Superintendent's Message

We in Rockcastle County Schools observe October as "Arts and Humanities" month. It is hoped that all citizens will join us in recognizing the students, teachers, staff and administrators in viewing the arts as academic. Rockcastle County Schools has responded to the instruction of the arts and humanities as basic to the total education of all students. We are fortunate to have both a faculty and staff who realize that arts instruction is the responsibility of all.

From the gains achieved on the arts and humanities state assessment to the inclusion of arts and humanities instruction in all disciplines, Rockcastle County Schools is seen as a leader in the continued development of a strong arts and humanities program on a state and national level.

The captions accompanying the photos in the publication are a direct reflection of the arts and humanities academic expectations mandated by the state legislature in 1990. These are the very goals that continue to drive the study of arts and humanities in our schools.

Where once the arts were viewed as simply electives available to only those students with "talent", educators now incorporate the study of arts and humanities as a tool to strengthen critical thinking skills. No longer are the arts just an "add-on" responding to emotion and opinion but rather the arts have become a necessary component in appreciating and understanding a variety of peoples and their culture.

I encourage you, the public, to visit our schools during October and become a partner in the success we have achieved during the past ten years in realizing the importance of the arts and humanities to our lives and the lives of our children.

Students create works of art and make presentations to convey a point of view.

PROCLAMATION

ARTS AND HUMANITIES MONTH OCTOBER

To all whom these presents shall come:

WHEREAS arts and humanities education contributes powerful educational benefits to all elementary and secondary students including the following:

- arts and humanities education teaches sensitivity to beauty, order, and other expressive qualities;
- arts and humanities education gives students a deeper understanding of multicultural values and beliefs;
- arts and humanities education reinforces and brings to life what students learn in other subjects; and
- arts and humanities education interrelates student learning in production, history, criticism, and aesthetics; and

WHEREAS these benefits of arts and humanities education form the basis of "World Class Standards" developed by the U.S. Department of Education and the National Endowment for the Arts; and

WHEREAS our national leaders have acknowledged the necessity of including arts and humanities experiences in all students' education;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that support should be given to arts and humanities teachers as they attempt to strengthen arts and humanities education in their schools and communities.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Larry B. Hammond, Superintendent Rockcastle County Schools, proclaim that October be observed as ARTS AND HUMANITIES MONTH.

ARTS ARE ACADEMIC

What is a small rural school system with big arts-education ideas and a limited arts-education budget to do? According to "Gaining the Arts Advantage: Lessons From School Districts That Value Art Education," a report that showcases the results of a two-year study by the President's Committee on the Arts and Humanities and the Arts in Public Education Partnership, money is not necessarily the determining factor in establishing and maintaining a commitment to arts education. It may be more important to have a school board with a supportive superintendent and principals, a policy framework and environment that values the arts as equal to other school subjects, a curriculum that consecutively builds on a strong arts foundation laid in the elementary grades and, especially, teachers willing to expand their arts knowledge.

Rockcastle County is among 91 schools across the country to be recognized nationally for its commitment to arts in education. The county's district school board and then-superintendent Bige W. Towery, Jr. initiated that commitment in early 1989 by hiring a basic arts coordinator and working with the Kentucky Arts Council to obtain some initial grant monies. By the time the Kentucky Education Reform Act became law in 1990, the Basic Arts Program was already in gear.

At the 10-year-mark, basic arts coordinator H. Allen Pensol, current superintendent Larry B. Hammond, and district supervisor Claudinnia B. Cash are enthusiastic about the district's accomplishments. The county's schools have multipurpose areas for displaying student work, and performance, and rehearsal space. The district has expanded its staff of arts and humanities specialists by 60% and offers numerous professional development opportunities. An estimated 90 percent or more of Rockcastle's teachers incorporate the arts and humanities into their daily instruction. Assessment scores in arts and humanities remain at or well above the state average. Elementary schools regularly hold student-parent arts nights and artist residencies are actively involved in school programs and instruction. A high school theater touring group performs for the intermediate students and middle school students stage performances for the primary students. Rockcastle County High School recently instituted the required credit in arts and humanities for graduation. School board members hold periodic meetings at the schools when student performances occur. Sometimes they even become a part of the presentation itself!

Better critical thinking skills, more advanced basic skills, an improved attitude toward school, and improved self-esteem are just a few of the benefits that teachers and administrators have noted over the past decade. And that's just in the students! Pensol says, "The goal for teachers has never been to give students just simple fun things to do. The arts are so much more than that. Our long-term goal continues to be developing exciting vehicles for learning content." He calls what the Rockcastle teachers are doing "amazing," considering their financial and time constraints.

Now, even teachers who don't feel qualified or prepared to teach the arts realize that they don't have to be "artists or performers" themselves. "I just added elements to what I was already doing," says Shelly Parkerson, a teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary School. "A basic outline and the needed materials and they take it from there." A lesson plan about great painters combined with the opportunity to paint might branch into discussion about how colors were created and blended during that time in history; about shapes, angles, and curves; or about the customs, economics and politics reflected in the art of that time period.

All of this leads to the most important reason for the Rockcastle program's recognition: The arts are viewed as academic. A student with little or no previous skill in "the arts" is able to excel in basic and advanced skills via the incorporation of the arts and humanities into every area of study.

Brodhead council to hold meeting

The City of Brodhead is accepting applications for the position of police officer.

Resumes can be dropped off at Brodhead City Hall or mailed to P.O. Box 556, Brodhead, Ky. 40409.

City Clerk Becky Buswell said that officer Willie Skeens had taken a job with another police department in Garrard County.

Brodhead will also hold a special council meeting on October 16, at 7:00 p.m., at which time they will likely hire a person for the water and sewer department.

Mrs. Grace D. Mullins, of Mt. Vernon, celebrated her 100th birthday Saturday, October 7. Mrs. Mullins is shown with State Rep. Danny Ford, who presented her with letters from President Bill Clinton, Kentucky Governor Paul Patton, U.S. Congressman Harold Rogers and Rep. Ford. Mrs. Mullins was also given the honor of being declared an official Kentucky Colonel. Mrs. Mullins has one surviving daughter, Mrs. Pauline Eaton, of Mt. Vernon. Congratulations Mrs. Mullins.

A mobile home, located on Hwy. 150 and owned by Alice Polly, was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. Members of the Mt. Vernon and Brodhead Fire Departments responded to the call. On Sunday, the home of Tony and Brenda Renner at Maple Grove was heavily damaged by fire. Mt. Vernon, Livingston and Brodhead Fire Departments responded. Mt. Vernon fireman Tim Cameron estimated the damage to the Renner home at nearly $40,000.

Mt. Vernon designated as bronze level in state program

Mt. Vernon was one of 32 communities in the state receiving Renaissance Kentucky designation at the Kentucky League of Cities Convention in Louisville on September 29.

The goal of Renaissance Kentucky is to recognize and honor communities that have maintained or restored their central downtown areas as safe, efficient and functional urban cores. Additionally, the program provides support and technical assistance with the development of strategies for those communities that want to improve their downtowns.

Renaissance Kentucky was launched by Governor Paul Patton in 1997, and 41 communities applied for and received this designation in 1998. During the last two years, these communities have received a total of $32 million for infrastructure planning, streetscape and facade improvements and utility relocation.

Warren Rosenthal receives Everett C. Brown Award

Warren Rosenthal, left, who gave the Renfro Valley Entertainment complex to the Kentucky Country Music Hall of Fame board last summer, was honored with the Everett C. Brown Community Service Award. Mrs. Martha Cox, right, presented the award.

Written and presented by Mrs. Martha Cox at the Rockcastle Kiwanis Meeting October 5

The dream and vision that began over ninety years ago with John Lair and the neighborhood boys playing string instruments in a barn loft along big and little Renfro Creek, has become such a successful reality—beyond anything their young minds could have imagined. This peaceful and serene valley has a mood and musical history uniquely its own that has cast its magical spell on millions who have stopped here for a short while and found the spell to last a lifetime.

One such person who found himself caught up in this sixty-one year old history of Renfro Valley Barn Dance is Warren Rosenthal and this is the man we would like to honor and to thank today.

It has been said, "to whom much is given, much is expected." By the long, long list of accomplishments and awards given to Mr. Rosenthal, we would have to say he could not have given more of himself to his community or to ours.

