BEFORE CONSOLIDATION The Golden Age of Rockcastle County Basketball

David Owens and M.T. Publishing Company, Inc. are joining forces to bring you Before Consolidation: The Golden Age of Rockcastle County Basketball. This history/pictorial book will explore times before consolidation, when the county had three high schools, Mt. Vernon, Livingston and Brodhead.

The 1950s was known as the Golden Age of Basketball throughout Kentucky, which was probably when the county rivalry was at its height. This extraordinary book will take you through intense rivalries, when 36 players instead of 12 represented Rockcastle County or when passion was so strong that local police had to come to prevent hostilities from breaking out between Red Devil, Blue Devil or Tiger fans!

Only a limited number of books will be printed, therefore it is necessary to take all orders in advance. The pre-publication price is $37.50* for the deluxe standard edition and $64.95* for the genuine bonded leather edition if ordered by the pre-order deadline of July 31, 2013.

This 8 1/2" x 11" hardbound book will have a full color dust jacket and contain a minimum of 128 pages. You may have your copy personalized with a name stamping on the cover for a nominal charge. All pre-ordered books will contain the wording "Commemorative Edition" on the cover and a printed personal note from the author. These commemorative edition books are numbered as they are sold.

Complete the order form below and remit with payment no later than July 31, 2013. To order with credit card, go online to www.mtpublishing.com or call toll free 1-888-263-4702. Credit card orders will be kept on file and charged 30-60 days before shipping.

Make sure you order one for yourself and your family members too! The price will increase after publication, so don't hesitate, order your copies today!

Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet! Some things to think about...
 What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?
 Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.
Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?
 A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and beach to help dissolve stains.
 B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.
 The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors. Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildewing, causing carpet threads to rot, shorting the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.
Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?
 C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.
 D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.
 E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.
 The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying times is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again-Promoting the life of the carpet.
 Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.

Go Bare Root and Save Money on Landscaping

If you've ever ordered a mail-order fruit tree from Stark Brothers or any of dozens of other nurseries, you may have wondered if the three foot long stick with a bunch of roots really would live, and grow to become the fruiting tree you saw pictured in their catalog. I can assure you, most of the time, with proper care, it will.

It is possible to completely landscape a new home with bare root plants if one is not too concerned about how they will look for the first couple years, and you can save a good deal of money on the plants and the digging will be easier at planting time. Even those not quite convinced can plant a few big balled-and-burlapped trees, and fill in the other planting spots with bare root trees and shrubs for substantial savings.

A three foot tall 'stick' can grow into a ten foot tall silver maple tree within 18 months, for instance. That ten foot tall tree would cost $75 to $175 in a large black spot, and from $45 to $120 as a B&B tree. That little bare root tree will cost you under $10 in most cases, and perhaps under $5 if you buy a minimum order of perhaps $100. So, that would be one big tree with great looks from a local garden center—or 20 three foot tall trees that don't look so great at the moment from a nursery or mail-order company. The choice is yours of course, but I wanted to explain to perhaps that new homeowner that they can sure save a ton of money by choosing to plant bare root trees.

If this all sounds difficult, most nurseries are in the habit of shipping clear and precise planting instructions with diagrams along with your new plants. But, even if you decide to hire a landscaper, it will still be more economical to purchase bare root plants.

Price is a major reason why someone would decide to order and plant bare root trees. Limited funds can go a lot further. (Even if you bought 20 bare root trees and had a couple not make it, think how much you still saved.)

Diversity is another reason to go bare root. Let's say you want a couple pawpaw trees, maybe some fir trees, perhaps a privet hedge or 5 colors of lilacs. It could be you have thought of a tree you want and no nursery you ever shop at has it: Kentucky Coffee Tree comes to mind. I guarantee you somebody will sell and ship it to you wrapped in plastic and enclosed in a cardboard box. Another example might be some unique dogwood like pagoda dogwood, giant dogwood, evergreen dogwood or Cornelian cherry dogwood. FedEx, UPS and the USPS carry such packages all the time.

Availability is a related subject. A local garden center may carry 20 different kinds of trees and perhaps twice that many shrubs in pots or in burlap. But, when there exists thousands of trees one might easily plant and grow successfully, ordering them with no dirt on the roots can make sense.

(In fact, some states won't allow potted plants of certain kinds to be shipped, but may allow bare root plants to cross it's borders. The issue is soil born pathogens that might spread diseases. Puerto Rico is an example where they can order bare root from Americans, but not with dirt on the roots.)

The US Forest Service often plants pine trees on areas that have been logged clean or that have had a devastating forest fire. They never use potted trees or balled and burlapped trees. They use little seedling trees maybe a foot or two feet tall.

And ten years later...there is a new pine forest! I believe one could obtain additional useful information from the

USFS on this subject.

It costs a lot less to ship trees minus the dirt. A tractor trailer load of trees might be 300 with dirt on the roots, but thousands could be shipped for the same freight bill if they were bare rooted.

Planting a small tree with a few roots dangling below the 'stick' sure is easier than digging a hole three feet wide and deep for a $175 tree from the local garden center too. Anybody can do it. Ofcourse, some kinds of plants have better success rates than others. Regardless, I usually have close to 100% success myself.

Bare root trees and shrubs can only be dug during late fall and winter. Growers of this type liner or fruit material typically sort, grade and store in special cold storage houses. They can sell until they have sold out, or until hot weather, perhaps in May. Any trees not sold as bare root will have to be potted up or will have to be taken back to the fields and replanted by the nursery and grow them another year. (Otherwise they die and potential profits are lost.) And, for you, it's necessary to order bare root plants during the fall or winter or early spring so that you can plant them before the weather gets terribly hot or dry.

Planting of bare root trees is where some get worried. But, if you're planting thousands like the forest service, you put your tool in the ground, stick the plant in, and remove your tool. That's pretty much it. But, if it's an apple tree or a pear tree that is six feet tall, you may want to go to some more trouble. Just dig a hole like for any other tree, add a small amount of soil amendments to the planting hole, perhaps a fertilizer tablet or two that won't burn the roots, and leave the surface with a bit of a bowl effect to funnel rain or water from your hose towards the trunk of the new tree. Again, there are directions shipped with a package of trees—read them.

Water your new trees until the ground is soupy wet. Most of the time, deciduous trees that are planted bare-root do not need to be staked. (Another savings.)

Just like when you buy and plant a big tree at a garden center that is wrapped in burlap, you need to prune some on the limbs. One reason a large B&B tree does poorly the first couple seasons is because many roots got cut when it was dug, but nobody wants to take their new tree and cut half it's branches off! (They would be happier three or five years later if they did though). So, on your new bare root tree, trim off any broken or mis-placed limbs with sharp pruning shears. The more you remove the faster the little tree will take off growing. I would also add that removing broken roots, or extra-long roots may be desirable before you plant—just don't cut off the taproot if it has one—you know, that big root that goes straight down.

Bare root trees should be planted soon as possible when you receive them. Do not let them get too hot, too cold or the roots too dry. (But, don't think of putting the roots in a bucket of water and leaving them overnight either!)

If it will be days or weeks before you can plant your new bare root stock, "heel" them in somewhere. (This consists of planting the wad or bundle of trees in some soil, preferably in the shade outdoors somewhere in some loose topsoil.) You can take them up and plant when you are ready—hopefully before they leaf out in the spring though, as that will lessen their chances of survival.

The biggest down side to bare root tree planting is that you begin with a smaller size and have to be patient.

Like any other tree, it's smart to wrap the trunks or stems of your new bare root plants to keep the sun and varmints from harming the trunk of the new tree. Adding some mulch is also good...just don't put a bunch of fresh mulch up against the trunk of your new tree, keep it an inch or two away from the stems.

