Thousands "light their world" against drugs at UNITE crusades

Inside each person is a light that can "expose the demons" that have wrought so much suffering upon families through an "insidious invasion of people's hearts and souls and lives" from substance abuse.

Those "struggling to find their way ... can't see a way out of the pain that addiction causes unless we take the light to them," Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers told more than 2,000 people who attended candlelight crusades last Saturday and Sunday.

"One light will become two. Two will become 10, and then a hundred. Then thousands will join in and we will drive out the darkness that is covering our valley," Rogers said. "The time to act is now. The opportunity has been given to us. It's up to each of us to take advantage of it. No matter how far you have fallen, there is hope."

The "Go Light Your World" Candlelight Crusades were sponsored by Operation UNITE at opposite ends of the Fifth Congressional District - Saturday at Allen Baptist Church in Floyd County and Sunday at Renfro Valley in Rockcastle County. At the rally in Renfro Valley on Sunday afternoon approximately 1,300 people attended.

Reinforcing that message were personal tales of triumph from Clay County's Melanda Adams and special guest speaker Nicky Cruz.

Adams, the daughter of Clay County Schools Superintendent Doug Adams, passionately told the audience how she had entered the darkness by making methamphetamine to support an OxyContin drug habit and "had in a closet" to escape an abusive relationship with her boyfriend.

She prayed for a way out, pleading with God to show himself and lead her out of that darkness.

Then one day came a knock on the door and she was rescued by "my little blue angels" from Operation UNITE. Being arrested was a sobering experience. Over the ensuing months Adams came to accept Christ into her life and successfully completed a drug treatment program.

Cruz, a former leader of one of New York City's most vicious gangs, graphically recounted his journey from an abusive childhood at the hands of satanic parents to salvation at the hands of "a skinny preacher" named David Wilkerson - a story that was retold in the movie "The Cross and the Switchblade."

Living on the street "like an animal," Cruz said he thrived on violence, drugs and blood until his heart was opened by the "love of Jesus Christ."

For the past 40 years Cruz has been ministering to youth throughout the world's biggest cities, but he emphasized that rural areas of Kentucky were not immune to the grip of drugs. It's a problem that knows no socio-economic or racial boundaries, but is too often masked by denial.

Cruz praised the efforts of Operation UNITE, its local coalitions, and cooperation from law enforcement and the court system. Most of all, he issued a challenge to the faith-based community to step forward, like Wilkerson, and make a difference by carrying a light into the darkness.

UNITE Executive Director Karen Engle said there were two reasons for staging the crusades. "First, we want to make it clear that no matter how far down someone falls, there's hope. Second, you stand on one side or the other when it comes to drug abuse: you're either part of the problem or part of the solution and the choice is up to you."

During each crusade audience members illuminated glowsticks to symbolize their willingness to be part of the solution.

Times have changed, Engle noted. The light that once shone high, guiding us in the right direction, away from danger, is now obscured by "the smog of violence and addiction."

Paraphrasing a line from Cruz's biography, "Run Baby Run," Engle said "it is not enough for us to be the keeper of the lighthouse. We must be a bearer of the light as well."

On Saturday, special music was provided by the Community Methodist Church Praise Band, Karen Pensacolo and Jody Conly. Allen Baptist Church Pastor Arnold Turner provided the opening prayer. Users were members of the Prestonsburg High School varsity football team, and parking assistance came from the Floyd County Rescue Squad, Prestonsburg Police Department, Respond Ambulance Service and Floyd County Sheriff's Office.

On Sunday, special music was provided by Jeremiah Voccom and the Redemption Road Church Praise Team. Penny Brown and Dee Barnes, First Christian Church Pastor Bruce Ross provided the opening prayer.

Users were members of the Rockcastle County High School UNITE Club; and parking assistance came from the Rockcastle County High School JROTC.

All offices up for re-election Candidates can file next Wednesday

If you are planning to run for political office, or to try to retain your seat, you can file for office beginning next Wednesday.

The May primary is May 10th of 2006 and every office from County Judge to city council members, will be on the May ballot. "Everyone has to run," said longtime Rockcastle County Clerk Norma Houk.

"It will no doubt be the largest ballot since I have been in office," said Mrs. Houk who has been County Clerk since 1986. Mrs. Houk noted she would seek a sixth term next May.

All local filings must be done in her office, which is located on the second floor of the courthouse.

The Legend of Rockcastle Hollow to be presented November 7th & 8th at RCHS Auditorium

Rockcastle County High School Musical Theatre and the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame and Museum present The Legend of Rockcastle Hollow.

The performance is an adaptation of The Legend of Sleepy Hollow by Washington Irving.

Performances will be Monday, November 7th and Tuesday, November 8th, both at 7 p.m. at the Rockcastle County High School Auditorium.

Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for ages 10 and under.

It was a "ghostly" good time on Main Street in Mt. Vernon on Monday night when well over 1,000 trick or treaters and their parents visited the tables along Main Street. Reynolds files suit over past due taxes

In a year when budget cuts are altering through important government services, the payment of property taxes is more important than ever, according to Rockcastle County Attorney Billy Reynolds, whose office handles delinquent property tax collections. And, Reynolds recently sued action to his words by filing 16 suits, totaling more than $9,000, over delinquent property taxes in Rockcastle District Court recently.

"The vast majority of Rockcastle County citizens have paid their 2003 property taxes," Reynolds said. "But there are still those who have let their taxes become delinquent."

Property taxes for 2004 are considered delinquent as of January 1, 2005. Once the property tax bill becomes delinquent, the sheriff sends notice before the sale of the tax bill owed. At that point, the county attorney begins work trying to collect them on behalf of the county and state. Although collecting five percent, or less, of the county's property taxes may not seem significant, county attorneys across Kentucky collect millions of dollars in delinquent property taxes each year.

Last year, Rockcastle County Attorney William Reynolds' office collected over $90,000 on behalf of Rockcastle County. Since being appointed in 2004, Reynolds' office has collected over $165,921.92 in delinquent taxes to present date, with two months remaining in 2005 to add to this total.

Reynolds said there is some confusion about the process of collecting delinquent property taxes. "Many people believe we are just waiting for someone to slip up so we can foreclose on their property," Reynolds said. "In truth, we try to avoid foreclosure action. This option is one of last resort."

To collect delinquent taxes, Reynolds said his office sends several written notices to those who have neglected to pay. If these attempts fail, then a lawsuit, to bring a foreclosure action is begun. There is a lien on the property until the tax bill is paid or the property is sold to pay the delinquent tax bill(s).

Reynolds said the majority of the time, this can be avoided and he, and his staff, work with the taxpayer to get the taxpayer to get the taxes paid. He emphasized the importance, and the serious responsibility, of seeing that taxes are paid.

"There is not a single person in Rockcastle County who does not benefit, in some way, by county government services, whether it is through attending our public schools, driving on our roads or receiving medical care at our local health department," Reynolds said. "We all use county services, so we all have taxes. It is only right that everyone pay their fair share. It is entirely unfair for part of our county population to pay property taxes, while others neglect to pay theirs. That is why I have to pursue this action," Reynolds added.

Mt. Vernon Tourism Commission receives award

The Mt. Vernon-Rockcastle County Tourism Commission has received a First Place award for its "Bittersweet Cabin" promotional video in the 2005 Traverser Awards for Excellence in Tourism Marketing. The award was presented at an October 25 gala during the Kentucky Tourism Industry Annual Conference in Lexington.

The Kentucky Tourism Council presents the Traverser Awards each year to honor the best work in advertising.

Operation UNITE held a Candlelight Crusade at Renfro Valley this past Sunday. Former New York gang leader Nicky Cruz, above, was the guest speaker and Clay County resident Melanda Adams gave a personal message of triumph. Fifth District Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers, at left, lit a candle "in memory of all of those that have lost their life to drug abuse, in celebration of those who are working to keep their life on track, and in prayer for those still battling this evil." Operation UNITE also held another Candlelight Crusade Friday night in Floyd County. Over 2,000 people attended the two crusades.

Halloween on Main was wonderful...

