Library News

By Kristiana Burk

Before I begin and tell you all about the exciting things coming up at the Library during the month of September, I wanted to first let you know that for now the Library will be putting an article in the paper only once a month-the first week of every month. So be sure and check out all the information about the upcoming month in every article!

The American Library Association has proclaimed the month of September as the official "Sign Up for a Library Card Month." In lieu of that proclamation, the Rockcastle County Public Library will be hosting several events to encourage the community to come back into the Library and sign up for a card-one of the greatest resources available in Rockcastle County. During this month we are trying to take away every excuse that you might have for not using the resources at the Library and putting some initiatives into taking out 10 minutes of your month, week or day to read, watch videos, use the computer or Internet, do Genealogical research, encourage a child to appreciate reading, encourage a young adult or teen to visit the Library, or just relax! Best of all, the resources at the Library are free! What more could you ask for?

Thanks to several businesses around the community, we are able to provide some of the following events this month:

1. Debt Free Month: Have you been too embarrassed to visit the Library because you were cleaning and found materials from way back when on the shelf that you should have returned? This month, we are forgiving all debts up to this point and ask that if you drop those late materials at the library, in the bookdrop or to the Bookmobile, then we will just give you a big smile, a new Library card and you can get back on track to the road of learning and enjoyment! This includes videos, books, audios, anything that belongs to the Library's collection.

2. Internet Sessions: We will be hosting two Internet sessions here at the Library. The first session will be September 13th, Wednesday, at 10:00 a.m.-11:00 a.m. This session is great towards the very beginners at computers. We will be learning the basics from turning the computers on to logging on to the net. Don't be shy! Call the Library or come in to sign up for this session. The second session will be held September 14th, Thursday, at 7:00 p.m.-8:00 p.m. This session is for those who work and who are interested in learning more about using the Internet as a resource. With all the information available on the web, it sometimes can be overwhelming. With just a little bit of information and know how on searching, you will be so excited and able to surf the web with ease!

3. Coffee House Night: High School and Middle School-this is your night! On Thursday, September 28th from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., the Library will be transformed into a Coffee House. There will be booktalks, Poetry readings. Booths set up, computers logged on so you can use the Internet, Bakery with items for sale, other activities, and of course coffee refreshments. We will have music, lounging areas, etc. so come join your friends, relax, lounge, sign-up for a card, and enjoy having something fun to do on a Thursday Night while supporting the Library!

4. Show Your Card Around Town: This month, your Library card will do more for you than just let you use materials in the Library. Show your card around town to participating businesses in the area and receive various discounts just for showing your Library card. So far here are the participating businesses, (Contact the Library for an updated list next week.) Show your card at Godfather's Pizza at Carter's Market and receive a 10% discount on any purchase; Cox Florist, receive 10% discount on any purchase; Renfro Valley, get two tickets for the price of one for all regular Renfro Valley Shows on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday night shows.

5. Sign Up for a Friend: Sign up a friend who has no Library card or a card that is not current and receive discount coupons, and enter a drawing for prizes each week!

6. Sign Up for a Card: Sign up for a library card if you don't have one or if your card is not current and receive discount coupons, and enter a drawing for prizes each week!

7. Creative Writing Contest: Kids, this is for you! There will be two categories: 2/3 grades and 4/5 grades. 1st and 2nd place prizes will be given to the winners who write the best and most creative essay about "What My Library Card Can Do For Me." The paper must be no longer than one sheet of wide ruled notebook paper. The essays will be hung at the Library and are due no later than Monday, September 18th by 5:00 p.m.

8. Color Contest: Pick up the coloring sheet at the Library or on the Bookmobile and win prizes! The two categories for this contest are: Preschool and Kindergarten/1st grade. There will be 1st and 2nd place prizes for each of these categories as well. The coloring sheets will be displayed in the Library.

9. Gear-Up Program Kick-Off Night: The Gear-Up Program and Berea College in conjunction with the Library are setting up a new study room and job/college related resource area at the Library. The kick-off night will be September 21st, from 5:00-8:00 p.m. Come join the fun!

As you can see, there will be lots of activities going on. Now, no more excuses, come sign up for a Library card! Put your old card to use and get back on track to reading, enjoying the free resources at the Library and just have plain fun! Hope to see you soon. The hours of the Library are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Fridays from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Thursdays 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and Saturdays 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. See you soon! Any Questions? Call the Library at 256-2388.

"What Is Written"

Let's begin our study by looking at a couple of verses. "For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him." Mt. 21:32. And in Lk. 7:29-30, "And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John. But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him." Notice Jesus said in Matt. 21 that the people did not believe and did not repent evidenced by the fact that were not baptized by John. We have the same problem today when people refuse to be baptized according to the teachings of Jesus "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved, but he that believeth not shall be damned" Mk. 16:16. People say "No" to these words of our Lord. They say "Baptism is witness, a testimony that you have been saved already." May I ask one little question, Where does the Bible say this? Could someone please give the book, chapter and verse for this? They can't! Thus the doctrine of the sectarian churches and their practice evidences the fact that they don't believe nor have repented, just as those folks who rejected John's baptism in the first century.

County files suit over Isaacs road

By: Richard Anderkin

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court has filed suit over a highly controversial county road.

Last Wednesday, Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette filed a lawsuit against 23 landowners along the Oscar Isaacs Road in northern Rockcastle County.

The road has been the subject of much controversy over the past couple of years.

On at least two different occasions, the Rockcastle County Road Department and Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlolufs have removed obstructions from the road.

Several lots have been sold in the area for use by mobile homes and, at one point, land owner Charles Dege, owner of one, Neil was accused by Carlolufs of charging a toll on those moving mobile homes into the area.

And a couple of weeks ago one landowner, Karen Ramsey, made threats against Carlolufs and other members of the road department when they removed some obstructions from the road.

In their suit, the county is seeking an additional 15 feet of property along the roadway, seven and half feet on each side. That would be the total of right-of-way to 30 feet, which is required by law.

Burdette said that the county erred in 1976 when they accepted the road into the county road program without getting enough right-of-way.

"I have already been contacted by seven or eight landowners who want to give the county the extra property for the right-of-way, so it appears that most people are in agreement with the suit," he said.

At Burdette's request Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters has granted a temporary restraining order in the case, which prohibits landowners from putting anymore obstructions in the roadway.

The restraining order also prohibits landowners from denying the county access to their property, while they are working.

Landowners are also prohibited from having any contact with county employees, including Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlolufs.

Shooting incident

A Brodhead man is listed in stable condition at the University of Kentucky Medical Center in Lexington, after an apparent foiled suicide attempt.

Brodhead Police Chief Joe Bussell said that William "Bill" Hayes, 47, shot himself in the chest on Sunday night with a 410 shotgun.

Bussell said the shooting took place at Hayes' mobile home on Day Street in Brodhead around 9:30 p.m.

Bussell said that Hayes was apparently distraught over a break-up with his girlfriend.

Hayes was treated at the Rockcastle Hospital and flown to the University of Kentucky Medical Center by helicopter.

Bittersweet Festival

The Mt. Vernon City Council has apparently succumbed to public pressure and decided to hold the annual Bittersweet Festival.

The council had earlier called the festival off because they could not find a coordinator, but thanks to help from Carol Kirby of Mt. Vernon, the festival will go on.

A committee is currently being organized to run the festival and anyone interested should contact Mt. Vernon City Hall at (606) 256-3437.

The festival has tentatively been set for the first weekend in October.

More information concerning the festival can be found in next week's Signal.