We could elaborate all day on this topic. But what I really wanted to do was to get the reader to think of an option for landscaping on a budget that they may not have considered previously. Bigger plant selections, lower costs: those are two good reasons to consider doing some or most of your plantings without the dirt, and skipping the high costs you'll pay at a garden center.

Mamaw's Kitchen

By Regina Poynter Hoskins
STUFFED CHERRY TOMATOES

24 cherry tomatoes
1 small box (3 ounce) cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup tuna, well drained
2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh basil
2 tablespoons chopped capers
2 tablespoons chopped cucumber
1 tablespoon chopped black olives (optional)
Cut tomatoes in half. Hollow out insides with small spoon. Place tomatoes, cut sides down, on a plate lined with paper towels. In a bowl, mix cream cheese, lemon juice, tuna, basil, capers, cucumber, and olives (if desired). Cover and chill for 10 minutes. To stuff tomatoes, spoon filling into a zip lock bag. Snip off a corner and pipe filling into tomatoes.

TOMATOES WITH BUTTERMILK VINAIGRETTE

3/4 cup buttermilk
1/4 cup white wine vinegar
3 tablespoons canola oil
1 or 2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon mustard seeds
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 pounds grape or cherry tomatoes, halved
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup minced green onion
In a small bowl, whisk the first ingredients until blended. Refrigerate, covered, until serving. Just before serving, arrange tomatoes on a platter; sprinkle with salt and drizzle with vinaigrette. Sprinkle with green onions.

CUCUMBER SALAD WITH TOMATOES

3 medium cucumbers, peeled and sliced 1/4 inch thick
1 medium onion, sliced and separated into rings
3 cups cherry tomatoes, halved
1/2 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
1 cup water
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon fresh coarse ground black pepper
1/4 cup oil

Combine ingredients in a large bowl and mix well. Refrigerate at least 2 hours. Drain before serving.

The 10U Knights have captured two more championships. The Knights went undefeated in pool play and tournament action in Russell Springs. They defeated Lake Cumberland in the championship to become Southern KY Baseball Classic 10-year-old champs. The team went undefeated again in pool play and tournament action in Danville. They defeated the Bluegrass Bats in the championship game to become "City of First" 10-year-old champs. McKinney's Tire and Service Center on Main Street in Mt. Vernon was heavily damaged Monday when a black truck crashed through the wall after being hit by a runaway car. Authorities say a silver Lincoln Town Car, driven by Tammy Newton, 41, of Berea, slammed into a parked black Ford Ranger owned by Blake McKinney causing the Ford Ranger to go through the wall of the building. Newton told authorities she realized her brakes had gone out after turning onto Old US Hwy 25 from Hwy 25. Newton managed to navigate down the curves on Old US 25, at times reaching speeds of 50-60 MPH before going between two other parked vehicles and slamming into McKinney's truck. Newton was transported to Rockcastle Regional Hospital where she was treated for non-life threatening injuries and released. Owner Bill McKinney said the wall has been patched up and that he will meet with his insurance adjuster later this week to determine damages from the accident.

Former school bus driver arrested for inappropriate communication

By: Doug Ponder

A former Rockcastle County school bus driver was arrested at the central office of the school board Tuesday afternoon for using electronic communications to solicit pornography and other sexual offenses to male minor students on his former bus route.

Arrested was Joshua Glenn Robbins, 29, of Brodhead.

According to Kentucky State Police reports, Trooper Scottie Pennington received complaints in June from the parents of two male students who rode Robbins' school bus on his former bus route.

The parents told Pennington that when they read some of their sons' Facebook messages and cell phone text messages they had found several inappropriate conversations between their children and Robbins. One of the male students had sixty messages that were reportedly inappropriate in nature and the other male student had three but said he had deleted a large number of his old messages.

In some of the messages between Robinson and the male students, the conversations were about inappropriate acts while looking at porn websites.

After discovering the inappropriate messages, one father sent a message to Robbins from his son's Facebook account telling him that he had been caught. Robbins reportedly replied and admitted to the father that he was wrong for having the inappropriate conversations with his son.

Robbins also told Pennington that he had been having inappropriate conversations with the two male students. After receiving consent from Robbins to search his phone, Pennington also found a message from Robbins asking one of the male students to come stay with him.

Rockcastle Fiscal Court opens bids for new Climax Fire Department at Tuesday's meeting

Four bids were opened at Tuesday's regular meeting of the Fiscal Court. However, the court was able to award only one bid, for wood framing and metal work. Keith Bullock submitted the low bid, $35,604 labor only, for this portion of the construction. The county plans to furnish all materials for the building since they are exempt from paying sales tax. The county will contact D&B Electrical and ask them to separate the materials from the labor in their bid.

The court also received a bid for the electrical work, from D&B Electrical LLC in Berea, of $36,235 but that bid included materials as did a bid for a "turn key" job for $279,261 from R&R Builders in Berea. County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis and magistrates agreed not to consider that bid because of the cost. The only other bid received was for $45,000 for wood framing and metal work from Rondal Baker. The county must still get bids for a heating and cooling system, plumbing, flooring, concrete work and drywall.

During the meeting, the court also agreed to pay $22,688 to complete payment for the City of Brodhead's new park. The park includes two shelter

Blacktopping concerns discussed at Brodhead Council meeting

By: Doug Ponder

A Brodhead citizen attended the city's monthly council meeting to discuss his concerns with the new blacktopping project.

Randy Abrams said he lives at the end of Proffitt Street in a cul-de-sac. Cul-de-sacs are oval shaped pavement designs that are placed at the end of dead-end streets for motorists to turn around.

The current blacktopping plans show that the city is only paving approximately two-thirds of the street and leaving out the section in front of Abrams' house and three other homes. Abrams suggested that the pavement toward the end of the street needs

Local police receive tips in search of missing Berea teen

By: Doug Ponder

The Rockcastle County Sheriff's Department and Mt. Vernon Police Department received a couple of tips last week about the alleged location of a missing Berea teen's body.

Sheriff Mike Peters said the tips dealt with the alleged burial of missing Berea teen Brookelyn Farthing, 18. Farthing went missing in Berea on Saturday, June 22nd.

Peters said they received one tip that her body was buried in the woods around the Climax area and another tip that said her body was buried in the woods around the Conway area. He said officers from the two departments extensively searched the woods in the two areas but they didn't find anything.

"We traced the woods in both areas and found nothing," Peters said. "We even retraced the same wooded areas as well as surrounding wooded areas in case we all missed something but we still didn't find anything."

Peters went on to say that

Mayor Medley, others visit Virginia trail town

Livingston Mayor Jason Medley gave a report to the city commissioners Monday night on a recent visit made to Damascus, Virginia by himself, Commissioner Katha Carpenter, City Clerk Trish Doan and Police Chief Carl Swannigan, and their families. The group paid their own expenses for the trip.

Medley said the visit was made to get a feel for the issues Livingston will have to deal with in their development as a trail town. "Damascus's has a population of 1,000 people, with 11 bike rental shops and, each year, has 160,000 to 200,000 visitors," Medley said. There are no big hotels/motels in the town, most of the tourists stay at bed and breakfasts or go to nearby Abingdon where there are big motels/hotels.

The mayor also said that in 1999, the city had a yearly budget of $50,000. Today their annual budget is $1.5 million. Tourists are shuttled to the top of a mountain and then ride bikes to the bottom, about

School board will wait to raise drop-out age

On the recommendation of Superintendent David Pensol, the Rockcastle County Board of Education opted to not make a special motion to raise the drop-out age to 18. Instead the board will pass the law as part of their acceptance of their policy manual from the Kentucky School Board Association at a subsequent meeting.

