State Representative Danny Ford (R-Mt. Vernon) and State Senator Ed Worley (D-Richmond) were the bearers of glad tidings for the Fiscal Court Thursday as they brought an additional $300,000 to the county's road fund.

The money is in addition to $250,000 the county received earlier from state road bond money.

Carloftis said the same pro-

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down five indictments on Friday, for offenses ranging from growing marijuana to stealing from an employer.

Charles Marlow, Sr., 72, of Tanglewood Drive, Mt. Vernon was indicted on one count of cultivating marijuana, first offense by knowingly and unlawfully planting and cultivating over five marijuana plants.

According to court records, Marlow and his son, Charles "Chuck" Marlow, Jr., 36, also of Tanglewood Drive just off Hwy. 461, were arrested on August 29th by members of the Kentucky State Police Eradica-

Dog shot after attack

Mt. Vernon police and the Rockcastle Ambulance Service were called to Parsons Street in Mt. Vernon Friday afternoon, after a local teenage girl was bitten several times by a dog.

The Rockcastle Ambulance Service transported the teenager to the hospital where she was treated and released.

Mt. Vernon police chief Terry Jackson said officer Bill Barrett first maced the dog, which then turned on him. Barrett shot the dog in self defense. Jackson said the dog, a chow, had apparently been abandoned.

A neglect investigation is underway and the dog was taken to Frankfort to be examined for rabies.

State Representative Danny Ford, of Mt. Vernon, and State Senator Ed Worley, of Richmond, were in Rockcastle County last Thursday to deliver $300,000 more from the state for work on county roads. The two presented the check to Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Buzz Carloftis and members of the fiscal court. Shown above from left are: fifth district magistrate Ralph Allen, fourth district magistrate Fred Mullins, Jr., second district magistrate William Denny, Ford, Carloftis, Worley, first district magistrate David Gibbs and third district magistrate Bill McKinney.

Fiscal Court will have to pass sewer ordinance

Rockcastle County Magistrates were told at their monthly meeting last Thursday that the state was requiring that an ordinance be passed which would require county residents to hook onto sewer lines when they were made available.

The ordinance became necessary, Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis told the magistrates, when he was told by the state that residents around Lake Linville are not in the city limits. The city will soon begin installing sewer lines around the lake to replace some failing septic systems. However, the city's ordinance, which makes residents hook on to the sewer line, does not apply so the court was told by the state that they would have to pass the ordinance.

"The ordinance is necessary in this case," Carloftis told the magistrates, "because the lake is the primary source of 95% of the county's drinking water and has to be protected from leaking septic systems."

County Attorney Billy Reynolds was directed to draw up the ordinance and it will probably be acted on at next month's meeting.

Industrial Development Authority Chairman Corey Craig was before the court with a couple of requests but told the court that one of them, he had found out, would not be necessary.

That one was a request by the authority to borrow $90,000 for the 32.88 addition to Indus-

Seals held on $100,000 bond

A Mt. Vernon man remains in jail this week after he was charged Sunday with a sex related crime.

Mt. Vernon police Chief Terry Jackson said that Nathaniel Seals, 36, of Richmond Street, Mt. Vernon was arrested around 11:30 a.m. Sun-trial Park #2. However, Craig said he had found out, within the last few days, that the authority actually had $247,000 more than they realized.

The "found" money was in an account, under the authority's name, but being handled by the Fiscal Court. It consists of coal severance money given the court by former Governor Paul Patton several years ago. At that time, the development board did not have anyone bonded to administer the funds and the fiscal court agreed to be custodians. Over time, the board, who has other funds at their disposal used those funds for property acquisition and other items and, evidently, just forgot the funds were there.

County Treasurer Joe Clontz apprised Craig of the funds available to them and, since the bonding requirement no longer applies, the court voted to turn these funds over to the court which can now pay the $90,000 due for the addition to the industrial park property.

Craig said later that the additional funds would also give the board money to "winterize" the Jones building on Main Street in the form of a new roof and windows.

McCauley was author

In last week's Signal, we published a feature article "A Tribute to First Christian Church Willing Workers 1906-2006."

We attributed the article to Ann Henderson, who helped and was the courier to the Signal.

However, the actual author was Linda McCauley, who expended a lot of time and effort to gather all the needed information and did a great job on the article.

We extend our apologies to Ms. McCauley for this error.

Richmond man arrested after high speed chase

By Richard Anderkin

A Richmond man was arrested on Friday night, after a police chase in which speeds exceeded 120 miles per hour.

According to an arrest citation by Kentucky State Trooper Scottie Pennington, Giles M. Bullock, 44, of Eastwood Drive Richmond was arrested around 9:30 p.m. after Pennington chased him for eight miles, from Exit 62 of I-75 at Renfro Valley to Hwy. 1152, near the Pulaski-Rockcastle County line.

According to court documents, Bullock almost hit a vehicle, which was being driven by an off-duty state trooper as he traveled along I-75.

The off duty trooper, who said Bullock was traveling around 100 miles per hour, notified the London Post who then notified Pennington.

Pennington attempted to stop Bullock when he exited I-75 at the 62 exit but Bullock continued. Pennington said Bullock turned his head lights off and began traveling south in the northbound lane of U.S. 25 into oncoming traffic.

Pennington said Bullock ran the stop lights at the intersection of U.S. 25 and Richmond Street and he also ran the stop light at Hwy. 150.

Pennington estimated that Bullock ran 20 to 30 cars off the road before Pennington was able to get in front of him and force him to stop at the intersection of Hwy. 461 and Hwy. 1152. During the chase, Bullock hit Pennington's cruiser. After Pennington got Bullock stopped, Bullock tried to run from Pennington who managed to wrest him to the ground and arrest him.

According to Pennington's citation, Bullock said he had drunk a fifth of vodka on Friday and Pennington found alcoholic beverages in Bullock's vehicle.

After his arrest, Bullock was transported by ambulance to the Rockcastle Hospital, where he was treated and turned over to the custody of police.

While at the hospital, blood tests and urine samples were taken from Bullock.

Bullock who is being held in the Rockcastle Detention Center, was in Rockcastle District Court on Wednesday before District Judge Scott Lawless, who kept his bond at $50,000 cash. Bullock who is charged with, DUI, third offense, possession of open alcoholic beverage container, improper passing, resisting arrest, disregarding traffic lights, fleeing or

Boil water advisory lifted

City of Mt. Vernon lifted a boil water advisory Wednesday afternoon. The advisory began around 2 p.m. Tuesday and was lifted around 3 p.m. Wednesday afternoon, according to water superintendent Dennis McClure.

City offering free disposal of garbage

The City of Mt. Vernon has implemented another free garbage disposal program. The program began Wednesday and will run through next Friday, October 27th.

A Drop Off Grant from PRIDE is paying for the free garbage disposal, according to Mt. Vernon Mayor Clarice Kirby.

City employees will accept household garbage, white goods such as refrigerators, washers, dryers and junk of any kind from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, at the city's parking lot next to the Rockcastle County Courthouse.

Mayor Kirby is encouraging residents to take advantage of the free disposal in an effort to clean-up the community.

Kentucky State Trooper Scott Pennington's cruiser was damaged in a high speed chase on Hwy. 461 Friday night. A Richmond man is being held under a $50,000 cash bond in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on numerous charges. Speeds during the pursuit exceeded 120 miles per hour.

Over 25 people braved the cold temperatures Thursday night to attend a candlelight vigil, at the Rockcastle County Courthouse, which was sponsored by the Family Life Abuse Center. The memorial vigil was held to remember those who have lost their lives to domestic violence. Gary Smith, shown above, gave the opening prayer on Thursday night. Two women, including Cherie Jones, at left, from the abuse shelter shared their stories on Thursday night. To reach the Family Life Abuse Center call (606) 256-9511.