Former dentist dies in Berea

John D. "Jack" Henderson, Jr., D.M.D., 78, died Thursday, August 31, 2000 at the Berea Hospital due to pneumonia. He was the son of the late John D. Henderson, D.M.D. and Clyde Watson Henderson. He was a native of Mt. Vernon and a resident of Berea for 31 years. He did his undergraduate studies at Berea College, Class of 1943, and was a graduate of the University of Louisville.

There will be two shows in addition to a photo session with The General Lee in Renfro Valley Village.

Syndicated reruns of The Dukes of Hazard television series are as popular with today's youngsters as the original was to their parents. Whether the Dukes of Hazard Reunion Tour brings back memories or helps create new ones it's a show you don't want to miss.

Local man killed in auto crash

A Rockcastle County man was killed Wednesday night on Green Fish Hill.

According to Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Charles Gray, Hugh Britt Stamper, 36, of Red Foley Road, Renfro Valley, died when he lost control of his Plymouth van around 11:30 p.m. on U.S. 25, just north of Renfro Valley.

Gray said that Stamper's van crossed the center line, left the roadway and struck a large rock, before overturning.

Rockcastle County Coroner Bill Dwell said that Stamper died from massive internal injuries after the van rolled over on him.

Stamper is the son of well-known Renfro Valley entertainer Pete Stamper and he is survived by two children. (A complete obituary appears on page A-3).

Points East

By: Ike Adams

Last Saturday morning Loretta and I took off toward Richmond yard sale and I started noticing that the pigs have been at it again. Name a brand of beer, a fast food chain, or a soda company and the containers in there all populates its product are scattered along highway 52.

Ordinarily I relish these outings because I don't have to drive and I can stay focused on grazing cattle and gardens close to the road I can manage to pay attention to Loretta's driving. Usually when I do pay attention to her driving I tend to give lots of advice.

"Watch out."

"Be anything if you put your foot on the gas pedal this thing will go faster."

"Did anyone ever tell you what that yellow line in the middle of the road is for?"

When I give too much advice she is prone, without uttering a word, to pull off the side of the road, come around to my side of the van and hold the door open until I get out and switch places so I try to keep my mouth shut or at least refrain from acting like a driver education instructor.

But last Saturday morning all I could see was garbage, garbage, garbage and the further we went the madder I got.

"People who do that ought to have to pull jail time," Loretta suggested.

But I don't think so. People who toss their garbage out the car window and advertise to the world that Kentucky is a pig sty probably live in ranch infested houses, never do their laundry, bathe twice a year, eat their cereal out of molder bowls because they are too darn sorry to do the dishes, have head lice and make kool aid in the toilet bowl. Jails are clean, sanitary places.

I think it would be far more appropriate to tattoo, in bold, chateaux, glow-in-the-dark letters the word PIG on their forehead. The jails would be reserved for employees at any grocery, fast food place or beer joint caught selling anything disposable to a PIG. Let em learn to eat and drink out of their hands, or better yet, serve them only in containers that they have rescued from a roadside ditch line.

"You want a Big Mac Pig? Run out on 52 and get a box and we'll fix you right up."

What gets my goat on yard sale trips though and makes me even angrier than the slop the pigs leave on the side of the road is signs that are out of date. The first two yard sales we tried to find were several miles off the main road and had little signs attached to power poles and trees along the way to lead you in.

"Yard Sale, Saturday, 8-3," the first one said. "3043 Poosy Ridge Road."

Not only was there no yard sale, there was nobody home. These folks had conducted their yard sale two weeks ago but they sure had a good string of traffic driving 16 miles out of the way to see the signs on Poosy Ridge.

Another one took us to the last house in a subdivision just outside of Richmond—another 4 miles out of the way to an address at Adams Court—and there was a guy out in the front yard scratching his head with one hand and his behind with the other wondering why everybody was turning around in his driveway.

Even the Rotary Club has signs at major Richmond intersections advertising a yard sale at a local bank that took place in mid August.

Some people in Lancaster leave their up until they rot.

There ought to be a law allowing the criminal justice system to take them down old yard sale signs, duplicate them in mass and then force the person who put them up to pin them on their backs, fronts and forehead and wear them 24 hours a day for the rest of their lives.

The same law ought to allow the courts to spray paint their cars and the sides of their homes with the aforementioned chateaux paint and they should not be allowed to remove it.

When they die, the law should require that instead of a tombstone, both ends of their graves be marked with removable yard sale signs.

It should also be legal for work crews who drive around cleaning up the PIGs to dump the stuff they collect on the front lawns of anybody who has left up an old yard sale sign. Because I'd bet, if a little sign were put into it, that the same people who leave up their yard sale signs are guilty of losing a major portion of the garbage along our roads out their car windows.

are attending by the many people evicting reunions. The breakup of families and neighborhoods has contributed to the need for reunions since this is often the only time ones sees his Mom and Dad, siblings, kin-folks and friends. This is the time and place to renew acquaintance, compare accomplishments and failures, inquire about family status, wedding dates, new babies and deceased ones; then enjoy all the communion created by these events.

Reunions have become quite popular and if one hasn't gone two or three during the summer he or she will be the one not attended. A wife or husband will say, "You know, my Aunt Mary, the one who practically raised me, was there and now I may never see her again. I wouldn't have missed that for anything." Or, I had no idea John and Sue would be there with their new baby. Now he will be grown before I get to hold him. And so on, till even one present has been discussed and those not present talked about.

It is at these reunions we find out who has passed away when we notice an empty seat beside a loved one or miss the hearty laughter of one who was the life of the party. It is here we are introduced to the next generation, little kids now, but in a few years will be taking our seats at the table. It is also here we get to taste culinary skills of one here we are introduced to and enjoy the Chicken and Dumplings, beans with potatoes cooked on top and cornbread as surely being the ones prepared by Aunt Sue and so on. Some of the best cooks I have ever found are aunts and uncles. It takes a freshly killed and dressed fat hen, cut up by experienced hands, cooked till tender in a big pot, then hand made dumplings dropped in the broth and simmered till they rise and float to the top, to bring forth the aroma and mouth watering flavor of old fashioned chicken and dumplings. (When I was a kid I could find a good fat hen and the energy to prepare it!)

Saturday, Polly, Chuck and I attended the Graves reunion at Blue Springs and we enjoyed every minute of it. There were members of the family I hadn't seen since the last reunion three years ago. The small children, now playing ball in the yard, were babies in arms then. And the young men and women since at the next table were the little boys and girls I remember as the little ones playing in the yard. I don't know if that made me feel older or made me realize what I had been missing. Whichever it was, I don't want it to happen again. This is a coveted seat I've been privileged to hold. I have watched a generation mature; leaving a world better off for their having been here. For some reason God has spared me for an occasional job to the next generation still unknown to me. When He reveals what it is I'll do my best to perform it.

Some of the memories of guests and things happening to them when they were visiting at the farm have become dim and an occasional job to the next generation still unknown to me. One such thing happened when Clinton Anderson Graves, the elder Clinton's son, stopped by for a chat and back to the days when Mat and I lived on the farm and nieces and nephews were frequent guests. I wish I had kept a list of all those I welcomed, with open arms, to share our lives. It seems like my cousin Van, Mat's sister Lucille, son came down for a few days to camp out in the yard. As it turned out this was their first camping trip, probably their last. They may have stayed in the house and ate a few meals with us but they were anxious to be on their own so put up a pup tent in the yard and slept, fitfully, or so he said the next night in it. Now I don't know what really happened but his story of what happened went something like this. After a walk in the woods he returned to the house scratching what he supposed was a mosquito bite till it began to spread to other parts of his body. The itching became intolerable and his eyes began to swell so he told his uncle Mat about it. That was when Mat discovered he had slept close to a patch of poison ivy and was covered from head to foot with the flaming eruptions. Mat had him take a hot bath, and told him not to scratch it if possible and he would get something to take care of it. While he was bathing Mat went to a patch of "touch-me-nots", an herbal flower growing close by, gathered a big bouquet of it and boiled it to a small amount of liquid which he applied to his whole body before allowing him to put on fresh clothes. Clinton said it worked like a miracle. And he has never had poison ivy since. But he lost the clothes he had been wearing for Mat told him to throw them away. They were

Reunions, the gathering of kin-folk or people with like interest to renew acquaintance or share old memories.

