Two sides to the wet/dry issue

By: Doug Ponder
On Tuesday April 3rd, Rockcastle County citizens will head to the polls to vote on whether or not to become a "wet" county.

The wet/dry vote has caused a division among many Rockcastle Countians as those who are for and against the sale of alcohol have been aggressively campaigning by advertising, writing letters to the editor, putting up signs and holding planning meetings.

Many who are against alcohol sales in the county have been attending a prayer meeting every Thursday that has been hosted by different churches in the county since February 16th.

David Sargent, Pastor at Freedom Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon, is among many that attended the prayer meetings and is also against alcohol being sold in Rockcastle County.

"If the wet/dry vote were to pass, it would have a negative impact on our county," Sargent said. "It is not a political or economic issue but it's instead an issue for our community's safety."

Sargent also said that alcohol sales alone would not give us more dining choices or be profitable to our community.

"Restaurants like Applebee's and Red Lobster aren't even in some of the smaller counties that are wet," Sargent said.

However some people disagree and believe that alcohol will be beneficial to Rockcastle's economy and will also bring more restaurant choices to our county.

Steve Taylor, owner of EST Tool and Machine Incorporated, said that growing up in Dayton, Ohio that he never knew of a place that was actually considered to be "dry" growing up.

"I was taken aback about this being a dry county when my family and I moved

BAC receives first grant of $10,000

The Brodhead Alliance Committee held their monthly meeting on March 23rd. Concerning the increased attendance at the meetings, Danny McKinney, BAC Chairman, commented, "I am impressed and encouraged by the amount of enthusiasm that I have seen in the community for this committee. I feel there are many things that we can accomplish together."

The BAC has received their first grant for $10,000 from the ARC FlexEGrant program through The Center for Rural Development in Somerset. McKinney and Brodhead Mayor Walter Lee Cash will be attending a ceremony and luncheon at The Center on Friday, March 30th to accept the award.

The grant will be used to create the Brodhead Strategic Plan and create a website for Brodhead.

The committee is continuing their organizational efforts by establishing a board of directors. The remaining board members and terms will be established at the next monthly meeting on April 27th at 2:30pm at Brodhead Elementary School.

The Design Committee reported they will be coordinating a Clean-up in the downtown area in April. April is PRIDE Clean-up month and PRIDE will be handing out t-shirts to the Charges of vandalism of signs from both sides of the wet/dry issue have been flying in recent days. The only evidence we have found is the sign above located at the intersection of the 461 bypass and W. Main St. There have been numerous claims of Vote No signs being stolen as well.

Sparse crowd attends ABC Town Forum

By: Perlina Anderkin
A sparse crowd of about 50 attended Monday night's Town Forum which gave information about what the result would be for the county should the Yes vote win in next Tuesday's Wet/Dry election.

The Forum is not mandated by law, as the Signal was told earlier. Rather, it is a public service presentation offered by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control's Commissioner Tony Dehner and must be requested by a local official.

County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis, who welcomed the crowd and introduced Mr. Dehner, said he had made the invitation for education purposes. "I have heard a lot on the street that is worth about zero," Carloftis said.

Dehner told those attending that his department was "totally neutral" on the issue and, in fact, the licensing department would just as soon the measure not pass since they were very busy with a spate of new licenses that were presently being issued.

There are currently about 10,000 active licenses in the state, Dehner said, and these licenses are monitored by 28 investigators, three su-

Police force in Red Hill Monday explained

By: Perlina Anderkin
Residents of the Red Hill area were confused and concerned Monday when a large force of Richmond Police and State Police officers, including a SWAT team, were in the area.

It was found later that they were there because they had been led to believe that the bodies of a black Richmond couple, murdered over a year ago whose bodies were never found, were buried in the area. The same two law enforcement agencies spent hours on Monday at a home in Berea, digging in a backyard fire pit.

man Darren Allen told the Signal Tuesday that two bodies were found in a field in Madison County and police are waiting for information from the State Medical Examiner's Office in Frankfort to confirm the identity of the bodies.

The bodies are believed to be those of Charles Walker and his girlfriend Sorsaray Warford, both of Richmond, missing for over a year.

Relatives of Warford reported her missing from her home and she has not been seen or heard from since late

One of Michael's earliest memories is of riding a paddle wheel ferry boat down the Mississippi that was captained by his Papaw. His adored Mamaw Loving instilled in him the values and integrity that are so important to Michael.

But by age eight, music had overtaken his life and Michael found himself under the spotlight on stage with his legendary father. Michael knew right then

The Way I See it

By Doug Ponder

With this being the last issue of the Signal before the big wet/dry vote on Tuesday, people have been asking me all week if I was going to write my column about the vote. I have replied to everyone with a quick "NO! I wouldn't touch the wet/dry vote issue with a ten-foot pole."

But after pondering the issue for a while, I couldn't resist writing about it. After all, this will probably be one of the biggest issues our county will face in 2012.

However, I am not writing in favor of or against the issue. It's not my place to try and persuade anybody one way or the other. I'm not going to give you any DUI statistics, tell you how alcohol sales will boost our economy, how we will get more restaurants in our county if they are allowed to sell alcohol, etc.

Although I am going to share the most primary lesson I learned about the issue of alcohol.

When I was nine, I remember one particular Sunday afternoon when my dad and one of his friends were fixing our hot water heater in our basement.

My dad's friend had a cooler full of beer and was having "a few to drink" while he was helping my dad.

