Five injured

I-75 was closed for approximately two hours Friday night after a single vehicle accident between exits 59 and 62. According to Kentucky State Police, Ryan Atkins, 21, of Cincinnati was headed south around 8:30 p.m. when he lost control of his 2003 GMC Envoy SUV. The Envoy hit the barrier cable and overturned in the median. Three of the five people in the Envoy were ejected from the vehicle. At right, Mt. Vernon Fire Chief David Bales and firemen Teddy Stallworth help to load Atkins on a helicopter for transport to the University of Kentucky Medical Center. Two of Atkins' passengers were also flown from the scene to U.K. The other two passengers in the vehicle were taken to Rockcastle Regional Hospital for treatment. Atkins was the most seriously injured in the accident, reportedly facing possible paralysis. Police said no alcohol or drugs were involved in the accident. Ironically, Atkins, grandmother, Dessie Fletcher Atkins, was raised in Rockcastle County and his father, Jerry Atkins, is a first cousin to Sam and Danny Ford. (Photos by: Richard Anderkin)

Mt. Vernon council requests opinion on Mayor's ability to spend money

By: Richard Anderkin

Even though it lasted only 45 minutes, the Mt. Vernon City Council meeting last Thursday was again a somewhat controversial one.

Council members Clark "Joe" Mullins and Don Jones strongly questioned the spending practices of Mayor Clarice Kirby and went as far as to ask other council members to request an attorney general's opinion as to how much the Mayor could spend without council approval.

Three of the other council members, Shelley Lewis, Sharon Saylor and Jackie Wayne Weaver went along with the request. Councilman Wayne Bullock voted no, because in his words he "was not voting for anything he (Councilman Don Jones) was for."

At the October meeting of the council, councilman Mullins asked the council to pass a resolution limiting spending by Mayor Kirby.

In his proposal in October, Mullins said the Mayor could approve all regular monthly bills which are considered a normal expense for operating the city, but he thought the council should approve any expenses for non-operating items in excess of $100.

At last month's meeting the council agreed to let the Cumberland Valley Area Development District look into the matter and on Thursday night, the Mayor presented a letter to the council, which stated that Mullins' request for council approval fell in a "gray area."

CVADD staff members had also asked the Kentucky League of Cities for an opinion.

Two indicted

The Rockcastle County Grand Jury handed down two indictments last week.

Indicted were: Jeremy Holt, 34, of Piney Branch Road, Livingston.

He was indicted on two counts of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

Holt is being held on a $10,000 cash or property bond and was scheduled to be arraigned on Wednesday of this week.

Angela Hopkins, also 34 was indicted on one count of Welfare Fraud.

She has posted a $2,000 cash bond and is scheduled to be arraigned in Rockcastle Circuit Court on January 8th.

Second phase is between Brodhead and Hwy. 461 Bid awarded for construction of new Hwy. 150 last Friday

Construction of a new Hwy. 150, between Crab Orchard and Hwy. 461 near Mt. Vernon, is actually going to be completed.

After years of having the project in the state's six-year road plan, the bid on the final phase of the project was approved on Friday morning.

Republican State Representative Danny Ford, who has fought for the project since Wallace Wilkerson was Kentucky's Governor announced that L-M Asphalt of Lexington was the low bidder for the construction of the 6.3 miles between Brodhead and Hwy. 461.

The low bid was $21,319,884, approximately $8 million below the estimated cost.

"I am extremely happy that the bid was much lower than expected and I am certainly

Pittman arrested for causing car wrecks, then fleeing scene

Mt. Vernon Police arrested 26-year-old Wilburn Pittman of Davis Street, Mt. Vernon last Friday night after he was involved in three different accidents on South Wilderness Road.

According to police, Pittman caused the accidents around 10:30 p.m. on South Wilderness Road, between Town and Country Chevron and CarQuest.

Police records say the first accident was a two person injury accident and, after hitting the first vehicle, Pittman left

RCHS teacher arrested for A.I. Tuesday

Rockcastle County High School English teacher Joe Cope was arrested on Tuesday for alcohol intoxication.

Rockcastle County Attorney Billy Reynolds said Mt. Vernon Police arrested Cope after he recorded a 1.4 reading on a breathalyzer test, administered by police.

Reynolds said police were called to RCHS after someone complained about Cope's driving and that someone else at the high school smelled alcohol on him.

Reynolds said a blood test was also conducted at the Rockcastle Regional Hospital in order to make sure the breathalyzer reading was correct.

Cope was held in custody for a few hours on Tuesday

Police stopped Sammy D. Stewart, 34, of Orlando in front of Headquarters for Hair Design and charged him with driving under the influence, after he failed a field sobriety test.

His three passengers, Freddie Dale Denny, 40, of Mt. Vernon, Jason R. Raider, 19, of Orlando and Heather A. Jones, 33, of Mt. Vernon were also all arrested.

According to police, Denny had 81 Oxycodone pills in his underwear and Raider had two Oxycodone pills in his right shoe.

Denny was charged with possession of a controlled substance first degree, trafficking in a controlled substance, first degree, promoting contraband, first degree and public intoxication.

Denny is still being held in the Rockcastle Detention Center under a $20,000 cash or property bond and will be arraigned on Monday.

Raider, who was released on a $5,000 property bond,

Over 500 people attended Rocket Madness at Rockcastle County High School Monday night. Both the Lady Rockets and Rockets scrimmaged each other. Above, junior Sarah Hammond is shown grabbing a rebound for her team. The Courier-Journal ranked Hammond as the number one player in the 12th region and the second best player in the state. Hammond has been ranked as high as the 32nd second best player in the nation. Other Lady Rockets in the photo are, from left: Michaela Hunter, Shanlee Burton, Kadi Cobb, Jackie Alexander, Casey Sturgill and Kristen Abney. Alexander, who was ranked the fourth best player in the 12th region, will attend West Point Military Academy in the Fall after she received a full scholarship offer. Below, senior Derek Thacker calls for the ball in the Rocket's scrimmage at Rocket Madness. The Courier-Journal ranked Thacker as the tenth best player in the 12th region. Also in the photo from left are Dakota Mahaffey, Dustin Reynolds and Matt Bullens. The Rockets and Lady Rockets open their season on Tuesday night when they host Wayne County. My Top 12 Rock 'n' Roll Artists

Several weeks ago one of my regular readers called and asked me to write a column about my all-time favorite rock and roll stars. The suggestion gave me reason to consider such a request, and my first stop on the internet was the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. There I downloaded the inductee list of all artists who had a significant impact on the evolution of rock and roll. My first thought was to only write about my favorite top five, but I found that I absolutely could not narrow it down that far. So I have reduced my list to a dozen.

There has been a constant debate among fans as to which was the first rock and roll song – Elvis with “That’s All Right Momma” or Bill Haley and “Rock Around the Clock.” Rolling Stone Magazine declared in 2004 that it was Presley who recorded the first rock and roll song.

Elvis was one of the first artists whose 45 rpm recordings were a marker of ‘50’s. I can still see his picture on “That’s All Right” and “Blue Moon of Kentucky,” his first 45-rpm release from Sun Records. I played his 45 rpm records on my little record player in my bedroom as a small child living in Mt. Vernon. He continued the stream of success with “Don’t Be Cruel,” “Hound Dog,” “Love Me Tender,” “All Shook Up” and “Jailhouse Rock” in 1956 – 1957. On my list, Elvis Presley is number one.

Artist number two is Buddy Holly, who only played rock and roll for two years. However, his incredible writing talent continues to this day to influence popular music. Many of his recordings became rock and roll standards, such as: “Rave On,” “Peggy Sue,” “That’ll Be the Day,” “Oh Boy,” and “Maybe Baby.” In 1956, Holly opened a show for Elvis at the Lubbock Youth Center.

