Three Mt. Vernon people arrested in Lincoln County

Five people, including three from Mt. Vernon, were arrested Thursday in Lincoln County after a home break-in in McKinney. Investigators say the alleged burglars may have broken into the wrong house.

The five were stopped by Stanford Police on Brock Drive as they tried to make their escape following the Thursday morning break-in.

Police reports and conversations with those involved in the investigation say that the five people arrested, four men and a woman, had stopped by a store to get directions to the home of a man, but gave only the initials he goes by. J.R. The store clerk gave them directions to the home of another person known as J.R. on the Geneva-McKinney Road.

The five went to the back door and started kicking it in. A teenage girl was at the home and became frightened and hid in a closet.

The five alleged burglars entered the home and, not finding the J.R. they were looking for, left. Someone saw their gray 1986 Buick with Ohio license plates leaving and, suspicious, called the sheriff.

A description of the car went out from the 911 Center and Stanford Police stopped the car on Brock Drive about 12:30 p.m.

All five people were charged with burglary, possession of cocaine and possession of drug paraphernalia. The four men were charged additionally with possession of a handgun by a convicted felon.

Investigators say the attempt to find the J.R. they sought may have been drug related.

Those arrested were Timothy B. Denny, 36, of Mt. Vernon; Tommy D. Wilson, 53, of Berea; Danny Raines, 31, of Norwood; Ohio; Timothy D. Abrams, 48, of Mt. Vernon and Diana J. Abrams, 41, of Mt. Vernon.

All five pleaded not guilty in Lincoln District Court. Judge Janet Booth set preliminary hearings for the group for February 7.

East Bernstadt man charged

An East Bernstadt man is being held in the Rockcastle Detention Center on a $50,000 bond after he led police on a chase Friday night.

According to Mt. Vernon assistant police chief Eddie Delaney, the chase began in Renfro Valley, after he and other police officers attempted to stop Mark Edward Howard, 34, Mt. Zion Road, for a drunk driving check.

Delaney said that Howard got onto Interstate 75 going south and that police were able to stop his car in the median of the interstate, after Howard rammed his vehicle into a cruiser driven by Rockcastle Deputy Sheriff Ronnie Roark.

The Asst. Chief said that while Howard's car was stopped Mt. Vernon officers Barry Adams and Daryl Zanet, attempted to remove Howard from his car and arrest him.

Delaney said that Howard then drove off, dragging Adams and Zanet with his car.

Howard then got back onto I-75 traveling north and exiting at Renfro Valley again, almost striking a car because he did not stop coming off the exit ramp.

Delaney said that Howard went toward Berea on U.S. 25 and at this time was stopped after Kentucky State Trooper Darrin Allen set a spike strip out just inside the city limits of Berea.

WinterCare Energy Fund, avoiding the cold

With each blast of winter air, many Kentuckians struggle to stay warm.

Low-income families, including those who are working and some senior citizens living on fixed incomes are unable to afford the costs of winter.

Utility bills can consume as much as 15% of the monthly income of a low-income family, as compared to an average of 4% for middle and high-income families. Compounding the situation, low-income households can be faced with high heating bills due to substandard or poorly insulated housing.

Families and individuals find themselves with past-due bills or shutoff warnings resulting from the financial hardships of an unexpected family crisis or medical situation, unemployment or other difficulties.

Federal funding for energy assistance has sharply declined in recent years, and is limited in both the amount available and eligibility for only the very lowest income households in the community.

Many times, the only help available is the WinterCare Energy Fund.

WinterCare is a statewide fund, established in 1983, to assist low-income Kentuckians with utility costs. Twenty-three utility companies and twenty-two community action agencies participate in WinterCare. WinterCare is funded entirely by private donations. Donations to WinterCare remain local to help those in need residing in the donor's county or town.

When someone asks for WinterCare's help at a local community action agency, they are registered for eligibility and payment is made directly to the utility on behalf of the low-income resident. Additionally, the utility companies and community action agencies help recipients learn about efficient energy use, set up energy budgets, and adopt realistic payment plans.

WinterCare is the last resource available to many low-income people. Donations to WinterCare can be made by:

- 1) adding $1, $5 or more for the WinterCare Energy Fund to a participating utility's bill payment.
- 2) mailing a contribution directly to WinterCare at WinterCare Energy Fund, PO Box 116010, Lexington, KY 40506.

Every penny of a donation goes to help those in need. Please help others keep warm this winter. For more information about WinterCare, contact Daniel Boone Development Council at (606)256-4633 or (606)598-5127.

Mt. Vernon, county apply for Governor's Initiative

By: Richard Anderkin

A couple of weeks ago a local group of about thirty community leaders and concerned citizens submitted an application to the state which, if approved, would greatly benefit the entire county.

The application is to the Kentucky Governor Paul Patton's office as part of his Kentucky Appalachian Community Development Initiative, which is part of his plan for Kentucky in the 21st Century.

The mammoth application was submitted January 14 and local leaders should know whether they have been selected by the second week in April.

Phase three covers the construction of a natural gas pipeline, expansion of the industrial park space and construction of a new Kentucky Technology Center adjacent to the Rockcastle High School.

Phase four would build needed sewage treatment facilities and develop recreation facilities in the Lake Linville and Rockcastle River area.

This was a collaboratively developed application with input and work from numerous individuals, agencies and organizations," said

Bigge Towery, Jr., Executive Director of the Rockcastle County Development Authority, which was organized as an arm of Rockcastle County Industrial Board.

"If we are not selected to participate in this project the application document itself will remain the nucleus for the development of a comprehensive strategic plan for Rockcastle County," Towery said.

Towery said that economic

Ordinance reading, vote set for next Monday night

The Mt. Vernon City Council is scheduled to hold a second and final reading on Monday night of a city ordinance that will tax local employees a half cent of every dollar earned and business owners in the net profits of their businesses.

