Blood stained shirt found in microwave

Phillip Lowell Lanham, accused of beating his wife to death in their home, entered a plea of not guilty Monday during his arraignment in Garrard County District Court.

Lanham will return to Court Thursday for a preliminary hearing to determine if there is enough evidence to bring his case before the Grand Jury.

Lanham, 45, has been charged with murder for allegedly beating his wife, Kenna, to death in the couple's Cartersville home on Oct. 11.

According to police reports, Lanham beat his wife, put her in bed then called police.

Police have not released much information, including whether or not a weapon was used. And the state medical examiner's office has not established a cause of death for Mrs. Lanham, pending toxicology reports.

Last Friday, eight days after Mrs. Lanham's death, State Police Det. Van Wright found a blood-stained T-shirt and a pillow in a microwave in the kitchen of the Lanham home.

According to an affidavit used to obtain a search warrant, Megan Rawlins, Mrs. Lanham's daughter-in-law, found the blood-stained T-shirt in the microwave near the entry from the carport to the kitchen.

Mrs. Rawlins contacted County Attorney Jeff Moss's office which in Denny, three others arrested in Laurel Co.

Rockcastle County Jailer James Miller announced that Johnny W. Denny, 39, of Mt. Vernon who escaped from the Rockcastle County Detention Center two weeks ago has been apprehended.

Miller said that London police, Laurel County Sheriff's deputies and Kentucky State Police stopped Denny and Phillip Kirby, 25, of Mt. Vernon near the Super 8 Motel around 3 a.m.

According to a news release from the London City Police Department, police determined Denny was wanted for escape from the Rockcastle Detention Center on October 9, although Denny gave police a false name address.

According to Miller, when police tried to arrest Denny the first time, he ran across the road and into a wooded area.

Police said that after a lengthy search Denny was located and arrested without incident.

Police said that during the course of the investigation it was determined that there was possible drug activity in a room at the Super 8.

Upon receiving permission to search the room officers discovered a substantial quantity of what is to be Methamphetamine inside.

Also arrested by police were Jessica Johnson, 21, of Mt. Vernon and Jennifer Kirby, 22, also of Mt. Vernon.

Denny was charged with escape, trafficking in a controlled substance, possession of a controlled substance, public intoxication and giving officer false name and address.

Phillip Kirby, who was wanted on federal warrants was charged with, trafficking in a controlled substance 1st (Methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia.

Johnson was charged with trafficking in a controlled substance 1st (Methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia. She was wanted on warrants from Rockcastle County.

Jennifer D. Kirby was charged with trafficking in a controlled substance 1st (Methamphetamine) and possession of drug paraphernalia and public intoxication.

Few reports of anthrax scare made locally

The nationwide anthrax scare has had little impact in Rockcastle County, although authorities have been notified by at least two residents concerning that they had received packages with anthrax in them.

Rockcastle Deputy Sheriff Trevor Hemsley said that one resident brought a package to the Sheriff's office, which was later examined by Sheriff Shirley Smith.

Hemsley said Smith determined there was no danger. Another package was picked up by Rockcastle Emergency Management Director Bobby Bishop, Jr. and with advice from headquarters in Frankfort, he examined that package and determined that it was also uninfected.

One suspicious package at the Mt. Vernon Post Office was also returned to the main office in Lexington for examination, but it too was apparently safe.

Mt. Vernon Clerk Karen Noe said all county postal employees are asking more precautions sorting the mail and she urged local residents to be more aware as well.

Renovation underway at Livingston

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court has ordered renovation work to begin on the former Livingston School.

Last week a company from London began sandblasting the outside of the building, cleaning off the old paint and Rockcastle Judge-Carlottis said that numerous work release prisoners from the Rockcastle County Detention Center are in the process of cleaning up the mess made by all of the vandalism to the building over the years.

The county has received a $100,000 grant from the state to help with the renovation.

The county originally plans to replace the gym floor and put a roof over it.

The county will then seal off the building, while it looks for other funding, although people will be able to use the gym.

Carlottis also said that he will ask the fiscal court on Friday to lease one of the classroom buildings to the city of Livingston for use as city hall for $1.00 per year, with the city paying the utility costs. That at the request of the city council.

Rockets play for district at Bell Co.

The Rockcastle County Rockets have another perfect season going, but the toughest task in completing that undefeated season awaits them this week.

The Rockets will travel to Bell County on Friday night where they will take on Dudley Hilton and the Bobcats.

"I am very concerned about this game - it is never easy going into Bell County and I have never won on that field," said head coach Tom Larkey, "whose Rockets have won 22 of the last 23 games dating back to last year."

Last year the Rockets completed their first ever perfect regular season by defeating the Bobcats 25-0.

Larkey hopes for the same result this season, but he says he will take a two point win.

"Some people say you are down three touchdowns when you step onto the field - so our kids are going to have to be focused more than ever," he said. "I have a lot of confidence in our team - but if they don't play to best of their ability - we will come away with a loss," he said.

Bell County has lost only two games this season, those were to Corbin and Prestonsburg and they are undefeated in the district.

The winner of this game will, of course, be the district champs and maintain homefield advantage throughout the regional play-offs.

Bell County is mostly a running team which could pose some problems for defensive coach Tony Saylor's squad.

The Rockets have seen mostly losing teams in all of their blow-out wins this season.

Coach Larkey said he hoped that the Rockets would take a large crowd to Bell County - which would help offset the Bobcat's home field advantage.

"We are working our tails off this week in practice and I think this team understands the importance of keeping home field advantage throughout the regional play-offs," Larkey said. Game time at Bell County is 7:30 p.m.

About 715 people attended a recent Open House at the new Brodhead Elementary School. Those in attendance got a tour of the $6 million facility and got a chance to speak with staff members. Brodhead has approximately 425 students in grades K-5. Above Destie Harris, Judy Harris, Scott, Tyler, Haley and Christie Harper attended the Open House. At left: Barbara Lovell, Breann Lovell, Jaletta Bradshaw and Linda Burton were also on hand.

The big National Association of Woolly Worm Winter Weather Watchers (NAWWWWW) Convention happened over the weekend and I was literally too sick to be there.

Besides that, Matt Paul did not want them catching whatever it was I have because they congregated in the parking lot of his Bluegrass Family Music Hall on Highway 1016, just outside Berea. Let's just say that I've spent a lot of time in the bathroom since last Friday and if the members of NAWWWWW who did show up had my symptoms it would not have been a pretty sight.

As most of you know I am the only human spokesperson with bona fide credentials to officially pass along the winter forecast that thousands of woolly worms spend the late summer and early Autumn preparing. While I was not privy to the actual vote count, I was kept informed by live streaming internet video connections. Unfortunately I was not able to catch the Will Parsons and Meridian show which followed the convention because Matt kept sweeping the pool woolies out the door.