The action came following Superintendent's "Superintendent's Report" during which he told the board that the local district was already making strides in combating drop-outs, cutting the figure to 14 this year (not including those who left to be home-schooled), from 16 the year before. The superintendent said that all 14 were 18 and could sign themselves out. As to the lower rate of drop-outs, Pensol said "we are having individual conversations with students and making

Points East

By Ike Adams

I usually wait until after the State Fair to make this report, but this year there is some news that simply needs not to be postponed that long.

If you've been a POINTS EAST reader for the last decade or so, you already know that Loretta and I run a photography day camp for 4-H kids, under the auspices of the Garrard County Extension Service, every year in June. You also know that we are so tired by the time the whole thing is over that we swear we won't be doing it again because we're getting too old to keep up with a bunch of 10 to 14 year old kids who are pumped up on soda pop and sugary stuff.

But when the weather is cold and dreary in January, we start talking about how much fun we had in photo camp last year and bumping ideas off each other as to how we could make it better this year and it takes very little convincing that maybe we ought to do it one more time.

By the first of May we are in full-steam-ahead, day-camp mode, all the while promising each other that this will, indeed, be the last year we do it because just can't take it anymore.

And then we start talking about the kids who were there last year and how well they did at the State Fair after doing so well at the County Fair. These kids don't know it but we talk, behind their backs, about how wonderful they are, collectively and individually, and how talented they are and just how lucky we are to spend a scant few days in their lives. I can only hope that, one day, down the road, they'll feel good to have encountered Lo and me when they pull a camera---or a cane out--- but that's beside the point

4-H is pretty awesome in Garrard County and it probably is in yours. Here in central Kentucky where we raise cattle, horses, sheep, goats, hogs and the hay and corn it takes to feed them. We used to raise tobacco up until about four years ago, but that's a different topic and it's subject to a different column down the road.

So, anyway, we spent a bunch of time with kids and cameras during the second week of June in the classroom and out there taking pictures on The Patterson Farm where Dorothy Murphy and her Mom have cherries ripening and peaches blushing and flowers in full bloom exactly when we do photo camp.

In fact, the week before we started I told Loretta that she'd better call Mrs. Patterson to see if the cherries were going to be ripe because we might have to put the day camp off for a week or two if they weren't.

Mrs. Patterson and Dorothy also have sheep, goats, cattle, chickens, a donkey and a spotted horse named Sugar who relishes the attention she gets during photo camp as much as the kids love petting on her. You may believe that Secretariat was the most photographed horse ever but Sugar would suggest that you might need to do some actual counting.

Let's just say that Sugar's mug, mane and tail have been prominently featured in one aspect or another by 4-H kids at both the Garrard County Fair and the Kentucky State for the last dozen years or so because she is not camera shy.

So Loretta calls me up on opening night from the fair grounds and says, "Guess who won Grand Champion in photography in the open class?" Open class is for photo hobbyists, serious amateurs and professional photographers and you'd better be pretty good with a camera before you enter a photo. Lo and I both had entries this year, as did some people who take pictures for a living.

But I didn't miss a heartbeat before saying to her, "If Cassidy's shot of Sugar didn't win you better be firing the judges." I'd seen the picture and watched when Cassidy took it. Perfect sunset light on Sugar's face and ears and eyebrows with her tongue stuck out as if to say, enough already!

Been Around A Long Time

To my surprise, we just received a package from Amazon that my wife had ordered; it contained the latest CD release by Delbert McClinton -- one of our favorite blues/country/rock artists. He is one of the few artists we will actually seek out for a live concert, because that is basically Delbert at his best.

For those of you who are having a hard time figuring out just who McClinton is, let me remind you that he was the harmonica player on the 1962 number-one hit by Bruce Channel, Hey Baby. The song remained in the number one spot for three weeks and remains one of the most requested rock-and-roll songs of the early 60's.

McClinton is a legend among Texas roots music aficionados, not only for his longevity but also for his ability to combine blues, country, soul, and rock and roll. He has been playing that harp and singing for over 50 years. Kathy and I did not "discover" him for ourselves until the early 90's, when we attended an outdoor concert of his in Bardstown. The music was amazing, bringing the crowd to its feet for most of the concert. Many of the fans rushed to the front of the stage and remained there for the entire show. It is kind of hard to sit still when Delbert and his band turn loose. Kathy and I have followed him all over the state for the past 20 years and have seen him in concert many times -- never to be disappointed.

The latest CD by McClinton is entitled, Blind, Crippled and Crazy. The first song on the disk caught my eye even before I was able to listen because it is called "Been Around A Long Time." It came to me once again that Delbert and I are roughly the same age -- and yes, we have been around a long time. Listening to the lyrics, I found that I agreed with the sentiments expressed in the song:

*I ain't old but I been around a long time
Long enough to know age is just a state of mind
Some things just get better like fine wine
I ain't old but I been around a long time
I've seen 'em come and go and come back around again
Some of life's hard lessons finally started sinkin' in
If you don't do nothing your're gonna live to regret
You won't have to live with what you can't forget
I ain't old but I been around a long time
Some people say you burn out if you go too fast
But I just want to live it up*

*as long as it lasts
If there's a secret to life I've ever found
It's all about staying in the here and now
I ain't old but I've been around a long time
Keep your expectations under control
You just might surprise yourself
To see how far you go
Don't hold too tight, let it all unwind
Keep a positive state of mind
I ain't old but I been around a long time.*

This sort of philosophy about life is certainly aligned with mine. I have never thought of myself as old, but if you look at my birthdate -- I have been

The Elusive Unicorn

Being a lover of all animals, except the creepy-crawly ones, I've wondered about the existence of the mythical unicorn. I tend to believe there, at one time, the unicorn must have existed. It is noted several times within the pages of the Bible as a "re' em" (Hebrew).

The Hebrews believed the unicorn to be an animal of great strength and agility, but it was untameable. It had one or two horns. The American Standard Bible translates "re' em" to be "wild ox". The unicorn is mentioned in Numbers 23 and 24, Deuteronomy 33, Job 39, Psalms 22, 29, and 92, and Isaiah 34. The classical Jewish understanding of the Bible did not identify the "re' em" animal as the unicorn. Instead, the "tahash" animal (Exodus 25, 26, 35, 36, and 39; Numbers 4, and Ezekiel 16) was thought to be a kosher (suitable for eating or sacrifice) unicorn with a coat of many colors that only existed in biblical times. The unicorn can be seen as early as 1213 as depicted in mosaics on a church floor.

The unicorn is not found in Greek mythology, but in accounts of natural history as writers of natural history were convinced in the reality of the unicorn. Some of the writers attempted to render the unicorn to be a kind of antelope, wild ass, or a rhinoceros. One writer, Pliny the Elder, describes the unicorn as an "oryx" (a kind of antelope) and an ox, possibly a rhinoceros, as one-horned beasts as well as a fierce animal called a monoceros, which had the head of a stag, feet of an elephant, tail of a boar, body of a horse, and had a black horn projecting from its forehead about two feet long.

Several Asian cultures have a mythological creature rendered to be a unicorn, of sorts. The Chinese unicorn is said to have a deer's body, lion's head, green scales, and a long horn. Other cultures to include the unicorn are the Japanese and Vietnamese.

The unicorn has a long and rich history that has woven itself into the fabric of many cultures. Today, it is thought of as only a creature of legend. It is thought to be a white horse with a single spiraled horn protruding from the forehead. It is at this point we have to question a few facets of the unicorn. It was a common animal of reference in the Bible. It was supposedly still in existence during the classical Greek era and to a point thereafter, and noted quite often during the Middle Ages and Renaissance.

On Call.....

Submitted by Rick Branham, Captain Brodhead Fire Dept.

