Volleyball team is honored

The Rockcastle County Board of Education honored the Rockcastle County High School Volleyball team on Tuesday night, recognizing their third straight 13th region title.

The board hosted a reception for the team, before the regular board meeting, and each player in attendance spoke briefly to the board, after Superintendent Larry Hammond and board chairman Terry Burton made encouraging remarks.

Hammond not only praised the team for their accomplishments on the floor but also for their academic achievements while at RCHS.

"We are proud of you all for representing the county in the state tournament three years in a row," said board chairman Terry Burton.

Other actions by the board included another review of the system's test results from last year, in which the system finished 15th overall.

75th Veterans' Day is Friday

Many Rockcastle Countians have served the U.S.

By: Richard Aderkin
Rockcastle County has many individuals who have served their country in the armed services throughout the years and, on Friday, they will be honored in a national day of appreciation, as always.

November the 11th is Veterans' Day and many businesses, the Rockcastle County Courthouse, post offices and banks will be closed in honor of the brave men and women who have served the United States.

Rockcastle County has veterans from every war, from World War I to the war in Iraq.

Mt. Vernon First Christian Church preacher Bruce Ross gave a history of why there is a Veterans' Day last Sunday. His remarks follow:

"November the 11th, 1918 at 11 a.m., the Great War of World War I ended with the implementation of an armistice between the allied countries and Germany.

The next year, 1919 President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed the first Armistice Day. In his words to the citizens of the United States the sitting President said:

"To us in America, the reflections of Armistice Day will be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service and with gratitude for the victory, both because of the thing from which it has freed us and because of the opportunity it has allowed America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the councils of the nations"

In 1920, on the second anniversary of the Armistice, France and the United Kingdom held ceremonies honoring their unknown dead from the First World War.

In America, at the suggestion of religious leaders, President Wilson named the Sunday nearest Armistice Day as a day on which Americans should hold services in the interest of international peace.

The following year, 1921, the United States Congress passed legislation to approve the establishment of a Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

In October of 1921, Congress also declared November 11th as a federal holiday in honor of all those who participated in World War One.

On June 1, of 1954, the former great General, who was elected President after returning from World War II, Dwight Eisenhower, signed legislation changing the name of the legal holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans' Day.

The United States has been served by many Rockcastle Countians, among them are Charles Ray Hasty, Edd Hunt and Tom Atkinson, to name a few. A portion of their stories from their service to our country follows.

Mt. Vernon resident Charles Ray Hasty, now 89, was a career military man, spending 21 years in the armed services and serving with the first Calvary Division in the Pacific Theatre during World War II and then in the Korean War.

Although somewhat reluctant to talk about his army days, he talked of the horror he saw during World War II on the beaches of Okinawa.

"When we hit the beaches on Okinawa, I was scared to death because of the soldiers in front of me who had already been killed and died on the sand, but we still had to rush the Japanese," he said.

Hasty, who volunteered, said his company finally managed to dig several bunkers where he, and what was left of his fellow soldiers, were pinned down for a period of time that he now cannot recall. "It seemed like forever," he said.

One of the soldiers, who was in the same bunker, was picked off by a sniper. "It wasn't pretty and I was scared as I could be but I knew I had to lead my men and that we were in for the fight of our lives," he said.

"We did not have any food and little water," he added.

Hasty, who had attained the rank of Sergeant, carried a Tommy Gun the entire time he was in the conflict with Japan. He said that he and all his men slept with their guns. "You never did know when the lips would strike," he said.

Hasty, who volunteered at age 24, said recruiters told them the world only be in the Army for about three months, when he enlisted in January of 1941.

Hasty did his basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas on a horse because

Will be sentenced to ten years Movie Warehouse robber pleads guilty

A Livingston man has pled guilty to robbery, second degree, for the August 14th robbery of Movie Warehouse which is located on West Main Street in Mt. Vernon.

Rockcastle County's largest home video rental store was robbed by David Lee Durham, 27, who pled guilty two weeks ago in Circuit Court, according to a news release from Commonwealth Attorney Eddy Montgomery's office.

At the time of the robbery, Durham told employees, Ty Bottoms and Martin Abney, that he had a gun, even though he didn't show one, and left with the money in the cash register.

Durham, who was positively identified by other customers in the store at the time, turned himself into police the next day.

Assistant Commonwealth Attorney Jeremy Bartley has recommended a sentence of ten years in jail.

His sentencing date is November 17.

Five other Rockcastle countians were formally sentenced by Circuit

Fiscal Court seeks bids for dump hauling

Tuesday's agenda for the regular November meeting of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court was a long one but consisted of only routine items of business.

The Court did approve the advertisement for bids for hauling of the contents of an illegal dump on the Bryant Ridge Road to the Tr K Landfill in Lincoln County. Bids will be accepted November 21 at 9 a.m.

The court also put off until the November 21st meeting, a decision on helping the Broadhead Fire Department to finance the purchase of a new fire engine. The department has received a grant from Homeland Security for $100,000 but the department needs additional financing of $40,000. At an earlier fiscal court meeting, representatives of the department asked the court to borrow the money through the Kentucky Association of Counties (KACCO).

The court asked for substantial help with the repayment of the loan. The court was told at the time that the City of Broadhead was currently doing all they could, financially, for the department but that the department itself could "help" with the payments.

The magistrates decided to hold

Mt. Vernon council asked to help with free TV programming

Jerry Burke was at the Mt. Vernon City Council meeting Monday night to ask the council's help with setting up local programming over Charter TV.

As part of their franchise agreement with the city, Charter will provide a channel (Channel 3 - KETZ) for the city's use as a public channel for various entities including churches.

The council was asked to provide a controller (at a cost of about $1,000) which would be used for transmission of the programs to Charter.

Burke said that his church, First Baptist Church, would be the first to use the channel.

Appreciation to Rockcastle County Schools...

Dear Editor,
During this year's American Education Week — November 13-19, 2005 — educators, parents, students, and community leaders will join the National Education Association (NEA) and the Kentucky Education Association (KEA) in raising awareness about the critical need to provide every child with a quality public education.

Eastern Kentucky University's College of Education wishes to take this opportunity to salute the strides made by Rockcastle County Schools ensuring that every child can achieve in the 21st century. Teachers, education support professionals, other school staff, parents and community members play roles critical to every school's success. The College wishes to offer our deep appreciation to all involved in educating our youth.

We wish to reinforce American Education Week's 2005 theme, "A Strong America Starts with Great Public Schools." The theme reaffirms the vital work that takes place within the College of Education and the University as a whole, to yield the best prepared education professionals for the schools of the Commonwealth. Of note is that the College of Education has been preparing teachers for nearly 100 years. In 1996 legislation was passed that formed what is now EKVU, creating an institution to prepare teachers for the Commonwealth. The College of Education would like to take this opportunity to launch the celebration of its Centennial Year and invite the people of our service region to join in the events. News and events will be announced on our website: www.coe.eku.edu.

For more information on American Education Week, please visit www.nea.org/aw. Thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Marlene Helm

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

Last Monday evening, Halloween, I was driving home from Lexington. I will have to say that Lexington is one of the most beautiful cities I've ever seen in the fall and winter. As I drove, I was listening to an "Oldies" radio station. What else? Of course, I remember when the songs weren't old. They had a public service announcement playing periodically that indicated that most of the local hospitals would be X-ray-ing children's Trick-or-Treat candy later that evening for sharp and/or foreign objects. Thankfully, I can remember a more kind and innocent age when that would have been unnecessary—the age when the music I was listening to was popular rather than a novelty.

A day or so later, I heard of a Halloween prank in Colorado in which someone had put Super-Glue on a toilet seat in the men's room. Now the chain of stores where the toilet seat was located is being sued for three million dollars. Of course, now, there will be a rash of toilet seat glue-guns on the part of pranksters as well as other individuals willing to sacrifice their behinds for the sake of big bucks.

I just have one question: with all of the foolish pranksters running around, who needs terrorists? I say to the terrorists: don't worry about spending thousands of dollars trying to blow us up, trying to secretly infiltrate our society, or undermine our government; just leave us alone to our own devices. We are perfectly capable of doing the job ourselves.

I've often been accused of dwelling in the past, and reminiscing too much, and it often overflows into my writing. I'm sure, on occasion, it does but on the other hand there are a lot of other folks who, like me, tell me that they like to re-live the "good old days" when life was more simple. So for those folks, I'd like to reminisce for a few minutes, and we'll all travel back in time to an era not too long ago, at least in my mind's eye, and tell you of a story my husband loves for me to tell.

When I was a little girl growing up in a rural part of Kentucky, each little community had a general store, usually family-owned and operated. Our community had four such little general stores, all within about five-mile distance. One even had a little lunch counter and dining room.

The general store I want to focus on is called "Ott's Grocery." It was built in the mid-1800s, and was still in 1960s, when I was a kid growing up. However, today they have a new building located only a few yards from the older general store, which is still standing. The new store is all new, and shiny and clean but it sure lacks a lot of the charm and character of the "mother" store.

It was founded and owned by the Ott family, a founding Swiss family to the area called Swiss Colony just west of London. They settled there about 1800. The store has passed from generation to generation ever since, much like the surrounding family farms that pass from generation to generation. The community was close-knit, most folks being related in some way.