Many local citizens have protested the tax, that began at one and half percent, before the council voted to lower it to a half percent.

However last week, Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters, who was serving as a special circuit judge in Knox County, ruled that Barbourville was not entitled to collect an occupational tax from local citizens because they were located inside a county with a population of less than 30,000 people.

But, a spokesman with the Department of Local Government in Frankfort said last week, that all Kentucky cities could pass a payroll tax, for whatever amount they desired.

City Attorney John Clontz said that he was researching the matter, but that it was his belief that Judge Venters ruling dealt with a county issue and not a city one.

"I think the city can certainly pass a tax, if they so desire," he said.

Local man indicted in federal court

A federal grand jury in London returned an indictment last week for a Mt. Vernon man.

Michael Wayne Bullock, 30, of Carter Drive, was indicted for violation of Title 18, United States Code.

According to United States Attorney, Joseph L. Famularo, Bullock is accused of furnishing false information in connection with an attempted firearms purchase in January of last year.

According to Famularo, Bullock was subject to a domestic violence order when he attempted to purchase a firearm.

Bullock will appear before Magistrate Judge J.B. Johnson on Friday in federal court in London.

Image Entry to hire more employees

Bill D. Deaton, President and CEO of Image Entry, Inc., announced that the company was recently awarded new contracts that would require the hiring of an additional 650 people.

The new contracts include major Blue Cross plan nationwide, as well as two contracts to process over three million individual state income tax returns.

In addition, Image Entry expects to win a federal contract that will require approximately 125 people by January 31, 2000.

"We are extremely thankful and excited that these new clients have entrusted us to do their work," Mr. Deaton said. "The challenge for us is to get enough people to do the work, of course. All of our offices are hiring and we are also considering opening two additional offices this spring."

In commenting about why the companies chose Image Entry, Deaton

Somerset men arrested after I-75 traffic stop

Two Somerset men were arrested Tuesday after they were stopped on I-75 three miles north of Mt. Vernon.

Kentucky State Police Officer Joe Schenkenfelder arrested Donald R. Shadon, 47 and James Shadon, 46, after he discovered 37 cases of beer, twelve bottles of vodka and twelve bottles of whiskey in the 1984 Chevrolet van they were driving.

Both men were charged with illegal transportation of alcoholic beverages in a dry territory and lodged in the Rockcastle Detention Center.

School out for summer, May 30

Old man winter has been tough on the Rockcastle County School system the past three weeks.

As of Wednesday, the local school system had missed ten days due to snow and ice.

As it stands now, school would dismiss for the summer on Tuesday, May 30, according to Loretta Powell, chairman of the local school system calendar committee.

Remaining vacation days in the calendar are February 21, for Presidents Day, April 3-7 for Spring Break and May 29 for Memorial Day.

Mrs. Powell said that if the school system were lucky enough not to miss anymore, other options may be considered such as going on May 29th, because the last day of school is slated to be only a half day.

She said the school system may also consider going the last day on Saturday, May 27.

Brodhead under boil water advisory

The City of Brodhead remains under a boil water advisory this week after a main line break on Hwy. 1505 on Saturday morning.

Brodhead City Clerk Becky Bussell said the line that broke was installed in 1936.

The clerk said that Brodhead water customers should boil their water before using it to cook or drink.

She said that the city may be able to lift the advisory as soon as Thursday.

Detention Center beginning to prosper

Less than five months ago the Rockcastle County Detention Center remained closed and the county's jail bills continued to mount into the thousands and thousands of dollars.

On the average the county paid $16,000 per month just to keep their prisoners at other jails.

But things are beginning to change dramatically at the local lock-up.

Last Saturday morning staff at the Detention Center counted 89 prisoners being held.

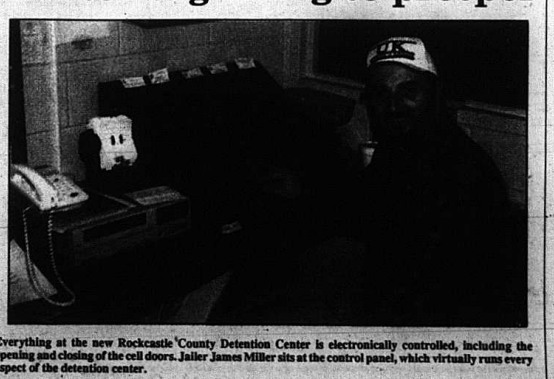

The good news is that 63 of them were what Rockcastle Judge-Executive Buzz Carlolfis likes to refer to as paying customers.

Actually they are state prisoners and the county is paid $26.23 per day to keep them.

At 63 prisoners a day, the county would realize $600,000 in revenue per year from the state alone.

Rockcastle County Jailer James Miller presented a budget to the Rockcastle Fiscal Court, which estimated revenues and expenditures Everything at the new Rockcastle County Detention Center is electronically controlled, including the opening and closing of the cell doors. Jailer James Miller sits at the control panel, which virtually runs every aspect of the detention center.

Ordinance will be voted on at Monday meeting

I suppose by now most people who are interested in the city of Mt. Vernon's payroll and not profits tax, know that the second reading was not held Monday night.

In last week's Signal I got a week ahead of myself, and quite simply made a major mistake.

The second and final reading of the ordinance will be held this Monday night at city hall. If it passes the council again, a half percent tax will be collected beginning April 1. Again, I apologize for last week's mistake.

There has been a lot of discussion about how the city can best use the extra money that will be generated by the wage and profits tax.

After the city cleans up its own financial problems, which will not take very long to do, they should look at helping the county and the Rockcastle Development Board with economic development.

Currently Rockcastle Industrial Park #1 is full and there are only fifty available acres in the Rockcastle Industrial Park #2.

