Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet? Some things to think about...
 What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?
 Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.
Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?
 A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and beach to help dissolve stains.
 B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.
 The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors. Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildewing, causing carpet threads to rot, shorting the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.
Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?
 C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.
 D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.
 E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.
 The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying times is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again-Promoting the life of the carpet.
 Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.

Committee meeting
The Rockcastle County Farm Service Committee (COC) will hold its monthly meeting Wednesday, February 13th beginning at 8:00 a.m. The meeting will be held at the FSA office.

COC members are vital to the day-to-day operations of FSA. The COC members help FSA at the local level by deciding the kind of program their county will have and how they will operate. FSA committees operate within official regulations designed to carry out Federal laws and applying their judgment and knowledge and knowledge to make decisions.

Accommodations
Persons with disabilities who require accommodations to attend or participate in FSA meetings/events or functions should contact Warden Alexander at 606-256-2525 or Federal Relay Service at 1-800-877-8339

Changes Being Made for IRS Reporting as of Calendar Year 2012
Internal Revenue Code section 6041(a) and section 6041A(a) state that reportable payments made to any recipient of the payments during a calendar year totaling less than $600 are not required to be issued IRS Form 1099-G or IRS Form 1099-MISC.

This rule does not apply if withholding was withheld from payments. If voluntary withholding or backup (involuntary) withholding was withheld and payments were less than $600, then IRS Form 1099-G or IRS Form 1099-MISC will be issued.

Beginning with calendar year 2012 IRS reporting, Kansas City will not generate and mail IRS Form 1099-G and/or IRS Form 1099-MISC to producers if the total of reportable payments for each tax identification number is less than $600.

However, if voluntary withholding or backup (involuntary) withholding was withheld from a payment and total payments are less than $600, then the appropriate IRS 1099 form will be issued.

Beginning with calendar year 2012 IRS reporting, Kansas City will also be issuing one IRS Form 1099-G and/or one IRS Form 1099-MISC to each multi-county producer whose total reportable payments for each tax identification number are equal to or greater than $600.

Multi-county producer IRS forms will use the producer's mailing address associated with the lowest State number and then the lowest county number within that State identified as receiving payments for the reportable calendar year. The Kansas City address will be used as the return address on the IRS forms.

Office Closure
The Mt. Vernon Service Center (FSA, NRCS and Rockcastle Co. Conservation District) offices will be closed Monday, February 18th in observance of Presidents Day. Offices will reopen Tuesday, February 19th.

A lot of improvements have been made to the Lake Linville Boat Dock since Lester and Teresa Ratliff of Richmond received the bid and became the new operators. Since receiving a five year lease from the Mt. Vernon City Council for $700 a month, the Ratliff's have blacktopped the parking lot, remodeled the restaurant and erected a separate building for the bait and tackle shop. They have also organized a list of fishing tournaments for Lake Linville during the 2013 fishing season. Mt. Vernon city workers are currently working on building a sidewalk to connect the two main fishing docks. Other projects the city plans on doing are erecting a flag pole, putting safety rope on all docks and building an outdoor deck that is attached to the restaurant. Once the deck is completed, customers at the Lake Linville Boat Dock will be able to dine outside. The projects are being funded out of the Mt. Vernon/Rockcastle Tourism restaurant tax fund.

No quorum Monday for Brodhead council meeting after council member resigns

By: Doug Ponder

February's meeting of the Brodhead City Council had to be cancelled Monday night because of the lack of a quorum of council members after one of the members resigned. The meeting was cancelled as two of the four council seats are now currently vacant and Councilman Ronnie Cash was not in attendance due to prior commitments he had made. Only Councilman Larry Taylor was in attendance, besides Mayor Walter Cash. Two of the four council members are required to be present at the meeting in order to have a quorum.

Councilman Vernon (Mush) Cash officially resigned after turning in his written resignation to Clerk Becky Bussell Monday morning. No reason was given on his written resignation. Both Mayor Cash and Councilman Taylor said they were shocked when they found out about his resignation.

Longtime councilman Boone Saylor's seat also remains vacant as he didn't show up to be sworn in after being elected in the 2012 fall general election and has not attended any of the meetings. The council said they don't

Brodhead Elementary installs new security buzzer and camera

By: Doug Ponder

Brodhead Elementary School recently installed a new security buzzer and camera system at their main entrance.

The new security system requires BES to keep their main entrance doors locked at all times with the exception of the students' arrival time in the morning. Secondary entrances of the building are now required to be locked at all times during school hours.

The front doors will be controlled by the main office with an intercom and video monitor. The buzzer is located to the right of the main door at the front entrance. Visitors are required to press the buzzer and remain in front of the device until someone responds. The camera and speaker communication system will allow visitors to communicate with office staff and state their reason for visit. Once the visitor is cleared for admittance, they may enter through the office corridor.

Transportation and Facilities Director Chris Cornelius said that all Rockcastle County Schools have similar buzzer and camera systems installed at their main entrances. He said they all keep their secondary entrances locked at all times during school hours as well.

However, Cornelius said the Rockcastle Area Technol-

Fiscal Court votes to proceed with Little Egypt Heritage Trail project

The Rockcastle Fiscal Court Tuesday voted to proceed with the Little Egypt Heritage Trail project by passing a Resolution of Support. Jim Scheff of Ky. Hartwood, a public land advocacy organization, made a presentation of what the project entailed.

Scheff said there would be two trails involved, one a hiking trail of about 4 miles which would connect with the Livingston trails and Climax Horse Camp. The other trail would be a multi-use trail which would include horses and bikes of about one mile.

Scheff told the court of the beauty of the area. He said there were trees to be seen that were 200 to 300 years old and a seasonal waterfall with about an 80 foot drop. "This will offer a set of trails you can do in a day and bring people to the area," Scheff said. He went on to say that signage would be developed identifying certain trees and giving their age and identifying certain foliage that is not common to the area.

Scheff and County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis met with national forest officials recently to discuss the project and, Carloftis said, were told that the county's support was vital to the project being approved by the forest service.

Scheff said he was optimistic about the length of time it will take to get the project approved and underway. "I hope it will only take a year to a year and a half to complete," Scheff said.

Rockcastle County Industrial Development Authority's Executive Director, Holly Hopkins, was at the meeting to give the court a check and provide an update on SourceCorp HOV.

The check presented to the court was for $16,500 and represented repayment, by the City of Brodhead, for reimbursement to the county for money fronted to obtain grants to the city. An additional $3,500 is expected to be repaid to the court, Hopkins said.

The executive director also told the court that five companies would now be operating from the SourceCorp HOV building, all involved with data entry for the Veterans Administration. The five companies are now expected to max out at 450 employees who will be working two shifts at the facility.