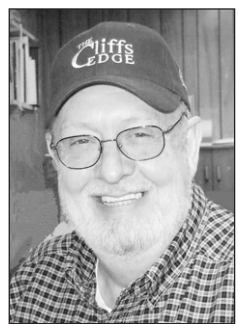

Mt. Vernon firefighters were called to the scene of a fire on Floyd Street in Mt. Vernon Saturday afternoon. Public Affairs officer Steve Griffin said the fire was probably arson, because the mobile home had been vacant for almost two years and had no electricity. The structure is owned by a federal credit union.

"My most relaxed vacation"

A couple of weeks ago, my wife and I were able to spend a few days on one of the most breathtaking beaches that I have ever experienced. It is located on Chincoteague Island at the northeastern corner of Virginia. I never thought that I would be as intrigued with a beach as I was with this spot. The serenity of the place was overwhelming. I am ready to go back!

When I first stepped onto the sand of the island beach, I was reminded of the first time I saw the ocean. I was only eight years old when my Uncle Charles Brown introduced me to the Atlantic. That first experience was awe-inspiring and unforgettable. When my son Andy was about ten, he and I took my mother (Bee) to Myrtle Beach so she could see the ocean for her first time. I will never forget hearing her squeal with delight when she first saw the crashing waves on the beach. Up until that time, she had been fearful that she would never get to experience the smell, sound, and view of the ocean. She remained grateful to me for the adventure until the day she died.

Chincoteague Island is home to a National Wildlife Refuge with over 300 species of shore birds. We saw a wide variety of ducks, egrets, herons, ibis, pelicans, and sandpipers. On one occasion, we actually photographed eight egrets roosting in a single tree at the edge of the water.

I was able to walk up to a Great Blue Heron and photograph him while he was fishing for his dinner. They are one of the most picturesque and noble of birds. It is common for them to be 48 inches tall. Almost motionless, they wait for a fish to swim by and grab it with their long bills. When they take flight, their 72-inch wingspan is a sight to behold.

The island itself is only seven miles long and approximately 1.5 miles wide. It is famous for its oyster beds and clam shoals. I was able to sample the most splendid, fresh ocean seafood. The oyster stew was heavenly and so were the fresh crab cakes. Upon seeking the advice of the manager of the Hampton Inn (Tom Derrickson), we visited the finest restaurant on the island. It was called Etta's Place and the fresh seafood was just magnificent. On my first visit, I sampled broiled flounder and a bowl of oyster stew. Nothing satisfies me like fresh seafood - especially when it is finely prepared.

Just east of Chincoteague is another of Virginia's barrier islands called Assateague. It is famous for its sandy beaches, salt marshes, maritime forests, and coastal bays. It is also known for its herd of wild horses, called feral animals (domestic animals that have reverted to a wild state). Some of the residents say that the horses swam ashore from a Spanish vessel that ran aground off the coast of the island approximately 300 years ago. The herd is thinned annually to keep the herd at around 150.

According to local officials, "The horses spend most of their time grazing on the nutrient-poor, saltmarsh beach grass and saltmeadow hay. The horses' short stature is a result of the poor diet." Genetically, they are considered horses, even though they are now pony size. The horses stay in family groups called "bands." Each band is made up of 2-10 mares, their offspring, and a stallion. The horses are privately owned by the Chincoteague Fire Department and receive superb veterinary care.

One day we drove into the woods to visit the historic lighthouse that sits on the shore of Assateague Channel. It was constructed in 1833 and was remodeled in 1933. At that time the light was changed from candle power to electrical. It stands 154 feet above sea level and can be seen from 19 miles out to sea. The next time we visit this area, we hope to take the Assateague cruise that goes by the lighthouse and also visits several wildlife viewing re-

If you've never opened up your mouth as wide as it will go, relaxed your jaw bones, taken a deep breath and then sunk your teeth in one fierce bite down into a firm, ripe Grime's Golden apple and had the spicy juice squirt back along your cheeks and dribble off both your ears, then you have missed out on one of the finer things this life on earth has yet to offer.

You have also been denied one of the finest culinary experiences to be found on our planet.

If you have never been in a perfectly-, naturally-cooled, concrete store building there beside the country road where many bushels of apples and potatoes and onions sit curing and still ripening alongside many jars of molasses and honey and home canned relish---then let me suggest that you have led a sheltered being that remains unfulfilled.

Let me also suggest some remedies for these shortcomings in what you have, so-far, called a life.

Take a ride in the country over the next couple of weeks and breathe in the essence of autumn. Buy some food that's really fit to eat. The Amish farmers and their families in rural, central Kentucky sell marvelous treats at fair prices generally free of any cancer-causing preservatives.

Just drive along the rural roads of Lincoln and Casey Counties and look for home-made signs that modestly advertise stuff like "Fresh Cow Butter", "Honey for Sale", "Fresh Milk", "Bakery Good's Here", "Fresh Produce", "Tack and Harness", etc.

Or best of all, "Granny's Country Store" there between Crab Orchard and Lancaster on 39 where you can get any vegetable or fruit that the Good Lord ever saw fit to be dried.

VIEW FROM THE BENCH

Frost on the Puffins . . . um, Pumpkins

Ahhhhhh . . . . . fall. Changing leaves. Crisp temperatures. Tart apples. Pig roasts and bon fires with friends and neighbors. These are truly some of the best days of the year. This period also marks harvest time, combines shelling beans and pickin' corn. Amidst billowing clouds of steam, mom's canning in the kitchen. The first frost also marks the beginning of the end of another harvest, a harvest which brings some welcome relief to law enforcement.

Every fall, starting in August and usually ending by mid-October, police assisted by Kentucky National Guard pilots and troops commence the annual interdiction of domestically cultivated marijuana. The timing of these operations coincides with the peak harvest of pot crops by illegal growers.

Kentucky consistently averages third or fourth in the nation for domestic cultivation, following only California, Hawaii and sometimes Tennessee. In 2005, Kentucky's Eradication task Force destroyed an estimated one billion dollars worth of marijuana, including 450,000 plants and 1,100 pounds of processed bulk marijuana.

The startling aspect of these statistics is that despite concerted law enforcement efforts, thousands and thousands of plants remain undetected annually and are consumed locally

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

Dear Journal:

I've often heard the old cliché: "There's no place like home." However much we love to travel, there's always a part of us who sometimes wishes to be home. I've been in South Carolina for almost two weeks. I stayed at the Hawthorne Suites, and had two ladies as roommates. It was like having a sleepover every night.

I had gone to Greenville back on the fifth for an annual church convention known as the "Feast of Tabernacles." It is an eight-day fall festival filled with daily sermons and singings, sometimes having two meetings a day. Some of the sermons given, those by our pastor-general, came to us by satellite on a huge screen. They were seen in numerous foreign countries around the world at the same time. Some were seen as early as 7 AM or as late as 11 PM, and others had to be tape-delayed due to the time. Those brethren who were watching live also sang along with the brethren on the video, thusly, there were hundreds of God's people singing the same song at the same time around the world in their own language. Isn't the power of technology wonderful?

Other than the sermons and the singing, there were other events, such as a "Behind The Work" video, telling about the progress of the work the church is doing in the States and around the world. It focused on the personal appearance campaign to major cities in the United States by our pastor-general, Gerald Flurry, the continuing progress and growth of the church's college, and our newest project, aiding the world-renowned archeologist, Eilat Mazar in the "Jerusalem Dig." Students from the college have a hands-on daily part of uncovering what Ms. Mazar is certain is King David's palace.

