Officials still uncertain what caused death of animals

By: Richard Anderkin

Local disaster and emergency officials have been monitoring a situation in the southern part of the county, which may involve contaminated water in the Roundstone Creek.

Acting Emergency Management Director Bonnie Roark said Saturday that she had received a call from two Berea women who had been walking their dog along Roundstone Creek near what is known as the "Sinks" near Mullins Station on Friday afternoon, when the dog drank from the creek and died.

Roark said that it was her understanding that the dog died about three minutes from the time it drank from a pool of water at the edge of the creek bed.

Mrs. Roark said that the dog apparently went into convulsions before it died.

Upon receiving the information from the two Berea women, Roark, deputy Director Dwight Brown, Deputy Sheriff Ronnie Roark and members of the Livingston Volunteer Fire Department inspected the area around where the dog had drank from the pool of water.

The group found several dead animals and insects and the pool of water had a strange brown cast on top of the water.

"It looked like some type of chemical on top of the water," Roark said.

Officials still do not know what has caused the deaths of several animals in the Mullins Station area. The barrel, at left, was found in the area, but officials are not sure if its contents are related or not. In the top photo Sam Stallsworth, Bonnie Roark, a state health inspector and Dwight Brown look at an apparent contaminated pool of water on the Roundstone Creek. Above is one of the dead wild animals.

Mark Chestnut to perform in Renfro Valley Saturday

Some years ago, legendary country vocalist George Jones contributed to the liner notes of a green, young kid from Texas. "This boy from Beaumont is the real deal," Jones said. The kid was Mark Chestnut. More than a decade later - with a lineup of best-selling albums, chart-topping singles and CMA's prestigious Horizon Award to his credit he's still the real deal.

With his laconic drawl, wry humor and world-class country banjo, Mark Chestnut is East Texas to the bone. Chestnut doesn't just sing country music; he's practically got it coursing through his veins. He's a second generation recording artist. (His dad, the late Bob Chestnut recorded for various small labels and was bad-

Court discusses turning fairgrounds over completely to local fair board

Heated discussion takes place between Judge, Roark

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court discussed some minor problems between the Court and the Rockcastle County Fair Board during their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday.

Fair board member Roy Reynolds discussed the situation with the court. It was agreed that the court would completely turn over the fairgrounds to the board and that they would be responsible for paying all bills and accounting for all money that is taken in by the board.

They will also be responsible for scheduling events and maintenance of the fairgrounds, including any needed improvements.

Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlolifis said the only requirement of the board would be to report to the court on either a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. "It will just make things run smoother, they will not have to come to the court when they need something, they can simply do it themselves - that was the intention of the court when the board was set up," Carlolifis said.

Reynolds said that he thought the fair board would be in agreement, but that he would have to meet with them before he could give the court a final answer.

Following the discussion about the fair board, Judge Carlolifis and 911 Director Bonnie Roark, became involved in a somewhat heated discussion concerning the fact that she holds two county jobs.

Besides heading up the 911 emergency dispatch system, Mrs. Roark is also Director of the state's Chemical Stockpile Emergency Preparedness Program. Both are full-time positions and Carlolifis has told Roark she cannot keep both, although she has assistants in both jobs.

Mrs. Roark was also quite upset because she had not been offered the recently filled position of Emergency

Hundreds of Cavers

Crawling around on your belly in a dark hole in the ground may not sound like the ideal vacation to you, but for the cavers attending the National Speleological Society's annual convention, it's what they have been dreaming of since the first hint of warmer weather.

1500-1800 cavers from across the country and the world will descend upon Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County the last week of July (23-27).

Throughout the week, the cavers will attend educational sessions at Rockcastle High School, and participate in preplanned activities including led cave trips, hiking, and visits to local points of interest such as Renfro Valley and the South Fork Railroad among others.

Corbin robbery ends in wreck

An early morning pursuit on Interstate 75 over the weekend ended when a burglary suspect sideswiped a London City Police cruiser, wrecking both the cruiser and the suspect's getaway vehicle.

According to Officer Greg Lewis of the London City Police Department, a call was made to police Sunday, June 8, to inform them of a burglary at the Dairy Mart on Falls Road in Corbin.

"The civilian said they were breaking out the front window of the store," Lewis said, adding that the suspects were thought to have made away with two garbage cans of cigarettes.

An "attempt to locate" call was then dispatched to area police agencies containing a description of the Ford Ranger the men were thought to be driving.

London Officers Matt Moore and Travis Hurley, traveling in one cruiser, spotted the men in their truck at 41-mile marker - the north London interchange with KY 80.

According to Laurel County Dis-

Dougie Medley, 21, of Livingston escaped serious injury Saturday when he lost control of his Ford Pick-up near Burr on U.S. 25. Medley walked away from the wreck, although the truck flipped and the top was completely flattened.

A chase that began in Corbin, ended up in a two car crash involving a London police officer in Rockcastle County early Sunday morning. No one was seriously injured in the 4:30 a.m. crash. (Front page photos by Richard Anderkin)

"What Saith the Scriptures"

In Gal 5 19-21 Paul lists hatred as one of the works of the flesh. Hate is a cancerous emotion that can affect the human soul. The Bible does speak about Jesus having a hatred for sin and iniquity. "Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity." Heb 1:9a But hatred toward people corrupts and embitters the soul. It leads to self-destruction. God desires that we love our neighbor as ourselves. "And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Matt 22:39 Love is good will toward our fellow man. Hate is the feeling ill will and animosity toward someone. How can we love our neighbor and hate him at the same time? I would suggest this is a moral impossibility, it's like trying to serve 2 masters, it cannot be done. We would do our own hearts well to get shed of all ill feelings of hate toward others. It is a work of the flesh, that leads people to hell! Turn to Jesus, and seek the way of love.

The Cat Women

By Mayzell Riegs
There are three women, in our town, known as the cat women. They always have cats around.

People drop them, and they take them in.

But they have too many. To drop them is a sin.

All the cats; they like to hold, And Oh, the stories, they have told.

One has taken many to farms.

We would like to thank our friends and family who helped celebrate Jr.'s 71st birthday. They were: Rita Payne, Lela and Freddie Renner, Bo and Lisa, Jessica, Kris Evans, Carolyn and Terrell, Carla Rowe, Larry and Kayla Shepherd, Regina, Rachel, Jessie Hamm, G.S. and Marie McKinney, Sharon Lovins, Jim and Margaret Owens, Sheila, Zachary, Kyle Owens, Harold and Verla Miller, Ricky Miller, Vanessa Hasty, Mark and Jennifer, Anthony Miller, Chuck, George Miller, Charles and Josh Graves, Jo and Joyce Bussell, Anna Mae Graves, Shirley Ray, Teresa and Lomie Vanzant, James, DeeAnn and Austin Miller, Denver and Mattie Miller and Paul and Virginia Hansel for Quail Community Park. Thank you all for making it his greatest.

—Jearl, Anna, Matthew

Some have come to harm.

They try to cross the roads, But some don't make it. There's a sadness there, But they try to shake it.

It's hard to feed them, When you have other animals too. People think, before you drop them I can't take in any more. I want to cry Boo Hoo.

