Luckily it was not as bad as it looked Sunday on Main Street in Livingston when Scottie Goforth, 32, of South Wilderness Road, lost control of the above Ford F-150 and struck a Chrysler Pacifica and a Chevrolet Lumina van, which were parked on Main Street around 11:40 a.m. State Trooper Stacy Walker, shown above talking to Livingston resident Bobby Proper, said Goforth was taken by ambulance to the Rockcastle Hospital with minor injuries. At left, Steve Powell examines the damage to his Pacifica. The Lumina, which is behind the truck, was heavily damaged as were the other two vehicles. Walker charged Goforth with improper registration, no registration and no insurance. Walker released the vehicle on Monday after she impounded it on Sunday, because the wrong license plates were on the vehicle. (Front page photos by Richard Anderkin).

Clifford captured Monday morning

After nearly ten days on the lam, a Rockcastle County man is back behind bars.

Dallas Clifford, 34, of Mt. Vernon was apprehended without incident on Monday morning by local law enforcement officials and Rockcastle Jailer James Miller.

Miller said he had received a tip as to Clifford's whereabouts and that he and others reacted quickly to catch Clifford around 10 a.m. on Rainbow Ridge Road near Lake Linville.

Miller said Clifford was camping with his children and three females, one of which was a family member.

Clifford walked away from a work release detail while painting a wall in Livingston on Saturday, June 25.

Clifford was charged with 2nd degree escape and Miller said other charges were pending, including another persistent felony offender charge, which would increase his prison sentence.

The jailer said he and other law enforcement officials were discussing whether or not to bring charges against the three females who were with Clifford on Monday.

"Detective Gary Lane is investigating the possibility of bringing other charges in the case, which is still open," Miller said.

Besides Miller and deputy jailer Howard Haddix, Rockcastle Sheriff Mike Peters and deputies, Shannon Franklin and Barry Adams assisted in Clifford's capture.

Dallas Clifford was captured Monday.

Rockcastle County to be included on Appalachian Quilt Trail for tourists

By: Richard Anderkin

A giant Double Wedding Ring quilt block is proudly displayed at Heritage Crafts on Hwy. 461 and is part of a somewhat unique and different project underway in the county that could attract numerous tourists to the area.

The eight foot quilt block at Heritage Crafts was painted by owner and local artist Troy Hansel and is the first block completed in the Rockcastle County's Quilt Trail.

The Rockcastle County Quilt Trail is part of the larger "Appalachian Quilt Trail," which will eventually travel through Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, according to Hazel Jackson, Rockcastle Extension Agent for Family and Consumer Science.

"The "Appalachian Quilt Trail" will serve as a tourism tool with state-to-state self-guided tours mapped through the three states," she added.

The project is modeled after the Adams County, Ohio "Clothesline of Quilts." The first quilt block in Adams County was placed on a family barn to commemorate a mother's love for quilts and old barns.

"The quilt block became so popular that others were placed in the area and the idea for Quilt Trails began," Jackson said.

The Quilt Trails project's goal is to bring tourists off the main roads and interstate to back roads of communities.

Rockcastle County's Quilt Trail Project got underway in January of this year. A local planning meeting was called at the local extension office, a committee was formed and a goal set.

That goal was to have at least 10 quilts in place by May of 2008.

Six planning committee members have committed to making their own quilt block to hang on their barns or at their businesses, according to Jackson.

One of those quilt blocks was completed Tuesday.

The "Eastern Star" block will hang on a barn owned by Don and Teet Stevens on Hwy. 70, about a mile from Hwy.

First Redi-Fest will help students, parents get ready for new school year

Pre-school through fifth grade students, and their parents, will have an opportunity to get better prepared for the upcoming school year, thanks to the first ever Redi-Fest.

The Redi-Fest is scheduled for Monday, July 30th from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. at Mt. Vernon Elementary School.

Event coordinator Satca Morgan said Tuesday that the purpose of the Redi-Fest is to provide parents with one centralized location to help prepare their children for going back to school.

A couple days off at Signal

Because of the July 4th holiday falling on Wednesday, the Signal has obviously been printed a day early.

Also because of the Wednesday holiday, we decided to take a two day vacation.

The Signal office will be closed this Thursday and Friday and will reopen on Monday, July 9th.

150. Quilt Blocks for Sigmon Farms at Brindle Ridge and Cox Hardware in Mt. Vernon are also underway.

The blocks cost approximately $300 which covers the cost of materials, paint and framing.

"At this point, barn or business owners have paid the costs of their blocks, but owners may paint their own blocks, but there are specifications that blocks must meet to be placed on the regional Quilt Trail," Jackson said.

The Rockcastle County Quilt Trail is presently talking with individuals who wish to have a block painted and volunteers are needed to assist, Jackson said.

Anyone who would like to have more information on the project, would like to have a quilt block on their property, or would like to volunteer to assist with painting, contact Jack-

Two local men still in jail after arrests for making methamphetamine

Gary Wayne Caldwell, 24, of South Wilderness Road, Mt. Vernon pled not guilty on Monday in Rockcastle District Court to manufacturing methamphetamine and possession of drug paraphernalia, during a preliminary hearing.

Caldwell and Jack McCormick, 31, of Honey Comb Road, were arrested June 18th by Rockcastle Sheriff Deputy Barry Adams after a "drive by," by deputy Shannon Franklin and Fifth District Constable David Mason.

According to Adams, Franklin and Mason had received information that McCormick had purchased

Sturgill pleads guilty to cocaine possession

Livingston man sentenced to four years for thefts

Rockcastle, Pulaski and Lincoln Circuit Judge David Tapp sentenced a local man to four years in prison last Friday, after he pled guilty to several thefts in Livingston around the first of the year.

Daniel Nolan, 21, of McClure St., Livingston was indicted February 9th in connection with break-ins at the homes of Ronald G. Carpenter, Clifton Bond and Greg Poynter on December 30th.

Fifth District Constable David Mason, who arrested Nolan, said a digital camera, 25 DVDs and 28 play station games were stolen from the Carpenter residence.

Guns and knives were stolen from the Bond residence and a John Boat was taken by Nolan from the Poynter residence.

Nolan, who was apparently carrying a gun at the time of the break-in at the Bond residence, was indicted for first degree burglary, theft by unlawful taking over $300 and receiving stolen property over $300.

Nolan pled guilty to the burglary and theft by unlawful taking charge and received two years on each charge. The receiving stolen property charge was dismissed.

Kentucky's River Sweep was held June 16th, and, in Rockcastle County, a team assembled by Rockcastle Solid Waste Coordinator James Renner and Deb Bledsoe with Appalachian Science in the Public Interest, cleaned just over a half mile of Dry Fork Creek from Sand Springs south along KY 1249. In a little over three hours the group, consisting of six volunteers and three work release inmates, was able to collect 60 bags of trash, three tires, and a truck frame, complete with rear suspension, from the creek bed. The truck frame is shown above.

Volunteers for Kentucky's River Sweep included: Steve Greene, Greg Poynter, Everett Renner, Eric Renner, James Renner, and Deb Bledsoe. Renner said there will be other opportunities as the year goes along to come out and help on stream cleanups. Remember, "if it's on the ground, it's in your water."

Rockcastle Memories

By David J. Griffin

The first phone that my parents owned was a wall-mounted, hand-cranked, wooden model that was on a party line shared by several homes in our neighborhood. I was taught as a child that we could only answer the phone when it rang "three shorts" - which meant that the phone would ring three short rings as the signal that the call was for our family.

Someone else on the party line might have three long rings as their coded phone number. Or it could be a long ring, a short ring, and another long. In those days, you had to listen carefully before picking up the receiver. Usually when you answered your phone you could hear several "clicks" indicating that others on the same line had answered their phones to see who was calling our shared number.

The phone numbers were only three digits followed by a letter (336-J). Southern Bell used the letters J and L for two party lines and M, W, and R for four or more party lines. The phone company book instructed customers to keep calls brief and not to eavesdrop on neighbors, but not many homes paid attention to either of these rules.

In the 50's the phone company charged each customer a flat rate. Research revealed that a monthly charge of $3.00 was typical for residential customers in those days.

When I entered my teenage years and started calling girls, it was evident that other individuals were listening to my conversations. Sometimes you could even hear them snicker under a covered mouth piece. When that happened, I politely asked them to "hang up," and most of the time they did.

As usually happens when boys and girls are talking, time just seems to fly by and my mother would say, "David Joe, how long have you been on the phone?" That meant it was time to get off the line.

Speaking of being on the phone with a girl, in those days it required you to sit on a tall stool or stand. The physical necessity of being close to a mouth piece that was mounted on the wall caused undue stress on the body if the conversation lasted too long. Not to mention that the very idea that several other people could be listening to your conversation definitely limited what a young boy was willing to say to his girlfriend.

When you wanted to make a call, you picked up the receiver and cranked the rotary handle. The operator would come on and say, "Number please." Sometimes when you picked up the receiver to make a call, someone would already be on the line. It was tempting to listen to their conversation, but my mother was emphatic that we did not intrude on others' business.

