Eight are indicted

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury named eight people in five indictments handed down on Friday but, for the first time in many months, none of the indictments involved illegal drugs.

John D. McClure, 23, of Haiti Road, Berea and Karey M. Dillon, 21, also of Haiti Road were indicted on 22 counts of possession of a forged instrument, which involved checks that had been stolen from Dillon's great-grandmother.

Kentucky State Police officer Scott Pennington said the stolen checks were used over a six day period in March and,

Western Water truck stolen, then recovered

A Western water service truck, which had been reported stolen on May 2nd, was recovered last Thursday afternoon.

Rockcastle County Sheriff Mike Peters said Darrell Wayne Whitaker found the truck in a barn on one of his farms on Hwy. 461 around 3 p.m.

Western Water Manager Paula DeBorde said employees realized a storage building off Old 461, used by Western, had been broken into some time during the night, when they went to work on the 2nd.

DeBorde said a concrete saw and change from the ash trays had been stolen and the 2001 Chevy truck had been wrecked on the passenger side.

Open House at Saltpetre Cave

The annual open house at the Great Saltpetre Cave at Crooked Creek is scheduled for this Saturday and Sunday.

Free tours of the historic cave will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday tours from noon to 4 p.m.

Besides tours, there will be entertainment and food.

The cave dates back to 1798 and got its name from the mining of saltpetre, which was used to make gunpowder.

Kentucky Governor Ernie Fletcher, left, made an unprecedented third stop in Rockcastle County this year, when he attended a Relay for Life Spaghetti Supper and Auction at the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame in Renfro Valley on Tuesday night. He was greeted by State Representative Danny Ford, center, and Rockcastle County Attorney Billy Reynolds. Over $3,000 was raised for the Relay during the event, thanks largely to the Governor's entourage. Below, Governor Fletcher stopped to talk with Sue, Ben and Ralph Allen. In the background is the Allen's son, Darren, a Kentucky State Trooper and a member of the Governor's security team. Ben is Darren's son. All are from Mt. Vernon and Ralph is the county's fifth district magistrate. (Front page photos by Richard Anderkin).

Election set for Tuesday

When Rockcastle County voters go to the polls next Tuesday they will find a primary ballot, with all but one state wide race.

Besides the races for Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, Attorney General, State Treasurer and Commissioner of Agricultural, there is also a race for Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Seven candidates, including incumbent James I. "Jim" Howard are vying for the seat on the state's second highest court in the Third Appellate District.

Former Rockcastle County Attorney James H. Lambert won election to the other seat in the third district in November, when he defeated incumbent Mike Henry in the 27 county race.

Due to the recent fire at the Rockcastle County Middle School, the location for the voting precincts of West Mt. Vernon and South Mt. Vernon have been changed to Mt. Vernon Elementary School, according to Rockcastle County Clerk Norma Houk.

Houk said that for this May primary only, voting for all four

Mt. Vernon precincts will be held at the Elementary School.

East and North Mt. Vernon precincts will be in the lunchroom and the West Mt. Vernon and South Mt. Vernon precincts will be in the gym.

Houk said signs will be posted and an election officer will be at the door to assist with any questions.

Kentucky State Police officer Scottie Pennington is shown looking over what was left of a storage building that was completely destroyed by fire Monday evening at Copper Creek. The fire, which was reported at 6:50 p.m. by Melanie Edwards who lived at the residence just off Sweetwater Road, spread to the house in the background. Brindle Ridge and Brodhead volunteer firefighters responded to the scene and extinguished the house fire, which heavily damaged one bedroom and a porch attached to the house. Brindle Ridge assistant fire chief Larry "Tiny" Mullins said the storage building did not have any electricity and the cause of the fire was unknown.

Rockcastle Memories

By David J. Griffin

I have been a "shutterbug" ever since my mother purchased a Brownie Hawkeye camera for my 8th birthday. I still consider photography as my number one hobby.

I remember taking a photo of Kenny Cornelius during the 1952 Sweet Sixteen basketball tournament at UK's Memorial Coliseum in Lexington. I was seated in the "rafters" and held the camera over my head to get the shot. When I had the film developed at Maggard's Drug Store, to my surprise, Kenny was in focus and his image was centered in the middle of the frame. Of course, the photo was black and white but to me it was a prize-winning photograph.

Because I loved photography, I continued to take photos of my friends throughout my high school days. I also considered it imperative to photograph every car that I have ever owned. I still have multiple photos of my first car, which was a black '58 Chevrolet. As soon as it was washed and polished, I pulled it into the front yard of my grandparent's house and experimented with every angle possible while photographing a car.

While in college, I took a photography class and my interest grew even stronger. An assignment that the professor gave was to go around the campus and take one photograph that we considered to be the best example of things that he had taught us. This seemed like a fun assignment, so away I went.

I shortly discovered a lovely female student reading a book under a shade tree. I asked if I could take her photo; she agreed. After completing the assignment, we gave the professor our film so he could have it developed. The following week he had the three best photographs printed in 8 by 10's. To my delight, he showed the class my photo first and complimented me on the portrait of his daughter! I had no idea!

Over the years I owned several semi-professional 35 mm cameras and continued to take additional college classes in photography. In the late 60's I opened a photography studio in Mt. Sterling and concentrated on portrait and wedding photography. I used a new Mamiya RB67 for those photographs.

My favorite camera was one that I purchased in 1971. It was a Nikon F2S professional 35 mm with interchangeable lenses. It had a shutter with a maximum speed of 1/2000th of a second. It could literally stop a speeding bullet in mid-air.

While managing the studio, I was constantly surprised at the unusual photography requests that came my way. One lady came in to the studio with a large family portrait and asked me to take out her son-in-law because he left her daughter. We were able to complete her request.

Occasionally we were asked to add someone to an existing portrait in which some of the family members were deceased. That took some hard work but it could be accomplished. In those days we used air brushing techniques to add or remove individuals from portraits.

My favorite type of photography is landscape or nature. I once was shooting a baseball game when I noticed the best sunset going down between two mountains. The next thing I knew I was hiking toward the sunset. It may have been the best shot of my life. I entered it in a national contest and won

Points East

By Ike Adams

Several people who keep an eye on birds and share their notes with me have had humming birds visiting their feeders for weeks.

My buddy, Tom Miller, even had one in February or early March. It's been so long now that I've forgotten the exact date but I do know that it was before that spell of cold weather that wiped out the red buds and dogwoods and most other stuff that sprouted early.

Suffice to say that I will have no peaches on my trees again this year.

But this is supposed to be about humming birds.

Anyway, I don't usually look for hummers to show up until the middle of May but, because everybody else was seeing them, I hung out a couple of feeders on the front porch a couple of weeks ago and one showed up within minutes. Apparently it had been perched in the persimmon tree twiddling whatever humming birds twiddle and waiting patiently for the feeders to appear.

By the next day we had two more and all three are making steady, if not constant, use of the sugar water containers dangling there from the porch eaves. All three are females and they seem to get along very well with each other. Sometimes two of them will be using the same feeder at the same time without fussing over territorial issues.

I suspect that they are building nests in the persimmon and the peach trees and waiting for husbands to show up at which time all hell will break loose. Or perhaps these are Mormon hummers who plan to share a single hubby. I haven't read up on humming bird breeding habits.