Some of us draw only one check. We do without ourselves And say, "Oh, what the heck."

I'd like to take some of mine to a farm, To keep them safe, away from harm.

If anyone has a barn, They like cats for, Come see me, and I'll give you some more.

It would break my heart To give them away But someday when I'm gone They'll have to go too, someday.

Cummins named Rogers Scholar

Amanda Kay Cummins, a junior at Rockcastle County High School, has been chosen as a 2001 participant in The Center for Rural Development's Rogers Scholars program.

Rogers Scholars is a unique and exciting learning opportunity for forty-eight rising juniors from forty counties in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. During the intensive, one-week session in July, students take classes in engineering, computer networking, video production and web page development. They also participate in entrepreneurial training sessions where they are challenged by some of the leading business professionals of the region. In addition, Scholars get the chance to interact with Nobel Prize winners, internationally renowned scientists, and other esteemed individuals through videoconferences with Laureates from the Kilby Awards Foundation. "We want to reach the young people of Southern and Eastern Kentucky confidence, skills and a deeper commitment to their hometowns and this region," says Hilda Gay Legg, executive director and CEO of The Center.

The heart of The Center for Rural Development's mission is "that no young person will need to leave home to find his or her future." These words, spoken by the program's namesake, Congressman Hal Rogers, frame its goals of encouraging youths to seek job opportunities at home while increasing their marketable skills in the field of telecommunications.

During the week, Cummins will also take part in exercises designed to build leadership and cooperation. "There will be serious instruction, but it will be presented in a fun, exciting, learning environment," says Youth Programming Coordinator Tamara Norrlett.

"Students will develop bonds and relationships that they can carry throughout their lives." According to Norrlett, one of the most exciting aspects of the program is the individual community action plan. Through brainstorming about the needs in their communities, scholars develop projects that they take home and then implement in their various counties. The Center for Rural Development tracks their progress.

Previous successful projects include opening a teen center, establishing an entrepreneurial library and assisting a community in building its CenterNet site.

Being chosen for Rogers Scholars involves a highly competitive process. Grade point average, community and extra-curricular involvement, reference letters, and an essay are all used to judge applicants. For more information on the Rogers Scholars program, visit www.rogersscholars.com

Amanda Kay Cummins is the daughter of Earl and Norma Cummins of Mt. Vernon.

KHEAA, a state agency, will continue mailing notices to students as they apply. KHEAA will also notify students who do not meet eligibility requirements or did not provide sufficient information to determine their eligibility. Students are urged to carefully review the information contained in the notification and respond immediately to any requests for information.

Holt attends Sullivan

Ashlie Holt, a 2001 graduate of Rockcastle County High School, recently began her collegiate career at Sullivan University in Lexington. Ashlie was the recipient of a Tech Prep scholarship. The Tech Prep scholarship is a combined high school and post-secondary program designed to assist and prepare students for challenging professional and technical careers and was awarded from Rockcastle County High School as part of the articulation agreement with Sullivan University. Ashlie is currently pursuing an Associate degree in Medical Office Management. This program affords graduates a concentrated curriculum that enables students to enter their employment field in less than two years.

Sullivan University, Kentucky's largest private college or university, is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award Associate, Bachelors and Masters degree. Sullivan University offers programs in the fields of accounting, office administration, computer science, travel and tourism, business management and marketing and sales. In addition, Sullivan also offers paralegal studies, medical office management, medical and clinical assisting, childcare management and Microsoft engineering programs.

Financial Aid available for SCC students

High school graduates and all other prospective students are reminded that they can still apply for financial aid for the Fall semester. Recognizing the lack of money can keep even the most qualified students from continuing their education, Somerset Community College provides financial aid through a comprehensive assistance program of grants, scholarships, low interest education loans, and financial aid. Additionally Kentucky graduating high school seniors are eligible to compete for Kentucky Educational Excellence monies which are awarded based on students' high school grades and ACT or SAT scores.

"There is absolutely no reason why any student cannot attend college," said Joanne Story, SCC's Director of Financial Aid. "Financial aid is available, but students must apply for it."

"In addition, students who attend SCC can live at home, eliminating the most expensive cost of attending college - room and board," she added. "Then they can transfer to any four-year college or university, or enter the workforce."

Call or visit the Financial Aid Counseling Office located in Meace Hall on the Somerset campus to learn more about the various forms of financial assistance. Students are also encouraged to apply online at www.fafsa.edu.

Local students named to EKU Spring Semester President's List

Five Rockcastle Countians are among 510 students at Eastern Kentucky University named to the President's List for the Spring 2001 semester.

The list includes: Diana Bond, Susan DeBord, Jamie Bryant, Nathaniel Bullock and Jonathan Burdette.

"We're delighted that some of Rockcastle County's best and brightest students are studying with us at Eastern," said EKU President Bob Kustra.

The President's List was established by the University to recognize outstanding academic achievement.

It is bestowed upon full-time undergraduate students who attain a perfect 4.0 grade point average for a semester.

"All of us at EKU are committed to academic excellence and student success," Dr. Kustra said, "and we are pleased to recognize those students who have excelled to the point of perfection during a semester's work."

Eastern Kentucky University is a comprehensive university serving about 14,500 students on its 725-acre Richmond campus, at its educational centers in Corbin, Danville and Manchester and throughout Kentucky.

KHEAA informs students who qualify for higher grants

The Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) has begun mailing notices to thousands of Kentucky students regarding their qualification for College Access Program (CAP) Grants and Kentucky Tution Grants (KTG) for the 2001-02 academic year.

A CAP Grant may be used at an eligible Kentucky public or private college or university, public technical college, or proprietary school. The award amount for the 2001-02 academic year has increased to $1,200 ($630 each semester). Eligible part-time college students will receive an amount calculated on $53 a credit hour. Part-time amounts for CAP recipients attending quarter-hour institutions are calculated according to a schedule provided to the institutions. KTG awards may be used at an eligible Kentucky private college. The maximum KTG award for a full-time student is $1,800 for the school year.

"Once again, KHEAA is pleased to offer grant awards to help Kentuckians pay their college education or technical training expenses," said Londa Lewis Wolanin, KHEAA's Chief Operating Officer. "Our goal is to make higher education accessible for Kentuckians. Award amounts have been increased and eligibility expanded to more students. Last year, students whose families were expected to contribute more than $31,000 toward college expenses, as determined by the federal need analysis process, were not eligible. This year, the limit has been raised to $3,550 to make education more affordable to a great number of families."

STC to hold "Information and College Advising Night"

Take charge of your future! Attend Somerset Technical College's "Information and College Advising Night." ## BIG EMOTIONAL WIN FOR DALE JR.

By Gerald Hodges
The Racing Reporter
Dale Earnhardt Jr. scored an emotional victory in the Pepsi 400 at Daytona International Speedway Saturday night. He had dominated the race, leading 116 of the 160 laps in his No. 8 Chevrolet, but was forced to come from seventh to first in the final six laps after a crash during the final round of pit stops threatened to cost him the victory.