Then there was the entertainment night. Those with talents, and who were willing to get on stage could showcase their particular talents to the delight of the audience. This was a particular favorite of the brethren. You could see a wide variety of talent-everything from piano recitals, singing, dancing, comedy skits, reciting of scenes from Shakespearean plays, or a scene from a movie, the reciting of poetry, or the playing of various musical instruments.

If that wasn't enough excite-

Students help in Main Street Renovation

Ten students from Kenyon College in Northern Ohio who work with Appalachian Service Organization were in Rockcastle County this week helping out with numerous projects, including work on the Jones Building, located on Main Street in Mt. Vernon. The group was busy Monday cleaning out the historic structure, which will be purchased by the Rockcastle County Development Authority through a grant to the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court. The $100,000 grant has been approved by the state and the money is scheduled to be released in January, according to owner of the building, Tim Young. Young will receive $90,000 for the property and the other $10,000 will be used to help with the renovation of the structure. While in the county, the group also helped with last weekend's electronics recycling program held at the county garage. Shown above from left are: Mt. Vernon's Main Street Manager Lynn Tatum, Deb Bledsoe with Appalachian Science in the Public Interest and students: Erin Pieniac, Traci Gau, Paula Robinson, Colin Unser, Sascha Lodge, Mike Zabek, Hannah Szlyk, Lynn Hartman, Melissa Martin and Kelly Henry.

On the last day before we had to leave our island paradise, we spent the afternoon sitting on the beach watching the ocean waves break on the white sand. It was here that we witnessed pods of dolphins swimming by just a short distance from the shore. I will be forever grateful to my wife for finding this remarkable place for us to vacation. I can't recall dreading to leave any place (except Alaska) as much as I did leaving the islands. We decided to go back to the beach one more time the next morning after checking out of the hotel. We grabbed a breakfast sandwich and rode onto the beach for one last view. This is my finest experience with the ocean, and I know we will go back soon.

behind a horse-drawn buggy clipping along at 7.5mph. The hay-burner is getting better fuel economy than you could possibly imagine and the exhaust emissions are making that stunning blue chickory blossom profusely there beside the road.

But the Amish are not the only deal in town which is why we are saving the best part of this article for last.

Let me suggest Brummett's Orchard just outside of Crab Orchard, KY as a day trip you will remember for the rest of your life after you go home with the produce.

Francis Brummett is 80 years old. His wife, Renova is 74. They have hundreds of acres of fruit trees and other cultivars. They look, appearance wise, and act about the way I'd want Loretta and me to be when we hit 65ish.

But they do a thriving business selling mostly stuff they grow there on the farm and orchard. Especially apples. Especially Grimes Goldens and Rome Beauties and Winesaps. Your choice at $15 a bushel or they'll break a bushel down into something you can carry to the car and you do the math if all you want is a poke full.

But they also have taters, many, many bushels taters at $12 a bushel. And the onions that will be served in Heaven.

Loretta and I were over at Brummett's Orchard last Saturday afternoon right at closing time.

We left the premises with half a bushel of Grimes's Goldens and a peck the Rome Beauties and Winesaps mixed up and a big sack of sweet onions

We also bought half a bushel of Yukon Gold potatoes and had change coming back out of $30 for the total purchase which weighed more than fifty pounds. Do the math.

Then go to your grocery store and pay ten times as much for chemicals offered in fruit or vegetable forms as something edible.

Loretta made huge pot of potato soup out the first three or four big pound-size taters she picked out of the bag and diced up with a big onion in the same league.

A little Amish butter and some whipping cream with a liberal dousing of fresh ground black pepper as the taters and onions cook down and stir it for a minute or two as you throw in a few fingers full of kosher salt.

If we ever get to Heaven, Loretta's tater soup will be atop the diner menu.

And the Brummetts will be set up there near the gate in a concrete block building that stays naturally cool and smells like autumn all year long. Grimes Goldens and Rome Beauties and Winesap apples and Yukon Gold potatoes will be free for the asking but

Mrs. Renova Brummett may make you go to the orchard or the field and pick your own.

Francis may sneak you a free sample of his pick of crop if Mrs. Brummett has her back turned.

Brummett's Orchard is located just 4 miles south of Crab Orchard on Highway 39.

They stay open until about 5 seven days a week. Tell em I sent you. I may have to dig them, but I desperately need another bushel of those Yukon Gold taters and some more juicy Grimes Goldens to squirt across my jaws and dribble off my chin.

Can imprison crime...

Dear Editor,

With the coming elections, I saw another candidate trumpet that he was "Tough on crime." Now that we in 9-11 land have the largest non-violent prison population in the world, you would think we would have learned that you can't imprison crime - only people, only sons and daughters, only husbands and wives. This is not hairsplitting.

When we passed harsh sentencing laws in the 1980s, we were on the back end of crimes perpetrated by teenage baby-boomers in the 60s and 70s. Crime rates have gone down since then because we baby boomers are older and go to bed earlier. But the number of Americans in captivity has skyrocketed because of laws that address a problem from 30 years ago. We have 5% of the world's population and 25% of the world's prisoners. This is not because Americans are more evil than the rest of the world, but it is because sentences are meted out to "send a message" instead of to render the specific justice that an individual's proven depravity demands. Or worse, what if your daughter is sent to prison to protect or advance the career of an elected person who needs to support his tough on crime image?

The Lord said He came to earth to release those who sit in incarceration (Luke 4:18). We once lived in a nation where it was better to that two guilty go free than that one sit in prison unjustly. We now live in a post-Christian nation where quality of life is good and actual individual lives are cheap. This is why our abortion industry and prison industry go hand in hand to remove those who are weak and those who are poor out of our sight.

Another election is coming. Join me in daily praying for our leaders to do justly and to love mercy. Maybe we should not be satisfied until our captive population is only double the rest of the world's! I fear when I remember that God is not mocked - we reap what we sow. But we can still repent and remember the liberal heritage we have of past generations to support the weak (Acts 20:35) or else it will be our own husbands and wives taken away to leave us bereaved (Exodus 22:22).

Sincerely,
Bob Coffey

Think long and hard about Worley...

Dear Editor,

At the recent candidate forum hosted by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, the Democratic incumbents, Ed Worley and Don Pasley, made much of their ability to bring money to Madison County (never mind that Harry Moberly was probably about ninety percent responsible for most of the funds). Looking after his district's interests is an important part of a legislator's job, and counties certainly need state funds to complete many projects, but the focus on money to the exclusion of many other concerns is disturbing. Ed Worley was quoted in one statement as saying, "I am about two things—education and bringing money home to Madison County." In government and in business, it appears that for Worley the bottom line, the top line, and all the lines between are about money. His love of money leads him to favor casinos in Kentucky, in spite of abundant evidence that they are a drain on the economy, victimize poor people who can least afford to lose money, and siphon money from legitimate businesses. Worley refuses to admit publicly that he favors gambling, and refuses to say how he would vote if it came up in the General Assembly. Those who oppose gambling are usually willing to say so up front, so it is not hard to know where Worley stands. Gambling interests are notorious for buying legislators, and in this election, casino promoters in Kentucky have made no secret that they are helping the candidates who will help them.

Voters of the 34th district, think long and hard before you send Ed Worley back to Frankfort. There is no question that he will keep trying to bring money to Madison County, but he is willing to do it at the cost of encumbering our future by borrowing ($4 billion this year), which will take hundreds of millions of dollars out of the state budget for the next twenty years, and by promoting gambling, which takes from the poor and gives to the rich. Barry Metcalf, on the other hand, has always stood firmly against gambling, and for budgetary restraint.

or transported to urban areas for resale. According to a National Drug Intelligence Center report, domestic Caucasian cultivators continue to be the primary retailers of marijuana throughout the state. And because of the readily availability of Kentucky pot, prices remain stable, averaging between $1,800 - $2,400 a pound in Kentucky cities, and about five dollars a gram on average throughout the state in the retail market.