In addition to his many successful business-oriented activities, Mr. Rosenthal has found time to devote

Venters grants appeal bond for Jones Controversy erupts between Circuit Judge, prosecutors

By: Richard Anderkin
Rockcastle Circuit Judge Dan Venters and prosecutors from Commonwealth Attorney Eddy Montgomery's office are at odds this week, over whether or not a local man convicted of a crime in May, should be released from jail on an appeal bond.

Of course the Judge has the final say, but that hasn't kept Montgomery's office from strongly objecting to his ruling.

On September 25, Benji Jones, 31, of Sand Hill, was sentenced to a total of eight years in prison, after he was found guilty in May of two counts of unlawful imprisonment, one count of assault and two counts of menacing.

The Rockcastle Circuit jury comprised of seven men and five women had originally recommended a sentence of ten years after finding Jones guilty on May 18.

The trial was the result of an August 15th, 1999 incident in which Jones was accused of kidnapping his ex-wife and daughter and taking them into the woods at Cat Gap.

According to court documents, his daughter was not forced to go with her parents, but she said she was afraid for her mother's safety because her father had a rifle in his possession.

Jones was indicted on September 10, 1999 on seven counts, in connection with the kidnapping.

On September 29, Jones' attorney Damon Preston filed a notice of appeal in the case and asked that his client be released on a $20,000 bond, while he awaits the outcome of the appeal.

On October 2nd, Judge Venters ruled that Jones could be released on an appeal bond of $20,000 provided he ingest no alcohol or controlled substances, have no contact with his ex-wife, abide by Family Court orders regarding contact with his daughter and enroll in an alcohol counseling program. Jones must also live with his mother.

But, on October 4, Commonwealth Attorney Eddy Montgomery and assistants David Dalton and Chris Brown filed a motion asking Venters to reconsider his order.

The three pointed out that Jones had been found guilty by an unbiased Rockcastle jury and that the Judge had already lowered his sentence to eight years, after the jury recommended ten.

The Commonwealth Attorney's office also pointed out that Venters ruled without a response from their office or a hearing on the matter.

According to their motion, the appeal bond should have been decreased because Jones has a long history of domestic violence and substance abuse.

The Commonwealth Attorney's office also pointed out that Jones' appeal bond was lower than the original bond set when Jones was indicted, but still presumed innocent.

"It is difficult enough to prosecute and win criminal cases under the best of circumstances. It is difficult enough to get twelve people to agree on an appropriate verdict and sentence in a criminal case. The Commonwealth submits that reducing a jury's ten-year verdict for Second-Degree Assault and First-Degree Unlawful Imprisonment and then setting the Defendant free sends the wrong message to the people of Rockcastle County. The Office of the Commonwealth's Attorney believes that violent criminals should be held accountable for their actions, and

Bittersweet committee should be commended on a job well done

Richard Anderkin, Editor of Mount Vernon Signal.

Our hats are off this week to the Bittersweet Festival committee.

Although they had very little time to coordinate the annual event, they did a stellar job.

Main Street in Mt. Vernon was decorated beautifully and there were plenty of activities and entertainment for the young and old alike.

Had it not been for the efforts of Carol Kirby, Phyllis Deatherage, Sherry Hansel, Teresa Bussell, Janet McClure, Sharon Thacker, Lisa Sutton, Chris Kirby and Minnie Kirby, there would not have been a Fall Festival in Mt. Vernon for the first time in over ten years.

Other than a very small advertisement in the classifieds, the Mt. Vernon City Council did little to inform the public that no festival was going to be held this year.

One citizen told me that city employees were too busy to manage the festival from city hall.

He said he got the impression they didn't have time because they were so busy counting the tax money generated by the occupational tax.

Part of the blame lies right here with me because I missed a couple of meetings where they discussed the festival and the fact they weren't going to have it - but that still doesn't change the fact that the city could have run a larger, more noticeable, public notice asking for help. Citizens were not informed of the council's decision until a short front page story just over a month ago.

That story in this publication was all it took to get the attention of all the people mentioned above and the fetival was on. As one of their told me, they had to see the festival just stop.

Although the committee did a fine job coordinating the annual 5K race, they had very few participants compared to past years, when people had plenty of notice.

The poor participation in the race is the fault of the city's because they made little or no effort to have the festival and potential participants made other plans.

While it is not a matter of life or death, it is just another indication of the council's lack of concern for civic affairs.

When Mayor Karen King was pushing for the occupational tax she told interested persons that some of the money would be used to build a new fire house. Plus, the police department is housed in the basement of city hall in less than ideal surroundings.

When you think of actual services you get from the city that you don't pay for dearly on a monthly basis (water and sewer), fire and police protection are about it.

The council is getting a real bargain. The fire department is managed strictly by volunteers and many of the police officers on the city's payroll barely make enough to live on.

The least the council could do is provide better facilities for both departments.

The Mayor and council continue to say they are still catching up on their finances, but who really knows because the council is still way behind on their audits. The last audit completed was for fiscal year 1996-97.

They may think they know where they are at financially, but they don't have anything to back it up if they do they should share it with the rest us.

Remember those of us who work and own property in the city have a much more vested interest these days in what goes on at city hall. After all we get to pay for the "goings-on."

South Carolina is too hot to have any utility for most Angles.

I piled the stuff up in the kitchen floor and sat down to smoke a cigarette.

Finally gave in last Saturday night about three minutes before dark and decided it was really going to frost largely because the outside temperature had already dropped in the freezing point.

I had just finished photographing a wedding and I had breaded on a lens cover I had left lying in the back of the truck just enough to dampen it so that I could wipe it off before smushing it back in my camera bag, but instead of dampening it I froze over.

I figured that it was going to get even colder before the sun came up again so I sprang into action.

The first action consisted of hussling huge potted ferns and an hibiscus tree into the basement. The second action consisted of heading to the garden with five gallon buckets to salvage anything that looked edible.

Surface to say that I fired green tomatoes will not be on the breakfast, lunch and dinner menus at my house for weeks to come. I'm going to try and wrap some up and see if I can time their ripening up Thanksgiving, but I fear they will not be picked too early to make it that long.

At least 10 out of the last 12 years I've managed to have Thanksgiving tomatoes by wrapping them in newspaper and stashing them in the basement and then letting them lie on a widow sill from Monday morning, Thanksgiving week until the turkey is carved. On the other hand, this was the earliest hard freeze I can remember at least in recent years.

But don't be alarmed. I've double checked with NAWWWWW (National Association of Woolly Worm Winter Weather Watchers) and the forecast for the exceptionally mild winter will not be updated.

According to the woolies I spoke with on Sunday, this first was simply natures way of getting the grasshoppers out of folks' late greens. I brought in a big bag full of kale and mustard the other night and we had grasshoppers all over the house. As far as I know none got cooked with the greens and oh my how good they tasted.

Along with two five gallon buckets of tomatoes in various stages of ripeness, I brought in cullers, egg plant, sweet peppers and enough cayenne to supply a Mexican restaurant for the rest of the year. I raised cayenne mostly because it is so pretty, but the variety I get from a supplier in ture it made!

That night we spent at the Lodge our room opening onto the balcony overlooking the active stream of water straight from the mountains. Wonderful! Rippling water dashing over the rocks then settling into small pools of clear water, where a fisherman was quietly and patiently waiting for "a bite." And I listened to the music of gurgling water.

Saturday morning eye were joined by Chad and Angie for an unforgettable weekend of sight seeing, catching up with news and eating. No, I can't begin to describe all we saw or what we ate. The important event for the day was the main ride to "Lake Fontana." We had the privilege of riding in an open car which gave us a better view of the scenery and river activities and made us appreciate the extra clothes we had on. One of the most memorable sights on the trip was the caves above the railroad that the guide said was the one the Indians lived in when the white country chased them out of their own country and made them march into a strange land. This was called the Trail of Tears. The ominous look of that cavern was lived in by people trying to save their lives and homes while hunted the rest of my life.

We waved the adventurers in colorful kayaks tumbling in the river below, while skillfully dodging rocks and whirlpools. Fontana Lake was being drained so repairs could be made before spring so all we saw of it were small isolated lakes and the bottom where once stood buildings and the remnant of an old railroad track. The trip back to the starting place was uneventful except for one incident when someone pulled the wrong rope and caused the brakes to lock, or loose the air out of them, and the engineer stopped long enough for it to be corrected. All in all it was a wonderful venture and one not to be forgotten soon.

