Police guarded the Mt. Vernon Water Plant on Saturday, after a couple from India was detained for questioning. The couple was taking pictures around Lake Linville Saturday morning when authorities were notified. At left, off duty Mt. Vernon police officer Barry Adams and Constable Dale Miller discussed the situation, while they stood outside the water plant. The two detainees were questioned for several hours by State Police, FBI and INS. The couple was released after authorities determined they were posing no threat.

Two detained by police while taking pictures near water plant

By: Richard Anderkin
A call from a Brodhead volunteer firefighter to Rockcastle County's 911 dispatch center on Saturday, resulted in a couple being detained and questioned.
According to police, a couple from India were apparently taking pictures around Lake Linville from the southbound emergency lane of Interstate 75 around noon when authorities were notified.
Rockcastle Sheriff's deputies, members of the Mt. Vernon City Police and Kentucky State Police responded immediately to the scene.
Kentucky State Police Detective Gary Lane was called to the scene and immediately took the couple into custody for questioning.
The Mazda car they were driving was also impounded and towed to the Kentucky State Police Post in London.
The Federal Bureau of Investigation and the INS were also notified and brought into the case.
Lane said the couple was questioned at length and that the INS researched their paper work to see if they were in the country legally.
The film the couple was using was also developed and the good news, they were apparently just tourist taking photos of the beautiful fall foliage around the lake.
"We checked everything out and the mere just tourists - but it is better to be cautious this day and time, so we appreciate the calls," Lane said.
The couple was released after several hours of questioning - but that didn't stop a frenzy of activity in the county.

911 Director Bonnie Roark was called to the dispatch center to help with the hundreds of calls being received at the center about the county's major water supply being contaminated.
"We tried to tell everyone that there was no evidence of such an act, but that didn't seem to stop the phone calls - for a few hours the phone did not stop ringing," she said.
The rumors also caused a run on bottled water in the county, with at least two grocery stores selling out early Saturday afternoon.
Wat-Mart in Berea also reported selling lots of water to Rockcastle residents.
Other events of the day included the Mt. Vernon City police staying at the water treatment plant and patrolling the lake area all during the day Saturday to make sure there were no problems.
Rockcastle County Emergency Management Director Bobby Bishop, Jr., was also called to the scene, as was County Attorney Jeff Burdette.
Mt. Vernon city employees stayed in constant contact with Mayor Karen King and water plant employees Bruce Mullins and Dennis McClure tested and monitored the water at the plant throughout the day.
"I think everyone did a great job on Saturday - everyone pitched in and followed procedure to the letter - it was truly a cooperative effort," said Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette.
"I know all Rockcastle Countians also appreciate the citizens who called in and the law enforcement agencies to react quickly - it is always better to err on the side of caution especially this day and time," he said.

School psychologist beaten to death

Phillip Lowell Lanham of Cartersville, accused of killing his wife last week in the couple's Cartersville home, will undergo a court-ordered psychiatric examination.
Lanham, 45, of 60 Narrow Gap Road, is accused of beating to death his wife, Kenna C. Lanham, 47, last Thursday.
Garrard County Coroner Carla Henderson said Tuesday that autopsy results are incomplete, pending toxicology results.
The autopsy was conducted Friday at the state medical examiner's lab in Frankfort.
"They said they would rush it, but it could be a couple of weeks," Henderson said.
Police have provided few details about the investigation.

Kentucky State Police Det. Robert Stephens wrote, in his report that Lanham is accused of beating his wife "put her in her bed and then cleaned the house up."
Henderson said Mrs. Lanham had been dead about three hours before she arrived on the scene and declared the victim dead at 6:20 p.m.
Although the autopsy is pending, Henderson said the State Police had enough evidence to charge Mr. Lanham with the murder.
He appeared for arraignment last Friday before District Court Judge Janet Booth.
During that hearing, Lanham told Judge Booth that his legal counsel's name was Timothy McVeigh.
Booth appointed public advocate Suzanne McCollough as Lanham's attorney and continued the arraignment to Monday.
At Monday's hearing, McCollough cited Lanham's reference to Timothy McVeigh as one reason she was asking for a psychiatric exam before her client's preliminary hearing.
McCollough argued that the evaluation would determine if Lanham would require medication to better help in his defense.

Citing state statute, McCollough argued legal proceedings cannot take place if a defendant "cannot rationally participate in his own defense."
Oliver continued the arraignment proceedings until Monday, Oct. 22.
Prosecutors might bypass district court and seek a direct indictment against Lanham, automatically moving his case in Garrard County Circuit Court.
The Garrard County Grand Jury holds its monthly meeting this week.
The Lanham's were married in 1995. Mrs. Lanham, a school psychologist, was employed by the Rockcastle school district for 13 years.
"She was an excellent employee who took her job as a school psychologist very serious and she always put the students she worked with first," said Rockcastle County School Superintendent Larry Hammond.

"Kenna was the school system's first ever school psychologist who carried a very heavy work load for many years, before it became obvious that she needed help - she was just really dedicated to her job and to the kids," Hammond said.
"She had such a soft heart and she will be sorely missed by all of her co-workers - it is truly a shame that this had to happen to anyone, but when it is someone you work with everyday it hits home a little harder - our hearts go out to her family and friends," Hammond said.
About a year ago, according to neighbors, the couple moved into a small brick home on Narrow Gap Road, two doors down from the Cartersville Fire and Rescue squad.

Friday morning, yellow police tape surrounded the home.
Nailed into a tree in the front yard was a No Trespassing sign, signed by Lanham.

Brodhead woman's probation revoked

According to Montgomery, Denny admitted to unlawfully entering the residence of Mark Loudermilk and taking property belonging to him, including jewelry and mail.
At a hearing on Friday, Denny admitted that she had in fact violated the terms of her probation by using drugs.
Denny was sentenced to a period of five years imprisonment. She is currently in custody in the Rockcastle County Detention Center awaiting transport to a Department of Corrections facility.

Davy Stewart gets 40 years

By: Richard Anderkin
A Rockcastle County man who has been indicted for the brutal murder of a Conway woman last August, was sentenced to 40 years and a month in federal prison on September 14th.
Davy Stewart, 33, of Orlando was found guilty in federal court on June 20th of possession of an illegal firearm by an unlawful user of a controlled substance, possession of an unregistered machine gun, possession with intent to distribute schedule II controlled substances and possession of a machine gun in relation to his drug trafficking crime, according to the U.S. Attorney's office in London.
According to the attorney's office, Stewart will be required to serve eighty-five percent of his term, meaning he will not be eligible for release from federal prison until 2035.
Firearms and drug charges are the result of his arrest in Madison County a few days after he apparently shot Patsy Clark, 25, in the head after she would not pay for her soul.
Police believe Stewart was trying to steal a vehicle in Richmond and flee the area when he was shot by Kentucky State Police.
Sally Hoskins, 25, of Crooked Creek who was apparently with Clark and Stewart the night of the murder, led police to Clark's badly decomposed body.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

It's probably my fault that you didn't show up last Saturday night. I forgot to tell you.

Matt Paul told me in April (when he closed-up shop to clear his schedule for the spring & summer festivals) that he was going to re-open his Bluegrass Music Hall for weekend performances in mid-October. But I didn't write it down. Thank the Lord, though, and thank Him mightily, someone saw the sign out on Bobtown Stretch in front of the Hall last Saturday and then took the time to call me up and ask if I was going to "Opening Night of the Fall Season."

I told him that I thought they only ran the hay-burners at Keeneland during the day and that I suspected the races were mostly rigged anyway, so why bother and he said "Ohhhhhhhhh Noooooo!!! I'm talking about the Bluegrass that starts tonight at Matt's place!" and I said, "I forgot all about it!"