I've also been in daily contact with members of NAWWWWW over the last several weeks and to be perfectly honest, it has been a fearful time and I'm not talking about terrorists. Sometime in July Connie Fish called me up and reported that she had seen two solid white woolly worms on her front porch and she had examined them close enough to know that they were the real McCoy without a doubt except that they were white as snow.

I had noticed, too that squirrels were hoarding up walnuts that were nowhere near ripe enough to have any nutritional value when they do dry out and that instead of doing this for an hour or two in the morning and then again for a couple hours before dark, they were working from sunup until it got dark and this was back when the days were nearly two hours longer than they are now.

The scariest squirrel phenomenon, however, happened right here in my front yard when they commenced feeding on green persimmons off the big tree at the corner of my front porch. Green persimmons are not something that any knowledgeable person or animal would consider remotely close to edible. A tiny taste of a green persimmon will turn your mouth for hours and render you speechless. John Edwards was here though and he said he'd heard about people using green persimmons on a tooth ache and maybe the squirrels had developed just that from packing all those green walnuts. It's still scary to me though because I've never before seen anything attempt to eat green persimmons and these squirrels fed on them, voraciously, for over an hour.

A few days later I was messing around in the garage looking for some fishing tackle and I found not one, but three solid white woolly worms and I figured they may have gotten into some brake fluid or what not until I remembered Connie's call and then a couple of days later Byron Crawford from Louisville Courier Journal called and wanted to know what I made of the white woolies because he'd had reports on them from all over the state.

Then I got an email from Sandy Walker tonight who informs me that the reason the blasted beavers are cutting down everything green and growing along the banks of Paip Lick Creek is because they are getting ready for a hard winter too.

But according to NAWWWWW we should not look for anything much worse than normal. Look for some pretty cold wet weather in early December and certainly an early snow.

Chances are good for a white Christmas and then a warming trend through much of January and February with lots of rain but little snow. March promises to be the dreariest month of the year and the biggest snowfall will happen between the middle of March and the middle of April.

Please also note too folks, that this forecast is for central and South-eastern Kentucky. If you need to know what's going to happen in Allentown, Fred, go down and have a confab with the members of NAWWWWW residing in the wood stack beside your pond. I talked with a couple there at the end of July and they were solid black. Chances are that your pond will be frozen over by the time you read this.

Finally folks, Highbridge will be the headline band at Matt's Family Music Hall on Friday, the 26th followed by Unlimited Grass and the Bluegrass Journeymen on Saturday.

Oct. 27. On November 2, It's Carl Shillert and The Big Country Show and on November 3, Bluegrass Thoroughbreds and The New Kentucky Grass. All shows start at 7:30 and last til way up in the night but you need to get there early before they run out of tenders to make a sandwich so good that its got my name on it.

My sister, Katie, sent this to me several years ago. She had used it on Flag Day — as the introductory speech. I think it is appropriate today.

I was fashioned from bits of colored cloth by a seamstress in a small house in Philadelphia, a year after the new country was born.

I've stood up to times and troubles. I fluttered in the Fall air with General Washington and his loyal French allies at Yorktown. My fabric was shredded by cannonballs from British frigates in the War of 1812 and I was carried in triumph by Andy Jackson at New Orleans. The British could see me clearly in the mists of "Dawns' early light" waving from the standards of Fort Mifflin.

I've witnessed turmoil and bitterness, even lost some of my glory in mid-century in a war between brothers, but I was restored as a nation's emblem at Appomattox. I traveled west with the new frontier. I flew from the headlamps of the Iron Horse in Utah. I was with prospectors at Sutter's Mill, with the cavalry against cattle rustlers, with the Rough Riders at San Juan Hill.

I crossed the Marne with the dough boys anxious to make the world safe for democracy. I was raised over a shell-pocked hilltop at Jima and I stood by the Health official tells lawmakers anthrax fears must be kept in perspective

Though bioterrorism scares have prompted a growing number of calls to authorities about suspicious mail, packages and powders, no anthrax has been found in Kentucky, one of Kentucky's top health officials assured lawmakers during yesterday's meeting of the General Assembly's Health and Welfare Committee.

"The biggest public problem at this time is the fear and anxiety associated with the presence of an unknown threat. People are just plain scared," said Dr. Rice C. Leach, Commissioner of the Department for Public Health. "Many people in schools, businesses, and homes, as well as emergency response people, are all understandably apprehensive about dealing with these powders, envelopes and packages. As a result, the response system is receiving many calls for situations that could have been handled with far fewer resources if folks had used more common sense to begin with."

Leach noted that in recent years, authorities have been trained to respond to bioterrorism according to a hypothetical scenario in which people in a single location were exposed to a pathogenic organism. But the anthrax scares of recent days are different, with a number of different reports of suspected bioterrorism coming in to authorities within a short period of time. "Today, the disruption in Kentucky is being caused by the way many different groups are responding to an understandable fear of the unknown," Leach said.

With lab tests showing no anthrax has been found in Kentucky, "it is possible to assess the threats differently in terms of the risk to persons," Leach said. "Every letter or powder should be evaluated, but not every one needs to be managed as a hazardous material exposure or a serious crime requiring the FBI to respond."

Leach also offered the following thoughts:

- It's OK to toss out unopened and unopened mail.
- Not all powders need a police investigation.
- If the mail looks suspicious to you, don't open it. Call 911 and ask someone to pick it up.

If you find spilled powder, a blend of 1 part bleach in 10 parts water will kill bacteria. That's what laboratories use to clean anthrax spores. Leach also encouraged lawmakers to "do what you can to help put fear and anxiety in the proper perspective."

Cold weather tips to keep your car in top shape

Quick trips in cold weather may be hazardous to your vehicle's health. They keep engines from warming up properly and operating efficiently, which can be damaging as temperatures drop. The care experts at Valvoline Instant Oil Change offer the following auto maintenance tips for such severe driving conditions:

- Examine tires for proper inflation and damage. Rotate the best tires to drive wheels for better traction in ice and snow.
- Check battery condition and remaining charge, as a weak battery will not start in cold weather.
- Regularly check the level and condition of engine oil and all other automotive fluids, including transmission, power steering, antifreeze/coolant, windshield washer and transfer case.

- When having the oil or any other fluids changed, consider synthetic or synthetic blends, as they increase gas mileage and, in cold conditions, deliver easier start-ups.
- Test the condition of vehicle lights, a necessity with increased hours of darkness during winter.
- Replace damaged or worn windshield wiper blades.
- Winterize your car's emergency kit by adding a blanket and ice scraper to the flashlight, flares, jumper cables and hand tools that you should have year-round.

Cool weather stresses a vehicle, making it more prone to failure. Proper maintenance can prevent dangerous breakdowns, extend the life of your car and help you avoid expensive repairs. For more on car care, go to www.vicoc.com.