The availability of public lands is another factor which contributes to the preeminence of Kentucky in the marijuana community. Our national forests, management areas and other public lands are targeted by cultivators because of the sparse population, accessibility, and optimal growing conditions. According to published Drug Enforcement Administration accounts, timber practices of the National Forest Service create openings in the forest canopy which permit sunlight to reach the forest floor. All of these conditions, coupled with the vast availability of public lands, contribute to optimal conditions for cultivation which pose limited risks of detection.

A cursory review of cultivating literature, Internet sites, or just plain old conversation with those individuals who grow marijuana reveal the intensity of feeling that these illegal farmers have towards their illicit crops. Growers wax poetic about their love of the "girls" or "ladies", referring to the female marijuana plant (male plants being discarded as part of the cultivation process), they compare detailed notes regarding appropriate ph balances and soil consistency, the attributes of particular seed strains, and the microscopic examination of the buds to determine the optimum moment of harvest. Growing tips abound about methods to avoid detection and discourage predation by insects and deer. And unfortunately, the zeal of some, the motivating power of untold illicit wealth, prompts some to endanger human life by the placement of booby traps and the use of armed guards.

Though many continue to extol the harmless virtues of marijuana and its supposed medicinal qualities, I don't buy it. Every week, addicts charged with trafficking in cocaine or powerful painkillers, manufacturers of methamphetamine, burglars and thieves, appear for final sentencing. Frequently, these individuals, many of them bound for years in prison, recite a history of substantial marijuana abuse. Pot continues to be the most frequently abused illegal drug in the Commonwealth, and admissions for substance abuse treatment attributable to marijuana use continue to rise. Marijuana use is frequently abused in conjunction with other drugs or alcohol, producing a synergistic effect which corresponds to criminal conduct. Weapon seizures in conjunction with cannabis eradication have doubled in the last decade according to the NDIC. Cultivators destroy public lands, damage archaeological sites, and use dangerous chemicals which adversely impact our forest lands. Most critically, our students continue to abuse marijuana at alarming rates.

We should all be content to enjoy the blessings of Kentucky's beautiful fall season without consideration of its darker secrets. But I can't. I welcome fall's killing frosts. And so do Kentucky's law enforcement officers.

ment, there's "Family Day." It consisted of a catered picnic meal with hot dogs, hamburgers, chips, baked beans and cole slaw, drinks, and desserts. It was held at Golden Park, a facility that has picnic areas and other entertainment such as bowling lanes.

The church tries to provide something for everyone. There was the senior citizens' luncheon, a singles' mixer and outing, and a teen outing.

I served the brethren this year, as last, by working in the floral department. Three other ladies and myself provided beautiful floral arrangements for the stage area and most of the activities.

Other than the regular church services, videos, picnics, outings, and entertainment, you have personal time. Then you get a chance to go shopping, sightseeing, eating out, or anything else you can work in.

I took advantage of some of this free time. I went shopping and got an olive-green ladies' suit and matching hat, a couple of outfits for Stanley, as well as a sport coat and some shirts. I also got a few household things such as some cedar planks I had been wanting especially for cooking salmon. I also got some art supplies, fresh apples at a fruit stand, and a piece of fine china at a pottery store. I received several wonderful Feast gifts, too. Needless to say, I brought home much more than what I took.

Of course, I ate out every meal, other than breakfast, which was served at the hotel. I experienced some really good food. I usually ate with other brethren at the restaurants. It gave us all a chance to get a little better acquainted with each other. I met other really nice brethren during my time in Greenville, some international brethren, as well. I'll never forget how much we all laughed and the good times we had.

I enjoyed myself very much, learned a lot from the sermons, ate some really good food, and look forward to going again next year. Only one thing was missing, and that was Stanley. I wish that he could have shared these wonderful experiences with me, but as they say, "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Bro. Chad Burdette, and his wife Jennifer and three children, Brandon, Chase and Faith, have been a big part of our family and an inspiration to us all at Northside for the past six years.

Bro. Chad and Jennifer have shown their love in more ways than one. He can take a sad tear and turn it into a joyful laugh and he can take a broken heart and mend it by opening his arms, kneeling and praying a prayer that will sweep through your heart, mind and soul. You can feel the spirit of God and His comfort through Bro. Chad's prayers.

They are always there for us. Their arms and doors are always open in time of need. Bro. Chad spends many hours in his office, throughout the week, counseling, talking and praying and reading scriptures from his Bible with people with situations that arise in their everyday lives. He has a great responsibility because of the growth of Northside Baptist Church and this keeps him very busy but he always has the time to listen and show his love by embracing you in his arms and opening up his heart to you. Bro. Chad believes that his job is to take care of his church family and work for the Lord, day in and day out, by witnessing to lost souls that do not know Jesus as their personal Savior. Both Bro. Chad and Jennifer are always there and that is why Northside is where it is today. But, of course, as Chad would say he gives all the praise and glory to the Lord.

We love our leader and our pastor very much. There are not enough words, love or gifts to express our appreciation to Bro. Chad and Jennifer for the hard work, love and dedication they have given to us here at Northside. We welcome everyone to come to Northside Church on Faith Mountain to hear Bro. Chad's touching messages.

Bro. Jon Burdette is our youth pastor at Northside Baptist Church. He, and his wife Amy, are a big inspiration to our youth.

Bro. Jon keeps our young people busy doing the Lord's work. He makes it fun and enjoyable for them. He has an outstanding way of teaching and preaching to our young people, making them understand the Word of God.

It is very important as young Christians to be a witness to those who do not know their Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. Our young people are very important to our churches today because they are the future church. Bro. Jon is always there for our youth and always ready to talk or pray with them.

If you are a young person and you would like to talk to someone or have questions, you can find Bro. Jon at Northside Baptist. He is always ready to listen, talk and pray with you. All of us at Northside appreciate and love Bro. Jon and Amy very much. They have a handsome son, Jonathon Evan and, as of October 1st, they have added a baby girl to the family, Shailynn Rae.

"What Saith The Scriptures"

There are many things I disagree with what the Pope says and does, but when he quoted recently a 14 century Byzantine Emperor, that said for Mohammed to spread his religion with the sword was evil and inhuman, I cannot disagree. Muslims all over the world got upset. But I wonder if they would be upset with Winston Churchill's quote from 1899 The River War:

"How dreadful are the curses which Mohammedanism lays on its votaries! Besides the fanatical frenzy, which is as dangerous in a man as hydrophobia in a dog, there is this fearful fatalistic apathy. The effects are apparent in many countries. Improvident habits, slovenly systems of agriculture, sluggish methods of commerce, and insecurity of property exist wherever the followers of the Prophet rule or live. A degraded sensualism deprives this life of its grace and refinement; the next of its dignity and sanctity. The fact that in Mohammedan law every woman must belong to some man as his absolute property (either as a child, a wife, or a concubine) must delay the final extinction of slavery until the faith of Islam has ceased to be a great power among men. Individual Moslems may show splendid qualities. Thousands become the brave and loyal soldiers of the Queen; all know how to die; but the influence of the religion paralyses the social development of those who follow it. No stronger retrograde force exists in the world. Far from being moribund, Mohammedanism is a militant and proselytizing faith. It has already spread throughout Central Africa, raising fearless warriors at every step; and were it not that Christianity is sheltered in the strong arms of science (the science against which it had vainly struggled) the civilisation of modern Europe might fall, as fell the civilisation of ancient Rome." Cf. John 14:6

In Loving Memory of a special Grandmother

Hazel Bryant March 20, 1921-Sept. 22, 2006 "The Reunion Heart"

Since Heaven has become your home,
I sometimes feel I'm so alone.
And though we now are far apart,
You hold a big piece of my heart.
I never knew how much I'd grieve,
When it was time for you to leave.
Or just how much my heart would ache,
From that one fragment you would take.
"Love and Miss You Dearly!"
Angel, Jennifer and family...