Do you know the difference between a volunteer firefighter and a career firefighter? The answer, a career firefighter gets paid to risk his/her life. Whether you're a volunteer or career, you receive the same training; utilize the same gear and equipment. A volunteer does it for no pay. Did you know that 80% of this country's fire departments are staffed with volunteers and some paid departments have volunteers on staff to respond to certain incidents.

Rockcastle is comprised solely of volunteer fire departments with each member volunteering their time and risking their lives to protect the citizens of this county. They are trained to the same level as the paid departments and take great pride in being a firefighter.

This column, hopefully, will provide a source of education and interest regarding the first responders of Rockcastle County. In this column you will read about the history of each department and of the fire service. Each week will cover a different topic, for instance, what type of tools are used to extricate a person from a vehicle or discover that it's not actually the wood that is on fire in your campfire. Also, I want to include what each department does for the community. What fundraisers they are doing, the responses they make and the equipment they are using.

I am very excited about this column. Who am I you ask. My name is Rick Branham. I have been in the fire service since 2000. I am a Captain on the Brodhead Volunteer Fire Department and in 2009 I started working for the Lexington Fire Department. I am a certified fire instructor and an EMT. By serving for both types of fire departments, I see firsthand how each operates and through this column I hope you will as well

I entitled this column, On Call because as a firefighter you are always on call. Volunteers are on call 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Most carry a pager or radio and are ready to respond when a call is dispatched. Career firefighters are on call while on duty. Their shifts typical last for 24 hours and usually have 48 hours off. However they could be called in for duty given a large incident.

Until next time, I leave you with a question. When and where was the first full-time paid fire department formed?

The Family Room

By Guest Columnist Amy Oakley

For the past ten years, she has been married to a man who is emotionally abusive. She has put up with his constant threats, manipulation, and mind games because she didn't think they qualified as abuse. But last night, he threatened to hurt her if she didn't get the house cleaned up. He put his fist through the wall to prove that he meant it.

She is terrified. She decides to meet with her pastor. She tells him about the turmoil she's been living with. She confesses that she is afraid of her husband and that she wants to leave the relationship. She hopes that the pastor will help her figure out what to do.

The pastor tells her that he doesn't believe in divorce and that a woman should obey her husband and stick with him no matter what. He suggests that they should go through marital counseling to save the relationship. She leaves the meeting discouraged and confused. She doesn't know where else to turn. She is so embarrassed by the pastor's response that she decides not to go to anyone else for help. The domestic violence stays a secret.

While this particular story is fiction, it represents reality for many domestic violence victims who seek help from their faith communities. At their best, churches (and temples, mosques, and synagogues) can be a refuge for victims: a place where they can find resources and comfort from people who share their religious beliefs. At their worst, churches can reinforce the shame and guilt that a victim feels. They can make her believe that what is happening is her fault and that she must accept it and learn to live with it.

Which do you want your place of worship to be?

Ways to create a church that helps domestic violence victims:

1. Let victims know that they are not alone. Preach against domestic violence from the pulpit. Add victims and survivors to prayer lists. Display informational brochures and posters with contact information for Family Life Abuse Center.

2. Become educated. Study scripture that is sometimes used to justify domestic violence, such as Ephesians 5. Hold a training for pastors and church staff so that they understand how to respond to domestic violence victims. Invite a speaker from Family Life Abuse Center to your Bible study or Sunday School class.

3. Partner with Family Life Abuse Center to show that your church doesn't stand for domestic violence. You can provide support to the shelter by giving monetary or material donations, or you can engage in service by volunteering at the shelter.

Family Life Abuse Center provides emergency shelter and services to victims of domestic violence and their families. If you are in a dangerous relationship and need help, please call Family Life Abuse Center at any time at 1-800-755-5348. All calls are free and confidential.

Good to know people care...

Dear Editor,
Last Friday night my grandson, Justin, wrecked when the truck he was driving slid off the roadway and flipped several times due to the wet roads. This was on Hwy. 1505.

We want to take the time to thank all who helped direct traffic, the Brindle Ridge Fire Dept. and the EMS for treating and transporting him to the E.R. Thanks also to the Kentucky State Police and the nurses and doctor at the Rockcastle Hospital. A special thank you to the young lady who was at the scene and kept him calm and comforted me over the phone.

It's good to know that there are so many people out there who really do care for others. If I left anyone out, thank you from our hearts. Justin has minor scratches and cuts to his face and left hand, and he hurt his back. We would appreciate your prayers for him and our family.

*Thanks again,

FSA acreage reporting deadline is July 15th

John W. McCauley, USDA Kentucky Farm Service Agency State Executive Director, is reminding producers that the acreage reporting deadline for the 2013 crop year is July 15, 2013. Acreage reports are required for many Farm Service Agency programs. Producers who file accurate and timely reports for all crops and land uses, including failed acreage can prevent the potential loss of FSA program benefits. Crops reported after July 15, will be considered late filed; however, the late file fee will be waived for the 2013 crop year for crops reported July 15 through September 15.

Producers are also reminded that August 2nd is the deadline to sign up for DCP.

To report prevented or failed acreage, producers must complete Form CCC-576, Notice of Loss for applicable crops. Reporting prevented or failed acreage

Money Tip for Students

Take advantage of meal plan

Many colleges require students to have a meal plan, especially if they live on campus. Meal plans vary among colleges, but most will give students a certain number of dining hall meals per week and the option of adding flex dollars that students can use at the campus food court or other locations. The larger the school is, the greater flexibility students may have.

Students who choose their meal plan carefully may be able to cut college costs by selecting the plan that is best for them, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

Most often, the meal plan will come out of students' financial aid or their parents' money if they're footing the bill. Funds will be loaded on a card students swipe at on-campus cafeterias and restaurants.

Students can waste a lot of money eating off-campus and even rack up credit card debt by charging food. Most meals on-campus are already paid for through the meal plan, so students should eat on-campus as much as possible.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheaa.com.

To learn how to plan and prepare for higher education, go to www.gotocollege.ky.gov. For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit www.kheaa.com; write KHEAA, P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926, ext. 6-7372.

– in both lyric and in music.

McClinton has been awarded Grammys for his musical talents. In 1991, he released a song with Bonnie Raitt, which won for Best Rock Vocal, Duo or Group. In 2001, his most acclaimed CD was called Nothing Personal, and it proved to be the most popular recording of his career, earning him a Grammy for Best Contemporary Blues Album. If you were only limited to hearing one of his records, that album is the best example of his talent and showmanship.

Receiving this album has reminded me to be thankful for the life that I have led – as well as for that life that I continue to lead. There is something about Delbert's sound that seems to get his messages through in a most unique manner. Maybe that is why he is so successful in so many different styles of music. Because it is certain that he is good for my spirits; it is like sharing his high energy as the song carries you along. And in this particular song, it comes packaged with a bit of wisdom – from a man who has been around a long time.

KY Artisan Center celebrates 10 years as showcase for the arts

The Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea celebrates 10 years as Kentucky's showcase for the arts with three days of celebration beginning Friday, July 19, with a host of activities including a demonstration of clay face jugs by Robert Brigl, from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the center.

Drawn to the traditional forms of American folk pottery, Brigl makes both functional and sculptural ceramic jugs and bottles on the potter's wheel. He sculpts these thrown forms with faces and figures by adding coils and pieces of clay to their surfaces. He often makes the eyes from white porcelain clay.

Brigl often finishes these pieces with glaze and sometimes adds semi-precious stones or sand blasts the surfaces to make the glazes appear to be time-worn. He also makes a line of hand-built and pinched face “Nuts” in a variety of sizes, from 2-4 inches.

Brigl, of Bowling Green, is a juried member of the Kentucky Art Council's Kentucky Crafted Program and regularly shows his work at the co-operative studio and gallery, The Pots Place in Bowling Green, as well as at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea.