On June 20, 1960 Roy Orbison entered the Top 40 for the first time with “Only the Lonely.” That song peaked at number 2, held back from the top spot by Brenda Lee’s “I’m Sorry.” For the next 20 years, Orbison had hit after hit including: “Oh Pretty Woman,” “Only the Lonely,” “In Dreams,” “Running Scared,” “Crying,” “Blue Avenue,” “Dream Baby,” “Ooby Dooby,” and “You Got It.” Orbison is my number three.

The Platters would have to be next. They were one of the top vocal groups of the ‘50’s, delivering material rich in harmonies. Their string of hits began in 1955 with several singles that reached the number one spot on the Top 40, including: “Only You,” “The Great Pretender,” “My Prayer,” “Twilight Time,” and “Smoke Gets in Your Eyes.” Their arrangements were mostly ballads accompanied by strings. The Platters were a staple at “sock hops” for slow dancing.

My next artist could be my first choice of all time! As stated in the website of the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame: “Many musicians possess elements of genius, but only one – the great Ray Charles – so completely embodies the term that it’s been bestowed upon him as his nickname.” Ray began his career by using the style of Nat King Cole. In 1954, Ray recorded a string of hits which included: “I Got A Woman,” “Hallelujah I Love Her So,” “Drown in My Own Tears,” and the classic “What’d I Say.” Ray continued to achieve success until his death on June 10, 2004. Just before his death he recorded the Grammy winning album called “Genius Loves Company.” I was fortunate enough to see Ray in concert when I was young, and I will never forget that experience.

Number six on my list is The Drifters. Their name was chosen by Clyde McPhatter, the honey-voiced singer who was their first lead singer. The Drifters linked ‘50’s rhythm and blues with ‘60’s soul music. The great Ben E. King was also one of this groups members. They hit the charts in 1959 with “There Goes My Baby.” The group had one song that topped both the pop and R&B charts, “Save the

By Don White Woman finds happiness in the inn

The Telephone Man’s daughter has finally found her calling.

After stints selling everything from grass seed to guitars, and working for small town newspapers, a school system, a college, and even a few years as a clown, Barbara Napier has found happiness in the inn.

Her bed-and-breakfast inn at Snug Hollow Farm is far from the beaten path, sitting in a peaceful valley off scenic Red Lick Road some 20 miles northeast of Berea.

Since being featured in Southern Living magazine some eight years ago, guests have flocked year-round to the 300-acre retreat, turning what once served as a personal place of refuge for her and her two sons into a booming business.

Famous authors have come here to find inspiration for their books, and not so long ago, the farm was visited by a film crew from the Oprah Winfrey Show.

But life wasn’t always this good.

Born 62 years ago in Breathitt County, Barbara had a middle-class existence as the daughter of a banker mother and a dad who installed phones. He was known throughout Breathitt and Lee counties as the “Telephone Man.”

She often accompanied her father on his sojourns into the hills, but her favorite trip was to her grandmother’s home along a river bank in rural Bell County.

Sometimes she would help her grandmother hand out food to the hobos who passed along the railroad tracks running behind the house.

It was an early lesson in kindness toward others than would serve her well later in life.

Typical of many mountain girls, Barbara dropped out of high school before graduating, had a baby and moved to her husband’s native Ohio.

After the birth of a second son, the young family moved back to eastern Kentucky, settling in Irvine where an older sister and her physician husband had recently set up practice.

In the 1970s, she and her husband operated a long-established farm supply business. Eventually, guitars were added to the inventory.

“At one time we were Kentucky’s biggest distributors of Martin guitars, and our customers included Ricky Skaggs and Emmylou Harris,” says Barbara, a self-taught picker herself.

As is often the case in many teenage marriages, Barbara’s ended in divorce, and she struggled to keep the business open while raising her two sons.

Points East

The old timers, when I was growing up, called the weather we’ve had here all over Kentucky for the last five days, “Indian Summer”. Hard core environmentalists call it global warming but the truth of the matter is that we have yet to break a daytime high temperature record for November according to records that go back more than a hundred years.

This is not the first little warm spell we’ve had in November, even in recent years. I don’t have time to fool around with statistics here, but this weather is only unusual due to the fact that our attention is being called to it by the naysayers. Wait till the winter commences and spring sets in and then, let’s swap notes. (This does not apply to Wind Gap, PA where my retired pal, Fred Beste, is paying close attention)

But warm, it was, last weekend, here in the Garrard County valleys where the creeks ultimately drain into the Dix and Kentucky Rivers and the streams are clogged with leaves of sycamore, birch, elm, oak, walnut and a dozen other species of hardwood forest trees.

Short shirt sleeve weather. Sort of like, one hopes, Heaven will look and feel like if we ever get there. Warm and windy and aromatic and soothing to the soul. The ultimate definition of autumn.

November is American Diabetes Month Delay Getting Diabetes

Presented by Rockcastle Regional

We all know that with time, we are prone to developing certain illnesses. One of the most common chronic diseases is diabetes. This is a hereditary disease where the pancreas gradually puts out less insulin, and eventually this results in a high blood sugar and the symptoms of diabetes.

If it is hereditary you may think you do not have any control over when you get it, but this is wrong. You can actually do a great deal to delay or even prevent ever getting diabetes.

In a Finnish study using diet, weight loss and exercise, there was a 58% reduction in the incidence of diabetes after more than three years of follow-up. This reduction of over 50% for several years has been shown in other trials as well.

In another study where diet and exercise were studied separately, there was a decrease of 46% with exercise and 31% with diet in a 6 year-long study.

This strong evidence should convince anyone, and especially those at increased risk, to start an exercise program. It does not have to be a formal program—almost anything that gets you on your feet and being more active will help. The recommended amount of exercise is about 150 minutes per week, or 30 minutes 4-5 times a week. This is certainly a level which most people can accomplish.

Other studies have shown that medicines used to treat diabetes can also be effective in delaying its onset. This appears to be because there is a long decline in insulin secretion before there is overt diabetes. But before these medicines are used routinely to prevent diabetes, more experience and studies are needed.

Think green this holiday season

Family and Consumer Sciences

Hazel Jackson

Rockcastle County Extension Office

During the five weeks between Thanksgiving and New Year's, Americans produce an extra one million tons of trash per week compared to any other time of the year. Thinking green this holiday season can include more than just boughs of holly. Whether it is shopping, choosing a gift or entertaining, small changes in your holiday habits can make big differences. Here are a few ideas and suggestions on how to have a wonderful, gift-giving holiday season and still be earth friendly.

Green Gift Ideas

- Consider nonmaterial gifts. Tickets to a sporting event, movie, play, concert, or dinner out are a real treat.

- Make a photo album, scrapbook, or frame a favorite picture.

- Everyone appreciates a home-cooked meal or baked goodies. Fill a basket with homemade jellies, muffins and cookies. Include the recipe. Dried fruits, drink mixes and roasted nuts are always appreciated. Package gifts from your kitchen in reusable tins, baskets or jars.

- Shop locally. Give honey from a local beekeeper, a painting by a local artist, or handcrafted gifts from other merchants in your community.

- Think durable. Consider how long an item will last before you make a purchase. Often a cheaper item will wear out long before its more durable equivalent.

Eco-friendly Entertaining

- Host a create-your-own-decorations party. Invite family and friends to create and use holiday decorations such as popcorn and cranberry garlands, ornaments made from old greeting cards or cookie dough, wreaths made from artificial greens and flowers, and potpourri made from kitchen spices such as cinnamon and cloves.

- Make gift-giving occasions festive by preparing punch and serving it in beautiful bowls and pitchers rather than using beverages in cans or plastic bottles.

- Use your best china, glassware and cloth napkins for entertaining. It requires a little more work but reduces waste from paper plates, napkins and disposable utensils.

Reduce, Reuse and Recycle

- Thousands of paper and plastic shopping bags end up in landfills every year. Reduce the number of bags thrown out by bringing reusable cloth bags for holiday gift shopping. Tell store clerks you don't need a bag for small or oversized purchases.

- Wrap gifts in recycled holiday paper or funny papers. Use old Christmas cards for tags and hand deliver whenever possible to save energy. Remember to save and recycle used wrapping paper and ribbons from gifts received.