One more little bit of description of our home ward bound drive over the mountain. As we neared Kingsmen Dome the top of the mountain in the distance looked white, we all thought snow, the first of the year. Farther down we saw heavy frost on the ground, then ice, I think this may have been the prettiest scene yet. The sprinkling of frost on colored red and gold leaves with dainty cylinders hanging from them made one want to ring bells and sing a Christmas Carol.

Thanks to Chuck Polky, Chad and Angie, I have had a wonderful weekend. Even a long wait outside the IHOP, didn't take away the joy of a panoply branch or dim the beauty of FALL COLORS.

Pot of Gold
I may not have found the pot of gold at the rainbow's end or the gold I have been searching for since I have reached the required age where it is supposed to be found, but I can say one thing for sure. "There is gold in them thar hills" across the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee and extending into the village of Cherokee, North Carolina. A person could easily be mistaken and think he has reached his goal of seeing the beautiful fall colors the Smoky Mountains put on display every Autumn when he begins seeing another kind of colorful decorations made by human hands. This is where the fruits of harvest, pumpkins, gourds, squash and flowers of every description become interlaced with matching or contrasting flowers and other fruit of the season, then arranged artistically around a backdrop of hay, cornshocks, trees or entrance way to the place of business or private home. Everyone seems to be competing for the most unusual and elaborate display of the bounties and rewards of the Fall harvest. Or maybe they are competing with nature and giving you a taste of the wonders of coloring ahead. Sooner or later we passed the "Dollywood sign" where our loudest Oh, WOW, was uttered at the "Fall wedding" display, complete with small church made of cornshocks, steeple and all, a beautiful bride doll in wedding clothes at the door, a groom and attendants dressed in twined, close by, gave the impression of many more things we had missed.

Thanks to Chuck and Polly, knowing how well I love fall colors and the singing water of a mountain stream, invited me along on their annual trip

Truancy

Often the first sign of trouble

Judge Lambert personally volunteers four days a week to go to each of four Middle Schools to counsel parents and students with truancy problems.

"Prevention is the key to success," says Judge Lambert. "Before the creation of Family Court, all we could do was wait until these troubled kids showed up in court."

This new "Whatever It Takes" truancy prevention program created by Judge Lambert and her staff is producing exciting results by encouraging parents and children to be part of the solution.

Combining family values and the law. "Family Court is two words. It's about the law, but more importantly, it's about families." With her degree in Child and Family Studies and Special Education, Debra knows how to work with and help children.

New career center at Library up and running

Last Thursday night, the Rockcastle County Library, in conjunction with Gear-up and Berea College, hosted a Gear-Up Career Kick-off night. The new career center was started by a generous donation of grant money from Gear-up and Berea College for two new state-of-the-art computers, a new printer and over 100 books, software and other materials that have to do with encouraging middle school and early high school students to prepare for choosing a career, a college or technical school. The partnership that contributes to make this program possible consists of the following organizations: Berea College, Rockcastle County Schools, Forward in the 5th, School-to-Work, LIMA 16, the Rockcastle County Public Library and the Rockcastle County Middle School Parent Teacher Group. According to Andy Beichter, a Partner in the Gear-up Program, the mission statement of the program is that, "Berea College Gear-Up is partnership aimed at increasing the number of students prepared and ready to enter post-secondary education and be successful in post-secondary education."

Throughout the evening, representatives from the Gear-up program conducted tutorials for community members, parents and students, through various new software programs available to all students online for such sites as CollegeQuest and bridges.com. Community Organization members, parents and students alike discovered the wealth of information that is now available to the Rockcastle County students and parents in taking prep tests for SAT and ACT tests, talking with advisors about career goals, comparing and checking out colleges all over the United States, taking interest inventories to select a career, and much more. In the near future, Gear-up will also be conducting special classes to train parents and students on using these resources as well as have eight laptops available at the Library for check out for those who have undergone a special training. Although these resources are geared toward the parents of middle school students and the students themselves, the materials are at the Public Library and are available for use by all in Rockcastle County. Please come by the Library and check out the wealth of information stored in this room, study quietly in the new area, or just look at the books and materials to start choosing a career path or find out facts about various colleges. The Library is open Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Or, for more information, call the Library at 256-2388.

Bill Reynolds, right, of Mt. Vernon, retired last week from Hanson Aggregate (formerly Kentucky Stone) after 41 years of service to the plant. He is being congratulated by plant superintendent Ralph Tiry.

Coffee House Night at Library a great success

On Thursday, September 28th, as a finale to the September "Sign-Up for a Card" events, the Rockcastle County Public Library hosted a Coffee House Night for high school and middle school students. By 5:40 that evening, people were standing outside the door in line anticipating the night to kick off.

As the young adults walked in, they were greeted by lights, cafe style tables set up, music, the smell of fresh cappuccinos and lattes brewed and booths that had books, magazines and other materials of interest displayed for the students to check out.

The night was spent playing rook, parcheesi, monopoly and card games as well as watching movies, face painting, visiting with friends. Most importantly, however, was that the students were able to check out all the resources that the Library has to offer. Winners of the various contests and doorprizes that were given throughout the night, received free popular books, CD's and gift certificates to Barnes and Noble Online.

According to Aaron McKibben, a junior at Rockcastle County High School, "The Coffee House Night was a lot of fun...it should be done more often." The night turned out to be quite a success with over 100 people in attendance, 29 new Library cards signed up for, and 92 books checked out by young adults.

Kristiana Burk, our Library Director, stated about the night that, "It is always exciting to see that young adults can enjoy such simple pleasures as reading, playing games, listening to music, and hanging out with friends. It is so important for us to remember that our future as a county lies in these students, and we must do all that we can to encourage them to value reading, literacy and learn how to find and use information."

The library once again wishes to sincerely thank all of the businesses, parents and teachers who made the night possible and encouraged these young adults to enjoy the Public Library and see what resources it has to offer for the younger generation of our community.

Over 100 people attended Coffee House Night at Rockcastle Library recently.

Several local residents and elected officials attended the Gear-Up Career Center Kick-off night last Thursday, which was held at the Rockcastle County Library. Above are Jeff Burdette, Ray Hensley, Rocky Rockwell, Bev Rockwell, Larry Hammond, Andy Beichter with Gear-up and Librarian Kristiana Burk.

Lambert names Juvenile Drug Court coordinator

Judge Debra Lambert has moved forward with the creation of the 28th Circuit's Juvenile Drug Court by naming Dalton Miller as its Coordinator. Judge Lambert obtained federal funding for the Juvenile Drug Court, a program of intensive testing, counseling and supervision for juveniles who have substance abuse problems.

Miller holds a bachelor's degree in Human Services from Lindsey Wilson College and was most recently employed by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as a social worker in Lincoln County. He is also a member of the Kentucky Army National Guard. Mr. Miller has completed his initial training in Lexington and he and Judge Lambert expect to be able to accept the first participants in Juvenile Drug Court in the next few weeks.

After becoming Circuit Judge for Family Court last year, Lambert soon saw the critical need for such a program for local children with drug problems. "I was stunned to actually see the extent of the problem and frustrated at the lack of resources available to correct the addictions. I am confident our juvenile drug court program will help in the fight against juvenile drug use. We can't wait until drug users become adults. We must treat the problems while they are still young. We are very pleased to get up and running with this program," Judge Lambert said.

Judge Debra Lambert, right, recently named Dalton Miller coordinator of the 28th Circuit's Juvenile Drug Court.

As you know last week I wrote about the BES news crew. I highlight a job every week and I write about that job. For this week I am highlighting my job. I work for Tiger Beat. Our staff thinks of things that are going on at school then we write it on paper and type it on the computer. Then it goes to the newspaper each week. Gary Keith Caldwell, micro mayor, was a recent guest of Tiger Beat. He took notes on what we do and how we do it so that he can explain our job site to any visitors we may have. (Reporter, Hannah Adkisson)

On October 17th some of our classes from BES are going to Sigmon Farm for Farm Field Day. We will be picking out our own pumpkin. All of our teachers have been talking about how much fun we are going to have. Well, if you want my opinion I think we will have a marvellous time. (Reporter, Jillisa Lay)

Mrs. Scott's class is studying about rocks and minerals. Sedimentary rocks are made up of layers of sediment. Metamorphic is made up by time, heat and pressure. Igneous is made up of magma that has cooled. We have had fun during experiments on rocks. For example, we had sedimentary sweets. The sedimentary sweets were cookies. They were made up of layers of ingredients including graham cracker crumbs, coconut, milk and walnuts. (Reporter, Reanna Hasty)

In Ms. Cromer's class the kids have been writing a journal. Ms. Cromer has split the journal into three sections: DOG - Daily Oral Geography, DOL - Daily Oral Language and DOA - Daily Oral Analogies. We would like to thank all of those parents and students who attended our open house Tuesday afternoon. We had a great turnout and everyone enjoyed the events that were taking place.