Dear Editor,
Halloween on Main in Mt. Vernon was absolutely wonderful. I guess it might be my age, but I tremendously enjoyed seeing the young children and the young at heart - parading down the street in their costumes. Congratulations to the City of Mt. Vernon's mayor, the council and the merchants and civic clubs who made this possible. Everyone in the county would have enjoyed it.

Library is great experience

Dear Editor,
Yesterday, October 25, I visited the library for children's story hour. What a lovely experience. If you are a parent or grandparent with small children and have not yet taken them to story hour, both you and they are missing a wonderful opportunity to learn and share in a delightful afternoon. Mrs. Kathy McKibben and the ladies who assist her in it are to be commended for their work.
I truly enjoyed it very much and plan to visit again, even though I have no small grandchildren to take with me. Mt. Vernon can surely be proud of this program. Our library has so very much to offer and we should all take time to utilize this facility to its fullest.

Hard as a Rock song is not good...

Dear Editor,
I'm so proud to know we have a man in our county that will take a stand for what is right by the Word of God and not try to take a song that is wrong and try to justify it to make it right.
Isaiah 5:20,23 says, "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that put darkness for light, and light for darkness; that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter." vs. 23. What a joy that we worked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!"
I'm so glad pastor Matt Pautz printed that song, Hard as a Rock in the Mt. Vernon Signal. I don't want my young grandchildren hearing that song on the radio and wanting to turn it up because it's their school's theme song.
I will make sure my grandchildren know not to get pumped up over that song at a ball game. There is a spirit line on the football field that gets everyone pumped up and full of pride when the football team takes the field. I will make sure my grandchildren avoid that song and for them not to be influenced by it when they are at RCHS games.
I'm very proud my grandchildren attend RCHS and they have Mr. Hale at school. He is doing a great job and the letter pastor Pautz wrote wasn't against Mr. Hale at all.
Sincerely,
Bernice Lovell

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

There's no place like home. No cliché was ever more true. I've been out of town in South Carolina for almost two weeks. I was excited to go, but equally excited to get back home. I had been to South Carolina two or three times before, but it was only in passing through, as they say, I'd always thought South Carolina was a very beautiful state, and had looked forward to spending some time there. My visit was in no wise disappointing. The areas I saw were very picturesque, and the people were so friendly. I had gone to celebrate one of God's feasts, and heard a lot of interesting speakers. I met a lot of new friends, and got reacquainted with a lot of old friends. There were people attending from almost all fifty states, and even a few foreign countries.

Stanley stayed home, and I went with an old girlfriend of about twenty-five years. We did a lot of shopping, tried a lot of new restaurants, and saw a lot of new sights. Our hotel provided a breakfast every morning, and I had my first taste of grits. They weren't too bad. They were like corn-flavored Cream of Wheat.

I finally had a chance to rest. It's about all I did after returning to my room at night. My girlfriend rode down the hall with another girlfriend she rarely gets to see from Indiana. I gave me a lot of alone time to read, watch TV, and "get in touch" with myself, as they say. Of course I did a lot of calling back home to Stanley, friends, and family.

On the way home, we stopped by a fruit stand and a dish barn located next door to it. Both came highly recommended by my girlfriend. They were on the North Carolina/South Carolina border. We had a car full of items we had gotten on our various shopping tours, but we felt that we had to get a few more things here. When we left for South Carolina, the car looked like a family of twelve had packed, and were going to China for a month. It's a good thing we packed light. By the time we left for home, we were almost in need of a U-Haul.

We caught a half-bushel of apples at the fruit stand. I got a few pottery items at the dish barn, and even a couple of jars of kudzu and Carolina possum and pecan jelly. If we had worked, the rescue squad would have had to go on a three-day search in order to find us among all of our "stash."

As I was saying, I was glad to get back home. By this time I was missing Stanley pretty much, and I was getting tired of restaurant food, had eaten every meal out for almost two weeks. I was missing the fall foliage back home, too. The foliage in South Carolina was still green, for the most part, and the weather was still very warm. Nature had painted quite a scene for my arrival back home. Nature had done quite a job in the Smoky Mountains, too. There was multi-colored fall foliage, with a bit of snow on the mountaintops and the way home. What a sight!

I've often said that I love to travel, but I also love to be home amid familiar surroundings, seeing familiar faces, and eating home-cooked food. Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home.

The sun actually does appear in late October here in the Knobs of Kentucky.

It may be early in the morning or late in the day but if you keep your eye peeled, the gray just goes away and all of a sudden you are overwhelmed with the most brilliant and startling colors mankind has chance to witness except this time of year. When it comes up, the sun that is, at the crack of dawn and shines all day on the bluest sky this side of Heaven on the last Saturday in October, and if you are like me, you make excuses to stay outside even if you have a wife like mine.

Loretta had three baskets of bed clothing, every towel in the house, the curtains, our under-wear and misc. linens all gone through the wash and duly dried on Friday night.

Saturday morning she wants help folding and hanging stuff about the time the sun rose.

Notice that I said, "the sun rose." I had not seen the sun in two weeks. Our booger light (street light for you Yankees) mounted out there on the power pole had stayed on around the clock for like fourteen days. We had many days of wet and miserable weather and now, all of a sudden, the sun is shining again.

We've already had rains that have looked like snow falls here on Charlie Brown Road, down here in the Lower Branch Valley on the Madison/Garrard line. The one this morning caused me to nearly break my neck as I trotted through the yard to fetch the morning paper. My feet went out from under me there on the grass and I have made a note, starting tomorrow morning, to wear work boots instead of house slippers when I go outside before daylight until the first of May.

It's a pain to change shoes just to get the paper. It's a bigger pain to take a fall when you don't have trees. We won't even talk about getting caught in the front yard, broke down in your long johns while Loretta calls the ambulance, which is what nearly happened to me this morning.

(I just got off the phone with my brother, Keith (Kester) who lives in Letcher County and he said they'd already had three inches of snow up there on top of the hill)

I'm looking for a good, paper-folding, dog that won't slobber all over the front page.

Oh! Blue just barks a wool or two when Ms. Cassey whizzes by in the

EDR's: Clandestine Evidence

If you drive a new motor vehicle, you may be unwittingly creating a record of your speed, seat belt usage, and even your braking patterns which can be downloaded and reviewed following an automobile accident. Though initially advertised as a way to monitor and improve air bag deployment systems, stored electronic evidence is becoming increasingly familiar as evidence in traffic safety investigations, personal injury litigation and criminal prosecution.

- Engine speed for several seconds before the crash
- Braking status prior to impact
- Throttle position prior to impact
- Seat belt status
- Timing of air bag deployment and
- Warning light status

This "black box" data is recorded regardless of whether the air bag actually deploys. Triggering the system requires only a "near event" or "deployment level event," such as a

Chronic Daily Headaches

Presented by: Dr. Michael Hamilton
After years and years of having headaches, they commonly become more frequent and even can present "all the time." When it gets to this point, they are called chronic daily headaches. These headaches are difficult to deal with. First, your doctor will want to exclude more serious causes of the headaches. This involves a thorough discussion of the headaches and how they have progressed and an exam looking for neurologic changes. If there are findings on exam, or evidence from the history, further tests such as blood tests and a CT scan may be indicated.
The most common cause of chronic daily headaches is having an underlying headache type such as migraines or tension type headache which is being treated with medications often enough that the person develops a rebound headache. This can happen with nearly any medicine that is used to treat headaches if they are used more than three days a week.
How can you prevent chronic daily headaches or at least decrease the likelihood they will develop? First, and most likely the most important, do your best to limit headaches. Avoid precipitating causes of migraines such as using alcohol. Treat headaches early when the headaches respond better and more completely. This usually decreases the amount of medicines used. Consider prophylactic medicines - any decrease in the underlying headaches will greatly decrease the risk of developing a chronic problem.

