Rachel Childress, 2 each.

The conference tourney began Saturday with the Rockets seeded third and this pitted them against the South Laurel Cougars in the first game. After being ahead at half time 18-12, the Rockets fell behind in third quarter as the Cougars outscored them 15-7 and take the lead at 27-25. However, the Rockets responded in the fourth, outscoring the Cougars 13-6 for the final 38-33.

Ashley Carpenter led the scoring with 17 points; Amber Denny got 7; Leslie Carpenter, 6 and Angie Boring and Amanda Barnett, 4 each.

Because of their third seed, the Rockets had to get by Wayne County to get to the championship game. Both teams struggled in the first half with the Rockets holding a 9-8 edge half way through the game. However, the Wayne County Cardinals played some very aggressive defense in the third quarter on their full court press, the referees were looking most of the time at just how "aggressive" the defense was, and the Rockets fell behind by 22-13 on a 10-2 run by the Lady Cardinals. The Rockets put to-

In the fourth quarter, with two of their key players, Amanda Barnett and Amber Denny (both of whom eventually fouled out) in foul trouble, the Rockets came back and knotted the score at 27 all with 2:32 left in the game. The Rockets went ahead in the game 28-27 on a free throw by Leslie Carpenter but the Lady Cardinals came back with a basket of their own and two free throws with :42 seconds left to make it 31-28. Two more free throws by Leslie Carpenter brought the Rockets to within one with 29 ticks left on the clock but, with only 13 seconds left in the game, the Rockets were forced to foul twice and the second time, the Lady Cardinal sank both shots to make the score 33-20. Ashley Carpenter got a chance at one last second three pointer but it went off the edge of the basket.

Leslie Carpenter led the scoring with 14 points (6 from the free throw line); Ashley Carpenter got 9; Angie Boring scored 5 points, all at the

Carmack qualifies for state championships in cross-country

Rockcastle County's best sprinter ever remains its best long distance runner. Freshmen Cheyenne Carmack added another medal to her trophy case as she finished in third place at the Region III cross-country championship held at Green County on Friday, October 31. Cheyenne entered the event as a strong contender for the individual title and lived up to her billing winning the best race of her career, and finishing just short of first place. Cheyenne continues to rewrite the cross-country record books as she broke her own 4,000m record for the third meet in a row. She improved her time to 16:28, an improvement of 59 seconds from last year's regional championship. Cheyenne qualified for the class 2A state championships to be held on November 8 at the Kentucky Horse Park.

This is the second straight year that she has qualified for the event. Cheyenne also holds Rockcastle County High School records in the 100m and 200m dashes, as well as the 400m and 800m relays.

Cheyenne led a strong Rockcastle girls' varsity team that fell just short of a team berth at the state championships. The girls ran an awesome race, but in the end lacked the experience necessary to reach the team's goal. Sophomore Brandy Reynolds capped off an excellent season as she finished in 23rd place with a personal best time of 17:58. Sophomore Jessica Cobb showed tremendous improvement and was close behind, placing 25th with a personal best time of 18:01. Sophomore Brooke Roberts also showed great improvement as she ran a personal best time of 18:08 and finished in 31st place. Both Cobb and Roberts, improved by over a minute and half from their last cross-country meet. All three sophomores have sacrificed a great deal of time this season as they've endured both cross-country and basketball practices for most of the school year. Their perseverance was greatly demonstrated in their regional performances. 6th grader Cassandra Ramsey completed the scoring for Rockcastle and she ran well and placed 46th overall. Cassandra has had an excellent season and shows tremendous promise for the future. 7th grader Rebekah Lyons also ran a good race and finished in 52nd place. Rebekah hasn't been able to compete with the team all season as she would have liked due to basketball obligations. She has spent a great deal of time practicing on her own and will prove to be a very valuable team member for years to come. 5th grader Johnna Abney was Rockcastle's only elementary representative at Green County. She ran a very hard-fought race in becoming the youngest person ever to run at a regional championship for Rockcastle. Johnna has a very bright future in both cross-country and track. She currently holds Rockcastle's elementary school record in the 4,000 with a time of 18:57. Freshman Theresa Christum and 6th grader Amanda Ramsey did not run at regionals, but continuously improved the entire season. Theresa currently holds track records in the 100m and 300m hurdles.

The future looks very bright for Rockcastle's girls as they return every team member for the next two years. The girls should challenge for the regional championship for some time to come.