Development Board Executive Director Bige Towery Jr., said that about a year ago, a Japanese firm involved in the auto industry came to the county, looking for a possible site for a new plant, but the fifty acres left in Rockcastle Industrial Park #2, simply wasn't enough for their needs.

In order to be successful in recruiting new industry, the county must have more room and since the city will have extra funds available because of their new tax, they should give something back to the county.

After all if the Mayor or his successful issuing of the city limits, most, if not all, major employers would be in the city limits and required to pay the payroll tax.

Economic Development is very important for the entire county, and with the recent buy-off of Mt. Vernon Plastics and evidently more in the future, there can never be enough good paying jobs available for county workers.

The recent devastating cut in tobacco quotas will also put a cramp in the county's economy and many local farmers will probably have to begin looking for some other type of work. It would be nice if they were able to do that without driving out of the county.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

Hey it's already way past deadline and the creative part of my brain has been fried since noon. Suffice it to say that my life has become computer dependent and that having to do a piece of writing on an ancient IBM Selectric typewriter even with a correcting ribbon is nothing short of terror for me now. How on earth did we ever get anything done with those old things?

But this morning my new printer would not function because of a software problem that I later solved, no Hewlett at all to technical support at Hewlett Packard. The roads were too slick for my truck to navigate so I couldn't get to a working printer. Anyway it was absolutely imperative that I get a letter in the mail today so in a fit of desperation, I dragged out the typewriter. That was more than 12 hours ago and I'm still trembling and my knees are still knocking.

After five or seven attempts at composing my two paragraph letter at the typewriter and then wadding the paper up, I finally got the way I wanted on the computer monitor thinking that all I had to do was take a couple of glances and type it on the old machine. I got it right, I thought, on the first try only to discover that I had left out a word. The same thing happened on the second try. On the third try I found two typos that couldn't be corrected because I'd left letters out of words. To make a long story short, the garbage can beside my desk was more than half full of wadded-up letterhead before I finally got the letter done and even then Cleve Collins, my high school typing teacher, would have given me "no better than a C grade."

The margins would not have passed muster and the body was not centered on the page. There were a couple of spaces between lines where spaces should not have been, but at least it contained no glaring typos nor misspelled words. Close scrutiny might reveal that a few letters had been corrected, but I figure the fact that I did it on a typewriter will score brownie points with the Foundation Executive to whom it was written. Maybe she will not only fund the proposal, but also insist that I take another couple grand to buy a computer.

Twenty years ago I routinely sauntered into the news room at the Sentinelled Echo in London, sat down at a desk behind an old Royal manual typewriter and whipped out a column in 45 minutes from a few scratched notes. When you got to the end of a line you grabbed a handle on the carriage return and slung it back and started another line. I promise you that I could do sixty words a minute on that machine with scant few errors. I promise you just as faithfully that I couldn't do two words a minute on the same machine now if my life depended on it. And I know for sure that I would not be able to concentrate on composition.

So with all that said, I intend to beg off being any more creative tonight and instead, share a bunch of one liners that I have copied off the Internet. As usual, I can't claim ownership of this stuff and I have no idea who originated it. If it was you, dear reader, please let me know and we will give you credit. We will not, however, be paying any royalties. I almost had a phobic girlfriend,

C.H. Memoirs
In last week's column I was describing Ms. Perry as "COMELY." Having been appearing on the show, I'm not so sure I'm not a bit of a homey or plain, "just the opposite of HOMELY": "plain and unattractive in appearance." Webster's Collegiate Dictionary. That one letter H, instead of C, in the descriptive word "comely," can leave an entirely different impression of a person and her part in being an example to the young people she is helping to mold into future citizens. I would not be doing justice to my memory of an outstanding woman in my life if I do not correct this simple misspelling of one word. (Lesson of the day, carefully check your spelling and meanings of words you are not familiar with.) My dictionary is at my elbow at all times. Yet I make many mistakes.

My association with Ms. Perry was what a community center can do for the youth, and how industry can build a good work force by taking an active part in their education. Education, you know, is more than learning to read and write. It is learning how to get along with people, play together, study together, go on outings together and grow up to be leaders and good citizens together. The American Steel and Tin Plate Co. did all this for those of us living in the eastern half of Wellsville, Ohio.

One of the main attractions of the area was the playground at the end of our street which was also sponsored by the Steel Mill. It was a large area close to the banks of the creek and had been enclosed with a wire fence, for safety reasons, and installed with the most up to date play equipment of that time. Everything from a sand lot for the little ones to the sophisticated tennis and volleyball court for the older ones. Slides for all ages were also in abundance. A covered area, where people could sit and watch the little ones play, could also be used for those wanting to play jacks on the smooth floor. The sand pile, cleaned and filled daily was close by for babies to make their castles, etc. in. Swings were in sets and scattered about the area so each age group could have a choice of higher size to use. My choice was the biggest ones that could go "so high they almost reached the sky." We could either pump our own swings or be pushed by a friend. They

On this day, young girls were chosen and trained to create an old time Maypole. This was one that had been laced in white ribbon from top to bottom of the center pole. The participants had been taught to dance around the pole while holding onto the hand bars with one hand and white ribbons in the other, to the sound of music. While doing so they were in and out, like unto a square dance, and each time around got closer to the pole. When the music stopped they were all standing in a neat circle close to the pole and sure enough, the pole was artistically enclosed with neatly laced white ribbon.

Community action? You bet it was.

The Family Room

Rural Teens Are More Likely to Use Drugs

A recent study by the National Center on Addiction and Substance Abuse reports that teens in rural areas are more likely to use drugs than teens in the city. This is not a comforting thought to those of us who live in southeastern Kentucky. What was once thought of as a city problem has now come to small town America in a big way.

Here are some of the surprising conclusions of this study done at Columbia University.