Crash Recorder

Event Data Recorders ("EDR's") also known as (Crash Data Retrieval or "CDR's") systems are hardware and software which record and download data from an onboard unit to a laptop computer - usually from a connection located underneath the vehicle's dash near the steering column. Following a crash, technicians can elicit a surprisingly large amount of data from the EDR which can then be used to reconstruct the moments leading up to a vehicle crash and often times to rebut first hand accounts which may be less than candid.
Currently, EDRs are standard equipment in most GM models, and many Ford vehicles. Typically, EDR's may provide the following type of information, depending on the make, model and year of the vehicle involved:
• Vehicle speed for several seconds prior to the crash

Cards of Thanks

James L. Dees

The family of James L. Dees would like to say thanks to everyone during the sickness and passing of our beloved husband, dad and papaw.

Perhaps it was a kind word or a hug or maybe you brought food, sent flowers or gave money. Words can never express how our hearts have been truly blessed.

God Bless you all

The Dees Family

Thank You

The Rickels Family

Love thy neighbor.

You make it so easy to do.

For a special friend we have found in you

To visit a friend is always a short walk.

Many cups we've shared and just sat to talk.

From our window when the world's dark at night.

We can see the warmth from our neighbor's light.

Whenever there's a need, we're sure of our labor.

For the hands in need we find - our "Neighbors."

Thank You

On behalf of the Brodhead Crussn Buddies, we would like to express our appreciation to all who made this community function a success, including all those who donated door prizes: Dollar Store, Back Store, Don Long Automotive, Tommy Mullins at Renfro Valley Boat Dock, Two Chicks in a Basket, Bishop J.R. David Collins & Collins Respiratory, Scott Miller's Garage, Buswell &

Bowling Roofing and Marvin E. Homes for Funerals & Memorials, as well as the IGA and Doug Benge and Luke Dees and most of all those who brought vehicles for community enjoyment. Looking forward to next "Crusinn" Season.

Junior Daugherty

The Daugherty family wish to thank everyone who was so kind in our time of sorrow. A special thanks to Marvin and Judy of the Owens Funeral Home, Ottawa Baptist Church for all the extra caring and to all who sent flowers, brought food and sent cards of sympathy. God bless you all.

The Daugherty Family

Joe Nantz

My family and I would like to thank everyone for their prayers, calls, and cards during the sudden illness and death from a brain tumor of my brother, Joe Nantz. I want to thank the ambulance service, the Rockcastle County Hospital staff, the emergency room doctor who sent Joe to the UK Hospital, and Becky Reynolds who rode in the ambulance with Joe to UK. There were so many people and churches praying for Joe, and I really appreciate all of them. I want to thank my pastor Eddie Nanton and my church family, First Baptist Church for all of their love and support. All of my extended family and all of our friends and co-workers have helped us so much. John and I have relied on all of them, and we thank them for everything they've done to make things easier for us during this time.

"Rockcastle's Most Preferred"

Over 30 years ago the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home was providing ambulance service to the families of Rockcastle County. The charge for transporting a patient to our local hospital...five dollars ($5.00).

Today, the Dowell & Martin Funeral Home is still providing quality and caring services...at reasonable prices.

sudden braking to avoid a crash. In some rare cases, the EDR cannot record data because of a catastrophic lack of power.

An EDR case has only been used in a few court cases, though it is becoming increasingly common. The validity and reliability of this type of evidence will certainly be tested in court. If uniformly accepted, this type of evidence may greatly improve the forensic fact finding process as compared to current methods which primarily rely on testimony from participants or witnesses to auto accidents.

Pleased with feature article...

Dear Editor,
What a pleasant surprise to see the feature article about my uncle, George Payne, on the front page of the second section of the November 29, 2005 issue of the Mt. Vernon Signal.

My mother never talked much to me about Uncle George playing baseball and the time I spent with him, he never once mentioned playing ball. Mother did say that he had played with the Chicago White Sox, but I'm not sure I really believed her.

I never pursued his history, so reading the article was very touching. I plan to frame and have it for any of my family that might be interested.

The article came out 25 days after the death of my mother, Julia Hart, who was George's sister. Mother was laid out at Cox Funeral Home and my family would like to thank them for all their help during that time and Bro. Zade McClure for his kind words and also all who paid their respects.

At 99 years of age, Mother didn't have too many friends still around. My brother, Jim and sisters, Loneya, Marietta, Billie and Theata Gail and their spouses and some children and grandchildren, were able to spend a special portion of RCHS football, not because of a song. I'm proud of our RCHS football team players who play the game. One person wrote that the song was something good and didn't say anything about the good young men that play the game. When the football team players come out on the field, that is what makes me smile and have overflowing pride, not a song. Some seem to forget about the team players. The young teens at RCHS are what make their school so great, not a song.

I'm sad to hear some getting so upset over a letter about a song. It is just as I'm proud of RCHS and I'm proud to say I know pastor Matt Pautz. I'm very grateful for pastor Matt Pautz for helping me to teach my son what is right with God.

I strongly believe God sent pastor Matt Pautz to my son. My son is a good, respectful, intelligent, God-fearing young teen whose goal in life is to serve our Lord and Savior. I thank God and pastor Matt Pautz for always being there for my son and not letting him be deceived in something that looks and sounds to be good.

I don't want this letter to upset or insult anyone at all. I feel that it's not what pastor Pautz wanted either. I strongly feel the Lord guided my son's pastor to write his letter to the editor. Is this the song you want to be listening to when Jesus returns?

property and beauty of the stricken state. I tried every available outlet to find a way to get him home and was met with a brick wall at every turn. Finally though I contacted Danny Ford and asked if there was anything that you could do to help us. He assured me that he would contact Hal Rogers's office and that together they would help me to get my son home. Within thirty minutes of that call my phone rang and a lady named Resa told me who she was and that Danny Ford had contacted Mr. Rogers and if I could provide her with certain documents and signatures that together they would attempt to help me get Daniel home. I am quite sure she wasn't required to spend so much time as she did helping me, nor was it a requirement that she made herself available for me to contact several times when my own attempts wouldn't turn out as I wished.

The Rockcastle County High School and Mr. Dale Whitaker took time to search through records and pictures to provide as proof that Daniel was a graduate and to provide what records they could find. The Rockcastle County Sheriff's Dept and Deputy Shannon Franklin and 5th Dist Constable David Mason signed statements that they knew Daniel, that he had been a resident of Rockcastle County most his life and attested to the fact that he had been no trouble with authority, wasn't ever convicted of any crimes and was known by them to reside here in Rockcastle County.

Mr. J. C. Griffin recent Mayor Of Livingston also signed statements that he knew Daniel, and that he was a resident of Livingston. Deputy Franklin then faxed all the info to Hal Rogers's office so that his office would have the needed information for identification, and spoke with Congressman Rogers's office himself to offer any assistance he could if needed. When I returned home from Congressman Rogers's office I was already called to advise us that Daniel would be permitted to board a flight home without the IDs required by federal law because Mr. Rogers had contacted Homeland Security and made him a passage identification.

through his office, then Resa gave me several numbers to contact if there was any complications. My son arrived safely and without any complications during a time that the entire nation was confused and in turmoil with transportation and location of their loved ones in Louisiana. After we returned home, again the phone rang, it was Resa, making sure that we had returned home safely and that Daniel was now home safe and sound. She was so genuinely concerned and consoling during our time of fear and uncertainty. It touched us far past an act of assistance, it was an act of concern and compassion in a time of great sadness for our whole nation. Rep Danny Ford called a little later to make sure as he said "that boy got home. All right" and to let us know that he was glad everything went smoothly.

Hal Rogers, Danny Ford, Resa, JC Griffin, David Mason, Shannon Franklin, Dale Whitaker and their offices all went out of their way, took time from their own busy lives to act as one and reach into the horrifying tragedy that seemed to escalate daily to provide what part of themselves they could to assure Daniels safe passage back to Kentucky. To say thank you seems so insignificant for all that each did. We can however say that we are humbled by their acts and appreciate all each of them did.

A letter of public gratitude

Dear Editor,
I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for helping to get my son (Daniel Nolan) home from Louisiana during the hurricanes. He had went down on a visit with a friend of ours whom had just lost her husband. As we all know the storm upgraded quickly and was devastating to the people in Louisiana. When it finally became possible to fly my son home, we were informed of federal laws demanding a picture ID for purchase and passage on all American flights. He had never had a picture ID and there was no way to obtain one except from Kentucky, and obviously he couldn't get here. So he was in Louisiana and I couldn't get to him, and I couldn't get him home. He called one night and told me of the morbid scenes, of floating bodies and destruction of the homes,

LDP-Beneficial of Interest

Are you a producer who harvested corn or soybeans? If so take note-you may be missing out on cash no doubt. Producers of corn and soybeans may be eligible for a marketing assistance loan or a loan deficiency payment (LDP) based upon the daily rate provided the producer has NOT LOST beneficial interest in the commodity in addition to other eligibility requirements.