Rockcastle's boys' varsity team had an excellent meet, but was faced with inexperience and a lack of depth. Sophomore Stewart Abney ran the best race of his career and finished in 28th place out of a tough field of competitors. Stewart continues to rewrite the boys' cross-country record books as he ran an 18:13, the best ever in the history of Rockcastle County High School. Stewart's time was nearly two minutes better than his time at last year's regional competition. Stewart nearly earned a berth at the state championship with his record-breaking run. He had previously set the record with a time of 19:05 at Danville slightly over a week ago. Rockcastle's second best finisher was sixth grader Andrew Nelson. Andrew ran an excellent race and placed fifth overall. He has had an awesome middle school and elementary school career. Andrew has been a valuable addition to the team this season and will be a key member in the team's success for years to come. Freshman Jeremiah Myers battled illness the entire race, but still managed to finish strong, placing in the top 60 runners. Jeremiah has had an excellent season. Slightly over a week ago at Danville, Jeremiah broke the 20 minute mark, running a personal best time of 19:57. Jeremiah will remain an important component of the boys' cross-country team for the next few years and is also a key member of the track team. 6th grader Brandon Cameron ran a hard-fought race and placed 66th. Brandon has had an excellent season for both the varsity and the middle school. He has an excellent future in both cross-country and track.

Freshman Stephen Hopkins completed the scoring for Rockcastle. Stephen has worked very hard this season and ran a great race. He continues to show improvement and will play an important role in the boys' cross-country and track futures.

Congratulations to Cheyenne Carmack for her 2nd straight championship berth. Cheyenne will compete for the 2A cross-country state championship title at 1:00 this Saturday, November 8. Congratulations also to both boys' and girls' teams for a great season and an awesome run at the regional championship.

GOOD LUCK, CHEYENNE!

Cheyenne Carmack will compete in her second straight state cross-country meet.

Mullins, Audrey Burke, Nicole Jordan, and Michelle Rowe. The team has also just completed the football and girls basketball seasons. They would like to thank Pam Burdette and the Pizza Hut staff for helping them to earn money for their State Fair trip.

HealthNotes is a health awareness publication provided by Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center.

NOVEMBER IS NATIONAL ALZHEIMER'S MONTH

Currently, there are about four million Americans who suffer from Alzheimer's disease. And, as America's population grows older and lives longer that number is likely to increase dramatically over the next few years. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, by the year 2050 there will be about 14.6 million people over the age of 85, compared to 3.3 million in 1994.

"These kinds of statistics show that there is a real need to invest in Alzheimer's research," said Dr. Kimberly Cornelius, a physician at Rockcastle Hospital. "This is a disease that is already impacting our county and will become even more significant in the coming years."

Dr. Cornelius suggests that senior adults and their caregivers should learn more about Alzheimer's and become familiar with the symptoms.

TEN WARNING SIGNS FOR ALZHEIMER'S

- 1. MEMORY LOSS-THAT AFFECTS JOB SKILLS. It's not unusual to occasionally forget a phone number or let an assignment deadline pass by as long as you remember them later. However, if you forget things more often than usual and don't recall them on your own later, you may want to keep a close watch.
- 2. DIFFICULTY PERFORMING FAMILIAR TASKS. Forgetting to serve the potato salad that was in the refrigerator is normal, but forgetting that you prepared an entire meal may mean trouble.

3. PROBLEMS WITH LANGUAGE.

Forgetting a commonly used phrase is normal, but saying "You are the orange of my eye" may be a red flag.

4. DISORIENTATION OF TIME AND PLACE.

All of us sometimes forget what day of the week it is, but when someone forgets simple tasks, such as how to get home from work, they should see a physician.

5. POOR OR DECREASED JUDGEMENT.

Sometimes, people may get so wrapped up in an activity, they may temporarily forget they are watching a small child. Someone with Alzheimer's may forget entirely that a child is under their care.

6. PROBLEMS WITH ABSTRACT THINKING.

It is not unusual to balance a checkbook incorrectly, but a person with Alzheimer's may forget what numbers are and what they mean.

7. MISPLACING THINGS.

Be aware if someone does illogical things, such as placing their wallet in the freezer, or their car keys in the fireplace.

8. SUDDEN SEVERE CHANGES IN MOOD OR BEHAVIOR.

People with Alzheimer's may have a sudden change in temperament for no apparent reason.

9. CHANGES IN PERSONALITY.

People with Alzheimer's become uncharacteristically fearful or suspicious of loved ones.

10. LOSS OF INITIATIVE.

Alzheimer's patients can become passive about everyday tasks such as brushing their teeth or eating.