Lumber King contributes to national disaster relief effort

In response to the terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center, Lumber King, Inc., joined other Do It Best Corp. member-retailers around the world to contribute $235,000 and an emergency shipment of products to aid in disaster relief efforts in New York City.

"When we first heard of the unspeakable tragedies, all of us at Lumber King, like people all over the world, were saddened, sickened and worried for friends, loved ones and all those we did not know who were directly touched by the events. When our distributor, Do it Best Corp., notified us of the collaborative effort, our feelings quickly turned into a desire to act," said Aaron Terry, store manager.

The Salvation Army will use 100 percent of the $235,000 cash contribution to fund ongoing relief efforts. The check was presented to Salvation Army officials on Friday, September 28.

In addition to the cash contribution, Do it Best Corp. staff worked with the New York City branch of the Salvation Army to identify products of immediate need to relief workers. An emergency truckload of donated work gloves, bottled water, flashlights, batteries, dust masks, plastic cups, foam cups, plastic trash bags, and slush boots were delivered by a Do it Best truck to a Salvation Army drop off site in New York City on Monday, September 17.

"I spoke with members and staff all across America who wanted to help, but didn't know the best way to get involved. I can think no better demonstration of our corporate philosophy serving others as we would like to be served than by the way the entire Do it Best family has pulled together to aid the valiant workers in their recovery efforts," said Mike McClelland, Do it Best Corp. president and CEO.

Based in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Do it Best Corp. is the only member-owned hardware, lumber and Building materials buying cooperative in the industry. As a Do it Best Corp. member-retailer, Lumber King, Inc. has a collective buying power of more than $2.2 billion.

TATU training at RCHS

Tobacco Prevention Coordinator, Jessica Ledington, and American Lung Association Representative, Robert Beyer, got together on October 3 to educate students about the dangers of using tobacco products. Rockcastle County High School opened its doors to students from Jackson County High School and Clay County High School. The all day training consisted of a program known as TATU, Teens Against Tobacco Use. The students learned many valuable lessons about tobacco use, including marketing and advertisements, physical dependence and illnesses, cost to the consumer, and ways to help make a difference in their communities.

The purpose of TATU is to use the commitment and skills of tobacco-free teens with younger children so they can make a healthy choice to stay tobacco free and be an advocate for tobacco control in their community. TATU teens will now take anti-tobacco skits and messages to elementary schools in their counties.

A special thank you goes out to Mr. Hale, Principal at Rockcastle County High School, for opening up the high school for the training. Also to Trina Bustle, Academic Specialist with the 21st Century Learning Center at Rockcastle County High School and Kathy Bobo, Community Education Coordinator, for helping coordinate the day's events. Another special thank you to Jackson County High School and Clay County High School Youth Services Centers for making travel arrangements for students and taking an active role in TATU.

An enormous thanks to all the students who participated and who will continue to do the work for the TATU program! You will effect and save many lives with the messages you are working so hard on. None of this could have been done without everyone working together. Thank you and great job!

Ninth straight win for the ROCK

Cawood no match for undefeated Rockets

The Cawood Trojans would have been better off to forfeit on Friday night and save the expense money for the long trip from Harlan - after they were thumped 56-0.

The Rockets had a 35-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and added two more scores in the second period for a 49-0 lead at half-time.

In the third period Rockcastle added one more score to make the final 56-0 and give the Rockets their ninth straight victory of the season.

The Rockets are ranked fifth in the state in the Courier-Journal and eighth in the state in the Hearld-Leader.

The Rockets are also ranked number one in their region and their opponent this week Bell County is ranked tenth.

Friday night, Marty Reagan ran the opening kick-off back 55 yards for the score, after the Trojans tried an outside kick.

Reagan did the same thing a year ago when the Rockets played Cawood.

The Rockets second score came on a four yard run by quarterback Aaron Anderkin.

Reagan's second score in the first quarter came on a 24 yard run and his third score was a four yard run. Clay Dooley finished the scoring in the first with a 26 yard touchdown run.

The second quarter belonged to Josh Taylor who scored on runs of four and eight. Anderkin and Coty Reams ended the scoring on a 14 yard pass.

Offensively, Rockcastle racked up 376 yard of total offense, 171 in the air and 205 on the ground.

Anderkin was 14 for 16 for 158 yards and one touchdown. He also had one touchdown run of four yards.

Backup Devin Taylor had 47 yards passing on one completion and also caught one pass for seven yards.

Josh Hale caught four passes for 34 yards.

Reagan had 44 yards rushing on five carries and he caught one pass for seven yards.

Dooley had 26 yards on two runs and he caught one pass for 17 yards.

Cletl Swinney had 26 yards on three carries and Josh Taylor had 46 yards on seven carries.

Stephen Boring had forty yards on three catches.

Brandon Campbell had 12 yards on one carry, Michael Hayes had two yards on one carry and Nathan Brummett had five yards on three carries.

Max Saylor had six yards on two carries and placekicker Jens Strietzel was a perfect eight for eight in extra point kicks.

Senior outside linebacker P.J. Rowe broke a school record for sacks on Friday night when he got to number 14. The record had been held by Travis Ingram.

Rowe also had four tackles and assists and blocked a punt. Big Jason Leger had seven tackles and assists to lead the Rockets, while Tanner Abney had four and a sack.

Adam Childress had three tackles and assists and recovered a fumble. Steve Blair had six tackles and assists and also recovered a fumble.

Boring had six tackles, William Blair had 3, Hale, 1, Dooley, 1, Reagan, six, James Michael Bussell 2, Swinney, 2, Taylor, 1, Matt McClure, 1, Nick Thomas, 1, Brummett, 1, Reams, 1 and Tyler Strunk 1.

All total Cawood picked up 56 yards of total offense against the Rocket defense.

* The Rockets travel to Bell County on Friday night to take on the Bobcats in a game that will determine the district championship.

The Bobcats are 7-2 and have losses in the district.

The winner of the game will have homefield advantage throughout the regional play-offs.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Rocket head coach Tom Larkey and head assistant Tony Saylor are encouraging fans to turn out for the contest to give the Rockets a machine field advantage as possible.

Larkey who has never won on that field, has promised the varsity four quarters of football.

A large gathering of fans surrounded the track during the candlelight ceremony held last Friday night at RCHS.

Les Scaif, Charles "Tuck" Baker and Dale Bradley were among the Veterans honored Friday night.

Head Coach Tom Larkey talks with Sergeant First Class Debbie Bugg and Senior Chief Petty Officer Catherine Wilkey during ceremonies honoring Veterans last Friday night. The festivities were held in conjunction with Senior Night.

Jennifer Horn, Kelly Frederick, Tab White and Tiffany Hopkins participate in the candlelight ceremony before last Friday's game against Cawood.

Rockcastle County High School's Color Guard participated in pregame ceremonies last Friday night. Members of the Guard were Josh Robbins, Rebecca Steele, Derrick Hensley and Eric Stallworth.