- Approximately 33 million live Christmas trees are sold in North America every year. After the holidays, look for ways to recycle your tree instead of sending it to a landfill. If your family enjoys a live tree, consider purchasing one that can then be planted in your yard.

- Remember always to look for items made with recycled content. When buying gifts, check product labels to determine an item's recyclability and whether it is made from recycled materials. Buying recycled encourages manufacturers to make more recycled-content products available.

For more information about how to enjoy an environmentally friendly and festive holiday contact the Rockcastle County Cooperative Extension Service at 256-2403.

Educational programs of the Cooperative Extension Service serve all people regardless of race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin.

Board member questions ERWA spending...

Dear Editor,

This is my second report to you on ERWA Board meetings, because you have been barred from the meetings where you might hear for yourself.

ERWA Board Members are back spending ERWA money inappropriately. In the August 12, 2008 Board Meeting, the ERWA Board refused a request by then General Manager Randal Cory to donate money to a cancer drive. At this meeting, it was made clear that expenditures of Association funds for donations, personal gifts, and flowers was inappropriate. However, the October 2009 financial statement showed an expenditure for flowers. I stated to the board that this constituted an inappropriate expenditure and that board members should contribute their own money for flowers, even those for bereavement. I made a motion that inappropriate expenditures such as this should cease. The motion died for lack of a second. The ERWA Board has shown a lack of concern for its spending. Just last month your ERWA board voted to pay for health insurance to two part-time employees. No questions of how this might impact the overall financial health of ERWA were raised. Keep in mind this action comes at a time when companies are trying to reduce their share of health insurance cost, not add to them. Christmas is just around the corner. We can only hope these Board members will not treat themselves to expensive hams as they have in the past. All of these expenditures have to be paid for by ERWA water users. As you know, the ERWA water rates are next to the highest in Kentucky. If the ERWA Board does not eliminate inappropriate spending, ERWA will raise your rates. Insist that your ERWA Board work to decrease your water rates and not add to them by more inappropriate expenditures. June M. Whitler, PhD

ERWA Board Member

Sparks, was chosen as an Oprah's Book Club selection, she brought the show's TV crew to Snug Hollow to show them the location that had inspired her to write.

Being around Rubio, a frequent guest, and other writers has inspired Napier to start writing herself.

Hot off the presses and fresh from being among the top sellers at the annual Kentucky Book Fair in Frankfort is Hot Food & Warm Memories, the Snug Hollow Farm Cookbook.

The hardcover 123-page book is filled with recipes, artistic photos taken by Barbara, and an overview of her struggles to regain her farm, plus heart-warming tributes to those who helped along the way.

"Points East" (Cont. from A2)

there at the Garrard County Extension Service Office last Sunday and we hurried down highway 39 to Crab Orchard, hung a right on 39 just after it joins 150 and heads southwest toward Somerset. Ummmmmm Autumn on both sides of the road and on the horizon. Garden patches of greens, turnips, cabbage and broccoli and name your favorite cole crop. Kale and mustard flourishing in gardens right beside the road, Brummet's Orchard was the destination. There, about 6 miles or so from downtown Crab Orchard out on 39 below the frost line, is where Francis and Rovena Brummet have long cultivated an orchard of some 1,700 trees. Peaches in season come July, Pears in mid September and Apples almost year round. Potatoes grown there on the farm, and are sold unwashed, untreated and just the way you like them if they have any left.

I've never asked the Brummetts how old they are. But I do know that they celebrated their 64th Wedding Anniversary back in April and that's close enough. So when I go see them, it's sort of like visiting Mom and Dad because they treat me like a son and I feel warm all over. And I feel guilty that I'm not there far more often.

And so we filled baskets full of fruit at a pittance of the price you'd pay at any produce store and headed back home and Loretta said to me, "We have to get the Brummetts something nice for Christmas" and I asked, "What do you have in mind?"

And she fell silent. Then she said, "something that spells love and lets them know we mean it as much as the love that they show to us."

So we are working on that now. Probably impossible but we are working on it.

In the meantime if you are looking for apples at bargain prices, stop by the Brummetts on highway 39 there outside Crab Orchard. But call before you make the trip because supplies are running low and you never know what might be in stock.

Last Dance For Me." Other hits included: "Up On the Roof," "Some Kind of Wonderful," "This Magic Moment," and "Under the Boardwalk."

"Little Miss Dynamite," Brenda Lee, is my number seven artist of all time. She was blessed with a voice that disguised her actual size of four feet, nine inches. She hit the charts in the early sixties with her biggest hit, "I'm Sorry, and went on to release; "I Want to be Wanted," "Break It to Me Gently," "Sweet Nothin's," and her special, "Rockin' Around the Christmas Tree."

Phil and Don Everly brought the sound of their Kentucky childhood into a rich form of rock and roll. They entered the Top 40 in 1957 with "Bye Bye Love," which remained at number two for four weeks. Their essential songs include: "Cathy's Clown," "Wake Up Little Susie," "Let It Be Me," "Till I Kissed You," and "When Will I Be Loved." On July 8, 1967, The Everly Brothers cracked the Top 40 for the final time with "Bowling Green." They found the spot as my number eight.

Of course, the impact of the Beatles could never be overstated. They hit the charts in the U.S. in 1964 with "She Loves You" and "I Want to Hold Your Hand." They had 45 additional hits. During the week of April 4, 1964, the Beatles set a record that is unlikely to be broken when they occupied all five of the top spots on Billboard's Top 40. Some of the group's greatest hits include: "Hey Jude," "A Hard Day's Night," "Help," "Let It Be," and "Yesterday." They are number nine.

My last three artists are groups that made their impact on rock and roll during the '70's. My number 10 artist is Bob Seger and the Silver Bullet Band from Detroit. Although the fiery double album Live Bullet is considered one of rock's greatest live albums, my favorite albums are Seger's Night Moves and Stranger In Town, which yielded several of his biggest hits, including: "Sunspot Baby," "The Fire Down Below," "Rock and Roll Never Forgets," "Still the Same," "Hollywood Nights," "We've Got Tonight," and my absolute favorite, "Old Time Rock and Roll." I have been fortunate enough to see Seger in concert twice. He is truly a showman!

Number 11 in my list is the Eagles, who I saw in concert in Rupp Arena. Their Greatest Hits 1971-1975 album is the best-selling album of all time, selling 26 million copies. Hotel California and The Long Run collectively topped the Billboard album chart for 27 weeks. Band member Don Henley said, "We probably peaked on Hotel California." Some of their essential songs include: "Hotel California," "Desperado," "Life In The Fast Lane," "One of These Nights," "Take It To the Limit," "Lyin' Eyes," and "The Long Run."

Finally, I saved my "best for last!" With Eric Clapton's induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame as a solo artist on March 6, 2000, he became the first musician to have been inducted three times. He was first honored as a member of the Yardbirds in 1992, then with Cream in 1993, and finally as a solo artist in 2000. On January 16, 1992 Eric performed an all-acoustic set that was taped for the MTV Unplugged series. The CD went on to sell three million copies and earned him a Grammy for Album of the Year. He remains a compelling artist. His essential songs are: "Tears in Heaven," "My Father's Eyes," "Bad Love," "Lay Down Sally," "Let It Rain," "Layla," "After Midnight," and my most favorite, "Wonderful Tonight."

I appreciate the suggestion for this column, and I apologize for its length. However, when I get going on Rock and Roll, I have a difficult time trying to stop. I continue to enjoy this music every day of my life. Hail, Hail Rock and Roll!

Mink selected for ARTS

Andrea Mink has been selected to attend the Applause Rising Talent Showcase (ARTS), hosted by Applause International in Orlando, Florida.

The event will be held at the Omni Resort at Championshipgate on December 3-6.

The Showcase emphasizes and promotes education and excellence in the fashion arts, communications and the performing arts.