Born in North Dakota, Brigl grew up in the Midwest and came to Kentucky when his family moved to the state for his father to finish his doctorate. Brigl studied ceramics at Western Kentucky University, in Bowling Green, under the direction of Professor Bill Weaver.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in education in 1974, Brigl apprenticed for four years with Weaver, assisting him in the our day camp three years running and she could be teaching it. This year we talked three or four of our 4-H day campers into entering the big league and unassuming, Miss Modesty, Cassidy Watkins, won the whole she-bang! YESSSSSS!!!!

I absolutely could not possibly be proud nor anymore elated. If I could have a room full of motivated, eager-to-learn kids like Cassidy Watkins I'd be back teaching in a heartbeat. It is so way, way beyond wonderful when your student out-performs the teacher.

“Strange”

When did the unicorn cease to exist, since there aren't any today? Was it after the Great Flood? Did the unicorn die during the Middle Ages or Renaissance when the horn was thought to have magical powers and they were hunted to extinction? Were there any real unicorns or just an ox, stag, bull, etc., being called a unicorn? Did God intentionally destroy the unicorns at some point, and if so, why? These are questions that may never be answered. In next week's column of “Strange...but True?” we will examine more history of the elusive unicorn.

An encouraging word:

A Choice That Makes A Difference

By Howard Coop

Recently, a beautiful spring morning began as mornings usual do. Breakfast was prepared, and we gathered around the table to enjoy it. After the usual short prayer that contained thanksgiving for a night of restful sleep, gratitude for the expected blessings of a new day, a request for guidance through the day, and gratitude for the food before us, I looked, and there beside a bowl of my favorite cereal was a number of pills to be taken before I ate.

I began to take those little pills, and as I did so, I remembered, with gratitude, that I had been taking one of those little pills for thirty-one years. After trying a number of medications to control my blood pressure, a wise physician suggested that I try a different medicine. It worked marvelously and has continued to do so over the years. Now, my blood pressure is consistently on the low side of normal, and I am, indeed, grateful for that.

Before enjoying the bowl of cereal, I finished taking my medication, and at once, an intriguing thought occurred to me: There is an even better medication that is available to everyone. It can, and does, have a profound effect upon life, and it is free for everyone. But, unfortunately, there is another medication, free to everyone, that is harmful. For about three thousand years, it has been proverbial that "A cheerful heart is good medicine, but a crushed spirit dries up the bones." Now, who wants a crushed spirit when one can have a cheerful heart?

How one looks at life is determined by one's own choosing. If one chooses, one can develop a cheerful heart and, even in difficult situations, walk on the sunny side of the street. Likewise, one can, if one chooses, develop a crushed spirit attitude and live in the unpleasant shadows on the wrong side of the street of life. It is a choice that makes a difference.

mayor also gave a report on the progress of cleaning-up the former Livingston School building. Medley said the school was 95% cleaned up. "We are within one room of having all debris out of the school but the damage is extensive." The city has a facebook page called Livingston Revitalization which documents the clean-up process.

Medley said he would like to see the building eventually house artisans, a fitness center, perhaps some rooms for tourists to spend the night but said a committee would be appointed to decide what would be best for the community. He also said the police department would eventually be housed in the building which would enhance their public appearance and help with keeping the building secure. Medley also said that there was a possibility of fixing 6 to 8 rooms for overnight stays by tourists in the Forster Mullins' building and also told the commissioners, "Activities in the entire county will have to be included in our plan. We can't stuff everything in Livingston."

The mayor also announced that there will be a Rockcastle River Day on Saturday, July 20th at the ford of the river, if the river is down. There will be live music, a bonfire, hot dogs and marshmallows grilled, a duck race and wacky boats and camping will be available.

Pennington said that he was still identifying and interviewing other alleged victims at the time of publication and that Robbins' case remains under investigation.

Robbins is charged with 63 counts of prohibited use of electronic communication system to procure a minor/peace officer regarding sexual offenses. He was lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center where he was later released on a $5,000 cash/property bond.

Superintendent David Pensol said that Robbins is no longer employed in the Rockcastle County School District as a bus driver. He said prior to his investigation and arrest, the board had never received any complaints from parents or students about Robbins' alleged behavior and actions.

"All of our employees go through a state background check as well as various other extensive background checks and there wasn't any red flags before his employment with us," Pensol said. "We never received any complaints from parents and we didn't learn about the allegations until we were informed that KSP had started an investigation on him."

Pensol also said, "We will continue to cooperate with the investigation and we will always do everything we can to look out for the welfare of our students in our school system."

Kentucky Full Throttle 14U earned runner-up honors in the Kern's State Invitational Tournament at EKU. The team knocked off Lexington After-shock and Jinx in the first two rounds of the elimination bracket, before falling to a strong second year Krossfire-98 squad in the championship game. Local team members are Bailey Chasteen, Juliann Kirby and Shelby Ham.

While in Damascus, the group met with city officials, including the mayor, city manager and tourism director.

One big piece of news for the city is that Steve Barber, director of the Sheltoe Trace has contacted Medley about the possibility of moving their headquarters to Livingston which would give the town a big boost in their efforts to become the number one trail town in Kentucky. "The Sheltoe Trace is a 267 mile mostly hiking trail and tourists would be shuttled to the trail from Livingston," Medley said.

Card of Thanks

Ernest E. Bullock, Jr.

There are no words to describe the exemplary care that Ernest E. Bullock, Jr. received from the Rockcastle Regional Hospital during his stay. Everyone from the ambulance EMT's, emergency doctors and staff, all the nurses, respiratory therapists, assistants, dietary, cafeteria workers and even housekeeping were kind, compassionate, professional and helpful in every way they could be.

During his short stay at the Rockcastle Health and Rehabilitation Center, the same was true. He and we were treated fantastically well. Their quick and professional actions allowed us to share eight more treasured days with him.

The staff at White House Clinic will always hold a special place in our hearts for the wonderful care and support they provided and nothing could compare with the excellence of care that Dr. Arvin supplied to our loved one. He went above and beyond to see he received the best of care plus was an uncommon source of comfort to all the family.

Special thanks goes to our friends at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home where the arrangements were handled with the utmost attention to every detail. That was so important to our family at this heartbreaking time. Thank you Pam Martin for the gorgeous flowers from Sparks Flower Shop. They were exactly what we wanted. Thank you Roy Martin for the beautiful rose casket spray. We are sure he would have loved it as much as we did.

He would have been as proud and honored as we were to have the Masonic Lodge members perform their last rites ceremony for their Brother. Deep appreciation goes to Bro. Randy McPherson for the great job he did officiating. We would like to thank the Mt. Vernon Fire Department for driving the fire truck in the funeral procession. He would have loved that touching gesture. Lastly, let us thank everyone for the gifts of kind words, prayers, thoughts, visits, cards, phone calls, flowers, food and money. Everything was greatly appreciated.

But, most of all, thank you Lord for letting us have 83 years of Ernest E. Bullock, Jr. (affectionately known as "The Man In Black.")

NOTICE TO Rockcastle County Taxpayers

Danetta Ford Allen, Rockcastle County Clerk, pursuant to KRS 424.130 announces that the 2012 Delinquent Real Property Tax Bills (Certificates of Delinquency) will be published in the Mount Vernon Signal on July 11, 2013. The list of Certificates of Delinquency is also available for public inspection during the hours of Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Thursday 8:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Saturday 8:30 a.m. to Noon at the County Clerk's office located at 205 East Main Street, Mt. Vernon, Kentucky 40456. This list may also be inspected on the Rockcastle County website. The Uniform Resource Locater (URL) of the website is www.rockcastlecountyclerk.com

The tax sale will be held on August 16, 2013 beginning at 2:00 p.m.