All I know for sure is that over the last several years, our front porch and lawn turn into aerial battle zones when the males show up. I'm not sure why, but the males will try to guard every feeder on the premises (by the time you read this I'll have four) and they don't want any other hummers coming about.

VIEW FROM THE BENCH

Lost and Found Babies

Picture this: a drive-through hospital window in which a mother can deposit her newborn child, abandoning that child to the care and custody of complete strangers. Impossible, right?

Unfortunately, the "drop box" for unwanted babies is a sad reality.

According to a news release from last week, a hospital in the Japanese city of Kumamoto has installed a small hatch which permits parents to anonymously deposit unwanted babies into an incubator 24 hours daily. This measure was undertaken to combat the growing problem in Japanese society of unwanted children being left in parks and supermarkets. And Japan is not the only country which has such drop boxes.

The number of unwanted children is increasing worldwide. And the United States is no exception. According to the U.S. Department of Human Services, 114,000 children awaited adoption in 2005. Of those children who started out in foster care in 2005, only 51,323 were actually adopted, leaving tens of thousands of children in flux.

What is sad is that thousands of qualified and caring individuals are willing to serve as adoptive parents, yet are unable to do so for a multitude of reasons. For the courts, adoptions are a wonderful deviation from the norm.

So much of what courts do on a daily basis involves assigning blame or fault for all of the tragic incidents associated with modern society. Unlike the bulk of these duties, adoptions are proceedings which make for truly golden days, those days on which a judge feels blessed to be entrusted with the responsibility of a public office designed to be helpful, caring and compassionate. On these rare days, courts can unite with attorneys

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

Dear Journal:

I usually start dreading Mother's Day by mid-February. If you don't have a mother to honor, you're really at a loss on Mother's Day. Everything seems to bring back a memory of your mother or grandmother, and the whole day is ruined as well as those leading up to it. Even if past memories were pleasant, to think on these this day, seems to leave a void in your heart. The first Mother's Day without Mom is always the worst, and they don't get much better from there. Of all the days of the year, this one seems only to serve as a stark reminder that she is gone.

My "plan of attack" to avoid the "Mother's Day Blues" this year was to try to ignore it. Believe it or not, it seemed to help, but it wasn't easy. It was hard to do because the painful reminder seemed to be stuck in your face at every turn.

Out of the four Mother's Days that Mom has been gone, and the eleven that Granny has been gone, this was probably the best. Stanley and I are in the same category when it comes to the "Mother's Day Blues" as are a lot of other people, I'm sure. This was the third Mother's Day without his mother.

We decided that we wouldn't go through what we usually go through this year. In years past, we sat around the house, maybe going out for lunch, and just tried to make the best of a bad situation.

So I wouldn't feel that he had forgotten me, Stanley presented me with his Mother's Day card first thing Sunday morning. It was a very pretty card. He gave

Treating Menopause

Presented by Dr. Karen Saylor

There are many problems for menopausal women. They get hot flashes, emotional changes such as depression, irregular bleeding, thin bones, and troublesome vaginal changes. Treating these symptoms is very important, but difficult because of the risks of using estrogen.

Estrogens help with the hot flashes and other symptoms, but the WHI study showed that there is an increased risk of blood clots traveling to the lungs, heart attacks, and possibly breast cancer.

Estrogens can still be used, but the risks must be carefully discussed with your doctor and appropriate tests done first and then regularly while using estrogens.

There are a few choices besides estrogen. One of the first steps is using soy protein. Soy contains a type of plant estrogen. Studies have not clearly shown that this type of estrogen is a safe alternative, and it is not as effective in controlling symptoms as estrogen but many women are using it without known problems. The recommended dose is about 2 glasses of soy milk per day.

Other medicines that have been used include low doses of certain antidepressants and a blood pressure medicine called clonidine.

Regular aerobic exercise is extremely important. It will help with hot flashes, it lowers the cholesterol, strengthens the bones, and helps lose weight. In short it has only good effects during menopause.

A calcium supplement is very helpful in keeping the bones from thinning. At least 1000 mg. per day is the recommended dose. This can come from the diet, in the form of calcium tablets, or as calcium-containing antacids.

In Loving Memory of Chrystal Lynn Smith Lamb

Being a mother is the most rewarding thing to be a part of. To witness one of your children's death, and have to make funeral arrangements for your beloved child, is the most devastating and painful thing to be a part of. We often ask the question, Why? And get no answers. I may not have the right answer to this question, but this is how I feel and cope. Two years ago, on April 15, 2005, God reached down, with the grace of his arms, and lifted Chrystal up and took her home to a better place, a place of love and harmony.

Chrystal was a bright and cheerful young lady. She brought laughter and shined with love wherever she was - with her coworkers at Rockcastle Hospital, with friends or at home with family. Chrystal was loved and cherished by many people. These are a few of the qualities Chrystal had that will be missed by friends and loved ones.

The day is coming when we will all be together again as family...

We love you Chrystal and miss you dearly.
Scott, Sydney, Halie, Mom (Loretta), Famey, Tim, Josh, Jason, Chris, Cassie and all other family members

Vote Tuesday...

Dear Editor,

This Tuesday is an important day for us as Kentuckians. As either democrats or republicans, we will go to the polls to select who will represent our parties in the general election. As a Republican and a Youth Captain in the Rockcastle Republican Party, I am excited to be returning from college to cast my vote for Anne Northup and Jeff Hoover in the Governor's race.

Both of these individuals have remarkable records. Anne represented Louisville (a democratic stronghold) for 10 years always having to fight off tough Democratic challengers. In this role, she received countless awards for leading the nation in areas such as education and adoption. She worked to get results for her district and she delivered just like I know if we send her to Frankfort, she will deliver for us.

Jeff Hoover is currently serving as the Republican Leader in the Kentucky House of Representatives. He represents Clinton, Russell, and Pulaski County. Jeff led the fight that made it possible for Kentuckians to pass a constitutional amendment banning gay marriage and continues to lead by working with both fellow Republicans and Democrats to get funding for projects in counties like Rockcastle. Wouldn't it be nice to have such a good neighbor like Jeff Hoover that we can call up in the office of Lieutenant Governor?

I also feel compelled to point out that regardless of the misleading attacks you see on television, both Anne Northup and Jeff Hoover SUPPORT SCHOOL PRAYER AND CONTINUE TO SUPPORT ALLOWING YOUNG PEOPLE TO PRAY IN SCHOOL! In her career, Anne Northup voted 14 times to support school prayer.

Tuesday join me in voting for Republicans who will bring Kentucky the kind of leadership that is expected from our party. Join me in voting for Anne Northup for Governor and Jeff Hoover for Lieutenant Governor.

Thank You,
Ashley Cottrell

"We are not breaking the law..."

Dear Editor,

I would like to inform the people of Rockcastle County and especially to some people on Wolfe Creek Road that you do not have to be a Master Logger in order to cut and sell your own timber. Neither, does the law require a Master Logger to be on site where and when you are logging.

According to a complaint made to the Commonwealth Kentucky Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet Department for Natural Resources Division of Forestry, we were supposedly breaking the law. So, in order to inform and educate some people that do not know and may have "some" neighbors like ours to report false accusations against their neighbor, I am writing this in the Signal.