ARTS has been internationally recognized since 1995 as the most outstanding real life educational experience designed to cultivate the careers of young men and women interested in the entertainment industry through informative programs, seminars, scholarships, competitions, interviews and tangible jobs.

Since May of 2009, Andrea has attended workshops and training with Talent Fusion and ARTS staff in Louisville. A full photo shoot was done with a nationally-recognized and award winning photographer, who works full time in the model and talent industry.

Andrea, a senior at RCHS, is the daughter of Gordon and Sue Mink of Mt. Vernon.

Congratulations, Andrea.

An encouraging word:

Give Thanks In All Circumstances By Howard Coop

One thing is certain: Life isn't always what we want it to be. Everything may seem to go well for a while, but in due time, problems pop up, and the going gets rough.

One morning I was thinking about some personal problems that had popped up, and I realized that Thanksgiving was not too far ahead. My first thought was: Under the circumstances, what is there for which I can be thankful?

My thought turned to Plymouth and the sturdy Pilgrims who settled there 389 years ago. To escape persecution for their faith, they crossed the Atlantic in a small ship known as the Mayflower during the stormiest season of the year. They landed many miles north of their originally destination and well out of the territory controlled by the Virginia Company. Scheduled supply ships failed to arrive, and food was exceedingly scarce. One source says that the Pilgrims were rationed to five grains of parched corn a day. They endured a harsh winter in an inhospitable climate that produced devastating illness. History records that "at times not more than six or seven were in proper condition to attend the sick and bury the dead." During that terrible winter, nearly half of their number died of pneumonia and were buried in unmarked graves on Cole's Hill overlooking Plymouth Bay. Indeed, unexpected problems popped up to make life exceedingly difficult for the Pilgrims.

Yet, they did not forget the heritage they had received through their Christian faith. That heritage included the admonition to "give thanks in all circumstances." So, at the end of the first harvest season, they invited their friendly Indian neighbors to join them in a celebratory festival of thanksgiving that lasted four days. That heritage, passed on to us, gave us our Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving is more than a holiday celebrated by feasting. It is a pervasive attitude that enables one to recognize everyday blessings and in all circumstances to be thankful for them.

Accepting applications for Byrd Scholarships

The Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA) will be accepting applications for Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarships from Dec. 1, 2009, through Feb. 1, 2010. Students who will graduate from a Kentucky high school or earn a diploma through a home school program during the 2009-2010 academic year are eligible to apply. The scholarships are worth up to $1,500 a year for four years of college.

Qualified seniors can apply using Zip Access at www.kheaa.com. After the application period ends, high school officials will have until Feb. 15 to select the applicants the school wishes to submit for consideration. An applicant must be recommended by the high school they attend to be considered for a Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship. The number of applicants a school may submit depends on the school's total enrollment. Home schools may nominate one student. Kentucky high schools with an enrollment of:

- 1,500 or more may nominate five applicants;
- 1,000 to 1,499 may nominate four applicants;
- 500 to 999 may nominate three applicants; and •fewer than 500 may nominate two applicants.

The Byrd Scholarship is named for longtime U.S. Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, who authored the legislation establishing the program in 1985. Historically Kentucky has received enough funding to award 84 scholarships each year; 14 from each of the state's six congressional districts. Recipients are chosen by an independent panel based on academics, community service, school involvement and school recommendation. For more information about Byrd Scholarships, call Danny McGaughey at (800) 928-8926, ext. 6-7391.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.GoHigherKY.org. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602-0798; or call (800) 928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

Deutsche Bank National Trust Company, as Independent Trustee, on behalf of the holders of the Accredited Mortgage Loan Trust 2006-2 Asset Backed Notes Plaintiff

v.

Freda Parrett, et al Defendants

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a judgment and order of sale entered in this action on September 18, 2009 for the purpose of satisfying the judgment against the defendants in the amount of SEVENTY TWO THOUSAND SIX HUNDRED NINETY DOLLARS AND 53/100 ($72,690.53) plus interest, costs and attorney fees. I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

At the Courthouse on East Main Street
Mt. Vernon, Kentucky
on Friday, December 4, 2009
Beginning at the Hour of 10:00 a.m.

Said real property being more particularly bounded & described as follows:

703 Russell Parsons Road, Brodhead, KY 40409
Beginning at an iron pin in the center of the Old Copper Creek Road, corner to Jean Wilmott home, site; thence with the center of said road N 1 deg. W 219.9'; N 5 deg. E 436' to corner of E. Woodall; thence with Woodall, N 68 14 deg. E 157' to post, N 5 deg. 145' post in line of Russell Parsons; thence with Parsons N 69 deg. E 412' to line of Monroe Renner, thence with Monroe Renner's line S 50 1/2 deg. E 420' to post, S 49 1/2 deg. E 718' to a maple in line of Renner, corner to Donald Halcomb; thence with Halcomb, S 56 1/2 deg. W 668' to post, due west 610.7'; to an iron pin in Halcomb's line corner to Jean Wilmott's home site; thence with Wilmott's home site, N 3 deg. W 135.1'; N 21 1/2 deg. W 55'; S 79 1/2 deg. W 80'; N 62 3/4 deg. W 30'; N 85 deg. W 50' to the point of beginning, and containing 23.29 acres more or less.

Being the same property conveyed to Freda Parrett, single, by deed dated March 31, 2006, executed by Carla Roberts, et al. and recorded in Deed Book 212, page 29 in the Office of the Rockcastle County Clerk.

The property shall be sold on the following terms & conditions:

1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of ten percent (10%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond approved by the Master Commissioner.
2. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum until paid in full. The bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment and shall be and remain a lien upon the property sold as additional surety for the payment of the purchase price.
3. Unpaid taxes of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.
4. The purchaser shall pay the 2009 local, county and state property taxes.
5. Full satisfaction of the plaintiff's judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.
6. The purchaser shall have possession of the real property upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
7. In the event that the plaintiff is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required.
8. The sale shall be made subject to all easements, set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise and shall be sold "as is".

"What Is Written"

We have been studying from Matt.7:21-23, about religious people being rejected by Jesus at the day of judgment. The problem is, that these folks are guilty of working iniquity, lawlessness, doing things not authorized by Jesus. Let's let at a couple of examples. The religious celebration of Christmas as the birthday of Jesus And the religious celebration of Easter as the commemoration of the death of Jesus. Both of these religious "holy days" are a mixture of paganism, Catholicism, and some Biblical truth sprinkled in. I am neither catholic nor pagan when it comes to my beliefs and practices in religion. We do not have a religious celebration of Christmas and Easter, for both are without divine authority, and are a works of iniquity! "Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years. I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labor in vain." Gal.4:10-11. We do believe that Jesus was born, and died on the cross. Yes, we commemorate his coming into this world to die on the cross, each first day of the week. The scriptures calls this memorial the Lord's supper. People reject what the Lord established, and then follows what he has not authorized. Let's follow the Lord.

Cromer speaks at DAR meeting

The Rockcastle Chapter DAR met Tuesday, November 10th at First Christian Church. Regent Onna Owens opened with the Ritual and introduced featured speaker,

Gary Cromer

Gary Ray Cromer, Vietnam Veteran, who was assisted by his grandson, Addison Atkin.

Mr. Cromer presented a slide show and shared information about the year he spent in Vietnam, including the fact that Vietnam has had over 130 wars and that the United States lost 58,000 soldiers in the Korean Conflict. The annual income in Vietnam, when he was there, was $47. Cromer's memorabilia included his plane ticket home.

Member hostess for the meeting were Janie Cromer and Michelle Cromer Atkin, Mr. Cromer's wife and daughter.

The next meeting will be December 8th at the Rock Fire Steak House.

At the November 12th meeting of the Rockcastle County Kiwanis Club, guest Jim Holton, Industrial Development Consultant, spoke on the status of the work being done at the new industrial park on US 150 and 461. Pictured above are Holton, Kiwanis President Vicki Cox, past president Larry Hammond and program chairmen Glenda Smith and Libby Hammons.