Representatives of the Livingston Volunteer Fire Department were on hand to request $30,000 from the court to buy a 1993 GMC Class A pump truck. The court approved the purchase, contingent on the truck being powerful enough to service the mountainous area included in Livingston's coverage.

The court also voted to name James Ballinger and Zach Gentry to the Exten-

Mt. Vernon man arrested after stealing his own check

By: Doug Ponder

A Mt. Vernon man was arrested for robbery last Friday after stealing his own check from the Mt. Vernon Cash Express on Hwy 150.

Arrested was David Lee Durham, 34, of Mt. Vernon. According to Mt. Vernon Police reports, Officer Nathaniel Price responded to a complaint of someone stealing a check from the Mt. Vernon Cash Express.

Once Price arrived, Cash Express employees told him that Durham had come into the store wanting to cash his Kentucky state income tax check in the amount of $206.

When Durham completed the proper paper work for cashing his income tax check, employees entered his information into their computer system and discovered that he had a delinquent account of $220.

After the employees told Durham that his check would be used to pay on his delinquent account, he demanded that employees return his check. When they refused, he became belligerent and asked to speak with a manager.

The employees then called their district manager who also told Durham that his check would be used to pay up his delinquent account. However, after hanging up with the district manager, Durham told the employees that their district manager wanted them to give his check back to him.

When the employees attempted to call the district manager to verify Durham's request, Durham went behind the customer counter and tried to take his check.

Once Durham walked behind the counter, one of the employees picked up the check and placed it behind their back. Durham then tried to take the check from the employee several times before finally placing his arms around the employee and physically taking the check. Durham then ran out the front door of the building saying he was sorry

by: perlina m. anderkin

Spent last weekend in Vegas with Allison and husband, Daniel. Daniel had a conference connected with this job and Allison wanted to go with him and asked me to go along.

Allison is not a good flyer and, after his experience with her when they flew to Aruba for their honeymoon, Daniel was actually all for me going too.

Actually, I don't care to fly either but am pragmatic enough to know what can't be cured -- after all your options are limited, you can't get off -- must be endured. Besides that she had Xanax and that didn't seem to help much.

We had a very smooth flight out but, on the way home, Allison and Daniel both commented on the rough takeoff we had and Allison proceeded to cry for about a half hour into the flight. When we reached Louisville and got into the landing pattern, the pilot came over the intercom and told us we would have to circle the airport because of an "issue" with the flaps.

That sort of set me off but Allison really handled that situation well. After 20-30 minutes, the pilot came back on to tell us the situation "seems" to be resolved and we would be landing shortly.

I am a very literal person and the "seems" really made me nervous. Either the flaps are down (or up whatever) or they are not, don't say "seems."

As to Vegas, well let's just say that it is mainly for young people. We stayed at Caesar's which is where the conference was held. Of course, I was on the gaming floor occasionally and the sight of the state of dress (or undress, actually) of most of the women was something to see. It must be a rule that when you are buying your clothes for Vegas that you begin by getting something several sizes too small because, believe me, every body part was not as contained as it should have been.

Jim and I were in Vegas several years ago. Spencer was stationed at a nearby base while he was in the Air Force and he and Paige lived there. At that time, one thing you could count on, the food was good and cheap. I'm talking all you can eat buf-fets for $4-$5 24/7 wherever you were. That is no longer the case. Evidently, the casinos decided as a whole to switch to high style dining and you could not get any meal for less than $20. The first night we were there, we went to a place called Gordon Ramsey's and paid $19 for three sliders, each of which you could eat with one bite.

We took in The Jersey Boys show while there. It's a musical about the career of Frankie Valli and it was entertaining -- expensive but entertaining. The only problem I had with it was that Frankie came along after I married and started my family. I didn't have a lot of time to listen to songs so, after the first two or three, I didn't really recognize the songs. Afterwards, Allison asked if I enjoyed the show and I was honest. I said not as much as I enjoyed Malt Shop Memories at Renfro this summer. Of course, they thought that was hilarious, although I wasn't trying to be funny. Malt Shop Memories fitted my time frame as a teenager better.

All in all, it was a good trip but one I will not be repeating soon. Allison, who has never wanted to go to Vegas, has decided that she loved it and will be returning. She doesn't gamble but she said "there are so many things to see."

We did go on a tour of California one day. We were on a tour bus with 17 Canadians. The weather was miserable, cold and misting rain but we did get to see the Pacific, a first for both of us, from the Santa Monica Pier. We got to see the Hollywood sign up close and personal and ate at the Cheesecake Factory and it was good. We also saw several stars' homes, including Michael Jackson's where he died. After his death, his photo was embedded in the driveway. That seemed a little strange to me. Why would you put someone's photo where it would be driven over everytime you pulled into the garage?

It was a good trip. The California part was the highlight. Whenever I take these trips, I realize that my life, in what others consider a "backwater" town, suits my lifestyle much better and I actually feel sorry for the majority of the people who live in the big cities.

The Way I See it

By Doug Ponder

This past Sunday, I rededicated my life to Jesus Christ during the evening worship service at Bible Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon.

For those of you who may not know much about the Christian faith, Rededication is a decision that is made by a saved Christian who believes they have fallen away from the practices of Christianity. By rededicating their life to Jesus Christ, they are proclaiming to turn back to Christ by striving to follow him more completely than they have in the past.

To be a saved Christian means you acknowledge that you are a lost sinner who is doomed to hell and in need of a savior. It also means you believe God's son, Jesus Christ, died on the cross as payment for your sins and that you accept his free gift of eternal life. By doing these things, all newly saved Christians are born again and become a child of God. Being saved also means that you have a personal and intimate relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ.

First off, I want to say that I was saved when I was twelve years old during a church camp in the summer of 2001. After being saved, I was baptized the following Sunday during the morning worship service.

As the years rolled by, I slowly started to distance myself from God and my church. I hardly ever prayed and only went to church if I was required to go.

When I started college my relationship with God became progressively worse as I went months without praying or attending a church service. It came to a point to where I was living as if God didn't exist at all.

As I sat down and started to type, I realized there will be a select group of people who will snarl at my topic and immediately want to quit reading my column after these first few paragraphs. During my college years, I am ashamed to admit I would have done the same thing.

When I worked for ECU's college newspaper The Eastern Progress, I would have been the first to object to any columns that was written by a staff member about their personal religion.

I also preferred news stories written about religion to be 100% unbiased. If someone wrote a biased news article about religion then I viewed it as a way for the writer to secretly promote their own religion in their article. To me, I considered these practices to be journalistically wrong.