Emotions had run high all weekend at the track where the legendary father was tragically killed in February, but Dale Jr. and the team were able to put emotion to the side until after the checkered flag. After the victory, he spun his car through the infield grass, and then climbed on top of the car, raising his arms in triumph in front of a crowd of more than 170,000 spectators. He was soon joined by his brother, Jimmie Johnson, teammate Michael Waltrip, who finished second. It is Earnhardt's first win of the season, and the third Winston Cup victory of his career.

"It was a really good race," said Rusty Wallace, who finished seventh in the Miller Lite Ford. "We had a great car today and we ran second behind Junior forever and ever. I thought we were just gonna get a top-and-go for some fuel and get out there and get after it, and then a caution flag flew and bunched us all back up. It was each man for himself the last five or six laps. It was a real great run."

"I think that's perfect. I can't think of a better script to play than to come back to the track that took his father away from him. To have him be able to honor him with the victory is pretty cool. I wish I would have been the one showing him across the line. I almost was."

Finishing order: 1. Dale Earnhardt Jr., 2. Michael Waltrip, 3. Elliott Sadler, 4. Ward Burton, Bobby Labonte, 6. Jerry Nadeau, 7. Rusty Wallace, 8. Jeff Burton, 9. Brett Bodine, 10. Mike Wallace, 11. Dale Jarrett, 12. Todd Bodine, 13. Johnny Benson, 14. Ricky Rudd, 15. Ken Schrader, 16. Matt Kenseth, 17. Jeremy Mayfield, 18. Mark Martin, 19. Jimmy Spencer, 20. Steve Park, 21. Dave Blaney, 22. STEWART PENALIZED 65 POINTS BY NASCAR
Tony Stewart was severely punished by NASCAR on Saturday night for breaking a strict racing rule and ignoring a black flag in the final laps of the Pepsi 400. Stewart, who drew the yellow line on the track, was docked 20 finishing positions—a punishment that cost him 65 points in the standings.

Long before the punishment was announced, Stewart was made to argue his case with NASCAR officials. But he was rebuffed in his effort to approach Winston Cup director Gary Nelson at the NASCAR hauler and had to be restrained by car owner Joe Gibbs and his crew chief.

Stewart also slapped a reporter's tape recorder away and kicked it under a car. Gibbs then went into the NASCAR hauler to speak to Nelson as the on-track incident was reviewed.

Stewart, already on probation Sunday, argued for hitting Jeff Gordon's car on pit road earlier this season, left the track without committing long before NASCAR announced its penalties.

Stewart was running in second place with four laps to go as he neared the start/finish line. With a pack of cars behind his Pontiac challenging him for position, he whiffed a cut down on the track below the yellow line on the bottom of the track.

"That's a rules violation in NASCAR that the drivers were reminded of during their pre-race meeting. So when Stewart's left-side tires went below the line, Hoots immediately called him into the pits for the black flag."

His defense for breaking the rule was that he was forced below the line when Johnny Benson, driver of the No. 10 Valvoline and several other drivers all tried to pass him in a four-wide pack.

NASCAR spokesman Jim Griffin said Stewart might face further penalties for his post-race behavior.

"The Action Track"
The mid-season championship was held here Saturday night and a strong field of cars showed up to compete on "The Action Track" and three and four wide racing was the rule.

After being tipped at the line last week, Bobby Carrier, seemed determined to cross the line first this week. Scott Douglas would lead the first six laps until Carrier got a nut and drove under him to take the lead, that pair would battle the remaining laps but Carrier prevailed in the end.

Chasing the leaders was Paul Benton in third, four through seventh was a mass of cars down to doormen and bumper for the entire 25 laps. Those spots would go to Dennis Robertson, Marty Steep, Joe Cooper and Donnie Gumm.

Jimmy Crabtree finally won his first feature of the season in his #8 modified when he managed to get past defending track champ Tim Littrell on Lap 15 and go on to victory. Jimmy Morrison was third and a strong showing netted Arnold Adams the fourth spot. Keith Denny ran fifth.

Bomber feature time saw the Filmer #8 on the pole, however, this time Terry Linville was watching his buddy Keith Denny behind the wheel as he nurses his broken leg. Denny would take the Monte Carlo to the lead on Lap 2 and do battle with Joe Todd and Steve Gaunce for the top spot until Lap 13 when Gaunce made a nice move using the lap car of Jerry Vermillion to shoot out in front. From there he was able to hold on for the win. Benny and Todd ran second and third. Roy Cox and Bill Friend rounded out the top five.

Tony Hunter posted fast time and used his pole position to get out front and lead every lap in the Roadhog

In Modified Kart action Chris Johnson would beat Jeremiah Hunt to the finish for the victory. That was the heat finish as well.

The Jr. Restricted Purple Plate win was posted by Chase McWhorter, second and third went to Brandon Coffman and Cameron Wilcoxon. McWhorter won the heat too. Jeremy Roberts was the gold winner. Shelton Martin dominated the yard kart action to pick up the winners trophy. Matt Long ran second with Chad Mulligan, Corey Rhore, Kelsea Cochran following. Martin won the heat race earlier.

Mike Estes posted his second straight win in the Super Heavy Class. Jason Ward finished second and Wally Burton third. Fourth and fifth went to Tommy Gibson and Don Stephens. The heat went to Estes.

A pair of number sixes finished one and two in Limited Modified action. The first one belonged to Travis DeBord, the second one to Troy Conquest. Paul Daniels was third, with Trae Soper and Calvin Howard next in line. Quincy Allen won the Limited Heat.

Eddie Litteral led every lap of the Stock Medium Feature to collect the top money. Joey Terry settled for second. Joe Earls was third, followed by Chris Thyngier and Dean Stephens. Joey Terry won the heat race.

Quincy Allen of Broadhead has four Limited Modified and Stock Lite feature wins in June at Richmond Kartway and Lightning Valley. On May 25th, Allen led all competitors to the checkered flag and won the $200 payday event. -Taken from Kv. Racing News

Josh Prewitt hit a grand slam homerun in Saturday's game against Garrard Co. and his team went on to defeat Garrard Co. 16-6 in six innings. Josh is the son of Carolyn Prewitt of Mt. Vernon and has three sisters and a brother. We love you and are very proud of you Josh. Josh plays for the Babe Ruth Reds. Coaches are Ronnie Brown, Keith Graves and Tim McIntosh.

Management Director for Rockcastle County, although she has been serving in that capacity on a volunteer basis for the past several months.

Last month the court hired Bobby Bishop Jr., for the part time position at $10,000 a year.

Roark pointed out to the court and the Judge that she had spent the last four days and nights at Mullins Station heading up the operation concerning a possible water contamination.

Local man arrested

A Flat Gap man is being held in the Madison County Detention Center, on charges of auto theft and burglary.

William Randy Chasteen, 26, was arrested on Friday by Rockcastle Sheriff Shirley Smith and Deputy Ronnie Roark, at his home on Flat Gap, after Richmond police found an unoccupied stolen vehicle with Chasteen's identification inside.

A Madison County Sheriff's Deputy also found illegal drugs and drug paraphernalia inside the vehicle. The stolen vehicle was located near a site where another robbery had taken place.

According to police, a wrecker and several CB radios were taken during that robbery.

When Smith and Roark questioned Chasteen about the thefts he admitted to stealing the wrecker and the pick-up that was found the night of the robberies.

