Serving Rockcastle County Since 1887

Mount Vernon, Kentucky 40456 - Volume 114 - Number 26 Ph. (606) 256-2244 - .50 a copy - Thursday, March 29, 2001

Paul Rowe of Mt. Vernon was busy plowing a garden on Hwy. 150 Tuesday afternoon. The extremely cold Spring weather has made outdoor work more difficult than usual, Monday morning the temperature was 21, on Tuesday morning the mercury dropped to 18 and on Wednesday the recorded low was 20. The high in March thus far has been 67, which was on the 12th, the recorded low was Tuesday.

Eyes and Ears program will help fight youth illegal drug use

By: Richard Anderkin
In the last two to three years there has been a lot of success with the arrest and convictions of large drug operations in Rockcastle and in the state and federal level.
Federal sentences have ranged anywhere from ten to twenty years for those captured last year and the year before, which were results of long investigations and law enforcement agency cooperation. Historic found up resulted in jail time and substantial fines, and were the first ever in Rockcastle County.

A recent review of statistics around the state shows Rockcastle County is in a better position than most when looking at the illegal drug problem, but a disturbing trend is emerging here and nationwide.
This trend has younger people making and distributing synthetic drugs such as methamphetamines. They are making the dangerous substance in basements, barns or abandoned buildings, right under the nose of neighbors, friends and family.

"The new Juvenile Drug Court can definitely be an asset when dealing with some of these young people by blending therapeutic and punitive responses as an intervention of drug related offenses while maintaining close judicial supervision," Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette said. "I am proud to be a part of that team, and equally proud of those young people who take responsibility, accept the consequences and move onto a productive adulthood," he said.

"But, we need more community and citizen involvement. People with vision, who rather than routinely criticize, can see the advances in our local drug war, and the want to be a part of combating drug abuse, especially among our young people," he said.

"Therefore, I intend to create a group program called EYES & EARS, which will be a semi secret organization aimed at providing confidential information to law enforcement on a local, state and federal level," he said. In essence, people keep their eyes and ears open for information about drugs and then pass that information along immediately and anonymously to law enforcement. He said information may aid in stopping an illegal drug activity.

This group will consist of local, state and federal officials, and citizens, including select high school students. "This way, we may be able to encourage those that have information to share it, rather than give us the line we hear way to often. "I don't want to be involved."
"We hope to establish a website, email and telephone number shortly and anyone interested may contact the county attorney's office in helping with this program," Burdette said.

Grants available for sewer systems

Any Rockcastle homeowner with a failing septic system or a "straight line" type septic system may be eligible for a low interest loan to install a new septic system.
Personal Responsibility in a Desirable Environment (PRIDE), in association with the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD), has established low interest loans to assist homeowners with the cost of installing proper septic systems.

The loans may be used to pay permit fees, inspection fees, and materials and labor charges to have a septic system installed.
When applying for a PRIDE loan, the applicant must submit a copy of the site evaluation from the health department. The site evaluation is when the health inspector analyzes a person's home site to determine the suitability for a septic system.

The site evaluation fee is $60.00 and must be paid prior to the site evaluation. An applicant should also obtain itemized estimates for installation of the septic system from two different certified septic system installers.
Contact: Clara Patton, Environmentalist, at the Rockcastle County Health Department, 256-2242, for more information about PRIDE loans or to get an application.

The PRIDE Program is the brain child of United States Congressman Harold Rogers, who has obtained millions of dollars in funding

Points East

By:
Linda Adams

I'm yawning tonight because I stayed up too late last night reading. But oh, what a book. I hardly know where to start describing it. But I grin at the prospect.

Bob Eager, the librarian in Berea, hates it when I do this and swears that I only do it to cause him a hard time because he only has one copy and 600 people who want to borrow it but God what a book!!!

It's called Creeker, a woman's journey and it's written by Linda Scott DeRosier and it has had me 'laughing one night, crying the next and crying the night after that but mostly it has my attention to the point that I could not lay it down.

I'm a big Barbara Kingsolver fan, but Barb's writes fiction and interviews a little more than Appalachian culture into whatever it is she is writing about.

Creeker is an autobiography/memoir that just tells it the way it was or is and makes me so proud to be a hillbilly (as though I needed another reason) that I'm sitting here at this keyboard with a deadline in sight and wondering whether the editors will let me get away with just grinning my way through the next several columns.

Let me tell you just a bit about Linda Sue Preston (Lee) Scott DeRosier if you don't already know. She was born, the first of two children, to a coal mining family on Two Mile in Johnson County in 1941 and currently, teaches Psychology at Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Montana. She is a hillbilly, tried and true, and the book is a chronology of how she got from Two Mile to Billings and what happened in between. Along the way she was, and is still, a much respected researcher at Kentucky State University.

She was responsible for the origin of East Tennessee State's highly regarded Appalachian Studies program. Above all else, she is still one of us and she is an ever so gifted writer.

When I was a freshman at Pikeville College in the Spring of 1968, some guys from New Jersey who lived in my dorm got into a fight at Jerry's drive-in restaurant with a couple of guys from Island Creek one Friday night.

I don't know the details of the disagreement, but word got out on Saturday that the Fields Boys from Island Creek were not satisfied with whatever had happened on Friday night and that the "Creekers" were coming to the dorm, en masse, and dragging Marvin Rudnik, Jerry Spavin and George Schultz out into the street and whipping their behinds because they had turned chicken and run after making some unworldly remark to some high school girls that the boys from Island Creek thought to be far more virginal than they actually were.

Rumor had it that the city police, the sheriff's office and the local constable (Shorty Cole who drove a Cadillac with a blue light on top) would turn a blind eye to this invasion because a bunch of "yankies upstarts on the hill" probably needed a whipping anyway.