There were times when it was necessary to interrupt an individual using the party line. In that case, you would pick up the receiver and say, "We have an emergency - can we please use the phone line?" Almost without exception, the other party would graciously hang up immediately.

It was also commonly known that the operators might listen to a conversation when they were not too busy. The idea that anyone could be hearing what you were telling someone made most of us leery of stating personal information to another friend. Most of the time, we limited our private information to face to face exchanges.

About the time I started to drive, the phone company installed a table model, rotary-dial phone in our home. The dramatic change from standing against the wall to sitting in a chair or lying on the floor was heavenly. The length of my conversations increased dramatically. I felt that Alexander Graham Bell's invention of 1876 had finally moved into the realm of modern technology when we received that table model.

The idea that someday I would be carrying a phone around in my pocket would have seemed inconceivable to me or anyone else - the leaps of technology just keep reminding me of how old I really am!

Points East

By Ike Adams

"One more day on the vine and it will be the height of perfection," I told Loretta as we lovingly gazed upon the cherry-red, Amish-heirloom, beefsteak tomato hanging there in the garden late last Friday afternoon.

"I'd go ahead and pick it right now," she said. "I think the shoulders are supposed to be green like that and it sure looks ripe to me. And besides that, a terrapin might take a chunk out of it if you leave it hanging there much longer."

The tomato, our first ripe one of the season, was at least two weeks ahead of the rest of its peer group and I have no idea why it set so early nor why it ripened so fast. It was, however, two feet off the ground and I pointed out to my wife that I hadn't seen any terrapins packing step ladders in quite some time.

"Yeah," she admitted. "Even if one terrapin stood on his buddy's shoulders it would still have trouble balancing and gnawing that tomato at the same time. But a coon could reach right up there and a rabbit could also get it if he was hungry enough."

"Rabbits and coons don't eat tomatoes," I told her. The coons are waiting on the sweet corn and the rabbits have already staked out your Roma beans."

"The dogs will run the coons and rabbits off," she said matter-of-factly.

"The dogs will invite the coons and rabbits to share their food bowl and offer to sleep with them if the weather is cool," was my disgusted reply.

We do, I will declare, have good watch dogs. They would happily watch a thief steal everything on the place and have been known to show raccoons where we keep the garbage cans so they can watch the varmints chew off the bungee cord I use to fasten down the lids.

"Well," she said. "What if somebody sees it from the road and decides to steal it. You have to admit that the temptation is there."

"Katie, Joel and Hope are the only people who ever walk on Charlie Brown Road and you know as well as I do that they are not tomato thieves," I told her. "And anyway, if Katie could see that mater from the road, she would have already told me about it and written it up in her column."

(Good friend and neighbor, Katie Rollins is also a newspaper columnist. She, her son Joel and his wife Hope along with their kids and a herd of canines take a round trip walk the length of Charlie Brown every afternoon just before dark. Lo and I should be joining them even though I do maintain that I get all the exercise I need packing water to my garden.)

"Well," she said again and I noticed that she was drooling. "It is, after all, June 29, and I thought you took a lot of pride in having a ripe tomato before the first of July."

"Still got one more day to make that goal but it's not all that important anyway because I am no longer vain now that I'm getting old and wise," I told her.

"If it hangs there any longer it's going to rot," she argued. "If you don't pick that darned tomato, I'm going to do it for you because it would be a crime to let it go to waste."

"Go get the camera and take a picture of me standing here beside it cause Brother Keeter is not going to believe it unless he sees the proof," I requested.

"Aha! I see your youth and vanity have suddenly returned," she said. "And you've also lost your wisdom if you think that I'm going to drag out a camera to take a picture of a plain old tomato. Ask me again when you have one bigger than a cantaloupe."

She made a move toward my tomato but I beat her to it and snatched it off the vine.

On Saturday morning, before taking niece Amy Embree and grand-nephew Kevin Lamb to Cedar Creek Lake in Lincoln County where they slew many bluegill, shell crackers and a channel cat, Loretta sliced the beefsteak and served it up with scrambled eggs and buttered, cinnamon bagels.

"Wow!" said Kevin, obviously impressed with his first bite. "Where did you get this tomato!?"

"Why it came out of my garden," said my wife as though she'd had much responsibility for its cultivation.

"But I'm the one who grew it," I mumbled with my mouth full. Juice dripping off my chin.

Perhaps I will shed my vanity come another year.

The Signal office will be closed July 4 - 6 Have a safe holiday!!

T.J.'s Journal

by: Tonya J. Cook

Dear Journal:

The peak of summer is at hand. There are still many days until the fall air kisses our cheeks, and the leaves burst into an array of color. There is still plenty of time for vacations, summer picnics, planting, and all of the fun things that we enjoy doing at this time of year.

The summer is about half gone at this point, and I'm sorry to say I haven't done much planting this year. I did, however, plant a dish garden in a huge, huge, oval basket that I had gotten at a yard sale about three years ago. I knew that one day I would get to plant a dish garden in it, and I was right. I planted several kinds of green, leafy, plants with a begonia for a splash of color. Then I added a water fountain made to look like an old-fashioned hand-operated water pump. The water continually trickles from the spout, falling into a galvanized bucket that came along with the pump. Both the pump and bucket are covered with trailing strands of silk English ivy. The cool splashing of the water is quite refreshing on hot evenings and very peaceful, too.

This is the first week of July, which usually offers a variety of activities not only meant to celebrate Independence Day, but to aid in entertaining family and friends the entire week. I've been reading in the Lexington Herald-Leader about the various concerts, fireworks displays, parades, and events being held throughout the state to last most all week. Hopefully, Stanley and I will be able to take advantage of a few of these events.

Although we need the rain, it can really put a damper on summer fun. This is the driest summer so far that I can remember for a very long time. The gardens and yards are so very dry and need water.

There is an obscure superstition known as "Polly Crossing the Mountain" that occurs

Taking Care of Diabetic Feet

Presented by Dr. Karen Saylor

Few things are more important in diabetes than taking care of the feet. The feet are a source of complications and infections, sometimes life-threatening ones.

Diabetes causes problems for the feet in two ways. The circulation is impaired and the sensation to the feet can be decreased or lost. An ulcer, blister, or burn can occur without causing pain, and by the time the infection is discovered, it can be very serious.

To prevent problems, a person should wash his or her feet daily and inspect them for blisters, sores, or other problems. The skin should be dried carefully and the toenails cut straight across. If corns or calluses need to be trimmed, it is best to have it done by a doctor, podiatrist, or nurse.

One should wear comfortable stockings and properly fitting shoes. Each day, check the shoes for any pebbles, protruding nails, or other intrusions which may cause pressure on the foot. If the feet feel cold, it is best to wear more stockings and clothes rather than try to warm them by a heater or in hot water. Burns can occur without causing pain and will take weeks to heal.

A person must avoid harmful practices, such as smoking, which will further damage the circulation and delay healing.

Do not wear constricting or seamed stockings, or footwear which may cause excessive rubbing or pressure, such as sandals or high-heeled shoes. Walking barefoot may be even worse. Stepping on slivers or other sharp objects is sure to cause an infection. Do not even walk barefoot inside the house--carpets hide many hazards.

Card of Thanks

Preston Parrett

The family of Preston Parrett would like to extend our deepest appreciation to everyone for the thoughts, prayers, words of encouragement and comfort, calls, cards, visits, food, flowers and other expressions of caring during Dad's illness and since his death.

Special thanks to Drs. Karen Saylor and David Bullock and their staff, the staff at Rockcastle Hospital, Rockcastle Ambulance Service, Rockcastle Hospital Home Health, Mrs. Betty Simpson and Collins Respiratory Care.

Marvin and Judy Owens, along with Rick Reynolds and staff, are to be commended for the special way they took care of Dad and our family during our time of great sorrow. The Livingston School Gym, slide show, tributes and the Brodhead Christian Church were lovely. We greatly appreciate all the people who helped clean and decorate the Livingston School gym for the "Celebration of Dad's Life." He dearly loved Livingston and its people. He would have been honored by the way the gym was decorated in blue and gold, the memories people shared with our family and by the number of friends, classmates, former basketball players and students who came to bid him a final farewell.

Thanks also to Bro. Buford Parkerson, Bro. Tracy Valentine and Bro. Wade Johnson for the comfort they provided at the funeral, to Caroline Graves and Billy Wayne "Red" Bryant for the beautiful songs and music, to Aletha's Florist for the magnificent flowers, to Cline and Jenny Calhoun for the music and refreshments at the church, to the bearers who carried Dad to his resting place and to the gentlemen who performed Military Rites at Piney Grove Cemetery.

In addition, thanks to all who have contributed to the Livingston School Gym Air Conditioning Fund in Dad's memory. Because of you, Dad can continue to help the community, even though he is no longer with us on earth.

We are blessed to be a part of such a loving, caring community. May God bless each of you.

Sincerely,
LaJoy, Nelson, Devin and DeJon Graves and Tanya, Steve, Derek and Amy Clark

on July second. It all revolves around a little girl named Polly crossing a big mountain to visit her grandmother, who lived on the other side. Polly was crossing the mountain when it began to rain. She was detained in a cave until the rain stopped, where she put a curse on the rain while held up in the cave. According to the legend, Polly will only allow rain to fall a few days, if any, the month of July if it's dry on the second, but if it rains only briefly, it will rain most of the month.

