The placement of the Yield signs on the roads above and left came into question at Monday night's Mt. Vernon City Council Meeting. The council decided, upon a recommendation by the state transportation department, to switch the signs. Soon, the Yield sign above which is currently on Joyce Street will be moved to Ford Drive and the Yield sign to the left which is currently on Paul Street, will be moved to Terry Street.

Changes to roads; heated discussion on renovations at council meeting

By: Sara Coguer

In a meeting that lasted over two hours, a heated discussion between Mayor Mike Bryant and long-time Councilman Clark "Joe" Mullins took place on the council approved expenditure for renovations to City Hall.

In the last two budgets the council has approved, $210,000 has been included for renovations to City Hall. Mayor Mike Bryant has had plans drawn up twice for the renovations, the second time to accommodate concerns that Councilman Mullins had at the June meeting about space allotted to the police department/community meeting room.

The second plan, which was presented by Bryant at the meeting Monday night, was still a point of contention for Mullins. The councilman, who still felt too much space had

Sixteen indicted by grand jury

By: Sara Coguer

Sixteen people were indicted by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury on Friday, July 8th. Nineteen charges were for trafficking in a controlled substance, five for burglary and theft by unlawful taking, and one each for assault, persistent felony offender and flagrant non-support.

Delbert W. Leger, 37, of Brodhead, was charged with one count of persistent felony offender, first degree by being convicted of at least two prior felonies.

Glendle D. Hembree, 20, of Mt. Vernon, was charged with one count of burglary, first degree, by entering the home of Leshia Bell with the intent to commit a crime and one count of assault, second degree, by intentionally causing physical injury to Leshia Bell by means of a deadly weapon or dangerous instrument.

Charges dropped against Berryman

By: Sara Coguer

Charges against the passenger in an accident on June 29th that killed two women were dropped before he was scheduled to appear in court last Wednesday.

Shon Berryman, the lone survivor of the crash, walked away from the scene and was arrested two days later for leaving the scene of an accident and failure to render aid.

Berryman was released with all charges dismissed due to a change in state law a couple of years ago that states that only drivers in an accident cannot leave the scene, and does not apply to passengers in the vehicle.

In the final Kentucky State Police report, Tammy Griffin, 39, of Lancaster, was identified as the driver of the vehicle, not Lagina Snow, 43, of Stanford, who was originally identified as the driver. An investigation into the accident is continuing.

Fiscal Court holds first reading of reapportionment ordinance

As one of their last items of business at their regular meeting Tuesday, July 12, the Rockcastle Fiscal Court held the first reading of an ordinance establishing the boundaries of the magisterial districts, under the reapportionment recently compiled by three commissioners.

As County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis was reading the ordinance, as required by law, it was found that several descriptions of the boundaries needed to be clarified more in accordance with a map of the new districts, drawn by the commissioners. A second reading will be held, with the changes noted, Thursday, July 28th during a special called meeting at 1 p.m. The ordinance will be printed in the Thursday, July 21st edition of the Signal.

One request got approval by the court with one magistrate, Lee Earl Adams, voting no and another, Gary Burdette, abstaining.

The request was from Carl Swanigan, Livingston Police Chief, for $4,400 to buy two cruisers from the police department in Sandusky, Ohio for the City of Livingston. Sandusky said the cruisers were a 2003 and a 2005 model.

Adams, who told Swanigan that while he appreciated the work that law enforcement does, he could not, in good conscience, vote to provide the $4,400 to Livingston when the court had rejected a request by the Mt. Vernon Fire Department for a hose for their fire truck. However, it was explained that the hose requested by the Mt. Vernon Fire Department was needed for use only in the City of Mt. Vernon while, according to Swanigan, the Livingston Police Department responds to call for assistance by other law enforcement outside the city limits.

Magistrate Ralph Allen made a motion to approve the request, seconded by Magistrate William Denny. Magistrate Bill McKinney said he would vote yes because he had never abstained on a vote since he has been magistrate because "that's not doing my job."

The cruisers will be registered to the City of Livingston but ownership of the vehicles, when no longer in service, will revert to the county.

The court heard a request from Jaden Payne, a member of the 11 and under all-star baseball team for financial help for uniforms for the state tournament. This year, all five all-star teams in the county, are going to their respective state tournaments.

Payne told the court that at the state tournament, the players and coaches had to all have matching uniforms.

His coach Jeff Shaver also told the court that he had purchased new pants, stirrups, hats, coaches' shirts and four new helmets and would appreciate any help the court could give.

Magistrate Ralph Allen said that he wanted the team to look good while representing the county and made a motion to provide $300 in program support to them. Magistrate Bill McKinney expressed concern that with four other teams going to

MVPD to offer new service to residents

By: Sara Coguer

Mt. Vernon Police Chief Terry Jackson told the city council Monday night that in light of the many thefts they have responded to recently, a new service is being added for Mt. Vernon residents.

According to Jackson, a lot of homes, where residents are gone for a week or more at a time, are being targeted by thieves for their copper and other valuables.

Residents who know that they will be gone from their homes for any period of time can call the Mt. Vernon Police Department and they will patrol and check on your residence daily, or hopefully every shift, while the resident is away.

For more information about this service, you can call the Mt. Vernon Police Department at 256-5372 or City Hall 256-3437.

Arrest made in transportation garage thefts

By: Sara Coguer

A Mt. Vernon man was arrested last Friday after Kentucky State Police received a tip concerning the whereabouts of some of the items recently stolen from the Kentucky Department of Transportation state highway garage on US Hwy. 25N.

KSP Trooper Scotty Pennington arrested Paul G. Deatherage, 39, for burglary 3rd degree. He is lodged in the Rockcastle Detention Center under a $15,000 cash bond.

According to police, after seeing the story about the thefts in the Signal two weeks ago, a person whom someone had tried to sell a concrete saw, contacted the state police with the name of that person, which eventually led to the arrest of Deatherage.

Deatherage is scheduled to appear in court Monday, July 25th to answer to the charges.

Little World's Fair July 29-August 6

The annual Little World's Fair at the Brodhead Fairgrounds is scheduled for Friday, July 29th through Saturday, August 6th, 2011.

Special events will be held each night beginning Friday, 29th with a Dairy Show. The carnival opens on Friday

KSP Scam Alert

The Kentucky State Police, Post 11, London has received a report of a scam that targets victims through a telephone call stating they have won a large sum of money or a valuable prize.

One particular call, from a cell phone registered in the country of Jamaica, originated from the "876" area code. It was from a person identifying himself as "Mr. Bill Johnson".

The caller advises victims to send money via Western Union to a "Mr. Phillip Samuels" in Brooklyn, NY to receive their prize. The caller states the prize will be delivered to the victim's home after the money has been received by Mr. Samuels.

These names are believed to be aliases and no positive identification of these individuals has been made.

Ramblings . . .

by:
Sara Anderkin Coguer,
Editor

With there only being four people that work here, you would think that big problems would not get past us. It is not like only one person sees something and then it goes to print. No, usually it goes like this: Mom writes something important, I put it on the front page, then it goes to press. I write something (important), Mom proofs it and reminds me of my lack of grammatical skills, I put it on the front, Paige proofs my front and reminds me of my lack of layout skills, Spencer looks at my front, is usually pretty nice about everything and it goes to print.

Obviously, I should have been the one who had written last week's fiscal court story instead of mom, it would have gotten way more scrutiny and we would not have ended up putting the same story from the week before on the front.