Because I had. Matt's been on the road all summer emceeing major Bluegrass Festivals from coast to coast rubbing elbows with the elite performers of bluegrass music and, frankly, the radio on Sunday evening ain't much fun to listen to unless Colohed Matt is hosting it. The result of all that is that I'd sort of stopped listening to Bluegrass Express on WYCO (The Coyote) 100.7 on your FM dial and there ain't nothing else fit to listen to on the radio when the sun starts setting on Sunday in my neck of the woods.

But when the outdoor festivals are over, Colonel Matt comes home to run his radio show during cold weather and put together live performances of the best bands he has heard at the festivals across the country. Most often these bands represent the best of the best and their performances take place at a little venue just outside Berea, in Madison County, that Matt leases during cold weather.

From time to time you'll see Larry Sparks, J.D. Crowe, Dale Ann Bradley, Continental Divide, Ralph Stanley and any number of the "Who's Who in Bluegrass" on the marquee but more often than not the band will not be one with whom you've spent a long acquaintance and those are the ones that rock the ankles of your socks down around the first joint your big toe.

It's an unpretentious concrete building that seats maybe 400, counting the balcony, and the new bluegrass bands will show up because they know that having Matt Paul's seal of approval needs to be on their resumes' if they intend to go much farther in the business. Matt's show is carried on the Internet at bluegrass.com for a couple of hours (7:30 til 9) on Sunday night too, so if you can't tune in to the radio station in Irvine, try that.

Last Saturday night the music started at 7:00 PM. Old faithful, brand-name, regulars, The Moron Brothers and then John Cosby & The Drifters were there and when they were finished a lot of folks thought the show was over, when in fact, it had just begun. Next came The Dawg, a group most of you never heard of but with a finer sound and tighter harmony than the original Seldom Scene, then Mike French with his unannounced band to show off a collection of vocal and instrumental talent to demonstrate that he is on the verge of having the best bluegrass band ever to exist. Mike French is rapidly becoming my favorite Bluegrass vocalist and his new band is a litany of musicians who served time with the big names.

Just when we thought Mike had stolen the show, along came "No Tools Loaned", a new group from Frankfort headed by Wesley Atha who sings like a lonesome bird and brings tears to your eyes and reminds you of the Country Gentlemen, except he's better, and plays the flat top like Larry Sparks and then shows off a band that has credentials so deep into the music that we'd have to have two more columns to list them.

At midnight, Matt finally told "No Tools Loaned" that he had to shut the place down or be in trouble with the law and that's the only reason they aren't still playing.

Folks, it happens every Friday and Saturday night. The best live Bluegrass music in the entire nation and the best grilled sandwiches and coffee and so forth to go with it. Ten bucks a head to get in and kids under 12 are free. The Tenderloin sandwich is so large that it's a meal and so good that I've let them use my name on it. (Ask for the Ike Adams special) Bring your appetite because there's not a better sandwich in the South. You can bring the kids and turn them loose on the floor and Grandma too, because there is no alcohol on the premises and none tolerated nearby.

To get there, find Highway 1016 on your roadmap between Highway 25 in Berea and US 421 south from Richmond and come halfway in either direction on 1016. If you can't read a map, call 859-986-2523 during the day or call me at night at 859-925-2105. There's plenty to do around Berea—you can even run up and bet on the hayburners during the day and have a heart full of bluegrass music on both Friday and Saturday nights if you want to make a weekend of it.

One thing is for sure—this is the best opportunity you will ever have to meet top quality, meet-the-stars, up close and personal bluegrass music in your life. No fake water wheels, factory sorghum or other fancy gimmicks but I promise that if you come, one time, no matter if you are driving 500 miles, you'll be back. Because this is the real, no frills, thing folks—the USA even if it meant giving their life for their belief. Destroy an important part of the USA they did, destroy it's heart they did not. American has specialists mechanical one to replace one damaged by demons. Their life went into eternity with the lives of innocent victims as work of terrorist who had been trained for years on how to destroy America and have no evidence behind for investigators to use. The world is not safe for humanity as long as these demons are free to roam the earth and destroy civilization that evidently they passed them. The terrorists are not only trying to destroy the accomplishments and ingenuity of present and past generations they are trying to take it back to the dark ages where men dwelled in dark caves and women were used for procreation and slaves... This is their aim. We cannot allow it to happen.

So, we awoke September 11, 2001, to the sound of complacency being replaced by concern we had never before experienced. Our world was literally being blown up and disappearing before our eyes. Planes with passengers on board had been hijacked by terrorist who had overpowered the pilots and aimed their planes toward the World Trade Center and flew directly into it. First one then the other before they could be intercepted by defense. The enemy planes were fully loaded with fuel and explosives that burst into 1000-degree temperature.

Who could we call on for help? Not the president, he was also in shock, as was the whole world. Suddenly through out the Nation, God was foremost in everyone mind and heads were bowed and knees bent in prayer. Many people talked to God probably for the first time in their life. Did He hear? Of course He did. Did He answer? Of course He did. Maybe not the answer you wanted to hear, and maybe you will have to wait awhile to see or feel it, but the answer will be revealed in God's way and when He is ready. While we are waiting to hear and see the answer to our prayer lets: remember the items He has seen us through other trials when things were dark, but a rainbow was just behind the clouds.

Life does go on. And like little children being threatened with punishment and not knowing what it will be nor when, they worry about the threat, not the consequence. So, we the adults, are experiencing fear, anxiety, depression, impatience and anger at the uncertainties of what might happen, not the threat that may never happen.

Now it is our turn to show what we are made of. With head held high, shoulders back, chin up, smile on your face and laughter in your voice, greet each day, your classmates, co-workers, neighbors and friends on the street with confidence and assurance that God is still on the Throne.

The birth pains of America was born by brave men and women leaving their native land to begin life in an unknown wilderness on the other side of the ocean. The crossing had brought despair and heartache to many as they watched hunger disease, and death take its toll and many loved ones never reached the shore.

We are people of a complacent society, living and believing all is well as long as the Social Security and retirement checks come on time, and jobs are plentiful for anyone willing to work 12 hours a day at minimum wage. Better still if your have already reached the top of the ladder of success and no longer have to worry about the rickety and broken steps left in your wake. Life is good.

Suddenly at 8:55 a.m. May 11, 2001, complacency was awakened to the reality of what terror was when, suddenly, without warning, "America The Beautiful" was blenished by the terrifying noise and sight of exploding missiles coming from N.Y. and Washington D.C. Both towers of "The World Trade Center in New York and the Pentagon, in Washington D.C. had been the target of hijackers sworn to the destruction of

"WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURES"

We have been studying a series of articles on the authority of Christ as manifested in various aspects of Christianity. Today we look at his authority in the plan of salvation.

Since we are the ones indebted to God because of our sin and transgressions, we are depending upon his mercy and grace to forgive us. God could offer salvation conditionally or unconditionally, he chose to grant forgiveness conditionally. God has the right to choose what conditions and how many conditions we must meet in order to be saved. He could have told us we must crawl on hands and knees 2 miles over broken glass, but he did not. He gives the steps of salvation: 1. Hear the gospel of Christ, Rom 10:17, Acts 18: 8. 2. Believe in the Son of God with all our hearts, Acts 8: 37, Jk 8:24. 3. Repent, a turning from sin and turning to God, Acts 17:30, Lk 24:47. 4. Confess Jesus before men, Rm 10:9-10, Matt 10:32. 5. Be buried with the Lord in baptism, Rm 6:3-4, Acts 2:38, Mk 16:16. This then will make you a child of God. You will be forgiven from all sin when you obey from the heart his word of doctrine. Then be faithful until death, Rev 2:10, Matt 10:22. Have you done this?