Million dollar win for Dale Earnhardt Jr.

By Gerald Hodges
The Racing Reporter
TALLADEGA, Ala. — Dale Earnhardt Jr. won the Winston Cup EA Sports 500 Sunday with a dramatic pass going into turn one just as the white flag had been given in a race that saw 16 cars crash on the final lap.

Earnhardt Jr. dove to the low side just after he, Bobby Labonte, Tony Stewart and Bobby Hamilton and 28 other cars on the lead lap passed the white flag. Earnhardt Jr. touched Labonte's left rear bumper, but took the lead as Stewart went low and Labonte and Hamilton went high. Bobby Labonte and Hamilton collided in turn one setting off the 16-car pileup. Hamilton hit Labonte, who went sliding down the backstretch on the way to his No. 18 Pontiac. None of the drivers were seriously injured.

Earnhardt earned a $1 million bonus in the Winston's No Bull 5 program and a similar bonus for a race fan. "We were beating and banging," Earnhardt Jr. said. "Here I am going to pass me, I sverved up in front of them. I wanted to win this race bad. "This is the same race my father won last year. He won a million, too. I had to run into the side of the 18 and the 20. They would've done the same thing to me, I feel like. We're here in the winner's circle, so it don't matter."

Gordon, who finished seventh, took another huge stride toward his fourth career Winston Cup title. He gained 61 points on second-place Ricky Rudd, who was in the big wreck and finished 26th. Gordon now leads by 395 points with five races left.

Johnny Benson, driver of the No. 10 Valvoline Ford was running third at the time of the big wreck.

"To tell you the truth, I don't know he said, "Here I am going to pass me, I sverved up in front of them. I wanted to win this race bad. "This is the same race my father won last year. He won a million, too. I had to run into the side of the 18 and the 20. They would've done the same thing to me, I feel like. We're here in the winner's circle, so it don't matter."

"I'm going to be selfish and I'm going to protect him (Stewart), said Zippadelli. "He's my man, and we're not going to do anything that we're going to regret later. We're just going to do what we need to do."

Very successful season for ASA
PENDELTON, Ind. — When Johnny Sauter captured the checkered flag at Indianapolis Raceway Park on September 29, following the ASA ACDelco Series season finale, he put a wrapp on what was one of the most remarkable seasons in ASA's 34-year history. It was remarkable, not only for the rookie, but for several other ASA rookies and veterans.

The 23-year-old Sauter became the first driver to win both the ASA National Championship and Pat Schauer Memorial Rookie of the Year titles in the same season. He spent all season breaking record after record, including battling .500, winning 10 events in 20 races. He bettered every competitive rookie record, with 10 wins, four poles, 13 podiums, 15 top fives, 16 top 10s and 2,039 laps led. His laps led total was second on the all-time single season list, and only the second time ever someone has Eddy been ASA's all-time Money Leader in 2001, after 1909 money earnings totaling over $109,000. Through his 29-year ASA career and 87 victories, Eddy has amassed $1,989,762, which put him ahead of ASA's all-time event winner Bob Senneker for first on the list.

Gary St. Amant, a two time ASA National Champion, moved into second after earning nearly $300,000 during his runner-up finish to Sauter in the standings. St. Amant now has $1,961,402, only $28,360 behind Eddy. Both drivers are planning to race in 2002 and will look to become ASA's first "2 million" man.

Sauter's single season money earnings of $501,000 was the highest in ASA history, the first time any driver has won over half a million in a single season. St. Amant's total season earnings were good enough for third on the all-time single season list, while Joe Clayton's $261,000 is seventh best all time.

St. Amant collected two wins in 2001, both of which were among the highest payouts to a winner in ASA history. St. Amant's win at Salem Speedway during the Tecumseh 300 in the Columbus, Ohio driver net $26,830, the sixth highest single season payout in ASA history. His win at Irwindale Speedway earned him $23,580, 10th highest all time. Sauter also had a piece of the action in this category, as his victory from the pole at Chicago Motor Speedway earned him $25,380, good for eighth all time.

Three-time ASA National Champion Burt Miller led the series with six poles in 2001, giving him 43 for his career. That moved him ahead of Mark Martin into third on the all-time pole position list, behind Senneker (49) and Dick Trickle (45). His one win in 2001, coming at Berlin Raceway in Marne, Mich., gave him 43 wins for his ASA career, which is also good for third on the all time list.

Tony Glover likes the team chemistry

The 2001 season is going well for Tony Glover, Team Sabco manager of the No. 40 Coors Dodge driven by Sterling Marlin.

Marlin has brought Dodge its first two victories since 1978, and Glover is all smiles. "In late 1996, Team Sabco owner Felix Sabates took a major step in strengthening his No. 40 Winston Cup team by hiring Tony Glover away from the No. 4 Kodak team. Not surprisingly, it took time for Glover to produce results. Just our races into the 1997, rookie driver Robby Gordon earned Sabco its first Bud Pole since 1997. Mid-April saw Glover coming over from the pits to call the shots for Joe Nemechek, too. By the end of the '97 season, Glover's drivers had earned a combined total of five front-row starts. Glover was elevated to team manager in 1998 to further bolster the Sabco operation."

In 1998, Marlin also left the No. 4 team where he had scored two Daytona 500 wins (1994 and 1995), and reunited with Glover, his former crew chief.

"The driver/owner-chief manager combination is a unique situation," said Glover. "Myself and Sterling have been really good friends for a long time and we get along real well. There might be other drivers that could drive this 40 car that I wouldn't be as comfortable with."

"What we've got going on is really good chemistry among the teams and drivers. You got to have that good relationship with everyone. I think that in the future you'll see a driver move, the crew chief might move also. One might take the other with him. If it's not the crew chief, then it will be the chassis guy or somebody else who is working with."

"One of the reasons for our success this season has been the good chemistry and personal relationships we have between all the members of this team. I mean, sometimes, one person will know what the other one is thinking."

"You've got to have that in order to win. You can have the best equipment and engineered car, but if your team doesn't have the right chemistry, you don't have a team that is capable of winning the Winston Cup championship." Tony Glover statistics: Born: April 17, 1957, Kingsport, TN; Married to Christy; Children: Daughters: Brittany and Ashton; Residence: Mooresville, NC; Height: 5'9"; Weight: 140 lbs.

Rock vs. Cawood

By Preston Parrett
It was senior night at Rock Field and beauty was all around. With the glory of God and nature. A kaleidoscope of fall color did abound.

It was a fitting night for the seniors who had laid down a winning trail, setting an example of excellence. As over foe after foe they did prevail.

Team and coaches had worked hard. Developing talent and skills.

The epitome of hard nose football. Had stayed with them over the long haul. And they were always there for them. No matter when they got the call.

Moms and Dads had supported them. Had stayed with them over the long haul. And they were always there for them. No matter when they got the call.