The wrecker was recovered from a remote area off Loman Hill.

"That should have been the new director and not me," she said.

Roark also said after the meeting that she had asked the Judge to relieve her for a few hours while she went home and he refused.

She said the county also did not send any food or supplies to the scene and that her and Deputy Brown spent their own money for food.

Roark was also upset because she says she was asked to stay on at 911 to help with the mapping of the county, after she was appointed CSEPP Director by Carlolfis.

"I was trying to help out and then they offered me the 911 director's job and I accepted it," she said.

"Although I know I could do both jobs I have no desire to do them, but I think I should have been more informed on what was going on," Roark said.

Carlolfis discussed the situation at length on Tuesday with magistrates Bill McKinney, John Holbrook, Jack Bradley and Donald Bullock. Fred Mullins is in the hospital.

"Bonnie is a very capable person, but the recent incident at Mullins Station, however, completely affirmed what I have said all along - no single person should be the head of three local emergency agencies. It can't work because that person can only be at one place at any given time, and we don't know when emergencies will arise," Carlolfis said.

Mrs. Roark said that in many counties, one person is head of each agency, but has a deputy in charge at each level - but Carlolfis said he did not think that was a good idea.

Carlolfis has still taken no action on the matter and Mrs. Roark said she too had not made up her mind.

The court also passed a resolution in support of a Welcome Center at Big Hill on Hwy. 421.

The Rockcastle County Fiscal Court is attempting to obtain funding for a center that would service Jackson, Rockcastle and Madison Counties.

The court also tabled a request for a pay increase for deputies by Jailer James Miller.

The court agreed to discuss it at a later date.

Three on three winners at the recent Lady Rocket's basketball camp were Anna Reynolds, Ainsley Bussell and Sonya Lunsford.

Five on five winners were: Cora Collinsworth, Katie Cope, Jaekie Alexander, Courtney Campbell, Allyson Washburn, Abigail McClure, Kristen Abney, Kristin Baker and Felicia Cameron.

Best shooter awards went to Ashley Kimbrel and Ashley Robinson.

area around the pool of water.

The group also found a barrel on a hillside near the pool of water, although the barrel was quite a distance on the hillside from the pool of water.

The barrel had some type of liquid in it, but it was not punctured and did not appear to be leaking," said Livingston Fire Chief Sam Stallsworth.

The barrel was located a few feet from the railroad track and CSX officials have been contacted to see if they may have lost a barrel from one of their trains in the past few days, according to Roark.

Roark called in state officials from the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet, as well as officials from the State Health Department.

Water samples were taken from the pool and dirt samples were taken from the dirt around the dead animals and sent to Frankfort where they have been tested, although as of Wednesday officials still did not know what was in the water, that would cause the deaths.

Roark said there was also some concern that ground water in the area could become contaminated because it was obvious that the water in the pool was soaking into the ground.

Roark said that local officials were somewhat concerned about the ground water contaminating wells in the area, but that state officials did not seem to think that would be a problem.

Something that was very curious to local officials was the fact that had were able to live in the pool of water, while insects on top of the water lay dead.

"That part of it is very strange, how the dead can live, but the insects die almost immediately once they touch the water," said David Klee, Director of Public Safety for the State Health Department.

No one has been allowed in the area, since the investigation into the possible chemical spill began and barricades have been put in place.

The area is still off limits to the public and will remain so, until something is found out.

Mrs. Roark said she would like to thank the Livingston Fire Department for their help during the four days that officials were on site.

Roark said she would also like to thank the other fire departments for their support in sending food and supplies to the scene.

patch logs, a chase then ensued at 4:10 a.m.

K-9 Officer Mike Holliday joined in the pursuit and was traveling in the left lane of the interstate when the suspects, northbound in the right lane, attempted to cut over into the median and hit Holliday's cruiser.

"They were attempting to get across the median and go northbound in the southbound lane," Lewis recounted. "When they tried that it hit Officer Holliday's cruiser in the side and forced both vehicles off the road."

As Holliday's cruiser hit the gravel it flipped onto its side. The Ford Ranger, with the two fleeing suspects inside, "flipped several times," according to Lewis, effectively ending the chase at 4:14 a.m. just north of the 50-mile marker in Rockcastle County, dispatch records indicate.

The driver of the truck, David Owens, was not injured in the wreck and was arrested at the scene. He was charged with fleeing and evading, wanton endangerment and two counts of criminal mischief.

Owens' passenger's name or information concerning his legal status was not immediately available Tuesday morning.

Make your picnic healthy and safe

By: Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent for Family & Consumer Science

We all enjoy getting together with family and friends for a picnic or cookout during the spring and summer. In fact, these gatherings often become a tradition we look forward to each year.

To make your next spring or summer gathering a healthy and safe event, choose nutritious foods and transport and serve them according to food safety guidelines.

It's easy to update your favorite picnic recipes to meet nutrition guidelines for less fat, sodium and sugar while adding more fiber.

For example, to reduce fat in salads, replace mayonnaise with a mixture of half low-fat mayonnaise and half plain, non-fat yogurt. Toss potato or pasta salads with lots of chopped peppers to replace salt.

Since sugary drinks and sodas tend to increase thirst, avoid them on hot summer days. Ice-cold water is a better choice. Add some zest with lemon or lime slices. You can puree fruit like peaches, nectarines or peaches with a little lemon juice, freeze in ice cube trays, and serve in iced tea or chilled soda water.

Snacks of frozen grapes, bananas, strawberries, or peach slices are a nutritious way to beat summer heat.

To add fiber to your diet, put bread, tortillitas in whole-grain bread, sandwiches, or sourdough rolls. Fold chunks of fresh or dried fruits or chopped nuts into chicken or turkey salads to add fiber as well as flavor and color.

Play it safe by following these food safety guidelines:

- * Keep hot foods hot, at 140 degrees Fahrenheit or above, and cold foods cold, at 40 degrees Fahrenheit or below.

- * When in doubt, throw it out. Meat, dairy or other perishable foods that spoil if left out more than two hours. It only takes one hour for food to spoil at temperatures of 85degrees Fahrenheit or above.

Thoroughly chill cooked foods before putting them in a cooler or picnic basket. Put perishable foods in coolers with frozen ice packs or ice. If you put other foods in the cooler, put the most perishable items closest to the ice. To keep foods cool, remove from the cooler only as much as you plan to eat right away. Discard all leftovers.

coopersmith, specializes in traditional lanterns, scones and washboilers. Tennessee ironworker Jennifer Hyatt uses her training in costume and set design to create faces and figures in iron; and you won't have to look twice to see the giant metal sunflowers by Kentucky metal sculptor, Ron Foster.

Highlighting the weekends entertainment will be the distinctive Latin sounds of Los Llamas from Columbia, South America; native American storyteller Dorothy Dukepo Goodie; and the English Morris dancers. Making return engagements are Berea based group Zeo Speaks, performing Appalachian ballads; The Sofa Kings; an acoustical blue band and Pennsylvania trio Peach Pie Jazz.

Going on the same weekend is Berea's only international folk festival, Arte Vida. There will be music and dance groups from around the world. Experience the culture of five countries through authentic folk performances. For schedule and location of Arte Vida events, call 1-859-986-9075.