I know it's only a superstition, and I'm not known to be superstitious, but it is interesting to note each year. Today is the second, and there isn't a drop of rain in over a hundred miles or any expected according to the weather reports or the local radar. I guess we'll have to wait and see what happens, but Polly says there will be little or any rain the rest of the month.

Now that half of the summer has passed, it won't be long before school is starting, the leaves will be turning, we'll be looking down the way to Thanksgiving, and the first snowfall. As I've said many, many, times before: "Where does the time go?" Can it be that, as you reach a certain age, time seems to speed along at a faster rate? The news reports this week say that it's been ten years in August since Princess Diana was killed. It doesn't seem but like only four or five. Our lives are slipping through our fingers on a daily basis, and soon we'll be old and wonder where the days of our youth went.

Wouldn't it be great if we could make each day and each season count for something? Hopefully, this will be a summer to remember, and I've got at least half of it ahead of me.

Outstanding effort for PRIDE Spring Cleanup

By James Renner,
Solid Waste Coordinator and Rockcastle County Pride
Coordinator

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who volunteered during the 2007 Pride Spring Cleanup. A total of 352 bags of trash, 11 tires, and 4 gas tanks was picked up by 96 volunteers who put in a total of 170.75 volunteer hours picking up 19.1 miles of roadside. This does not include the totals from Mt. Vernon and Livingston's spring cleanup efforts.

Congratulations, this was an outstanding effort put forth by concerned citizens who wanted to improve their communities!

The 2007 Rockcastle County nine year old all-stars finished runners-up in the US All-Star Regional tournament. Team members are pictured front from left: Austin Saylor, Zach Loudermilk, Kyle Gilbert, John Harris, Thomas Burdette and Chayse McClure. Second row from left: John Cornelius, Tate Clements, Lucas Jones, Lucas Gentry and Carson Noble. Back row from left: Coach Jerry Saylor, Head Coach Mickey McClure and Coach Mike Jones.

It was an injury-plagued season for the Cal Ripken Major League Mets who finished league play in third place with a 6 and 12 record. However, the Mets went into tournament play with a "confident, blood-thirsty payback, get some respect" attitude and had to face the tough second-place As immediately. After scoring five runs in the first, the Mets led 7-2 going into the bottom of the fifth. But, the As stormed back and took an 8-7 lead. However, the Mets were not to be denied. In the top of the sixth, after a lead off hit, Logan "Broken Nose" Lear managed to give the Mets a 9-8 lead and to hold off the As in the bottom of the sixth. The championship game was a classic -- the Mets versus the Yankees and again, the Mets struck first. But, the Yanks answered quickly and led 4-1 at the end of three innings. The Mets came back with three runs in the fourth to tie the score and then scored two in the fifth and one in the sixth and then allowed the Yankees only one run in the sixth for the championship win. Members of the team are shown above, front row from left: Bryan McGuire, Brandon "Bean" Jones, R.J. Smith and Logan Lear. Back row from left: coach Greg McGuire, Sam Payne, Clay Napier, Coty Brown, T.J. Bussell, Dillon Cromer and manager Glen Smith. Not shown: Daniel Legg and coach Kevin Bussell.

New hunting permit makes hunting easier

As of July 1st, a new permit is available to make it easier for people to try hunting. The temporary hunter education exemption permit allows a person to hunt for one year without first completing a hunter education course. The permit will be available online at fw.ky.gov for a $5 fee and is available to both Kentucky residents and nonresidents.

"License sales have been going down over the years, and we were looking for a solution to the problem," said Bill Balda, hunter education supervisor for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "We want people to try hunting, to take advantage of Kentucky's wildlife resources."

Kentucky's hunter education law requires all license-required hunters born on or after January 1, 1975 to pass a hunter education course and carry the course completion card when hunting. However, hunters who have the new permit will be exempt from this law for one year from the date of purchase.

"We made the permit effective for 12 months from the date of purchase, to give hunters an opportunity to try all the hunting opportunities Kentucky has to offer," Balda said.

The permit is available only one time. Once it expires, hunters are no longer exempt and must successfully complete a hunter education course. Hunters who carry the permit must be accompanied by a properly licensed adult hunter at least 18 years old who meets the hunter education requirement. The adult must remain in a position to take immediate control of the exempted hunter's bow or firearm while hunting. Adult supervision is also required for all hunters under the age of 10, and for all firearm deer, elk and turkey hunters 15 and under.

"We did not want the accident rate to go up," said Balda. "Texas began a similar permit in 2004, and there was no increase in hunting incidents."

Two other hunter education changes go into effect July 1. Kids don't have to take the course until they turn 12 years old, instead of the previous age of 10. Also, kids cannot take the hunter education test until they turn nine.

During the three-year window between ages nine and 12, kids have many opportunities to take a course. More than 300 hunter education courses are scheduled throughout Kentucky each year. Course dates, times and locations are posted online at fw.ky.gov.

Landowners who are hunting on their own land, and other license-exempt hunters, are not required to take a hunter education course. However, the course is strongly recommended.

For complete information on hunter education, pick up a copy of the upcoming 2007-08 Kentucky Hunting & Trapping Guide, available in early July wherever hunting licenses are sold, or call 1-800-858-1549.

Livingston Baptist Church struggling to stay open

By: Buzz Carloftis
Longtime member and pianist
 Livingston Baptist Church was formed by a small group of Baptist women in Livingston in 1902.

The family names of its charter members were Singleton, Pope, Greer, Perkins, Rice, Davis, Woodall and Mudd, with Rev. T.P. Gates as pastor.

At the time of the church's formation, the Livingston Presbyterian and Christian churches already had thriving congregations. Livingston was the commercial and railroad center of Rockcastle County with a very large number of Livingston's residents and early Baptist Church members being railroad employees.

Livingston Baptist Church's largest enrollment period was probably during the 1940s, '50s, and early '60s with over 120 members.

Today, however, the congregation struggles and met as recently as this past December to decide whether or not it could continue to serve the community.

With only 10 members in attendance on that Sunday, the congregation elected to call Bro. Steve McKinney as the pastor and try to continue to offer service for Christ in the Community. Since that time services have been averaging 25 members.

The church is now in the process of canvassing the community to get a better understanding of the needs of the citizens and the number of those who do and do not regularly attend Sunday services, regardless of affiliation.

The congregation believes strongly in the brotherhood of all Christians and that every church in the community has its own expression in faith.

Livingston Baptist Church has had prayers for the growth of all churches in the Livingston area - regardless of denomination - and Livingston, unfortunately, saw the recent closure of the Church of Christ within the community.

Of particular interest is that, contrary to popular belief, the mountains of eastern Kentucky has the least church-going (all denominations) population in the United States, surpassed only by the extreme Northwest (Washington and Oregon). The only other churches now located in Livingston are the Pentecostal and Christian congregations.

A very interesting Sunday School, led by Bro. Steve McKinney, the pastor, begins at 10 a.m. with worship service following at 11:00. In addition, this church's congregation is now planning Vacation Bible School in mid-summer, and has been offered assistance from a sister church, Pine Hill Baptist, in this effort. The church's small congregation welcomes all to Donnie and Irene Warf of Cincinnati, OH are pleased to announce the engagement of their son John to Jamie Buening, daughter of Dan and Diane Evans, also of Cincinnati, OH. The bride and groom to be are both recent graduates of The University of Cincinnati. John is an I.T. Analyst for Gerner & Kerhns Law Offices in Newport, KY. Jamie is an Operations Manager for U.S. Bank of Cincinnati, OH. The wedding will be sometime in the late fall of 2007. John is the grandson of the late Mack and Freda Warf of the Orlando section of the county.

Brooks - Lovell

Bobby Lovell and Vanessa Hasty of Mt. Vernon would like to announce the upcoming marriage of their son, Robert Blake Lovell to Jennifer Lynn Brooks. The wedding will take place on Saturday, July 14th at 2 p.m. at the Chestnut Ridge Church of Christ in Mt. Vernon. All friends and family members are invited. No formal invitations are being sent.

Steele - Richards

Isaac Steele would like to announce the marriage of his mom Rebecca Steele to his dad Justin Richards. Friends and family are invited to join him and his family in celebrating this wonderful event on Friday July 6, 2007 at 1 p.m. at the Fairview Baptist Church, located in Conway, KY. Rebecca is the daughter of Lester and Rozetta Steele of Walton, KY and is a 2006 graduate of Mason County High School. Justin is the son of Henry and Donna Richards of Orlando, KY and a 2004 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. No formal invitations will be sent. A reception will follow located at the Fairview Baptist Church shelter.