- Rural eighth-graders are:
1. 83 percent likelier than those in urban areas to use crack cocaine.
 2. 50 percent likelier to use cocaine.
 3. 34 percent likelier to smoke marijuana.
 4. 29 percent likelier to drink alcohol.
 5. 70 percent likelier to get drunk.
 6. More than twice as likely to smoke cigarettes.
 7. Nearly five times likelier to use smokeless tobacco.

8. 104 percent more likely to use amphetamines, including methamphetamine.

Results of the survey were just as depressing for older teens in rural areas. Only in adults was rural and urban drug use practically the same.

Drug use has definitely come to rural America.

Example (a fictitious character) is an example of one teen who is in trouble with drugs. "I started smoking pot when I was 14," the eighteen-year-old told her counselor. "Since then I have tried nearly every drug there is except for needles. I smoke pot every day and spend $100-$150 per week to pay for it."

"Where do you get the money?"

her counselor asked. "My parents give me some of it." Janie told her. "Sometimes I steal things and pawn them and sometimes my boyfriends give me money or pot."

"How hard is it to buy pot?" her counselor wanted to know.

"Give me a telephone and thirty minutes and I can get all the pot I want," Janie bragged. "It's not hard at all."

"Do you want to quit using?" her counselor asked.

"Not really," Janie said. "I'm here because my parents made me come,

but they can't make me quit."

What can you do if you or someone you know has a drug problem?

1. See your family doctor. Withdrawal from drugs can be difficult

Thursday, February 3, 2000 Pg. A3

and the addict may need medical help.

The doctor may also help convince someone to quit by informing the user of the effect the drugs are having on his or her body.

2. See a counselor. The reasons for drug use are many and a counselor can help the user understand the roots of his habit. An experienced counselor can also cut through the smokescreen of denial that says, "I don't have a problem."

3. Seek inpatient treatment. There are several treatment centers in the area where a user can stay while getting off the drugs. This is sometimes the most effective method.

4. Join NA. Narcotics Anonymous is a twelve-step group modeled after

Alcoholics Anonymous. It is for anyone who wants to quit using drugs.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
My letter is regarding David Parsons, of Parson's Gas. I would like the good people of Mt. Vernon to know what sort of people they are dealing with if they choose to do business with Mr. Parsons and Parson's Gas.

It seems that my mother, who has done business with Parson's Gas for many years, was ordered some fuel on Friday, January 21st. She told the person at the desk that was almost out, and, of course, the temperatures were barely above zero. The lady told her they would get someone out, probably on Monday. My mom was surprised when she got home from work on Monday, to find that they still had not been there. She waited, then called again Wednesday afternoon. She called Parson's Gas again and they would call her employees at home and try to get them out there that evening. Thursday evening, my mother ran out of fuel. She used space heaters and her electric stove to heat her home. She called Parson's Gas again getting their answering service. She left a message. She called again Friday afternoon after work and was told, "someone will get back with you." She called again Saturday morning from work and to let them she was out of fuel and really needed them to deliver the fuel they had been promising to deliver. After being placed on hold, she was told, "If we deliver the fuel, we need the $150 when delivered." When my mother asked why they had never required that in the past, and she was to work, and therefore, would not be home to give them the money, she was told, and I quote, "David Parsons saw your name in the paper where your house is being sold and he's afraid he won't get his $150." This was like a knife through my mother's heart. It stripped her of any dignity. Who is this man who sits in judgement of my mother? Who is to assume she doesn't have the money to pay for her fuel, to promise it to her for a week, and then humiliate her by saying, "I saw your name in the paper?" I tried to call Mr. Parsons to tell him how much he had hurt and humiliated my mother, but he didn't have the guts to discuss it with me. He hung up on me, then had his employee tell me he didn't want to talk to me! What a businessman! Were you covering up the back Mr. Parsons, counting your $150? I find it ironic, my mother told me that you print verses from the bible on your invoices! Have you ever heard the verse, "Love thy neighbor?" Or in your bible, does it say, "Love thy neighbor as long as things are going well for them and they have $150 up front?" Otherwise, I guess it's O.K. with you if thy neighbor freezes to death. May I suggest, Mr. Parsons, that you spend more time reading your bible and less time reading the foreclosure notices in the paper? My mother has been through enough in her life that she should not have to put up with being humiliated by one of her own neighbors. You could have requested the money up front without costing her her dignity. Just for your information, since you wouldn't hear me out on the phone, while you were being up on the delivery of fuel with no explanation, my mother was waiting to hear back from a biopsy. But let me tell you something about my mother that you don't know. She is a survivor. She has survived the loss of my father, raising a rebellious teenager alone, cancer, now the loss of her home and she WILL survive this indignity, Mr. Parsons! I wonder, I understand that the spouse of one of Mt. Vernon's finest workers in your office. Did you perhaps not deliver fuel for my mother for over a week because of something you were told? That wouldn't seem quite ethical, would it? Well, you made your decision, you collected your precious $150 and, in doing so, broke my mother's heart. You owe her a huge apology. But, don't worry, Mr. Parsons, we will pray for you!

And to the good people of Mt. Vernon, I suggest you think twice about with whom you do business. You never know when your name might be in the paper. And David Parsons will be watching!
As to any other "watchdogs" out there that might have questions or concerns about what you have read in the paper, call me. My number is at the bottom of this letter. But leave my mother alone.

Sincerely,
Sheila Burton Zenni

P.S. (Mr. Parsons, if you would like to talk to me, you should feel free to call me, also. I won't hang up on you. I have more guts than that.)