Mom, Paige and I all decided it was Spencer's fault (like any good, sensible women would) because he is the "Quality Control" person who looks at everything before it is sent to press. He should have realized that mom dropped the wrong story in the drop box for me to put on the front and that the exact same headline was being used again - I mean come on how could he have missed that?

Anyway, our apologies for being what I lovingly called my students on many occasions, big dingleberries! The correct fiscal court story is on this week's front

We finally got Allison married off Saturday and I can assure you it was a lot of work! Not the marrying off part, but the preparations - only to turn around Sunday and tear it all down. It was worth it though, I don't know if I have ever seen a happier bride and groom. All I remember from mine and Jason's wedding is thinking the whole time that he was going to pass out. I didn't really read a whole lot into it at the time, but after nineteen years of marriage I could analyze the heck out of it now. It's amazing how that works!

We had a wonderful time and to be honest the highlight for me was The Medley Boys, who rocked the reception - thanks guys - and my sister-in-law Laura (who is married to Travis). I just told Travis at one point how proud I was of him to have found such a rose amongst all of the thorns out there! He is one lucky guy.

My own husband, of course, shocks a lot of people when they see him in a social situation because all they have ever seen him in is in a school or coaching situation. He is a very studious and serious principal who takes his job seriously, and well, there are a lot of famous stories out there about him from former players about his coaching years. He was, let's say, zealous in his attempts to win ballgames and grow boys into men.

Date Night - Summer 1960

One of the regular readers of this column recently suggested that I describe what a date night was like in the early 60's in Mt. Vernon. I liked this idea, and the following is how I remember being on a special date during the summer of 1960.

At that time, I was working on Saturdays, delivering groceries for my Uncle Jesse Cummins' grocery store on Main Street in Mt. Vernon. When I got off work, I quickly took my '58 Chevy to the Chevron station behind the courthouse in order to give my car a thorough wash job. I always thought that a clean automobile was a necessity when taking out one of my girlfriends. When my Chevy met my specifications, I hurried home to take a bath for the upcoming date. I dressed in my best Levi jeans, a clean button-down shirt, and my Bass Weejuns.

By the time I had cleaned my car and myself, it was time to cruise down Main Street to see who else was planning a date for the night. As I expected, several of my friends were also out cruising before picking up their dates. Oscar Fain, Jim Barton Nunnelley, and Bud Cox were sitting at the Dinner Bell Restaurant waiting for the 7 o'clock hour to pick up their dates. We exchanged plans for the evening. Then I noticed that it was already 6:45, so I cranked up my Chevy and headed for the home of Barbara Sue Mullins' grandmother. As was customary, I walked up the sidewalk and knocked on the door. Barbara Sue met me at the door and invited me to come inside. After exchanging small talk, we left and headed for my car.

Since it was still bright daylight, we decided to drive around to see which of our friends were out on the streets on this Saturday night before heading for the Valley Drive-in Theater. As we drove down Richmond Avenue, we met several of my friends: Paul Daily, Charles Hensley, Charles Bennett Farris, and Jim Cox; each of them blew his horn as we passed.

Barbara Sue suggested we drive out to Hamm's Drive-in Restaurant to see who else might be around consuming their famous burgers and fries. We pulled into a spot and ordered dinner from the car. In the background, we could hear the jukebox playing Chances Are by Johnny Mathis. When the jukebox stopped, we turned up my AM radio and listened to WAKY out of Louisville. Everyone knew that some of the best rock and roll could be heard on Saturday night on that station.

Just at that moment, Sam Cooke's You Send Me began to play, and Barbara Sue again turned up the volume on my radio - and a smile appeared on my face.

After downing our burgers and fries, we decided to cruise around a little longer before heading to the movie. Back in Mt. Vernon, we stopped to chat with Oscar Fain and Helen, who were also planning a night at the drive-in theater.

As the sun began to set on the horizon, Barbara Sue suggested, "We'd better go so we can get a good spot at the movie." I agreed, of course, and off we went toward Renfro Valley. On our way down US 25, we cranked up the volume on the radio and sang with all our hearts along with Roy Orbison, Elvis, The Platters, and Jerry Lee Lewis. We both knew the words to every song, and louder and louder we sang the words to the music pounding out of my two speakers. About this time, Barbara Sue slid across my front bench seat to take her place by my side. Once again, a grin appeared on my face.

As we pulled into the theater entrance, Barbara Sue, who had not questioned which movie we were seeing, noticed that the movie listed on the marquee was Alfred Hitchcock's Psycho. "David Joe, this is supposed to be a very scary movie," she says. My reply: "Yes," I said, quickly adding, "but I have heard that it is supposed to be a really good flick. I think it has been nominated for an Oscar."

We carefully selected just the right parking spot,

Points East

By Ike Adams

A couple or three years ago I was at the Garrard County Fair and this little girl was riding her horse as fast as he could fly around the show track. It was poetry in motion.

Beautiful kid, all decked out in riding gear, and beautiful big white horse and the kid was in heaven holding on to the horse's mane and maybe whispering, Go Boy, GO as she leaned into his ears. And go, they went, around that quarter mile track at full out gallop like thundering wind on a whistle.

I popped off a few shots with my camera but mostly I just watched and listened because the sight was so wonderful and the horse's hooves pounding turf was way better than any music I'd heard lately. In fact, I'd never seen magic like that little girl and the horse made as they sailed around the track. And I thought to myself that maybe I was seeing a bit of heaven. I rarely see such joy.

I love kids, especially little girls who have the nerve and will to run wild and free, and I love horses and dogs and kittens. I don't have a thing against little boys. In fact, I have four grandsons that I love dearly but either one of them could tear up an anvil. Or whip me like I was a lazy mule.

Our first and only granddaughter, until just recently, graduated high school in June and she is anything but a kid anymore.

Daughter, Genny, lives in Houston and I just assumed, when she announced that she was pregnant last fall, that another boy was on the way. Not that would have been Ho Hum and unexciting but I'm getting too old to be tackled and roughed up by tough little boys. And the genes in our family usually dictate something male when it comes time for babies.

Surprise, surprise, surprise!! Isabel arrived in mid May and the first thing I do every morning is check my email to see if Genny has sent me the latest picture. Or I go to her Facebook page.

I thought Isabel's two older brothers would be jealous but exactly the opposite is happening. In fact, I am the one who is jealous because Mazzen and Ramzy (aged 9 to 5) are vying to see who can spoil their baby sister better, or worse, as the case may turn out to be. And that's exactly what I'd like to be doing.

But it's almost a thousand miles from Paint Lick to Houston and I have come to realize that you can't change a diaper on a picture of a baby and there's not much you can do to spoil her rotten even though it doesn't look like she will need any help on that front.

So here I sit looking over yesterday's pictures and admiring the granddaughter I can't wait get my hands on. But I can close my eyes and see Isabel, when she is 11, on a horse or a bicycle or running on the road with her arms flung up and being as free as she can be.

And I can hear me whispering to myself. "There goes my grandkid."

In Loving Memory

In Loving Memory of Rebecca Marlene Smith

Four years have passed on July 19, 2007 since the Lord took you home. The memory of you still linger in our hearts. Though your sweet smile is gone forever and your hand we cannot touch, we will never lose sweet memories, love and kindness of the one we love so much.

We are praying that someday we will meet you in that Heavenly home on high, with your arms reaching out to welcome us home.

In Memory of Wanda Faye Gadd Laswell

When I come to the end of the day
And the sun has set for me
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little, but not too long
And not with your head bowed low,
Remember the love we once shared -
Miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick at heart
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
Miss me, but let me go.