The year 2000 A.D., the beginning of a new century, has not, nor cannot, blot out the past generations of the courageous pioneers, the people that settled the mountains and valleys of a new country, raised their families to the best of their ability to be hard working and honest men and women. Nor can it do away with the memories stored in the fertile minds of the offspring of such people tied together with the bonds of family love and loyalty, even though they may now be scattered around the world. Modern highways, fast cars, and air travel have made it possible for more people living in far away places to come back home where their roots were embedded deep in the soil of their ancestors.

Family, or community, reunions have taken the place of the old fashioned get-together on the front porch or under the big tree in the yard where family members and/or neighbors once sat, some in rocking chairs, the men leaning back against the wall in home made straight back chairs, with young people sitting on the steps or porch floor, and the voices of the little kids playing in the yard completing the happy evening of fellowship. It was in this setting the problems of cking out a living were discussed and the memories of yesteryears were exchanged. The young folks, obviously doing or resting, seemed uninterested in the conversation, but did occasionally ask a question, was taking in more of the history of his past than he knew. He or she was learning what it was like to pioneer, or settle a part of the country without any of the conveniences of today's world of automation. They heard about plowing corn on a hillside with a team of mules and bull tongue plow, then hoeing the corn, one hill at a time with a hoe, and be sure the balk between the rows of corn was cleared of any weeds that may have sprung up since the last cultivation! They heard the women tell of making all the clothes on a peddle sewing machine and working the button holes by hand with a needle and thread, of making lye soap and washing clothes on a wash board before hanging them on the line to dry before ironing them with sad-irons heated on the cook stove. And of the hardship of educating their children. Whether they realized it or not this listening to their elders speak of their past was an important part of their education. These mini-reunions on the front porch were the days when the picking of a five string banjo could be heard in the background, soon joined by the strumming of a guitar and a voice joined in with "She'll be coming round the mountain" followed by other popular songs before ending with an old time fiddle or yammy, "Amazing Grace" which was joined by all.

We had several such occasions in our front yard and many more on the front porch at the home of Alice and Hainp Mive during my early years in the country. Our children, along with the other children in the Buffalo community had many of the experiences I described. In fact, Rodney learned to plow with a team of mules hitched to a bull tongue plow and his first experience of being on his own was when Mat handed him the reins and told him to plow the new ground when he was a mere 14 years old.

Memories like this has followed many a young man or Lassy through college or into far and distant lands; then brought them home again when the dust on their boots began to wear off and the longing for home took its place. The song, "There is no place like home", must have been written by someone raised in a family like this.

Today the scene has changed quite a bit, but the yearning for one

In Its Third Century of Ministry

Local church celebrates homecoming this Sunday, September 10th

The First Christian Church of Mt. Vernon began a third century of ministering to Rockcastle County in 1797. The church was established early in the 19th century, 1830 to be exact. On September 10th, the congregation will celebrate its 170th year with the theme "Celebrating the Past to Prepare for the Future." The celebration will begin at 10:00 a.m.

Through the centuries the non-denominational, independent congregation has ministered to thousands of Rockcastle County citizens and through its missions programs thousands around the world. The motto of the church in this present day is, "A local church with a HEART for the world." Radio broadcasts over WRVK and the church's newsletter has been changed in recent years to reflect this value. You can hear the church's broadcast, "Heart to Heart," over 1460 AM every Sunday morning at 8:45 a.m. as it has been for nearly 30 years now. The church's newsletter, "The Heartbeat" is a monthly publication mailed to local members and people in several states.

Families that have worshipped through the years at First Christian Church include Jim Anderson, George Bran, Logan Bryant, Clark Brown, Judge Charles Carter, Bill Coffey, E. B. Cox, Claude C. Roberts, Jack Craig, Dr. S. C. Davis (W. T. Davis, C. C. Davis), Bill Dowell, Dr. George Griffith, Earl Hammond, Joe Hansel, Dr. J. D. Henderson (Joe, David), Leo Hopkins, Ed Hunt, Louis Kelsay, John Larr, Bill Landrum, J. J. Lawrence, C. A. Lay, Estill Mcbee, David McCauley, J. G. MacCall, O. C. Meccc, Helen Miller (served as pianist for 40 years), Terry Mullins (Grace, Ruth), Shirley Riddle, William Russell Ramsay, S. M. Smock, Alfred Sparks, Robert Sparks, Jack St. Clair, Lloyd Taylor, Bige Towers, Larrn Travis, Joe Young. Other family names include Bowman, Bradberry, Bran, Bullock, Conover, Fish, Francis, Green, Gentry, Griffin, Holt, Irvine, Langford, Lovell, McAdams, Martin, Neo, O'Mara, Perciful, Peyton, Peyton, Randolph, Thompson, VanWinkle, Webb, Winstead, Wolfe. The new generation of names that worship at First Christian include Tom Alkin, Tom Arvin, Anthony Asher, Cleits & Ronnie Brown, Shannon Bishop, Larry Bradley, Rick Bryant, Mitz Calloun, Lisa Clontz, Jason Cogner, Dane Cox, John Guiffilio, Eddie Hammond, Brenda Lovell, Anthon Maschal, David McCauley, Jr., James Miller, James Edward Mullins, Chris Reddington, Roger Reynolds, Judith Smith, Tim Young, to name but a few.

These names represent only a few of those who have worshipped and are worshipping at the Mt. Vernon church. At its highest peak church membership at First Christian Church was 450-500. Instead of measuring growth by membership and attendance a new formula for measuring a church's influence (more accurate) has been adopted. Because any group has within its influence the following, curious, convinced and committed, the local circle of influence for the church as it begins the new millennium is around 300 people locally and thousands globally.

A complete listing of names and recognition of past Elders and Deacons will take place at the Homecoming. If you are a former member, having grown up in the church or a descendant of one of the above families you are urged to be present on September 10. Part of the program will be to pay tribute to and give thanks for those families who have built on a solid foundation have passed on from this life into life eternal and have passed on to this generation the candlestick of the light of Jesus Christ. This is a special, one-time-a-lifetime occasion as we move into the 21st Century.

The oldest living member of the church is Mrs. Cynthia Cox who turned 100 in May of this year. The member who has been a member the longest is Mrs. Leila Stokes who at 98 is recorded in Sunday School record books as early as 1909. Mrs. Leila now lives in Somerset with her daughters and is wiser to be a Homecoming service four years ago. Other members who are at or above the 90s include Jewell Brown, Sarah Machal and Shirley Riddle.

Members who have passed on to their eternal rest in recent years include Don Craig, Henry Cox, Frances Cox, Ed Falin, George and Martha Griffith, Estill Mcbee. David McCauley, Sr., Jeanne Mullins, Reba Neo, Ralph Sigmon, Bessie St. Clair. This homecoming will serve as a memorial service for these and others as well. All families of these families are encouraged to attend.

About six years ago the church established the First Light awards to honor past and present members and citizens of the county whom have truly let their light shine. Past recipients include John Cox, Wayne Sievart, Jason and Sara Cogner, Maude Randolph, Dr. Myrtle Henderson, Annie Farris, Myrtle Webb, Betty Lewis. This year the First Light Awards will be presented to a group, The Willing Workers. Their history of the Willing Workers spans back to the early days of the 20th Century. Early records state that the group's formal record in February of 1907. A second anniversary celebration of the group records the following in the Mt. Vernon Signal. "The Willing Workers, a society of ladies of the Christian Church, who are not only socially, but financially as well, been an indispensable factor in the success of that church." What was true then has been through the years and still today.