During this same period, I developed the belief that no one should practice or

Sorghum Molasses

My wife and I recently took a winter vacation to the Great Smokey Mountains. We stayed in a condo with a great view of the snow-covered peaks in the distance. Our idea of a vacation in Pigeon Forge or Gatlinburg may be different from many visitors to the area. We are not shoppers; we spend very little time walking up and down the main drag in Gatlinburg stopping into the multiple businesses. We generally take several trips into the park to look for wildlife, visit the arts and craft shops in the area, and eat at our favorite restaurants. This time was no exception.

One morning we decided to sleep in and have a late breakfast. We were able to find a restaurant that served breakfast at any time, and this particular café had a roaring fire burning near our table. When I opened the menu, I immediately noticed one item that caught my attention -- they actually had "lasses" and biscuits as a choice. I pointed out my selection to Kathy, and we had a lengthy discussion about what I had ordered. The 'lasses and a robust cup of coffee' were just enough to return me to my childhood days in Rockcastle County.

As a young man living with my grandparents (Pop and Mommie Katie) in Mt. Vernon, sorghum molasses was a normal staple found on the table for almost every meal. It was Pop's request that the sweet condiment be available every time we had homemade biscuits. And we had homemade biscuits a lot.

I can see him now as he prepared his favorite biscuit topping. He always began with a small saucer and fresh butter to start his formulation. Into the saucer he placed a large hunk of butter; then he covered it with molasses. He proceeded by taking his fork and mixing the two ingredients until they were thoroughly blended into a yellow jelly-like consistency. This concoction was then carefully layered on top of a hot biscuit and devoured by my grandfather. I am certain that it was his favorite morning treat.

Pop had a friend in the neighborhood who owned a team of mules. Pop had this gentleman turn his garden each year, and they became friends. On several occasions, Pop took me with him to watch his friend make sorghum molasses. As anyone can imagine, I was thoroughly impressed with the process.

I was permitted to feed the sugar cane stalks into the

Let me say, right up front, that the story you are about to read was told to my best buddy, business partner, and frequent co-conspirator, Ralph E. King.

Ralph learned of this event over lunch with an eighty year-old lady with whom he worked during the first half of his 40 years and still-running career in the coal industry. His former coworker told him the tale with a straight face and Ralph believes it.

However, the story involves some activity upon which a court of law might frown and it was told to Ralph only after he assured her that he would not mention her name if and when he retold it. So, in that amazing and often useful journalism tradition of not divulging the source of sensitive information, I feel an obligation to report this bit of interest.

Ralph's friend, let's call her Deep Chic, DC for short, was peacefully retired and living in a secluded area of rural Laurel County where she was surrounded by woods, only had one nearby neighbor and even his home was over 100 yards down the road.

Everything had been just fine for several years until

Our Readers Write

Extremely proud of RCHS boys basketball team...

Dear Editor,

Let me start by saying that I contemplated long and hard about whether I should write this article. Needless to say, "I should" won out.

When the Lady Rockets were going to Diddle to play for the state title, it was easy for me to write an article about that group of girls. For starters, I had known most of them since they were 5 years old and second, the seniors had completed their high school careers with multiple wins. I can't and will not take anything away from those girls (including my daughter who was a part of that team). They worked long and hard for that title and I was, and still am, very proud.

work hard at every practice, continues to play 100% at every game and, most of all, they represent our school, RCHS, with dignity, integrity, good sportsmanship and pride. These young men have learned a life lesson way before their adult lives, and I'm positive they will leave RCHS and enter into the "real world" ready to tackle any challenges that might come their way.

I will finish this article by saying to the team, "Thank you for teaching me that while it's not fun to lose games, it's OK as long as you don't forget who you are. I could not be prouder to say that I am your #1 fan and you all make me extremely proud.

Forever, your "Super-Fan" Rebekah Arvin

share their religion while they are in public. I would become disgusted when I would see preachers passing out Bibles in the hot spots of our campus or when Muslims would pull out their prayer rugs and pray as they were bowing on their rug toward Mecca.

One of the best examples was my economics professor who claimed to be an atheist. Almost every single class of the semester he would tell us how Christians are stupid for believing there is a God and how he is tired of seeing all the preachers on campus trying to spread Christianity.

This would upset many of the devout Christian students in the class. I remember one girl who left in the middle of class and never returned. I guess she either flunked out or withdrew from the class simply because our economics professor wouldn't stop "preaching" about his atheism.

I also remember getting mad at him one day and asking him how he could continuously complain about preachers trying to spread Christianity when he was openly trying to spread atheism in all of his classes. I remember telling him that "it looks to me like you are doing the exact same thing as the preachers except that you just have a different belief. I understand that you are telling me they should be banned from sharing Christianity on campus. But if they are banned from sharing their Christian beliefs with students, then explain to me why you should be allowed to share your atheist beliefs with your students? It seems to me that you are contradicting yourself by practicing the same concepts that you are advocating against."

Surprisingly, he couldn't provide me with a straight answer to my question and he started to tone his atheist rants down for the remainder of the semester.

As a result of these religious debates and confrontations, I grew to despise people who freely tried to spread their religion and beliefs across campus. I had come to the conclusion that everyone would get along better if people didn't practice or share their religion with anyone while they were in public.

I now realized what happened to me while I was in college. I had become another victim of a worldwide epidemic that robs thousands of Christian believers of their faith while they are in college.

A lot of Christian students become increasingly influenced by their peers and professors who may be Muslim, Buddhist, Hindu, Atheist, etc. Many of them will convert to one of these different religions or beliefs before they graduate college. Or in my case, some Christians grow tired of any organized religion as they view it as something that tears the world apart and causes mankind to hate each other or even kill each other.

As a result of these changes in their beliefs, thousands of Christian believers grow away from God while they are in college.

Personally, I never doubted my salvation while I was in college. I still believed that I was a lost sinner and that Jesus died on the cross as payment for my sins. However, there was one very important part of salvation that I struggled with while I was a student. I didn't have a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. As I said before I rarely prayed or went to church. I also hardly ever studied God's word by reading my Bible.

When a Christian doesn't have a personal relationship with God, it's very easy for them to become a backslidden Christian. Everyone has to fill their heart and mind with something and if you don't fill it with Jesus Christ then you are practically destined to fall away from your Christian principals.

Throughout our lives we are going to meet people from all walks of life and beliefs. There are good people in this world that we will meet throughout our lives that are of a different religion. As Christians, if we don't have a personal relationship with God then we are simply leaving ourselves more vulnerable to their influences.

Looking back now, it's not difficult to figure out what happened to me in College and why I drifted away from God during this time period. I only hope and pray that other college students don't become victims of the same epidemic as I did when I was a student.