Finally got around to asking what a "creeker" was because I'd never heard the term and someone told me that they were these ignorant, mean, hillbillies who lived up along the creek roads-out in the county and I started thinking, that Blair Branch, where I grew up, was a damn version of Island Creek and even though there was no such term as

"branchers", I figured that the thing for me to do was sneak out of the dorm and join the other side because I knew, if it really did boil down to a fight, Marvin Rudnik and company had a butt kicking coming.

Linda Scott DeRosier is a Creeker who did all right for herself. Her book is side-splitting humorous as she describes her early years. It is honest, though frequently unflattering, as she describes the process that so many of us hillbillies went through denying our heritage when we entered Pikeville College, as she did, on our way to worlds and wonders beyond the bounds of Two Mile Creek and my own beloved Blair Branch at Jeremiah.

Creeker is must reading if you want to understand Appalachian family values. It is not about poverty. It's about facts and the way things were without ascribing any social connotations. It is a concise and articulate element of truth, if you care to listen. It is remarkably hard-to- lay-down and entertaining at the same time.

There's no doubt in my mind that, come December, it will be near the top of everything I've read this year and among my top ten favorites of the decade. Not so much because it is Appalachian, but because it is a dynamic, drop-dead, fantastic piece of writing.

Read this book folks. Track it down and read it. Linda Sue (Lee) Preston Scott DeRosier is not struggling for money so you are not doing her any huge favors by purchasing it unless you want to put it between your ears, and that, I believe is what is important to her.

No other Appalachian writer that I know of has been so brutally honest about the realities of being Appalachian. You may even wind up thinking, "I don't know if I like this woman or not?"

But that's okay. This book will open your eyes and make you envision that you might ever be so honest, even if you're a yankie.

It is published by The University Press of Kentucky. Cover price is $31.95. Ask your bookstore to stock it or your library.

What Saith the Scriptures

A questionnaire asked by an atheist friend via e-mail "It is necessary, therefore, to ask, where did God come from, then?"

If I say that God came from God, you will ask, where did X come from? If I say that X came from Y, you will ask, where did Y come from? And if I say, Y came from Z, you will ask, where did Z come from? You see there has to be a first uncaused cause!

My friend also wrote: "First life on earth is a result of the explosion of another star five billion years ago." So he has the same problem. Where did this star come from??? If you say from Galaxy X, I will ask, where did Galaxy X come from? If you say from Galaxy Y, I will ask, where did Galaxy Y come from? If you say from Galaxy Z, I will ask, where did Galaxy Z come from? You see there has to be a first uncaused cause!

The most reasonable answer to explain life, is found in Gen. 1:1 "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." Faith in an Intelligent Creator's, is much more reasonable to believe, than to believe in blind chance & dumb luck, to explain life and the world we live in!

Virtual Library comes to Rockcastle Library

Staff and patrons at Rockcastle County Public Library now have access to free delivery of interlibrary loans, thanks to a ground courier service provided by the Kentucky Virtual Library.

"This service allows all people in our county to request and receive a book found in Kentucky free of charge. If we don't have the book, more than likely another Kentucky library does. We are thrilled that this opportunity has made the access to materials even broader! We hope that all those in the community will make use of this service," states Library Director Kristiana Burk.

The library-to-library delivery service makes it possible for residents anywhere in the state to request a book or resource held at another library, and have it delivered to the requesting library in as little as 24 hours. Locally, this service is also available at local participating institutions.

"This is one of the KYVL initiatives to make information resources easy and quickly accessible to all Kentuckians," explained Ling-yuh W. (Miko) Patten, the director of the KYVL.

"We also hope that our community will take advantage of the Kentucky Virtual Library—our staff finds the answers to over half of the research or homework questions that we receive by using this easy to use database. The best part is...these services are FREE. All you need is a library card. This site is also available for use at home. Take advantage of all the benefits the 21st Century has to offer!" encourages Burk.

The KYVL is a part of the Kentucky Virtual University and is open seven days a week, 24 hours a day. Through the KYVL, Kentuckians can access more than 30 electronic databases with more than 5,000 full-text journal and newspaper titles and online library catalogs with nearly 10 million volumes housed in Kentucky libraries.

Residents can also request scanned journal articles to be delivered electronically.

Visit the KYVL website at www.kyvl.org or call the library's call-center toll-free at 1-877-588-5288, Monday-Friday, from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Two changes in immunization requirements

Two recent changes in Kentucky's school immunization requirements will help prevent the spread of disease among children, the Department for Public Health announced today.

Beginning Aug. 1 of 2003, all children who are at least 19 months old and less than seven years old and who attend day care centers, certified family child care homes, pre-schools and public and private schools will be required to have one dose of the varicella vaccine to prevent chickenpox.

While many cases of chickenpox are mild, it can lead to more complications and in rare instances cause death.

The vaccine will not be required if a parent, guardian or physician states that the child has had the disease chickenpox.

The other change that takes effect Aug. 1 and lasts through the 2008-09 school year applies to students entering the sixth grade in public and private schools.

These students must have the hepatitis B vaccine, which includes a three-dose series of immunizations given according to a specific schedule for maximum effectiveness. (Young children are already getting the hepatitis B vaccine; this change is considered a "catch-up" so school age children will also be vaccinated.) A current immunization certificate should be on file within two weeks of the child's enrollment in the sixth grade.

Both of these changes in the immunization regulations were approved Feb. 1 by the Interim Joint Committee on Health and Welfare. Both vaccinations are consistent with recommendations made by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices.

"Many parents have not seen these diseases because these vaccines have done their job," said Dr. Rice Leach, the commissioner for public health. "It's important that families in Kentucky make sure their children are properly vaccinated to help protect against the occurrence of these diseases."

Kentucky was honored last year by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention for having the third best immunization rate in the country for 2-year-old children: 88 percent.