A producer retains beneficial interest in the commodity if all of the following remain with the producer:

- Control of the commodity
- Risk of loss
- Title to the commodity

For LD's the producer must retain beneficial interest in the commodity from the time of harvest through the date the LDP is received.

A producer is considered to have control of the commodity if the producer retains the ability to make all decisions affecting the commodity.

Rockets beat Panthers 35-14; face Mason County Friday

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County High School football team will play in the state play-offs for the 15th straight year, when they host Mason County on Friday night.

The Rockets defeated Knox Central on Friday night 35-14, in their last regular season game. That win came on Knox Central's Lay Field and was the last game to ever be played on that field. Knox Central will move to a new school and the team to a new field in 2006.

"I am proud of our team and it was a good win, to set up the post season," said head coach Tom Larkey, who has missed the play-offs only once since coming to the ROCK 16 years ago. That miss was in his first season when he went 4-6.

Friday night, the Rockets scored on their first possession, which took them only one minute and twenty seconds, and they never looked back. The Rockets led 28-0 at halftime and scored on the first series of the third quarter to lead 35-0.

Larkey began substituting in the first half but, after the third quarter score, Larkey substituted often and in the fourth quarter freshmen players were on the field.

Offensively, Shawn Childress scored on a 16 yard pass from quarterback Matthew Burkhardt and then Burkhardt ran two yards for a touchdown. Those scores came in the first quarter.

In the second quarter Gabe Stallworth scored on a 27 yard run and Bucky Skinner scored on a 23 yard run.

Stallworth then made it 35 to nothing on his six yard run in the third.

Knox Central's two scores were in the third and fourth quarters and against the Rocket junior varsity and freshman players.

"I wasn't pleased with the cheap shots late in the game but, luckily, our players were not injured," Larkey said. "I am just glad we came away from the game with no more injuries."

Statistics for the offense were quarterback Matthew Burkhardt, 13 for 23 through the air for 143 yards, and two carries for 17 yards rushing. He threw for one touchdown and rushed for one.

Senior Bucky Skinner rushed five times for 76 yards and he caught three passes for 29 yards and scored the one touchdown in the second quarter.

Junior Irak McQueary caught five passes for 33 yards. Junior Shawn Childress caught only one pass for 16 yards, but it was good for a touchdown.

Stallworth had 114 yards on 14 carries and caught one pass for eight yards. His two touchdowns were on the ground.

Senior Alex Centers caught three passes for 57 yards. Freshman Casey Hayes rushed nine times for 26 yards and placekicker Martin Baehrfield was a perfect five for five in extra point attempts.

Defensively, the Rockets were led by senior linebacker Charles Cunnagin who had 12 tackles and assists.

Junior Brad Durham recovered a fumble and junior Lynn Miracle intercepted a pass.

Donovan Pigg, had two tackles; Mikey Denny, three; Childress, two; Zach Burkhardt, five; McQueary, three; Matthew Burkhardt, four; Stallworth, four; Miracle, four; Tanner Perkins, one; Josh Garrison, four; Willie Martin, one; Centers, three; David Robbins, one; Nick Nolan, one and Josh Renner, one.

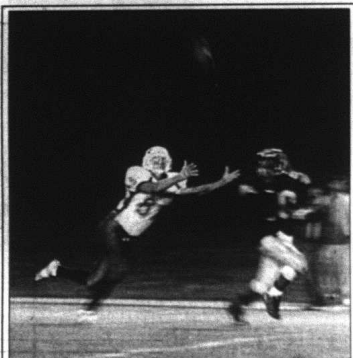

The Rocket defense held Knox Central to just 163 yards of total offense.

The Rockets play Mason County on Friday night in the first round of the play-offs.

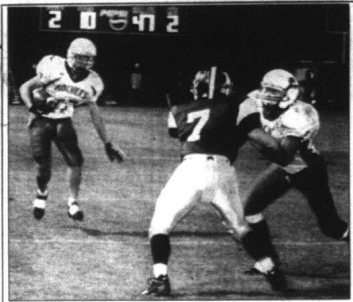

Game time at the ROCK is 7:30. Tickets are $5.00 and must be purchased at the gate. The Rockets have lost to Mason County in their only two meetings.

Gabe Stallworth finds a big hole for yardage against Knox Central last Friday night. The Rockets won their final regular season game 35-14.

Shawn Childress stretches to catch a pass in the Rockets 35-14 win over Knox Central last Friday night. The Rockets will face Mason County this Friday night in the opening round of the playoffs.

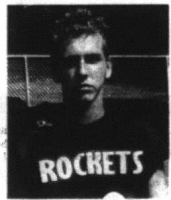

Gabe Stallworth blocks for Irak McQueary after McQueary caught a pass from quarterback Matthew Burkhardt.

Make third straight appearance in state tournament Lady Rockets volleyball loses in "Sweet 16" to Owensboro Catholic Rockcastle County Lady Rockets' volleyball team traveled to Northern Kentucky University to play in their third straight Sweet 16 appearance last Friday night.

After facing the number one team in the state and nationally ranked teams the two previous years the Rockets ended up this year with Owensboro Catholic in the first round.

"The girls knew they had a tough challenge ahead of them but they were so excited to see what this year had in store," Coach Larry Lee said.

The Rockets came out taking an early 2-0 lead but the tough defense of Owensboro Catholic proved too much for the Rockets. "They stopped our hitters and caused us to make the mistakes," Coach Lee said.

Owensboro Catholic won the first game 25-13. The Rockets lost the second game 25-16 to lose the match 2-0. Megan Anderkin had seven kills while Heather Hopkins and Erica McKinney added four apiece. Jill Owens played a wonderful match leading the team in assists.

"It's tough when you get to this level in any sport but playing these private schools in volleyball is a completely different story compared to other sports. Volleyball is their main sport, the other sports fall second place to these teams. I'm so proud of the girls for what they have accomplished this year." Coach Lee added.

This is the Lady Rockets fifth year playing volleyball with three straight state tournament appearances. They finish their season with a 22-12 record.

Charles Cunnagin brings down a Knox Central player in Rocket action last Friday night.

Matthew Burkhardt scores on a quarterback sneak, creating the hole for Burkhardt were Mikey Denny and Donovan Pigg. The Rockets beat Knox Central 35-14 and will face Mason County this Friday night at home.

Middle and elementary teams compete in state cross-country

The Rockcastle County Elementary and Middle School cross-country teams competed in the Kentucky Middle School and 6th Grade and Under Cross-Country State Championships this past Saturday.

The events were part of the KTCCCA Meet of Champions which played host to more than three thousand runners from across the state. As far as number of competitors goes, it is the largest single day high school and under sporting event in the state.

Rockcastle's elementary girls' team got the day off to a great start. The team competed in a race that was 3,000 meters, or 1.8 miles.

With more than 360 runners competing, fifth grader Jessica Bentley led Rockcastle with an exceptional effort. Jessica finished 139th overall with an impressive time of 15:29. Third grader Rachel Cain performed very well and came on strong at the end to win an impressive 16:37. Fourth grader Kellan Coffey ran an excellent 3,000-meter race and finished in 16:44. Sixth grader Lindsey Brown ran very well, covering the 1.8-mile race in 17:26. Second grader Emily Childress also ran a superb race, finishing in 17:32. All five girls have had tremendous seasons and have very bright futures ahead of them.

The RCMS girls' team came into the race as a strong contender for the state championship title. Middle school athletes competed in a 4,000-meter, or 2.4 mile race.