Dear Editor,

It looks like burley tobacco farmers will face a greater than 40 percent cut in quota for the year 2000. This grim outlook is due to the companies' buying intentions decreasing and the increased amount of pool stocks. On February 1st, the official quota will be announced. Your Burley Co-op has been actively addressing this issue, taking into consideration all possible answers, and making the difficult decision that we believe is the best interest to our farmer members. We know a 40 percent cut will greatly damage the economy of many of our rural communities. No other business has had to cut its income by more than 40 percent in two years. That is what we are facing. However, we have faith in the tobacco price support system and the quota formula and if we hang on, the formula will work itself out for the betterment of all of us involved.

We want to retain as many growing opportunities as possible. Our goal is to maximize the farmers' ability to get the most dollars from his/her opportunity to grow. In examining the position we are in, the pool stocks have built up over time to a level that has become unfavorable as far as the operation of the program. However, the reason that we have these pool stocks is the decision of the companies using tobacco other than U.S. burley. Imports are up 28 percent while U.S. farmers experienced a 28 percent quota cut. This year's buying intentions are down nearly 17 percent cutting the quota by more than 40 percent.

We at the Co-op visited with the largest purchaser of our leaf (it should be noted that they were the only manufacturer who showed interest in our situation) on January 20, 2000 and asked for help in relieving pressure in such a major cut. They indicated that they would be willing to do a program very similar to what was done in November with flue-cured tobacco farmers. This would be the purchase of some 50 million pounds out of the pool stocks and leaving us with 300+ million pounds still in the pool thus, not alleviating the problem. This offer would cost our no-net costs funds approximately $87,000,000 and only reduce the quota cut to 35 percent.

In examining all our options, the board on January 20, 2000, decided to standfast with the position taken earlier and not discount pool stocks price. With the cost of over $3.50 for no-net cost funds per pound of quota added back to our opportunities for 2000, we could not understand how this would be a beneficial position for the Co-op and for the farmers. In the past 20 years, every time we had a problem the answer has been to cut the price of U.S. tobacco that we hold in pool stocks. The Co-op made the right decisions for the time just as we are doing today. But now, the companies have become addicted, not to nicotine, but to cheap U.S. leaf prices brought about by their decisions to increase imports on a constant level.

Your Burley Co-op has taken a stand to say that U.S. leaf is superior, higher in value and as producers are willing to take what cuts are dictated in order to preserve a profitability of what has become the very lifeline to our farming families.

Dear Editor:

When I received my copy of the Mt. Vernon Signal of January 13th, I was very proud to be from Rockcastle County even though I left 37 years ago. I am referring to the front page article regarding Mike Gates building a retreat for the blind and disabled. It was a very inspiring article. What I don't understand is why, it seems to me, anyone anyone tries to do anything out of the norm they have so many "stumbling blocks" to overcome. Are the "powers that be" hoping they will get discouraged and move onto another location? I would think that Rockcastle Countians would do everything in their power to have a retreat, as described in the article, located there. How refreshing — But squabble over a road - OUT-RAGEOUS.

Also Mike, I like your attitude and as quoted in the paper, "I am so busy doing the things I can do, that I never think about the things I can't do." I think we all could learn from this. Good luck and I wish you the best Judith Fletcher Walker

School-to-Work to sponsor parent forum at RCMS

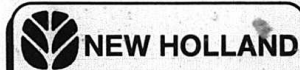

On February 10 at 6:00 p.m. following the Parents-Teacher Conferences, School-To-Work Local Labor Market Area #16 will sponsor a parent forum at Rockcastle County Middle School titled "Parent Involvement: The Key to Student Success." The forum, presented by Hasan Davis of Employment Solutions and Andy Beicher of the GEAR UP program, will offer parents some strategies they can use to help children understand and succeed in the world after school. "We want to let parents know that there are things they can do at home to prepare their children for success. For instance, in a recent poll, employers ranked communication skills as the most important personal characteristic they look for in a job candidate. Simply talking to and listening to your child can help develop these skills. And these skills are important whether a student plans to go to college, technical school, the military or straight into the world of work." Other topics which will be covered include the importance of a positive attitude, basic skills needed in the work world

Drifter or Seeker?

Flocks are being fed the opinions of men. This diet does not satisfy for a voice that will speak to them with authority in matters of religion. And for this reason, some have drifted away from the church entirely. Others seek churches where their voices still heard.

We have experienced the authoritative preaching of FPC (Free Presbyterian Church) in Pennsylvania and South Carolina obviously not driving distance so would like to establish one here in Kentucky. Free sample of their messages are available by calling me at 758-4544 or try <http://www.freepres.org>

Cards of Thanks

Stella Burke

We would like to thank our family and loved ones, our church friends, our Mom's business acquaintances, the community, and our loving neighbors for the showers of love, caring, thoughts, and prayers during our great loss of Dad's wife and our Mother. Her brothers and sisters also feel that tremendous loss we have. Our Mother touched and influenced many lives in her 73 years. She was a teacher of the Bible, she was a lover of young children, and all who knew her loved her. She lived life and often said all her dreams had come true and she knew this could not have happened without her faith and spirit of the Lord.

Thank you for the flowers, plants, and angels as Mom loved the beauty of nature. Thank you for the overwhelming amount of food during this time. Thanks for the donations of Bibles given to ones who otherwise might not have a Bible. Thanks for the donations to the church that Mom loved so much. The hundreds of calls and cards we received brought much comfort. But these many gestures have shown us that your love, honor, and memory of our beloved Mother is great in your hearts too. God bless each and everyone of you.

The Stella Burke family

Fannie Mason

The family of Fannie Mason wishes to express our sincere thanks to all who was there for us in our time of sorrow. Thanks to the Berea Health Care Center, to those who brought food, flowers and to the Livingston Pentecostal Church, Bro. Winter Beef Meetings

Rockcastle County beef producers are invited to the Annual Beef Cattle Production Meetings starting Tuesday, February 8, at 6:30 pm in the Extension office basement meeting room. The first meeting will deal with a company which started out several years ago serving a "niche" market in central Kentucky. Tina Murphy with Laura's Lean Beef will discuss what she looks for in a cattle purchased for the company. This will include health plans as well as breeds. Laura's Lean has grown into markets from the East Coast to the West Coast. To meet their needs, they are also looking for producers who would background or graze cattle. Contacts are available and will be discussed.

