Hodges is candidate for County-Judge Sixty file for May Primary

By: Richard Anderkin

The filing deadline has passed and sixty people have filed for office in the May 18th primary in Rockcastle County, not including Mayoral candidates and candidates for District Judge, who will run in the November General Election.

Probably the most notable filing this week was that of 63-year-old Claretta Carter Hodges, who filed for the office of County Judge-Execu-

Carter was the only person to file against Rockcastle Judge-Executive Buzz Carloftis, who has been in office since 1993.

Charges against Stewart, Parsons dropped

Jury trial set for Mayor Kirby

By:Richard Anderkin

A jury trial has been set in the criminal case against Mt. Vernon Mayor Clarice Kirby for May 10th, after her arraignment on Friday in Rockcastle Circuit Court.

Charges against her two co-defendants, former Mt. Vernon City employee Nick Parsons and current city employee Eddie Stewart were dismissed.

Asst. Commonwealth Attorney Jeremy Bartley recommended dismissing the charges against Stewart and Parsons for their cooperation in the case against the Mayor.

Bartley said on Friday that the evidence in the case warranted the recommendation for the charges being dismissed against Stewart and Parsons, but that his office was prepared to prosecute the Mayor's case to the fullest extent of the law.

On December 11th, a five count indictment was handed down against the Mayor after an investigation by the Kentucky State Police began the last week of June.

The Mayor was indicted on charges of abuse of public trust, two counts, bribery of a public servant, fraudulent insurance acts and official Sunday's wet weather apparently caused 33-year-old Shawna Harris, of Quail, to lose control of her Ford Contour on Sunday afternoon on Ottawa School Road. Above, Rockcastle Ambulance Service EMT Steve Griffin assists Mrs. Harris before she is removed from her vehicle in the pouring rain. Harris received a broken shoulder blade in the accident and was taken to Rockcastle Regional Hospital and then transferred to the U.K. Medical Center. She is scheduled for surgery. Mrs. Harris's two children, Bailey, four and Jaimey, one, were buckled up in the back seat and were not injured. Members of the Western Rockcastle Volunteer Fire Department also assisted at the scene.

From time to time I like to use my space here in your family newspaper to recommend that you either purchase or make a trip to the library so that you can peruse especially fine pieces of literature.

As a member of the Kentucky population who shiver and stay indoors as much as possible when the temperature dips below 50 degrees, I like to stock up on good reading material so that I can stay heartedly entertained when it becomes too cold to do anything meaningful outdoors.

I knew that the winter weather was going to be especially miserable this season because I have untold confidence in my friends at the National Association of Wooly Worm Winter Weather Watchers (NAWWWWW) who have been remarkably on target with the forecast issued

For the life of me, I can't recall who it was, sometime early in December, who called, emailed or mentioned in casual conversation that I should read a book entitled On Kingdom Mountain by Vermont fiction writer, Howard Frank Mosher.

I am a firm believer in the notion that any book that makes the New York Times best seller list is almost assured to be soap operasimple, shallow, commercially over-blown and reviewed by people who would not recognize a good piece of writing if it hit them between the eyes. The first thing I did was to determine that the title had never made that list and that no other of Mosher's work had appealed to the

When to Avoid Aspirin Presented by Dr. David Brabon

The most common side effect of aspirin is an upset stomach. Some people will develop ulcers, others just gastritis or an upset stomach. Much of this can be prevented by taking aspirin with meals, which gives a great deal of buffering, or taking enteric coated aspirin which dissolves beyond the stomach.

Rockcastle Memories

By David J. Griffin

19-0, Number 1, I love it!

My wife and I are two of the most avid UK Basketball fans that I can imagine. We would never miss a game on TV, and we get to attend a few games each season. We subscribe to numerous sports channels on Dish so that we can see teams from all over the nation – in preparation of the NCAA tournament, of course, and to be familiar with potential UK opponents.

This is our favorite time of the year for television—leading up to the ultimate of "March Madness." This is the time that we plop ourselves in front of what has suddenly become an entrancing box and watch games until our eyes can't take it anymore. I say all that in order to demonstrate that in one small step after another, living in Kentucky can easily result in a college basketball addict: My love of basketball started at an early age. I have no idea how old I was when I began, but when I was very young, I actually slept with my Wilson basketball. In the early years (only six or seven), I remember playing on a make-shift hoop at Kenneth Hansel's yard. We started after breakfast and remained on the court until his mother or my mother (Bee) demanded that we come home.

When I was about 10 years old, my grandfather (Pop) nailed a wooden backboard and a real goal in his backyard for me to use. I won lots of NCAA finals for UK in my early career in Pop's yard. The only problem with this particular court was that if you shot an "air ball," it rolled down the hill for a couple of hundred feet and landed in the road leading up to his house. We quickly learned to at least hit the backboard.

When I turned 12, all of my friends and I gathered at the home of two of my best friends, Jim Barton and Penny Nunnelley. Their father, Preston, selected a great level spot in the corner of their yard and made the best outdoor court in Mt. Vernon. The surface was hard clay covered with a thin layer of sand. I loved playing basketball with my friends on that court.

On a typical Saturday afternoon, there would be at least a dozen teenagers, both the older and the younger, gathered to play 2-on-2 games for the entire afternoon. Jim Barton was eventually to become the point guard on Mt. Vernon High School's varsity team, and I loved to be his partner at his court. I can remember many afternoons when the sun would begin to set and we played on! We played when we could hardly see the goal.

During each game at the Nunnelley's court, there would be several "teams" waiting to take on the winners. Occasionally, one of the older players or Mr. Nunnelley would act as an official and, at times like those, we thought we were playing in the NCAA tourney.

With respect for the game and probably because I was a tad lazy (according to my mother), I did not personally play high school ball. But I never missed a game played by the Red Devils. We followed them throughout the entire season and into the tournament. Rival teams at Brodhead and Livingston were the most fun because everyone in Rockcastle County would turn out to see who would claim the county championship by beating the two other foes.

When I enrolled at UK as a freshman, I was thrilled to learn that my college identification card was my ticket to all UK football and basketball games. Can you imagine how excited I was to be watching the likes of "Cotton" Nash and Pat Riley? I became an avid fan immediately. My memories of Adolph Rupp are as permanently etched in my mind as is the sound of Caywood Ledford. I had listened (along with the rest of the state) to Caywood since I was very young, and now I was getting to see him in action. In those days, Pop and the rest of the family watched the Adolph Rupp show on television, along with every televised UK game.

After graduation from college, I immediately began my lifelong career in education. For the next 30 plus years, I was associated with three different high schools as a chemistry teacher. At each school, I attended numerous games, watching some of the best high school basketball in the state. I was able to see some of the finest players who went on to play college ball and to even coach. One example was "Clem" Haskins

Campbellsville. I became close friends with some excellent coaches including: Chili Ishmael and Donny Lane at Mt. Sterling High School, and Guy Strong at George Rogers Clark High School (GRC)

Now that we have HD television and the telecasts are so professionally filmed, I absolutely love sitting comfortably in my easy chair watching the best college teams in America play. There is just nothing in

Encounters of the worst kind with rich and famous people

There certainly wasn't much in my past to suggest I'd have unusual encounters with some of the world's most famous people.

Although, perhaps a clue to my future lay in the fact the Pulaski High class of '66 turned out more than a few notables of its own.

Whoever would have dreamed cherub-faced church piano player Marlon Hargis would soon become a member of Exile, one of the most honored country/rock groups of all time.

Most notable of all may be the tall kid from Poplarville, H. Russell Farmer.

If you've checked out any Kentucky Educational Television (KET) programming at all over the last 30 years, you've no doubt seen some of his work as producer and director of programming.

The recipient of numerous rewards for broadcasting, fans of Bluegrass are grateful for his having produced Jubilee, a KET series which filmed live festival performances throughout the state.

An honor bestowed upon Russ by the Kentucky Broadcasters Association led to him having a permanent place in the Kentucky Music Hall of Fame and Museum at Renfro

My career path as a journalist put me in the midst of many other highly recognizable figures.

I only wish I'd met them with more dignity.

Take the time I sat across a table from Vice-President Dick Chaney, one of only three journalists invited to ask then candidate Chaney ques-

The other two reporters probably asked him something important. I don't recall because I was too occupied with trying to come up with my question.

Finally, my turn came, and

"Mr. Chaney, do you know where you are?

Then there was the time I arrived late at a ground-breaking ceremony and saw a friendly-looking fellow sitting alone on the back row.