"If you or someone you love exhibits these symptoms, consult your physician," Dr. Cornelius warns. "Upon diagnosis, doctors can prescribe an effective drug regimen that will help regulate symptoms. While Alzheimer's is not curable, its symptoms can be treated."

OPERATION SAFE RETURN

One of the common symptoms of Alzheimer's patients is their tendency to wander away, unable to find their way home again. According to the Alzheimer Association, as many as seven out of ten Alzheimer patients will wander off and get lost sometime during the course of their disease.

In response to this growing problem, the Alzheimer Association has created a new program for patients and their families called Operation Safe Return. The program is aimed at building a nationwide identification network for Alzheimer patients to help track and safely return them home. Here's how it works.

Patients are enrolled in the program for a one-time fee of $25. This fee covers the cost of issuing an identification kit that includes an I.D. bracelet or necklace that the patient wears at all times, as well as clothing labels and a wallet I.D.

The ID jewelry lists the Alzheimer Association's toll-free number, along with a patient identification number. By calling the 800 number listed on the jewelry, the patient can be identified easily from a database of information. In turn, local law enforcement authorities and family members can be notified to facilitate the safe return of the patient.

Currently, there are more than 200 Alzheimer Associations participating in Operation Safe Return. To find out more, call 800-272-3900.

DISPELLING MYTHS ABOUT EPILEPSY

November is National Epilepsy Month. During November, patients with epilepsy, along with friends, families, and advocates, are actively working to educate the general public about the disease.

One of the reasons Epilepsy Month was founded was to help dispel some of the common myths surrounding the disease. For instance, some people mistakenly believe that epilepsy is contagious, but that is simply untrue.

"Epilepsy is a chronic brain disorder," said Dr. Mike Hamilton, "You cannot get it through touching, kissing, or any other airborne way. It is in no way contagious."

According to Dr. Hamilton, epilepsy is caused by underlying brain damage that can occur under any number of circumstances.

"Epilepsy can occur as a result of a direct injury to the brain or even by a metabolic disturbance in the brain at anytime throughout the patient's life. It usually takes the form of seizures and convulsions that are triggered by any number of stimuli, such as bright lights, poor diet, or stress," Dr-Hamilton said.

Another common myth surrounding epilepsy is that it occurs only in children. In fact, epilepsy can strike at any age. Most cases are diagnosed in children under the age of five, but senior adults experience the second highest incidence of epilepsy.

"Usually when an older person is diagnosed with epilepsy, it is a direct result of a stroke. However, there have been links to alcoholism, tumors, dementia, and infection," Dr. Hamilton said.

FIRST AID FOR EPILEPTIC PATIENTS

There are two types of epileptic seizures, convulsive and non-convulsive. Non-convulsive seizures usually are characterized by a trance-like state. With these types of seizures, keep a close watch on the patient to ensure they are safe from harm. When they awaken, which usually will occur after a few minutes, speak softly and do not make any sudden movements that may trigger another response.

Convulsive seizures, which can last for several minutes, usually are the most frightening because, as the name implies, the patient may begin to convulse and lose consciousness. During this type of seizure, you should:

1. Remain calm. You cannot stop the seizure once it has started. Let the seizure run its course.
2. Gently ease the person to the floor and loosen any constrictive clothing, such as a necktie.
3. Remove any hard, sharp, or otherwise dangerous objects out of the vicinity.
4. Turn the patient on his or her side so the saliva will flow from their mouth.
5. Under no circumstances should you put anything in the patients mouth while they/she is having the seizure.
6. Following the seizure, help the patient lie down and rest for as long as necessary.
7. If the seizure lasts 10 minutes or more, or the patient experiences a series of convulsions, take them immediately to see a physician.

Family: Wife, Cathy; Sons, Austin (3) and Devin (1)

Professional Affiliations: American Association of Hospital Pharmacists, Kentucky Association of Hospital Pharmacists

There are certain phrases that are often used when describing the people who work at Rockcastle, such as "caring" and "compassionate." Robert Mayne, the hospital's newest staff pharmacist, believes he can best describe his co-workers as a "team."

"I really enjoy working here because it very much is a team-like atmosphere," said Mayne. "Everyone works well together. The doctors, the nurses, the lab, everyone cooperates and makes sure they are doing what is best for the patient."

Mayne believes his biggest challenge as a pharmacist is remaining up to date with all of the new drugs as soon as they are available.

"More and more frequently, physicians are looking to us for assistance on matters such as dosages and drug interactions. There is just so much information to know, it is critical that we be well informed."