Is the word 'new' worth thousands?

Is the word "new" worth thousands? That is when you are purchasing a vehicle. It's not to Dwayne Brinegar, sales manager of Auto Summit of Lexington. With more than 30 years experience in the automobile business, both pre-owned and new, Brinegar has held several positions as manager at three new car dealerships and owned his own used car facility. His career began in 1970 selling vehicles in Berea. He later came back as an owner where his career started over the years. There is probably not a brand of vehicle that Brinegar has not been associated with. His experience and knowledge with service is apparent when you come to Auto Summit to purchase your next vehicle. It is no secret to many that the price of new vehicles has become out of reach for most buyers. However, this is not the only factor one should consider when deciding to purchase a used vehicle.

"We refer to our inventory as 'neused,'" Brinegar said. "This means that we specialize in like new vehicles." Nearly all of the inventory has factory warranties remaining and in fact extended warranty packages are also available. These vehicles are all certified to be mechanically sound and checked thoroughly before they are put on the lot. The second reason Auto Summit should be considered for your next vehicle purchase is the wide variety of brands available.

Dwayne Brinegar

You are limited to the brands represented at a new car dealer when you shop there. Obviously, they are going to sell you one of the "brands," they carry. Auto Summit offers a "broad variety" of "neused" vehicles so you can shop and compare many "brands" at one location. We have everything from Fords to Chevrolts to a great selection of Toyotas, BMWs, Mercades, and Chrysler products and always a great selection of SUVs and trucks.

"This way you can purchase what you want without being directed toward one brand or another," Brinegar said. The third and, by far the most important, reason to visit Auto Summit is the opportunity to save thousands of dollars on your next purchase.

"When you come to Auto Summit, you will see a sticker price on every vehicle," Brinegar said. "That way you know the price rather than waiting for a sales person to maybe in some cases inflate the price so they can show you more trade-in."

You will quickly see that you really can buy a just-like-new vehicle for thousands less than a new one. Take for example a 2001 Ford Taurus. This car has a sticker price of around $23,000. You can save thousands of dollars and purchase one like this at Auto Summit for $12,000 to $13,000. We ask you once again, is the word new worth thousands? At Auto Summit, you can select from a wide variety, buy with the utmost confidence and save thousands. We also have many sources of financing to meet your individual needs. You just can't go wrong when you buy a vehicle from Auto Summit.

Auto Summit's strategy of selling like-new vehicles for thousands less than new vehicles is working very well. Coming soon is Auto Summit of Madison County, which will be located in Berea or Richmond. Watch for our grand opening. In the mean time, Brinegar would like to invite all of his previous customers to come by and see him, in fact, we at Auto Summit want your business no matter what vehicle it might be that you are looking for. We have a convenient locator service that allows us to find most vehicles in a few days. Just tell us what color you're looking for.

Auto Summit is located in the former Lowe's Building near the intersection of Liberty and New Circle Road, or directly across from Parkette Drive-in.

We are open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Check us out on the Web at www.auto-summitt.com or call 859-255-1906 for more information.

Visit one of the biggest lots in the area as well as a huge show room with a 30-vehicle capacity. Call Dwayne Brinegar today. "If I can't trade with you, I might buy your vehicle," Brinegar said. "If you have credit problems, don't hesitate to call me personally to help you get the vehicle you want. Help to see you soon at the Summit."

Dear Editor,

Although festival goers faced some problems, such as the downpour during the pageant on Friday night, the numbers were up this year. Participants in the pageant, 5K run, talent contest and parade were more than the previous year. The only discouragement was that all booths did not get to participate due to the wind and weather.

The Bittersweet Festival operates with no other source of funds except those received from all of generous contributors. All committee members and festival workers are volunteers and receive no payment for services. The majority of donations received are given back to festival participants as prizes, awards, trophies and entertainment. This is why our supporters are so important and deserve a tremendous thank you from all that enjoyed any part of the festival. On behalf of the festival committee, and myself I would like to thank the following contributors for their part in making the Bittersweet Festival 2001 a success. "Sweet n' Sour"

Other problems awaited them. Native Americans, resentful the intruders the new arrivals. Most of us know what happened to the Indians. They lost their lives protecting their native land. The Pilgrims lost many lives protecting their (stolen land) new found land. That is an unpleasant part of our history, but history it is.

The Pilgrims, settlers of the new land, fought their way through problems with the Indians, problems with weather, hunger, lack of sufficient clothes and sickness. They survived draughts and floods, but grew strong in both body and wisdom.

The Revolutionary War, the first war fought on American soil was for the independence of the people living here. Betsy Ross designed and made the first flag, The Stars and Stripes we proudly display as the symbol of freedom, and The Star Spangled Banner was written by Francis Scott Key while he was a prisoner on board an English vessel in the harbor. George Washington was Commander who later became the first President of the U.S. of America. We came out O.K. didn't we!

Other wars followed, each one taking the "cream of the crop." Our youth, who were willingly and served faithfully.

The Civil War was one of heart break for both sides. As Lincoln was the president, the issue, freedom of the slaves. There are still conflicting emotions about the outcome: Many lives were lost by both the North and South, but all were given freely for the cause they believed in.

World War I was fought when I was very little, I don't remember what it was about but I do remember hearing the name (Kaiser?) spoken with disdain, and the parade in Olive Hill, when it ended. Mom took us, five kids along, to watch it, holding my hand, the baby in her arms, the other three standing close by and when the drums rolled by and the flag waved above them my two older brothers, 8-10, pulled their caps off and stood at attention. That was the first parade I had ever seen and I did something to me that still brings tears to my eyes whenever I hear of see one. I faintly remember shortly after that we ended an epidemic of a new kind of flu broke out and people died by the hundreds. There may have been many sick, but all remember to the many sick people Mom helped take care of and now graves dotting the hill sides. Whenever there was sickness Mom could be found helping. I remember the quiet voices when one passed away and how the survivors picked up the shovel buried the dead and went about the business of feeding their family. There wasn't much time for mourning; the one in the next bed needed attention. Our family was lucky, even though Mom was with many of them none of us took the flu.

Time began healing wounds, the vacant chair at the table occupied by another loved one. Families moved to new locations where work was more plentiful and memories less vivid. The knitting and mixing of different cultures from various places in the World was changing the lives of many who had never seen mixed races sharing the same seat in school, eating at the same table with Italians, Polish and Black before. They soon learned the ropes and survived but not before the Great Depression struck against the hearts of those just getting by. President Hoover was in trouble keeping order in Washington, D.C. while the depression got worse and people began to, form lines at soup kitchens. Banks crashed and succumbed by many of those who had lost everything followed. Jobs became scarce, then nonexistent as breads and potatoes and steel mills closed their doors and workers sought employment elsewhere to no

President in a wheelchair where he had confined him since he was a youth. When Mr. Roosevelt became president my family (were all Republicans, suffice to say we were not happy with him. Later, I discovered my father could be wrong about some things, for Franklin D. Roosevelt was not only a president, he was a true Statesman, he not only understood politics, but was able to help the country in its time of need. The depression soon showed signs of weakness, jobs became more plentiful. A big roast took place for a ham hock for Sunday dinner, and a few new clothes showed up at church. We were out of the woods but stability was still in the future. I think I have shown my readers a few hardships and fears of every generation since the boats landed on the shores we so proudly call "America," where our forefathers fought for freedom, our great grandparents the rights of freedom, our grandparents the love of the land and our parents what love is. And our sons and daughters are now showing the world what all the means to them, they are the sons and daughters of the founders of democracy and FREEDOM for all. And we have nothing to fear but fear itself. AND WE ARE NOT COWARDS!