I extended my hand, and told him I knew we'd probably met before because he sure looked familiar. Then I asked if he lived in the area.

"No son, I live in Nashville," he said, ever so politely.

In checking the event program later on, I regretted not having gotten there in time to hear Lee Greenwood sing "God Bless the USA."

I've always been one who doesn't like wearing glasses anymore than I absolutely have to, and that little habit landed me in an embarrassing situation once.

It was about two years after I befriended NFL football coach Buddy Ryan that he made a special trip to my newspaper office with his twin sons, Rex and Rob.

At the time, Ryan was living on a farm in the county

Our Readers Write

Customers must learn of meeting actions through paper....

Dear Editor,

This is my first report of 2010 regarding the ERWA Board meetings. If you were able to attend these meetings you could decide whether the board is doing a good job yourself. Instead I must use the public forum provided by the Signal to share information with you.

The January meeting lasted 3 minutes with just a roll call and the flash approval of minutes and December financial statement. The board president declared he had nothing to discuss or present and requested an immediate motion to adjourn. As usual, without questions or comments, the majority of members eagerly voted their approval. Perhaps you will not be shocked by this, especially if you recall that the same ERWA board recently agreed "not to prepare for meetings."

If the ERWA board members had been serious-minded and responsible, here are some issues they could have addressed: 1) a water line break on Red Hill Road that spilled 40-60 thousand gallons of water each day for over a week; 2) why there was not any action on a previous report by a consulting engineer that $90,000 in funds were available for a telemetry system; 3) what the plan is for this new year for water line extensions; 4) the legal and financial impact on the ERWA of its General Manager being on Family Medical Leave and 5) how the ERWA can meet regulatory requirements for water testing without having a certified water operator.

State auditor, Crit Luallen, is pushing for more oversight and open meetings for KLC and KACo, two public agencies in the news recently for their abuses of the public trust. This legislation needs to be expanded to include the more than 20 local water associations, including the ERWA. KLC and KACo hid behind the rules spouted by their lawyers that they could ban the press and public from their meetings because they are private non-profit organizations not covered by Kentucky's open meetings laws, even though they, as does the ERWA, depend on grants funded by taxpayer dollars.

June M. Whitler, PhD ERWA Board Member

We need Sheriff that gets the job done...

Dear Editor,

First, I would like to thank you and your staff for all the hard work that you do at the Signal and thank you so much for keeping us informed of all the issues here in Rockcastle.

I am a 79-year-old widow and live alone at times. My husband worked in the coal mines of Kentucky and, together, we raised 13 children without welfare and without food stamps. We both worked hard all our lives.

I cannot tell you of the fear that sometimes overshadows me when I read of all these drug dealers being set free. When I read of all these burglaries I can't help but be frightened. Sheriff Mike Peters brings no comfort to me at all. I usually fall asleep while talking to the Lord and asking him to continue to watch over me and my family. This is not how I intended my last days to be.

As a younger woman, I thought one day the children would be grown and my husband and I would sit in our rocking chairs and watch the sun set. Now darkness is a time that brings gloom and a sense of fear that I will wake up with someone in my home taking what they please and perhaps killing me to do so. Not at all what I had wanted my golden years to be. I am even afraid to go to church for fear of my home being broken into and I keep a hand gun in my apron at all times.

I hope we can get a Sheriff who will help us and prosecutors who will take the time to get the job done -- whatever it takes, not just release these people so easily with no regard for our safety. We don't deserve this. This is not how retiring should feel.

> Thank you, May Collins

Be Aware! Scams in progress...

Dear Editor,

I write to warn citizens about two groups of scam artists who have been in our

The first group preys on unsuspecting people with Christian hearts? figuratively if not literally little old ladys.

One member of this group may tell you that his father died and he needs money for the funeral, that he needs money for work boots for a new job, that he was in a car accident, that he was arrested by the police and needs to pay to be released, that his work boots were stolen, that his boss stole his paycheck money, that he paid an apartment deposit or that his mother died.

He will even produce forged receipts claiming to be from the apartment owner, among others. Other members of this group will repeatedly call you, claiming the first guy's story is true.

While it is understandable and Christian to try to help such people, be aware that you may be helping no one but a scam artist. Get receipts from day one, and if the money is for a large expense pay for the item yourself. Get caller ID and make sure his relatives from Colorado are not calling from Livingston.

The saying goes that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. When it comes to someone repeatedly asking for money, if their story sounds too bad to be true, it's probably false.

The second group - who I also consider to be scam artists - will tell you, the figurative little old lady, and the sheriff - in separate meetings - that the above activities ? fraud, wire fraud and forgery - are not crimes.

Of course Mr. Bartley, Mr.

Montgomery and their detective will also claim they are going to be tough on crime before the next election.

Do not fall for either of the above scams.

Sincerely, Michael Sheliga msheliga@engr.uky.edu 606-256-9458

Law enforcement is failing citizens of our county...

Dear Editor,

For whatever reason, Sheriff Mike Peters was responsible for the release of those whom he and Barry Adams recently arrested. With all the money Peters wasted on this 'drug round up' he has once again failed every senior citizen, every working class citizen and every child being reared in this county. We all know how drug abuse destroys the vitality of a community. Too many of us have suffered at their hands yet Peters lets the majority of them walk, which comes as no surprise.

Folks have you ever noticed the prejudice that seems to emit from a select few? For instance some officials have a way of making you feel as if you aren't the least bit important. They make you feel as if your circumstances just don't even matter. When you ask for help they make you feel like a beggar, like a nuisance. So stuck on themselves as if their lives are of more importance than ours. Kind of like we just waste their time? It is the message sent to our entire community every time they release these criminals back to us. No regard for our families or our property. We cry, we plead, we tell them who done us wrong, we tell them who broke in our homes, where they live, we give them names, we stand on our heads, we get passed around like pennies, we cry to Mr. Guffy, we call the state police and no one hears our cry. Is the whole world blind and deaf? I ask all these officials if you Mr. Guffy, if you Mr. Eddie Montgomery, if you Mr. Jeremy Bartley and Peters, had a sex offender put a gun to your daughter's head what would you have done? If you came back to a home that was now a pile of ashes that you had built with your own two hands that your children worked on and packed lumber to and slept in and played in, what would you do? If you drove up one day and saw your work truck black from fire with your kids four wheeler a mere rusty burned frame what would you do? When you look into your family's eyes and you see the tears swell up what would you do? I'll tell you what I think you would do, you'd bury those responsible under the iail with no parole! Now tell me why every citizen in this county does not deserve the same protection that I think you would give to your selves? Is the servant above his Lord? You are the hired servant! Are you better than those you are sworn to protect? Have you handled so many cases that you are now immune to them? Have you

begun to see the public as nothing more than a thorn in your side and serve strictly for the money? Have you lost all sense of genuine concern for each individual? Tell me again Mike why you have not

done an investigation on our loss here, not that I'd trust it. The same reason you failed to follow through on all those prior arrest? Not enough time? I have aunts and cousins who are widowed and elderly who live alone and their homes have been broken in not once but repeatedly! Why? Nursing homes are not safe, why? We get no sincere investigations why? No course of effective action is taken, why? No closure, why? I say to you and to anyone who reads this, we are all part of the human race. We are our brothers keeper. All children are every true Mother's or Father's child. Our neighbors are as important as our selves. We are wheels inside the wheels and every individual deserves legal equality! Your suits your ties your title make you no better than those getting their doors kicked in getting robbed while at work to pay your high dollar salaries. We voted you in, we can vote you crowd who video tape daily episodes of Days of Our Lives.

I found the title on half.com and paid a dollar plus shipping for it and, shortly before Christmas, it arrived in the mail. After being banned from the bedroom by Loretta because I was laughing so hard I was keeping her awake, I sat down at the computer and proceeded to order every title listed by Mosher by the folks who sell books on the internet.

At this writing, I have relished and devoured six of Mosher's books and have 4 to go of the ten that he has published to date. I am here to suggest to you that you make an effort to read Howard Frank Mosher.

Mark Twain comes to mind and, as you read and compare, you will discover that his sense of place and his ability to place the reader in it, compares to Willa Cather's ability to put you in rural Nebraska.

Mosher's work, however, is largely set in or tied to ultra-rural Kingdom County, Vermont, there on the Canadian border.

The sense of place certainly rivals that of Cather but the dozens of eccentric characters who people Mosher's novels outdo anything Mark Twain ever imagined. And I will admit that some are just plain unbelievable because the push beyond the edge.