Children in Kentucky are also given vaccines for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles, mumps, haemophilus influenzae type b (Hib) and rubella.

Medical and religious exemptions will still be accepted. Parents with questions about immunizations should see their child's health care provider or their local health department.

Children act fast—so do poisons

They could be in your garage. They could be in your bathroom. Your kitchen or even your ham. Potentially dangerous products that could harm a child are found everywhere.

March 18-24 has been designated as National Poison Prevention Week to create awareness of these dangers. Simple household items such as deodorants, paint, bug spray, antiseptic, glass foods, medicine and many others are tempting to children. The national campaign theme is Children Act Fast—So Do Poisons, which means parents should be mindful that it takes just seconds for a child to swallow a poisonous substance.

"Small children love to explore, and many times they act so quickly that it's hard for parents to keep up with them," said Sheila Young, director of Pharmacy for Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center, Inc. "That's why it's so important to make sure harmful products are kept well out of children's reach. If a child sees a pretty colored tablet or liquid, he may assume it is candy and it will go right in his mouth."

Posionings also have occurred when youngsters visit homes where no children live. A study has found that 23 percent of the prescription drugs ingested by children under five belonged to someone who did not live with the child, which serves as a reminder to keep an eye on where medications are kept, even if you have no children living with you.

The following are safety tips from the U.S. Product Safety Commission and Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center, Inc.

- Never leave caps off of medicine bottles.
- Always use household products that come in child resistant packages.
- Do not assume that small children cannot open child resistant bottles.
- Store all poisons, cleaning products, medicines and other products out of the reach of children.
- Refer to medicines by their proper names. Never refer to them as candy.
- Install child resistant safety latches on cabinets and doors.
- Keep poisons group available, and know how to use it.
- Keep the Poison Control Center telephone number (listed below) by your phone.

For more information about preventing accidental poisonings, call the Kentucky Regional Poison Center at 800-722-5725.

What's a girl to do?

Let the Outdoor-Woman Program Show You!

There's a lot of things a woman could do with her time, and unfortunately most of it is already spoken for. The everyday routine is just about written in stone for most, and sometimes it's tough to get a break from it.

Yet, for those who need a change of pace, and can whittle out a weekend this spring, there's a great chance to step out of the crowd, explore some new territory, and take a step beyond the usual leisure time activities.

You can take part in the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman Program. You could call it an opportunity for continuing education for women, but it's really closer to a chance to enjoy a weekend of continuous fun in the outdoors and learn a little something useful along the way.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR), the Becoming an Outdoors-Woman, or BOW Program for short, offers women 18 years old and older a broad choice of activities to choose from. Unlike the WTBS weekend movie, this isn't just "a guy thing." The outdoors offers recreation for all.

Workshop classes include, for example, hiking, backpacking, survival skills, introduction to safe handling of firearms and archery equipment, basic fishing and hunting skills, wildlife and bird identification, wildlife photography and tips on general woodsmanship.

If doing something a little different—getting a bit off the beaten track, or if you need to shake the routine, and experiencing something new sounds appealing to you, consider a BOW Workshop and broaden and brighten your horizons this spring. Women with kids, interests, veterans and novices both, will be there to learn with you and help you increase your skills for your own outdoor adventures.

For 150, participants can select up to four classes, get their meals and lodging, and receive qualified instruction and have most class materials and equipment provided.

The next BOW workshop is slated for April 6-8 at Pine Mountain State Resort Park in Pineville, Kentucky. Registration is going on now and workshop size is limited, so for more information you need to call toll free (800) 858-1549 today. You'll be sent a registration and class selection form.

GRIFFINS MLL NEWS

Did you all notice what a pretty clear day last Saturday was? There is plenty of news in this part of the vineyard if yo writer had time to gather it, but you see how it is, it keeps me busy cutting stow wood for Cinda. Bro. farmer ar you measuring yourself by the busy entreprising all the year-round laborers, or by the man who works through April, May and June? Did you find anything to do last week while it was snowing and yet not expose your health? Well let's not let the panic scare us, and cause us to sit down and talk about hard times, let us just keep right on tilling the soil in a systematic way and the government wheels will resume their usual revolutions as before. Parents do you want your children to have a book education along with their common sense? The answer: Why certainly I do, for I can see when I gessed it by not going to school when I was a child, and yet we are willing to let our children miss it too. We say we have to work our children in the fall, and will send them in the winter, but when winter comes we say the weather is too bad or we are not able (financially) to send them, but never too bad for them to rabbit hunt or otherwise, expose themselves worse than going to school, and the money spent foolishly would pay for the tuition. Are there any orphans in your neighborhood? If so, read James 1:27 and learn your duty. - The little five-year old daughter of Will Ping of this place was born to death Thursday Jan. 16th. A natural death is bad enough, but an incident like this is deplorable. The heart broken parents have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. - Cole Broughton of Soperist will move into our vicinity in the near future. We welcome all good people in our midst.

Mt. Vernon Message

Spring Break is scheduled for April 9-13. Students will return to school on Monday, April 16.

Spring Assessment is quickly approaching. April 23-May 4 is the assessment period for grades P3-5th grade. Parents please encourage your child during this time. Below are some helpful hints for parents during this assessment time.

- Have a relax environment. Avoid any activities and conversations that may arouse anxiety, conflict or unpleasantness.
- Try to avoid applying disciplinary measures to any member of the family on the evening before the test.
- Have your child go to bed early enough to get plenty of rest.
- Set the clock to alarm a little early in order to allow your child time to eat and dress without rushing.
- See that the clothes that your child likes and feels comfortable in are laid out so that frantic searches are avoided.
- Be sure that paper, pencils and other needed school materials are together and located where they will not be forgotten in the morning.
- You may want to talk briefly about the test in an encouraging way. Let your child know that you understand how difficult tests are, but you are confident in his/her ability to do well. Emphasize that test results help in planning the child's instructional program.