Other recipients of First Light Awards this year will be three Elders still living, Clark Brown and Shirley Riddle are Elder Emeritus and Ed Hunt is still an active member of the Church board. The church has been blessed with several Godly men who have served as minister. Serving in the 19th Century include J. Quinn, George W. Mills, Stephen Collier, John Will Gibson, Martin Owens, James Montree, Chestnut, Charles Kirkle, James Allen, Peter James Hiatt, George McCall, Samuel Forrer (during last years of his life gave over $500,000 to Transylvania University and College of the Bible, Lexington), Ira Boswell. Ministering during the 20th Century were David Hartsfield (1900-03), James Cole, Perciful McCallum, J. W. Masters (1907-09), helped establish at least 19 churches in Kentucky during his ministry, Harry Schaeffer, George Tinsley, Herbert Tandy Young (1915-1921), a WWI chaplain, served the church during the depression years, the years that the church paid off the mortgage on the present building. His granddaughter, Carolyn Setzer married Robert Sparks III, Aubrey Russell, Charles McKim (1944-47), Lanis Kineman (1948-51), brother Kineman will be present for Homecoming on September 10 and is the oldest living minister to have served the church in Mt. Vernon. Howard Ray (1951-56, 1962-64), Marion Parkey (1956-58), his son Kenton has been minister at Wildie Christian Church since 1972, Raymond Martin, Gene Kearns, Norman Howard (1964-68), presently serves First Christian Church, Sun City, Arizona, Bradford Coffey (1969-72), also as interim in 1991-92) born in Rendle Valley, graduated from Cincinnati Bible College, he helped establish numerous churches in Oklahoma and Louisiana and prior to his death served the Cimarron Christian Church in Rockcastle County.

Roanne Sears (presently serves First Christian Church, Warsaw, Indiana), Bro. Ernie Johnson (1974-82, 1984-86), presently serves as minister at New Castle Christian Church in New Castle, Virginia, Jerry Perry (1982-84), presently minister in Anderson County, Tom Kelly (1992-94), presently minister at Flatwoods Christian Church in Waco, Ky.

The present minister is Eddie Hammond, a Lexington boy who grew up in Rockcastle County. Bro. Eddie is a 1979 cum laude graduate of Kentucky Christian College. He has served as youth minister to River Drive Christian Church in Irvine, Ky., Big Hill Avenue Christian Church, Richmond, Ky. and Shively Christian Church, Louisville. He has held preaching ministries at Locust Grove Church of Christ, Keays, Ky. and the historic, First Christian Church of Mobile, Alabama. He is presently in his second term with the church, having served previously from 1986-91 and returning to Mt. Vernon from Mobile in 1994 to present. Previous to Bro. Eddie only Bro. Eric (10 years) and Ernie Johnson (11 years) had served longer ministries. Bro Eddie will begin his 12th year this month.

During his ministry the church has witnessed nearly 130 public decisions for Christ, 60% by immersion. Over 250 people (families and children) have been introduced to the congregation. Tithes and offerings have increased by 40% and in 1987 the congregation entered into a long range plan to improve the present building, add a fellowship hall, increase giving to ministries, add additional ministry staff, develop a purpose statement and strategy to reach the non-believers in Mt. Vernon.

As a result the following Mission Statement has been adopted. It is not a statement of belief or creed. We have no creed, but Christ, no book but the Bible. It simply serves as a filter for our ministry teams. "Our overall purpose is to bring honor and glory to Jesus Christ by obeying His command to make disciples of all nations. Specifically, our vision is to make First Christian Church an equipping center which helps individuals become Christ-like in their lives and competent in Christian service so that together we might reach and encourage the non-believers in the Mt. Vernon community in our Rockcastle neighborhoods, in our commonwealth and nation, and in the world, to enter a love relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ." Our Core Values include: Lost people matter to God, therefore they should matter to us; Authenticity, frees people and glorifies God. The church should be culturally relevant while remaining doctrinally pure; Full devotion to Christ is normal for every believer; Life change happens best in small groups; Worship is a lifestyle, expressed with a private consistency and corporate vibrancy. The church is both a trauma center for wounded people and an equipping center for the saved.

Members of the congregation serve through ministry teams including building and grounds, children's, education, hospitality, men's, outreach, senior citizens, special occasions, stewardship, youth, women's and worship ministry.

Present leaders include Elders, Leo Hopkins, Ed Hunt, Clark Brown (emeritus), Shirley Riddle (emeritus), Bill Daws and John Cox. Three new deacons will be voted on September 24, they are Rick Bryant, Jason Cogner, and Roger Reynolds. On staff with Bro. Eddie includes Youth/Children's director Sara Cogner, secretary Kristy Lovell, treasurer Brenda Lovell and custodian Bob Maschal.

Across the street the congregation has been and continues to be involved in many outreach ministries that include VBS, camp, benevolent and around the world the church gives 15% of its general fund offerings to partner with missionaries in Central America, Christine and Danilo Viji (San Pedro Sula, Honduras), Todd and Lynnell Fields (Pena Blanca, Honduras), Mexico. Peggy Russell (Mexican Christian Children's Home), Australia, Philip and Sharon Engling, Far East, C. Y. Kim (Hanoi, Vietnam), Europe, Crimtan American College (Ukraine). To help train Christians to serve, the church also partners with Kentucky Christian Assembly, Camp, Louisville Bible College and Kentucky Christian College (quarterly giving plus establishment of the Betty Reed Lewis Scholarship). They have helped establish missionaries and churches in Zambia, Africa, South Africa, Kenya, East Africa, Haiti Christian Mission, V.Y. Poland.

The church has sent many of its members, youth and adults, to work in Honduras on short-term mission trips. They also have partnered with other groups coming to the Appalachians to work including Southeast Christian Church, Louisville and Wekiva Presbyterian Church, Florida.

The church can trace its roots to a group of men and women who left Virginia in 1781 to move west to Kentucky. That group was known as the traveling church. In his book, "The Traveling Church," G. W. Ranck recounts the group entering Rockcastle County in December of 1781. This group went on to settle in Garrard County, but many returned to set up roots in this county. These were Baptists. Close behind them rose Bishop Asbury, the independent pioneer Methodist Circuit rider. The Presbyterians were also among the early settlers. There were none that called themselves "Christians" only - would not be for a generation, but this was the rootstock of the Christian Church and from such pioneer spirit it began.

It is not known which of the early preachers most influenced the believers in Mt. Vernon to leave their former Baptist and Presbyterian connections. Alexander Campbell and his father Thomas had left the Baptist church and started a movement in Pennsylvania and western Virginia, known as the Disciples of Christ. Alexander traveled through Rockcastle County as early as 1797. "Racon" John Smith is recorded as having preached in what is now the Brodhead area, and so probably other places in the county as well. Barron Stone had effectively broken with the Presbyterians when he and his followers signed "The Last Will and Testament of the Springfield Presbytery" at a meeting on June 20, 1804 at Cane Ridge in Bourbon County. Perhaps some of the citizens of the county themselves had joined the thousands at the great revivals at Cane Ridge. More than likely, that change at Mt. Vernon was affected by the combined influences of all those reformers, who, though they began in separate places and developed independently, soon found that they had much in common - indeed they shared essentially the same approach to the New Testament Church as they envisioned it.