I had a visit today (Monday) by a very nice gentleman from the Division of Forestry who is very informative and very professional. He inspected the property, and of course, did not find any problems whatsoever! You know, this is America!! We are Americans who try our very best to abide by the law. "Some" and I do mean "some" (not all) of our neighbors are busybodies! Thank God we do have some neighbors that know what true Christian love is.

It seems that there are some people in this world with too much time on their hands worrying about what their neighbor is doing. Maybe someday, they will accept the Lord Jesus Christ into their hearts and love their neighbor. And by the way, we do not approve of their wicked ways, but that does not mean we do not have the love of Christ for them and hope someday they will get that same love in their heart.

It is a disgrace that my wife and I can't walk beside the road on our own property or even sit on our porch without having our neighbor stick up their middle finger at us or a gesture made and even called vulgar names as they drive by our house. What happened to the respect of an elderly person who has had three open heart surgeries? Where is neighborly love? Where is the good moral standard of "normal" Americans? Where is the peace amongst our neighbors?

I have no problem keeping my nose in my own business and I hope that some of my neighbors can learn to do the same. So, those of you that do not know, you can log your own timber and are exempt from the Master Logger Requirements.

So, I want to say to the people of Rockcastle County, "KEEP ON LOGGING"! And let's stand up for our rights that we have as Americans and let people know we are not backing down to any of their evil and wicked ways!

So one will fly in, get the dominant males' attention and while he is chasing that one away, the others will flock in and feed until he returns in a few seconds to run them away and then feed himself. This goes on all day from dawn 'til dusk and they will strike each other so soundly in mid air that tiny little feathers trickle to the ground.

The same is somewhat true for gold and purple finches but the action is not so vicious. As of this writing I only have out one finch feeder and at least six flocks consisting of 5 to 8 individual birds each compete for it.

And while there is some violence from time to time, the finches seem to have worked out some sort of agreement whereby one group feeds for a few minutes, then moves away for another group and so forth as though they were in a revolving door. It's also interesting to me that Tom has finches in his back yard year round but they only show up here in warm weather.

A few days ago I was kicked-back on the front porch swing late in the afternoon reading the paper and watching the hummers enjoy a feeder no more than 5 feet away when one of them flew down and perched on the back of the swing literally at eye level.

She cocked her head, stared at me with one eye for several seconds and then raised her wing and commenced grooming herself. I watched her for a minute or so and finally turned the page. She flew out across the lawn and then straight back to the swing.

Now, when I go out to the porch and settle back, SusieQ, as I have started calling her, shows up to keep me company. She will first use the feeder and then perch on the swing. We've never seen her use that perch unless I'm in the swing.

I've tried putting my hand up on the back of the swing and easing it toward her, but she flies away when I get within six inches or so and then returns so that she is at least a foot away.

My goal for the summer is to have SusieQ actually light on my hand and get a photograph of that event by using a remote control on the camera. So far she is afraid of the camera tripod but I've only had it out there since yesterday.

In the meantime, when the ruby-throated males show up and commence giving SusieQ a hard time, they'll have me to contend with. I suspect that her friendliness is no accident and that she is buttering me up right now so that she will have some protection and uncontested ownership of the swing-side feeder when the competition gets heavy come June.

second place.

Today we are blessed with digital cameras. Computer programs make portrait corrections much easier than was possible in the early days of photography. We now have the ability to change the color of someone's clothes or change the background of a photo. Because of these computer manipulations, photos are not always what they seem. Someone can be placed into a photograph when they were not actually present when the photograph was taken.

and litigants in an effort to effectuate a positive and permanent change in someone else's life. And because many adoptions only come about because of a series of tragic or unfortunate events in a young child's life, the ability of the courts to bring about some measure of joy for all concerned is all the more rewarding.

In Kentucky, about 600 public agency adoptions occur annually, or about one in four children placed in permanent foster care. That number is far too small considering the total number of children awaiting adoption.

Generally speaking, adoptions may arise by the consent of the living parents, or when the parents rights to the child have been involuntarily terminated, or where a biological parent failed to establish parental rights, such as is often the case with children born out-of-wedlock where the identity of the father is unknown.

All adoptions in Kentucky occur in the Circuit Court and are commenced by the filing of a petition. One the proceedings begin, the courts must determine that all of the legal requirements to adoption have been met and that the adoptive parent(s) are of good moral character and have the ability to support and maintain the child, and most importantly, that adoption is in the best interests of the child.

Once a judgment of adoption is granted by the court, the child's name is changed and the child is vested with every legal right, privilege and obligation afforded a natural, legitimate child born of the adoptive parents. Thus, the adopted child inherits from the adoptive parents and the adoptive parents become legally responsible for that child, including the obligation to pay support for the child even if the adoptive parents later divorce.

Despite legitimate concerns about some adoptions occurring too fast, the majority of adoptions are completed without complication. Many more are needed annually. There is no reason for any child of tender years to grow up in this country without the love and support that comes from a family relationship.

me what all women want for Mother's Day: money stuffed inside the card. Then we proceeded to the front porch to begin the day and talk. We enjoyed the beauty of a spring morning, and Stanley played a few tunes on his guitar, and then we were off to London for breakfast.

We had a nice leisurely breakfast, and even took along a jar of our favorite sugar-free jelly to put on hot-buttered biscuits. Then it was over to the flea market to look around, and I got to spend my Mother's Day money on a crystal lamp I've had my eye on for a long time. It is a very nice lamp, and I guess I'll put it on top of our old, antique, upright piano.

We visited with some of my relatives down at my Grandma and Grandpa Norton's old homeplace. It seems to be where the Norton clan congregates, especially on the weekend. It is a big old, white, two-story farmhouse with plenty of room but we all manage to gather in the kitchen around the table, whether or not there's any food being served. We were in the process of planning for Memorial Day, and buying a new headstone for my Aunt Sula Lucille, who died as an infant and is buried at Skaggs' Creek. From there, we dropped by to visit with my Uncle Junior, who always has a few tidbits of family history, or an old story to tell.

Our next stop was Corbin, where we went to Lowe's. I had been in the market for some "gingerbread" (those fancy carved curlicues) for each side of the posts on the front porch since we had them installed about this time last year. Prior to that, they had been wrought-iron. There's another item for the ever-expanding "honey-do" list.

While at Lowe's, we checked about our options for covering the living room floor. It is hardwood, but in need of re-surfacing, but we don't want to go through that ordeal right now. I think we've decided on some carpet squares that are twenty-four inch by twenty-four inch, and already have the padding and everything. It looks like they would be easy to install, and you could just work in one section at a time without having to move the whole room full of furniture. (Let's see. Where is that "honey-do" list?)

By this time, it was mid-afternoon, and we stopped to get some lunch. Most every place was full of Mother's Day patrons with a twenty-minute plus waiting time for a table. We finally found a Shoney's there in Corbin where we could be seated without a wait. We got the buffet, and boy, was it excellent. We plan to go back soon.

On the way home, we stopped at the London Wal-Mart to pick up a few things. Stanley headed on into the store, and I, without knowing the consequences, locked the car door. We came back to the car to leave, but it, being a new car to us, Stanley hadn't figured out how the anti-theft system worked. Needless to say, it activated when we got in, but Stanley managed to get it turned off. Then the car wouldn't start. The computer didn't recognize the key. He got under the hood and tinkered about, and finally managed to get it started. I'll bet I'll not do that again for a while.