The music department is selling long sleeve music t-shirts. These are available from Mrs. Sizemore for $15.

Yearbooks are now on sale! If you were unable to attend the open house and pick up an order form, one will be mailed to you. The cost of the yearbooks is $20.00. Each year RCHS pays for the costs of having each student's name stamped on their yearbook. This year students may purchase an icon also. This would be a small logo representing a sport or organization and would appear by the student's name on the front cover. The cost for this is $3.00 each.

Rice earns builder and remodelor title

Paul Rice, owner of Central Kentucky Carpentry, has recently earned the professional distinction and title of Registered Builder and Remodelor.

In the process, Rice, who's been in the building business for more than 10 years, has passed a stringent peer review process of the local Southeastern Kentucky Home Builders Association (SKHBA). In addition, he has met strict professional guidelines spelled out by the National Association of Home Builders to earn the title of Registered Builder and Remodelor and make his way to the top of his profession. "This is my business for the long haul," says Rice. "I want to do anything I can do to look more professional, to separate myself from the fly-by-nighters that crop up in this business."

Rice worked in the building business for several years before striking out on his own to start Central Kentucky Carpentry. He's been building houses and commercial buildings for some time, and his company currently has three employees. He says he'll complete 20 to 25 projects in a typical year, mostly residential and custom homes, but doing some commercial work as well. He's currently working on a 3,200 square foot home for a customer in the Paint Lick area.

To become a Registered Builder and Remodelor, Rice had to prove his professionalism and knowledge of the building industry. Before earning the title, Rice had to meet seven guidelines.

- Proven experience in the home or commercial construction profession
- Demonstrated financial and on-site responsibilities
- Be a full-time professional who derives his principal income from construction
- Submit the names of previous customers as references
- Have an acceptable credit history
- Agreement to take part in continuation education
- Agreement to a conciliation process in the event of an unresolved complaint from a customer.

If you're considering a building or remodeling project, it makes sense to deal with a professional - a Registered Builder and Remodelor member of the Southeastern Kentucky Home Builders Association. To contact Paul Rice at Central Kentucky Carpentry, call 256-9856. Or call the SKHBA at 1-800-376-9422 for more information.

Whitley falls 25-8

Rockets win battle of the unbeatens

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rockets won the battle of the unbeatens Friday night when they topped Whitley County 25-8.

The Rockets used a tenacious defense, a new look on offense and an excellent kicking game to dispose the Colonels.

The Rockets improved to 7-0 and are now the front runners in the race for a district and region title.

The Colonels fell to 6 and 1 and for the most part, lost any hope of winning a district title.

The win for Rockcastle set up a showdown with Bell County the last week of the regular season. The Rockets have never beaten Bell County in high school football, but the Rockets will likely be favored when the two hook up on October 27 at the ROCK.

On Friday night the Rockets opened the game with a 72 yard drive, that culminated in a 10 yard touchdown run by Derrick Bussell.

Greg Terry added the extra point and the Rockets were ahead 7-0.

Rockcastle got the ball back, but on their next possession, a trick play ended in a Whitley County interception and the Colonels took advantage.

The Colonels marched the ball down the field and scored on a 28 yard pass play. They added a two point conversion, after a Rocket penalty and led 8-7.

But then the Rockets inserted offensive guard Sean Smith and middle linebacker Travis Ingram into the backfield.

The new look Rockets would score twice before half-time and take a 22-8 lead into the dressing room.

The Rockets' second score of the night came when guard turned half-back Sean Smith took the ball in from the one yard line.

All total, Smith carried the ball seven times for 40 yards. Some of his carries came on crucial third down situations.

After Smith's touchdown, Quarterback Christopher Parsons carried the ball in for the two point conversions for a 15-7 lead.

The Rockets used their ROCK hard defense to set up their third and final score of the first half.

Whitley County was forced to punt from the two yard line and Bussell returned it to the 12 yard line.

On third down, Bussell scored from the three and Rockcastle would lead 22-8, after Greg Terry added the extra point.

The second half, both teams played extremely good defense and the Rocket lead was much more than Whitley County could overcome.

The only score of the half came in the third quarter when Greg Terry nailed a 42 yard field goal.

When the dust had settled Rockcastle had gained only 178 yards on offense and scored 25 points. Whitley County had gained a total of 214 yards, but scored only eight points.

No doubt the difference in the game was turnovers.

Whitley County was plagued by five turnovers, four fumbles and one interception. Rockcastle had none.

The Rockets young offensive line, which had no seniors on it between Steve Blair #61, Derrick Bussell #2, Travis Ingram #33, Christopher Parsons #4 and William Blair #51 prepare to take off on a running play Friday night against Whitley County. The Rockets won 25-8 in a showdown of unbeaten teams.

Freshmen defeat Bell Co. 42-0

The Rockcastle County High School freshmen football team remained undefeated last week when they downed the Bell-County Bobcats 42-0.

It was the fifth win of the season for the freshmen and kept the undefeated season for all RCHS football teams in tact.

Josh Brewer started the scoring with a 10 yard run to make the score 6-0 in the first quarter.

Also in the first quarter, Brewer scored on a 80 yard run and quarterback Devin Taylor added the extra point conversion.

In conference play Middle School undefeated

The Rockcastle County Middle School Eighth Grade Rockets improved their conference record to 6-0 with a 22-8 win over rival Corbin last Thursday night. The Rockets used terrific team defense and ball control offense to overcome an 8-6 halftime deficit. The win assured the Rockets of the first seed in the SouthCentral Middle School Conference Playoffs and more importantly, home field advantage. The Eighth Grade will attempt to complete an undefeated conference schedule when they travel to South Laurel for the regular season finale on Thursday night.

First Round Playoff action will begin for the Rockets at 6:00 on Thursday, October 19 at the Rock. The Championship game will be played the following Thursday, October 26 at 7:30. The Eighth Grade Championship game will be preceded at 6:00 by the Seventh Grade Conference Championship which features a rematch between the undefeated Seventh Grade Rockets and 6-1 Wayne County. Earlier in the season, the Rock defeated Wayne County on their home field in a thrilling double overtime battle.

Senior Derrick Bussell scored two touchdowns and rushed for 67 yards Friday night, as the Rockets defeated highly touted Whitley County, 25-8.

Rocket placekicker Greg Terry had a big hand in the Rocket win on Friday night. Besides kicking two extra points, he also hit a 42 yard field goal, shown above.

Rockcastle County Quarterback Christopher Parsons completed six of seven pass attempts on Friday night. He also scored a two point conversion in the Rockets win over Whitley County. The Rockets travel to Knox Central on Friday night. They are seven and 0 in 2000.

The Rockcastle County Middle School Rocket football teams are enjoying undefeated conference seasons in both the seventh and eighth grade divisions. Above, Travis Smith blocks on the offensive line in the North Laurel game. The 7th and 8th grade teams both defeated Corbin last week. The 8th grade will play in the first round of the play-offs on October 19th at RCMS.

Harper was also named Most Valuable Player of the 2000 team. Brad McNew, 110 percent award and Shea Taylor, co-fielding award and not present was Billy Hackworth, most improved player.

The outcome was never in doubt.

For the Rock defense was tough. It held the Colonels at bay. As they recovered four fumbles. And picked off an errant pass along the way.

It was a great game to watch. As both teams gave it their best shot.

Fighting, scratching and clawing. They showed what they've got.

Congrats to coaches, team and supporting cast. You're coming through good and loud. And all over Rockcastle County. You're making everyone very proud.

the tackles after Smith went to the backfield, did a good job against a much bigger and quicker Whitley County squad.

Members of that line are Junior William Blair, guards Steve Blair and Michael Brummett and tackles Tanner Abney and Jason Leger.

The Blairs are juniors, Abney and Brummett are sophomores and Leger is a freshman.

And, of course, the ROCK hard defense, didn't allow Whitley County to ever get a substantial drive going after their first and only score.