I don't have space here to do a complete review but Let me say that Mosher has won many awards including two New England Awards for best in fiction, The American Civil Liberties Award for Excellence, (for A Stranger in the Kingdom), and Guggenheim and National Endowment for the Arts fellowships.

You can find any amount of critical review of Howard Frank Mosher's work on the internet simply by doing a Google Search. In the meantime, let me assure you that discovering him is easily the best literary surprise I've had in at least ten years. The man should already be held as a National treasure!

You will thank me when you finally get around to reading this wonderful work.

Cards of Thanks

Nellie Tyree

The family of Nellie Alice (Cotton) Tyree would like to express our heartfelt thanks to everyone who helped in any way during the illness and passing of our loved one. Every act of kindness was treasured and greatly appreciated. May God bless you all.

The Family

Oscar D. Barrett

It is difficult to express in words the heartfelt thanks to all those who showed so much compassion during Dad's last days. Perhaps you called to check on Dad's condition, stopped by to visit, spoke words of encouragement, prayed for the family or brought food or sent flowers. Whatever you did, it was so much appreciated. A special thanks goes out to Home Health Care Team and Hospice for their loving care, Bro.

Ron Roberts for his comforting words, Watts Chapel Baptist Church and Brindle Ridge Baptist Church for the wonderful meals and desserts, Silver Creek Baptist Church for the use of their fellowship hall, Foley's Florist for the beautiful flowers and Lakes Funeral Home for an excellent service.

Thanks to all, The Family of Oscar D. Barrett

Lester Robinson

The children, step-children, wife and family members of Lester Robinson would like to express their deepest thanks for all the excellent care and kindness shown during his recent illness and death.

Thanks to the staff and caregivers at Brodhead Nursing Home for your excellent care. Thank you medical staff at Rockcastle Regional Hospital for your care and wisdom in going above and beyond, including the transport to St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington. Thank you medical staff at St. Joseph Hospital for your genuine concern and excellent care. Words cannot express how invaluable and comforting your Chaplain was to the family. He was very instrumental in easing the pain of our loss. Thanks to Lakes Funeral Home for such a professional, superior job you did throughout. Thank you Bro. Martin and Grant for all the kind words. A big thanks to all of Lester's friends, especially Fred Cook and Elsie Baker, we could not have made it without you. We appreciate all the prayers, cards, food, visits, and kind words of all. May God richly bless each of you; your kindness will not be forgotten. Lester (dad) was a very special person to all of us.

Vote For and Elect

Michael P. McGuire

5th District Magistrate

I am 51 years old. I was born and raised in the Orlando section of Rockcastle County (Singleton Valley) where my family and I reside today. I am the youngest of nine children. My parents are the late Manley and Sylvia Bennett McGuire. My wife, Melinda and I have been married for 30 years. We have been blessed with seven beautiful children. Six of them are currently enrolled in the Rockcastle County Public School System. Little Cody lives with Jesus.

My occupation and hobbies are husband, Daddy, neighbor and farmer. I love them all.

I must confess to feeling some virtue leave me when I finally decided to enter the race for 5th District Magistrate. But with the Tax Zone, Spend Zone, and increased Debt Zone direction of this Fiscal Court, I feel this is the noble thing to do.

Thank you for the support and encouragement I have received from neighbors, family and friends in regard to this decision.

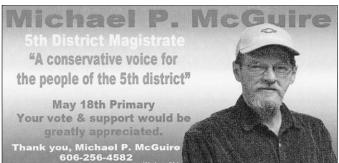

"Please God grant me the grace and resolve to be a fiscal and moral conservative voice for all the people of the 5th district." Win or lose.

With this said, I must voice some concerns of mine and many others of the 5th District:

- 1. I am strongly against any type of countywide zoning or permitting. 2. We must cherish and be vigilant to maintain all of our individual rights
- as property owners. 3. Where every citizen can do their own planning with their own property.
- 4. I would like the opportunity to work with and be part of a more - conservative minded Fiscal Court to find less taxing ways to meet the needs of our county for job growth, road maintenance and development.
- 5. We are the people who are now paying this new occupational tax. We are paying for this Fiscal Court's irresponsible spending practices in the past.
- 6. But hopefully not in the future.
- 7. Progress should not mean deeper in debt and more taxes.

I look forward to meeting all the people I can of the 5th district, to ask for your vote and listen to any concerns you might have. Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Feel free to call me at 606-256-4582

"What Is Written"

We continue our study of the beatitudes by looking at Matthew 5:4, "Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. Jesus is teaching us about the need to have godly sorrow for our sin; that broken and contrite heart. In 2 Cor.7:9-10 we read, "Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing. For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death." Godly sorrow leads one to repentance, which is essential in God's plan of salvation. The sorrow of the world leads to death. Let me illustrate, one man is caught stealing, and he is crying and sad, but he is sad that he got caught not that he sinned, this is worldly sorrow. Again, here is another man who is stealing, and his conscience bothers him because he has sinned against God, and in his godly sorrow he decides he needs to repent, to change his ways, this is godly sorrow. Consider James 4:9-10, "Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness. Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up." Yes, we must mourn and lament about our sins, for the broken and contrite heart will move us to repentance. For when we will turn to the Lord, we will be comforted, by finding the forgiveness of God, found in the gospel.

An Indomitable Spirit

By Howard Coop

The cold, dreary days of winter give the illusion that times passes slowly, but it is amazing how fast time really passes. In a few days, we will reach the midpoint of winter. That seems almost impossible.

Folklore has named the midpoint of winter Ground Hog Day. Also, folklore has given us the amusing legend that, on this special day, the little brown marmot, also known as a woodchuck, awakes from his long winter hibernation, comes out of his den, and looks around. If the day is sunny and the sleepy groundhog sees his shadow, it returns to the comfort of its den and sleeps through another six weeks of winter weather. But, if the day is cloudy and the groundhog does not see its shadow, the little brown marmot remains outside and better weather is ahead.

The weather forecast, based upon the observance of the groundhog, may not be scientifically accurate, and it probably isn't. But based upon scientific fact, one thing is sure: The sun, in its journey to the north, has reached the midpoint between the winter solstice and the vernal equinox. Without a doubt, this means that the days are surely becoming longer, and the average daily temperature has reached the low point and is slowly inching upward. In due time, spring will be here.

Although the north wind may howl around the corner of the house and snow may swirl across the landscape, we look with eager anticipation for the return of the robins and other hopeful signs that indicate that, indeed, spring is surely coming. We do this because there is an indomitable spirit of optimism that is forever present in the human heart. Although the conditions surrounding us may be as bleak as a blustery day in the middle of winter, we do not give up. Hope is in the heart, and this optimistic spirit gives encouragement that keeps us going even in the Senate Week in Review...

This week was short but productive in the Senate. Like many Americans, the General Assembly spent Monday celebrating the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. His dreams of a nation where we can all achieve our full potential are certainly shared as we do our work at the Capitol.

On Tuesday, we returned to work and, like many around the State, listened to Governor Beshear present his biennial budget proposal to a joint session of the General Assembly. The budget bill, House Bill 290, has been introduced and will now be referred to the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee.

The revenue estimates for the biennium were just under $1 billion short of current revenue. The Governor proposed that the major portion of this shortage be offset by gaming revenue estimated at $780 million. Several projects at universities, community colleges, and in local school districts were proposed, primarily to support job creation and assist in the rebuilding of our economy. The proposed gaming revenue, along with the remaining $268 million in stimulus funds, would allow the state to avoid catastrophic cuts.

There really is no need to discuss the Governor's budget bill in great depth because we are still a long way from approving a budget. The House A&R Committee will spend a minimum of two to three weeks revising the budget, and then it will be sent to the House floor for a vote. When it passes the House, the budget will then be sent to the State Senate for consideration. The Senate will refer the House budget to the Senate A&R Committee. Once that Committee completes its work, it will send the Senate budget to the Senate floor for a vote. When passed by the Senate, the Senate version of the budget will go back to the House for approval or rejection. If the House does not approve the Senate version of the budget, the Bill will be referred to a Conference Committee composed of the leadership of both the House and Senate, who will over several days of work, hopefully, agree on a budget for passage by both Chambers. Upon the approval of the House and Senate, the Budget Bill will be sent to the Governor. The Governor has the option to sign into law the budget as it passed out of the two chambers, or veto specific lines or the entire budget. Any vetoes by the Governor will be subject to override by a majority vote of

Though we have a long way to go in the budget process, we are moving other bills through the legislative process. This session, we have already passed three bills that will provide needed assistance to veterans and their families.