After the hot water heater was fixed and my dad's friend had left, my dad was throwing away a few of the empty beer cans they had forgotten to throw away. Feeling like he probably had to say something, he turned to me and said, "it's pointless for me to tell you not to drink, because you will." He said, "But always promise me to never make it your life and never let it define who you are as a person!"

Even though I was only nine, I understood exactly what my dad was trying to teach me and I can honestly say I have never broken that promise I made to him on that day.

The moment alcohol becomes a bad thing in someone's life is when it is the only thing people can identify themselves by. That's when they begin to allow it to control them by using it as a replacement for other things in life or a solution to problems they are facing in their life.

This same message is also conveyed in one of my favorite Country music singers Kenny Chesney's song "The Good Stuff."

Remembering Lye Soap

An article from an old magazine recently caught my eye and took me back in time. It was a discussion about the pros and cons of lye soap. Immediately, the image of my mother stirring a pot came to mind. The pot was huge because she produced enough soap to last us for most of the year. I was only six-years-old and the year was 1950. Soap-making with her special formula was held in conjunction with the timing of Pop's hog-killing in late fall. That soap was used for a diversity of household uses.

In anticipation of the fall and the incumbent proceedings for cremating soap, my grandfather saved the ashes from both our wood and coal stoves, which heated our house. Each day when Pop took the ash pan from under the stoves, he poured the ashes into a large barrel in order to provide Bee with the necessary ingredients.

A few days before Bee was to begin, Pop would sift through the ashes from the stoves in order to separate the white ash material from the black, hard pieces of charcoal. The white ashes were placed into a large bucket which had a small hole in the side of the bottom. Next, he poured a couple of gallons of hot rain water into the bucket of ashes to allow the water to leach out the lye water. Pop always warned Bee and Mommie Katie about the caustic nature of the lye solution. If the soap was going to be used for laundry detergent or as a cleaning agent, the water was poured again through the ash container.

One way to test the water was to dip a chicken feather into the liquid. If the feather began to dissolve, then the lye was strong enough. (From an old chemistry teacher's viewpoint, the solution was basically an alkali solution or sodium hydroxide.)

The next step was to boil the fat from the hog-killing process in a large iron kettle over an open fire. Bee used a long, wooden ladle to remove any hard pieces from the mixture. Almost all day long she kept vigil over the rendering of the lard; she understood just how important that solution was going to be to our family over the next several months. Both she and my grandmother would use the lard to flavor most of our meals. The leftover concoction was to be used in the preparation of lye soap.

Bee skimmed off the smoothest lard and placed it into an enameled pan, which she heated until the lard became a liquid. It was then time to add the lye water to the mixture and for the stirring to begin. When the solution began to thicken, she allowed it to cool before slicing it into bars.

I am not too sure that we were aware of the medicinal uses of the product. When used as bath soap, it was good for sensitive skin, clearing acne and other skin ailments, and it certainly eliminated body odors. It was also used in a paste form to eliminate burning and itching caused from poison ivy, chiggers, ticks, sunburn, and athlete's foot. It actually made your skin softer, caused your hair to shine, and eliminated dandruff. [One source indicated that lye soap could be tied inside an old sock and hung near the doors of your home to keep snakes, spiders, and roaches away from the house - I might have to try this for myself!]

When thinking about this topic for a column, I mentioned the idea to one of my most delightful and accomplished friends, Sara Combs. She quickly became excited, saying that her mother, Lucille Walter, also made lye soap. "Mother

Loretta here, playing secretary to one-armed Ike. While I'm on the subject, I will add that I am beginning to belatedly pity Terry Lucas who was his full time secretary for many years. I doubt that anybody envied Terry her job. Anyway, here goes impatient Ike dictating this week's column.

Due to various reasons, when 6:00 p.m. rolled around on the day I had my stroke, I had not had a bite to eat over the previous 24 hours. Sometime between 6:00 and 7:00 they got me from the MRI torture chamber back up to room 544 where I found a roll-around table with a black serving tray in the middle. Said tray contained a glass with 4 ounces of milk, a black saucer with some wilted lettuce on it, what turned out to be a black plate covered with a black lid, a huge black paper napkin, stainless knife and fork and some tiny packs of condiments.

The plate was adorned with small helpings of overcooked, unseasoned carrots and green beans and a small portion of something mysterious that looked and tasted like Swiss steak made out of play dough. Lo spread a small packet of Russian dressing over the lettuce and sliced the mystery meat into half a dozen bite-size pieces. Dinner was served and I devoured every tiny morsel. Loretta would not let me lick a tiny dab or two of dressing still left on the salad saucer.

After I had finished eating Lo went downstairs to eat in the cafeteria. She reported back that the food was excellent down there. She also had a bag of vending machine pretzels that she intended to snack on. She turned her back and I noticed that they were open. Suffice to say her pretzels disappeared.

By 9 p.m. I was exhausted so I went to sleep and dreamed of breakfast. The dream contained visions of huge biscuits covered with gravy, several eggs over light, pork chops, a carafe of tomato juice and a pot of coffee.

I was awake by 6 a.m. and for the next hour I anxiously watched the door as I waited for the breakfast server to appear. I actually

Myth: "Alcohol sales will generate a lot of revenue for the county."

The fact is. Local taxes on alcohol sales are regulated by KRS243-025, 242.185, 243.075 and 243.070 and fees can only be used for administration and enforcement of alcohol beverage control laws. This election alone will cost Rockcastle County several thousands of dollars that could be put to better use.