In Loving Memory of our Wonderful Mother Hazel Bryant March 20, 1921-Sept. 22, 2006 "Mother"

She was sweet and kind, as any Mother can be,
She put her faith and trust in her whole family.
She loved to visit and talk to someone,
Her friends and family were her fun.
She did with very little in her days,
She worked tirelessly without praise.
There are no words that can describe our Mother,

Nor how much she did in her lifetime for other.
Her little home is vacant and her flowers fade away,
Her favorite chair is empty and still today.
The smile in her cheery voice are still forever now,
But Mother, you'll remain forever in our hearts.
"Love and Miss You Dearly!"
Willmalene, Sheila, Les,
Lester and our family...

In Loving Memory of Carl York

By: Janice Cromer
(Calvin's Mom)

Carl York had more friends Than he knew.
Calvin, Casey, Willy, Ty, Dustin and Travis
Just to name a few.

These boys' hearts are broken,
Cause they lost a dear friend,
He will be in their thoughts
Even after their hearts mend.

Together these boys have prayed

Together they have cried, they cannot believe
Their friend has died.

Time heals all wounds
How long? No one knows.
Everyone says it's true
Or so the story goes.

How can I put into words,
What I saw the night of the wake,
Seeing all his friends walking down the road,

Was more than I could take.

My son, Calvin, was included,
He has shed a many of a tear,
Because he lost a friend
That was true and dear.

He has known Carl
The biggest part of his life.
He says his heart feels like
He's been stabbed with a knife.

If everyone leaves this world,
With as many friends as he,
We will be blessed
Cause that's what true friendship should be.

So, to the family of Carl,
Let it always be known,
It comes from his friends' hearts
The love that they have shown.

I knew Carl personally,
I can tell you this is all true.
This message is for Carl,
We will always love you.

Raider Team and Drill Team at EKU Military Stakes.

JROTC competes at EKU

By Cadet Brook Blount
On September 23, 2006, Rockcastle JROTC Raider's Team and Drill Team competed at Eastern Kentucky University, a high level competition. Even though the weather did not cooperate with us, many schools did not turn down this opportunity to compete. Due to the weather, many of the events were revised in order to keep the competition running smoothly. The Drill Team practiced for months in advance for this competition. They had put forth the effort into staying every Tuesday and Thursday for practices.

The Raider Team had also wanted to do well at EKU, so they had spent their time practicing Tuesday thru Thursday pushing their bodies to the limit to bring home a first place trophy.

The Drill Team competed in two events that consisted of:

Photos by Sharon Walker

Color Guard Sequence and the Posting of the Colors. The Raider Team, on the other hand, had a little more on their plate. There were five events in total: the main events and the revised events were the rope climb (instead of the rope bridge), aid and litter carry, leadership excellence test, P.T. test (without the 2 mile run) and last the zodiac boat race (the mystery event).

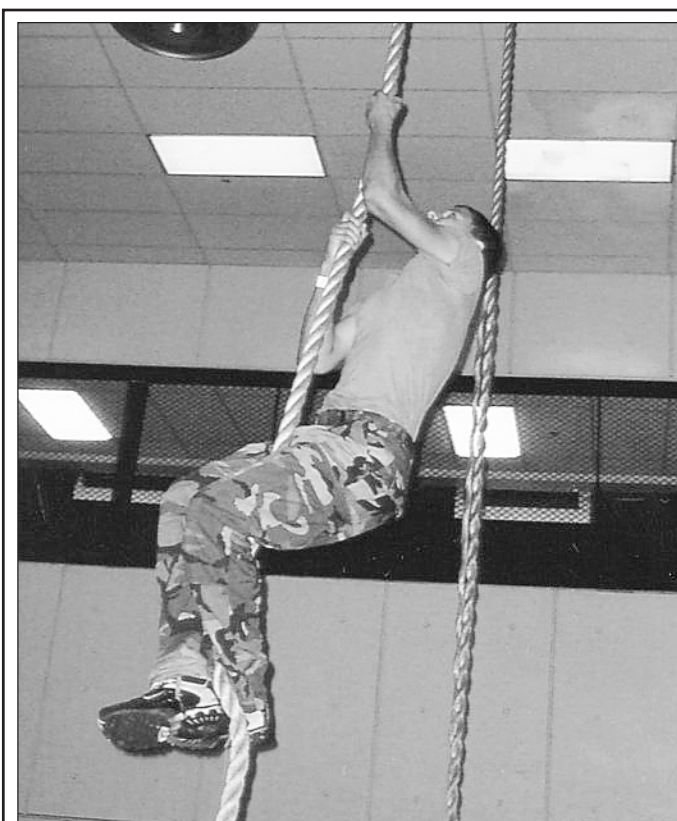

Our practices had actually come in good use and helped both the Drill and Raider teams. Overall we ended up taking first place in the zodiac boat race, the rope climb, and the aid and litter carry. To add to our victory, we had taken second place overall at this high level competition making the beginning of our year very successful.

This weekend we had become conquistadors. Meaning we came, we saw, we conquered!

The cadets that participated in the event were: Jacob Alcorn, Thomas Amaral, Chris Ayers, Buck Blair, Brook Blount, Mason Bowling, Justin Caldwell, Jonathan Carlton, Jay Cobb, Jeremy Collier, Josh Cromer, Jonathan Dekorte, Cody Delph, Lakin Halcomb, Casey Hansel, Daniel Hayes, Brandon Hellard, Eric Hughes, Phillip Hughes, Harry Hunsucker, Daniel Johnson, Jeff Jones, Andy McFerron, Chris Pendery, Stephen Riddell, Chris Rogers, Anthony Smith, Chris Sowder, Sabrina Sturm, Clinton Walker, Colton Walker, Megan Brumett, Jacob Clouse, Charles Dickerson, Ashley Smith, Samantha Bussell and Stacy Grubb.

Aid and Litter Carry: Andy McFerron, Lakin Halcomb and Clint Walker.

Taking part in the rope climb was Steven Riddell.

Color Guard performing their sequence: Charles Dickerson, Jacob Clouse, Ashley Smith and Megan Brumett.

The reading continues at RCMS. Thanks to our Gear-Up program, on Tuesday each student received a free new book of their own. This is the second time this school year that our students have been so fortunate. Jeremiah Brown, Adam Alcorn, and Grayson Acord all made good use of time to read their new books. Good reading abilities are just one of the skills that have made RCMS students so successful. Keep up the good work!

RCMS Book Review...

Submitted by Sabranna Proffitt

In the Stone Circle by Cody Kimmel is a book about a girl named Christene who lost her mom, and a girl named Megan whose dad ran away and left her. The girls' families travel to Wales to spend two months. The best part of the book begins when the girls begin to hear strange sayings and strange noises. The girls think that there is a ghost in the house they are staying in, but actually it is Christene's mother. This experience turns into an excellent time for the families and they become closer because of it.

I enjoyed the author's use of wide vocabulary in this book. Overall, I loved this book and would recommend it to anyone who likes to read a good mystery!

Lady Rockets win fourth straight 47th District title

The Lady Rockets traveled to Clay County last Tuesday night for the 47th District volleyball tournament and walked away with their fourth District title in as many years.

The Lady Rockets defeated Jackson County in the first round by a score of 25-20 and 25-10. The Lady Rockets then moved on to the second round, defeating Oneida Baptist by a score of 25-15 and 25-10.