Senate Bill 29 is our annual attempt to help Veterans who seek State employment. Under SB 29, those who qualify for Veterans' preference points in our State merit system would be automatically offered an interview for the jobs they seek. If more than five people qualify for those interviews, the agency would have to interview at least five of them. The bill covers not only Veterans, but also the spouses and parents of certain disabled Veterans, the widowed spouses of Veterans, and some parents of those who die during their service.

Another veteran's bill, SB 30, will allow our State's military family assistance trust fund broader access to help military heroes and their families who need help. We recognize that military service requires many sacrifices on their part, both physical and emotional, and we want to make sure they have every opportunity to keep their families healthy and whole.

A third bill, SB 31, would vastly reduce the paperwork needed to open new medical foster homes, small residential facilities approved by the federal Department of Veterans Affairs that serve as alternatives to nursing homes.

Another proposed law aimed at the well-being of Kentuckians is SB 1, which passed the Senate this week unanimously. Under this legislation, facilities certified by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations or the American Osteopathic Association would be state-designated as primary stroke centers. Such facilities would provide a high standard of stroke care, including a greater ability to treat multiple types of strokes in an emergency setting and first-rate care during recovery. As part of the certification process, these institutions have a responsibility for community education. Having superior stroke care is especially important in Kentucky because it lies in the "stroke belt," with a high rate of strokes. The State currently has 12 primary stroke centers — four each in Louisville and Northern Kentucky, two in Lexington, and one each in Pikeville and Bowl-

This legislation would not impose new requirements on hospitals or require State funding, but would simply act as recognition for achievement that would bring attention from those who may require stroke care. SB 1 now heads to the House for final consideration.

Our work is only beginning in the Senate, but we are moving ahead at full speed. I invited you to stay in touch with me as we consider the issues before us. You may call the Legislative Message Line at 1-800-372-7181, and you can contact me by e-mail ed.worley@lrc.ky.gov.

Murphy files for 34th Senate Seat

Madison County native Lee Murphy, 46, has filed for the 34th state senate seat, currently held by Senate Democratic Floor Leader Ed Worley. Senator Worley, who has served in the senate since 1999, announced his retirement on Wednesday. "I feel now more than ever, that it's time for me to step up and make a difference," said Murphy, after filing his papers Friday, January 22. "While our district has been fortunate to receive large sums of state cash, and has had the luxury of many projects being approved in the state budget, we still have a long way to go to insure that all our citizens benefit equally. We must focus on jobs and job creation. We cannot educate our district's youth only to have them leave the district to seek high paying jobs. We must bring those jobs here. Our infrastructure in this district is in dire need of updating. In many areas of the district, we do not have adequate utilities, transportation system, and high speed internet capabilities that would help to attract the type of businesses that would provide better employment opportunities. We do not have the high-end jobs in technology or science that recent graduates seek. We do not have the assembly plants of other factories that attract a large-scale labor force.

"This recession has been difficult on every single person in the district," he said. "It will end, and it will be soon. We must make sure that the coming tide will lift all our citizens and not just a few. We must plan for a better way to sell our district to America's great companies. We must focus on new and better ways to attract jobs and, above all, we must have our voices heard by participating in the democratic process. Now is the time to make a difference."

Murphy, president of Chapel Communications, has been involved in local and state politics since participating in an internship in 1984 under then Governor Martha Layne Collins. He has served on the Madison County Democratic Executive Committee since 2000 and was a delegate to the 2004 and 2008 Democrat National Conventions.

Murphy has managed numerous political campaigns in Kentucky since 1995. He was County Coordinator for Ben Chandler for Congress 2004 (special election); Madison, Clark, Estill, Rockcastle field manager for Daniel Mongiardo for US Senate 2004; consultant/treasurer for Earl Ray Neal for District Judge 2005; field coordinator for Beshear-Mongiardo for Governor 2007; campaign manager for Rita Smart for City Commission 2008, and initial organizer and communications director for Daniel Mongiardo for US Senate 2009.

Murphy's career includes serving as president of Kindred Creek Partners LLC, serving as president (2002-2005), board member (1999 to present) and liaison to the Kentucky Senate (2002-2009), and as member of the FBI Infraguard Program (2002-2009). He placed second in the 2001 Ernst and Young, Kentucky-Indiana Entrepreneur of the Year Award and received the 2000 Richmond Chamber of Commerce Small Business of the Year Award.

A graduate of Madison Central High School, Murphy attended Eastern Kentucky University and the University of Kentucky. He has multiple certifications in Microsoft Systems Tech-

Elect Billy Rash - Rockcastle Sheriff

My name is Billy Rash. I wanted to let everyone know, as you may have read in last week's paper, that I am running for Sheriff. I have thought long and hard about this decision. I am not a politician and don't want to be one. I operate the Livingston General Store. During what little time off I have, I like to do outdoor activities, riding horses and drag racing cars. I am a regular guy who sees problems in the community and who wants to help. Being both a resident of the community and a business owner, I have the chance to speak to a number of people and quite a few common problems have really

One of the problems that comes to the top of the barrel -- people are not being treated with respect. We learn as children to treat others as we would like to be treated and when people of authority create situations that are not necessary with their unfriendly behavior and actions, it is hard to ignore. I would like to help put a stop to this.

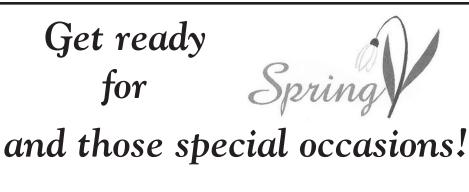

Another problem I have come across is people's individual and civil rights are not always being taken into account. All U.S. citizens are guaranteed those rights and in towns, cities and counties all over the United States, those are respected, as they should be here.

People's safety and the safety of their property is a big concern also. I have had several shoplifters in my store and eventually had to turn to the State Police to help me resolve the problem and get an arrest made. I shouldn't have had to do that. Neither should you. When a theft has occurred, local help should be available, no matter if you live in Mt. Vernon, Livingston, Brodhead or Roundstone.

These are just a few of the problems I have run across and they only give so much room to discuss these things here in the paper so, I would like to invite any of you to come down to The Livingston General Store and, over a cup of coffee, I would like to discuss any problems, concerns and answer any questions you may have.

Anderkin named chair of volunteer committee

A Rockcastle native has been named to chair the Kentucky Commission on Community Volunteerism and Service (KCCVS).

Aaron Anderkin, of Lexington, will chair the commission which is a statewide, bipartisan group, with diverse service and volunteerism backgrounds, appointed by the Governor. The members select the commission's executive officers.

Anderkin is a Lexington insurance agent and a graduate of Transylvania University with a degree in political science. He was recently named the Executive Director of the Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority. He was active in student service while at Transylvania and has been a member of the commission's program committee, which is involved in grant selection and program monitoring.

Eileen Cackowski. executive director of KCCVS said she is pleased with the KCCVS committee's new leadership. "Our new executive committee officers have proven their commitment to KCCVS and are motivated to promote volunteerism and service by working together," she said.

Since Anderkin's time on the board, Kentucky AmeriCorps program applications have increased each year, said Cackowski.

"We receive applications that are well written and have received at least one new competitive program each year," Cackowski said. "While that may not sound like much, only six other states have more competitive AmeriCorps programs than Kentucky.'

The KCCVS actively engages citizens in community service opportunities that enable volunteers, organizations and businesses to share ideas and effectively collaborate to address Kentucky's needs.

The KCCVS hosts a number of annual statewide activities designed to encourage volunteer and service program development. The KCCVS' is provided by the Corporation for National and Community Service and the Kentucky General Assembly. KCCVS also administers 13 AmeriCorps programs across the state, with 316 members who serve 115 of Kentucky's 120 counties.

The group's executive committee meets three times a year in Frankfort and once a year elsewhere in the state.

Learn more about KCCVS and volunteerism, call tollfree (800) 239-7404 or visit the KCCVS Web site at www.volunteerKY.kygov.

ment costs. In 2009, Houk paid $180,000 for wages and benefits in 2009 and the question to her was why the amount being asked for was so much higher. Houk's salaries in 2009 dropped dramatically from their high in 2008 of $237,368 when she had seven clerks, an increase of $42,000 from 2007 when she only had six for the entire year and one for five months of the year.