When I was growing up, the proprietor was Paul "Bud" Ott and his Andy and Keeter, my younger brothers, rolled into Frisco Lick last Sunday night way after dark, dead tired.

They had left Redstar in Letcher County in the early AM intending to fill coolers full of redeye and small mouth bass which is normally like self defense within eyesight of Keeter's house there on the hill overlooking the river at Red Star.

Normally, you put a bait in the water and pull a fish out if you don't mind waiting a few minutes and the fishing just gets better and better as you head northwest.

They had fished every hole of water between the headwaters of the north fork of the Ky River and then moved over the ridge in Leslie County and fished from the mouth of Big Creek and on down the Red Bird River to where it hooks up with the South Fork of the Ky there in Oneida and made a day out of it.

They took the back roads into Berea and on out to Paint Lick—call it 45 miles from here to Oneida.

Never caught a fish—out of gin-clear water and they showed up at my house hungry. Two weeks ago you'd have to have had a gondola to haul the fish that could have been caught, bare hooked and blindfolded out the stretches of water they fished on Sunday.

I was so looking forward to small-mouth fillets.

How many ways can you spell bow-wow? I had the skillets hot but when my brother's rolled in, we fired up fillets of Armour Star.

So Monday morning we had breakfast there at Happy Landing there on 52 between Paint Lick and Richmond—sausage gravy and eggs the way we liked them, biscuits split open, with the gravy poured over them, coffee, milk, orange juice as so forth and it cost us nearly ten dollars to not get all three of us out of the place. Not only that, but Andy left a paper money tip—well deserved, if I may say so.

I like to take my brothers to the high dollar places when they come to visit once a year so I'm not complaining about the price because the food is incredibly good and they don't serve scrapple at Happy Land-

Juror Selection

The selection of jurors for potential service in a source of great curiosity to most, and few have any idea how they came to be called as a potential juror. The answers lie within Kentucky's statutory procedures which were substantially revised in 2001.

The chief circuit judge is charged with the task of summoning new jurors at the request of a district or circuit judge.

The chief judge may delegate this responsibility to another judge, the circuit clerk or a deputy clerk, or a court administrator.

When jurors are needed, the chief circuit judge or delegate causes summons to be mailed to the prospective jurors. If the juror does not return the form within ten days, the sheriff is directed to personally serve the juror.

If appropriate, the court may, in its discretion, excuse prospective jurors for up to 10 days, or postpone service for up to 12 months. Jurors

Livingston School Reunion held at Preston Parrett Gym

The Preston Parrett Gym was once again filled with a happy, boisterous crowd on Saturday evening, October 29, 2005. More than 300 former students, teachers, staff, and friends gathered there for the annual Livingston School Reunion. The group gave special recognition to the graduates of 1945, 1955, and 1965.

Following tradition at the reunion a poem written by former basketball coach Preston Parrett was read. The poem acknowledged the work of County Judge Executive Buzz Carloffits and other county and state officials to restore the gym and recalled many fond memories of events held at the gym. The group turned the tables on Mr. Parrett when Billy Wayne Bryant read a poem about Coach Parrett written by Paul Jones. Billy Wayne and Paul were among several former basketball players and cheerleaders who attended the Reunion.

Mrs. Pauline Mullins Eaton was inducted into the Livingston School Hall of Fame in recognition 39 years of dedicated service she provided the students of Livingston School and Rockcastle County. Pauline was born to Essil and Grace Bullock Mullins of Mullins Station. Her early school years were spent at the Thomas Riley (TR) Mullins School at Mullins Station. In the middle of the eighth grade she transferred to Livingston School where she continued until her graduation from high school in 1941. After high school Pauline attended Eastern State Teacher's College for 2 years and earned her qualification as a teacher.

She returned home to teach at TR Mullins. Her next teaching position was at the Lone Oak School, also known as the Thad Drew School. She then transferred to Livingston to teach the 3rd grade. After a few years she began to teach geography, physical education and health in the high school. She remained at Livingston until 1959. While teaching Mrs. Mullins continued her education at Eastern where she ultimately completed her Bachelor's degree.

She left the county briefly to teach in for two years in McCreary County. Upon her return to Rockcastle County she took additional college coursework at Eastern and the University of Kentucky (UK) to prepare as a Speech Correction teacher. She completed a Master's degree and an additional 30 hours beyond the degree at UK. Mrs. Mullins started the first speech correction program in Rockcastle County and traveled to each school in the county to work with students. She continued in the position until 1982 when she retired.

After her retirement Mrs. Mullins married Mr. Johnny Eaton and acquired a lovely family that now includes two sons and daughters-in-law, 7 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. The evening concluded with a drawing for a door prize, a copy of the book First a Garden written by former Livingston student, Jon Carloffits.

The Gym
By Preston Parrett
The gym was silent
There wasn't a sound,
For it had been trashed
And it was the worst sight around.
The gym lay in this sad state

For many years in disarray,
Until Judge Carloffits and the magistrates
Voted to repair it one day.

Judge Carloffits with little money
Led the fight to set things right.
Using volunteers from the county
Who painted, floored, and upgraded the lights.

It was a massive undertaking
And for each dollar spent he got real value,
For his staff of workers were great
And they put their hearts into making it look new.

When they had got done
It was a structure that was beautiful to see
And everyone that came in were amazed
And proud of the gym's new beauty.

It was put back like it was before
The school closed down
And all the former students meeting here tonight,
Have a memory that they could share

Of a bygone day and make it right
For each one here can remember
The games that were lost or won,
And the assembly programs
That were lots of fun.

They can remember the Junior play
And the struggle to learn their parts,
And how proud they were to put on the show
That can from their hearts.

And they can still remember
The banquets and food there,
And the beauty of the girls and boys

More than 300 former students, teachers, staff and friends gathered for the annual Livingston School Reunion.

Dress in gowns, suits and tuxes so fine

Of all the activities that were held
One sticks out in the mind so fair,
Of walking across the stage to get one's diploma
And proudly showing it to kinfolks gathered there.

As we gather here tonight in memory hall
Let us be thankful for those who had a dream,
To bring the old gym back to life,
And let it shine like a new moon beam.

Let us all thank the Judge and magistrates
And all those who aided him in his quest,
To refurbish and make the gym
useful again
As a meeting place, a place to play and a place of beauty and rest.

Coach Parrett By Paul Jones
Coach Parrett was a coach that really loved to win.
If you lost a game don't think you were gonna get a grin.

And don't think you were gonna get to lay out late at night,
Because when his bedtime for you came due, you'd better be under cover and out of sight.

He traveled the road from Brothhead to Livingston every night to make sure you were in bed,
If you were caught past the curfew,
he would make you run till you just about fell over dead.

Now Coach Parrett would never kick the bleachers or thrown the clipboard,
And if you believe this, buzzards have never soared.

Coach Parrett, I know basketball has meant so much to you and winning was your glory,
But deep down in your heart I know it didn't mean near as much as your wife, cause she gave you so much Joy.

So now as we all travel down the road that leads back to our wonderful school,
Think of Coach Parrett, all the trips
he made, how dedicated he was,

So, anyway, we ran out and bought five live minnows and 12 dozen live night crawlers at the Kain store in Richmond. (I have the cash register receipt to prove it). And then we headed for Silver Creek there off James Mill Road.

It was a sunny, sleeveless day last Monday. Andy actually caught three size small mouth bass on artificial bait but I turned them all back in. Kipper swears he got a bite on a night crawler. I was very nervous about the night crawler in the creek instead of putting it back in the bucket. Nothing that I could tell, ever smelled of it.

On Tuesday morning we headed to Cedar Creek Lake in Lincoln County to fish off the banks into the tops of the oaks. Andy kept catching little bass on his Mister Twister. Kipper caught a few on his night crawler as did yours truly. But nothing big enough among us to keep according to the grading scale put out by the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife.

In the meantime, I have over 12 dozen live night crawlers and probably about 150 minnows all faring well in cups and buckets in my garage refrigerator. Keith and Andy have long since left and are, I presume, still well in Letcher and Floyd Counties.

Please know that if you are buying fish bait in Richmond, they may give you extra measure and the Kain Folie. I've been counting and I can tell you one heck of a deal on live bait.

may also be permanently excused due to permanent medical conditions. Jurors frequently request to be excused for work related reasons, family responsibilities, or religious beliefs. While a trial judge has some limited discretion, the proffered reasons for excuse are frequently legally insufficient and as a practical matter, pose significant logistical hurdles.

Litigants typically wait from one to three years before a case reaches trial. When a trial cannot occur due to a lack of jurors, the litigants' right to the timely administration of justice is frustrated. The master list of prospective jurors for a county is comprised from three sources:

All persons over age 18 and hold a valid driver's license issued in the county;

All persons registered to vote in the county, and;

All persons within the county who file a Kentucky resident individual income tax return.

Each year, the Administrative Office of the Courts receives a master juror list for each county and compiles it with a list of deceased persons from the Department of Vital Statistics. The Administrative Office of the Courts then purges those prospective jurors who have died, moved out of county, or who have been permanently excused from service.

To be eligible to serve, prospective jurors must be:

- 18 years of age, or older;
- A U.S. citizen; and,
- A county resident.

Prospective jurors who do not possess an adequate knowledge of English, or convicted felons (who have not received a restoration of civil rights), or are presently under indictment are disqualified from service.