Our Readers Write

Yes vote would mean great change...

Citizens of Rockcastle County, As you may or may not know, our beloved county is facing a vote on April 3rd. It is not just a vote bringing you a glass of wine with your meal at one of the "promised" new eating establishments that we have been told will come. Nor is it just the mug of beer with your pizza, like Lancaster has. This vote, if passed, does promise great change in our county and to our communities.

Our small town appeal is on its way out. It has only been in the past decade, with the increased drug use in our county, that we have had to lock our doors. If this vote passes, we are likely not just to be able to have a "drink" with our meals if we so choose, but to have a Honkey Tonk across from your local pharmacy or a package store on your daily walk route or next door to your church.

We live in Rockcastle County because we like it the way it is. Many of us drive to Richmond or Lexington to work, but live here because we enjoy the slow pace. We shop in Lexington, Richmond, London, Somerset and Danville to get away for a while, but we come back HOME.

On April 3rd, your home could start to drastically change and your community, where you walk with your children and grandchildren will become a street with Honkey Tonks and liquor stores. Because some selfish people with $$ in their eyes thought they could catch your sleeping or too busy to take a long term, thoughtful look at the real consequences of the wet/dry vote on April 3rd. A "yes" vote is what "they" want but what do you want? So, before voting day, take a drive through our lovely county and envision what it will be if you vote yes. It won't be progress it will be regression right back to the Wild, Wild, West and Tombstone, just watch the Lexington news every day.

Everyone who wants to drink or wants a drink with their meal can continue doing what they are doing now and then can come back home to our small town and communities.

Thank you for your attention,

Michael and Jennifer Cash

What Would Jesus Do?....

Dear Editor,

WWJD? Since whom ever put up the "YES" sign asking that question by sighting Matt 26:29, which refers to the Communion of my Lord, Jesus Christ, we know Jesus' response from Matt 22:29, "Jesus answered...you are mistaken, not understanding the Scriptures nor the power of God."

The entire Word is our guide to WWJD - 2 Tim. 3:16-17. It would be wise to consider: Proverbs 20:1; 23:29-35; 31:4-5; Isaiah 5:11; 28:7 just to name a few passages.

God is not mocked, and those who put up the sign should also re-consider the misuse of His Word. "Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; who substitute darkness for light and light for darkness; who substitute bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter. Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes and clever in their own sight! Woe to those who are heroes in drinking wine and valiant men in mixing strong drink, who justify the wicked for a bribe, and take away the rights of the ones who are in the right!" (Isaiah 5:20-23)

Sincerely,
Allison Reynolds

The Effects of Alcohol on the Family...

Dear Editor,

The most commonly abused drug among youth in the U.S. is alcohol. In 2008, approximately 190,000 persons under the age of 21 made visits to the emergency room for injuries and other conditions all linked to alcohol. In 2009, one survey found that 37% of 8th graders and 72% of 12th graders had tried alcohol. Also, 15% of 8th graders and 44% of 12th graders drank alcohol during the past month. Unfortunately, those youth who choose to drink are likely to experience so many unwanted consequences including: changes in their brain development that may have life-long effects, legal problems, school/social problems, memory deficiencies, abuse of other drugs,

Myth: "Alcohol affects all people in the same way and to the same extent"

The fact is, alcohol affects all people differently. This is due to the interaction of factors associated with the drug itself (amount, strength, how quickly consumed), the person (health, personality, mood, body size, sex, and age), and the environment (being alone, with friends or family) where the alcohol is consumed.

unprotected sexual activity and even death from alcohol poisoning.

The family system is a vital part of the development of a child. As alcohol invades the family structure so many negative consequences come into play. It is estimated that 6.6 million children under age 18 are living in a home with at least one alcoholic parent. These children are at risk for a range of emotional, behavioral and cognitive problems. The feelings of insecurity and confusion overcome the child because communication is unclear.

So many youth today experience confusion because of the instability and chaos that happens day after day in their families. There is a higher prevalence of depression, low self-esteem, anxiety, suicide attempts, and eating disorders among children of alcoholics than with their peers. Furthermore, children of alcoholics are 3-4 times more likely than others to become addicted to alcohol themselves.

Working as a counselor, I often see the life-long emotional pain that children experience when their parents abuse alcohol/drugs. I myself have seen and know the devastating effects of alcohol and drug abuse and what it can do to a family. Remember alcohol is no respecter of persons; it can happen to every class of people. No one intends to be an alcoholic; no one wants to cause pain to their loved ones. It is never too late to get help and start rebuilding your life. If you are finding yourself in a situation where you know you need help, please reach out to someone who can help. Resources available include: Comprehensive Care Center 606-256-2129, UNITE Treatment Program 1-800-908-6483, CAP Counseling Center 606-256-5623.

Encourage voters to vote yes...

Dear Editor,

I encourage voters to go to the polls on April 3rd and vote YES for the sale of alcohol. The city of Williamsburg had their election last week and won by 14 votes. It is important for the people that want to see this passed go to the polls to cast their vote. Exercise your right as a citizen of the United States to speak clearly with your vote allowing this to pass.

As I read the full page ad by the opposing side, one word caught my attention that was in the headline. The word was MAY. Following the heading is a list of things that they believe MAY occur if alcohol sales are allowed in Rockcastle County. However, there is no data or statistics that would prove these things included on their list. This caused me to begin looking into the possibilities they suggested in other communities that have elected to go wet.