The team boasts six very solid runners, three of which were named all-state in cross-country last year. Eighth grader Laura Dollins led RCMS with the best middle school performance of her career. She ran a tremendous race and finished 17th overall out of nearly 350 runners. Laura's exceptional time of 16:02 established a new RCMS record, breaking her own mark from last year's middle school state meet. Amazingly, Laura had only competed in one other middle school race this season due to her participation on the varsity team.

Seventh grader Sara Hammond ran a great race as well, despite the fact that this was her only second middle school race of the season. She finished in 20th place overall with a new personal best time of 16:08, narrowly missing the all-time RCMS record here. Even more amazing is the fact that Sara is a full-time basketball player on the 7th and 8th grade girls' teams and plays as many as six games per week. Her practice time for cross-country has been limited to usually just one day per week. Regardless, she has had awesome seasons in both basketball and cross-country.

Seventh grader Kristen Bullock came through in the clutch for RCMS with a great performance. Kristen has proven to be a very consistent performer this season. She finished with an impressive new personal best 4,000-meter time of 17:57. Kristen is also a member of the varsity team and had two great performances for RCMS during the regular season. She will play a major role for the varsity team next season.

During warmups, fifth grader Michaela Hunter began feeling the effects of an illness from earlier in the week. Unfortunately, she was unable to completely overcome them. Despite it all, she still managed a great race, finishing a hard-fought 2.4 miles with an effort of 18:09. As with Laura and Sara, Michaela had only competed in one previous middle school meet because of her participation on the highly-ranked varsity team.

Seventh grader Jasmin Johnson, possibly the most improved RCMS runner from a year ago, ran a superb race. She finished an awesome race with an impressive effort of 18:51. A new personal best for 4,000 meters. Jasmin has shown consistent improvement throughout the entire season and will likely be selected to the varsity squad next season.

Eighth grader Samantha Smith has had an awesome first season of cross-country. Her first state competition came with a little bad luck. Early in the race, Samantha leaped over a fallen competitor and sprained her ankle on the ensuing landing, severely limiting her ability to compete for the remainder of the race. Nevertheless, Samantha overcame the pain and came through with a strong finish, covering the 2.4-mile course in 20:20. Samantha was also a member of the varsity team this season and came through with two tremendous performances. She will play a major role in the success of the varsity team next season.

Despite those unavoidable mishaps, the RCMS girls finished an impressive 12th overall out of over 100 teams from across the state that competed. Completely healthy, RCMS would have definitely made a strong bid for the team state title and would have easily made the top five.

The RCMS boys team was led by 8th grader Blake Parsons. Blake has had a very consistent season and has led RCMS in every contest to date. Despite the crowded field of nearly 500 runners, Blake fought his way through to an awesome finish. Blake covered the 4,000-meter course in 16:04, one of his best efforts of the season. Over the last three seasons, Blake has been a strong competitor for RCMS and has a great future as a varsity runner next year.

Seventh grader Dustin Smith has had a great first season of cross-country, consistently improving from day one. His exceptional performance this season culminated with an impressive state meet race. Dustin finished the race with a new personal best time of 17:46 for 4,000-meters. The RCMS girls and boys teams competed in the Meet of Champions Class 2A race. The race was not quite as crowded as the middle school and elementary race, but did offer a chance for a great pre-state competition since most of the top teams were there.

The RCMS girls team was a little short-handed due to several of their top athletes competing in the middle school race. Senior Kayla Hayes led the way for RCMS with an awesome performance. Kayla finished an amazing third overall in the meet, defeating Sondra Nieporte, the top-ranked runner in the state from Lloyd Memorial. Kayla's awesome time of 20:20 was her best this season. Senior Jessi Asher also had a great race. Jessi covered the 3.1-mile course in 22:17 and finished 33rd overall. Sophomore Courtney Bullock continued to run consistently, finishing in 51st place with a time of 22:29. Senior Ashley Bullock finished the regular season with her best performance of the year. Ashley placed 96th overall with a time of 27:39, one of her best this season.

The RCMS boys team was led by senior Martin Beerfeld. Martin, who doubles as a kicker for the RCMS football team, competed in his final cross-country race. An upcoming trip to Washington D.C. coincides with the regional championship meet; therefore, Martin will be unable to compete for RCMS at region this weekend. Martin finished his running career with one of his best races this season. He placed 89th overall with an impressive effort of 19:57.

RCMS freshman Michael Thomsen has consistently improved in his first-ever cross-country season and looks to have a bright future in the sport. Michael ended the regular season with a great Class 2A race. He covered the 3.1-mile course in an awesome new personal best time of 23:42.

The RCMS girls team is currently ranked fourth in the state and is a strong contender for the regional title, as well as the state title. In order to win their fourth straight regional title, the girls will have to get by sixth ranked Lexington Catholic, who had three teams of girls in the Meet of Champions, and a talented Boyle County squad.

Senior Kayla Hayes will seek her fourth straight individual region title having taken the honor over the last three years. Currently, Kayla ranks fourth in the state in Class 2A with the individual state title well within reach.

The Class 2A Region IV Championships, hosted by Lexington Catholic, will be this Saturday at Masterson Station Park in Lexington. The girls' race begins at 3:30 while the boys' race gets underway at 4:15.

RCMS senior Kayla Hayes had a season's best performance at the KTCCCA Meet of Champions. Kayla finished third overall in the Class 2A race with an awesome effort of 20:20 and defeated the number one ranked runner in Class 2A.

RCMS eighth grader Blake Parsons led all RCMS boys at the KTCCCA Middle School State Championships this past Saturday with an impressive performance. Blake finished with an exceptional effort of 16:04 over 4,000-meters.

RCMS seventh grader Dustin Smith ran a superb middle school race at the KTCCCA Middle School State Championships. Dustin finished with an impressive effort of 17:46, a personal best time for 2.4 miles.

Alzheimer's support meeting for caregivers
Do you have a loved one with memory loss? Are you a caregiver for someone with Alzheimer's or a related disorder?
You are not alone, join us for an Alzheimer's Caregiver Meeting. This is for caregivers of someone with Alzheimer's disease or a related disorder to receive education, support and new information about Alzheimer's/dementia.
Alzheimer's is a progressive, degenerative disease that attacks the brain and results in impaired memory, thinking and behavior and for which there is no cure or prevention. The family caregiver must cope with increasing physical, behavioral, emotional, legal and financial problems. The stress created and their own health problems can be overwhelming.
The first meeting will be Monday November 14th and meetings will be held the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Rockcastle Health and Rehabilitation Center at 7190 West Main Street, Broadhead.
Participants in support groups receive emotional support, practical assistance in coping with the numerous challenges they face and the latest information about Alzheimer research, treatment and care. All meetings are confidential.
For more information, contact the group leader W. Anne Harris 606-758-8286.

Words of Hope

The author Mark Twain once wrote, "I can live two months on a good compliment." Compliments are an easy way for us to show Godly love. God gave us a mind and vocal cords to not only think kindly of others, but to speak good words about them too. Compliments don't have to be complex either. Simple expressions can speak volumes. Want to brighten up someone's day today? Pay them a compliment!

"What Saith The Scriptures"

In 1 Peter 1:2 we read, "Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ. Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied." Paul talked about the Thessalonians election, "Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God." 1 Thess. 1:4. Peter speaks again about this in 2 Pet. 1:10, "Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure, for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall." Now how does this election work? God has cast a vote for your salvation. The devil has cast a vote for you being lost. We cast the deciding vote in the election, do we go with God and his Son, or do we go with Satan in the ways of sin? The choice is yours, God wants and has made every provision for your salvation, but you must cast the deciding vote in this election. If you believe and obey the Lord, you cast your vote for God. But if you decline the Lord in unbelief and disobedience, you are voting NO for God. Mark 8:24, "Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." We have a free Bible Correspondence Course, if you would like it.

Scenes from Halloween on Main

Mt. Vernon Police Chief Eddie Delaney is shown electronically fingerprinting two-year-old Courtney Payne during Monday's Halloween on Main in Mt. Vernon. Also in the photo is her father, Rockcastle County Constable Stanley Payne, left. Her mother, Diane, is shown at right. Officer Nathaniel Swartz is also shown helping with the fingerprinting. The Mt. Vernon Police Department began fingerprinting children a few years ago, as a public service.