Ivan McKinney celebrates 88th

Ivan McKinney, formerly of Rockcastle County, recently enjoyed a quiet, but meaningful, 88th birthday celebration with his family on Tylersville Road, West Chester, Ohio. The fact that he is now free of the tongue cancer that has plagued him all year gave an added blessing to the celebration.

Ivan was born November 9, 1921 in the Blue Springs (Hansford) area, the 12th of 17 children born to Robert Harley "Bob" and Eva Capps McKinney.

Ivan, still known as "Mac" by many, is a retired businessman, having owned and operated, for 30 years, a multi-type business venture in Reading, Ohio -- wrecker, gasoline station and auto repair service, the latter of which included the rebuilding and maintenance of automatic transmissions, a somewhat rare and specialized service in those days. He retired in 1980.

Absolute Auction of Mr. & Mrs. Russ Adams'

226 Acre Farm in Tracts & Bedford Stone Home Farm Equipment & Personal Property

Saturday, December 5th at 10:30 a.m.

Directions: At the intersection of Hwy 80 and Hwy 461, turn north onto Hwy 461 and proceed approximately 6 miles and turn right onto Plato Vanhook Road. Follow Plato Vanhook Road two miles to the auction. Auction signs are posted.

Mr. & Mrs. Adams have purchased other property and have chosen to sell their farm and home at absolute auction.

Tract #1 - This all cleared tract consists of 2.64 acres. It is improved with the above- pictured modern Bedford stone home. It has living room, kitchen and dining area, three bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths and utility room. It also has central heat and air, carpet and laminate flooring throughout, built in range, dishwasher and microwave, side by side refrigerator, and ceiling fans throughout. There is also a nice rear deck for your outside enjoyment.

In addition to the home there is a machinery shed and outbuilding.

Tract #2 consists of 18.51 acres and is all cleared crop and pastureland. This tract has 201 ft of frontage along Plato Vanhook Road and city water is available. This tract is improved with a barn measuring approximately 40'x70' with an attached shed measuring approximately 28'x70' and a 12'x54' block attached former milk parlor.

Tract #3 measures 14.75 acres more or less with the majority being cleared. It has 431' of frontage along Smith Broyles road with city water available.

Tract #4 consists of 30.20 acres and is primarily woodland. It has 436' of frontage along Smith-Broyles Road with city water available. This would make a great hunting retreat or private getaway.

Tract #5 measures 25.55 acres and is all cleared crop and pastureland. It has 250 Ft. of frontage along Plato Vanhook Road and city water is available. This tract is improved with a barn measuring approximately 36'x40' and has three sheds plus a silo.

Tract #6 is the largest of the tracts and measures 107.39 acres more or less. It has both crop and pastureland as well as woodland. This tract has 201 ft of frontage along Plato Vanhook and city water is available.

Tract #7 measures 26.97 acres and is primarily crop and pastureland. This tract has 203 ft of frontage along Plato Vanhook Road and city water is available. Stock water is provided by a pond and branch. This tract also has the Baker Cave opening.

Auctioneer's Note: When combined there is a total of 226 acres more or less. Here is your chance to purchase a home in a country setting with a few additional acres, a farming or hunting property, or a complete farming operation! Mark your calendar now to attend this absolute auction on Saturday, December 5th at 10:30 a.m.

Farm Equipment and Personal Property: Gehl 1470 Hay baler * M&W basket rake * scissor hay fork * 16 ft wagon * New Holland 451 mowing machine * drag disc * 5' grader blade * Walton hay tetter (needs work), 6 ft rotary mower * Hay spear * hay fork * horse drawn hay rake * plows * camper top for small pickup * toy tractor * baby highchair, teacart * plus many other items.

Lead Base Paint: The purchaser of a single family residence built before 1978 has a period of ten days to inspect the property for the presence of lead based paint. The inspection period is November 26th through December 5th. The successful purchaser must sign a waiver of the ten-day post inspection period.

Note: This will be a multi-parcel absolute auction, giving each and every prospective purchaser the ability to purchase any or all tracts or combination of tracts.

Terms: Real Estate: 20% down the day of the auction with the balance due in full within 30 days. The machinery and personal property items must be paid for in full the day of the auction. We will accept VISA/Mastercard, cash or good check.

Signup for DCP and ACRE
 Enrollment for the 2010 Direct and Counter-Cyclical Program (DCP) and the Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) program has begun and will continue through June 1, 2010. USDA urges producers signup either by use of the eDCP automated website or visiting the USDA Service Center.

DCP payments are computed using the base acres and payment yields established for each farm. For 2010, eligible producers may request to receive direct payments based on 22 percent of the direct payment. Direct advance payments begin December 1, 2009. Counter-cyclical payment rates vary depending on market prices. Counter-cyclical payments are issued only when the effective price for a commodity is below the target price and are usually payable in October.

With the ACRE program payments are issued when both the state and the farm have incurred a revenue loss. The payment is based on 83.3 percent of the farm's planted acres times the difference between the State ACRE guarantee and the state revenue times the ratio of the farm's yield divided by the state expected yield. In exchange for participating in ACRE, in addition to not receiving counter-cyclical payments, a farm's direct payment is reduced by 20 percent, and marketing assistance loan rates are reduced by 30 percent.

The decision to enroll in the ACRE Program is irrevocable. Once enrolled, the farm shall be enrolled for that crop year and will remain in ACRE through the 2012 crop year.

The June 1, 2010 deadline is mandatory for all participants and NO late filed applications will be accepted.

FSA announces Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP)

On October 2, Secretary Vilsack announced the eligible counties for the LFP Program where producers can receive disaster payments for forage losses due to severe drought. Producers are reminded that LFP sign up for 2008 losses began on September 14, 2009, and ends Dec. 10, 2009, and Jan. 30, 2010, for 2009 losses.

LFP provides payments to eligible livestock producers that have suffered livestock grazing losses due to qualifying drought or fire. For drought, the losses must have occurred on land that is native or improved pastureland with permanent vegetative cover or a crop planted specifically for grazing for covered livestock due to a qualifying drought during the normal grazing period for the specific type of grazing land in the county. For fire, LFP provides payments to eligible livestock producers that have suffered grazing losses on rangeland managed by a federal agency if the eligible livestock producer is prohibited by the federal agency from grazing the normal permitted livestock on the managed rangeland due to a qualifying fire.

Eligible Kentucky counties for the 2008 calendar year are: Adair, Bell, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Harlan, Knox, Laurel, Lincoln, McCreary, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Russell, Wayne and Whitley. Currently no counties are eligible for 2009.

Eligible livestock under LFP include beef cattle, alpacas, buffalo, beefalo, dairy cattle, deer, elk, emus, equine, goats, llamas, poultry, reindeer, sheep and swine. For losses due to drought, qualifying drought ratings are determined using the U.S. Drought Monitor located at <http://www.drought.unl.edu/dm/monitor.html>.

For additional information regarding the DCP, ACRE and LFP programs, contact your local FSA Service or HYPERLINK "<http://www.fsa.usda.gov>" www.fsa.usda.gov on the web.

Thompson graduates

Air Force Airman 1st Class Douglas G. Thompson graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

The airman completed an intensive, eight-week program that included training in military discipline and studies, Air Force core values, physical fitness, and basic warfare principles and skills.

Airmen who complete basic training earn four credits toward an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Annette Beardsley of Berea and grandson of Alice Faulkner of Mount Vernon.

Thompson is a 2009 graduate of Madison Southern High School in Berea.

Kentucky Afield Outdoors:

Respect landowners during deer season

One of the deer hunter's common laments is not being able to find a place to hunt. Kentucky is roughly 95 percent privately owned, so finding an accommodating landowner can be the toughest part of the deer hunting equation.

The challenge is even more daunting if you follow a rude, disrespectful hunter.

"Respect the landowner and conduct yourself with class and you'll be allowed to hunt again," said Tina Brunjes, big game program coordinator for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "If you treat their land disrespectfully, not only will you not be allowed back, but you've effectively barred others from hunting there in the future."