I started researching the issues and found many articles in The Advocate-Messenger, Danville's newspaper that showed that these claims were actually the opposite of what the opposition would have us believe. The Danville Assistant Police Chief stated himself that there had not been an increase in DUI's after the election. He also discussed the many benefits of the additional revenue that has been recognized by the police department in his interview.

The Corbin Times Tribune confirmed that DUI's had actually decreased in Corbin and London after those communities went wet. The article references the Kentucky State Police Annual Reports that confirmed the decrease in DUI's. I also discovered that Domestic Violence decreased in communities that have gone wet, attributed to the fact that the travel time being decreased contributed to this drop in numbers.

I found no data or statistics supporting any of the other issues claimed in the ad by those opposing the sale of alcohol, because it does not exist. The ad asks that we consider the "future of our families" when casting our votes and I am in full agreement. A YES vote will offer our children opportunities to remain in Rockcastle County and work at the jobs that will be provided. I do not believe that anything is a quick fix, but this is one positive step toward putting together a strategic plan for a progressive future for Rockcastle County. Vote YES on April 3rd!

Shaunna Stevens
Mt. Vernon, Ky.

The right thing to do is vote no...

Dear Editor,

I'd like to take a few minutes to express my sincere hopes that the majority of Rockcastle County's registered voters, who I believe to be well versed in the difference between right and wrong, will make their way to the polls on April 3rd and cast their vote against the proposal to make Rockcastle County a wet county. There are many false statements being tossed about during this controversy over whether or not the sale of alcoholic beverages should be made legal within the county. Please don't be fooled by those who would lie to you in order to get your vote in favor of an ordinance that, once in place, will never be repealed. Even if it were, the damage would have already been done and will not be reversible. I'd like to take a few moments to clarify at least a couple of the points in question.

1. The falsehood being offered that the increased tax revenue from the sale of alcohol within the county will be a windfall to the community. This is absolutely not so. The law makes it clear that any increased tax money derived from the sale of alcohol within the jurisdiction SHALL be used to pay for the increased regulation and policing that the sale of alcohol shall make necessary. What does that tell us about what those higher ups know is to be expected from making the county wet? It tells us to expect a lot more problems and to expect to need more police action in order to keep things in check. None of this money will go to schools, roads, or bridge repair. If someone told you otherwise, they lied to you.

2. The falsehood being offered that the legalized sales of alcohol within the county will bring in more jobs. Again, not so. All that we must do is look at surrounding areas, such as London, which is now moist but voted against going "wet".

The few venues within the London city limits that are eligible to sell alcohol by the drink, in every case that I have investigated, were already in place before the town went "moist". How many more such restaurants have since located to, or added locations in, London? I won't ruin the surprise for you but if one does a even a little bit of investigative work for themselves, they will find another point on which they have been lied to by those promising that legalized alcohol sales will be the answers to all of the county's revenue problems.

Then we have the argument that we're not going to stop drinking within the county, no matter what we do. I can't argue with the truth in that statement. When we consider the lives that have already been lost prematurely to drunken driving accidents, the families that have been torn apart by members with drinking problems, and we could go on and on and on here.....it might be true that we won't stop drinking altogether. I would ask this though, how many lives will be saved by making the obtaining of alcohol a quicker and easier proposition?

The good people of Rockcastle County are about to step onto a very slippery slope if they vote in favor of legalized alcohol sales. Those who would just love to see pot and other mind altering substances legitimized and legalized so that they can sell them to your children and/or grandchildren are just sitting back and watching to see how this vote comes out. Think that is a scare tactic? No, it isn't. Look at the world around you today. Many pushers focus largely on underage potential customers because, as a general rule, young people will give in more easily to pressure to try these substances. In many cases, these young people are receiving pressure from their peers at the same time. Those who do manage to avoid the trap seem, often, to be in the minority. Make alcohol sales in Rockcastle County legal and you send the message that the rest of the mind altering garbage also has a shot at gaining acceptance here.

While I don't currently reside in Rockcastle County myself, I attend church here and my family roots run deep within the county. Four generations deep on my Leger side (Climax and Clear Creek areas of the county) and at least as many on my Ramey side. (Clear Creek/Disputanta region of the county) I hold great affection for this community and care very much what happens to it and its people and I make no apologies for that stance.

As my church's pastor recently reminded us, if we see an opportunity to do right and fail to do so, we have done wrong ourselves. The right thing to do in this case is to vote NO on April 3rd to legalized alcohol sales within Rockcastle County. If you don't see reason enough to do it for the good of the county today, please, do it for the children growing up here now and those yet to make their appearance. They'll thank you later when history bears out that it was, indeed, the right move to make on this issue.

Vision, dental discounts added to Co-op Card

Jackson Energy's Co-op Connections card can now save you even more. The card that offers discounts at local merchants and has saved Jackson Energy members more than $125,000 on prescriptions now offers savings on local dental and vision care.

President & CEO Don Schaefer says the new Healthy Savings package is available at no cost to members who can print a paper card from www.healthysavings.coop, and show it at participating providers along with their plastic Co-op Connections card. Members can also be able to pick up labels to put on the back of their Connections card at Jackson Energy offices. The labels and printed paper cards contain the codes area medical providers need to offer discount services.

Currently, there are only dental and vision providers in the Jackson Energy area who offer discounts with the program. This new benefit is part of a commitment to help members save money during challenging economic times.

To locate providers who participate in the Healthy Savings program, call 800.800.7616 with your card handy or visit www.healthysavings.coop.