Rather than a painful burden, selection for jury service is an opportunity to participate in a democratic process which date back to 1215. Only qualified citizens can fulfill the inherent right that Kentucky citizens possess to have their case resolved by fair and impartial jurors.

ing veterans of Pearl Harbor. When the local people gathered something about going to the store, they usually referred to it as "going down to Bud's for a while." It was almost like visiting a neighbor.

In a sense, it was visiting a neighbor. When you get there, you wouldn't dream of knocking-jug walk right in. One of the fondest memories about the store was that old screen door. It was an old-fashioned wood door with all of the fancy wood carvings that it called "gingerbread" today. Across the front of it was a metal strip the width of the door advertising Kern's brand that acted as a handle. Upon entering the store, there was an area about twelve to eighteen inches square and about an inch deep ingrained in a solid wood floor. There were areas which squeaked and popped throughout the store. The sign just inside the door was worn from hundreds of customers stepping in virtually the same spot for almost a hundred years. There were even little, worn, paths throughout the wood floor from the footsteps of the customers, although the decaying.

The first thing you saw entering was a big, red, chest-type cooler filled with various kinds of Coke products. On the other side of the Coke cooler, placed back-to-back was a Pepsi product cooler, and I think that there was even a cooler for RC products cool. It was a nice sight to see the store filled with cold glass bottles of delicious refreshment. I think that all of that goodness for only ten cents. There were kinds of pop available that isn't even made anymore. Like the ones, people bought a bottle of Coke, Pepsi, or RC only to put a pack of salted peanuts in it; they always floated to the top. I never tried it, as I didn't think I'd like salty soda.

The store carried a wide variety of merchandise. They had everything from sewing notions such as bolts of material, outdoors, hardware, footwear, food for a variety of livestock, fresh fruits and vegetables, baked goods, canned goods, fresh-to-sock products, dairy (back then, homemade milk, butter, and cheese), paper products, or most anything else. It was old time Wal-Mart, without the wait.

I opened about six AM, and stayed open until about eight PM. Most any time you wanted to stop by, except for Sunday, you could find the folks from the community gathered there, most gathered in the center, some on the benches where there was some old, cane-bottomed chairs and an old, wooden table. There was a bench that ran the length of the counter where people often sat, too. The people gathered there, not only to shop but to socialize, and I've known of a few checker games or friendly card games to break out while sitting close to an old, black, pot-bellied stove on cold, winter days.

The very best feature of the store I've saved until last. Just to the right when you came in, there was this counter that I had mentioned that ran the length of the store from behind which the proprietor filled your order, and ran an old, manual cash register that looked right out of the turn-of-the-century. You could pay in cash, but most of the community had credit that was as good as gold. On the end of that counter near the front door, there was a candy counter. There were everyday bars of candy like Snickers, Mars, or Baby Ruth, but I was most interested in what was called the store's "mix." There, not only large, glass display case divided in sections that held about six or eight different kinds of candy. It was just about eye-level to a kid. It held such delights as B-B Bats (strawberry, banana, and chocolate flavored taffy on a stick about two inches long), big, quarter-sized jawbreakers (cinnamon red-hot), various flavors of suckers, gum drops, lemon drops, bubble gum, Tootsie Rolls, coconut bonbons, and at least two or three other varieties. The grocer sold it by the bag, paper of course. A big bag was about eight inches high, and held about half of a half gallon plastic jug by today's standards, or about a pound and a half. The small bag held about half that. The large bag cost a quarter, and the small bag cost a dime. All you had to do was tell the grocer, which one you wanted, the large or the small bag, and he would begin to "mix" the candy by putting in a few pieces of each, and he would fill that bag brimming full.

I usually got the small bag, and a cold pop out of the cooler which cost three cents. The bottle deposit was three cents. So, for a quarter, I had enough candy to last for about a week, and a pop to drink on the way back home, as I walked down that little, dusty, narrow, country road. I was just as happy and content as a kid would be today with hundred-dollar sneakers, a Playstation, and a cell phone.

You know, I sometimes yet visit that little general store, and I often walk down that dusty little road. The store hasn't changed a bit. It looks the same. The people of the community are still there. The screen door has a familiar slat, and the floor a familiar squeak. The candy is just as sweet, and the pop just as cold. The prices haven't changed, either. It's so good to be able to visit there, to enjoy another familiar setting tomorrow. Thank God for reminiscing.

have so we decided to do things as follows until we get to a place.

During the spring, summer and fall of 2006, we will have designated places for people to come out and get what they want such as clothes, shoes, etc. We will announce the dates and times in the Signal and on WRVK radio so we get closer to these reasons.

We have received several calls this week alone, from folks who are concerned about the mission. We are not closed, we just get set back a little. We want anyone with an urgent need (emergencies) to please call us at 758-4203 or 758-8546. We appreciate a call from you who help us in any way.

We are still accepting your donations, clothes, shoes, furniture and monetary gifts. We will also accept store certificates from Wal-Mart. We were given some last year and they were very much appreciated. Many families benefited by receiving them. So, will you please give generously and get prepared to give so we can meet 2006 a greater year for the needy.

On Oct. 22, the last day we were open in the building on 461, we were there just for five hours and had over 200 people come in for items. By giving, these families get what they needed. Sometimes things set up back a little but, I will not give up on trying to make someone a little more comfortable by being there when they need it. We are in need of someone in need, call us.

We are unable to do Christmas baskets this year due to changes and I apologize for that. My prayer is that will always do the Lord's Will and that the days have what is needed for folks when they need it.

May God bless you during the holiday. As I said before, thank you for helping us to help others. We are not the biggest mission but we try harder.

Sincerely,
Kathy Breta

Will revise Livingston...

Dear Editor,

My name is Genevieve (Jenny) Dore, I live in New Iberia Louisiana. I visit your county often and refer to it as my second home. I love the countryside and the refreshing breeze that comes in from the coast of pace but mostly the people there. Each time I return I stay a little longer. I have been recently looking into purchasing property and possibly make a seasonal home and reside here later. I have concerns about the area where I spend most my time. The tiny town of Livingston. I watched progress and restoration for two years, and looked forward to each visit could tour the new additions, the revitalization of something long ignored, fresh new paint, the beautifully kept park and all the colorful flowers, every visit brought more desire to return. I have taken so many pictures to share with my family, friends and associates of the beautiful little town that I talked about continuously. Some agreed with me that this would be a wonderful place to invest into small business and property. My fiancé is part owner of two companies, a modular home court and rental properties in Louisiana, and an oilfield construction co. I thought that investing into Livingston would not set out for me, but probably be enjoyable. I understand also, as with all towns, finances are sometimes tight, and maybe I could contribute to making it possible for the small town to prosper and have much needed funds to further restore and revitalize the community.

On the last few visits have saddened me. I question my initial desire to visit and purchase properties. The town is no longer immaculately kept, graffiti marks the buildings on main street, trash and debris are strewn throughout the town, garbage cans overflowed and running into the street and sidewalks. The covered picnic shelter no longer clean and inviting, but cluttered with someone's personal household garbage in the fire-place, the waste cans are missing, many lawns cover the taking care of the grounds are overgrown and full of beer and soda cans. The beautiful murals being done on the once dingy walls through town were now painted over or destroyed with graffiti type markings, the American flags that lined the street were gone, I couldn't believe the spiral that had taken the once vigorously alive town into a dreary uninviting scene. Gone are the happy sounds of children laughing, and playing, the once vibrant "small town" friendliness seems to have evaporated and the sadness seems to be apparent in every face.

I was so saddened by the last few visits, I walked around and spoke with a few of the acquaintances that I have made there, I asked what happened, why is the town seemingly falling apart? Where is the jubilation that was so abundant only a few months ago? From a few I got a simple answer, "same as always" it won't ever be nothing else here but just what you see now. One elderly gentleman even told me, "child its best to just not ask." It won't change nothing anyway. It was almost like it was a dirty secret that he spoke of and brought him shame.

I went to the county seat and spoke with some acquaintances I had met and spent some time with on earlier visits. I told them, I was there to inquire and learn what I can of what is going on in Livingston, explained that I needed to know both on a personal level and a business level. After all I don't want to invest money into an area when I can't find out why it seems to be regressing.

I learned not only the gentleman that I met as Mayor was no longer Mayor, that he had resigned due to his discovery of the intentions of the water supplier for the town to suspend services because of non payment by the city. Though he was advised in more than one meeting ALL bills were current. Also accusations of theft and wrong doing within the city's staff, this seemed to be a recurring situation. I was stunned by these words. It was suggested I go to the local paper or the county library and ask for back issues or archives of the local paper and see the reports, articles and letters.

It was so saddening, although not surprising (being from Louisiana and its own political issues) to find small town politics and less than legitimate actions can still in this day and age be carried by the community. Meetings with engineers, financial institutes, planners and Architects were attended by him and the County Superintendent, none of the council ever attended. Now it would fall into the hands of the administration who hadn't at that time had an interest in the project until the funds were made available.

In the years I have come through and visited there, never has improvement been more obvious than it has been for the last couple of years, and now I find it was all met with resistance from his own staff? Why? I have to ask that question WHY? The property value alone had to increase. Meetings with engineers, financial institutes, the citizens were only pleased with the improvements, and proud of their town. I know I was interested in property and business possibilities and I had spoken to other investors who were very much improvement and upgrading in their own community? Can those few people legally make decisions of land about the town even if it isn't what the majority of the population want? If there were illegal practices being allowed, will the many thousands of dollars appropriated for the water project be misappropriated also?