The second meeting will be Thursday, February 10, at the same time and place. Les Anderson, U.K. Extension Specialist, will look at how the past 2 droughts have affected beef cattle breeding success. Predictions are for higher feeder calf prices for the next 3 - 5 years and Les will look at ways to improve the calf crop farmers market.

"What Is Written"

Today we begin a series of articles on the plan of salvation. As we study from the N.T., we shall find that there are 5 steps in God's plan to become a Christian as seen in the gospel. Men must hear, believe, repent, confess, and be baptized.

Hearing the gospel is the first step in the plan of salvation. "So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God." Rom. 10:17. Man cannot believe in what he has not heard about. Some folks in our religious world, talk about the direct working of the Holy Spirit on the hearts of men to enlighten, such is a false doctrine! God has ordained that the gospel is to be preached to every creature, "And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." Mark 16:15. Men and women must hear, learn, be taught the word of God, then they can choose to believe or reject. In the parable of the sower, the seed is sown in the hearts of men. "The seed is the word of God, Lk. 8:15. A plant cannot grow unless the seed is first planted in the ground. One cannot be saved and become a Christian, unless first, the word of God is heard and learned. "For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." 1 Cor. 1:21. Yes, we must hear the good news of Jesus!

Rockets drop to 7-12 on year

The Rockcastle County Rockets won a close one last Friday night, hosting Whitley County and hanging on for the 63-60 win.

The Rockets came out hot in the first quarter, going up 13-4 to start the game with seniors Matthew Brown, who was high point man with 24, and Andrew Cash combining for thirteen of the Rockets' seventeen first quarter points.

Whitley County came storming back in the second, however, outscoring the Rockets 20-11 to go into the locker room up 29-28 at half-time.

Senior Nick Leger and Cash came out and played tough defense to begin the second half, stealing the ball from the Colonels and then Leger going in for the easy layup.

Whitley County retook the lead at the beginning of the fourth, but it was short lived as Rockcastle took advantage of two Colonels turnovers to go back up five, 49-44.

Rockcastle kept their lead to seven at several different points in the fourth quarter, but hot shooting and good Whitley County defense cut the Rocket lead to two, 58-56 at the 2:35 mark.

Andrew Hammond got the put-back to put the Rockets up four, and the Colonels had to start fouling to stop the clock but the Rockets Brown and Shea Taylors hit their free throws to secure the 63-60 win.

A poor showing in the first quarter of Tuesday night's game against Knox Central dealt the Rockets their twelfth loss of the season, 75-65.

The Rockets were outscored 24-12 in the first, despite Cash hitting three threes in the effort. Rockcastle outscored Knox Central 17-15 in the second quarter, despite Central going on a 6-0 run to start the quarter. The Rockets were down ten, 39-29 to end the first half.

Eight points is as close the Rockets would come in the third quarter to the Panthers, with several turnovers for Rockcastle keeping the ball out of their hands for the score.

Rockcastle was still down ten at the end of the third, 55-45.

Rockcastle went on a 7-0 run in the middle of the fourth quarter to cut Knox Central's lead to four, but it was not enough as the Panthers prevailed for the 75-65 win.

Rockcastle hosts Oneida Baptist Saturday night for district play which will determine the seeding of the district tournament, to be held at Oneida.

Rocket Jayvees on a 4-0 winning streak, beat Knox

The Rockcastle Rockets JV team is on a 4-0 win streak, and is 11-4 on the season with wins over Knox County, Whitley County and Clay Central.

The Rockets had two solid wins (Cont. to A11)

Senior point guard Brandon Reynolds puts up a shot against a South Laurel Lady Cardinal Monday night. The Rockets got their 14th win of the season with the 55-43 victory. Reynolds led the scoring for her team with 16.

Lady Rockets defeat South Laurel Cardinals

The Rockets had to rebound from a sluggish first quarter against the South Laurel Cardinals Monday night, but came back they did and wound up with their 14th win of the season.

After being down 19-8 at the end of the first period, the Rockets came back and went on an 8-0 run to pull to within 3 before the Cardinals finally managed to get on the board in the second quarter. The Rockets went on to take a 26-25 half time lead and were ahead 39-35 at the third quarter stop.

In the fourth, the Rockets added to their margin for the final 55-43. Senior point guard Brandy Reynolds, was 6 for 6 from the free throw line and led the scoring for her team with 16.

Rachelle Hammond got all her points in the second half and was second leading scorer with 12. Jessie Ricketts cannot two three point baskets and had 10 in the game. Amber Denney got 7; Brooke Roberts 6 and Jessica Cobb 4.

Jayvees lose

The Lady Rockets Jayvee team did things opposite from the varsity team, leading 15-9 at half time before losing the game 30-24.

Angie Boreing led the scoring for the Rockets with 7; Leslie Carpenter and Ashley Mink got 6 each; Jessie Hayes scored 3 and Amanda Barnett 2.

Jayvees lose at Catholic

The bad news at Catholic Friday night for the Jayvees was that they did not score a field goal the first half — the good news was that Catholic only scored two, but added 4 points at the free throw line to lead the Rockets 8-2 at the half.

The Rockets shot so poorly in the winter, most of us wait until spring when the temperature starts warming up. If you don't want to get out now and brave the elements, it is a great time to take out your fishing gear and get it ready for spring, so when it does get here you will be ready to hit the water.