Savings examples include 10 to 60 percent off eye-glasses, contact lenses and eye exams and 20 to 40 percent discounts on a range of dental care services. Dental discounts are provided by Humana Dental and vision discounts are through Coast to Coast Vision.

"Many insurance plans do not include provisions for dental and vision care," Schaefer says, "and the new Healthy Savings package offers these savings at no-cost to our members." Members who do not have access to the internet can also call the Jackson Energy to request to have a card mailed to their home.

Generally, no producer on a farm that has a total of 10 base acres or less shall be eligible to receive payments on that farm, as determined by the Secretary. However, such a prohibition does not apply to a farm that is wholly owned by a socially disadvantaged or limited resource farmer or rancher. If the farm is owned by a legal entity, such as a corporation, each member of the entity must be a socially disadvantaged or limited resource farmer or rancher. Socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers and limited resource farmers and ranchers are defined as:

(1) Socially disadvantaged farmer or rancher: a farmer or rancher who is a member of a group whose members have been subjected to racial, ethnic, or gender prejudice because of their identity as members of group without regard to their individual qualities.

(2) Limited resource farmer or rancher: a farmer or rancher meets both of the following:

(a) Directly or indirectly has gross farm sales not more than $163,200 in both of the previous 2 years;

and (b) The adjusted gross income for the previous 2 years (2009 and 2010) on the IRS form 1040 was $22,350 or less for Rockcastle Co.

NATIONAL CHILD ABUSE PREVENTION

Today's children are Kentucky's future leaders, parents and workers. Our state's future prosperity depends on their healthy development and growth. With the support of engaged communities and nurturing families, all of Kentucky's children can thrive and have the opportunity to grow into caring, contributing and healthy adults. Community Collaboration for Children reminds Kentuckians that helping our communities and families create healthy, nurturing environments for children is one of the best investments Kentucky can make.

Preventing child abuse and neglect will take all of our efforts -- from policy-makers to parents -- to ensure our children have the foundation to become tomorrow's leaders. Community Collaboration for Children provides prevention based in-home services to the community.

Together, we act as educators working to heighten public awareness of the need for caring communities to promote healthy child development and what Kentuckians can do for our next generation; partners organizing concerned citizens and groups to join forces and leverage resources to prevent child maltreatment; catalysts advocating for important programs and policies that help communities support parents and help parents raise healthy children; and trainers providing professionals and volunteers with the essential skills and knowledge to help parents and communities prevent child abuse and neglect.

Together, with the support of Kentucky citizens, professionals and decision-makers, we are working to ensure Kentucky's youngest citizens grow up in nurturing homes and responsive communities.

place some of the necessary items lost by the children. Each elementary school child who lost their home was asked to make a list of things they wish they could have replaced right then. Restore West Liberty took that list and replaced some of the things the children listed.

You might be surprised that the things the children wanted back were not games or electronics, most of them wanted their favorite stuffed animal replaced or a doll. Some wanted shoes and others wanted things like jackets or other clothing items and for some it was a baseball cap of their favorite team.

The group was very appreciative of the donation and would like to thank all who gave.

volunteers. Bryan Bussell will be conducting a safety class prior to the clean-up.

The BAC Car Show is scheduled for April 21st in downtown Brodhead. Awards will be given to the top winners in each category. The Promotions Committee is coordinating the event and would welcome anyone interested in volunteering. Please contact David Collins or Charlie Napier. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the show!

The BAC voted unanimously to support the L&N 21/22 Line Trail project proposed by the Promotions Committee. The City of Brodhead, in partnership with the BAC, will be submitting a $100,000 Parks and Recreation grant for the proposed project. The BAC decided that an additional committee would be formed to oversee the project.

A public meeting was held to propose the L&N 21/22 Line Trail project to the citizens of Brodhead on March 22nd. The meeting was well attended and there were many positive comments and reactions to the planned trail. The PowerPoint presentation, and other materials, are available to anyone interested. You may contact Holly Hopkins or Danny McKinney with any questions regarding the proposed trail.

The BAC voted to submit an application to be designated as a Trail Town by the Kentucky Adventure Tourism Office. The committee felt that with the efforts that are being made in the community that the designation would be a natural progression.

Elaine Wilson, Executive Director, Adventure Tourism will be working with the BAC on moving toward this goal.

The Economic Restructuring Committee has been creating an inventory of local businesses and assets in the community. They are exploring grant opportunities that will be offered for improvements to a variety of areas. The committee is also exploring sites for new signage for Brodhead.

The BAC will be moving their monthly meeting day beginning in May. The meeting will be held on Monday, May 21st at 2:30 p.m. at the Brodhead Elementary School. The meetings will continue to be the third Monday of the month following this meeting.

that this was where he wanted to spend the rest of his life.

To Michael Twitty, entertaining an audience has become just as easy as having a conversation with friends. Consequently, Michael often changes his planned song list, saying he prefers to read the audience and give them exactly what they want. Whether it is country top 40, old time rock and roll, country classics or classic Conway, Michael instinctively knows what each audience will enjoy most. And one successful show after the other has proven that Michael Twitty does indeed know how to read an audience. Michael truly possesses a rare ability to reach out and establish a very special relationship with his fans. As did Conway, Michael can take an audience inside the music.

Whether it is the tender meaning of a soulful ballad, or the frenzied excitement of a rockin', stompin' dance tune, Michael's audiences live each song along with this irresistible entertainer. His infectious energy, tremendous vocal ability, and timely wit positively keep audiences on the edge of their seat for the entire performance and on their feet at the close of his show.