Lear - Glovak

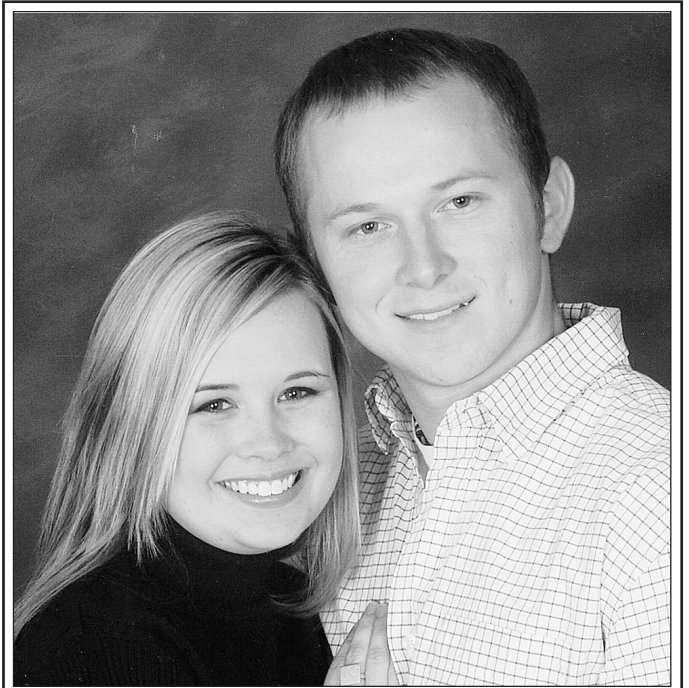

Doug and Billie Sue Lear of Brodhead and Frank and Janet Glovak of Brodhead would like to announce the forthcoming marriage of their children, Jennifer Lear and Michael Glovak. Jennifer, the mother of Brady Lear, is a 1985 graduate of Rockcastle County High School and is currently employed at E.W. James in Richmond. Michael, the father of Chad Glovak, is a 1982 graduate of Rockcastle County High School and is self-employed.

The wedding ceremony will be held July 7, 2007 at 2:30 at Brodhead Baptist Church. A reception will immediately follow in the fellowship hall. All friends and family are invited to attend. After a honeymoon, the couple will reside in Richmond.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Billy and Kathleen Bishop, of Brodhead, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with family at Ryan's Restaurant. They were married on June 29, 1957. They have two children, three grandchildren and one great granddaughter. We all want to thank God for our family and his blessings on us. We had a wonderful day.

Sowder - Baldrige

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Sowder of Berea are pleased to announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Courtney Renee, to Mr. Nicholas Shane Baldrige, son of David and Nora Blevins of Paintsville. She is the granddaughter of Janie and the late Kenneth Sowder and the late Edward and Lola Hubbard.

The bride-to-be is a 2003 graduate of Madison Southern High School and a 2007 graduate of Eastern Kentucky University where she earned a bachelors degree in communications studies. She is employed with Kentucky Employers' Mutual Insurance in Lexington.

The groom-to-be is a 2001 graduate of Paintsville High School and attended Eastern Kentucky University. He is employed at Toyota Motor Manufacturing in Georgetown.

The wedding will take place at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, July 14, at Union Church in Berea. After a honeymoon in the Bahamas, the couple will reside in Berea.

Relay For Life, July 27th

A Cancer Survivor Shares Her Story

I am grateful and very thankful for all the hard work being done in our community to make a difference in the fight against cancer. Each and every family is touched by cancer either as a caregiver of a cancer patient, a victim of the disease or have a loved one diagnosed with cancer.

My name is Darlena K. Allen, the daughter of Joe and Joann Allen of Brodhead and I was born in Lebanon, Indiana. I have been a resident of Rockcastle County for 37 years now. I first encountered cancer in Jan 1997 when my late husband, Wesley Mays, was diagnosed. He was in the last stages and his fight only lasted 6 months, but fight he did. As a caregiver, I learned from him, faith, love of God, strength and courage and to enjoy life to its fullest. Wesley passed away in July 1997 as my "Angel of Laughter", which I had engraved on his tombstone. His philosophy on life was to take one day at a time, don't sweat the small stuff and live each day as if it were your last, with a pinch of laughter.

On January 7, 2003 my daughter, Sabrina Bowles, gave birth to my precious grand daughter, Delani. It was the most joyous time of my life. I didn't know the plan the Lord had for Delani, but soon I found out...her mission was to give me strength. Two days later, on January 9, 2003 I was diagnosed with breast cancer. That beautiful baby girl kept me fighting for my life. Your life can truly change when you feel you may be facing death. You hold tight to the things that are most precious to you, our heavenly Father, your family and loved ones, friendships and most of all, your faith.

Wesley's philosophy is what carried me through the next 18 months of chemo and radiation treatments. The first two weeks I spent having three surgeries, 2 cancer mass removals and one port inserted. That was followed by 12 chemo treatments, 87 radiation treatments, heart echo's, mammograms, pap smears, blood work and various examinations. Needless to say, my life was transformed for the next 18 months. I now had new problems to deal with such as losing my hair, weakness, loss of appetite, depression, dependency of others; my overall quality of life was decreasing. Some days I felt I had reached a bottom low, but I kept on fighting. Now, after 4 1/2 years, I'm just the same old Darlena, cancer free and grateful to the God above for sparing my life and thankful to be getting older.

There's a book I have read many times for encouragement, that was a gift from my daughter entitled "When Life Throws You A Curveball...Hit It" by Dr. Criswell Freeman. My favorite words from the book are:

Without faith, nothing is possible,
With it, nothing is impossible.
—Mary McLeod Bethrine

As a member of the Northside Baptist Church, I now walk closer with God and try to live life to the fullest. I have a wonderful husband, family and two very special grandchildren which is more than enough for a happy, fulfilling life. I only hope I can be a light to those that think there's no hope for cancer. My words to you are may God give you the strength and may he carry your load to become a survivor. Won't you join us at the Relay For Life on July 27th at the Middle School Track to honor the memories of those lost and recognize those SURVIVORS.

Reverend Steve McKinney

Reverend Steve McKinney has been pastor of Livingston Baptist since December of 2006.

A Rockcastle County native, Steve graduated from Berea College with a Bachelor's Degree in Religion, before finishing his Masters in Pastoral Care and Counseling Degree at The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville.

Steve worked his way through seminary, doing retail management, a field he still enjoys.

He currently holds the position of produce manager at Mt. Vernon's IGA.

By working with the public, Steve is able to minister to many more individuals. Steve has served in many churches in Kentucky, as well as a church in far northern Michigan. Being able to serve in a church in his home county is one of his lifelong goals and couldn't please his parents, Charles (C.S.) and Carolyn, more.

When not working at church or at IGA, Steve enjoys working in his yard or reading. He serves as vice-chairman on the Rockcastle County Public Library Board of Trustees and attends many school functions with his family.

Steve and his wife, Sherri, also a Berea graduate, have been married over 19 years. They have two children, Darrin, 17, who is currently away at Morehead State University as part of the 2007 Governor's Scholars Program and will return this fall for his senior year at RCHS.

Kristyna, 14, recently completed a three-year "Girls in Research" program through the University of Kentucky and will be entering RCHS this fall as a freshman.

The McKinney family resides in Brodhead and each is proud to call Rockcastle County home.

Denise Carpenter filled in for an ailing Billie Bales as song leader on Sunday morning at Livingston Baptist Church.

Rachel Martin, right, and Bernie Cromer took up offering on Sunday morning.

Rockcastle Judge-Executive Buzz Carloftis played the piano at Livingston Baptist Church on Sunday morning.

"What is Written"

In Matt.28:18, Jesus said, "And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." The ASV says all authority is given unto me. Jesus has all authority in religious matters, as Paul affirms, "And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church, Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all." Eph.1:22-23. The head gives direction to the body, not the body giving direction to the head. If we are going to be the body of Christ we must completely submit to his will and authority. The problem with most of the religious world is that they want to do their own thing. They trust their wisdom and "think so" about how to worship God. Jesus spoke about those religious folks who would practice their lawless deeds in religion, but in the end they would be lost. "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works? And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity." Matt.7:22-23. They failed to honor the authority of the Lord and did their own thing. Let us respect the authority of Christ!

Auction
of Mr. Terry Conder's and Ms. Joanna Conder's
25.6 Acre Farm in Tracts, Bedford Stone Home & Metal Buildings
Saturday, July 14, 2007 • 10:30 a.m.
1670 Old Cuba Road, Eubank, Ky.

Directions: From the intersection of Highways 27 and 70, take Highway 70 east 8/10 mile and turn left onto Old Cuba Road. Proceed approximately 6/10 mile to the auction site at Barron-Conder Lane. Auction signs are posted.

Tracts 1 through 4: These parcels range in size from 69/100 to 93/100 acre and are beautiful lots with blacktop frontage on Old Cuba Road with city water available. Any of these lots would make excellent home sites. Tract 4 also features 200 feet of blacktop frontage along Barron-Conder Lane.
Tract 5: This tract is also all cleared and consists of 2.84 acres that would be an ideal country home setting. It features 103 feet of blacktop frontage along Barron-Conder Lane.
Tract 7: This gently rolling parcel offers 1.17 acres fronting the Barron-Conder Lane 147 feet.
Tract 8: Being one of the largest parcels offered, Tract 8 features 5.29 acres of gently rolling land and offers a sizeable pond plus a beautiful gazebo.
Tract 9: Contains 2.66 acres and offers 120 feet of frontage along Barron-Conder Lane as well as 450 feet along an easement that is being retained. Here is another spacious tract that would be a great site for your home.
Tract 10: Features 4.79 acres of beautiful, gently rolling land. This parcel is accessible via 50 feet along the easement and is a perfect site for your new home.
Tract 11: Contains 5.74 beautiful acres improved with the pictured Bedford stone home, garage/workshop buildings, and pool.