Head coach Tom Larkey said Monday that the ROCK kicking game had a lot to do with the big win.

"Greg (Terry) made some excellent kick-offs and he kept Whitley County pinned down with a good punts as well," Larkey said.

"Our coverage teams also did their jobs extremely well," he said.

Defensive coordinator Tony Saylor said he was pleased with the ROCK's performance - especially after Whitley County took the lead at 8-7.

"Our kids showed a lot of maturity in a game that could have easily gone the other way," Saylor said.

"We really didn't been challenged in the last three games, we didn't know how our players would respond, but they showed a lot of heart and determination Friday night," Larkey said.

Defensively the Rockets were led by seniors Greg Harper and Travis Ingram.

Harper had 11 tackles and assists and Ingram had ten. Both linebackers also picked up a sack and Harper had another fumble recovery. His second in two weeks.

Junior Clay Dooley had eight tackles and assists and picked off a Colored pass late in the game.

Junior defensive lineman William Blair, recovered two fumbles, had a quarterback sack and picked up five tackles and assists.

Junior defensive back Josh Hale, had a sack and picked up seven tackles and assists as did sophomore Marty Reagan.

Sean Smith picked up four tackles, Tanner Abney had three, Adam Childress had a sack and four tackles and Dackery Larkey had one sack and three tackles.

Derrick Bussell recovered a fumble and had three tackles and assists.

Offensively, Parsons was 6 for 7 through the air for 57 yards. He also rushed four times for six yards and had a two point conversion run.

Bussell carried the ball 22 times for 67 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Josh Hale caught two passes and had two runs for eight yards. Greg Harper had four catches for 60 yards.

Sean Smith had seven rushes for 40 yards and a score. Greg Terry was 2 for 2 in extra point kicks and he also had a 42 yard field goal.

The Rockets will travel to Knox Central this Friday and to Coward High School in Harlan, next week.

The next Rocket showdown will be on October 27 when Bell County comes to the ROCK. That game will probably decide the district champ.

ROCK vs. Colonels

By Preston Parrett

It was Little League night when the Colonels came to town. And it was their dream. To bring the Rock down.

Two great teams squared off. Both undefeated in district play. And for these tough teams it was judgement day.

The festivities got underway with the dance team's event. Then the fireworks went off. And the heavens they rent.

The colorguard presented the colors. Amber Thacker sang the Anthem with a lot of soul. The Rock band, flag girls and cheerleaders. Got the Rock team ready to roll.

It was a rump thumping game. And the hitting had a popping sound. Players were tackling with reckless abandon. As they brought each other to the ground.

The Rock started off with a pass. Greg Harper caught it for the Rock. Then Deuce Bussell scored on a ten yard run.

And the Colonels were in shock.

The Colonels with a pass and a two-point conversion. Got back into the fray. But it was the only time they'd lead on this cold winter day.

The second quarter was good for the Rock. As Sean Smith bulldozed over from the one, Chris Parsons scored on a two-point conversion. Then Deuce went in on a three yard run.

Now at the intermission. The Rocks had a fourteen point lead. And they were killing the Colonels. With their quickness and speed.

Little League teams and coaches were introduced. And the filed was full of future Rocks. Ready to step up when their days comes. And deliver to opponents some hard knocks.

In the third period. Terry hit a field goal from 42 yards out. And after that great kick

Gospel Music Celebration Oct. 19-21

Prepare to experience three days of outstanding gospel music at Renfro Valley during our third annual "Gospel Music Celebration," featuring four distinguished gospel groups.

First to appear, on Thursday, October 19 at 7:00 p.m. in the New Barn Theatre are Jeff and Sherri Easter. Throughout the history of Southern Gospel music, never has there been a pair of artists more authentic than this gracious, high-energy husband and wife team. With numerous "Top 20" songs and awards to their credit, Jeff and Sherri Easter have received wide professional acclaim. Jeff and Sherri may be best known for their toe-tapping, soul-stirring, spirit-filled songs, but at the heart of their music is a message of faith.

On Friday, October 20 at 7:00 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. in the Old Barn Theatre, the Perrys share their wonderful musical talent. With over 25 years in Southern Gospel music, "The Perrys" are one of the top requested groups in the Gospel Music Industry.

Saturday, October 21 at 12:30 p.m. in the New Barn Theater, guests can hear The Florida Boys, pioneers in the Southern Gospel world. Talents, persistence, dedication and just plain stubbornness to keep singing until the Lord tells you to stop—that's what The Florida Boys have been doing for almost 50 years.

Also on Saturday, October 21 in the Old Barn Theater at 7:00 p.m. and 9:15 p.m., "The Bishops will sing out in joyous celebration. Their "front porch singing" has become somewhat of a trademark for The Bishops, who literally grew up spending their early evenings sitting on the front porch and singing. The Bishops have been nominated for numerous awards and had several #1 hits.

Ticket prices are $13.00 and $11 plus tax and handling. To obtain information and reservations for Renfro Valley's Gospel Music Celebration and all other Renfro Valley shows, concerts, special events and festivals, call 800-765-7464 or 606-256-2638, or visit our website renfrovalley.com.

(Voters) for having the audacity to disagree" with the office of the Commonwealth's Attorney.

Particularly, the young lawyers of the Commonwealth's Attorney's office seem to be concerned that the final sentencing imposed on the Court (Voters) is different from the sentence imposed by twelve citizens of Rockcastle County who served on the jury.

Specifically, the Commonwealth's Attorney's office criticizes that the Court's (Voters) has substituted its judgment for those twelve citizens."

The new found reverence of the Commonwealth Attorney's office for the wisdom of Rockcastle County juries is apparently reserved for times when they agree with the jury's verdict, and is a far cry from the more often heard content expressed for Rockcastle County by the lawyers of the Commonwealth's Attorney's office.

This Court (Voters) needs no reminder from the Commonwealth's Attorney's office about the role of jurors in fixing sentences in criminal cases nor about sending the wrong message to the people of Rockcastle County. The undersigned (Voters) has served people in Rockcastle County since 1975, when Mr. Montgomery was in grade school and Mr. Dalton and Mr. Brown were toddlers. The Court (Voters) served 3 1/2 years as an Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney in

In May of 1983, the president of Iceland presented Mr. Rosenthal with the Icelandic Order of the Falcon, the highest award presented to anyone other than heads of state and royalty. In 1988 he was presented the Hall of Fame Award by the International Franchise Association for his pioneer leadership in and contributions to franchising.

In 1988, he was presented the Humanitarian Award by the Center for Molecular Medicine and Immunology.

In 1990, he was awarded the Optimist Cup for service to the community of Lexington.

In 1994, he was named the University of Kentucky College of Business and Economics Hall of Fame.

These are only a few of the awards given to this very deserving community servant.

Today the Rockcastle County Kiwanis Club would like to join those of his community in paying a special tribute to the man, who in 1989, at the age of 58, retired from the public sector, came to Renfro Valley and found himself enveloped in the history and heritage of this entertainment center.

With his leadership, the positive changes he has made has not gone unnoticed by those who realize the success of our community and economic development, in a very large part, depends on the success of Renfro Valley.

In addition to his contributions to the Entertainment Center we, as a community, were overwhelmed with his selflessness, when in July 2000 he donated the entire Renfro Valley Entertainment Center to the Kentucky Country Music Hall of Fame to be located in Renfro Valley. In giving back to our community this enormous gift of our history and heritage he has shown he understood its importance to our people who will hopefully be able to nurture and sustain this valley for future generations to come.

It was unanimously agreed by our club that one deserves this Everett C. Brown Award for outstanding community service more than Warren W. Rosenthal. We sincerely thank you for your generosity and contribution. It is also our hope that you will continue to give back upon hearing the sweet sound of the melody, "Take Me Back to Renfro Valley" written by John Lair long ago, that you, like them, will be transported back to this special place and the precious memories there that are so worth preserving.

Everett C. Brown Award

The Everett C. Brown Award was established by the family of Everett C. Brown, as a memorial to his life's achievements.

The family wishes to recognize outstanding service, leadership and commitment by community leaders in his memory.

Began in 1978, in memory of Everett C. Brown, who lived in Rockcastle County as a child, Mr. Brown was a strong influence on his birthplace throughout his life and upon his death the Brown Family established the award.