Houk responded that since she had laid-off two clerks in 2008 and 2009, when the court cut her maximum request from $250,000 to $235,000 and required her to pick up all of the social security and the first $15,000 of the clerks' retirement benefits, personnel in her office had been "stretched thin" trying to keep up with the demands of her office. Houk said she had hoped to rehire at least one of the laid-off employees.

However, Carloftis and Clontz both pointed out that even if gross salaries were set at $200,000, instead of the $215,000 requested, average salaries for the five clerks in the office would be $40,000 annually and, if a sixth employee were hired, the average annual salary would be $33,333.

Houk reminded the court that they had no authority over what she paid her employees individually and pointed out several times that one employee in her office, who had been there 27 years, still made less than Patricia Martin, Carloftis secretary and co-administrator of the newly instituted occupational

The comparison was made several times and Clontz, who takes care of administering the $1.2 million revenue program for the county, along with Martin, responded that the extra money paid them, $24,000 a year together, was primarily for their having total responsibility for the program, besides the extra hours of work involved. Usually when a new tax revenue program such as this one is instituted, an entire new department has to be put in place at a much higher cost to the county, Clontz maintains.

In addition to paying the remainder of Houk's employees' retirement benefits, about $13,000 a year, the court also pays for their share of health insurance, about $11,000, unemployment insurance and workmen's compensation ($1,500 each), audit costs ($13,500) and printing returned something over $400 to the county in excess fees for calendar year 2008 when the county was expecting about $34,000. But, Houk told the court Tuesday that she had warned Carloftis that excess fees would be decreased due to upgrading equipment and installing an indexing system in her office.

After much more discussion, Houk told the court that they were required to approve or disapprove her budget as submitted. Carloftis then called for a motion to approve the budget but one was not forthcoming. Houk then asked the court to vote to disapprove her budget but Carloftis said that when the budget was not approved as presented then it was automatically disapproved. However, at Houk's insistence, Magistrate William Denny made a motion to disapprove the budget, which was seconded by Magistrate Bill McKinney and all magistrates voted aye. A motion was then made by McKinney to amend Houk's annual order setting the maximum amount for deputies and assistants to $235,000, it was seconded by Magistrate Ralph Allen and all voted aye. The last motion was to amend Houk's budget to reflect the decrease in gross salaries for deputies from $215,000 to $200,000 and employer's share of social security from $23,000 to $20,000 with the $15,000 contribution from Houk for retirement benefits remaining the same. for the $235,000 total. That motion was made by Jan Stevens, seconded by McKinney and passed unanimously.

Houk told the court that she would not sign the amended budget. Carloftis said after the meeting that her signature was not required for

Sheriff's Budget Approved

One of the first items of business at Tuesday's meeting was approval of Sheriff Mike Peters' budget for 2010 and the order setting the maximum amount for deputies and assistants.

Approval for Peters' budget went relatively smoothly, involving only repositioning of some revenue and expense items in keeping with accounting procedures.

Peters submitted a $500,201 budget for 2010, up from $484,000 in 2009 and asked for a maximum of $280,000 for deputies, assistants and other employees in 2010.

McNew, who Dale handles bookkeeping chores for the sheriff, told the court that some expenses items in the budget were decreased, such as gas, which can be paid from forfeiture funds, the budget only increased $16,000 over 2009's even though this year's budget assumes increased the number of deputies - full and part time to 12 from 10 last year.

The $500,000 budget includes $30,000 for an additional full time certified deputy. The $30,000 was approved for the Sheriff's Department from general funds of the county in their 2009-10 budget. No one has been hired for that position, although Peters told the court that he was close to hiring someone so those funds have not been expended. The other position to be added included a part-time court security officer (formerly known as bailiff) who is already working, and who the sheriff's department requested the court also fund.

However, the court decided that since the $30,000 approved earlier had not been expended and would be available until July 1, 2010, they would not have to take action on that request since the $30,000 would cover six months of the $15,000 request and a certified deputy's pay through June 30th of this

The sheriff's budget includes expected revenues of $112,000 from commissions from taxes collected and $194,876 from the county. The county's contribution includes $60,000 which they front for DEA Agent Barry Adams' salary for which they are reimbursed by the federal government and $26,000 for the court security officers for which they are partially reimbursed by the state.

Besides the $30,000 for another deputy, the county also allocated the sheriff's department, in their 2009-10 budget: $25,000 for employer's share of social security; $50,000 for employer's share of retirement; $5,700 for health insurance; $2,800 unemployment insurance; $12,800 worker's compensation insurance; $20,000 for audits, $24,000 for gasoline, $13,000 for property and casualty insurance and $14,100 for fidelity bonds, postage for taxes, etc., printing/publishing costs and telephone.

Peters told the court that his department at present operates with five full time deputies, four court security officers and two office personnel at present. Peters also told the court that he had six volunteers whom he greatly appreciated: John Guilfoil, Ron Bradley, Sr., Roger Pigg, Mike Bryant and Stanley Payne.

Both Peters' budget and maximum salary order were approved by the court.

In other action, the court voted to pay one half of the cost of a new heating unit for the rear section of the Rockcastle County Library.

Jerry Burke, a member of the library board, told the court at a called meeting last Friday that the unit had been "giving them trouble" for several years and repairing it had been attempted several times. Burke said that when it malfunctioned, the unit had to be run on emergency heat, raising the cost of the heating bill for the library considerably. Burke presented the court with an estimate from Winstead's Heating and Air for $8,500 to replace the unit with the board and the court splitting the cost. The court approved the expenditure.

has been an education that you cannot buy. I think my time here has been beneficial to the 34th district and all of Kentucky."

Senator Worley started his public service in 1978 as an intern to Richmond City Manager David Graham. At age 22, Senator Worley was named Richmond's city manager, a position in which he had 14 successful years. Under his guidance, Richmond became one of the fastestgrowing communities in Kentucky. As State Senator, he has been equally as involved and dedicated in working for the Commonwealth of Kentucky as he was in working for the City of Richmond as city manager. After being elected to the State Senate in 1998. Senator Worley made the fastest rise to a leadership position in recent Kentucky history by being elected Senate Democratic Floor Leader in 2003. "I have worked two jobs for 12 years. One as a general contractor and one as a State Senator. I turned 53 years old in December and I simply cannot work the hours and days I used to work," Senator Worley added. "Though I will miss being involved in the Senate and working for the people of my district, I look forward to spending time with my family."

Senator Worley and his wife, Jamie Mullins Worley, have two children, Preston and Lauren. The Worley family resides in Richmond.

Three Democrat candidates and three Republican candidates have also filed.

On the Democrat side, Mike Cope, Landra Lewis and Lee Murphy have filed. The Republicans are Dr. Kent Kessler, Jared Carpenter and former state lawmaker Barry Metcalf, whom Worley defeated in the last election for state senate.

penned almost 10 years ago and intended as a road map for the planning in the community. "We are very excited about the energy, enthusiasm and goal-oriented way of thinking which Aaron brings to the position," said Corey Craig, Chairman of the RCIDA. "I have always been proud of my association with the RCIDA board but was extremely honored to be a part of the executive director search process. We believe Aaron is the right individual to help us create new and diverse job opportunities for Rockcastle Countians who currently live here and for those who would like to return to the county," he said.

"I am excited Aaron has been hired to lead our efforts in building economic and job opportunities for our local citizens," said Buzz Carloftis, Rockcastle County Judge Executive. "He is a local man who personally knows our county, having been raised here, attended our schools, and is dedicated to seeing Rockcastle County become a place where local families can have opportunities to achieve their families' goals and aspirations," he said. "It will take time, but this is what I call one of those very 'good works'. As happy as I am to have a local person get this career opportunity, I greatly appreciate Jim Holton's dedicated service in recent years. I also appreciate the RCIDA board's unselfish efforts to serve their home community without any compensation. I also know that none of this effort and progress would have been possible without the determined actions of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, for that is where it all began," Carloftis said. Anderkin says he is excited about the opportunity to help grow the economy in Rockcastle County. "The foundations formed in recent years make Rockcastle County primed for positive growth," he said. "With the community and its leaders working together as a team to promote development, success can and will be achieved and challenges that persist will be overcome," he said.

Anderkin's career development includes experience as a community liaison in the Kentucky Governor's Office for Local Development, Director for Kentucky YMCA in Eastern Kentucky working in 34 counties and, most recently, worked as a sales representative with Kentucky Farm Bureau.