The main level of the home features living room and dining room both with beautiful chair railing and crown molding. The kitchen offers nice beautiful cabinetry as well as an island. The home offers 4 bedrooms each with spacious closets and carpeting and 2 offering beautiful chair railing. There are also 2 full baths on this level.
The full walkout basement with attached carport offers a family room with carpeting and built-in oak bookcase. There is also a kitchen area offering custom cabinetry as well as appliances. In addition, there the basement offers a large bedroom which has a walk-in closet and track lighting. There is also a full bath as well as a storage room with plenty of shelving.
This home also offers heat pump/central air as well as many extras including Primax windows, security system, an enclosed porch at the side of the home, front patio, and a large rear deck. The home's roof is only 4 years old.
An above ground pool with an extra nice two level deck, beautiful landscaping and mature trees grace this country home.
This tract is also improved with a 38 x 60 metal garage/workshop with attached shed offering concrete floor and electricity. There is also an additional metal building only 2 years old with asphalt floor and electricity. Asphalt and/or sidewalks offer great accessibility into these buildings.

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE: This is truly one of the most picturesque properties we've had the opportunity to offer. If you are a lover of the country, these well-manicured 25.6 acres and recently updated Bedford stone home plus pool and buildings is a must-see. Mark your calendar to attend this multi-parcel auction on Saturday, July 14th at 10:30 a.m.
TERMS: 20% down the day of the auction with the balance due in full within 30 days.
NOTE: This will be a multi-parcel auction giving each and every prospective purchaser the opportunity to purchase any tract or combination of tracts.

Summer Reading has come to a close and the library would like to say that it was a very successful year. Almost 100 people ranging from 2-year-olds to adults participated in summer reading this year. Please remember that summer reading logs are due Saturday July 7th and no later. No reading logs after July 7th will be accepted.

Mr. Danny Hinton visited the library this past week to do a program on the settlement in Kentucky. Mr. Hinton provided a very entertaining while very educational program for the children and caregivers. Some of the children were able to dress up and look like people did back then when they came here. The library would like to thank Mr. Hinton for all that he does for us.

At story hour on Tuesday, Ms. Carla had 27 preschoolers and 4 children for intermediate crafts. At story hour the Water - essential for life

Livingston Water and Sewer Department Water Quality Report

January 1 through December 31, 2006

PWSID # KY-1020253

We are pleased to present this Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform the public about the quality of water and services provided on a daily basis. Our commitment is to provide our customers with a safe, clean, and reliable supply of drinking water. We would like the public to be assured that we will continue to monitor, improve, and protect the water system and deliver a high quality water direct from the tap. We know that water is the most indispensable product in every home and we ask everyone to be conservative and help us in our efforts to protect the water source and the water system. Please report any activity that might jeopardize the water supply.

Livingston Municipal Water Works purchases your drinking water from the Wood Creek Water District. The Wood Creek Water Plant treats surface water supplied from Wood Creek Lake. A source water assessment that addresses the water supply's susceptibility to potential sources of contamination has been prepared. The susceptibility rating for Wood Creek Lake is considered high. Activities that have a potential to affect water quality and the cost of treating the water include: agricultural, transportation, landfill/dumps, and human/animal activities. The presence of excessive nutrients is of particular concern. Two general sources of nutrients in Wood Creek's water supply are from natural and man-made sources. Nutrients are either dumped directly into waterways or swept through the areas when rain washes over the land. Wood Creek Water District is taking steps to install sanitary sewer lines in the watershed in order to eliminate nutrient & bacteriological contaminant sources. The complete source water assessment is available for review at the Cumberland Valley Area Development District.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects may be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and may pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include: Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, (sewage plants, septic systems, livestock operations, or wildlife). Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, (naturally occurring or from stormwater runoff, wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming). Pesticides and herbicides, (stormwater runoff, agriculture or residential uses). Organic Chemical Contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, (by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, or from gas stations, stormwater runoff, or septic systems). Radioactive contaminants, (naturally occurring or from oil and gas production or mining activities). In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water to provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Some or all of these definitions may be found in this report:

Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) - the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG) - the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL) - the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG) - the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Below Detection Levels (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present.

Not Applicable (N/A) - does not apply.

Parts per million (ppm) - one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) - or micrograms per liter, (µg/L). One part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity has no health effects. However, turbidity can provide a medium for microbial growth. Turbidity is monitored because it is a good indicator of the effectiveness of the filtration system.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level (AL) - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system shall follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

The data presented in this report are from the most recent testing done in accordance with administrative regulations in 401 KAR Chapter 8. As authorized and approved by EPA, the State has reduced monitoring requirements for certain contaminants to less often than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. Some of the data in this table, though representative, may be more than one year old. Unless otherwise noted, the report level is the highest level detected.

	Allowable Levels	Highest Single Measurement	Lowest Monthly %	Violation	Likely Source
Turbidity (NTU) TT * Representative samples of filtered water	No more than 1 NTU* Less than 0.3 NTU in 95% of monthly samples	0.18	100	No	Soil runoff

Regulated Contaminant Test Results

Contaminant [code] (units)	MCL	MCLG	Report Level	Range of Detection	Date of Sample	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Inorganic Contaminants
Barium [1010] (ppm)	2	2	0.004	0.004 to 0.004	Sep-06	No	Drilling wastes; metal refineries; erosion of natural deposits
Chromium [1020] (ppb)	100	100	0.002	0.002 to 0.002	Sep-06	No	Discharge from steel and pulp mills; erosion of natural deposits
Copper [1022] (ppm) sites exceeding action level 0	AL = 1.3	1.3	1.500 (90 th percentile)	0 to 0.16	Aug-06	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Fluoride [1025] (ppm)	4	4	1.53	0.66 to 1.53	May-06	No	Water additive which promotes strong teeth
Lead [1030] (ppb) sites exceeding action level 0	AL = 15	0	1 (90 th percentile)	0 to 1	Aug-06	No	Corrosion of household plumbing systems
Nitrate [1040] (ppm)	10	10	0.26	0.26 to 0.26	Sep-06	No	Runoff from fertilizer use; leaching from septic tanks, sewage; erosion of natural deposits
Disinfectants/Disinfection Byproducts and Precursors
Total Organic Carbon (ppm) (measured as ppm, but reported as a ratio)	TT*	N/A	1.54 (lowest average)	1.04 to 2.33 (monthly ratios)	N/A	No	Naturally present in environment.
*Monthly ratio is the % TOC removal achieved to the % TOC removal required. Annual average of the monthly ratios must be 1.00 or greater for compliance.
Chlorine (ppm)	MRDL = 4	MRDLG = 4	1.28 (highest average)	0.55 to 1.52	N/A	No	Water additive used to control microbes.
HAA (ppb) [Haloacetic acids]	60	N/A	30 (highest average)	13 to 54	N/A	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection
TTHM (ppb) [total trihalomethanes]	80	N/A	37 (highest average)	20 to 91	N/A	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection.

Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs) are set at very stringent levels. To understand the possible health effects described for many regulated contaminants, a person would have to drink 2 liters of water every day at the MCL level for a lifetime to have a one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect.

Food safety tips

It's summer - time for cookouts, picnics and eating outdoors. However, if food isn't handled correctly, foodborne illness can ruin all of the fun.

The Department for Public Health's (DPH) food safety branch wants to remind cooks of some general food safety tips, particularly during the Fourth of July holiday when family barbecues and picnics are part of the tradition.

"The key to food protection is simple: Keep hot food hot, and keep cold food cold," said Christine Atkinson, manager of the food safety branch.

Here are some food safety guidelines to follow to help prevent illness from improperly prepared, cooked or stored foods.

Wash hands before eating or preparing food, after using the restroom, between handling raw and ready-to-eat items and after handling pets. Wash with hot soapy water and dry with paper towels.

To sanitize surfaces, use a solution of regular household bleach and warm water. Add about 1 tablespoon of bleach to 2 gallons of water for the right concentration. Sanitize by first washing and rinsing the surface and then immerse, spray or swab with the bleach solution.

Separate raw foods from ready-to-eat foods. Use different cutting boards or wash, rinse and sanitize after contact with raw meat, poultry and seafood. Never use the same plate to transport the cooked hamburgers that was used for the raw hamburger patties.

Handle all cut melons carefully, including cantaloupe and watermelon. Thoroughly clean the outer surface before slicing, and keep work surface and utensils used to prepare the melon clean and sanitized. Refrigerate sliced melon promptly at 41 degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

Be sure to wash all produce thoroughly before use.

Cook food to the proper internal temperature:

Ground Beef 160 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 seconds

Poultry and Stuffed Meats 165 degrees F for 15 seconds

Pork Products 150 degrees F for 15 seconds

Other Products 140 degrees F for 15 seconds

Reheating Leftovers 165 degrees F for 15 seconds

Always check the internal temperature of cooked foods with a metal-stemmed thermometer and cook another 15 seconds after the thermometer indicates it has reached the proper temperature.