Michael Twitty has taken his show around the world several times, from the dynamic “Michael Twitty Show,” to the critically acclaimed “Memories of Conway Show,” to the remarkable “Twitty Bird Show.”

His many television appearances, video releases and recordings have brought him even more recognition on an international level. From Canada to Japan, Michael Twitty has won fans time and time again.

Recently, Michael has been taking his “Memories of Conway” show to various casinos and theaters around the country. Michael takes you down memory lane, while he shares his thoughts of his Dad in story and song. He will make you laugh, make you cry and he will definitely entertain you.

supervisors an investigation manager, assistant director and director. And, each liquor establishment in the state is visited at least once a year by an investigator, Dehner said.

The commissioner also said that his department takes the regulation of alcohol sales “very seriously” operating on a “Zero Tolerance” as to the sale of alcohol to minors, going so far as to place undercover investigators in the stores at times to monitor sales.

If a violation is found, the clerk making the sale is cited to criminal district court and the licensee has to appear before the ABC board, which Dehner heads, and can be fined $1,250 to over $10,000 and, in some cases, have his license revoked completely. The board issued fines of approximately $436,000 in 2009 and $589,000 in 2010.

Dehner said that the compliance rate, as to the non-sale to minors, has increased from 68% in 1997 to 94% in 2010.

The commissioner also told the group that only “technical” questions would be taken after the presentation.

Dehner then turned the meeting over to Humphress for the Power Point Presentation.

According to Humphress, state statute provides that the results of the election will become effective 60 days after the election is certified and, if the measure passes, the county will become “wet” after 60 days.

Rockcastle County’s quota for retail package liquor stores, because of its population of between 16,500 and 17,000, will be seven. These package stores will be able to sell distilled spirits (hard liquor) and wine but cannot be located in a grocery or convenience store, unless a separate area is established adjacent to the store that is not accessible from inside the store. And, of course, drinking on the premises of a package liquor store is not permitted nor are Sunday sales, from midnight Saturday.

Anyone wanting to open a package liquor store outside the city limits must prove that substantial aggregations of population would otherwise not have reasonable access to a licensed vendor and the premises are used exclusively for the sale of distilled spirits and wine by the package and malt beverages (beer). License fees run from $800 to $1000 for a package liquor store and this money goes to county government. Of course, there is also a state fee levied.

Because Mt. Vernon is a 5th class city, “hard liquor” cannot be sold in restaurants. Restaurant Wine by the Drink licenses will be available and permits wine by the drink sales only at restaurants with a minimum seating capacity of 50 and requires that the restaurant maintain food sales of 50% of its gross sales.

Retail Malt Beverage (beer) licenses will also be available and authorize the sale of beer by the package or by the drink. Beer licenses may be issued to stores that sell gas so long as the station maintains an inventory of $5,000 in food, groceries and related products. There is no quota for retail beer licenses which are $500 for the county besides the state fee.

Retail beer licenses also permit consumption of beer by the drink on the premises.

And, of course, because Mt. Vernon is only a 5th Class City, no bars will be permitted.

Humphress said that temporary licenses, for fairs, festivals, community events, etc., could also be issued for not more than 30 days for beer and wine sales only.

As to who may hold a liquor license, qualifications include: a citizen, over 21 years of age with no conflicting criminal background, corporate and limited liability entities and non-profit entities.

Licenses can be refused if the applicant has been convicted of a felony within five years, a controlled substance crime within two years, convicted of two alcoholic beverage-related misdemeanors within two years and of course the applicant must be 21 years of age.

Locations of licensed premises can also be restricted as to location -- too near schools, etc.

And, Humphress said, public sentiment can play a part in the refusal of a license, along with the number of licensed outlet in the area, potential for future growth, type of area involved, etc.

The applicant must advertise by publication of his intention to apply for the license in the Signal and the public has 30 days from that date to file a protest with the ABC.

The notice must include the name and address of the applicant, specific location of the premise and type of license being requested.

Local Authority

The county judge/executive automatically becomes the county alcoholic beverage control administrator for the county. However, he may decline to accept the position, resign or appoint a qualified person.

Applications for a county license must first be approved by the county or city administrator before applying for a state license and the local ABC administrator must sign the application before forwarding it to the state.

A minimum of 30 days, due to the protest period, is required to secure a state liquor license. A state investigator will inspect the premises and complete a field report. Humphress said the process usually takes about 60 days.

Several questions were taken from the audience including the age required for selling alcoholic beverages. A person can be 18 and sell the alcoholic beverage if there is an adult supervisor present (21 years old). As to tax revenue, Humphress did not give an opinion instead saying that information would have to come from the Department of Revenue.

If the issue is voted down, Humphress said it is three years before it can be brought up again and the same procedure will apply.

As to an increase in DUIs, Dehner, who joined Humphress for the Q & A session said that information would have to come from the State Police.

Since Rockcastle has no zoning laws, the question was asked if this would have any effect on placement of liquor stores and the answer was no. However, Dehner said the state worked “very closely with the local administrator because they know the area, we don’t.” Dehner again reiterated that the placement of package liquor stores is up to the discretion of administrators and they would not be placed next to schools, churches, day care centers, etc. “We are one of the few state agencies who work anonymous complains,” Dehner said.

As to whether a city in the county could return to a “dry” status if the county goes “wet.” The answer was that an election could be held to do this.