Gaining Weight in the Fall & Winter

By Hazel Jackson
County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Services

The reasons why people gain weight in the fall and winter are as varied as the reasons why someone is overweight. Eating for reasons other than hunger is not bad. However, it may not be healthy.

Do you gain weight in the fall and winter? Do you want to lose weight in the spring and summer? Why do you think you gain weight? Most animals gain weight in the fall in preparation for the long winter. Gaining weight in the fall provides the layer of fat which will help them survive the winter with little food. Fat also keeps the body warm. Have you ever noticed that people who are heavier tend to get hotter quicker? The thick layer of fat acts like a blanket. Animals, like to stay warm in the winter, therefore, they eat in the winter just like the humans tend to gain weight like the animals. However, most humans don't need to worry about lack of food in the winter. Except in the worst weather, we can go to the store to buy needed food. Most of us wear jackets to stay warm, and therefore, most of the time our thick layer of fat is not needed to protect us from the harsh winter weather. This thick layer of fat can increase the risk of getting heart disease, diabetes mellitus, and high blood pressure.

How do you feel about the short days and long nights of winter? There is less light in the fall and winter than in the spring and summer. Many people become sad or sluggish as there are fewer hours of sun. This may be a true physical reaction. For others, it is just symbolic of the long winter. Either way, many people eat more in the cool months. Food is comforting. Food is warm. Food is part of the season. Most people exercise less in the cold months. It is cold. It is slippery. It is still dark in the morning and it is dark early in the evening. We gain weight.

Try to break the habit of gaining weight this winter. Eat wisely and stay active!

Dr. Don Whitehead to teach seminar on depression

Dr. Don Whitehead will teach the seminar "Dealing with Depression" on Monday, November 12, from 7:00-9:00 p.m. at the Center for Rural Development in Somerset. The session is open to anyone interested in learning more about depression.

Dr. Whitehead is a pastoral counselor in private practice in Somerset and is the counselor at Bethany House Abuse Shelter. His weekly newspaper column "The Family Room" appears in six newspapers across South-eastern Kentucky, and he does public service announcements for Clear Channel Radio stations in Somerset. He is a graduate of Yale Divinity School and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Dr. Whitehead has studied depression and counseled with families for more than 16 years. He has presented his ideas about depression to audiences across the state. He is a minister who blends a spiritual approach with current scientific research.

"Depression strikes many people, and yet most of us know so little about it," Dr. Whitehead states. "Depression can be fatal, because some of its victims will commit suicide. Even when not fatal, it is a painful illness that can make a person and a family miserable. Insomnia, overeating, low energy, anxiety, guilt and hopelessness are just some of its many effects."

"I have had many personal experiences with depression," Dr. Whitehead reports. "I know what it feels like to be depressed, and I know it does not feel good at all! I would like to help some of those other depressed persons out there. Come to this seminar and you will find out how you can beat depression. You will learn that depression is very treatable. You will find that there is hope!"

In this seminar Dr. Whitehead will explain the causes of depression. "Also you will learn to recognize depression in its many forms," he adds, "and you will find about the treatments for depression that really work."

To register for the seminar call 679-4134 or 1-877-PASTOR-8 have your Visa or MasterCard ready. The fee for the session is $20 per person. You may also register by sending a check for $20 per person to Dr. Don Whitehead at 402 Coomer St., Suite 204, Somerset, KY 42505. If space is available, you may register at the door for $25 per person. "So register early and save money," Dr. Whitehead says.

"I hope you will join me for this very important evening," Dr. Whitehead adds. "It could change your life."

The Day America Mourned
Written By Linda (Poynter) Larrish

How this could have happened, is beyond me
Terrorist attacks in the land of the brave and free
On September, Eleventh in the year of Two Thousand and One Morning in New York City had just begun.

When over the horizon the American Airliner flew
But, the pilot now was not one of the crew
First it was one that hit the Twin Towers then it became two People were helping others whom they never even knew.

To stand and see what was happening in the skies
Made an infinity of tears flow from millions of people's eyes
To watch as the world did on that day
Caused Christians every where to get down on their knees and pray.

There was another plane navigating toward the Pentagon
To destroy this building still did not break our patriotic bond
It just makes us stronger as each day goes by
For in this nation today millions of American Flags fly.

But, it still wasn't over as the smoke began to fill the air
There was another plane crash in Pennsylvania somewhere
Thousands of lives were possibly saved when this one went down
The pilot and others chose not to be the terrorist's target, but the ground.

No words could ever tell of the sorrow on that day that was felt
But the souls of many that night in Heaven slept
To take thousands of innocent people's lives was such a senseless crime
And someday those responsible will do their time.

And The Banner Yet Waves
By Fossie Christine McKinney
Looking back through history, as Americans often do
We say a prayer of gratitude and shed a tear or two
For those who passed this way before and blazed a rugged trail,

Who gave to us a land of hope,
where freedom could prevail.

They suffered endless heartache to make their dream come true
And yet, with every sacrifice, determination grew
With deep, abiding faith in God, a faith that never wavered,
Their obstacles were overcome and blessings highly savored.

Each day brought added burdens to test their dedication,
But this just meant an extra prayer, a bit more meditation.
For stumbling blocks were stepping stones that brought them near and near Their precious goal of freedom as it grew ever dear!

And so we look back through the years to the dawning of our nation,
And find that words cannot express the deep, heartfelt sensation --
The lump that comes each time we see Old Glory waving high Or hear our national anthem, or a soldier passes by...!

Our brave young folks in uniform who serve the cause today
Are carrying on tradition in the proud American way.
For those who gave us freedom held this gift in his heart,
And we who've followed after them still share that precious dream.

Young men and women, brave and true, place personal lives on hold;
Defending this land we love, becomes their greatest goal.
Down through the ages we've been blessed each time that duty called;
Today is no exception. And, troops, we thank you, one and all!
God Bless You and God Bless America!

ROCK on a roll; beat Knox 60-0

The Rockcastle County Rockets are 8-0 this football season, after a 60-0 win over the Knox Central Panthers on Friday night.

The game would not have been as close as it was, but rainy conditions made it hard for the Rockets high octane offense to operate at the level they have become accustomed to.

And the Rocket defense was relentless again, holding the Panthers to a negative 66 yards.

Senior P.J. Rowe who will likely break the all-time sack record at the ROCK during this week's game, picked up three more to give him a total of 13.5, which ties the single season record.

The Rockets scored three times in the first quarter on a 61 yard pass from Aaron Anderkin to Josh Hale, on a two yard run by tailback Marty Reagan and a 31 yard field goal by Jens Strietzel, the first of the season for him.

In the second quarter Hale caught another touchdown pass from Anderkin to make the score at half-time 24-0.

In the third period the Rockets scored three times.

Senior Clay Dooley had excellent runs of 54 and 20 for scores and Reagan caught a short pass from Anderkin for the other score.

In the fourth period, Reagan scored again, this time on a 40 yard interception return.

Clell Swinney scored the final touchdown of the game on a 25 yard run and backup quarterback Devin Taylor found Josh Hayes on a two point conversion pass for the final two points of the contest.

Besides Rowe's three sacks he also had four solo tackles.

Jason Leger had three tackles and assists, Steve Blair had five, Adam Childress had six and a sack, Tanner Abney had four, Stephen Boreing had five, William Blair led the defense with ten tackles and assists, Reagan had four, James Michael Bussell had four and a fumble recovery, Josh Taylor had two and Dooley, Matt McClure, Cory Reams and Nathan Brummett each had a tackle. Tyler Strunk picked up a fumble recovery.