I also pray that Christian students will always retain their personal relationship with God because if they don't, then something else will fill the void that is left in their heart.

press as the team of mules turned the huge wooden wheel. The juice that was extracted was boiled to concentrate and crystallize the sugar. The result of this boiling process is called "first molasses," which contains a very high sugar content. If it is boiled again, the extraction is slightly bitter and is called "second molasses." If it is boiled a third time, the resulting liquid is called "blackstrap" molasses, which has a robust flavor and high concentrations of calcium, magnesium, potassium, and iron. It has long been sold as a health supplement.

After Pop and I watched the molasses-making process, we always took several jars of the sweet, brown liquid home with us. I can never remember being without sorghum in our pantry. It truly was a staple in our home. My mother (Bee) and Mommie Katie both also loved the taste of "lasses" for breakfast, and, on occasion, at other meals.

Each year, sorghum molasses is produced at Gladie, which is found in the Daniel Boone National Forest in Powell County. Kathy and I have watched several times as the process unfolds by those demonstrating their techniques. Watching the cane sugar being boiled makes my mouth water because I immediately recall the process as a young man.

Odors can contain very strong prompts of certain memories, and this is certainly one of them. I find that I cannot leave the area without purchasing a couple of jars of the brown delight. My wife is not much of a fan of molasses, but I have long been hooked on the taste and smell of the sugary mixture. Just like Pop, I mix my blend with butter to produce the thick, sweet, composite to top off my biscuits. Add a pot of coffee, and I am completely satisfied.

I've made some of you hungry for some "lasses," haven't I? Well, just join in—because I've made myself hungry for it, too.

(You can reach me at themnman@att.net or you can drop me a line at P.O. Box 927 - Stanton, KY 40380. Thanks for your continued responses to my column.)

one day when her neighbor bought a bunch of chickens and some chicken cages. He proceeded to place these cages under some trees right on their adjoining property line.

That evening, at dusk, the chickens flew up into the trees to roost. But the next morning, instead of flying back down into their cages, the chickens headed for DC's lawn and garden. By noon, they were all over her front porch, perched on the railing, on the banisters of her steps and even on the back and arms of her big oak swing. DC said there were at least 20 of them but they kept moving around so much that it was impossible to get an accurate count.

They were making a horrible mess, pooping and shedding feathers all over her porch, on her steps and all over her yard. She tried shooing them off and chasing them with her broom. But they'd come right back as soon as she went in the house.

In the meantime, her neighbor had seemingly disappeared. DC said that he did not appear to be the most upstanding citizen in the county and she'd heard from another neighbor that he might be in jail for manufacturing meth, whatever that is.

DC was scrubbing chicken mess off her porch and steps three or four times a day and raking it out of her yard. Some of them started laying little bitty eggs, too small to eat, in a big planter she had sitting beside the back door, so she had to gather them up and throw them in the garbage every day.

Finally someone told her that if she'd put out some rat poison, they'd get sick and go away.

She went to the farm supply store and bought two quarts but the chickens gobbled it up and wanted more. Then she tried mole pellets, which only made them fatter.

She poured over half a gallon of antifreeze that she found in her garage into an old pan because she'd heard that would kill them. She set the pan out in the front yard and the chickens promptly turned it over.

"These chickens were working me to death and driving me crazy," DC told Ralph. "So I decided to pray about it. I asked the Lord to do whatever He could to get rid of these chickens before they killed me", said DC.

"The next morning I heard a loud racket out in front of the house. I looked out the door and saw a little black and white dog with chicken by the neck. But when he saw me, he ran off into the woods dragging that chicken", she said.

For the next three or four days it seemed like every time she turned around, DC would hear chickens squaking and when she'd look out the door, that little black and white mongrel would either be chasing chickens or dragging one into the woods. By the end of the week there was not a chicken to be seen on her place and the little dog was gone, as well.

Old age, being what it is, DC said she was so tickled with being chicken free, that she'd forgotten all about praying for the Lord to take them away until she drove ten miles to church the next Sunday.

"I'd no sooner gotten out of my car when I saw that little black and white dog sitting there by the church steps. As soon as he saw me, he held his head up high, cocked his tail, trotted across the parking lot and ran into the woods.

"Now what do you make of that, Mr. King", DC asked my buddy, Ralph.

That's when Ralph called me and I don't know what to make of it either.

know why Saylor couldn't make it to the swearing in ceremony. The council went on to say that they informed Saylor of the ceremony and that they were also shocked when he didn't come.

Kentucky state law KRS 83A.040 states if a vacancy occurs in a legislative body office that the remaining members are required to fill the vacancy by appointment within thirty days. However, the law also states that if a vacancy is not filled within thirty days after it occurs that the Governor has to fill the vacancy.

Bussell said the council will call a special meeting within the next couple of weeks to appoint someone to Cash's vacant seat. Bussell also said that she will notify the governor's office about Saylor's vacant seat and that their office will be in charge of appointing someone since the thirty day time limit has already lapsed.

Mayor Cash said February's council meeting would not be rescheduled because of the lack of new business.

Brodhead Alliance Committee President Jane McClure was also present on Monday. McClure asked the council to allow the BAC to become a part of the National Main Street Program with the hopes of preserving and revitalizing the downtown Brodhead area. She said if the council agreed that they would change their name and become an umbrella organization under the city council so they will always be informed of the program's projects.

Mayor Cash said that he was interested in the idea but that they couldn't vote on the issue because of the lack of a quorum. He told McClure to attend next month's council meeting and present all the information when they had a quorum to vote.

surer, told the court that the state had reached a dollar amount in an action brought by employees of the sheriff's department over the definition of overtime pay. Clontz said that the final total of $17,145.58 represented payment to several employees, two of whom help provide security at Rockcastle Hospital. Clontz said that these two employees, Matt Bryant ($6,737 awarded) and Joe Rush ($2,564) have told the Sheriff that they will not accept the checks, saving the sheriff's office $9301.05 of the total due. Dale McNew, finance officer for the sheriff's department, told the court that with an additional $2,000 from the county, Sheriff Mike Peters could cover the remainder of the assessment and the $250 fine. This amount was approved by the court.

In other action, the court approved 60% of the payment ($3,146) to the Brodhead Fire Department for their share of a yearly payment on a fire truck purchased several years ago; approved 90% ($1,743.12) of the utilities for the Pongo Fire Department, from July through December of 2012; approved a payment of $9,118.47 to Adam Edelen, State Auditor for the sheriff's settlement for 2011 taxes; approved payment of $19,500 to Hopkins Concrete for the Cass Bridge; approved payments of $32,998.39 and $9,415.43 to Elmo Greer for work on Clontz Road and Mag Pie Road; appointed Tim Siler of Lincoln County as electrical inspector for the county and approved a payment of $1,253.16 to Data Design for delinquent/reminder tax notices for the sheriff's department for 2012 taxes. The court also approved the purchase of 10 tickets to the Farmer's Businessman Banquet at a cost of $170.