Moms and Dads had supported them. Had stayed with them over the long haul. And they were always there for them. No matter when they got the call.

It was the last regular season home game. And a large crowd was on hand. To see the Rock take on the Trojans. And put a dent in their plans.

The Trojans kicked off to Marty Reagan. And it took him nine seconds to score. Then Aaron Anderkin; a top rated quarterback. Rammed one in from the four.

Marty put on a great show. As he ran a pair in from the 24 and 4. Then Clay Dooley got fired up. And ran one in for another score.

When the first quarter ended. The Trojans were in shock. For the score was thirty five to zip. And that happens a lot at the Rock.

Josh Taylor, ran for two touchdowns. In the second period of the show. And the Trojans would never recover from the first half flow.

After the halftime festivities. Big "A" struck. Coby Reams through the air. And Coby out gunned the Trojan defense. And crossed over the goal line there.

This finished off the scoring. With the final being 56 to 0. And the team and seniors of 2001. Had put on a great show.

Muzzle-Loading deer season opens

The early muzzleloader deer season is October 27 and October 28, 2001 statewide. The late muzzleloader season is December 8 through December 14, 2001 statewide. There are some things hunters should consider while participating in any muzzleloader deer season.

Hunters must not take deer with a modern breech-loading firearm during muzzleloader seasons, however, bow and crossbow equipment may be used. Anyone hunting these seasons must comply with hunter orange requirements, even if using archery equipment.

Muzzleloading rifles or handguns of any caliber are permitted. Muzzleloading shotguns no larger than 10 gauge used with slugs only are permitted for muzzleloader deer hunting. In-line muzzleloading rifles are permitted and using telescopic sights on muzzleloading rifles is permitted.

The tag marked antlered/antlerless in the statewide deer permit may be used for either sex deer, but it is the only tag that may be used on antlered deer. The antlerless tag in the statewide permit can only be used on antlerless deer.

For any questions about deer hunting or for any other fall hunting seasons, consult the 2001-2002 Kentucky Hunting and Trapping Guide available wherever hunting or fishing licenses are sold. You may also request one by calling 1-800-858-1549 or you can access the guide on the internet at www.kdfr.state.ky.us.

Recent terrorist attacks disrupt hunting on bases

In response to the terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, D.C., military bases in Kentucky are limiting access to hunters for security reasons.

Those that applied for archery deer hunts and were accepted are okay to hunt," said Fort Knox hunt control spokesman Dan Sheron. "We started archery hunting the weekend before last. All hunters must pass through the gates and have the proper equipment. Just archery equipment is allowed. You may bring in no other weapons of any kind."

The small game seasons on Fort Knox are cancelled and the status of the deer gun season is unknown at this time and will be decided at a later date, Sheron said. Fort Campbell has limited hunting access to only those holding a military ID card. This includes all active duty military personnel, Department of Defense employees with a military ID and military retirees. No one else is allowed to hunt Fort Campbell for either firearms hunting or archery hunting.

All suspects were lodged in the Laurel County Detention Center.

Denny escaped from the Rockcastle County Detention Center on October 9, after he scaled the fence in the recreation area outside the detention center.

The incident took place around 3 a.m. in the morning.

Police had been looking for Denny for several months before he was arrested about a week before.

Besides the new charges against Denny he is also charged with intimidating a witness, first degree burglary, criminal mischief, criminal littering and parole violations.

Kirby's federal charges are all related to the manufacturing of meth.

"Antrax"

Rockcastle County Attorney Jeff Burdette said that anyone caught trying to pull any type of hoax, such as sending white powder through the mail or leaving white powder on someone's desk or in the car seat or wherever it may cause concern, would be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

"Blood"

turn notified Wright.

Neither the affidavit nor the search warrant identify the owner of the shirt and pillow.

Circuit Court Judge Hunter Daugherty signed the search warrant last Friday and Wright picked up the shirt and pillow later that day.

Last week, District Court Judge Bill Oliver ordered a psychiatric evaluation for Lanham to be conducted before his preliminary hearing.

Court documents show, however, that the evaluation had not been conducted as of Tuesday, two days before his scheduled preliminary hearing.

Mrs. Lanham was a popular member of the Rockcastle County School District staff.

She was the district's first school psychologist and was employed by the district for the past 13 years.

$3.25 million secured for Daniel Boone Forest

U.S. Representative Harold "Hal" Rogers says a House-Senate conference committee has given its final approval to more than $3.25 million for land acquisition, recreation improvements and law enforcement efforts in Kentucky's Daniel Boone National Forest. The funding is provided in appropriations legislation that sets the budget for U.S. Forest Service programs in the coming fiscal year. The legislation should be approved by the Congress as early as next week.

The Daniel Boone National Forest is key to our efforts to boost tourism in this region, so it is important that we provide this federal investment in the forest," Rogers said today. "This funding will provide new law enforcement resources to the forest - protecting visitors and working to eradicate marijuana cultivation in the Daniel Boone National Forest. We've also secured the funding to complete the new visitor center project at Gladie Creek. We're making a substantial federal investment in the Daniel Boone National Forest.

That's good news for our region's tourism economy."

Rogers has secured $500,000 to fight marijuana cultivation in the forest. The program, which Rogers has supported for four consecutive years - obtaining a total of $2.25 million in federal funding, has resulted in hundreds of arrests and prosecutions and yielded tons of the illegal crop.

The legislation also includes $2,037,000, secured by Rogers for the Daniel Boone National Forest to acquire about 6,000 acres of adjacent lands from willing sellers. Lands near the scenic Red River Gorge in Powell, Menifee and Wolfe counties, and along the Rockcastle River in Laurel, Rockcastle, Pulaski and Jackson counties are the top priorities for the acquisition effort.

Rogers has also secured $718,000 in federal funds to complete work on a tourism and environmental education center at the Gladie Creek Historic Site on the Red River Gorge.

Rogers has worked to secure funding for Daniel Boone National Forest projects while serving as a senior member of the House Appropriations Committee.

71st Wedding Anniversary

Bill and Lola Wren celebrated their 71st wedding anniversary on October 18th with family and friends.

Reppert-Craig

Gary and Genievve Reppert would like to announce the marriage of their daughter, Emily Farah, to Corey Carson Craig. Corey is the son of Benny Craig of Broadhead and Joyce Craig of Lexington. The couple were united in marriage on August 24th with an outdoor ceremony at the Craig homeplace. The couple resides in Mt. Vernon.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Ernest L. and Lena R. Cope were married September 22, 1951 in Lexington, Ky. Ernest was on 22 weeks leave from San Juan, Puerto Rico Air Force Base. Lena was working at Parker Seal Plant in Berea, Ky.

Ernest has been stationed in Greenland, Alaska, Japan, North Africa, Ohio, Fort Walton Beach, Florida and Amarillo, Texas.

Diane, a daughter, was born at Ramey Air Force Base Hospital in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Donald, was born in Columbus, Ohio and Michael was born in Circleville, Ohio.