The Rocket defense has allowed only 13 points all season long and held their opponents to a minus 89 yards rushing.

Offensively Anderkin was 11 for 15 passing for 156 yards. He threw two interceptions.

Hale caught five passes for 89 yards.

Reagan had 60 yards on seven carries and he caught three passes for 18 yards.

Dooley had 89 yards on just four carries and he caught two passes for 27 yards.

Swinney had 39 yards on four carries.

Josh Taylor had 18 yards on four carries, Stephen Boreing caught one pass for 22 yards.

Strietzel was seven for seven in extra point kicks.

All total the Rockets had 350 yards of total offense.

Because of the blow-outs, which has enabled the Rocket varsity to exit early every game, the Rockets are a fairly healthy team.

They will host Cawwood on Friday night.

There will be a special service on Friday night to honor Veterans and members of the armed services.

Any Veteran or armed service member, as well as parents and students should arrive at the field by 6:30 p.m.

The theme for the night is Rock 'N Unity.

ROCK vs. Knox Central

By Preston Parrett

It was little league night at the Rock. And future Rocks covered the land. As they were introduced to the crowd They all got a big hand.

It was a rainy evening And work had to be done, Mr. Hale was mopping the seats "So spectators would have dry buses.

Big "A" passed to Josh Hale And he broke away for a touchdown, Then Marty cracked over from the two And the Panthers were fourteen down.

The Rock stalled on their next series And they called for the man with the educated toe, And from thirty-one yards out Strietzel drove it through the uprights you know,

Now the Rock posse defense Puts a miter front, And it was all the Panthers could do To get off a punt.

Anderkin came back with a pass And it was night on TD by Hale, Then Clay Dooley opened up And went 54 yards with the Panthers on his trail.

Clay Dooley wasn't finished For he added a 20 yard score, Big "A" passed to Marty Reagan And they ticked off six points more.

Marty picked off an errant pass For a forty yard return, Then Clell Swinney on a 25 yard run Showed he had speed to burn.

They went for a three point conversion And it was night on the spot, As Devin Taylor threw to Josh Hayes Which added two more to the pot.

Congrats to coaches, team, band, honor guard and fans, You're really going great, Just keep up the good work As you wreck the teams in the state.

Lady Rockets Volleyball finishes runners-up in District Tourney

The Lady Rockets varsity volleyball squad finished off a great first year with a trip to the 7th Region Volleyball Tournament.

After losing in the opening round of the district playoffs to South Laurel, the Rockets won five straight matches before falling to South Laurel in the championship game.

After defeating Evans, the Rockets defeated Corbin, for the fourth time in the season, Harlan, Oneida and North Laurel.

Against Corbin last Wednesday night, the Rockets won the first game 15-12, in spite of 12 first point service losses. The Redhounds were ahead 12-9 when Sarah Mullins clinched the win for her team with six straight service points. Jessie Hayes got three service winners in the game, Rachel Childress and Doris Bismarck, two each and Jessie Riddle, one.

The second game saw the Rockets go down to defeat, 15-9 with Mullins accounting for five service winners in the game; Allison Anderkin two and Hayes and Courtney Parsons, one each.

The deciding third game of the set was taken by the Rockets 15-8 (actually the score was 16-8 as the refs took a point on service by Rachel Childress on a very questionable call. Corbin was ahead 4-0 when Childress served the ball which was bumped by a Redhound player into the gym's rafters causing the ball to career into the walk way around the gym. After service of another winner, making the score 4-2, a conference issued among the officials who ruled that because the ball hit a rafter and careered out of play, the point was denied because Corbin was denied a chance at a second hit. However, with Corbin up 5-2, Brianna Bussell came through with seven straight winners aided by a kill to put her team ahead 9-6. Bussell led her team in service winners in the game; followed by Anderkin and Childress with three each and Mullins got two.

The second match of the night pitted the Rockets against Harlan and it was an easy match win for the Rockets. Mullins led her team in the match with 12 points on service; Anderkin had six; Bussell five; Amanda Rogers four; Hayes two and Riddle one.

Thursday night, the Rockets met Oneida in the first match and emerged victorious 15-12 and 16-14. Mullins again came through with six service winners in the game; Bussell and Childress had three each and Anderkin, Hayes and Bismarck, one each.

In the second game, the Rockets

Named to the district all-tournament team for the Rockets were Allison Anderkin, Rachel Childress and Sarah Mullins. Stats kept by Coach Short in the district tournament showed Anderkin with 703 in overall positive stats; Mullins led in service winners getting +775 for 96% including 10 aces and Childress accounted for 28 kills/tips and five blocks. Other stats showed Bussell tied with Jessie Hayes for the most digs/saves at six, and Hayes also had 25 assists and Courtney Parsons was credited with the least errors in the tournament at eight.

By Gerald Hodges
The Racing Reporter

Ricky Craven battled Dale Jarrett in a door-to-door shootout on the final lap to score his first career Winston Cup victory in the Old Dominion 500 at Martinsville Speedway.

It was the Newburgh, Maine native's first win in 175 Winston Cup starts.

Craven, who has been enjoying career resurgence after fighting his way back from a 1998 head injury while with Hendrick Motorsports, had the lead on a restart with 10 laps to go.

Craven pulled his No. 32 Tide Ford to a four-car-length lead over Dale Jarrett and Ward Burton battled for second on the restart. Craven was nearly a second with 10 laps to go, but Jarrett pulled away from Burton and began to close in.

With five laps left, Jarrett was less than a half-second back as Craven tried to hold on.

With two laps to go, Jarrett was on Craven's rear bumper. Jarrett tried to go high in Turn 1 on Lap 49 and went back up close on the final lap.

The cars ran side by side for almost the entire final lap. Craven was able to crowd Jarrett toward the outside wall and held on to win by .141 seconds for an emotional Cal Wells.

An emotional Craven stood in Victory Lane and fought back tears.

"I began racing in 1982, at 15 years old, with a dream to win a Winston Cup race, and by golly we did it today," Craven said. "That's the hardest 20 laps I've ever driven in my life."

"There were two years there when we didn't have much of a chance, and my wife told me that tough times don't last, though people do. I just won a Cup race, that's awesome."

"There are so many people that I need to thank, but I am grateful to Cal Wells and all our sponsors who have helped and encouraged this team."

"Here we are. We won at Martinsville, Va., one of the toughest tracks on the entire circuit. I went to think Dale Jarrett for being such an awesome gentleman. I found comfort knowing he was in my mirror. I knew he would not rough me up."

"I knew he'd race me hard but I knew he wouldn't rough me up."

cause he's such a gentleman. My biggest obstacle right now is getting some sleep before Talladega. I've waited my whole life for this and it's just so exciting."

After the race, Ward Burton, the third-place winner said:

"I called a Winston Cup car owner over the winter and told him if he wanted to win a race this year to hire Ricky Craven. It was the (owner) he won for today, but nonetheless, I was gonna start a Busch team while back and have him in the car. I'm so happy for him because he's such a good guy."

Finishing order: 1. Ricky Craven, 2. Dale Jarrett, 3. Ward Burton, 4. Bobby Labonte, 5. Jeff Burton, 6. Johnny Benson, 7. Mark Martin, 8. Mike Wallace, 9. Jeff Gordon, 10. Sterling Marlin, 11. Tony Stewart has foot and mouth troubles again

Tony Stewart continues to struggle with his public image. There has never been any doubt about his driving abilities, but off track one of Stewart's feet is usually sticking in his mouth.