There is something for everyone at the Berea Craft Festival, July 13-15.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., daily. Admission is $5.00 for adults, $4.00 for seniors, with children under 12, free.

A child's courage in the face of disease inspires others

A parent's worst nightmare is losing their child. On the day May Jo Stopher brought her child home from the hospital, she felt sadness instead of the usual joy of a new life brings. Her baby, Charlie, was diagnosed with congenital heart disease. The doctors told her that her son had little chance of living beyond the first year of his life and there was no operation to correct his heart condition.

In her new book, Charlie's Touch-down (available from 1stBooks Library), Stopher shares how Charlie's condition challenged, yet strengthened her faith in God, and offers spiritual insights to her readers. After questioning God as to why their son was born this way, Mary Jo and her husband eventually resigned themselves to the fact that there were no answers. Taking the advice of a friend, May Jo focused on making life the best it could be for her son, and she and her husband decided to treat Charlie as normally as possible.

When the Stophers moved away for her husband to attend college, they met Dr. Cottrill, who was the first doctor that offered them hope. She suggested an operation that would improve Charlie's condition, but could not correct the malformation. Dr. Cottrill shared her Christian beliefs with the Stophers and made it clear that God is always in charge. Mary Jo's faith was challenged and she answered the call, which began years of surgeries, trials and suffering for young Charlie and an inspiring spiritual journey for his mother.

Through it all, Charlie persevered to become a happy child with a dream to play football. As he endured much pain, people saw within him the manifestation of God's love. He used his life to help others, becoming The Kentucky Eagle Seal poster child and meeting celebrities such as Nancy Reagan.

"A beautiful relationship grows between heaven and earth as abundant blessings are poured out and purpose is found in suffering," says Stopher of her son's life.

Currently, May Jo Stopher is an LPN at Baptist Hospital East and works on the Mother-Baby Unit. As a strong Christian, she takes the holistic approach in her nursing career and uses her own personal experiences to give hope to patients dealing with difficult situations. She lives with her family in Louisville.

20th annual Berea Craft Festival July 13-15th

Twenty years of art, twenty percent off Friday's admission donated to breast cancer research and twenty dollars given away every twenty minutes on Saturday are three of many reasons why the Berea Craft Festival is a major southeast event. Add to that a record number of educational demonstrations, craftspeople from 20 states, international entertainment and what is an event that supports the community but reaches regional and national significance.

In the previous nineteen years over 2000 top national artists have attended the Berea Craft Festival. This year, 120 more will display their work and many will demonstrate their craft at scenic outdoor Indiana Fort Theater on July 13-15.

Tom and Pam Thompson of Florida make white oak baskets and consular dolls. Tom is a master storyteller and never misses a chance to introduce city slickers to a generous dose of good ole mountain humor. Silversmith Leslie Heath from Ohio transforms solid silver coins into necklaces, earrings and belts using over 19th century tools; and Iowa carver John Weyer and family (six children in all) carve wooden utensils, bowls and replicas of antique tavern signs. You'll also see the dramatic art of rakupottery firing, silk painting, beeswax candle dipping, puzzle making, leather tooling, weaving, book making and fountain sculpting.

A very special demonstration will be presented by Jimmy Lou Jackson of Berea. Ms. Jackson is a glass bead artist, but more importantly, a breast cancer survivor. She has created a beautiful necklace showcasing a twisted pink ribbon, the symbol for breast cancer awareness. Proceeds of sales from the necklace will benefit a fund that helps women who need assistance paying for their treatment.

There is always new and exciting work at the Berea Craft Festival. Among the 25 newcomers will be New Yorker Wendy Carrington of Hatfield, who creates designer hats; Kentucky basketmaker Jody Epperson weaves miniature baskets; the size of thimbles using silver and brightly colored anodized copperwire; and Bee Global of North Carolina handcrafts beeswax candle lanterns embellished with wildflowers, ferns and leaves. New Florida artists are well represented by jeweler Deborah Barnes who fashions contemporary jewelry from rose gold, gemstones and pearls and by fiber artist Lynn Robbins, whose handpainted dresses and pillows with crazy cat designs will put a smile on many faces. Scott Johnson of Indiana will be the first artist ever to display work in deep sky astrophotography.

Metal artwork is hot, literally and figuratively and this year's festival will feature its largest selection ever! First time exhibitors will be Kentucky coppersmith Rena Warden bringing wall fountains, whimsical garden art and a must see 4 1/2 foot copper "Tin Man," the first in a series of characters from the Wizard of Oz. Paul Rakkers of Pennsylvania, also a

Dear Editor:

Philadelphia United Baptist Church of Christ Cemetery Rules & Regulations of Cemetery Graves space reservations by any person or persons must be permanently marked with an above ground marker of such material as granite, marble or bronze. The marker must have the individual's name and the date of birth engraved onto them. No temporary markers shall be used to reserve any grave space. No compositions or any formulation of any concrete or wood products shall constitute a permanent marker.

All foundations and footings for upright markers must be a minimum of 24 inches deep below ground level. Any person who is installing a marker of any kind must notify the committee contact persons for purpose of inspection of footer for proper depth and size of footer, prior to the foundation material being added. All footers must be poured with wet concrete and permitted to cure and harden for a period of 70 less than 24 hours prior to the headstone being erected. NO EXCEPTIONS! No dry bases! NO EXCEPTIONS! Any glass products for any ornamentation is prohibited. NO EXCEPTIONS!

Metal rods such as shepherd's hooks, etc. must be placed on ground on either end of headstone base and must be touching the base. Metal rods of any type cannot be placed on the front or back of headstones! NO EXCEPTIONS!

All flowers must be attached to the headstone or in vases which are on the headstone.

Exceptions for nationally recognized holidays for flowers and ornaments are: You may decorate however you wish for a period of seven days prior and seven days after the following holidays: A. Memorial Day B. Mother's Day C. Father's Day.

Any and all flowers that remain on the cemetery ground for any time other than the above dates of exceptions will be removed for the safety of the mowing staff. In order to save your flowers please take heed to the flower decoration policies. NO EXCEPTIONS!

Any donations can be made to either of the committee contact persons. A receipt will be given to you at the time donations are made. Any person who has any input or good ideas please feel free to contact the committee in writing.

Our Mission: Make and keep the cemetery a beautiful and sacred place for all.

The maximum space that any one person can have is equal to one grave space!

Dear Editor:

In response to Mert's letter a few weeks ago: Yes, Toney did a good job mowing the cemetery and if he did it for nothing where did all the money that was given to his mother-in-law go. For two years the church did not receive any donations for the up keep of the cemetery.

Why didn't we let him do the mowing this year? Answer, the way they cursed the pastor and kicked him and threatened to kill him is why.

As of August 2, 2001, all flowers must be removed from the ground.

May God forgive all of you and God bless.