Politicians such as the president also make big claims about cutting spending by 2 trillion dollars. Beware of these claims.

Most of the president’s “cuts” are pledges to not increase spending in the future.

And the 2 trillion is over 10 years. This is only 0.2 trillion per year for a budget that is in the red 1.61 trillion this year: less than $1 of every $8.

Much of this borrowed money is used to buy votes with glitzy projects that make local voters think they are getting a special deal such as $27,000,000 arenas, $8,000,000 castles, and multi-million dollar Hall of Fames. (Our Congressman, Hal Rodgers, has earned the nickname of “King of Pork” for these types of deals.)

But if you’re getting an $8,000,000 castle you can be sure your neighbors are getting a $15,000,000 convention center – even if it’s not heralded on the front page of your local paper. And you cannot make America richer by taking from your neighbor. Ultimately all that all Americans get is a big bill and the shaft.

The roughly 1.6 trillion the politicians are borrowing yearly represents $1600 per month for every US family of four?

Can your family afford this amount?

Panther sighting in Hummel area...

Dear Editor:
I am writing in response to the panther sighting article in the July 7th Mt. Vernon Signal. I saw a panther in the Hummel area about four years ago. I watched it cross a small creek, lick its paws, walk on a log, walk through a field, cross under a fence and go to the woods. I got a good look at the panther, it was not aware I was watching. The panther was tannish in color, with a large body about three feet long and a tail about as long as the

Cain - Robinson

Randy and Grasha Cain of Berea, would like to announce the upcoming wedding of their daughter Sara Beth Cain to Cody Lance Robinson of Mt. Vernon.

Cody is the son of Tim and Linda Robinson of Mt. Vernon, grandson of Earl and Mae Howard and Russie Gentry, great grandson of Smaria Wynn and the late George Wynn of Livingston. Cody is a 2007 graduate of Rockcastle Co. High School and is currently employed at the Blue Grass Army Depot.

Sara is the granddaughter of the late Patricia “Patty” Shouse of Berea, Joyce and Carol Cain of Berea, the great granddaughter of Mildred Grace Burns and the late Philmore Burns of Berea and the late William and Rena Cain and Harmon and Cora Sparkman, all of Berea. Sara is a 2008 graduate of Rockcastle Co. High School. She is currently employed at Brodhead Nursing Home and is attending Somerset Community College for Nursing.

The wedding will take place on July 30, 2011 at 12:00 noon at Pine Hill Holiness Church in Mt. Vernon. All friends and family are invited to attend. No formal invitations will be sent.

body. I have also seen several coyotes in the same area, none were black.

Jason likes to dance, can’t help himself really if there is a good song on and most people just sit and watch in awe at his repertoire of dance moves. I believe that Reese has inherited Jason’s love of dance, if not his moves. Reese dances a lot better, actually.

We are officially moving into our new home this weekend. Jason said he figured we would magically wake up Sunday morning in our bed, in our new house and wouldn’t have touched a thing -- Paige and Spencer would have moved us all overnight and we wouldn’t have even known it.

It would be nice if it could happen that way, it seems as if our house has gone up overnight, but alas I am afraid that we are finally going to have to face the fifteen years of stuff we accumulated in our old home and pretty much just threw into Jason’s grandparents’ farmhouse when we moved. Scary.

If moving into my dream home this weekend isn’t enough excitement for these old bones, I turn 40 on Monday. I don’t know how I feel about that. I have followed all of my school buddies on Facebook who have already reached this milestone and I believe they are all still alive and kicking. It

50th Anniversary

Wayne and Thelma Rader Harding have been happily married for fifty years and that calls for a celebration. Their children invite you to help them celebrate their love and wonderful memories at an open house, Saturday, July 30th, 2011 at 3 p.m. at Maretburg Baptist Church, US Hwy. 150, Mt. Vernon.

gives me hope and I still get to tell myself daily that Jamie, Jane and Paige are all still older than me (a couple of them on the downhill slide to 50).

I guess age is relative to how you feel and act, so I have decided that I am going to feel and act like I am still twenty something. If you are going to lie to yourself and others about your age, why not go big! Who really wants to be 39 forever?

Please pray for me and my family that we get moved in without killing one another. Pray especially for Jason that he keeps all his fingernails intact, or maybe pray for me to do that. I don’t think he would resort to revenge, but he was pretty angry with me when I accidentally ripped his thumbnail off in the last move. Have a blessed and safe week.

SCHOOL BUS RULES AND REGULATIONS

The privilege of any pupil to ride a school bus is conditioned upon their good behavior and observance of the following rules and regulations. Pupils violating these rules and regulations shall be reported to the principal of the school which the pupil attends for necessary corrective action.

Safety is the primary concern in the transportation of pupils. In order to assure proper safety, it is vital that pupils and parents understand the rules and regulations of school bus riding. Following is a list of basic rules and regulations adopted by the Rockcastle County Board of Education and the Kentucky Department of Education:

1. Arrive at a bus stop on time. The bus has many scheduled stops and cannot be delayed.
2. Never stand in the road while waiting for the bus. Parents should encourage safety measures for pupils as they wait for the bus and walk home from the bus.
3. Cross a safe distance (10 feet) in front of the bus so the driver can see you.
4. Take a seat upon boarding the bus and do not change seats while the bus is in motion.
5. The driver is in charge of the bus and pupils and has the authority to assign seating arrangements.
6. Keep noise to a minimum so that the driver's attention can be devoted to driving.
7. Do not extend arms, legs or head out the bus windows.
8. Obey the rules posted on each bus.
9. Do not block aisles in any way.
10. Knives/other sharp instruments are not permitted on the bus.
11. Never run toward the bus. Always load and unload when the bus has come to a complete stop.
12. Apply the above rule (No. 11) when transferring buses.
13. Never use the rear exit unless an emergency exists.
14. Ride only your assigned bus unless you have a signed note from the principal. Parents must write or call the principal to obtain permission for pupil to ride another bus or to exit at a different stop.
15. Report any damages to the bus.
16. Do not occupy more space in a seat than required.
17. Open and close windows in compliance with the driver's instructions.
18. Pupils and parents are to accept the responsibility of listening for dismissal announcements on the radio on days when inclement weather disrupts the regular schedule.
19. The following rules are of particular concern and the activities mentioned are prohibited at all times:
 - a. Use of profane/foul language.
 - b. Smoking or other use of tobacco on the bus.
 - c. Fighting on the bus.
 - d. Destruction of bus property.
 - e. Defiance of driver's authority.
 - f. Throwing objects on or from the bus.
20. Disciplinary Action: Violations of the above stated rules and regulations shall be reported to the appropriate school principal. The principal shall record the incident and determine the appropriate disciplinary action. Should any pupil persist in violating any of these regulations, it shall be the duty of the driver to notify the principal and, after due warning has been given to the pupil and such violation persists, the principal and/or board of education shall then forbid such disobedient pupil the privilege of riding the bus. Written notice of the action of the principal shall be furnished to the parents and the superintendent.

Ride only your assigned bus unless you have a signed note from the Principal.

Parents must write or call the principal to obtain permission for pupil to ride another bus or to exit at a different stop.

Parents & Teachers School Bus Safety Alert

A child's clothing can be dangerous when getting off the bus. A number of children have been injured or killed when their clothing became caught when exiting the bus.