Before going home for the night, we made trips to the Elmwood and Freedom Cemeteries where our moms and my grandma are buried. Among other things, we got flowers for their graves at Wal-Mart. Then came the dreaded task of going to the graves to place the flowers. We were glad for the opportunity to honor them, but it was surely something that we regretted having to do.

The day ended almost as it began. We sat on the porch in the cool of the evening, at just about dark, and recounted the events of the day. For the most part, we had done a good job of dodging and not talking about the obvious. Now all we have to do is prepare for next year.

Food safety and beef preparation

Farm and Home News

Tom Mills

Rockcastle County Extension Office

Students in Mrs. Carla Parsons RCHS Practical Living Classes participated in two Food Safety and Beef Preparation Classes recently. Extension Service staff Brenda Saylor and Tom Mills assisted Mrs. Parsons in 3 hours of hands on classes. Classes started with Ms. Saylor teaching how food borne illness can be prevented by proper food safety techniques. Proper handling, as well as cooking temperatures are key factors in food safety.

Highlighting beef allowed students to see how past concepts on Beef's Nutritional Status has been misleading. Ground Beef actually has less total fat than Ground Turkey.

Beef actually has an advantage to poultry when looking at Zinc, Iron, Riboflavin and B12 Vitamins. Lean red meat can be utilized in many nutritious meals. Selecting appropriate cuts and proper cooking methods allow beef to be a part of healthy eating habits.

Helping young people see that beef is more than hamburgers is a challenge. Hands on preparation allowed groups to cook and sample: Beef Wraps, Corn Beef Rubins, Mexican Salsa, Stir Fry, as well as New Heat and Eat Beef Meals.

Classes were made possible by an educational grant provided by the Kentucky Beef Council.

Kentucky Memories performs for 2nd graders

On Tuesday May 8th, the music trio Kentucky Memories performed for district second graders at the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame & Museum. The trio, based in the Greenup County community of Flatwoods Kentucky performed traditional mountain ballads in addition to several folk tunes familiar to the students.

Lead musician, Michael Garvin has recently completed a traditional arts apprenticeship through the Kentucky Arts Council studying "old-time" fiddle with master fiddler Roger Cooper. When asked by students how long has he been playing the fiddle, Michael responded, "I started playing when I was 19. My Grandfather bought me a fiddle for $50 and after a couple of video lessons later, I was able to learn about almost any tune I wanted." Rounding out the Trio is Michael's Dad Keith Garvin who performs on the bass guitar and the Jew's harp, which was a crowd pleaser with the students. Accompanying the band with solid rhythm guitar bring the fiddle tunes to life is Billy Wright.

Garvin is no stranger to Rockcastle County Schools. In the fall of 2006, Garvin and Kentucky Memories were showcased in the Rockcastle County Middle School book publishing project "Sounds of the Mountain Soul". According to District Arts Coordinator H. Allen Pensol, "Michael, Keith and Billy performed at the Evening Book Presentation and were such a big hit, we thought it would be fun to bring them back for some of our younger students."

Along with the performances on May 8th, the second graders toured the Hall of Fame facility. Funding for the field trip was provided in partnership with School-To-Careers, Rockcastle Basic Arts, and the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame & Museum. # “Praying for Our (President) Leaders”

Editors Note: At the request of many of those in attendance at the National Day of Prayer the following sermon, given by Eric Allen that day, is being printed in this week's Signal.

1 Timothy 2:1-4
The National Day of Prayer tradition predates the founding of the United States of America when the Continental Congress issued a proclamation setting aside a day of prayer in 1775. In 1952, Congress established an annual day of prayer and, in 1988, that law was amended, designating the National Day of Prayer as the first Thursday in May.

Let us today, young and old join together, as did the First Continental Congress, praying a humble heartfelt prayer for God's guidance and goodness, for our nation and her leaders, for all mankind.

1. Imagine that you hold the most powerful position on earth: - You are Commander in Chief of the greatest military force in the world.

- You are the head of a government that spends $3.25 million every minute, $195 million every hour, $4.6 billion every day non stop.

- You are the leader of the entire free world.
- You are on the front page of every major newspaper almost every day. Your every sentence can be publicized and will be analyzed for years to come.

- You are one of only 43 people in history to be the President of the United States. Sounds great doesn't it?
2. But also imagine that you preside over a country where:

- There are one million teenage pregnancies annually.
- 68% of black children and 22% of white children are born out of wedlock.

- 50% of all girls between 15 and 19 are sexually active.
- Half of all high school seniors report they have used illicit drugs.

- A nation where a murder takes place every 23 minutes, a rape every six minutes, and a robbery every 58 seconds.

- One hundred thousand of America's children are in prison, four out of ten live in broken homes, and seven to fourteen million of these children will become alcoholics. Juvenile delinquency is increasing seven times faster than the population.

- Pornography is now a $6 billion business. Herpes and Aids have now infected 20.5 million people.

- You have an educational system where condoms are in, Bibles are out; guns are in, God is out; sex is in, virginity is out.

Well, George Bush is that man. That may make you happy or sad. I don't know what you think of him personally. You may feel like Rev. Edward Hale, who while he was chaplain of the U.S. Senate, was asked if he prayed for the senators. He said, "No, I look at the senators and pray for the nation."

A personal friend of mine is the director of the secret service for the eastern portion of KY. Paul directed the security for Camp David and the Whitehouse during the Clinton administration. I asked Paul about the difficulty and willingness to protect... lay down your life for a man that you might night agree with politically, morally, or ethically. He told me that the Secret Service are NOT protecting Bill Clinton Or George Bush. They are protecting and willing to lay down their life for the position or for the "office" of the President of the United States.

And in much the same way-it shouldn't matter what you think about the President's party, his policies, his principles, or his person, his position deserves our prayers. Our predicament demands our prayers.

The most important ally this President or any president has, or ought to have, are Christian people. You and I can do something for him that Congress will not do, the Supreme Court dare not do, and the political party cannot do, and that is pray.

In these dark and dangerous days in which we live we should fall to our knees before our nation falls on her face.

I read about a neat little sign in a principal's office that stated: "In the event of nuclear attack, fire, or earthquake, the ban on prayer is temporarily lifted." Well, there ought to be a sign in every office building, every courthouse, every city hall, and every school room that reads: "Because of the mess that we are in the ban on prayer is permanently lifted."

I want to share with you in the next few minutes why we should pray for our nations leaders – not just the President, but our congressmen, our governor and state representatives, the mayor and county judge - HOW we should pray and what will happen when we do.

We have a Personal Responsibility to Pray - Prayer is not an option, it is an obligation.

1 Timothy 2:1-4: Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men, 2 for kings and all who are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and reverence. 3 For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior, 4 who desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

Prayer is NECESSARY
1 "Therefore I exhort first of all that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men." (v.1) When Paul says "first of all" he is telling us to put first things first. Our first business is prayer. Prayer is primary, everything else is secondary. Prayer is not the only thing we should do, but it is the main thing.

Prayer Should Be OFTEN - not just annually on National Day of Prayer.