Whether there was any recourse to recoup the expenses involved for the county in holding the election was asked and the answer was no. Humphress said there was a bill in the state legislature to make an election like this one part of a primary election but “I don’t know if it is going anywhere.”

One participant commented that it didn’t seem right that 18-19 and 20 year olds, who could not drink legally, could vote on the issue.

“Sides”

here.” Taylor said. “It’s not something that is illegal, so what’s the big deal?”

Taylor has also just recently become the chairman of the RCIDA board and believes that becoming a wet county would reap a huge economic benefit to Rockcastle.

“A lot of the tourists who come here to go to shows at Renfro Valley leave the county to go eat somewhere else because of the lack of restaurant choices here.” Taylor said. “Being able to sell alcohol will bring different eating establishments and also create more jobs as well.”

Taylor also says that he can’t understand why people would actually think that voting yes would cause more people to drink.

“We’re not keeping it out of the county now, so what’s the big difference if it were to pass?” Taylor said.

County Judge Executive Buzz Carloftis said he is glad Rockcastle Countians are at least given the option to vote as a county on the issue. “It’s a good thing that Rockcastle County citizens get the right to vote on the wet/dry issue.” Carloftis said. “I want to encourage everyone to come out and vote on Tuesday.”

the scene, they found a small metal container in a chest of drawers that contained $2,559 along with 30 light blue round tablets which were suspected to be oxycodone pills.

When officers arrested Julian, he also had a small bag of marijuana hidden in his left shoe.

Both men were charged with trafficking a controlled substance and conspiracy of trafficking a controlled substance. Julian was also separately charged with possession of marijuana.

Both men remain lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $25,000 cash/property bond.

ROCKCASTLE Y.E.S. Yes for Economic Success

Why This CHRISTIAN Has Decided to Vote YES -

From a distance I’ve watched and listened to the two different views on the sale of alcohol in Rockcastle County. As a regularly attending church member for over 50 years, this wet / dry issue has made me draw new conclusions:

- While it’s okay to not touch a drop of alcohol, it’s not wrong unless you develop a problem with it. And minors should never drink. But by being legally dry, young people have had access to alcohol from bootleggers right here. In a wet county, bootleggers are out of business and the young people can’t buy it in a store. And those with alcohol problems should simply never touch a drop.
- I’m afraid that many of our churches have sent the wrong message in a very loud voice to those not in church by working together so hard and spending so much money to be against something as they have against legal alcohol sales in Rockcastle. It’s easy to see that people outside the church will get the impression that being against alcohol is the number one goal of our churches. That is not the major goal of Christ’s teachings. Not by a long shot.
- I do not believe that having a bottle of beer with my pizza or enjoying a glass of wine places my soul in mortal danger. On the contrary, we are judged by what comes from our mouths (strife, envy, hatred, violence, lies) – not by what we eat or drink. Remember what Jesus said of the Pharisees when they placed more emphasis upon small matters and forgot the weighty matters of the law (loving our neighbors, caring for the sick, and so forth).
- I grew up in ‘dry’ Rockcastle, and I’ve seen a lot of alcohol problems. Being ‘dry’ has not prevented those problems – and probably made them worse by making a big deal out of something that is considered legal everywhere else but here.
- An act of Christianity is creating an environment in which families can find jobs and work.
- There will be no more drinking in a wet Rockcastle than is already here. People who drink, drink. Those who don’t, do not.
- Rockcastle County has really never been dry. It’s just been illegal to drink here for about 70 years.
- Only a very tiny fraction of drinkers ever develop problems with it. So not everyone who drinks becomes an alcoholic. Not everyone who owns a gun kills people. Not everyone who eats becomes morbidly fat. And each of those actions is spoken of in the Bible.
- Like it or not, alcohol sales provide a spark for economic activity, which creates jobs.
- Rockcastle County’s commercial activity has been slowly dying since it went ‘dry’ around 70 years ago.
- Dry counties are usually the poorest counties because of the choking effect upon what other communities recognize as a legal commercial activity.
- Wet counties actually have fewer – not more – alcohol problems than dry counties.
- Kentucky State Police reports indicate there are fewer DUIs in wet counties than in dry counties. It makes sense. Our residents have been driving to Richmond for generations, often returning under the influence. If they could have bought it legally here, they probably would have gone home before taking a drink.
- So many of the letters in the Signal mentioned alcohol problems in their families while living in a ‘dry’ county. So being in a dry county did not protect them from that problem.
- We can’t argue with facts: Dry counties are usually the poorest counties because of the choking effect upon what other communities recognize as a legal commercial activity.
- I don’t buy Mountain Dew because of its fattening effects upon my body. If I don’t want to buy alcoholic drinks, I simply pass them by, too, and we don’t protect the lactose-intolerant by banning milk from the shelves.

"I See It"

The song's lyrics portray a guy who has his first big fight with his girlfriend and as he is driving around he decides to go to a bar to get over it and make himself feel better. As he sat down, the bartender then asks him what he wants and he says "the good stuff." The bartender didn't reach for the whisky or pour him a beer he just simply told him "you can't find that here."

The song then goes on to talk about "the good stuff" in life being the first long kiss on a second date, the way she looks with the rice in her hair, sight of your wife holding your baby girl, new t-shirt saying "I'm a grandpa," etc.

So regardless of which way the vote turns out on Tuesday April 3rd, always remember what the most important things are in life such as your prom, high school/college graduation, wedding day, birth of your children, birth of your grandchildren, etc.

Cause that's the "good stuff!"