One of the easiest things to do is pack out what you brought with you. No landowner likes to walk across their property and see soda cans, wrappers from trail mix bars or spent brass laying near where you set up a tree stand.

Always close any gate behind you. Cross fences at the post, not in the middle between posts. A landowner that spent several thousand dollars in new fencing will be hot if they happen upon a section broken down by a hunter crossing it. The best plan is to go through a gate if one is available, even if you have to walk a ways to use it.

"Don't drive across crop fields or through mudholes," Brunjes said. "This is one of the things that can make a landowner really mad, especially driving across crop fields. Think about how you would want a visitor to treat your land and act accordingly."

Retrieving a deer from neighboring property can cause tremendous friction between the landowner and his or her neighbor. "Don't set up your tree stand or hunt near the property line," said David Yancy, deer biologist for Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "You must have permission from the property owner to go onto their land to retrieve a deer or you are trespassing."

Disposing of the internal organs left over from field dressing a deer can be problematic. "Be discreet about where you dispose of it," Yancy said. "Place it behind a tree or a log and away from any trails or roads. They disappear quickly. Raccoons and other wildlife eat them up."

Few landowners would enjoy having high-powered rifles fired near their home or other outbuildings, especially if they have children. Don't hunt near these structures.

Use a climbing or ladder stand for your hunting. Refrain from using devices that require drilling into a tree. Don't nail steps to a tree to get up in a stand. Drilling or gouging trees causes stress and gives an entry port for parasites and diseases to attack the tree.

Also, pay close attention to the location of cattle, horses or other livestock on the land. Always identify the target and look for what is behind it before you pull the trigger.

Keep these things in mind this modern gun deer season and you will help keep private land open for all deer hunters. The modern gun deer season opens statewide this weekend, Nov. 14 statewide. Gun season closes Nov. 23 in Zones 3 and 4, while Zones 1 and 2 remain open to modern gun hunting through Nov. 29.

For more information on deer hunting, consult the 2009-2010 Kentucky Hunting and Trapping Guide, available free wherever hunting licenses are sold. The guide is also on the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife web site at fw.ky.gov.

English classes teach skills for college success

Students seem to either love it or hate it—English class. Parents might remember their own joys or struggles with those required high school courses that didn't always seem like they would be useful once they graduated and moved into the "real world." Yet, college admission counselors agree that English classes teach foundational skills not only for college admittance, but also for college success.

At the University of Kentucky, Associate Registrar Michelle Nordin says the school takes a holistic approach to considering its applicants. They don't want to base their decision only on test scores or class rankings; rather, they want to know about the entire person.

Students have an opportunity to express themselves beyond what the grades and test scores say by answering two short essay questions on their application. Besides telling admissions counselors more about their personality, these questions also demonstrate their ease with the English language. Nordin says it points out a student's skills in grammar, paragraph structure, spelling, etc. There are also optional written parts of the application where students can further demonstrate why they are a good potential student.

Although the University of Kentucky doesn't hold personal interviews, some schools do. Nordin also points out that personal interviews and further writing might be required for scholarship and work opportunities.

Berea College also gives prospective students multiple chances to express who they are beyond what the numbers say. The school requires a completed essay as well as an interview. "The interview is designed to achieve two things—for us to learn more about each applicant and for each applicant to discover who we are," says Admissions Counselor Dara Evans. Therefore, the verbal skills students can learn in English class become an important component of the application process.

Once a student is admitted to the university, many of the skills they learned in English class come into play. "I think English is the foundation for every course," Nordin says. She points out that while high school students are typically accustomed to some classes where teachers encourage learning through listening to lectures, most college classes require extensive reading as well. In addition, she says, "Research is extremely vital once students are admitted."

Evans sees students with good research skills having an advantage from the beginning of their college career because they know where to go to find information. "In some cases, students spend their first semester learning how to do research and then struggle to find the time to put that research into practice such as term papers and projects," she says.

During the application process, it is important for admissions officers to understand that a student is proficient in all of the skills they've learned in English classes. Evans says: "Reading and writing are a big part of being a college student. No admissions office wants to admit a student that cannot be successful in their academic programs. That is a disservice to the student. So having strong English skills on the front end is helpful for admissions offices because we know those skills will translate well to the academic challenges they would face in the college classroom."

Encourage your students to read, write and take seriously the time they spend in English class. It will give them the basic knowledge they need to build on for all of their college success.

For more information on how to help your child succeed in high school and be prepared for post-secondary training and education contact Nancy Hale, GEAR UP Counselor at Rockcastle County High School (nancyhale@rockcastle.kyschools.us) or the Rockcastle County Middle and High School Guidance Counselors.

Minds in the Middle

The regular monthly meeting of the SBDM council will be held in the RCMS media center on Tuesday, December 1st at 3:30.

The county 4-H speech contest will be held at RCMS on Tuesday, December 1st at 6:00 p.m.

Congratulations to Mrs. Franklin's 6th grade Enterprises on winning the homeroom attendance race last week with 99.38%. Mrs. Phillips' 7th grade Adventurers took the second place spot followed by Mrs. Sadler's 7th grade Shooting Stars.

The RCMS Student YMCA attended the KYA East Kentucky Conference in Louisville this past weekend. As is tradition, the group made an excellent showing. McKinzie Todd was elected to the Leadership Team and presided over committees both in Louisville and at the capitol in Frankfort. On Friday, David Gabbard received an Outstanding Speaker award. Two teams of bill authors moved out of committee to present their bills at the capitol on Friday. Anna Poynter, Amelia Eversole, Brook

Isaacs and Ashley Newland presented a bill to place a wall between smoking and non-smoking areas in restaurants. Shelby Ponder, Hannah Whitaker, Cheyenne Gilliam and Callie Asher's bill regarding banning bullying in the workplace. Our Premiere Bill authors David Gabbard, Emily Childress, Michaela Hurt and Ricki Jean Lay had their bill pass both the House and the Senate on Friday at the Capitol. Their bill called for a tax free holiday for back to school items in Kentucky. The RCMS Student YMCA KYA Delegation received the top award, Most Outstanding Delegation. Mr. Johnson would like to thank all the advisors and parents who helped before and during KYA. Most important Mr. Johnson wants to thank the KYA Delegates. We have the best students in the state of Kentucky!

The 8th grade RCMS Unite Club members and the club officers attended a drug forum at RCHS on Tuesday. The group was able to receive much information regarding the consequences of drug use. They would like to thank all of the community members who served on the panel and shared information with them.

Raider will be arraigned on December 9th.

Jones was charged with public intoxication and posted a $30 bond. She is due back in court on December 7th.

ion and, according to the letter from CVADD, the Kentucky League of Cities did not think that the council had the right to approve each expenditure over $100, if the money was already in the city's budget.

Mayor Kirby agreed to write a letter on behalf of the city to Kentucky Attorney General Jack Conway's office and ask for an opinion on the pending matter.

Mullins and Jones again highly criticized the spending of $2,600 on pictures to decorate the city's meeting room. Mullins said the meeting room looked like an “art gallery.” Mayor Kirby told the council they (the city) could pile the pictures up “and sell them” if the council wanted to, but she was “tired of hearing about the pictures.”

The council did not vote on whether to purchase the pictures, when Mayor Kirby decided to buy them earlier this year.

Mayor Kirby also told the council she had had requests from organizations in the county to use the meeting room, which is the former fire station, and thought it appropriate for the meeting room to look nice.

The council also briefly discussed the miscellaneous expenditures account in the budget, which is currently $30,000 over budget.

Mayor Kirby said the city had spent money on the bathrooms at the city park on Williams Street and not been reimbursed by a state coal severance grant. The Mayor said once all the paper work was finished the city should receive $50,000 from the state.

In other business, councilman Don Jones requested that the city discuss the 3.5 percent water rate increase passed last December at next month's meeting.

Jones questioned whether the increase was needed, as did visitor Rick Courtney.