• Ask your child to do as well as he/she can. Think of something that would be very pleasing to your child and say that this will be the reward following the test.

• Let all conversation about testing be casual and brief.

• Prepare a good breakfast for your child, but not a heavy one.

• Be sure that your child is not late for school.

• The test is constructed to be given in a group setting. Children seldom do as well when given the test individually. Therefore, it is very important that your child be in school Monday to start the test and finish with the other students. PLEASE MAKE ATTENDANCE A PRIORITY!

• Art Prize: Last week's art prize winner was Warren Mullins from Mrs. Webb's Primary Classroom. Congratulations Warren!

• Music In Our School: Friday, March 23 was the all school sing in the gym. We enjoyed music by our fifth grade chorus as well as skits from the teachers. Pictured are some members of the chorus who participated in Old McDonald Had a Farm and teachers performing a skit of the Teacher Survivor Show. Thanks to all parents/grandparents who came out to support our children/grandchildren.

Roundstone Elementary School hosts Parent/Student Art Night

On Tuesday, March 20th, Roundstone Elementary School held a "Parent/Student Art Night" hosting over 300 participants. Art Night is an annual event at Roundstone where parents can create art with their children choosing from several disciplines including paint, clay and drawing.

During the school day, artist Pat Banks, worked with the fifth grade students on watercolor projects and then set up to demonstrate her painting techniques for the evening art night.

Interested in art since childhood, Pat Banks has pursued her vision and dream. She is a master watercolorist who exhibits her work in juried fairs, shows and galleries throughout the eastern United States. She has also been an exchange artist in Quinto, Ecuador (through the University of Kentucky's "Partners of the Americas" program) and in Yamabashi, Japan (through the Madison County International Committee). When not in her studio, Pat is an active workshop instructor and art artist at several schools in the region. She is a member of the Kentucky Guild of Artists and Craftsmen, a Rosier Artist for the Kentucky Arts Council and has exhibited at Kentucky Crafted: The Market. Pat has also illustrated several children's books and promotional work for the Louisville Zoo including posters and note cards.

"It is important for our students and their parents to be able to create together, whether it be in the arts, research assignments or other school projects. Ms. Banks has shown our folks that the arts are a visible career choice and we are always pleased with the large turnout of parents and grandparents these types of events," said David Pensol, RES principal.

Roundstone Elementary promotes a series of artist residencies throughout each school year that includes artists, dancers, musicians, storytellers and plays.

Lady Rockets lose to Bell beat Clay in first two outings of season

The Lady Rockets, under the direction of new head coach, Clay Dollins, are 500 after their first two games of the 2001 season - the first against Bell Co. and the second against district for Clay Co.

Monday night, it was cold, miserable and the Rockets were up against a top-notch Bell Co. Pubeat pitcher who threw a no-hitter through three innings before being pulled in the bottom of the 4th. Meanwhile, the Bobcats were racking up runs, 17 of them, in their four innings at bat.

In the bottom of the 4th, with two outs, the Rockets loaded the bases on walks by Cassie Hamilton, Amber Falin and Ashley Carter. Junior Rachelle Riddle then came up with the only Rocket hit of the game, to centerfield and Hamilton and Falin crossed the plate for the final 17-2 score.

The Jayvees fared no better, losing 14-2. Their only runs came in the first inning when by Bryanna Bussell, took a strike which got by the catcher and Bussell was safe at first. She then stole second, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. In the third inning, Brittany Cromer led off the inning with a single to left, stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch.

But, Tuesday night, in a district game against the Clay County Lady Tigers, the Rockets performed well. The Rockets found themselves down 2-0 after the first inning of play, but capitalized on a lead off walk by pitcher Jessie Hayes who stole second and later scored on a series of Tiger errors to cut the lead in half, 2-1.

The Tigers got three walks and a hit in the second and managed one run across the plate but the Rockets came back in the bottom of the second with five runs to take the lead 6-3.

Rebekah Lyons walked to begin the inning, Ashley Carter's ball was fielded by the pitcher but Lyons was safe on an errant throw to second. Amber Falin came up with a hit that drove in Lyons but was tagged trying to go to second. Rachel Childress, Jessie Hayes and Josie Bengt all drove walks with Bengt getting an RBI when Carter scored. With two out in the inning, Cassie Hamilton tripled to right, driving in three runs to cap the inning for the Rockets.

Hayes ran into control problems in the top of the third, walking six batters and allowing the Tigers to tie the score at 6 all. However, the Rockets came back in the bottom of the third when senior Amber Falin hit her first home run of the night to put her team back on top 7-6.

After giving up a lead off single to the Tigers in the 4th, Hayes then got three straight outs, two of them strikeouts, to keep the Tigers at 6 runs for the game and then the Rockets really rolled off Tiger pitching in the bottom of the 4th.

Allison Anderkin and Jessica Thacker both drew walks to lead off the inning and Cassie Hamilton drove them in with a home run, but was actually a triple but Tiger fielding helped out on the extra-base to make it 10-6. Rachelle Riddle then walked and Rebekah Lyons was safe on a fielding error that allowed her and Riddle to wind up on second and third. Brittany Cromer was next and was thrown out at first but got an RBI when Riddle scored. This set up Falin's second home run of the night that was aided by another Tiger error to make it 13-6.

The Tigers got back two of the runs in the 5th inning and the Rockets went quietly in their half to make it 13-8.

In the sixth, the Tigers were scoreless and the Rockets added three runs on a walk by Cromer and Falin's third home run of the night which in this case, was aided by some aggressive base running by Falin who caused the catcher to drop the ball at the plate. Thacker picked up the other RBI for the Rockets, scoring Hayes for the final 17-8.