Dangerous clothing that can get caught in handrails, doors or other areas include:

- Jackets or sweatshirts with drawstrings
- Backpack straps
- Scarves or other loose clothing

Please talk with your children about these Safety Rules:

- Stay away from Danger Zones around the bus
- If you drop something near the bus, don't pick it up. The driver may not see you. Tell the driver and follow his/her instructions.
- Remember that motorists don't always stop for the school bus.
- Use extreme caution when getting on or off the bus.

been allotted to the police department, said the city did not have the funds to proceed with the renovations anyway and proceeded to make a motion to only replace the garage doors of the former fire department, to redo the front only and re-visit the plan at a later date.

Mullins did not receive a second on the motion and Mayor Bryant took exception to Mullins’ concerns, reminding him that the council had passed the renovation item in the last two budget cycles and that money was allotted for the renovations and revenues supported that budgeted item.

The Mayor also kept repeating that he and Dennis McClure, City Superintendent, believed they could do the renovation to the entire building, not just the old firehouse, for much less than the $210,000 approved to renovate just the firehouse.

There was much discussion about where the money would come from, as well as a comment from Mullins that “the last guy was run out of office because he wanted to spend $210,000 on this building.” That comment preceded the motion that did not receive a second.

Mayor Bryant reminded Mullins that the election was over and made the comment, “This is not about me. The mayor’s office, if renovated, will be about a 1/3 of the size it is now. I am only trying to improve the building for the city to use.”

Councilwoman Shelly Lewis asked the Mayor if he would get the council an estimate of what he and McClure thought the renovations would cost by the next meeting.

Another topic of discussion was whether or not the city wanted to address the problem of people having “continuous” yard sales on their property and whether there were enough complaints to warrant an ordinance.

Resident Michael Sheliga commented to the council that they had already received a petition a couple of years ago with over 330 names on it to encourage a yard sale ordinance saying, “How much more does the council need before taking action?”

told Sheliga that most of the names on that petition were of people who did not live in the city limits and the Mayor added that more up-to-date information or complaints would be needed. After ascertaining that only one property owner had complained recently the council decided to not take action on the yard sale issue.

The third major item on the council’s agenda was a report from Kenvirons representatives about several water issues that the city is facing. Eddie Brown, of Kenvirons told the council that all they needed was their approval to send a notice of award to Grant Excavating on the Rose Hill Project so that they (Grant Excavating) could initiate the bonding process needed to begin the project. The project bid includes the original Rose Hill project and alternate one, which will include 4 -5 more houses in the project.

Water system improvements were also presented to the council, with upgrades to the water tank farms given as the most critical improvement needed. The current tanks are in very bad condition and the Kenvirons rep stated, “It is not a matter of if, more like when the tanks will need to be replaced, hopefully before something goes wrong with one of them.”

A second improvement suggested was to replace the soft starts at the water plant with variable frequency drivers, which would keep the pressure at the water plant at a safe level consistently, instead of having large pressure surges when the motors are started and stopped.

The third water improvement suggested by the Kenvirons firm was to add mixers to Lake Linville to prevent blue green algae from forming in the lake. The algae has been identified as the source of the bad taste and smell of the water that has been filtered and is supplied to most of the county by the city. The representative stated that blue green algae needs stagnant water to thrive and the mixers would keep the water inside the reservoir moving enough to discourage the growth of algae.

Kenvirons told the council that other water systems that had experienced the same problems and had tried the mixers were seeing some improvement in the quality of their drinking water.

In new business, a motion was made to establish a volunteer emergency management coordinator position for the city at the mayor’s discretion. The coordinator would have to receive all of the training necessary to become an emergency management coordinator, and would work closely with Howell Holbrook, CSEPP Coordinator for Rockcastle County, the state and the mayor’s office in case of an emergency in the city limits.

Holly Weaver of the Daniel Boone Community Action Agency asked the council that they make a one time waiver to the ordinance that states that no two dwellings can use the same water meter so that they can hook onto the Signal office’s water meter.

The Agency needs to do this because the Ashley House Homeless Shelter has not had water pressure for at least three weeks, and three families are living there.

Mayor Bryant told Weaver that as much as the city would like to help them, and McClure had been to their office several times trying to do so, it was a state law that no two dwellings can use the same water meter.

Weaver told the council that their agency was unable to fund the approximate $2,000 needed to repair or replace their regulator, which controls the water pressure, because of budget cuts to the agency. They have been providing bottled water to the three families for drinking, cooking and hand washing while the problem is trying to be fixed.

Another issue the council was asked to address was yield signs in the wrong places on Paul St./Terry St. and Ford Dr./Joyce St. Mayor Bryant asked the transportation department for a recommendation about where the yield signs needed to be on both intersections. Even though the roads are not state maintained, the state transportation department told the mayor that, in their opinion, the signs needed to be reversed, with the yield signs on Ford Drive and Terry Street instead of Joyce Street and Paul Street. The council approved the changes to the signage, which will be changed immediately. Bryant and Police Chief Terry Jackson said they would publicize the changes in the locations of the yield signs to residents for a period of time to help with the adjustments.

Reports were given by Police Chief Terry Jackson and Fire Chief David Bales. Jackson reported that the police department had responded to 444 calls in June, which is an abnormally high number, Jackson said.

There were 62 citations issued; 31 arrests made; 7 DUIs apprehended; 19 citations for other traffic offenses; 8 citations for speeding; 10 arrests for other criminal charges; 16 wanted persons captured; 13 traffic accidents investigated with one injury reported and 15 investigations were opened with 11 being cleared or closed.

Bales reported that the fire department had responded to 20 incidents and used 19,550 gallons of water in the month of June including three fire alarms, three structure fires, six motor vehicle accidents with entrapment, one hazardous material incident, two vehicle fires, four smoke investigations / false alarms and one EMS assist.

Description J (District 5) Point of Confluence of Skaggs Creek and Rockcastle River to Just South of Residential Address 1119 Three Links Road (Point of Beginning)
Beginning at the Confluence of Skaggs Creek and the Rockcastle River, the boundary follows the Rockcastle River to the mouth of the Little Rockcastle River; thence with the boundary of Laurel County and Rockcastle County through Wildcat Mountain to the Rockcastle River southeast of Livingston; thence with the Rockcastle River to the mouth of Horse Lick Creek, following the Jackson County and Rockcastle County line to the point of beginning just south of residential address 1119 Three Links Road (KY 2614), with all residential addresses north of the Rockcastle River and west of the Jackson County line being a part of District 5.

Joanne Guilfoil recently helped seniors from the Rockcastle Adult Day Care Center finish setting up for their first exhibition at the Art Gallery on Church St. Their "opening", just before noon, included flowers and refreshments for the senior artists and their guests. This exhibition marks the ending of an eight week class in "Beginning Painting". Before this class, some had painted a little, but few had ever used acrylics. The class of 10-16 men and women learned to mix tints and shades of colors, and paint with secondary and neutral colors that they had created. The subject matter was spring and summer-like, including several flowers, a fruit basket, shells and fishes. Seniors also learned how to use a light table, care for paints and tools and how to put together an art exhibition. Each artist created hanging labels and an invitation to mail. This same group will soon begin a class in tile mosaics with Janine Norman at the gallery. Shown in the above photo is the seniors exhibition and in the bottom photo are Joanne Guilfoil, left and Linda Lou Hodge.

the tournament, the gift could cause a “chain reaction” of requests. However, the motion passed unanimously. The court had already approved a $5,000 contribution to the Little League program.