All interested participants must register with the County Clerk's office by the close of business on August 1, 2013. Please contact the County Clerk's office if you need additional information about the tax sale registration process, the required registration fee or the deposit amounts that will be needed. Taxpayers can continue to pay their delinquent tax bills to the County Clerk's office anytime prior to the tax sale.

Please Note: All payments must be received in the County Clerk's office prior to the tax sale date listed in this advertisement. Payments received after the tax sale has been conducted will be returned without exception.

Some delinquencies - although they have been advertised - will be excluded from the tax sale in accordance with the provisions of KRS 134.504(10)(b).

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact the County Clerk's office at 606-256-2831

I _____ give _____ permission
(parent/legal guardian's name) (student's name)

to attend the Rockcastle County High School Volleyball tryouts on July 15th-16th, 2013. I understand that attending this tryout does not reserve a position on the Freshman, JV, or Varsity volleyball team. I hereby authorize the coaching staff of Rockcastle Co. HS Volleyball to act for me according to their best judgment in any emergency requiring medical attention and I hereby waive, release, and agree to hold harmless The Rockcastle Co. Volleyball coaching staff, suppliers, sponsors, participants, and Rockcastle County Schools for any and all liability for any injuries or illnesses incurred while at volleyball tryouts. I acknowledge that participation in this tryout may result in accidents and/or injuries. Even though I know there are risks involved, I still give my approval for the above named player to participate in any and all tryout activities and I expressly assume all risks and hazards incidental to such participation. I have no knowledge of any physical impairment that would be affected by the above named camper's participation in the tryouts.

* Individuals participating in tryouts must have a current sports physical. Students will not be permitted to participate until proof of physical is given.

Brindle Ridge Volunteer Fire Department responded to a single car accident last Friday on Hwy 1505 in Brindle Ridge. Authorities say Justin Bretz, 20, of Brodhead was traveling north on Hwy 1505 when his truck hydroplaned and dropped off the roadway into the ditch and flipped several times. Bretz was transported to Rockcastle Regional Hospital where he was treated for non-life threatening injuries and released.

houses, connecting graveled pathways, three picnic tables and lighting. The project was financed primarily with an $80,000 50/50 matching grant from the state.

During the meeting, the court also approved the 2013-14 budgets for the Tourist Commission and the Rockcastle County Board of Health.

The Tourist Commission budget shows expected revenues of $361,100 from the motel/transient and restaurant tax, $16,000 from state government, $6,800 from museum tours/donations, $14,500 from craft sales and $120 from bank interest. This, along with a carryover from last year's budget of $124,000, will give the commission total available revenue of $522,520.

Appropriations include: $126,400 for personnel, $276,570 for operations, including $113,900 for advertising and printing, $58,350 for administration and reserves and $61,200 for debt service.

The health department's budget shows expected revenue of $243,234 and, coupled with a carryover of $177,835, total revenue available of $421,069. Appropriations listed, include $208,102 for operations (which includes a $188,882 contribution to the Cumberland Valley District Health Department) and $212,967 for reserve for transfer.

In other action, the court approved $500 for a paving stone in the Kentucky National Guard Memorial and $2,271.81 for utility bills for the Pongo Fire Department for January thru June of 2013.

The court also entered into a Memorandum of Agreement with the Department of Local Government for $52,000 in coal severance funds which will be used toward construction costs of the Climax Fire Dept.

Carloftis also made the court aware of FLEX funds available this year for repaving of roads already surfaced. The court will have a total of $367,713 for the work which includes $42,000 leftover from the last fiscal year and funds not completely expended in 2005 and 2010.

Last year, the court had $566,893 available from these funds and 88%, or $400,369, was spent on Lambert Road. Carloftis told the court that Flat Gap Road, which runs parallel to Lambert Road, will be widened this year but no flex funds will be spent on it. He said tiles necessary for the widening had already been purchased.

The judge gave the magistrates a list of roads available for the FLEX funds but said an estimate of the cost of each road would have to be obtained from Greer Bros. and the state will have to approve the roads selected by the magistrates for patching or complete repaving with the funds.

In addition, the judge told the court that he was proposing new surfacing for: Redstart Lane, Arrowhead Lane and Goochland Rd. The cost of paving these roads would have to be paid from road funds.

In other action, the court approved the transfer of $155,000 from the general fund. $50,000 will be transferred to the jail fund, $100,000 to the road fund and $5,000 to the CSEPP account.

individual plans with them (to help them stay in school). The state is not offering anything in the way of a plan to keep children from dropping out. Ultimately, any plan by the state will pass down to us and we will have to finance it. They're showing no leadership."

The state offered a $10,000 grant to the first 96 school districts to adopt the 18 year old drop out age and Pensol said he resented the implication by the state that if a district didn't immediately raise their drop-out age to 18, then they don't care about kids. As of last night, Pensol said that 94 district had adopted the new drop-out age. He said the state had put up a website with a map showing which counties have already adopted the new law. Once the 96 school district mark is reached, the law automatically goes into effect for all of the state's 174 school districts. "I think it's important that we don't play their game," Pensol said. "It's a wash anyway with the $10,000 grant since what you can use it for will be so limited." Pensol also noted that the school district has been working on the problem. "Without fanfare, our department heads, principals and teachers have been working on this problem for some time and it shows."

School board member Angie Mink commented that she felt if the legislature wanted the drop-out age to be 18, they should have passed the legislation. "You can sure see a hemp flag flying near the state capitol showing a lot of support for making the growing of that legal," she said.

Actually, Kentucky's graduation rate already exceeds the national average. And, it has been proven in other states that increasing the dropout age to 18 has had little effect on improving overall graduation rates, according to an opinion piece in the Crittenton Press, Marion County on July 4th. Crittenton County Board of Education has also not changed the school district's compulsory attendance age from 16 to 18, along with Jessamine, Madison, Fayette, Clark, Casey and others.

The board also adopted a streamlined enrollment form, beginning with this school year. Director of Student Services and Pupil Personnel told the board that the two 8x10 sheets would replace the 1 1/2 to 2 inch packet of forms normally required for enrolling students in the system. She did caution that other forms would have to be filled out such as from the health department, school lunch program, etc.

The superintendent's personnel action report showed one certified personnel hiring - Anna Reynolds as a special education teacher at BES.

to be blacktopped as well.

"The cul-de-sac holds water and has only been patched and not blacktopped in the past which has caused it to be uneven," Abrams said. "I pay taxes like everyone else and considering the road's condition, I would like to have the rest of the road blacktopped if it is possible."

Abrams also said people drive off the roadway and turn around in his yard while they are turning around in the cul-de-sac.

"I can be in my front yard and watch people drive in my yard while they are turning around in the cul-de-sac," Abrams said. "People don't even have the courtesy to stay on the road while they are turning around and I have even seen a whole car in my yard turning around before."

Councilman and Brodhead Fire Chief Larry Taylor said Proffitt Street and its cul-de-sac is a part of the driving training course for their new firefighters and that they have never had any problem turning around in the cul-de-sac.

"If we can turn around a fire truck there than other people should be able to turn around in their smaller vehicles," Taylor said. "We can't help that people are getting off into yards because they have enough room to turn around if they would just have the courtesy to stay on the road."

However, Taylor said he was in favor of blacktopping all of Proffitt Street including the cul-de-sac versus patching only part of the road.

"When we went out and looked at it, we noticed it was raised up toward the end of the street toward the cul-de-sac and we thought the blacktop was still in good shape," Taylor said. "We never looked at it that close but we still have an allotment in our blacktopping plan to fix that small section."

Councilman Mark Buras agreed with Taylor and said that adding blacktop to the remainder of the street would be feasible.