The threat of disconnection of the city water supply for flagrant payment was simply a shock to me! Even with new lines and facilities to store water, if the supplier isn't getting payment no doubt they would be forced to suspend services. What happened to the monies that was collected by the city money for all them months? Those funds are to be used ONLY for the upkeep and continuing services provided to paying customers. Why want the city paying the supplier? Has anyone asked where all those funds went? Why they weren't used to assure non interrupted water services to the customers who were paying? Are these the actions the gentlemen told me I would be "better off NOT asking about"? I learned councilwoman Katha Carpenter is in charge of City Hall, and the position of Clerk Tina Tyree. With robbers that the police themselves state are "inside jobs" in the local paper, and missing funds, WHY is nobody demanding polygraphs and further investigation into just who it is committing these crimes. WHY is there nothing done about these illegal acts? I have only one question. WHO allowed these actions to continue. Why does the County Sheriff reply when asked about the robbery? "We are still waiting on Times to come and take a polygraph test" better yet why is she refusing to submit to the test??

I apologize for taking so much space, and please if anyone from that beautiful little town takes any offense to my opinions of the way they are being treated accept my apology now, because I fully intend on returning, and I wouldn't have it that the beauty, the smiling faces and the joyful sound of laughter are again there. I hope to be able to assist in anyway to restore the beauty and the liveliness that made your town so very attractive and such a comfort to others, who are passing through, came for a visit and certainly the residents.

Respectfully yours,
Jenny Dore

Mrs. Molly Belcher, cousin of local author Craig Crawford, has presented a copy of his book Attack the Messenger to the Rockcastle Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution in memory of deceased member, Mrs. Laura McHargue. The Rockcastle Chapter has donated this book to the Rockcastle County Library to commemorate Mrs. McHargue's 103rd birthday on November 11. Pictured above, Mrs. Jennifer Mattingly, great granddaughter of Mrs. McHargue and a prospective DAR member, presented the book to Librarian Mrs. Pam Challiff. Molly Belcher and her sister, Betty Lou Adams are nieces of Mrs. McHargue. The Rockcastle Library will add a lovely book plate on the inside of the book. Anyone who is interested in donating a book in memory of a loved one should contact Mrs. Challiff.

I think this is so cool.

I know he hated to see his players put on that cap and gown, Cause next year on that gym floor they would not be running up and down.

One thing that happened during my time, with Coach Parrett that comes back to mind was when he lifted up the covers at Carrie Loudermilk's house.

There he found Ralph Allen and Ray Kirby each being quiet as a mouse.

He must have had ESP to know they were there, Or was it Ralph's head shining cause he had no hair.

Without either saying anything at all,

These two guys knew the next game they would not be playing ball.

There's just no other coach in all the world that loves the basketball game like Coach Parrett did during his career.

And I know he still loves his players because he's always at the Old Timer's Game each and every year.

We all still love him too, and are very glad to see him when it's time to play again.

Coach Parrett was not only a good coach to us, he's everyone's friend.

God bless you Coach Parrett for all you did for our school and the dedication to our basketball teams.

I hope you stay healthy and live to be at least one hundred and thirteen.

So you can see Coach Parrett really loved Livingston and the game of basketball.

And the players, cheerleaders, parents, and friends know you are the greatest of all.

Faith Chapel Pentecostal Church appreciates their pastor and wife, Brother Virgil Bustle and Sister Bessie. We love you both and we thank you for all your hard work and dedication.
 May God Bless You Both Always!

Events planned for Ashlee's House during November

Several events are planned during November for Ashlee's House, a homeless shelter in Mt. Vernon. The shelter, located on Main Street in Mt. Vernon, is named for Ashlee Carter, daughter of Betty Carter Russell and Jerry Carter, who was killed in a car accident in December, 1993. Since Ashlee always had a soft spot in her heart for the homeless, especially children, the shelter was funded for Rockcastle County and named in her honor.

The shelter was established through Daniel Boone Development Council. It has sheltered over 200 families since it was opened in December of 1994. The shelter is made up of three units and can house up to ten people at one time.

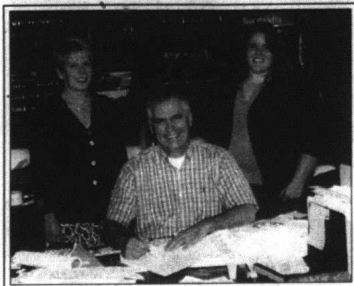

The month's events will include a Pizza hot Fundraiser on Tuesday, November 7th. Pam Burdette, Pizza Hut manager, will be donating 20% of all proceeds to Ashlee's House.

eat in, take out or delivery all day long.

Also during the week of November 14-18, the Rockcastle County High School's Y-Club will be conducting a towel and washcloth drive for Ashlee's House. These are items furnished for those using the shelter. Also at the high school, statistics about hunger and homelessness are being read daily during the morning announcements.

Sunday, November 13, 2005 has been designated Homeless Sunday and all churches are being asked to take time during the morning service to promote homeless awareness and ask their congregations to keep the homeless and hungry in their thoughts and prayers, especially as the holiday season is quickly approaching.

Monetary donations will be appreciated and accepted at Ashlee's House, 105 E. Main St.

November 13-19, 2005 has been designated as National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week in Rockcastle County. Monday, Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carlotta signed the official proclamation as Betty Russell, local director of Ashlee's House and the Daniel Boone Development Council and Tammy Camel, Homeless Program director for Daniel Boone, look on. Ashlee's House is located on Main Street in Mt. Vernon. For assistance call (606) 256-5315.

A Resolution Proclaiming November 13-19, 2005 as National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week in Rockcastle County

By County Judge/Executive Buzz Carlotta

Whereas, for the past several years, the National Coalition for the homeless and National Student Campaign Against Hunger and Homelessness have sponsored National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week, and

Whereas, the purpose of the proclamation is to educate the public about the many reasons people are hungry and homeless, including the shortage of affordable housing in Rockcastle for very low income residents; and to encourage support for homeless assistance service providers as well as community service opportunities for students and school service organizations; and

Whereas, there are many organizations committed to sheltering, providing supportive services, as well as meals and food supplies, to the homeless, including Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc./Ashlee's House, First Baptist Food and Clothing Mission, Christian Appalachian Project, Rock of Ages Mission and others; and

Whereas, the national theme of National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week 2005 is "Bringing America Home"; and

Whereas, Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc./Ashlee's House recognizes that hunger and homelessness continues to be a serious problem for many individuals and families in Rockcastle County; and

Whereas, the intent of National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week is consistent with Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc./Ashlee's House activities.

Now, Therefore, be it resolved that the Honorable Buzz Carlotta hereby proclaims November 13-19, 2005 as National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week.

Now be it further resolved that Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc./Ashlee's House encourages all citizens to recognize that many people do not have housing and need support from citizens and private/public non-profit service entities.

CAP Fresh Start Program recognized in Louisville

Staff of the Christian Appalachian Project's Fresh Start program were part of the nearly 300 adult educators, superintendents, college presidents, federal and state education officials and Kentucky Adult Education joined together for a festive Recognition Luncheon to celebrate the system's shared accomplishments in the field of Family Literacy over the past four years.

Special guests included Susan Scalfani, assistant secretary for vocational and adult education at the U.S. Department of Education, Ron Greenberg, chair of the Council on Postsecondary Education; Tom Layzell, president of the Council on Postsecondary Education; and Sue Hodges Moore, executive vice-president of the Council on Postsecondary Education.

The event celebrated progress in improving adult literacy and demonstrated the critical role of adult education in postsecondary education and workforce development. Adult education providers were recognized for the vital part they have played in progress Kentucky has achieved in adult education over the last five years.

CAP's Fresh Start program combines parenting classes with Adult Education, homework assistance and family computer classes (along with other activities) to help parents gain new skills and help children and teens succeed in school.

Family literacy is about learning, growing and changing. It strengthens family relationships and teaches life-long learning skills. For additional information, contact the CAP Adult Learning Center at 256-5307.

Christian Appalachian Project Honors 2005 GED Graduates

The CAP Adult Learning Center celebrated its 2005 GED graduation on September 16, 2005. The staff of the Adult Learning Center, Circuit Court Judge Jeff Burdette and GED Test Examiner Jay Wilson, were on hand to present certificates and awards to the graduates.

Forty-six individuals earned their General Equivalency Diploma this past year, and ten participated in the graduation ceremony. Student speakers Larry Gray, Frank Caldwell and Robert Gossett each shared the impact a GED has had upon their life. "It was thrilling," Larry Gray stated, "to be able to tell a recent job interviewer that I DO have a GED." Frank Caldwell said he completed his education for himself and for his children. "I wanted to show them that if Daddy could do it, anyone could do it." Each of the three speakers encouraged others in the audience who did not have a high school diploma to get their GED. "If I had taken time out of my life to do this when I was 25 or 30 years old, instead of 64 years old," stated Robert Gossett, "I feel like my life would have been a lot easier for me."