In an effort to avoid talking with the media, Stewart waited until the last minute to leave his hauler for Old Dominion qualifying on Friday. As television crews waited by his No. 14 Home Depot Pontiac for a live interview, Stewart brushed by them and crawled into the driver's seat without acknowledging them.

After qualifying, Stewart told Mike Mulhern of the Winston Salem Journal, and other reporters, that "NASCAR is like the Mafia."

"Their approach (NASCAR) is our way of doing things," said Stewart. "I might be driving down the highway soon."

He still has three years left on his contract with car owner Joe Gibbs, but Stewart has expressed an attitude of disappointment with NASCAR rules that have turned stock car racing into something more resembling Indy-style racing of follow-the-leader. He much prefers the side-by-side racing of modified stock cars, and competes in those events as many times as his Winston Cup schedule allows.

"NASCAR's role is very much like the government's role," said Bill France Jr. "By and large no one likes the government. But, somebody has to do what we do."

"If you're speeding down the highway late at night with no one around and an officer tickets you, you can't argue the officer is picking on you. When we ticket one of our competitors, they think we're picking on them. But, let someone else do something wrong, and then what we do is the right thing."

Mark Martin doesn't know what's wrong

Mark Martin, who has been having a terrible year, says he doesn't know the answer to his team's problems.

"There are things out there that you can say and report that are not on the positive side, but it doesn't have anything to do with the team, sponsors, relationships, commitment, or anything like that," said Martin.

were down 1412 when Courtney Parsons scored four straight consecutive wins, the last an ace, to give her team the 16-14 win and the match. Anderlin also served four winners in the game: Hayes and Bismarck got three each and Mullins two.

The second match of the night was a breather for the Rockets as they defeated North Laurel 15-10 and 15-5. Mullins again led with the most service winners, 12, Anderlin got five, Bussell and Hayes, four each; Childress three and Riddle two. Riddle also had five kills/tips in the match and Childress four.

In the last match of the night, the championship game, the Rockets fell once again to South Laurel, 15-5 and 15-10. Mullins and Childress each gave five service winners in the match; Anderlin and Bussell, two each and Riddle one.

In regional play Tuesday night at Woodford Co. the Rockets upset against a hard serving; first spinning Pulaski Co. team in their bid and couldn't cope, losing both games 15-1. Mullins and Bussell accounted for one service winner each in the match.

"It's just a matter of we've had a year where we weren't as competitive on the race track as in the past. We have worked as hard as we can work and I guess right now, so maybe we can move past this."

"I still can't give you a reason why we haven't won seven races like we did in '98. I couldn't tell you then why we were running so good. What I said was, 'We've got a great race team and it seemed easy at the time.'"

"Now, we're working hard and have a great race team. There are no defects."

Jeff Burton is not leaving. Matt Kenseth is not leaving. A lot of things have been said in a series of press conferences but no one is able to give answers, but they're not always there. Had we all been winning races, we wouldn't be answering these kind of questions.

Subtle changes occurring in NASCAR

There are small, yet significant changes occurring in NASCAR as they anticipate the closing of this season, and the beginning of a new one.

In the past two weeks, there were a significant number of cars, both in the Winston Cup and Busch Series that carried "black boxes." These are specially sealed boxes installed in cars that gathered information that could be helpful if the car was involved in a crash.

Two other recent innovations are the use of a heat shield and diaper that wraps around the car's fuel pump, and head and neck restraints.

"It's case-of-the-fuel pump, gets knocked off during a wreck, the absorbent material will catch and absorb the fuel."

Only two Winston Cup drivers do not wear some type of safety restraint device. NASCAR president Mike Helton has not mandated drivers wear the head and neck restraints, but he says NASCAR is "ready to act." Apparently, there will be further news if they will be mandatory in 2002.

No one can say whether the use of a head and neck restraint would have saved the life of Blaise Alexander, Adam Petty, Kenny Irwin, Tony Roper, or Dale Earnhardt, but wouldn't it have been worth it if one of those lives could have been saved?

Some sources say NASCAR refuses to order changes or the use of a specific safety device because of lawsuits. If a driver was seriously injured or died while wearing one of the devices, and it was proven that it did not work as required, both the manufacturer and NASCAR would be held liable.

Drivers are like most of us, are creatures of habit, and not all of them do not cotton to the idea of wearing any type mandated safety device. And based on their lack of enthusiasm, is one reason NASCAR is not in a hurry to act.

No matter what NASCAR does next season, this has been a heart-breaking time. With five deaths in the past one and a half years, both drivers and fans need a rest. Racing may never be the same, but hopefully all of us can be revived and enjoy the sport again.

Weekend Racing: The NASCAR Winston Cup Series will be doing some fast racing on the high banks of Talladega Superspeedway. The Busch and Craftsman Trucks have the week off.

Sunday, Oct. 21: Winston Cup EA Sports 500, event 31 of 36 events. Starting time: 12 noon (EST); TV: NBC; Distance: 188 laps/500 miles; Defending champion: Dale Earnhardt Sr.

Talladega track information: Size: 2.66 miles; Banking in turns: 33 degrees averages during the 14-week competition.

In addition to the league play, Bussell took first place in his class at the Kentucky State Tournament held September 1st in Elizabethtown. McClure placed second in his class in the state tournament.

Scott would like to inform anyone interested in picking in a fall league in Richmond at Lake Reba Park should show up at the horseshoe courts located behind the soccer fields any Sunday at 2:00 p.m.

Both members of the league pitched games exceeding 50% ringers

Operation Enduring Freedom

By Jim Bunning
U.S. Senator for Kentucky

It has been one month since the worst act of terrorism the world has ever struck our great country. These despicable acts by faceless cowards were designed to create havoc and to test our resolve as Americans. Although our buildings may be damaged, our foundation as Americans is as strong as ever.

Recently President Bush ordered the beginning of military operations in Afghanistan. My thoughts and prayers are with the service men and women tasked with carrying out the President's orders. I am confident they will do a great job.

The strikes launched by U.S. and British forces are designed to punish those responsible for the attacks, as well those who harbor them. I want to express my strong support for President Bush in this endeavor. He has shown great leadership in the campaign against terrorism, and I am proud to have him as Commander in Chief of our military.

Those individuals responsible for the horrific attacks of September 11 must be brought to justice. Terrorism cannot and will not be tolerated. The Taliban regime was given a choice -- to side with justice or to side with the evil that is terrorism. They chose to side with the terrorists and now must face the consequences.

Kentucky State Police Halloween Safety Tips

The Kentucky State Police at London would like to give some safety tips for everyone to remember this Halloween.

Halloween can and should be a day of fun for the children and families who wish to take part in the custom of trick or treat. By practicing some basic safety tips, you and your children can enjoy a safe and enjoyable Halloween.

Costumes
Having the right costume is important to your children. Having the right type of costume should be a priority for you. Try to ensure that your children's costumes are light colored so that they are easily visible. If you have to use dark colors, place reflective tape in several parts of the costume - across the back and on the front and sides to ensure that no matter what direction they are facing, your children can be seen.

Stay away from masks. Most masks will restrict a child's vision. A good, fun and inexpensive alternative is face paint. If you are taking a group of children trick-or-treating, have everyone meet at your home a half hour before you plan to leave so the children can paint each other's faces.

Company
Young children should never trick-or-treat without an adult. If you can't accompany your children, make sure they get trick-or-treating with an adult or responsible young adult you know well. It's always safest to go out with a group of family and/or friends.