The Jayvees also picked up their first win of the season, beating their Tiger counterparts 6-3.

With Jessica Thacker on the mound, the Tigers scored one run in the first inning on the only walk by the Rockets but the Rockets came back in their half of the inning to tie the score on a triple by Dion Howard which scored Amanda Rogers who had walked.

The Tigers scored a run in the second and the Rockets retaliated with three of their own. With one out, Jessie Riddle drew a walk and Krystal Parsons singled by the third baseman. Both later scored on Tiger wild pitching and errors to put the Rockets up 3-2.

It was three all at the end of the third but the Rockets finished off the Tigers in their half of the inning, scoring three runs. Cromer got on base

Sadler gets one for Wood Brothers

By Gerald Hodges

The Racing Reporter

Elliott Sadler won the Food City 500 Sunday at Bristol Motor Speedway, scoring his first career victory in his 75th career NASCAR Winston Cup race. It was his second top-10 finish in six races at Bristol. Sadler posted the 97th victory for the Wood Brothers and became the 17th different driver to score a victory for Wood Brothers Racing. This is the first victory for the Wood Brothers since Morgan Shepherd won at Atlanta in the spring of 1993 and their first ever at Bristol.

"It means more than anything in the world," said Sadler. "It's hard to win these Winston Cup races or to even finish in the top-10. Pat Tryson (crew chief) made a good call to stay out. We had older tires than anybody else. We had a pretty good car. I just want to thank everybody at Motorcraft Quality Parts, Ford, the Air Force for really believing in us despite something in us that we didn't see."

Sadler climbed from 18th to ninth in the NASCAR Winston Cup point standings and is 162 points behind points leader Dale Jarrett.

Sadler's victory from 38th is just the fourth time in NASCAR Winston Cup history that a race winner has started 38th or worse. Sadler set a new standard at Bristol of the fastest back a race winner has started at the Tennessee track. The previous record was 26th set by Dale Earnhardt in August 1999.

John Andretti (second) scored his second top-10 finish in six races in 2001 and his second top-10 in 13 races at Bristol. It was his best finish since he finished third at Sears Point in June 1999. He climbed from 25th to 16th in the NASCAR Winston Cup point standings.

Jeremy Mayfield (third) scored his third top-10 finish in 2001 and second straight third-place finish in as many races. It was his fourth top-10 finish in 13 races at Bristol.

Jeff Gordon (fourth) scored his fourth top-five finish, the more than any other driver, in the six races this season. It was his 11th top-10 finish in the last 13 races at Bristol.

Ward Burton (fifth) posted his first top-10 finish in 2001. It was his fourth top-10 finish in his last five races at Bristol.

Rockets win two, play Thursday against Central

The Rockcastle County Rockets baseball team has opened the 2001 campaign with two wins, one of which included a no hitter, by Aaron Anderkin.

On Monday night, the Rockets traveled to Whitley County where they defeated the Colonels 10-0 in five innings.

Senior Greg Harper allowed only three hits and struck out six batters while giving up only two walks. Harper, who is considered the best pitcher in the 13th region, faced only 19 batters.

Harper also had the only extra base hit in the game, a double.

First baseman Christopher Parsons, second baseman Shea Taylor, right fielder Aaron Cash, third baseman Brandon Bishop, center fielder Brandon McIntosh and DH Aaron Anderkin all had singles. The Rockets had a total of seven hits, while the defense turned in one double play.

The Rocket JV also defeated Whitley County in a 16-2 contest that lasted only four innings.

The winning pitcher was Austin Miller, who had help from Tim McIntosh, who allowed only one hit and struck out one. McIntosh struck out the side in the fourth.

Brandon Campbell had a triple and a single. Tim McIntosh, Stephen Boring, and Austin Miller each had doubles. Tim McClure and Jeff Todd each had two hits and James Todd had a hit.

In the home opener on Tuesday night, the Rockets defeated Madison Southern in five innings 10-0, behind a no-hit pitching performance from sophomore Aaron Anderkin.

Anderkin struck out seven batters, walked two and faced only 16 hitters in the victory.

Anderkin got some good help from his defense. Freshman catcher Devin Taylor threw out two Southern basemen and Christopher Parsons and Derrick Bussell turned in a 3-6 double play.

Shortstop Derrick Bussell and Devin Taylor had two hits each and center fielder Billy Hawkworth had a double. Parsons and Aaron Cash each had a single. The Rockets again had only seven hits.

Austin Miller smacked a double in the bottom of the fly to bring in John Bray, who had singled to break a 5-5 tie in the JV game for the 6-5 victory.

Devin Taylor picked up the win, after taking the mound in relief of Adam Hensley. Besides Miller and Bray's hits in the fifth, Brandon Campbell, James Bussell, Stephen Boring and Miller all added singles.

The Rockets will host Madison Central on Thursday and Lincoln County on Friday. They will travel to Harlan on Saturday.

The Rockets will likely be ranked number one in the 13th region when statewide rankings are released in a few days.

Last year the Rockets lost in the state sectional to Boyd County, after making it to the final eight games in the state.

The 2001 Rocket coaching staff is comprised of first year head coach J.D. Bussell, assistant from last year, Adam Cochran and new assistant coaches Chris Hendrickson and Brian King.

Senior Greg Harper pitched a shut-out in the season opener on Monday night. Harper is considered the best pitcher in the 13th region. The Rockets host Madison Central on Thursday night.

Sophomore Jessie Hayes was the winning pitcher for the Lady Rockets on Tuesday night.

"There was a lot of hard racing tonight," said Garvey. "We didn't have the best car tonight, but I got by Gary (St. Amant). I don't know how I didn't get collected in that mess, but we made it through. Butch was right there at the end, despite the push the car developed after the last caution. I knew he would race me clean and he would have to pass me on the high side."