The court failed to take action on a request to reimburse the Mt. Vernon, Livingston and Brindle Ridge fire departments $879.61 for food supplies left over from their vendor booths at the recent Blast in the Valley.

Michael Shilega was before the court to discuss the county’s dog problem. Shilega said he liked to ride his bicycle out in the county and had had numerous encounters with dogs coming after him.

Carloftis told Shilega he had a “valid point” primarily because there were plans afoot by the state tourism commission to establish bicycle, motorcycle and horse trails in the county and that the county as a whole would have to become more aware of bicyclists particularly.

In other action, the court approved a Waste Tire Amnesty program, scheduled for September 29 and 30 and October 1 and approved a $3,000 grant which enables James Renner, Solid Waste Coordinator for the county, to pick up discarded tires throughout the county.

The court also voted to hire Marshall Bullock as a part-time laborer at the recycling center and approved an increase in pay for Gilbert Chestnut, while he is acting as county road supervisor in the absence of Coy Cromer, who has been on medical leave for over two weeks.

Financially, the court had to transfer $150,000 from the occupational tax fund for distribution to the road fund ($75,000), the detention center ($50,000) and the general fund itself ($25,000).

Welcome to the 2011-2012 school year at BES! We look forward to working with you and your child. I am sure that together we can give your child the best education possible.

We will be conducting “Back to School” night on Tuesday, August 2, 2011. We will have specific times to meet with students in each grade level. At that time, you will meet all of the teachers in that particular grade level. They will go over information that you will need to know about how the school works, the curriculum that will be taught, what your child will need to know before moving on to the next grade and who your child’s teacher will be for this school year.

After this brief meeting, you and your child will be able to go to your child’s classroom and spend some time with your child’s new teacher. The purpose of this is to help your child be ready for the first day of school. This is your opportunity to see your child’s class, meet many of their classmates and their teacher. On the first day of school, parents are not allowed to accompany their child to the classroom, but we will have an orientation meeting for parents of kindergarten students in the library at 11:00 on that first day of school, Thursday, August 4, 2011.

Kindergarten/Preschool	4:00 Gym	Third Grade	4:00 Cafeteria
First Grade	4:30 Gym	Fourth Grade	4:30 Cafeteria
Second Grade	5:00 Gym	Fifth Grade	5:00 Cafeteria

School supply lists are available now in the office. You may bring supplies on Back-to-School night. Every child will also need a standard size backpack that is clear or mesh and not on rollers. Please write your child’s name on all school supplies, especially the backpack. This is also a good idea for lunchboxes and jackets.

If your child is a new student to Brodhead, either through moving to Brodhead or being a kindergarten student you will need the following items before you can attend BES:

- Immunization Certificate (Kentucky form)
- Eye Exam (Kentucky form)
- Physical (Kentucky form)
- Copy of birth certificate (not hospital copy)
- Social Security Number
- Dental exam

several rows behind the concession stand. Before the movie was to begin, I made my way to the concession stand to get us some popcorn and Cokes. When I came back to the car, I couldn't help but notice that Barbara Sue was still sitting in the middle of the front seat - and I smiled once again. Throughout the previews of coming attractions and the cartoons, we made small talk and caught up on what was happening in each others lives since we last saw each other. (At that time, she was living in Ohio, and we had limited time to be able to be together.)

Once the movie had started, we slid the seat back and got comfortable. Everything was going great until Janet Leigh registered at the Bates Motel. From that point on Barbara Sue, with fear on her face, gripped my hand like a vice. When Anthony Perkins ripped open the shower curtain, female screams from all around the drive-in joined with hers. But, being such a manly date, I held Barbara Sue with all my might, reassuring her, "Everything is alright!" This was a great movie to bring a girl to!

When the movie was over, Barbara Sue was positioned as closely to my side as possible. I slowly drove out of the theater entrance and turned right, heading toward Renfro Valley. Just past the Renfro Valley Lodge, we turned left onto a small gravel road and made our way up the hill into the parking lot of the Red Bud School House. This was a popular spot to watch the "submarine races."

I tuned the radio to WLS in Chicago for some good rock and roll music being played by Dick Biondi. One of the first songs that I remember playing was Never Be Anyone Else But You by Ricky Nelson. The evening continued, with an excellent performance by the submarines. When Roy Orbison began to sing Only The Lonely, Barbara Sue suggested that we had better be getting on home. Reluctantly, I started up my Chevy and headed back to Mt. Vernon.

Barbara Sue held my hand all the way to her house, and when we finally pulled into her driveway, she said, "I hate for the evening to be over." That was absolutely my sentiment also. I walked her to the door and gave her a last kiss goodnight. As I left, she stood in the door and watched as I drove away.

As most of the guys did after such an evening, I decided to check out who all was at the Chevron. Pulling into the station parking lot, I saw that inside were Charles Hensley, Lloyd Fain, and Bobby Joe Sweeney. We all hung out for probably an hour, reviewing the course that each of our dates had taken. While heading home on US 25, I thought about what a good time I had that night.

I thought about the night and about Barbara Sue. She would be leaving for Ohio early the next morning. And I was missing her already. It wouldn't be long before I would receive a letter from her recounting how much fun we had together and advising me as to when she would be returning in Rockcastle County. I was always more than ready for her return. To me, she was a special date.

CAP receives grant

Kentucky's Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet, Division of Waste Management, has awarded a Crumb Rubber grant in the amount of $10,700 to the Christian Appalachian Project's Family Life Center and Family Development Center in Mt. Vernon.

These funds will be used to resurface the center's playground area with recycled, shredded tires known as "crumb rubber." The crumb rubber has been specially processed to remove all metal remnants. A recent study from the Environmental Protection Agency has endorsed the use of recycled rubber to cushion the surfaces of playgrounds.

Research has shown that crumb rubber provides better impact protection for children in the event they fall and will last considerably longer than the standard wood mulch found on many playgrounds.

Kentucky's Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet has been working to find markets for the millions of waste tires this state generates each year. All Kentuckians benefit by keeping more tires out of landfills and illegal dumps where they become breeding grounds for disease-carrying insects, pollute the environment, and become potential fire hazards. This grant utilizes only Kentucky tires.

Anyone wishing to see the newly surfaced playground may call Becky Kana at 606-256-5613.

Congratulations to the 8U Berea All-Stars!! The girls placed 4th in the state tournament and will be playing in regionals July 20th - 24th. Good Luck Girls!!! Over 130 attend UNITE Camp at middle school

The last of six regional UNITE sponsored basketball camps was held last Thursday at Rockcastle County Middle School, drawing 131 youth participants from six different counties including Rockcastle, Laurel, Madison, Jackson, Pulaski and Perry.

Presented by Phoenix Products, Shoot Hoops Not Drugs camps are fun, interactive, and provide a safe, drug-free activity where children have an opportunity to interact with positive role models while learning fundamental basketball skills.

Jeff Sheppard, named the NCAA's Final Four Most Valuable Player in the Wildcats' 1997-98 National Championship season, spoke to parents and participants alike and emphasized the importance of teamwork and effort throughout the camp.

At the beginning of camp, parents and guardians of the youth participants were presented a program on the importance of keeping close tabs on their prescription and over-the-counter medications.

A highlight of the camp for participants was a visit by 2011 Miss Kentucky Basketball Sara Hammond. Sheppard spoke of Hammond and the Lady Rockets team, saying "Teamwork was one reason the Lady Rockets, under head coach Chrysti Noble, captured their first ever state title in March."