Location
It makes sense to visit homes in your neighborhood and even trick-or-treat only at the residences you are familiar with. You should not enter a home to receive a treat; just stay on the porch or sidewalk outside the door. Also, never enter any abandoned building, deserted area or enclosed place. Tell your child never to approach cars or accept treats from persons in a car.

Some communities and community organizations host Halloween parties as a safe and fun alternative to trick-or-treating door-to-door.

Timing
Try to confine your trick-or-treating to the daylight hours. If you, as parents, work during the day and can only take your child out in the evening, limit your visits to homes with porch or outside lighting.

Treats
Allow your child to accept only treats that are wrapped, the sure to take your child out in the evening, limit your visits to homes with porch or outside lighting.

Remember Walk, Don't Run! Always wait at the curb and look both ways before crossing the street! Cross the street at the corner and do not cut in between parked cars! Obey all traffic lights! If you are driving on Halloween, make sure to use extra caution and be alert for any children who may be on the street!

"Stewart"

posed body, after Stewart's arrest in Richmond, Stewart has yet to be tried on the murder charge, but Rockcastle's Commonwealth Attorney Fiddy Montgomery said that it would eventually happen.

Montgomery said family members still wait him to go on trial and he agrees.

"It was a heinous crime and the family needs closure - we are waiting on some DNA samples from the lab and once we have that we will be ready to ask for a trial date," Montgomery said.

The federal charges came about after Montgomery and Madison County Commonwealth Attorney Thomas Smith III went to federal authorities and asked that the gun and drug charges be filed.

Montgomery said the reason behind that move was because Stewart had been released on bond in Madison and Rockcastle Circuit Courts.

Stewart was released in Rockcastle in January on a $50,000 property bond by Circuit Judge William Cain and in May he was released on a $10,000 cash bond by in Madison County Circuit Judge William Jennings.

"Because we thought he was a flight risk we asked the U.S. Attorney's office to step in," Montgomery said.

"From Long Ago"

is still in a very critical condition. - Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Jessie and little daughter are visiting in Virginia this week. - Dr. W. J. Childress left Monday for Chicago where he will attend the Medical Association and Lectures for four to six weeks. We regret, of course, to have the Doctor away for so long a time but we are glad to see him take so much interest in the advancement of himself in the medical profession, and it is very nice that we have two congenial physicians as Doctors Childress and Webb so that when one wishes to be absent the other can and will keep up both of their work. - Dr. and Mrs. Childress were in Cincinnati the first of the week shopping. Mrs. Childress accompanied the doctor that far on his way to Chicago. - DR. Dean, of Danville, is at Eight Gables this week doing dental work. If you are needing such work, now is the time to have it done as the doctor will not remain there very long. Remember the date for the ice cream and strawberry supper to be given at the store room of the J. C. Callaway on Saturday May 2nd by the Y.P.C.U.S. Mrs. Malinda Carson died last Thursday. She had reached that ripe old age of 81 years, 9 months and 29 days. She had been married three times. First to Misses Cummins to which union was born five girls and two boys. Her second marriage was to Milton Hicks and to that union two boys and one girl was born. Her third marriage was to Joseph Carson and to this union there was one boy and one girl born. Seven out of the thirteen children are still living. Aunt "Haly" as she was familiarly known, was a sister of the late Old Uncle Ashby Owens and Uncle Martin Owens. She was buried at Providence cemetery, (Some editing was done in this death notice). - Mrs. J. W. Chadwick of Middleboro was visiting her brother O. T. Holly first of the week. - Messrs. Jackson, Tippin, Ketting and Jackson of Louisville are stopping at the Eight Gables for some days. They are surveying the route for the last ten years, see telephone line through this district. - E. J. Kline of Middleboro state agent for the Tribe of Redmen is organizing a tribe at this place. This is a very strong organization and we hope he may be successful in this undertaking; and we see no reason why he should not have success. - DEATH: Miss Lula Bryant the 15 year old daughter of Mrs. Hurt died at her home here on May 19th. Her remains were taken to Wildie for burial Wednesday. The pall bearers were composed of six of her young Sunday school mates, Misses Sarah Alcorn, Lucy Woolf, Alice Burton, Pearl Owens, Lucy Dees, and Ethel Smith and they deserve great credit for the becoming way in which they discharged their duties.

"She was a nice person. She stopped by every morning on the way to work and bought a Mountain Dew," said Magistrate Marvin Conn, whose daughter owns Cartersville Grocery.

Conn said he didn't know Mr. Lanham.

According to court documents, Lanham has a record of 25 charges against him, mostly alcohol related.

In 1993, two years before he married Kenna Lanham, he was charged with assault 4th degree, spouse abuse. Those charges were later dismissed.

Between January 1992 and March of 1996, Lanham was charged with five counts of DUI, three counts of alcohol intoxication and three counts of operating a vehicle on a suspended license.

None of the charges were in Garrard County. Most stemmed from incidents in Rockcastle and Madison counties.

In another motion from McCollough filed Monday and granted by Judge Oliver, State Police have been ordered to preserve evidence in the case, particularly a home computer.

Funeral services for Mrs. Lanham were held Monday at Oldham, Roberts & Powell Funeral Home in Richmond.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Lanham is survived by her son, Shane Rawlins, of Richmond, her parents, Logan and Elizabeth Cole of Beattyville, and two granddaughters.

Educators and business leaders, in this federal designated empowerment zone, are working cooperatively in fostering manifold career-related experiences for all students. Through this process these activities are being infused into the curriculum in order to meet the needs of area employers. Pastor Appreciation

In the Spring of 2000, Maple Grove Baptist Church was without a Pastor. The Lord was dealing with Bro. Keith Carr of Jackson Co. to be the Pastor at Maple Grove. He did not share this with us as he wanted to be sure that this was the way God was leading him. One of our church members invited him to preach one Sunday. Even though we considered several others, he was the one God has chosen for us. To honor our Pastor and his family, Maple Grove Baptist Church will have an appreciation meal after the PM service Sunday, October 21st. We love you, Bro. Keith and your family. Many thanks for all the special things you do for us.

Jordan, Blayne Nicely was crowned Baby Master of the 2001 Bittersweet Festival. He is the son of Layne Nicely and Jessica Childress.

Lake Linville PRIDE shoreline cleanup has ended for 2001

Lake Linville is looking good! Wayne Bullock, coordinator and Sharon Manning, worker, would like to thank those responsible for obtaining the grant: Congressman Harold Rogers, Mayor Karen King and Sec. Kaye Rader and all those who helped with the cleanup: the All-American Club, several residents in the area who kept a section of the shoreline clean and moved and frequent visitors who picked up trash in their area. A trash can was donated by Cox Hardware. $5,000 is expected from PRIDE for 2002. Litter Control hopes to install several trash cans among other improvements to Lake Linville. Lake Linville is a beautiful area for fishing, camping, and picnicking and a haven for wildlife. We're proud of Lake Linville! Please help us keep it clean and beautiful in 2002.

Do You Have The Courage to Grieve?

In the last month several people have asked me to recommend a book on grieving. All three were going through grief after a family member had died. I have found the book!

Judy Tatlbaum wrote The Courage to Grieve partly out of her own experiences. Her brother died at age 20 in a car wreck, and that experience with grief started her on the journey that led to this book.

She identifies three phases of the grief process that all people go through after a loss. First, there is the state of shock, when the grieving person cannot believe that the loved one is really dead. Numbness may be a part of this stage. Second is the stage of suffering and disorganization, when the grieving person feels the terrible pain of the loss. He or she finds life very disorganized, because an essential part of life has been lost. The third stage is aftershocks and reorganization. In this stage life begins to return to normal, though often interrupted by aftershocks of emotions for months or years later. A birthday or anniversary may trigger the emotions.