Rules changes for Talladega
NASCAR announced Friday modifications for the Ford and Dodge teams to be used in the Talladega 500 at Talladega (Ala.) Superspeedway on April 22, 2001. The width of the Ford's rear spoiler will be decreased from 59 inches to 57 inches wide. The Pontiac's rear spoiler will remain at 59 inches wide, while the Chevrolet's rear spoiler will still be 57 inches wide.
The Dodge trucks will still use a 1 3/8-inch tall roof mounted air deflector. However, the deflector will now have to form a straight line, which will raise the outer edges' height. Prior to this modification, the deflector had a shape similar to the contour of the roof. Measurements for the Chevrolet and Pontiac models remain unchanged.

Deer Season dates set; fishing regulation changes proposed

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission has set dates for the 2001-2002 deer season and proposed fishing regulations for March 2002. The Commission recommends all boating, fishing and hunting regulations to the General Assembly and approves all expenditures of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR).

- Dates for the 2001-2002 deer season are:
- * Archery Deer - September 15, 2001 - January 21, 2002.
 - * Youth Deer Weekend - October 20-21, 2001.
 - * Early Muzzleloader - October 27-28, 2001.
 - * Modern Firearms - November 10-25, 2001 for Zones 1 and 2 and November 10-19, 2001 for Zones 3 and 4.
 - * Crossbow - November 26 - December 5, 2001.
 - * Late Muzzleloader - December 8-14, 2001.
- Zone changes for the 2001-2002 deer season include: Butler, Edmonson, Grayson, Harlan and Metcalfe counties to be moved from Zone 2 to Zone 3. Breckinridge County will move from Zone 1 to Zone 2 and Owsley County will move from Zone 3 to Zone 4. All other county zones remain the same.

The Commission approved that hunters who have not reached their 18th birthday by the start of Youth Deer Hunt Weekend may hunt during that special season. This adds two years of eligibility for youth to participate in the October youth-only gun season. Age requirements for adult hunting and fishing licenses did not change. The under 16 age requirement for quota youth hunts on Wildlife Management Areas (WMAs) also remains the same.

zone on hunt days. Green River WMA is now considered wholly in the eastern time zone. The Barren River WMA quota hunt will be the opening weekend of the modern gun deer season and open to modern gun deer hunting the remaining 14 days of the season. There will be additional quota hunts at Kleber and Rich WMAs on the first weekend in November and an additional youth quota hunt at Ballard WMA. White City WMA now matches deer regulations on the adjacent Peabody WMA.

- Other business:
- * Paintsville Lake WMA will be under the 15-inch minimum outside spread rule for the harvest of antlered deer.
 - * The furbearer trapping and trapping season opens November 12, 2001.
 - * Kentucky will be the 21st state to ban the use of smokeless powder in muzzleloaders.

The Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Commission intends to propose the following changes in fishing regulations, starting March 1, 2002:

- * A nine-inch minimum size limit for crappie and a 15-inch minimum size limit on largemouth and smallmouth bass on Wood Creek Lake, Laurel County.
- * A 15-fish daily creel limit on crappie at Dale Hollow Lake.
- * A slot limit of 12-15 inches on smallmouth and largemouth bass at Paintsville Lake.

W. L. Cummins of Mt. Vernon passed through last Saturday enroute to Riddles Roller mill. Logan Ring of Pulaski County makes his regular visits to this neighborhood each Sunday. Cal McClure and family visited at W. H. Cress's Saturday night and Sunday. Uncle John Hurst is still able to visit among his children and also fill his place at church and Sunday school. Charley Latham the hustling stock trader of near Plato passed through last week and reported that business was a little dull just now. John Cummins (better known as trader) sold to Mrs. Mary Brown a coil for $52. Beatty and Alfreight, also Riddle & Sons are doing a thriving business with their roller millers. Joseph Hasty, son of J. L. Hasty who has been making his home in Kansas for some years, is visiting homefolks at this place. Joe Brown is spending most of his time between the plow handles. Joe says winter plowing makes for a full corn crib, but it seems like I'm always too busy to plow. Feed your cows a gallon of wheat bran and shelled corn twice a day and you won't have to buy so much coffee; but wait, a moment, I forgot to count the cost of the shelled corn and brand. Miss Mable Cummins has returned from a two-weeks visit to Mt. Vernon. Ye writer was shaking hands with his many friends in Mt. Vernon last Tuesday. The New Year has passed 18 of her miles out of 366. Has there been any New Year pledges broken yet? John Kinser one of Rockcastle's best teachers was in his vicinity last Saturday on important business. I wish the teachers would get an educational column for the Signal. I think it would be very interesting. Who will take the lead?

CAP's Family Life Services completes its mission

The Christian Appalachian Project, in an attempt to keep the community informed, would like to announce the closing of their Family Life Services Program located in Rockcastle County. During its 13 years of operation, Family Life Services has served adults and whole families who wanted to make serious changes in their lives. They provided services such as counseling, educational opportunities, training in life management, social skills, and job development for all ages in a residential setting. The official closing date was Friday, March 23.

The decision to close this program was a difficult one to make. It was based on the findings from research conducted over the last five years of the program's existence. It was found that during that time frame, there has been a 46% decrease in the length of stay per family at the Family Life Services Facility. In addition, the average daily attendance had decreased by 39% and total resident days had decreased by 40%. It was these findings that led CAP to conclude that the need for the kinds of services offered by the program were not as prevalent as 10 years past. It is believed that these decreases are related to new incentives offered to low income families through the Welfare Reform Act.

Project's Department of Human Services will continue to explore all possible options, which could include relocating the program to an area where there is a greater need, or reopening the program on a smaller scale.