We are specifically told to pray "for kings and all who are in authority." (v.2) That is, we are to pray for people in high places, people of position, prominence and power. Now today that means that we should pray for the President, our Senator, our Congressman, the Governor, the Mayor, all of our leaders. They may not always deserve our praise - but they do deserve our prayers.

Under the guise of fairness, a congressman may be pro-choice. Under the cover of education, the Governor may legalize gambling. A politician may be more liberal than a thief with someone else's money AND more cowardly than someone who writes an anonymous letter. But still we are to pray.

You see, NOT every ruler is anointed by God, but every ruler is appointed by God. We see this over and over in Scripture.

"And He changes the times and the seasons; He removes kings and raises up kings" Daniel 2:21

That means that every person in authority has ultimately been placed there by God.

Whether our leaders are right or wrong, we ought to pray for them. In fact, the more wrong they are, the more we ought to pray for them. The church can influence this nation more through prayer and supplication than the Congress does by legislation.

Now specifically HOW should we pray for them? We need to ask God to move our leaders to:

1. RECOGNIZE – their personal inadequacy for the task and therefore depend upon Almighty God for wisdom, knowledge, understanding, and courage to carry out the task.

2. REJECT - all counsel and advice that violates Biblical principles.

3. RELY - upon prayer and the Word of God as the source of their strength and key to their success.

4. RESTORE - dignity, honor, trustworthiness, and righteousness to the offices of our city, county, state, and nation.

5. REMEMBER - to be a good example in their conduct to the fathers and sons of the land.

6. RECALL - daily that they will be accountable to Almighty God for their attitudes, actions, and motives while serving in these leadership positions.

So WHAT happens then when we pray this way?

Prayer is so powerful that it can influence a nation publicly. Here's what prayer can bring:

When we pray for these men in authority, it is so "that WE may lead a quiet and peaceable life." Andrew Murray once said, "God rules the world by the prayers of his saints."

We all long for "peace and quiet"—inward and outward tranquility. Prayer can put a nation's heart at rest. When our nation truly lives up to its motto, "In God We Trust" Isaiah 26:3 will be true for all: "You will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on You".

Our greatest civic duty is not to vote, it is to pray. We have more power to change things in the prayer closet than we will ever have at the ballot box. We can touch the White House, we can influence our Senator, we can exert power over our Congressman if we will just pray.

If you are still not motivated to pray, and to pray specifically for the President and all of our leaders, listen to verse 3: "For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Savior."

Now if you truly love the Lord and you are truly a Christian, then the only motive you need to pray is to know that your prayer is good and acceptable before God. Proverbs 15:8 tells us: When we pray it brings delight to the heart of God.

I have heard people say before "Well, the least I can do is pray for you." You are wrong. Friend, the most you can ever do for someone is to pray for them. I tell you, there is power, mountain-moving power, earth-shaking power, heart-changing power, sea-parting power, death-defying power in prayer.

We should be praying every-day - however today is a day of prayer with national emphasis, so would you join with me in praying?

Dylan Thacker named All-American Scholar

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Dylan Thacker, of Mt. Vernon, has been named an All-American Scholar At-Large Award Winner. Dylan was recognized with two awards, one for leadership and service and also national English award.

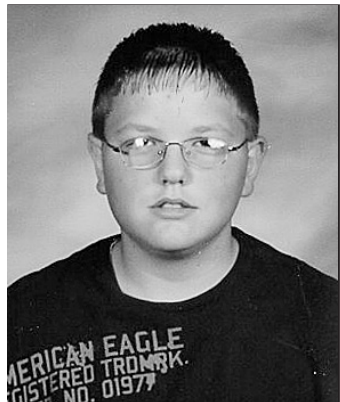

He will appear in the All-American Scholar Official Yearbook, which is published nationally. Dylan is a student at RCMS.

This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes fewer than 10% of all American high school students.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

The Academy selects All-American Scholar winners based on the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's grade point average, student achievements, and a well-balanced schedule of academics and extracurricular activities.

Dylan is the son of Greg and Angie Thacker of Mt. Vernon. Grandparents are Cecil Thacker of Mt. Vernon, Wanda Klassner of Florence and Water and Diane Delaney of Berea.

Davis to attend gifted program in Kansas

Hayley Davis, daughter of Stephen and Paula Davis, will be attending the University of Kansas Summer Studies Program for Gifted 7th Graders from June 10-30.

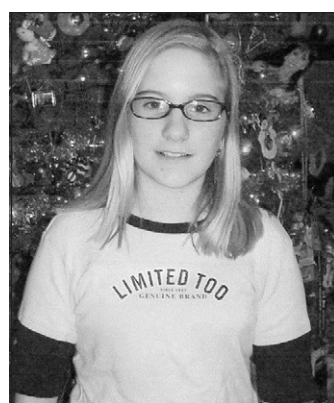

Davis scored in the top 25% of 75,000 academically talented 7th graders who took either the SAT Achievement Test or ACT Assessment through the Duke University Talent Identification Program (Duke TIP). "Such a score is an indication of an impressive academic talent that has been encouraged and nurtured," said Martha Putallaz, Ph.D., Duke's TIP Executive Director and Professor of Psychology.

This program identifies 7th graders in sixteen states in the southeast, midwest and southwest who have scored at the 95th percentile or above on a grade-level achievement test. These students are then invited to participate in the Duke TIP 7th Grade Talent Search and take either the SAT or the ACT.

"The gifted student is arguably America's most precious natural resource," continued Putallaz. "It is essential that we identify such students early so they can be nurtured and developed."

Hayley will be studying the American Short Story while attending the summer program at the University of Kansas.

Hayley's mother, Paula, is a kindergarten teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary and her father, Stephen, is an administrator/accountant at Church on the Rock, Berea.

"What Is Written"

Jesus taught, "And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Matt.18:3. Humility is an essential quality to becoming a citizen in the kingdom of God. Without it we shall never enter into God's family of believers. James records, "But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble." James 4:6. It is the proud of heart that God will resist. When we are on the opposite side of God, we are on the losing side. But, the Lord is so gracious and merciful to those who will humble themselves like the little child, and will submit to believing and obeying his will. It is a proud man that will reject the Lord's teachings and teach his own doctrine. "If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness; He is proud, knowing nothing," 1 Tim. 6:3-4a. Have you humbled yourself like the little child, and submitted to his will???

Byrd earns degree

Jessica Byrd of Mt. Vernon earned an associate of arts degree in early childhood care and development from Lindsey Wilson College. She was among 182 graduates who participated in the college's 85th commencement ceremony, held Saturday, May 12, in the college's Biggers Sports Center.

In his commencement address, Lindsey Wilson Provost and Dean of Faculty William Julian told the graduates they were to "come down off your mountain" and make a difference in today's uncertain world.

"Graduates, your faculty know you will live in a future world they cannot know, but they know you will have to come down off your mountain. And so at Lindsey Wilson College and at colleges and universities all over this country, we will send you down the mountain hoping that we have taught you enough for you to land on your feet," Julian said. "So these students today are going to do what students have done at Lindsey Wilson College since the early 1900s. They are going to take what they have learned, come down off their mountains and engage a world that gives all of us no alternative to engagement."