Pastor of the Philadelphia United Baptist Church of Christ
Brodhead, KY

Dear Editor:

I would like to thank everyone who made our stay at Mullins Station more tolerable. FoodWorld for their donation of food and drinks, Brodhead Fire for the fish dinners and drink, Mt. Vernon Fire Department and Apollo Pizza for pizza and drinks, Brindlee Ridge Fire Department for cakes, cookies, chips and drinks. And to all the citizens who stopped by with food items or camping equipment, thanks to the Rockcastle County Sheriff's Department for their help and concern, to the Mt. Vernon Signal and other news agencies for their coverage. A special thank you to Mrs. Bonnie Roark, our county DES coordinator and Deputy Brown, for a job well done. Mrs. Roark did all in her power to handle the situation as it should have been done without any help from county or state officials. Thanks to the firemen from Livingston Fire their families to stay with this disaster from the beginning. The citizens of Rockcastle County should be thankful for the dedication of men and women of the emergency services in this county and be more supportive of their services.

Thanks again,
Sam Stallsworth
Chief Livingston Fire Rescue

Dear Editor:

The people who voted for the new school in Brodhead should live on Silver St. All we have had for the past year is dust and dirt. You can't open your windows, sit out in the yard or wash your cars or trucks. The contractor hasn't washed down the streets but once since they started the school. We have trash in our yard every day. I have heard Silver St. is to be watered down every day. We have put up with this for over a year and now something has to be done about it.

Should I Date a Married Man?

"I love Joe," Ann told me, "but I'm not sure if what I am doing is best. Can you help me?" (Ann and Joe are both fictitious characters.)

Ann had come for counseling because she was upset about her relationship with Joe. She and Joe had been seeing each other for four months and were getting along well. The problem? Joe was still married. "He tells me that he is going to divorce his wife," Ann explained, "but I am beginning to wonder. Do you think he means it? Can you help me understand him?"

"Joe may very well mean it right now," I answered, "but will he mean it two weeks or two months from now? He cannot predict how he is going to feel in the future. One thing you should know about married men who have affairs: they are usually very confused. They can change their minds at any moment."

RELATIONSHIP GUIDELINE NUMBER ONE: DO NOT DATE MARRIED MEN.

A married man who dates outside his marriage is not a happy man. He usually blames his misery on his spouse. "If I can just find the right woman," he thinks, "then I will be happy. My wife is the one who is making my life so miserable." Most of the time this is not the case. Unhappiness comes from inside us, not from another person. Unhappy men who blame women for their problems do not make good prospective mates.

"It is easy for you to tell me not to date him," Ann replied angrily, "but I am lonely and he makes me feel better."

"You are absolutely right, Ann," I admitted. "It is easy for me to say, and it is very hard to do. Since your marriage broke up a year ago, I know you have been sad. Joe is seemingly the first good thing to happen to you in a long time. But there must be some part of you that has doubts about the relationship or you wouldn't have come to talk to a counselor."

RELATIONSHIP GUIDELINE NUMBER TWO: DO NOT DATE ANYONE WHO HAS BEEN OUT OF A SERIOUS RELATIONSHIP FOR LESS THAN A YEAR.

"That's another one of those easy to say but hard to do guidelines," Ann challenged me. "I bet you wouldn't stick to that if you were in my situation."

"You may be right," I admitted, "but just because it is hard to do, doesn't make it wrong. Anyone needs time to recover from one relationship before beginning another. The chances of a permanent relationship are better when both people have had time to heal."

"But if I give up Joe now, I may never find anyone else," Ann sighed.

RELATIONSHIP GUIDELINE NUMBER THREE: DO NOT STAY IN A RELATIONSHIP BECAUSE OF FEAR THAT YOU WILL NOT FIND ANYONE ELSE.

"If a man is unmarried, then stay with him because there is a good chance you can build a life together," I encouraged Ann, "not because of fear."

"Not every relationship that breaks these guidelines will fail, but the chances for success are greater if the guidelines are heeded. Ann called me a month later. "Joe says he can't see me again because he is trying to work things out with his wife," she announced. "I need to talk to you." Dating a married man often ends in heartbreak.

David Proctor, one of our boss carpenters, is doing some work for Irvin Long. Wedding bells are seen to ring in this part. Look out Mr. Edgar Brown. Eld. Martin Owens still remains in a very critical condition. Rev. John Elder will preach at Providence the fourth Saturday and fifth Sunday this month. Saez Proctor says he will leave for the West soon. Jacob Elder and Will Owens are doing splendidly with their singing school at Union. The farmers are getting along nicely with turning the sod. J. W. Swinger and wife were in Brodhead Monday on business. Aunt Louisa Reynolds still remains very feeble. Mr. George Noaks and wife, of Lincoln County, passed through this part enroute to his in-law, Mr. George Fishers. P. J. Griffin, one of our bustling merchants is doing a fine business. ORLANDO NEWS
Misses Woodia Wolf and Roxie Evans, of the Hummel section were visiting relatives at this place Saturday and Sunday. Mr. W. F. Anderson and Mrs. Hester Robinson were called to Brindle Ridge Sunday, on account of the serious illness of Mr. William Riddle. Dr. W. D. Laswell was at Wildie and Roundstone Monday on professional business. Mr. James Anderson was at this place Sunday. "Granny" Ball and her daughter, Mrs. Polly Laswell are very sick with the grip. Mr. Wesley Abney family has been confined with the grip. Rev. Williams preached a very interesting sermon Monday at Maple Grove. Mrs. Alice Cook, of Blanche, and Mrs. Mollie Williams were the guests of Mrs. Hacker Williams Friday. Mrs. Cynthia Reams was severely scalped in the face Monday by the explosion of a bucket of water. Two, Mrs. Lottie Krueger and Ed, and two little daughters, Henrietta and Mary, of Louisville, are spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Gadd, who is very low.

LANGFORD NEWS
The Baptist Sunday school was organized at Hummel Sunday with Charley Coffey as Superintendent, and Thomas Eagan, Miss Rhoda Latz, Mrs. W. H. Baker, Mrs. Mahala Coffey as teachers. Miss Woodia Wolf as Secretary and Louis McGuire as Treasurer. Everybody invited to attend. W. H. Baker, our hustling merchant, is doing a good business at home and on the road. He had a little bad luck at Somerset this week. His horse became frightened at a street car and fell and bruised itself up so bad that it will be some time before he will be ready to use again. Misses Woodia Wolf and Roxie Evans were guests of Mrs. Abe Evans Sunday last. Mrs. Jane Coffey visited Mrs. Lillie Sharp Sunday. There will be preaching at Hummel Grove next Saturday and Sunday. Lee Proctor, clerk for the Ky. Free Stone Co., is on the sick list. Lee Carter has moved into the house vacated by Henry Adams Muellersville. Elmer Recker is doing extra work in office when Lee Proctor is absent. Mrs. Andy Robins is in helpless condition. Mr. George Taylor does not improve any. Mrs. Jane Reynolds is about well again.