"Memories"

treated soap-making like an art—utilizing Bee's method, but she added her own touch by adding oil of lavender. We only had one car, and it was Daddy's job to go to a special pharmacy to fetch the tall, amber bottle containing that precious scent. I still have the last bottle that she left half-full when she died 31 years ago. Her soap was so soft and white that it looked like Ivory Soap—remember Ivory was 99.4% pure! It also floated," Sara laughingly recalled.

I often wondered what made lye soap so special. Actually, the real reason is because it was all natural. It simply was produced from water, lard, and lye. No other chemicals or products were needed. The aroma will always make me remember my grandmother's home—clean and fresh.

In the complicated society we live in today, we have specialized cleaning agents for every chore, such as bathing, dish washing, laundry, and scouring. There are more and more additives to most of the soap commercially produced. Maybe it is time to reconsider reverting back to some of the old ways, like using lye soap!

(You can reach me at mtvman@mis.net or you can drop me a line at P.O. Box 927—Stanton, KY 40380. I appreciate your suggestions and comments.)

"Points East"

shouted YES when he showed up at seven. Same tray, same flatware, etc. I'd had at dinner. The saucer contained a tiny wedge of orange and three bits of melon. The plate contained a scoop of fake scrambled eggs that had been dipped with one of those devices they use at Baskin Robbins. The so called eggs would have fit perfectly in an ice cream cone. Half a slice of toast and three pinky-size links of what may have been sausage were also on the plate. Another four ounces of milk and a cup of hot, slightly brown liquid they called coffee finished out the meal. Again I devoured every morsel.

For some reason or other I shook out the napkin and Loretta commenced laughing. "It is not a napkin at all, it is a mourning cloth and you are supposed to wave it about to show that you are grieving because this is all you have to eat."

For the next three days I had regular meals of very similar quality and quantity. So here is sound advice. If you are determined to lose weight just get admitted to a hospital for a few days and subsist on the food that they serve you. This may sound extreme and it certainly will be pricey but I absolutely guarantee that your pounds will melt away.

Myth: "Alcohol isn't really a drug."

The fact is, alcohol is one of the most abused drugs in the U.S. A drug is defined as any substance which alters normal brain function, so alcohol is definitely a drug. Alcohol related problems are one of four major public health problems in the U.S. along with coronary heart disease, injury and cancer.

Enrollment deadline for DCP program is June 1st

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Service Agency (FSA) State Executive Director John W. McCauley today reminded producers that the 2012 deadline to enroll in the Direct and Counter-Cyclical Payment (DCP) program is June 1.

"I encourage all producers interested in DCP to visit the service center where their farm is administered and sign up before the busy planting season gets underway," said McCauley. "Enrollments cannot be accepted after the deadline, so enrolling early may help producers avoid missing the deadline during one of the most demanding times of the year."

DCP provides payments to eligible producers on farms enrolled for any of the 2008 through 2012 crop years. There are two types of DCP payments: direct payments and counter-cyclical payments. Both are calculated using the base acres and payment yields established for the farm. DCP is authorized by the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act of 2008 (2008 Farm Bill).

In addition to DCP, other FSA programs also have enrollment deadlines approaching:

- Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program: Check with the FSA service center for dates;
- GRAZE-OUT – March 31 for calendar year 2011 crops;
- Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) General Sign-up 43 – April 6;
- Average Crop Revenue Election (ACRE) – June 1;
- Supplemental Revenue Assistance Program (SRAP) – June 1, 2012 for crop year 2010;
- 2011 ACRE Production Evidence – July 15;
- Certification of Planted Acres – Various deadlines, but no later than July 15;

• Farm Reconstitutions (changes) – August 1, 2012 for the 2012 crop year;

• MILC – Sept. 30, 2012;

• Crop Insurance – Contact a crop insurance agent or the regional RMA office.

The Obama Administration, with Agriculture Secretary Vilsack's leadership, has worked tirelessly to strengthen rural America, implement the Farm Bill, maintain a strong farm safety net, and create opportunities for America's farmers and ranchers. U.S. agriculture is currently experiencing one of its most productive periods in American history thanks to the productivity, resiliency, and resourcefulness of our producers. A strong farm safety net is important to sustain the success of American agriculture. For example, USDA's crop insurance program insures 264 million acres, 1.14 million policies, and $110 billion worth of liability on about 500,000 farms. And in response to tighter financial markets, USDA has expanded the availability of farm credit, helping struggling farmers refinance loans. In the past 3 years, USDA provided 103,000 loans to family farmers totaling $14.6 billion. Over 50 percent of the loans went to beginning and socially disadvantaged farmers and ranchers.

For more information on these and other FSA programs, contact a local FSA service center or visit the FSA website at www.fsa.usda.gov.

The fact is. Most people with alcohol related problems are part of mainstream society. They live with their families, have friends and hold a steady job. This often means that the problems are hidden and difficult to deal with.

Please help us make this a successful venture by being clean and/or neat with our recycling habits. Do not put anything in the individual bins except what is labeled on them. Do not leave recyclables on the ground! If you drop something on the ground, pick it up. Absolutely no trash is to be put into the bins! Remember, camera surveillance is utilized in Rockcastle County and it is illegal to improperly dispose of trash.

Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet!

Some things to think about...

What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?

Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.

Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?

A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and bleach to help dissolve stains.
B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.

The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors. Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildewing, causing carpet threads to rot, shorting the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.

Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?

C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.

D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.

E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.

The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying times is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again-Promoting the life of the carpet.

Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.