Brandy Brock honored at SCC Honors Night

Dr. Buford Howard, the Somerset Community College Dean of Academic Affairs, announced that Frank Carothers, Associate Professor in the Business and Information Technology Division, and Donna Eastham, Instructor in the Education and Consumer Sciences Division, had been awarded the SCC 2007 Excellence in Teaching Award. The announcement was made during the College's annual Honors Night Ceremony held at the London Community Center on Friday, April 27.

The most poignant moment came when an SCC Cosmetology Instructor at the SCC Laurel Campus, Brandy Brock, was honored as the Kentucky SkillsUSA Advisor of the Year. Brock was recently injured in a life-threatening automobile accident as she drove home from work in London. There were a lot of tears when SCC Cosmetology student Cilia Rains surprised Brock by singing "Do It Anyway." Brock and Rains received a standing ovation.

SCC President and CEO Dr. Jo Marshall, announced that Tonya Sumpter, the 2006-2007 SCC Student Government Association President, had been selected as the 2007 SCC Outstanding Student Leader.

Brandy Brock

The RCHS girls' track and field team has had several outstanding competitions recently. Currently, they are tied for 1st in the state with seven-time defending state champion Paducah Tilghman. RCHS has many top-ten ranked performers in Class 2A.

RCHS recently competed in the AA Derby, hosted by Boyle County and Casey County. The meet served as a possible preview of the regional championships, since most of Class 2A Region IV was represented. Besides Rockcastle's state ranking, Casey, West Jessamine, and Mercer are all ranked in the top ten in 2A. The RCHS girls' team totally dominated the meet, defeating runner-up West Jessamine 185-112. Several RCHS athletes finished in the top six in their events.

Morgan Thacker led the way for RCHS with an outstanding meet performance. In the 100, Morgan won easily in 13.2 seconds. She also captured 1st in the 200 with an awesome season's best time of 26.4 seconds. Teammate Chelsea Payne, only a 7th grader, ran a personal best 28.1 and finished 6th.

"Regardless of the rough draw and the unusual times of our games, we made too many mistakes to win. We are just not playing well right now," he said.

revitalize a building that was once a prominent part of downtown Mt. Vernon. Instead of losing a historic part of downtown, we are gaining an attraction.”

The $125,000 grant comes from the Governor's Office for Local Development and was submitted to Frankfort on April 30th by Tatum.

Built in 1890, the Jones Building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. It was scheduled to be demolished and turned into a parking lot before the community voiced its support for its renovation.

Once the renovations are complete, it will serve as the Rockcastle County Community/Cultural Arts and Tourism Center. The facility will house a tourist center, office space, a craft shop and will have space available for community events, according to Tatum.

“This very prominent building can be the centerpiece of a revitalization of downtown Mt. Vernon,” said Worley “Tourism is an important part of the economic landscape of Rockcastle County. People enjoy spending time in quaint communities that have preserved their heritage,” he added.

In addition to Renaissance On Main funding, the Jones Building renovation project will receive local funding and use of resources, including a $25,000 cash payment from the Rockcastle Fiscal Court.

“Mt. Vernon is to the county, what a front door is to a home,” Rockcastle County Judge Executive Buzz Carloftis said.

“Any realtor will tell you that if you are trying to make your house look good when you are selling it, to fix a nice front door,” he said.

“Mt. Vernon's Main Street is obviously the front door to Rockcastle County and we should do all we can to preserve it,” he said. Once completed, the total project cost is estimated at $500,000.

Tatum said she is in the process of preparing bid specifications for the project, which will be advertised at a later date.

“The Renaissance funding for this project is an important piece of the total package necessary to restore this building to its former prominence,” said Representative Ford. “Restoring this landmark can only benefit our tourism trade.”

Renaissance On Main, formerly Renaissance Kentucky, is a community revitalization grant program that provides cities with funding to restore and maintain their downtown areas. The grant program focuses on promoting economic development and preserving local heritage.

Renaissance On Main grants are available for certified Renaissance On Main cities through a competitive application process. The Renaissance On Main program partners with the Kentucky Heritage Council/Main Street Program, the Kentucky Department of Tourism, the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet, the Kentucky League of Cities, the Kentucky Housing Corporation, the Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati and the Governor's Office for Local Development (GOLD). GOLD is the agency responsible for administering the program.

during that same period, the two broke into Dillon's great-grandmother's home and stole numerous items, which they later sold.

Pennington said because the break-in occurred in Madison County, the two would likely be indicted there as well.

Michael David Richmond, 26, of Sunny Dale Estates, Mt. Vernon, Sabrina Nicole Richmond, 19, of Mt. Vernon and Medena Stamper, 35, also of Mt. Vernon were indicted for complicity to receive stolen property and Michael Richmond was indicted for receiving stolen property valued at over $300.

Rockcastle Sheriff Mike Peters said the three were involved in stealing a metal binder from a home at Big Clear Creek, which belonged to Burton Stephens. Peters said the incident occurred on February 21.

Larry C. Helton, 29 of Osborne Lane, London, was indicted for theft by unlawful taking in connection with an April 16th incident on Hwy. 490 near the Laurel-Rockcastle line.

Trooper Pennington said Helton was a passenger in a truck, owned and driven by Heath Philpot, which he stole after the men stopped on the roadside.

Philpot was arrested in Laurel County after he wrecked the truck in front of his Laurel County home and went into the house where he fell asleep on the couch.

Kristina Wright, 19, of West Main Street, Mt. Vernon was indicted for theft by unlawful taking over $300.

fin said the grant would be for around $50,000 and he was assisted in filing the grant by James Renner, Solid Waste Coordinator.

Mayor Griffin also discussed having the town cleaned up in time for the Memorial Day Week End and said that someone may have to be hired to help with mowing.

The commission held their regular monthly meeting Monday night, a short one, and the main item of business concerned the city's $1,000,000 water project.

Whitney Chestnut, of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District (CVADD), was at the meeting to get approval of the documents needed to get the project underway. The city will get a new 128,000 gallon standpipe tank and 7,000 linear feet of new water lines from the project which, according to Chestnut, will probably be under construction by late July.

The documents included a resolution approving an environmental study and agreements with CVADD to act as Administrators of the project.

At Monday night's meeting, commission members also looked over the city's finances which, Griffin said “are easing up a little bit every month.”

City Clerk Tammy Martin told the commission that the city's general fund balance, which was 47,327.15, at the end of April, now had about $14,000 in it. However, the city is waiting for a quote for the city's insurance. The Kentucky League of Cities gave the city a quote for over $11,000 but Griffin told the commission that he had asked for a quote from the private insurance company which insures the City of Mt. Vernon, and he expected this quote to be considerably lower than the $11,000.

With all the bills paid for April, the city's waterworks revenue fund showed a balance of $6,713.33 and the road fund had a balance of $3,294.14.

“We have had to spend a lot on the sewer plant but it's up to par and in the best shape it's ever been in,” Griffin told the commission.

Griffin also told the commission that he intended to ask the military for a piece of equipment, probably a small tank, to set in the the city's park. Griffin said the city of Crab Orchard recently got a helicopter for their park. The city has to get in line with their request and Griffin was not sure how long it would take to get the tank.

“Stolen”

DeBorde said the keys to the truck were inside the building when thieves broke in.

DeBorde said State Police Detective Gary Lane had finger printed the truck but had come up with nothing.