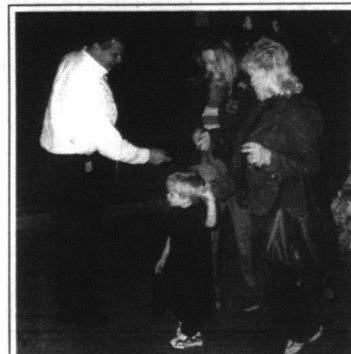

Over 1,000 mothers, fathers and children lined up to be treated on Monday night in Mt. Vernon. They got candy, toothbrushes and fruit, plus free entertainment. The wait on Halloween night was quite long at times.

Rockcastle Hospital Public Relations Director Mikhael Shaffer, left, passed out candy on Monday night during the Halloween on Main event held in Mt. Vernon. At least 2,000 people and little trick or treaters attended the event.

Steve and Robin Rumsey were on hand with their two trick or treaters Blaine and Reagan.

You could have gotten spooked at Kentucky Fried Chicken on Monday by Amanda Reed, Lucy Cole, Darlene Burdine, manager Denise Parsons and Terri Glover.

HE HELPED FOUND THIS STATE.
HIS DESCENDANTS STILL LIVE HERE.
HE'S THE ONE ON THE LEFT.

What came through the Cumberland Gap with Daniel Boone and the rest of Kentucky's first settlers? Horses. And they've been thriving here ever since. Today, the equine industry contributes as much as $4 billion annually to the state's gross domestic product — and it does so in every one of Kentucky's 120 counties. Perhaps 100,000 jobs are directly or indirectly dependent on the horse industry. And it's not just about race horses. The Quarter Horse is actually the largest breed in the state, and pleasure and sport horses of many other types populate farms throughout the Commonwealth.

Kentucky is in danger of losing its proud status as "Horse Capital of the World" because other states have cash incentives, tax incentives, and farming incentives that make horse breeding elsewhere far more financially attractive. If you agree that it's important for Kentucky to maintain and thrive in its leadership role in the world's equine business, find out how to help. The Family Room

By: Dr. Roy Don Whitehead

After her husband beat her that night, the police came and took her to the Emergency Room. She and her four children had nowhere to go. Where did she find help? The police brought her to Bethany House Abuse Shelter where she and her children could be safe. She had no money but that was not a problem. There is never a charge for the services that Bethany House provides.

One of the reasons Bethany House can offer free services is because of the support of United Way of South Central Kentucky. United Way supports 27 member agencies who provide help to many people in this area of Kentucky. Most families in South Central Kentucky have been touched in some way by one of the United Way agencies. United Way serves Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Green, McCreary, Pulaski, Russell, Taylor and Wayne counties.

Last year United Way member agencies served 38,930 people in the ten county Lake Cumberland Area Development District. That is enough to fill Rupp Arena one and one-half times. And every dollar raised by United Way stays right here at home!

This year the goal for United Way fund raising efforts is $400,000. That is an ambitious goal that will allow United Way to help the agencies that depend on it for funds. Robin McDaniel of Somerset is the chair of the 2005-2006 Campaign.

United Way deserves your support. Please complete the pledge information below and send it to: United Way, PO Box 861, Somerset, KY 42502. You do not have to send money now. United Way will bill you later. You may be able to make your donation at work by means of a payroll deduction. Contact your employer for details. If you have any questions, please call the United Way office at 606-679-2974.

What to Do with Your Lump-Sum Distribution?

Danny Miller, Agent
New York Life Insurance Company
 Thanks to the funds in your 401(k) or other type of employer-sponsored qualified retirement plan, if you are retiring or changing careers, you may receive a large chunk of money—possibly the biggest you've ever seen. That's why it's important that you do not overlook the need to "map out" a lump-sum distribution strategy to protect what you've accumulated. Ideally, it's best to choose a distribution option that meets your retirement needs, minimizes the impact of taxes, and avoids penalties.

Option #1
 One possible option is to directly roll your entire distribution into another qualified employer plan or Individual Retirement Account (IRA). A direct rollover to an IRA will avoid income taxes, a 10% early withdrawal penalty, as well as the current mandatory 20% federal withholding tax that is imposed if you elect to receive a check directly from your employer. In an IRA, all earnings continue to accumulate on a tax-deferred basis, allowing your money to compound and accumulate quicker than money placed in an identical taxable account.

To establish a direct rollover IRA, ask your former employer's plan administrator in writing to transfer the funds to the trustee of the new qualified plan or IRA. The plan administrator must provide you with the opportunity to make a direct rollover.

Option #2
 If your new employer accepts rollovers from another employer's plan, you can transfer the funds directly to its 401(k) plan or other type of qualified employer plan, avoiding current income taxes and the 20% withholding tax.

Option #3
 You may want to keep funds in your employer's plan until you reach the plan's retirement age or age 62, whichever is later. If that is an option, your funds will continue to accumulate tax-deferred and later can be moved to an employer's qualified plan or an IRA without penalty. If you are over the plan's retirement age or 62, your company may insist that you take a payout to decrease the plan's administrative costs. If this happens, you still have the option to make a direct rollover to an IRA.

Option #4
 This option allows you to receive funds in a distribution that is part of a series of substantially equal periodic payments made at least once a year after separation from service and lasting for:

- your lifetime;
- your lifetime and your beneficiary's lifetime, or

 • a period of ten years or more.
 In such situations, the 20% withholding rules do not apply. For this reason, this option may be suitable if you need funds to supplement your retirement income. The funds you receive will be subject to current income taxes. If you choose to receive funds for a period of 10 years or more and you are under age 59½, you may be subject to the 10% early withdrawal penalty. If you are already receiving fewer than ten annual payments, 20% of what you expected in a given year (and in future years) will be withheld. To avoid this, you can instruct your plan administrator to transfer the payments directly into an IRA. You can then establish a payout schedule to avoid the 10% early withdrawal penalty tax.

Option #5
 Some plans may allow you to take your lump-sum distribution in company stock. If your distribution consists of such stock, the mandatory 20% withholding tax will not apply. You will need to pay regular income tax, and may also be subject to the 10% early withdrawal penalty if you are under age 59½. One way to avoid this is to ask the plan trustee to sell the stock and put the proceeds into an IRA within 60 days from the time you receive your lump-sum distribution. By doing this, you will avoid current income taxes and the early withdrawal penalty.

Tax Pitfalls
 As you "map out" your distribution strategy, there are a number of potential tax pitfalls you should be aware of. Besides the 20% mandatory withholding tax, upon distribution you will have to pay current income taxes on all pre-tax contributions and earnings. And, a 10% early withdrawal tax (also known as a premature distribution penalty) will be imposed on the entire distribution if you are under age 59½, unless the withdrawal is due to death or disability or taken in substantially equal periodic payments. Certain other exceptions may apply.

Make an Informed Decision
 Be sure to weigh your distribution options carefully. Your decision could make the difference between a dream retirement or one where you struggle to meet basic needs. Neither New York Life nor its agents provide tax, legal or accounting advice, so because of its importance, be sure to consult with your professional advisors prior to making any decision. If you would like more information about insurance and other financial products, please contact Danny Miller, Agent, New York Life Insurance Company, at 606-308-3911.

On September 17, 2005 students from Master Eric Bullock's Mt. Vernon Shaolin Karate Club competed against students from all over the United States at the annual National Shaolin Karate Tournament at the Lexington Catholic High School. Treva Napier, left, competed in the Women's Brownbelt Division and won a first place medal in Sparring. Jason Napier, far right, competed in the Men's Blackbelt Division and received a first place medal in open hand for his performance of the drunken form Chao Ku Chui and a third place medal in weapons after performing the Three Sectional Staff. Master Eric Bullock, middle, participated in the demonstration. He performed the weapons katas: Chain Whip and Broad Sword and the Three Sectional Staff. He also participated in the Iron Man demonstration by having a board broken across his throat by Senior Master Bill Leonard. Master Eric Bullock also performed a very difficult Two Finger Handstand that had never before been performed at the National Shaolin Karate Tournament.