As a final item of business, the court approved the transfer of $75,000 for the jail from the general fund and $100,000 for the general fund from the occupational tax account.

DEEP DISH BROWNIES

I made these brownies for Will's company picnic when he worked in Oakland, CA. I knew they were giving away prizes for the most popular dishes, but was very surprised these simple brownies came in as a first place winner. They weren't as fancy as some desserts, but they were delicious. I certainly enjoyed spending my prize—a $50 gift certificate to Williams-Sonoma.

3/4 cup butter, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 and 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1/2 cup cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease 8-inch square baking pan. Blend butter, sugar, and vanilla in bowl. Add eggs, beat well with spoon. Combine flour, cocoa, baking powder, and salt. Gradually add to egg mixture until well blended. Spread in prepared pan. Bake for 40 to 45 minutes.

VEGETABLE SOUP

This soup is perfect for those cool nights when you want something hot and nutritious, that you can fix quickly. There is no fat in this soup, but it has plenty of flavors from the herbs and spices. I started making this soup after eating at a popular restaurant in Pigeon Forge.

1 can (14 ounce) petite diced tomatoes
1 can (29 ounce) Veg-all®, drained
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon each dried oregano and garlic
1 teaspoon dried chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon dried celery
1 dash hot sauce
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper
Add all ingredients to large soup pot. Bring to boil. Reduce heat and gently boil for 30 minutes. Serve with warm cornbread or crackers.

WALDORF SALAD

3 medium Red Delicious apples, unpeeled
1/2 cup seedless grapes, halved
1/2 cup celery, chopped
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
1/4 cup Miracle Whip®
1/4 cup sour cream or plain yoghurt
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
Dice apples. Combine with grapes, celery, and nuts. In another bowl mix the Miracle Whip®, sour cream or plain yoghurt, sugar, and lemon juice. Pour over fruit and mix gently. Refrigerate.

Assistant Chief Barry Adams made a traffic stop on Durham's vehicle moments after the robbery. Durham told Adams that he took his check from the Cash Express employees and cashed it at Peg's Food Mart in Mt. Vernon. Durham then showed Adams the remaining $200 from the check, which was confiscated as evidence for the Commonwealth Attorney's Office.

A witness to the robbery also confirmed the statements made by the Cash Express employees and Durham's actions inside the business were also captured on the store's video surveillance system.

Durham was charged with Robbery, second degree. He remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $7,500 cash/property bond.

Lady Rockets now 16-10 on season

By: Doug Ponder

The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets are now 16-10 on the season after a four game series this past week that included a disappointing 55-30 loss against the Southwestern Warriors.

The Lady Rockets began their series with a 54-51 win against the Pulaski County Lady Maroons. But when the Lady Rockets traveled back to Somerset on Saturday night to take on Southwestern, the Lady Warriors handed them a painful 55-30 loss.

During last Saturday night's game, the Lady Rockets had 16 turnovers and were four for eight from the free throw line. Unlike the Lady Rockets, the Lady Warriors shot the lights out as they made 13 three point baskets and went eight for ten from the free throw line.

The Lady Warriors came out strong, outscoring the Lady Rockets 22-5 in the first quarter and were ahead 34-11 at the half. After halftime, the Lady Warriors momentum continued as they led 42-16 at the end of the third quarter and 55-30 at the end of the game.

The Lady Rockets were led in scoring by senior guard Michaela Hunter with 10 points, senior guard Sara Adams was next with 7, junior forward Kayla Reynolds scored 4, senior guard Emily Miller and sophomore guard Alania Couger had 3 each and sophomore forward Amelia Eversole and junior guard Brianna Hansel were both credited with 2 points each.

The Lady Rockets bounced back from the Southwestern loss with a 67-61 win against the Corbin Lady Redhounds.

out firing on all cylinders, leading the Lady Redhounds 13-10 at the end of the first quarter and 28-19 at the half. After halftime, the Lady Rockets enthusiasm continued as they led 48-38 at the end of the third quarter. They would put the game away in the fourth quarter with a final score of 67-61.

The Lady Rockets were once again led in scoring by Hunter with 20 points, Eversole was next with 14, Adams scored 13, Reynolds 11, Miller 6 and Coguer 3.

After the Corbin win, the Lady Rockets returned home Monday night and beat McCreary Central 55-48 during senior night.

Seniors Sara Adams, Michaela Hunter, Emily Miller and Alexis Chasteen were all honored at mid-court before the game. Chasteen, who received a season-ending injury in January, did not attend the game as she underwent surgery on her torn left ACL on Monday morning. However, Chasteen's parents and siblings received her awards during the ceremony.

McCreary County hung around for most of the game but the Lady Rockets high-powered play proved to be too much as they jumped out to a 10-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 26-23 lead at the half. The Lady Rockets retained their lead in the third quarter, ahead 39-34 at the end of that period. The Lady Rockets would hold to their lead in the fourth quarter with a final score of 55-48.

The Lady Rockets were once again led by Hunter who had 17 points, 8 rebounds and 6 steals.

Other Lady Rockets picking up scores were Adams with 15 and Kayla Reynolds 11. Emily Miller and Alaina Coguer were also credited with 6 points each.

The Lady Rockets will join the Rockets in a double header Friday night as they travel to London to take on the South Laurel Lady Cardinals. Tip-off for the Lady Rockets game is at 6 p.m. The Lady Rockets are also expected to play the Somerset Lady Briar Jumpers next Thursday in the first round of the district tournament. The game will be played at Somerset High School and tip-off is at 8 p.m.

Head Coach Chrysti Noble said she was disappointed with her squad's performance during the Southwestern loss last Saturday night. However, Noble said she was glad to see her team redeem themselves in their wins against Corbin and McCreary Central.

"In the Southwestern game we were completely flat. Nothing seemed to be going right and when one thing goes wrong, everything goes wrong," Noble said. "But we redeemed ourselves in the next two games and did much better defensively."

Noble said that her team is focused and are ready for the district tournaments. "Tournament time is like a whole new season and we are really looking to come out strong," Noble said. "We are determined to accomplish our season goal of returning to the regional tournament."

Senior Michaela Hunter looks for an open teammate during Monday night's 55-48 win against McCreary Central. The Lady Rockets were led by Hunter who had 17 points, 8 rebounds and 6 steals.

Rockets win big during senior night

By: Doug Ponder

The Rockcastle County Rockets basketball team is now 7-20 on the season after a three game series this past week, which included a 68-55 win during senior night last Friday night.

The Rockets began their series last Thursday night when they traveled to Corbin to take on the Redhounds.