By 1830, the reform (restoration) had taken place in Mt. Vernon, for in a meeting in December of 1830, the Boone Creek Baptist Association dropped Mt. Vernon, along with Mt. Zion, Nicholasville, Liberty and Friendship. This Friendship may have been the one near Level Green in Rockcastle County.

Two years later, in 1832, at a significant meeting at the Hill Street Christian Church in Lexington, those calling themselves Christian Only, led by Stone and the Disciples of Christ led by Campbell united in a common accord, calling themselves Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

Today, out of the restoration movement there are unfortunately three separate groups, the Disciples of Christ, Appacella churches of Christ and Independent Churches of Christ/churches of Christ. The Mt. Vernon congregation remains a non-denominational body in close fellowship with the Independent Christian churches/church of Christ, but is open to fellowship to any and all people who desire to follow the principles of New Testament Christianity as outlined in the New Testament. Our motto is "We're not ONLY Christians, but Christians ONLY."

Combined, the restoration churches today number 20+ thousand with a membership in the USA of between 4-5 million. Of all evan-

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
We, the Class of 1970, would like to express our most heartfelt and sincere thanks to Danny and Sue Ford for opening their home to us for our reunion. Your hard work and great hospitality made our reunion a complete success. Looking forward to the next one.

Class of 1970

Dear Editor,
Why Do The Heathen Rage? In 1920 the ACLU, sometimes referred to as the Anti-Christian Litigation Union, was founded by Roger Baldwin, a member of the radical left who is 1935 declared "Communist is the goal."

"By the late 1930's many of the ACLU's Board members had Communist affiliations. One of these Board members was Felix Frankfurter, who was also a ranking member of the Ku Klux Klan, and who was appointed to the Supreme Court by Franklin Roosevelt. From that podium he originated the doctrine of "the separation of Church and State" (which is not in the Constitution) and which was used in 1963 to justify the Supreme Court ruling outlawing prayer in the public schools. Like Roe vs. Wade in 1973 was, as stated by Supreme Court Justice White, "an exercise in raw judicial power." (Remember another decision of the Supreme Court in the 1800's which ruled that a slave was property, not a person.)

In the 1930's Antonio Gramsci, the head of the Italian Communist Party, told Stalin that Communism could not defeat capitalism in a head on confrontation. The strategy must be to demoralize the West with sex, drugs, financial corruption, and undermining the criminal justice system. Judge for yourself how well the ACLU is implementing this policy and Roger Baldwin's 1935 declaration, "Communism is the goal." Then look at the high number of illiterate and dysfunctional graduates of our public schools since a corrupt Supreme Court has thrown God out and the Devil came in.

The plan for the downfall of America is the same used to take over Russia in 1917 and Germany by the Nazis in the 1930's. First take away the guns of the citizens then with sex, drugs, financial corruption, by the Congress and Senate persons to vote to give up our sovereignty to the UN. Then legally we will be changed from a Sovereign Nation to a New World Order under the United Nations dictatorship. While America Sleeps!

Sincerely,
Mildred B. Rogers

Dear Editor,
I am writing to express my gratitude to the wonderful, helpful people of Mt. Vernon.

I stopped for gas at the Shell Station on Monday of this week, while I was putting the top down on my Jeep my five pound Chihuahua decided to wander. I didn't know he had left the vehicle and started down I-75. Soon I noticed he wasn't jumping around and stopped to check on him - he was gone! I then back tracked and stopped at every Shell Station until I located where I had stopped. The employees told me he had been there and put a poster for his return in their window. I stayed the night and went to the station in the morning where the employees told me to call the local radio station WRVK, because they have a swap meet program that would announce his being lost.

Within minutes of his announcement, I received a call from Rockcastle Vet Clinic where an employee of the clinic had brought my dog after finding him on the road last night. I wish to thank everyone at the Shell Station and its employees, the BP station, the Rockcastle Vet Clinic, the wonderful man and lady who cared enough to stop and pick him up and WRVK. You have a wonderful caring community.

Thank you,
Mr. & Mrs. Eaucraire

not thrown away though, for they washed and folded up in the room where he had discarded them till my house burned a few years ago. And I never knew why they were there till he told me the story at the reunion.

Now, I'm not vain for the treatment Mat gave Clinton Anderson, but I do know from Rod's experience with poison ivy, the juice from the leaves of the plant we know as "forget-me-nots" when rubbed between the hands and applied directly to the breaking out of poison ivy works.

What happened to the rest of their visit has slipped into the recesses memories past.

gelical guests this body of believers is most missionary minded with 1 in every 1,000 a foreign missionary. For comparison sake, the Assembly of God has 1 in every 1,250 and the Southern Baptists 1 in every 3,800.

We celebrate the past and those who have built on the foundation of Christ and the Apostles, we do not sit on the past, however. We are building for the future looking forward to the return of Christ.

To help with this future growth the congregation has entered into the building of a multi-purpose facility. Surveys and architectural drawings are being done presently with the building to begin being built in early spring of 2001. This facility will include a fellowship/recreational area, new kitchen, bath/shower rooms, classrooms, activity room, office space and a guestroom. Floor drawings of the new building will be available at the homecoming Sunday. This is the culmination of a long range plan that has included renovation of the present building (built in 1923-24), upgrading the parsonage, adding three properties, parking area, sound and video equipment and at the homecoming dedication of a new and updated bell tower and chimes (in memory of Ralph Sigmon).

Much of this was made possible through the generosity of Rosa Caudill Gentry, Bill and Dorothy Landrum, Raymond McClure, and Myrtle Webb. The combined total of their estate gifts is approximately $1,000,000. Many others have sacrificed and been faithful stewards.

The congregation of First Christian Church invites you to celebrate a glorious past and help them prepare for an even more glorious future. To God be the glory! Homecoming service begins this Sunday, September 10 at 10:00 a.m. with a dinner on the grounds to follow. The church will be having a group picture taken immediately following services. Join them Sunday.

Mt. Vernon Message

There are two special events scheduled for September 7. Mark your calendar for school pictures that day during school. After school, there will be a Boy Scout Rally at 6:30 p.m. Family Resource Center has scheduled a Council meeting for September 12 at 11:30.

Our school is growing and as a result, we have several new staff members. New members include: Karen Wilson, Valerie Alexander, Hope Renfro, Cloia Collins and Dana Bullock. Each week we will feature one of them in the Mt. Vernon Message. This week's feature person is Mrs. Karen Wilson.

Karen attended Charleston Southern University where she received a B.S. Degree in Early Childhood Education. She later attended University of Kentucky and received a M.S. Degree in Communication Disorders. Karen is married to Jason Wilson of Mt. Vernon and enjoys reading and cooking.

Arrangements are being made for ESS. There will be further details next week.

Tips for parents to help kids learn: 1. Communicate often and in detail with our adults who are responsible for your children (i.e. babysitters, child care workers, and teachers). 2. Show warmth and describe to children all actions during caregiving times such as feeding, diapering, bathing, applying medicine and changing clothes. 3. Hold and touch your children frequently in soothing ways while respecting their right to not be held or touched. 4. "Child proof" your house by covering outlets, removing breakable items, placing all poisons, medicines and potential weapons out of reach. 5. Take time to encourage and help children learn and establish healthy eating habits such as washing hands, brushing teeth, combing hair, dressing and flossing teeth. Encourage independence as the child grows. 6. Provide frequent positive responses by smiling, using a friendly voice, paying close attention and providing encouragement and praise. 7. Read to your children beginning with short picture books and increasing the length of stories as children grow. 8. Encourage drawing and writing by providing large pieces of paper with pencils, paint brushes, markers and crayons. Use non-toxic materials. Supervise carefully for safety.

Thought for the week: If children live with approval, the learn to like themselves.