Immediately following the Lady Rockets semi-final win they had to turn around and play Clay County for the 47th district Championship.

In the first game against Clay County, the Lady Rockets took the early lead and never looked back, winning the game 25-14.

At the start of the second game, the long day without any rest, finally caught up with the Lady Rockets.

"Three matches in four hours was tough on these girls, especially in this hot gym," said head coach Larry Lee after the match.

The Lady Rockets dropped the second game 25-23 to the Lady Tigers which forced a third game.

But, the Lady Rockets were not ready to end their run at the district championship just yet.

The Lady Rockets started game three serving ace after ace giving them an early lead.

And, behind the serving of Jill Owens, Megan Mazurek, and Meredith Robinson, the Lady Rockets lead increased even more. The final score was 25-17 giving the Lady Rockets the match 2-1 and their 4th consecutive District Championship.

"They wanted it and, under these conditions you couldn't ask for any more than what they showed tonight" Coach Lee said. The Lady Rockets put six on the all-tournament team: sophomore Megan Mazurek, juniors Jesse Witten and Morgan Thacker and seniors Erica McKinney, Meredith Robinson and the 47th district tournament MVP Jill Owens.

Owens led the tournament with 39 serve attempts and 13 aces. She also led the tournament with 134 sets and 54 set assists. Erica McKinney led the team and tournament with 30 kills and also added four aces, followed by Megan Mazurek with 25 kills. Jesse Witten added 11 kills and three aces and Morgan Thacker had six kills and three aces.

Kayla Stewart led the team with 11 digs, followed by Meredith Robinson with 10 and Bethany French with eight.

The Lady Rockets advanced to the second round of the regional tournament on Tuesday night easily defeating Harlan, 25-4 and 25-14.

The Lady Rockets will travel back to Manchester on Thursday night where they will try to defend their 13th region title.

The Lady Rockets will play Corbin, a team they put out of the regional tournament last year in the semi-finals. If they defeat the Lady Redhounds, they will face the winner of the Whitley County/Clay County match in the championship game, which will begin around 9 p.m.

Rockets win 54-12

Madison Southern still no match

By: Richard Anderkin

After a slight set back in week four of the 2006 football season, against Lincoln County, the Rockets have shown no mercy to their district opponents.

With the exception of Bell County a week ago, the Rockets have totally dominated their district foes. The domination by the Rockets continued on Friday night when the Rockets destroyed the Madison Southern Eagles 54-12.

It was the Rockets seventh win of the season, against only one loss, and it put them in the driver's seat in the district, where they are now 4-0.

It was also the 15th straight win over the Eagles, who have never defeated the ROCK on the gridiron.

The Rockets did not waste any time getting things started offensively on Friday.

With just three minutes gone in the first period, tailback Dusty Miller scored on a two yard run and Brad Durham added the extra point for a 7-0 Rocket lead.

Miller crossed the goal line again only three and half minutes later and, still with five and half minutes to play in the first period, the Rockets led 13-0.

But Miller wasn't finished with the Eagles in the first half as he scored again. With 4:08 on the clock in the second quarter, Miller scored on a nine yard run. Izak McQueary found Shawn Childress in the end zone for the two point conversion and the Rockets were ahead 21-0.

Southern managed to score with 2:45 remaining in the first half on an eight hard pass, which was set up by a long kick-off return.

The Rockets took a 21-6 lead into the dressing room at half-time and it was all Rockcastle in the second half.

Miller would add three more scores of his own in the third period on runs of four, 51 and 56 and McQueary would add another score on a short run in the third period. Another pass from McQueary to Childress, and a kick by Durham, ended the third quarter scoring and gave the Rockets a commanding 48-6 lead.

Freshman Dakota McFerron scored the only Rocket touchdown of the fourth period on a 13 yard run, but the Eagles managed one more score on an 82 yard kick-off return with 1:40 remaining in the game, for the final score of 4-12.

Miller, who has 1,656 yards and 18 touchdowns on the season, broke his own rushing record for a single game garnering 372 yards on 32 carries. He had set the rushing record the week before against Bell County with 296 yards. Miller also broke a record set in 1990 by fullback William Bullens with six touchdowns. Bullens had five against Williamsburg. Miller also broke the single game scoring record at the ROCK with 36. The old record was set in 2003 by Devin Taylor who scored 31 points against Lincoln. Miller was also chosen as the WLEX player of the week in high school football.

"What can you say about Dusty. He is having a great year," head coach Tom Larkey said.

"Give his offensive line a lot of credit though, they have really started to jell down the stretch," Larkey noted.

All together, the Rockets racked up 527 yards of offense, their highest total in their eight games this season, while holding Madison Southern to just 76 yards.

Besides Miller's offensive statistics, Cody Mize had 19 yards on five carries; Shawn McHone had 39 yards on seven carries; McFerron had 87 yards on 10 carries; Josh Renner had six yards on two carries and Childress had three yards on one carry.

Childress caught two passes for 35 yards and Lynn Miracle added a catch for 19 yards. McQueary was four for nine passing for 54 yards.

It should be noted that one of Durham's extra point kicks was from 35 yards because of a penalty. "I just want to congratulate Brad on his 35 yard extra point kick, I noticed the fans really got excited about the kick and, with our kicking problems this year, who would have thought Brad could have made the 35 yard kick," Larkey said. "I thought it was pretty exciting myself," the coach added.

Sophomore Casey Hayes led the tenacious Rocket defense with seven tackles and assists and he also recovered a fumble and recorded one sack.

Durham had six tackles and a sack and Trenidy Coffey's three tackles were all sacks.

Tanner Perkins picked off an Eagle pass and added two tackles, as the Rocket defense surrendered the least amount of yards they had all year long.

Other Rockets picking up tackles in the rout of the Eagles were: Donovan Pigg, three; Josh Garrison, two; Scott Daugherty, two; Adam Hensley, one; Zach Burkhart, two; McQueary, two; Childress, three; Steve Trimble, three; Devon Mason, two; Nick Nolan, one; Brian Mize, two and Adam Mink, Cole Abney and Dalton Dillingham, all one each.

"I was real pleased with the effort of our players and the fan support at the game was great, I think we had more fans than Southern," Larkey said.

The Rockets travel to Hazard on Friday night to take on Perry Central, a team that is 1-7 on the season. Central's only win was over Knott County Central, 40-28.

Game time Friday night is 7:30 p.m. The Rockets will host

Sisters, Beth and Heather Clontz, shown above, were on the set of a movie being filmed recently at Club Arena Skating Rink in Berea. The movie was being made by a crew from the Production III Class of Watkins College of Art Design in Nashville, Tennessee.

The short 16 mm film is part of class work for the crew. The school has certification training for movie production and each class member must make a movie. The story takes place in a roller skating rink, at a twelve year old girl's birthday party. Students from Jessie Clark Middle School in Lexington were actors and extras for the movie. Their teacher, Becky Johnson, is the wife of the director, Tom Johnson. Also acting in the movie was Ed Hager, producer and Tony Oliver. Ed and Tony are former Bereans and enjoyed skating at the local rink as children.

Seals admitted to having sexual relations with the child to Detective Gary Lane on Sunday, was charged with four counts of first degree sodomy.

but could the road to bring it more in line with today's "political correctness."

And, also on the current road name change process, Carloftis told Craig that the machine to make new road signs was now available and work release inmates would soon begin making the new signs.

Ryan Loudermilk, a Little League coach, asked the court to purchase a defibrillator to have during games if needed. Sometimes children can be hit in the chest with a line drive that can actually stop their heart and, if a defibrillator is present, it can be used to save a child's life.

Loudermilk told the court that coaches and other would have to undergo training in how to correctly use the machine. The cost would be $950 plus $85 to buy a child's pad.