He also serves as the current chairman of the Kentucky Commission on Community Volunterism and Service, which is a state board that administers state and federal service grants. Most notabably, AmeriCorp.

Anderkin is a 2003 Rockcastle County High school graduate and received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from Transylvania University.

council members, Clark Mullins, Jack Weaver, Sharon Saylor and Wayne Bullock, was for the city to spend approximately $8,000 for the fire department to obtain a $164,000 federal grant for equipment.

Fire Chief David Bales pointed out that the Mt. Vernon volunteer fire department made almost as many runs as all the other fire departments in the county put together last year. The department had 273 runs and the other five departments had a combined 278.

Bales said some of the equpment that would be purchased with the grant money would be 24 breathing apparatuses, a cascade machine and a compressor.

The council also approved the purchase of a new rescue truck for the city from Wynn Fire Equipment in Corbin. Bales told the council the fire department would trade in an old pumper truck and the present rescue vehicle and use state-aid money to pay off the $23,000 that would be needed to buy the new truck. The county has been asked to provide the remaining $30,000.

Jones did make the motion to purchase two handheld electronic meter readers for the city's water department at a cost of $19,422. A GPS system could also be put on the readers at a later date.

The council also accepted a deed of easement for Faith Mountain Road Extension, which runs off Hwy. 461 to Northside Baptist Church and to one of the city's water tanks.

Each council member voted to accept the road, except for Jones who said he thought it was a bad idea because it was a private development. After the vote, Jones said he wanted the city to 'pave my driveway.'

The council also approved a resolution for the submission of a grant request to Southern and Eastern Kentucky Tourism for a "Let's Paint the Town" in the amount of $2,000 and another grant application for $100,000 for other beautification projects.

All council members voted for the resolution except Jones.

At the end of the meeting

Jones also presented eight things that he questioned the Mayor and council members about. Jones had sent an e-mail to city hall which was put on the agenda. He read aloud each of his questions. One of his questions to the council was, 'why are we the council either afraid or reluctant to discuss matters that concern the city's buisness? We do not have to be in favor of anything to discuss it. Should I be afraid too?" Each of Jones' comments were met with silence, except from Mayor Kirby, who answered a couple of his questions. No other discussion took place on Jones' comments and council member Wayne Bullock walked out of the meeting while Jones was making his comments to the council and the Mayor, and did not return. Mayor Kirby also notified the council that their next regular meeting was scheduled for President's Day which is a holiday and that she wanted to change the meeting.

Jones also questioned that action, but Clark Mullins suggested that the meeting be moved to the next week and the rest of the council, except for Jones, went along with the recommendation. The February meeting will be held Monday, February 22nd.

Sheriff makes

three arrests Sheriff Mike Peters reports that on Friday, January 22nd, Rockcastle County Deputy Shannon Franklin arrested Tabitha F. Howard, 25, of Conway, on charges of Theft by Deception (two counts) and also Criminal Possession of a Forged instrument, 1st degree (four counts), involving an account at Citizens Bank. This investigation is ongoing and other arrests are anticipated.

On Monday, January 25th, an escapee from the Lincoln County Detention Center was apprehended by sheriff's deputies. Kenneth R. "Robbie" Lewis, 35, was arrested at a residence in Livingston after deputies responded to a complaint of a possible drug overdose. Lewis was released to deputies from Lincoln County after being examined at the Rockcastle Regional Hospital.

On the same day, Rockcastle County Deputy Ron Bradley answered a complaint of a suspicious person on Copper Creek Road and subsequently arrested Grant W. Graham, 28, of Berea, on outstanding warrants from Grayson Coounty as well as Madison County. Bradley also charged Graham with Trafficking in a Controlled Substance, 1st degree and Trafficking in a Controlled Substance, 3rd degree.

RCHS girls' track team competes in Wildcat Classic

The RCHS girls' track team competed in their second meet of the season at the Wildcat Classic hosted by the University of Kentucky this past weekend in Lexington. Most of the top teams from throughout the state were present for the meet. Although teams scores are not kept at the meet since field events are not contested, RCHS easily defeated all other Class 2A teams and matched up very well with Class 3A and Class A competitors. Most of the teams that competed were Class 3A schools from Lexington and Lousiville.

Junior Jessica Albright got the meet underway with a great performance in the 60meter hurdles. Jessica finished 10th overall out of 22 hurdlers with a great personal best time of 11.37 seconds. 8th grader Alyssa Allen finished a close 11th overall with a great time of 11.39 seconds, also a personal best. Next up came the mile run for RCHS. Senior Laura Dollins led the way with a season's best effort. She finished 16th overall out of 73 runners with an awesome time of 5:56.09. Senior Deana Gabbard finished 27th

overall with an exceptional new season's best time of 6:12.96. 6th grader Amber Collins, one of the few middle school athletes at the competition and the youngest, placed an impressive 38th overall with an incredible new personal best time of 6:26.34.

In the 60-meter dash, senior Samantha Smith blazed her way to an incredible 4th place finish out of 99 sprinters. Samantha finished with an awesome time of 8.27 seconds, only four hundredths of a second away from 3rd. 7th grader Kira Deatherage ran very well, placing 43rd overall with an excellent effort of 9.09 seconds. Freshman Bryonna Cromer also ran a solid race, placing 56th overall in 9.31 seconds. Kira led the way for RCHS in the 400-meter dash, finishing 21st out of 63 runners with a great race and an awesome new season's best time of 1:08.87. Jessica also ran a great race, placing 30th overall in a new season's best time of 1:10.84. Alyssa also ran a terrific race, finishing 40th overall in a new personal best time of 1:12.39.

Laura and Amber's next event was the 800-meter run. Out of 67 distance runners, Laura finished a very impressive 11th overall with an incredible indoor personal best time of 2:35.52. Amber continued to improve in the event in only her second race ever at 800 meters. She placed 47th overall with an exceptional new personal record time of 2:59.5.

The girls' 200-meter dash was one of the most competitive races of the day with 118 girls competing. Samantha ran her the best indoor 200 of her career, placing an amazing 5th overall with a time of 27.41 seconds. Bryonna ran a superb race, placing 56th overall with a great effort of 30.92 seconds.

Deana was the lone RCHS competitor in the grueling two mile run. She ran a sensational race, placing 12th overall out of 24 runners with an exceptional effort of 13:07.41.

The girls' 1600-meter relay team ran a very impressive early season race, finishing 7th overall with an awesome effort of 4:40.03. That time was 13 seconds better than their previous season's best time and they defeated last year's indoor and outdoor Class 2A State Champion in the event, Louisville Central, by 4 seconds. Team members included Jessica Albright, 7th grader Lacey Gastineau, officers to the Rockcastle Grand Jury within 60 days of their arrest.

According to Kentucky State Law, defendants can only be held on District Court charges for 60 days without being indicted.

Some of the court actions that have taken place recently include the following:

70-year-old Bennie R. Pittman, of Mt. Vernon is due back in court on February 8th. He was indicted on two counts of first degree trafficking in the first drug bust by state police. He was scheduled to enter a plea on Friday, but his case was continued.

Steven H. Still, 43, who was indicted on three counts of first degree trafficking, pled guilty to one count of trafficking on December 22nd and was sentenced to one year in jail. Earnest Danny Johnson, 47, charged with three counts of trafficking in the Sheriff department's and UNITE's drug bust on November 4th, pled guilty on December 9th and received 18 months in Phillip "Bones" Barnett, 28. was sentenced to two years in jail on December 9th to second degree trafficking after his guilty plea. Both of those cases were handled on the Rocket Docket.

Charges against Gary "Legs" Kirby, 53, were dismissed on January 4th to proceed by indictment because his case was not presented to the Grand Jury by a UNITE officer.

Kirby had been charged with complicity to trafficking. The three counts of trafficking against Ima Cotton, 45, were dismissed on Monday also because her case was not presented to the grand jury within the time constraints. Sheriff Mike Peters said her case would be be presented to the grand jury at a later date.

Charges against Linda Michelle Bond, 35, who was charged with two counts of trafficking, in the Sheriff's department's drug bust, were dismissed on January 20th to proceed by indictment.

Ronald Sack, 50, pled guilty to second degree trafficking on December 9th and received 18 months in jail.

Charges against Troy Bullock, 36, who was out of jail on bond, were dismissed, proceed by indictment, on Monday in Rockcastle District Court. Bullock had been charged with five counts of trafficking.

Charges against Bobby Bond, 38, were dismissed on January 11th after a UNITE officer did not present the case to the grand jury within 60 days.