Jeff Burdette, Chief Circuit Court Judge for Rockcastle County, and Jay

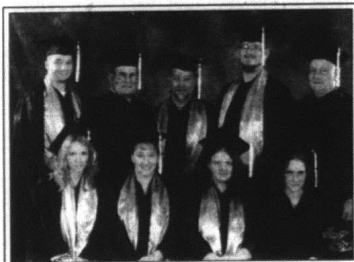

Wilson, GED Test Examiner for Rockcastle County presented three certificates to students with scores of 600 or higher on any part of the GED test exam. Students receiving awards were Peggy Denison, Susan Johnson and Gary Dortch.

"I have tested individuals from 16-82 years of age," Jay Wilson told the audience, "and they all have a purpose and a goal to achieve. I'm proud of every one of these graduates and their accomplishments."

Judge Burdette shared that he often asks people whom he meets in his "line of work" to get their GED, and it's the one thing they come back and thank him for. "I like to be around people who challenge themselves and make their lives better," Judge Burdette told the graduates. "I look forward to seeing you out there [in the community] making me proud."

A reception was held following the ceremony. Music was provided by Mary Reynolds, Bill Campbell and Cindy Reynolds; pictures were provided by Knox Studio. Special thanks goes to Mr. John Hale for the use of the Rockcastle High School auditorium.

For information regarding free classes to prepare for the GED test, call the CAP Adult Learning Center at 606-256-5307.

Information on Bird Flu

Hazel Jackson
Rockcastle County Extension Office

Bird flu is an infection caused by avian (bird) influenza (flu) viruses. These flu viruses occur naturally among birds. Wild birds worldwide carry the viruses in their intestines, but usually do not get sick from them. However, bird flu is very contagious among birds and can make some domesticated birds, including chickens, ducks, and turkeys, very sick and kill them.

The risk from bird flu is generally low to most people because the viruses occur mainly among birds and do not usually infect humans. However, during an outbreak of bird flu among poultry (domesticated chickens, ducks, turkeys), there is a possible risk to people who have contact with infected birds or surfaces that have been contaminated with secretions from infected birds. The current outbreak of avian influenza A(H5N1) among poultry in Asia and Europe is an example of a bird flu outbreak that has caused human infections and deaths. In such situations, people should avoid contact with infected birds or contaminated surfaces, and should be careful when handling and cooking poultry. For more information about avian influenza and food safety issues, visit the World Health Organization website. In rare instances, limited human-to-human spread of H5N1 virus has occurred, and transmission has not been observed to continue beyond one person.

The current risk to Americans from the H5N1 bird flu outbreak in Asia is low. The strain of H5N1 virus found in Asia and Europe has not been found in the United States. There have been no human cases of H5N1 flu in the United States. It is possible that travelers returning from affected countries in Asia could be infected if they were exposed to the virus. Since February 2004, medical and public health personnel have been watching closely to find any such cases. The following USDA websites can provide additional information:

http://www.aphis.usda.gov/pa/pubs/fsheet_faqs_notice/fq_ahpna.html or at: http://www.aphis.usda.gov/pa/pubs/fsheet_faqs_notice/fq_ahbiosechbirds.html

Also, a fact sheet is available at the County Extension Office or by calling 256-2403.

Educational programs of the Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, age, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Castle Quilters Homemaker Club will meet Nov. 15th

Submitted by Carol Ann White
Castle Quilters will hold their next meeting on November 15 at 1:00 pm at the County Extension Office located at 1050 West Main St., Mt. Vernon, KY. We have about 15 members who attend regularly scheduled meetings. Each member is encouraged to bring a quilt related item to share at show and tell. We're always motivated by each persons on-going project. Several members are working on a quilt called "Dear Jane". The "Dear Jane" book is available at Quilters Haven on US 25 at Renfro. These are wonderful 4 1/2 inch squares copied from a quilt that was made in the 1850's.

The Sarah's Sampler quilt is still an ongoing project. The pattern is available at our quilt meeting and is being published monthly in the Mt. Vernon Signal.

We have been busy making a signature quilt for the residents of the nursing homes at Brodhead. We have 260 signature blocks and 120 "interest" blocks. One of the nice 4 1/2 inch block is a hand pieced church by Barb Congleton. We will be piecing the squares together after our meeting on Tuesday, November 15.

We would like to invite anyone with an interest in quilting to join us. For more information, you may call Carol Ann White at 256-2048.

Sexton will be presenter at KSA Conference

A Rockcastle-area woman will be a presenter at the Kentucky Storytelling Association's (KSA's) second annual conference near Greenup Lake State Resort Park on November 12.

Octavia Sexton, a nationally-claimed storyteller, has been a professional storyteller for over 17 years. She is a native of Rockcastle County where she grew up hearing and telling stories.

Mrs. Sexton said she was privileged to come from a storytelling heritage and many of the stories she tells have been passed from generations of "kinkfoks and friends." She tells her stories in the natural dialect she grew up with and stresses the importance of being proud of your heritage, which includes your dialect.

Mrs. Sexton has a B.A. in History and English education and an M.A. in health education. She is listed in the 2005 Arts Resource Directory of Arts Education, is a Kentucky Arts Council literacy and storytelling roster and has been presenting educational artist-in-residence programs in Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Florida, California and Colorado. She is a published author of several short stories and has completed several volumes of audio recordings of Eastern Kentucky oral stories.

The conference, the premier storytelling event in the state, is for interested parties of all ages. The daylong conference will be full of learning, humor, sharing and swapping stories.

RCHS Girls' Cross-Country wins fourth straight regional title

The RCHS Girls' cross-country team captured its fourth straight Class 2A Region IV title this past Saturday at Masterson Station Park in Lexington.

RCHS, currently ranked fourth in the state in Class 2A, defeated 10th ranked Boyle County by 18 points. Boyle finished as regional runner-up. Host Lexington Catholic, ranked third in the state, came into region as the top ranked team. They finished third overall, 36 points behind Rockcastle.

RCHS was led for the fifth season in a row by senior Kayla Hayes, a three-time first team all-stater. After finishing as regional runner-up as an eighth grader, Kayla followed with a string of three straight individual regional titles. Kayla came into region this season as the number two ranked runner in the state in Class 2A. She ran an exceptional race despite the windy, unseasonably warm weather conditions. She finished second overall with an awesome effort of 20:40, making this the fifth season in a row she has finished in the top two - very impressive to say the least.

RCMS eighth grade first team all-stater Laura Dollins continued her impressive season with a great regional race. Laura finished an amazing sixth overall with an excellent effort of 21:24.

Laura was followed closely by MVES fifth grader Michaela Hunter, who had finally recovered from a week long illness. Michaela finished an impressive eighth overall in 21:40.

RCMS seventh grader Sara Hammond kept close to the front of the pack, finishing in the top ten as well. Sara placed 10th overall with an exceptional effort of 22:09.

Senior first team all-stater Jessi Asher ran an awesome race and finished 15th overall, remaining very close to the pack. Jessi's time of 22:24 was exceptional despite the windy conditions.

Sophomore Courtney Bullock ran a superb race, finishing 27th overall in a very impressive 23:38 while remaining close to the lead pack of runners. Senior Ashley Bullock ran a terrific race as well, finishing 46th overall with a great effort of 31:01.

RCMS freshman Michael Thomason was the boys' lone representative in the regional championships. Michael didn't disappoint finishing an impressive 63rd place overall with an exceptional effort of 24:56 despite the unfavorable running conditions.

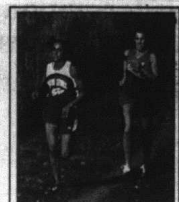

The RCMS girls' will be a strong contender for the team state title at the Class 2A State Cross-Country Championships this Saturday at the Kentucky Horse Park.

Last season, RCMS finished as Class 2A State Runner-up, losing to three-time champion Highlands. Going into this weekend's competition, Highlands remains the team to beat, having been ranked number one

Rockets advance in playoffs after 20-19 win over Royals

By: Richard Anderkin
The Rockcastle County Rocket football team defeated the Mason County Royal football team on Friday night in the first round of the state play-offs 20-19, in a game played at the ROCK.

The Rocket defense gave up 409 yards of offense on Friday night but the Rocket offense had 377 yards and 21 first downs, compared to Mason County's nine.

The Rocket's final score came with only 32 seconds left in the game on a 14-yard run by quarterback Matthew Burkhardt.

The Royals had scored with just over four minutes to go in the game to take a 19-14 lead.

However even though there was only 32 seconds to go in the game, the Royals weren't finished.

Thanks to a squib kick by the Rockets, Mason County ended up in very good field position and, with three seconds to go, their placekicker missed a 45 yard field goal attempt.

Junior Shawn Childress, who has blocked several punts this season, got a hand on the football.

Head Coach Tom Larkey said he thought his team played a courageous game and pointed out that his team was able to hold on to the football for 35 minutes, compared to Mason County's 13 minutes.

"Our offensive line controlled the line of scrimmage, which was very important - I am certainly proud of the way they played," Larkey said.

Before Friday night's win against Mason County the Rockets were 0 and two against the Royals.

After Friday night's win the Rockets will travel to Ashland to take on the Tom Cats of Ashland Paul Blazer, the team that ended the Rocket's season last year when they won in double overtime, 34-27.

Both teams are 9-2 this season. Ashland defeated Clay County Friday night 49-16, a team the Rockets had trouble with, but finally pulled out a 21-12 victory earlier in the season.