However, before the court could take action, Hal Holbrook, emergency management and CSEPP director for the county, told Loudermilk that if a print-out on the defibrillator was not required that he could probably furnish one through his program at no charge to the county. The court tabled the matter until this avenue was explored.

In other action, Carloftis told the court about a new program being offered citizens of Rockcastle by the Kentucky Association of Counties (KACo) which will provide them with prescription drugs at a discount rate.

Carloftis said that, since the county is a member of KACo, that all citizens in the county was eligible to receive the discount drug cards, free of charge, to possibly get their prescriptions at a lower cost.

The court approved the program and Carloftis said that a supply of the cards would be made available to county residents in the near future.

During the financial part of the meeting, County Treasurer Joe Clontz told the court that 911 was encountering a "cash flow problem."

Clontz said that 911 had been receiving their monthly check from Alltel about the middle of each month but that since Windstream had bought them out, the check was coming at the end of the month and that September's check was not received until the first of October.

Clontz said that 911 needed $10,000 to keep current with their payroll and bills until the cash flow problem could be resolved.

The court approved taking $10,000 from the Local Government Economic Assistance Fund which had a balance of $70,953 as of October 12th.

State troopers, including local troopers Tommy Cromer and Jason McCowan, discovered more than one patch of marijuana growing on Marlow property, with the help of the eradication team's helicopter.

Police said they also found Marlow Sr. in a patch of the marijuana that contained 161 plants.

Marlow Sr. filled a $15,000 property bond and is scheduled for arraignment on December 20th.

The day of his arrest, Marlow, Jr., was charged with possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia, both misdemeanors. He was released from jail after he filled a $2,500 property bond. A pre-trial conference for Marlow, Jr. is scheduled for November 13th.

A former employee at Hardee's Restaurant in Renfro Valley was indicted Friday on one count of theft by unlawful taking over $300.

Shannon Renee Scott, 32, of Cabin Creek Road, London, is accused of taking money from the restaurant while employed there, according to Mt. Vernon City Police Chief Terry Jackson.

Bond for Scott was set at $20,000 cash or property.

Two men were also indicted for flagrant non-support of their children minor children.

The Rockcastle County Attorney's office says that Christopher Miller, 29, of Macon, Georgia owes $13,000 in back child support payments and that Timothy Renner, 34, of Eubank, owes $2,623 in child support.

Circuit Judge Jeffery T. Burdette set bonds for the two "dead beat dads" at the amount they owe for child support. The Judge also stipulated that if the men post bond, the bond money would be used to pay their child support.

Shirley M. Campbell, 36, of Stanford was indicted for operating motor vehicle while license was suspended or revoked, third offense. She remains free on a $250 district court bond.

Dear Citizens of the 4th Magisterial District,

My name is Don Dees and I want to be your next Magistrate. My focus as Magistrate will be to improve the road conditions for our school buses. There are many important safety issues that are needed in our district. Focus will be on bus turnarounds, pot holes, culvert and shoulder work. I will encourage dialogue and hold meetings to allow residents to voice their concerns and improvement requests.

I have been a lifelong resident of Rockcastle County. My wife, Brenda and I have raised our three sons, Matt, David and Tommy, here and I have been a small business owner for over 35 years. I have worked with people and have the knowledge and experience with construction, grading, paving and drainage to make the proper improvements to our roads. These changes will benefit not only our school buses but all travelers within our district. If I did not have the experience to do the job, I would not ask for your support.

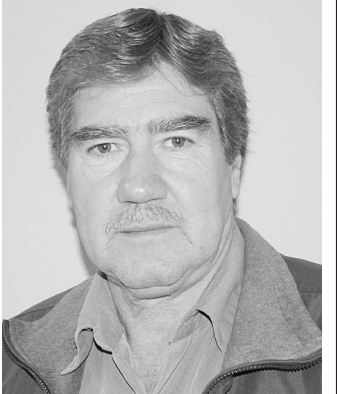

I will be a hard working, visible and available public servant to all the citizens of the 4th District. On November 7th, please press the "write-in" button on the ballot and just put "Dees" for your 4th District Magistrate! Election officers will be available to assist you.

Thank you for your consideration and support.

Thank you, Don Dees

Pursuit of SCC Degree and 100-year-old machines help Chris Robbins build business

Somerset Community College student Chris Robbins makes handmade broom and mops. He has been making brooms since he was 14-years-old. Now, at 21, Robbins is majoring in Business Management at SCC.

"Coming to SCC has really helped me in my business," Robbins said. "The business management program has taught me different aspects of business. Now, I manage my time better. I've learned about marketing and advertising. Accounting taught me how to manage my finances."

This semester, Robbins is taking a web design class which he hopes will assist him in improving his website.

Robbins is the son of Miachel and Peggy Robbins of Ottawa in Rockcastle County.

The quality of Robbins' work has been recognized with membership in top crafts groups like Sheltoewe Artisans, the Kentucky Guild and Kentucky Crafted.

Robbins' broom making began almost by accident when Chris and his father helped to move a group of old log cabins known as the "BitterSweet Cabins" to the famous country music venue at Renfro Valley. One of the cabins was a broom shop that was fully equipped with broom making equipment from the 1800s.

"At one point, I was bored, so I went into the broom shop and made a couple of brooms," Robbins recalled.

Not long after that, Robbins met Jim Harmon at the Berea

Jim is an employee of CSX Railroad and Regina is an employee at the EOO office on the EKV campus and a full-time student. This newly united couple request no gift but that of the remembrance of them in your prayers as they seek to serve their Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

To Concerned Citizens of the 4th District:

I am a concerned citizen of the 4th District. I have been a resident of Rockcastle County since 1970. I am a registered Republican.

It seems our district has been neglected for many years now. It seems our county officials think they can get elected by neglecting this area. I am concerned about two roads especially. Burnt Ridge Road and Disputanta Clear Creek. I haven't really traveled other roads in our district.

I am asking voters in our district to make sure they get out and vote.

Mr. Don Dees is running as a write-in candidate and I'm asking, as a concerned citizen, that you push Write-In and write-in Don Dees. Mr. Dees didn't ask me to write but I assured him I would do all I could to help him.

We need many changes in our county. Let's start by getting out and voting. Let's let our voices be heard. I make it a point of voting every election. I have known Mr. Dees all my life and his is a good citizen.

Going beyond the courtroom

A Caring Touch

Judge Lambert's "Whatever It Takes" truancy program is making a difference in our schools and receiving national attention.

"Truancy is often the first sign of trouble," says Judge Lambert. "And in this case, it has proven to be the ounce of prevention that's worth its weight in gold. Before we created this program, all they could do was wait until these kids became really troubled and showed up in court."

For the last six years Judge Lambert has volunteered her time in four Middle Schools in Lincoln, Pulaski and Rockcastle counties where she holds ten weekly in-school sessions each semester to help students having truancy problems.

Judge Lambert: "Much of the credit goes to the parents, teachers and school administrators who all contribute greatly to the success of our program. Together we teach students with encouragement, guidance and sometimes a firm hand, that school attendance is necessary for their future and required by law."

The results have been dramatic with many students showing remarkable improvements in attendance, behavior and grades.

Larry Warren, former Pulaski Co. Assistant Director of Pupil Personnel (formerly called truant officer) put it this way, "In the last six years I've seen Judge Lambert's truancy program help hundreds of students...kids that literally graduated High School instead of dropping out as a direct result of her efforts."

The U.S. Department of Justice found the "Whatever It Takes" program so innovative and effective, they asked Judge Lambert to present it to other judges and Family Court professionals from across the country at the National "Truancy Reduction Demonstration Program Cluster meeting" in Jacksonville, Florida in 2002.