Horatio Alger Scholarship recipient Marcia Coffey attending Eastern Kentucky University

Each year the Horatio Alger Association selects two young people from each state as Horatio Alger National Scholarship recipients. For each of the past two years, one of Kentucky's two honorees has been an Eastern Kentucky University student.

This year, Mona Eads, a freshman deaf and hard of hearing major from Berea, joined Marcia E. Coffey, a sophomore accounting major from Mt. Vernon, as an Alger scholarship recipient.

Eads, the daughter of Earl Eads and Nona Eads, both of Berea, is a 1997 graduate of Madison Southern High School. Coffey, the daughter of Lewis and Barbara Coffey, of Mt. Vernon, is a 1996 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. Scholarship recipients are chosen on the basis of academic achievement, community involvement, extracurricular activities, work experience and an essay on how the applicant has overcome adversity in his or her life. Eads and Coffey each has received a $5,000 scholarship, and may be eligible to receive additional assistance.

Eads, who wrote about the challenges of growing up as the oldest child in a family where both parents are deaf, wants to teach deaf children after graduation.

"I feel like I'm good at teaching," Eads said, "and I figured since I was fluent in sign language and because of the influence my father had on me that I would pursue the deaf education field. Eastern has an excellent deaf education program, and it's close to home."

Eads is an active member of Berea Baptist Church, where she assists in teaching a class of three-year-olds. She also participates in Intersarsity Christian Fellowship activities at EKU. In addition, she is employed part-time as an office assistant at Steve Davis Accounting.

Coffey came to Eastern unsure of a major, but settled on accounting. "Eastern has such a wide variety of options I thought I'd find something," she said.

Like Eads, Coffey is active in her church, Brindle Ridge Baptist, where she plays the piano and helps to teach Sunday School "when needed."

Coffey works with four groups at Renfro Valley.

The Horatio Alger Association, founded in 1947, "focuses on recognizing outstanding Americans while providing a critical communication link to motivate and educate America's youth about the economic and personal opportunities afforded them by the promise of the American free enterprise system," according to Executive Director Terrence J. Groux.

Horatio Alger National Scholarship Recipients Mona Eads and Marcia Coffey are attending Eastern Kentucky University.

4-H Poster Contest winners announced

CRAMI begins in Mt. Vernon

The Cumberland River Alliance for Mental Illness (CRAMI) was begun in Mt. Vernon in October, 1989. The chapter has been active in serving its members and families who have a loved one who is mentally ill since that time.

CRAMI is a self-help-support group that meets once a month. The group members support educating themselves and the public on issues of mental illness. Four members have been involved at the national level and have gone to seminars in Washington D.C. where they rallied on the Capitol steps for mental health related issues. They have also gone to seminars and conferences in Nashville, Tennessee and Miami Beach, Florida. These members bring back up to date information on national issues regarding mental health.

Relationship Addictions Are Hard to Break

When I told Judy that she was addicted, she was surprised, to say the least. (All characters are fictitious.) "I've never taken a drink or smoked dope in my life!" she protested. "I don't drink coffee or smoke cigarettes. What do you mean I am addicted?"

"You are addicted to relationships," I explained to her. "You think you can't function unless you are in a relationship with a man. When you get out of one relationship, you move quickly into another. What is the longest you've ever gone without having a boyfriend?"

"About six weeks, I guess," Judy replied. "For a woman who's over 30, that's not very long, is it?"

Judy is not the only person who suffers from relationship addiction. Here are some clues to let you know if you might be addicted to relationships.

1. Waiting, hoping, longing for another person to change, show up, call, invite me, answer my letter, etc.
2. Doing anything to please the other person and/or to keep the relationship, such as losing weight, spending extra money, dressing seductively.
3. Doing anything with another person that takes me out of integrity with myself, such as having sex when I don't want to, giving up friends and/or activities, giving in to the other end of an argument even when I know I'm right.

4. Wanting to be special, believing that our relationship is different or unique.
5. Saying "I don't care" or "I don't have an opinion" or "It doesn't matter" when asked about my preference. These are times I quit thinking for myself.
6. Being with someone when I don't want to be or being with a person longer than I want to be or when it is no longer fun. Not admitting the relationship is over when it is.
7. Letting another take responsibility for me. Abdicating my responsibility for myself.

8. Wanting to be taken care of. Counting on another to take care of my needs. "I want my mommy."
9. Wanting to be like another person.
10. Being afraid I will miss something if I don't go along with what another person wants to do.
11. Putting another up on a pedestal, thinking he or she can do no wrong.
12. Saying "no" when I mean "yes," or vice versa.
13. Believing I can help another person "see the light" and become less violent, learn to trust, stop drinking, etc.
14. Using another person to control my addictions or undesirable behavior.