Guidelines for Elmwood Cemetery

(REVISED 2004)

The Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Corporation is a non-profit organization formed several years ago by concerned citizens to provide perpetual care for loved ones who have deceased. The corporation is governed by a board of directors who care for the cemetery through funding received from private individuals and the interest received from the investment of these funds. Officer's and directors receive no salary or compensation for their participation on this board.

The Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Corporation Board of Directors attempts to accommodate the wishes of each family which is buried in the Elmwood Cemetery. To do this there MUST be standards by which the grounds can be maintained and kept in a dignified manner. Some of these guidelines were utilized prior to the perpetual care formation, some stipulated in the deed conditions of private developers, and others by motion and vote of the board of directors.

The following are guidelines that the board has operated since the formation of the perpetual care:

- Mowing of the grass, tree trimming, and general maintenance repairs are done by private contractors.
- Mowing of the grass will be done, as needed, due to precipitation and financial funds available.
- Removal of flowers from new grave sites is done when appropriate, during the grass mowing season, prior to mowing.
- The cemetery is "cleaned" of fresh and/or artificial arrangements, not attached to a monument, two (2) weeks after Memorial Day.
- Any arrangement off a grave stone due to wind is to be replaced. If the correct stone is unable to be ascertained then the nearest stone to the arrangement is to receive the replacement.
- Only arrangements deemed needing replacement are to be removed and under NO condition are these arrangements to be resold.
- At NO TIME has the cemetery board advocated the removal of an arrangement that is on or attached to any grave stone. Only those arrangements deemed needing replaced or which hinder the normal mowing or trimming are to be removed.
- Barriers, fences, cables, etc. surrounding a grave site are prohibited as these impede the use of lawn mowers necessary for the upkeep of the cemetery. This regulation is stipulated in the deeds of many of the grave sites in portions of the Elmwood Cemetery.
- The Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Board will not be responsible for the correct opening and closing of grave sites.
- Graves are seeded at appropriate times throughout the year and graves which have sunk will be filled when necessary.
- The planting of flowers or shrubs around monuments or grave sites is discouraged as these impede the mowing and trimming around the stone markers and may be damaged during regular mowing and trimming.
- The raking of leaves, removal of debris and obstructions which impede the care/maintenance and flow of traffic will be done as necessary.
- The only flag pole permitted within the Elmwood Cemetery grounds will be on a site designated for all veterans.

Contributions, Comments, and/or Concerns may be addressed to:

Elmwood Cemetery Perpetual Care Corporation
P.O. Box 709
Mt. Vernon, Kentucky 40456

Monetary contributions will be accepted at the cemetery during Memorial Day Week-end or mailed to the above address or to Elmwood Cemetery, c/o Cox Hardware, 190 East Main St., Mt. Vernon, Ky. 40456

William Whitley returns home

Bryant to portray William Whitley

After 194 years, William Whitley is coming home.

On May 19-20, Col. William Whitley will be at his home near Crab Orchard, recollecting tales of Indian fights, his building of the first brick house in Kentucky and the building of the first counter-clockwise race-track in America, and discussing life on the early Kentucky frontier.

A mounted militia group based in Mt. Vernon, KY, "Whitley's Mounted Militia", will be present at the William Whitley House this upcoming weekend as well as several weekends throughout the year in militia "encampments". They will be on hand to demonstrate frontier life and the joys and hardships associated with it.

Local resident Matt Bryant, who portrays Whitley, says that there is still something of the frontier spirit in all Kentuckians - the spirit of forging ahead in the face of impossible odds, thriving amidst the dangers of a hostile society. Bryant emphasized that "The story of William Whitley is really about the story of every Kentuckian, then and now. He wanted to make Kentucky a better and safer place for his children and grandchildren. He knew that to do that meant that he would have to make some sacrifices. He ended up making the ultimate sacrifice, and that continues to speak to the frontiersman in all of us."

Whitley, known for his fierceness in guarding settlers traveling along the then-hazardous Kentucky Road, or "Wilderness" Road as it came to be better known in the modern era, was finally struck down at the age of 64 in 1813 at the Battle of the Thames near Ontario, Canada. Whitley was killed in the charge of the "Forlorn Hope", made up of 20 volunteers, including future Vice-President Richard Johnson, which was basically a suicide mission to draw the fire of Indians who had been waiting in ambush for the whites. Whitley was found less than 20 paces from Tecumseh, the great Indian leader whose life was lost in the same battle, along with his dream of an unprecedented Native American confederacy in the Old Northwest. It has long been speculated that Whitley killed Tecumseh, but this has never been confirmed.

"Only Col. Whitley and his rifle know for sure," stated Bryant. Whitley was buried in Canada by his soldiers with full military honors. His gun, powder horn, and noble steed, Emperor, who lost an eye and a few teeth from gunfire in the "Forlorn Hope" charge, were returned to Sportsman's Hill, Whitley's estate near the Crab Orchard. The old brick house still stands today, a monument to the spirit of one of Kentucky's founding fathers. Famous for its hiding places and secret corridors in the event of Indian attack, the William Whitley House is a State Historic Site and is open year-round 9:30 - 4:00 P.M. More information can be obtained on the Parks website at <http://parks.ky.gov/statehistoricsites/ww/index.htm> or by calling 606-355-2881.

RTEC Executive Director Shirley Cummins and Congressman Hal Rogers.

Ms. Cummins goes to Washington

Shirley Cummins, of Mt. Vernon, Executive Director of RTEC since 1980, was in Washington last week with Kentuckians for Better Transportation to thank Congressman Hal Rogers for his support for transportation programs.

According to U.S. Department of Transportation studies, one-third more federal revenue is needed just to maintain the nation's highways and prevent further traffic congestion.

The shortfall of federal highway funds has resulted in Kentucky's authorizing $440 million in bonds during the past two years to maintain the state's Interstate highways.

The Rural Transit Enterprises Coordinated system has 162 employees and runs 177 vehicles over a 12 county area. RTEC is based in Mt. Vernon, where it began as Rockcastle Public Transit in 1979, mainly to serve senior citizens in the county.

Kiwanis Club donates $250 to Library

The Children's Library at the Rockcastle County Library will be getting a new wooden table and chairs for the new listening center thanks to a $250 contribution from the local Kiwanis Club. The presentation of the check was made last week at Kathy McKibben, center, Young Adult and Children's Librarian, by Jessie Murray, Chairwoman of the Kiwanis Club's Young Children, Priority One committee and Robert Lawson, Kiwanis Club President. Mrs. McKibben also said the library would attempt to get a nice safe wooden stool, so the children can stand on it at the circulation desk and give their library card to the library assistant. "We appreciate the Kiwanis Club for their support from year to year," Mrs. McKibben said.

A Mt. Vernon woman escaped serious injury Thursday morning after she lost control of her Ford Explorer on the Level Green access road off Hwy. 461 around 5:45 a.m. Freda Hayes, of Mt. ### Eastern Rockcastle Water Association

Water Quality Report

January 1 through December 31, 2006

PWSID # KY 1020288

Water - essential for life

We are pleased to present this Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We would like the public to be assured that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality water direct from the tap. We know that water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system. Please report any activity that might jeopardize the water supply.