Within two hours, cool and maintain leftovers at 41 degrees Fahrenheit or lower or freeze at zero degrees or lower.

"When in doubt, throw it out," said William Hacker, M.D., acting undersecretary for health and DPH commissioner. "It's better to be safe than sorry."

Contagion! Preparing for the Pandemic

We have all ignored a doctor's advice on some occasion or other. But when Atlanta resident Andrew Speaker disregarded warnings that he should avoid traveling in public, his return to the United States following a European wedding set off all of the public health alarms.

Judge David Tapp

Speaker, who had been previously diagnosed with tuberculosis, was contacted by officials with the Center for Disease and Control (CDC) and informed that his infection was unusually resistant to drugs used to treat TB. Instead of heeding those warnings, Speaker returned to the U.S. by commercial air via Prague and Montreal. Public health officials here and abroad scrambled to identify and test Speaker's fellow travelers, fearing an outbreak of extensively drug resistant TB (XDR-TB) and setting into motion the first U.S. government ordered quarantine since 1963.

The incidence of XDR-TB in the U.S. is rare, less than 50 cases between 1993 and 2006. But outbreaks in other parts of the world have produced alarming casualties. In one documented incident at a single, small South African hospital, health officials identified nearly 300 XDR-TB infected patients in 2005, and reported an 84% mortality rate. That is the type of scenario which frightens U.S. officials - a highly infectious, easily transmitted and drug resistant disease.

This was not our first scare, only the most recent. In 2003, an outbreak of severe acute respiratory syndrome (SARS) energized the global public health community and according to the CDC, led to widespread "measures that had not been invoked to contain an infectious disease in North America" for over 50 years. Published sources estimate that in Toronto alone, over 15,000 people were voluntary quaran-ted - all for a disease with a morbidity rate significantly less than that of XDR-TB.

While public health officials worry about many naturally occurring diseases, and to a lesser extent about the deliberate introduction of a biological agent by terrorists into American society, the greatest concerns are reserved for influenza. It is a near certainty that an influenza pandemic will occur again in the United States, a "time bomb" waiting to go off. Since 1900, the United States has suffered three pandemics, the most devastating occurring in 1918, with lesser episodes occurring in 1957 and 1968.

Estimates of the severity of the next pandemic vary. The 1918 pandemic killed 20 million people worldwide, and caused 500,000 deaths in the United States. Kentucky's Division of Epidemiology and Health Planning estimates that the national death toll resulting from the next pandemic could range from a moderate 209,000 deaths to a high of 1,903,000 deaths depending on whether the pandemic more closely resembles the 1918 "Spanish Flu" or the 1958 and 1968 pandemics. Even a minor pandemic will create a major burden for local health care facilities.

To minimize the disruption caused by such an event, Kentucky's Center for Health and Family Services recently released the Pandemic Influenza Preparedness Plan ("PIPP"). This comprehensive plan focuses on the medical response to such a disaster. The plan is well conceived and consistent with plans adopted by other states and with federal guidelines.

But consider this possibility. What happens when a widespread outbreak of disease occurs (like SARS or influenza), and those at risk of infection, or of transmitting the disease to others refuse to cooperate (like Speaker) with public health officials? Kentucky's existing plan does little to clarify the response of public health officials in confronting those who choose to ignore their own health and pose a credible threat to others by spreading disease.

The legal authority of public health officials in such circumstances is not as well defined in Kentucky as in some other states. Depending on the jurisdiction, public health workers may seek court orders to enforce medically required procedures, including quarantines, masking, or observed therapy.

While broadly worded regulations and statutes do exist in Kentucky, little recent experience exists within the courts from which these laws can be interpreted in a functional and timely manner. This is an issue which Kentucky officials cannot afford to ignore. While the Department of Public Health will almost certainly continue to refine its preparedness planning - hopefully for an event which will not occur - other state agencies should promptly direct their attention to this issue as well.

"Weather"

Rockcastle weatherman Bud Cox recorded only 2.89 inches of rain the entire month of June at his weather station in Mt. Vernon and only 2 inches in May.

The 2.89 inches of rain in June compares to 5.47 inches the same month a year ago.

The high recorded temperature in June was 91 on June 26th and the recorded low temperature was 50 on the 6th.

Besides the recorded high of 91, the mercury climbed to 90 on three other days in June.

So far, in the first six months of 2007, only 16.38 inches of precipitation has been recorded with the wettest month being January when 3.91 inches fell.

The average total rainfall for Rockcastle County is about 45 inches a year, according to Cox.

The county is over six inches behind in normal rainfall for 2007 at this time.

"Nolan"

Nolan, who had been free on a $5,000 property bond since March 1, was taken into custody on Friday to serve his four year sentence.

Also on Friday, James Daniel Sturgill, 23, of Snowflake Lane on Brindle Ridge, who was indicted on June 8th for possession of cocaine, pled guilty to first degree possession of a controlled substance.

Asst. Commonwealth Attorney Jeremy Bartley recommended a four year probated sentence for Sturgill for the guilty plea, but he also recommended the sentence be probated for two years.

Sturgill posted 10 percent of a $10,000 cash bond until his sentencing on July 27th.

Judge Tapp also placed Sturgill on house arrest until his sentencing and ordered him to apply for drug court.

School Meal Applications

Rockcastle County Schools participate in the national school breakfast and lunch programs. Meal applications determine if a family qualifies for free or reduced meals based on the income. All food stamp recipients automatically qualify for free breakfast and lunch. However, we must be informed that the family receives food stamps.

Meal applications will be mailed to families in July. Please complete the information, sign and date, and return the application in the stamped envelope that is provided. Even if you know that you do not qualify, we ask that you write your child's name on the application along with "NA" and return it. This way we will know that your family received an application and had the opportunity to apply for free/reduced meals -- and we won't keep sending home applications.

If you received food stamps last school year, you may not receive an application. The State Department informs us of those families who receive food stamps and automatically qualify for free meals. These families will be not sent meal applications. However, if you only started receiving food stamps in the last 6 months or have just recently moved into the county, please contact our office so that we can be sure that you are sent an application.

If you do not receive an application and want to see if you qualify for free or reduced meals, applications will be available at Central Office at the Board of Education on Richmond Street in Mount Vernon and at each of the schools in August.

Breakfast costs 75 cents for all students. This price includes an entrée, juice, and milk. Every child should start the day with a nutritious breakfast. So plan on getting your child to school early enough so that he/she can eat breakfast.

Lunch costs $1.00 for elementary school students and $1.25 for middle/high school students. This includes an entrée, a vegetable and fruit, bread, and milk.

These are good nutritious meals that meet dietary guidelines determined by the state and federal governments. Participating in the school meal programs will ensure that your child has a healthy meal that will help him/her be prepared for learning in the classroom.

Eating nutritious meals in the proper proportions and getting adequate exercise daily will help your child to maintain a healthy weight. Please contact Jeannine or Nell at Central Office (606-256-2125) for further information.

Yards to Paradise

By Max Phelps
Why You Should Landscape Your Place

There are varied and sundry reasons people spend time and money on their yards and homes. I am sure I haven't thought of all of them yet, but as someone with quite a few years in the "green industry" I think I may have a few interesting and useful suggestions on things you might wish to do in your yard, and give you some of the reasons why. Good landscaping can give your house that lived in and loving it appeal, which is visible even to passers-by. This is often referred to as "curb appeal". Realtors know curb appeal helps sell houses. But, it also gives others a good first impression of the people who live behind the front door. (Or not so good an impression...depending on what people see.)

Taking pride in your place and fixing it up makes the neighborhood look better, and it makes you feel better to have a nice looking landscape. Sometimes, attractive does not need to be expensive. Though if someone want to "keep up with the Joneses" it may become a rather expensive proposition!

An pleasing look, a gorgeous view, a relaxing shady spot, a sunshiny spot, a spread of colorful blooms can all be motivation to do some work to improve one's landscape. Having a landscape you are pleased with can be a satisfying feeling, plus add value to your home.

About value. Landscaping adds value. Pools and things may add $75 for a $100 spent. Basic foundation plantings, fencing, and popular waterfeatures that are simple and reasonably carefree are items that may add more than a dollar of value for every dollar spent.

Privacy in a crowded neighborhood may be hard to come by. Some landscaping should be done with the idea of screening undesirable views or to give the occupant a feeling of security and privacy. No one plan works for everybody here.

A place to relax, be it a screened porch, a gazebo or patio, a goldfish pond, or just a bench under a tree can be so desirable after a hard day's work. The stress levels today are so much more than they were a generation ago. Having a nook to unwind in is healthful.

Some enjoy outdoor entertaining of guests. Business, family, whatever the reason. Patios, grills, outdoor kitchens, pools, fireplaces are some things to consider if you want to increase the ease of entertaining in the outdoors.

Landscape fixups can be a tax deductible thing too. Consult with your tax advisor on this one.

Shade trees, wind breaks, hedges, can lower electricity usage in both summer and winter if sited properly. That's certainly a good reason to landscape. Save energy. Invest in your home's value. Add beauty all with the same dollars you'd have sent to the utility company!