By Mike Carpenter
Beating Cabin Fever: Part One
Winter has definitely set in and many of you fishermen have probably got a bad case of Cabin Fever. Although fishing can be good in the winter, most of us wait until spring when the temperature starts warming up. If you don't want to get out now and brave the elements, it is a great time to take out your fishing gear and get it ready for spring, so when it does get here you will be ready to hit the water.

scoring flurry, finally, getting 9 points to Catholics 2x. With three seconds on the clock, Amber Denney stole Catholic's inbound pass, gave the ball to Angie Boreing and time expired -- at least the clock said :00. However -- the Catholic coach protested to the referees that one second should be put back on the clock and he prevailed. With one second, Catholic got the ball inbound to a player who turned around, backed her defender up so she could shoot the ball and put it in the basket to tie the score.

In the first overtime, Denney got a field goal and Leslie Carpenter scored two free throws but Catholic came back to tie the score at 26 all. Denney then got another basket but, with 14 seconds remaining, Catholic also scored to put the game into its second overtime.

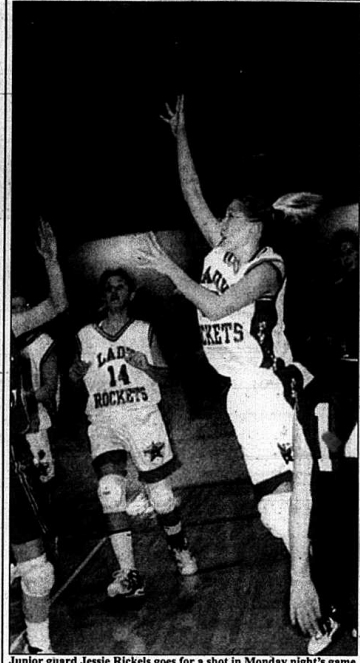

Jessie Hayes made two free throws to draw first blood in the second overtime but that was all the Rockets would manage offensively. Catholic then scored the next three points at the free throw line to get the win 33-30. In all, Catholic was 17 for 31 from the free throw line and the Rockets were 12 for 25.

Freshmen Beat Catholic

Despite 10 turnovers in the first half, the Lady Rockets led at the intermission 13-7. However, 9 turnovers and only one basket in the third quarter, gave Catholic the 23-15 advantage.

But, the Rockets didn't give up, battling back in the fourth quarter to a 25 all tie with 2:05 remaining in the third quarter. Catholic was back ahead 29-27 with time soon to run out, when Tara Rowe unleashed a three point shot. The buzzer went off with the ball in the air and the shot banked in to give the Rockets the one point win.

Rowe came off the bench to lead her team in scoring with 11; Ashley Mink got 8; Brianna Bussell 5; Johanna Abney 4 and Jessica Thacker 2.

Junior guard Jessie Ricketts goes for a shot in Monday night's game against South Laurel. Ricketts got two three point shots in the game and 10 points total. Also in the photo is #14 Amber Denney.

Taking care of your equipment is not only a great cure for cabin fever, but it will also add life to your fishing gear. You'll be ready to hit the water when the weather gets warmer. Spring will be here before you know it.

So get out, take your kids, the future outdoors men and women of Rockcastle County, and enjoy the great outdoors.

at $647,000. The jail receives other monies from the state, but the lion's share is for keeping the state prisoners.

That budget includes money for all debt service and jail operations expense.

Miller said that he based his budget on keeping fifty state prisoners and anything over that number would be "gravy for the county."

"When we keep as many as 89 prisoners about 20 of them have to sleep on the floor on cots, but the state allows for that so we are going to try and keep around 60 state prisoners all the time," Miller said.

The jailer also said the local Detention Center would begin keeping some federal prisoners after the Detention Center is inspected by federal officials.

"We are ready for any inspection and the federal government pays approximately $35.00 a day to keep their prisoners," Miller said.

"It will take a while to get back on our feet financially because of the time the jail was closed because of the many past due bills that are still owed, but we are certainly on our way," Miller said.

Miller said that he appreciates the efforts of the fiscal court and local law enforcement officials who have been very cooperative since the Detention Center opened on September 20.

Currently the Detention Center employs 13 full and part time deputies and two cooks.

"The Rockcastle County Development Board supports all the efforts to further develop the enormous potential of our county," Towery said.

But Towery pointed out that if Rockcastle and Mt. Vernon are selected to participate in the program, the state is not going to write them a check for $24.5 million.

"What it will do for us, is first they will send an economic development specialist to work with us on a daily basis," Towery said.

It will also give us a favored position and move us up to the top of the list when applying for grants and loans," he said.

"We won't get a handout, but we will get the help we need to obtain funding for our projects," he said.

Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP)

The Environmental Quality Incentive Program (EQIP) is a voluntary program to assist landowners with solving natural resources problems through financial and technical assistance. Cost share assistance is available to establish long term contracts on eligible land. The duration of contracts is from 5 to 10 years to allow landowners an opportunity to plan installation of conservation practices well in advance of the scheduled year.

EQIP works primarily in priority areas where significant natural resource problems exist. In general, priority areas are defined as watersheds, regions or areas of special environmental sensitivity or having significant soil, water, related quality and quantity, wildlife habitat, wetlands and forest and grazing lands.

Eligibility is limited to persons who are engaged in livestock or agricultural production.

Sign up for CDP ends February 25th.

Livestock Assistance Program (LAP) At An End
Rockcastle County's approved LAP ends February 4th.

To be eligible for LAP a producer must have suffered a 40% or greater loss of normal grazing production for three or more consecutive months during the LAP crop year, possess beneficial interest in eligible livestock (beef and dairy cattle, sheep, goats, swine, equine animals used for commercially or kept by owner for food/beef production, have owned or leased the eligible livestock for at least three months.

In order to complete the application, producers must list the number of eligible livestock head by weight groups and have receipts for purchases and sales for the months of July-November, 19th.