The Rockets came out firing on all cylinders, and leading 13-12 at the end of the first quarter. However, their momentum stalled in the second quarter as the Redhounds jumped ahead to a 30-23 lead at the half. After halftime the Redhounds enthusiasm continued, leading 55-43 at the end of the third quarter. The Redhounds would put the game away in the fourth quarter with a final score of 78-69.

The Rockets were led in scoring by senior guard Ashton Arvin with 20 points, junior forward Josh Mason was next with 19, senior center Ben Allen had

7. Senior guard Jon Curtis Wilson, junior guard Corey McPhetridge, sophomore guard Sam Pensol and sophomore guard Dakota Hasty were all credited with 6 points each.

The Corbin loss came before an exciting 68-55 win against the Garrard County Golden Lions during senior night at home last Friday.

Seniors Ashton Arvin, Ben Allen, Zach Poynter, John Curtis Wilson and Bryson Amyx were all honored at mid-court before the game.

However, the Golden Lions attempted to put a damper on the senior night activities as they jumped out to a 23-20 lead at the end of the first quarter. But the Rockets battled back in the second quarter and took a 37-29 lead into the locker room at half time.

The Golden Lions made a run in the third quarter, cutting the lead to 49-47 at the end of that period. But the Rockets put together a great fourth quarter for the 68-55 win.

The Rockets were led in scoring by Pensol with 16, Allen and McPhetridge were each credited with 12 points, Wilson was next with 9, Arvin and Poynter both had 5 and Mason scored 4.

After the much-needed win during senior night last Friday, the Rockets traveled to Whitley County Tuesday night where they suffered a 67-56 loss to the Colonels.

During Tuesday night's game, the Colonels came out strong, outscoring the Rockets 17-12 at the end of the first quarter and 29-21 at the half. The Colonels outscored the Rockets by one in the third quarter for a 47-38 lead and were ahead 67-56 at the end of the game.

The Rockets were led in scoring by Mason and Pensol with 13 points each, Blake Mullins was next with 8, Hasty and Wilson were credited with 6 points each, Arvin got 4 and McPhetridge scored 3.

Head Coach Benny Blanton said despite the losses to Corbin and Whitley County, he is still proud of his team's strong win against Garrard County on senior night.

"I knew we would probably beat Garrard County but I didn't know we would beat them by that big of a margin," Blanton said. "That was definitely a special win for our team on senior night."

The Rockets will join the Lady Rockets in a double header on Friday night when they travel to London

Senior Emily Miller attempts a jumpshot during Monday night's 55-48 win against McCreary Central. The Lady Rockets will join the Rockets in a double header on Friday night as they travel to London to take on the South Laurel Cardinals. Tip-off for the Lady Rockets game is at 6 p.m. The Lady Rockets are also predicted to play the Somerset Lady Briar Jumpers next Thursday during the first round of the district tournament. The game will be played at Somerset and tip-off is at 8 p.m.

Sophomore guard Alaina Coguer dribbles past a Lady Raider defender during Monday night's 55-48 win against McCreary Central. The Lady Rockets beat Pulaski County 54-51 last Wednesday night and Corbin 67-61 on Saturday but lost to Southwestern 55-30 last Friday night.

Rocket senior Ben Allen attempts a shot during senior night last Friday night against Garrard County. Seniors Ben Allen, Ashton Arvin, Zach Poynter, John Curtis Wilson and Bryson Amyx were all honored at mid-court before the game. Photos from the ceremony will appear in next week's Signal.

Senior Sara Adams looks to make a pass to the paint during senior night on Monday against McCreary Central. Seniors Sara Adams, Micheala Hunter, Emily Miller and Alexis Chasteen were all honored at mid-court before the game. Chasteen, who received a season ending injury in January, did not attend the game as she underwent surgery on her torn ACL Monday morning. However, Chasteen's dad and sisters received her awards for her during the ceremony. Photos from Senior Night will appear in next week's Signal.

Rocket junior forward Josh Mason fights for a rebound during last Friday night's 68-55 win against Garrard County. Also pictured is senior John Curtis Wilson. The Rockets will join the Lady Rockets in a double header on Friday night as they travel to London to take on the South Laurel Cardinals. Tip-off for the game is at 7:30 p.m.

Senior Ashton Arvin puts up a shot during last Friday night's 68-55 win against Garrard County. The Rockets lost to Corbin 78-69 and Whitley County 67-56 this past week. The Rockets are predicted to play the Somerset Briar Jumpers next Wednesday in the first round of the district tournament. The game will be played at Somerset and tip-off will be at 7 p.m.

Swim Rockets compete at Region Championships

The RCHS Swim Rockets completed their 4th and their best season thus far.

The Region 5 Championships were held this weekend at Barboursville with 25 teams competing. The prelims were held on Friday with the top 16 places moving on to the finals on Saturday. The girls team finished in 14th place overall.

The girl's 200 yard medley relay team of Lauren Burton, Holly Cromer, Kellan Coffey and Rachel Cain placed 12th in both the prelims and finals.

The girls 200 yard freestyle relay team of Kellan Coffey, Rachel Cain, Emily Childress and Lauren Burton qualified 12th in the prelims and placed 11th in the finals with a new school record of 1:57.36.

Junior Lauren Burton qualified 14th in the 50 yard freestyle in the prelims and then in the finals placed 13th with a school record of 26.37.

Sophomore Rachel Cain improved her 200 yard freestyle by 4.15 seconds and junior Kellan Coffey had an improvement of a second.

Freshman Emily Childress also had her best time of the year in the 100 yard freestyle with an improvement of 2.77 seconds. Senior Rebecca Barron had an improvement of over 6 seconds in her 100 yard backstroke.

On the boys side Senior Jacob Houk had an improvement in his 100 yard butterfly by 3 1/2 seconds and his 100 yard backstroke 4 1/2 seconds.

Sophomore Joseph Hunt swam the 100 yard freestyle over 2 seconds faster and was over 3 seconds faster in the 100 yard breast.

Junior JT Taylor improved his 100 yard freestyle by 1 1/2 seconds while Senior Garrett Hasty had improvements of 1 1/2 seconds in the 100 yard freestyle and breaststroke. Junior Jacob D Taylor had improvements of 5 seconds in his 100 yard freestyle and over 7 seconds in his 100 yard breaststroke.

The boys 200 yard medley relay team of JT Taylor, Ashton Arvin, Jacob Houk and Andrew Burton smashed the old school record by 7 1/2 seconds.

Our local chapter of the National Archery In the Schools program (NASP) met recently to hold a competition. The chapter is made up of young athletes from the elementary, middle, and secondary levels from Rockcastle County schools. Each team is comprised of students who meet at least twice weekly to practice their archery skills. Our local archery program encourages all students to join the National Archery in the Schools program. Students that may not enjoy basketball, football, or some of our county's other sports can come to excel in the Rockcastle County Archery Program.