Tiger Pause

As part of the Governor's Early Childhood Initiative, the Kentucky General Assembly enacted HB 706 which requires all children entering public school or Head Start for the first time to have an eye exam by an optometrist or ophthalmologist by January 1 of the school year. Please schedule your child's appointment now to avoid any possible delays. Medicaid and KCHIP as well as most private insurance plans cover this service.

PTA will hold their first regular monthly meeting on Thursday, September 14 at 7:00 in the cafeteria. The book fair will open at the conclusion of the meeting.

The Brohead Family Resource Center Advisory Council will meet at 6:30 in the cafeteria prior to the PTA meeting.

Mayoral candidates for BES this year are Holly Brown, Tiffany Smith, Andrew Thomas, Annie Hasty, Jordan Thompson, Rebekah Gevedon, Amy Poynter, Gary Caldwell, Kelly Russell, Zachariah Jones, Brady Lear, and Katherine Sandlin. Candidates will be campaigning this week and the election will be held next Tuesday, September 12. Mayoral candidates are representatives from the 5th grade and the elected official will be responsible for knowing the functions of micro society.

Cub Scout meeting for all interested boys grades 1st through 5th at 7 p.m. Thursday night (Sept. 7th) in the cafeteria. Parent MUST accompany child.

Please pay close attention to the new bus loop, student pick up, drop off, and walker map located in the Signal this week. This is very important to ensure the safety of ALL students. We ask for your patience and cooperation once again.

Managing Grief

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Science

Grief is associated with any kind of loss. The more that is lost, the greater the grief. As such, grief is natural. It is not productive to think you can avoid it.

Rather than thinking of grief as something to avoid or overcome, think of grief as something you live through. Accept grief and try to understand this process, which can help heal emotional wounds.

When a loved one dies, you may not be emotionally able to accept death's reality. While some may react first with tears, others may feel too numb to cry. Shock may be nature's way of helping us through what would otherwise be unbearable.

As shock subsides, a phase of uncertainty and confusion is common. It results from having lost the routine and regularity of day-to-day activities. While grieving people sometimes need quiet and solitude, they also need to cry and to talk.

People often feel and express anger, bitterness, hostility and resentment as part of grief. These volatile emotions can shoot out in many directions. Anger and hostility are normal and need to be accepted and expressed. Bottling them up inside only interferes with the grieving process. Talking openly helps most people stop feeling angry.

Guilt may overlap with anger. Some bereaved feel guilty because of their volatile emotions. In addition, we all say and do things to loved ones we later regret. Those experiencing guilt must remember that no one is perfect. We all do little injustices to each other, but day-to-day most of us do our best.

During this period you also need other people, trusted friends or relatives who will listen patiently. Bereaved people need to tell how bad they feel and know they won't be rejected for doing so.

The changes that inevitably result from a loved one's death bring depression in many bereaved people.

With little desire to do anything, they often withdraw from others and experience life as empty and with little purpose. Self-pity is frequent. As with other stages, one of the good needs is to have a good friend who can be present frequently and regularly. Professional counseling and support groups also can be very beneficial.

Gradually the grieving person realizes that the worst is over and that life indeed goes on. Relief is something difficult to openly admit and acknowledge. Remember that these feelings do not imply and criticism of the loved one who has died. Instead, they probably mark the beginning of recovery.

Recovery often is slow. Hope builds as recovery progresses and the future. Recovery involves accepting past and present realities, redefining goals and creating a new lifestyle. As you recover, you will remember the past without living in it.

*Be aware of grief's presence as a normal process with defined stages. While people respond during bereavement in a wide variety of ways, a pattern with distinct stages does exist. Become familiar with the stages.

*Find support. Having a confidant can help you manage grief. You will find someone to whom you can pour out your fears, sadness, anger and hope. He or she should be genuinely sensitive, a good listener, nonjudgmental and able to maintain confidentiality, and have time to hear you out.

*Experience grief. Crying gives many people a great deal of emotional release. It is just as natural to cry as it is to laugh and both are important for mental health. While crying is not absolutely essential for everyone, it can help. A grieving person is fortunate if he or she has a close friend or relative who is comfortable in the presence of tears. Emotional release also can be found in other ways. Exercise, physical work, involvement in a hobby or recording your feelings in a diary can be therapeutic and help you manage grief. Experiencing grief fully means that the process cannot be rushed. Grief has no rigid timetable saying you should be at a certain stage at a certain time. Each person must work through the process in his or her own way. Those who are grieving often ask: Will I ever return to normal? How does grief end? The intense emotional pain will subside but you will never be the person you were before you loved one died. The loss and the grieving process itself will change you. As bereavement ends, your thinking will focus on the present and future.

For a free copy of "Accept and Understand Grief", contact the Extension Service at 256-2403.

with no tenants, approximately 71 cents per pound payments will be made. For tobacco pounds leased in without tenants an additional 44 cents per pound will be made. Again, September 15 is the deadline to complete forms at the FSA office. On September 15 the 2000 Phase II application process will start with forms being mailed based on FSA history for the 1999 crop season. Information reported to FSA, as of July 1, 1999 as to quota owner, growing farm, and tenants will be preprinted on applications.

Even if you no longer rent or are a tenant on last year's farm, you will share in the Phase II payment. This payment means $935,000 to local farms.

The Phase II will be similar to last year. Basic quota owned or leased away on July 1, 1999 will receive approximately 12.3 cents per pound.

The growing farm or quota leased in will receive approximately 9.7 cents per pound. Persons growing or tenants sharing in the production risks will receive approximately 9.7 cents per pound. As soon as sample forms are available, the Extension Office will hold meetings to assist farmers in completing their application. The deadline for Phase II completion will be October 31, 2000. A toll free phone assistance for answering questions will be available at 1-877-549-2537.

And, last but not least, is Phase I money. The Kentucky General Assembly used state tobacco settlement money for the Phase I program. Just over $400,000 will be available for projects in Rockcastle. At this time, program guidelines are unsure but details will be made available as soon as possible.

Tobacco Payments

If you are a tobacco quota owner, tobacco farmer or tobacco tenant, by now you are probably confused by all the different programs and dead lines. The terms Phase I, Phase II and TLAP (Tobacco Loss Assistance Program) are in themselves confusing but add a few dead lines, along with which office to get help from, and you are sure to be confused.

The first programs started last fall were part of the master settlement agreements between states Attorney General and tobacco companies. Phase II was money designated to farmers. The 1999 payments were based on FSA history during the 1998 crop year for each farm. Basic quota owner received 1/3, growing farm 1/3, and grower or tenant, 1/3. Payments were received on December 31, 1999. During the Spring of 2000, congress approved TLAP Funds which were distributed based upon the information gathered on the Phase II forms completed in 1999. Checks were mailed out in April. At the present time, FSA (Farm Service Agency) is completing applications for another TLAP program based on the 2000 crop. FSA staff indicated that just over 60% of eligible farmers have completed the proper paper work. This program means $967,000 to local farmers and the deadline of September 15, 2000 is fast approaching. The program payments are based on July 1, 2000 basic quota or leased away quotas, at approximately 7 cents per pound. For basic quota grown on the farm

"Abandoned"

"My six brothers and sisters and I were abandoned on Hwy. 150. Having no food, water or shelter, we wondered about our fate, as loud trucks and cars sped by, and buzzards circled overhead. One kind passerby brought us a box for shelter, and gave us water and food. One of us was taken by an adoptive family from the busy roadside. There are still six of us left."

Unfortunately, this type of situation is too often reported to Rockcastle Adoption Agency for Pets volunteers in Rockcastle County. These adorable pups were rescued Sunday. Two more have been placed in an adoptive home. These four still anxiously await a family to call their own.