Brian Morrison, right, competed in the Teen Brownbelt Division at the National Shaolin Karate Tournament and won a second place medal in Sparring and a fourth place medal in Weapons. Brian also participated in the demonstration. He performed the weapons Kata Kwan Dao. Brian's teacher and fifth-degree blackbelt Master Eric Bullock is shown here with him.

Genealogy is a hobby enjoyed by increasing numbers of people every year. Now, this fascinating study of a family's past is also becoming increasingly important in helping people learn more about their health.

With the launching of the U.S. Surgeon General's Family History Initiative last Thanksgiving, more American families are tracing their health histories in an attempt to screen and prevent medical conditions for which they may be at risk. The initiative promotes family gatherings as a time to compile information for "My Family Health Portrait," a computerized tool that helps you organize your family tree and identify common diseases that may run in your family. It is available free on the Internet at www.hhs.gov/familyhistory/.

Much like other genealogical charts, the "My Family Health Portrait" has designated areas in which to document basic information about you and your relatives. But there are also areas in which you can include health conditions and the age at which the conditions occurred. If a relative is deceased, there is room to record the age at which the person died and cause of death.

Start your health portrait as you might start any other genealogical search: Talk to your relatives. Ask them about chronic illnesses such as heart disease, pregnancy complications such as miscarriage, and developmental disabilities.

The more specific the information, the better. It is recommended that you list the formal name of any medical condition that has affected you or your relatives. Get copies of medical records when possible.

Once you complete your family health portrait, it can be used by your health professional to individualize your health care. Be sure to make a copy for your records, and update it as circumstances change.

For more information, contact your Rockcastle County Cooperative Extension Service. Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

The Family Room
 By: Dr. Roy Don Whitehead

[Today's guest columnist is Anita Griggs, a student at Somerset Community College. This article first appeared in the SCC student newspaper, The Bridge.]

I was in an abusive marriage for almost seven years, and I finally had the courage and strength to get out of it in October 2003. When we first got married, our life seemed wonderful for a little while. But very shortly into the marriage, a severe drug problem came to light. I tried to help him get off the drugs, but I soon realized that a person that doesn't want help will not receive help.

About five months after we were married, we found out that I was pregnant. Deep down, I hoped this would change him. When I was about six months pregnant, he was trying to steal our rent money and leave to go use drugs. I was trying to stop him from leaving, and he became violent, and pushed me down to the ground. Luckily, the baby was fine, but I was an emotional basket case. This was the first of countless times that I would experience domestic violence in my own home. I instantly was scared and terrified of this man I called my husband.

During the duration of my marriage, he was charged with three counts of Domestic Violence-Simple Assault. The first time I pressed charges, he had thrown me all around the house, kicked me, and pulled me by the hair across a room. The second he gave me a fat lip and a black eye. I was 31 years old and had never had a black eye before.

The final charge of domestic violence came when he had pushed me out of a moving car, and left me stranded in an abandoned parking lot late at night. I ended up going to the emergency room after this incident. Being in this marriage almost cost me my life. I was to the point that suicide seemed like the only way out. I thank God for my children every day. Because they definitely gave me a reason to live.

There are many factors that keep women in abusive relationships. First, the fear of retaliation if she leaves; women who leave their husbands face a greater risk of homicide than those that stay. For many women, their abusers are the sole source of income for the family. Control over the victim is one of the ways the abuser stays in control; he usually won't allow her to get a job, and alienates her from friends and family.

In my case, all of these factors played a part in me staying for so long. I was scared of being a single parent, and I was completely financially dependent on him. I tried to have a job, but he would constantly harass me at work, and accuse me of infidelity and not working. He was extremely jealous, and extremely possessive. It was "his property, and his his wife."

I know for myself that by getting out of an abusive marriage that lasted for almost seven years, I not only saved my life, but also the lives of my children. Since I left my ex-husband in 2003 I have gone back to school, after not being in school for 15 years. My second semester in school I had a GPA of 3.5, and I am actively pursuing a career in Journalism.

I have regained my self-esteem and self-confidence in myself, which were two major things that he had taken away from me. I have two beautiful little girls that are very happy, well-adjusted children. I have two very loving parents that have been very supportive through everything that has happened. But most of all, I have a tremendous gratitude for life. I realize every day how I am a miracle, and that God gave me the strength and courage to stand on my own two feet and say, "Enough is enough."

Winstead - Garrett

Brigitte DeBorja-Winstead and Brent Garrett exchanged wedding vows on July 18th at Sandals Resort in Antigua, West Indies.

The bride is the daughter of Vicki Baudette-Selles of Lexington and Bobby DeBorde of Mt. Vernon. She is a graduate of Rockcastle Co. High School and Eastern Kentucky University, where she earned a degree as a registered nurse. She is employed at the University of Kentucky College of Dentistry.

The groom is the son of Shirley Garrett of Campbellville and the late Albert Garrett. He is a graduate of Campbellville High School and is employed at Toyota Manufacturing in Georgetown.

Once the newlyweds returned home they were honored with a reception at Broadway Christian Church in Lexington.

Day - Price

Gloria Day of Mt. Vernon and Benny Day of Stanford would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Angela Faith Day to Rodney Price, son of Debbie Shelton and Kenny Price of Crab Orchard.

The ceremony will take place Saturday, November 5th at 1:30 at Watts Chapel. No invitations are being sent. All family and friends are welcome to attend the ceremony.

PRIDE recognizes group for cleaning Great Salt Petre Cave

The November PRIDE Volunteer of the Month is a group of spelunkers who care for the Great Salt Petre Cave Preserve. The group's members, who live as far away as Cincinnati, were recognized for cleaning Rockcastle County's Pine Hill cave.

"These spelunkers made a rather unique contribution to the PRIDE initiative," said Richard Thomas, PRIDE executive director. "They went down in Pine Hill cave and pulled out the trash that had accumulated there. This was an important project because caves feed streams and groundwater, ultimately impacting our sources of drinking water. In addition, caves are part of the unique, natural resources that we enjoy and that attract tourists to our region."

The spelunkers worked about four hours to remove 55 bags of trash from the cave in April. The garbage had been thrown or washed into the cave over time.

James Renner, the Rockcastle County PRIDE Coordinator, nominated the club for special recognition. "It was a cool and extremely wet day," Renner said. "They were covered in mud and had to pass the trash out of the cave in buckets."

Month program recognizes hard work and dedication to the PRIDE initiative. With corporate sponsorship from TECO Coal, WYMT-TV in Hazard ads commercials about each

The spelunkers who participated in the cleanup were members of five local chapters, or "grottos," of the National Speleological Society, which explores and conserves cave and karst resources across the country. The local grottos maintain the 300-acre Great Salt Petre Cave Preserve in Rockcastle County.

Minds in the Middle

Ms. Dana Scott, whose sister Rachel Scott was killed at Columbine High School, will be presenting to our students on Thursday, November 3rd. At 6:00 Thursday evening she will also be presenting for our parents and community. This presentation will be a heart-wrenching story of this amazing young lady and the events that preceded that day in April of 1999. We encourage everyone to attend. You will have regrets if you miss this event.

Robinson Scholar applications are now available to all eighth graders whose parents do not have a four-year college degree. The Robinson Scholar program offers a full four-year scholarship to one of our students each year. Interested students should pick up an application in Mrs. Cromer's office during break as soon as possible.

The Student YMCA food drive began on November 1st and will continue through the 18th. The school goal is 2005 food items. The food will be donated to the Mt. Vernon Food & Clothing Mission.

We greatly appreciate our RCMS Unite officers for sharing information about drug use each morning during Red Ribbon Week. The Unite Club would also like to invite everyone to the Unite Rally next Wednesday at 6:00 at RCHS.

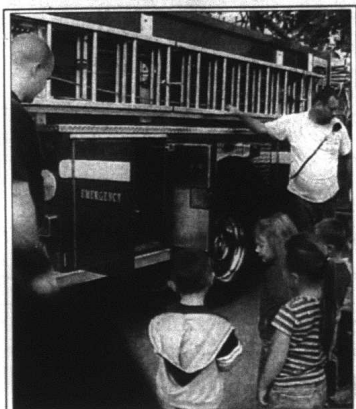

Mrs. Becky Smith's science classes had a great time on Friday with their Chemistry unit kick-off. The group learned much about the effects of liquid nitrogen on various objects. They were amazed at the many different effects that the liquid had upon their objects.