Lena's mom is 96 and still lives in Berea. Ernest's mom is 93 and lives at Mt. Vernon.

They have lots of relatives. Lena has three brothers and three sisters and Ernest has two brothers and three sisters.

Ernest and Lena have traveled the world over while Ernest was in the Air Force. I will never forget landing in the Azores to refuel the plane. Ladies with more than one child had help with their children as the Azores were on a hill and it was so windy. You could have been blown away. We were on our way to Tripoli, Libya. We lived in a villa next to the King's Palace. King Idris was King at the time.

We traveled back from Puerto Rico on a large ship, the USNS Henry Bibbins, in 1954.

While stationed at Eglin Field in Houston, Ernest attended the Northwest University and studied for a two year degree in Business Management. Ernest retired from the Air Force at Ellington Field in Houston, Texas. The children attended high school and college in Pasadena.

Ernest and Lena had their 50th anniversary dinner September 22nd. The dinner was put on by Donald and Michael, two sons of the couple. There was so much food, the table wouldn't hold it all. Ernest and Lena received so many gifts, cards, money and flowers. They thank relatives and friends.

--Written by Lena R. Cope

The house has living room, eat-in kitchen, three bedrooms, baths, attached one car garage and full-unfinished basement. In addition to the house there is a 32x40 combination barn with 12 ft. shed.

Tract #3 consists of 1.81 acres and this tract is also basically cleared. It has 195 feet of frontage along Hwy. 935 and city water is available. This tract would make a nice country building lot.

Tract #5 consists of 4.04 acres and this tract is also well cleared. Access to this tract will be through an easement across Tract #3 and water can be obtained through the same easement. There are two ponds to provide stock water to this tract.

Tract #6 measures 3.78 acres. This tract is primarily woodland. Access and water will be obtained by the easement on Tracts #3 and #5. This tract would also several nice wooded areas for building.

Tract #7 consists of 14.09 acres of which most is in timber. Access and water will be through an easement through Tracts 3, 5, 6 & 8.

Tract #8 consists of 7.08 acres of which most is good cleared cropland and there is also some good timber. This tract is accessed and water can be obtained through an easement across Tracts 3, 5 and 6.

Timber: The timber will be offered separate from the farm, which consists of approximately 19 acres. There is a variety of good marketable hardwoods.

By: Dr. Roy Don Whitehead

Depression Is Still a Problem for Many

More is known by scientists and researchers about depression than ever before. With all the medical advances, one would believe that fewer and fewer people suffer from depression. Right? Unfortunately, that is not true.

I am teaching a class on Monday, November 12, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. At that time I will give you all the latest information about depression. The class is open to anyone who is interested and will be held at the Center for Rural Development in Somerset. To register call me at 679-4134 or toll free at 1-877-PASTOR-8. The cost is $20.

According to a recent article in U.S. News and World Report, depression has almost doubled since World War II. This is not just because of more awareness but because of more stress, fewer community and family ties, and nutritional deficiencies. Depression is on track to becoming the world's second most disabling disease by 2020. (Heart disease is number one.) In the United States depression afflicts eighteen million people at any given time, and one in five Americans will suffer from depression at some time in his or her life.

Depression is not merely feeling "down" or "blue." Depression is a serious illness that can bring down even a strong person. One researcher suggests calling it "hypo-thalamo-pituitary-adrenal axis dysfunction," to emphasize how serious the disease is.

A full-blown depression can render the victim dysfunctional. Having no energy or motivation, the sufferer prefers to stay at home or even in bed.

The insomnia, lack of appetite and anxiety can bring life to a grinding halt. Guilt, hopelessness, poor memory, lack of concentration and anger are other results of the malady. A depressed person is thirty-five times more likely to commit suicide than another individual. One doctor suggests that if a person wants to know how it feels to be depressed, that person should combine the anguish of deep grief with the bodily sensations of three days without sleep.

There is not simply one kind of depression, but many. The traditional picture of the depressed person as crying, hopeless and unable to work is true for some. Other depressions leave the victim sleeping all the time and eating anything in sight. She may even appear hyper to friends or family.

Depression is not caused by sad life events or cured by good ones. While something bad may trigger the depression (a divorce for instance), only someone whose brain is susceptible to the disease will become depressed.

Depression is too complicated to be explained by only one cause, but researchers do know that depression is partly caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain. This chemical problem, which has nothing to do with being crazy or weak, can be inherited.

One of the most exciting treatments for depression is the antidepressant medication that has come along in the last few years. Prozac, introduced in 1988, was seen by some as the "magic bullet" that would cure all depression.

While Prozac has helped many people, it does not work for all depression victims and can have some unpleasant side effects, including sexual dysfunction. Medications with fewer unpleasant side effects have been introduced in recent years and sixteen new ones are in the planning stages. As a counselor I have seen the benefits of these medications when used along with counseling in the treatment of depression.

The next twenty years should bring even more exciting developments in the treatment of this most misery-making of ailments.

Octavia Sexton, an eastern Kentucky storyteller, educator and humorist from Rockcastle County will be one of two storytellers featured on KET's Mixed Media program October 28, 12:00 (noon) and again on October 30, 8:00 p.m. Octavia is a full time performing artist and travels nationwide presenting storytelling programs/workshops in schools, colleges, elder hostels, festivals, churches and on radio and television. She tells many of the stories she learned from her grandparents, Isaac and Cleo Bowman, who lived in the Brush Creek area of the county. She also presents a living history personification of the pioneer woman, Jenny Wiley. Octavia is a Kentucky Arts council roster artist, and is included in the Kentucky Artists on Tour directory. She is a Berea College graduate and was a health educator in Mt. Vernon for ten years. She has two audio recordings. The Jack Tales and KY Haint Tales and is a published author of numerous short stories. One of her stories, "Lazy Jack" was published in the prestigious National Women's Studies Association Journal. Octavia is a member of the Adventures In Storytelling Association, KY council of the Arts, National Order of E.A.R.S. and the National Storytelling Network. She resides in Orlando, with her family, 5 pet sheep, two pet pigs and a variety of other noble animals, all of which she says, "are the stuff wonderful stories are spun from."

Gardening & Landscaping Tips

By: Max Phelps

Naturalistic Landscaping

In any natural setting of native plants, unbothered by mankind, there is a great canopy layer of big trees. Under these are small trees and shrubs. Then the garden plants such as perennial flowers and grass clumps. Lastly there is the carpet layer, may be mulch, but often more desirable are ground cover plants; things that cover and creep in masses.

The idea or concept we are covering is really about looking in nature and attempting to duplicate that "forest edge" look. Another term for this is layering.

Large trees create the skyline. These should be trees that do well in the area in which you live. Native plants you can be sure will grow. Massed planting of other carefully selected trees may work fine too.