Archery in the Schools is a diverse and super-safe shooting activity that is KHSAA sanctioned, with Archery becoming a KHSAA varsity sport activity for the first time in the spring of 2013. Local instructors are certified and follow National Physical Education Standards to teach International Style Target Archery. Instructors explain archery history, safety, technique, equipment, mental concentration, physical fitness, and self-improvement while also encouraging diligence, cooperation, and respect.

Our Mt. Vernon Elementary level team is comprised of 4th and 5th grade students led by Coaches Bobbie Mason and Tammy Carpenter. The Rockcastle County Middle School team is made up of 33 students instructed by Coach Gerald Alexander and Assistant Coach Michael A. Lovell. The Rockcastle County High School team is led by Coach John Chadwell and Assistant Coach Janetta Begley.

For more information about the NASP program check out www.archeryintheschools.org. As our local teams take aim on the upcoming regional tournaments, let's wish them the best of luck and cheer them on to success.

Members of the high school, middle school, and elementary school line up to take their turn in the local meet. Each student shoots 20 arrows from distance of 10 meters and 20 arrows from a distance of 15 meters.

to take on the South Laurel Cardinals. Tip-off for the Rockets game is at 7:30 p.m. The Rockets are also expected to play the Somerset Briar Jumpers next Wednesday in the first round of the district tournament. The game will be played at Somerset and tip-off is at 7 p.m.

Blanton said that South Laurel and Somerset will be tough matchups for his squad. He hopes a possible win against South Laurel will pump up the boys for their game against Somerset.

"South Laurel is a tough team but they are beatable," Blanton said. "We are happy to play Somerset instead of Pulaski County in the first round. I'm hoping a win against South Laurel will propel us to a district tournament win against Somerset."

MVES students Leann Tankersley, Katherine Coffey, and Nichole Griffin get ready for their turn in the archery competition.

MVES student Holly Miller discusses strategy with her sister Pam Miller who is on the RCMS Archery team.

F.Y.I. Series... from Rockcastle Health & Rehabilitation

Slips, Trips or Falls?

During these icy winter months, we understand that accidents happen. However, we want you to know that there is no need to go far from home for your rehabilitation needs. At Rockcastle Health and Rehabilitation Center, we have a wonderful therapy department that can meet and exceed all of your therapy expectations. We offer sub-acute rehab to get you back on your feet after hip, knee, or any type of orthopedic surgery.

Mrs. Virginia Jenkins is shown above with Jeremy Cook, PTA and Jane Riddle, RSM, OT. Mrs. Jenkins recently had a fall at her home and is in the facility for short term rehab after a hip replacement.

Please call Rachel Martin at 606-758-7223 to arrange a facility tour and find out about all of our therapy and nursing services.

You can also check us out on our website at www.rockcastlehealth.com.

Grow Appalachia in Rockcastle County first workshop is February 25th

February 25th at 6:30 p.m. will be the first workshop of the year for Grow Appalachia in Rockcastle County!

If you are interested in growing a garden at home or in the community garden on Richmond street, join us to learn about the program and what it takes to grow your own food.

Garden planning, maintenance, and seed starting will be discussed at this workshop.

March 4, 2013, 10:30 AM: Community Garden Workday! Join us to help build the community garden with students and veteran volunteers. We will be building raised beds and putting up signs.

All events are FREE and open to the public. All events are located at 50 Lair Street.

Grow Appalachia is a program of ASPI, located at 50 Lair Street in Mt Vernon.

Grow Appalachia is a free program that provides workshops and gardening supplies to program participants.

Call 606-256-0077 for more information or visit www.a-spi.org.

Rockcastle County Spelling Bee champion Trevor Todd, will be participating in the Kentucky Derby Festival State Spelling Bee on Saturday, March 9th in Louisville.

4K for Heart Health to be February 23rd

Cedar Rapids Golf Course will host its first-ever run/walk on Feb. 23. The event, called the 4K for Heart Health and the second race of the 4K for Heart Health's County-wide Stride series, will follow cart paths throughout the 9-hole course, offering participants interesting terrain, nice views, and a couple of challenging climbs. The 4-kilometer race is approximately 2.5 miles.

Discounted pre-registration is available for $12 until February 20. Race day registration will begin at 8 a.m. and the race will start at 9 a.m. For online pre-registration, visit rockcastle.org/countywidestride.

The race will feature awards for overall male and female race winners and overall fastest male and female walkers, as well as top three male and female age group finishers. All participants will receive a fleece headband.

This race features our Run + 1 incentive. If you participated in any 2012 Countywide Stride race or the Snowball Express last month, you can recruit someone new to this race, and get your registration fee waived at our March 17 race. Your recruit must not have participated in any 2012 County-wide Stride race or the 2013 Snowball Express. See registration form on our website for details.

The course is mostly paved cart path with some grassy paths, and at 9 a.m. the grass probably will be wet. It is not ideal for strollers but strollers are not prohibited. There is one significant climb, a couple of more gradual climbs, and the rest is flat to rolling.

"Blooming with Good Health"

7th annual Redbud Walk scheduled

TOUR Southern and Eastern Kentucky (TOUR SEKY) will kick off Redbud Month April 1, with the 7th Annual "Blooming with Good Health" Awareness Walk at The Kentucky Music Hall of Fame and Museum in Renfro Valley, KY. The free event will be held from 11:00-1:00 EDT.

The first 500 participants will receive a free tote bag, Redbud seedlings and other giveaways along with a healthy lunch from the Mt. Vernon Subway. Special giveaway items will also be available for children 12 years and younger. Rockcastle Regional is offering free health screenings for all registered participants and performers with the Renfro Valley Entertainment Center will provide live entertainment for the event.

Walkers can choose from a one or two mile path. They will receive free health tips at stations along the way. A wheelchair/stroller route is also available. The walk is free and will be held rain or shine. TOUR SEKY is partnering with the Mt. Vernon-Rockcastle County Tourism Commission, The Christian Appalachian Project, Rockcastle Regional, The Kentucky Music Hall of Fame and Museum and Renfro Valley Entertainment Center.

April is Redbud Month in Southern and Eastern Kentucky. The "Blooming with Good Health" Awareness Walk is just one of many events planned in celebration of the month. A Redbud Garden Party and Photography Contest are planned for April 19th from 1:00 pm - 3:00 pm at the American Association Building in Middlesboro.

To find out how you can be a part of the Redbud Month festivities, contact Maggie Bill at 606-677-6093 or mbill@tourseky.com.

TOUR SEKY is an award winning initiative of Congressman Hal Rogers. For additional information about TOUR SEKY visit www.tourseky.com, facebook.com/tourseky or call 606-677-6093.