City Water Superintendent Dennis McClure told council members that the city's water system needed new equipment and repairs and that he would be glad to explain all the costs involved in keeping the water system up to date at the next meeting. City engineer Luther Galloway was also invited to provide information to council members.

The council also voted to allow fire chief David Bales to sell the city's 1984 fire truck, which Bales said could not be fixed. Bales told the council he thought the fire department could “get some money” for the truck and use that money for other needed equipment.

Bales said the city purchased the truck from a company that had a “flawed design” and that the city's truck was one of only five sold by the company.

The next regular monthly meeting of the council is December 21st at 7 p.m.

Local judges attend Circuit Judges College

Vice-Chief Regional Circuit Judge Jeffrey T. Burdette, Circuit Judge David A. Tapp and Family Court Judge Walt Maguire, who serve Rockcastle, Pulaski and Lincoln counties, participated in the 2009 Circuit Judges Fall College held Sept. 20-24 in Lexington. The Administrative Office of the Courts offered the college for Circuit Court judges and Family Court judges throughout the state.

“Circuit judges are confronted with a variety of cases every year,” said Chief Regional Circuit Judge Thomas L. Clark, who serves Fayette County and is president of the Kentucky Circuit Judges Association. “This college provided us with an exceptional collection of useful sessions and topics on contemporary issues that will help us to better serve Kentucky.”

The judges attended courses about effectively mediating felony and family cases, better managing and organizing dockets by identifying the need for court interpreters, using court-appointed services to promote justice and efficiency and using statistical data and technology to identify case-management issues. They also learned about strategies for improving case flow and attended a session on tools for docket management. During a session about the culture of judging, the judges reviewed the history and traditions of the Kentucky court system and examined the important role of judges in maintaining a dignified court process. State Sen. Robert Stivers, State Rep. John Tilley, circuit judges and AOC personnel were among the speakers for the sessions.

Chief Justice of Kentucky John D. Minton Jr. addressed the judges during the college and Justice Lisabeth Hughes Abramson of the Supreme Court of Kentucky provided

Rogers announces $969,000 for PRIDE

U.S. Congressman Harold “Hal” Rogers (KY-05) recently announced that Congress approved $969,000 for PRIDE to continue its valuable environmental initiatives in southern and eastern Kentucky. Rogers secured this important funding for water treatment efforts in the region. These funds were approved by both the House and Senate as part of the FY 2010 Energy and Water Appropriations bill, which was signed into law today by the President.

“I am pleased to see this important funding signed into law today. PRIDE continues to make a difference throughout our region by improving our water and restoring our environment to its natural beauty,” said Rogers. “This funding will specifically target PRIDE's water treatment program, which is an ongoing effort to eliminate straight pipes and failing septic systems in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. This funding will allow PRIDE to continue to give our communities access to safe, sanitary water while promoting the values of personal responsibility and conservation.”

Lucas said it was unlikely that work would begin on the project until after the first of the year.

Allen Company of Winchester is currently working on the new Hwy. 150 from Crab Orchard to Brodhead. That project cost over $30 million dollars.

In March, Rep. Ford and State Senator Ed Worley were successful in obtaining funds for the new road through President Barack Obama's stimulus package. The two lawmakers also secured $1.3 million in funding for a new access road into the Rockcastle Business Park South.

Police reported that Pittman then went to his Davis Street home, where police arrested him on twelve counts. Those charges included five counts of wanton endangerment, four counts of second degree assault, three counts of leaving the scene of an accident and D.U.I.

Pittman is being held on a $33,000 cash or property bond and is scheduled for arraignment on November 30th.

counties, was launched by Rogers and the late General James Bickford, former Secretary of the Kentucky Natural Resources and Environmental Protection Cabinet. This funding will enable PRIDE to continue its collaboration with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers on important water treatment projects in the region. The Corps' Section 531 program provides grants to counties, cities and utilities for innovative wastewater treatment projects, sewer line extensions or treatment plant upgrades in rural areas at a 75/25 federal/local cost share, which vastly reduce pollution otherwise headed for local lakes, rivers and streams. Since its inception in 1996, Rogers has secured over $195 million for PRIDE and PRIDE-related sewer and water infrastructure projects.

Through his role as a senior member of the House Appropriations Committee, Rogers works to secure valuable funding for important initiatives in the Fifth Congressional District.

The City of Mt. Vernon contracted with Lester Kirby's Tree Service to decorate Triangle Park and Main Street last Friday. Employees of the city, along with Mayor Clarice Kirby and Tim Owens and Ceany Kirby, are shown at work. The annual tree Lighting Ceremony, which is sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, is scheduled for Friday, December 4th at 6 p.m. The Christmas parade in Mt. Vernon will be held the next day, December 5th at 2 p.m. The Brodhead Christmas Parade is scheduled for the same day at 4 p.m. and the Livingston Christmas Parade is scheduled for December 19th at 6 p.m.

An Orlando couple was injured on Thursday morning after a single car accident on Big Cave Road. According to Kentucky State Trooper Staci Walker, 34-year-old Staci Durham lost control of her 1997 Buick LeSabre around 9 a.m. in front of Maple Grove Baptist Church, resulting in injuries to her and her husband 42-year-old Wayne Durham, shown above. Preparing to put Durham into a waiting Rockcastle Ambulance are David Mink, and EMTs Becky Griffin and Amy Navarre. Trooper Walker said Staci Durham was "overdosing" at the time of the wreck and had to be hospitalized as a result of her drug use. She was cited for D.U.I. and kept overnight at the hospital for treatment. Wayne Durham was treated and released after the wreck, although Walker said he was also under the influence, but he was not cited because he was not driving. (Photo by: Richard Anderkin).

A large crowd attended a Founder's Day Celebration on November 14th held in honor of Bob and Eddie Fields who were commissioned Southern Baptist Missionaries to Israel in 1962. The Fields, shown at right, founded cleftRock Retreat Center at Pongo in 1974, where thousands of people from all parts of the world have visited. The Fields were re-appointed as SBC career missionaries in 1987, serving as Associates to the Area Director in the Middle East and Africa. Bob and Eddie have ministered to approximately 175 missionaries. (Photos by: Shirley Cox)

Concert singer Ester Horesh sang "Wherever He leads I will Go" at the Founder's Day Celebration held in honor of Bob and Eddie Fields. Mrs. Horesh and her husband Jacob, shown in the background playing the piano, made the trip to cleftRock from Israel to thank the Fields for coming to Israel to tell her the story of Jesus. Jacob Horesh is a concert pianist. The Founder's Day Celebration was held at Brookfield Lodge.

Funding for Corridor will help fund display outside of Kentucky Music Hall of Fame

TOUR Southern and Eastern Kentucky (TOUR SEKY) hosted its 9th annual tourism Forum November 9, 2009 at The Center for Rural Development in Somerset. The theme was "What's your Community's Forecast."

Participants attended a stormy morning of workshops before attending a "sunny" awards luncheon. TOUR SEKY awarded more than $100,000 in Community Development and Scenic Byway funding. The Southern I-75 Corridor received a total of $16,900 in funding.

The funds will be used to support a Regional Advertising Campaign, a feasibility study to complete the "Col. Sanders Story" (An outdoor drama about Col. Sanders) and a Regional Promotional Display that will be located at the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame at Renfro Valley, Jackson, Laurel, Madison, Rockcastle and Whitley counties make up the Southern I-75 Corridor.

The Community Development Funds are monies available to the 47-county region which assist in regional improvement, enhancements and promotion. TOUR has committed more than $2.5 million in community development funds and has completed more than 420 projects. "I began working with the corridors in June," said Maggie Bill, TOUR SEKY Community Awareness Coordinator. "Each corridor truly worked as a team during the application process and applied for projects that would benefit the corridor as whole."

TOUR SEKY also recognized many of its volunteers during the luncheon. Awards included Rookie of the year, the Governmental Impact Award and the APEX award which stands for Achievement, Professionalism, Excellence, and Xtraordinary in tourism.