Because only a specific amount of money ($200 million) has been approved for LAP, a national factor will be determined if application requests exceed the allocated amount of money. This factor will be announced after the end of sign-up.

If you have not signed up for this program: remember the deadline is now February 4th.

For more details on LAP contact the FSA office.

Aid To Dairy Farmers
Agriculture Secretary, Dan Glickman, has announced that USDA is providing $125 million in direct cash payments to assist dairy farmers who have been hurt by low prices. An additional $200 million in aid was distributed last summer.

This assistance is sorely needed to help keep man small- and medium-size dairy producers in business until prices stabilize.

To distribute limited resources equitably among all dairy producers, the Dairy Market Loss Assistance program provides payments based on an operator's milk production in 1997 or 1998, up to the first 26,000 hundredweight of production. All dairy farmers who produced milk during the last quarter of the calendar year 1998 are eligible for the program.

Eligible dairy farmers who did not participate in the program last summer must sign up at their local FSA office from January 24-February 28, 2000. Farmers who participated in last summer's program will automatically receive payments and do not need to reapply for assistance. The dollar amount of payments will be

The sign up period for this program began Feb. 1st and will conclude on Feb. 28th. Applications can be made at the local office of NRCS and FSA.

Cross County Leasing Referendum
The cross county leasing referendum voted upon has passed. Therefore, producers will be eligible to lease across county lines in Kentucky beginning with the 2000 crop year.

The cross county leasing does NOT permit the sale and purchase of quota across county lines.

Marketing Cards
Producers are reminded to return their marketing cards to the FSA office IMMEDIATELY after all sales are final for verification of marketings.

Applications For New Burley Tobacco Quota
Producers who own land and do not have a burley tobacco quota may be eligible for a new burley tobacco quota. Eligibility requirements include: own land which has tillable cropland with no tobacco quota, have two out of five years marketing history of burley tobacco, and 50% of average income derived from farming. Producers who wish to make an application should contact this office no later than February 15th.

Crop Disaster Program (CDP)
The Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2000, and the Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2000, included a total of $1.386 billion for the Crop Disaster Program (CDP). CDP assistance is for farmers who suffered losses to 1999 crops due to natural disasters. Farmers are eligible for compensation for 1999 crop losses, directly attributed to adverse weather and related conditions.

Producers who suffered greater than a 35% loss on insured/noninsured crops such as tobacco and corn and the non insurable crops such as hay, soybeans and vegetables for commercial use are eligible to receive payment.

Payments to farmers will be provided after all applications are reviewed in order to stay with the program's requirements and budget.

As a condition of receiving benefits under CDP, any producer who elected not to purchase crop insurance on the 1999 crop for which CDP benefits are requested MUST insure that crop for the 2000 and 2001 crop years.

calculated after sign-up is complete.

In Loving Memory

In Loving Memory of Charles W. Clark,
who passed away October 14, 1993
Sadly missed by his wife,
Dorothy Clark

If life could only bring again,
The days I took for granted then.
To hear your voice,
It's just a call away.
Of what I'd give for just some time,
To say the things that slipped my mind.
So much now I'd really like to say.

I can never go back when,
We did the things we did back then.
I stored those precious memories in my mind.

I like what you instilled in me,
I tried to be all I could be,
Walk the path you have left behind.

I sure miss you,
I sure will never be the same.
With you not here,
Each passing day has brought much pain.
But with God's grace,
My strength remains.
I sure miss you, but
Heaven's sweeter with you there.

The little things that seem so small,
Now go in a memory vault.
To cherish everyone I have of you,
Now I can see and recognize,
The parts you paid to shape my life.
I often see you in the little things I do,
God designed a Master plan,
He saw the hurting hand of man.

As we would say goodbye,
To those so dear,
So with our family and friends,
We'll be together once again.
To view heaven splendid hand in hand.
Happy Birthday, February 7th

Rev. 18:1 (A Cloud
6:2 of Heaven)
Matt. 24:27 Matt. 26:64

Do you know the Bible tells how you were judged in the next world? It's in ZECH. 14:16-19, and anyone and any family or any nation that failed to worship the king keeping the Feast of Tabernacles was judged to be heathen and their rain was taken away.

Faith in Christ saved the heathen to the judgement, but Christ couldn't save the people in the judgement. Keeping the Feast of Tabernacles saved them ZECH. 14:16-19.

Christ is not Lord. The Son of God is, and he said many would come in his name saying he was Christ and would deceive many MATT. 24:5, and that is so-called Christian religion. They say Christ is Lord. They also refuse to keep the Feast of Tabernacles. They also failed to receive eternal life in the judgement. ZECH 14:16-19.

The Lord caused me to know Paul prosecuted the saints of God, even consented unto their death, so God cast Paul away from him.

Then Christ called Paul to work for him. Christ could not have called Paul if he had been of God, for the only people that were given to Christ was the heathen, and the uttermost parts of the earth for his possession. PSALMS 2:8. Now look around you. Who is it that says Christ is Lord? Is it not the heathen that refuse to keep the Feast of Tabernacles? Some do keep it.

I was caused to know Paul did too much writing, and Satan did too much helping, and their works was put in the Bible between God's holy writing and has deceived millions into believing they have eternal life.

Satan had Jesus Christ preached in his churches and got the people saved. REV. 2:9, REV. 3:9.

There is no eternal life in the Bible outside of God's Holy days. I don't care what Paul and Satan wrote. I have been caused to know when the Bible talks about the only begotten son of God it says the only son God begot, God's other son has no beginning or end, he is the (Son of Man), he is (Lord).

In PSALMS 2:6 and PSALMS 2:8 God gave two sons a kingdom, but God only had one son, so God begot a son.

When the King came for the judgement (ZECH. 14, 16-19) he used God's Holy days to separate the people for the two sons Kingdoms.