The award is presented by the Kiwanis Club of Rockcastle County and has been managed by them for several years. The recipient receives a $50.00 savings bond from the Brown Family and the Kiwanis Club purchases a plaque which is presented to the recipient. In addition, recipients name is engraved on a permanent Everett C. Brown Award plaque displayed at Rockcastle County Courthouse.

Bussell

40 years; was a former part-owner of the Little World's Fair in Broadhead. He retired in 1997 from the Rockcastle County School system having driven a school bus for 55 years. He was of the Protestant faith.

Mr. Bussell is survived by his wife of 53 years, Wilene Yados Bussell; one son, Bryan Bussell of Brodhead; one daughter, Kathy Dyhouse and husband, Kenneth of Brodhead; four grandchildren, Heather and Bryanna Bussell and John and Mark Dyhouse; two step children, Donna Rice of Monticello and Peggy Daniels of Destin, Florida. Besides his parents, he was preceded in death by his sister, Corrine Bussell Hurt and one brother, Charles Bussell.

Visitation for Mr. Bussell will be Thursday, October 12, from 6:00-9:00 p.m. at the Marvin E. Owens Home for Funerals in Brodhead.

Services will be held in Broadhead, Ky., at 2:00 p.m. at the funeral home chapel with Bro. Mark Whicker and Bro. Buford Parkerson officiating. Burial will be in the Piney Grove Cemetery.

successful partnerships being formed between state and local governments to return our downtowns to vibrant, healthy centers of activity," said Patton. "Through this redevelopment of affordable housing, retail and business centers and cultural opportunities in the heart of our cities, future generations will reap the benefits of this initiative to restore our heritage."

Representing Mt. Vernon at the League of Cities Convention was Biggs W. Towery, Jr., Chairman, the Renaissance Kentucky Application Committee and Executive Director of the Rockcastle County Development Board.

Controversy

not be given second, third and fourth chances to commit crimes anywhere—especially in Rockcastle County," the Commonwealth's motion read.

Last Friday, Judge Jones issued an order concerning the Commonwealth's motion for reconsideration of the appeal bond for Benji Jones.

And it is probably unlike any other order he has ever issued in a case.

The order clearly shows the unhappiness of the Circuit Judge with the wording of the Commonwealth's motion.

Voters denied the motion and called it insulting and said that he would not tolerate such motions from the Commonwealth Attorney's office.

Voters wrote: "None of the reason offered by the Commonwealth for denying bond on appeal involve matters that have arisen since Jones' original incarceration or matters which require the presentation of witnesses. At the conclusion of the sentencing hearing, the court (Judge Voters) told counsel that it would take the matter under advisement and suggested to the attorney for Jones that he submit a written motion and a tendered order to the Court (Voters) as a reminder to the Court (Voters) that the matter was under consideration. No further hearings were contemplated or required by law," the order reads.

The motion of the Commonwealth appears to be more of a publicly seeking device instead of a responsible motion. It appears to be an effort of the Acting Commonwealth's Attorney, Eddy Montgomery, the Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney, Christopher Brown and the Assistant Commonwealth Attorney, David Dalton, to chastise the Court

Burley co-op to sell 50-60 million pounds of pool crop

The Lexington based Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association announced last week its decision to sell between 50 and 60 million pounds of processed, stored tobacco from its burley pool stocks.

"This is good news for tobacco farmers," Rod Kuegel, president of the Burley Co-op, stated.

"The Co-op represents tobacco growers and quota holders in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Missouri and West Virginia. Its 30-member board of directors voted to join Tennessee counterpart Burley Stabilization Corporation, which intends to sell nine million pounds."

An open bid process which closed September 12 determined what would be sold. The co-op received bids from 10 companies and leaf dealers for all crop years (1994-1997-99). However the 1999 crop, damaged by drought, received only two bids at a 40 cents per pound average.

"This is the same tobacco we have under loan from the farmer for $2 a pound," Danny McKinney, Burley Co-op CEO and Rockcastle resident, said. "It seems clear that even the companies declare the 1999 crop a disaster."

McKinney went on to say that "solving the problem with the '99 crop" was among the co-op's top priorities.

"We intend to stay focused on selling pool stocks, while not adversely affecting the no-net-fee," McKinney said.

Co-op officials hope the move will prevent a cut in basic quota for 2001, but that is not guaranteed. Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Billy Ray Smith issued a press release praising the decision to sell off the excess burley, saying it was the "best news" tobacco farmers have heard in a while.

"This news, coupled with the overall high quality of the 2000 crop, will give tobacco growing families a reason to smile for a change," Smith stated.

The funding was obtained by Rogers, who served as a member of the joint House-Senate conference committee that wrote the final version of the legislation. Rogers is a senior member of the House Appropriations Committee.

ignated tiers-bronze, silver and gold—according to the program's criteria met upon application. Mt. Vernon is a bronze community. The program encourages communities to reach the highest level possible by awarding funds to those in the silver and gold levels. Opportunities for bronze and silver communities to advance are offered periodically.

Mt. Vernon is considered to be a Phase I Community. This means the community has expressed an interest in downtown revitalization and the community leaders have demonstrated a commitment to downtown revitalization. The community is clearly at the beginning phase of the local revitalization effort and must meet all eligibility criteria identified for Phase I designated. A Phase I community must progress to the Phase II level within a two-year period from the date of designation announcement.

The Renaissance committee's top five priorities are downtown Mt. Vernon/Renaissance area beautification; preservation of the Historical and Cultural Heritage of the Renaissance area; promote the economic development of downtown Mt. Vernon; explore the potential purchase, restoration and use of the St. Clair Building at the corner of Main and Richmond Streets and the promotion of tourism for the Renaissance area.

"The concept of Renaissance Kentucky is working because of the campaign to promote new business, improve tourism and create new jobs. I thought to provide that investment in this year's bill and worked to include a number of other transportation projects vital to our region."

The measure includes $5 million for continued development of a section of Interstate 66 between Somerset and London. Rogers obtained an additional $1 million to complete safety improvements underway on a stretch of the Daniel Boone Parkway in Leslie County. $3 million has also been provided in the bill for rural bus and bus facility needs in southern and eastern Kentucky. Another $900,000 has been included in design of park preservation work at the Cumberland Gap Tunnel Park in Bell County and $100,000 to complete a 6-mile section of the Rails-to-Trails project of the Lake Cumberland Trail Foundation in Pulaski County.

Rogers also successfully included a technical correction in the transportation appropriations bill allowing the State of Kentucky to receive special funds for states that adopt a 0.8 Blood Alcohol Content (BAC) standard for DUI (driving under the influence) laws. The bill releases $2,492,121 in federal incentive funding to the state.

An administrative error in the Kentucky law made the state technically ineligible for the funding.

by Rogers to improve a section of U.S. 25 which leads to the site of the County Music Hall of Fame in Rockcastle County. The money will allow for a section of the highway to be expanded into three lanes of traffic. This week, the House of Representatives is expected to give its final approval to the bill which also includes $478 million for Kentucky's highways and $22.9 million for targeted highway and airport projects within Rogers's 5th Congressional District.

"The Congress has agreed to provide federal funding to this important project in Rockcastle County," Rogers said today. "The County Music Hall of Fame fits into our new tourism plan for the region and the work to improve it for the tourists who come to visit us must begin right now. Our goal is to provide new opportunities for this region. A sustained federal investment in our region's transportation network and infrastructure is a critical part of our Cross County Leasing Referendum Coming Soon!

FSA is now gearing up for the upcoming Cross County Leasing Referendum. The referendum will be held October 23-27 to determine whether cross-county leasing of burley tobacco quotas should be permitted.

If more than 50 percent of the eligible burley tobacco producers voting in a state referendum favor cross-county leasing, then the lease and transfer of a burley quota from one farm to another farm in the state would be permitted. If 50 percent or more of the producers voting in the state referendum disapprove, the lease and transfer of burley quota would continue only for leases and transfers with the same county.

The eligibility to vote in the referendum will be the same as the eligibility standards for votes taken on the triennial marketing quota referendum and will be limited to active burley tobacco producers.

Phase II Tobacco Payments
Tobacco growers/tenants, quota owners and growing farm operators who produced tobacco in 1999 and shared in the risks of production are eligible to receive a portion of the Kentucky's share of the National Tobacco Growers Settlement Trust (Phase II). The funds will be divided equally with 1/3 for quota, 1/3 for land, and 1/3 for labor.