"Since there is not a lot of traffic on the street and it is not in terrible shape, we can just add an inch on top of the old blacktop and that should be substantial," Buras said. "I think it would be better if we go ahead and blacktop the remainder of the street instead of doing piecemeal work."

The council agreed unanimously to leave the cul-de-sac the same size but put another inch of blacktop on top of the current blacktop.

Chief Barry Adams and Deputy Sheriff Matt Bryant received information that Carpenter had ingredients inside his bedroom that were used to manufacture meth.

Once officers arrived, Carpenter admitted that he had ingredients to manufacture meth inside his bedroom. Carpenter also admitted to officers that he had items used to manufacture meth hidden inside a fireplace at the home as well.

After receiving consent to search his bedroom, officers found crushed-up pseudoephedrine tablets in a hand tied plastic wrapper along with several other small plastic baggies. Officers also found several packs of lithium batteries and coffee filters hidden inside the fireplace.

Carpenter later told officers that all the materials found by them were going to eventually be used to manufacture meth.

Carpenter was charged with manufacturing meth. He remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $25,000 cash/property bond.

he hopes Farthing's case is solved soon for her family's sake.

"For the family's sake I hope the body is recovered soon," Peters said. "But there is still hope that she is alive. Maybe she just decided to run away from home or something and hopefully she will turn up soon."

According to the Kentucky State Police, witnesses said they last saw Farthing the morning of Saturday, June 22nd at a home on Dillon Court in Berea.

The same house Farthing was last seen at also caught on fire the same morning. No human remains were found inside the home but KSP and arson investigators are still trying to determine what caused the fire and if it is related to Farthing's disappearance.

KSP said Farthing did not live in the home but she reportedly attended a party there on Friday night, June 21st. Another friend, who was also the homeowner, said he was with Farthing before he left his home early in the morning on June 22nd and when he came back Farthing was gone and there was a fire inside the house. The home had been without electricity for several weeks because the homeowner was in the process of moving out.

KSP investigators believe that Farthing did not disappear on her own as a lot of her belongings were left inside the home.

Farthing is described as 5'1" with blonde hair and brown eyes. She was reportedly wearing a gray Madison County FFA t-shirt and denim shorts at the time of her disappearance.

KSP is requesting that property owners in Estill, Jackson, Rockcastle and Madison counties check their own property for any signs of Farthing. They said particular attention should be paid to ditch lines, freshly turned earth and unusual smells in remote areas.

Anyone with information regarding the missing person investigation is encouraged to contact KSP at 859-623-2404 or call toll free at 1-800-222-5555. You can also use the "text a tip" feature by texting your tip to 67283.

added up to a total of 1.55 inches of rain. He said there was only 2.28 inches of rainfall recorded for the month of June and, after the first ten days in July, the total is already 3.22 inches of rainfall.

City of Mt. Vernon Administrative Assistant Jill Medley said the high amount of rainfall also put a damper on the activities during the Grand Reopening of the Lake Linville Boat Dock. She said all the activities went as planned but that the fireworks display had to be postponed from last Thursday night to Friday night.

"There was still a good crowd at the event despite the rain," Medley said. "We did have to postpone the fireworks but everything else went smoothly."

According to Rockcastle County CSEPP Director Hal Holbrook, the high amount of rainfall last week did not cause any flooding damage in the county.

"We received no complaints of flooding or property damage as a result of the rainfall," Holbrook said. "The steady rain allowed the water to soak into the ground and not cause any serious flooding issues which was definitely a good thing for the citizens of our county."

Man arrested for stalking and assault

By: Doug Ponder

A Berea man was arrested for stalking and assault Monday morning after police responded to a domestic dispute at Rockcastle Villa Apartments in Mt. Vernon.

Arrested at the scene was Justin Lee Bishop, 20, of Berea.

According to Mt. Vernon Police, Assistant Chief Barry Adams responded to the scene after receiving a complaint about a "baby screaming" in an apartment at the Rockcastle Villa Apartments.

Once Adams arrived, a bystander told him that Bishop had fled into the woods toward the Woodland Place Subdivision. Adams was driving on Woodland Place Road when he noticed some bushes shaking next to the road.

Adams then exited his cruiser and found Bishop trying to hide from him in the bushes. Adams noticed Bishop had blood on his mouth and that he appeared to be extremely intoxicated. He apprehended Bishop for his own safety and took him back to the Rockcastle Villa Apartments for further investigation.

When Adams returned to the apartment complex, he spoke with Bishop's former girlfriend who was found crying in her apartment. Adams observed blood on her shirt and blood on the face of the couple's two-year-old son.

The woman told Adams she wasn't home Sunday night was told that someone could be heard in her apartment Sunday night and that they had reportedly jumped out of her window around 7:30 Monday morning. She said she locked up her apartment before leaving Sunday night but admitted to leaving the living room window open.

Around 8 a.m. on Monday, Bishop's former girlfriend said Bishop came to the front door of her apartment and tried to kick in the door. After opening the door, she said Bishop barged in and started arguing when she was questioning him about who had been in her apartment Sunday night.

The woman said Bishop then shoved her to the ground and started to physically assault her. She also told Adams that she was eight weeks pregnant and the punches to her stomach caused her to vomit. Bishop also reportedly told her that he hoped the baby died.

Bishop's former girlfriend said she told Bishop to leave several times and threatened to call police. He told her to go ahead and call the police because he wasn't afraid of them.

Rockcastle EMS responded to the scene but the woman refused medical attention even though she was advised to seek medical attention due to her being eight weeks pregnant.

Before leaving the scene, a Rockcastle Villa Apartment employee informed Adams that a driver's side mirror had been broken off one of their resident's vehicles. Another bystander told Adams that Bishop had broken the mirror of the resident's vehicle and had also cut tires on four other parked vehicles before assaulting his former girlfriend. The bystander said Bishop told him that he broke the vehicles mirror and cut the tires before he fled from police into the woods.

Bishop is charged with first degree burglary, second degree stalking, fourth degree assault and five counts of third degree criminal mischief. He remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $20,000 cash/property bond.

Registered sex offender arrested for creating Facebook account

By: Doug Ponder

A Mt. Vernon man, who is a registered sex offender, has been arrested for having an active Facebook account.

Arrested was Floyd Thermon, 38, of Mt. Vernon.

According to state police reports, Trooper Eric Moore responded to an anonymous tip that Facebook had an active Facebook account. Moore also discovered that Thermon had changed his legal name from Christopher Collins to Floyd Lee Thermon. However, Thermon was still listed under the Kentucky sex offender registry as Christopher Collins.

Thermon admitted to Moore that he had a Facebook account under his current name and that he failed to change his name from Collins to Thermon on the sex offender registry.

Thermon is charged with sex offender IM/chat/social network use. He was lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center where he was later released on a $2,000 surety bond.

Man stabs his brother during violent altercation

By: Doug Ponder

A Mt. Vernon man was arrested for assault last Thursday after he stabbed his brother with a knife when a verbal argument led to a physical altercation in a trailer at Ramsey Trailer Park in Mt. Vernon.

Arrested at the scene was Jeremy Douglas Caldwell, 32, of Mt. Vernon.

According to Mt. Vernon Police reports, Officer Ryan Messenger responded after receiving a complaint of a stabbing at the trailer park.

Once Messenger arrived, he was met in the trailer's driveway by a woman who was crying hysterically. The woman told Messenger that Caldwell had stabbed his brother during a physical altercation. She also told him that Caldwell's brother had left the scene after being stabbed and that they didn't know where he went.

Caldwell told Messenger that he was sleeping on a couch inside the trailer when his brother woke him up and began arguing with him and it led to a physical altercation. During the fight, Caldwell said he grabbed a knife and stabbed his brother in the lower left side of his stomach.