Sheppard praised the University of Louisville-bound Hammond for her poise, attitude, ability and energy - all of which are important in deciding to stay away from the temptation of drugs.

Hammond, the first female McDonald's All-American from Kentucky, was also named the state's Miss Basketball and won the Gatorade Payer of the Year and Associated Press Player of the Year awards during her senior season. She was an active participant in her school's UNITE Club.

Prescription drug abuse is a growing epidemic across the nation, and studies have shown that most teens first experiment with drugs obtained from their family or a friend's family without their knowledge. During the session UNITE staff stressed the importance of keeping track and properly disposing of their prescription and over-the-counter medications, the focus an "Accidental Dealer" awareness campaign earlier this year.

Since 2006 there has been 39 Shoot Hoops Not Drugs camps with a total of 5,055 youth participants. These participants have come from 53 Kentucky counties and five other states.

Mountain Signal becomes Mount Vernon Signal in 1896

The publication of the Mountain Signal on November 3, 1887, brought the first newspaper to the small town of Mount Vernon in Rockcastle County at the junction of Kentucky's Bluegrass, Pennyriple, and Eastern Coal Field regions. A four-page Democratic weekly, the Signal was one of several accomplishments of its first editor and co-owner, "Colonel" James Maret (1855-1936).

Maret edited the Mountain Signal for three years before selling his stake to Edward Smith. Smith, renamed the newspaper the Mountain Eagle. In October 1896, however, Maret purchased Smith's share, and became the paper's sole owner. The paper again became known as the Mount Vernon Signal.

Maret's second tenure as owner ended two years later when Edward S. Albright assumed ownership; however, Maret continued his "Notes & Clips" column until his death in 1936.

Recycling Center Is Now Open!!!

Rockcastle County is now offering a recycling drop-off program. Recyclables may be dropped off at the Rockcastle County Recycling Center on US 25 South (2528 South Windyhurst Rd.) during the hours of 7 a.m. until 3 p.m. Monday thru Friday (closed major holidays).

The following items may be recycled: Newspapers w/inserts, magazines, books & catalogs, office paper, junk mail, phone books, plastic bottles & jugs (#1-7) (any size soda and water bottles, laundry detergent jugs, bleach and fabric softener jugs, milk and water jugs, cooking oil bottles and jugs, shampoo bottles, dish liquid and alcohol bottles (please rinse out jugs), metal cans (rinsed), empty aerosol cans, aluminum cans, glass bottles and jars, sheet glass, ceramics, computers, radios, phones, vacuum cleaners, clocks, cameras, camcorders, vcr/dvd players and satellite boxes.

Rechargeable batteries such as those found in: cordless power tools, cellular phones (the whole phone can be recycled), cordless phones, laptop computers, digital cameras, two-way radios, camcorders and remote control toys. If it says rechargeable on it, then it's recyclable! Clean used motor oil may also be dropped off at the Rockcastle County Road Department during regular business hours.

Recycling trailers are also available at the following locations: City of Brodhead (gravel lot across from Citizens Bank), City of Livingston (gravel lot across from old Livingston Gymnasium), Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department (at Conway) and at the Pongo Volunteer Fire Department. The trailers will only be pulled out to empty them and will then be taken back to the same location. Please help us make this a successful venture by being clean and/or neat with our recycling habits. Do not put anything in the individual bins except what is labeled on them. Do not leave recyclables on the ground! If you drop something on the ground, pick it up. Absolutely no trash is to be put into the bins! Remember, camera surveillance is utilized in Rockcastle County and it is illegal to improperly dispose of trash.

If additional information is needed, you can call the Rockcastle County Solid Waste Office at 606-256-1902

In the above photo, Jeff Sheppard, former UK Wildcat and MVP of the 1998 NCAA Championship, and Sara Hammond, McDonald's All-American and KHSAA Miss Basketball who led Rockcastle County to a state championship this year, go head to head during the UNITE Shoot Hoops, Not Drugs basketball camp held at the middle school last Thursday. Each participant received a t-shirt and basketball during the three hour camp. At left, winners of two basketball goals given away during camp were 11-year-old Courtney Wren of Brodhead, right, and 13-year-old Rachael Davis of Pulaski County. Davis later donated the ball goal to another camp participant.

JROTC attend Leadership Camp

On May 29th twelve cadets in the Rockcastle County High School JROTC program traveled to the Junior Cadet Leadership Camp held at the Bluegrass Army Depot in Richmond Kentucky. The following cadets participated: Aaron Bagget, Aaron Mcarter, Adam Ramey, Amethyst Chiantaretto, Austin Smith, Crystin (Shania) Lawson, Heather Holden, Jacob Houk, Justin Houk, Mark Hupp, Shawn Osborne, and Tiffany Howard. Upon arrival at the Depot cadets were instructed to stay hydrated and drink water at all times to prevent any heat injuries. The first event the cadets participated in was a physical test called the Cadet Challenge. During this event cadets had one minute to do as many pushups and sit ups as possible, they were also timed on a one mile run. The second day of camp, cadets went to the Fort Boonesborough to learn about the history of early settlements in Kentucky. Cadets were divided into squads of thirteen or so people, and were tasked to answer questions about the fort. After departing from the settlement cadets would return to the depot to take a class on map reading and orienteering. At the end of the day cadets would have company intramurals which included several events, such as wheel-barrow racing, tug-o-war, crab walks, lunges, and burpees (a modified pushup). The third day cadets were transported to EKU, there cadets participated in the leadership reaction course, also known as the "low ropes" and the challenge course known as the "high ropes". As a team, cadets were assigned to work their way through several obstacles, cadets were encouraged to ride the zip-line, and swing from a 40 foot tower. There was also a rock-wall, rope course, and a broken log course otherwise known as the vertebra. After EKU, cadets would be transported to the Berea Fire Department for rappelling. Cadets rappelled off of a wall that was roughly 40 feet high. When cadets completed the rappelling course, they were transported back to the depot where they were taught map reading and orienteering. Then Cadets would team up to go through an orienteering course. The last event of the day cadets went through an event known as the Raider Challenge. Cadets were broken down into squads where they would work together as a team to get the entire squad through five different obstacles.

The fourth day of camp, cadets participated in water survival. For the first part of this event, cadets were put in a pool and given BDU pants (cold war era army-issued trousers) and were then instructed on how to make floatation devices out of the pants. The second event held at the pool would test their limits by jumping off of a diving board blind folded with a rifle in hand. This would let cadets experience what it would be like in a survival situation. After cadets ate lunch they headed to Lake Gem where they would conduct poncho rafting as well as pontoon rafting. In the poncho rafting event cadets made floatation devices out of two ponchos, 4 boot strings, and vegetation that surrounded the lake. In the pontoon rafting cadets learned how to raft using a pontoon and basic commands such as starboard and portside. After this cadets went back to the barracks and changed into ACU's (modern day combat uniform) and prepared for the silver musket ceremony. During the ceremony each cadet was presented with a silver musket to show their completion of JCLC. Following the award ceremony cadets marched back to their company area and into the barracks to prepare for the last day.

The last day of camp consisted of the battalion and company award ceremony; the following cadets were awarded the peer award: Justin Houk and Shania Lawson, symbolizing good communication and leadership skills within their squad. Justin Houk was also presented a P.T. award for being the third highest cadet overall during the P.T. test. Shawn Osborne was given the raider challenge award for being in the squad with the fastest time during the raider event. Last but not least Justin Houk was presented first place for

Cadet Justin Houk was recognized number one of two hundred cadets this year at the annual 2011 Junior Cadet Leadership Camp (JCLC). Houk along with seven other cadets reported to a Battalion Leadership Board where they had to perform two difficult tasks. He was selected for the battalion leadership award based on his excellent performance during the camp held at the Bluegrass Army Depot. Houk also received a peer, and Physical Training (PT) award.