The Rockets have had success against the Tom Cats, defeating them 59-0 in 2000 and 29-14 in 2001.

"We will have to be mistake free on Friday night to win, but I think our players are up to the challenge," Larkey said this week.

"We didn't do everything perfect against Mason County but we played well enough to win and I think Friday night's win will help us work even harder to beat Ashland," he said. Offense statistics from Friday night were: Burkhardt with 185 yards passing. It was the tenth straight game he has thrown for 100 yards or more. He also rushed for 45 yards on 13 carries.

Bucky Skinner had 15 yards on six carries and caught four passes for 45 yards. He also kicked two extra points.

Junior Izak McQueary rushed the ball twice for eleven yards and caught two passes for 29 yards.

Childress caught one pass for eleven yards.

Gabe Stallworth, who had his fourth straight game rushing for over one hundred yards, was the work horse on the night with 121 yards on 28 carries.

He also caught one pass for 64

The Rockcastle County Board of Education honored the Rockcastle County High School Volleyball team on Tuesday night before their annual monthly meeting. The Lady Rockets have made it to the state tournament three years in a row. Members of the volleyball team are shown above: front row, from left: Coach Larry Lee, Jill Owens and parent Ron Owens. Second row, from left: Bethany French, Jessica Witten, Morgan Thacker, and Loren Reynolds. Back row in parent Teresa Witten, Heather Hopkins and Megan Anderkin. Board members Tina Cain, Chairman Terry Burton, Mike Burdette, Martin Vanzant and Angie Stallworth, stand along with parent Jan Owens. Coach Lee will coach the southeast all-star team on Sunday afternoon at Whitely County High School. Hopkins, Anderkin and Holly Kiddwell, who did not attend the reception, will play.

Charles Cunigan fills the hole and denies a Mason County ball carrier a touchdown. The Rockets won 20-10 in the first round of playoff action.

Izak McQueary and Zack Burkhardt make a big hit on a Mason County ball carrier. Coming to help in the action is Charles Cunigan. The Rockets will now travel to Ashland Friday night for second round action.

yards and scored the Rockets first two touchdowns.

"Gabe has really stepped up to help our team," Larkey said.

Senior Alex Centers, who was named Player of the Week, caught three passes for 36 yards, one late in the game.

Defensively, the Rockets played as a team with no player making more than six tackles.

Twelve Rockets recorded tackles and assists, led by Stallworth who had six.

He was followed by McQueary who had five. Matthew Burkhardt, Zack Burkhardt and Charles Cunnagin all had four tackles.

Brad Durham, Miky Denny, Adam Mink and Childress each had two tackles.

Bucky Skinner, Donovan Pigg and Lynn Miracle each had one tackle.

The 409 yards was the most the Rockets have given up all season.

Rocket fans will have to drive two and a half hours if they attend the Ashland game, which will start at 7:30 p.m.

No advance tickets are being sold. Admission at the gate is $5.00.

If the Rockets are successful on Friday night, and if Bell County is successful in their contest, the Rockets will return to Middlesboro for a rematch with the Bobcats. The Rockets lost to them earlier in the year and lost to them last year in the play-offs.

Aaron Blackburn, 28, of Livingston, who has been involved in several break-ins in Livingston in recent years, was sentenced to ten years in the state penitentiary after pleading guilty to burglary and theft by unlawful taking.

Jason Vernon, 26, of Mt. Vernon pled guilty last month to several charges, including possession of chemicals to make the illegal drug methamphetamine, two counts of receiving stolen property and theft by unlawful taking. He was also sentenced to ten years in jail.

James Conkle, 36, of Mt. Vernon was sentenced to five years for possession of a controlled substance.

His request for a probated sentence was denied by Judge Tapp, who noted during sentencing that Combs had a lengthy criminal record and could be a potential "menace to society."

Jeremy Caldwell, 24, of Mt.

Vernon was sentenced to two years in prison on a charge of promoting contraband.

Timothy Gadd, 21, of Mt. Vernon pled guilty to possession of a controlled substance and was sentenced to four years in jail.

All of the above proceedings took place on October 28th.

However, other churches, or anyone wishing to use the channel, would have to provide their own recording equipment and scheduling of programs would have to be set up by someone.

This question, scheduling, along with others will be looked into by the city before they make a definite commitment to purchasing a controller. However, council member, and Mayor Kirby, seemed in favor of the idea. "We need someone to take care of this because we don't need to get into the TV business," Councilman Joe Mullins said.

Burke said that RCHS principal John Hale was in favor of the project and had said that he might be able to work out offering a class at the high school on programming. Burke also told the council he felt it was, "important that the programming not be used to tear now or denigrate anyone," and that this condition should be part of the guidelines for use.

In other business, the council was told by City Engineer Luther Gallo-way that bids on the raw water intake project will be let December 15 and, hopefully, bids will be awarded at the January meeting of the council.

And, help is on the way for residents of Carter Ridge in Mt. Vernon. Residents of the road have put up with very low water pressure for years and the city has secured land for an underground pump station to alleviate the problem. At a cost of $2,500, enough land was secured from Charles Shepherd for installation of the pump.

of his Calvary Division and then spent six months in Australia before heading to Japan.

Hasty would finally end up at the recently-closed Walter Reed Hospital in Washington with other injured veterans. Once well, he was sent back to the Pacific Theater and then spent three tours helping to occupy Germany.

All five children of the retired Sergeant are still living. His oldest son, Jimmy, served in the U.S. Navy, for four years.

Currently the American public hears stories about intelligence operations, when the commanders of the armed services release them.

However, 60 years after his service, one local veteran still won't say much but, this week, Edd Hunt, a veteran of World War II, said just a little about his time in the service during World War II.

Hunt, 87, was an intelligence officer, who worked with the secret operations division of the armed forces during the second World War. To do his job, you had to have an IQ of, at least, 120.

He was based on the island of Ypsilanti off the coast of Alaska and he and his crew, of which he was the head, was in charge of keeping track of the Japanese.

Hunt worked from an office of that had six foot concrete walls, which were also reinforced. "It looked like a potato bug," Hunt said. He and the other soldiers interrupted messages, sent false ones and simply, as he put it, tried to get the Japanese out in the open so the combat fellow soldiers could do their job.

"We worked seven days a week, eight hour shifts and many times much more than that," Hunt said.

"People don't know how close the Japanese were to the West Coast at times. I am not proud of what we had to do but we helped keep the U.S. safe," he said.

The electrical engineer worked with lawyers and doctors.

"We weren't able to leave the intelligence office unless it was with a general," he said.

Hunt said that everyone working in his office, which tried to intercept messages from the Japanese and send false ones, were researched by the F.B.I. back to the age of six.

"They certainly weren't going to put up with traitors," he said.

His wife of 62 years, Kathleen, said during the same interview that the mail her husband sent her from Alaska was always censored.

"They took no chances, but I didn't know until he (Edd) got out of the service that every letter he sent me was read by somebody else before I got it."

Mrs. Hunt, now 81, also did her part in the war effort, working in a war plant making B-24 bombers.

After 36 months working seven days a week and handling so much stressful information, Hunt was given a 30 day leave and he returned to Dearborn Michigan where his fiancée was working. They married on September 16 of 1944.

However, after the 30 day leave, Hunt was sent back to Alaska for another year from where he was discharged October 16th of 1945.

"They kept me longer than I had thought they would and just informed me, they needed me to stay on the job because the government did not know what the Russians were going to do after the war. They simply reupped me for an extended time," he said.

"Our intelligence office in Alaska was good," the proud veteran said.

Hunt was a long-time director of the bank of Mt. Vernon and then Premier and now is an advisory director for Community Trust.

For 33 years, he was supervisor of the local Human Resources Office and his wife, who worked for L&N Railroad after working in the bomber plant, retired from teaching science for 33 years in the Rockcastle County school system.

One of the newest generations of veteran freedom keepers is JMt. Vernon resident, Tom Atkin.

The current Kentucky State Police Trooper, who now instructs other troopers on how to do their job, was in Desert Storm.

The 1984 Knox Central High graduate, who is originally from Arizona, volunteered for the armed services in 1998 and attained the rank of Sergeant.

During his time in the Desert Storm War, he received the Bronze Star for bravery. He was stationed in Kuwait.

After returning from Kuwait, Atkin returned to Eastern Kentucky University to finish the year left for his law enforcement degree. During that year he met his wife, the former Michelle Cromer of Mt. Vernon.

After completing his degree, he went through the Kentucky State Police Academy and was eventually assigned to the State Police's SWAT team.

The day after he graduated from the State Police Academy, he and Michelle married.

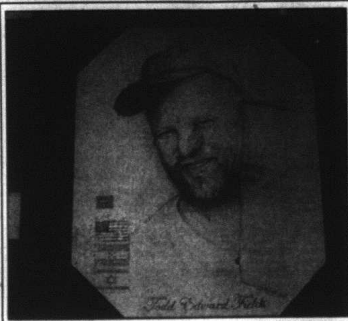

They now have two children, Addison, eight and Bryson, two.

Michelle is also the great niece of Edd Hunt.

In honor of all local veterans, the Rockcastle County Middle School is hosting a Celebration on Friday which will honor all local veterans.

The celebration will begin at 12:30 with a reception in the school's library.