A review of the trafficking case against Charles Cunagin, 44, is scheduled for February

Charges against Ottie Kirby, 48, were dismissed Monday by District Judge Katie Wood because his case had not been presented to the grand jury in 60 days.

Others who have received jail time in the drug bust cases include Steven Still, 43, who pled guilty and received one year in prison on December 22nd. He was indicted in the state police drug bust.

Howard J. Cameron, 34, pled guilty on December 22nd to one count of second trafficking and received two years in jail.

35-year-old Joey Bullock pled guilty to second degree trafficking and received two years in jail on December 22nd.

26-year-old Marty Reagan pled guilty to trafficking on December 22nd and received 18 months in jail.

Sheriff Mike Peters said Wednesday that the cases that had been dismissed, because of time issues, would be presented to a Grand Jury as soon as possible. One hold-up to presenting the cases, Peters said, was that lab results on the pills seized in the raids had not been returned by the Hodges said she thought she was qualified to be Judge-Executive because she "taught high school for 20 years, has the ability to get along with people, good communications skills, intense patience, can manage stressful situations, can cut costs because of her skills in business math and accounting and has great problem-solving skills.'

Hodges said she was a member of the county's Concern Citizens for Fair Government, which she says was begun to ensure the individual rights in Rockcastle County by working publicly to oppose the possibility of county-wide zoning.

Hodges said she had always grown up with an interest in politics because her late father Clarence, who served as County Clerk and her grandfather, Charlie who served several terms as County Judge.

Hodges said that recently she had become interested in the grass-roots Tea Party Movement, which promotes smaller government, lower taxes and taking a stand locally.

Hodges is a Republican. Three county-wide office holders, PVA Margaret Offutt, County Attorney Billy Reynolds and Coroner Billy Dowell have no opposition.

Rockcastle County Jailer James Miller has opposition from Carlos McClure and Sheriff Mike Peters has three opponents. They are former deputies Rick Brummett and Ken Holt and Livingston General Store owner Billy Gene Rash.

Offutt, Reynolds, Dowell, Miller, McClure, Peters, Brummett, Holt and Rash are all Republicans.

There are four Republicans seeking the office of retiring County Clerk Norma Houk.

The most recent to file was John Wesley Vanwinkle, 35, of Orlando, owner of Rock Fire Steakhouse. He joins Kathy Robinson, Gail F. Burdette and Danetta Ford Allen in the race.

In the race for magistrate in district one, incumbent Democrat John Holbrook has opposition in the primary from fellow Democrat Larry Newcomb and three Republicans, Mike Cameron, Justin Prewitt and 45-year-old Lee Earl Adams, who filed on Tuesday.

Incumbent district two magistrate Republican William Denny, 44, who filed last week has four Republican opponents, Kevin Gibbons, Ratel Lee Collins, Phillip Doan and Joe Barron.

In another written statement, 71-year-old Collins said he was born and raised in Rockcastle County and was a member of the Hickory Grove Pentecostal Church. Incumbent third district

The Republicans are Gary Burdette, Burton Stephens, Eugene T. Caldwell, Eddie Mahaffey, Tim R. Wolfe and Ronald Niceley. Burdette, Stephens and Niceley all filed this week.

Incumbent district five magistrate Ralph Allen has opposition from two other Republicans. They are Tommy Miller and Michael P. McGuire.

Jack B. Weaver is the only candidate for constable in district one. The asst. Mt. Vernon fire chief is a Republican.

In the district two constable's race, incumbent Republican Delno McClure faces opposition from another Republican, Jesse Vanwinkle of Livingston, who has a pending felony charge on him in Rockcastle Circuit Court.

Incumbent district three constable, Joe M. Bussell, the former long-time Brodhead police chief has opposition from 44-year-old Ricky Bul-

There are six candidates for constable in the fourth district. Besides incumbent Leonard Dale Miller, Donnie Cope, Chris Baker, Gary V. Linville, Richard Dean and Shannon Taylor have all filed. Linville, Dean, Miller and Taylor all filed this week.

$500,000 pledged to UNITE for substance abuse treament

Kentucky River Properties, LLC, has pledged $500,000 to the Operation UNITE Foundation over the next five years to provide substance abuse treatment.

The first $100,000 installment was formally presented to UNITE Director Karen Engle and Fifth District Congressman Harold "Hal" Rogers during a dinner held at Hazard Community and Technical College on January

"We are proud to support Operation UNITE's efforts to provide substance abuse treatment for residents in Southeastern Kentucky," said Fred Parker, president of Kentucky River Properties. "Our company's philosophy is to provide as much support as possible to schools, families and organizations within our service region, and our board members felt this is one of the best investments we could make.'

The funding will be used to provide $80,000 per year in UNITE treatment vouchers to low-income residents of Perry, Knott, Leslie and Letcher counties. In addition, $20,000 per year will go to support Drug Court programs in each of these four counties.

UNITE currently provides vouchers up to $3,000 for short-term treatment (up to 89 days) and up to $5,000 for long-term treatment (90 days or more).

"This means at least 80 people will be able to receive help for their addictions over the next five years because of Kentucky River Properties' donation," Engle noted.

Drug Courts – a special court given the responsibility to handle cases involving drug-addicted non-violent offenders through an extensive supervision and treatment program - is a nonadversarial team approach to criminal behavior resulting from drug addiction.

While all Drug Courts are now operated through the Administrative Office of the Courts, UNITE community coalitions frequently assist in providing resources for graduations, transportation needs and other basic essen-

"The money will be a tremendous asset to individuals trying to get their life back on track," said Engle. "Many times people are overwhelmed with the recovery process and feel hopeless in finding a way to obtain basic necessities. Having funding for one-time needs can make the difference in whether or not an addict graduates and ultimately changes his or her lifestyle once and for all."

Drug Court judges will determine how the Kentucky River Properties funding will be allocated in each county.

Rogers noted that treatment is an essential element in any long-term strategy to reduce substance abuse.

"A real threat to the communities within the Fifth District comes from the increasing prevalence of substance abuse," Rogers stated. "Nearly every family has experienced the pain inflicted through abuse of prescription or illegal drugs."

"Consequently, these problems migrate into our workplaces. Coal, oil and gas operations are no exception," Rogers continued. "When team members or potential employees struggle against addiction, either directly or within their families, this creates real safety concerns, loss of productivity, and greater liability issues."

With addiction threatening to destroy the basic fabric of society, it is vital for those most dependant upon a vibrant economy to step forward to help meet the critical needs, Rogers noted. "Kentucky River Properties has made a huge commitment to invest in the future of an entire region."

The donation has already had a noticeable impact.

"We place an average of 23 people per month into a residential substance abuse program through the UNITE Voucher Program," Engle said. "Under normal circumstances individuals in need of treatment would be placed on a waiting list, which typically runs about one month. In these four counties we will be able to eliminate this wait once they have met the qualification guidelines."

Levelized Billing takes the highs and lows out of your monthly electric bill by using a rolling average of your most recent 12 months' bills and varies by only a few dollars each month.

It differs from the old "Budget Billing" program, which used the same payment amount each month based on your last 12 bills. Then once a year, a settle-up amount had to be calculated to factor in weather fluctuations and other changes. Levelized Billing eliminates the settle-up payment because it is a constant rolling average of your electric bill!

Anthony Cook awarded scholarship to attend SCC

Anthony Michael Cook of Rockcastle County has been awarded an American Welding Society District 8 Scholarship to attend Somerset Community College.

Cook is a 2007 graduate of Rockcastle County High School. While he ranked in the lower half of his graduating class of 202 students, Cook has come into his own in SCC welding classes. He has maintained a 2.9 grade point average in college.

Cook is seeking an Associate in Applied Science Degree in General Occupational and Technical Studies at SCC with an emphasis on Welding Technology.

Anthony Cook

During high school, Cook was a member of the varsity football and basketball teams. The Rockcastle County High School football team was the Regional Champion in 2005 and the school's basketball team earned the Regional Championship in 2004.

Cook was an All-Star nominee during his Junior year and an Academic All-American during his Senior Cook was awarded three certificates in welding while at RCHS.

"My welding teacher was Sherman Cook. I'd like to thank him and all my high school teachers for helping to keep my dreams alive," Cook said.

Cook is the son of Shirley Cook, who resides in Berea. His father is Michael Favale, who resides in Melrose Park, Illinois.