The ultimate reason to landscape in my own opinion is to create that ultimate Paradise. Take vacation money and spend it in your own yard and then you can visit your favorite 'get away' place and never leave home!

Hopefully some additional reasons to do some creative landscaping in your own yard are also coming to mind.

Words of Hope

The 4th of July is the celebration of our freedom here in America. It reminds us of the visions that our forefathers had for this country many years ago. Just like our forefathers, we too have visions: visions of expanding our families, or visions of starting a new career, or building a new house, or maybe even a vision of finding a cure for cancer. With God our visions are not impossible. The bible says in Psalm 37:4, Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Join us at Cornerstone Fellowship Church, a place to find freedom through Jesus Christ.

The Family Room

By: Dr. Roy Don Whitehead

One out of every three women and girls will be the victim of domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking in her lifetime. Gender-related violence is the leading cause of injury for women and girls age 14 to 24. In the state of Kentucky, a woman is beaten every nine seconds. In the time it takes to read this column, fifteen women in Kentucky will be victims of assault.

From August 18 through September 1, 2007, the Kentucky Domestic Violence Association (KDVA) and Bethany House Abuse Shelter are joining with other statewide and community partners to spread awareness of this violence.

Kentucky has been selected by V-Day, a global anti-violence movement, as one of two locations to replicate a festival focusing on ending violence against women and girls that was first held in New York City in 2006. Next year (2008) Colorado, Rhode Island and Paris, France will host festivals based on Kentucky's experience this year. The festival theme is "Until the Violence Stops: Kentucky."

The hub of Kentucky activity will be in Lexington. Events of the two week period include readings, discussion panels, plays, workshops, bicycle rides, a golf tournament, statewide tree planting ceremonies, art exhibits, writing collectives for high school students, concerts, a parade recognizing women leaders in Kentucky and many other events for both adults and children. All will focus attention on the issue of violence against women.

In Somerset, Bethany House Abuse Shelter will partner with SomerNites Cruise to highlight the violence issue at the Cruise on August 25. The Cruise brings thousands to Somerset and offers a fantastic opportunity to spread the word about the issue of violence against women. Bethany House will have a booth in the vendor area at the August Cruise.

Violence against women is not just a problem for women but also affects men. The mothers, sisters, wives and daughters of men are the victims. Concerned men will use the August festival as a time to speak out against the violence. These men can tell other men that "Real Men Don't Hit Women." Bethany House will be working hard to bring that message to the community through events such as the SomerNites Cruise.

Violence against women also affects their children. Witnessing violence in the home can have effects on a child that last a lifetime. Children may be scared, anxious, grow up too quickly or try to intervene and be hurt themselves. Behavior and grade problems at school are common in children from violent homes. Who would not be affected by seeing Dad hit Mom or by lying in bed listening to the screaming that lasts far into the night?

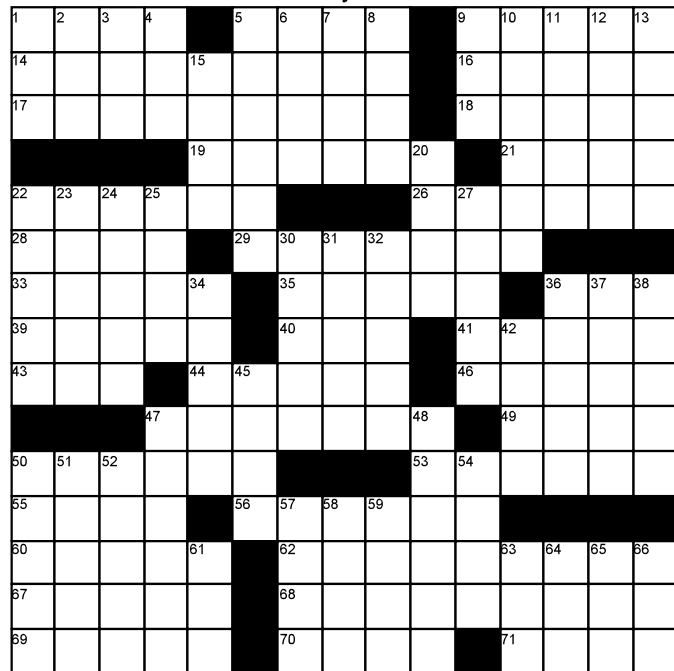

Violence against women affects everyone. The August festival "Until the Violence Stops: Kentucky" will sound a wakeup call to those who are not aware of what is happening in every community in the state. For the sake of the women, the children and the men, the violence must stop.

The Signal office will be closed July 4th - July 6th

We will reopen July 9th

Concentrate on Calcium

Family and Consumer Sciences

Hazel Jackson

Because milk product prices are rising, some families may consider cutting back on consumption of milk products. However, milk and cheese are the foods that contribute the greatest amount of calcium to the diet. Calcium, 99 percent of which is stored in your bones and teeth, performs multiple functions in the body. The mineral calcium has two important roles in the body: maintaining the structure of the skeleton and participating in your body metabolism. Some of the functions of calcium in your blood are:

- Controls heart beat, muscle contractions and nerve transmission.
- Aids digestion and blood clotting.
- Lowers blood pressure.
- Controls body fat.
- Eases PMS symptoms.
- Reduces risk of kidney stones.

These body functions is so important that if you don't supply enough calcium through diet; your body will take it from your bones.

In response to lower calcium, your body also starts making more calcitriol, a hormone that effects how calcium is used in the fat cells in your body. Hormones send messages to your body about how to use different elements such as minerals, protein and other active substances. One role that was recently discovered is that the hormone calcitriol directs calcium to rush inside your fat cells and tells them to store more fat and burn less fat for energy.

The good news is that eating more calcium lowers calcitriol so your fat cells store less fat and burn more fat for energy. Because of calcitriol's effect on the kidneys, more calcium has the additional benefit of lowering your blood pressure as well.

Researchers at the University of Tennessee conducted a study with overweight men and women and the role of calcium. In this study the group that consumed 1,200 to 1,300 milligrams of calcium from food lost 50 percent more weight and 26 percent more body fat than a group taking an 800 milligram supplement of the mineral. Other compounds in low fat dairy products such as yogurt and cheese may help shift calories away from fat and toward muscle.

Helpful hints on adding calcium to a healthy weight reduction eating plan:

- Drink fat free milk—300mg of calcium for 90 calories.
- If you are used to whole milk start making the switch to 2 percent milk then move on to low fat or nonfat milk.
- Use calorie free extracts such as vanilla, almond or peppermint for added taste.
- Make oatmeal with nonfat milk instead of water. Add cinnamon and fresh or frozen berries for a real taste treat.
- Treat yourself to mashed potatoes made with evaporated fat-free milk.
- Use plain yogurt and add your own flavors or sweeteners. Peaches and ginger, strawberries, bananas and cinnamon. One cup of plain, fat-free yogurt provides 250-400 mg of calcium for 120 calories.

TOUR SEKY revitalizes community development

TOUR Southern & Eastern Kentucky hosted meetings in London, Nancy and Paintsville, Kentucky in June to discuss the ever changing needs of the 47-county region. Community development funds for the nine corridors are made available to implement projects that promote tourism and economic development in their particular area.

These funds were secured by Congressman Hal Rogers to help promote, develop and expand the potential tourism industry in the 47 counties of southern and eastern Kentucky. These meetings were held to find out what new projects could be implemented in order to enhance each community's tourism awareness.

A sample of past corridor projects include beautification, brochures, driving trails, way-side exhibits, festival planning, and educational workshops. TOUR SEKY realizes the continued success of the tourism industry in southern and eastern Kentucky will see more volunteers involved in the planning and implementation process.

For more information about TOUR SEKY please contact Vicki Kidd at 606-677-6142 or vkidd@tourseky.com. The mission of TOUR SEKY is to enhance the existing and potential tourism industry throughout Southern and Eastern Kentucky through tourism development, promotion and education.

The Family Room
By: Dr. Roy Don Whitehead

These are some of the most frequently asked questions about domestic violence.

1. What exactly is domestic violence? It is the physical, sexual or emotional abuse of an intimate partner. An intimate partner is a husband, boyfriend, wife or girlfriend.

2. What is emotional abuse? Emotional abuse is when the abuser uses words, threats, power plays, intimidation, isolation or money to control the victim.

3. Why do some men abuse their partners? Some abusers were themselves abused as children. Growing up in a violent home can make some men abusive. Watching Dad abuse Mom can teach boys to be violent toward women. Most abusers are very insecure individuals. They feel they must use violence and threats to keep the victim under their control. Other abusers seem to have no conscience and some even enjoy inflicting pain. Some feel they are entitled to everything they want.

4. Why would a woman marry a man who abuses her? The abusers are careful not to reveal their anger and control at the beginning of the relationship. Abusers usually do not hit on the first date. They seem caring, loving and concerned at first. Abusers may treat their victims better than the women have ever been treated in their lives. This may be especially true for victims who were abused as children: the Alove@ they receive from the abuser may be the first Alove@ they have ever felt.