For a complete list of award winners and funded projects, please contact Maggie Bill at 606-677-6093 or mbill@tourseky.com. For a free TOUR SEKY Region Guide, call 511 and select the tourism option.

TOUR SEKY is an award winning initiative of Congressman Hal Rogers. The organization's mission is to educate, expand, develop and market the existing and potential tourism industry throughout southern and eastern Kentucky, while contributing to the economic, cultural growth, health and awareness, and overall quality of life of the region. For additional information about TOUR SEKY visit HYPERLINK "http://www.tourseky.com" www.tourseky.com, or call 606-677-6093.

Happy Thanksgiving from our families to yours

Happy Thanksgiving
In The Land Of Plenty.

As our nation gathers around its dinner tables to celebrate Thanksgiving, we will do so with heartfelt thanks for the countless blessings we enjoy each day. We will also do so with thoughts of our troops serving overseas because, as they stand in harm's way they protect the liberties we cherish.

Each of us at Citizens Bank wishes you and your family a safe and warm Thanksgiving Day. It's our hope that new memories are created which will add to the storehouse of fond thoughts we have on this special day.

Makayla
Mrs. Kathy Price's Class
Go into the woods and shoot a turkey. Take it in the house and put it on the table and split in half. Get a washrag to wash it off and then cut the feathers off. Put it in a pan and cover it with salt and cheese. Bake it for 10 minutes on 5 degrees. Open the oven and look at your turkey, if it looks done, then it is. Cut it in half and put it on the table for everyone to eat.

Brianna
Go to the woods and shoot a turkey. Pluck it with a knife to get all the feathers out. Cut him wherever you think he can be cut. Put some hot dogs, crackers, and cookies on top of your turkey. Put the turkey in a big pot, and bake it in the oven for 5 hours. When the oven goes ding, your turkey is done. Cut it up with a knife and eat it with some crackers.

Kyleigh
Buy a turkey at Save A Lot. Cut the feathers off. Put some butter, jelly, sauce and oil on top of the turkey. Put it in a frying pan and throw it in the oven. Bake your turkey for 10 minutes on 12 degrees. Open the oven and put a thermometer in your turkey. When the thermometer says 13 your turkey is done. Let it cool and then you can eat it with a fork.

Caleb
Get a gun and kill your turkey. Cut its head off and dry off the blood. Get the water hose and rub soap on it, spray it off to get the blood off. Put the turkey on a plate and put milk, grease, and mashed potatoes over the turkey. Put it into the oven for 11 hours and bake it at 90 degrees. Put the turkey on a plate and cut it up. Put it on the table and share it with your family.

Andrew
Go to the Dollar Store and buy a turkey. Bring it home and put it into a pan. Put water in it with salt and pepper. Put a monitor in it so you will know it is done. Put it into the oven for about 10 hours. Get it out of the oven and check the monitor to see if it is done. A bell will ring to let you know. Take the feathers off and put it back into the oven for ten minutes. Take it back out. Cut it up and eat it.

Rachel
First, go to Wal Mart and buy a ten pound turkey. Bring it home and get your scissors to cut it open. Put it into a pan and cover it with salt and pepper. Put the turkey into the oven and bake it for about one hour. Take it out and put more salt and pepper on it with a stick of butter. Put it on a big plate and have your Nana cut it up into slices. You can have mashed potatoes, dumplings, and fruit cocktail with your turkey.

Kyra
Go into the woods and shoot a turkey. Cut the head, feathers, and feet off. Cut the turkey in half. Turn the oven on ten degrees. Put the turkey in a skillet, with salt and pepper. Put the turkey in the oven and bake it for 12 hours. Get it out and put it into a glass dish. Put the turkey on the table and eat it with corn, stuffing, lettuce, and mashed potatoes. You can put salt and pepper on it.

Christopher
Go hunting with your daddy and kill a turkey. Bring it home and start working on it by cutting off the feathers. Wash the turkey with water. Start putting your ingredients, like salad, around the turkey. Wash it some more. Put ranch dressing on the salad around the turkey. Take the turkey off and put it on a big round plate, add oil to the top of the turkey. Cook it for 15 minutes at ninety degrees. Take the turkey out and get a thermometer to put inside the turkey to see how hot it is. If it is not hot enough put it back in to the oven for 15 more minutes. If it is hot enough, put it on the plate with the salad. Then, have mamaw cut it up and eat it with corn on the cob, mashed potatoes, and pumpkin pie.

Delani
Go to Save A Lot and buy a medium sized turkey. Put salt and pepper and just a little bit of cinnamon on it. Get a big pot and then get a little pot that can fit inside the big pot with holes in it. Then you cook the turkey for an hour or two. Get a thermometer and stick it in the turkey and see if it's not too hot and not too cold. Take a leg off and eat it. Share the rest with your family.

Noah
My papaw gets a turkey at Wal Mart. Put any kind of sauce you have on it. Put butter on it and mix it up with mashed potatoes. Put the turkey into a pan and put it into the oven. Cook it for about an hour or three. Open the oven and check it with a thermometer and see if it is done. If it is done, you take it out of the oven. Let it cool down and eat it with ham. I share with my family and my two friends.

Jasmine
I would get a big, juicy turkey from the woods. When I got to my house I would take all the feathers off and cut its head off. I would put honey and salt and a little bit of pepper on the turkey. Then I would put it in the oven and let it bake for at least 3 or 4 hours. Every few minutes I would check on it. I would ask my mom if it is done. I would cook some ham with it and mashed potatoes. I would share it with my family.

Kerrigan
We will get a turkey from Save A Lot. Boil it a little bit. Put some butter and salt on the turkey. Put it in a pan and put it into the oven. Bake it for 30 minutes. Then we take it out and then cut it in half and share it with our family. I would eat it with mashed potatoes, green beans, and peas.

Jacob
First, you have to go into the woods and shoot a turkey. Chop his head off, pluck the feathers off, and cut off the feet. Put the turkey into a pan; cover him with salt and pepper. Put him into the oven for 12 minutes on 10 degrees. Take him out and put the thermostat in him to see if it says 12 degrees. If it does, the turkey is done. Cut it up and eat it with chicken, mashed potatoes, and corn.

McKenzi
First, go in to the woods and kill a turkey. Then you cut the feathers and head off. Next, you put salt, pepper, and butter on it and put it into the oven. Cook it for 1 hour at 25 degrees. You check on it by looking at it every few minutes. Put a thermometer in the turkey and check and see if it is the right degrees. Take it out of the oven and eat it. I like to eat turkey with green beans and mashed potatoes.

Dillan
First, go to Save A Lot and buy a turkey. Take the plastic off and take it home. Put bell pepper, cinnamon, and sugar on it. Then put it into the oven. Cook it for 15 minutes at 13 degrees. Put a thermometer into the turkey and it will make a sound when it is finished. Take it out of the oven and eat it. I like to eat corn on the cob and green beans with my turkey.

Justin
First, go to the woods and kill a turkey. Take it home then you cut its head off and cut the feathers off. Put salt and pepper on it. Put it into the oven for 18 minutes. Temperature it up to see if it is hot or cold. Then you put some butter on it and eat it. I like to eat green beans, mashed potatoes, and macaroni and cheese with my turkey. I share with my mommy, daddy, nanny, papaw, and gammie.

William
I go to the woods and get a turkey. I get the feathers off of it and I cut the head off. I put pizza and sausage on the turkey. I put it into the oven for 4 hours. If the oven is on the 1 it starts to ring and that tells me it is done. We cook some eggs and mix it up with the turkey and then we start to eat it. I like to eat chocolate chip pizza with my turkey.

Logan
First, we get the turkey from Wal Mart. Then we go home and we go inside and when it is Thanksgiving we cook it. We put it into the oven. We leave it in the oven for 10 minutes. My mom knows when it is done. Next, we take it out of the oven and mom puts it into a little pan and she cuts it. Then somebody yells for everyone and we all come up there and we eat it. I like to eat fruit with my turkey.