In closing, the Christian Appalachian Project, the Department of Human Services and the staff of the Family Life Services Program would like to extend their deepest appreciation to all those that have supported this program over the years.

Christian Appalachian Project is a non-profit service organization committed to serving the needs of people throughout eastern Kentucky, through education, crisis intervention and community development. In addition to services, CAP provides in-kind donations to the thirteen states that comprise Appalachia.

There is a book to read and a movie to see.

This weekly column is intended to be all about family, the most important institution in our society. If you would like to take a closer look at family, then I have a book and a movie to recommend to you.

Let us begin with the movie, "Kingdom Come" will be opening in theaters in April. It is about the Slocum family. If you think your family is dysfunctional, wait until you see this one.

When the patriarch of the family dies suddenly, the family gathers for the funeral and related activities. Family members bring out the worst and the best in families, and this is definitely true of the Slocums. Jealousy, marital problems, sick-religion and addiction are all evident as the family members struggle to cope with their loss.

I have not seen the movie, but I have read the play "Dearly Departed" on which the movie is based. It is heartwarming and hilarious at times. Prepare to have your funny bone tickled in a major kind of way.

The movie has a local connection. The coauthor of the play and the screenplay is David Bottrell, who spent a part of his childhood in Somerset.

His parents currently reside in Science Hill (in Pulaski County). Bottrell is in Los Angeles pursuing a career in acting and writing. The play has been produced off-Broadway in New York.

The movie has an all-black cast, headed by Whoopi Goldberg and LL Cool J. Whether the family is black, Asian, Hispanic or white, I can assure you that the problems are the same. I am eagerly anticipating this movie.

There is also a book I recommend to you. It is Clay's Quilt by Silas House. House is a rural carrier for the United States Postal Service and lives in Lily, Kentucky (population 800). This is his first published novel. He has drawn on his knowledge of the people and customs of Eastern and Southeastern Kentucky to create a story that I could not stop reading until I had finished it all.

It is definitely a first novel. By that I mean that it is uneven at times and perhaps too sentimental, but I like sentimental. (Remember, I am the one who cried at "Ernest Saves Christmas.")

Clay's Quilt is the story of Clay Sizemore and his family and friends. Clay's mother died when he was four, and he was raised by relatives. The book chronicles Clay's search for a life of his own and his attempts to understand his mother, whom he knew only briefly. His great-uncle who makes quilts helps Clay to piece together the story of his own life.

Clay moves ten miles away from his family when he turns eighteen, but he never really leaves them. Family is too important to him to forsake.

The book chronicles the pretty and the not-so-pretty parts of the lives of Clay's family members. Getting drunk on Saturday night is a big part of the social life for Clay and some friends and relatives. Domestic violence was a part of Clay's mother's life and rears its ugly head again in the life of one of Clay's friends. Clay's family is no stranger to the sin of adultery either, but the relationship to kin and friends is a strong force in their lives.

While this may sound like a sad book, it is not. It deals honestly with the life of one young man as he tries to make a place for himself in this world. I highly recommend it. The author, Silas House, understands family life in Kentucky.

agement, will receive the attention they deserve in the months to come.

Those who follow the legislature may feel that the best way to measure the success of this year's session is in what we did not do, rather than what we did. We did not enact any tax increases. We did not enact legislation without considering the consequences it would have on all of our citizens. We did not enact expensive policy that would have the unfunded mandate to our local governments to foot the bill.

However, one of the things we did not do does concern me. Once again the Democrat leaders in the House and Senate refused to allow equal representation on statutory committees during last Thursday's Legislative Research Commission meeting. There was hope, when the meeting began, that they would see the light and agree to allow both chambers to have the same number of legislators serve on these committees. However, as the meeting progressed it was obvious that they would once again let politics keep the interim committees from meeting. As a result, we were only able to approve an April meeting of subcommittees from the Interim Committee on Education.

This session gave us a taste of what we will consider during the 2002 Regular Session, as well as a chance to understand how the odd-year, 30-day regular session will work. While we can not act on legislation until January 8 of next year - unless of course the governor calls a Special Session in the meantime - we will continue studying proposals.

During that time, I intend to continue these legislative updates as issues arise. I hope you will respond if a particular issue interests you. Until then, I can be reached here anytime, or call the toll-free message line at 1-800-372-7181. Those with hearing impairments may leave messages for me by calling the TTY message line at 1-800-896-0305.

Legislative Update

by State Rep. Danny Ford

Innovative measures take center stage as legislators take other issues home with them at the end of 2001 Regular Session.

The end of the 2001 Regular Session came as the Senate President and House Speaker brought their gavel down in their respective chambers. That gavel concluded 29 legislative days worth of discussion and debate on 579 bills and 320 resolutions. In that time we took up several familiar issues, and many unfamiliar ones.

When we adjourned for the 10-day veto period on March 9 we had planned to return to Frankfort on March 22 and March 23 to reconsider any bills the governor may have vetoed. Yet when we convened at noon on Thursday, March 22 the governor had chosen not to use his power to veto. So, in keeping with our intent, we adjourned sine die at around 3 p.m. that afternoon.

Our Commonwealth has undergone tremendous change since 1850, the last time legislators met annually in regular session. A century and a half ago the legislature was comprised of 138 men. There were no women, no minorities. Voting was a right reserved only for white, male landowners and the makeup of the General Assembly reflected just that.

Today the legislature does a better job of representing who Kentucky really is and what we are really about. We not only meet under a different dome but also with different challenges, yet a common thread still lies in the tapestry of our history - the welfare of the people is still our primary concern.

That's why Thursday we enacted SB 58, a Constitutional Amendment that would create Family Courts to specifically address the needs of our families. The Kentucky Supreme Court will carve these courts out from divisions of the state's Circuit Courts. This innovative idea would help give our justice system better leeway and help ensure that the welfare of Kentucky families.