Once again, we would like to thank our cafeteria staff for their enthusiasm. Their decorations, music, and presentation for Halloween thrilled our students. These ladies are the best!

Next Tuesday, Mrs. Hale will begin an ACT prep class for those 7th grade students who are participating in the Duke University Talent Identification Program. Students may ride the tutoring bus if needed. The class will end at 4:45. Students will need to have a permission form in order to stay.

Congratulations to Chelsea Whiteley. Chelsea had the closest guess in the library "Pumpkin Head" contest. She correctly guessed that 432 pieces of candy were in the pumpkin and then got to take the pumpkin home with her.

We are proud of Mr. McNabb's homework for winning the attendance race last week with 99.35%. Mrs. Sadler's homeroom came in second place followed by Mr. Abney's group in third.

The Brodhead Fire Department visited BES students during their physical education special classes. The firemen discussed fire safety with the students.

Tiger Pause

The Brodhead Fire Department visited BES students during their physical education special classes. The firemen discussed fire safety with the students. BES appreciates their time and efforts.

The Brodhead Family Resource Center gave the preschool and kindergarten students a stuffed pumpkin this week. These pumpkins were donated by Outreach Sharing in Corbin, which is a CAP program.

Thanks to Michelle Pigg for her recent donation to the BFRC clothing closet. New or slightly used children's sweat pants with elastic waist are needed in the Resource Center. All other donations should be taken to the FBC mission in Mt. Vernon due to space limitations. Thanks.

Mrs. Dottie Sensabaugh Williams is "teacher of the week." Mrs. Dottie teaches fourth grade in the green pod. She is married to Wes Williams. They have two daughters and sons-in-law, Julie and Matt Chaliff and Janie and Brian Coffey. Mrs. Dottie has a white cat named Princess and a Blue Heeler dog named Kip. Mrs. Dottie's favorite food is Mexican, her favorite TV show is CSI, and her favorite color is blue. She has been teaching since 1975 and loves to laugh.

Youth Yak at RCHS

Submitted by Rockcastle County High School Youth Service Center

Though we are having several absences, the High School's attendance is actually up one percent. Shame on the Juniors and Seniors for allowing the Sophomores and the Freshmen to have better attendance.

The Sophomores Class is leading with 96.16%, followed by the Freshman Class with 95.91%. The Senior Class comes in 3rd with 95.72% and last is the Junior Class of 95.23%. These percentages are for the first 50 days of school. Let's see if those numbers can change as we continue through this year.

We at RCHS would like to extend our congratulations to the RCHS Volleyball Team. Although we did not bring home the final win at Sweet 16 and lost to Owensboro Catholic, we were present at the Sweet 16 and the Team has represented us well the entire season. This is the 3rd consecutive Sweet 16. Thanks Team!

The Football Team defeated Knox Central last Friday night. We are in the playoffs now! We host Macon County this Friday Night at 7:30 P.M. Tickets are $5.00. They put us out of the playoffs the last time we met on their field. Let's support our team by

Rachel's Challenge - Start a Chain Reaction

Presented by Dana Scott (Rachel's sister)
Dana has presented her sister's story all across America and in other countries. She has also appeared on Outline, Q101, ABC, CBS, NBC news as well as many other programs.

Rachel Joy Scott was one of the students killed at Columbine High School on April 20, 1999. Her acts of kindness and compassion coupled with the contents of her six diaries have inspired Rachel's Challenge, a program that has touched people across the nation.

This program will challenge our parents and community members to re-enforce the decisions that our youth are making, helping them to respond with positive words, attitudes, and actions.

Time: 6:00 p.m.
For students, parents, and community members

The Scott family found this outline of Rachel's hands on the back of her dresser 2 1/2 years after her death.

Rachel Scott's funeral was seen by the entire world on CNN with the largest viewing audience in the network's history. She was one of 12 homicide victims of Columbine High School.

Over the next five years, Rachel's family would share her story to over five million people in live settings, and many millions more through television, radio, and writings. Rachel's dad then started this international program that would touch millions of students.

Two complete leadership seminar at UC

University of the Cumberlands Office of Student Services announces that Jamey Robinson and Kimberly Ayers, both of Mt. Vernon, have recently completed a 10-session leadership seminar. The seminar is part of a four-year leadership project at University of the Cumberlands. Its purpose is to teach students how leadership is effectively exercised for the enhancement of personal skills. The seminar is designed to strengthen leadership skills, analyze characteristics of good leadership and assess leadership style and potential. Upon completion of the course, students were presented with a certificate of completion by Michael Colegrove, vice president for student services at UC, and Debbie Harp, director of career services.

Roundstone Elementary School recently completed a Fall session of 4H Clothing Projects. Students worked on their after-school projects October 17-21. Shown are: (front row l-r) Brianna Kirk, Kelly Anderkin, Amie Hale and Ryan Rawlins. Back row l-r are volunteer Janet Northern, Caleb Coffey, Sarah Pigg and Callie Northern.

Rockcastle County Middle School cordially invites Rockcastle County Veterans and their families to join with us for the

75th Anniversary Celebration of Veteran's Day

November 11, 2005

The celebration, honoring and remembering those who have served our country, will begin at 12:30 p.m. with a reception in the school's library for the veterans and their families. Following the reception we will convene in the gymnasium at 1:30 p.m. for a student-led program of honor.

We hope to see all our veterans there. Thank you for giving us this opportunity to recognize you and your service to our country.

Please call 256-5118 by November 8th with your plans to attend.

Library News

Pam Chalif and Kathy McKibbin

This past Tuesday the Rockcastle Library had an honored guest visiting with us during story hour. Mrs. Letha French, a native of Rockcastle County was on hand to observe story hour. Mrs. Letha and Mrs. Shirley Martin retired Broadhead Elementary School teacher will be teaming up in the near future to do a story that Letha has written, and work with the children, making crafts to go along with the story. Letha has also written five poetry books that are very well worth the read. The above two women have so many talents between them to numerous to even begin. We are honored that they are willing to take a part in our story hour here at the library.

We had a party for the story hour kids in the children's area of the library. Ms. Kathy read Clifford's Halloween and the children colored jack-o-lanterns and then decorated faces on the jack-o-lanterns, and made spider necklaces that are supposed to glow in the dark. Special refreshments were served and all had a good time. Much work and effort was put in to the big Halloween party that was held on October 31st here at the library for the community. I want to thank the library staff for stepping up to the plate and seeing to it the children and parents had a good time. I wish I could have been at the party, but personal obligations prevented it. I wish to thank Ms. Brenda Saylor form the County Extension Office for coming to story hour on Nov. 1st and doing a nutrition program with the parents and children.

We are looking forward to the Children's Book Week the week of November 14th - 18th. A huge display of children's books will be presented in the adult area of the library that week and the books will be ready for check out. If you have any questions about programming over the next couple of months please feel free to call and ask for Ms. Pam Chalif or Ms. Kathy McKibbin.

Ms. Pam drives the bookmobile and if she can be of assistance to you just call the library at 256-2388, or check out the library website @www.rockcastlelibrary.com and you can send an e-mail with any questions you may have.

We want to thank the Mt. Vernon Signal for all of the support it gives the public library. Not every public library is so fortunate to have the encouragement and support of its local newspaper. We appreciate you!

Why not be a part of the library family? Come on down and see for yourself what we have to offer, there are still a lot of people in our community who do not realize the many resources that are available. Make the connection, connect @ your library!

Special Thanks to Shirley Hoover.

A good group gathered to hear Clifford's Halloween.

PRIDE Volunteer of the Month. The 12 Volunteers of the Month are considered for the annual Tony Turner Volunteer of the Year Award.

"Volunteers deserve much of the credit for the visible improvement in our region's environment," said Congressman Hal Rogers, PRIDE co-founder. "We want to thank TECO Coal for helping PRIDE give these generous people the recognition they deserve."

Since PRIDE began in 1997, more than 150,000 volunteers have dedicated almost 500,000 hours to cleanup and environmental education projects.