We purchase water from three different sources. The first is the Jackson Co. Water Assn. which treats surface water drawn from Beulah Lake. The second is the City of Mt. Vernon, whose source is surface water drawn from Lake Linville and treated at their water treatment plant located at Renfro Valley. The last source is Livingston Water Works, which purchases treated water from the Wood Creek Water District. Their raw water source is surface water from Wood Creek Lake. The susceptibility to potential contamination of these three raw water sources are discussed under the table of detected contaminants in this water quality report. The complete source water assessment plans for each of these raw water sources can be reviewed at the Cumberland Valley Area Development District office in London, Kentucky. Within this document the water systems we purchase from will be marked as follows #A Jackson County Water, #B City of Mt. Vernon Water, and #C Livingston Water. If at any time you are to witness activities of question within the service area of Eastern Rockcastle Water Co. please contact your water office at 606-256-5480.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities). In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some of all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or micrograms per liter, (µg/L) - One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Millier Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variations & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

Violations and Health Effects:

The Jackson County Water Association, supplier of our water source #A, received a violation from the KY Division of Water for failing to meet treatment techniques for Total Organic Carbon. Monthly ratio is the % TOC removal achieved to the % TOC removal required. Annual average of the monthly ratios must be 1.00 or greater for compliance. The system achieved a 0.92 for Total Organic Carbon. Total organic carbon (TOC) has no health effects. However, total organic carbon, provides a medium for the formation of disinfection byproducts. These byproducts include trihalomethanes, or THMs, and haloacetic acids, or HAAs. Drinking water containing these byproducts in excess of the MCL may lead to adverse health effects, liver or kidney problems, or nervous system effects, and may lead to an increased risk of getting cancer.

There is nothing you need to do at this time. You do not need to use an alternative (e.g., bottled) water supply. Please share this information with all the other people who drink this water, especially those who may not have received this notice directly (for example, people in apartments, nursing homes, schools, and businesses). You can do this by posting this notice in a public place or distributing copies by hand or mail.

Source Water Assessments: The final source water assessment with a summary of the system's susceptibility to potential sources of contamination has been completed for our three water suppliers. Activities and land uses upstream of Jackson County Water Association and the City of Mt. Vernon's source of water can pose potential risks to your drinking water. Under certain circumstances contaminants could be released that would pose challenges to water treatment or even get into your drinking water. These activities, and how they are conducted, are of interest to the entire community because they potentially affect your health and the cost of treating your water. Activities immediately upstream of your water supply intake are of special concern because they provide little response time to the water system operators. An analysis of the susceptibility of the Jackson County Water Association water supply to contamination indicates that this susceptibility is high. The predominant land cover is forest; this land cover could be subject to logging which may result in soil erosion.

The final source water assessment indicates that some of the activities immediately upstream of Wood Creek Water District's water supply pose a high susceptibility to contamination. Activities that have the potential to affect the water quality and the cost of treating the water include agricultural, transportation, landfills and dumps, and human and animal activities. The presence of excessive nutrients is of particular concern. Two general sources of nutrients in Wood Creek's water supply are from natural and man-made sources. Nutrients are either dumped directly into waterways or swept through the areas when rain-washes over the land. The Wood Creek Water District Wastewater Division was formed in 2000 to install sanitary sewer lines in the watershed and is continually seeking funds to provide coverage to the whole watershed. The Source Water Assessment Summary for Laurel County is available for inspection at the Laurel County Judge-Executive's office and the office of Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

An analysis of the susceptibility of the Mt. Vernon water supply to contamination indicates that this susceptibility is moderate. Below are the Management Recommendations for land and coverage: (1) Monitor to ensure compliance with Forestry Conservation Act; and (2) Require BMP implementation per the Forest Landowners Handbook. Agriculture: (1) Monitor annually to ensure compliance with Agriculture Water Quality Act (AWQA); (2) Encourage implementation of voluntary BMP's above a minimum required by the AWQA. BMP manuals for specific types of operations are available; (3) Monitor annually to ensure implementation of Nutrient Management Plans (NMPs) (4) Encourage development and implementation of Resource Management Systems (RMS) on agricultural operations per USDS-Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) specifications; and (5) No storage or use of pesticides. Highway Maintenance and runoff/Railroads: (1) Require the adoption and application of highway maintenance and runoff BMPs; (2) Limit highway construction or avoid waterways. Modify designs to limit runoff, especially drain-spoofs on bridges to minimize salt de-icing runoff to waterways.

Notice: This report is being published in the Mt. Vernon Signal in place of mailing to each customer. Additional copies are available at our water office located at the intersection of 1912 and Highway 1787 in Rockcastle County, Kentucky or will be mailed upon request.

Honoring the 35th Graduating Class

Rockcastle County High School

COMMENCEMENT

*Saturday, May 19, 2007 • 2:00 p.m.
Rockcastle County High School Gymnasium*

Dear Class of 2007,

As I write to you, I see many of your faces in my mind's eye as young sophomores, the first day you walked into my English class. You represent my final class as an English teacher. Even if you were not a student of mine that year, I learned about you very quickly, through the glowing comments made to me by your teachers about what strong, talented students you were. You came to high school possessing amazing gifts, nurtured by loving parents and guardians, developed in elementary and middle school and strengthened and matured during the past four years.

I hope you realize that this point in your education is not the end, but merely the beginning of an exciting journey—one that will be filled with obstacles as well as successes, pitfalls before summits, and some confusion, along with moments of clarity. The possibilities for your future are unlimited and I, along with all of the others who care about each of you, pray that you will continue to be strong, resourceful and, above all, aware that you have the power to change your circumstances and your world.

So far, you may feel as if your education has consisted of more tests, lectures, portfolio writings, surveys, projects and homework assignments than you can count. I hope you will come to realize that all of the work you have completed is merely preparation for the life lessons you will soon learn, lessons that will be rewarding and fulfilling as you build a career, a family, a home and a life worth leading. You see, it's not so much about the money you might earn someday or the vehicle you may drive or the designer's label you may wear on your clothing. It is the attempt to lead a life of integrity that's most important.

Living a life of integrity means that others can count on you for truth and goodness. It means doing the right thing, even if you are alone in the endeavor, and there will be times when you will feel as if you are alone. It is in these times that you discover the kind of person you really are. I hope that the person you face in the mirror as an adult is someone you can count on and be proud of. I know that your parents and guardians and teachers, past and present, want that for you. We who have walked the same path you are preparing to walk desire only that your road be easy and your burden light. We also know, however, that true growth comes from facing and overcoming the challenges and obstacles in your path. Those tests will make you stronger and fill you with a sense of accomplishment and success that only you and your choices can cultivate.

If I can leave you with any piece of advice, it's the encouragement to always deal honestly with everyone you meet and avoid deception at all costs. Take to heart any words of wisdom you can glean from someone who has fought bravely to defend the freedoms you enjoy today and work hard to emulate individuals who represent the best in humanity, whether that be a relative, a friend, a neighbor, a teacher or any community servant. I also suggest that you find time to laugh each day and try to surround yourselves with those who truly care about what happens to you. Try to avoid those situations that drain you of the passion and determination you have refined for the past eighteen years.

Above all, I want you to know that you will always have a home here at Rockcastle County High School. We are where we are in large part because of your contribution and we will miss you long after you walk across that stage in your cap and gown. Thank you for inspiring, entertaining and uplifting us. Our thoughts and prayers will be with you always.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Jennifer Mattingly