5. Why doesn't she leave him when he becomes abusive? Besides the fact that she Alove@ him, there are many other reasons she stays. He may have threatened her life or the lives of her children if she leaves. She may be financially dependent on him. If she has little education and no job skills, she may think she cannot make it on her own. He may have convinced her that the abuse is her fault, so that she spends her time trying to Alove good@ so that he will not abuse her. Also, she may not know that there is help available to her.

6. Can abusers change and stop being abusive? By the time the police and courts become involved, the chance for change is slim. Most abusers at this stage refuse to admit that they have a problem. They see the victim as causing the abuse and claim that they are not to blame. Refusing to acknowledge the problem means they will not willingly seek help.

7. Should the victim believe the abuser when he promises to change? When the victim leaves or even threatens to leave, the abuser may make many promises. He may say that he will never hit her again, will stop drinking or using drugs, will go to church or will go to counseling. Many victims do believe the promises and go back home. Often the situation improves for a time but eventually the abuser reverts to his old habits.

8. What should her family and friends do? They should not try to tell her what to do. They should not encourage her to Agive him another chance, @ because she may have already given him many chances of which they are not aware. They can point out the signs of abuse that they see. They can lovingly support her as she makes her decision.

9. Do women ever abuse men? Yes. Women are the primary abuser in approximately 5% of the cases. The other 95% of the time the man is the abuser.

10. What is Family Life Abuse Center? FLAC is a safe shelter for victims of domestic violence and their children. Victims are given shelter, meals, counseling, help with job hunting and referrals to other community organizations. There is never any charge for the services provided at FLAC. Marijuana eradication underway

Officers with the Governor's Marijuana Eradication Task Force were in Rockcastle County last week as they began their annual summer trek through eastern Kentucky.

$3,000 reward being offered after burglary

A Pulaski County couple is offering a $3,000 reward for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who robbed the home of Jerry and Samantha Price on June 9th, sometime between 7:15 p.m. and 10:15 p.m..

Samantha Price said someone gained access to the home through a back door, while she and her husband were attending a rodeo.

Price said several items were taken in the burglary at their home, which is located in the Walnut Grove section of Pulaski County, near the Rockcastle County line on Hwy. 934.

Taken in the burglary were: handguns, one double barrel shotgun, two rifles, a box of assorted knives, one Seiko Gold watch (still in box), Zippo Lighters and rolled change.

Price said she thinks some of the change was used at the Chevron gas station at Renfro Valley the night of the break-in because attendants there reported that someone used rolled coins with the same bank's wrappers on it, that were stolen from her home.

Price said her husband was especially upset over the theft of a Winchester 270 Hunting Gun, which was valued at $1,000.

"We think we know who was responsible, but we need someone to come forward," she added.

The Prices are asking anyone with any information to contact them at (606) 875-0349, (606) 379-2538 or (606) 379-5021.

Pulaski County Sheriff's Detective John Hutchinson is in charge of the investigation and can be reached at (606) 678-5145.

The task force, which is a collaboration between Kentucky State Police and members of the Kentucky National Guard, works during the marijuana growing season to locate and destroy marijuana patches throughout the state.

Eastern Kentucky's Task Force is based at the Civil Air Patrol in London and uses helicopters and a fixed winged aircraft to fly over areas suited for the cultivation of marijuana.

Rockcastle Sheriff Mike Peters said some patches were found in the county last Thursday and Friday, but he did not know how many. "They don't tell us a whole lot," he said.

"The task force operates alone and calls in a local trooper only if they find someone in a patch or marijuana growing close to a residence," said officer Don Trospier, Public Affairs Officer for Kentucky State Police in London.

"None of our troopers were called in last week in Rockcastle County," Trospier said.

Several local hair stylist have also volunteered to give free hair cuts.

Morgan said there would also be free school supplies, which will include backpacks.

Some of the local service agencies, clubs and representatives on hand will be the Rockcastle Health Department, Rockcastle Hospital, Rockcastle Rehab, UNITE, Ky. Transportation Cabinet, Kiwanis Club, Extension Office and Brodhead P.T.A.

Representatives with the school system's Migrant Program and the state's Ameri-Corp program will also be on hand.

"We are excited about the event because of the help it will provide to our students and parents," Morgan said.

For more information contact Morgan at (606) 758-8512, Sandy Bullen at (606) 256-5207 or Regina Hull-Brown at (606) 256-5173.

School for Rockcastle students is scheduled to begin on August 9th.

large quantities of the ingredients needed to make ether.

"When they drove by, they smelled a strong odor of ether coming from around a shed on McCormick's property and they saw Caldwell coming from the shed," Adams said.

"When they questioned

Caldwell he had a syringe in the right cargo pocket of his shorts," Adams.

"They, (McCormick and his wife) gave permission to search the property," Adams said.

Police found, tubing, homemade gas generators, lithium batteries, lye and propane tanks containing anhydrous ammonia -- all ingredients to make meth.

Police also found two hydrocon tablets on McCormick.

Caldwell's public defender, Tim Despotos, asked that Caldwell's $25,000 cash or property bond be reduced, but his motion was denied by District Judge Katie Wood.

Judge Wood continued Caldwell's case until September 5th, to see if he is indicted by the Rockcastle Grand Jury.

McCormick was also scheduled to have a preliminary hearing on Monday, but his hearing was continued until next Wednesday, July 11th.

He too is being held on a $25,000 cash or property bond.

son at the Extension Office at (606) 256-2403 or Troy or Becky Hansel at Heritage Crafts at (606) 256-9077.

Troy Hansel said that Quilt Blocks hold their quality for about ten years.

The next meeting of the Quilt Trail project committee is July 23rd at 6 p.m. at the Rockcastle Fairgrounds in Brodhead. Volunteers are welcome.

Linda Gregory, right, Director of Speech Pathology at Rockcastle Hospital and U.K. speech pathology student Katie Brown helped Tristen Bryant, last Thursday, pick out a book from the materials for the speech department which have been purchased with funds from the WHAS Crusade for Children. The crusade has raised over $340,000 for the local hospital during the past 17 years.

WHAS Crusade for Children still going strong after 17 years

Linda Gregory, Director of Speech Pathology at Rockcastle Hospital, is once again thanking those who donated to the WHAS Crusade for Children's program in Rockcastle County in 2007.

Since 1990, when Gregory first introduced the program to the hospital and Rockcastle County, local residents have contributed $65,500 and WHAS in Louisville has kicked in a whopping $341,000 in additional funds.

"That first year, we raised over $4,000 which got the attention of the powers that be who head the program at WHAS, and it has been a very good relationship every since," Gregory said.

"The crusade has been very generous to Rockcastle Hospital, which benefits the entire county," Gregory said last Thursday.

Through the efforts of the local community and the generosity of WHAS, equipment for every department at the hospital has been purchased, including a specialized passenger van with portable ventilators, for patients who are on life support, which is used almost on a daily basis.

"We use the van for personal trips and there are a lot of personal trips," Gregory said.

"It has been such a great asset for the vent patients, who have been given a lot more freedom by its use," she said.

"They go to Wal-Mart, they go fishing, they go wherever they need to, if it is medically safe," Gregory said.

"Some of the items are simple board games and some have been radiology equipment and other high dollar items, which are used every day in the hospital," she said.

"We've got about 75 children who use the materials for learning and for entertainment," she added.

This year, 27 local businesses and individuals donated anywhere from $10 to $300, for a total local contribution of $2,200.

Gregory said she did not know yet what WHAS would donate, but it has always been more, "very much more," she said.

Those making donations in 2007 were: Mt. Vernon Scrap, Peg's Food Mart, Saylor's Furniture, Cox Hardware, Singleton Insurance, McKinney's

Tire, Jack's Hardware, Terry Morgan, Dowell and Martin Funeral Home, Mt. Vernon Printing, WRVK, NAPA, Ford Brothers, Ky South Central Pools, Farm Bureau, Citizens Bank, Kastle Inn Restaurant, Lumber King, PBK Bank, Coffey/Ford Law Office, Aletha's Mt. Vernon Florist, Tobacco Barn, The Signal, Joe Clontz, C.P.A., Reynolds Law Office, State Farm Insurance and Richmond Street Eyecare.

Relay for Life set for July 27

Join us Friday, July 27th at 7 p.m. at Rockcastle Middle School track for the annual celebration, Relay For Life.

Relay For Life is the American Cancer Society's signature fundraising activity. It is a unique event that offers our community the opportunity to participate in the fight against cancer and celebrate those who have survived cancer.

Relay For Life represents the hope that those lost to cancer will never be forgotten, that those who face cancer will be supported and that, one day, cancer will be eliminated.

Fourth of July celebration held by Western Rockcastle Fire Department

Serving Troy Bengé at Saturday's event at the Quail firehouse were little Rachel Cash and Amanda Owens. Besides the food and entertainment, eventgoers were also treated to fireworks.

Western Rockcastle firefighter Stanley Payne grilled the hot dogs at Saturday's pre-Fourth of July celebration. A large crowd attended.

Elvis impersonator, Will Reynolds draped a scarf around 2-year-old Cheyenne Zupancic, who was taken to the stage by grandfather, Steve Zupancic during Reynolds' performance on Saturday evening. Reynolds also performed at the Northside Baptist Freedom Celebration.