The Senate Committee Substitute promotes the 6 district judges that currently serve as Family Courts' judges to circuit court judges. The bill passed on a vote of 98-0. Because it is a Constitutional Amendment it now goes to voters for approval in November 2002.

We saw another innovative approach turn to law when HB 186 passed both the House and Senate and received the governor's signature.

The measure creates a special fund to promote the state's agricultural products throughout the nation and world. Through the "Agriculture Promotion Fund" we can do a better job of finding a market that will give favorable value to our products.

Over the past decade we have paid particular attention to developing alternative crops to help tobacco farmers recover, this fund will help us continue that legacy.

We also took pioneering steps when we enacted HB 112 into law. The measure expands the telehealth network that we created during last year's session.

The network allows patients in rural and mountainous areas to have their x-rays and medical records examined by experts in Louisville and Lexington from miles away. This bill puts our state, which grantees praise throughout the nation for our use of technology in the classroom, on the forefront of medical technology.

As I mentioned two weeks ago, we have also been paying particular attention to the needs of Kentucky's foster and adopted children. HB 62, a Republican sponsored initiative that would provide tuition waivers for foster or adopted children who are full-time students at state postsecondary institutions.

As I assure you know some special interest groups have already cried out about what we have, or already cried what we have not, passed this year.

Some, like "black" lung, telemarketing and solid waste man-

Burley Tobacco Lease Date

April 2nd is the first date producers shall execute a lease for the 2001 quotas. Leasing will end on July 1, 2001. Any producer wishing to post their name to the Tobacco Lease or Lease Out Listing must do so now. You do not need to wait until April 2nd. If you are unable to come to the office you may notify the office staff to post the listing by calling 606-256-4355.

Legislative Program Changes in the Burley Tobacco Program

The Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000 (ARPA) enacted on June 20, 2000, and the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2001 (the 2001 Act) enacted on October 28, 2000, changed the provisions of the burley tobacco program.

ARPA amended the Agricultural Adjustment Act, 1938 (1938 Act) to limit the total amount of underpayments that can be "carried over" as quotas additions to farms nationwide, in total to 10 percent of the national basic quotas for the preceding year.

ARPA added a requirement that owners of farms for which a burley tobacco quota is established must report acreage planned to burley tobacco annually including instances in which the acres planned are zero acres.

The 2001 Act directs the Secretary to make direct payments to otherwise eligible persons on farms for which the quantity of quota is eligible tobacco allotted to the farm was reduced from 1999 crop year to the 2000 crop year without regard to planted or considered planted credit for the 2000 crop year. Payments are to be made under the same amounts that otherwise applied to other payments. Sign-up dates and provisions will be provided at a later date.

ARPA limits the pounds of quota to be transferred to the lessee farm not to exceed the difference obtained by subtracting the effective farm marketing quota before the filing of the transfer agreement for the lessee farm from the total pounds of tobacco on hand and/or in the process of being produced, from the farm in the current year. The total quantity of tobacco that can be leased or transferred to a farm during any crop year may not exceed the quantity which equals 15 percent of the effective quotas on the farm before any leases or transfers filed after July 1 of the

Rainbow Bridge

A few days ago, I said goodbye to my 14 1/2 year old friend, Sheldon. This little buddy was loyal, loving, faithful and eagerly accompanied me to work for over four years. The sadness and loneliness I feel is eased by the comforting words and phone calls from friends and customers. In months past, many of my customers and friends have said goodbye to their pets, either from illness or accidents. Bo, Bandi, Ozzie, Pudgy, Little Bit, Snowball, Sonora, Cuddles, Hannah, Puddles and Vegas to mention just a few. I hope the following poem will bring comfort to you and all pet owners. I want to thank Dr. Prather and staff at All Creatures Veterinary Clinic for being so very gentle and good with Sheldon, and for sending me this poem.

Rainbow Bridge

Just this side of Heaven is a place called Rainbow Bridge.

When an animal dies that has been especially close to someone here, that pet goes to Rainbow Bridge. There are meadows and hills for all of our special friends so they can run and play together.

There is plenty of food and water and sunshine, and our friends are warm and comfortable. All the animals who had been ill and old are restored to health and vigor; those who were hurt or maimed are made whole and strong again, just as we remember them in our dreams of days and times gone by.

The animals are happy and content, except for one small thing: they miss someone very special to them who had to be left behind.

They all run and play together, but the day comes when one suddenly stops and looks into the distance. The bright eyes are intent; the eager body quivers. Suddenly he begins to break away from the group, flying over the green grass, his legs carrying him faster and faster. YOU have been spotted and when you and your special friend finally meet, you cling together in joyous reunion, never to be parted again. The happy kisses rain upon your face; your hands again caress the beloved head and you look once more into the trusting eyes of your special friend, so long gone from your life, but never absent from your heart.

Then, you cross Rainbow Bridge together...

I'm Looking Back

By: Ravenna Payne
I'm walking down the road of life; my dreams placed in a sack. And though I always look ahead there's a joy in looking back. Things always seem much clearer when there's a distance in between. For we get the right perspective. For at last we've really seen. For we fashion our tomorrows From mistakes of yesterday. And we profit from the piper's song for which we had to pay.

We are better for the lessons that life teaches us so well. There would be no rising upward if our feet had never fell. It is good to be a deer but a dreamer has his place. It is helpful to remember that the turtle won the race. I have found the highway straighter but I love the beaten track. The view ahead is lovely but I'm always looking back.

Bus Drills/Early Dismissal

The Rockcastle County Schools will be conducting bus drills on Friday, April 6, 2001. The Rockcastle County High School and Middle School will dismiss at 2:30 p.m. Buses will then proceed to the elementary schools where the drills will be conducted. Please adjust your schedule for this early dismissal.