PERSONAL NEWS (From 3/13/1908 ISSUE)
T. D. Mulligs is at work on his new house. S. C. Franklin was in Bertha Saturday and Sunday. J. E. Craig is very seriously ill at his home near Quail. Maurice Brown is working at East Bernstadt for a few days. Mrs. Cook is visiting her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Ballard. Conn. Brown is acting ager during the absence of Mr. J. A. Landrum. Atty C. C. Williams writes that he is having a most delightful visit in the South. E. B. Cox was in Livingston Sunday. His mission was a friendly one. Earl Briton, of Somerset, is visiting his brother Roy L. Briton of this place. Chas. Lyons, the lumber man, was here Wednesday to take up a car of lumber. J. A. Bowman is moving to the J. A. Wood farm near Conway, which he has rented for a year. We dislike very much to lose Mr. Bowman from our number, as he is one of the best citizens we have. Mrs. Rebecca Reynolds, of Mareburg, is reported dangerously ill. Sid Baugh spent a portion of the week with his brother, Dr. J. F. Baugh. Mrs. J. C. Camical, who has been sick for several days is improved. Col. R. M. Johnson has been very feeble most of the winter and seldom appears on the street any more. Jas. Taylor has been awarded the contract to carry the mail between Mt Vernon and Orlando for another year. G. W. Taylor, of near Langford, continues to be in poor health. He has been confined to his room most of the winter.

Master Jack and Maurice Brown of Lebanon Junction are visiting their cousin Miss Lona Smith and other relatives here. Mrs. R. B. Mullins received word Wednesday that her daughter, Miss Margarite, was very sick at the Stonewall Jackson Institute in Albington, Va. We overlooked the personal of Mr. J. E. Herrin, of Bertha, who came down last week to attend the burial of his brother. E. A. Herrin, Mr. Herrin has been located in Bertha for several years and is enjoying good health and a goodly portion of this world's goods. DEATHS (From 3/13/1908 ISSUE)
Granville Pearl Landrum died of stomach trouble Tuesday morning at his home in Elizabethtown. His remains were interred in the Landrum graveyard yesterday afternoon. He is survived by his wife, and a son and daughter. He was a brother of our splendid townsman J. A. Landrum, W. B. Landrum, of East Bernstadt, and John B. Landrum. Mr. Landrum received a message Tuesday stating that his brother could not live and he left on train #24 for Elizabethtown. But he had only gone as far as Brodhead when he received another message that the end had come. PIONEER GONE TO HER REWARD
Mrs. Alvina B. Lykins, whose maiden name was Stigall; was born April 22, 1836 in Crab Orchard, Ky., and died February 19, 1908, at Sheridan Lake, Colo., after an illness of four years. She was united with the Christian Church when seventeen years of age, and has ever since lived a devout Christian life and has gone to enjoy the Christian's rest. In early life she was united in marriage to James Huff of Mt Vernon. Of this union nine children blessed their home. Four of them preceded their mother in death. Five yet live to mourn her death: Mrs. M. S. Albright, Mrs. Jennie Kinder and J. D. Huff of this place, George Huff of Columbia, Okla., and R. E. Huff of Fordland, Mo. Twenty-five grandchildren and two great grand children are among those to mourn her departure. While living here she was the oldest of the family representing four generations. Being left a widow, she later married Thomas Lykins, a wealthy farmer in Geny County, Missouri, where they lived. After Mr. Lykins death, she came here as one of the pioneers before the building of the railroad. Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jennie Kinder at 2 p.m. Friday Feb. 21, 1908. Services were conducted by Rev. C. E. Lincoln of the Christian church. He was assisted by Rev. S. A. McNeill of the M. E. Church. The house and yard was full of friends and neighbors some of who had come a long distance to pay their last respects to one who had spent so many years in their midst. She was gently laid to rest in the Sheridan Lake Cemetery. Six of her grandchildren served as pall bearers.

LUCY BAKER, who came to Mt Vernon eight years ago with the W. L. Richards family, and who for the last three years had been one of the dormitory girls of the Brown Memorial School, passed away at the Children's Hospital in Cincinnati last Tuesday morning.

Pacesetters Picnic

The Rockcastle County Senior Citizens participated in the annual Pacesetters Picnic held at Levi Jackson State Park on June 12, 2001. Bea Leahy received the trophy for overcoming the greatest hardship and Percy Bowman was recognized for most miles walked - 1080. Four counties participated and lunch was catered by Famous Recipe. Everyone had a great time. At right, Center Director Sherry Mowbray presents the Pacesetter Trophy to Bea Leahy.

Mt. Vernon, Kentucky
on Friday, July 13, 2001
Beginning at the Hour of 11:00 a.m.

Said property being more particularly bounded and described as follows:
Being all of Lot #23 of the Country Club Estates Subdivision as shown on plat of record in Plat Book 2, page 18, in the Office of the Clerk of the Rockcastle County Court, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky. Reference is made to said plat for a more complete description of said lot.

Being the same real property which Roger W. Lovell and Brenda G. Lovell obtained by deed dated November 11, 1993, of record in Deed Book 152, page 169 in the Office of the Rockcastle County Clerk.

The property shall be sold on the following terms and conditions:

1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five percent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond approved by the Master Commissioner.
2. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of 6.75% per annum until paid in full. The bond shall have the force and effect of judgment and shall be and remain in lieu upon the property sold as additional surety for the payment of the purchase price.
3. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of sale.
4. The purchaser shall be responsible for the 2001 local, county and state property taxes.
5. The purchaser shall have possession of the real property upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
6. In the event that the plaintiff is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required.
7. The sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise which shall be sold as is.

Agricultural News

By Warden Alexander, FSA Director

The Deadline Is Here!!

New Legislation requires all farms with an effective quota greater than zero to report acreage planted to burley, including zero acres no later than July 16th. Reports filed after July 16th will be subject to a late file fee.

Marketing cards will NOT be issued without a crop report on file.

Farms with an effective burley quota that will not plant burley or lease quota from the farm MUST report a zero acreage for burley tobacco, or the farm will be subject to burley forfeiting for the applicable burley marketing quota next established for the farm, unless the State Committee and the County Committee determine that the reduction is not applicable.

We strongly urge producers to call 256-2525 ext. 100 and request an appointment.

USDA Announces 2001-2002 Marketing Year Penalty Rates

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced the penalty rates that will be charged producers, dealers (including those operating through receiving stations), and warehouse operators for marketing excess tobacco during the 2001-2002 marketing year.

Section 314 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, requires that USDA collect these assessments. The 'penalty' rate is 75 percent of the average market price for that kind of tobacco for the previous marketing year. The statute applies to every kind of tobacco subject to marketing quotas. When the average market prices for each kind of tobacco are determined and announced, the penalty rates are then calculated.

The rate of penalty for the 2001-2002 marketing year for Burley (type 31) Tobacco is $1.47 per pound.

Disaster Leasing

Farmers who will suffer a burley tobacco disaster loss must file a report with FSA Prior to Harvest to retain eligibility to lease quota away under the disaster lease provisions. The disaster lease provision was implemented to provide relief to producers that suffer a disaster loss and are unable to produce and market the farm's effective quota. To be eligible to disaster lease and transfer, the transferring farm must file a crop report with FSA, have plenty of acreage sufficient to produce the farm's current year effective quota, provide a workman like manner for the crop production, meet more than a 20% crop loss and suffer all price support eligibility requirements.

Warehouse Designation-A Must In 2001

Beginning with the 2001 marketing year burley tobacco farmer operators will be required to file an initial designation of pounds to a specific warehouse, receiving station or dealer with which they intend to market their tobacco. The initial designation period for the 2001 marketing season will begin June 1, 2001 and end on August 1, 2001.