Caldwell would later tell Messenger that he and his brother were fighting over money owed for a "dime bag," which is a common name for a bag of illegal drugs that is sold for $10.

After further investigation, Messenger found a four-inch fixed blade knife on the kitchen table. The knife had blood on the blade as well.

Caldwell was evaluated on the scene by Rockcastle EMS crews but he refused treatment and transport to the hospital. Caldwell's brother was later located at Rockcastle Regional Hospital where he was treated for his stab wound and later released.

Caldwell remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $10,000 cash/property bond.

Fish offshore for post-spawn largemouth bass

The wet and unseasonably cool weather pattern lately seems more consistent with Derby week than with the upcoming Fourth of July holiday.

Chris Hickey, black bass research biologist for the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, said the cool weather delayed the largemouth bass spawn a couple of weeks, but now everything is on schedule as we head into the heat of summer.

He said anglers report largemouth bass gathering on the channel ledges on Kentucky and Barkley lakes.

Summer fishing for largemouth bass frustrates many anglers, although anglers themselves are usually the source of the problem. The anglers often don't change the presentation or places they fish from the spring season, although their summer catch often consists of a few small male "buck" bass.

Forget fishing the visible cover along the bank and instead concentrate on off-shore structures such as channel ledges, submerged islands, humps and long points to catch bass during the day in July and August. Studying a map of the underwater features reveals these fish-holding structures. Anglers should plan on probing several during a day of fishing.

"I look for three things for deep ledge fishing," said Ryan Oster, federal aid coordinator for the fisheries division of Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "The first is the presence of bait, second is stumps and third is current. Mussel beds on the ledge are also a big help."

Oster, formerly western fisheries district biologist who helped manage Kentucky and Barkley lakes, prefers deep running crankbaits, 7- to 10-inch straight-tailed worms rigged on Shakey heads and heavy football jig and trailer combinations to fish ledges from 12 to 25 feet deep in these lakes.

"I like the Sexy Shad color for clear water and the chartreuse Sexy Shad for stained water in my deep crankbaits," Oster said. "Typically, bass want it raking across the bottom. On some days, the fish want a slow and steady retrieve and on others, they want it fast. Mix it up until they hit."

Boat positioning is important to keep these lures crawling on the bottom and across those underwater ledges and humps. Some anglers use marker buoys to visualize the ledge or hump.

Slowly crawl a Shakey head rig along the bottom, stop it every few feet and shake the rod tip to wiggle the worm and entice bass. Anglers fishing jigs may also work the bottom, but many "stroke" a heavy football jig by ripping it off the bottom with their rod tip and letting the lure fall on a slack line. Trophy largemouths often hit the jig on the fall.

Use at least 1/2-ounce of weight to get down on the deep structure. Many opt for 3/4-ounce or 1-ounce jigs. Shakey worms in green pumpkin, black or purple work well in deep water. Black jigs in combination with blue, purple, brown or chartreuse produce deep bass.

During the hottest times of the year, largemouth bass suspend over the ledge or hump and ignore lures worked on bottom. A swimbait works well for suspended bass.

Pearl-colored swimbaits with shades of gray, blue and light purple work well. Fish the swimbait just above bottom rigged on a 1/4-ounce or 3/8-ounce head as heavier heads deadens the lure's action. Oster prefers 5-inch swimbaits.

Points that extend well out into the lake are high percentage spots for summer largemouth bass. Jigs slowly crawled across the point in water 15 to 25 feet deep draws strikes. Points with stumps or chunk rock on them hold the most fish.

The best ledge fishing is on Kentucky Lake, Lake Barkley and Barren River Lake. Most lakes across Kentucky have long extended points and many have underwater humps.

Get off the bank and catch huge bass on the hottest days.

Author Lee McClellan is an award-winning associate editor for Kentucky Afield magazine, the official publication of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. He is a life-long hunter and angler, with a passion for smallmouth bass fishing.

Adoptable Shelter Dogs

Hello Everybody!! Aren't we just the cutest things you ever saw?! We are Walker Coonhound/Beagle mixes and we were dropped out on Hwy. 461. That is a dangerous place to be left all alone, especially when your just about 7 weeks old. We are now being taken care of at RCAS and we are hoping that someone will open their home and heart to us. We LOVE to play and have fun and we cant hardly wait until we find families that we can call our very own! If you would like to adopt one or all of us then contact the shelter @ 606-256-1833. (kennel 19)

Hey There! My name is Tank and I am a Beagle. I am approximately 2 years old and I was picked up as a stray and brought to the shelter. I am now anxiously awaiting my new home. I am very friendly with everybody I meet and I get along great with other dogs as well. If you would like to have me as your loyal friend then call RCAS @ 606-256-1833. (kennel 6)

Abortion Healing Story

Hi, I'm Donna Dean and I would like to tell my story and what I do. For over two years now, I have been active in helping get the Kentucky Memorial For the Unborn Garden a reality in the Frankfort Cemetery in Frankfort, Ky. This memorial is a place for families who have suffered miscarriages, stillbirths and abortions. A place where they can go to mourn the children they have lost and also a place for closure.

I first saw Kathy Rutledge on television, speaking and showing her film of the memorial. She stated that she had gone through a terrible abortion at the age of 19. After suffering with this for some time, she wanted to place a stone in a cemetery for her baby. They wouldn't let her do this without a body so, out of this came her dream of a memorial site for these babies.

I, like Kathy and many others, had an unwanted abortion at the age of 19. No one in my family ever knew of this and I confided in a very few. I lived with this guilt and pain for almost 40 years when, by watching Kathy, I finally knew that God had forgiven me of my sin and then the long, hard task of forgiving myself began. I had been volunteering at the Richmond Pregnancy Center for a while.

The director, Chris Jolly, went through a Bible study called "Surrendering the Secret" with me and one other lady. This was a very hard, yet very helpful, study. It made me guilty, angry, hurt and eventually, with God's help, at peace with what I had done and left me with a great desire to help other women and/or men who had gone through this.

I had a yard sale, at which people in the county brought things to me that I will never know but will be eternally grateful for. We made $500 for the memorial. My next journey was an interview at WRVK with Charlie Napier, who has been a big part and support in all I do for this cause. I spoke publicly the first time, thanks to Charlie, to the Kiwanis Club. I also spoke at a church in Berea and then to my home church.

The next time I spoke, Kathy asked me to give my testimony in downtown Lexington at a rally. It was 19 degrees that day, but we didn't notice. Mrs. Pam Martin of Sparks Flower gave me beautiful white carnations for the ladies to give as a memorial for their babies. Next, I was invited to give my testimony at the Capital Rotunda in Frankfort when they had the Right to Life Rally.

I have worked hard and have had interviews and phone calls with Mrs. Georgette Forney of Pennsylvania, president of The Silent No More Awareness Campaign. I am now, proudly, one of the regional coordinators in our area. This is for women, men and families of women who have gone through the devastation of an abortion and are seeking help in learning to deal with this. First you have to believe that God forgives you of your sins and then you have to learn to forgive yourself. We serve an awesome God and He will get you through whatever trials you are facing. I would love to make people in our area aware of just how bad and what an epidemic abortion really is. There are thousands of babies aborted every day. I have and will more than gladly, talk to groups at churches, organizations, schools or anywhere else I might be invited. It is my lifelong desire to do all in my power and, with the help of God, to educate and hope that people will step up and help us end this terrible disease. You can find more about these programs by going to kentuckymemorialfortheunborn.org and silentnomoreawarenesscampaign.org

You can also contact me at ddeanj52@twc.com or call me anytime at 606-308-4627. I will be attending a retreat in August called Rachel's Vineyard which is also a healing retreat. I can give you information on that also.

Thank you all very much for listening to my story and a big thanks to Charlie and Pam Martin for supporting me.