15. Believing that if we really love each other, we can work it out, if we just try hard enough and long enough.
 16. Continuing to try to "connect" with someone with whom I simply cannot connect.
 17. Trying to figure out what is going on in a relationship, feeling confused.
- For Judy this list helped her see that she had a relationship addiction. Does it tell you anything about you? (I would like to hear from you about this column and others—I've written. Write me at 101 Zachary Way, Somerset, KY 42501.)

Don't Wait Too Long To Attend Church

Submitted by Vallie Burtop
Don't wait until the hearse hauls you to church. If you do:

1. You will go, regardless of the weather.
2. You will go, regardless of the condition of your body.
3. There will be beautiful flowers there, but you won't enjoy them.
4. You will go, regardless of how your family feels.
5. The minister may say good things, but they will do you no good.
6. There will be beautiful music, but you won't hear it.
7. There will be heartfelt prayers, but they won't touch your heart.
8. There will be friends and relatives there, but you won't worship with them.
9. You will go, no matter how many hypocrites are there.
10. You will go, no matter how much you are needed at home or at work.
11. You will receive no blessing from the service.
12. You won't feel concerned about your clothes.
13. You will never have to decide about attending church again.

Cleaning Magic

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Cleaning is time-consuming and supplies can be expensive. A few basic supplies and equipment will take care of most cleaning jobs. Keep your supplies simple and safe to use. By using the right equipment and supplies for the job, you will spend less money and time, reduce damage to surfaces, and increase safety to you and other family members.

Some cleaning solutions can be made at home from chlorine bleach, baking soda and other ordinary household products. Others can be purchased at grocery stores or hardware stores. When buying cleaning solutions, consider the following:

- Limit the use of aerosols. Buy

- concentrates whenever possible.
- Be sure to read the label and follow the directions!! Check contents, recommended use and any cautions that may be listed.
- Be sure to match the cleaning agent base to the dirt or soil you are trying to remove. "Base" simply means dissolving agent. Water won't cut oil because it's the wrong base.
- Buy multi-purpose cleaners whenever possible. Avoid buying and storing specialty cleaners. They take up storage space and cost more money.
- Hard water buildup can present special problems on surfaces. When drops of water form and dry on a surface, spots are created by the minerals and scum that remain. Surfaces are fast and easy to clean when water spots are fresh, but harder if you wait.

- Be gentle. Don't use powdered cleansers and steel wool to grind dirt off surfaces. This will damage chrome, porcelain and other surfaces over a period of time. If you are interested in making your own economical cleaning products, contact the Extension Office at 256-2403. Request a copy of the publication entitled "Making & Using Cleaning Products - The Safe Way."

Take Good Soil Samples For Reliable Test Results

The saying "garbage in, garbage out" often is associated with computers. This adage applies to taking soil test samples too.

The result of a soil analysis is no better than the sample collected. Since a pound of soil can represent several acres, take samples that depict the area on which you want fertility data.

Take random core samples at a uniform depth throughout the area. Mix cores together well in a clean, dry plastic bucket; then fill the sample bag and take it to the County Extension Office. Analyses will be done at a University of Kentucky soil test laboratory. You will receive research-based recommendations on lime and fertilizer requirements for the crop or land use.

How many cores should you take for a soil test sample? If you are sampling a 5-acre area, take at least 10 cores; 10-acre area, take 15 cores; 20-acre area, take 20 cores. No single sample should represent more than 20 acres.

When sampling a large field, divide it into smaller areas based on soil type, cropping history, or problem areas. Label each area with a letter or number to make record keeping easier.

When collecting soil samples for a home garden or lawn, separate samples according to land use. Take separate samples for a garden, lawn, fruit trees, ornamental shrubs and azaleas, because each may have different fertility, acidity or alkalinity requirements. Take at least 10 cores for each separate area and mix them together well.

How deep you go to take cores depends on the tillage system used. Cores from tilled area should be taken to plow depth, usually 6 to 8 inches. Take cores 4 inches deep in no-till fields and pastures.

In home lawns, collect cores at a depth of 4 inches. Take cores 6 inches deep for gardens, ornamentals and fruit trees.

Collect cores at the same time each year so you can compare results from year to year. Although you can take samples through much of the year, fall and spring are the best times to take them. Don't take cores when soil is too wet because it is difficult to mix them well and they are hard to handle. The soil should be dry enough to till when you take samples.

For more information, contact the County Extension Office at 256-2403. Soil probes are available for you to check out.