Farmers are required to inform FSA of the warehouse number where they will market their tobacco. Please note the FSA 808 will indicate where the tobacco will be sold. Therefore, if you decide to market at a warehouse other than the one specified on the marketing card, you must return that card to the FSA office and request another marketing card. Remember: the marketing cards are warehouse specific.

Producers must be aware of the warehouse designation form prior to the approval of all leases. Warehouse designation forms list only those pounds effective for the farm as of the date of the signed form. Therefore, if you have leases not approved you will need to come back to the FSA office and file the FSA 808 for the lease pounds.

Farmers not signing the FSA 808 will be eligible to re-designate pounds and sale locations during the re-designation periods of: October 1-5, 2001, October 29-November 2, 2001, December 3-7, December 28, 2001-January 4, 2002 and January 28-February 1, 2002.

FSA has a listing for public notice of warehouses, receiving stations and dealers posted on the bulletin board in the county office. This listing shall be available through March 31, 2002.

Beware of Undermarketings

Producers in years past have been eligible to carry forward under marketed pounds for one year. Beginning with the 2001 crop, we are now advising producers to market as much of the effective quota as possible. We also would like to advise producers not to "lay out" tobacco for one year hoping to have a larger quota the next year. Here is our reasoning: Beginning with the 2001 Burley tobacco crop, if you sell less than 100 percent of your effective quota, the amount of quota that can be carried forward to the next crop year may be subject to reduction. Reductions in the carryover of undermarketings will come in effect when the total burley undermarketings exceed 100 percent of the national basic quota.

REMEMBER! LEASOR MARKET 100 PERCENT OF THE FARMS EFFECTIVE QUOTA TO AVOID A POSSIBLE REDUCTION OF POUNDS!

Dates to Remember

- CDP (Crop Disaster Program) began January 18th.
- Enrolling farm in PFC after re-estimation: 30 calendar days after FSA 476 notice.
- Crop Reporting for row crops, hay and pasture: by July 2nd.
- Crop Reporting: required for ALL burley tobacco farms by July 16th.
- Designating payment shares on PFC and meeting signature requirements: August 1st.
- Designating Burley Tobacco Warehouse for Marketing: June 1st through August 1st.
- Sign up for the Grazing Out Program through August 31st.

Experience and research have shown that songbirds, such as northern cardinals and American goldfinches, are the only kind of wildlife that can be directly fed the appropriate seeds with little risk of negative repercussions. But even birdfeeders can be sources of disease, and should be periodically scrubbed clean with a brush and mild soapy water and disinfected with bleach water. Feeders can also be moved every few months so that a buildup of feces does not present a problem.

Those who wish to help wildlife should focus their efforts on habitat conservation and improvement, rather than feeding. "In reality, food is rarely a limiting factor for the most commonly fed wild animals," Clark explained. "Suitable cover to accommodate these animals' travel, escape, nesting, and reproductive needs is far more in demand than food."

Kentuckians can be good neighbors to wildlife not only by providing the right habitat, but in other ways, too. One is by exercising care when disposing of trash. Trash should be secured in containers that keep wildlife out. This may simply mean placing a burger cord across a trash can lid and fastening it to the container's handles. Another neighborly practice is being a responsible pet owner. Pets should be fed at regular times and inside a home or garage so that food is not left outside for wildlife to exploit. In addition, pets should not be allowed to roam freely in urban areas. Pets such as cats, small breed dogs, and their young may be easy prey to predators such as coyotes, and may encourage the predators to frequent residential areas. Domestic house cats and stray cats also kill millions of songbirds, amphibians, and other animals each year.

A final step people can take to help wildlife is not attempting to rescue young or injured animals. "Usually, young birds or mammals that people see alone are still being cared for by their parents," Clark explained, "even if they are not in sight; only in rare instances where parent animal(s) are known to be dead, such as from vehicles striking them, should people intervene. People concerned about orphaned or injured animals should first contact their local Animal Control office to determine if there is a wildlife rehabilitator in their area who is permitted and capable of caring for the animal(s). Untrained people often put themselves and the animals they want to help at risk by trying to approach them."

If you want to help provide for the needs of wildlife in your area, improve the habitat instead of directly feeding animals. Landowners who own 5 acres or more of property and are interested in habitat improvement are eligible for a site visit from a KDFWR wildlife biologist free of charge or obligation. Those with less acreage or those interested primarily in landscaping their home loss may obtain a Backyard Wildlife Kit.

Farm deaths down

The number of farming-related deaths in Kentucky fell 19 percent in 2000 compared with the previous year, according to a report from the Kentucky Injury Prevention and Research Center.

The annual report from the center's Kentucky FACE (Fatality Assessment and Control Evaluation) Project says 17 people died in farming accidents last year, down from 21 in 1999 and 65 percent lower than the recent high of 48 deaths in 1995.

"We applaud the farmers throughout Kentucky who go the extra mile to stay out of harm's way," Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Billy Ray Smith said. "At the same time, our hearts go out to the families of those 17 people who lost their lives on the farm last year. Farm safety is a priority of this administration, and we won't rest until the number of farm fatalities in Kentucky is down to zero."

"People are changing their habits. Safety is a choice, and more farmers are making that choice," said Dale Dobson, a 15-acre County farmer whom Commissioner Smith named the Agriculture Department's farm and home safety field officer nearly three years ago.

Of the 17 people who died last year, 13 were 50 and over, and four were 80 and over. None was younger than 20. Once again, farm machinery was listed as the cause of more deaths (nine) than all other farming-related causes combined.

Dobson travels all over the Commonwealth giving farm safety demonstrations and staging mock rescues. To schedule an appearance, contact the Division of Public Relations and Communications at (502) 564-4696.

The Department offers a farm and home safety plan at no charge. The plan contains useful safety tips and space for adding emergency contact information. To obtain a copy, call (502) 564-4696 or download the plan from the Department's Web site at www.kyagr.com.

Caring for the wildlife around us

By Brian Clark

Virtually every Kentuckian enjoys watching wildlife on the water, in the fields, and around the woodlands of the state. Some Kentuckians have the opportunity to see wildlife in their backyards. While having wild animals close to home is often desirable, putting out food for animals other than songbirds is not a good idea. It causes problems for the animals and people alike.

Ducks and geese, white-tailed deer, raccoons, foxes, opossums, skunks, and squirrels are popular critters, and are often the targets of direct feeding to lure them within close viewing range. Common food items people set out in feeders or on the ground include corn or other grains, pet food, or table scraps.

Wildlife that find such handouts near homes quickly learn to associate people or human dwellings with easily obtained food. "People who feed wildlife are usually well-meaning animal lovers," said Brian Clark, a wildlife biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources (KDFWR). "What they may not realize, however, is that direct feeding creates a number of problems."

"For example," he continued, "many people feed bread crumbs to geese in city parks. The geese concentrate in access areas, creating a mess with their defecation and an ideal opportunity for the spread of diseases between the animals. The very bread they are fed may transmit a fungal disease to them. Geese can also become aggressive. None of us want a wild animal to be intimidated or harmed, a child or pet. This can happen when wildlife are fed di-