The Rockcastle County Middle School Leadership Team, along with Mr. David Owens and his Rock TV crew, teamed up to write and produce a Public Service Announcement to promote the sale of candy grams with all proceeds from these bags of M&M's benefitting local cancer patients. At the 2010 Winter Shorts Film Festival, the PSA "Dracula Takes a Candy Gram" won top honors as Most Outstanding Public Service Announcement. Picture are Kelsey Mattingly and Corey McPhetridge.

Minds in the Middle

RCMS once again showed that they care for others during the annual December Food Drive. 2,111 food items were collected and donated to the Mt. Vernon Food and Clothing Mission. Congratulations to Ms. Singleton's 8th grade homeroom on bringing in the most items with 767.

Our students have also been very concerned about the people of Haiti. On Friday, the RCMS Student Council headed up "Hats for Haiti" in which students paid $1 to wear a hat and "Hoops for Haiti" where students could pay $1 to try to hit a half court shot and win a prize. RCMS raised $1,000 on Friday with the help of a $300 donation from Dowell and Martin Funeral Home. Citizens Bank had agreed to match our efforts, so thanks to all involved, we sent a $2,000 check to Coach Calipari's "Hoops for Haiti" fundraiser.

We thank the RCMS Unite Club and the Youth Services Center for sponsoring the Wulfe Brothers concert on Friday. The student body had a great time getting in the groove with the band and appreciated the drug free message the group provided.

Congratulations to the RCMS Leadership Team who, with the aid of drama teacher David Owens, received the award for the Outstanding Public Service Announcement at Somerset Community College Theatre's Digital Video Productions' "Winter Shorts Film Festival." Their public service announcement to raise money for cancer patients was shown at the festival on January 23rd.

Extended school services are now available for students on Thursdays from 3-4:45. Transportation is provided.

Any students who are interested in participating in the 4-H Sewing Project can pick up additional information in the Youth Services Center.

Tiger Pause Turn Snow Day into Fun

Day with These Great Activi-

If you are a kid then the words "snow day" are a welcome break from the normal routine of getting up and going to school each day.. However those same words can bring a sense of dread and anxiety to parents as they anticipate a day stuck inside with energetic and bored kids. Snow days don't have to be feared by parents, there are a lot of fun indoor activities that you can engage your children in to help pass the time, keep them busy and out of your hair all day. To help you have a stress free day here are ten snow day activities that you can do inside your home with items you probably already have on hand.

Edible Snowflakes

Fold flour tortillas in fourths and use scissors to cut shapes out of the folds, just like when you cut a paper snowflake, Brush with melted butter, sprinkle on cinnamon sugar and bake at 350 degrees until crispy. Yum!

Snow Cream

Make this yummy treat using clean fresh snow. fold in a mixture of vanilla, milk and sugar to taste. You have a perfect treat for a snow day at

Board Games

Pull out your board games and have a fun day playing them. Some good ones to play are Sorry, Monopoly and Life. If you have younger children games like Candyland, Chutes and Ladders and Memory are good choices. If all you have is a deck of playing cards bring them out and teach the kids how to play Go Fish, Slap Jack or War.

PJ and Popcorn Movie Day Let the kids wear their pajamas all day, make some popcorn and watch movies. Some good choices for a Snow Day movie marathon are Jack Frost, Snow Dogs, Snow Buddies, and Snow Day.

Snowflake Art

Put your coffee filters to good use and let the children fold them in fourths and cut small shapes from the folds to make beautiful snowflakes. You can drizzle on glue and sprinkle with glitter for a sparkly effect. Once dry use scotch tape to hang in windows and around the room.

Freeze Dance

Put on some music and let the kids get some energy out by dancing. When the music stops they have to freeze in place. Anyone who moves while frozen is out. The winner is the last person dancing.

Weather

Please do not call the school to find out about school closings. Listen to local radio and television stations. Have a plan in place as to what your child is to do if school is dismissed early.

Attendance

Please remember that you must send a note to school with your child after he or she returns from an absence. If your child is out on Monday, and returns to school on Tuesday, he or she must have a doctor's statement or a hand written note from you on Tuesday morning. If there is no note the absence will automatically be unexcused. All notes should be brought to the front office.

Citizens Bank

Plaintiff

Richard Damrell, Jennifer Damrell, and Voyager Investments, LLC

Defendants

NOTICE OF SALE

Pursuant to a judgment and order of sale entered in this action on December 11, 2009 for the purpose of satisfying the judgment against the defendants in the amount of FIFTY SEVEN THOUSAND SEVEN HUNDRED NINETYFOUR DOLLARS AND 73/00 ($57,794.73) plus per diem interest of $13.55 from November 16, 2009 until date of judgment and interest, costs and attorney fees. I will offer at public auction the hereinafter described real property in Rockcastle County, Kentucky.

> At the Courthouse on East Main Street Mt. Vernon, Kentucky on Friday, February 5, 2010 Beginning at the Hour of 1:00 p.m.

Said real property being more particularly bounded & described as follows:

Beginning at a post on the North side of the Tarkin Road, thence North 71 East 228 feet to a maple; thence South 31 1/2 East 122 feet to a post; thence South 62 West 247 feet to a post on upper side of road; thence with the right of way of Tarkin Road, North 24 West 152 1/2 feet to the beginning and containing three-fourths (3/4) of an acre.

Being the same property which Jennifer Damrell obtained by deed dated October 2, 2001 from Rick Cole and wife, Elizabeth Cole, of record in Deed Book 186 Page 526 in the Office of the Rockcastle County Clerk.

The property shall be sold on the following terms & conditions:

- 1. The real property shall be sold for cash or upon a credit of thirty (30) days with the purchaser required to pay a minimum of twenty five percent (25%) of the purchase price in cash on the date of sale and to secure the balance with a bond approved by the Master Commissioner.
- 2. The bond shall bear interest at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum until paid in full. The bond shall have the force and effect of a judgment and shall be and remain a lien upon the property sold as additional surety for the payment of the purchase price.
- 3. Unpaid taxes of record at the time of entry of judgment shall be paid out of the proceeds of the sale including the 2009 local, county and state property taxes (if unpaid).
- 4. The purchaser shall pay the 2010 local, county and state property taxes. 5. Full satisfaction of the plaintiff's judgment shall - be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.
- 6. The purchaser shall have possession of the real property upon compliance with the terms of the sale.
- 7. In the event that the plaintiff is the successful bidder and the sale price does not exceed the amount of the plaintiff's judgment, no deposit or bond shall be required.
- set back lines, restrictions or covenants of record or otherwise and shall be sold "as is".

Debra Hembree Lambert Special Master Commissioner

8. The sale shall be made subject to all easements,

The Rockcastle County Recycling Center is now providing recycling drop-off opportunities in outlying areas of Rockcastle County. These recycling trailers will be at the City of Livingston (gravel lot across from school) and the Western Rockcastle Volunteer Fire Department January 25th through February 8th. The following items may be put in these trailers: mixed paper, mixed plastic #2-7, #1 plastic bottles, clear milk jugs, steel and aluminum cans, glass bottles and jars, and cardboard.

Please help us make this a successful venture by being clean and/or neat with our recycling habits. Do not put anything in the individual bins except what is labeled on them. If you drop something on the ground, pick it up. Absolutely no trash is to be put into the bins! Remember, camera surveillance is utilized in Rockcastle County and it is illegal to improperly to dispose of trash.

vation program can arrange to have their thermostat replaced -- at no charge -- by contacting KU or LG&E at 1-866-857-2665. GoodCents technicians, working on behalf of KU and LG&E, will do the work. Or, affected customers can directly contact one of the heating and air conditioning (HVAC) companies which are assisting KU and LG&E in the replacement effort. The list is at the bottom of the release. An example of the thermostat is also at the bottom of the release.

As another option, the customer can contact an HVAC company of their choice to do the work and the customer will be reimbursed by KU or LG&E by providing the old thermostat and their paid invoice to:

River Coal Corporation. The company, which has offices in Hazard, Henderson and Lexington, owns approximately 250,000 acres in Breathitt, Clay, Harlan, Knott, Leslie, Letcher and Perry counties. Most of its income is generated from leases to about 25 coal companies with operations on these properties. Income is also derived from oil and gas sales and royalties, timber sales and surface rentals.

"Kentucky's abundant coal resource and its oil and natural gas industries play a vital role in this nation's energy plans," Parker stated. "Substance abuse threatens to destroy the infrastructure so vital to our future. We are in a position to do something about this threat by helping Operation UNITE provide much-needed treatment."