There is no timetable for grief. Friends and family may expect the grieving person to get over the grief quickly. The grieving person may push himself to finish grieving long before he is ready. Grief is not finished in a few months.

Tatlbaum says, "This then is the essential process of grieving -- repeating again and again the images of, and feelings about, our lost loved one until the mourning process is completed." To grieve fully means to experience the pain of the loss, without covering or denying that pain. To grieve fully means to experience and express all the emotions and reactions to the loss.

Most people do not like to hurt and so have invented various ways of denying the pain. When the pain is not expressed, the grieving process can stall and leave the person stuck in grief. Unexpressed grief is unhealthy.

Friends and family may try to talk the grieving person out of expressing his feelings. "Don't cry" or "Just stop thinking about him" are admonitions that discourage the person who is grieving from getting out those painful feelings inside.

Tatlbaum gives two extreme examples of the possible effects of unexpressed grief. One is Anna, who never mentioned her husband or shed a tear after his death. Six months later she began showing symptoms of senility. George faced the death of his son stoically, without tears. Six months later he had a heart attack. Unexpressed grief is both emotionally and physically dangerous.

In my own counseling practice, I often work with people who have unfinished grief. Mary came to me because of her depression. (Mary is a fictitious character.) She had no energy and wanted only to sleep and eat.

Mary's mother had died one year ago. Mary was angry with Mom for leaving her to take care of all her younger sisters. Because Mary felt guilty about being angry, she tried to shut down her feelings. Then the grief stopped, leading to her current depression.

When I told Mary that anger was normal in a grief situation, she seemed relieved. She began going to the cemetery and "talking" to Mom, telling Mom about the anger and many other feelings that she had. As she found ways to express her feelings, her grief began flowing again.

I highly recommend The Courage to Grieve. Check with the nearest bookstore.

Welcome to America and Happy Birthday!

It took 16 long months before you could come home to us. These were the longest days of our lives, knowing that you were so far away and that we could not touch you or comfort you. We loved you from the moment that we knew you as Debuta and when we only had the 11" x 11" black and white picture to hold on to. When the time finally came for us to come to India and bring you home, we were filled with anxiety. We were not bothered by the 36 hours of flight and we were not concerned about traveling so far from home. Our mission was to bring you home to your new family. When we saw the conditions of your first 8 1/2 months of life, we cried. We could hardly eat when we saw the poverty and starvation that was everywhere. However, when you placed your tiny arms around our neck, our tears were of joy and the 16 months of waiting seemed very insignificant. Thank you for making our lives complete and allowing us to realize how fortunate we are. Happy Birthday Samuel Isaac Bullock and welcome home!

With love from your Mom and Dad,
Steven and Dana Bullock

In and Around Willailla

By Carol Martin

Thanks to everyone who came out on Saturday to Willailla Days. The rains held off until dusk and all the activities were over.

The pie and cake auction was a huge success, with all the items bringing over $500. Thanks to the Rockcastle County Saddle Club for coming out and sharing the day with us. There were forty-five riders and twelve wagons. Donovan Figg and Brodhead won the prize for youngest rider and Bart Woodard of London was the oldest rider. Harris Burton had the prettiest wagon.

We were sorry that Carl and Alan Burton and their band couldn't be there due to the illness of Alan. Lots of people were there to hear them at 1:00.

Thanks to Curtis Brock and daughter of Bethel Baptist Church for coming and filling in until the Pure Country Band arrived to sing at 5:00. It's always good to hear Pure Country because Darrell Cash, Teresa Geny Jones and Dwayne Reynolds of this community are singers with them. Thanks to Roy Adams and David Reynolds for conducting the bake sale auction. Thanks to Brian and Nancy Hargis, the owners of Willailla Grocery. David and Barbara Reynolds of Dabney Feed and Supply. Sue and Lowell Acton, Gary and Patty Nicoley, Don and Noretta Thompson, Phil and Michelle Thompson, Marie Goff, Tommy and Pam Acton, Billy Acton, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Leger, Kristy Lovell, Peggy French, Quail Homemakers, Joe and Caroline Lovins, Jim VanHook and everyone who helped out in any way. Let's try to make next year's event even better. $1300 was raised all together to aid in helping the victims of New York.

Sympathy is extended to Bob and Grace Randolph in the death of Bob's mother, Mrs. Meldra Randolph, who passed away on Monday evening.

Mrs. Gerry Owens and Mrs. Irene Brown of Advance, Indiana, were here over the weekend visiting relatives.

Jack Gentry of Dayton, Ohio spent the weekend with his brother, Donald and Pauline Gentry.

Owen and Marie Burton were in Mt. Sterling on Monday attending Court Days.

Mrs. Mary Jane Randolph had as her visitors last week, Mr. and Mrs. Hersh Whitaker of Somerset. Mrs. Gerry Owens of Advance, Indiana.

Ellis Blanton of Little Rock, Arkansas and Frank Blanton of Ohiot.

R.G. Whitaker is very sick at Central Baptist Hospital in Lexington after becoming ill on Sunday night.

Mrs. Lucille Ponder has returned home after a visit with her daughter, Judy and family in Indiana and nieces and nephews in Ohio.

Don and Noretta Thompson are in Nashville, Tennessee this week on business.

Ellis Blanton of Little Rock, Arkansas was in Ohio last week visiting his uncle, Frank Blanton and cousins. They returned to Kentucky on Thursday and visited relatives here and attended Willailla Days. Ellis is the son of the late Andy and Mac Brown Blanton.

Naah Todd remains very ill at a Georgetown hospital after falling ill.

Chester and Ardella Taylor and W.A. and Ruth Owens attended Court Days in Mt. Sterling on Saturday.

Gardening & Landscaping Tips

Deciduous Shade Trees

This is a fine season to plant trees, and we will cover some good ones in this article. These provide nice shade and are versatile and also lose their leaves to let the sun shine through in winter.

Maple trees are most popular; there are many maple species of which we will describe four today.

Red maples are a highly recommended choice because they have nice habits, good fall color and are fairly fast growing.

Silver maples are the fastest growing of the maples. As they become large and old they often become dangerous, especially in storms. (A hybrid of red and silver is available now, and I recommend them.)

Norway maples make a great medium sized shade tree with yellow fall coloring. The Royal Red and the Crimson King burgundy leaves cultivars are also Norway maples.

Sugar maples are great old trees. The only problem with them is that by the time they make a large glorious tree, you may be old or dead!

Oak trees can be great shade trees. There will be acorns to deal with and tough leaves that decompose slowly. But for long healthy lifespans and good shade, they are great. Species are too numerous to mention. Willow oak and gumbard oak have narrow leaves some folks like the lower stem. It's hard to beat stately pin oaks or spreading white oaks though.

Ash trees can tolerate many conditions and grow nicely. The shade is not solid, so grass grows under them. The "Autumn Purple" variety turns purple in fall, others are yellow or drop without coloring.

Another tree with a partial shade and low mess that will grow anywhere is honey locust. The roots tend to grow at the top of the ground. Grass grows well, as do flowers, under these nitrogen fixing trees.

Willow trees, especially the big weeping willows, are popular in landscapes. And easy to establish.

Sweet gum is a great tree. It, like black gum, prefers the acidic mountain region of the bluegrass area. The star shaped leaves are even prettier than maples.

Black and red alders can take wet feet, and grow reasonably nice. Where clay soil holds too much moisture for some trees, you might try these.

Finally, here are a few others I selectively recommend for shade: mountain ash, sycamore, hornbeam, elm, zelkova, poplars, lindens - even Bradford pears and crab apples.