Local artist Mark McFerron sketched a portrait of Todd Fields in honor of his friend who died in 2003. The sketch was on display Saturday during the dedication of Todd's Cabin at cleftRock Retreat. Fields was killed in Guatemala while serving as a missionary.

Roxanne Hammond is shown at left with sister Lynnell Fields, at the dedication of a cabin built at cleftRock Retreat, where his parents live. Todd was killed in Guatemala in March of 2003. Todd and his wife, Lynnell were missionaries in Honduras for many, many years and Lynnell and the Fields' two daughters, Savannah and Sophia remain in Honduras doing mission work.

Robbins to demonstrate at Sheltoewe Art Fair

One arts group of Kentucky has plenty to cheer about and Christopher Robbins of Brodhead is proud to be a new member of this group. Located in the southern and eastern part of the state and centered in Somerset, the Sheltoewe Artisans has stood the test of time. Once a small spattering of artists that held their first "Open House" in St. Mildred's Catholic Church gym starting in 1994, this juried arts guild has grown with over 70 members and will display their works for sale at the The Center for Rural Development on Highway 27 in Somerset, KY, for their 12th annual Sheltoewe Art Fair, November 11-13. There is free admission.

"It's like a reunion this year," explains Meg McClure, co-founder, returning to exhibit from Boyne City, Michigan where they also exhibit. John, relocated their pottery business. "We only came back every few years and this year we also will have others that started with us way back then: Susan Lee, Jewelry, Somerset; Lindy Evans, dolls, Berea; Judy Epperson, baskets, Somerset; Kathy Haynes-Ellis, soap, Russell Springs; Peggy Sherry, paintings, Somerset; and the other cofounder, Jamison Brumm, jewelry, Monticello."

"Not only have we grown," says Brumm, "but we have kept our standard of the finest handcrafted work our region can make: Mike Angel, London, and Gary Cooper, Burkesville, make furniture that will last several lifetimes; Jeannette Rowlett, Berea, and Becky DeBord, Science Hill, make jewelry from fine metals that will be heirlooms for several generations; Jenny Perry, Whitley City, will join guest artist, Karen Riggins, to showcase art quilts whose awards are part of the history of the state."

Named for what the Native Americans called "Big Turtle," "Sheltoewe," meaning "Big Turtle," some of the Sheltoewe Artisans' crafts are made in a similar way to the early pioneers: Mark Eubank, Eubank, makes hand-made thimblems from native woods; David and Carol Howe, Whitley City, and Susanne Zwalhen, Stanford, both make pottery from the earth's clay; Christopher Robbins, Brodhead, makes brooms with antique machines; Theresa Howard, Middleboro, Toni Menk and Ruth Betts, Liberty, and Bill Brumm, Monticello fashion colorful glass that would fit into old cathedral window spaces; and Shirley Smith, Whitley City, carves wooden spoons and kitchen utensils that would have been at home in Boone's log cabin.

Contemporary artists also have a place in the guild and have work for sale: painter, Betty King, Somerset; photographers, Glenda Gossett, Science Hill and Sara Browning, Somerset; jeweler, Theresa Kibby, Somerset; Cindy Rose, folk art windows, Monticello; Ricky Shelton, folk art painted furniture, Albany; Gina Eubank, dried flowers, Eubank; and Jo Wolf, Monticello; and Janet Kliment, Lexington, clothing.

"Our artists will also go to show the public how some of these crafts are made in our annual "Demonstration Village," where artists will actually make their work by hand and explain how they do it," says Brumm. "We are blessed with all the talented people in our region, and this event is our way to show others what we do. We would like to mention every one of our artists, but we are too many now! You have to come and see us!"

To kick off the event at the The Center for Rural Development, a Gala Reception will be held Friday evening, 5-8pm, and include music and refreshments.

RIF Book Give-A-Way

Roundstone primary students were treated once again with a free book from the Reading is Fundamental (RIF) program. We would like to thank Ms. Rachel Johnson and Mrs. Becky Isaacs for making this program possible for our students. Before selecting their free book, students were entertained by the RCMS Touring Theatre. Actors Dalton Hutton and Jordan Blackburn delighted the students with a performance of the Caldecott Honor Book Tops & Bottoms. We would also like to thank Allen Pensol for sharing the RCMS Touring Theatre with the Roundstone students and staff.

Visit from the Rockcastle Area Technology Center

High school students from the Rockcastle Area Technology Center shared with the morning preschool and entry level students the story The Book of Cookies from the Cookie Jar during Unite to Read Week. They also sang a song that connected with the story with the students. Roundstone would like to thank the following students and sponsors who make this activity possible: Natasha Taylor, Amber Cromer, Brittany Robinson, Karla Ashley, Jessica Robinson, Kayla Felner, Ashley Stewart, Leanne Holden, Veronica Miller, Courtney Kirby, Latasha DeBorde, Mary Ann Childress, Jamie Fain and Jenny Stewart. Thanks for much for sharing with us, ladies!

Class Information

Pre-School: Mrs. Imogene Williams

Roundstone preschoolers have been studying fire safety. The Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department visited them on Thursday, October 20th. The preschoolers got to see all of the firefighters' special equipment, including the fire engine. They even got to spray the water hose, with the help of the fire fighters! The preschoolers learned some very important fire safety rules. Smokey the Bear visited them to tell them how important it is to prevent forest fires. The preschoolers had a wonderful time and would like to thank the Brindle Ridge Fire Fighters and Smokey the Bear for coming to visit them.

3rd Grade - Mrs. Atkins' Class

Our class has been studying Kentucky History and pioneer life. We recently had the opportunity to visit Fort Boonesboro to learn about Daniel Boone and the long ago. It was a terrific learning experience. We want to send a special "Thank You," to guest reader, Mrs. JoAnn Croucher and her grandson. They visited our classroom on Friday and shared a Halloween story with us. We appreciate all parents who attended our parent-teacher conferences. Thank you for coming.

School Update

Hoops for Heart - A Success for Roundstone

On October 24th, students at Roundstone took some real shots at heart disease and stroke by participating in Hoops for Heart. The students raised more than $400 for the American Heart Association. We would like to congratulate Cheyenne McClure for raising the most money. We would also like to thank the following students for participating. Amanda Eversole, Terry Renner, Chelsea Barnett, Bryonna Cromer, Victor Chasteen, Austin Clark, McKinzie Todd, Blake Kelly, John Mullins, Casey Walker, Ashley McCoy and Brianna Baurdette. Would also like to thank Mrs. Deb Coffey for fixing our Hoops for Heart bulletin board.

RCMS Touring Theatre students, Jordan Blackburn and Dalton Hutton, entertain Roundstone students with Tops and Bottoms.

Words of Hope

In the next few weeks I want expose some myths about God and explain the truth about Him. The first myth to expose is that God is a vending machine God. That means you tell God what you want and He automatically grants your wish. The reality is God wants to answer our prayers. However, He makes decisions based toward our development and not our wishes. He is all-knowing, all-powerful, and full of love with a desire to do what is best for us. Disappointed in God lately? Remember He is acting on what is best for your life.

—A message of hope from your friends at Mt. Vernon Pentecostal Church

"What Saith The Scriptures"

Today let us consider the words of Matt.5:13-16, "Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men. Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Jesus is seeking to get across to our minds the concept of influence. Salt is an influencing substance, that enhances and adds flavor to things. But if salt becomes contaminated it is good for nothing, but to be cast out, into the road bed, and trodden under foot. Jesus desires that his followers be an influence for good, but if we become contaminated with the things of the world, our influence will be "good for nothing." Light also can have a great influence and benefit in a dark room. Even so, God's people in the midst of a darkened and wicked world can give light and guidance to those in moral and spiritual darkness. God can be glorified by the lives of his children that he has worked in their hearts. Yes, everyone has influence, is it a good influence or a bad influence? (Call for a free Bible course)

Youth Yak at RCHS

Submitted by Rockcastle County High School Youth Service Center
Our Academic Team (JV) made a clean sweep defeating McCreary Central 18-15, South Laurel 19-14, and Wayne County 21-20. The Varsity Academic Team defeated McCreary Central 16-10, lost to Wayne County 19-9 and South Laurel 27-7.

Our Scrimmage Test was last Wednesday. This was the first time a scrimmage has been conducted at the High School and all things considered, it ran rather well. When the time comes for the "real thing" hopefully we will be prepared.

The registration deadline for the ACT is past for the December test date. If you have registered and are planning on taking the ACT, the test date is December 10th. Don't miss it!! If you have any questions, ask Mr. Dale Whitaker.

The Football Team defeated Mason County last Friday, 20-19. Good Job Team!! This Friday night we will be in the Semi-Region Championship playing Ashland. Go get 'em Rock!! Any student or staff member interested in riding a pep bus to Ashland for the football game this Friday should sign up with Ms. Baker in room 119 by this Thursday. The cost is $2.00 and the bus will leave at 4:30 PM from the high school. Beginning Friday, November 4th through November 11th, the Cheerleaders will be having a fundraising drive to raise money for the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research. Money will be collected during 1st block and the class with the most money raised, per student, will win an Ice Cream Sundae Party. The RCHS Varsity Cheerleaders will be competing in the fifth annual Cheer For a Cure on December 10th at EKKU. All proceeds from this competition go to the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research also.