Their plea today is, "Please let me be a part of your family. Take me to a veterinarian for my vaccinations and worm medicine. And when I am six months old, have me spayed or neutered so no more unwanted pups will be helplessly abandoned again!"

*If you can answer their plea, call 758-9338 or 758-0064.

Remember: One female dog and her offspring can produce 67,000 puppies in six years.

One female cat and her offspring can produce 420,000 kittens in seven years.

Have your pets spayed and neutered!!!

Attention cat owners: If you are not able to have your female cats spayed, there is a very expensive birth control pill available. Ask your veterinarian about possible side effects.

Rockets down Warriors in Jamboree Bowl 43-0

Defrick, Bussett, right, accepts the offensive MVP award from Cindy Armstrong of Rentro Valley.

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rockets used some big plays Friday night to dismantle the visiting Southwestern Warriors for their third victory of the season.

When the dust had settled the Rockets had come away with a 43-0 shutout in the annual Rentro Valley Jamboree Bowl.

Senior Derrick Bussett, who scored two touchdowns and rushed for 94 yards was named the offensive Most Valuable Player.

Senior Sean Smith and Sophomore Marty Reagan, shared the Most Valuable Defensive award. Smith blocked a punt and returned it for a 38 yard score.

Reagan had three interceptions, two of which he returned for touchdowns.

All total the ROCK scored six touchdowns Friday night, but four of them were either when the ROCK was on defense or when special teams were on the field.

The Warriors are no doubt a decent high school football team, but after Senior Derrick Bussett took the opening kick-off and returned it 79 yards for a score, it was all Rockcastle County.

In the second quarter, Bussett added another score when he ran the ball in from the 26. Senior Greg Terry's kick was good and the ROCK led 13-0.

Terry then kicked a 25 yard field goal to make it 16-0. Terry has kicked at least one field goal in each of Rockcastle's three games this season.

Just when Southwestern thought things couldn't get worse, Smith blocked a punt and returned it 38 yards. Terry's Mck was good and the Rockets led 23-0.

Sophomore Marty Reagan put an exclamation point on the first half when he picked off a Warrior pass and ran it back 42 yards for the score. Terry's extra point kick made it 30-0 at half time.

Senior quarterback Christopher Parsons found junior Josh Hale on a 27 yard touchdown pass to give the Rockets a 36-0 lead in the third quarter.

Reagan ended the route of the Warriors with an 80 yard interception return for a touchdown late in the fourth period. Terry's kick made it 43-0.

Ironically, Southwestern outgained the Rockets on offense picking up a total of 212 yards compared to just 189 yards for the Rocket offense.

However, Southwestern turned the football over seven times and Rocket defense spent most of the night on the field.

The ROCK offense ran only 32 plays from scrimmage the entire night. A lot of plays came in the fourth quarter when the Rocket JV took over and Rockcastle was content to run out the clock.

Senior middle linebacker Travis Ingram led the Rockets again in tackles with 16 and he had one sack. Ingram will hold all Rockcastle County school records for tackling when he graduates. He will set a mark that is likely to go unbroken for many years to come.

Junior William Blair had 12 tackles and assists from his defensive lineman spot and he also had one sack.

Josh Hale had ten tackles and assists and he picked off a Warrior pass.

Junior Clay Dooley had 8 tackles and assists and Sean Smith had 7 tackles to go along with his blocked punt and three sacks.

Senior Dackery Larkey had seven tackles and assists. He also recovered a fumble and was in on three quarterback sacks.

Reagan had the three interceptions and six tackles and assists. Bussett also had six tackles and assists and junior Adam Childress had five tackles and assists. Childress also picked up a sack.

Junior Josh Taylor and Senior Greg Harper each had four tackles and sophomore Tanner Abney had three tackles.

Stephen Boreing, Brad Wesley, Steve Blair, Michael Hayes and P.J. Rowe all had a tackle and Rowe had a fumble recovery.

Quarterback Christopher Parsons was four for five passing for 56 yards and one touchdown pass. He also had 25 yards rushing on five carries.

Bussett had 94 yards on eleven carries and he caught one pass for four yards. He also had a touchdown on a kick-off return.

Clay Dooley had 12 yards on three carries. Reagan had three yards on seven carries and James Michael Bussett had two rushes for no yardage. Greg Harper caught one pass for 15 yards. Josh Hale caught two for 37 yards and a touchdown.

Greg Terry was four for six in extra point attempts and he had one field goal for 25 yards. The Rockets have this week off and will travel to Estill County next week where they will face the Engineers, who are still in a rebuilding phase.

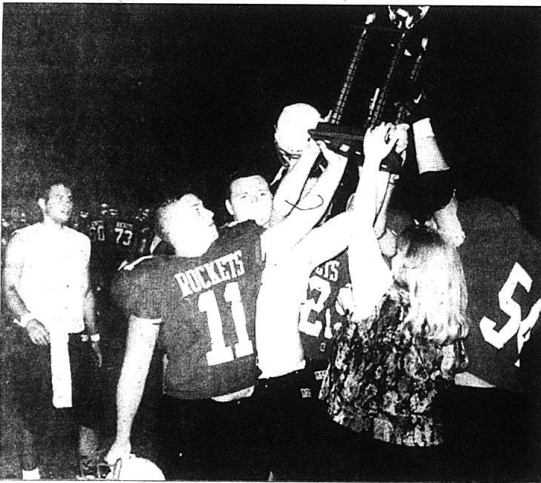

Game time in Irvine is 7:30 p.m. On Tuesday night, the Rockets junior varsity won their third straight game defeating North Laurel 60-6. Quarterback Aaron Anderkin threw five touchdowns in the victory.

Clay Dooley puts the stop on a Warrior runner, as Travis Ingram and Josh Hale, prepare to help out.

P.J. Rowe, Chaz Cable and Nathan Brummett attempt to stop a Southwestern runner in Friday night's win over the Warriors. The Rockets won 43-0.

County Middle School.

The new program, which is designed to help students and parents alike, was awarded to the local school system in May and has started with the beginning of this school year.

"The grant will allow us to develop a strong, innovative new afterschool program that meets the needs of families in this community," said Jenny Sweet, Project Director. "Too many children are unsupervised between the time that school doors close and parents get home from work. Our new program will provide children with enriching, fun, supervised activities during those hours," she said.

The grant to Rockcastle County School District is one of just 435 that were awarded by the U.S. Department of Education; there were more than 4,000 applications.

Although some 4,000 schools are conducting 21st Century Community Learning Center programs across the country, Kentucky received only 26 grants statewide, and two of those were in Rockcastle.

Currently the federal government spends $435 million dollars on the learning centers. That is up from $1 million in 1997.

Obviously, it is the fastest growing afterschool program in the country. The initiative is designed to keep some kind of organized activity or place to go after school. Ninety percent favor providing afterschool programs to all children from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., five days a week. Most adults believe that afterschool programs are likely to: help families keep kids safe, improve socialization, build social skills and improve conflict resolution ability.

A local group of concerned individuals—representing Rockcastle County High School, the Area Technology Center and the local school district, parents, post-secondary institutions, business and industry, Family Court and other community service agencies collaborated to develop the 21st Century Community Learning Center service plan for Rockcastle.

The service plan which guides the programs to be offered to students and out-of-school participants at both sites includes five major service components: Integrated education, health, social service, recreational and cultural programs, along with summer and Saturday programs, in conjunction with recreation programs, telecommunications and technology education programs, employment counseling, training and placement and parenting skills education programs.

"We are proud that Rockcastle County School District is joining a dynamic national network of educators and community leaders who are creating innovative afterschool programs in communities across the country," said Larry Hammond, Rockcastle School Superintendent. "We look forward to having success with this program," he said.