Plants such as dogwoods, laurel, rhododendrons, buckthorn, hemiclock and many others are understory plants. They do better partly shaded than in full open.

Perennials both native and not, might include hosta, ferns, hellebores, wild ginger, bleeding hearts, columbine and so many more. Plus grasses. (And we don't mean the kind you have to mow weekly!)

Completing this snapshot of paradise is a ground cover layer. Perhaps bulbs in clumps, wintercreeper, ivy, vinca, creeping jenny, ajuga, moss, even briars or daylilies in mass plantings can serve as carpeting function. Leaf mulch, pine straw, pine bark, wood chips, ground hardwood bark mulch, and many other materials can facilitate a naturalistic look and serve as carpeting.

Apply these ideas to a copper or place in your yard. Or go all out! Create a native paradise in place of a yard.

The only thing more natural than this type landscaping is building a custom home in the woods and removing only what has to go to make room for the house.

LEADING THE WAY...

Brenda Mullins likes a clean house. As a matter of fact, she helps keep Rockcastle Hospital and Respiratory Care Center as clean as if it were her own home. And, in a way, it is. Brenda has been a part of the RHRCC team for 29 years.

She and her staff are part of the reason for the hospital's home-like atmosphere.

Their sense of teamwork and pride in a job well done are just some of the reasons they enjoy their work. As for benefits, Brenda says the hospital offers many, including being close to home.

Our Family Resource Center is sponsoring a Physical Education program by Greg Kaler on Monday, October 29 at 2:00 p.m. The following is an excerpt from his brochure. During this show the audience will be educated, entertained and impressed with a collage of sports and games that help develop self-esteem, self-confidence, and overall body coordination. The presentation is fast-paced, motivational and a natural fit-in with the P.E. classroom. Greg is the consummate entertainer. He combines juggling and audience participation to make this a "school favorite" presentation. The show incorporates scarves, balls, clubs, balancing, plate spinning, Chinese yo-yos, rings, stage illusions and animals.

Don't forget to set your clocks back one hour this weekend!

Project Wisdom narrators for last week included: Bethany Clontz, student; Kay Singleton, school nurse's assistant; Dean Singleton, secretary; John Lambert, student; Sharon Lovell, Librarian. Thanks to all participants. The quote for this week is "Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together."

October artist of the month is Rae Cowan. Rae is a student in Miss. McQuary's class. She created a decorative yarn weaving in a special humanities art class. She used a small cardboard loom. The weaving process is begun by wrapping "warp" yard around the loom - the warp yarn becomes the fringe. The weaver then selects and weaves a pattern of colored yarn across the warp threads using a "weft" yarn. Rae created a symmetrical "cool" color pattern. She wove blue yarn in the middle, green yarn on both sides of the blue, and purple yarn on both ends. When finished, the warp threads are cut loose from the loom and knotted to create a fringe.

Last week's art prize winner was Travis Burton from Mrs. Todd's class.

Online tutorial at the alternative school

The Rockcastle Alternative School, under the direction of Steve Bullock, has introduced the Skills Tutor, an online tutorial, to the students. Every student in grades 7-12 is doing daily assignments online.

The students can access the program from home, and Mr. Bullock can check on each individual student's progress daily.

On Thursday, October 18, Ken Ison, State Department; Charlie Napier, Migrant Program; Jason

Coguer, 21st Century; Terry Parkey, 21st Century and Adrienne Stewardson, Branium Technology visited the Alternative School to observe the students working on the tutorial. Mr. Bullock demonstrated how the tutorial works from setting up assignments, to determining student levels, to obtaining daily reports on each student.

The program has proven to be a big success for both the teachers and students.

During the meeting held by the Rockcastle County Board of Education on Tuesday night, October 8th, two students represented their seventh grade class by presenting their personal narratives and sharing their various informative displays regarding the writing program. Joshua Nation entertained the board members as he shared his experience about riding a ferocious roller coaster called Changer for his very first time. Even though Joshua was reluctant to ride the coaster, his courage to overcome the fear of the ride prevailed; thus, he realized that sometimes we have to give even the things we fear in life a chance in order to conquer them. Rebecca Cummins presented on a more serious issue, explaining how her father's tractor accident taught her to cherish every moment with family members because one instant has the potential to change lives forever.

Second Careers Open House at EKU

Are you pondering career change to be a teacher?

So, you've always wanted to be a teacher but you've taken a different career path until now.

Thanks to new alternative routes to teacher certification, it's much easier today to change career directions and pursue that life-long dream.

In fact, because of acute shortages in some subject areas in Kentucky and nationwide, many school districts have a job waiting for you.

Want to learn more? Then plan to attend a "Second Careers in Education Open House," sponsored by Eastern Kentucky University's College of Education Thursday, Nov. 8. The informational event will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. in the Perkins Building. Reservations should be made by contacting Kim Alexander at 859-622-8326.

University and Education Professional Standards Board (EPSB) officials will discuss educational options, admission requirements, financial assistance and the required examinations. Also planned are breakout sessions related to various subject areas. The meeting will include refreshments and door prizes.

Fifteen students already are enrolled in EKU's new Master of Arts in Teaching program, which features secondary (high school) and P-12 options. The 39-credit-hour program has drawn inquiries from attorneys, doctors, pharmacists and other professionals considering a career in teaching.

"We wanted to offer students an opportunity to get a master's degree and teacher certification in one program," said Dr. Rodney White, a professor in EKU's Department of Curriculum and Instruction. "And we have structured the program so that they can complete it over the course of 13 months." Some of the courses are offered on-line, at evenings or on weekends for the convenience of working professionals.

Teaching areas currently available include: art, biology, business and marketing, English, family and consumer sciences, health, mathematics, music, physical education, physical science, social science, Spanish and technology education. "The ideal," said White, "is for a candidate's bachelor's degree to match one of those certifiable areas."

One underlying premise of alternative teacher certification is that work experience is a viable substitute for a portion of a teacher's classroom preparation. Teacher shortages in many areas of the country, triggered in part by many reaching retirement age, are forcing states to consider a broader approach to recruitment and preparation.

Alternative certification does not mean that schools will be getting less-qualified teachers. "Those who choose this route are held to the same standard as those students who come through the traditional route," said Gloria Carr, director of educational student services.

Angela Jank, Aurora, Ill., earned a bachelor's degree in fine arts in May of this year, specializing in ceramics, but then decided she wanted to teach. Without the alternative certification route, it would have been necessary for her to complete a second bachelor's degree in art education. Now she'll be able to add methodology courses and additional subject matter classes to her previous art coursework and earn a master's degree in K-12 certification. "It would have taken me two years to get another bachelor's degree," she explained, "so when I found out about this program, I was thrilled."

As an added incentive, the College of Education recently announced that it will provide one tuition-free course (a $459 value) to the first 60 applicants taking their first course in any of the College's graduate degree programs in the Spring 2002 semester.