Mamaw's Kitchen

By Regina Poynter Hoskins

CHERRY CHEESE DELIGHT

This was one of mine and my cousin's favorites when growing up. It still is.

2 cups Graham cracker crumbs
1 stick butter, melted
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
2 envelopes Dream Whip®
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 box (8 ounce) cream cheese, softened
1 cup sugar
1 can cherry pie filling
Mix together the Graham cracker crumbs, melted butter and powdered sugar. Press into 9 x 13 pan. Set aside.

Beat Dream Whip® with milk and vanilla until thick. Beat sugar and cream cheese until fluffy. Fold in Dream Whip®. Pour over crust. Spoon pie filling evenly over cream cheese mixture. Refrigerate.

CHERRY CHEESE PIE

1 package (8 ounce) cream cheese, softened
1 can Eagle Brand® condensed milk
1/3 cup fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 Graham cracker crumb crust (8-inch)
1 can cherry pie filling, chilled Beat cream cheese until light and fluffy. Add sweetened condensed milk and blend thoroughly. Stir in lemon juice and vanilla. Pour into crust. Chill 2 hours or until set. Top with desired pie filling before serving.

JOYCE ANN'S BAKED CHEESE CAKE

Joyce is Aunt Nita's oldest daughter and was the first one to bring this cheese cake version to our dinners. When I asked Teresa (Albright) what recipes she would like to see in this book, this was her immediate answer.

3 boxes (8 ounce each) cream cheese
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 eggs
2 graham cracker 8-inch crusts
1 pint sour cream
6 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat the cream cheese, 1 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each one. Divide between the 2 graham cracker crusts. Bake at 350° for 35 minutes. Remove from oven and let cool 5 minutes. Combine the sour cream, 6 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Spread over cheese cake and bake for another 5 minutes. Cool and refrigerate overnight.

Ty Herndon to be in Renfro Valley

Renfro Valley Entertainment Center is very proud to welcome country music great Ty Herndon to the Renfro Valley New Barn Theater for one show only at 7 p.m. on Saturday, July 30th.

Ty Herndon is a household name to country music fans due to his impressive string of hits that began in 1995 when Herndon's debut single, "What Mattered Most," rocketed to number one. With 17 singles that have landed him on the Billboard Hot Country Songs charts, numerous industry awards, and more than 4 million albums sold, one might think Herndon would be content to sit back and reflect on his career achievements. Instead, Herndon recently signed a new recording deal with FUNL Music. The Nashville label has announced Ty Herndon as its flagship artist, and released to radio "Journey On," the title single from his upcoming album.

For those who know him, Ty Herndon's passion and commitment to music is not surprising. Raised in Butler, Alabama, Herndon has been a professional entertainer since his teenage years. At age 17, he performed at OPRYLAND USA as a cast member of "Today's Country Roads." He went on to compete in the first season of the now iconic television series, "Star Search" and was a winner in the male-vocalist category. This accolade led to appearances on numerous television shows and commercials.

As a live performer, Ty Herndon gained popularity while playing the honky-tonks in Texas, and in 1993 he was named Texas Entertainer of the Year. That honor led to interest from Music Row and a record deal with Epic Records. Herndon made his chart debut in 1995 with "What Mattered Most," which became his first #1 song and garnered a Song of the Year award (Music Row Magazine). It was also the title track to his debut album, which debuted at #15 on the Billboard Top Country Albums chart and had the biggest first-week shipment in the history of Epic Records' Nashville.

Not long after his win as Best New Artist at the Country Radio Music Awards, Herndon felt the weight and pressures of success. In 1995, Herndon faced a very public battle with addiction and entered rehabilitation. As part of his personal healing process, Herndon reached out to others in need, donating his time and talents to organizations such as Make A Wish, St. Jude, and Feed the Children. Herndon's missteps, however, did not curtail his career. He topped the charts in 1996 with the single "Living in a Moment" and again in 1998 with "It Must Be Love." Between 1995 and 2002, Herndon charted 17 singles including his three number 1's and numerous top 10 hits such as "I Want My Goodbye Back," "Loved Too Much," "A Man Holding On (To a Woman Letting Go)," and "Hands of a Working Man."

Ty Herndon's journey doesn't end there, however, as FUNL Music has announced the June 8th release of his newest CD project. Journey On is being heralded as the most personal project of Herndon's career, due in large part to the fact that the CD represents his first foray into songwriting. "The people who believed in me and my talent made me even more serious about writing this album," Herndon says, "There was so much I wanted to say to fit where I find myself spiritually and emotionally, and I wanted to sing about that."

The songs on this project reflect the personal challenges and struggles Herndon has faced and conquered, as well as bring the listener the promise of hope and new beginnings. The title track from the album will serve as the first single and is impacting radio now. Herndon began touring in support of the project in June 2010.

For tickets and information please contact the Renfro Valley Box Office at 1-800-765-7464 or purchase your tickets online at www.renfrovalley.com Renfro Valley Entertainment Center is located at exit 62 off of Interstate 75 and is proudly known as "Kentucky's Country Music Capital!"

Fluids important in managing heat safely

Family and Consumer Sciences

Hazel Jackson

Rockcastle County Extension Office

In recent years, reusable water bottles have taken on stylish new looks, but making a fashion statement pales in comparison to the value of the life-saving role fluids play in reducing risks from too much summertime heat and humidity. Drinking eight to 12 cups of fluid a day is recommended under normal circumstances to replenish essential body fluids, and more is needed as summer temperatures and humidity rise.

We sometimes forget that 55 to 75 percent of the body's weight is water; the brain is 70 percent water; blood is 82 percent water, and the lungs are nearly 90 percent water. Water carries nutrients and oxygen to cells; cushions organs, tissue, bones and joints; removes waste; and regulates body temperature. In high heat, humidity, and times of high activity, such as working outdoors or participating in athletic activities, water is lost through perspiration, which helps cool the body through the evaporation of fluids on the skin.

Exposure to the sun or a sunburn will speed fluid loss, and so will drinking beverages containing caffeine or alcohol, which both act as diuretics. Excessive water loss or dehydration can impair body function and lead to heat exhaustion and/or heat stroke that can be life threatening. Fluid replacement is essential, but it's best to not wait until you're thirsty. Most people often become slightly dehydrated before they become thirsty.

Checking to see if your body is well hydrated is easy. If urine is pale yellow in color, fluids intake are likely adequate. If urine is dark yellow or appears concentrated, more fluids are needed.

Water is recommended for the majority of the fluid replacement because it is readily absorbed; cool water is preferred because it is absorbed more readily than warm, hot or ice water. Other good sources of fluids include milk, 100 percent fruit juice, low-sodium vegetable juices and foods that have a high water content, such as melons and other fruits, tomatoes and other vegetables, and soups, smoothies, puddings, gelatin salads and other foods made with milk, fruit juices or broths.