The Rockcastle Unite Coalition sponsored a Youth Rally Saturday night at RCHS with Scott Stapp and 7th Time Down. We had a good turn out and appreciate the Unite Coalition for their contribution.

We would like to say congratulations to Kayla Fink and Kayla has been selected as a finalist for Outstanding CTE Students in KY.

We are certainly proud of our Cross Country Team. They are the Regional Champions and for the 4th time in a row. Good Job Team!! Cross Country will play State Finals this Saturday in Lexington in hopes to win the first State Championship for RCHS. Good Luck!!

Lunch charges for October are now overdue. We strongly encourage you to keep all lunch bills paid. Past due charges make everyone's job harder.

Christopher Wayne Graves graduated Spencerian College October 7, 2005 with a degree of Associate of Applied Science in Computer Engineering Technology

Congratulations Chris, we are very proud of you and we love you very much. Dad, Mom, Thomas, Granville, Jr., Missy, Haley and Granville III

Tiger Pause

The BES PTA membership drive ended at the October PTA meeting. The classes with 80% membership are: Mrs. Cindy Ellington AM and PM preschool, Mrs. Kelli Asher, Mrs. Vicky Scheffler, and Mrs. Sandy Brown. PTA will reward these classes. The staff also had a high membership rate.

Thanks to everyone who participated in the eyeglasses collection program for the Lion's Club. The green pod (4th grade) won the contest by collecting the most glasses. PTA will give them a special treat for their efforts.

Steve Taylor won the October drawing for the security light donated by Jackson Energy. The Longaberger basket donated by Jenny Sweet will be drawn for at the December meeting. Tickets for this raffle can be purchased in the school office - $3.00 for one ticket and $5.00 for 2 tickets. Teacher of the week. Mrs. Katreka Cash teaches fifth grade in the yellow pod. She and her husband, Ronnie, live in Broadhead with their daughters, Lura (16) and Rachael (14). They have two cats, Pounce and Hummer. Mrs. Cash's favorite food is fried chicken, her favorite TV shows are CSI & QVC, and her favorite color is red. She has been teaching for 29 years. Mrs. Cash enjoys shopping with her daughters.

Miles reports to Kaneohe Bay

Marine Corps Pfc. David M. Miles, whose wife, Amber, is the daughter of Fred Hensley of Mt. Vernon, recently reported for duty with Marine Heavy Helicopter Squadron 325, Marine Aircraft Group 24, 1st Marine Aircraft Wing, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

Minds in the Middle

Congratulations to Mrs. Wolfe's homeroom for winning the attendance race last week. The group had 100% for the week. Mrs. Mink's homeroom came in second place followed by Mrs. Logan's homeroom in third. We love their dedication!

We are very proud of our 8th grade visual arts students. The students tied for the first place award for the best decorated window during Halloween On Main last Monday night. They had paper mache ghosts, bats, cats, pumpkins, and a mummy in three windows of the Jones Building on Main Street. They will be presented with a plaque for their awesome efforts.

Our students received a very powerful message on Thursday from Craig Scott, a survivor of the shooting at Columbine High School in Colorado. Craig's sister was killed during the shooting and he shared an important message with our students about showing compassion toward each other. During and after our presentation, our students made vows to consciously do acts of kindness for each other. We also appreciate those who came Thursday evening to hear Craig speak. We had over 130 students, parents, and community members in attendance.

This Friday, we invite all veterans to our Veteran's Day celebration. We will first honor them with a reception at 12:30, followed by a student led assembly beginning at 1:30. This event was a great success last year and was an eye-opener for many of our students.

Picture retakes will be this Friday. Students must have a note from their parent requesting a retake.

Remember that our Student YMCA is conducting a food drive at this time. All donated items will be given to the First Baptist Food and Clothing Mission. The goal for our school is 2005 items.

Mid-term will be on Wednesday, November 16th. Reports will be sent home with students.

Eighth graders who are interested in applying for the Robinson Scholar Program need to pick up an application from Ms. Cromer as soon as possible. The deadline is quickly approaching.

NOTICE

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY SCHOOLS

PLAN FOR INCLEMENT WEATHER

SCHOOL CLOSINGS

EARLY DISMISSAL

Every effort will be made to keep parents and concerned citizens informed as to school closings, early dismissals and possibly a delay plan.

The number one concern is the safety of students. After an extensive evaluation of road conditions in the county, taking into consideration all roads, a decision will be made in regard to closing school.

School closings will be announced on radio stations and three television stations. They are as follows: Radio - WRVK (AM 1460), WVLC (FM 93), WBUL (FM 98.1), WMXL (FM 94.5), WLAP (630 AM), WRSL (FM 96.3), WLKT (FM 104.5) WKQQ (FM 100.1) WKDP (99.5). Television - WKYT (Channel 27), WLEX (Channel 18), WTQQ (Channel 36). If possible, the closing will be announced the evening before the closing date.

If a determination cannot be made the day prior to the closing date, every possible effort will be made to reach a decision by 6:00 a.m. The announcement will be made no later than 6:30 a.m.

Early dismissal of school due to inclement weather will be announced on WRVK. Roads will be closely monitored as school is in session to determine if there is a need for early dismissal. If the need for early dismissal does occur, parents should make arrangements to meet children as they arrive safely.

Parents and students should not call any radio or television stations to inquire about school closings. This could delay the information distribution to the necessary channel by tying up the phone lines.

There may be a time when a few isolated bus routes may not be made or may be delayed for an hour while the rest of the bus routes will be made on the regular schedule. These bus routes will be announced only on WRVK radio station.

Saturday hours, 10am-6pm and on Sunday, 1-5pm. Center volunteers will greet and offer raffle tickets for sale on Sheltonville Artists' work. Proceeds of the raffle will go to the American Red Cross.

Acceptance into the group requires artists to reside within a 50-mile radius of Kentucky's borders.

There is a standards jury that artists' work must pass, held each year during March.

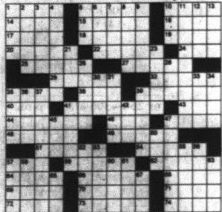

The Sheltonville Artists are a group of artists who have stood the test of time in bringing artists of the region together for help and support and showcasing their work. Interested applicants/patrons can contact the Sheltonville Artists by calling (606) 379-2747, or going to their web site, www.sheltonville.com.

SOLUTION TO KY243

Commonwealth of Kentucky 28th Judicial Circuit Rockcastle Circuit Court - Division II Civil Action No. 04-CI-00247

Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc., as nominee for Lender and Countrywide Home Loans, Inc. Plaintiff

Shella S. Johnson and Wade Johnson Defendants

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a judgment and order of sale entered in this action on September 27, 2004 and order dated October 14, 2005, for the purpose of satisfying the judgment against the defendants in the amount of EIGHTY THREE THOUSAND NINE HUNDRED FIFTY EIGHT DOLLARS AND 87/100 ($83,958.87) plus interest, costs and attorney fees. I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

At the Courthouse on East Main Street
Mt. Vernon, Kentucky
on Friday, November 28, 2005
Beginning at the Hour of 10:00 a.m.

Said property being more particularly bounded & described as follows:
Beginning at a stake in Nose Street, the southeast corner of J. W. Biddle; thence running north-west with line of J. W. Biddle a distance of 126 feet to an alley; thence easterly with alley 83 feet to a stake in lands of A. H. Hamlin; thence southward with said A. H. Hamlin's line a distance of 126 feet to Nose Street; thence southward with Nose Street 100 feet to the beginning.

Being the same real property which Shella Johnson, married, obtained by deed dated October 23, 2002, executed by Robert E. Phillips, et al., of record in Deed Book 192, page 108 in the Office of the Rockcastle County Clerk.

The property shall be sold on the following terms and conditions:

1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five percent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond approved by the Master Commissioner.
2. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum until paid in full. The bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment and shall be and remain a lien upon the property sold as additional surety for the payment of the purchase price.
3. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.
4. The purchaser shall pay the 2005 local, county and state property taxes.
5. Full satisfaction of the co-plaintiff's judgment shall be paid from the sale proceeds.
6. The purchaser shall have possession of the real property upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
7. In the event that the plaintiff is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of the co-plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required.
8. The sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise and shall be sold as is.

The defendants Dwight Mahaffey and Shanellzabeth Mahaffey obtained title to the above described real property by deed dated April 26, 1989, executed in the Office of the Rockcastle County Clerk Court, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky.
Included with the sale of this tract is a 1993 Mashion 14x70 mobile home.
Date of Sale: November 23, 2005 at 1:00 p.m. local time
Place of Sale: At or near the front door of the Courthouse, Main Street, Mt. Vernon, Ky.
Amount to be raised: $29,399.50, plus interest, attorney's fees and court costs.
The foregoing properties shall be sold subject to the following terms and conditions:
A. The real property and mobile home shall be sold for cash or under a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty-five (25%) percent of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond bearing interest at twelve (12%) percent per annum.
B. Unpaid taxes or liens of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.
C. The buyer shall pay the 2005 local, county, and state property taxes and all subsequent years.
D. The buyer shall have possession of the real property upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
E. In the event the plaintiff is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required and the property will be conveyed to the plaintiff in due season upon payment of the expenses of the sale.
Bidders shall be prepared to promptly comply with the aforesaid terms and conditions. Buyer shall have possession of the premises upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