Applications will be mailed, like last year, to all farm operators involved in tobacco production. The forms will go out in mid-September and will be due back at the end of October. Applicants will find this year's form looks a bit different than last year's. It's easier to understand and easier to complete.

A toll-free phone help line will be up and running a week before applications are distributed.

You can get answers to funds by calling 1-877-549-2537 beginning September 10th. Funds will be distributed by December 31, 2000. Exact rates for payment will be known after November 15, 2000.

The Farm Service Agency has been authorized to help operators fill out the Phase II forms by phone at 256-2525 or in the office on Mondays and Tuesdays only. If anyone needs assistance completing their applications on other days, we encourage you to call the Rockcastle County Extension Office at 256-2403 or the toll free number of Phase II of the County Committee (COC) Election.

The Farm Service Agency (FSA) is now soliciting everyone's help in obtaining names and addresses of all eligible voters before the COC election scheduled for December 2000. FSA continues to seek voters and candidates for the upcoming COC election. All eligible voters, including spouses, are urged to contact the local FSA office if they have not received election ballots in the past.

Nomination forms are now available from the FSA office for the area of LAA#2, Community B. This area is the southeast section of Rockcastle County, bounded by Pulaski and Laurel County. Highway boundaries are Highway 70, Highway 150 and 25. To work best, the COC must represent the whole of local agriculture. By seeking diversity, FSA will bring a greater range of expertise, different perspectives, and a broader understanding of the various business and marketing aspects to the committee's work.

FSA Quiet Time
The Farm Service Agency will be processing payments on Wednesday mornings, therefore, limited service will be available during these quiet hours. Applications and other documents may be left on the front counter. The quiet time became effective Wednesday, September 20, 2000.

Loan Deficiency Payment
Producers who retain beneficial interests in a commodity eligible for a loan or a loan deficiency payment (LDP) are eligible for payment if all of the following remain with the producer:

- Control of the commodity
- Risk of loss
- Title of the commodity
- One of the eligibility requirements for Loans and LDP's is the crop must have been produced on contract acreage (AMTA), exception to soybeans.

A recent bill will now allow non-contract crops to be eligible for LDP's for 2000 in a commodity only.

For further information on the LDP program contact the local FSA office.

Burley Tobacco Lease and Transfer Referendum
Congress has now amended Section 119 in the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000 to clarify that the Section 119 permit does not allow the transfer of a burley tobacco quota from one farm to another farm within the State if a majority of tobacco producers voting, as opposed to a majority of those that could have voted, will be sufficient to approve such lease and transfer by a State-wide referendum.

The Secretary has called for a referendum of growers to determine whether they favor or oppose the lease and transfer of quotas across county lines within the State beginning with the 2001 and subsequent crop years.

The referendum will be conducted by mail ballot during the period October 23 through October 27, 2000. If more than 50 percent of the producers voting in the State referendum are in favor, lease and transfer of burley quota across county lines within the State will be in effect beginning with the 2001 crop.

Report of Burley Tobacco

Loss Before Harvest
Farmers who have suffered a burley tobacco disaster loss are reminded to file a report with FSA prior to harvest to retain their eligibility to lease quota away under the disaster lease provisions.

The disaster lease provision was implemented to provide relief to producers that suffer a disaster loss and are unable to produce and market the farm's effective quota. To be eligible for a disaster lease and transfer, the transferring farm must have:

1. A crop acreage report on file with FSA
2. Planned an acreage sufficient to produce the farm's current year effective quota.
3. Made a reasonable and customary effort to produce the effective farm marketing quota.

5. Suffered more than a 20 percent crop loss.

All mail price support eligibility requirements.

Farms that fail to report losses before harvest will be a required spot check.

Farm Changes

Producers who have purchased or sold land need to contact the local FSA office for proper reconstitution of farms. Farms enrolled with PFC have until the deadline of June 1st to file for reconstitutions of farms. Farms not enrolled with PFC have until the deadline of July 1st. Remember to bring your deed and/or to notify the new owner to do so. Also notify this office of any and/or all address changes. REMEMBER: our records are only current as producers inform us of our office.

Lamb Meat Adjustment Assistance Program (LMAAP)
As part of the Clinton Administration's three-year, $100 million assistance plan to help U.S. sheep and lamb farmers, Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman announced today that sheep and lamb producers will receive a total of $30 million in cash payments to help improve their production efficiency and the marketability of lamb meat. Signup for the program began June 19th and ends on October 13, 2000.

During the first year of the program (July 21, 1999-September 30, 2000) payment may be made for three types of payments:

• Ram payment - payment rate of $100 per ram purchased during Year 1, 90 days or older at time of purchase, intended for breeding purposes and owned by the operation for at least 90 days.

• Sheep Improvement Program payment - payment rate is $50 per enrolled sheep and sheep must be enrolled in an authorized sheep improvement program (NSIP).

• Facility Improvement Payment - payment rate is 20% of the total cost of the facility improvement made during Year 1, improvements are used in the operation for three years and producers submit cost documentation of the improvements made.

The maximum combined payment per farm is $5,500. Sheep and lamb farmers whose gross income for 1999 was greater than $2.5 million are not eligible for payments.

Additional information about this program can be found on the website at: www.fsa.usda.gov/rlaf/pnd

Conservation Reserve

Program's Continuous Sign-Up
Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced that landowners can receive more money for participation in the Conservation Reserve Program continuous signup. The new financial incentives - totaling up to $350 million in the next three years - include signing bonuses and more money for installing and maintaining conservation practices.

Unlike the regular CRP program, the continuous signup program allows producers to enroll eligible highly environmentally sensitive land at any time without waiting for a sign-up period or competing against other offers. Conservation practices protect streams and rivers by keeping sediment and nutrients from entering the water, providing cleaner and drinking water, enhancing recreation and improving wildlife habitats.

For more information pertaining to CRP contact the local FSA office. Noninsured Crop Assistance Program
The Noninsured Crop Assistance Program (NACAP) may help reduce production risks for producers of uninsurable crops that are adversely affected by natural disasters.

To qualify for crop loss protection under 2000 NACAP, producers of eligible NAP crops must report NAP acreage timely, provide verifiable records, file a notice of loss within 15 days of the disaster, and comply with general eligibility requirements. The COC does not have the authority now to accept late-filed Notice of Loss for the 2000 crop year. Producers must have requested an appraisal before destroying the crop or converting the damaged crop to another use. Producers must have made production a matter of record with the FSA Office before commencing production.

Producers applying for 2000 NAP must provide verifiable production records by unit to document production for the 2000 loss year, furnishing or certifying actual production records for prior years to establish an approved yield for production, and maintaining records three years, if certified records. In order to be eligible for NAP, producers must file required forms for payment limitation "person" determinations, have a qualifying gross income of less than $2 million in the year of the NAP loss, and comply with HEL and WC regulations.

Farm Storage Facility Loan Program (FSFL)
An interim rule announcing the Farm Storage Facility Loan Program published in FR on May 11, 2000 will allow FSA to implement the program and accept public comments before publishing a final rule. The interim rule provides:

• A public comment period of 30 calendar days following the date of publication for not only FSFLP producers but for comments about COC financing for structures to store commodities harvested as other than grain such as silage, alternative types of storage arrangements such as "conventional storage" and storage facilities for other agricultural products.

• That producers who authorize actions without an approved loan, do so at their own risk and without creating any liability on behalf of CC except for producers who between Feb. 2nd and May 11th, 2000 took action based on the announcement of the program.

Farm News

By: Tom Mills
County Extension Agent
for Agriculture
Tobacco Program News

Kentucky tobacco farmers are always concerned with any Congressional action relating with the tobacco program, but recent action was certainly good news for the industry. As part of an agriculture appropriations bill, the U.S. Congress declared the drought-stricken 1999 crop as a disaster and consequently will forgive over $500 million dollars in loans associated with 220 million pounds of pool stocks originating from the 1999 crop. These stocks have been described by tobacco buyers as simply undesirable at current prices, given its quality characteristics.

This is significant news because it takes these excessive pool stocks out of future quota formula calculations. Following the 1999 marketing season, the burley cooperatives possessed over 400 million pounds of stock. Stock levels of this magnitude could have easily resulted in another double-digit percentage out in the burley basic quota for 2001 and an effective quota reduction of more than 30 percent. However, recent pool stock sales, combined with the forfeiture of the 1999 crop, not only reduced the committed pool stock levels down to just over 100 million pounds. If manufacture purchase intentions remain relatively flat, which of course is very uncertain at this time, but if they remain similar to this year, the reduction in pool stocks levels could translate in a significant increase (around 30 percent) in the 2001 burley basic quota, while stabilizing the effective quota. The loan forgiveness on the 1999 crop will also be reducing future no-net-cost assessments.