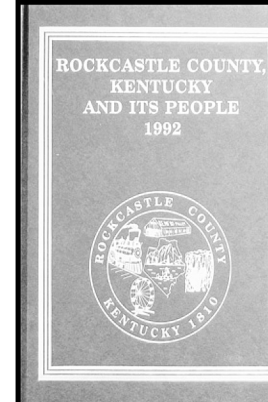

Beverages that contain caffeine, including coffee, tea and some soft drinks, or alcohol act as a diuretic that speeds fluid loss. So these are not recommended as essential fluid replacements. For drinks that contain caffeine, only half of the amounts of these beverages be counted towards total fluid replacement.

Sports beverages may be helpful for athletes who are exercising more than one hour and are in need of lost electrolytes and quick energy. Consider diluting sports drinks with an equal part of water to help replenish fluids and reduce calories. Low-fat chocolate milk also can be a good fluid replacement for athletes. Keep in mind that sugary sports drinks or carbonated beverages can add unnecessary calories.

Before working in the heat, exercising or participating in athletics, drink 14 to 22 ounces of cool water. Drink additional water, about 1-1/2 cups of water every 15-20 minutes during exertion. Parents need to make sure that children take frequent water breaks. Children should drink about one-half cup after each 15 minutes of activity.

Older adults need to drink fluids, even if they are not thirsty. The ability to sense thirst declines over the years, leaving older people unable to rely on their thirst to prompt them to drink enough fluids. The and taking occasional breaks. All of these can help to help minimize the effects of heat and humidity.

The Saturday Morning Beginning Mosaic Class at Church Street Art Gallery & Studio for 3rd through 5th graders has come to an end. There were seven students who successfully completed the series of eight classes. Last Saturday the students celebrated their achievements by decorating and sharing a mosaic cake. Afterwards, certificates were given to the students as their projects were showcased. Family members were present to share in the celebration of their success. In the above photo, Jana Singleton, left, and Hannah Davis put the finishing touches on the mosaic cake that students ate during the celebration. At right, students display their certificates of completion. Janine Norman is currently teaching classes on mosaics, along with Joanne Guilfoil who is teaching painting classes at the Church Street Art Gallery & Studio.

"JROTC Leadership Camp"

the overall leadership award in the entire battalion, consisting of 200 cadets, meaning he demonstrated the highest overall leadership of all the cadets attending JCLC this year.

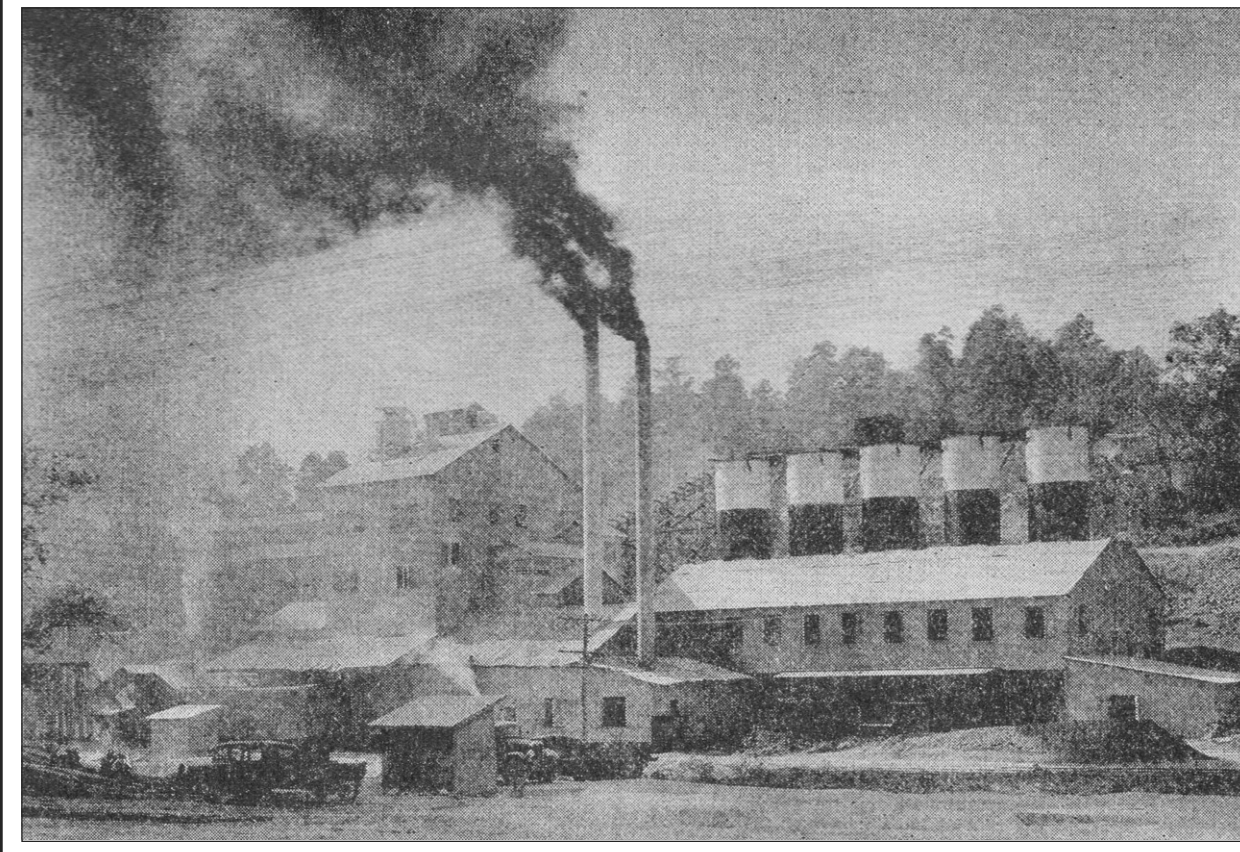

Overall the camp was challenging and the heat sure made it difficult, but every cadet who participated gave their best forth effort and succeeded in completing JCLC. As a whole the cadets who attended gained more leadership and better communication skills that will benefit the entire JROTC program in the years to come.

A special thanks to Mrs. Holly Robinson for chaperoning the cadets attending this year's JCLC, her support of the program is greatly appreciated.

Blast From the Past!!!

This week's photograph is of the Pine Hill Lime & Stone Company taken in 1939. It was located on the Lime Plant Road at Pine Hill. A railroad spur ran from the Pine Hill Depot to the plant site. The roadbed of the spur is still visible as well as the ruins of the old stone crusher and the quarry pit. At its height it employed over 800 people. If you have a photo for Blast from the Past!!! Contact David Owens at 606-256-9870 or scoopowens24@yahoo.com.

My name is Garry Baker and this is my story.

When I was 14 years old I woke up one morning with a little red ring on my chest. Daddy went to drug store and the pharmacist thought it was a ring worm and gave daddy some of that old blue medicine to put on it. It didn't get any better and kept spreading.

About 10 years later I went to see another doctor. It was about the size of a half a dollar. He gave me some more medicine to put on it.

Over the next years I just kept dressing it and putting salves on it. It continued to spread all across my chest. Me and my wife, Geneva had to buy sheets from the mini mall to make dressings for it.

My wife wanted me to go to the wound care center at Saint Joseph - Berea and see what they could do for me. After visiting there, I was scheduled for surgery. The mass from my chest was removed and they did a skin graft. Over the next several weeks my wound gradually healed.

Saint Joseph Wound Center has changed my life. I used to have to be careful when I was around people because I didn't want anyone to see it. Now I can get up of a morning, get dressed and not worry about anything. The ladies at the mini mall in Berea tell me now that no one comes in to buy sheets there anymore.

I'm just glad to finally have answers and have this problem taken care of after 49 years.