Local directors of the program, Jenny Sweet and Anthony Coffey, said that individual tutoring will be available to students who have trouble in all areas and especially the four core classes.

"If students need help in language arts, math, english or social studies, we can provide individual help in most cases," said Mrs. Sweet.

"There are many classes also available for parents or community members who simply want to learn more about technology and other areas which they are interested in," Mrs. Sweet said.

For more information contact Jenny Sweet at 256-2125, Trina Bustle at 256-4816, Ralph Baker at 256-1111 or Anthony Coffey at 256-5118.

School of Dentistry, Class of 1945. After serving in the United States Navy during WWII he returned to Mt. Vernon, where he practiced dentistry for over 40 years. He and his wife, Joyce celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary February 12th of this year.

Survivors are his wife, Joyce •Richie Henderson; two sons, John Richie Henderson and wife, Lynn Kleven Henderson and Casper Lewis Henderson and wife, Susan Brennan Henderson; two grandchildren, Deymi Grace Henderson and Connor Llewellyn Henderson; one sister, Frances Ruth Pennington of Winchester; two brothers, William J. Pech Henderson, D.M.D. and David Watson Henderson of Mt. Vernon.

Memorial services were Saturday, September 2, at the Union Church with Rev. Kent Gilbert officiating. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made to one's favorite charity, or to the Rockcastle County Public Library, the Madison County Public Library or to Union Church of Berea, where he was an active member, and had served as the church treasurer and a deacon.

A Tribute to Jack Henderson
Hello, my name is Bruce Pennington and I am Jack's nephew. My mother, Frances, is his sister. I would like to share a few of my memories of Jack, who was a very good uncle to me.

Because my father, Jim Pennington, was in the Navy, we lived all over the world when I was growing up. But we had very close ties to our extended family in Mt. Vernon, whom we visited every summer. One thing I could count on, as we moved from place to place, was that I was part of two strong, loving families who knew each other and knew practically everyone else in Mt. Vernon. As the main character in the recent movie, The Straight Story, said, it is easy to break one twig, but not to break a whole bundle of twigs. The one twig is a single person, but the bundle, why now...that is a family!

All that the preacher has said about Jack was very true. He was gentle, generous, curious and mischievous. When we would visit in the summer, Jack generously gave up his Thursday afternoons off to me and my brother, Bob. At his house on the farm outside of Mt. Vernon, he and Joyce taught us to play croquet. My brother and I, like most brothers, were very competitive. One of the things Jack patiently tried to teach us was that hitting against your opponent with a croquet mallet was not part of the game.

Jack was very curious about how things worked, and one of the things I learned from him was a love of science. In fact, I am a scientist today. Some of the things Jack tinkered with were rockets and computers. I grew up hearing about Jack's scientific adventures with Brother Bryant when they were both in high school. Years later, when I saw the movie October Sky, which is about a teenager in rural West Virginia who experimented with rockets, and later became a rocket scientist, I almost thought they had made a movie about my Uncle Jack and Brother Bryant.

Jack used to help me build things. One summer when I was 13 and living in Cuba, my family thought it would be good for me to get away and spend the summer in Kentucky. I felt very grown up to take an airplane by myself, first from Cuba to Washington, D.C. and then from there to Kentucky. Once I got there, I clearly needed something to do, and Jack and I dreamed up the project of building a go-cart with a 1-hp. It had a plywood superstructure, curved sides painted red and was propelled by an old lawnmower engine. Unfortunately, Jack's transmission design was a lot stronger than my steering design. It would go like heck, but you could barely control it!

Now, for Jack the mischievous. Jack had somehow figured out how to safely make small amounts of what I believe was nitroglycerin. Once soaked into filter paper, the paper would be cut into small explosive squares. Perhaps to relive a boyhood prank with Brother Bryant, Jack would teach Bob and me about his exploding paper. Once we had made it, we placed little pieces strategically up and down the sidewalks of Mt. Vernon, and then stepped aside to watch. When an unruly pedestrian would step on one of the little squares, it would make a loud but harmless explosion! People chewed a lot of tobacco back then, and I'm afraid a lot of fresh "chaws" were wasted that afternoon when they got spit out in surprise. You will be glad to know that my son, Luke and I are not peppering the sidewalks of Denver with nitroglycerin paper strips. Years of graduate training in child psychology have taught me that this is one family tradition that is better left to storytelling than to actual practice.

Well, these are some of my memories of my dear Uncle Jack. I will dearly miss him. I hope I can pass on to my children some of what I learned from him.

Free health test could help people breathe easier

National Respiratory Care Week is a time to focus on the dedicated men and women who help others improve their ability to breathe more effectively and comfortably through Respiratory Therapy. So you might think Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center (RHRCC), which has more respiratory therapists than any other facility in the state, would be having a party during the week of September 11-15.

According to Respiratory Therapy Director Kim McGowen, RRT, hospital personnel will take time out to celebrate, but they'd rather focus on the respiratory health of their friends and neighbors.

"National Respiratory Care Week is a chance for us to help people understand how a simple test can identify whether or not they have a breathing problem and if it is something they need to see a physician about," said McGowen. "That's why we are giving free pulmonary function tests (PFTs) next week."

hard and fast as you can into a device called a spirometer. The spirometer measures the total amount exhaled.

The test only takes about 10 minutes once it is begun and is free only during this designated week. For more information, contact Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center at 606-256-2195.

Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center is a non-profit facility offering inpatient, outpatient and diagnostic services. It also is home to the state's only specialized, long-term care program for people who are ventilator-dependent. RHRCC is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.

The free screening test, which typically would cost about $195, will be available September 11-15 to anyone requesting it at the hospital's patient registration desk between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

McGowen especially recommends that anyone who can answer one or more of the following questions with a "yes" come in for the simple test:

- * Does asthma, bronchitis, chronic bronchitis, or emphysema run in your family?
- * Do you smoke?
- * Are you short of breath more than other people are?
- * Do you cough?
- * When you cough, do you cough up thick yellow, green or white mucus?

PFT is used to check if someone has COPD, which stands for Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease and refers to a problem with breathing air out from your lungs. If you have difficulty breathing "used" air out of your lungs, that results in inadequate space being left for oxygen-rich air to enter your lungs.

Until recently, most people who had COPD were grouped together and considered to have one disease. We now know that several different diseases cause this difficulty in releasing air from the lungs. Asthmatic bronchitis, chronic bronchitis and emphysema are three of the major diseases that are grouped together as

Early discovery of a breathing problem and appropriate treatment can prevent the disease from progressing to the point that it seriously affects the way you live and work.

The screening that RHRCC will provide during National Respiratory Care Week is a spirometry test. It measures the amount of air that you can blow out of your lungs and how fast you can blow it out. The test requires that you take in the deepest possible breath, then blow it out as Wanted — Artists, painters, crafters, quilters, owners of bed and breakfasts, markets and locations where Bluegrass, mountain and gospel music is played, and any other site, and/or activity which presents our cultural heritage in a positive light — to participate in an internationally advertised driving tour in Rockcastle County.

Rockcastle is one of four counties chosen by Eastern Kentucky University to take part in Kentucky Artisan Heritage Trails (KAHT). KAHT is a pilot project which will connect Madison, Jackson, Rockcastle and Estill counties via a rural tourism program designed to attract visitors, enhance community and economic development and create jobs. The project can also present a true, positive picture of our area and our people. The success of the overall project will depend on the enthusiasm, cooperation and hard work each of us brings to it in each county.

The Rockcastle County Task Force will host a community meeting at the RTEC building, behind Cox Hardware, Tuesday, September 12, at 6:30 p.m. At this meeting you will hear more about the project, what is necessary for participation, and how to get signed up; you will also meet your county neighbors who will also be participating.