One issue that is not clear at this time is what will happen with the 1999 crop. The Commodity Credit Corporation may attempt to discount this tobacco and sell it in the international market. However, burley leadership is concerned about the potential impact this could have on future U.S. burley trade if it is not directed to non-traditional markets. In fact, burley leadership is pursuing attempts to simply destroy this tobacco so that it does not impact world burley supplies. Whatever the outcome, forgiveness on the 1999 crop should allow quota to rebound in the short term and give burley leadership some time to address other serious problems associated with the program and industry.

Home Improvements Cause Marital Stress

So you think your marriage is in quite good shape, huh? Think your relationship could stand up to any challenge? Well, don't be so sure. Just try making some HOME IMPROVEMENTS and see how quickly you retain legal counsel.

This weekend my wife and I did some painting and papering. It had been twenty years since we had tried to hang wallpaper together. This tells you something about how horrible that first experience was.

This long-ago fiasco occurred just prior to the birth of our first child. We wanted to get the nursery ready for the new arrival and decided to paper one wall (that's right, just one wall). We began at 10:00 a.m.

The house in which we were living at the time was an older home. This meant that NO WALL IN THE HOUSE WAS STRAIGHT. If you can, picture two novice wallpaper hangers trying to match an intricate pattern of craves, ducks and chickens on a crooked wall.

By 11:00 we were angry at the wall. Soon thereafter we began to take it out on each other. By noon we weren't speaking and by 1:00 each had decided that the other was in league with the devil. It was not a pretty sight.

Thus you can imagine with what fear and trembling I approached the wallpaper hanging of this past weekend. Thankfully it went better this time. There were no harsh words, because I have learned some basic rules for husbands in a home improvement situation. For those men who may not have discovered these rules yet, I list them now. Memorize them. Your very existence depends on it.

1. Every home improvement job takes longer than you think it will. This is the most basic rule of all. If you figure the task will take thirty minutes, allow at least four hours. And if you are into a major remodeling project and have been given an estimate of "two weeks" by the contractor, double that. Then triple that. Then add two months. This will probably still be short of the actual time, but it will be much closer to reality than the "two weeks" the contractor estimated.

2. If you and your wife are working together on a project, men, keep your mouth shut. Do not offer suggestions. This is not the time for constructive criticism. Saying "Honey, that piece of paper is more crooked than your mama's hind leg," is not a good idea. Speak only if spoken to.

3. Stay out of your wife's way. Move only if she tells you to. Hold the ladder for her and hand her the tools when she asks and not a minute before.

4. Realize that women know more about painting and wallpapering than any male does.

Now that I think about it, men, probably the best thing you can do during a HOME IMPROVEMENT PROJECT is to stay out of your wife's way. Why not check out the UK game on TV?

Nature's Prepackaged Snacks

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Science

Are you tired of spending lots of money on prepackaged snacks? Try buying nature's prepackaged snack fruit. Fruits can be bought year round. They are not just sweet tasting and colorful, they are good for you. Almost all fruits are low in fat and provide vitamins, minerals, and fiber. They come in many flavors and textures.

Buy fresh fruits that are free of bruises and cuts. Buy them in different ripeness stages so that you can eat them at peak juiciness and flavor. Don't forget that apricots, bananas, cantaloupe, kiwi fruit, nectarines, peaches and plums will continue to ripen. However, apples, cherries, grapefruit, grapes, oranges, pineapple, strawberries, tangerines and watermelon ripen only on the vine. Fresh fruits in season usually don't cost a lot.

Wash fresh fruit under running water before eating. Don't wash fruit with soap. Soap will leave a coating that is not meant to be eaten. Store fruit unwashed. The skin of most fresh fruits has an interesting texture and flavor. For added fiber, eat the skin of fruits.

Canned fruit is a good buy all year. Compare store brands against national brands for cost, piece size and quality. Often the only difference between national and store brands is the size of the fruit pieces. For fewer calories, choose canned fruit that is either packed in fruit juice or light syrup. Some folks like to drink their fruit. Buy fruit juices that are 100 percent juice with no added sugar. For a change, mix different kinds of juice. Purple grape juice mixed with orange juice is delicious, although it blends to a shade of brown. Club soda added to fruit juice gives it a refreshing taste. Juices contain little fiber, therefore, limit juice to one serving each day.

Children, teens and adults enjoy dipping bite-size fruit. Children tend to double dip food items which can spread germs to others. Give children their own small bowl of dip. Try the following recipe with a variety of fruit and flavorings:

- FRUIT DIP
- 1 cup plain or vanilla yogurt OR 1 cup salad dressing (reduced fat if available)
 - ½ cup milk
 - 2 tbsp. Brown or white sugar
- Wash your hands with soap and warm water. Mix ingredients together in a bowl. Chill overnight. Wash fruit such as bananas, apples, and oranges in cool running water, peel fruit if necessary. Or, use canned fruit such as pineapple chunks. Cut fruit into bite size pieces. Serve dip with cut-up fruit.
- Variations: Add any of the following ingredients to the above recipe for additional flavor:
- ½ cup pancake syrup
 - ¼ cup crushed pineapple
 - ½ teaspoon cinnamon
 - ¼ cup honey
- Makes 16 servings, 3 cents per serving, 60 calories, 45 calories from fat.

"What Is Written"

I was listening to the radio in the car recently. This man was preaching the doctrine of inherited sin. He was going on and on that through Adam we have passed on to us "Pecorated Blood" - "Corrupted Blood" - "Diseased Blood" - and this is reason we have sin in our lives, that the sin of Adam is passed down upon us. There is only one problem with this doctrine, it is just not so! The scriptures do not affirm this doctrine of inherited sin. Let's look at 1 points on this matter:

1st. Notice in Ezek 18:20 "The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him." Ezekiel said that the son shall not bear the iniquity of the son. But that is not what the doctrine of inherited sin says. It says that we do bear the iniquity of our father Adam. That his poisoned, corrupted sinful blood is passed upon us.

Now, notice in Romans 7:9 we read "For I was alive without the law once, but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died." Paul states that he was alive once in the age of innocence, but when he came to age of accountability, sin revived - (sprang to life NIV) and he died spiritually. But this doctrine we are looking at says he was never alive for he was born with that poisoned sinful blood of Adam.

Finally, what does one do with Jesus, who was the son of David (who was a son of Adam)? "Forasmuch as Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh." Rom 1:3. Why did not Jesus inherit sin? There is no solution to the problem. The Roman Catholics made up the doctrine of immaculate conception of Mary to say she was not tainted with original sin, and so therefore did not pass it on to Jesus. No scripture supports this idea either, it is make believe.

Who not simply accept the fact we are born innocent, but that we all grow up and sin against God ourselves. This is why we need Jesus!

Funny, Isn't It?

Funny, how ten dollars looks so big when we take it to church and so small when we take it to the store. Funny how an hour serving God looks and how small it seems when spent playing golf, fishing or playing bridge. Funny how laborious it is to read a chapter in the Bible and how easy it is to read a hundred pages in a best selling novel. Funny how we believe what a person or newspapers say, but question what the Bible says. Funny how we can't think of anything to say when we pray, but don't have any difficulty thinking of things to talk about with a friend. Funny how we need two or three weeks to fit a church event into our schedule, but just adjust it at the last minute for a social event.

Funny, isn't it.

Prescription For A Laugh

JUST A LINE TO SAY I'M LIVING
That I'm not among the dead
Though I'm getting more forgetful,
And more mixed up in my head.
For, sometimes I can't remember
When I stand at the foot of stairs
If I must go up for something,
Or I've just come down from there.
And before the fridge, so often
My poor mind is filled with doubt,
Have I just put food away, or
Have I come to take it out?
And there are times when it is dark out
With my night cap on my head,
I don't know if I'm resting
Or just getting out of bed.
So, if it's my turn to write to you
There's no need in getting away,
I may think that I have written
And don't want to be a bore.
So, remember, I do love you
And I wish that you were here,
But now it's nearly mail time
So, I must say "Goodbye, my dear."
There I stood beside the mailbox
With a face as pale as grey
Instead of mailing you my letter
I had opened it instead.