Chamber of Commerce meeting is Feb. 19th

The Rockcastle County Chamber of Commerce will hold their February meeting on February 19th at Community Trust Bank on HWY 461. The meeting is scheduled to begin at noon.

The February meeting will welcome County Judge Executive Buzz Carloftis presenting the annual "State of The County" address, as well as Mayor Mike Bryant, Mayor Jason Medley, and Mayor Walter Cash presenting their "State of The City" addresses.

Following the speeches in which an update will be provided on county and city issues/projects, the before mentioned individuals will also be open to answering questions from those in attendance.

All Rockcastle Chamber of Commerce members are encouraged to attend as this will present an excellent forum for our county's leaders to address any concerns you may have about business in Rockcastle County.

If you would like to join the chamber, you may have not yet paid your 2013 membership dues, you may pay these at the meeting or contact Derek Adams at 606-256-0070 or email address dadams@rockcastlecountychamber.com.

On Wednesday, January 9th, James Miller presented a check to the UNITE Coalition on behalf of the Rockcastle County Car Show Committee that will be used for educational programming with our UNITE Clubs. Accepting the donation was John Hale. UNITE meets the second Wednesday of each month at the El Cazador Restaurant on South Wilderness Road. You are invited to join us there to work on a safer, more healthy Rockcastle County.

March is Colon Cancer Awareness Month. Stay Healthy. Get Screened.

Colon cancer can be prevented if caught early. When found at its earliest, most treatable stage, colon cancer has a 90 percent survival rate. Early detection is critical since colon cancer often produces no symptoms during early stages. The American Cancer Society recommends that everyone get tested for colon cancer beginning at age 50. People should talk to their doctor about testing earlier if they have a family history of colon disease or have a personal history of chronic inflammatory bowel disease, such as Crohn's disease or ulcerative colitis.

RCMS Governor's Cup excel at district competition

The Rockcastle County Middle School Governor's Cup excelled at their district competition on Saturday, January 19th. The team placed second in quick recall, second overall and brought home the Catherine C. Hume Sportsmanship Award. The quick recall team will now move on to regional competition at East Jessamine Middle School.

The following students placed individually and will be competing in regional competition in specific subject areas. Joy Frith placed second in Composition and first in Language Arts. Tessa Pickle placed third in Composition and fourth in Language Arts. Erin Thompson placed fifth in Composition and fourth in Science. Clare Beichler placed second in Science. Katie Vance placed fifth in Social Studies and Travis Ross placed third in Math.

Pictured is Creed Gabbard and Mr. Anthony Coffey, assistant principal at MVES. Creed has worked extra hard and achieved a high goal. As his reward, he chose to have lunch with Mr. Coffey. Great job, Creed.

Minds in the Middle

Spring pictures will be on Tuesday, February 19th. Students should not wear green.

Applications for the Rogers Explorers program are now available. The Rogers Explorers spend three days and two nights on campus at some of Kentucky's top colleges and universities over the summer. Experts will guide participants through hands-on assignments that encourage creative thinking, teamwork and build leadership skills. The program is available to 8th grade students interested in science, math, and technology. Interested students need to see Mrs. Cromer for more information.

The last day to turn in Box Tops for the current contest is next Friday, February 22nd.

RCMS yearbooks are in limited supply. The cost is $35. If you would like one, but have yet ordered, do so soon!

Mid-term reports were sent home on Monday. If you did not receive those, you can contact the office for another copy. Individual Student Reports from the K-Prep spring assessment are now available. Guardians should see Mrs. Cromer in the office to pick those up.

We wish the best to our archery team as they participate in their first meet of the year next Friday in Madison County.

Congratulations to RCMS 7th grade student Jackson Cromer (above) and MVES 5th grader Ashlyn Brock (below). These two students entered an essay about why they wanted to be a page through the Family Resource/Youth Service Centers. Their essays, which also included information about the importance of their school FRYSC, were selected to represent Region 9 as Legislative Page for Senator Jared Carpenter and State Representative David Meade. This is a tremendous honor for these students as they are only two of 16 students selected to represent region 9, which consists of Barbourville, Bell, Clay, Corbin, Pineville, Rockcastle, Williamsburg, and Whitley County Schools systems. These two students will go to Frankfort on February 13th and work in the house and senate and develop and understanding of the workings of state government. Both schools are very proud of these students.

Congratulations to Mrs. Bishop's 8th grade Comets on having the best attendance for the month of January. Remember that we are having a new attendance incentive period beginning on Monday and going through March 14th. We will be rewarding the best homeroom attendance and having Dash for Cash.

School will not be in session on Monday due to Presidents Day.

Cumberlands announces Alpha Lambda Delta Inductees

On Tuesday, February 5th, University of the Cumberlands (UC) Chapter of Alpha Lambda Delta inducted new members for 2013 during the Annual Initiation of the Freshmen Honorary. Membership is open to full-time freshmen students who earn a scholastic average of 3.5 or better at a four year college or university.

Included in the 2013 induction class of Alpha Lambda Delta was Hayley Elizabeth Davis of Mt. Vernon.

"Alpha Lambda Delta emphasizes that educated persons have a responsibility to have tolerance in their dealings with all persons, generosity in giving to those in need, and insight into the feelings of others," says Dr. Glenda Earwood, Executive Director of the Society. All members are challenged to make a meaningful contribution to society.

Rogers Explorers now accepting applications

The Center for Rural Development is accepting applications through March 4 from eighth-grade middle school students in Rockcastle County interested in developing their skills in math, science, and technology this summer at the 2013 Rogers Explorers youth leadership program.

The program, held three days and two nights on a college campus, provides hands-on learning experiences in these in-demand career fields and builds leadership skills—all while students get to see what it is like to live and study on a leading Kentucky college or university.

"Eighth-grade students in Southern and Eastern Kentucky have an exciting opportunity to participate in a summer camp that motivates students to excel in math, science, and technology," said youth programs coordinator Delaney Stephens. "By receiving hands-on instruction from college professors, students get to see how fun math and science can be when applied to the real world."

The 2013 summer sessions of Rogers Explorers will be held June 2-4 at Lindsey Wilson College, Columbia; June 5-7, University of the Cumberlands, Williamsburg; July 21-23, Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond; and July 24-26 at Morehead State University in Morehead.

For more information, call 606-677-6000 or visit <http://centertech.com/leadership/rogers-explorers/> to download an application form. All applications must be completed and mailed to

The Center for Rural Development, 2292 South U.S. 27, Suite 300, Somerset, KY 42501, by March 4th deadline.

Thirty students will be selected to attend each of the four 2013 Rogers Explorers summer sessions. All lodging, meals, and program expenses (with the exception of transportation to and from the campus host site) are provided free of charge to participating students.