For more information about alternative certification possibilities in EKU's College of Education, contact Kim Alexander at 859-622-8326. In addition to university-based alternative certification, the Kentucky EPSB has developed five other alternative routes to teacher and administrator certification. For more information about the options, contact the EPSB at 502-573-4606 or, toll-free, 888-598-7667.

Marketing Cards

Rockcastle County producers who have received marketing cards are reminded to carefully check their card for complete and accurate information. Please compare the farm number, warehouse number and pounds listed on the card to the information provided on the notification letter mailed with the card. If you find an error return the card immediately to the office for corrections.

Remember: You are responsible for the information listed on the card.

Burley Tobacco Penalty Rates
Penalty rates that will be charged to producers, dealers and warehouse operators for marketing excess tobacco during the 2001 marketing year has been announced at $1.47 per pound.

Producers are reminded to review the pounds available for marketing and pounds marketed to avoid marketing pounds above the 103% of the effective quota to avoid the penalty and/or reduction in the next year's quota.

Warehouse Designation
Legislation now requires all farms with an effective quota greater than zero to file a designation of pounds to a specific warehouse, receiving station or dealer with which they intend to market tobacco by filing a form FSA 908.

Producers who have not designated or those who designated and wish to change their designation are reminded to do so by October 30. If you miss this designation period you must wait until the next designation period which begins on October 29th.

If producers miss this deadline they must wait until December!

Warehouse
Producers are reminded according to regulations pertaining to stolen tobacco a police report must be filed within 15 days of the theft and be submitted to the County FSA Office. Filing the police report according to regulations will possibly avoid a penalty and/or a reduction of the next year's quota.

County Committee Election Coming Soon

The FSA office would like to announce the deadline for accepting COC nominations for the upcoming election will be October 29, 2001. The nomination form signed by the nominee is needed to nominate a farmer-candidate. The form includes a statement that the candidate agrees to serve if elected. Committee members are a critical component of the day-to-day operations of FSA. They help run FSA farm programs at the local level. Farmers serving on the committees help decide the kind of programs the county will have and how they will run helping to make FSA agricultural programs fit the needs of local producers.

The election will be held November 21 through December 3, 2001. FSA programs or activities are conducted on a non-discriminatory basis without regard to race, color, national origin, gender, religion, age, disability, political beliefs, sexual orientation, marital or family status.

Pastor Appreciation Month

The members of the Flat Rock Baptist Church wishes to publicly announce their appreciation for Bro. Larry and Judy Burton. Our church family has seen such a big change, in our lives both at church and home, since these two individuals arrived in January 2001.

As busy as Larry and Judy are with their own business, they are never to busy for God's work. They visit the sick, pray for the lost, and have a special way to up lift the ones that are down. Giving at our church has a new meaning. We are always trying to help the needy, shut-ins, and people down on their luck whatever the case may be.

We have seen such a growth in our church and we owe that to our pastor and his wife who get out and knock on doors. We kid Brother Larry by saying, "If we aren't at church, we might miss something, because you never know what he has planned next." He has a way of keeping your interest and boosting your enthusiasm no matter what the topic.

We previously purchased the old Maple Grove School house. We have since then, turned that into four Sunday school rooms and a beautifully fellowship hall. This was very pleasing to all during our recent Homecoming. The youth group really appreciates the new building, as it has become their second home. Our thanks to our Preacher - for that vision.

Mrs. Judy is a very loving woman.

We are so thankful to have her. She is wonderful with all people from eight years old to 80 years old. She has a gift to work with all ages. Her patience, understanding, caring and loving manner are just a few of the gifts she portrays. She and Larry work so well together. Not only does she support him in his endeavors; she supports the entire church family.

We are very happy to have Larry and Judy in our lives. They have been a great inspiration to each of us. Their hard work and dedication is exactly what our lives were in need of. It is wonderful to have a leader with a vision who is able to work with his church and carry out those visions.

Brother Larry and Judy - We love you and are very happy to have you both as part of our church family.

Thank you for caring for each member and their family.

Halloween Safety Tips

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Sciences

Before long ghosts and goblins will appear at your door shouting the familiar phrase, "trick or treat." To ensure that all children have a safe, fun-filled Halloween, follow these tips.

When buying a costume, hat, mask, beard or wig, look for the Flame Resistant label. Although this label doesn't mean an item won't catch fire, it indicates items resist burning and should extinguish quickly when away from the ignition source.

To reduce children's contact with candles or other ignition sources, avoid costumes made with flimsy materials and outfits with big, baggy sleeves or billowing skirts. Tie hats and scarves securely to keep them from slipping over a child's eyes and obstructing vision. Be sure costumes and accessories fit securely and aren't cumbersome.

Buy or make costumes that are light or bright enough to be visible to motorists at dusk and in the dark. Be sure costumes are short enough to keep children from tripping or falling. Also, children should wear sturdy, well-fitting shoes. Oversized high heels aren't a good idea.

Consider make-up or a non-toxic face paint as an alternative to a mask that doesn't allow good visibility. If children do wear masks, cut the eyeholes large enough to give youngsters full visibility. Also, cut noseholes large enough so as not to hamper breathing.

To give children more visibility during dusk and darkness, trim costumes and treat collection bags with reflective tape that glows from a car's headlights. Reflective tape usually is available in hardware, bicycle and sporting goods stores.

Don't allow children to carry knives, swords or other props unless these are soft and flexible. Give trick-or-treaters flashlights so they can see better and are clearly seen by others.

Have children restrict trick-or-treat calls to homes with porch, outside or interior lights on as a sign of welcome. Advise children not to enter homes or apartments and to use the "buddy system," rather than go anywhere alone.

Caution children to use the sidewalk or walk toward on-coming traffic. Warn them not to run out between parked cars or across lawns and yards where they might trip over items.

Give each child change for a phone call should a problem develop away from home.

Be sure an adult or older, responsible child accompanies young children as they go about the neighborhood in search of treats. Teach children that tricks should never be a part of the Halloween tradition.

For children who've aged out of trick-or-treating, develop alternative activities such as a costume party, a group outing to the movie, or treats for a hospital, nursing home and retirement or assisted-living center.

Provide adult supervision at Halloween gatherings to prevent accidents or excessive mischievousness.

To make your home safer for visiting trick-or-treaters, turn on porch and outside lights. Also, remove obstacles or breakable items from the yard, steps, porches and around the doorway.

Keep candle-lighted Jack-O-Lanterns away from steps, or landings where costumes might brush against the flame and catch fire.

Warn children not to eat any treat before it's inspected to assure that it hasn't been tampered with and the safety seal is intact. Be especially careful with fruit; wash and cut it open before allowing a child to eat it.

Carefully examine toys or novelty items children receive. Don't allow children under three years old to have any toys or novelty items small enough to be a choking hazard.

For more information on Halloween safety, contact the Rockcastle Cooperative Extension Service at 256-2403.