Combining family values and the law is a natural for Debra Lambert. With her undergraduate degree in Child and Family Studies, her first love has always been working with children.

Library News

Pam Chaliff and Kathy McKibben

What a grand way to start the work week out for our preschoolers of the community!

The Middle School Touring Theatre presented the cutest book by Laura Numeroff entitled Beatrice Doesn't Want To! Twenty-two of the county's finest were in attendance for the program. I can say that because they are patrons of the Rockcastle County Public Library!!!

Mr. Allen Pensol, as always, did a superb job instructing the three students who put on the little play. Thanks so much to Dalton Hutton, Kara Canterbury and Heather Eaton.

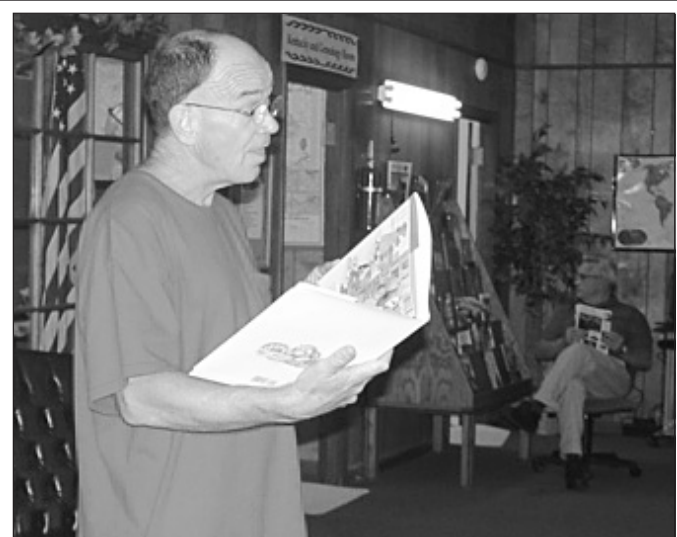

The play was put on by Rockcastle County Middle School Touring Theatre and RCS schools and the Reading is Fundamental group, and the literacy partner was you got it, the Rockcastle County Public Library.

Fire Prevention Week was last week, as always the schools and organizations plan for a program to teach about fire prevention from the county's fire department volunteers, and we appreciate their efforts.

Teen Read Week is scheduled for the 15th - the 20th. All of the teens and tweens try to find time to read to someone, whether it be a child or an elderly person. This is just another form of promoting literacy and creativity rolled up in one.

Mrs. Pam Chaliff has already been out reading to some of our faithful patrons. Why not take the time to read a good book or come on down to the library and you may be surprised at what might interest you! Make the connection, connect @ your library!

Mr. Allen Pensol reads from the Laura Numeroff book, Beatrice Doesn't Want To.

Thanks to our cast of characters! Dalton Hutton, Kara Canterbury and Heather Eaton!

The children enjoyed the play and participated!

Matt Bryant presents William Whitley to Rockcastle Chapter DAR

The Rockcastle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in October at First Christian Church. Thirteen members and nine guests were entertained by Matt Bryant who delivered a 40 minute monologue/impersonation of William Whitley. This dramatic monologue covered events from several years, beginning with Whitley's arrival in Kentucky up through the early 1800's. Both members and guests were pleased and excited to be presented with such a realistic picture of what life was like for ancestors.

Hostess Mrs. Janie Cromer, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Onna Kay Owens, served cake and coffee during the extended question and answer session.

Information, Inspiration and Celebration keys to Annual Breast Cancer Symposium

In recognition of October as National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, the public is invited to attend a free breast cancer symposium. The event will be held at The Center for Rural Development in Somerset on Thursday, October 26, beginning at 10:00 a.m. EDT. In keeping with the event theme, attendees are asked to wear a hat that makes them happy or brings back special memories.

Sponsored by Alton Blakley Ford and Lake Cumberland Regional Hospital, in cooperation with the American Cancer Society and the Kentucky Cancer Program, the event is designed to provide information and inspiration for everyone – and to celebrate the victories of breast cancer patients, survivors and their loved ones.

"Since information is of vital importance in empowering women to be pro-active with their health, the first part of the gathering will feature informational booths," stated Susan Ramsey Wilson, director of community relations for the hospital. From 10:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., attendees can find out all they need to know about breast cancer from a wide variety of exhibitors – from clinicians who will provide the latest breast health information to make-up and exercise experts who will help at

"Robbins"

Crafts Show. Harmon was a master broom maker from Springfield, Ky. Robbins stopped at his booth during the crafts show and began talking to the master about broom making.

"I think he was excited to find someone so young who was interested in making brooms," Robbins said. "Soon after that he began teaching me to make brooms at the Bittersweet Cabins in Renfro Valley. Then, I began working at Renfro Valley on the weekends demonstrating how to make brooms."

Robbins' brooms sold well in the Renfro Valley gift shop, so when Harmon offered to sell him two 100-year-old machines used for making brooms, Robbins bought them. In 2001, Robbins set up the machines in a shop above his parents' garage and started into full-time business.

Recently, someone gave Robbins an old log cabin that belonged to his ancestors. He is in the process of restoring the cabin and it will eventually house his business.

Robbins made two kinds of brooms when he started. Today he makes 25 different broom varieties, some with interesting names like a "cake tester" or a "mountain cobweb grabber". He recently added hand-crafted cotton mops to his inventory.

"People love them," he said. "You can't beat them for cleaning and they can last several years if you take care of them."

Robbins comes from a crafty family. His father decorates gourds, while his 15-year-old brother does chair caning.

In addition to being found at his website, Robbins brooms are available at several Kentucky State Parks. You can also see him make brooms at any Sheltonville Artisans show.

tendees learn how to look and feel their best.

At 12:00 noon, guests who have pre-registered will enjoy a delicious luncheon, provided in part, by Southern Kentucky AHEC, Southern Belle Dairy, Coca Cola, and "Take the Cake." There will be a hat style show during lunch with prizes for winners in the following categories: most original, most beautiful, best theme-related, most outrageous, and funniest. A highlight of the luncheon program will be recognizing and honoring breast cancer survivors.

The keynote luncheon presentation will be given by Heather Hanson Pierce, PhD., MS, CGC, Assistant Professor and Director of Clinical Genetic Counseling Program at the University of Kentucky Markey Cancer Center. Dr. Pierce's presentation, "Breast Cancer, Your Family Tree, and You," will focus on how a family history of breast cancer impacts a woman's risk for breast cancer, how hereditary risk for breast cancer is determined and medical management options for women who are at increased risk. In addition to the luncheon presentation, Dr. Pierce will present a workshop at 10:45 a.m. EDT on how to collect a medical family history. This information will be useful not only to assess hereditary risk for breast cancer, but for other diseases as well.

Dr. Pierce is a graduate of Florida State University and completed her doctorate in Philosophy, Genetics and Molecular Biology at the University of North Carolina. She also holds a Master of Science in Genetic Counseling from Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York, where she also completed a Fellowship in Cancer Genetic Counseling. She is a prolific writer with a dozen publications and articles to her credit, and frequent speaker on genetics and bioethics.

"We are very excited about our fourth annual breast cancer program," said Wilson. "Our team has put together a program that will not only provide essential information, but will also give attendees an opportunity for great fellowship and inspiration. While this gathering is a celebration of life and hope, we also want to remember loved ones who have been lost to breast cancer."

The culmination of the event will be a balloon release, with survivors releasing pink balloons and others releasing white balloons for loved ones who lost their battle with breast cancer.

The event is free to the public, however seating is limited for the luncheon. Reservations are required for the luncheon by calling 606-678-3264 by October 23. No reservations are needed to visit the information booths.
